SERGEANT HANLY TALKS TO HUNDREDS OF WAYNEITES

Opera House Packed Twice—Many From Over County Here to Lend Their Cheers

OVER $700 FOR HOME GUARDS

Sergeant Hanly of the famous Princess Pat Canadian light infantry regiment gave a vivid portrayal of his experiences on the European front at the Opera house Wednesday evening for the benefit of the Home Guards. The lecture was illustrated by motion pictures of actual fighting on the British front. The sergeant enlisted at Moose Jaw, Sask., Canada, May 15, 1914, in the crack Canadian regiment named in honor of the governor general's daughter—the Princess Patricia of Connaght. On account of the shortage of trained men the Princess Pats were taken into the trenches without intensive training when they landed in France in 1914. He went through many of the important battles of the war, including the battles of Ypres, St. Floi, Zonnebeke, Somme and others.

The whole talk was interesting, the pictures, taken by a daring American reporter, were wonderful, and, as Sergeant Hanly explained some of them in their horrifying details, the audience was appalled at the terrible conditions existing over there. We would like to give the talk as there were many things said to make one think, many things which the newspapers have touched upon too lightly. Lack of time and space forbids.

Manager Nielson of the Crystal closed his theatre, gave the use of his machine and operator free of charge. He is thoroughly patriotic.

WAR-SAVINGS SOCIETIES FOR WAYNE COUNTY

Mr. W. D. Redmond of Wayne has been appointed director of War-Savings societies for Wayne county by Ward M. Burgess, Nebraska War-Savings director. Mr. Redmond will have charge of organizing and stimulating the activity of societies under the general supervision of Rollie W. Ley, of Wayne, who is the county chairman.

The National War-Savings committee at Washington is asking that this county organize at least one War-Savings society for every three hundred people. The administration believes that the war will continue for a long time to come and for that reason it is necessary to put the War-Savings work on a permanent basis. This is being done through the organization of War-Savings societies and Mr. Redmond, who is taking charge of this work in this county, has had placed on his shoulders one of the most important branches of the war work.

Ten or more persons may form a War-Savings society. The members of societies pledge themselves to buy Stamps and to encourage economy and thrift. Full information as to how to organize a society can be secured from Mr. Redmond.

BIG YEOMEN CLASS SATURDAY

The Sioux City degree team will come on the Saturday evening train and put the work on in proper shape, after installing the new officers. A number of the grand lodge officers promise to be present, and also a large delegation from Norfolk. The local homestead, which had 19 members last December, and now has four times that number will practically double its membership when the work of Saturday evening is completed. In addition to the work of the degree team and speaking, refreshments will be served, and no one present will go home until the lights go out.

MORE SOLDIERS TO GO SOON

Below we give the names of the Wayne county men, who are to be taken within five days from May 1st, and will report at Fort Logan, Colorado:

- 359 Anthony H. Lux.
- 366 Harry Stevens.
- 368 Roy Allen Carter.
- 375 Frank Gilbert Renando.
- 380 Fred Peterson.
- 384 Paul Rogers Mines.
- 385 Eugene August Fleer.
- 395 Bennie August Lettman.

DEATH OF MRS. PETER BAKER

Sunday evening, April 14, 1918, Mrs. Amelia Nies Baker passed to another world at the age of 70 years, 5 months, and 29 days, after an illness of six months caused by Bright's disease. A devout Christian, a kind loving mother and one of the best of neighbors and friends has been called home.

Amelia Nies was born at Billingsheim, Germany, October 15, 1847, and came to America at the age of 19 years. February 2, 1870, she was united in marriage at Lincoln, Illinois, to Peter Baker, who with their eight surviving children today mourn her death. The children are all present to attend the funeral, except Miss Katherine, who is convalescing from the effects of an operation at the home of her sister, Mrs. Hickenbotham, at Aberdeen, South Dakota, and not yet equal to the trip home. The children are John of Verdell; Frank; Wayne; Nick; Lynch; Charles, Temvik, North Dakota; William, Livona, North Dakota; Mrs. Wm. Hickenbotham, Aberdeen, South Dakota. The children are John of Dakota and Katherine and Anna of Wayne. Two sons had gone before her, Ed, died in 1884 and Wendle, who passed away nearly three years ago.

After a few years of married life in Illinois, they moved to Avoca, Iowa, and two years later went to a farm near Harlan, Iowa, where they remained for thirteen years before settling in this county in 1891, where they have since resided.

The funeral was held this morning from St. Mary's Catholic church, Rev. Father Kearns performing the last sad rites of the church of which she had been a devout and consistent member since childhood. A large number of neighbors and friends gave expression of their respect for this worthy woman and their sympathy for the bereaved relative by attendance at the funeral. Jesus loved her and He called her. Though our eyes with tears are dim; We must bow to His great wisdom. And be glad she's safe with Him.

BERRY RETURNS FROM EAST

C. A. Berry returned home Wednesday from a visit of nearly four weeks in the east, most of which time was spent near New York City, though he was at Rochester, Utica and other points, besides a stop in Michigan. He says that Wayne and Nebraska in general never looked better to him than when he came back to home and friends for whom he was evidently quite homesick. His daughter Alice, who has been for the past nine months with her grandmother, came with him, and she, too was glad to see Wayne again.

Mr. Berry says that the east is making vast wealth converting raw materials into all manner of manufactured things, machinery, notions, chemicals, cloths and clothing and, in fact, everything imaginable. The labor problem is their big question. He was at Utica when a strike was inaugurated and four thousand workers were getting a wage or from $7 to $10 per day, but were not satisfied. He said it seemed strange to him that the people of the south should ship cotton north and east and the cloth back again, or that our wool should go three to five thousand miles to be spun and wove and then freighted back here; that we ship grain to these places and buy breakfast foods made from the grain, paying two freights and no end of millmen's profits. Some day we will be wiser, let's hope.

WILL SPEAK UNITED STATES

The Sons of Herman, a fraternal insurance order, composed of Germans, have a flourishing local lodge at this place. It is part of the law under which they organized that their business of the order be transacted in German; but the American sentiment of the members here induced this lodge to pass a resolution at their meeting last evening that from now on their lodge would be conducted in the language of their adopted country, for they are truly American. The President of the state organization, Wm. Piepenstock, resides here and is a member of this lodge, and beyond a doubt the resolution or one similar will be passed by other lodges.

SPLENDID SCHOOL HOUSE MEETINGS OVER COUNTY

We have gathered a number of encouraging reports of the meetings held at various school houses Friday evening and Sunday afternoon and they have uniformly been encouraging.

Rev. S. X. Cross and W. R. Ellis report a splendid gathering at Altona where they spoke to a full house and almost without exception those in the audience showed deep interest and pledged support to the loan. Sunday afternoon J. C. Nuss and O. R. Bowen made talks to a good audience in the interest of the loan. One of the speakers tells us that the attendance, attention, and interest was all that could be desired. Mr. Nuss was born in Germany, and has relatives now in that land, but when he became a citizen here he did it because he was an American and remains so to the end.

I. H. Britell and S. E. Auker had a large audience at the Jones school house, and left them better informed citizens after the talks. They impressed upon the audience the importance of the people at home supporting in every way possible the men at the front. They were at the Bell school house the evening before.

Miss Sewell tells us (when asked to do so) that it was a good meeting in District No. 4 where Mr. and Mrs. J. G. W. Lewis spoke with Miss Sewell.

Through some misunderstanding the gathering to have been addressed by Messrs. Cunningham and Harrington did not gather, and they had no chance to speak.

Messrs. Berry and Corbit had a good meeting at No. 12.

"THE BLUE BIRD" AT THE CRYSTAL MONDAY NIGHT

Manager Nielson of the Crystal is always bringing something out of the ordinary to Wayne and that Wayne people appreciate his efforts is manifested by the crowded houses he always has. This week has been a whole week of top-liners and surprises. Monday evening, April 22nd, he has secured, at great cost, Maeterlinck's "Blue Bird."

When the famous Belgian author wrote this masterpiece he little thought that it would be immortalized in motion pictures by an American organization, and while the spirit of the poet rambled in idyllic fields, the glorified pictures that were conceived in his pregnant mind were recorded with his pen, and the world had to be content with the imaginary visions conjured by the cold type.

Artcraft has visualized these poetical visions, and under the masterful direction of the great French artist and producer, Maurice Tourneur, the allegorical and symbolic epic is presented to civilization in a language understandable by all, and depicted so clearly that a child can comprehend it.

Only the marvelous strides made in the art of moving pictures have made it possible to produce a work of this magnitude. It has been a stupendous task, requiring thousands of feet of multiple photographic exposures, and the presentation of hundreds of actors in important parts, as well as the construction of huge settings, which it is said, will establish new records in this direction.

This picture is perhaps one of the most beautiful pictures ever shown. You must not miss it. It is endorsed by the Christian Herald and its beauties are un-numbered. YOU have always been in search of happiness—"The Blue Bird." Watch the children in this wonderful photo-play, they, too, are searching for Happiness. Did they find it? Go to the Crystal Monday evening and see.

WELL KNOWN DOCTOR HONORED

Mrs. D. W. MacGregor received the good news this week of the election of her brother, Dr. R. E. McKechnie of Vancouver, British Columbia to the chancellorship of the University of British Columbia. The Doctor received a majority of 100 votes over his opponent, Honorable Judge F. W. Howay.

Members of the medical profession in the United States will be glad to learn of the honor conferred upon the Doctor as he has international reputation as a surgeon and is an authority on surgery among the medical universities of the world.

Dr. McKechnie is a member of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of London, England, also a member of the American Board of Surgeons, which is international and meets once a year.

YEOMEN HAVE A BIG TIME AT OMAHA SATURDAY

Last Saturday at Omaha, says Edward DeVillie, three or four hundred members of the order of Yeomen had a great time when a large class became members of the order's higher degree, which is known as the degree of Radamanthus. Candidates were present from all parts of the state, and as far as Texas and Wyoming, to say nothing of the many who floated across the river from Iowa. The afternoon was given over to watching the goat's antics, and Archer W. I. Kourtright had the honor of being selected as one of the goat's special subjects, and he survived in perfect health. Following the initiation a banquet was served at which more than 400 found places. Grand Foreman Frink and other grand officers and some of the lesser stars made speeches which were greatly enjoyed.

A large class adoption was held in the evening. Deputy DeVillie appears to have been in the thick of the proceedings, and is gradually recuperating. He states that the definition of Yeomanry is "100 per cent success" and that candidates for admission are applying throughout the country.

A large delegation from Norfolk were at Omaha, going over by automobile and came home full of enthusiasm for a class of 500 new members at that place, where a domain for the new degree is being organized, and where the next initiation will be given, unless Wayne shall have candidates enough to bring the show to our doors.

IS WAYNE COUNTY GOING "OVER" ON LIBERTY LOAN?

We would say yes, to that question, although, according to all reports received by Chairman H. F. Wilson of the committee up to Wednesday morning we lack $74,850 of having quota subscribed; but the sum is growing less as the hours go by.

Chairman Wilson tells us that reports from all banks and many of the committee up to that time that a total of $234,350 which leaves the balance as above stated. Mr. Wilson is confident that the county quota will be over-subscribed, and so do we, for several reasons. We are a patriotic people and would subscribe as a matter of duty to country. We are a rich people, and can well afford to subscribe. Many of our people know a good investment and when they can have a clean 4 1/2 per cent interest tax free, and absolutely good, they put up. We fail to see why this county should not double her quota—but it is not yet done.

BIG RALLY AT CARROLL THIS SATURDAY EVENING

A big county rally is to be held at Carroll Saturday evening, when E. R. Gurney of Fremont, one of the most eloquent and able speakers in the state will deliver a patriotic address, which it will be well worth your time to hear.

Carroll has been most loyal in attending the Wayne meetings, and I would be gratified indeed to have the people of Wayne and vicinity reciprocate as largely as possible, and I know you will enjoy it, for many of us know Mr. Gurney, who for a time was in business in this county. Plan to meet at Carroll Saturday evening.

H. F. WILSON
Chairman of Liberty Loan Committee for County

A CHOICE OF SERVICE

Registered men who apply before April 26th may enter the service as a skilled workman instead of going into the ranks, if qualified, and may see a list of the many things skilled men are needed for by applying now to the local board.

MRS. E. Q. SALA PASSES AWAY

Mrs. E. Q. Sala died this morning at the Sala home in the west part of the city of cancer of the stomach from which she suffered for a number of months. The funeral will be from the home at 2:30 Friday afternoon. An obituary will be given next week.

Every $10 spent at the Basket Store Saturday, April 27th, one dollar will go to the fund for filling the comfort bags. Three hundred good, loyal citizens can go over the top with the entire amount. A little co-operation is the watchword and action is all it requires. By all means get your orders in early, if possible. —adv.

AUTOMOBILE TAKEN FOR JOY RIDE SATURDAY NIGHT

Late Saturday evening Fred Stone went to the place he had left his car in Wayne to take something from the car and drive car was there. A hurried search revealed no car and it was not found until Tuesday morning when it was discovered in a field southwest of Wayne. The find was reported to the sheriff who went and brought in the car. No damage appears to have been done the car, as it came in on its own power, but by the process of subtracting the gas in the car from the amount which Mr. Stone had left in the tank, it was evident that the car might have been given a drive of at least fifty miles. Packages left in the car, robes and tools were not disturbed but as they were out in the rain during the night, they were not in the best of shape. Some day some one will take another ride for such a prank, and yet it will not be freely taken, for it will terminate at the big state building with bars across the windows. Better cut it out, boys.

LIEUTENANT MAHAFFEY HOME

Lieutenant Mahaffey came home Sunday from camp without his uniform. The reason for this is due to the fact that himself and others were transferred from infantry to heavy artillery and given a training of 14 weeks—strenuous work, too, the officer said, and himself and a dozen or more failed to come up to the standard of the men who had been given West Point training or perhaps several years of this work. Mr. Mahaffey expects to be returned to service again soon—in fact he wants to get in where he can get "over there" at an early date. He and others have sent in to headquarters at Washington to see what they can do. Lieutenant Mahaffey saw service in the Philippines, on the border and has been with the Nebraska boys ever since the company organized at Wayne, and according to all reports we have heard made good every particular in the infantry.

WILLIAM ROBERT HOYT

William Hoyt, a prominent man of Knox county, died at his home at Bloomfield, Saturday, April 13, 1918, at the age of 60 years. Mr. Hoyt was deputy county clerk of Knox county for six years, was cashier of the Center State Bank under Messrs. Stetson and Lundgren. In 1911 the family moved to Bloomfield, where they have since resided. For the last few years Mr. Hoyt has been city clerk at that place.

Mr. Hoyt's health has been failing for some time but he refused to give up his work until a week before his death. He leaves his wife and two daughters, Lola and Beth, to mourn the departure of a kind and loving husband and father.

PATRIOTIC MEETING MONDAY

The Crystal theatre was crowded Monday night to enjoy a good program put on by Manager Nielson and the patriotic part of the program by W. H. Neely. Mr. Neely gave a very brief but interesting address, after which the audience sang a parody on "Over There." It was "Over Here" and was a plea for everybody to buy a bond. The trouble with these four minute talks, they usually cut them to three minutes. Put Mr. Neely on the program again and have him talk at least a half hour.

DEATH OF WILLIAM PAGE

William Page, for twenty years a resident of this part of Nebraska, died last week at the home of his son William at Pilger, at the age of 92 years, lacking a few days. He has made his home since coming to Nebraska with son or daughter, his wife having passed away before he came to this state. Mrs. J. M. Barrett, of this city is his daughter, and the body was brought to the cemetery here Sunday after a funeral service at Pilger, and buried in Greenwood cemetery.

WAYNE GIRL MAKING GOOD

Miss Fern Oman, who is attending the State University at Lincoln, took a leading part recently in the opera, "Faust" and received many favorable press comments. The opera was put on under the direction of Madam De Villmar under whom Miss Oman is studying voice.

OBITUARY OF MRS. ELIZA SMITH (Contributed)

Mrs. Eliza Smith was born in Barry, St. Edmunds, England, June 21, 1840, and died in Winside, Nebraska, April 15, 1918, at the age of 77 years, 9 months, and 24 days. She lived at her birth place until forty-six years old at which time she left England for the United States, arriving in Wayne county in 1889 and has resided here ever since with the exception of two years when she lived in Florida.

Mrs. Smith was baptized into the fellowship of the Bury St. Edmunds Baptist church by her pastor, Rev. Cornelius Elven, and has been a consistent member ever since. At the time of her departure she was a member of the First Baptist church at Wayne, Nebraska. She died in the confidence of Jesus Christ, her Saviour and Lord. While in the hospital at Wayne she told the pastor that God had been good to her and for that reason she wished to praise Him while she had breath.

Our departed sister was kind and loving to those she considered her friends and would be true to them till death. She was a good mother and sister and was always the happiest when she was attending to the things of the home.

Her nature took naturally to the beautiful and because of that fact she was fond of all kinds of exquisite flowers. Many people today will remember with pleasant memories Sister Smith as the one who helped to bring cheer into their lives by the giving of a bouquet of flowers.

We are thankful that Mrs. Smith lived to see more than her allotted days and was so smart until just a short time before her decease. About two months ago she took a heavy cold and at the conclusion of that was stricken with cerebral hemorrhage as she sat at the table. Friends held out hope until the last, but on account of her age the attending physicians felt that she would succumb sooner or later. She took her departure to be with her Lord Monday morning, April 15th, at 3 o'clock.

The family and friends will miss her, but her memory will long linger with us, having this blessed consolation that God wanted her as one of the jewels to bedeck His crown.

She leaves to mourn one brother, Mr. Harry Smith, of Winside, Nebraska; Mrs. Susan Oliver, her only child and daughter, of Wayne, Nebraska; and four grandsons, Charley, Horace, Willie, and John Oliver, also of Wayne.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon in the Methodist church at Winside, Nebraska, Rev. Fletcher J. Jordan, her pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. J. B. Wylie, pastor of the Methodist church at the above place. A large number of friends were present at the service to pay their last honors to one who had gone to be with her Maker. Interment was made in the Pleasant View cemetery at Winside.

PATRIOTIC MEETING CITY HALL FRIDAY EVENING

We cannot get too much of a good thing, and therefore we are glad to announce that S. Toledo Sherry, a United States Indian inspector, will speak at the city hall Friday evening, April 19th, the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill. "The Soldier and the Tiger" is the name given to the patriotic talk of this eloquent man, and those who have had the fortune to hear him elsewhere tell us that those who fail to attend will miss much. The hall should and doubtless will be packed full.

PATRIOTIC MEETING AT GRACE CHURCH SUNDAY

J. H. Kemp and Mrs. J. G. W. Lewis are to speak on patriotic subjects at the Grace church south of Wayne at 2:30 Sunday afternoon. People who can attend may be assured of talks well worth listening to, for both are familiar with the phases of the present situation about which they will speak. Nothing should prevent a large audience from attending.

Mrs. Henry Isom was a Sioux City visitor Saturday.

Mrs. George Kruger spent Friday with friends at Sioux City.

Wm. Gildersleeve had a car of hogs on the Omaha market Tuesday.

Dr. Textley of Carroll, was a passenger to Sioux City and Omaha Monday.

Mrs. Chas. Beebe of Wakefield visited relatives here Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. J. H. Foster was called to Sioux City Friday on account of illness of relatives.

Will Forbes came from Waterloo, Iowa, Saturday morning for a short visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Forbes.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kellogg went to Verdell Saturday morning for a ten days visit there with their sons living near that place.

Miss Amanda Lundahl and Miss Eleanor Nelson went to Wakefield Saturday where they spent Sunday with Miss Lundahl's folks.

SPRING CLEANSING

We have heard it said, and we like it fine; that a cleaning in time, is what saved mine.—Cleaning, Pressing and Repairing at Wayne Cleaning Works.

Walter Norris came up from Kansas City Saturday evening to visit here over Sunday with his wife and her father, T. B. Heckert. He was greeting Wayne friends about town Monday morning.

The smell of fresh paint and burning debris fill the air, wife has forgotten all about meal time, and the old man wants to go fishing, all of which denotes that spring house-cleaning is at its height.

Mrs. John Erickson returned Friday evening from a visit with home folks at Council Bluffs, Iowa. She was accompanied home by her sister, Mrs. John Moser, who will remain for a time at the Erickson home east of Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Jacobson of Lynch were here Sunday, coming up from Omaha to visit their son and daughter at the college. They are much pleased with the college and its surroundings and said the young folks were contented here.

Miss Florence Beaver, who has been in the employ of the Radio-Round Incubator Company for several months, went to Lincoln Sunday where she has a splendid position. Miss Florence made many friends here who were sorry to see her leave.

Mrs. Dave Walters returned to her home at Plainview Monday following a visit here at the home of her brother, J. M. Lively and family. They formerly lived here and the lady tells us that she would prefer Wayne to her present place of abode.

R. N. Donahey, the eye man, who has been five years at Wayne has a city opportunity offered him, and he will leave Wayne in about a month. Meantime there is time for him to fit your eyes first. Better see him NOW.—Adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Maxwell came by auto from their home at Croston, last Thursday to visit a day or two at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Maxwell. Mr. Maxwell accompanied them on their return trip, and remained a few days to help with the farm work.

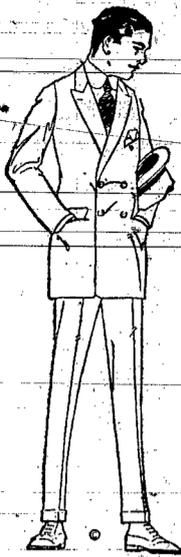

J. W. McGinty was at Huron, South Dakota over Sunday, going over to visit his daughter who is ill at her home there. While there he had the pleasure of meeting his soldier son, James, who has been in camp in New Jersey, and is home for a two-weeks furlough. He told his father that the people in the west have but a faint conception of German atrocities, not having seen the evidences of it that come under the eyes of the people near the coast.

In Adams county, Iowa, they have set aside Sunday, the 21st, as Red Cross day for the hens of the county, and are asking that every egg laid in that county on that day be donated to the Red Cross, delivery to be made as early in the week as possible. A prize is to be awarded to the person who brings in the most eggs. Adams is a small county, but we will wager that the hens make a fine record if they understand what is to be done with the eggs.

V. F. Wilson, known among the college students of two or three years ago as "Woody" was through here Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon, going to, and returning from Winside, where he was superintendent of schools before he quit to help Uncle Sam whip the Huns. He has been in the coast artillery at a training camp in the south but has been transferred to Ft. Omaha to take a course in aviation which is supposed to fit him to go "over there." Harginton is his home and he was there the fore part of his furlough. A number of friends greeted him at the station here as the train stopped.

Wm. A. Clark was here to spend Sunday with his wife and daughter. He has been at different towns along the Bonesteel line and returned to Norfolk Monday forenoon.

Miss Musil, formerly of Wayne, was a visitor here Monday evening. She is now employed at Fullerton and was going to Dante, South Dakota, to visit relatives.

Attorneys F. S. Berry and A. R. Davis went to Lincoln the first of the week to have the supreme court umpire a game between them. We did not learn what the case was to be presented, and no decision has been given yet, for the supreme court of Nebraska is a deliberative body, and they do not hand out ready-made opinions all at once. It takes time as the wheels of justice turn slowly and then sometimes miss fire.

Mrs. F. G. Churchill and baby came Tuesday from Ames, Iowa, to visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Neely, and with her many Wayne friends.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Agler from Marathon, Iowa, came here last week to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Merriman, her brother. They had been in Kansas to visit a son and stopped here on the return trip.

Mrs. W. E. Wolters came up from Fullerton to visit over Sunday with her husband, of the city light and power force, and look over Wayne a bit. It was her first visit here and she likes Wayne quite well except that they are having difficulty in finding a place to move into which suits them in location, size and conveniences. She returned to Fullerton Tuesday.

Mrs. W. L. Fisher returned Monday evening from her visit with her daughter, Mrs. Jones, at Wymore. On her way home she was joined by her mother, Mrs. Souders, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. F. Souders and son Will, from St. Charles, Iowa, who came for a visit here at the Fisher home and with son and brother, J. W. Souders. W. L. stopped at Omaha where his son Alfred met him at they came home in a car which they purchased while on the trip.

The packing houses are claiming to be patriotic and tell how many from these concerns have entered the service. If a man quits his job and joins the army, does that make a patriot of his employer? Never thought so. But they do say that when it gets to the common laborer for some of the big plants, they are glad to go to war if they can qualify, for they find better conditions in camp than at the plant.

The Junior Red-Cross has organized eighteen food-producing clubs with a total membership of one hundred thirty. Each club will endeavor to create and save as much food as possible, and each member will have an individual garden plot to work and care for or will do an equivalent amount of work in the family garden.

At the end of each month the members will receive a grade for the work done during the month. Those grades will be given by the parents who have been appointed direct supervisors of their own children.

The parents know more about the actual work of the child than any one else and experience has proven that they will grade closer than the average overseer and that if they are made responsible for the grade given they will also feel that they are responsible for the work done and therefore will see to it that the child completes the work he has undertaken.

Group supervisors have been appointed for each club. They will explain the plan of the work to the parents, act as advisors during the summer and see that the grade cards are collected at the end of the month and sent to the superintendent of the school. These cards will be filed and if the grades for the summer show excellent work the pupil will be permitted to add 5% to two subjects for the first semester and 5% to two subjects for the second semester. If the grades show "good work" for the summer the pupil will be permitted to add 5% to one subject for each semester. No credit will be given for poor work. The work will include the preparation of the ground, planting of seeds, caring for growing crop, marketing, drying, canning or storing of fruit, vegetables or grain.

The clubs are going into this work to produce food and thus help to win the war. They are enlisting as food produce soldiers and they need the home folks and the supervisors to stand back of them just as they are standing back of the boys at the front. Secure all the ground that your children can work and then work with them to produce results. If you have no children but have a piece of idle ground let some child work it. A piece of slacker ground is as much a traitor as a slacker dollar this summer.

WHY NOT A DRYING PLANT FOR WAYNE COUNTY?

The county food administrator at Columbus, C. L. Gerrard, promises the people of that community a community drying plant which will be for the use of any who wish to take advantage of it on terms of equality. The estimated cost is from $500 to $600. Of the project, which would be well for our administrator to consider, the Telegram says:

The plans call for the erection of a temporary building 22 by 42 feet in dimensions in which to house the plant. Mr. Gerrard and E. P. Dussell will donate the use of their lots on the south side of Thirteenth street between Lewis and Murray as a site. The building will be divided into two rooms, one in which the plant will be located, and the other for use of patrons in preparing their corn and vegetables for drying.

Mr. Gerrard believes that a 100-tray plant should be installed, which can be increased in size if necessity demands. It is proposed to have the boys in the manual training department of the high school make the trays. The Columbus Light, Heat & Power company will donate the use of an electric motor with which to operate it. Corn, apples, plums, cherries, and all kinds of vegetables can be dried in such a plant. This permits of the preservation for winter consumption of many garden products which would otherwise go to waste. Everyone in the community may make use of the plant. A nominal charge will be made for the service rendered, the receipts to pay the cost of electricity consumed, and the expense of hiring a manager.

LETTER FROM "OVER THERE"
(Passed as Censored)

The following letter was written to a Wayne friend by a member of the signal corps in France. The young man was a professor in the schools of a northern Nebraska town before he enlisted. He was very successful in his work in the schools and gave up a splendid position to join the colors. Satisfied that he was doing his duty he joined the ranks as a private and if honors come his way it will be because of merit instead of position and rank at home.

Somewhere in France,
March 17, 1918.

Dear Friend:
Fine day today. Spring must be here. 'Tis Sunday and St. Patrick's at that. 1:30 p. m. now. Just returned from hearing a lecture on "War Risk Insurance."

Had inspection by the major this a. m. Also military drill, rather strenuous, especially with a 45 Colts automatic hanging to one's hip. Was assigned to do mechanical work on the machines last week, also took another flight. An amusing incident occurred on the field yesterday. A student pilot, who was supposed to carry sand bags in observer's seat, pulled the throttle too soon. As a result he carried my pal, sand bags and all up into the blue sky. Everything came out O. K. but the expression on my pal's face would have broken a camera lens.

While maneuvering France I have had the opportunity of seeing the birthplace of Joan of Arc, some ancient churches and cemeteries, part of the 1914 battlefield, the Meuse and Marne rivers and other interesting things.

There are practically no farm houses here. Many villages, unsymmetrical and unsanitary, according to our standards and ideals. Usually a French house (complete) accommodates chickens, cows, sheep, horses, grain, hay, implements, living place and a wide shop. The trees, hills, valleys, rivers—and many inhabitants—are beautiful to the eye of a camera but to the human eye, which sees deeper, many of these things are not so beautiful.

Some time ago my "pedagogical" instinct led me to visit a French village school. Intensive work, equipment simple, discipline poor. The pupils sang the French national hymn to me in a very earnest and impressive manner. The master gave me a souvenir "de ecole."

If I were a good wordsmith and traveled de luxe perhaps I could interest you but you perhaps realize the circumstances of a military life. I am coming back to the states when the Star Spangled Banner waves over Potsdam and the dead of Waterloo rise from their graves, stand on the grassy slopes, and give the Napoleonic salute.

Here's a verse of the revised "Lorelei":
"She sings no more upon the Rhine,
That we too near the fighting line;
The guns would drown that rasping note,
—And smoke would grip that husky throat."

Have often heard of your "jess" days. There may be hard days, fight days, and death days over here, but, there are victory days coming. As for the "jess," they have breathless, hopeless and lifeless days and at last will have no days at all. Right must be supreme. The United States has the highest motive that ever drew a nation into war. We can't lose.

Write, we get lonesome.
Sincerely,
D. C. SORENSON.

EDUCATE! EDUCATE! EDUCATE!
Education is the watchword of these days, and never before has so much been done in as short time for the cause of education as in the past year. Men and women are giving their time to the work without salary or hope of reward other than that which comes in knowledge of good to others.

A movement is now on as wide as the state and as the nation to have at least one meeting in each school house in the land. The Educational department of the Woman's division of the Council of Defense are asked to see that a meeting is held at each school house in this county, before the school close in May, if possible, when teachers, pupils, and speakers are to prepare a program which will give all a broader and better idea of duty and service. Among them many things suggested as appropriate for the meeting are flag salute, singing patriotic songs, flag drill, talks on thrift stamps, liberty loans, food production and conservation, child welfare, Junior Red Cross work, new patriotism and way to win the war, and other subjects which might apply to local conditions. It is a move which should be carried out, and one from which much good is bound to come.

A Sure Sign of Motor Truck Satisfaction

An international Motor Truck shortens farm roads and lengthens farm profits. It enables you to put your farm products on the market in better condition. It makes it possible for you to reach markets out of range of horse drawn vehicles. With an International Motor Truck you can haul grain, hay, garden truck, poultry, wood, coal, anything and everything to and from the farm. You can transport them quicker and cheaper.

With a grain dump body, unloading is a quick and easy job.

In a motor truck, the engine and the rear axle are the parts you want to investigate. In the International Motor Truck, you will find an engine and rear axle made by the International people in an International factory and backed by an international reputation and warranty. You can't go wrong when you invest in an International. Your business needs a truck NOW. Better come in and see the International soon. You can protect yourself against an advance in price.

A MONARCH RANGE
Stays Satisfactory

Buying a Monarch Range is, in keeping with the government's policy of conserving, for a Monarch will actually repay its own cost in the saving of fuel, and repairs.

The Monarch's superiority comes in its ability to keep on year after year giving the same perfect service it does when new. The reason why is plain. It is built tight with rivets, not putty—therefore it stays tight.

Hidden money does no work: Put your idle dollars into government bonds and let them work, not only for you, but for humanity.

There is plenty of work for all who will work—and the pay will come for the good work—perhaps not in dollars—but in a satisfaction of knowing that one did his best.

Even so, good and benevolent an undertaking as "child welfare" has enemies among those who are afraid of the cost in dirty dollars. Some people can see only the cost side of a question—benefits are not measured.

Says the wise man, why kick about conditions. Suggest something better—point to a remedy. Good talk. Suppose the people demand state insurance in lieu of the grafting companies now tolerated. It should prove economical and safe.

The Nebraska insurance combine still insists that their patrons should pay the war tax for them. And the worst of it is, that they appear to be so entrenched in this state that whatever they say in the matter of rates must go. The state should have some way to control:

If you want to know just how brutal, mean, exacting, and ruthless is German rule of conquered territory, you may get the official information free by writing to 8 Jackson Place, Washington, D. C., asking for "German Treatment of Conquered Territory." They have it in pamphlet form and it is almost unbelievable. But it is from official reports, and the official orders from the German government are given as proof that the stories told are based on facts.

It looks to us more as though those five German Lutheran ministers who were so imbued with their love of the Master that they could not tolerate a Jew and a Catholic on the same platform with them, were more loyal to the Kaiser than to their Christ, for they had on other occasions, when it was for funds for

We are prepared—prepared last fall—by ordering and having delivered ahead of the "rush" orders of those who did not make early preparation, a large assortment of the latest designs in Monuments which may now be seen at our sales room on West First street at Wayne. This early buying has enabled us to sell at almost as low a price as before the war; but price is a small consideration when quality is considered, for in ordering from us you get that which will endure for all time.

By placing your order now you will give us the time required to complete your work without rushing it through for that time. It will also be a saving to you for you will be compelled to pay more later on.

their church, managed to hobnob with these vile, misguided fellows who followed Christ as a Catholic or still looked for His coming as a Jew. All that's the matter with that class of cattle is that they are pro-german. It was born and bred in them, and for that they may not be blamed, but they should hasten back to Germany and stay where they belong.

Jawn D., it is said, will pay the government in taxes this year more than $34,000,000, according to the latest estimate. That is a small price for the man to pay for the looting privileges he has had in this land of the free. He could not pay it had he not been permitted to greedily grab the natural resources of the country and control them. When the war is over Uncle Sam should give some of his attention to taking over the ownership and control of the natural resources of the country, including the water power sites, the coal producing lands and the forests. These might do for a starter, and then each year add a few new things to the list, even though it includes the railroads and packing plants.

SOCIAL NOTES

Minerva Club

The ladies of the Minerva club entertained their husbands at a simple two-course luncheon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Owen last Friday night. While the guests enjoyed the repast, Miss Helen Main and Mr. Lester Johnson entertained the company with a program of charming music. The members greatly enjoyed the delicious candied fruit, which Mrs. Ada Rennick, now sojourning in California, had sent as a treat for the occasion. After supper the guests were taken in cars to the new College gymnasium and spent the evening in indoor sports.

The club was a guest of the Wayne Woman's Club on last Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Will Rennick. A most delightful entertainment was provided. A program of music preceded Miss Finigan's splendid demonstration of "Dining Room Service." At the close of the afternoon the hostess served light refreshments. The Minerva Club will meet at the home of Mrs. J. J. Coleman next Monday, April 22nd, at 2:30 instead of at the usual hour. Mrs. Lewis will give the Federation report.

Central Social Circle Meets

The Central Social Circle met with Mrs. Fred Wendt Thursday last. Roll call was responded to with "Bright and Breezy Sayings." Each member gave her favorite verse of spring. A shower for a prospective bride and groom was given. A parasol full of gifts was opened for them and many useful and beautiful presents were found. A guessing contest was put on which caused a great amount of merriment. Each one was asked to make as many words as possible out of the words "Red Cross." Mrs. Ray Rurant and Mrs. John Gettman were the prize winners, each receiving a pair of pillow cases which they will give to the Red Cross.

A unique contest and one which tested the discerning powers of the excellent cooks present was trying to name the different spices which were wrapped in packages, by smelling them. Mrs. Guy Epler, Mrs. John Gettman, and Miss Minnie Kieper were the best in this contest and received a large cake.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. R. R. Smith, Thursday, May 9th.

Interesting Coterie Meeting

The Coterie met with Mrs. W. E. Jenkins Monday afternoon and a very pleasant afternoon was spent.

The following program was given: "Evolution of the Short Story and Its Place in Literature," Mrs. Perry Theobald; a very interesting short story by Mrs. A. R. Davis; "Noted Magazine Writers," Mrs. L. A. Fanske; Biography of Ernest Thompson Seton, Mrs. Horace Theobald; "Lobo," a story written by Ernest Thompson Seton, read by Mrs. Carroll Orr.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Perry Theobald, April 29th.

Lila Gardner Surprised

A dozen of the Camp Fire girls walked into the E. O. Gardner home Saturday evening and surprised Miss Lila, the occasion being her sixteenth birthday. "Sweet sixteen" is the "sweetest" year of life's golden hours and the friends of Miss Lila made the mile stone memorable by their presence.

The evening was spent playing games and the young folks danced the Virginia reel. Miss Lila received many useful and beautiful gifts. Mrs. Gardner and Miss Florence, who was home for the week end, served light refreshments.

The Woman's Home Missionary society met with Mrs. C. W. Hiscox Thursday last. It was the first meeting of the year and a great deal of interest was manifested. Roll call was responded to by Proverbs. Devotional was led by Mrs. Gulliver. An interesting map study was given by Mrs. Brittain. "The Lure of Africa" was discussed by Mrs. Gulliver. Miss Bessie Hiscox played two very pretty violin solos with Miss Mae Hiscox, accompanist. The next meeting will be with Mrs. C. A. Grothe with Mrs. Dean as hostess, May 9th.

The Helping Hand society is meeting with Mrs. W. H. Buetow today in an all day session. The program will consist of the following papers: "The Army," Mrs. Anna Grier; "Artillery," Mrs. Andrew Stamm; "Navy," Mrs. Herbert Lessman; "Aviation," Mrs. A. E. Halladay. Mrs. Irve Reed and Mrs. Herbert Lessman will sing a duet.

Do You Want Seed Corn

I am shelling from 15 to 20 bushel per day of an early yellow corn which I have found very satisfactory. My tests have shown a 90 per cent germination from the 1917 crop. This corn is all selected with care, and inferior ears discarded; is carefully shelled and is proving very satisfactory to those who see and test it.

While the supply lasts, orders will be filled in the order received, so an early order will insure one we can fill for a time at least.

I have been a successful grower of seed corn for a number of years, and believe that I can do the community good by furnishing this grade of corn for seed.

SOLDIERS OF THE KITCHEN

One hundred million bushels of wheat must be saved by 20,000,000 families. Every cupful will count.

This is everybody's war, and women have an important part in winning it. Farm women are privileged above others, because they can produce more foods and conserve what they can. The woman who works in the city and boards must eat what is put before her, or go hungry. Her sister on a farm can be a food dictator in her own kitchen and at the same time produce more food in her garden.

"Wheat bread for army ovens—corn, barley, oat, rice, or potato bread for home ovens," should be America's motto.

"My people," said a Kentuckian, "would eat corn bread until harvest if it would help win the war."

When the 50-50 flour ruling caused consternation among noncombatant women, one fighting spirit in California exhibited in a store window a coffee mill, a sack of milo maize, a loaf of milo bread and a recipe. She had fired the kind of shot that will be heard around the world before this war is over.

These soldiers of the commissary will supply America with daily bread without cutting the loaf they offer the allies. They will eat wheatless bread, or no bread, and prove to Germany that the women of America fight with those who fight for them. Soldier comrades they are of their brothers at the front!

MISS BESS ELMORE WEDS MAN IN SERVICE

The announcement of the wedding of Mr. C. W. Symonds, who is in the U. S. service at Camp Dodge, Iowa, and Miss Bess Elmore came as a complete surprise to most people in Stanton although her nearest friends had known of her engagement.

The wedding took place at Camp Dodge on Thursday, March 28th with a large body of military people, in fact, the wedding was a military affair, the Regimental Chaplain performed the ceremony in the Y. M. C. A. hostess house which was beautifully decorated for the occasion, with "Old Glory" very prominent throughout.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. J. D. Elmore and has spent the greater part of her life in our city where she has ever been a favorite among the younger set. She is a graduate of the city schools as well as the Wayne Normal and for the past few years has been engaged in the city schools at Sioux City where she is deemed one of the best instructors in the schools. It was here she met her husband who was an instructor in Manual Training—Stanton Register.

SIoux CITY DOCTOR SUEd.
A lawsuit of a little different nature than ordinary ones, has been filed in the district court of Pierce county. Burt Sherer of Plainville is the complaining witness and Dr. Frank L. Secoy of Sioux City is the defendant. It seems that Mr. Sherer was bothered considerably with defective eyesight. He was persuaded to consult with Dr. Frank L. Secoy, an eye doctor of that place. After much treatment the eye of Mr. Sherer grew worse instead of better and finally he lost his complete eyesight from one of his eyes. Mr. Sherer believes that he was "stung," strictly speaking, and he therefore brings suit against Secoy, claiming damages to the extent of $50,000.—Pierce Leader.

BERRY PLEASES ALLEN
Wayne sent one of her best down here last Saturday afternoon in the person of Fred S. Berry who gave a patriotic address in the Rex theatre. The meeting was well attended and many people were unable to obtain admittance to the hall. It would be useless to attempt to describe the talk given by Mr. Berry for it would lose its wonderful power and value in the telling. Suffice to say that although many were compelled to remain standing during the time of the speaking, no one seemed to become tired enough to desert for fear of losing out on some of the excellent speech. Music was furnished by the Allen band, it being its first appearance this season.—Allen News.

SHOLES SCHOOLS IN FRONT

Superintendent Ed. Coleman tells us that the Sholes consolidated schools is 100 per cent in Juvenile Red Cross work, and that in war savings stamps they have a $40.00 average for each and every person in the school, pupils, janitor, and teachers. It will be pretty hard to beat such a record.

THE WAR AND THE SCHOOLS
(From the Goldenrod)

Probably at no time has the necessity for unusual school attendance been greater than it is today. The call of the army, of business, and of the professions including teachers is very imperative. Patriotism demands the greatest effort toward efficient service at home and in the army. To neglect this preparation is at least unpatriotic. Often the highest form of patriotism is shown by those who earnestly strive for efficient home service. Our boys rightly expect from us faithful service in doing at home the tasks they were forced to leave in order to serve in the ranks of our army. Those who seek to avoid army duty are not the only slackers nor are they the most injurious citizens we have. Neglect at this time to make proper preparation for the duties of civil life is injurious in the extreme. The saving of food, fuel, clothing, is important but the saving of efficient manhood and womanhood is far more important.

At this time of all times the school should not be unnecessarily interfered with. The excitement of military service and the hysteria of war must not lower the standard of public education. An attempt to force the educational process by longer hours or Saturday additions will in the end defeat the very purpose of those who advocate these hot house methods. Every educator knows that the process of education is one of growth and not one of hours or of extra days added to time in the school room. Now is the time to build school spirit. It is our duty to democracy, to our nation and to our boys on the firing line.

Not less school nor less efficient teaching, but rather more school and greater intensity in the teaching process is the solution. It would seem that if ever there was a need of vacation schools it is now.

Patriotism demands that we stand by the education of the growing child in all matters affecting his training for his life work. Teachers, attend the summer school and get the inspiration for "going over the top" in all matters regarding the educational needs of our time.

This article is in line with the best educational authority and it is in line with the wishes of our government.

Learn To Read Soldier Signs
(From the Goldenrod)

The following article of information is taken from the columns of the Exponent, an exchange from Aberdeen, South Dakota:

"The branch of service to which a man belongs can readily be told by the color of the cord on his hat. However, the significance of the different colors is rather puzzling to a great many people. All men in the army service wear the regulation felt khaki hat.

"A blue cord about the brim of an army hat indicates that the wearer belongs to the infantry; a yellow cord, cavalry; a scarlet cord, artillery; maroon and white, engineers' corps; orange and white, signal corps; buff, the quartermasters' corps; black and scarlet, the ordnance corps. All general officers wear a gold cord, and any other officers a gold and black cord. Members of an officers' reserve training camp wear a red, white and blue cord. A man in the service of a field clerk wears a black and silver cord around his hat.

"After one knows to what branch of the service a man belongs, he is interested to know what division of the army that soldier is a member. This can be told by the emblems on the coat-collars of a uniform. If a man is a member of the regular army the letters U. S. are upon his coat collar. The men in the Reserve Army have U. S. R. upon their coat collars. U. S. N. A. signifies that a man is a member of the National Army. The letters U. S. N. G. mean that the wearer belongs to the National Guards. Should a man be a member of the general staff he will have a five pointed star upon his collar. A shield on the coat collar indicates that the man who wears it is a member of the adjutant-general's department. A soldier wearing a circle surmounted by an eagle is in the quartermasters' department.

"The rank of an officer can be told by his shoulder loops. One gold bar signifies the rank of second lieutenant; one silver bar, first lieutenant; two bars, captain; a maple leaf in gold, colonel. One star denotes a brigadier-general; three stars a lieutenant-general; four stars a general.

"The scroll of braid upon the sleeve of a uniform denotes the rank, also. Just one stripe denotes the rank of lieutenant. Two stripes upon the overcoat indicate the rank of captain. If a man has three stripes upon his sleeve, he is a major. Four stripes mean a lieutenant-colonel, and five stripes a colonel. Should a uniformed man have stars upon his overcoat sleeve, he is a general. The number of stars denotes his rank."

GROGERS HELP IN 50-50 PLAN

SIGN PLEDGE TO CARRY OUT
FOOD ADMINISTRATION PROGRAM.

POST CARDS IN STORES.

Explain New Wheat Ruling to Thousands of Customers—Insures Greater Food Saving.

Grocers of the nation have accepted enthusiastically the 50-50 basis for the purchase of wheat flour and are doing their utmost to explain the new regulation to the housewife. This ruling by the U. S. Food Administration requires each purchaser of wheat flour to buy one pound of cereal substitute, one kind or assorted, for every pound of wheat flour. It was necessary to restrict the use of wheat flour in order that the allies and our fighting forces abroad might be assured of an adequate supply of wheat to meet their vital needs. This supply must come from our savings because we have already sent our normal surplus.

Wheat saving pledge cards were forwarded by the Food Administration to all retail food merchants, and these are being signed and posted in stores throughout the country. This card states, "We pledge ourselves loyally to carry out the Food Administration program. In accordance with this order we will not sell any wheat flour except where the purchaser buys an equal weight of one or more of the following, a greater use of which in the home will save wheat:

"Cornmeal, corn flour, edible corn starch, hominy, corn grits, barley flour, potato flour, sweet potato flour, soy bean flour, farina, flour and meals.

rice, rice flour, oatmeal, rolled oats and buckwheat flour."

Some confusion has resulted on the part of the consumer in construing this "50-50" ruling to mean that an equal amount in value of substitutes must be purchased with wheat flour. This is a mistaken idea. The ruling states that the consumer in purchasing flour shall "buy at the same time an equal weight of other cereals."

One exception to this ruling is concerning graham flour and whole wheat flour, which may be sold at the ratio of three pounds to five pounds of wheat flour. This provision is made because approximately 25 per cent more of the wheat berry is used in the manufacture of these flours than standard wheat flour.

Another exception is that concerning mixed flours containing less than 50 per cent of wheat flour, which may be sold without substitutes. Retailers, however, are forbidden to sell mixed flours containing more than 50 per cent of wheat flour to any person unless the amount of wheat flour substitutes sold is sufficient to make the total amount of substitutes, including those mixed in flours, equal to the total amount in wheat flour in the mixed flour. For instance, if any mixed flour is purchased containing 60 per cent wheat flour and 40 per cent substitutes it is necessary that an additional 20 per cent of substitutes be purchased. This brings it to the basis of one pound of substitutes for each pound of wheat flour.

A special exemption may be granted upon application in the case of specially prepared infants and invalids' food containing flour where the necessity is shown.

Some misunderstanding seems to exist on the part of consumers in assuming that with the purchase of wheat flour one must confine the additional 50 per cent purchase to one of the substitutes. This is not the case. One may select from the entire range of substitutes a sufficient amount of each to bring the total weight of all substitutes equal to the weight of the wheat flour purchased. For instance, if a purchase of 24 pounds of wheat flour is made a range of substitutes may be selected as follows:

Cornmeal, 8 pounds; corn grits, 4 pounds; rice, 4 pounds; buckwheat, 2 pounds; corn starch, 1 pound; hominy, 2 pounds; rolled oats, 3 pounds.

These substitutes may be used in the following manner:

Cornmeal, 8 Pounds.—Corn bread, no flour; corn muffins or spoon bread, one-fourth flour or one-third rice or one-third hominy; 20 per cent substitutes in whole bread.

Corn Starch, 1 Pound.—Thickening gravy, making custard, one-third substitute in cake.

Corn Grits, 4 Pounds.—Fried like mush, used with meal in making corn bread.

Rolled Oats, 3 Pounds.—One-fourth to one-third substitutes in bread, one-half substitute in muffins; breakfast porridge, use freely; oatmeal cookies, oatmeal soup.

Buckwheat Flour, 2 Pounds.—One-fourth substitute in bread, buckwheat cakes.

Hominy, 2 Pounds.—Baked for dinner, baked for dinner, with cheese sauce.

Rice, 4 Pounds.—One-fourth substitute in wheat bread, one-third substitute in corn bread, boiled for dinner (a bread cut), as a breakfast food, to thicken soups, rice pudding instead of cake or pie, rice-batter cakes.

Several grocers have stated that their customers who strictly observe the 11 wheatless meals each week find it necessary to buy substitutes in addition to those ordered under the 50-50 plan.

ALLIES DEMAND MORE CEREALS

American Meat Restrictions Relaxed to Effect Greater Wheat Savings.

ARGENTINE ARRIVALS SHORT.

Meat Supply Here Considerably Enlarged — Food Administration,
However, Warns Against Waste.

The allies have made further and increased demands for breadstuffs, these enlarged demands being caused to some degree by shortage in arrivals from the Argentine. It is, therefore, necessary for the U. S. Food Administration to urge a still further reduction in the consumption of bread and breadstuffs generally if we are to meet our export necessities. The Food Administration has issued a statement explaining the situation in detail, particularly the reasons which lead it, for the purpose of centering effort for the time being upon the cereal situation to relax temporarily the restrictions on meat consumption.

Experience shows, this statement says, that the consumption of breadstuffs is intimately associated with the consumption of meat. For various reasons our supplies of meat for the next two or three months are considerably enlarged, and we can supply the allies with all of the meat products which transportation facilities render possible and at the same time somewhat increase our own consumption. In these circumstances the Food Administration considers it wise to relax the voluntary restrictions on meat consumption to some extent with a view to further decreasing bread consumption.

Conservation of food must be adjusted to meet necessities from time to time, for neither production, nor allied demands are constant factors, nor can any of these factors be anticipated for long periods in advance in the disturbed conditions in which we at present live. While the world situation is not one that warrants any relaxation in the efforts to eliminate waste or to relax economy in food, the Administration desires to secure better adjustment in food balances.

So long as the present conditions continue the only special restrictions we ask are the beefless and porkless Tuesday.

The meatless meal and the porkless Saturday are no longer asked.

The farmers of the United States are responding to the national call to increase hog production. Their increase, to all appearances, is being attained more rapidly. Of more immediate importance, however, are several complex factors which have effected an immediate increase in meat supplies.

The transportation shortage before the government took over the railroads, the bad weather in January and early in February, the large percentage of immature corn in the last harvest and the necessity of feeding this corn as rapidly as possible to save it from decay, have not only resulted in backing up the animals—particularly hogs—on the farms for a longer period of feeding, but have resulted in a great increase in their average weight and will result, with improved transportation conditions, which already appear, in larger than normal arrivals at market for the next two or three months. The weight of hogs coming to the market for the past two weeks indicates an increase in weight of from an average of 208 pounds last year to the almost unprecedented average of 232 pounds, or a net increase in their meat value of over 15 per cent. This is a distinct addition to the nation's meat supply. It therefore now seems certain that we have such enlarged supplies for at least some months to come, that we can not only increase our exports to the allies to the full extent of their transportation facilities, but at the same time can properly increase our domestic consumption.

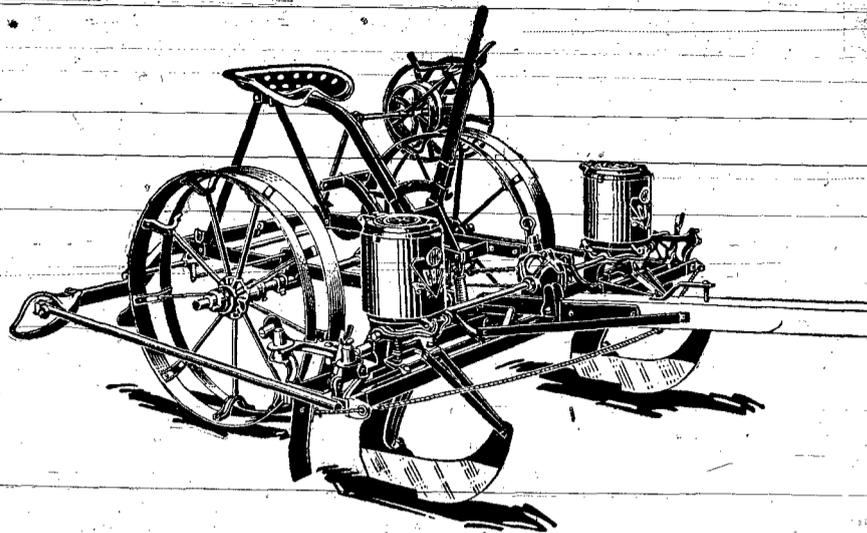

The response of the public to our requests for reduced consumption of meat during the past few months has been most gratifying, and this service alone has enabled the government during this period to provide such supplies as transportation to the allies permitted.

The Administration also suggests that in those parts of the country where the old fashioned home preservation of pork is still the custom, this practice should be extended at the present time, as it will relieve the burden upon transportation to and from the packing houses and is economically sound as saving the cost of packing operations and at the same time will provide home supplies of pork to last over the months of decreased supplies.

The Food Administration desires to repeat that it does not want to give the impression that there are times when simplicity and moderation of living are not critically necessary, but that its sole desire is to secure an adjustment between our different food supplies and meet changing conditions from time to time and to keep the public fully and frankly advised of its position with the full confidence and reliance that whenever it becomes necessary renewed appeals for saving will meet the same loyal response as in the past.

C B & Q CORN PLANTERS

Can Be Depended Upon In The Field

Winner of Gold Medal at San Francisco Exposition

The Gold Medal was the highest award conferred on Corn Planters at the San Francisco Exposition in 1915.

The importance of this victory of the C B & Q planter means more when one stops to look into the reasons which led the Jury of Awards to confer this honor on this planter.

The award means that the C B & Q planter is constructed of high grade materials throughout and therefore with proper care and handling will give good service for a long period of time.

Furthermore, it means that the planter was operated in the presence of the Jury of Awards and found to work properly, the plates and valves operating together so that the plates dropped a high percentage of kernels accurately. If the planter was set to drop three kernels to a hill, practically all the hills contained three kernels, not three, then two, then four, but three practically every time.

In the final analysis the award of the Gold Medal to the C B & Q planter means that this planter has no superior in the corn planter world.

Why C B & Q Planters Drop Kernels Accurately

To secure the best planting results all seed should be graded and seed plates be selected that will fit the size and shape of the kernels to be planted. The planter then has an even chance to perform its work.

On the C B & Q planter the plates are operated directly from the solid steel axle. The drive chain is always kept taut by an automatic chain tightener, which prevents any lost motion in transmitting power.

This construction all has to do with the efficient working of the plates and the valves of the planter. The plates operate exactly on time so that the desired number of kernels are delivered to the upper valves and are there waiting to drop when the valves are tripped. The valves have a force feed action—in other words, a plunger which forces the kernels out together and into the bottom of the furrow.

The action of both the plates and the valves is positive. The power is dependable, the gears are carefully cut and therefore mesh properly, insuring a high percentage of accurate dropping for this planter. Adverse field conditions are met successfully by the C B & Q planter.

SHORT HORN BULLS

Parties interested in raising cattle should call and see bulls raised by John S. Lewis & Son. They are the largest beef cattle yet. Their dams give a good flow of milk. Herd headed by Britton Goods (339757), son of Imported Choice Goods (186802), the most noted bull ever imported. His get and the get of his son and grandsons has won more prizes than any other family of the breed. Such cattle in Iowa sales last month averaged $900 to $1500 each. These bulls can be bought so they will pay for themselves in additional beef produced in a short time and are good enough to head any pure blood herd in Nebraska.

Basket Store Notes

Patrons who have bought coupon books as an experiment have bought again and again and feel certain from a standpoint of economy and convenience, it's the best yet.

A merchant advertised he would buy hogs, oats and wheat at market price, BUT, desired the service or courtesy of 30, 60 or 90 days time. This merchant was thoroughly financially responsible but none brought him a single hog or even a bushel of oats or wheat. This simply went to demonstrate that the farmer prefers to sell the products of his farm for cash so he may have a free hand to invest or buy goods where he can do the best. This is also true of the merchant who sells for cash. He buys goods for less and gets a cash discount.

Red River Valley Early Ohio Seed Potatoes. Basket Store. adv.

Ted Gossard went to visit friends at Lincoln Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Fred Volpp of Scribner came to Wayne to visit relatives today.

Mrs. W. H. James of Carroll went to Creighton today for a short visit.

Claude Forman and Frank Matine of Creighton drove over today to attend the funeral of Mrs. P. Baker.

Mrs. Ella Southwick and daughter came from Omaha the first of the week to visit with her sister-in-law, Mrs. George Heady.

The Basket Store is co-operating with the government wishes. All goods marked in plain figures and over-the-counter prices.

V. A. Senter has been home this week wrestling with the grippe or some other serious trouble. Nothing less than something serious would put V. A. out of the running.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Schmidt went to Sioux City Sunday morning where the lady went to a hospital for diagnosis and treatment for knee trouble. They have not returned yet.

Mrs. William Perdue came home from Omaha Monday, where she had been called by the sickness of a brother in a hospital at that place. She left him in improving health.

Margaret Coleman was at Sioux City the last of the week to spend a day with her father at the hospital there. At last report he was expected to be able to come home the last of this week or the first of next week.

Joe Ellenburg is busy at his place south of Wayne shelling every day from 15 to 20 bushels of carefully selected corn which is testing in the nineties for germinating, and is filling orders for same as they come. You know what to do if in need of seed.—adv.

Landlord Gansko of the Boyd hotel tells us that their work of repair and remodeling is coming on fine, and that he expects to be able to serve the public not only with beds as he has been doing for two weeks or more, but with meals as well, the first of the week.

Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Smith went to Omaha there to meet their son, Lee, who is in training at Camp Funston, and has a furlough to visit Omaha a few days. Mr. Smith went by freight, accompanying a car of the best cattle that have left this county in a long time to the Omaha market. This load of cattle belong in part to Lee, and he had them ready for the feed lot when called away, and he was to be there at the selling, as well as to visit his parents. We learn from good authority that Lee is making a record as a sharpshooter, and that the man under whom he is training is frequently, if not beaten, by the lad.

Z. Baum of Randolph was a Wayne visitor Tuesday.

Miss Cora Pannabaker went to Carroll Tuesday for a short visit.

F. M. Griffith was at Sioux City the first of the week with stock.

Mrs. E. G. Stephens and Mrs. Bud Davis of Carroll were Wayne business visitors Tuesday.

Mrs. H. L. Bredemeyer and Miss Mary Schmell of Carroll were Sioux City passengers Wednesday.

Ray Lamb came a few days ago from Uniontown, Kansas, and plans to spend the summer at the home of his great-uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Forbes, and to assist them on the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Cunningham and daughter returned this week from near Los Angeles, California, where they spent the winter. Mrs. Cunningham tells us that they passed a very pleasant winter—or rather what would have been winter had they remained in Nebraska.

Sunday morning Mrs. Harry Craven went to Rochester to consult with specialists there as to her health and perhaps to remain for treatment. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Chas. Beebe of Wakefield, who will remain with her for a time. Mr. Craven accompanied them to Sioux City.

Frank Graham, who has been managing the Farmer creamery for a number of months, has gone to Seattle to work in a shipyard for Uncle Sam. E. E. Kearns of Omaha is here to take charge of the business and is expecting to move his family here soon. In another place he invites the farmers to bring their produce to their own concern.

The Basket Store Saturday, April 27th, puts on a Soldier Boy Benefit sale. Ten per cent of the proceeds of cash sales on that day will be turned over to a ladies finance committee for the purpose of securing comfort articles to fill comfort bags which have already been provided. Mrs. Rollie Ley takes entire charge of cash sales. $300.00 has to be raised at this time but with the proper cooperation this should be easily secured.—adv.

The war isn't getting quite all the front page space these days. Prof. Thomas, of the University of Chicago, broke loose last week and furnished the metropolitan papers a juicy morsel and Douglas Fairbanks put too many capers with sweet little Mary Pickford to suit the home loving Mrs. Fairbanks, and a separation of the Owen Moore and Douglas Fairbanks families is taking up good space. Naughty, Naughty. But youth will have its fling. And the next picture by Charlie Chaplin will be entitled "Over The Top." Charlie has been drafted. He'll now get a chance to use his slap-stick comedy on the Huns and here's hoping they laugh themselves to death. Anyhow, the best of luck to you, Charlie.

The Basket Store is headquarters for chicken feed. We expect to sell a big carload this season. We have the kind that makes the chick grow.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Welch came last week from Baker, Montana, to visit here at the home of the lady's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Madden. Mr. Welch has returned home after a short stay here, but the wife and daughter will remain for an indefinite time.

An extraordinary discount. 10 per cent of your purchases will go direct to a fund to supply "comfort kits" for the boys.

It will require $300.00 to supply comfort-bags which the ladies of your community has helped to supply. Your co-operation means "over the top" with the entire amount. Enlist your friends and neighbors in this good cause. Every school teacher can assist by explaining to the pupils the object of this sale and what a comfort it means to our boys to provide these necessary articles.

This sale is properly authorized, all the sales people have donated their services and Mrs. Rollie Ley will take charge of all cash receipts. Our goods are all marked in plain figures and the usual over-the-counter price will be maintained.

This is an opportunity for the patriot, by word and action, to make this one of the largest sales ever attempted in N. E. Nebraska.

Commence today to organize your community or school district. Every $10.00 spent at this sale will mean $1.00 to the comforts of our boys who are fighting our fight.

To those who desire to bring eggs for this sale, we will pay cash at cash market price, which may be exchanged for goods. No coupon books will be sold on this date, and all goods purchased must be delivered on same day.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

When you compare the low price of Ford cars with the price of farm produce, farm stock and everything else on the market, the great value of the Ford car can be fairly estimated. The price for the Ford Touring Car is only $450 f. o. b. Detroit. It is the greatest value, not only among motor cars, but in the whole run of articles grown and manufactured. Think of a five-passenger motor car with the reputation for service, durability, and economy, that's behind the Ford car, selling for $450! Nobara Presbyterian met this week at Emerson. Mr. E. Bernscheit was the lay delegate from this church.

That the Worker's conference of the Sunday school did not meet this month does not indicate that it is given up or forgotten. Save the first Sunday afternoon in May for it.

Wilma Gilderslove will lead the Y. P. S. C. E. meeting next Sunday evening at the usual hour. The theme will be: "How and What to Read." The society was glad to welcome several visitors last Sunday evening.

"Camouflaging Conscience" will be the subject of the sermon next Sunday morning. There will be, as usual, a good musical program directed by Mrs. A. R. Davis. Visitors are always welcome at all the services of this church.

Our mid-week meetings can be very helpful if we attend them. They cannot be of great value if we stay away. If everybody realized just how much everybody else is influenced by everybody's actions, everybody would be more constant in the discharge of obligations.

We will all attend the meeting at the English Lutheran church next Sunday evening. We are all for prohibition men and measures. We all know that the ethics of Nebraska is too high for any citizen to, with impunity, talk about going back to breweries and open saloons. Let us all show where we stand.

U. S. Must Cut Use Of Wheat by One-Half

America Consumed 42,000,000 Bushels Monthly. From Now Until Harvest Must Use Only 21,000,000.

RATION PER PERSON IS 1 1/2 POUNDS OF WHEAT PRODUCTS WEEKLY

Military Necessity Calls for Greater Sacrifice Here—Allied War Bread Must Be Maintained—Our Soldiers and Sailors to Have Full Allowance.

If we are to furnish the Allies with the necessary proportion of wheat to maintain their war bread from now until the next harvest, and this is a military necessity, we must reduce our monthly consumption to 21,000,000 bushels a month, as against our normal consumption of about 42,000,000 bushels, or 50 per cent. of our normal consumption. This is the situation as set forth by the U. S. Food Administration at Washington. Reserving a margin for distribution to the army and for special cases, leaves for general consumption approximately 1 1/2 pounds of wheat products weekly per person. The Food Administration's statement continues: Many of our consumers are dependent upon bakers' bread. Such bread must be durable and therefore, requires a larger proportion of wheat products than cereal breads baked in the household. Our army and navy require a full allowance. The well-to-do in our population can make greater sacrifices in the consumption of wheat products than can the poor. In addition, our population in the agricultural districts, where the other cereals are abundant, are more skilled in the preparation of breads from these other cereals than the crowded city and industrial populations.

With improved transportation conditions we now have available a surplus of potatoes. We also have in the spring months a surplus of milk, and we have ample corn and oats for human consumption. The drain on rye and barley, as substitutes, has already greatly exhausted the supply of these grains.

To effect the needed saving of wheat we are wholly dependent upon the voluntary assistance of the American people and we ask that the following rules shall be observed:

1. Householders to use not to exceed a total of 1 1/2 pounds per week of wheat products per person. This means not more than 1 1/4 pounds of victory bread containing the required percentage of substitutes and one-half pound of cooking flour, macaroni, crackers, pastry, pies, cakes, wheat breakfast cereals, all combined.
2. Public eating places and clubs to observe two wheatless days per week, Monday and Wednesday, as at present. In addition thereto, not to serve to any one guest at any one meal an aggregate of breadstuffs, macaroni, crackers, pastry, pies, cakes, wheat breakfast cereals, containing a total of more than two ounces of wheat flour. No wheat products to be served unless specially ordered. Public eating establishments not to buy more than six pounds of wheat products for each ninety meals served, thus conforming with the limitations requested of the householders.
3. Retailers to sell not more than one-eighth of a barrel of flour to any town customer at any one time and not more than one-quarter of a barrel to any country customer at any one time, and in no case to sell wheat products without the sale of an equal weight of other cereals.
4. We ask the bakers and grocers to reduce the volume of victory bread sold, by delivery of the three-quarter pound loaf where one pound was sold before, and corresponding proportions in other weights. We also ask bakers not to increase the amount of their wheat flour purchases beyond 70 per cent. of the average monthly amount purchased in the four months prior to March 1.
5. Manufacturers using wheat products for non-food purposes should cease such use entirely.
6. There is no limit upon the use of other cereals, flours, and meals, corn, barley, buckwheat, potato flour, et cetera.

Many thousand families throughout the land are now using no wheat products whatever, except a very small amount for cooking purposes, and are doing so in perfect health and satisfaction. There is no reason why all of the American people who are able to cook in their own households cannot subsist perfectly well with the use of less wheat products than one and one-half pounds a week, and we specially ask the well-to-do households in the country to follow this additional programme in order that we may provide the necessary marginal supplies for those parts of the community less able to adapt themselves to so large a proportion of substitutes.

In order that we shall be able to make the wheat exports that are absolutely demanded of us to maintain the civil population and soldiers of the allies and our own army, we propose to supplement the voluntary co-operation of the public by a further limitation of distribution, and we shall place at once restrictions on distribution which will be adjusted from time to time to secure as nearly equitable distribution as possible. With the arrival of harvest we should be able to relax such restrictions. Until then we ask for the necessary patience, sacrifice and co-operation of the distributing trades.

Lewis leads this meeting and that fact is a guarantee we will have a good inspiring meeting. Come one and all. Choir rehearsal Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Come next Sunday to the Church of the Glad Hand and we will do you good. Seats are free and a royal welcome awaits you.

RECORD OF SPECIAL LEGISLATIVE SESSION

(Lieutenant-Governor Howard)
The Columbus Telegram contains the following story of the special session of the legislature, written by the man who presided over the senate. It appears to be fair to the majority in the senate, though the writer was not in sympathy with them in several instances:

THE SPECIAL SESSION

In comparison with a regular session it was as a disheveled society woman beside a spick-and-span housewife—a critter—fresh from the straw-stack beside one groomed for the show-ring. The jaunty regular session note of importance in the manner of the average legislator gave place to an air of dismal indifference to the proceedings. Even the regular session pride in personal appearance was gone, and often two-day whiskers were seen on the faces of the solons who never failed to shave before breakfast during the regular session.

Instantly the house of representatives, by an overwhelming majority, declared that the legislature had a right to ratify the national amendment abolishing the liquor traffic, even though, the governor had not included that subject in his call for the special session. In fact, the house leaders took the position, and properly, that the governor had nothing at all to do with the matter—that it was a legislative proposition solely. The congress of the nation had adopted the amendment, the president of the republic had approved it, and then the legislatures of the states—not the governors—had been requested to approve the work of the national congress. In this view of the situation the house of representatives quickly ratified the national amendment by almost a solid vote.

But it was different in the senate. On guard in the senate was the same element which during the regular session controlled things as completely as a school boy controls his own pocket-knife. This element decided that the question of ratifying the amendment should never reach a vote in the senate. It did not. Senator Henry, floor leader for the anti-amendment forces, submitted a resolution which pledged the senate to consider no bill and no concurrent resolution touching any subject matter not incorporated in the governor's call for the special session. In my capacity as lieutenant-governor and as president of the senate I ruled the Henry resolution out of order on three grounds. 1. Because it was in violation of the state constitution, which provides that all bills and concurrent resolutions must be read at large on three separate days in the house. 2. That the Henry resolution would deny to any senator the right to have considered a resolution which he might regard as within his own guaranteed legislative rights. 3. Because the dictates of patriotism demanded ratification of the amendment, it having been passed by congress and approved by the president as a war measure for the conservation of food for the soldiers of the republic. The senate majority appealed from my decision. The appeal was sustained, thus placing the senate on record against considering any bill not covering subjects mentioned in the governor's call.

But men and senators can change their minds overnight. Next morning there was placed before the senate through regular channels the concurrent resolution ratifying the congressional amendment, the house of representatives having adopted it and certified it to the senate. It is the duty of the lieutenant-governor to enforce the rules and the orders of the senate, and so I forbade the reading of the ratification resolution as it came from the house. My decision was sustained by the senate majority. That same evening the senate secretary attempted to read a house bill on another subject not in the governor's call, but I refused to let it be read, because it was offensive to the plain terms of the Henry resolution. I felt sorry for the senate majority, because this bill appropriated money to pay salaries to the senators. I believed then, and I believe now, that it is absurd to ask a legislator to work without pay, just as absurd as to ask a hired man to plow corn without pay. At the moment when I ruled the salary appropriation bill out of order the senate majority made no effort to overrule me and indeed several who had voted for the Henry resolution commended me for my consistency. But after sleeping over it the leaders of the majority decided upon a move which was appalling to a consistent mind. They held a caucus and decided to spit in the face of their own Henry resolution by passing the bill for their salaries, although the governor had not mentioned that subject in his call. And so it was that next morning they adopted a motion to call the appropriation bills again from the house of representatives. Again I refused to let the secretary read the bills, because they were excluded by that famous Henry resolution, which many of the damp senators seemed to regard as a sacred document at the time it was employed to shut out the congressional amendment. But all the sacred attributes of the Henry resolution oozed during the night. It was now nothing more than "a scrap of paper." My ruling against admitting the appropriation bills was overturned. The salary bills were admitted and duly enacted into law. I am not complaining against the salary appropriation, because I do not believe the people of Nebraska desire their legislators to work without pay, but I do sincerely mourn the murder of the sacred Henry resolution by its sworn friends. It was a bad resolution at best, but bad as it was, still I say it was shameful on part of the senators of the moist majority to rape a legislative bairn of their own begetting.

There was earnest discussion over the sabotage, sedition and alien-voting bills recommended by the governor, and I must say that the forensic display at this special session was better than in any average session. The champions of the sedition bill prepared by the state council of defense contended that the bill should go through just as it was drawn. They argued that any change would weaken the state and county councils of defense and encourage disloyalty in many directions. The oratorical leaders for the bill as the state council had drawn it were Senators Spirk of Saline county, Neal of Nemaha, McMullen of Gage, McAllister of Antelope, Beal of Custer, and Chappell of Kearney. The orators who wanted to modify the bill and make it less obnoxious to the constitution were Senators Albert of Platte, Mattes of Otoe, Moriarty of Douglas, and Sandall of York. In my judgment some of the ablest oratory ever loosed in the senate chamber of Nebraska was uttered by the senators here named. The line-up for and against the sedition bill was pretty much the same as for and against the ratification of the congressional amendment. The changes of note were made by Spirk and Sandall. In all contests hitherto Spirk had voted always the moist majority way, while Sandall had always been with the tinder contingent. But when it came to the sedition and alien-voting bills Spirk said he could not stick by his damp associates and still feel that he was a good American, while Sandall said he could not remain in company with his old associates without violating his sense of obligation to the state and national constitutions. It was interesting, and often amusing, to note the sudden bond of friendship which these two bills formed between Senator Albert of Platte, and Sandall of York. During the long regular session one year ago there was daily oratorical clashes between the dry senator from York and the moist senator from Platte. At the opening of this special session they were still as far apart as Mars from Missouri, the York senator demanding the immediate ratification of the congressional amendment, which is intended to make the breweries cease converting food-grains into alcohol, and the Platte senator opposing ratification. But now they stood together like brothers for a sedition bill which would not "nullify the constitution of the United States and the constitution of Nebraska." The house of representatives passed the sedition bill about in the form desired by the state council of defense, but under the leadership of Albert, Moriarty and Sandall the senate changed it. In many directions. They also accomplished some amendments to the alien-voting bill, which proposes to submit to the people at next election a constitutional amendment barring from the electorate all persons who are not citizens of the United States by birth or by completed naturalization process. For my own part I was never able to discover the violent demand from some senators for cutting out part of the sedition bill, nor could I understand the great fear of some senators that the kaiser would set the prairies of Nebraska afire unless the bill should be enacted into law just as it was drawn by the council of defense. It was a tense subject in the senate, and ably contested on both sides. The senate amendments did not get very far in the house of representatives. That body was overwhelmingly committed to just such legislation as was wanted by the state council of defense, and at one time I feared a final adjournment might be taken before either bill could be passed, but at last the conference committees got reasonably close together, patched their differences as far as possible, and both bills were passed. I have heard some men say that the sedition bill as finally adopted is a makeshift, and of no value. That is a mistake. It contains practically all provisions asked by the state council of defense, and will go far toward the efforts of the council to encourage and demand loyalty on part of all Nebraskans. Those who say the new law will work hardship on any citizen are also mistaken. It will do no harm to any citizen who shall not utter sedition. It will not deny to any person the exercise of the sacred American right of free speech. It will not abridge the sacred right to publish free expression of thought. It will not take from the courts the duty of deciding the guilt or innocence of persons arraigned on a charge of sedition. If I thought the bill intended to take such powers from the courts I should have opposed it earnestly. As finally passed the bill contains no such provisions, although I have heard some people contend that it does. My advice to all Nebraskans is to fear nothing at the hands of this new law. Speak as freely and write as freely as you please. The new sedition law will not harm you unless you shall utter sedition, and no loyal citizen does that. If you shall speak or write sedition, then this new law will get you in trouble, but as long as you shall play the part of honor and loyalty you will have nothing to fear. (Concluded next week.)

SUNDAY MEETINGS AT THE WAYNE CHURCHES

At the Baptist Church
A very interesting and profitable meeting was held in the Baptist church Sunday evening in connection with the Third Liberty loan drive which is being put on all over the United States. The crowd was not so large, but the spirit in the meeting was excellent and appreciative.

The service opened by the singing of the Battle Hymn of the Republic and Onward Christian Soldiers, after which the pastor led the audience in the inventory prayer. Professor Davies and the choir sang a beautiful patriotic anthem which was enjoyed by all. The audience next sang The Star Spangled Banner.

Professor J. G. W. Lewis was introduced in a few well-chosen words by the pastor. Our professor is one who thinks deeply and for that reason his thoughts always strike home. Mr. Lewis said that he was not one who believed in man-worship, but did have the utmost confidence in President Wilson and the lofty principles which he has enunciated since the country entered the great conflict and before. He further declared that we could never have a lasting peace as long as the nations persisted in the practice of secret diplomacy. "I think that I can say without boasting that I have made a greater study of this than most people both in connection with my work as Professor of History and Political Science and the issue seems to resolve itself into this proposition, that the common people must now assume this question for themselves, and take their stand against militarism. If they have to fight the battles of the military class, President Wilson seems to be taking the common people into his confidence, and may it never be recorded of him in the history of the future that he came to his own and his own received him not as it has been of a certain one in Sacred Writ. The history of the future will chronicle this idea of our Chief Executive that the common people must now step in the breach and come to their own." "Aristotle said that a monarchy was a smooth running organization and really more efficient than a democracy. A democracy put him in mind of a raft where all the people had their feet in the water. While this is true, nevertheless government must always be by the people and consent of the governed."

Miss Ina Hughes sang "When the Boys Come Home." She is one of our popular singers and is always listened to with a great deal of appreciation.

Attorney Harry Siman of Winslow, spoke largely on the Third Liberty loan. His address was patriotic and had the ring of the genuine in it. Mr. Siman is one of the speakers who is sought for a great deal and never fails to carry his people with him by the power of his oratory. His speech Sunday evening was no exception to his past reputation. "There is no place for neutrality today," said Mr. Siman. "Some of us, before a year ago, thought that Germany had no sinister designs, but the facts which have come to us recently leaves not a vestige of doubt in our minds that all her perfidious work has also aimed against our own country in the thought of world conquest which she has been dreaming of for the last forty-five years."

He gave the people many reasons why they should buy Liberty Bonds. "The government conscripts our sons, and why should they not conscript our wealth? If we do not show that we are in the war with all our hearts that is exactly what Uncle Sam will do. What will our money and property be worth if Germany should win? But the man who says Germany is going to win is a pro-German and ought to be shot." "Which do we want friends, democracy where all the people have a voice in their own affairs, where their homes are sacred and the chastity of women will be respected, where the people are allowed to worship God according to the dictates of their own consciences? This course leads to happiness and felicity. Or do we want autoeracy which leaves behind it a trail of blood, murder, rape, arson and crimes which are not decent to mention; all this is done under the sanction of a fiend and the co-operation of the Divine Being according to the views of the Kaiser. This course leads to despair and death and at its summit the 'Beast of Berlin' stands with his bloody feet upon the necks of the people, and a sword in his mailed fist to intimidate the nations of the earth. We are going to win and the American soldiers will never stop until they reach Berlin and destroy forever the power which has made these awful atrocities possible."

The meeting closed with the singing of America and the fifth verse dedicated to our noble and heroic boys in France.

At The Methodist Church
A large audience gathered at the Methodist church Sunday to show their interest in patriotism and the third liberty loan as called for by our government. Attorney Kingsbury of Ponca delivered a splendid address that called forth applause several times from the audience as he showed up the villainy of the Kaiser. "The Reason We Are in This War" was Mr. Kingsbury's subject. He pointed out the fact that now, as a nation, we are under military rule. The slacker and the pro-German better take notice at once that Uncle Sam means business. He closed with a description of his ten days visit at Camp Deming. A splendid, helpful address was the verdict of those present.

J. H. Kemp, as the second speaker, was at his best. He knocked out the Kaiser in the first round and the pro-Germans and slackers came in for what they deserve wherever found. Everybody present was convinced that Kemp will not stand for any monkey work. He has a duty to perform and he is going to perform it without fear or favor. That's the kind of patriotism that will win. Kemp is the right man for the place, he is called to fill by our government. While he was speaking the audience broke loose and applauded.

These speakers will be welcome to the church and the city at any time they can help boost for Uncle Sam.

The singing was fine and patriotic. The meeting closed at 10:20 with everybody happy and faith in General Pershing's message which he asked Bishop McConnell to give for him to the American people: "We are going to win, we MUST WIN, we WILL WIN this war."

At The Presbyterian Church
In spite of threatening weather, a goodly number of citizens met at the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening to hear the lecture of Prof. I. H. Britell. This was a masterful address, and right up to the moment in its patriotic fervor. Some of the sentiments expressed were as follows:

Our forefathers, the men and women who colonized this country, came to America's shores to get away from oppression and political bondage. They founded, and later fought for, a social and political establishment where men might be free. All people who have come to these shores from that long-ago day to this, with the right purposes, have also come to get away from something distasteful to them and to find what they desired here. It is the duty of every person in this country at the present time to fight for freedom just as Americans have fought for it in every war they have ever waged.

The professor said that while he was once a pacifist he now believes that America should have entered the war when the Huns entered peaceful Belgium. He said that God has led us into this war to defend some of the eternal principles of right and justice. It is a righteous and an holy war. Those of us who are not permitted to go to the front and fight in the trenches should help, all the more earnestly, here at home. We can do that now by buying Liberty Bonds. No one is excused from this duty. There must be a Liberty Bond in every home. All patriots will have bonds.

REV. J. D. McALLISTER
who will speak Sunday evening at a union meeting in the English Lutheran church in the interests of National Prohibition.

SOLDIER FROM WAYNE TOPS MARKET WITH $17.00 CATTLE

Lee Smith, or as he is known now, Private George L. Smith, of I company, 355th Infantry, U. S. Army, got a three days' furlough from Camp Funston to look after the sale of a load of cattle he and his brother Dean fed at Wayne the past season. He also had the satisfaction of seeing his cattle bring the highest figure ever paid for a load of steers on the Omaha market. There were 12 head in the load, they averaged about 1,500 pounds and sold to a local packer for the even money of $17.00.

"We bought these cattle at home a year ago last December," said Mr. Smith, "and ran them on pasture until they were placed in the feed lot seven months ago. We fed only snapped corn and alfalfa, using shelled corn toward the finish. The cattle were high grade Shorthorns and certainly did well all the time we had them."

R. R. Smith, father of the boys, accompanied the shipment and is apparently very proud of his boys. Said he: "I have six boys and while they are not all in the army now I am ready to see them all go. They are ready, too. There was a picture in the paper the other day of the Kaiser and his six sons. Now, I want to issue this challenge to him. I will take my six boys and myself and fight him and his six sons any way he wants to. I would prefer rifles, but I am willing to let him select his own weapons. I also have a clear 160 acres to bet that we would win." Daily Drivers Journal-Stockman.
