The Democrat reporter was talking to an old Bohemian woman one day this week. White haired, ill, a woman who was born in far off Bohemia of poor parentage and who came to this country because she heard the tales of plenty from the "land of promise." She was six years old when she came to America and made her living "working out" until sixteen years of age, when she married a young Bohemian, but recently from Bohemia. For many years they have lived at Verdigré and now have a splendid farm, six big, healthy children, but the mother's health has failed and her attending physician said recently that if her two sons went to war the shock would kill her. She told us, in broken English, that the doctor did not know, that she WANTED her sons to go, she would feel guilty if they did not fight for this country which has given them wealth, education and everything they possess. "Of course," she said, and tears filled her eyes, "I would give much if they did not have to go, but OUR country NEEDS them, and I WANT them to go." This is somewhat different than we heard from a man of German descent earlier in the day, and he was born in this country, "I want this country to win," he said, "but you can't blame me for loving my father-land."

A MONARCH RANGE Stays Satisfactory

Buying a Monarch Range is in keeping with the government's policy of conserving, for a Monarch will actually repay its own cost in the saving of fuel, and repairs.

The Monarch's superiority comes in its ability to keep on year after year giving the same perfect service it does when new. The reason why is plain. It is built tight with rivets, not putty—therefore it stays tight.

He made the supreme sacrifice for his country. To the grief stricken parents surely there must be a wonderful consolation in that thought.

island somewhere. What will tomorrow bring? That's the question which haunts the Arabon natives.

The cause of the damage this year, they tell us, is that the channel has changed and strikes directly into the mouth of the Niobrara river, placing against the unprotected, soft ground with a terrific force and is plowing a way to the town which is just above the levy. Two years ago one could throw a stone into the river from the front door of our old home. It is over two miles from the river at low water.

Some people suggest rap rap, same (this includes the biggest majority) suggest building a dam, but dam if they can't—it is too big, too powerful, too mighty. If the government would lend a hand, even that "would cost more than the whole valley is worth"—we quote a Niobrara citizen.

The Indians said, when Niobrara was but a trading point, fifty years ago, that in time the Missouri would reach the old south bank, or the levy, as it is called. The white folks laughed and continued to improve their land. In the spring of 1880, the river frowned on them, a flood came, and pushed them two miles up the valley, where the town is now located. Since that time each spring many acres of their land have been stolen by their arch enemy. The annual June rise never fails to cause uneasiness and this year the warning already sounded is causing real alarm.

In the past forty years nearly a thousand acres of land have been taken away from about ten miles of water front. Strange to say, after the river caused the people to hunt a new townsite, it fell back from the old one and in all these years has taken comparatively little of their former holdings. Except for the annual overflow, the old townsite lies there peacefully and the river is following the natives to their new home.

Niobrara was our home many years. It holds some of the happiest and some of the saddest memories. It is—home. Each year the changes there are of great interest to us and we would like to see something done to protect the town from a more certain end. The people there seem perfectly oblivious of danger. The two citizens to whom we talked are old hunters, and they firmly believe that the Indians' predictions will be true—are coming true.

The Cedar County News has this to say concerning the high water: The Muddy Missouri is again on a rampage near Sioux City according to word from there yesterday. It appears that the river is making another effort to get into the old river bed which connects with Crystal Lake. The Omaha and Burlington railroads have rushed men and machinery to the scene and the government has also been appealed to for aid. Should the river break thru at the point indicated, it would leave both Dakota City and Sioux City on the east bank and would practically cut Sioux City off the river.

WAYNE COUNTY LADIES ORGANIZE FOR THIRD LOAN

There was a meeting at the city hall Saturday afternoon of the ladies interested in the sale of the bonds for the Third Liberty Loan, which is to be not less than $3,000,000.00. The bid is off, however, and Uncle Sam will take all that is offered in exchange for his promises to pay.

Mrs. Rolfie W. Lev was selected as chairman of the committee for the county, and has appointed the following assistants for Wayne and the outside precincts, the plan being to make a house-to-house campaign, as was done with the W. S. S.

Wayne members are, Mesdames F. S. Berry, E. J. Huntener, R. A. McBaehen, T. T. Tobias, C. T. Ingham, Clyde Oman, D. H. Cunningham, H. S. Ringland, and Miss Nettie Craven.

The precinct committee are: for Brenna, Mrs. Everett Lindsay; Chapin, Miss Florence Parker; Hancock, Mrs. Lloyd Prince; Deer Creek, Mrs. Lucian Carter; Hoskins, Mrs. H. H. Barge; Leslie, Mrs. Orval Puckett; Logan, Mrs. Rose Oliver; Plum Creek, Mrs. Jens Jensen; Sherman, Mrs. W. E. Philby; Strahan, Mrs. Harry McMillan; Wilber, Mrs. M. Halladay; Winside, Mrs. H. E. Chapin.

With this excellent committee to look after one and all, there is but little question but that the sale of these securities in Wayne county will be large, and they should be, for the investment is good, the cause most worthy, and those who have money should be glad to use it thus for the benefit of their soldier boys who are making a sacrifice which cannot be paid for in money—and which cannot be bought for cash.

NEW WHEAT RULES CUT CONSUMPTION IN HALF

Omaha, April 2.—Limiting sales of flour to 24 pounds to town customers and 48 to rural customers, requiring the use of 25% substitutes by bakers in bread and rolls by April 14, and strict compliance with the pound-for-pound substitute rule are the new food regulations issued by Food Administrator Wattles.

Hotels are ordered not to serve wheat bread, unless specifically requested by the customer, and the limit in purchasing flour to 8 lbs. on the basis of every meal served, are the new rules for public eating places.

"To meet the Allied demands, we must cut our flour consumption just half in two," says Mr. Wattles.

"Normally the American people eat 42,000,000 bushels of wheat each month; we must reduce to 21,000,000 to meet the demand, and the demand will be met."

A NEBRASKA SUGAR SAVER

That is the suggestion of C. W. McGuire, a pioneer of the south part of the county, who asks the Democrat to try to get some one to install a grinder and pans for boiling to make sorghum here this fall. Mr. McGuire writes as follows:

Reader, Nebraska, April 1, 1918.

Dear Sir:—I am writing this to you to see if you can get some one to put in a sorghum mill this fall and try to get the farmers to raise a small patch of cane—enough for their own use and some to spare. This way we will not be entirely out of sweetening and it would help save sugar.

Sorghum is almost a medicine—great for colds, fine for taffy for the evening frosts and properly made, a splendid syrup. If I can get it made up, we might call this the Nebraska sug-

LEARN TO USE SUBSTITUTES WATTLE'S URGENT REQUEST

Learn to use substitutes. That is the appeal of Food Administrator Wattles to the housewives of Nebraska. We must use them. Properly used they are healthful and beneficial as wheat products, says Wattles. It's better to use substitutes in half rations than use them altogether, and that's what will be the result if we do not conform to the fifty-fifty rule.

Monday afternoon he went to Lincoln to meet with the Junior Red Cross committee for this state. Mr. Cooley owes his appointment to the fact that he has earned a world-wide reputation as a successful school man, and that it is the purpose to use the schools as the best medium through which to carry on the work, as no other body can compare with the school force, teachers and pupils, in the matter of organization among the young people of our land. Through the schools one may reach approximately thirty million of the youth of the land by the shortest and most direct manner. Mr. Cooley not only sees great help to the Red Cross but sees also much benefit to the pupils from the insight they get and practical knowledge they may gain from this work, which will be worth much to them and the community in which they live for many years to come.

THE CHANGE IN TIME

Sunday morning at 2 o'clock the clocks of the nation were officially turned ahead one hour and before the week ends every one will be accustomed to the new order of things. Employees a little late, a few people missing trains, and the story of the man who got to church in time for the doxology, are the only differences we find from the old rule. Some people are still figuring whether they lost or gained an hour. "Get up and hear the birds sing" is rather tough on some of us who never went to work before eight but the extra hour at night is pay enough for any inconvenience. After dinner in the evening there is plenty of time now to work in that war garden, take a spin in the country, or help Mary Jane around the house - she always finds something to fill in the idle hours.

Some of the local ministers planned to begin services at the old hour but they didn't advertise the fact and the choir and congregation had to amuse themselves while the minister napped. It was just a misunderstanding and the poor clock was again to blame.

Gardens have been started, many planting potatoes and getting tomato and cabbage seeds put in boxes for early planting. Everybody wants a few chickens and perhaps a pig. The plans for that extra hour are going to tax the people to get everything done they have promised themselves they would.

If we had to go to work at 6:30 and Big Ben actually said 6:30 we would think we were badly misused but we go to work at 6:30 and Big Ben winks at us and says 7:30 and we don't mind because we are like everyone else - we like to be kidded. Sort of a personal camouflage.

Never mind, we've used to it now and Oh, You October, with your extra hour tracked on again! Promises of a better time them days. I'll say so!

SCHOOL NOTES

The Senior class has selected the play, "Nancy Starts a Boom." Parts have been assigned and rehearsals will soon begin.

THE ENEMY WE MUST MEET

By William Allen White

(Mr. White, editor, author and King of the war and all of its many angles while on an extended visit to the various battle lines of the Allied armies.)

Back of the German lines every ounce of food is conserved, and distributed with fairly equitable precision; every yard of cloth is numbered and is entered into the war strength of the empire. Every pennyweight of German coal is handled with scientific care, and the one end and aim of all this autocratic control of food and clothing and heat is the winning of the war. There is no other purpose in the German mind. Every German mark is a German soldier; every grain of gold is doing its full share to work out that indomitable purpose.

Here in America we must realize that the war will not be won on any front, but in our own hearts. This is a clash of civilizations. We must develop in our hearts a democratic purpose as strong and as carefully directed as this autocratic purpose of Germany. We, too, must make soldiers of our corn stalks, make defenders of our wool and cotton and silk, make every pound of coal an American pound, and we must make bullets of our pennies. If we fail to develop this democratic purpose in the eye to eye, knee to knee, hand to hand, struggle on the front, which, after all, only reflects the strength of our conviction, then our civilization will go down. To fail to support our soldiers with ammunition, with food, with clothing, with coal, will weaken them for the great conflict at the great moment, and that weakening will come from our hearts at home. It will come if we are slow with our financial support of the men. The Liberty Loan furnishes us with the only way we home-stayers can practically show our purpose. Our patriotism will be measured by our performance toward the Liberty Loan. What we lend to our country in this time of need will measure our love of the freedom our fathers bought. It is at stake. The autocratic purpose of Germany, iron-willed and yet unbroken, aimed at world conquest is threatening us. What is freedom worth to you? It is worth what you lend to your government in this hour of its awful need.

Your Choice?
bonds or
bondage?
Will you lend your money and be free-or hoard it now and pay it out in tribute when Liberty is lost?

CONGREGATION TAKES $2,000 W. S. S. IN MARCH

Henry Lessman was in Monday with his monthly report of the sale of War Savings Stamps to members of the German Lutheran church northeast of Wayne for the month of March. There are about fifty families in the congregation and his March sales totaled $2,007.45, and April 1st started off with $100 sales. In addition to the sum subscribed by the members of the congregation the school district was asked to sell $2,000 in stamps, and they came across with more than $2,900.00.

HOLDINGS OF EXCESS WHEAT BY PRO-GERMANS

Omaha, April 3.—Power to requisition wheat is authorized under presidential order of food administrator Hoover, will be applied only against those who are hoarding wheat with a view of obstructing the Government in its war program.

It is directed chiefly against those of known pro-German tendencies, and in such cases action will be drastic. The power comes through the Congressional Act, creating the Food Administration, and is specific in its workings. It is hoped that such resort will not be necessary in Nebraska.

A SONG OF LIBERTY BONDS

(By Theodosia Garrison)

Who shall use his yellow gold
To buy a costly car
May try some day to speed away
And find he goes not far;
But he who buys a Bond instead
To help his nation win
Hath shown a lad in khaki clad
The High road to Berlin.

Who shall use his yellow gold
To build a house of pride,
If at our shores the guns should roar,
Might never hide inside;
But he who buys a Bond instead
Hath proved a vigor fine
To build a lad in khaki clad
A bridge across the Rhine.

Who buys a Bond hath built a bridge
And made a highway free,—
An open path through ways of wrath
For all democracy;
And who buys a Bond today,
At last across the foam,
Shall bring a lad in khaki clad
To peace and joy and home.

FIFTY-FIFTY

A Wayne man told us (confidentially) that his wife came in late one night recently and said that she had spent the evening with her friend Cora. But what could he say as he had just come in himself from spending the evening with Cora?

We could always get a wheeze out of listening to Harry Lauder sing, "It's Nice To Get Up in the Mornin'" but this daylight bill takes all the joy out of that.

See the Democrat for your sale bills.

MANY BOOKS TO SOLDIERS

The Wayne Public Library reports that the people of Wayne contributed 575 books during the past week for the use of our soldiers and sailors, and that more books are still coming in.

It is hoped that week after week they will continue to come in steadily, for our soldiers will need books as long as the war lasts, and the supply must constantly be replenished. The public is urged to form the habit of turning in the new books as soon as they read them. In this way, a constant stream of fresh books into the camps will be assured, and a most effective barrage established against the blue devils of loneliness and depression.

All books received will be prepared for use in accordance with the simple rules laid down by the Library War Service of the American Library Association, and will be shipped to such points as the A. L. A. may designate. The needs of all camps and stations in this vicinity will be taken care of first. Most of the books collected along the Atlantic seaboard will be shipped to France as rapidly as possible. At least half a million are needed there at once, and a constant stream of replacements must be maintained for the wastage will be very great. Hence the call for books, books, and more books.

The A. L. A. has built up an organization capable of handling thousands and thousands. That the books will be forthcoming cannot be doubted. Posters and window cards which were distributed among the dealers during the past few weeks should be kept on display to remind the public to continue to give books to the library for the use of the soldiers and sailors.
