

PIONEER PASSES AWAY J. RICHARD RUSSELL DIES

Dick Russell Dies Suddenly While Visiting at Wayne, Among the First Settlers

Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Dick Russell of Tilden stopped at Wayne to visit a short time at the home of A. E. Laase, Mrs. Russell's brother. They had come a day or two before from their Tilden home to Wisner, and from there driven to their old home farm and neighborhood in Leslie precinct, visited there a day or two and came from Wakefield on the evening train. Though Mr. Russell had not always been in the best of health, and had previously suffered slightly from paralysis, he remarked to the family that evening how well he was feeling and how greatly he had enjoyed his visit at the old home. About 3 o'clock Monday morning he was taken ill, and the physician called pronounced his trouble pleurisy, and a weakened heart. During part of the time Monday he felt much better, though little hope was given. Early Tuesday morning he became worse, and passed away before a physician could be summoned.

J. Richard Russell was born in West Virginia, April 10, 1848, and at the time of his death, September 10, 1918, was 70 years and 5 months of age. Of his boyhood days, we failed to find one who knew, but he came to Leslie precinct in this county in 1869 or '70 and homesteaded the farm, he owned in that precinct to the day of his death. Here he made his home for many years, married a Miss Bressler, daughter of H. Bressler of Cumby county, who died many years ago. June 25, 1900 he was united in marriage to Mrs. J. W. Stinson, who with three children survive him. The children are Frank at Neligh, Charles at Tilden and Ruth at home. One brother, George, at Bayard, Iowa, and several stepchildren who mourn him as a father.

The funeral service is to be held from the Methodist church at Tilden today, and the body will then be taken to Wisner for burial.

A worthy citizen has been taken—a man with many friends and no known enemies. For the greater part of his life an earnest Christian, he was a member of the Methodist church, and he was ever active and generous in advancing the cause of Christ. The Methodist church built many years ago near his home farm, is a monument to his memory, for he was one of those active in its organization and upgrowth.

He was twice elected to serve the people as a member of the board of county commissioners, and the splendid court house of this county was built during the time he was in office. A number of years ago, he left the farm and moved to Wayne, where he made his home a number of years, moving to Tilden about eight years ago. He will be missed in his home community, and mourned by friends wherever he was known.

A DUREC HOG SALE

Robert Leisey from Wisner was a Wayne visitor, coming to Wayne in the interest of his annual sale of Duroc hogs, which is to be held Wednesday, September 25. His offering will consist of 45 head of his best breeding. No. 1 of his offering is no less of a hog than Sensation Top, a litter brother of Mammoth Sensation and Sensation Supreme. His herd is headed by some of the best sires money would purchase. King of Orion was bought at a $1,300 price. The facts are that Mr. Leisey has made a reputation for the hogs he grows by the kind and quality of the hogs—and he is doing his bit to feed the needy with the best of hog production. He will have catalogs out in a few days, and you should send for one if interested. His advertisement will appear in this paper next week.

FRANK JOHNSON ARRESTED SUSPECTED OF GRAIN BURNING

Monday afternoon Marshal Charles Riese and Sheriff Porter followed a stranger they had been watching for some time as he traveled uneasily up and down, into the Democrat office, and convinced that he was the man wanted for distributing booze and suspected of burning grain near Bloomfield placed him under arrest and took him to the city jail. His name is given as Frank Johnson, and he denies any knowledge of the grain burning. Tuesday evening a deputy marshal came from Norfolk for the prisoner, and the Norfolk News tells the following story about the stranger:

Frank Johnson, hunted by home guard members, posses and bloodhounds in the vicinity of Bloomfield and Niobrara for several days because he was believed to know something about the burning of a threshing outfit and wheat stacks in that vicinity, was arrested by the marshal at Wayne Tuesday and brought to Norfolk by Deputy Marshal Morgan, who after securing a commitment from United States Commissioner Hays took Johnson to Madison to await trial on a charge of bootlegging.

While the excited farmers around Niobrara and Bloomfield were looking for Johnson in order to solve the wheat stack burning mystery, Johnson was having a hard time to elude these posses and at the same time to keep out of the deputy's sight. Morgan searched the country wide and far for Johnson who was wanted on a charge of distributing whiskey among farmers and Indians.

Posed as Wealthy Farmer. With the Bloomfield postmaster, the deputy marshal talked with Johnson who successfully passed himself off as a wealthy farmer near Wayne, sending the officer on the wrong track and then enjoying himself in watching him return from a fruitless search. He kept in hiding for some time, but was traced to Wayne by railroad men who tipped off the Wayne marshal who turned Johnson over to the Wayne county sheriff. Johnson appeared considerably frightened when he heard that a posse from Bloomfield was on its way to Wayne to identify him. It was not until he heard this news that he admitted his identity and emphatically denied that he had anything to do with the burning of the wheat stacks or that he knew anything about it.

The prisoner told the officers here that he learned while in Wayne county that he was suspected of burning the wheat stacks and he was anxious to convince the officials that he knew nothing about this matter.

CONGRESSMAN REAVIS FIRST NEBR. DISTRICT FROM FRONT

Mrs. H. L. James has just received a letter from Congressman Reavis, who has been over the pond seeing things and the men from this state, and he saw and talked with Mr. James, who left here about five months ago, and since his return has sent the following letter to Mrs. James:

Washington, September 4, 1918. Dear Friend: During my recent trip to France I had the pleasure of seeing and talking with a soldier in whom you are interested. H. L. James.

The young man is well and enthusiastic in his work. The 89th Division, with which he is serving, is, or was when I saw him, located near Chautauque, where General Pershing has his headquarters. There is no spot in all France more beautiful or healthful and our boys are being splendidly cared for. They are living with the simple agricultural people of that section and are surrounded by a moral influence that was very pleasing and satisfactory to me.

May I say that the American boy has proved himself the most courageous soldier in Europe, and that General Pershing told me that he considered the 89th Division the finest body of men he had ever seen.

I am writing you this at the request of the lad overseas and because I wanted you to know that I had seen him and that he was well. Sincerely yours, C. R. GLENN.

NOW LIEUTENANT HICKMAN

The daily press this week gives the name of William R. Hickman of this place, a son of Professor and Mrs. Hickman, among those who had finished work in the training school for field artillery at Camp Taylor, Kentucky, and been given commission of second lieutenant.

Notice About Conserving Paper

The pledge is asked of this paper, and every other newspaper in the land to conserve paper—and while the publisher is free to sign or not as he wishes, unless he signs he can get no paper. One of the rules for the conservation of paper is to discontinue sending free papers, exchanges unless within a 40-mile radius, and also not to send papers unless paid for in advance. We have some in this latter class yet, though a number have read their label and heeded the notice in the last issue—but there are others. We may be able to give a week yet, perhaps two weeks—but you should not ask it—you should show appreciation of credit extended and help us keep the spirit and the letter of the ruling without loss of money or patronage. Trusting that those in arrears on subscription accounts will be prompt.

We are yours for World Democracy.

ENROLLMENT NEARLY NORMAL TRAINING CORPS PROSPECT

Notwithstanding war conditions the indications are that the enrollment will reach about the usual number. The very urgent call for teachers and the good salaries offered will cause some of the advanced classes to be a little smaller than last year. But the enrollment in a commercial and rural lines promises to be the largest of the history of the school.

Complete arrangements have been made for the radio buzzer work. This is given under the direction of the federal government and is absolutely free, to anyone of draft age who is physically fit for military service and has a common school education. Besides the classes during the day in the radio work there will be a class from 7:30 to 9 each evening in the science hall. Those interested should write or call at the State Normal school, for full particulars.

Final papers have been sent to the war department pertaining to the students' army training corps. If the equipment and other facilities are approved by the department this work will start about October 1. Two groups of students are eligible. The first group is known as the industrial group, to which anyone with a common school education may be admitted. The second group is more specially for officers and is known as the college group. No one is admitted to the college group who does not have at least a high school education. In reply to letters which have been sent out more than half of the minimum number for the college group have signified their intention of becoming members. The intention of the State Normal school authorities is to limit the number in the college group to about 125 members. It is clearly to the advantage of the members to be in a small group. Each one may thus receive more individual attention than would be possible in a group of several hundred.

Regular army officers will be detailed to give military instruction. The academic instruction will be given by the faculty of the State Normal school. Rooms will be set aside in two or three of the buildings, which will serve for mess room, cooking room and barracks for members of the unit. All students who enter the unit will have their board and school expenses paid. In addition the government will furnish uniforms, guns and pay the men $30 a month. Such an opportunity rarely comes to a young man. It seems practically certain that the government will take advantage of the splendid equipment and facilities which the Normal school has to offer.

CALLED FOR EXAMINATION

The following registrants have been called for physical examination September 16, 1918, at 8:30 o'clock, a. m. at Dr. Ingham's office. Phillip Elmer Richardson, Harold Alexander Peterson, Jesse Monroe Randol, Howard Leon Neely, Elmer Erick Olson, Glenn Valentine Kelley, Ellis Roberts, Collier Junior Boyce, Gail Charles Sellon, Carlyle Martin Olson, John, Mettlen, LeRoy David Owen.

ARNO E. JONES WRITES FROM FRENCH HOSPITAL

Mrs. E. L. Jones has received a letter from their son in France, who was sent to a hospital some weeks ago and writes that he is better and has been given two passes to visit the city near which they are located. He calls the street cars there funny looking pieces of machinery. He thinks where he now is is more Americanized than any it has been his privilege to visit in France. He says not to worry for he has good care and is as safe as he would be at home so long as he is ill at least. But in another letter he expressed the opinion that he would prefer a bullet wound to being gassed, which leaves the impression that the gas is no joke. His address is Pvt. Arno E. Jones, care U. S. Army Base Hospital No. 38 Am. Ex. France, A. P. O. 767; and he likes to get letters from friends.

REV. D. W. MACGREGOR GIVES REPORT OF YEAR'S WORK

The first of September closed the church year for the Methodist church at Wayne, and the first year of the pastorate of Rev. D. W. MacGregor. His report given below shows that it has been a busy season, and a prosperous twelve months for the church.

At the last meeting of the board representing the membership a resolution was unanimously passed asking that the pastor be returned for another year, and the salary was increased a substantial per cent, so it is but natural that Rev. and Mrs. MacGregor feel elated over the outcome of their first year at Wayne. The report shows the financial, religious and social activities:

WAYNE-CHAUTAUQUA ASSOCIATION VOTES ORF 1919 MEETING

At the annual meeting of the directors and officers and also of the stockholders of the Wayne Chautauqua association Monday evening, it was voted to try to hold a Chautauqua at Wayne next season, but no contract has yet been made. Mr. Alton of the Midland Chautauqua was present, and submitted an outline of their plans for talent and a price for the guarantee to them with the chance to make more; and also a flat rate price for talent, tent, and other equipment, both of which are held for consideration.

The treasurer's report shows a very comfortable nest-egg in cash, and that the affairs of the association are in very good shape. After the acceptance of the reports of the treasurer and secretary, the board of directors adjourned and the meeting of the stockholders was called. Rev. S. X. Cross presided and J. G. Mines was secretary. A committee to nominate members of the new executive committee reported the following, and they were the choice of the stockholders: S. X. Cross, J. H. Kemp, F. S. Berry, W. H. Gildersleeve, J. G. Mines, J. M. Cherry, A. R. Davis, E. O. Gardner and H. C. Henney. The directors organized by electing S. R. Cross, president; J. H. Kemp, vice president; J. G. Mines, secretary, and H. C. Henney, treasurer.

After discussing the matter of the best plan to be adopted in securing talent for the coming season the board adjourned, subject to call of the officers, without definitely deciding upon any particular line of action.

Contract With Midland

The representative of the Midland Chautauqua who was here got busy on the wire with headquarters and cleared up some questions about which an understanding was wanted, regarding some of the details, and a contract was signed for their best 7-day entertainment. It is now for all to see that the meeting is a success.

GOLF TOURNAMENT SCORES

Ray Reynolds won the handicap medal tournament this week. His score was a 99 from which he drew a 45 score. With a handicap of 21 this gave him a net 24.

All in all it was a tournament of very low scores. On his first round Morgan set a new record. This record only stood for one round for on the next round Fisher duplicated the score by a pair of phenomenal shots, got the last hole in two. The cards follow:

Morgan	544	454	544	39
Fisher	644	555	442	39

The results of the tournament were as follows:

Player	Holes	Nine	Hdp	Net
Fisher	32	40	7	33

A LETTER FROM SCOTLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Masten received a letter from their son, Ralph, written August 14. He was then in Scotland running a 3-ton truck. Scotland is a beautiful country, and the Sammies are well treated there. The climate is delightful, only quite cool. The harvest would begin in about two weeks he judged. The girls are of the prettiest and don't need paint or powder. They take off their hats to the Sammies. Ralph says that he is glad he is in the service.

GENERAL PERSHING BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION HERE FRIDAY

For the past three weeks plans have been maturing for a great patriotic celebration at Wayne, and it was most fitting that we should select as the date the anniversary of the birth of the great military leader of American forces in France. It is to be an almost nation-wide day of celebration. True, plans had been made to erect a magnificent pole at this time and dedicate a flag, but there has been a slip somewhere and the pole is not here. The facts are that such supplies are very slow of delivery. But we are ready when the pole comes, and we will celebrate the birthday of one of the great military men of the age.

The program is not fully complete at this writing, but this much we know. The address will be by that eloquent speaker, Dr. Conley of Norfolk, and those who have listened to his words will not want to fail to hear again.

The Carroll and the Welsh bands will provide excellent instrumental music; the Victory Sextet from west of Carroll will have charge of the vocal music, and no other guarantee is needed to let it be known that it will be splendid. The Home Guards of Wayne and surrounding towns are promised, and it will indeed be a gala day.

The order of the day will be to form the guards and citizens at city hall at 2:30 and march to speaker and band stand corner of Main and Third streets. Here there will be band music, singing, exhibition drills followed by the address of the day.

The Governor's Proclamation

The fifty-eighth anniversary of the birth of General John J. Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American army in France, occurs on Friday next, September 13, 1918, and it is proposed that the day be celebrated throughout the United States, and no doubt it will be observed in foreign lands.

"Nebraska will take special pride in the event, not only because of his great military prominence, but because he is a resident of our state, and in the year 1893 graduated from the University of Nebraska with distinguished honor. As such we are proud to regard him as a citizen of our state. General Pershing holds the highest rank that our nation through congress can confer. His splendid achievements in France have made him the idol of our American army, and call for the gratitude of every loyal American.

"It gives me pleasure as governor to request that the day be publicly recognized in the cities, towns, villages and country places throughout the entire state. Let patriotism have the right of way in all the public and private schools, state institutions and in the churches and homes of the people. And to the end that it may be the more generally observed I hereby declare and proclaim September 13, 1918, a public holiday."

In compliance with the above, and to conform to the program prepared for the observation of the day at Wayne, Mayor Lamberson urges all business houses to close and remain closed from 2:30 to 5 o'clock p. m.

NOTICE TO WAR SAVING CERTIFICATE COMMITTEES

We have just received the following from the National War Savings committee at Washington: "All authorized agents for the sale of War Savings Stamps should be cautioned not to issue any War Savings Certificates without written thereon clearly and legibly the name and address of the owner in the space provided for that purpose.

The practice of issuing Certificates in blank to the individual not only violates the regulations and permits evasion of the rule against transfer, but also imposes a disadvantage on those who purchased stamps at post offices or other agencies where the rule in regard to names and addresses is strictly observed."

Respectfully,
ROLLIE W. LEY,
Chairman of Wayne County War Savings.

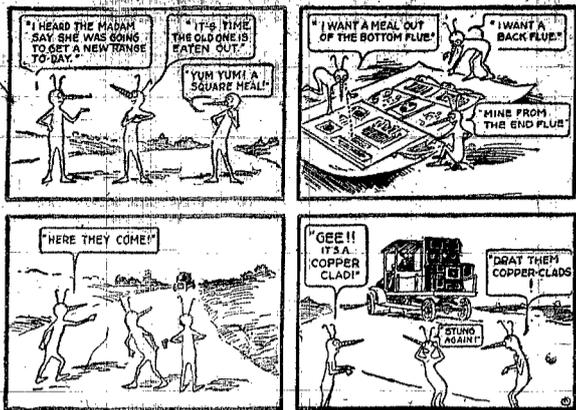

Wayne, Nebraska, September 10, 1918.

DEDICATE SERVICE FLAG

Last Sunday afternoon there was at Winside a service, dedicating a flag carrying nine stars, each star representing a member of the Trinity Evangelical church of that place who is serving in the army or navy of his country. Rev. Moehring, the pastor, tells us it was an impressive meeting.

Last week Ben Laas got a manure spreader—or at least a part of one—in his eye, as nearly as possible. He was working under the machine when something fell striking him in the eye, and he has been coming to Wayne to have it cared for.

Mrs. Walling from Laurel was a Wayne visitor and shopper Monday, being attracted here to trade by the advertisements of our local merchants. It was Wayne or Sioux City, and Wayne received the preference, we were told. She visited her parents, L. E. Panabaker and wife.

Gus Wendt and family have moved from their farm northwest of Wayne to the city, and now occupy the place in the northeast part of town formerly owned by W. S. Elder. They will there have room for a cow or two and some chickens, so that they will not get too homesick for the farm.

Uncle Sam and the state are sending out so much matter for the publisher to give to the people that it cannot always be put across on time. Just last week we noticed a splendid reader in a paper dated September 5, urging the farmers to make an exhibit at the state fair, which closed two days after this paper went to press.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rispen of this place have been entertaining the lady's parents and sister; Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Siefken and son of Pilger and Miss Anna Siefken from Rembrandt, Iowa. The parents and son had been to Iowa to visit and the daughter returned with them and all visited here. Miss Siefken returned home Saturday morning.

Mrs. D. W. MacGregor went to Tekamah and Blair this week to visit relatives and friends while Rev. MacGregor is at University Place attending the annual conference of the Methodist church, making his report of the year's work here and listening for the appointing power to say, "MacGregor—Wayne," again in confirmation of the expressed wishes of the church membership at this place.

Miss Winifred Fleetwood, who for a number of years past has been saleslady at the Ahern store, resigned to accept a position in the suit and cloak department of the Maytin store at Sioux City, and left Sunday to begin her duties there. Miss Fleetwood will be missed by many friends at the store and in social circles. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fleetwood are also moving to that city where Mr. Fleetwood has accepted a salesman position in a furniture department. They have two other daughters living at that place, Mrs. Ed A. Johnson, and Mrs. C. K. Johnson who has been here for a week visiting and assisting with their moving work. They have been residents of Wayne about seventeen years, and will be missed by their many friends, all of whom wish them an abundance of the good things of life.

John Lewis, who has been stopping at Sioux City since last spring came out last week to visit home folks and register where he calls home.

Miss Ida Schmidt, who has been spending the summer with friends at Avoca and Walnut, Iowa, returned Saturday evening to her parents' home in this city.

I. H. Britell and family went to Elgin the first of the week by automobile and returning Monday, they met the mud at Hoskins, left the car there and came home by train.

Miss Marguerite Chace left Tuesday morning to resume her school work at the College of Fine Arts, Chicago, and Mrs. Chace and Miss Goldie accompanied her as far as Sioux City, and visited there for the day.

Mrs. Ed Wright and Ralph Clark were called to Norfolk Monday evening by the serious condition of their sister, Mrs. Honey of Carroll, who had been taken to a hospital there for an operation. They returned Tuesday afternoon, their sister having passed away shortly after noon that day.

Frank Gaertner went to Sioux City Tuesday and there hoped to meet the wife and children, who have been at Marcus, Iowa. Their son, Francis, is expecting to go to his school at Dubuque, Iowa, and the family and Mr. Gaertner drive home in their car—if roads and weather will permit, and that does not look very fit, at this writing.

Land is still advancing in this vicinity. The Grimsey farm, which sold a year ago at less than $200 the acre, and then again a month ago at $250, has again been sold at $265, a man from Uehling making the last purchase. This country looks good to people from most any where else this year—and in fact every year. But this time some others have been burned by hot, dry weather.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gaertner went to Lincoln Sunday, and there had an assurance of getting a short visit with their son, Dr. Leo Gaertner, who has been in training at Camp Lewis, Washington, and was fitted to go to the other side and help in caring for the sick and wounded. He was glad of opportunity to go, having once been rejected on account of physical condition. His home is at Three Forks, Montana, where he left a large practice to go where needed more. It is a wonderful opportunity for a surgeon to make his profession most useful to mankind and gain a wide experience in both surgery and medicine.

BUCK'S HOT BLAST

For any kind of fuel including slack. No clinkers formed with 90 per cent of the coal mined.

A large air duct completely encircles inside top of fire pot. The grate is self-cleaning, grinds up and drops into pan all foreign matter in soft coal.

You can shake down ashes by simply opening draft door.

Fire pot in two pieces, upper and lower sections, allows for expansion and contraction. Fire pot never cracks or burns out, it is everlasting.

Every joint in stove perfectly air-tight.

Hot Blast draft drives heat into base, which becomes so highly heated that biscuits can be baked in ash pan.

Buck's Hot Blast burns all the combustible matter in any kind of fuel.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

The following proposed amendment to the constitution of the State of Nebraska, as hereinafter set forth in full, is submitted to the electors of the State of Nebraska to be voted upon at the general election to be held Tuesday, November 5th, A. D. 1918.

A JOINT RESOLUTION to amend Section one (1) of Article seven (7) of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska.

Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Nebraska:

Section 1. That Section One of Article Seven of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska be and the same hereby is amended by striking out the following words:

"Second. Persons of foreign birth who shall have declared their intention to become citizens conformably to the laws of the United States, on the subject of naturalization, at least thirty days prior to an election."

And inserting in the place of the words so stricken, the following words:

"Second. Persons of foreign birth who shall have become citizens of the United States by naturalization or otherwise conformably to the laws of the United States at least thirty days prior to an election."

Sec. 2. That at the general election nineteen hundred and eighteen (1918) there shall be submitted to the electors of the state for their approval or rejection the foregoing proposed amendment to the constitution relating to the right of suffrage. At such election, on the ballot of each elector voting for or against said proposed amendment, shall be written or printed the words: "For proposed amendment to the constitution relating to the right of suffrage," and "Against said proposed amendment to the constitution relating to the right of suffrage."

Sec. 3. If such amendment shall be approved by a majority of all electors voting at such election, said amendment shall constitute Section One (1) Article Seven (7) of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska.

Approved, April 9, 1918.

KEITH NEVILLE, Governor.

Attest: CHARLES W. POOL, Secretary of State.

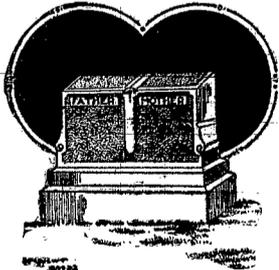

BARLEY CHEAPER THAN CORN

At the present time barley is selling on the market for about $2.25 per hundred pounds in comparison to a price of $3 per hundred pounds for corn. The question is being asked as to which is the better buy at these prices. Experimental work has shown consistently that barley, when ground and soaked, is almost the equivalent of corn for fattening animals. On this basis with the relatively wide spread in price which we have now barley could easily be pronounced the cheaper feed of the two, and it certainly would seem the part of wisdom to utilize it where possible in the ration of animals, especially hogs which are being made ready for the market. Experimental work has shown that the grain is increased materially by grinding and soaking the barley before feeding.

OFFICIAL ELECTION RETURNS

Below we give the vote of this county at the recent primary, as shown by the official count of the county commissioners. This should have appeared at an earlier date, but we waited for some "sorts" for the machine with which to tabulate the vote by precincts, and when they came, and still lacked other sorts, we gave this abbreviated report.

We have not tried to give the vote of names written in on the different ballots where no one had filed, and we have in several cases omitted the vote of those who had no opposition in their own party, as the vote for congressmen and other offices. Below are the totals:

War-time Furniture Purchase brings big price discounts

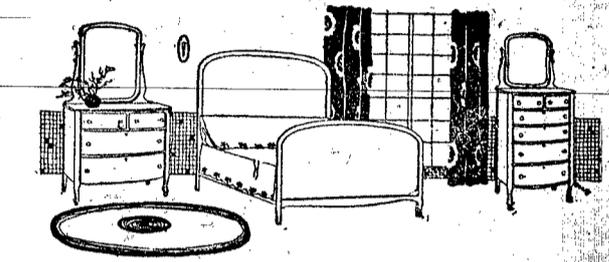

Furniture factories everywhere are now being drafted into government service. Factories in part—or some whole factories—are now giving over their equipment and facilities to the making of aeroplane blades and wagon parts. And hence, the entire stocks, or the necessary stocks to give over the room for their new work, as the case may be, are being disposed of in right quick order—almost regardless of former price. Pelletier's being closely associated with many makers of good furniture perhaps more than others, received the word "Government taken over factory—entire stock to you at extreme reduction—must make room immediately." We knew the quality of this maker's output and at once negotiated for the purchase. Hence, it makes this announcement possible that—

Due to government taking over factory of a large furniture maker for war service, his entire stock secured at "before-the-war" prices. Most pieces 50% discount,—all at one-third less!

WITH THE WAYNE CHURCHES

Baptist Church
(Rev. Fletcher J. Jordan, Pastor)
The pastor will preach at both services next Lord's day God willing. Divine worship at 10:30, a. m. and 8 p. m.

The Bible school has its session promptly after the morning worship. All are asked to remain for this hour next Sunday. Classes will be found for all who can possibly remain. The subject for discussion is: "Winning the World to Christ." Matt. 5:13-16; 28:18-20; Acts 16:9. Mail. 5:13-16; 28:18-20; Acts 16:9. Mr. Shirley B. Sprague is the leader of the B. Y. P. U. next Sunday evening at 7. He is assisted by Group III. The topic is: "The Saloon Power and How to Overthrow It." Heb. 2:1-17. Normal students and all young people are cordially invited to be present at this meeting. The B. Y. P. U. had charge of the church service last Sunday evening and those who failed to hear the program missed a great treat.

Plan to attend the mid-week prayer service which is held in the basement of the church each Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Choir rehearsal Saturday evening at 8.

We hope that we may have the pleasure of welcoming many of our Normal school students not only to the life of the city; but to all the activities of our church-life next Sunday. Give us an opportunity to get acquainted with you. Remember that the pastor and people want to be helpful to all who come to our splendid city.

Presbyterian Church
(Rev. S. Xenophon Cross, Pastor)

We hereby extend a cordial invitation to students of the college to attend the services of this church. We are pleased to have you visit us or make your church home with us while you stay in Wayne. Let us hope that the time may speedily come when the church will stand for the saving of and the ministering to the whole man, and for the blessing of the whole world. May it stand with as large welcome as that of the Father: "Whosoever will may come."

"That Brief Plastic Moment" will be the subject of the sermon at the morning hour next Sunday morning. There will be a special program of good music under the direction of Mrs. A. R. Davis, chorister. All are cordially invited to attend this and all of the services of this church. Xerxes cried at the Hellespont: "Would I had as many soldiers as Men!" As a matter of fact, some church members are not always in the battle line. Some are never there! One of the first essentials to effective church service is to attend the public services of the church. Be there next Sunday.

The Sunday school is a tremendous agency for the good. We have here a hearty spirit of cooperation. The lesson for the following Sunday is reviewed each Wednesday evening at the mid-week meeting. Visitors are always welcome in any department of this school. If you are not regularly enrolled in any Sunday school, we should be pleased to enroll you.

English Lutheran Church
(Rev. J. H. Fetterolf, Pastor)

The pastor being absent on account of health, no services will be held at this church Sunday except the Sunday school and Luther league, which will be at the usual hours, and all are urged to be present, and keep the work going.

Evangelical Lutheran
(Rev. Rudolph Moebring, Pastor)

There will be no services at this church Sunday next, nor at Winslow.

as the pastor goes Friday to attend the synod meeting at a country church near Leigh.

HAND FOR THE HANDLESS
Bismark, N. D., September 6, 1918. Mr. E. O. Gardner, Wayne, Nebraska.

Dear Editor: If you have anybody in your community who wants to better his condition I wish you would send him up here to look at our lands. I want to show him the crop that has been secured this year, particularly the flax crop. I have been doing some farming myself on some lands which I purchased last winter very cheap. I have a quarter section in flax with the exception of a small part taken off by a lake. I want to show him the crop before it is cut as it will convince any man as to the possibilities of this country. I expect to thresh from ten to fourteen bushels to the acre in this tract, and will sell it on the local market for at least $4 a bushel after taking out the expense of threshing. Lands equally as good, unimproved, can be bought in the same community at a price ranging from $30 to $40 an acre. Improved lands can be bought in the same community at a little in advance of this price owing to the improvements on the land. My land is about a mile from a loading station. If a person wants grazing lands, of course, they can be bought cheaper than that. If you have anyone in your community interested I would be pleased to take the matter up with them and if anybody is really in earnest I want them to come up here and look at what I have raised before the same is cut.

Sincerely yours,
Geo. E. Wallace.

The big peaches grow on the top of the basket, always.

What's become of the retail merchant who fought the parcel post reform? Oh, he's profiting daily by using the modern method—and, strange to say, when he was in the fight, it never seemed to occur to him that it was for his benefit.

The automobile truck has virtually put the farms of the community fully one-half, if not two-thirds nearer market than they were a year ago. That is moving in pretty fast. The air ship and the air man will be the next thing to annihilate the distance between farm and town. Wayne should provide a ground for them to light on and start from.

Now that the barley and hop crop may no longer be made into beer, yeast should come down, and the barley can be used to supplement the short corn crop—and by the way, we believe that the corn which has been going to the still may now be diverted for human and hog food. We thought at first it would all be a dead loss, but we may find a way to use it until the war is over. Let's not worry.

There seems to be money in Wayne county land at the prices which looked pretty well up to eighteen months ago. We hear of one man who made more than $12,000 on a half section within that time—just advance in price. We cannot say that he could do it again, but then he might—and if he might, any one might who had the nerve to put up the price.

One of the things which has been instrumental in the higher prices for land is the better roads which have been maintained, and as the roads improve the price of land will be better, and that is one reason why we think the land along the road that is improved should bear a larger share of the cost of good road making.

All county road administrators were called to meet at Omaha yesterday, and at three sessions, morning, afternoon and evening it was proposed to outline the important work of the coming year. Some things appear to be settled. One is that granulated sugar is to be a trifle higher. Brown, or C sugar is not quite so expensive as the granulated, the wholesale price being 60 cents a hundred less; and it may be sold in 25 per cent greater quantity than the granulated. No one is to be permitted to sell sugar in stock when the price advances at an advance price—the retailer may advance his price only when he has to purchase at the advanced price. Flour regulations for bakeries were made at this meeting, but are not available for this issue.

THE FUN IN OLD MONTGOMERY

Julius Landanger and family returned home the last of the week from an auto trip in southwestern Iowa. They visited in Adair and Montgomery counties, and report the effect of drouth very bad. At Red Oak, in Montgomery county, he says they also have something else to think of. This is the center of the Wilkerson movement. From this distance, it looks as though the politicians of Montgomery county had caught their match when they tried some things that hardly look legal in a free country to thwart the expressed will of the people, who by their votes nominated Wilkerson to the position of candidate for county attorney, and the county convention went over the heads of the people and declared another candidate the nominee. A number of citizens made and had published statements not at all complimentary to Wilkerson, who in turn has commenced action for damages against these citizens in sums aggregating about $350,000. Some of the defendants went to the wroth to the extent of resisting and beating officers whose duty it was to serve the notices of action. A counter attack appears to have been started, and Wilkerson has been indicted in another county of conspiring against the public welfare.

Do not understand that we are quoting Mr. Landanger for all of this, for we are not. The papers have carried the news for a number of days, and his verbal account of what he heard brings it to mind. Wilkerson appears to have a hold on many people there. A candidate before the primary on the republican ticket they refused to print his name on the ballot, and yet enough voters wrote it in to give him more votes than either of his opponents, and more than the required 35 per cent of the votes cast, for the three candidates, which in Iowa means a nomination without action of the convention except to certify to the nomination.

Dock Tanner, who for many years has represented Omaha in the state senate, is the best man the corporations of that city ever sent to Lincoln. I like him because of his honesty and his nerve. He is not ashamed to be known as a corporation senator. Indeed he boldly declares that it is his business to represent the interests of his home city, and he tells me that if the corporation and booze interests had been taken out of Omaha ten years ago there would be nothing left now to make life worth living. I often wish we might elect to the state legislature from the agricultural districts a set of men as loyal to the cause of the farm as Doc Tanner is loyal to the cause of the corporations. If we can elect that sort this year Arthur Mullen and all his lieutenants in Columbus and over the state will not need to ask the court to change their names for indeed every one of them will be instantly hailed as Othello.—Columbus Telegram.

SOCIAL NOTES

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church met with Mrs. J. J. Williams Wednesday afternoon.

The Missionary society of the Presbyterian church meets this afternoon with Mrs. Harvey Ringland.

Members of the D. A. R. are to meet Saturday afternoon at home of Mrs. A. M. Jacobs, and it is important that each member who possibly can do so be present.

Among the coming social events is a ceremonial meeting of the Camp Fire girls Friday evening at the home of Miss Fannie Britell, their leader, and the members of then to remain for a slumber party with their hostess.

Miss Louise Rickabaugh celebrated her eighth birthday Saturday with a party at which she was hostess to a number of her little neighbor friends, both boys and girls. Mrs. Rickabaugh served ample choice refreshments, and the little folks report a happy afternoon. Miss Louise was remembered with numerous presents.

The ladies of the P. N. G. club held their first meeting after the summer vacation at the home of Mrs. Chas. Reynolds, and Mrs. Wm. Broschett having become eligible to membership by reason of having become a Past Noble Grand in the Rebekahs, was duly received into fellowship. The members are all to be at the Red Cross rooms to sew Friday afternoon of next week. Mrs. Berry from Chicago was a guest from out of town. At the close of the afternoon Mrs. N. J. Juhlin, assisted the hostess in serving refreshments. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Carrie Bruner, October 8.

There was a very complete family reunion of the J. Moore family and their relatives and friends at their home southwest of Randolph Sunday. Their children were all present except the oldest and youngest, Mrs. Geo. King of Burton, Kansas, and their son, Gurney. There were guests from Ohio, Minnesota, Iowa, and many places in this state. Among the guests were the following from Wayne: Mr. and Mrs. Art O'Connell, Mrs. Mike O'Connell and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Moore and family. The guests report a happy time, and departed wishing the host and hostess many more such happy gatherings.

W. C. T. U. Meeting

The W. C. T. U. held a business meeting Friday, September 6, at the home of Mrs. J. H. Boyce. New officers were chosen to fill vacancies. Miss Charlotte White, vice president; Mrs. Clara Gustafson, first vice president; Mrs. Bruner, second vice president, and Mrs. D. W. Noakes, secretary.

Our New Fall Stocks Are Now Ready For You

The merchandise bought on my recent trip to the Eastern markets is arriving daily.

These up-to-date goods added to the winter merchandise we have been buying for the past several months make up the largest and finest stock our store has ever had for you.

We would like to show you these goods now while our stock is at its very best.

You will find that this is a most favorable time to begin your fall buying, because later on we will not be able to get more such desirable merchandise as we bought early and now have in the store. Prices, too, are steadily advancing.

You will find it most satisfactory to buy from our present complete and moderately priced stock.

SECOND-HAND FARM HINTS

Now is the time to go through the corn fields and select seed corn. In this way you have opportunity to select the best, and get it where it may be cared for, no matter what the weather.

We have had no report of the pumpkin crop. It should be good this season, and pumpkin pies may be made without sugar, if one has sorghum. Pies such as "mother used to make" in the days of '63 to '65 Perhaps they would not taste as good now.

The farmers—the few farmers in this county, who have silos, should be busy these days storing the best of feed for next winter.

The time is coming soon for that Booster trip by the members of the Pure Stock Breeders' association—and their friends. All who can go are welcome. Last year a number of Wayne business men went, and more will undoubtedly plan to go this season. It should be a big event of the season.

The rain the first of the week made fall plowing better.

Some of the farmers tell us that they will be "shuckin' corn" in three weeks or less.

The landlords are busy these days looking after renters and their "share" of the crop. The renter, in many instances should be looked after at some other time than just pay day.

True Economy—

In clothes buying as in all other things consists not in buying cheap articles but in getting your money's worth.

That's where we come in. We have people come here for clothes year after year. Some even have us select the fabrics for them while a few simply tell us, to order a suit for them and leave the price, goods, style and every detail in our hands. Believe me they get satisfaction too.

Let us help you on your fall suit. We'll honestly endeavor to show you the real values in our line and we'll make the suit exactly as you want it.

Best of all our prices are moderate for the values we show.

Listen to What the Fuel Administrator Says:

The local administration is constantly urging the early purchase of fuel.

We also urge not only the early purchase of fuel, but that of your heating stove or range. The supply is limited.

We have on hand just ten Round Oak Heaters, that are not sold. When this supply is exhausted it is very doubtful if we can get any more this year.

Even if you do not need your stove until late in the season, by paying a few dollars down, we will set it aside for you.

The tendency of prices is decidedly upward, which means that the purchase of a stove or range at this time represents a material money saving, conservation of all fuels, and the safe-guarding of the comfort of the family.

Carhart Hardware

P. S. Remember, your old stove will consume nearly double the fuel of a new Round Oak.

The Logic of the Go-to-Church Movement

Rev. S. X. Cross, a Wayne Pastor

No argument is needed to demonstrate to the average person the value of the church to the community. Perhaps not a person in Wayne would deny or doubt that churches are a good thing for the town.

Now, there is an inconsistency in saying that the church is a desirable institution and then never attending its public meetings. The very nature of the church makes it impossible for it to function without the public gathering. One essential way to show that you really believe the church to be a good thing is to attend these gatherings.

A person has no right to think that he has done his duty to the church, or to the community as regards the church, when he contributes to the financial support of the church but does not attend her Sunday services. No amount of money can make church work go. Of course there are many things besides preaching that the church must provide, but a fundamental thing to the very life of the church organization is the congregating of the people. If you want the church in your town, and want to help in the FIRST BEST POSSIBLE WAY, "Go to church on Sunday."

Do it now! Don't wait till the church is disrupted for lack of people in attendance on the Sunday services. It is much easier to keep up the church organization than to build it up, once it has gone down. You can do your bit by going to church. Suppose you make a new start next Sunday.

The trouble with too many folks who profess to believe that the church is a good thing, is that they think of it as something apart from themselves and far away. But most of the barriers are already swept away that would keep any good citizen out of any church. Most preachers have quit profitless rehashing of old theological straw. Dead dogma has been buried. Good people can all find common ground in the church of today in making the church the center, not the circumference, of Christian activity throughout the community.

Go to church on Sunday that you may know about the great change that is coming over our churches. A new spirit of helpfulness characterizes the inner and outer life of the churches; they are becoming more humanitarian. The presence of every good citizen in the public meetings of the church is needed to make the church practical in larger appreciation of the gospel of human brotherhood.

Our course is to be content to do our bit by proxy. We want the church to do a great service in Wayne, but we are the church. We are very inconsiderate, to say the least, when we criticize the church for inactivity when we do not even join in her public gatherings. Let everyone try the above suggestion and just see what comes of it. Let us go to church, next Sunday.

Eight Good Farms For Quick Sale

As I have decided, on account of my health, to locate permanently in California I will sell my eight farms in the vicinity of

Wayne, Laurel and Coleridge, Nebraska

These farms are in the very garden spot of Nebraska, and contain 160 to 320 acres and up. In good state of cultivation, much of it having been rotated with grasses (timothy, clover and alfalfa) for from 15 to 20 years. Bottom lands tile drained.

Price $150 per acre up

This offer includes my home place, located just north of Wayne.

A. B. CLARK, Wayne, Nebr.

SAVE HAY AND GRAIN

The State Council of Defense has asked farmers to use special care in stacking hay and grain along railroads. A large amount of loss occurs in this way every year. The council offers the following suggestions:

- 1 Do not stack hay, grain, straw, or fodder of any description within 500 feet of a railroad track, and farther away if possible and convenient.
- 2 If grain is left in shock after cutting plow fire guards of six furrows 300 feet from the track, and put as many of the shocks as you can where they will be protected by this guard.
- 3 If stacks are located where fire from a railroad may reach them, plow or burn fire guards around such stacks.
- 4 Protect meadows by burning or plowing fire guards, of sufficient width, 300 feet from the track.

FOR WAYNE COUNTY BOYS

Farewell services were held at the Lutheran church last Sunday for five of the Wayne county boys who leave this week for camp. They are Walter Frederikson, Ernest Sandahl, Earl Leonard, John Test, Ray Buekirk and John Kai. Only the first two, however, were present.

The main address of the evening was given by Rev. Beem, who gave a general patriotic lecture, and Rev. F. Williams, who gave the personal address to the boys. Several musical numbers were also rendered.—Wakefield Republican.

RAPINE AS A NATIONAL POLICY

"No other war in history has been produced by a conflict of systems one of which was consciously, deliberately adopted as a national policy for the very purpose of producing a war that would enhance the aggrandizement of the aggressor. But it is established beyond cavil that for two generations or more, German policy has been shaped to this end. Upon Germany, therefore, rests the moral responsibility for the iniquity. She cannot claim even an equal division of the guilt on the ground that the war is a clash of economic and cultural systems, for she molded her system to produce the war. . . . The system of government for which militaristic, autocratic Germany stands cannot exist side by side with democracy. One must be crushed if the other is to survive. Let us not deceive ourselves on this matter. If the allies permit the survival of an autocracy powerful enough to begin another world war, it will destroy civilization. Never can the world be safe for democracy. Therefore, there can be no peace in this conflict by compromise or negotiation or discussion. One system of political and economic organization or the other must go down to complete defeat."—Prof. David Kinley, University of Illinois.

Fresh water, succulent green food, shade and clean houses are essential for egg production. See that the fowls have fresh water at least two or three times a day. Give them succulent green food such as green alfalfa or root crop, provide shade for the hens to utilize during the day and keep the poultry house clean and well ventilated. Keep only the best laying hens. Cull out the hen that refuses to do her share of work and send her to the chicken buyer or put her in a can for table use this winter.

WHEAT FLOUR MAY NOW BE USED WITH LESS SUBSTITUTES

ADMINISTRATOR ANNOUNCES SWEEPING CHANGES IN EFFECT SEPTEMBER 1.

MIXED FLOURS PERMITTED

Consumers May Either Buy One Pound of Substitutes With Each 4 Pounds of Standard Wheat Flour, or They May Buy Regulation Mixed Flour Instead—Rye the Only Exception.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 1.—Sweeping rules and regulations governing the manufacture and sale of wheat flour have been promulgated by Herbert Hoover, United States Food Administrator, and are announced by Gurdon W. Wattles, Federal Food Administrator for Nebraska.

The new rules are effective September 1. The new rules affect consumers, manufacturers of all products using wheat flour, and all distributors. The outstanding features of the new rules are:

FIRST—Consumers may now buy one pound of substitutes with each four pounds of standard wheat flour or in place thereof, they may buy regulation mixed flours, milled according to the new regulations, without substitutes.

SECOND—Millers are permitted to manufacture mixed flours which must conform to the specifications laid down in the new rules. These mixed flours make it unnecessary for consumers to buy substitutes if they use the mixed flours. However, if they buy standard wheat flour, they must buy one pound of substitutes with each four pounds of standard wheat flour.

THIRD—Mixed flours cannot be sold at a higher price than the price charged for standard wheat flour. This ruling standardizes the price of substitutes and prevents the soaring prices of substitutes.

FOURTH—The amount in pounds that consumers may buy is not limited, except that no one can buy more than a sufficient amount for the family for sixty days. Consumers, however, are requested to exercise great conservation in the use of wheat flour.

FIFTH—The new substitutes are: Corn flour, corn meal, barley flour, kaffir flour, milo flour, bean flour, potato flour, sweet potato flour, buckwheat flour, rice flour, oat flour, feterita flours and meals, peanut flour and rye flour or meals. All these substitutes, with the sole exception of rye flour or rye meal, must be bought in the proportion of one pound of substitutes to four pounds of wheat flour. Rye flour or rye meal must be bought in the proportion of 2 pounds to 3 pounds of standard wheat flour. There are no other substitutes than these named here.

SIXTH—Retailers must carry one of the following three substitutes in stock at all times: Barley flour, corn flour or corn meal. They may carry such other of the substitutes named, as they may desire. Under no circumstances can a retailer sell standard wheat flour without selling one or more of the accredited substitutes in the proportion named.

SEVENTH—Victory mixed flours must be milled in the following ratios: Mixed wheat and barley flour, 4 pounds wheat flour to 1 pound barley flour; mixed wheat and corn flour, 4 pounds wheat flour to 1 pound corn flour; mixed wheat, barley and corn flour, 8 pounds wheat flour to 1 pound of barley flour and 1 pound corn flour; mixed wheat and rye flour, 8 pounds wheat flour and not less than 2 pounds of rye flour. Whole wheat, entire wheat, or graham flours must contain not less than 95% of the wheat berry and may be sold without substitutes.

EIGHTH—Bakers' bread must contain at least 20% substitutes, unless the substitute is rye, when the percentage must be not less than 40%.

"The new wheat program is the result of a conference of food administrators of the allied countries and the United States. It has been agreed that the wheat bread of the allies shall contain 20% other grains than wheat and it is only just that we should bear our share in the saving," says Herbert Hoover, U. S. Food Administrator.

"Our bread should be universal with those who are fighting for us and who are suffering more greatly from the war than we. We have 220,000,000 of people to feed, one hundred and twenty million of our associates, and one hundred million of our own. We must feed them equitably and at prices which will put this necessary of life within reach of all."

Strict observance of the new rules is urged by Gurdon W. Wattles, Nebraska administrator.

"We must continue to use great care in our eating of wheat," says he. "Our people have accomplished what has never been accomplished before and through voluntary response. When our people sent 140,000,000 bushels of wheat across and with only 30,000,000 bushels visible to draw from, they gave the last answer to the sacrifice that Democracy will make. Fortune has smiled on us and on the allies. Now we have greater stocks of wheat and we are permitted to use more wheat. But the great lesson has been learned, and we should continue our conservation along intelligent lines, and we must avoid all semblance of waste."

HOUSEWIVES MAY HAVE SUGAR FOR CANNING PURPOSES

Fruits and Vegetables Must Be Saved and Winter Supplies Laid By, Says Food Administrator.

Omaha, Neb.—The Nebraska housewife today has a great problem to solve—it is that of saving the fruits and vegetables by canning and preserving, and in so doing to use just enough sugar to properly preserve these commodities.

Fruits and vegetables must be saved at all hazards. Winter supplies must be laid by so that food will be available and also that transportation will be relieved when the demands are heaviest.

Sugar is an all-important factor in the preserving of fruits and vegetables. It must be available in sufficient quantities to properly preserve these commodities and the Federal Food Administration for Nebraska has made it available, even in the face of scant supplies of sugar.

Sufficient sugar will be allotted the housewife to preserve and can her fruits and vegetables, but she must get her certificates from the Federal Food Administrator of her county or his representative. These certificates will be given on a showing that the sugar is to be used for canning and preserving.

"Every patriotic housewife will cooperate with the government in this regard," says Gurdon W. Wattles, Food Administrator. "Our Nebraska housewives showed what they could do in conserving wheat. Their response in using sugar wisely will be even more pronounced."

"It is a time for every woman to use her ingenuity and to make her sugar go as far as possible. Since about 70 per cent of the country's sugar supply passes through the housewife, it is evident that she is the important cog in sugar conservation. She has two patriotic duties to perform:

"She must see that not more than 2 pounds per person per month is used in her family; and

"She must preserve and can sufficient fruits and vegetables to carry her family through the winter and until the next crop."

UNCLE SAM FACES GREATEST OF ALL TASKS THIS YEAR

Must Furnish Food in Greater Quantities and Will Do It, Says Wattles.

America has her greatest duty to perform during the coming year, says Gurdon W. Wattles, Federal Food Administrator for Nebraska.

She must furnish food for our soldiers, 3,000,000 men of them, and in addition the greater part of the food needed by the Allies. The Allies will need 500,000,000 bushels of cereals for human consumption, 4,000,000,000 lbs. of fat and fat products, 1,500,000 tons of sugar, and 900,000,000 pounds of beef.

"It is the greatest call for foods the United States has ever undertaken," says Wattles. "But we have told them we would furnish these foods. And we can do it. We must make good."

CUT OUT WASTE, AS EACH OUNCE SAVED IS FOOD PRODUCED

Food Administrator Wattles Gives Conservation Suggestions That Work.

Gurdon W. Wattles, Federal Food Administrator for Nebraska, gives the following suggestions to Nebraskans that they may assist in winning the war.

Limit your sugar for household purposes to two pounds per person per month. The scant supplies make this drastic consumption necessary so that the Allies may have enough sugar to sustain morale.

Can and preserve every ounce of available fruit and vegetables. Sufficient sugar will be provided for this purpose. Every housewife should "put up" enough fruit to carry through the winter.

Use wheat flour and other wheat products wisely and economically. Adhere rigidly to the substitute rules and use 1 pound of substitutes with every 4 pounds of wheat flour.

Use beef in moderation and buy beef from the lighter cuts of carcasses. Beef dressing less than 475 pounds to the animal should be utilized for home consumption. The heavier carcasses are needed for export to "Our Boys Over There."

Whenever possible use other foods for sugar, beef, bacon, wheat, and fat. Many foods are available which may be used instead of these foods and with satisfaction. Cut out all waste. Remember that every ounce of food saved is an ounce of food produced.

KEEP ON CANNING

"Keep canning, sugar or no sugar," says the United States department of agriculture. If you can't get enough sugar for home canning put up your fruit without it. The products will keep perfectly until a time when more sugar is available or until a sugar substitute program has been worked out. Fruits put up in this way are excellent for pie filling and salads and may be used in desserts, pudding, fies, and punches. In canning fruit without sugar, can the product the day it is picked.

What The Packers Do For You

Not very many years ago in the history of the world, the man that lived in America had to hunt for his food, or go without.

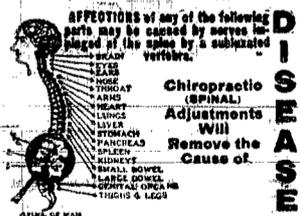

Now he sits down at a table and decides what he wants to eat; or his wife calls up the market and has it sent home for him. And what he gets is incomparably better.

Everyone of us has some part in the vast human machine, called society, that makes all this convenience possible.

The packer's part is to prepare meat and get it to every part of the country sweet and fresh—to obtain it from the stock raiser, to dress it, cool it, ship it many miles in special refrigerator cars, keep it cool at distributing points, and get it into the consumer's hands—your hands—through retailers, all within about two weeks.

For this service—so perfect and effective that you are scarcely aware that anything is being done for you—you pay the packers an average profit of only a fraction of a cent a pound above actual cost on every pound of meat you eat.

The editor does not always write a very legible hand with a pencil, and so when you see a heading "Hands for the Handless," just remember that we thought it was written with an "L" in the place of the "H."

C. D. Martin, who has been visiting his son here and other friends and disposing of his household goods, left last evening for his home with his daughter at Scottsbluff, where he has decided to live, after a trial month or two in that climate. He was for many years a resident of Wayne and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Oman and their daughters, Frances and Fern returned last week from Cheyenne county, where they have been for the past three months. Mr. Oman still appears to have faith in that county as a wheat growing proposition, in spite of the fact that his wheat only yielded about 35 or 40 bushels per acre. No wonder he feels like a Rocky fellow.

Mrs. M. T. Munsinger and daughter, Elta, returned Wednesday evening from a visit of nearly two months on the west coast. They went with the double purpose of visiting son and brother, Joe, while he was in camp there, and seeing the sights, and visiting other relatives and friends. They visited many places of interest after the lad started for the east, and report a very splendid time.

N. O. Servene was here from Wakefield Wednesday, and talked over Iowa affairs with the editor a little time. He tells us that Mrs. Servene was called to Texas two months or more ago by the sickness of her father, and is expected home this week, the father having died, recently. He has been farming the Shumway half section south of Wakefield, but with his son in the next draft, he is looking for a good quarter section farm in these parts. He is a good farmer, and it might pay the man who wants to rent a farm so that it will be cared for to look him up.

Messrs. John Stallsmith and Jack Hyatt returned home the first of the week from their trip to the National G. A. R. meeting at Portland, and report that they had a great time—saw sights in seven states, and met comrades of other and younger days—told how they would fix the kaiser if they were called to shoulder their old muzzle-loading army muskets and march against the bun. His trenches would not shelter them from the old musket bullets, and if that would not do they would get the huns to take the guns and use them, and they might as well be kicked by a mule, as one of those old come-backs. But they really had a most interesting and profitable time.

Miss Mary Mason went to visit her brother at Meadow Grove today, and he will drive here with her the first of the week.

Col. Fred Jarvis of Carroll, was a visitor at the state fair at Lincoln last week. He tells us that he took an automobile trip from Lincoln to North Bend, and that all late crops of the country traveled was greatly injured by drouth. Some corn has been cut—other fields have been used to feed the cattle, letting them gather it, and others stand bleached white by the heat, with little if any corn.

C. M. Christensen and family were here Wednesday, driving in by auto, while on a trip from their home at Rapid City, South Dakota, to Iowa and return. They stopped here on the home trip, and greeted many old friends. Mr. Christensen tells us that they traveled through a country of good crops from home to their old home at Harlan, but south of that not so good. He thought Wayne county prospect equal to any.

Superintendent Armstrong of the Wayne schools, to whom has fallen the work of organizing a district in northeastern Nebraska for the Junior Y. M. C. A., was at Dakota City Tuesday afternoon to start the organization for that county. The idea of organizing the young folks through the schools for such worthy work as that carried out by the Y. M. C. A. is good, and much good is sure to come from it, and not only to those the organizations seeks to help, but to the individual members of the societies as well. In Superintendent Armstrong we believe those who selected him for the work will find an efficient organizer.

MRS. HERB HONEY DIES AT NORFOLK HOSPITAL

Mrs. Ida Clark Honey who went to Norfolk from Carroll a week ago for an operation passed away at the hospital there Tuesday, and the body has been brought to the Carroll home, but the date of the funeral is not yet set. She spent the greater part of her life in this county, and will be sadly missed by many friends. Next week we hope to have more of her life history.

A. G. HOWARD, FORMER RESIDENT AT WAYNE, DIES

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Chace received a card a few days ago announcing the death of A. G. Howard, formerly a citizen of Wayne, at Clarkia, Idaho, where he went with his son about twelve years ago. He passed away August 30, and was in his 94th year. Mr. Howard came here when Wayne was quite young, and resided here about fifteen years, and left many friends.

Market conditions on all foods more especially canned fruits, vegetables, canned salmon, oysters, preserves, tea and coffee each day show increased values. Scarcely an item you can mention that's not going up. Consumers will pay $1.00 per gallon for vinegar next year, tobacco, cigars will be out of sight. You may not be surprised to see tea $1.00 per pound and coffee double its present price. Auto oil will be over $1.00 per gallon next spring. From the facts we are conducting a strictly cash store we are far better prepared to make contracts and protect our trade. We have bought and paid for 3 tons of candy which will be made and shipped for Christmas business. This store has sufficient coffee purchased to be shipped every 30 days to last 12 months, enough vinegar on hand and under contract to supply our trade all next season. 5,000 gallons Opaline auto oil to cover demands for six months; $4,000 worth extra juicy Washington box apples to arrive in about 30 days. A big lot new canned goods soon to arrive. This store prides itself in covering its wants at the proper time before the various advances. Our patrons get direct first hand advantage by this service. We suggest its an opportune time to buy coffee. Buy it in 25 pound lots yes, pool with your neighbors and get 100 pounds. Coffee is a real buy at this time. We have a ton of good coffee just arrived—our price saves you 7 to 10 cents per pound and you protect yourself against an advance and a probable revenue or war tax. Our old crop peaberry fresh from our roaster is a red-hot seller. Get in touch with the store with a big value. We keep no books, we do not deliver without extra charge, we do not profiteer. Our prices are based on cash and carry system. The food administrator permits credit and free delivery stores to charge more.

Glenco Pure Preserves

Fruit and sugar products—(no apple mixtures) packed in 20 oz. Mason jars. We have sold more of this one brand of preserves the past 30 days than the entire town has sold in any 3 years. Strawberry, Raspberry, pure Apple, Apricot, Peach and Plum preserved in cane sugar equal to any home canning or better.

One dozen jars preserves..... $5.50

One jar free with 1 dozen; 3 jars free with 2 dozen.

When this lot of preserves are sold we will positively be forced to advance to conform to prices of shipment now in transit. Secure an order the first opportunity—use the free jars, if you are not entirely satisfied you will receive entire purchase price.

Coffee, 25 lb. Lots

We have been selling coffee in larger quantities for the past 2 years with entire satisfactory results. At this season of the year a large percentage of farmers buy coffee even in as large lots as 50 or 100 pounds. The 25 pound bag is the popular seller. The same percentage is saved in price and your coffee is always fresh. A fresh supply just arrived. Ask our boys about the coffee proposition they will gladly explain.

Heinz Distilled Pickling Vinegar

This is the vinegar Heinz has used to attain superior quality in many of his famous 57 varieties. Don't stick to cider vinegar because your mother did, use Heinz white distilled made and aged for the very purpose to make your home-pickling better. 60 cents per gallon, our last barrel for this season is on tap.

WORK BEGINS ON NEW FARMER ELEVATOR

Material has commenced to arrive, and the work of tearing out part of their present building is under way, to make place for a new elevator of 30,000 bushels capacity, to be built by the Farmers' Union Co-operative company. The new building is to be the latest and best to be had in equipment, and will cost about $12,000. After it is completed and in working order the building now used is to be removed.

Willis Fleetwood Writes to Home
Folks All One May Tell of War
as Seen at Close Range

France, July 30, 1918.

Dear Mother:
Since I wrote to you the experiences that I have had would fill a volume if I were permitted to write them all. I have been to war and it is all and more than Sherman claimed for it. If you have followed the movements of the marines for the past two months you will know where I have been. I have made the acquaintance of the original "whiz-bang," which is more of a "bang-whiz,"—if you are lucky you hear the whiz. It is easy to "duck" the second or third but the first—never. I have smelled gas and seen battles in the air. I was standing in a sheltered spot in the trench one day looking through the captain's glasses out over "no-man's land," thinking I might see "Fritz" up to some of his tricks when I heard the familiar sound of machine guns above me. I trained the glasses on them and saw that it was an American and two Boche planes. It looked for a time as if they were all three trying to bump noses when the American turned quickly and pouring a stream of lead into one of them from behind sent him to the ground in a ball of flames. The other made off in haste. I have seen long lines of German prisoners from privates to generals all seeming glad to be well out of it. I have also bound up their wounds and helped carry them off the field, and they too are happy to be out of it. I have seen field after field of the finest grain restored to France. There are other things that I have seen but cannot write of them. They will still be fresh in my memory when I see you again for they cannot be forgotten.

We are resting a bit now but we can still hear the big guns bark. Every day word comes in that our troops are still advancing.

I got a letter from you and one from Winnie the day we started back to rest. It was your fifth and Winnie's third letter and the first ones I have received. At the same time I got a card from Howard Jones, a friend at Indianapolis and he said Prof. Rhodes and "Tip" were coming over to do concert work for the Y. M. C. A. Since coming here I have received Winnie's second letter and from the way it reads I must have a new nephew "somewhere in the states." I send him greetings and congratulations to his father and mother—let all good things continue.

I shall try to write more often now that we are back. It is not an easy matter to write, on the line, for various reasons.

Will close now and write soon again.

Love to all,—Willis.

PARKING CARS

It seems to be one of the functions of this paper to be asked to call to public attention what people consider the mistakes or shortcomings of others, and we do it. Last week a farmer who had trouble to find room to nose his car into the parking line called attention to the fact that a car just driving into an open space wide enough for two cars, had landed in the middle of the vacant ground, without leaving room on either side for a car. We then looked through the half block of street and estimated that by every car parking within a foot of its neighbor as might have been done, four or five more cars could have been lined up in that half block; that would mean at least eight more cars to the block, which would be needed many times here afternoons and evenings.

Then the evening of that day, one who has at different times acted as traffic officer was seen by a young man who had been on the carpet for not conforming to the rules to turn his car in the middle of a block, instead of going to the street intersection as he had made the young man do, and as he should have done. People who live in glass houses should be very careful how they shy stones, even if they have the authority; or rather, they should observe the rules laid down for all. Nuff sed.

FAREWELL PARTY

A farewell party was given Tuesday evening for John Kai, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Kai, before his departure for Camp Grant, Rockford, Illinois. A large number of relatives and friends gathered and enjoyed the occasion until a late hour in dancing and at cards. A three-course supper was served.—Wisher Chronicle.

NOTICE

Having sold my vulcanizing machine to Messrs. Williams and Peck, who are now open for business, four doors south of Wayne Motor company, I believe you will receive the best of service and some courteous attention.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Frank Green from Creighton came Tuesday to visit at the home of her mother, Mrs. Gilbert and with her sisters here.

L. W. Roe returned Sunday from the west part of the state, where he has been farming. He tells of very fair crops and good prospects there for another season.

For Sale—55 acres adjoining Emerson, 9-room modern house and good barn. Come and look it over and deal with owner. O. E. Danielson, Emerson, Nebraska.—Adv

J. H. Kemp went to Omaha Tuesday to be present Wednesday at the meeting of the food administrators of all the counties of the state. We hope for a report for next issue.

Rev. J. H. Fetterolf is at Rochester this week, going down Tuesday morning to have an expert diagnosis of his troubles, which are too deep for him to satisfactorily explain. He hopes to be assured that it is nothing very serious.

Mrs. L. M. Owen and son, LeRoy, are in Colorado this week, going Tuesday morning to visit relatives at Denver and other points in the state, before the young man may be called to serve Uncle Sam, for he was one of those who came of age within the last few weeks.

Stray Cattle—About three weeks ago, two cows, a yearling and a calf came to my place, four and a half miles northeast of Wayne. Inquiry fails to find owner, who must prove property, pay keep and advertising. Nels Herman, Wayne, Nebraska. Phone 2116, Wakefield line.—Adv

W. L. Fisher was out in the wild west part of the state recently, coming home the last of last week. He traveled a thousand or two miles by car, and agreed that while he saw some good country, Wayne vicinity has them all skinned for crops this season. Sure he saw some good small grain, and the cattle on a thousand hills in other parts, but the dry weather has hit.

Louis Echtenkamp and family and Ernest Gieselman and family from Arlington came by car Sunday to visit at the home of Henry Hinrichs, their father-in-law, and with Mr. Echtenkamp's brothers here. They were surprised to find it muddy here with so little rain, as their land was dry enough to have swallowed an inch of rain without leaving much for mud.

So many friends ask us what we know of W. D. Redmond that we just stop the press to say that word came that he is at his old home at Crab Orchard, with his sister, and that he has been before the examining board for physical examination for overseas Y. M. C. A. duties, and that his papers must next go to Chicago, and it may take several weeks before they are reported back.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Nettleton from Randolph were here Tuesday morning on their way to Sioux City to spend the day with their son Guy who was to leave the next day for training camp at Little Rock, Arkansas. They formerly lived at Wayne and Guy was a student here. He served on the border during the Mexican trouble, and was mustered out with other Sioux City boys a year or more ago, but he is again listening to the call for men.

Last week Mrs. Robert Mellor and Mrs. Hamer Wilson went to Colorado Springs to visit at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Chas. Smith, their sister, and had been there but a short time when Mr. Smith was taken suddenly seriously ill, and passed away shortly. Mr. Smith had frequently visited at Wayne, and will be remembered by many. It was a shock to the two ladies, but a fortunate circumstance for their sister that they had timed their visit so that they could be there in the hour of sorrow to share her sorrow.

Mrs. H. H. Hahn went to Omaha Tuesday to meet her daughter, Mrs. Barkley (Magdeline) who is in government work, and was being transferred from Fort Collins, Colorado, to Milldenville, Florida, where she is to be in charge of the Household Arts department of the state college for women. She was in the same work at Fort Collins during the summer, having supervision of the menu for the men who were there taking instruction for war work. Mrs. Hahn hoped to have a visit of an hour or more with the daughter.

M. J. Sloggett and wife from Pierce, and the wife's sister, Mrs. Pegden, were stranded at Randolph by rain the first of the week, having been at Randolph and Fremont by car, and met the rain at Randolph on their way home, and started back home by rail. Mr. Sloggett called at this office and in conversation we learned that he had once been in the newspaper game, at least to the extent of being a printer, but that he had broken away for other work as much as two decades ago, and is now farming. He had a record of work at Emerson, Coleridge, Ponca and some other places in this part.

LOW RATES TO SIOUX CITY WILL HELP FAIR

Of great bearing on the success of the annual Interstate Live Stock Fair at Sioux City this year will be the government's decision to allow "excursion rates" on passenger trains to the big exposition. In the opinion of the fair management, Joe Morton, secretary of the fair association, asserted after the special rates had been obtained that the last obstacle to an unprecedentedly successful fair had been removed.

Passenger rates on the railroads leading to the interstate fair city during the week of September 16-21 will be based on the fare-and-one-half scale for the round trip.

The attitude of the national railroad administration in this matter is significant of the importance which all branches of the government at Washington attach to big agricultural expositions. Since the government took over the railroads the policy of making rate concessions for all sorts of attractions has been extremely dead. Indeed, the railroad administration of Mr. McAdoo is against all such concessions, and with the single exception of big fairs and semi-military gatherings no concessions have been made. With the federal department of agriculture and the federal food administration spending large sums to educate the country in the ways of greater food production and food conservation, the railroad administration promptly recognized the national importance of agricultural fairs of the larger sort and gladly broke its rule against reduced passenger fares.

SUBSTITUTES

The Germans are feeding On substitute meat.
The flour they are kneading Is substitute wheat.
Their cattle they fodder On substitute hay.
And life's growing-older And older each day.
They smoke with great loathing Their substitute weeds,
And substitute clothing Is made for their needs.
They've a substitute money,
And substitute cheese,
And substitute honey From substitute bees.
They settle their quarrels By substitute law,
Their substitute morals Cause deeds that are raw,
Their car wheels are creaking With substitute grease,
And now they are seeking

A substitute peace.
And when they are peeved by Real woe and distress,
They're tricked and deceived by A substitute press.

Their thoughts and their ways too Are sure to be odd,
While Kaiser Bill prays to A substitute God.

Conserve Your Money

It is just as vital that the wealth of the citizens of this country be conserved as that any other necessity be conserved to aid in the winning of the war.

Money is the greatest requirement of the Government; the absolutely paramount commodity, the essential thing which we can all have a part in providing.

The Capital Issues Committee Was Created to Help Conserve Money

The Capital Issues Committee has legal jurisdiction over all issues in excess of $100,000 and has requested that all issues of $100,000 or less be submitted to the District Committee for approval.

It will be regarded as an unpatriotic act for any stock to be sold which has not received the permission of the Capital Issues Committee, and all citizens are asked to cooperate with the Committee by refusing to buy any stock which has not been submitted to the Committee and received the proper permit.

Insist Upon Seeing the Permit Before Buying Any Stock

When you are asked to buy stock or bonds in any company, insist upon seeing the permit of the Capital Issues Committee for its sale. Do not accept any statement that it is all right, that the permit is in the offices of the company. DO NOT BUY ANY STOCK unless the proper permit is produced for your inspection.

Do not trade your LIBERTY BONDS for any stock, no matter if a permit for its sale has been issued or not. The boys at the front have enlisted for the duration of the war. Surely you should enlist your money without reservation.

You owe to the Government your co-operation in providing the money needed to carry on the war, and the Capital Issues Committee helps you to avoid non-essential investments.

Please do all that you can to assist the Government in this direction.

ASA E. RAMSAY,
Chairman District Committee on Capital Issues,
For the Tenth Federal Reserve District,
Kansas City, Missouri.

FOODS WITH CORN AS BASIS

Some Really Excellent Dishes That Are Popular in Different Parts of the World.

Maize was the chief aboriginal food of America and is still a favorite article of diet in Central America. "Samp" was adopted by the early colonists of New England from the Indians; it consisted, according to Roger Williams, of "Indian corn beaten and broiled and eaten hot or cold with milk or butter." "Hominy" was the name given to maize after it had been boiled with alkali, causing the skin of the grain to peel away and leave the soft inner portion.

"Succotash" originally meant an ear of maize, but was afterwards used to describe a mixture of corn and beans. "Hoe cake" was taken over from the southern Indians. The Pueblo Indians ate gruel baked on stone stoves, calling it "paper bread." "Hulled corn or hominy, ground into a paste," says H. J. Spliden in his account of the Mexican dietary, "furnishes dough for the tortillas or unleavened cakes that take the place of bread in Mexico. Although the ordinary tortilla is rather soggy, it is delicious when made thin. For a breakfast dish nothing can surpass the enchilada, which is a tortilla rolled up cigar fashion with a little meat, cheese or chili pepper as a surprise in the center. This is toasted before the fire until it is crisp and crackling. Pinole is, properly speaking, a parched meal made from maize and other seeds. The word is applied to a variety of dishes such as stews of maize, meat and chili peppers."

HAVE MANY GOOD REMEDIES

Chinese Physicians by No Means All Ignorant of Fine Points of Their Profession.

Writing of a recent decree of the Chinese government, permitting autopsies on the human body, Millard's Review (Shanghai) says that it is only lately that Chinese doctors discovered that the bodies of Orientals had the same internal arrangement as those of Occidentals. They had been taught that the organs were arranged much in the manner of a modern office building with the elevator shaft as the connecting medium. But it adds:

"It must be admitted, however, that the Chinese practitioners, through long experience and through the custom of handing down medical secrets from one generation to another, do have many excellent native remedies. One Chinese medical treatise indicates no less than 98 different types of pulse, and another form of treatment is that of puncturing the body with a needle. A chart of the human body contains 700 spots which are indicated as the places where it is safe to insert a needle without injuring a vital organ. Quinine as a medicine has long been known in China. Belief in the sanctity of the human body in relation to future life has up to the last few years prevented the use and development of surgery."

Play at Something.

Are you one of those who laugh at those who ride hobbies? Did you ever notice that a man doesn't amount to much who isn't a little batty over something outside of the way he makes a living.

Look around at the unusual men and women you know and see if all of them haven't sidelines in the way of work. These queries are due to a story of a big man who "clears his mind" every evening by driving a motorcar through the worst traffic in the world. He could just as well take easier routes, hire an expert chauffeur or not drive at all, but the trip makes him forget such little things as money deals and big operations.

Use every day some portions of your body other than those with which you make a living, either mind or muscle. Just because you're grown is no reason why you should not play.—Toledo Blade.

Bluffing.

We all know to what desperate lengths some can be carried by their desire to be important or even to seem important. It is as if they felt that they could not endure making this earthly pilgrimage without attracting notice to themselves. Openly or covertly they will try to give their lives enhancement. They are pitiful when they resort to pretense and deceit. And yet even here there is a certain imaginative appeal, a longing to change drab colors into brighter shades, to do for themselves what the writers of fiction do for characters that entertain and charm and thrill.—Exchange.

It Is Now Here— The Cash Basis

Uncle Sam—the government—urges that conservation be the watchword—that unnecessary work and risk be eliminated—and some state officials have already made drastic rules to co-operate with the Federal government in the matter. In no line of business is this conservation more important than in our lines. In no way can we do more to aid in that conservation than in a decided change in our business methods—and this we will do.

Beginning Sunday, September 1st

we absolutely went on a CASH basis—no more credit

The reasons are ample: They are:

First—Because the government requests it.

Second—Because we must pay cash in advance for automobiles, for repairs, for all accessories. Gasoline is cash on delivery—oils the same, and we rather like the system, for then when we get something we know it is paid for, and no bills coming in 30, 60, or 90 days.

Third—Because we know you will like it once you try it—for we can turn into real service for our patrons energies which have been given to bookkeeping and to collecting—something the patrons had to pay for, though it did not show in bill.

Eliminate Sunday Work

Our gas pump and air will be accessible Sundays as in the past, but we plan to eliminate all repair work that day except real emergency cases. Yours for better service. In South Dakota no gasoline can be sold on Sunday—not a drop—nor is joy riding encouraged.

BRITAIN FIGHTS BOOZE

(R. C. Westenberg, in the Minneapolis Journal)

One of the most significant memorials ever presented to a legislative body was that signed by 2,500 of Great Britain's greatest leaders—representing the army and the navy, the controllers and directors of munitions of war, the privy council and both houses of parliament, the public service of the nation and the empire, the trades, commerce and the great industries, municipalities and justice, science, education and public health, art, literature, music and the drama and all ranks of social service. Here are some of the most striking paragraphs in this memorial:

"Now that the nation has followed the example of our allies in enrolling its full manhood, we appeal that we may range ourselves with our greatest allies and put on the whole armor of Britain. The power exerted by alcohol cuts through the efficiency of the nation; it weakens our fighting forces and must lengthen the war. These facts stand out concerning this powerful trade:

"It hinders the army; it is the cause of grave delay with munitions; it keeps thousands of men from war work every day, and makes good sober workmen second rate.

"It hampers the navy; it delays transports, places them at the mercy of submarines, slows down repairs and congests the docks.

"It threatens our mercantile marine; it has absorbed during the war over 200,000,000 cubic feet of space, and it retards the building of ships to replace our losses.

"It destroys our food supplies; since the war began it has consumed over 3,500,000 tons of food, with sugar enough to last the nation 100 days. It used up more sugar than the army.

"It wastes our financial strength; since the war began our people have spent on alcohol over $2,000,000,000.

"It diverts the nation's strength; it uses 500,000 workmen, 1,900,000 acres of land, and 1,500,000 tons of coal a year; and during the war it has involved the lifting and handling on road and rail of a weight equal to 50,000,000 tons.

"It shatters our moral strength; its temptations to women involve grave danger to children and anxiety to thousands of soldiers."

A STATEMENT

I, Fred Erickson, wish to make the following public statement, for the purpose of rectifying any false impression which may have gone out among my neighbors and the people of this community relative to a remark made by me with reference to Frank Bronzynski, Frank King, and Herman H. Tangemann. The facts relative to said remark are as follows: Some time about the first of July of the present year, while driving to Winside, I lost from my wagon, an endgate. Immediately after discovering the loss I met Frank King going in the opposite direction and asked him to pick up the endgate for me. Later I learned that Frank Bronzynski and the said Herman H. Tangemann passed over the road about the same time, and still later in conversation with the said Frank Bronzynski, I made the remark to him that either he, or Frank King or Herman H. Tangemann had the endgate.

For this remark, I wish to apologize to each of said gentlemen and acknowledge myself mistaken and that I had no warrant or reason for saying the same.

FRED ERICKSON.
