WAYNE OFFICIALLY CELEBRATED WORLD PEACE MONDAY

Monday—morning word flashed round the world, telling that the armistice had been signed, and that the last of the central powers had yielded to the allied forces. The message traveled so rapidly that the sun in his course could not keep pace with the glad tidings. Starting from Paris at 5 o'clock in the morning it roused a sleeping Wayne at 3 o'clock, and with the ringing of firebells, blowing of whistles and an hundred other noises, the celebration started and continued until the shades of night had fallen. Bon fires were started and fed freely on boxes of all kinds and a number of small buildings went to feed the fires that shone for world liberty and freedom. With the coming of daylight the numbers increased, and all day and into the night great happy, shouting crowds thronged our streets, with flags, horns, pans and all manner of noise making instruments.

To be sure Wayne got up another celebration Thursday before when the first word came, and it was no slow demonstration considering that it had for its foundation an unexpected news note, which was not officially confirmed. But it was not necessary to wait for confirmation—for if not an actual fact at that time, it was inevitable that it soon would be a fact.

The Democrat announced the termination of the war at that time, and did it in good faith upon the best information obtainable, and so far as we can learn that such was the case has not been officially denied. If not literally true except in prophecy then, it is history now.

Never before has the world, America, Wayne had such cause for real rejoicing. Three hundred thousand men under orders to move to war remain at home. Other hundreds of thousands scheduled to follow in coming months may abide at home. More than two million American men now under arms in France and other European countries are to finish their term of service in comparative safety, and many of them may soon be released for home.

In the Afternoon

A splendid program was presented to thousands from the platform erected that morning about the base of the flag staff. The college band furnished music—the Normal quartet sang and there were splendid speeches from U. S. Conn, president of the college, F. S. Berry, the county attorney, and Rev. Father Kearns, A. R. Davis and others. The crowd, the singing, the speaking, the occasion made an inspiration—an inspiring day never to be forgotten. Joy and thanksgiving was evident on every face. Mothers, fathers, sisters, brothers, wives, sweethearts and all rejoiced that their loved ones had passed their most serious danger and that the prospect of coming home well and happy, with a broader vision of life and knowledge of the world than they ever would of could have acquired in any other way.

The boys who have been over there with their breasts bared to the bullets of the enemy have earned the right to the gratitude of the people of the world for all time. Not only the American soldier, but their brave allies who have stood shoulder to shoulder with them in all their trials and hardships. Small wonder that we all rejoiced that the powers of autocracy and militarism have been overthrown. The principles upon which this government was founded have stood the test of 150 years of criticism and doubt of rebuff and scorn from those who rule by might, and now it has been put to its most severe test—the opening the way for world democracy, and won by the sword where nothing but the sword would be heeded and by reason where ever there was an ear open to their appeal and a heart and desire for freedom from the lash of the autocrat.

May not November 11th become a world-holiday? It should.

CHRISTMAS PHOTOS

Now is the time to have them made. We are short of help so come in early, and give us time to get them finished. Photographs are being used now every year for presents. C. M. Craven.—Adv-tf

GREAT MEETING SUNDAY FOR WAR WORK FUNDS

The court room was filled to overflowing Sunday afternoon with those who went to hear the talks of people representing the different societies interested in doing for the soldiers and sailors. Tuesday the great drive was coming for raising $30,000 in this county to aid in this work, and many were deeply interested in the cause. Singers and speakers made an interesting and instructive program, and all greatly enjoyed it. Prof. Coleman, ably assisted by other members of the Normal quartet gave some excellent songs. Rev. Fetterolf made an eloquent prayer after which some interesting things were told of the various organizations which are doing so much. A. R. Davis, county chairman of the drive presided, and introduced O. R. Bowen first, who told of the work of the Y. M. C. A., perhaps the oldest organization of those engaged in the work. They have been on the ground to meet the boys who came from home to camp, and they have followed them from camp to the trenches, and been with them there, and when they came back, whether wounded or well. Their work and their associates, the other six societies, has been a wonderful inspiration to the men. They have made a home-like place in every camp—they have performed a splendid work.

The speaking was all excellent, but was too long to give even a review of the talks.

Miss Fairchild told of the Y. W. C. A., Father Wm. Kearns gave a glimpse of the work the Catholic organization is doing. Mrs. Blair told of the good the library association is doing and Mrs. C. A. Chace made plain the fact that the community organizations are doing much to help all good causes along.

The result of the meeting was told in the cheerful giving of thousands of dollars Tuesday last to be divided among these benevolent organizations.

DEATH OF AGNES SPLITZGEIBER

Shortly after Tuesday, November 12, 1918, was ushered in, the spirit of Miss Agnes Albertene Carolina Splitzgerber took its flight to its maker, after a short illness of influenza. Agnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Splitzgerber was born on the home farm nine miles southwest of Wayne, October 12, 1884, and here she died, having spent her life of 34 years and 1 month beneath the home roof. She leaves to mourn her death an aged mother, three sisters and six brothers. The father passed away July 21, 1917. The sisters are Genie, Hulda and Emma. The brothers, Emil, who came from Wyoming Tuesday, Hugo, Burnhard, Carl, and Gustave, who is in the service, and is on his way from a New Jersey camp to be present at the funeral of the sister, which will probably be held from Altoma sometime Saturday, and the body laid to rest beside that of the father in the family plot of the Altoma cemetery.

Those who best knew Miss Agnes loved her most, for they well knew of her cheerful, helpful disposition. She came to homes where sickness and trouble were and gave practical aid and sympathy, and was ever ready to give hospital welcome to those who visited the home farm. She will be greatly missed from the home and the neighborhood, and many will weep beside her grave with the family and relatives.

UNION PRAYER AND THANKSGIVING MEETING

There will be a meeting of the churches in the Methodist church this Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m., for the purpose of thanking Almighty God for what He has done for our nation and the countries of our allies. Rev. J. H. Fetterolf will have charge of the meeting and there will be talks by the local pastors along the line of prayer and praise. Good singing by a union choir and congregation will be features of the service. This meeting is for everyone in town. Plan to be present and help to make this a service that shall long be remembered.

Rev. F. J. Jordan.

THE STORY OF LIFE ON A GREAT SHIP

Extracts from letter and diary of Cooper Ellis on trip around the southern coast of Spain to Marseille, France on the Mediterranean coast. U. S. S. Cacique. Somewhere on the Atlantic.

Dear Folks: A couple more days and I will be in good old U. S. A. again making my rounds of the ice cream parlors.

I will not start in from the time we left Hampton Roads, Virginia, as you will know all about the ocean trip from my diary sheets which I am sending with this letter.

It took us eighteen days to reach Gibraltar. I often looked at the advertisement of the Prudential Life Insurance company which was represented as having the "Strength of Gibraltar" but I never really expected to see the real thing. It is sure some "pebble" and if that company tells the truth—which I doubt very much—no one need be afraid of it ever busting.

We anchored right close to the rock for the night. It is only about seven miles across the straight to Africa and we sat out on deck watching the big searchlights go back and forth to the other continent sweeping the water.

The Arizonian, Cacique and a U. S. destroyer left early the next morning for Marseilles. We were never out of sight of land the Spanish coast and most of the time we were right close. It was very interesting all the way. We passed Barcelona at about 8:30 in the evening. It looked almost like an American city from the way the electric signs showed up. I guess Jack Johnson is spending his money at Barcelona now.

The only time we were out of sight of land was while going across the Gulf of Lyons, just before reaching Marseilles. We arrived at Marseille on the 20th of September. It is a very beautiful city right on the coast of the Mediterranean and spreads back against a small mountain range. Going into the harbor we passed the Chateau D'. It is here Monte Christen was a prisoner for fourteen years, and the Notre Dame with the gold statue. We were taken up to the docks where they started to unload.

Bothwell and I went on shore the next day and took a ride on a tramway. We couldn't read enough, to tell where it went but we know if a car went out one would come back. It took us a way out and back for twenty centimes—four cents of our money. All the cars come back and go down "La Cannobiere," their "Broadway." I don't know why they should have called it "Cannobiere" for "Barrel of Beer" would have been more appropriate. The next time we got on a tramway and went out toward the vineyards. As we got there during the grape season we thought we ought to get some grapes. Bothwell and I went out till we passed several vineyards and finally we came to one where some people were out picking grapes. We got off the next stop and walked back and stood looking at them. I put on that "hungry" look that I used to have when I knew there was some candy in the house and they motioned for us to come in and help ourselves. One of the girls that was helping pick had studied English two years at Liege university and she could understand quite a little so we got along pretty well and had a good visit with her.

There are so many interesting things to tell about that I will have to wait until I get home, and then there will be so many things I will want to do that I will probably forget to tell you what I saw.

One of the most interesting features of Marseilles is the number of different races and nationalities represented. Spaniards, Italians, Bulgarians, Algerians, Arabs, Japs, Indians from British India, etc., and each wears his native dress. The Algerians are quite treacherous but the others do not bother anyone.

There were so many things that I wanted to see along the coast of Spain that I bought a pair of field glasses while at Marseilles. When we came back we stopped at Gibraltar and went shore. Most of the people are Spaniards and I thought of Washington Irving's "Alhambra" when I saw all the burrows with big packs on their backs and pulling heavy carts, or with some big fellow on one's back with his feet almost touching the ground. I remembered where Irving describes one in his books. I bought some fruit and some other things, looked around all afternoon.

We left the next day in a thirteen

OUR SOLDIER BOYS REMAIN HOME AGAIN

Sunday was a great day at Wayne. At the court house in the afternoon the people gathered to see seventy-five young men re-inducted into service (they had been given their induction before) and stopped from going on account of the prevailing influenza. And this time the signing of an armistice which virtually ends the war, made it unnecessary for them to enter the training camp.

These young men have twice been disappointed, for they were anxious to serve and when first called it looked much as though their services might be needed. One of the first orders issued after the signing of the armistice was one withdrawing the call for about 300,000 men who were to report during November. Some of the Iowa boys were already on their way to camp when the recall started their train the other way.

The Wayne boys were kept ready to respond at any time during the day Monday, and Tuesday were given their release. That is the first fruit of the victory to home folks.

BUILDING RESTRICTIONS ARE NOW REMOVED

Another matter of deep concern to the people that has received almost immediate attention is the removal of the restrictions on the sale of lumber made necessary by the war needs of the country until the armistice was declared. It is not now necessary to secure permit for the purchase of lumber for any building contract of less than $10,000 value. The season is not yet so far advanced that it will not be possible to build some needed structures yet this fall.

Puritan flour has won a good name in Wayne, and Hurstad & Son handle it in car lots. That means economical handling for you.—Adv ship convoy for the United States. Had good weather for a while and then it got quite rough. Several were sea-sick but I was lucky again. The Minnesota, Arizonian and Cacique have been together ever since we left Marseilles.

We heard Arlington about twenty-six hundred miles out this time. It was between the Azores and Portugal that I first picked up her signals.

Have not written much details regarding the trip because you will get all that in my diary, the sheets of which for this trip I am going to send with this.

Am not sure whether we will stay in New York this time or go to Norfolk but will wire you just as soon as I land and when I mail this. Love to all. Coop.

(Extracts from the diary sheets enclosed with the above.)

August 30—Left Hampton Roads, Virginia, in the thirty ship convoy and headed straight across. I take the 4 to 8 watch.

September 1—3619n 6826w. Rained some last night. Copied Arlington at 6,000 meters wave length. Got all the baseball scores. Two ships dropped out of convoy with engine trouble. Copied an S. O. S. signal from the British Star in 3608n 6620w.

September 6—Left convoy. The Arizonian, Brazilian, Oakland and Cacique leave the regular convoy and turn south.

September 9—Copied about fifteen messages from the disabled Oakland to the Arizonian.

September 14—Can hear several Portuguese, Spanish and African stations, also Nantes and other stations along the coast of France.

October 3—Ship quarantined with Spanish influenza. Two of crew taken to hospital.

October 20—Copied some press and learned from it that entire coast of Belgium and western Flanders have been cleared of the Germans. Sounds good to us boys.

October 27—Hear Arlington's time signal etc. About 2,600 miles distant. Pretty good for a crystal detector. By just changing the wave length a little I could hear stations in France, Spain, Portugal, Morocco, Gibraltar, Azore Islands and Washington, U. S. A.

ROY GOULD WRITES FROM FRANCE TELLS OF CAMP JOY

Under date of October 6, saying to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Gould, as follows:

Dear Folks—Will write to you tonight since we are so happy—such good news that we hardly contain ourselves. Of course, you will get the news much sooner than I can give it to you, but when they really ask for peace we can afford to be happy. We have been doing everything but shooting the Boche and are mighty tired of playing soldier. All of us want to go and finish it up and get out of this country.

Our mess kitchen is in one of the main streets. (It really looks like an alley) and we eat and sleep where we can be comfortable. I am fixed up in pretty good shape myself. We have forgotten how to ride in a train (even side door pullmans.) Our hob-nails are our means of locomotion. We made an awful hike a short time ago, and about half the company fell out, but I tried to keep up with the kitchen. We took a walk through the country this afternoon; saw some captured cannon and other stores. We also got into some of the old French support trenches. Some interesting afternoon. Hope that you are well, and that we all meet again soon. Your son, Roy.

FLU VICTIMS

The flu, has visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rippon, the two sons were first taken, and they are now able to be up and about the home. Mrs. Rippon tried it next, and is now able to sit up. Mr. Rippon was taken ill Saturday, he is fighting the early stages of the game very successfully, we are told at this writing.

Miss Ethel Miller was a victim of the flu the first of the week, and is off duty and at her home this week.

Mrs. H. S. Ringland is ill with the influenza.

There is improvement in conditions at the Wm. Weehler home south of Wayne, where the entire family were down at once less than two weeks ago. All are said to be improving.

Mrs. L. C. Gilderslevs is fighting successfully against a slight attack of the malady.

Ray Reynolds has been improving slowly for a week past and will soon be out reading light meters again.

Mrs. Rolfe Ley is showing much improvement, and is able to be out of bed part of the time the past week.

New cases are fewer in number and care being given them promptly, they do not develop as fast as the earlier cases.

If you have the flu and would avoid pneumonia, take good care of yourself and deep breath much—in fact that is a mighty fine thing to do any old time when the air is pure and fresh.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Griffith on their farm north of Wayne have both been quite ill with the fashionable, imported disease, and are getting out again, feeling that they have been following the fashion set by so many others—but they did not care to be in style, very much in this instance.

THE VICTORY SCHOOL BOYS AND GIRLS

In the assembly room of the high school Tuesday afternoon, November 12, a program was given in connection with the opening of the United War Work drive. All boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 20 are included in the organizations of the Victory Boys and the Victory Girls, all of whom pledge themselves to earn and save a certain sum, the amount being optional with the subscriber. This money must be paid within six months.

The service flag of the city schools was also dedicated at this time. It bears 110 blue stars and two of gold. It is estimated that $5 will provide cheer and comfort to one man for five weeks. Accordingly, the local organizations of the Victory Boys and Girls planned to raise enough money to keep their own boys, represented by the stars on their service flag, for that length of time. They went over the top with about $650 from the Senior and Junior high schools and the seventh grade.

The program of the afternoon opened the singing of America. Dr. J. T. House, Miss Sewell and F. S. Berry were speakers, and made some most excellent talks, a review of which we hope to give next week, but on account of the late hour at which the report was received it could not be given in full at this time and it should not be more condensed than the form in which it came.

GIVE THANKS

Wayne and vicinity will give expression of their thanksgiving spirit by a wonderful move of charity, in the near future when the influenza is cleared away a day will be set aside all over north Nebraska and a tremendous sale of Forget-Me-Nots, the Queen of Belgium's favorite flower will be held.

All the money received will go direct to help the Belgian babies, those little fellows who have come into a world of trouble.

The Queen of Belgium and her representative Major Leon Osterrielle chief of the Belgium military mission to this country, will have the personal care of the funds.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is patroness of the Belgian Queen's flower in this country. Mrs. Lansing is chairman of the national committee, and Mrs. Herbert Hoover is executive chairman.

Gene Huse of the Norfolk News is at the head of this territory and will set the day. Mr. Huse is an enthusiastic worker for the cause.

Captains and Lieutenants among the women and young ladies of Wayne and vicinity are organizing for the work, and will ask every man, woman and child to remember the Belgian babies on this day of thanksgiving.

Remember this is purely a free will offering and that every cent goes to the babies.

If for any reason any one wishes to give their offering before called, Mrs. Fred Berry, the treasurer, will gladly receive it and the Forget-Me-Not will be presented to the donor.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Our little hospital has proven a valuable asset to the community. In more ways than one the past two months. It is safe to say that a number of lives have been saved because of the organized force of nurses there and the facilities to properly care for those who could not otherwise have had proper care during a crisis of their sickness since the influenza and pneumonia has become so prevalent.

Among the patients there during the past week were Lt. L. E. Brownell, who was taken quite seriously ill the day following his lecture at the college, and it is reported that he will soon be ready to resume his talks, now being able to leave the hospital.

N. B. Whikerson who has frequently been at Wayne and vicinity had been fighting influenza with varying success for a week or two, was taken seriously ill while here, and after a few days of hotel life in bed was taken to the hospital, and is now on the road to recovery. Mrs. Wilkerson has remained in the city during his illness.

Mrs. Cleve Murphy of Wakefield has successfully withstood an appendix operation, and ready to return home soon.

Mrs. Werner of Winside underwent an operation Tuesday.

Frank Heine, from the Saas home is a hospital patient.

Rev. Dan Burress of Carroll, was one of the Wayne county young men who volunteered for Y. M. C. A. work, and last week he received his call, and was to leave for his sailing port—New York, the first of the week. He had but recently finished the theological course at Grand Island, and in addition to the help the schooling gave him, has a liking for his work, and will make it a success, beyond a doubt.

A. S. Ring from near Hay Springs, has been looking for a farm in this vicinity.

Mrs. Trester came from Lincoln last week to visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. V. L. Dayton, just east of Wayne.

Miss Mabel Dayton has returned to her school work near Lincoln, her father driving her down the first of the week. Mr. Dayton drove home Monday, and said that they were celebrating all along the way from Lincoln to Wayne, with Lincoln and Omaha simply going wild in their demonstrations.

John Larison and family left Tuesday for Long Beach, California, to spend the winter. They go by car, and have made the trip that way several times before this, so it is no new experience, and they feel that they will certainly enjoy it greatly. They had planned to start nearly a month ago, but weather prevented, and the flu was looking rather formidable at that time. We wish them a safe journey.

Mrs. Henry Ley and Mrs. Edith Berry went to Sioux City Tuesday for a few days' visit with friends.

Mrs. W. B. Werner and baby came up from Winside Tuesday for a few days' visit with her sister, Mrs. John Jenik.

Gilbert French of Winside, was a passenger to Sioux City, Monday, going down to see their demonstration. He says it was a great demonstration, in which a happy people took a part. No business there that day. One fellow said he he could not even get his shoes shined. Mr. French is still waiting his call for "oversea" work for the Y. M. C. A. but the call is not yet.

Now that Peace is assured let us all look forward for a Merry and Joyful Christmas

In accordance with the wishes of the government, the Variety Store has displayed toys and holiday goods earlier than in former years. Toys are moving very freely already and considering the fact that certain lines of toys are very limited in quantities, it would be advisable not to delay toy purchases very much longer. The toy purchases of the Variety Store are about all in now, the goods are on display and you can have the pick of an ample line of Dolls, Games, and Toys of all kind. But one thing is sure—the lines will be broken earlier this year than in former years.

BUY YOUR TOYS EARLY—BUY THEM NOW

If you desire, I will set your purchases aside for you and hold them till you want them.

100-Piece Dinner Sets

I have in stock now 15 100-Piece Dinner Sets of different patterns ranging in price from $18.50 to $28.50. If there is anything a woman takes pride in, it is her dinnerware and no matter what else is amiss, when visitors come, she will certainly apologize for a broken or patched up dinner set. The sets I have in stock are all of the very latest patterns, gold decorated or with lattice, conventional, or flowered borders,—up-to-date, pleasing and such that any woman can be proud of. If interested come in and look them over. Pick out the one you like best, then give "him" the tip and he might remember it when he looks around for a Christmas present for you.

China

There is one other line I think I can take pride in showing my customers and that line is China. I never had a better and bigger stock of Christmas China than this year, in spite of the decided shortage of this class of goods. China always is a popular line used for gift purposes. It will be more so this year, because it is not only a useful, but on account of the scarcity, it will be a somewhat exclusive and more appreciated present. The prices of China at the Variety Store are absolutely the same this year as last year, because by far the largest part of my China was bought and intended for sale for last year's Christmas season, but did not arrive until late this summer.

Stockman, Keystone and Appleton Shellers

Two-hole; Self and Force Feed

Anyone of these shellers is just the kind you want, Mr. Farmer, to use with that small engine. One of these shellers will be found very convenient for small jobs, which are some distance apart. Just the thing for home use. Our prices will appeal.

Made With Right Angle Belt Attachment and Swival Cob Stacker

Capacity 100-125 bushels per hour. These machines are fitted with practically the same self and force feeding devices as are found on the larger two, four, six and eight-hole machines which have given world wide satisfaction. A perfect chain elevator which may be of suitable length for either bag or wagon box delivery, as the buyer prefers, will be found on each machine. Also a short chain cob-stacker and a convenient jack gearing for taking motion direct from the power and bringing it up to the rate required on the shelling wheels will be found.

All Stockman, Keystone and Appleton shellers are equipped with clutch levers for throwing the feeder in and out of gear. This gives the operator instant and perfect control of the machine.

We guarantee you a lively little machine if you purchase one of these shellers. Come in and let us show you.

THOSE RELATED ELECTION RETURNS NOT SO BAD

Having the physician in attendance upon our composing machine last week from Wednesday evening until late Thursday afternoon, put the election news of last week on the bum so far as the Democrat was concerned. Figures were not very full and complete, and perhaps not gratifying from the democratic view-point—and the editor has been accused in a joking manner of being a slacker in not publishing unfavorable returns. But no one has told why we should object to giving election returns even though unfavorable. We did not make them—they are simply but a record of those acts of the voters of the county, state or nation. That we may happen to be with the minority does not prove that we are wrong—majorities are frequently mistaken. The minority of one campaign may hold to that principle which will win in the next or some later one—will win if right, and properly presented to an intelligent people.

"Really the results are not as bad from our view point as the daily press reports last Thursday would lead one to believe. It was no landslide as claimed. About one dozen seats in the house shifted from democrat to republican side, and less than that number in the senate changed. The changes carried the control of the house with it, and left the senate so near a tie that a wise president and presiding officer should be able at least to stop any vicious legislation if offered, and secure some needed good measures. The senate now must become responsive more than in other years to public opinion, and cannot as well be controlled by big corporate interests—at least not without changing its political complexion. We have members in the senate now, assuming to be, and elected as democrats, who have been largely instrumental in creating a sentiment and machine which voters did not approve, and consequently went to the opposition with the result shown.

Nebraska went into the republican column, and a part of the cause may be traced to the machine which has been in the saddle in that party. The Good of the opposition went in with its bad—the patriots and the Pro-German went into the same political camp and laid down together—the Pro-German coming unannounced to the rank and file of the party who were surprised to find him in the same political bed the morning after election. Had he (the patriotic one) known it he would not have been there the morning of the day after.

Kansas changed to a partially republican state, coming back to its old place, Iowa, rock-ribbed republican, almost lost its republican governor because he had there displeased the Pro-German element by his opposition to their propaganda, and there the respectable democrats woke up the day after election to find the Pro-German snuggling up to him, much the same as a lot of Nebraska republicans found him here with them.

In Massachusetts, a republican state the fight was open and above-board as to whether or not the president should be endorsed or the men in public life who openly opposed him, and the president won against odds. In New York a democratic victory was won against some of the same element that figured in the Massachusetts contest.

Missouri, in the main, remained true to her traditions. Michigan was almost lost to the republicans, and it is normally as safely republican as Iowa. Ohio was carried by a democratic governor—proving that it was not a landslide.

In Wayne county the leaning was republican, but one democrat, W. O. Hanssen, for treasurer who had opposition, winning. Below we give the unofficial total for candidates, and later will give the result of the official canvass:

Election Echoes

In Cedar county the democrat sheriff alone escaped slaughter. Our friend McCormick will remain at home and continue to issue the Tribune. Wypot? He can do as much good there as at Lincoln.

Our democrat candidate for the senate in this district, Chas. Graff, was caught in the storm, and failed to survive. H. E. Siman of Winside will represent the district at the next session. May he do it well.

Dr. Mullen of Bloomfield has learned that he cannot get out and he a loud 100 per cent American, and make a business of it, as he has, and have the Pro-German voters falling over themselves to vote for him—and we venture the assertion that he don't care a damn, for he is built that way, and the next time he makes a speech it will not be toned down.

A number of democratic strongholds were turned in the campaign. Dan V. Stephens and all other democratic congressmen of the state were defeated. So far as their defeat may be attributed to their Americanism and their loyalty in war matters they may well be proud, because of the enemies they have made.

Chas. Reynolds, F. S. Berry, O. C. Lewis and candidates for some of the other offices appear to have opposition backed off the map, and they pulled through without opposition.

WARFARE-URGED ON RATS

The council of national defense has asked the state council of defense to undertake a systematic campaign for the extermination of rats and mice. The necessity and importance of this campaign are shown by the statement of the council that according to careful investigation rats and mice consume annually food and property worth $200,000,000, or as much as it would take the labor of 200,000 men to produce. In addition to this they increase the fire risk and menace health.

May we have an enduring peace.

Yes, election is over for the time.

Lets study economic and reconstruction questions now—we have had a fill of politics.

Our editorial enthusiasm this week was largely consumed by the celebration. That was glory enough for one week—give the reader a rest.

Looks like extravagance—that extra pound of sugar. We got along on two pounds each—but now that we may get 50 per cent more we will probably go the limit.

The city of Washington which is the one spot in this country where no one else but the federal government is supposed to rule, is considering the matter of moving certain departments of government from the city for the reason that rents have been boosted beyond all reason, because the war situation requiring thousands of additional employees has made it possible to demand and get exorbitant rents. Suppose Uncle Sam should decide to move the seat of government to some more central part of his domain. Washington rents would come down. Suppose when he went to a new place—he should retain title to the land and charge a land rent for those who wanted to occupy it—and restrict prices of his tenants. Then suppose our Uncle did not want to move and decided not to let those who work for him be robbed by land profiteers—and to stop it he should levy a land value tax, and take the tax from improvements. Rents would come down to a reasonable basis very quickly.

WHAT GERMANY MUST DO

Here are the principal things Germany must do, or powerless before the victorious allied armies, will have done for her:

Immediate evacuation of Alsace-Lorraine, Belgium, Luxembourg, Russia and Rumania. Without further destruction or harm to inhabitants.

Then occupation by American and allied troops of all the countries on the west bank of the Rhine.

Then, further creation of a neutral zone in a strip of territory on the east bank of the Rhine thirty kilometers (about twenty miles) wide extending from Holland half way down to the Swiss border and twenty kilometers wide for the remainder.

Must Yield Strongholds

Meanwhile, as a guaranty of good faith, the occupation by American and allied troops of Mayence, Coblenz and Cologne, the principal crossings of the Rhine, with a thirty kilometer radius about the bridgeheads.

On the eastern front all German troops are to be withdrawn from territory which before the war belonged to Russia, Rumania or Turkey.

Then the German war machine must disarm. The principal portions of its navy must be handed over; arms, munitions and engines of war numbered by the thousands are to be taken from the army.

American and allied prisoners are to be at once repatriated, without reciprocal action by the associated governments and the thousands of wretched civilians dragged off into slavery from the invaded territories are to be returned.

Must Make Reparation

The provision for compensating the occupied territories for the havoc wrought by the invaders is contained in a simple sentence—reparation for damage done.

As a step to restoring the map lines, the treaties of Brest-Litovsk, which laid Russia prone, and of Bucharest, which plundered Rumania, must be abandoned. Money, securities, precious metals and other valuables looted from the invaded countries must be returned in trust to the allies until the conclusion of peace.

In the west the railways of Alsace-Lorraine, the valuable stores of iron and coal, all the stores and supplies in Belgium with arms and armaments must be handed over.

In the east, the Black sea ports must be evacuated, the warships taken by Germany from the Russians must be surrendered; in the Baltic, forts and defenses barring the way at the Categat must be delivered and there must be free access to the sea for the allies.

Blockade Will Stay

The allied blockade is to remain unchanged. Meanwhile, German merchant ships are to be delivered for missions of mercy in carrying food to the starving; allied shipping held by the Germans is to be released without any obligation to restore to Germany her ships now in the hands of the associated governments.

Germany is to notify the neutrals they are free to trade with the associated governments without molestation.

In a word the iron is tightening and at her borders, the civilized world waits while Germany reforms herself from within.

LET US HAVE PEACE

Now that war has ceased, let us have peace. We have had no real taste of war as it has been known in other lands during the past four years, for which we should be grateful. Our peace jubilee was marred for many by the enthusiasm and manner in which some thought the proper way to celebrate. In the spirit of patriotism, perhaps, some serious mistakes were made—following the lead of a non-resident who knew nothing of local conditions, one utterly irresponsible and with no authority except that wrongfully assumed, four German Lutheran churches were visited by different parties Monday, who assuming that disloyalty lurked there, did things which they were not authorized to do by any law or official, and which has frequently been condemned by President Wilson. No serious damage was done, we are glad to say—but things most annoying—the removal of signs and song books and burning them—the humiliation of the pastors and congregations and bringing them as criminals to publicly answer to charges which, if true, should have been made long ago to the proper authority—the county council of defense which has been the constituted body before whom to bring charges of disloyalty, lack of duty to country in these times.

The Democrat feels that it expresses the opinion of a greater part of the people of the community when it says that they do not believe in any but the duly constituted authorities taking free hand in passing judgment and meting out punishment to those charged with any shortcoming or crime. Our civilization depends upon the proper enforcement of law by those charged with that duty.

If there is to be any further action in this matter from either side, we trust it will be taken before the proper authorities and fairly presented, and then let their decision be final. But we truly hope that nothing more may be done in either persecution or prosecution.

The war has ended—let us have peace.

STATE WAGES WAR ON THE BARBERRY

The Nebraska state council of defense has issued an order to the effect that all common barberry, which harbors rust, and causes its spread to wheat and other cereals, must be removed from the state. The order states that "summary action" will follow close on the heels of all cases of refusal.

SOCIAL NOTES

The Bible Study circle met at the home of Mrs. J. W. Ziegler Tuesday afternoon after a three weeks' vacation. The meeting opened with songs and prayer of overflowing thanksgiving. The interesting lesson was led by Mrs. E. B. Young and fitted well the occasion of rejoicing. Many wonderful accounts of answered prayer as touching the war and the recent plague were related. Much praise was offered to God in that there have been so few deaths here compared to some other places, all sharing His faithfulness in answering prayer. Mrs. A. E. Laase will be hostess next week and all are invited.

The Women's club met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. R. W. Helt. After a business meeting, they did Red Cross work. Mrs. Elva Brockway and Mrs. C. W. Hiscox were chosen delegates to attend the state convention to be held at Lincoln November 19 to 22. The next meeting will be held November 21, at the home of Mrs. Will Rennick.

The Friwohe Campfire Girls had a social meeting Friday evening at the home of their guardian, Miss Florence Gardner. The evening was spent in playing games and music. Six guests were present. Rev. and Mrs. MacGregor are honorary members, Misses Bessie Hiscox, Irma Rennick, Frances Carroll, Hazel Mitchell. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

The Douglas King chapter D. A. R. met Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. P. M. Corbit. Mrs. F. G. Philo gave a brief report of Louis Vicaro of Nice the war orphan adopted by the chapter. A letter was read from Miss Ella King Morrison, a canteen worker in France. The hostess served delightful refreshments.

The W. C. T. U. will hold their postponed meeting Friday afternoon, November 15th, in the home of Mrs. S. W. Dayton. All interested in W. C. T. U. work are invited to come. All members are especially urged to be present, on account of important business.

The Monday club met November 11, in the home of Mrs. T. T. Jones. The program was the review of war books. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. E. Kostomiatky when there will be roll call with patriotic quotations and a patriotic program.

The Coterie club meeting was postponed this week in order that every one might celebrate the world's greatest event—the end of the war. Regular meeting will be held November 21, in the home of Mrs. Wm. Jenkins.

The Girls Bible circle met with Miss Mabel Gossard Saturday evening and enjoyed a most helpful service. Miss Lillie Goldsmith will be hostess this Friday evening and a fine meeting is anticipated.

The Women's Home Mission is being held this afternoon in the home of Mrs. I. H. Britell. It is desired that every member be present. A good program has been prepared with Mrs. D. W. MacGregor, leader.

The ladies of the P. E. O. society will have a musical evening at the home of Mrs. J. Woodward Jones Monday evening, November 18. Mrs. W. H. Morris, leader.

The Acme club members will meet at the Red Cross rooms Monday afternoon, November 18, to do refugee work.

The Rural Home society will meet with Mrs. V. L. Dayton next Thursday, November 21.

PEGGY HYLAND

in a sweet love tale

"Bonnie Annie Laurie"

One of the most humane, most tender stories of a pure girl's loyalty and devotion under the trying ordeal of two noble men's love is to be placed on the screen at the Crystal Wednesday, November 20.

The very latest photoplay of pretty Peggy Hyland, presenting one of the most touching love stories that has ever been penned or acted.

Read the cast and synopsis of Bonnie Annie Laurie. A Scottish tale of patriotism and love.

THE CAST

Annie Laurie Peggy Hyland. Sandy Laurie Dan Mason. Capt. McGregor William Bailey. Lt. Hathway Sidney Mason. Andy McGregor Dan Mason. Nan the Nurse Marion Singer.

Written by Hamilton Thompson Staged by Harry Millard

SYNOPSIS

Old Sandy Laurie has long desired that Bonnie Annie (Peggy Hyland) shall marry Donald McGregor, so when the latter receives orders for the front, Annie becomes his betrothed. Later Annie rescues an unconscious man from the ocean and love springs up between them. Annie's father, jealous of her honor, orders the stranger to depart. Annie follows her lover and overtakes him in a lonely hut, ill with a fever. During a storm at night the delirious man wanders out and is lost. Annie returns home, but is cast out by her stern father. She then goes to France as a nurse.

The stranger wanders to London, where he hears "The Star Spangled Banner" and is restored to reason. He is Lieutenant Hathway U. S. A. who went down with the Tasesina. He returns to the trenches, and in aiding Captain McGregor is blinded.

The two wounded men are brought to Annie Laurie's ward. She is torn by conflicting emotions, but decides that by only in keeping her promise true will she find peace of mind.

She and McGregor are married, and the American goes back to the trenches.

At Wakefield the city officials asked the boys to be good Halloween night, and then assisted by the home guards saw to it that they were. It was a nice way to preserve order.—At Wayne we heard of no such request, and no guards were on duty, and yet the place was here next morning, with but few places wrongside up.

Geo. Guenther, who has been home on a 30-day corn shucking furlough, left the first of the week for his camp at Fort Bliss, Texas, where he is one of the medical corps, connected with the 7th cavalry. He had a corn crop started before called to service, and has been helping to harvest it as well as visit home folks.

An Over Stock of 400 Coats Compels These Great Price Reductions

We have all these coats and suits left on our hands because the "flu" prevented us from holding our special sales in many towns of Nebraska and Dakota where we sell hundreds of coats every season.

To sell this big overstock around Wayne we have cut the prices so deeply that every woman in our community would come here for her coat.

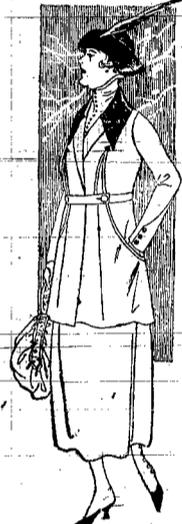

Come in and see what a splendid bargain you can get in a coat or suit.

These Prices Mean Big Savings

$23.75 For plain silk plush coats, all wool velour coats and serge suits.

$31.00 Fur trimmed plush coats, cloth coats of silvertone and Bolivia cloth, and suits of wool velour.

$38.00 For richly fur trimmed plush and velvet coats and cloth coats and suits, well worth $60.00 at this year's prices.

WHEN THE WAR ENDED

The following news items were on the hook last Thursday when the war ceased and the celebration began. Of course there were other matters of news and interest, but not all of them could be "preserved."

Death of Stanley Owen

Stanley Owen, who came to Wayne more than five years ago, and employed at the C. M. Craven photograph gallery died at the local hospital Saturday night of ulcers of the stomach, after a short illness at the age of 35 years, 10 months and 11 days. He was born at Livingston, Wisconsin, and early learned the business of a photographer, which he followed for twenty years, and stood among the best in the profession. He was an artist in his life.

During his stay at Wayne he has won many warm friends who regret his death and sympathize with his wife and little daughter. The funeral service was from the undertaking parlor of Wm. Beckenhauer Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. S. X. Cross, and burial at the Wayne cemetery.

A brother, Walter Owen from Billings, Montana, came to attend the funeral, other relatives in California, and other places being unable to attend. The parents of Mrs. Owen from Sioux City were here for the funeral.

Breaking Old Home Ties

Mr. and Mrs. George Miner left Wednesday for their home at Westington, South Dakota, after a residence of thirty years at Wayne. They sold their residence here this week to J. T. Dennis, thus covering their last tie with Wayne—except the ties of friendship of which there are many. Mr. Miner may some time consent to write a story for the Democrat on Wayne by starlight, for he has many little things he could tell that would be of interest, things witnessed in thirty years as a police officer here. But then, let no one worry. For George says that most of the people here are improving—better than they used to be—so why refer to other days? Many Wayne people will long remember the Miner family.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank the kind friends, neighbors and relatives, also the members of the Odd Fellow and Sons of Herman lodges for the aid and sympathy shown us during the death of our father, and for the beautiful floral offerings.

V. P. GOLDEN, JR. AND WIFE

DIE AT SIOUX CITY

Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Golden of Ewing died at a Sioux City hospital last week of the influenza. They had gone there for care for Mrs. Golden, and both were stricken with the influenza, and passed away in a few days in spite of all that could be done to save their lives. Mr. Golden was a brother to J. P. Golden of this city. They were most worthy young people, married but a short time, and just getting life plans perfected when the grim reaper came. The bodies were taken to their old home for burial.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our sincere thanks to the many friends and neighbors for their acts of kindness and the floral offerings during the recent illness and death of our beloved wife and daughter.—Herman Doobe, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Frey and family.

C. W. Salsberry from Cherokee, Iowa, came the first of the week to attend the funeral of his friend, L. S. Owen, Tuesday. Mr. Salsberry was for a number of years a resident of Wayne, and in the employ of C. M. Craven as photographer.

Mrs. Jennie Kourtright came the first of the week from Crawfordsville, Iowa, to visit at the home of her son, W. L. Kourtright and family. The Kourtright family have been suffering from the epidemic, but are up and about again. For a few days they were too ill to care for themselves.

Miss Florence Broadstone of Norfolk came Wednesday evening for a visit in the Frank Weber home.

Miss Kathryn Roskopf returned from Niobrara Wednesday, her school being closed another week on account of influenza.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Jones of Carroll, were transacting business in Wayne Wednesday.

Miss Ruth Bartell of Carroll was a guest of Miss Kathryn Roskopf Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. E. G. York and son, Lloyd, who have been visiting in the O. G. Randol home, left Thursday for Sanborn, Iowa.

Mrs. V. L. Silkett of Carroll, passed through Wayne Thursday morning enroute to Lyons where she had been called by the sickness of a daughter and husband.

Mrs. J. H. Wright went to Emerson Thursday morning to meet a brother from Maskell, Iowa, who is sick with pneumonia and being taken to a hospital in Omaha.

Mrs. Harvey Frey of Pierce, was called to Omaha Wednesday by the sad message of her husband being seriously ill in the Ford hospital at that place. Mr. and Mrs. Frey are the parents of Mrs. Effie Olive Doose who died last week of influenza and the sympathy of the entire community is extended to them through this their added sorrow.

Mrs. J. L. Jones and children of Glendive, Montana, passed through Wayne Wednesday afternoon from Wausa where they have been visiting and are now returning home. Mrs. Jones tells us that at one time she as teacher in the Wayne school and may be remembered by some as Miss Elsie Guss.

HOW IT HAPPENED SO SOON

Friday evening's Sioux City Tribune gives the following concerning the message which caused a celebration at Wayne last Thursday—and in every other live town in the land. The Democrat, doubting, was convinced after talking to Sioux City Tribune folks, and now we give their explanation:

Brest, France, Nov. 8.—Admiral Henry B. Wilson, United States Navy, commander of the American forces in French waters, today made the following statement for the information of United Press editors:

"The statement of the United Press relative to the signing of the armistice, was made public from my office on the basis of what appeared to be official and authoritative information."

"I am in a position to know that the United Press and its representative acted in perfect good faith and that the premature announcement was the result of an error for which the agency was in no wise responsible."

A LETTER FROM A FRENCH HOSPITAL

Arno Jones of the famous 168th, who was wounded at the time Irwin Sears was killed is now able to tell home folks something of his sickness and events from that day on. Below we give a part of a letter written to his parents, E. L. Jones and wife now living near Carroll, October 20: Dear Mother and All:

Received your letter last night. I have been getting letters pretty regular lately and hope it will continue that way.

I received a letter from aunt, she certainly writes me fine letters. I was wounded at the same time Irwin Sears was killed. Gas is an awful thing. I lost my voice for about two weeks, and could not see for ten days, and my lungs were the worst of all. I thought I was a goner, but am all right now. In another month I expect to be as good as when I came over here. I have gained 27 pounds since I left the front, but I do not think I will see the front again. I hope not anyway. The war is about over, I am going to have my picture taken and will send you one. If Clarence has to get into the army tell him to try to get into the quarter-masters corps.

I had a nice chicken dinner today, but it isn't very often that we get anything like that in the army. I am sending you a slip so you can send me a Christmas package. Please write soon.

LT. BROWNELL MAKES SPLENDID TALK AT NORMAL

Lieut. L. E. Brownell—a wounded Canadian officer back from sixteen months of active service, spoke at the Normal auditorium Friday evening to a well filled house. Lieut. Brownell began his speech by saying he did not come to tell the people why this war was in progress nor as to how soon it would be over, but he came to tell them the things they wanted to know as to the way the boys in the trenches were fighting and a few of the conditions under which they were fighting. And he said as he had spoken in a great many places and to a great many different audiences, these seemed to be the main things they would ask about if given the opportunity. Although he did say at one university where he spoke to an audience of women about sixty ladies came in the room seated themselves on the floor in a circle and he had to stand in the midst to talk to them. Well, he didn't mind the standing, and was getting along just fine talking to them until one lady asked him this question: "Are many of our American boys marrying French girls over there?" Well he said what was he to do, he looked to right to the left to the back and to the front; the circle as unbroken, no mode of escape—so he said, he happened to think of the number of Canadian girls over there, so he told them. "No they are not marrying French girls."

Then he commenced on the serious part of army life in the trenches—how in the beginning of the war they worked in the mud knee deep sleet in their clothes night after night; did not dare even remove their boots as the rats were so thick they would have to pull their mud covered blankets over their faces to keep from being bitten. As it was they gnawed at their boots, but they were so exhausted they could not mind such a small thing as rats. On account of shortage of men they lived in this condition for two weeks without being relieved. He then told of some of the trench raids and how they were directed by commanding officers to take a certain sector of the enemy trench and to capture prisoners, to get information. In order to do this they had to go over the top into "No Man's Land" and were exposed to the danger and under fire of the Huns, also were in danger of getting lost or falling into big shell holes filled with muddy water or getting caught in the entanglements of barb wire fences fixed by the Huns. But after going through this they succeeded in taking the enemy's trench and capturing their prisoners.

He then told of the attack on the enemy in which he received his wounds and of how he was taken to the different hospitals and cared for by the Red Cross workers, and of the wonderful work they were doing. And now he did not blame the boys for singing the song, "I Don't Want to Get Well; I Don't Want to Get Well; I'm in Love with a Beautiful Nurse." He told of the wonderful work all other organizations were doing over there and of the great need of money now more than ever for if the peace terms are agreed upon the boys will have some leisure time to indulge in the much needed rest and comforts offered them. He closed by giving the wonderful poem "Carrying On," which ended by saying—"and when our lives are ended here may our souls go carrying on to Christ, and our heavenly home."

Mark Murray of the Pender Times looks at the bright side of the situation, and says that we are not the only ones who got it in the neck, using the following language:

Not only was President Wilson and his friends jolted last Tuesday, but Teddie the Terror received several swift kicks in a place they were felt the keenest. His warm personal friend Senator Weeks of Massachusetts (in super-patriot Lodge's state) was defeated by a democrat in New York, where the whole republican state ticket was defeated, the candidate for governor was a warm personal friend of Roosevelt. In Michigan, where Henry Ford nearly defeated a Wall street millionaire, and Roosevelt bitterly opposed Ford. On the other hand, republicans of the LaFollette stripe won every where. May be it means LaFollette for president.

AUTOMOBILE FOR SALE

Designed by Bill Hohenzollern & Sons for family use, made by Hindenburg & Co., of German Steel. Has a genuine Prussian clutch giving in a one speed forward in low and one reverse in high. The steering gear is of the Kiehl type but it lost part of its rudder on the way to Paris. The engine is of the dual type, with the German bore, has a Russian exhaust and Austrian cut out. The fuel pipe running from Bucharest to Berlin is somewhat stopped up, but our head Italian mechanic has been working on it the last few days and it will be in good shape soon. The front axle is of the "I have been" type and worked well on smooth roads, but it is not suited for the rough highways of France. The rear axle is of the "semi-floating" type, with cant-lever springs that were slightly sprung in the spring of 1918, by a careless driver named Mackensen.

The carburetor is the well known Lunderdorf type that gives you a Turkish mixture of Royal hot air with poisonous gases which assures you perfect combustion.

The tires are of the famous Ferdinand brand called "Ach Run" which can be retired quicker than any other style giving the maximum mileage guarantee. The tires are slightly blistered due to over inflation.

The radiator is the standard Vontritz type that uses a secret antifreeze solution called Kultur, with a forced circulation. Of late the radiator has sprung a slight leak, and we have lost some of the Kultur solution.

The lighting system is the old styled Blace in the sun but it has a Yankee dimer that takes off the glare.

We frankly admit the starting system is strictly on the bum, but if there any Pro-Germans left in the United States who still hold a reverence for the old and antiquated trade mark "Made in Germany" here you have a chance to get the most expensive machine ever built, with the trade mark thrown in, absolutely free of charge, but remember, you must remove the darn thing from the earth at once as we wish to introduce the modern type of multiple-disk to the dutch.

WHAT ONE BOY DID

Last January Darold E. Brussell of Greeley county, purchased a sow which was sired by Senator Wondler the Second, winner of the grand champion of the Nebraska state fair in 1916. Darold raised nine pigs from this sow—six sows and three boars. He received one first prize, one second prize and sweepstakes at the Greeley county fair. This amounted to $34.50. He sold three boars for $310. The sow cost him $203, and he has six gilts left for which he refused $60 each. He now has a second litter of seven pigs from the sow. Darold is 17 years old.

LATE MOULTERS LAY WELL

The poultry department of the university of Nebraska has found that hens that moult late are the best layers. Therefore, it follows the practice of saving the late moulters for breeding purposes. A hen that moults in July and August is not considered profitable. She is usually a slacker and as such should go to the chicken buyer or be put into a can for table use during the winter.

STEADIER HOG MARKETS PLANNED

Hog Producers and Packers Confer With Representatives of the Food Administration and Agricultural Department and Adopt New Plan of Regulation.

In accordance with the policy of the Food Administration since its foundation to consult representative men in the agricultural industry on occasions of importance to special branches of the industry, on October 24 there was convened in Washington a meeting of the Live Stock Subcommittee of the Agricultural Advisory Board and the special members representing the swine industry to consider the situation in the hog market.

The conference lasted for three days, and during this time met with the executive committee of the fifty packing firms participating in foreign orders for pork products and with the members of the Food Administration directing foreign pork purchases.

The conclusions of the conference were as follows:
The entire marketing situation has so changed since the September joint conference as to necessitate an entire re-orientation in the plans of price stabilization. The current peace talk has alarmed the holders of corn, and there has been a price decline of from 25 cents to 40 cents per bushel. The fact that the accumulations of low priced corn in the Argentine and South Africa would, upon the advent of peace and liberated shipping, become available to the European market has created a great deal of apprehension on the part of corn holders. This decline has spread fear among swine growers that a similar reduction in the prices of hogs would naturally follow. Moreover, the lower range of corn prices would, if incorporated in a 13-to-1 ratio, obviously result in a continuously falling price for live hogs. In view of these, changed conditions many swine producers anticipated lower prices and as a result rushed their hogs to market in large numbers, and this overshipment has added to and aggravated the decline.

The information of the Department of Agriculture indicates that the supply of hogs has increased about 8 per cent., while the highest unofficial estimate does not exceed 15 per cent. Increased production over last year. On the other hand, the arrival of hogs during the last three weeks in the seven great markets has been 27 per cent. more than last year, during the corresponding period, demonstrating the unusually heavy marketing of the available supply. In the face of the excessive receipts some packers have not maintained the price agreed last month. On the other hand, many of the packers have paid over the price offered to them in an endeavor to maintain the agreed price. The result in any event has been a failure to maintain the October price basis determined upon at the September conference and undertaken by the packers. Another factor contributing to the break in prices during the month has been the influenza epidemic; it has sharply curtailed consumption of pork products and temporarily decreased the labor staff of the packers about 25 per cent.

The exports of 130,000,000 pounds of pork products for October compared with about 52,000,000 pounds in October a year ago, and the export orders placeable by the Food Administration for November, amount to 170,000,000 pounds as contrasted with the lesser exports of 98,000,000 for November, 1917. The increased demands of the allies are continuing, and are in themselves proof of the necessity for the large production for which the Food Administration asked. The increase in export demands appears to be amply sufficient to take up the increase in hog production, but unfavorable market conditions existing in October afford no fair index of the aggregate supply and demand.

It must be evident that the enormous shortage in fats in the Central Empire and neutral countries would immediately upon peace result in additional demands for pork products which, on top of the heavy shipments to the Allies, would tend materially to increase the American exports. Inasmuch as no considerable reservoir of supplies exists outside of the United States, it seems probable that the present prospective supplies would be inadequate to meet this world demand with the return to peace. So far as it is possible to interpret this fact, it appears that there should be even a stronger demand for pork products after the war, and therefore any alarm of hog producers as to the effect of peace is unwarranted by the outlook.

In the light of these circumstances it is the conclusion of the conference that attempts to hold the price of hogs to the price of corn may work out to the disadvantage of pork producers. It is the conclusion that any interpretation of the formula should be a broad gauged policy applied over a long period. It is the opinion of the conference that in substitution of the previous plans of stabilization the Live Stock Subcommittee of the Agricultural Advisory Board, together with the specially invited swine representatives, should accept the invitation of the Food Administration to join with the Administration and the packers in determining the prices at which controlled export orders are to be placed. This will be regularly done. The influence of these orders will be directed to the maintenance of the common object—namely, the stabilization of the price of live hogs so as to secure as far as it is possible fair returns to the producer and the insurance of an adequate future supply.

These foreign orders are placed upon the basis of cost of hogs to the packers.

As the result of long negotiations between this body and the Packers' Committee, representing the 45 to 50 packers participating in foreign orders, together with the Allied buyers, all under the Chairmanship of the Food Administration, the following undertaking has been given by the packers:

In view of the undertakings on the part of the Food Administration with regard to the co-ordinated purchases of pork products, covered in the attached, it is agreed that the packers participating in these orders will undertake not to purchase hogs for less than the following agreed minimums for the month of November, that is a daily minimum of $17.50 per hundred pounds on average of packers' droves, excluding throw-outs. "Throw-outs" to be defined as pigs under 180 pounds, stags, boars, thin sows and skips. Further that no hogs of any kind shall be bought, except throw-outs, at less than $16.50 per hundred pounds. The "average of packers' droves" to be construed as the average of the total sales in the market of all hogs for a given day. All the above to be based on Chicago.

We agree that a committee shall be appointed by the Food Administration to check the daily operations in the various markets with a view to supervision and demonstration of the carrying out of the above.

The ability of the packers to carry out this arrangement will depend on there being a normal marketing of hogs based upon the proportionate increase over the receipts of last year. The increase in production appears to be a maximum of about 15 per cent, and we can handle such an increase.

If the producers of hogs should, as they have in the past few weeks, prematurely market hogs in such increasing numbers over the above it is entirely beyond the ability of the packers to maintain these minimums, and therefore we must have the co-operation of the producer himself to maintain these results. It is a physical impossibility for the capacity of the packing houses to handle a similar over-flood of hogs and to find a market for the output. The packers are anxious to co-operate with the producers in maintaining a stabilization of price and to see that producers receive a fair price for their products.

(Signed) THOS. E. WILSON,
Chairman-Packers' Committee.

The plan embodied above was adopted by the conference.

The Food Administrator has appointed a committee, comprising Mr. Thomas E. Wilson, chairman of the Packers' Committee; Mr. Everett Brown, president of the Chicago Livestock Exchange; Major Roy of the Food Administration, Mr. Louis D. Hall of the Bureau of Markets, to undertake the supervision of the execution of the plan in the various markets. Commission men are asked to co-operate in carrying out the plan embodied in the packers' agreement. It must be evident that offers by commission men to sell hogs below the minimum established above is not fair, either to the producer or the participating packers. Mr. Brown has undertaken on behalf of the commission men in the United States that they will loyally support the plan.

It is believed by the conference that this new plan, based as it is upon a positive minimum basis, will bring better results to the producer than average prices for the month. It does not limit top prices and should narrow the margins necessary to country buyers in more variable markets. It is believed that the plan should work out close to $18 average.

Swine producers of the country will contribute to their own interest by not flooding the market, for it must be evident that if an excessive over percentage of hogs is marketed in any one month price stabilization and control cannot succeed, and it is certain that producers themselves can contribute materially to the efforts of the conference if they will do their marketing in as normal a way as possible.

The whole situation as existing at present demands a frank and explicit assurance from the conferees represented—namely, that every possible effort will be made to maintain a live hog price commensurate with swine production costs and reasonable selling values in execution of the declared policy of the Food Administration to use every agency in its control to secure justice to the farmer.

The stabilization methods adopted for November represent the best efforts of the conference, concurred in by the Food Administration and the

Unlike Topsy— Swift & Company Has Not "Jest Grown"

Swift & Company, in fifty years of well ordered growth, has become one of the great national services because it has learned to do something for the American people which they needed to have done for them, in the way in which they preferred to have it done.

It has met each successive demand, in the changing conditions of national life, by getting good meat to increasing millions effectively, efficiently, economically, and expeditiously.

The Swift & Company packing plants, refrigerator cars, car routes, branch houses, organization, and personnel of today are the practical solutions, born of practical experience, to the food problems of half a century.

Because of all these elements working in correlation and unison, Swift & Company is able to supply more and better meat to more people than would have been possible otherwise, at a net profit per pound of meat so low (a fraction of a cent) that the consumer price is practically unaffected.

Strip away any portion of this vast, smooth-running human machine, and you make a large part of the meat supply uncertain, lose the benefit of half a century of fruitful experience, and scatter the intelligent energies of men who have devoted a life work toward meeting the needs of a nation in one vital field.

The booklet of preceding chapters in this story of the packing industry will be mailed on request to

OBITUARY
Charlie Augustus McFall, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. McFall, formerly of this place, later living at Staples, Minnesota, will be remembered by his friends and relatives of this place, having lived here until a few years ago.
Charlie took sick with influenza which developed into pneumonia and after four weeks of pain and suffering, during which time he was a patient of the hospital, he quietly went to join his heavenly father, Saturday, November 2, 1918, at 4:10 p. m. at the early age of 27 years, 3 months and 20 days.
All that patient, loving care and medical aid could do was of no avail. God had his place ready for him and he lovingly called him home.
Charlie was an industrious and ambitious young man and made friends of all who knew him, and will be greatly missed by all.
During the early years of his life he lived in the vicinity of Wayne and at the age of 19 years he moved with his parents to Granite Falls, Minnesota.
In 1913 the family moved to Staples, Minnesota, where he lived until the time of his death.
He was a kind and loving son and brother and besides a host of friends and relatives, he leaves to mourn his departure, his mother, father, six sisters, Nora, Edna, Verna, Gretta, Ruth, Mrs. Glenn Hand and his fiancée, Miss Bessie Faxon, all of Staples. One sister preceding him to the home above, in infancy.
The funeral services were held Monday at 1:30 at the home, the Methodist choir from Staples sang the beautiful songs, "Rock of Ages," "Will Never Say Goodbye in Heaven," and "God Be With You Till

We Meet Again." Rev. Erlanger of the Methodist church preached the sermon and spoke words of comfort to the bereaved family and friends.
The body was laid to rest in a beautiful spot in Evergreen Hill cemetery near Staples.

WAYNE IS GOING OVER
Every return indicates that Wayne and Wayne county will over subscribe its quota of $30,000 for the war worker's fund. Last evening partial reports from 14 of the 17 precincts foot up to $23,618.17. In each and every case the committee reporting stated that their work was not complete. But that there was more to follow. Here are some of the figures:

Dear Fellow Citizens of Wayne:
Armistice is signed; the terrible world war has come to an end; and America's troops are triumphing over the enemy. Our hearts have been blended together by one cause common to us all; that cause is—America. Since now our hearts should be filled with thoughts of peace, we should not suffer misunderstanding to lead us to suspicion; and suspicion should not drive us to staid our flag.
Therefore, we consider it our duty heartily to forgive every one of those, who in their enthusiasm over our country's glorious victory have wronged us.

MRS. GUY AUKER DIES SUDDENLY
Mrs. Guy Auker, who had been ill a few days with the influenza, was taken suddenly worse and passed away November 13, 1918, at their home near Wayne.
Martha Ella Baird Auker was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Baird and lived most if not all her life in this vicinity. She was born November 10, 1895, and died at the age of 23 years and 3 days. She was united in marriage a little over a year ago with Guy Auker. The funeral is being held today from the home. A more complete obituary will be given later, we hope.

DEATH OF LEO GEORGE VIERSEN
Leo George Viersen, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Viersen, died of pneumonia at his home nine and a half miles southwest of Wayne Tuesday night, November 12, at the age of 26 years, 5 months and 9 days. He leaves besides his parents, a wife and two children. Funeral is to be held from Pilger Friday, November 15.

GOOD LAND BARGAINS
400-Acre Farm at $150 Per
For sale a farm of 400 acres, eight miles from Randolph. Good soil, fair improvements, and easy terms. Seeing is believing. Write the owner for particulars. G. A. Hanssen, Randolph, Nebraska, or W. O. Hanssen of this place can tell you much about the place.—Adv 40

A good half section, eight miles east of Bloomfield, Nebraska, well improved and favorable terms. Priced for quick sale at $140 per acre.
Also 160 acres of land five miles west of Bloomfield, lays well and has house of 8-rooms, barn, hog and poultry houses, grove and fruit. Whole place may be cultivated, and it is priced to turn quick at $100 the acre—but it won't stay long at that price. Terms most favorable. The name of owner, who wants to deal direct, may be had at Democrat office.—Adv 40-2

I have at bargain prices a section, a half section and a quarter section of land not far from Bismarck, North Dakota, more than worth the money for any one looking for a home. Geo. E. Wallace, Bismarck, N. D.—Adv
