PRIMARY ELECTION RETURNS FROM COUNTY AND STATE

Partial and Unofficial Returns Show Trend of Sentiment and Many Nominations

MANY DISAPPOINTED PEOPLE

Primary election returns are not pleasing to many people this time, for the reason that in many cases opposition to the winning candidates scattered among many aspirants, all of whom felt their mission to defeat the ones named. Where there are clear majorities no complaint can be made.

Below we give the vote of the county by totals as unofficially gathered. A partial return from over the state indicate the nomination as follows:

For governor Neville and McKelvie by democrat and republican.

Senator, Morehead and Norris. In the democratic race Metcalfe is a slow second, being about 10,000 behind, with Howard, Reed and Price trailing in the order named. On the republican side Norris is credited with a lead of about 2,500 over Sloan, with Hammond next and Mercer and Madgett far in the rear.

There was no contest in this congressional district.

In the senatorial district Graff carried the district over Kohl by about 136 votes on the democratic ballot. On the republican ballot Siman was defeated by Inhelder by a majority of less than 50. The county vote follows:

FRANCIS JONES ON LAND DUTY

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Jones have received word from their son, Francis, who has been in the navy for a year past that he has been given "land duty" for a time, somewhere in France. For the past eight months he had been on duty on a ship, as gun-pointner and coxswain, rather strenuous, and his transfer for a time is in the nature of recognition of faithful service and to give him a chance to relax a bit. While he could not make it quite plain as to his present duties, he feared they would not last, as he could have quarters and meals at a real hotel and sleep in a real honest to goodness bed. His friends here are glad that he can enjoy a release for a time from strenuous duties.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Henry Franzen was operated on last Saturday for appendicitis and is doing nicely.

James Nichols underwent a minor operation Wednesday.

To Mr. and Mrs. Frank Klopping, Friday, August 16, a son.

Mrs. A. Evans, who underwent an operation two weeks ago, will return to her home at Carroll this morning.

CLYDE MUNSINGER DIES IN FRANCE

M. T. Munsinger received word this week that his brother's son, Clyde, from Labor, Iowa, had died of wounds received in battle in France. The young fellow was in the 168th, and had visited at the home of his uncle here on different occasions. As the war goes on such news, sad as it is, is destined to come to many American homes for it is to be thus.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR PRIVATE IRWIN L. SEARS

Impressive and Solemn Services at Wayne for the First From this County to Give Life in Battle

ELOQUENT TRIBUTE BY MR. KEMP

It was indeed a sad gathering of citizens who assembled at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon, an audience which only the capacity of the building limited, and from all parts of the county who came to pay a tribute of love and respect to the memory of one who went from among us a few short months ago and had given his all upon the altar of his beloved country; to sympathize with and mingle their tears with those of the sorrowing mother and sisters.

The church was simply decorated with flags of the United States and those of England and France. A simple program had been prepared, singing America, prayer by the pastor, a solo by Miss Ina Hughes, a sketch of the young life, by Hayes Main, one of his classmates, which was a fine tribute to his many good qualities; a song by the quartet of young ladies. Then the eloquent address and tribute from his former teacher, J. H. Kemp, given below followed by a hymn by the audience and a benediction from Rev. D. W. MacGregor.

Mr. Kemp's Address

Mr. Chairman and Fellow Citizens: We have met to pay tribute to the memory of Private Irwin L. Sears. It is right and proper that we should do this, but anything that we can do or say can neither add to nor detract from the honor that is his. The lavish hand of Providence bestows no greater honor upon the sons of men than that which is now, and henceforth shall be, the generous portion of Private Irwin L. Sears.

To me, his name and features and form are familiar. I remember him as a high school student, having known him intimately for five years in the local public and high school. As has been pointed out by his classmates, he was a good student, a fine athlete and popular with both teachers and fellow-students.

Having been born and reared in this Grand American Republic, he had the American spirit and when this nation became a party to the world war, he chose to spend the strength of his young manhood to sustain the flag and principles of our government, and to preserve liberty and safety for his mother and sisters. Nothing better reveals the character and guiding principles of a man than the choice he makes in a crisis time like this, and the choice made by Private Irwin L. Sears is a key which beautifully commends his character.

Because the young men have the spirit, pep and endurance, war is a young man's job. We give our best men. Those of clean mind and body, make the best soldiers and this is the price we pay. But liberty is worth the price, whatever the cost. The price of liberty has always been life and treasure and sacrifice.

"Bring forth the best ye breed!" So spake Jehovah to the people that were his.

"Ye shall not offer me of beasts that are impaired, Or blind or broken, maimed or scabbed, or having wen, Or scurvy, shall ye bring me when ye appear Before my court to sacrifice to me."

"Bring forth the best ye breed!" Thus speaks Jehovah in these days of direst need.

"My kingdom that is built four-square upon the props Of justice, honor, truth and mercy, fair to see, Has been invaded by a horde that knows me not, And freedom struggles bravely for her throne."

"Bring forth the best ye breed!" So calls fair Freedom from her home on mountain height.

"Nor lame nor halt nor blind, nor weak nor craven-hearted, But only those endowed with symmetry and grace— With matchless strength and courage high and glorious faith To battle for the safety of my realm."

The best we breed are thine! Our valiant sons who have been sired by those who fought in Freedom's wars, who never have been serfs nor bent. The knee to foreign sway, nor worn chafing yoke Imposed by tyrant hand, we give, O God, to thee, That Freedom may not perish from the earth."

—Gladstone Holm.

Private Irwin L. Sears was a member of the famous, and now immortalized Rainbow division. With this company he fought the fight of a good soldier and with this company he died the death of a brave man. He did his utmost and made the supreme sacrifice that this republic built upon foundation stones, quarried by Revolutionary patriots from the mountain of eternal truth, should be sustained. Our brave soldiers, living and dead, have accepted the sound principle, that it makes little difference how long one lives, but a lot of difference how and for what one lives and dies. They scorn the false philosophy, that the world owes each individual a living, and endorse the true philosophy, that each individual owes the world a life.

Pericles, in speaking of those who fell in the Peloponnesian war, lauded his countrymen when he said: "It was for such a country, then, that these men, nobly resolving not to have it taken from them, fell fighting, and every one of their survivors may well be willing to suffer in its behalf."

Behold, then, the country for which our boys are fighting and dying—a republic applying in practice and proclaiming to the world the self-

WAYNE SOLDIER IN "NO MAN'S LAND"

E. L. Jones tells the Democrat man that he has a letter from his son, Arno, who is with the famous 168th in France, stating that he is safe, but that he had been in close quarters at times. He related that he was one of a party of ten (of which we read in the papers) who went out on a night raid in that land where neither side can claim as their own territory, and half of their party were taken prisoners. He and those with him fought their way out, but the other five were evidently made prisoners, as they did not report back, and there was no record of their death. Of course, he could not give details of the encounter, but from the report of what was evidently the same raid, we know that it was no picnic excursion.

SAVE ICE

The local ice situation is such that we are facing a probable shortage. Everyone is urged to be as saving as possible with this important commodity. A chunk of ice can be made to last much longer if it is wrapped in a gunny-sack soaked in cold water. If a gunny-sack is not available use several newspapers. Let every consumer practice the greatest care and strictest economy. It may become necessary for us to limit the amount of ice, or even deny it altogether to the soft drink and ice cream counters in the city. It may become necessary for us to limit each household to a specified amount per week. We hope no such steps need be taken and we believe it can be avoided if everyone will do his utmost to save ice.

MAY DEDICATE FLAG SEPTEMBER THIRTEENTH

The excavating for the new Wayne flag pole began this morning, and the pole is soon to be erected. It is suggested that as Pershing's birthday is September 13, and as a movement is under way to make that a day to be observed this season all over the state, that the new flag be raised and dedicated that day, and thus make it a great day for Wayne and Wayne county.

PURE BRED STOCK BREEDERS MEET TO PLAN BOOSTER TRIP

At the meeting of the Wayne County Pure Bred Stock Breeders' at the city hall last Saturday plans were commenced for their annual booster trip, and the date will probably be October 3. The next meeting of the members will be September 24, at which time it is thought that the committees will have plans for the trip under way.

It is planned to take a band, some singers and perhaps some speakers and a fine dinner. The auto trouble man will be engaged to trail the bunch looking for car trouble.

H. J. Miner has named to ascertain who will want the boosters to visit their herds, and thus be in shape to arrange the route, so if you want the people to see what you are growing in the way of fine stock, it be well to put in your bid.

It certainly is quite an advertisement to have two or three hundred people who are interested in farming and stock growing visit your place and see what you are doing. Last year they put in a full day and visited twelve or fourteen places.

The association members believe in helping all lines of improvement, and voted to raise $25 to offer in premiums for the coming fair of the garden club crowd.

New members are coming to the organization, and Fred Wendt was taken as a member, he having just embarked in real earnest in the game of pure stock. His real introduction on the game shows that he wants the good stuff, for he is heading the herd he is to build with a young cow and bull for which he paid $1,000.

No one should miss this trip when the time comes. Business men and farmers, breeders or not—it gives one an idea of what we are doing in this county to produce the best of stock of nearly all kinds. We will tell more later.

A LETTER FROM ERWIN L. SEARS

On July 20th, a week before his death, Irwin wrote to his mother a letter which was received the first of this week. It tells of the fighting on the other side, as follows:

Dear Mother:—I have been looking for a letter from you for quite a while, but have not received any. I suppose you have read all about the big offensive which just started. Well I was in the thickest of it, but we had to come out for a couple of days rest, because being up three days and nights makes a person pretty tired. I guess we are going back up pretty quick. We sure knocked the Boche for a curve, and they are keeping it up.

So you have three sons in the U. S. army. That isn't a bad representation for one family. Bill enlisted in the artillery, did he? I received a letter from him today. He seems to be having a fine time in Colorado and says he expects to go to Denver while there. Well, I hope this war is over before he and Harold have to go through the hell we have gone through. I received a letter from Francis a few days ago and they seemed to be O. K. Had quite a time with one of my double teeth, an abscess formed, and I had the tooth filled. I am going to send you a photo of myself, but it isn't very good. If you saw me now I hardly think you would know me as I am gray headed and quite a bit thinner than I was. I must close and hand this letter to the lieutenant. With lots of love to all, your son,

Irwin L. Sears.

BROOKS-HURSTAD

At Atchison, Kansas, Wednesday, August 14, 1918, occurred the marriage of Mr. Julius Hurstad of this city and Miss Edith Brooks of Huron, Kansas, Rev. Patterson officiating. Only relatives were present at the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Hurstad and their daughter, his parents and sister from this place were witnesses.

The groom is a highly respected young business man of this place, the junior member of the mercantile firm of Hurstad & Son. The bride spent a summer at Wayne some years ago, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Blossing, wife of the pastor of the English Lutheran church, a young lady of many accomplishments.

The bride and groom went to Chicago, Minneapolis and other points on their wedding trip, and are to be at home at Wayne about September 1. A host of friends will join in wishing them a long and happy life.

RED CROSS GOLF MATCH AT WAYNE COUNTRY CLUB

The Wayne Country club will hold a series of Red Cross golf matches for prizes beginning next Saturday.

The first three of these contests will be handicap medal play matches and will continue from Saturday to Wednesday. The charges will be 50 cents to each contestant and the prize each week will be a Red Cross certificate. All the players will be handicapped according to their ability and the contest will also be a blind bogey contest—18 holes will be played but only 9 of them will count for the prize and no one knows until the contest is over which nine it will be.

This will be followed by a match play handicap tournament for a fine Red Cross medal and the runner-up will win a certificate. The handicaps will be changed each week as the committee in charge gets a better line on the abilities of the various players. Following this tournament it is planned to hold a fall open tournament for the club championship and a Red Cross medal will be the prize. Fees will be charged to enter all these events and the total receipts will be turned over to the local chapter of the Red Cross. The medals are now on display at Morgan's Toggery and the secretary would like to have you enter for this first week-end tournament, Saturday.

MACHINERY EXHIBIT WILL SURPASS ALL FORMER YEARS

Even though a month before the state fair opens there has been booked a finer showing of machinery exhibits than has ever before been shown on the fair grounds, says a statement from the Nebraska state board of agriculture. In view of the shortened labor supply which now confronts the country this exhibit will undoubtedly be of even greater interest than in past years.

The wide awake farmer will be, perhaps, the most interested in these exhibits of any that will view them. His labor problem is becoming increasingly serious and he has not begun to see the worst of it. Farseeing farmers are meeting conditions with the forethought to provide themselves with the "steel sinews" of machinery to replace the men which have gone from the fields. The problem has ceased to be one of getting maximum efficiency by using machinery. Rather, it has become a problem of finding any possible means of doing the work that must be done.

The machinery exhibit at the state fair, which opens September 1, will not only afford the farmer a solution of his problems, but it will point the way to many savings, not only of time but money. Representatives of the various firms showing, will be on the grounds to explain in detail the operation of all machinery and a few hours' talk with these men will do more than weeks of reading and study by one's self.

STRICKLAND-CANNING

On Tuesday, August 20, at 5 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Strickland occurred the marriage of their daughter, Frances to Mr. Wm. P. Canning, Rev. D. W. MacGregor officiating. Only the immediate members of the bride's family were present.

Both bride and groom graduated from the Wayne State Normal in 1917.

Mr. and Mrs. Canning will be at home after October first in Dixon, where Mr. Canning is assistant cashier of the State Bank.

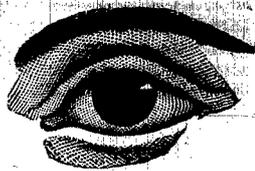

They left on the Tuesday evening train to visit at the home of the groom's parents near Verdel.

TWO WAYNE BOYS ENTER GREAT LAKES TRAINING

Monday afternoon Leslie Ellis left for Omaha in response to the call he has been waiting for to enter service for the government, and Tuesday morning Hayes Main, who had been waiting a call for more than two months was given word to come. Both enlisted as musicians, and will become members of marine bands. All hope they may play Yankee Doodle and Dixie for the kaiser to dance to.

Why some Eyes are Relieved by Glasses While Others are Not Because some people investigate the knowledge and ability of the man that examines their eyes while others do not. The price paid for a pair of glasses does not signify the quality.

Quality depends entirely on the skill and knowledge of the Optometrist who does the work.

I invite you to look over my record.

I took two complete courses in Optics and then appeared before the State Board of Examiners and passed with the highest marks in my class of twenty-five. Since then I have returned and taken another course in Optics and spent my spare time in study and research work.

I am the only Optometrist in this city that has passed the State Examination.

If relief from eye strain is what you want in your glasses come to me and you will get it.

I GUARANTEE THIS STATEMENT

They have been enjoying their visit here with parents and relatives, and both hope to repeat the visit when the war is over, if not before.

J. T. Erskine of Tilden, was a Wayne visitor Friday, coming over to look after some matters for his son, Dr. Erskine. He reports that the doctor is in France, and has been on duty in a base hospital for some time, in charge of a department of a large ward; but just now he is supervising the installation of equipment of new hospitals being built for American soldiers. From what the father said, it is impossible for people at this distance from the strife to form any conception of its magnitude, its horrors or its waste of property and life.

Mrs. A. B. Wilcox, who has been for the past six weeks visiting at the home of her son, A. S. Mitchell, left Tuesday to make her home with another son who is settling at Geneva. Mrs. Wilcox is 85 years of age, and has rattled wonderfully from a stroke of paralysis which she suffered a year or more ago. Her son, D. C. Wilcox, with whom she will remain has been visiting here while passing through on his way to South Dakota, where he has just disposed of his interest in a farm, was here over Sunday, and accompanied her home.

Julius D. Young of Craig, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Andrew Young, Jr., were Wayne visitors last week, driving up to look after some matters of business in connection with the young man's school work here, in case he finds that it will be possible for him to attend. He was here last year as a junior, and naturally wants to finish, but in these war times there is an uncertainty about the plans of the fellows about 18 years of age. They are needed so often in some productive labor whether they can go into direct government service or not.

This Farm Owner's Profits Assured

His crop is going to be in at the proper time—the soil will be properly prepared—and he won't be worried about the labor shortage. By using the Titan 10-20 Tractor he has placed his farm on a definite and economical commercial basis. This means maximum production at the lowest operating expense.

The Titan operates equally well on kerosene and gasoline. On every size farm—in every kind of soil the Titan 10-20 has proven its value. Assure maximum profits from your farm this year—

With a Titan Tractor and Oliver Plows

The Oliver Plow is recognized as the tractor plow—built especially for that work. The Oliver organization has utilized an experience of 60 years as plowmakers for the world, in producing a plow that conforms to the unusual requirements of tractor service.

It has great strength. It is easy to operate—a simple trip rope controls the plows from the tractor seat. The plow points enter and leave the ground first, which insures uniform furrows. Further, the combined rolling Coulters and Jointers bury all trash and stalks in the bottom of the furrow.

A good tractor—the Titan 10-20, with a good plow—the Oliver. That is the ideal plowing outfit—the outfit that you want—this spring! Let's talk it over.

Mrs. J. M. Cherry and daughter, Frances, visited at Sioux City Monday.

Mrs. A. D. Erickson and daughter Dorothea, are at Allen part of the week visiting at the home of the lady's sister.

Mrs. J. H. Foster and Miss Netz were Norfolk visitors Monday, going over to visit the Nielsen home for a short time.

Mrs. C. A. Berry and children went to Dodge Sunday for a visit of a week or two with relatives near that place. Mr. Berry drove down with them Sunday, and reports that Dodge is just at the edge of the dry belt, and has a fair crop prospect. L. A. Fanske accompanied them, returning with Mr. Berry.

Mrs. D. B. Fletcher, who taught at Carroll last year, is to teach at Leigh this year, under the same superintendent as last year. Leigh having engaged both of these from the Carroll force. Mrs. Fletcher was on her way to Schuyler Monday to attend the institute there this week, and her goods were to follow a day later for Leigh.

Miss Charlotte Emde of Carroll, who has registered as an applicant for the nurse training school, went to Colfax county Monday, to attend institute there and teach until such time as she may be called to go to training. Two others from Carroll, Miss Beth Yaryan and Miss Nellie Baker have also applied for admission to the training school when needed. Miss Jessie Prince of Winfield has also applied.

Why don't that fellow go to work—or fight? is the question quite frequently asked these days about some one apparently able to do both—or either, as they pass along the street. A fellow who will let his wife make the garden while he rests, needs attention from the council of defense. In fact, some feel that when the farmer lads have been taken from their farms and families, it is time for the council to do a bit of round-up of the slackers and if they are not to fight, on account of age, they should be given employment. Of course, it may not be for us to "butinsky," but the fellow who has the feeling shown in the question above, feels that it should be given a bit of publicity, else how are members of the council, who are busy men, to know that such sentiment exists, and that there is cause for such sentiment.

O. R. Bowen and family are spending the week at Crystal Lake, and Mr. Bowen is assisting the superintendent of the county in the institute work there this season.

Rudolph Suhr from southeast of Wayne, is at Hot Springs, South Dakota, going down to try the mineral water and mud-baths of that place for his health.

Go To Church, Young Man!

(From David City Press)

Many young men go to church. The majority do not. Only 20 per cent of the young men of the average community attend divine services.

Most reasons advanced by young men, and old men, too, for that matter, for non-attendance at church reveal this common element—a fatal indisposition to attend.

To the majority of young men the Sabbath as an oasis of rest and recreation has no appeal. It is rather a day for lounging and loafing, for newspaper reading and picnicing, for motoring and gaming, etc. Plainly no need for the Sabbath ministries of the church is felt.

The fact is, however, that if the young man of today hopes to attain to the fullness of a full-orbed life, he must look to the training of his heart as well as his head or body. The strength for life's moral crises does not come from physics or geometry, but from that spiritual training which makes us realize our responsibilities as son of God. The church, with all of its facilities, furnishes that training.

The Church-Going habit is therefore a good preparation for life. Within the corporate life of the church is to be found that atmosphere, that climate, that opportunity, that enjoyment, that refinement which makes us live at our best. In the ultimate, the cords that will bind you, young man, to the ideals and purposes of a noble life will not be the iron bands of worldly wisdom, but the mystic threads of devotion.

More than that. You need to worship as much as you need to eat or work. You may not worship God, but you will never grow old enough to outgrow the need. You may worship God anywhere and at any time, but you are not likely to keep tryst with Him unless you do so on the Sabbath day and in the appointed place.

So go to church, young man. Let your heart be thrilled by a mighty emotion. Let Love awake. Let Christianity's hope come to you on swift and strong pinions for the trials just ahead. Let Duty summon you to holy conquest. Let God command your energy and your youth, your optimism and your fire. For you God and the Kingdom waits. That Kingdom is Democracy writ large, a square deal for all.

To that task the church is committed. If an institution dedicated to such a holy purpose cannot command the best energies and enthusiasms of your manhood, pray tell me, what can? And what I have said to you, young man, is equally applicable to your father.

The primary is over, and the next alignment is for the best men and the best principles for the November election. There has been some elimination of corporation idols at the primaries.

Of course Howard, Reed and Price can now see that they simply split up the following of those who stood for many things they advocated. Some day the voters may become as wise in a political way as some of those who play the game to win. What is true as to the democratic race will apply with equal force to the republican struggle for place.

The allies are steadily advancing and winning victories daily. When the war is over, if not before, we can begin to look after profiteers; but they should now have their greed-gotten gains taxed from them. Think of one packing concern increasing their annual take off $19,000,000 in one year. Take it from them, as they have been taking it from the people.

The women of America are brave, self-denying. One who frequents the railway stations and witnesses the partings of sons from mothers and brothers from sisters, lovers from lovers and husbands from wives must give them praise. To see the young wife stand, smile and wave at the husband of a few months as he is carried from view on the train; then when she can no longer cheer and encourage him with her smile, apply the handkerchief so proudly waved to dry streaming eyes, shows their fortitude. But to them must come many hours of anxious waiting—waiting for news, hoping that it be good; trusting that when no news comes it is good—yet fearing. Their suffering most frequently be greater than he who goes forth to battle and to face unknown dangers, for with him all is action, with the waiting ones at home too often it is the inaction which wears the life all bit away. Let the waiting ones plan to keep busy with some useful employment, for it will help to pass many an otherwise dreary hour.

SPECULATIVE INVESTMENT

(From the World's Work)

William H. Woodin, president of the American Car & Foundry company, talking on speculative investments, in which one expects a high return on money with the possibility of a large increase in the capital, said: "In my opinion, the art of investing money safely with a maximum return of income, unless instinctive in the individual, is most difficult to acquire. What is known as common horse sense seems to me to be almost axiomatic in the art of investing money."

"This faculty was possessed to a wonderful degree by the late J. B. Haggin, and combined with his long experience in the mining field, made him a master in this department of investments. Some friends of mine came to me a few years ago with a copper proposition, and as I knew Mr. Haggin well, I raced across to him at once to ask his advice. I shall never forget the thorough and painstaking way in which he took the matter up, and I shall never forget the advice he gave me. It is certainly applicable to all mining investments, and new oil propositions as well. After spending an hour and a half going over a most wonderful set of maps that he had of the region where this mine was located, he delivered the following opinion: "There is a great risk of losing money in this proposition for the simple reason that the copper ore in this locality is very uncertain, and I know cannot be developed in sufficient values to warrant the expense that must be met to make a copper proposition a success." He then turned to me and said: "My boy, whenever any one comes to you with a mining proposition, just think of this: If you were to place all of the mineralized wealth in the world in one spot and then put all of the rest of the earth in another, the comparison between the two would be as the point of a needle to, well, say the moon; and if you want to make money in mining you have to get the point of that needle."

"After all, the safest plan to pursue is to put surplus earnings in high grade investment bonds. Although the return of income may not seem so large and the chance for appreciation of the capital may not be so great, yet the much greater risk of losing all your principal is largely reduced, and that, after all, is the consideration of greatest importance for most of us. At this time there seems to me to be wonderful opportunities for safe and conservative investments in this line of securities."

If the democrats have their usual good luck in Missouri, Joseph W. Folk will succeed the late William J. Stone as senator, which is not a bad trade. Senator Stone was a somewhat cumbersome weight on the neck of the body politic, as a politician of the old school. He worshipped tradition. He revered the dust of Jefferson, Jackson, Samuel J. Tilden, Grover Cleveland. He marched back and forth along the highway the fathers had trod, and called to those who would blaze new paths or widen the old ones to be conservative and come on away. Joseph Folk is a progressive. He stands for a square deal in politics and business. He is honest, fearless, capable and far-seeing. The nation will benefit by his election.—Blxy.—And it is no joke.

evident propositions that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with inalienable rights; that governments are instituted among men to secure these rights and that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed.

A republic in which civil and religious liberty stimulate all to earnest endeavor and in which the law restrains every hand uplifted for a neighbor's injury—a republic in which every citizen is a sovereign, but in which no one cares or dares to wear a crown.

A republic whose flag is loved, while our enemy's flag is only feared. A republic increasing in strength and influence, solving the problems of civilization and hastening the coming of an universal brotherhood.

—A republic which is today shaking thrones and which is destined to dissolve aristocracies. A republic gradually, but surely, becoming the supreme moral factor in the world's progress and the accepted arbiter of the world's disputes. A republic that is destined to become the model of future governments, that the peoples of all the world may enjoy the same blessings which are accorded our people. A republic that speaks with authority and that will establish a peace that will be permanent and that will make the world safe for helpless old people, defenseless women and innocent babies.

Do you wonder, then, that our boys fight so bravely and so well? Do you wonder, then, that it is impossible for our boys to commit the awful atrocities of which our enemies are guilty?

The spirit exhibited by the American boys "over there" and in the training camps is beautiful and ennobling. I quote from a letter by an American soldier to his mother in Illinois:

"And let me tell you right here, mother dear, that you or anybody else at home there doesn't know what real patriotism, real love of country, is. You haven't any idea. Why, you can't imagine what a great, wonderful, perfect country the old United States is! You can't realize what it stands for and means to the human race until you get over here and get a good perspective.

"Mother, I love her with my whole soul and body. When I am standing retreat at night and hear 'The Star Spangled Banner' played the first thing that comes to my mind is the Statue of Liberty; then I think of our wonderful cities—New York, Chicago, San Francisco; then Washington and President Wilson and the wonderful cause that all our millions of Americans are willing to give up everything for. Oh, mother, we're all lucky merely to have been born Americans.

"Talk about waves up your spine and swelling to the eyes! Just get over here in Europe and look back over miles of water at the most wonderful, biggest type of nation based on liberty and justice that can be conceived! Why, mother, that Statue of Liberty and the American flag must have been designed by God himself, they stand for everything that is worth while in life.

"Since I've gotten over here I feel more pity than anything else for the birds that are still over there sporting silk shirts and ties. I'd rather be hanged for murder than be in their shoes. I figure that I'm the luckiest fellow in the world to be able to stand up as a soldier here in France and be a part of the greatest country engaged in the most honorable thing a country ever undertook.

"As that you cannot realize my feelings of love and respect for the old U. S. A.

"And you never hear any fellow sneering at such stuff any more, either. We have all waked up to what the words 'United States of America' mean."

This letter is characteristic of all the letters written by our boys to their homes and friends, and now we understand why they fight so valiantly, so courageously, so successfully. Their one ambition and prayer is to "make good."

The spirit of our boys is well illustrated by the young soldier from Wisconsin, who, when bowing by the Liberty Bell, concluded his prayer "My God, help me make good."

"To the judge of right and wrong With whom fulfillment lies, Our purpose and our power belong, Our faith and sacrifice. Let Freedom's land rejoice! Our ancient bonds are riven; Once more to us the eternal choice Of good or ill is given."

Not at a little cost, Hardly by prayer or tears Shall we recover the road we lost. In the drugged and doubting years. But after the fires and the wrath, But after searching and pain His mercy opens to us a path To live with ourselves again.

In the gates of death rejoice! Be wise and hold the good; We witness, earth, we have made our choice. For Freedom's brotherhood, Then praise the Lord most high Whose strength has saved us whole, Who bids us choose that the flesh should die And not the living soul!" Rudyard Kipling.

brother has earned for himself an enviable place of honor in the hearts of the American people and the allied world. There is no doubt in my mind that he too prayed to his maker to help him "make good," and he made gloriously good. Because of his love for you and his country and flag, he made the sacrifice. You can well be proud of him and the record he made. He did his utmost that the war program of our own and our allied governments might be achieved. And this war program will be achieved. The Star Spangled Banner and Dixie will be played by our bands in Wilhelmstrasse, Berlin and the American flag will float before Potsdam Palace. And on that day of triumph, Private Irwin L. Sears will share the glory and honor that will be the due of the American soldiers and the soldiers of our allies.

Fellow citizens, I want to here publicly commend the wonderful fortitude exhibited by the mother of Private Irwin L. Sears in her time of bereavement. She has yet two other sons in the service and she is living for them and giving them the encouragement that every mother owes to her soldier sons. Many mothers have already and many more yet will pass through the same experience that Mrs. Sears has passed through the last week, and to all such I commend her fortitude.

The brave boys who have gone to sacrifice their all, if need be, for our common cause, are fit examples for all of us to emulate. We cannot all go into the training camps and trenches, but all of us can be good soldiers at home, and it is imperative that we pledge anew, to our country's cause, our lives, our fortunes and our honor. Our utmost is the least that can reasonably be expected from each of us in promoting all the war activities that comprise the allied war program; Let us fully appreciate the blessings of liberty which are ours. Thank God for George Washington and the spirit of Revolutionary days which made our nation and government possible.

Thank God for Abraham Lincoln and the sturdy Americanism of Civil war days that preserved us a nation. Thank God for Woodrow Wilson and the American spirit that are sustaining the principles of Jesus Christ and civilization. Thank God for Private Irwin L. Sears and his devotion to our cause. Let us pledge, anew our fullest measure of devotion to the end that tyrants and tyranny may be crushed; to the end that the Christian principles of Democracy may become the universal law of all the nations of the earth; to the end that the world may be made safe for humanity.

THE 1918-19 SCHOOL YEAR

School opens Monday, September 2. The fall term of the Wayne public school will begin the first Monday in September. All children should plan to be there the first day so that they may be properly enrolled and receive the introductory instruction that will be given with the new subjects.

A number of important changes have been made during the summer. The eighth grade has been moved upstairs and united with the high school. The eighth and ninth grades will be known as the Junior high school and the tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades will be known as the Senior high school. An elementary business department has been added to the high school course. This department will offer business English and spelling; business arithmetic; typewriting and shorthand. Room "D" has been fitted up for a Junior high laboratory, room "C" for a class room, and the kindergarten has been moved upstairs and the old kindergarten room has been fixed up for a Red Cross sewing room. The old music room has been fitted with dark blinds and will be used for a lantern room.

The school is very fortunate in securing a strong corps of teachers for the coming year. Supt. J. R. Armstrong will again have charge of the school and Mrs. Alice N. Pollard will be principal of the senior high school. Mrs. Pollard taught in the school last year and will need no introduction to the patrons of the district. Miss Eva L. Scriven, of Grand Junction, Colorado, will be the new principal of the junior high school. She will teach domestic science, botany and Junior Red Cross work. Miss Scriven is a university graduate and has taught in Nebraska for several years, and has been doing government demonstration work during the summer. She is an excellent teacher and will make good. Miss Mildred Weseen of Oakland will teach mathematics. She has been doing excellent work at Cozad the past year and will make a strong addition to our teaching force. Miss Clara Newmyer of Lyons, has specialized in history and will have charge of the work in this department. She is a graduate of the University of Nebraska as is also Miss Weseen. Both of these teachers come

"BUCK" Hot Blast Heaters

For any kind of fuel including slack. They will produce hard coal results with soft coal.

They contain Buck's Patented Hot Blast Ring, which supplies more heated air to the fuel surface than any other. Combustion takes place in a circle, burning from the outer edge to the center, causing the stove to radiate heat as soon as the fire is started.

Contains Buck's original cone-shaped easy cleaning grate. Can never puff, has safety draft in base of feed door which also ventilates mca.

Require attention only three times in twenty-four hours. Will keep fire forty-eight hours.

No clinkers with 95 per cent of coal mined. The grate is self cleaning, grinds up and drops into pan all foreign matter in soft coal.

Fire pot never cracks or burns out; it is ever-lasting.

Every joint in stove perfectly air-tight. Hot blast draft driven heat into base, which becomes so highly heated that biscuits can be baked in ash pan. Fairly sparkling with "Buck's" silver nickel trimmings.

Come in and see our early showing and pick out your stove while we have a complete stock to pick from.

to us very highly recommended. The English work will be handled by Miss Helen Sweeney who is a graduate of Carthage college and has had several years of successful teaching experience. Mrs. Elmer Gailey of Wayne, will teach the classes in the business department. The excellent work done by Mrs. Gailey at Hoskins, Oakdale and Elgin warrant us in believing that we have the right person in charge of this department. Miss Emma Hughes will continue to do the same excellent type of work that she has been doing, but will now teach the junior high school. Miss Ardath Conn will teach music, drawing and mechanical drawing. Miss Conn has specialized in these subjects and has been doing splendid work at Madison the past year. The grades are fortunate in retaining Miss Clara Burson, in the seventh; Miss Lois Corzine, in the sixth; Miss Mary Pawelski, in the fifth; Miss Belvia Nickel, in the third, and Mrs. Homer Seace in the second. Miss Jennie Davis will teach the fourth grade, Miss Rowena Branaman, the first grade and Miss Edith Willey the kindergarten. The last three teachers named will be new to the school but they have done such excel-

On account of a sudden sickness of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steckelberg, who were to have appeared at a concert here Tuesday evening they were obliged to cancel the date, much to the regret of many lovers of music. A day later the child was again better and they were able to fill other dates.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Corbit left Wednesday morning to visit a couple of weeks at Des Moines. Now that the primary is over, in which no one ran against Mr. Corbit, and with a little uncertainty as to whether or not there will be any against him in the November election, it is, he thinks a safe time to take a short vacation.

H. A. Morrison of Union college, near Lincoln, was a Wayne visitor Monday, and he and the school are interested in dairy cattle. While here he visited the Dayton farm and looked over his herd of holsteins. He comes from the dry part of the state and seemed to be as much interested in the Munsinger hay as the black and white cattle.

Alex Scott went to Burke, South Dakota, Wednesday, called there to assist his son-in-law, Thomas Fox, who is in the next draft, to conduct a sale for disposing of his crop, stock and machinery. The young man has been farming a half-section, and his call coming rather unexpectedly he has to make a quick turn. His mother lives at Wayne.

MORGAN SUIT BUILDER

Geo. Spalding, who has been a resident of Wayne for about five years, has sold his place in Roosevelt park to a Mr. Thompson, and is this week moving to Shubert, near which place he came from to Wayne. Mr. Spalding is an industrious man, always on a job, and he will be missed from the labor market of this vicinity, and in other ways.

A. C. Dean and wife have returned from a month or more in Cheyenne county, and eastern Colorado, where they were looking over the country and looking after some land they have there. Their crop is not uniform there, and much of it this season is not up to expectations or to the last season crop. Mr. Dean tells us that his wheat yield was but eight bushels per acre; while Clyde Oman has a lot that is returning thirty-five bushels. Yet the land prices continue to rise out there.

Wm. H. Root from Sholes, was a Wayne visitor Wednesday, taking a few hours off from farming operations to visit Wayne friends and look after business at the county seat. He tells us that he has demonstrated that men of his age can "come back" for he has been farming this season, taking full charge of an 80-acre farm and not only accomplished the usual work of a farm, but has put roundoff fences in order and fought back a bunch of cockle burrs left by some one before him. Many of the men past the prime of life are coming back these days and doing their full part in beating the kaiser.

Harry Tidrick and A. H. Carter of Winside, were here Wednesday putting up paper telling of the old settlers' picnic to be held at that place the 28th, which is next Wednesday. It is a county affair, and an event which should grow in importance as one of the big events of the year in the county. As the time goes on, more and more importance will attach to the meetings of this organization. They should, and doubtless do keep a record of events which will make an interesting history of early days in this county as the time goes by. This picnic should be well attended, and doubtless will be for Winside people know well how to entertain.

Wm. Fleetwood is visiting his daughter at Sioux City.

Sinclair auto oil, 50 cents per gallon in lots of 15 gallons up. Basket Store.

Mrs. W. R. Hoyt from Bloomfield spent Wednesday afternoon at Wayne, a guest at the W. R. Ellis home.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Jenkins came home Monday evening from a visit at Pierson, Iowa, with her home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Demers from Sioux City came Wednesday evening to visit at the I. C. Trumbauer home, the ladies being sisters.

Miss Lola Kinney from Bloomfield visited Wayne friends Wednesday, while returning from a visit at Newman Grove. She has attended college here.

Mrs. Henry Ley returned home Wednesday evening from Gurley, where she has been spending a fortnight at the home of her son, LeRoy Ley and wife.

Miss Laura Culp from Gregory stopped here to visit a few days at the home of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tranquill, while returning home from a visit at numerous places east of here.

LeRoy Owen returned from Chicago the first of the week, where he has been working since the school he was attending closed for summer. He will register Saturday, as he is one of the lads now of age.

Mrs. Thomas Hughes is home from a sojourn of two weeks in the west, most of the time being spent with friends at Colorado Springs, where she visited a niece. She notices a difference in the temperature here and there.

Miss Lulu, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin, was taken to Sioux City a few days ago, suffering an attack of appendicitis, and underwent an operation at a hospital there. Her mother, who accompanied her, returned last evening, and the young lady is reported as getting along well.

Mrs. O. Hamer from Hastings, Minnesota, has been here for two or three weeks visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Powers. She left for home last week, accompanied by her sister, Velma, who plans to make an extended visit there. They stopped and visited several days at Sioux City on their way to her Minnesota home.

H. W. Cory from North Yakima, Washington, has been at Carroll visiting at the home of his friend, Byron Young, and left this morning to visit relatives in Iowa. He is a printer, and was formerly in the newspaper game at different points in Iowa, and had worked in Nebraska, both at Omaha and Plattsmouth, but is now retired, and does a bit of real estate business to kill time.

Mrs. Paul Mines left this morning to join her husband at Washington, where he is employed in the Bureau of Standards, and may decide to remain there while he is kept in that department of service. She has been housekeeper for her father, T. B. Heckert since Mr. Mines entered the service, and Miss Maude Heckert is coming from Red Oak, Iowa, to be with her brother for a time. Mrs. H. H. Hahn, who goes to visit her parents at Lima, Ohio, accompanied Mrs. Mines that far on her journey.

A letter from one who accompanied the Wayne and Wisner boys on their trip from Camp Dodge to Long Island last week tells that they had a very pleasant trip, and saw many sights new and pleasing to them—but it was not Nebraska. The Red Cross assisted by citizens wherever they stopped treated them royally and cheered roundly. There's nothing too good for the soldier boys—for so many people have them from their family in the service that they simply want to do by those they see as they hope some one is doing by and for those from their circle.

Price quoting in advertisements counts—and we were glad to add the Herman Mildner grocery to the list of houses that is quoting prices. That is what brings the people from territory of other places to Wayne, and that is what makes Wayne better, and that makes it better for the people of Wayne. The practice should spread just on the theory advanced by the farmer who had the endless circle of more land to grow more corn to raise more hogs to buy more land, etc., to the end of the chapter.

Consistency is something rarely seen. What causes this remark is the reading of a letter written from the front by a lad who tells of battle in which he and comrades had had a part, and gives a description of the little hell that it is—that they got off alive—but another company had eight or ten killed and twenty or more wounded, and then winds up with the assurance that he is well, and for them not to worry. Why not failed to tell them about the fierceness of the battle, just said don't worry about me, we are out here having a picnic, and I will be careful not eat too much.

Take a Peep at our New Fall Stetsons

Every live young fellow in town, when he looks at that old summer straw, will think of a new fall hat.

Most likely one of the new Stetsons we are showing now—smart to the minute, quality that is hard indeed to match, and in such striking variety that we can fit any man with the right Stetson soft hat in five minutes.

Every well-dressed man in town comes to us sooner or later for his hats. If you do not know us already, there is no time like the present.

Fall Stetsons $5.00 to $6.00

Let us have your order for your fall suit now. We have the usual large assortment of woollens and our prices are lower than you would expect after all you have read and heard of woolen shortages.

An order now will save you money on your fall suit.

COUNTY TEACHERS' INSTITUTE AUGUST 26-30 INCLUSIVE

Miss Sewell has her programs out for the teachers' institute next week, and we give some parts of the circular for information of others than teachers. The attendance of teachers of the county is practically compulsory. The state law leaves little to the discretion of the superintendent. Morning sessions begin at 8 o'clock and the afternoon sessions at 1:15.

It is doubly important that we have a full attendance this year so that all may get the plans of the war work, and that we may have intelligent and concerted action on this from the first, as well as in all phases of school work. Please do not ask to enter late or leave early.

The president of the United States, the secretary of War, the commissioner of education are all united in saying that there should be no letup in school activities. They feel that in these war times, nothing should interfere with the education of the youth of our land. The hope of the future is in the children now in school, and we must not let the horrors of war or the necessary preparation of a large army interfere with their proper training. The teacher has a patriotic duty to perform, and in helping children to get the best obtainable education, she is serving her country. We believe all of our teachers want to do their duty. We believe this institute will help you to do that duty, and we shall be disappointed if you do not get the inspiration to do better things.

Mrs. J. G. W. Lewis, Mr. J. H. Kemp, and Prof. I. H. Britell will address the teachers some time during the week.

According to recent Junior Red Cross rules, all teachers will be required to do Junior Red Cross work. Some time has been given for this work in the institute. Mr. J. R. Armstrong, chairman of chapter school committee, will be present and explain organization and outline work to be done in each school. Senior Red Cross ladies and helpers will assist in carrying on the work with the teachers.

Instructors

Miss Edith Beechel's work will be Primary Methods, Play Ground Supervision, and Picture Study.

Mr. E. E. Lackey will have charge of the Music and a Class in Geography.

Miss Beechel and Professor Lackey are both members of the faculty of the Wayne State Normal, and, I think, need no introduction to the teachers of Wayne county.

Mrs. Frances Roberts Rein will have classes in the Palmer Method of Penmanship. She is said to be one of the best in the United States in this work.

Institute Notes.

The roll will be called at the beginning of each session.

The enrollment fee will be one dollar.

Note books, pencils, and song books will be furnished to each person registering.

Be prepared to get your reading circle books during the week.

Visitors are welcome at any session of the institute.

An opportunity will be given the teachers to attend the Boys' and Girls' fair which is to be held on Thursday of that week.

The "Lincoln Fine Arts Shop" has kindly consented to send a generous supply of pictures for Miss Beechel's use in her picture study classes.

Write to the county superintendent if you need a boarding place.

Bring thimble and knitting needles.

WHY SHE TURNED HIM DOWN

"I saw Herby, and he's all broke up over your turning him down," said one girl to the other as they were taking the air in Central park.

"I don't care," came the nasal reply. "He can die if he wants to. I ain't going into no matrimonial venture with an alienation enemy or whatever you call it. I warned Herby I'd put the skids to him because he was afraid to enlist, so to win me over he gives me a mesh bag. And what do you think I find printed on the inside of the clasp, 'German silver.' Can you beat it?"

SUPPLY OF GERMANS IS SHORT

Albert Hering Fears He May Not Meet Them on Field

Albert Hering, a former Wayne student in headquarters company, 355th infantry, American expeditionary forces, is beginning to fear that the supply of Germans may be so curtailed that he will not have the honor of meeting them on the field of battle. He writes:

"It was just a little early for my trip abroad but as there is an open season on Germans, I thought I would come over so I could get my quota. The supply is running short.

"I am O. K. in England, just resting from our long boat ride. Don't know when we will go to France. England is one big park of beautiful flowers, fields and trees. The flowers grow wild all over the fields as our sunflowers do but they are much prettier.

"I have enjoyed army life better than I expected so far. I am not a bit afraid of the rest or that which is to come. You may believe it or not but there never was a football game I played in (and there were several in five years) that I didn't go into it with a prayer on my lips and a prayer before and after the game and I never was hurt. It is going to be the same in battle if ever I see any. You see the Germans are on the go, and maybe I won't get into a real battle, but I hope so."

SECRETARY MADDOO ON WAR TAXES

The ways and means committee of the lower house of congress is now considering revenue legislation. Secretary McAdoo favors a flat war-profits tax of 80 per cent. In a telegram to Chairman Kitchin he says:

"It is my strong conviction that the taxation of genuine war profits is the only way to reach real war profiteering, and that it is at the same time a thoroughly justifiable measure upon economic grounds as well as a certain and indispensable producer of a large part of the required revenue.

"The patriotic producers of America should be content if one-fifth of their war profits are secured to them, especially when we reflect that the men who are fighting and dying in France to save the liberties of those who stay at home and who make it possible for them to continue in business are limited by act of congress to $396 per year for their services and have to give their blood in the bargain."

ROAD BUILDING PLANS

According to the estimate sent out by State Engineer Johnson, during a five-year period Wayne county will receive from state and federal funds the sum of $25,585.99 for building and improving the designated county roads. District "D" composed of the counties of Cedar, Dakota, Dixon, Thurston and Wayne will receive a total of more than $126,750, of which more than $50,000 will be available for use in 1919. At last it begins to look as though the public highways would have some real work done—in fact a system of joint state, federal and county co-operation is being inaugurated with promise of getting real results by the use of real money in an intelligent manner.

It is Coming Fast— We Will Meet it Now

Uncle Sam—the government—urges that conservation be the watchword—that unnecessary work and risk be eliminated—and some state officials have already made drastic rules to co-operate with the Federal government in the matter. In no line of business is this conservation more important than in our lines. In no way can we do more to aid in that conservation than in a decided change in our business methods—and this we will do,

Beginning Sunday, September 1st

we will absolutely go to a CASH basis—no more credit

the reasons are ample. They are:

First—Because the government requests it.

Second—Because we must pay cash in advance for automobiles, for repairs, for all accessories. Gasoline is cash on delivery—oils the same, and we rather like the system, for then when we get something we know it is paid for, and no bills coming in 30, 60, or 90 days.

Third—Because we know you will like it once you try it—for we can turn into real service for our patrons energies which have been given to bookkeeping and to collecting—something the patrons had to pay for—though it did not show in bill.

Eliminate Sunday Work

Our gas pump and air will be accessible Sundays as in the past, but we plan to eliminate all repair work that day except real emergency cases. Yours for better service. In South Dakota no gasoline can be sold on Sunday—not a drop—nor is joy riding encouraged.

TRUE PATRIOTISM

Hartington Herald: A case of clear, true blue patriotism came to light this week when Mike Casney and his wife and baby girl came up from near Coleridge and appeared before the exemption board at the court house. Mr. Casney is 29 years of age and was placed by the board in class 4, as he was married before war was declared and was a farmer on his own land. This did not suit him though, and when his brother who was in training was honorably discharged on account of ill health a few weeks ago Mike felt he must go to fill his place, notwithstanding the fact that they already have one brother in the army in France. Mr.

Cisney's brave young wife was of the same mind as her husband and signed his waiver. He was accepted by the board who would have him put into some of the mechanical positions for which he is well fitted but he said, "No, sir, I want to get into a place where I can look them in the eye and fight them." He will go with the next contingent some time this month. This young man has the right spirit, and the spirit that is making our boys the wonder of the world.

The Nebraska state fair is to have a "War Exhibit." Why not get the kaiser? That would be a real war exhibit. One worth advertising.

THE YANKEE ROBINSON CIRCUS

Big-Street Parade at Noon Entirely New, Different Program

Official information confirms the rumor that the Yankee Robinson 3-Ring Wild Animal circus will exhibit at Wayne on Saturday, August 31. When the big doors open, the concert band will render a pleasing program, and then the show is on. Much has been promised, and the management having a good reputation to sustain, will see the people are not disappointed.

In concise form these entire new events, pastimes and acts will be offered for approval. The immense arena will be a glittering sight of skillful and thrilling acrobatic feats, funny clowns and nowhere else to be seen such a program of educated performing wild and domestic animals; Irving's lions, Van Andrew's leopards, jaguars and pumas; Ruth Le Nora's mountain lions, Albert's polar bears, Bessie Harvey and her trained pigeons; Holman's performing pigs and zebras; educated, acting elephants; Warren's seals, Buchanan's blue ribbon horses, Steve Savage and his athletic show. Dog and pony races, riding monkeys.

Steve Savage during his athletic exhibition will donate one hundred dollars to any local wrestler, who has the stamina to remain fifteen minutes.

At the night exhibition the show grounds will be illuminated as bright as day for the show carries its own electric light plant.

The circus street parade will leave the show grounds at 11:30 a. m. rain or shine.

Drivers and teamsters are cautioned to have secure control of their horses.

Motor car parties will find good sight-seeing space in the streets.

If the weather is inclement, the tents are water proof.

Doors are open at 1 and 7 p. m.

Performances begin at 2 and 8 p. m.

The concert band will play for one hour before each exhibition.

Two performances are given daily, rain or shine.

To prevent errors or arguments have your exact change ready.

Ample police protection will prevent any disorder.

TWENTY-NINE YEARS AGO

Articles which appear in the Ponca Leader in 1879 read much like some that have been given this year as to the river's work. But the one about travel shows that river travel was not sure and certain. At that time the railroad track was being laid west from Wisner:

The migratory fever is the disease which is the most prevalent of any in this country at this time. Quite a number have gone to the Black Hills, and more are anxious and determined to go soon. Our impression is that in nine cases out of ten, people will in the long run make as much by remaining at home.

The steamer C. K. Peck which left here Saturday evening broke a shaft when near St. Helena, and had to haul up at Yankton for repairs. A gentleman who arrived from that place last evening states that the boat was still there when he left, but would be able to resume its journey soon, probably today or tomorrow.

John Lawrence, who went a few weeks ago to the Elkhorn valley to work on the railroad, returned from Wisner on Saturday. He says that matters are lively in that part of the country. About four or five miles of the track west of Wisner is ready for the trains. The track laying will continue to be pushed along until fifty miles is completed. Mr. Lawrence will go back there in a few days.

The river is cutting and carving into Covington again and must soon, in the nature of things, completely wipe out the town. There is one man to whom the river is very beneficial—we refer to the man who moves buildings. He has to do a rushing amount of business in order to keep the houses shoved out of the reach of the "Old Muddy's" insatiate mouth.

KILL SMUT IN SEED WHEAT

Smut in winter wheat is quite common in all sections of the state and in some sections has done serious damage. Where seed is used that is affected with smut, the agronomy department of the University of Nebraska recommends that it be treated as follows: To 40 gallons of water add one pint (or pound) of commercial formalin (40 per cent. solution of formaldehyde.) Spread the grain on a clean floor or in a wagon box. Sprinkle the solution over the grain, shoveling the grain over to be certain that the solution comes in contact with all the kernels. Then cover with old sacks, old blankets, or canvas and leave covered for six to eight hours. The sacks or canvas should be wet in the solution before being used in order to thoroughly disinfect them. After uncovering, the grain should be spread thinly and stirred occasionally to facilitate rapid drying. It should be thoroughly dried before sowing so that it will feed readily through the drill. In case the grain is swollen, it may be necessary to increase the feed of the drill to offset this and sow the proper amount. The drill should be disinfected with the above solution before used.

A GROWING AGRICULTURAL MAN

Sunday morning the editor had the pleasure of visiting a few moments with A. E. Anderson from Columbus, Ohio, who came to Wayne on his way to visit home folks at Concord, his brother driving in from that place to take him the last lap of the trip, for there is no Sunday train at Concord. Mr. Anderson will be remembered by many in this county because of his work for the extension department of the Nebraska agricultural school, at Lincoln; for he made several trips to this county hoping that those interested would get together and organize for a county agent. We are sorry to state that thus far efforts along that line have not brought results in this good county of Wayne, where we have some good farmers, and others not so competent. Here they seemed to get the idea that to employ a county agent was an evidence that the farmer did not know it all, and some of them felt that they could not afford to have any get such an impression of them. So we still have no county agent, even though requested by the administration.

Naturally we asked Mr. Anderson if he could find any farmers in Ohio who acknowledged the need of help from those who had taken special training and study in agriculture; and he admitted that he had fooled a few of them, though he did not put in just those words, nor was that just the wording of the question, but it might have meant that.

He told us that sixty-five of the eighty-eight counties of the state had, at least one county agent each, and that they appeared to feel that it was good to have some authority to whom to refer when in doubt. Last year Ohio was unfortunate in having an early freeze that left the state devoid of seed corn. Some bought their seed through seed dealers, and secured a big corn from Missouri, where the corn season is longer. This corn was large, but not in tassel yet when Mr. Anderson left Ohio a few days ago. They paid from $8 to $10 the bushel.

In counties where there were county agents they got busy, and through the agents of Pennsylvania, these counties secured seventy-one car loads of seed corn, good germinating qualities, and of a kind suitable to be grown during the average Ohio corn season, and they got their corn for seed at an average price of $4.65 the bushel, the freight charges making a little variation in the cost. And to supply the demand took seventy-one car loads, so that a saving of more than $4 per bushel on that amount of corn was worth considering.

The demonstrator is needed worse in Ohio than here at present, perhaps, for there they have the matter of fertilizing more necessary than here. We were glad of a little talk with Mr. Anderson, and was sorry that his car came for him as it did, or we might have learned some more of their Ohio methods of farming.

VOLUNTEER IF YOU CAN

"In preparation for the contemplated extension of draft ages, Governor Keith Neville has issued a bulletin to all local boards requesting them to secure the services of voluntary registrars in every voting precinct in the state. Nebraska has achieved a very enviable record in the administration of the selective service law. Nebraskans have given freely of their time in the transaction of this work. In the 1917 registration volunteer registrars were secured for the vast majority of counties. In Omaha, 400 registrars volunteered their services. The registration in that city of 20,000 men cost the federal government only $9.48. The record attained in some of the rural districts of Nebraska has been equally as good and in some cases, better. The 1918 registration was handled with no expense to the federal government.

"It is Governor Neville's desire that the titanic task of conducting the proposed new registration be accomplished with as little expense to the government as possible. He is, consequently, calling upon patriotic Nebraskans to communicate with the local board having jurisdiction over their territory, offering their services on registration day."

You, Mr. Farmer, are asked by your old Uncle Sam, the best friend you have, to plant more wheat for next harvest than you had for the harvest just gathered.

WALNUT LOG PRICES

Walnut log prices that the government considers fair will be published soon, and owners of trees or logs should wait for these prices, unless they are satisfied with what they are offered. Representation that the government is buying walnut is false. Neither is there any move by the government to commandeer walnut. Walnut trees or logs being bought by private concerns having contracts with the government for gunstocks or airplane propellers. It is a patriotic duty to sell walnut trees or logs, but owners should be reasonably satisfied they are getting fair prices. The government has announced that it will publish a list of fair prices, both for logs f. o. b. cars and on the stump.

LET THE GOVERNMENT AID YOU

The United States department of agriculture, the federal and state food administration, the Nebraska extension service, and other public organizations have large amounts of valuable information which they are distributing free of charge. This information concerns practically every problem which has become most vital in the last year or so, and is set forth in the nature of bulletins, circulars or leaflets. These publications may be obtained free from county agents, home demonstration agents, or the Extension Service, University Farm, Lincoln, Nebraska. They contain valuable suggestions and may mean money saved at this time when dollars are so valuable.

Packers' Costs and Profits

How much do you think it costs—

- To dress beef, cure hides, and prepare all the numerous by-products?
- To cool the meat for two or three days before shipment?
- To freight it to all parts of the country in special refrigerator cars, iced daily?
- To carry it in hundreds of branch houses, each with its refrigerating plant?
- And to deliver it to the retailer—sweet and fresh—in less than two weeks after dressing?

Swift & Company did all this for you in 1917 at an expense of less than 2½ cents per pound of beef sold, including an average profit of ¼ of a cent a pound.

This organization as well as many different individuals has seen that by encouraging the boys and girls to raise good stock, grow gardens or can produce, we are helping to build a better community for the future. People every where are fast coming to the realization that boys and girls should not be turned loose for the summer. If they are to be most efficient citizens when grown, they must have supervised work and supervised play during vacation times.

"YANKS"

As is generally known the original Yankee inhabited New England. His ancestry was purely English. But he liked his tea free and got it, after first getting an absolute divorce in which he even refused to take back his maiden name, but picked up a nickname given him by the soldiers of the crowd. At Bunker Hill he took up "Yankee Doodle" and kept it up to Yorktown. And he has Yankee-doodled down the line ever since. A peculiar type was this original Yankee. Not quarrelsome but just a fighting, praying, whistling, horse-swapping, joke-cracker, he spared neither the rod nor the tongue, talked through his nose and absorbed northeasterners. The Hollanders of New York, who frequently got their heads cracked by him, sneered at his pep and ingenuity or thought they did when they, too, dubbed him "Yankee." Then a bunch infected with the Calhoun germ swarmed off the reservation under the leadership of one Davis, who wasn't quite hung to a sour apple tree but might as well have been, for these supporters of aristocracy met a lively gang in blue and in spite of an ancestry from all nationalities dubbed them "Yanks." These Yanks were whistling "Yankee-doodle" also and they kept it up from the rather disastrous Bull Run to the victorious Appomattox. And now comes another great aggregation of men in whose veins run the blood of all nations who are swarming across the water to maintain the reputation of the nation's first inhabitants as the original crown busters. The old New England spirit is in their bodies if not the New England blood and at once the world proclaims "Here comes the Yanks!" and the square-heads are showing their early day proclivities to skeedaddle from this whistling, laughing, boisterous army from the land of freedom. And as sure as the rain falls upon the just and the unjust with Yankee hands march up and down and through Berlin town playing Yankee-doodle-doo and let the native keep the change. So while "American" is a name to conjure by yet all on the western continent are Americans and to properly distinguish we of Uncle Sam's domain the name of "Yankeeland" has been coined and will go down through time with "Yankee-doodle keep it up, Yankee-doodle dandy."

SOCIAL NOTES

Bible Circle Meeting
The Bible Study circle enjoyed a very interesting meeting at the pleasant new home of Mrs. Chas. McClenen Tuesday afternoon. The large company present took part in the fine lesson on, "Speaking for Christ," which was ably led by Mrs. Carl Clasen. Miss Charlotte White and Mrs. Wm. Goldsmith and Mrs. Dora Benschhof were back to the class after several weeks' vacation out of town. After the lesson were the heart to heart talks when Mrs. Sears gave a touching account of a letter just received from Irwin written just before his death, (which is published elsewhere.) Mrs. Sears testified that God had given her great grace and strength in her trial so that she could say she was glad he was safe with his Master.

After the meeting closed some lovely pieces of china were presented to Mrs. Harry Ferrel, who is leaving about September 1 for Sioux City and Mrs. T. F. Bracken, who is moving today to Emerson. These worthy women were much beloved and they and their families will be greatly missed from Wayne and we expect to hear splendid things of their Christian work in their new fields.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. E. B. Young on Wednesday and it is expected that Mr. Herbert Toms, of San Marcos, Central America, will be present to address the circle on conditions there. All are invited as usual.

Wednesday evening the Queen Esthers held a business and social meeting at the E. O. Gardner home. The business consisted of installing a new leader, Mrs. A. C. Dean having assumed that responsible place of honor, succeeding Mrs. Wm. Rennick, who resigned recently. A social hour was then spent in games, music and conversation. Ice cream and wafers were served by the organization, closing a happy meeting.

A number of little friends of Rachel Braken gave her a surprise party at the home of Mrs. E. B. Young Wednesday afternoon from 3 until 6. The little folks had a splendid afternoon playing games and partaking of the delicious luncheon which had been prepared for them. Little Miss Rachel departs this afternoon with her parents for their new home in Emerson.

Mrs. John Dennis gave a joint birthday party Friday afternoon in honor of her sons, Evan, aged 7 and Everett, aged 4. About a dozen little folks were present. Games occupied the afternoon hours. At 5 o'clock Mrs. Dennis served ice cream and cake. Evan and Everett received several nice presents.

About two dozen of Mrs. Charles Riese's friends surprised her Tuesday afternoon, bringing with them well filled baskets. The occasion being the lady's birthday. The afternoon was spent in knitting. A two-course luncheon was served. Mrs. Riese received several very beautiful presents.

The Guild of St. Mary's church will meet with Mrs. Richardson this afternoon. The ladies will bring their knitting and the afternoon will be spent socially. At the close of the afternoon delicious refreshments will be served by the hostess.

The Rural Home society will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. W. Weeces in the west part of town. The afternoon will be spent in making hospital garments.

FINE AUTOMOBILE EXHIBIT AT STATE FAIR

Automobile devotees have a treat in store for them in the auto exhibit that has been booked to show at the state fair, September 1 to 6. Automobile hall has been filled with as fine an exhibit as has ever been shown and prospective purchasers have an unequalled opportunity before them of viewing all makes of cars, making a study of each and a more intelligent choice of a car. Auto enthusiasts will also be greatly interested in the auto racing that will be held the second day of the fair. With the list of noted drivers that will appear some new records will, in all probability, be hung up.

LET US KEEP THE CLOWNS AND GILDED WAGONS

In these strenuous days if the owner of the Yankee Robinson 3-ring wild animal circus coming to Wayne Saturday, August 31, was in the habit of quoting Shakespeare, he would say;

"Is there no play To ease the anguish of a torturing hour?"

"The humble purveyor of amusement and the mighty aggregation of tented wonders are a boon to troubled minds in these hours when anything that keeps up our spirits serves a useful purpose.

"The world must not forget how to laugh. That is why such strenuous, unceasing efforts are made to give soldiers theatrical entertainment within sound of the big guns and close to the front line trenches. That is why President Wilson set an example to his fellow citizens by attending the circus which recently visited Washington, for a time forgetting the cares and responsibilities which rested upon him. He was better able to cope with his problems when he returned to the White House after a few hours of innocent amusement."

Do not deal harshly with the show-folk in these times of stress and anguish. They are as patriotic as the rest of us—they did a great deal to make the Liberty Loan campaigns and the Red Cross drives successful—and their ranks have been depleted to help fight the nation's battles. It is comforting to know that we are still to have the gilded wagons, hair-raising performances beneath the "big top" and all the glory and glitter of the circus as in pre-war days, while the stage is helping in no uncertain way to relieve the tension under which we are all living just now.

Israel Zangwill writes: "Amusements were never so needed as now; relaxation is paramount, nervous systems cannot long remain strung to the high pitch of tragedy, and America learns the lesson from England and France.

"There seems a contradiction between the tense life-and-death struggle of our country and these mimicings and masquerading, a sort of Nero-fiddling while Rome is burning. But the truth is that never was entertainment so necessary as now.

"As our nervous system is freshened, it cannot remain strung up to one monotonous pitch of tragedy without danger of snapping. Lord Byron, when his mother died, betook himself to boxing. The paradox of our psychology is that we would not continue to feel the tragic mood. We shall become more vividly conscious of the high duty of the day if we do not perpetually brood over it."

THE GERMAN BEATITUDES

It is not known whether the following creed was composed by a German or by a foreign student of Germanism. It has the ring of genuineness; it is not far-fetched or over-drawn. The military masters of Germany have acted upon this creed, and the German army, their disciples, has lived up to it.

"Ye have heard how in olden times it was said, 'Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth;' but I say unto you, 'Blessed are the valiant, for they shall make the earth their throne.' And ye have heard men say, 'Blessed are the poor in spirit;' but I say unto you, 'Blessed are the great in soul and the free in spirit, for they shall enter into Valhalla.' And ye have heard men say, 'Blessed are the peacemakers;' but I say unto you, 'Blessed are the war makers, for they shall be called, if not the children of Jehovah, the children of Odin, who is greater than Jehovah."

THE STUDENTS' ARMY TRAINING CORPS

In order to prevent premature enlistment in the army of young men who could, by attending college, increase their usefulness, the government is urging students under the draft age to continue in school. To help develop such men, a new corps has been created in the army, called the Students' Army Training Corps. Those who enlist in this corps will receive, in addition to their school work, military training as a part of their course during the college year. In addition, they will obtain the benefits of a six weeks' camp course, where intensive military training will be given. Members of the corps will be provided with uniform and other equipment. They will be members of the army, but will be on furlough status and will not receive pay, except while in camp. However, they will be subject to the call of the president for active service, or may be sent to an officers' training camp. Combined college and military courses will be offered by the University of Nebraska this year, and further information may be obtained from Prof. George R. Chaburn, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Nebraska.

LOANS TO FARMERS

President Wilson has placed at the disposal of the treasury and agricultural departments $5,000,000 to enable them to furnish aid to wheat growers in certain sections of the west who have lost two successive crops by winter killing and drought. The federal land banks will act as financial agents of the government to make and collect the loans.

This fund is not intended to be lent to farmers who have banking collateral; the action of the war finance corporation in urging the banks to finance such farmers and its promise to support them in such financing, it is believed, will amply provide for them.

Loans from this fund will be made to individuals who have not banking collateral, and only where it is necessary to enable a farmer to continue to grow food products. The money will be advanced upon the crop of wheat or substitute grains planted on the land, and no loan will be in excess of $3 per acre and no application financed beyond 100 acres.

The use of the fund will be under the joint control of the treasury and department of agriculture; as the machinery for the work is already in existence, no substantial delay is expected.

The cooperation of local banks and local associations and individuals is looked for.
