LIGHTNING FRIDAY CLAIMED N. J. MAXWELL AS VICTIM

During a shower which passed over Wayne Friday afternoon between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock a bolt of lightning struck the lumber shed of the Philleo & Harrington Lumber Co. in their back yard, and the shock instantly killed Newton J. Maxwell, who was piling lumber in the shed. The lightning struck the west end of the shed and tore a corner board from the building, appeared to cross the end of the shed and left its mark on the southwest corner, splitting a board there. Mr. Maxwell was about twenty-five feet east of this corner, and was felled by the shock, and never rallied again, and passed away within a few minutes.

Medical aid was at once summoned, but no hope could be held out; a team, wagon and cot were procured and he was started for the office of a physician, but he passed away before reaching the office, and the body was at once taken to the undertaker.

Others working about the place were shocked, and knocked down, and many in that part of town felt the shock slightly. Mr. Fleming, who drives a span of mules was nearby in the yard, and he and both of his mules were knocked down, but not seriously injured. No serious damage was done to the shed, and a burned fuse at the Crystal was the extent of the property damage.

Newton J. Maxwell

Was born in Marshall county, Ill., April 12, 1864, and died at Wayne, June 20, 1919, at the age of 55 years, 2 months and 8 days. He came to Nebraska in the early '80's, and February 28, 1888, at Creston, was united in marriage to Miss Sara E. Belknap, who with two of the three sons born to them, survive him: Lloyd Maxwell of Creston and Berl at the home are the sons. A brother, F. E. Maxwell of Parsons, Kansas, and a sister, Mrs. Minnie Merritt of Davenport survive him, and were here for the funeral services and to accompany the body to its final resting place at Creston. Mrs. Lloyd Maxwell, of Creston was also a member of the funeral party.

A short funeral service was held from the home on Pearl street, Monday morning, attended by many of the friends and neighbors, and the body was taken to Creston for burial Tuesday. Here a funeral service was held, his pastor, Rev. John Beard, of the Wayne Presbyterian church preaching at both services, and assisted at Creston by his former pastor, Rev. Stonecipher. The service at his old home at Creston, was attended by many who had known and held him in high esteem at the place where he spent so many years of his life. Rich floral offerings here and at Creston bore evidence of regard for the one who was taken and love and sympathy for the family so suddenly and sadly bereaved. Mr. Maxwell had lived at Wayne but about three years, moving here for school advantages for their son, but he had come to be highly regarded and respected as a man of sterling worth by those who became most intimately acquainted with him. Beyond the need of working for the sake of the wage, he felt it a duty in these times to assist when help was so scarce, and though in far from good health, he did what he could, and his employers give unstinted praise for the interest he always took in his work and the intelligent manner in which he served. He had been manager at several lumber yards in other days, and was a particularly useful man about a yard because of the experience of other days.

A consistent and faithful member of the Presbyterian church, he went from earth without a warning moment, and yet no one questions that he was not prepared to depart at any time the call came.

Card of Thanks

We wish to extend to friends, and neighbors our most sincere thanks for the many acts of kindness and aid as spontaneously given to us in our hour of sudden bereavement. For the rich floral offering, tokens of sympathy and love, do we feel especially grateful.

Mrs. N. J. Maxwell,
Lloyd Maxwell,
Berl Maxwell.

JUNE RAINFALL ABOVE NORMAL

The rainfall for June to date, which leaves four days to go on, and which may increase it, some, is 6.74 inches, and it came as follows: June 1, 1.10; 2d, .66; 3d, .51; 9th, .90; 10th, .53; 13th, .10; 19th, 1.20; 20th, .56; 26th, .85.

STATE ENGINEER HAS OFFICE AT WAYNE

An office room has been leased in the Union Hotel block which is the headquarters for the state engineer and his assistant while the grading work of the Cedar-Wayne road project is under way. Highway Commissioner P. M. Corbit may frequently be found at this office when not out on active and personal supervision, so it is a sort of a good roads headquarters.

James A. Knapp, from Beatrice, assistant to the state engineer, is in charge at the office and representative of the state engineer department for this project. He has here drawings of the grades for the entire project; and just now the papers of the Allen-Ponca project are here. So if you want any dependable information about the proposed road it is quite probable that it may be obtained at this office, or else it cannot be told.

Mr. Knapp tells us that the grade at this end of the line is going forward very nicely. Contractor Miller is camped about 2-3 miles north of Wayne with an outfit of fifteen men, forty mules, a big elevator plow and nine or ten dump wagons with scrapers and like accessories which go with such work. At the camp they have cook and bunk shacks, and the wife and the daughter of the contractor preside over the commissary department, assuring plenty and good eats.

There is a strip of about 2,000 feet of the road not yet touched, at the point where the bend is made to go round the elbow of the little stream there, for the reason that at headquarters they are figuring as to whether or not it is expedient to make the road straight, cutting a new channel for the stream and taking out the bend, filling the old channel with the dirt taken from the new ditch, and moving the bridge in line with the rest of the road. When this question is decided the work will be taken up in that section.

Mr. Knapp tells us that 26 per cent of the time allotted for the work has passed and but 22 per cent of the work is accomplished, but that is not causing any worry, for they have encountered worse weather than they are apt to have for the remainder of the work, and then the start and getting organized always take a bit of time which will not bother later.

He wishes us to ask those traveling the road to avoid as much as possible disturbing their grade stakes. It seems that some one who may be ignorant of the law and that a severe penalty may attach, has pulled a number of the most important marked stakes and piled them up neatly by the roadside. It will probably require a surveyor and his aids a day to properly replace them—and that is rather expensive when done for sport or through ignorance.

One thing is sure, the state and federal highway system is gaining friends as people come to understand and realize what are its aims. Good roads means more to a people than any other public improvement.

CARL MADSEN HOME

The greatest informal reception we have seen at the depot since the boys who had been over there commenced to drift home, was Tuesday morning when it was said that Carl Madsen would arrive that morning. Carl went over to do his bit, leaving business, home and relatives. He was seriously wounded at the front, and has spent months since that time in the hospitals. Months of patient suffering, hovering between life and death—but gradually, almost imperceptibly improving. Finally he came to America on a hospital ship—then to a hospital at Camp Dodge, where he has spent other months waiting for the glad day when he could complete the trip home. It must have been discouraging to have to linger there so long.

The nature of this wound was such that he must of necessity have hospital care until this time, and he came attended by a physician or nurse to see that nothing happened to him. Carl stood the trip well, and said that he felt better at this end than the other end of the journey. He was most welcome to the old home town.

WAYNE WOMAN'S CLUB TO BUY OPERA HOUSE

At the meeting of the Wayne Woman's club last Saturday, by a vote of 32 to 4, it was agreed that the club should purchase the opera house property. It is planned to use the building as it is for a few months for the meetings of the club, for home talent entertainments and other attractions, then later to have it wrecked, and replaced by a modern, up-to-date, Community house, which shall meet the needs of all the people of Wayne and vicinity. Many towns smaller than Wayne are erecting such buildings as memorials for the soldiers. How much more fitting a memorial that contributes to the everyday life of the people, from which comes pleasure, recreation, moral development, and knowledge, than a shaft of cold stone or marble erected in some public place!

A very interesting program was given at the meeting. Mrs. T. H. Jones, accompanied by Mrs. James Miller, sang four songs, which were very pleasing. Miss Beiva Nickel reported the work that is being done by our children in the garden club, and the clubs giving their time to cooking, pig raising, and rabbits. Forty-two are enrolled in the garden club work. Mrs. Harold Barkley, Magdalena Hahn, in her talk on Food, emphasized very strongly the use of foods containing vitamins, which produce the essential elements of growth. The vitamins are found most abundantly in the butter fat products, in milk and cheese, in green vegetables and fresh fruits. Those present felt that this very important matter of proper food was presented by one who is an expert in that subject.

Dr. J. T. House presented in a very constructive way some problems of Community Life. He emphasized the good that might be accomplished through a Community Survey by experts, by which the public could learn the facts, concerning conditions existing in our community, and after having knowledge of the facts, learn how to estimate the true value of those facts.

Every one should plan to attend the concert, Friday evening, June 27, at the opera house, for the benefit of the Wayne Woman's club. The musical talent of the Oman family is known to all of us, and it is always a rare treat to hear the Misses Fern and Frances in both vocal and instrumental numbers. They will be assisted by Miss Irma Wolfe, of Albion, reader. The proceeds of this entertainment go toward paying for the opera house.

Reserve your seats for the concert at the Wayne Drug Company. Reserved seats, 75c; general admission, 50c; children from 8 to 12 year, 25c. War tax to be added.

As many of the Normal students are here only for the summer, a special price has been made to them, 50c reserved seats, 35c general admission. War tax to be added.

The Wayne Woman's club will serve ice cream, July 4th on the court house lawn. Proceeds to go toward buying the opera house.

Get your tickets for the Oman concert, Friday evening, for the benefit of the Woman's club.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Woman's club Wednesday the contract for the purchase of the opera house property was signed, and a $500 payment was made.

WATCH FOR THE JEFFRIES FLOAT-JULY FOURTH

Mrs. J. F. Jeffries of the Wayne exclusive lady store is planning a float for the parade which will show to the people some of the possibilities in lady wearing apparel which may be obtained from her stock of ready-to-wear dresses, skirts and suits, as well as outer wraps and millinery. It will be demonstrated by those on the float that the small woman the average size woman and the large woman can and are fitted from this shop of exclusive lady wear. Of the quality we can safely say it is good, for with her years of experience in handling an exclusive line for ladies, she has become an expert judge of quality, and well knows the needs of the community she so well serves. The float will be a small exhibit of what her stock constantly consists of. It will be one of the attractive ones, we are assured. If your needs for dresses, wrap or millinery for the celebration is not supplied, you should call and select what you need.—adv.

CELEBRATION AT WAYNE GREATEST IN HISTORY

They tell us, those who know, that plans are made for a celebration at Wayne this 4th of July which will eclipse any in the history of all celebrations ever undertaken here. First it is to be a victory celebration a jubilee over the fact that war has ceased and a treaty of peace has been signed. The soldier and sailor lads, so many of whom are now home, will be guests of honor for the day, and all are invited to accept the hospitality of the city for that day. It was these young men from this and other counties and other states who made victory possible, and no one can do too much for them now or in times to come; and every citizen of the county should come on this occasion and greet these soldier lads of our country at Wayne. Make them know that you appreciate their sacrifice—that the victory won with your help going to mean an end of wars a building of democracies—a freedom of the world from the burden of militarism. It was a mighty war, and but for the American soldier coming to the rescue as he did peace would not yet have been unless it was a temporary peace, calculated to last only until the enemy saw fit to start a new aggressive war. Few of us realize what the work of the American soldier, sailor and citizen is going to mean to the world in the years to come. Come and greet the boys who are home.

Elsewhere the advertising page tells of the many attractions, bands, ball games, airships and flights, dances, shows, amusements, the parades of automobiles and floats, all provided for your pleasure and instruction. Come and make the day a success—enjoy yourself, rejoice that peace has come, and that the cost of lives was so small, and that so many of our young men are now safely home. Come to Wayne and celebrate the world peace which is dawning.

STATE NORMAL NOTES

Last Monday morning Dean H. H. Hahn spoke on making Americans. He dwelt upon the added responsibility of the teaching profession as a result of the attitude of the public since the war. He contended for a strong individual as a pre-requisite of social service. For this reason he urged that American children be trained more efficiently in the preservation of health and in economic life.

On Wednesday Harold MacNeill, of Omaha, sang in chapel to a delighted audience.

The movie of last week took the form of light entertainment and the young people enjoyed Raffles, the amateur cracksmen. The original story appeared some twenty years ago and was a rival to Sherlock Holmes in the affections of the young of that generation. Since then it has fallen somewhat into obscurity, but the movie is reviving it remarkably.

The swimming pool is now much in use and swimming parties much enjoy it.

Tomorrow occurs the state examination for teachers' certificates. It will be held in the gymnasium. A large number are seeking to complete state certificates before the new law goes into effect, whereby many changes in the rules for certification are made.

SUGGESTION OF ORGANIZATION

A car owner, who has a heart, evidently, suggested to the editor the other day that in his opinion, it would be a fine thing if all people with cars would organize and systematically plan to take those without such luxuries out for a spin occasionally. He thinks, there are cars enough here if organized, that would enable every family in Wayne to have a ride or two at least during the season, and yet burden no one with a car. Suppose each owner would offer to take two different families each twice during the season—it would fill the back seats many a time and make good ballast when roads incline to be rough.

The editor has no car, but is provided for occasionally, and we would suggest that any who wish to cooperate in such a scheme to visit about it with Postmaster C. A. Berry, as he has plenty of time and a fertile brain for organization schemes.

Ladies in need of dresses or millinery or other lines of dress goods for celebration day, may be well supplied from the Mrs. Jeffries' store of ready-to-wear goods for ladies.

WAYNE IS CHOSEN FOR CONFERENCE

First annual meeting of the Victorious Life Conference, June 29 to July 6.

Some months ago a group of Wayne young women became greatly interested in reading accounts in leading religious journals that report interdenominational world movements, such as the Sunday School Times, and Record of Christian Work, of the great awakening of spiritual life through the Bible conference held in Keswiah, England, Toronto, Canada and Princeton, New Jersey. Rev. G. Campbell Morgan of England, Charles Galloway Trumbull of the United States, and Dr. Griffith Thomas of Wycliffe college, Toronto, Canada, being among the leading promoters of the movement.

Hearing of the wide and gracious influence of these Victorious Life conferences, prayer began to ascend from interested hearts that such a conference might be held in Wayne, sometime in God's own time and way. Regularly prayer was made for Wayne and for a Victorious Life conference and finally correspondence was opened with H. B. Dinwiddie of New York City, secretary of conference board.

Some of the larger western central cities were making urgent calls for conferences and it seemed to the board to be the mind of the Lord to extend the work to the middle west, and in response to a pressing invitation, Mr. Dinwiddie paid a visit to Wayne came into the group of praying folk and felt it be God's will to place a conference manned with leading bible expositors and preachers in Wayne for one week beginning June 29 to July 6.

Those most interested are not considering the difficulties in the way, the hot weather, the busy farm folk, the celebrations, but are looking to God who has opened the hearts of these wonderful men of the word, men of power and influence, to come to Wayne for a conference without the pledge of one cent of money to even defray expenses, to make the conference a blessing to many lives. Those reading these lines can easily see the moving of God in this undertaking.

These conference sessions will be held in the Methodist church through courtesy of the officiating of that church, beginning Sunday, June 29, continuing until July 6.

It is expected that one of the conference speakers, Dr. Strachan, a Presbyterian minister from Scotland, will fill the pulpit at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning. A great mass meeting Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church at 3 o'clock with this splendid company of five leading bible expositors, and also Miss Dorothy Miller of Kansas City to assist. People are expected from far and near and Wayne no doubt will come up to her usual high standard of cordial hospitality, and will assist in making the conference as gracious and helpful as if placed in some larger center.

The warm loving messages that have inspired hundreds of hearts over Wales, Scotland, and England, Canada and eastern United States can be mightily here in the middle west in this first conference.

Don't forget the big musical treat Friday evening, June 27, at the opera house by Miss Fern and Miss Frances Oman, assisted by Miss Irma Wolfe of Elgin, Nebraska.

Miss Fern Oman has a very sweet voice. Her tones are very clear and her whistling is a wonder.

Miss Frances Oman also has a lovely voice. There is so much expression and variety in her style of music which makes it very attractive and entertaining.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Oman has consented to appear on the program as their musical talent is well known.

Miss Irma Wolfe of Elgin, Nebraska, is a well known reader and impersonator from the dramatic department of the University of Nebraska. The proceeds will go to the Woman's club.

MANY BUSINESS HOUSES CLOSE

According to present agreement most of the Wayne business houses will close at 11 o'clock the morning of the 4th, and remain closed until next day. Hardware, clothing, lumber and some general stores will close. Places where ice cream and other refreshments are sold, will be open for the entertainment of visitors.

VICTORIOUS LIFE CONFERENCE ITEMS

Conference will open with the mass meeting at 3 followed by another at 8 p. m., Sunday, June 29th. All meetings will be at the Methodist church, excepting the daily meeting for the students at the State Normal school. All meetings will be interdenominational.

Sunday morning the Rev. Howard B. Dinwiddie will preach in the Presbyterian church at Wakefield. Mr. Dinwiddie will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Haskell that day.

The men's bible class at the Methodist church in Wayne at 10 a. m. Sunday will be held by the Rev. O. R. Palmer, a member of the teaching staff of the Philadelphia school of the bible.

Week day program conference meetings at the Methodist church as follows: Prayer meeting, 9:30 a. m.; missionary message, 3:00 p. m.; bible message, 4:00 p. m.; song service, 7:30 p. m., and evening meeting, 8:15 p. m.

A meeting for all students of the State Normal school will be held daily at the school at 6:30 p. m.

The Rev. Harry Strachan, seventeen years missionary in South America, under the board of which Dr. C. C. Merrill Morgan is chairman, will give the morning sermon at the Presbyterian church. In the evening the Presbyterians will join in a union meeting at the Methodist church.

THE ARMY WORM HERE

That is the verdict of those who claim to know the pest, who have seen the masses of little dirty grayish worms moving along the walks in solid formation here on one or two mornings, following warm days and warm nights. They appear to simply bubble out of the ground like a never-falling spring of crawlers, and start across country in great masses. The first bunch the writer saw appeared to him like a well-worn piece of gray underwear which had been used in a mob, until it looked like ravelings, and then discarded. Looking more closely we saw that it was a mass of worms, slowly moving across the walk. Friday morning we saw the first little army. Again Tuesday morning there were millions of them on the walk and parking by the A. E. Clark residence and library. They were also seen in other parts of the city, and the presumption is that they are or may be all over the country, though none may have been discovered yet in the country districts. Those found near the library and Clark residence were treated to a spray of gasoline and burned. And it will be well to thus treat all that can be found thus in their infancy and all collected so that a little fire does a big damage.

The army worm is one of the worst menaces to small grain in any district which they infest in any considerable numbers. They not only destroy the growing grain, but attack grain in the stack, and literally eat the grain up to such an extent that it does not pay to go through the motion of threshing. The method of fighting them is to plow ditches about fields they are approaching and filling the furrows with straw and burning the straw when the worms have fallen into the ditch. They are said to be at a disadvantage in getting out of a ditch. Infested fields are frequently burned over when the destroyed grain is in condition to burn. Some roll their fields with heavy rollers to crush.

At any rate it is well to watch for the young worms and destroy them as effectively and quickly as possible for when one may get a half million of them on a space no larger than the top of a small table they are much easier captured and killed than when they have attained their full size and scatter over a forty-acre field.

DEATH OF MRS. M. A. SPEARS

Mrs. M. A. Spears for many years a resident of Wayne, died at a Sioux City hospital Tuesday, and the body is brought to Wayne for burial today. She had been living at Emerson for a number of years, making a home for a little granddaughter. We can give more particulars next week.

KNOW THE VALUE OF WHAT YOU SELL

Not many days ago a junk dealer drove into Wayne with his car well loaded with junk, purchased from the farmers mostly—and automobile tires or castings were much in evidence—and not nearly all of them were such hopeless tire wrecks as one might think to find. One had probably not been driven 300 miles, but had a blow-out. Others were worse worn, but most of them could be converted into serviceable tires—worth practically as much in service as a new tire at a cost not to exceed one-fourth to one-third the cost of the new casing. At least that was the opinion of a tire expert.

Now why a farmer or any other car owner should sell such a tire for 30 cents, which at 2 cents the pound paid by many junk dealers would be about the price is a mystery. It can only be accounted for on the theory that the owner was not posted as to the fact that this tire could be made as good as new, and guaranteed so to be, for from $3 to $8, a clear saving of from $10 to $30 dollars depending upon the size of tire and cost of new. The bigger the tire the greater the saving.

Now we are not making a business of buying old tires and tubes, but we can and do make them like new, at a saving of more than half the cost of a new tire, and we guarantee every job we put out to be just as we say, and in nearly every case we can guarantee that our patches and retreading will stand all the wear that a new tire would withstand.

We came to Wayne to save the car owners of this vicinity this unnecessary loss, and we guarantee to do so, by having us your work.

Now this is some pie, and it will cost money to get it in the Democrat, but we don't care for expenses, for we have lots of them at our little shop on west Second street, just west of State bank, and if you want us to blow you, just drive up, and get your fill of air or gas and talk it over with us. We are from Missouri, and can "show" you.

F. Z. Taylor laid the paint brush aside Saturday for the day, and took his two sons, Robert and Donald, to Wakefield, where they planned to spend the day fishing, the lads having been promised a vacation trip of that kind.

Master John Coon went to Winside Saturday to spend a week or two with relatives near that place. As he is going to the farm just at haying time, we are betting that he has some fun driving a horse to a hay fork or some other good sport in connection with the hay harvest.

Rev. D. W. MacGregor left Monday morning on his vacation trip to Columbus, Ohio, and to visit some other points in addition to attending the great Methodist gathering at that place for the next three weeks. His son, Albert, came up from Tekamah to spend Sunday here, and returned with his father Monday morning.

C. A. Chace was a visitor at Stanton the first of the week.

Mrs. D. C. Main and son, Hayes, went to Sioux City Saturday for the day.

J. M. Murphy was a visitor at Randolph Monday, going up on a business mission.

Miss Marguerite Forbes was with home folks over Sunday, coming down from Sioux City Saturday evening.

H. R. Ferrell, who is working here went to Sioux City Saturday morning to spend Sunday at his home there.

Mrs. Fred Benschhof of this place and Mrs. Perry Benschhof of Van Tassel, Wyoming, left Wayne Monday to visit at different points in Iowa for a time. They first go to Dexter, then to Red Oak, and some nearby towns in the county, and then to Emerson.

Mrs. W. D. Hughes came down from Orchard Monday to visit and look after business at Wayne for a short time. She tells us that being at Orchard this spring was not out of the wet any more than being at Wayne, but as they have a bit more sand in the soil, roads did not get as heavy as our roads where the soil is all boosting kind without any sand. Mrs. Hughes went to Winside Monday evening. She tells us they have a nice 40-acre tract with more than $5,000 worth of buildings thereon and they are in the poultry growing business.

D. H. Kern from Waudena, Minnesota, was here last week to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Alberts, his daughter, just northwest of Wayne. He had been at Stanton visiting the home of his son, Ed Kerns, the hog man of such fame, and was on his way home. Speaking of Waudena he said that things are lively there, and crop prospects are good at the time he left. He also stated that a new paper is being established in his town—a Non-partisan League organ, adding that they are strong and growing there. Have already captured part of the county officers, and want more of them. We were also told that organizers of this party are working in Stanton county.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Benschhof, who have been visiting here and at Winside have returned to their home at Van Tassel, Wyoming. Perry said he was due to be there Monday, as he is a member of their board of supervisors, and Monday they began an important session. Under state law all property assessed, is to be raised the two-thirds of its full value, and next year it is proposed to jump off or on another third, and make the assessed valuation correspond to the actual valuation. It seems that is as it should be. We fail to understand why the assessment of this state should be given in at one-fourth its value and the levy raised to the fifth power. The taxes could not well be more, and let the payer live, so why split the assessed valuation into five parts and let four of them go free? and then multiply the levy on the one remaining by five. Makes it look as though we were not worth much, and had a mountain of taxes to pay. If the property was taxed as assessed at its supposed real value, it might be some encouragement to give in a little short, but if a fellow gives in short, and only saves one-fifth of the shortage, because they do not assess the four-fifths, he has got to keep out a lot to break even.

Mrs. Chas. Craven and Miss Alma Craven were visitors at Sioux City Monday.

Fred Benschhof was a passenger to eastern Colorado Monday afternoon. He was accompanied by Geo. Roskopf. C. H. Hendrickson went to Hartington on a courting expedition Monday district court being in session there this week.

Ralph Bohnert and Lieut. Waldo Hahn were among the Wayne boys who landed at New York the first of the week. They hope to reach home not later than July 1.

It is none too early to begin to clean up about your place in honor of the approaching celebration July 4th in honor of the boys who did their bit for Uncle Sam during the late unpleasantness.

Mrs. C. R. Patterson and Mrs. L. B. O'Neil from Harlan, Iowa, returned home Tuesday morning at the close of a four-day visit here at the home of their former friends and neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Dayton.

Mrs. Laura Harbert from Omaha and Mrs. Kane from White Salamon, Washington, sister of Mrs. N. J. Maxwell, were here soon after his death, and went with the family to the funeral and burial at Creston Monday.

Mrs. Mary O'Kieffe and her daughter, Miss Minnie, who have been visiting with relatives and friends here for the past month or six weeks, left Tuesday to visit at the home of a son and brother, Chas. O'Kieffe, at Minneapolis.

Mrs. Warnock and daughter, Miss Elsie, were visitors at Sioux City Tuesday.

Miss Bernice Anderson of Norfolk who has been spending a week here at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wheaton, returned to that place Monday evening.

Clem Theobald from Lincoln has been spending a few days here with his brothers, S. R. and Horace, returning home Tuesday. He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Mary, who enjoyed the outing very much.

Mrs. Mary Johnson of Malvern, Iowa, who has been spending three weeks here at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. T. Munsinger, left for home Tuesday morning; Mrs. Munsinger accompanied her for a short visit at her old home.

T. A. Jackson of Sholes, who has been spending most of the spring at his new home near Ardmore, South Dakota, was at Wayne Friday. He tells us that the family had been staying at their Sholes home until after the school closed, and that this week they are going to Ardmore, driving through in two cars. They propose to take a tent and bedding, and camp on the way, and fish if they find a good camping and fishing grounds. If it rains they will camp—and if it is too hot they can camp—and have a week of real outing while making the trip, if they desire to spend that much time on the road.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson have for many years lived in this county, but they think opportunity is knocking hardest out in the west, and that is what himself and his excellent family are looking for. He is running a 1,000 acre ranch there now, and rather likes the cattle raising as it is less confining than grain and corn farming. All wish them well.

I make your glasses while you wait.

Cheyenne County Colorado LAND! LAND!

“Land—The Foundation Of All Wealth”

CHEYENNE COUNTY is a coming agricultural county. It has been proven with proper farming methods that it will produce a crop the first year that usually sells for more than the first cost of the land. You owe it to yourself to see this country. You will make a mistake if you don't go. Good land everywhere is in demand, and prices must go higher. There are on an average of twenty-five buyers in Cheyenne Wells every day and about eighty-five per cent buy. The sale report for last week from five dealers was a little over six thousand a day, and the present prices are sure to advance from 50 to 100 per cent before snow flies.

It takes only three or four days to make the round trip, and it will be the most interesting and profitable three or four days you ever spent. The rainfall is sufficient to raise a crop of wheat, oats, rye, barley and all forage crops, as shown by reports furnished by the government farm at Cheyenne Wells. Make arrangements to inspect this beautiful and fertile district at once. “You will reap the Golden Harvest.”

Rainfall for the past 18 years at Cheyenne Wells taken from Bulletin 182 of the Agricultural Experiment Station of the Colorado Agricultural College:

Jan. 0.19	April 2.18	July 3.02	Oct. 0.89
Feb. 0.44	May 2.18	Aug. 2.20	Dec. 0.43

Normal crop yields for Cheyenne county for past 10 years.

Alfalfa, tons 1.4, Forage, tons 1.6; Wheat, bushels 16; Oats, bushels 26; Barley, bushels 17; Rye, bushels 13; Corn, bushels 25; Potatoes, bushels 72; Beans, bushels 8.

How would you like to be the kaiser? Not on your tinfoil.

Celebrate at Wayne—come early, see the sights—enjoy the day, and come again some other time. You will be welcome.

Some of the allies are pleased that the Germans sank their battle ships, as that settles the question of their disposition without creating any hard feelings except it be toward the former enemy. Perhaps had the Germans known that they would not have destroyed what might have become a bone of contention.

Friday the 27th—may now seem like a "Black Friday" to Germany—but if the peace and league plans carry according to purpose, it will be the brightest day for the people of the world, including those of the central powers they have ever known. If the load of militarism may be lifted from the neck of mankind—what a blessing.

Before another issue day, America is to be dry—so far as the legal sale of intoxicants is concerned. It is the Salvation Army which is doing the practical thing in the cities to try to meet the situation. They are securing as many of the saloon sites and rooms as they can get funds to maintain, and propose to convert them into reading, lounging and rest rooms as quickly as possible.

Hiram Johnson's announcement of a candidacy for the republican nomination for the presidency is out, and radicals of the republican party are rallying to his support. He is for government ownership of monopolies like the railroads, and that other things make it impossible for him to secure the republican party nomination for the next campaign—unless he can show the strength to overthrow the faction of the party now in power at Washington. Oil and water won't mix—neither will the progressive and the conservative elements of republicanism.

The last dirty trick of the Germans was the scuttling their battle ships held by the enemy during the time the peace settlement was pending. While in care of these prison ships, the crews, said to be acting on orders from the kaiser, arranged for a wholesale sinking of many vessels of the fleet at an English port where they were held pending the close of the war. Yet they claim to be fit people to become a member of the league of nations, and there are some people high in political circles in free America who are asking that the peace treaty be not so severe—and that the kaiser be not held for trial for the atrocities of the war. If he is not guilty, he should court a trial, if guilty he really does not deserve a trial, except to establish his guilt before ending his power to do more mischief.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

John Morgan goes this week to visit his old home at Harlan, Iowa.

E. Q. Sala left this morning to visit a brother at Rock Island, Illinois, a place he once called home.

Ed Hageman from Leeds, Iowa, has been here visiting his son of the same name, and assisting him in his farm work. He returned Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. L. J. Courtright went to Merville, Iowa, today to visit at the home of her grandson, C. E. Long and family. Misses Eva and Fern Courtright accompanied her.

Miss Pearl E. Sewell was called to Sioux City this morning because of her father's condition. He is there for eye treatment, and she thought no serious complications had developed.

Mrs. T. J. Demers from Sioux City was here last week to visit her sister, Mrs. I. C. Trumbauer, and when she returned home Mrs. Trumbauer accompanied her for a short stay in the city.

Eighty-five one hundredths of an inch of rain here last night. Less at Winside, less at Emerson—and perhaps fully as much at Wakefield as here. At this writing it is still doing business.

Mrs. Laura Harbert from Omaha and Mrs. Alma Cain from Washington and Frank Belknap, sisters and brother of Mrs. Maxwell, came to attend the funeral service of Mr. N. J. Maxwell and be with their sister and family in their hour of sorrow.

Claude Mitchell has purchased from John Morgan the property he has been occupying, at the price of $3,500. It was a case of buy or move and no place to move to in this good town—and two or three others were waiting the place if he did not take it.

Harold Meigs, who has been employed at a Schuyler flour mill since January as one of the office force, came up the other day to visit his parents and Wayne friends a few days. Before returning he goes to Sioux City to visit his brother, Archie and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hellings of Okaloosa, Iowa, have been spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. W. Lewis, Mrs. Lewis being his sister. Mr. Hellings has just been released from service, and was making a visit before again settling down to civil life. He was released from Camp Dodge.

Last week and the week before a number of our lady readers saved money by reading the advertisements in the Democrat and heeding the same. This week an advertisement may be found which will be money saving to those who heed it. Read and heed the advertising, and save. Economy is a commendable virtue.

If our foresight was as good as our hindsight, how we could plunge and make fortunes. This thought comes to us upon reading the advertisement of Burrell W. Wright about land in the vicinity of Cheyenne Wells, Colorado. The writer was through the country not far from that locality when it was simply the "great American desert" on the map, and with fertile acres in other places for little money that land was not considered except for grazing, and not regarded very highly for that. But the people who knew some of the things about soil and climate saw great possibilities there, and showing their faith by works were the means of establishing a farm there for experimental purposes. The record of this experiment has opened the eyes of the people seeking land to the fact that this is a good land, and that with intelligent cultivation the average rainfall assures crops which compare favorably with results other places to the extent that it is demonstrated that measured by possible production these acres are considered among the best buys for men of moderate means to be found on the market.

J. G. W. Lewis will speak at the Methodist church Sunday morning at the usual preaching hour, and his subject will be a New Patriotism. Come and hear the professor preach.

Hans Hansen and his son-in-law, from Innisfree, Alberta, Canada, were here a few days during the past week. Mr. Hansen was visiting former friends, for he was for many years a resident here, and they were guests at the home of James Grier and wife, his daughter.

Wm. Assenheimer tells us that Geo. Effiehl has just purchased a quarter section of land in Eden valley, a district near Creighton, at 236 the acre. That is breaking into Eden cheap. Harry Brumdieck from near Altona purchased an eighty north of Pilger from Mr. Assenheimer at 175 the acre.

The Big Country club picnic which had been planned by the members for their friends has been called off on account of weather conditions. It is too bad, for much preparation had been made. The postponement is indefinite, as the Fourth of July celebration will claim attention for this week on for a time.

Edward J. Deville, who is writing Yeomen Insurance at Lincoln and Crete as manager of a district in the southeast part of the state, came to Wayne on business matters last evening, and will spend part of the day here. We hear good reports from him, and learn that since entering his new field he has turned in more than $200,000 of insurance; and they say that is going some.

High School Alumni Banquet

On Tuesday evening, June 24, 1919, the annual high school alumni reunion banquet was held in the basement of the M. E. church.

Seated at the tables which were arranged in the form of a hollow square were about a hundred former graduates besides a number of guests. The tables were prettily decorated with flowers and smilax and lighted by candles whose shades were pink and green, which was the color scheme of all the decorations.

After an excellent two-course banquet served by the ladies of the Methodist Aid society the following list of toasts was given, Cooper Ellis presiding as toastmaster.

front and that makes it cool.

I am well pleased with the work here and when I say work, believe me, I mean it. Friends told me that I would find this to be anything but a kid school and they were right. One must earn all one gets here and a little more. These professors are hard hearted to any one who expects something for nothing.

I have found several of the men who were in my company over seas which makes it nice for me. We are planning a reunion of the boys who live here. There will be about twenty or more present so you can see we will have a right joyful time. One forms friendships while in the army that are lasting and are always remembered.

Must close. Hope this finds everything in Wayne in good shape.

Sincerely,
Ralph Ingham.

THE COUNTY COURT RECORD

The docket shows that T. W. Anderson of Concord, Carl Will, Leslie Rundell, Elmer Clasen Harry McIntosh, Harold Sears and E. E. Vahlkamp each forgot that they were within the city limits while driving Sunday and exceeded the speed limit. His honor let them down easy this time, imposing a fine, which with the costs attached made the total expense $8.40 each.

John Wright, for whom a warrant was out some ten days ago, has been apprehended, and entered a plea of not guilty, of the charge of gambling, and was bound over in the sum of $500 to appear at the next term of the district court.

Chas. Faber and Miss Helen L. Rosken, both of whom are moving from Alton, Iowa, to a home at Nacora. They stopped in this good town to wed. Nothing like starting married life from the right place. Judge Cherry tied the knot, and tied it so happily that the groom wanted to exceed the legal fee, and when the judge could not accept it, he paid it to the witness.

BUILD NOW!

We have a complete stock of high class lumber and building material for your inspection at the present time but it is a question as to how long we can keep our stock unbroken in the face of the unusual demand for materials.

Our advise to the prospective builder is to build now while material is available as the general prediction is for a shortage this coming fall. Business with the lumber and material people is being booked six and eight months in advance which means only one thing—a scarcity of materials at a higher price.

There will be no drop in prices for the very reasons stated above so DO IT NOW.

Efficient Hay Tools Make The Hay Harvest Easy. It Pays to Always Buy The Best.

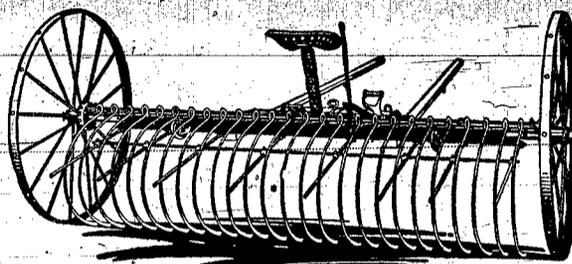

The McCormick No. 6

Is a new mower surpassing anything the McCormick people have ever put before the public in all the long years they have been building mowing machines. Here are some points of excellence: The counter shaft easily adjusted. By the use of cotter pins and washers, always adjustable from the outside, it is possible to correctly adjust the countershaft in a very few moments, and time is money. Flexible Gag Arrangement makes it possible to do good work with perfect ease on rough as well as smooth meadows. It is possible to raise the bar reasonably high without changing the angle between the pitman and the knife. Few other mowers compare with it in this respect. The cutter bar may be raised to second notch if necessary with machine in operation.

Honor built in material and workmanship—where can you do better?

McCormick Self Dump Rake

The McCormick self dump rake will meet your requirements under all conditions. It has gained a reputation in every locality for durability and ease of operation. It dumps quickly, and the teeth return to the ground close to the windrow. As the rake fills, the cleaner rods float above and retard the hay so that it does not roll into a ropy form.

Wheels interchangeable, thus giving each wheel double life of real service. They have staggered spokes and heavy steel tires. Built large enough to keep the rake running smoothly even over rough ground, and leave room beneath for windrow in heavy hay without crowding or packing. The inside ratchet is shield protected, preventing hay from winding in and interfering with the dumping.

SOILS OF WAYNE COUNTY, NEBRASKA, SURVEYED

Washington, D. C., June 25.—To determine the nature of soil types in Wayne county, Nebraska, in order that local farmers may be assisted in fitting crops to soils to best advantage, the bureau of soils of the United States department of agriculture, in cooperation with the University of Nebraska, has made a soil survey of the county. The report of the survey published by the department contains a colored soil map of the county, which shows the extent and distribution of the various soil types and on which the approximate locations of farms may be found. It contains fifty pages of text describing the various soils and discussing their capabilities. The report also includes a brief historical and geographical sketch of the region surveyed, together with statistics relating to its climate and present farm practices. The soils of Wayne county are separated in the survey on the basis of origin and method of formation into three general groups, which are subdivided into nine soil types.

The cropping system employed in the county, according to the report, are not, in general, well designed to maintain the productivity of the soils. There is a general need for growing legumes more extensively in the rotation, and for more attention to systems of green manuring to increase the organic-matter supply. Although good yields of crops are obtained under the prevailing methods the average production is below that which might reasonably be expected from soils inherently so productive and so well suited to such crops as alfalfa and clover. All the soils seem to be high in lime content. Copies of the report may be had on application to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

THE INCOMPREHENSIBLE (Duluth Herald)

For five years the world was torn by the agony of the most vicious war in all history.

Millions died, and untold millions suffered untold hardships, deprivation, misery and woe.

Billions upon billions of money were spent, and billions' worth of property was destroyed.

When the fighting ended with the armistice the deadly weapons of poison gas, bombing airplanes and the like were just on the point of being developed to deadliness more appalling than anything the war had yet seen.

There is a movement on foot in the world to organize a civilization to prevent a repetition of this horror—or, rather, to present a horror infinitely more deadly than this one.

That movement takes the form of a league of nations, a covenant binding the nations to which has been made a part of the pending peace treaty.

In this league of nations lies the world's only possible hope of peace. In it, too, lies the only possible hope of stabilizing the new national boundaries until custom can harden them into permanent form.

And yet—incomprehensible as it will look to another generation, if not to this one—there are Americans who are fighting this effort, striving with might and main to destroy this only hope of peace; this one chance to prevent a deadlier horror than the war that was lately halted by a welcome armistice!

TO SEE THE WORLD

A naval recruiting officer was here last week, and as a result of his visit Wayne young men have decided to take training and schooling in the U. S. navy. Ralph Masten, who recently returned from war service, and Claude Kopp enlisted and left Monday to begin service.

OF GENERAL INTEREST (From Wayne County Teacher)

The schools of Wayne county have adopted thirty-four war orphans.

In the Health Crusade work in the county Irma Hutchinson reports that two pupils in district 64 earned the title of Knights and they have received their Knight Pins. They are Lillie Scott and Florence Killion. Minnie Pearson, teacher in district 13, reports the following pupils as having become Knights: Florence Oliver, Philip Ring, Ruth Magee, Olive Magee, Rudolph Ring, and Robert Pullen. Sara Milliken reports three Knights for district 81, and Ruth Frahnson reports eleven in district 19.

One or two answers in penmanship from the recent eighth grade examination papers. Question: (a) How much time has been devoted each day to penmanship in your school, and at what time has it been taught during the day? (b) Do you think this enough to make you a good penman?

Answer 1: I have just had one penmanship lesson during this year at about the first of the term. I had about ten minutes time and it was held after the last recess. I think it will make me a good penman.

Answer 2: We have not been taking penmanship at all this year but took some last year. I only had one lesson on penmanship this year. I think this would be enough to make you a good penmanship if you practice along with it.

CERTIFICATES OF AWARD

Certificates of Award have been issued to the following pupils during the last month: Louise Kai of district 9, Charlotte Von Seggern of district 81, Ernest Strate and Marion Behmer of Hoskins, Gladys Andrews of district 84, Dorothea Drevsen and Katherine Drevsen of district 78, Dorothy McCorkindale of district 1, Earl Miller of district 85, Mildred Brumels of district 3, Maurice Wright of district 29, Ruby Schneider of Winside, Elmer and Ernest Reeg of district 51, Rudolph Lage of district 57, Nannie Lorenze of district 46, Lillian Morris of district 44, Tillie Kant of district 53, Helen Rosacker of district 50, David Nelson of district 23, and Lucile Roberts of district 74.

WAYNE COUNTY INSTITUTE

The Wayne county teachers' institute will be held in Wayne during the week beginning August 25. All teachers who teach in Wayne county will attend the institute.

We will have a program particularly adapted to the requirements in Wayne county and therefore attendance at any other institute will not serve the main purpose of a county institute.

Please do not apply for any school in the county if you do not expect to attend here.

DIPLOMAS OF HONOR

Diplomas of Honor have been earned by Gilbert Joehens of district 86, Stella Korth of district 7, Hilda Doring of district 19, Ethel Cook of district 9, Norene Tucker of district 44, Meta Prevost of district 64.

THE MAN WHO IS BITTER (Philadelphia Ledger)

"He who is bitter is beaten. This is distilled from life," said a wise observer of his kind.

Often one meets the man who has become soured by his own life through his own fault—though he blames it all on the chances and circumstances of destiny.

He will not admit that the hand of a bad habit dragged him down, or kept him from rising; that he made a mistake or took the wrong turn of the road.

He prefers to charge personal fate with his personal failure.

But he had the same right to struggle and win that we all have. The man whom he regards with envy had to prove that the stuff was in him, against odds.

The old proverb says that fortune favors the brave—but that saying really means that fortune plays no favorites and confers her gifts only upon those who fight, and fight hard.

Success is not hereditary. We must qualify on our own merit. Any fool can inherit money, and be parted from it quickly. The respect of the community, which is life's chief reward, goes to him who earns it on his own account. In that continuing effort the fragrant memory of a noble family tradition and a pious and honest parentage is valuable asset and a great inspiration.

SHORTCOMINGS OF THE AMERICAN BOY

Let us consider—dispassionately the average American boy and try to describe him. I do not mean, O-Reader, your boy. I mean the average boy, as we see him in the city streets or the country roads. Am I far wrong in depicting him physically as round shouldered, hollow-cheated, shambling in gait, not over-tidy in person, not erect in carriage, not looking you straight in the eye?

In manner is he courageous to all, respectful to his seniors, careful in speech? Does it not strike you that his ideal of manliness is rather the "tough" than the well-bred gentleman?

Is he obedient and tender to his parents, thoughtful and kind to the weak and aged, helpful to his associates?

What are his ambitions. To begin at the foot of the ladder and by hard work climb to the top? Does he hold manual labor in itself as ennobling and as alone giving that knowledge of what a day's work means by which later he can intelligently direct the energies of a host of subordinates? Does he not rather leave the high school with a contempt for honest toil, and the fixed purpose of never selling his own hands? Does he not look upon a clerical position with the wearing of a black coat and a white shirt as the best thing life holds for him?—From "What Shall We Do for Our Boys?" by Rear-Admiral Casper F. Goodrich, in the American Review of Reviews for May, 1916.

FISK NON-SKID TIRES

SAFE, GENTLE REMEDY BRINGS SURE RELIEF

For 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haartem Oil has enabled suffering humanity to withstand attacks of kidney, liver, bladder and stomach troubles and all diseases connected with the urinary organs and to build up and restore to health organs weakened by disease. These most important organs must be watched, because they filter and purify the blood, unless they do their work you are doomed. Weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, pains in the loins and lower abdomen, gravel, difficulty when urinating, rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago all warn you of trouble with your kidneys. GOLD MEDAL Haartem Oil Capsules are the remedy you need. Take three or four every day. The healing oil soaks into the cells and lining of the kidneys and drives out the poison. New life and health will surely follow. When your normal vigor has been restored continue treatment for a while to keep yourself in condition and prevent a return of the disease. Don't wait until you are incapable of fighting. Start taking GOLD MEDAL Haartem Oil Capsules today. Your druggist will cheerfully refund your money if you are not satisfied with results. But be sure to get the original imported GOLD MEDAL and accept no substitutes. In three sizes. Sealed packages. At all drug stores.

grants free public high school education without the payment of any tuition by the parent or guardian or by the school district to which such parent or guardian has changed his legal residence. Provided that when any such child shall be a bonafide resident of the high school district no tuition shall be charged such child. Senate File No. 48.

SOME RECENT SCHOOL LEGISLATION

(From Wayne County Teacher) The Teacher for this month gives a review of the new school laws of the state that are important for more than the teachers to know. Every citizen is or should be familiar with the new laws—and those relating especially to foreign languages and parochial and denominational schools should be of especial interest. The sections which permits none but Americans to be on guard, are especially timely.

Issuing or Renewing Teachers' Certificates
Old Law: In effect until July 19, 1919.

Third Grade Certificates: Arithmetic, Composition, Geography, Grammar, History, Mental Arithmetic, Orthography, Penmanship, Physiology, Reading. Average required, 75, with no grade below 65.

Second Grade Certificates: Additional subjects, Agriculture, Bookkeeping, Drawing, Civil Government, Theory and Art. Required Average, 80, minimum, 70. Good for one or two years.

First Grade Certificates: Additional subjects, Algebra, Botany, Geometry, Physics. Required Average, 85, minimum, 75.

Renewal: Second or first grade certificates with all grades above 80, renewable by reading circle work only. Second or first grade certificates with one or more grades below 80, by reading circle work, and raising to 80 or higher, one or more of the grades that are below 80. Normal Training High School Graduates may receive first grade certificate after one year's experience, by passing an examination on algebra, provided, all grades are above 75 and the average is 85 or higher.

New Law: Goes into effect, July 19, 1919.

No third grade certificates will be issued.

Second grade certificates: Subjects as above, except that Bookkeeping and Composition will no longer be required. Eight weeks Normal Training required. Good for two years. Renewable after two years by raising of general average to 85 with a minimum grade of 75, and the presentation of a certificate showing that the holder has earned six college hours credit, either in residence or in absentia. This certificate is renewable once only.

First Grade certificates: Additional subjects, Algebra, Botany, Geometry, Public School Music. Average 80, minimum, 75. Good for three years. Twelve weeks Normal Training required. Renewable by raising of average to 85, with no grade below 80, and the presentation of a certificate showing that the holder has earned twelve hours credit in addition to that required for the first issuance of a second grade certificate. Thereafter, renewable upon presentation of certificate showing twelve hours additional credit.

No Permits Will Be Issued. You must have your certificate when school begins. If shortage of qualified teachers exists, state superintendent may issue emergency certificates.

If you wish to secure or renew a certificate under the old law, everything must be clear before July 18th. Otherwise you will have to work under the new law. Read this bulletin carefully, and plan accordingly. Delays may be fatal. Act now.

Inasmuch as the new law is silent as regards Reading Circle, there will be no July Reading Circle examination, as the new law will be in effect at that time. If you wish to pass a Reading Circle examination you should try it on June 28th.

Qualifications of Voters
Aliens cannot vote at school district elections nor can they serve as members of the school board.

Teachers to be Paid Wages in Time of Epidemic

That in case of epidemic sickness prevailing to such an extent that the school or schools in any school district shall be closed, teachers' salaries shall not be suspended but that they shall be paid their usual salaries in full for such time as the school or schools shall be closed.—House Roll No. 199, Session 1919. Emergency.

Garb of Religious Order Forbidden

Section 1. Any teacher in any public school in this state who shall wear in said school or while engaged in the performance of his or her duty any dress, or garb, indicating the fact that such teacher is a member or an adherent of any religious order, sect or denomination, shall upon conviction thereof, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred ($100) dollars and the costs of prosecution or shall be committed to the county jail for a period not exceeding thirty days or both.

Tuition Charges

When any parent or guardian residing in a public school district granting free public high school education shall change his legal residence during any school year from such school district to another public school district, which does not furnish free public high school education, the child or children of such parent or guardian may continue to attend for the balance of the school year, the high school in such district

None But Citizens of United States To Teach

That no person shall be qualified licensed or permitted by the state or county superintendent of public instruction to teach in any public, private and parochial school in the State of Nebraska unless such person is a natural born or duly and fully naturalized citizen of the United States. House Roll No. 106.

Compulsory Attendance age changed from 15 to 16 years.

Private, Denominational and Parochial Schools

All private, denominational and parochial schools in the state of Nebraska and all teachers employed or giving instruction therein shall be subject to and governed by the provisions of the general school laws of the state so far as the same apply to grades, qualifications and certification of teachers and promotion of pupils.

All private, denominational and parochial schools shall have adequate equipment and supplies and shall be graded the same and shall have courses of study for each grade conducted therein substantially the same as those given in the public schools where the children attending would attend in the absence of such private, denominational or parochial schools.

Section 2. No person shall after September 1, 1919, be employed to teach or teach in any private, denominational or parochial school who has not obtained a teacher's certificate entitling such teacher to teach corresponding courses or classes in public schools where the children attending would attend in the absence of such private, denominational or parochial school.

Section 3. Nothing in this act contained shall be so construed as to interfere with religious instruction in any private, denominational or parochial school.

Section 4. For the purposes of this act the owner or governing board of any private, denominational or parochial school shall have authority to select and purchase text books, equipment and supplies, to employ teachers and to have and exercise the general management of the school subject to the provisions of this act.

Section 5. All public, private, denominational and parochial schools shall give in the proper grades such courses in American History and in Civil Government, both state and national, as will give the pupils therein a thorough knowledge of the history of our country and its institutions and of our form of government and shall conduct such patriotic exercises as may be prescribed from time to time by the state superintendent.

Section 6. The county superintendent of the county, or the city superintendent of the city, where any private, denominational or parochial school is located, shall inspect such schools and report to the proper officers any evidence of the use of any text books or of any activities, instruction or propaganda therein subversive of American institutions and republican form of government or good citizenship or of failure to observe any of the provisions of this act.

Health Examination

Section 1. It shall be the duty of every teacher engaged in teaching in the schools of the state, separately and carefully, to test and examine every child under his jurisdiction to ascertain if such child is suffering from defective sight or hearing or diseased teeth, or breathes through its mouth. If such test determines that any child has such defect, it shall be the duty of the teacher to notify, in writing, the parent of the child, of such defect and explain to such parent the necessity of medical attendance for such child. Whenever a child shall show symptoms of any contagious or infectious disease such child shall be sent to his home immediately, or as soon as safe and proper conveyance can be found, and the board of health or school board or board of education shall be at once notified.

Section 2. The State Board of Health shall prescribe rules for making such tests, and shall furnish to boards of education and boards of trustees of school districts rules of instruction, test cards, blanks and other useful appliances for carrying out the purposes of this act.

Section 3. During the first month of each school year, after the opening of school, teachers must make the tests required by this act upon the children then in attendance at school, and thereafter as children enter school during the year, such tests must be made immediately

"The Goblins 'll Get You If You Don't Watch Out"

ABOUT COAL

Hard Coal, Soft Coal or Coke

All reports, government and mine owners and operators, tell that the shortage the coming winter promises to be greater than two years ago—Why? The labor problem is assigned. Miners are quitting and migrating back to the other side of the pond, and promise to do so in increasing numbers as soon as peace is completed. They are planning to demand a 25 per cent increase in wage—a six-hour day, a five-day week—and if it must be paid to keep them going, coal supply will be short, the prices raise.

Just now we have a supply, and can fill your order promptly at a fair price—a money saving price, and you should not neglect to get the winter coal.

Threshers—We can now supply you with that excellent coal for your work, the Youghegany.

We want the public to know that the Farmers' Union Co-Operative Association is at Wayne to do business for the advantage of the consumer. We have no store or general stock, but we do sell to your saving a lot of things; Oil Meal, Red Dog, Mutual Compound, Stock Foods of known value, Buttermilk, Flour, a hog food without a superior, Paints, Preservative, Dry Dip, a splendid disinfectant.

A fresh car of salt.

Braider Tires—casings and Inner Tubes.

Patronize yourself, if a member, by buying here—Patronize your neighbor, if not a member, and save money.

Yours for a greater and better Wayne.

Farmers Union Co-Operative Asso.

Say, Mr. Farmer, we sell a hog waterer that is correct, and a thermal chicken waterer that is cool in summer and does not freeze in winter. No lamps to worry you.

upon their entrance.

Section 4. It shall be the duty of the boards of education and school boards of the several school districts of the state to enforce the provisions of this act.

Section 5. The board of education or school board of any school district may employ regularly licensed physicians to make the tests required by Sec. 1 of this Act, and when such tests are made by a physician, the teachers shall not be required to make the tests provided for in Sec. 1 of this Act.

Exhibition of School Work Open for Public Premiums

There shall hereafter be held at the county seat of each county, under the supervision and direction of the County Superintendent, and county board, on or before the first day of May of each year, an exhibit of school work done in each school district of said county during the current school year. The nature and character of said exhibit shall be determined by the county superintendent. Said exhibit shall be open to the public for not less than one nor more than three days. The county superintendent shall annually offer and award premiums intended to stimulate the interest in school affairs. A list of premiums to be awarded shall be published in the various county papers, or other school news, at least 60 days before the date or dates fixed for said exhibit. Each year the county board shall make arrangements to have said county school exhibit taken to the County Fair of said county, if there be one, and to the Nebraska State Fair at Lincoln.

Section 2. Expenses, now paid.—To defray the expenses incident to assembling and carrying on of said annual county school exhibit a sum equal to not less than two and one-half cents nor more than five cents for every pupil of school age shall upon the written request of the teachers of at least one-half of the schools for said county be set aside each year from the general fund of said county by the county board. Said fund shall be known as "County School Exhibit Fund." It shall be the duty of the county board to pay all bills incurred or approved by the county superintendent of said county for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, not exceeding the sum set aside for such purposes. Said board may in its discretion include said item of expense incident to said exhibit in its annual estimate and levy a tax for the payment thereof together with other necessary taxes for the current year.

Teach English Only in Common School Branches

No person, individually or as a teacher, shall, in any private, denominational, parochial or public school, teach any subject to any person in any other language than the English language.

Section 2. Languages, other than the English, may be taught as languages only after a pupil shall have attained and successfully passed the eighth grade as evidenced by a certificate of graduation issued by the county superintendent of the county in which the child resides.

Mary Pickford in "Daddy Long Legs," July 16, 17, and 18. Admission 15c and 35c.—adv.

Gilbert French of Winside was looking after business matters at the county seat Tuesday.

Of course you will not forget that the circus will be here July 1. Their advertisement tells you about that.

Mrs. Nielsen came over from Norfolk Wednesday morning to visit her sister, Mrs. J. H. Foster, and greet Wayne friends.

Yes, Geo. Fortner is in the market at all times for your poultry. Let him know what you have to sell, either poultry, eggs or cream.—adv.

The tile manufacturing yard in the west part of town is a busy place these days, for they have a big contract, and weather has not been the best for concrete work in the open.

For a sack of good flour it is a safe proposition to see Geo. Fortner at the feed mill. He buys the right kind right—and sell the same kind the same way.—adv.

Our several rains of the past week were not all very welcome—especially when they kept coming—but if they had not come a wee drop of water would be looking fine by this time.

Miss Imo Olson from Sioux City, who graduated with the Normal class of '18, has been visiting on the hill for a few days, and was a guest of her sister, Miss T. Hazel Olson, who is attending the summer term.

C. D. Martin, who has been visiting his son and friends here for the past three weeks, left Tuesday evening for his home at Scotts Bluffs. He is looking and feeling fine for a man who is past the four-score mark.

Mrs. Katherine Wieland left Tuesday evening to visit her daughter, Mrs. A. E. Chichester, at Chapel, E. B. Chichester, who was going to his home at Lisco, after a visit here would accompany her most of the way.

Victor Carlson, who is visiting about with relatives and friends, writes from Moline, Illinois, to have some Democrats mailed to him there, and adds that he is staying at a summer camp by Rock river, and having a very good time.

Lost—Saturday evening at Central Market or between there and First National bank corner, pocketbook containing from $30 to $31. Finder leave at Citizens National bank or with loser and receive liberal reward. F. Z. Taylor.—adv.

Mrs. Sarah Nettleton and daughter, Miss Grace, left Wednesday morning to visit at the home of her son, R. A. Nettleton at Des Moines, Iowa, and a little later at the home of Thomas at Sioux City. They plan to be absent a month.

J. E. Wallace, who had been spending three weeks at Omaha and his old Iowa home at Villisca, returned to Wayne Monday evening, and is staying with the E. O. Gardner family. A little inclination to be troubled with asthma, he finds breathing better here than at his home.

Want a fine chicken for a fry for your Sunday or July 4th dinner? Speak now to phone 295, before the assortment is broken.—adv.

Mrs. D. W. Noakes left Wednesday morning to make a visit at the home of their son, Willis, near Memphis, Tennessee. Willis is in charge of a large ranch in the suburbs of that growing city, and making good. He has a wife, now, and as he was too busy to visit home folks at this season of the year, mother has gone to visit them.

A used car or two, some like new, at a bargain price. Burret W. Wright.—adv.

Mrs. Mittlestadt and daughter from Norfolk were here this week, guests at the William P. Lue home.

Miss Virginia Chapin of Winside returned home Wednesday after a short visit here with her friend, Miss Alma Craven.

Misses Fern and Frances Omar were visitors at Sioux City the first of the week, returning home Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Eliza Timson from Tabor, Iowa, came Tuesday morning to visit at the home of her grandson, Albert Davison and family.

Most of the boys who know which is to be the popular float July 4th are applying for the place as driver for Mrs. Jeffries' handsome production.

Marion Grothe, who tarried in California until the close of the school year at the college he was attending when his parents came home, came this week.

Miss Florence Gardner was at Pender Saturday, and has accepted a place as one of the high school teachers of that place for the coming year. She will teach domestic science, history and one or two other branches during the year.

Miss Henrietta Moler has been visiting here and with relatives near Carroll for a week past, and Wednesday returned to her home at Sioux City. Her little sister, Helen Moler, from Sioux City has been here, and returned with her.

Mrs. W. E. Winterringer from Marshalltown, Iowa, was here a few days visiting at the home to her daughter, Mrs. Vern Fisher, and with other Wayne acquaintances. Her little daughter, Gareldine, accompanied her. Wednesday evening she went to Crofton to visit friends and relatives before returning to Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Owen and daughter, Florence, went to Rochester Sunday morning, where Mrs. Owen will undergo examination and probably an operation; and it is the hope of her many friends that she will come home to enjoy years of improved health. Mr. Owen and daughter expect to remain until the wife and mother is convalescing nicely before they return.

A good ton-truck for sale—practically new, with cab and box. A bargain for the first man after it. Burret W. Wright.—adv.

Mrs. Lena Hanssen from Holstein, Iowa, came from Randolph Tuesday where she has been spending ten days or two weeks at the home of her son, Gus Hanssen and wife, to visit at the W. O. Hanssen home. Mrs. Hanssen was 82 years of age last week Sunday, and Wm. Hanssen and family went to Randolph, and there they celebrated her birthday. In spite of her years, she is spry and well, and travels about alone when she visits.

Fritz Mildner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mildner of this city, has announced his landing at New Port News, Sunday. He and his folks hope that he will get through the release ceremonies and reach home in time to join with others in the great home-coming celebration. We all hope to see many of the boys here on that day—but it will be a satisfaction to the family and friends to know that the war is over, and that the lad is once more in America—not this lad, but hundreds of thousands of others. To those who are yet to remain a short time over there, the fact that war is over, and that their dangers are no greater than in other walks of life, is a source of satisfaction.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beckenhauer went to Minneapolis the first of the week, and while there Mr. Beckenhauer will take a bit of post-graduate work in the undertaking school there.

Miss Elsie Geppesen, a lass of eleven summers came Wednesday morning from Minneapolis to spend the summer vacation out in the country, and will be a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pio Andersen, five miles northwest of Wayne. It will be a great experience for the girl if she has spent all her life in the city. She came without an attendant, and arrived safely.

The Farmers' Union Co-operative association of this place has just installed a new machine for head work. It deals with facts and figures. One with this machine may add, subtract, multiply or divide numbers. It is a marvel. You press the keys, and turn the crank and the result comes to the top to be read. Their stenographer, Miss Peterson said to the editor just imagine you have a car of wheat here, and that it weighs 85,000 pounds, and you are to receive for it $1.85 per bushel. Now, to get the sum we first divide the pounds by 60, and find that you have so many bushels and so many pounds. Now we multiply by the price per bushel and find out that your wheat is worth so much, and it was all finished before we realized that we did not have something like $2,500 worth of wheat on track. If we had the wheat we would certainly want that little plaything, for it only costs about $300; and it's well worth it if one have work for it, just for the saving of brain power in figuring. Any one who could punch the pegs and turn the crank could figure with that contraption.

WITH THE WAYNE CHURCHES

English Lutheran Church
(Rev. J. H. Fetters, Pastor)
Sunday school convenes promptly at 10 a. m.
Public worship with sermon at 11 a. m. The sermon subject is "Cleansed as They Went." We give a cordial invitation to all but especially to those who are not related to any other church to worship with us.
The sermon on "Christian Education" by Rev. Guss of Omaha was very much appreciated by the congregation last Sunday morning.

was a masterly plea for the need of the christian college.
The campaign for the raising of a half million dollars for the removal of Midland college from Atchison, Kansas, to Fremont, Nebraska, is now under way. To Rev. Guss of Omaha and Rev. Weaver of Beatrice has been committed the task of raising the quota allotted to this congregation. The canvass so far has progressed satisfactorily, and we hope to see our people respond to these appeals with cheerfulness and liberality.

At a recent meeting of the church council it was voted to discontinue the evening services during the heated summer months. This action becomes effective next Sunday.

From the fact that the next meeting of the ladies will come on the day preceding the great Fourth of July celebration it was considered best to postpone the meeting for one week. It is presumed that every family desires to make some preparation for the celebration.

First Baptist Church
(Robert Pratt, S. T. M. Minister)
A man who is a good husband, a kind father, an agreeable neighbor and an honest troller can hardly excuse himself by these things for neglecting his own father, can he? That is why goodness to folks is no reason for neglecting God.

Much has been said lately about the union of churches. Baptists took a very definite stand on this question at Denver last month. The pastor will preach on this subject Sunday morning.

Next Sunday the work of the Juniors will again count on the contest. Each Junior can help his group by being present.

The attendance at the Senior B. Y. P. U. is very gratifying. Help us to make Sunday the largest meeting of the summer. The topic is Loyalty. Time 7 p. m.

A man once asked me, "If a fellow wanted to start in leading the Christian life, what would he do?" I will answer this question at the evening service at 8.

On the Fourth of July the Baptist church basement will be open for any who wish to rest on to eat their lunch. A toilet privilege will be available for ladies and children. We want our church to be of help to the town whenever possible.

First Presbyterian Church
(J. W. Beard, Minister)
The usual services will be held at this church next Sunday and through the week. Preaching Sunday morning at 10:30, followed by the Sunday school. A new class of young men has been organized for bible study at our Sunday school, and all are welcome. In the evening the Endeavor society meets at 7 o'clock, and the evening preaching service begins at 8 o'clock.

The subject for the sermons morning and evening, may be learned by coming at the appointed hour—the pastor being called away, was not here to say what they will be.

SAM TEMPLE WELCOMES HIS SON HOME

As mentioned last week in these columns, Sam Temple went to Lincoln to act as one of the family reception committee to their son, Duward, who had just come back from over the other side. He learned that the lad, who was nearly a year abroad saw some of the real service. He was at one time twenty-three days in front line trenches under shell fire, and that he was five days and nights without sleep, and not much good eats. He was one of the boys doing pushing on the Hindenberg line; and got off without a wound from the enemy but he came very near not coming back just the same, for he was a victim of the flu, and among those who were "clashed" the same as dead, but he had too much Americanism to die on foreign soil, and so he was there at the homecoming reception—the hero of the occasion when the spotted calf was led to the feast. The young man is glad to be home; and the parents are glad, and proud of the fact that their son went and did his bit in the cause of humanity.

STRIPPED THE CAR

Saturday night while on his way to their home near Carroll the son of E. L. Jones, driving a Ford met with some mishap, and could not get the car to run, so left it at the roadside out northwest of town somewhere, decided not to go after the car until morning. When morning came, he learned that some one had beaten him to it, for the car was stripped of the tires, the lights, and other things easily removed and valuable. Mr. Jones said that $50 would not replace what was taken with as good as he had on the car.

$75,000 VERDICT GIVEN AGAINST POTASH OPERATORS

One of the largest verdicts ever given by a jury in the district court of Douglas county was returned Tuesday when damages in the amount of $75,000 were granted to Peter J. Long and Anna Long against John H. Krause and Herman J. Krause by a jury in District Judge Leslie's court.

According to the newspaper reports, the Longs brought suit for $992,000. They were originally the owners of a section of land in Sheridan county, northeast of Alliance, and adjoining the Krause ranch. On the section was an alkali lake of about 200 acres in size. In the summer of 1916, they sold the section to the Krauses for a consideration of $8,000.

The Longs alleged that Krause Brothers knew that there was potash in the lake on the land when it was purchased. Evidence was brought in by the plaintiffs to show that potash to the value of many thousands of dollars was extracted from the lake waters and sold.

Attorney for Krause Brothers stated that the case will be appealed to the Nebraska supreme court.

CHARIOT RACE IN A CORNFIELD

That was the show—or one similar to it that E. L. Jones put on in his cornfield between here and Carroll Monday. Himself and son were cultivating corn, each with a double-row cultivator and four horses on each plow. The team driven by the lad became frightened and started to run. The father called for the lad to take a tumble off behind and let the team go—but the lad wanted to stay in the game, or perhaps did not hear. So when the team came opposite the team Mr. Jones was driving he made an attempt to get the lad off, and in doing so, left his team. They took fright, and started to race the other team. Both teams went the length of the field, running abreast, the father's team stopping when coming to the fence. The other team wheeled to turn, and piled the plow up a dilapidated wreck, but the horses and the lad escaped any injury, so why not look at how much better it was than it might have been.

A suit in U. S. district court to stop the enforcement of the Non-partisan league laws passed by the legislature of North Dakota has been dismissed and that state will now be able to try out the most paternal and socialistic program ever attempted in this country. And they have a perfect right to try it out for it was supported and passed by a decided majority, and majority is king in this country, or ought to be. As we have so often said the people have a right to be wrong if a majority so elect, and to suffer for that wrong until it is righted. We do not say the North Dakotans are wrong; they might be eminently right, but right or wrong they are and of right ought, to be allowed to try their experiment and see what the results are. Their venture will be watched with a great deal of interest by other states.—Blair Pilot.

No Unnecessary Exposure

There is no unnecessary exposure in taking CHIROPRACTIC SPINAL ADJUSTMENTS. The above is an admirable illustration taken from actual life. No part of the body is presented to view except the restricted area immediately over the spinal column. The Chiropractor carefully palpates the spine finds out exactly where the trouble is and by a peculiar thrust called a CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTMENT replaces the subluxated vertebrae to their normal positions. The cause being thus removed the life force will flow freely without interruption and you will regain your health. Try it and find out what a blessed thing for suffering Humanity Chiropractic is. INVESTIGATIONS NOT BLUEFS

It is remarkable that during these strenuous times when there was always apparent opportunity to loot, and those who were willing to take a chance, that so little real graft has been exposed. True, tremendous sums of money have been expended, and mistakes have been made, and some of it might have been saved had the proper people been known before what they learned later. Of the many investigations asked and granted the finding of criminal guilt has been small indeed. Hog Island was investigated, and the achievements accomplished there in the short time given, more than justified the costs, enormous though they were. Today, it is said to be worth more to certain cities for commercial use than it cost the government.

The air service perhaps blundered, and an investigation was asked, and it was not denied. President Wilson showed no disposition to whitewash and named the investigator the man most noted of all in America for honest, fearless, thorough investigation. The man who ran against him for the presidency, Chas. E. Hughes, who made his reputation as an investigator in more than one case where there was need of investigation. He gave his o. k. to the air service.

Just recently our republican brethren accused the president of giving Wall street magnates an inner track and inside knowledge of the treaty and they had scarcely made the charge before investigation was demanded, and here is the way the editor of an exchange tells of the result: "Somebody blundered. The trap was sprung after the quarry had passed, and just in time to catch the hunters. When Senator Lodge told the senate he had discovered a copy of the treaty in New York, it was hailed by his companions as another evidence of the president's perfidy; for had not Mr. Wilson promised that the treaty should not be given out until signed, and had not Wall street copies for the purpose of taking financial advantage of the treaty terms before the rest of the country knew them? Yet matters have not turned out as expected. The investigation disclosed the fact that the copy of the treaty seen by Mr. Lodge was in the hands of Elihu Root, a republican. Mr. Root testifies that he got it from Mr. Davison, a republican. Mr. Davison got the treaty from Mr. Lamont of Morgan & Company, a republican. Mr. Lamont got the treaty as a confidential adviser of the Paris conference. Thus the whole matter from beginning to end, was republican, and so was all right. Really, this will not do. A few more investigations like this and the republican senators will look as ridiculous to themselves as they now do to the rest of the country."

Edith Cavell reminded them that she had always taught them that "devotion to duty would bring you true happiness and that the thought that you had done your duty earnestly and cheerfully before God and your own conscience would be your greatest support in the trying moments of life and in the face of death." She was not thinking of herself as she wrote; but no words could describe more exactly the guiding principle of her own life. The other day the body of the victim of German inhumanity was brought home to England to rest where her memory will forever invoke reverence for her heroism and womanliness, and will inspire love of country. At Brussels, at Westminster Abbey, and at her native city of Norwich the people in dense throngs silently offered their impressive testimony to "that brave woman who deserves a great deal from the British Empire," as the Bishop of London said. The service at Norwich Cathedral was officially described as "For the funeral of Edith Cavell, a nurse who gave her life for her countrymen."

Like her life and her service, so the tribute to her was simple, unostentatious, sincere. The gun-carriage, the Union Jack, the transfer on a war-vessel, the naval and military ceremonies, were such as might be fitting for an honored soldier fallen in battle, but the real offering of respect and affection was not in external ceremony but in the heartfelt remembrance her countrymen and all the non-German world have of her devotion and martyrdom. Not so is it with spies or traitors! The Germans never did a baser thing than when they coupled the word disloyalty with that of Nurse Cavell, meaning not disloyalty to England or her duty but disloyalty to their view of her obligations to their military laws. Equally characteristic was their attempt to show that giving help to soldiers escaping from Belgium into Holland was giving military aid to Germany's enemy. Nurse Cavell was too honest to lie; her admissions were twisted to make her violation of military rules something quite different from what it really was. Even so, there was absolutely no military law which made death the only punishment for what were alleged to have been her acts. But if law allows a choice between brutality and moderation, when did German militarism ever choose the humane course? She was not a spy; she was not making war; she was saving lives and doing kindly offices to countrymen in distress. Her judges murdered her in haste, having concealed their murderous intention lest the whole world should protest and put a moral barrier of shame against the act. Her last words are said to have been: "Patriotism is not enough. I must have no hatred and no bitterness toward any one."

It is well at this time when German delegates in Paris are complaining that their country is being treated severely to remember, through this memory of the quiet, efficient nurse who loved her country and her countrymen, that her murder was typical of that German spirit of hard humanity the world-wide rule of which has been averted only by the sacrifice of life and treasure untold.

A STUDENT'S VIEW OF HOME COMING (From The Goldenrod)
Last Thursday, when alumni of this school began to come into town and up here to school, I began to feel that I, myself, would some day like to be included in that group. I really made no plans as to whether I should some day come back to the Normal to finish when I came, but from the time I first heard that there was to be "Homecoming Day" I looked forward to its coming, to see certain friends who were graduates of this institution. I know that this feeling will be much stronger if I ever come back as an alumnus, to meet my old friends and classmates, and to recall old memories and good times. I enjoyed the speeches by the class sponsors in chapel Friday morning very much and knew that as an alumnus these would have meant much to me. But to me they brought to mind the fact that the tricks and pranks and good times boasted of by the former classes, will be as nothing compared with ours. From "behind the screen" I saw that the banquet was a time of enjoyment and "get together" for the different classes. The old time spirit and the old time yells still survived. And some of the classes even seemed to have their old time yell leader with them. From the expression on the faces of those present I think they too, look forward to another Home Coming and they will cooperate with the classes to come in having a good time at the next Home Coming.

New Rates Established For Long Distance Calls

Charges Quoted Are Based On Different Kinds of Service Provided

This company has put into effect retroactive to May 21, new regulations governing charges for long distance telephone calls. These regulations are the same as have been in effect for interstate telephone calls since January 21. They have not been put in force before because only recently the United States Supreme Court fixed the authority for making telephone rates within the state. The principal change from the former method of determining long distance telephone rates is that instead of one class of service there are several, each with a different rate.

For example, there is to be one rate for "station to station" calls when anyone at a certain telephone is wanted, another rate for "person to person" calls when a definite party is desired, another for "appointment" calls, for night calls, and so on.

Basis of Rates

The basis of all charges on long distance telephone calls is the "station to station" rate. This is determined by the air line distance between towns. The rate is computed for the initial period of conversation on the basis of 5 cents for each six miles up to 24 miles and 5 cents for each eight miles beyond that distance.

"Station to Station" Service

The "station to station" rate applies when the calling party does not ask to talk to a particular person at the telephone designated, but merely to anyone who answers the telephone. The word "station" as used here means "telephone," the service being a telephone to telephone method.

"Station to station" calls must be made either by giving the telephone number wanted or the name or address under which the telephone is listed. If the calling party states that he wishes to talk to a definite person, the "person to person" rate, which is higher, is charged. Charges for "station to station" calls cannot be reversed that is, they cannot be changed to the telephone called.

The "station to station" service is the cheapest and quickest form of long distance communication. It is furnished at a lower rate than other classes of service because it requires less work on the part of the long distance operators and "ties up" the wires for a shorter period than when a particular party must be summoned to the telephone.

"Person to Person" Service

When a call is made, specifying that conversation is desired with a particular person and the connection is established and conversation held with that person, the "person to person" rate applies. As this service requires a greater amount of operating effort and holds the wires for a longer period than "station to station" calls because a particular party must be brought to the telephone before a conversation is held, the rate for such calls is about one-fourth greater than the "station to station" rate.

"Appointment" Rate

When the calling party in placing his call appoints a definite specified time at which he will talk on a "person to person" basis and the conversation is held accordingly, the "appointment" rate applies. The "appointment" rate is about one-half greater than the "station to station" rate.

"Messenger" Calls

When a call is made on a "person to person" basis and a messenger is required to secure attendance of the designated person at a public pay station at the distant point, the "messenger call" rate applies. This rate is the same as the "appointment" rate for the same distance, plus any charge for messenger service. Messenger charges incurred are to be paid even though the desired conversation is not held.

"Report Charge"

The "report charge" applies when a "person to person" call, an "appointment" call or a "messenger" call is made and the particular person desired is not in or will not talk, or when the right telephone address of the particular person desired has not been given and he cannot be reached at a telephone within one hour. Such a charge also applies if the calling party is absent when the connection is completed within one hour, or if he refuses to talk. The cost of handling a call where we are unable to locate the party called, is nearly as great when the person is found and the conversation held. The "report charge" covers a portion of this expense. The rate for a report charge is about one-fourth the "station to station" rate.

"Collect Calls"

"Collect calls" are calls for which the charges are reversed; that is, are to be collected from the subscriber at the distant station at which the call is completed. "Collect calls," or reversed charges, are not allowed in connection with "station to station" calls but are with other classes of service.

Standard Toll Night Rates

The following rates are charged for night service on a "station to station" basis. Night rates do not apply to other classes of service: 8:30 p. m. to 12 midnight—About one-half of the "station to station" day rate. 12:00 midnight to 4:30 a. m.—About one-quarter of the "station to station" day rate. The minimum night rate is 25 cents. Day rates apply on calls made at night when the "station to station" charge is less than the minimum night rate.

Example Showing How the Method is Applied

Following are examples for a call about 150 miles distant:	Report charge	Rate
Completed "station to station" rate—$1.00	Rate between 8:30 p. m. and 12 midnight; "station to station" service only	.50
Completed "person to person" rate	Rate between 12 midnight and 4:30 a. m. "station to station" service only	.25
Completed "appointment" rate	Plus messenger charges.	1.50
Completed "messenger call" rate		1.50

E. E. LACKEY SENDS PAPER

The Democrat has just received from E. E. Lackey a copy of the A. E. F. University News of May 22, and it is full of good things about the educational work under way over there for the benefit of the soldiers, and we clip a paragraph or two which will perhaps give the best idea of the work being accomplished in the fewest words possible. These appeared under the heading: "It Can't Be Done, But It Was." So you see that the American soldier under proper leadership and inspiration can break old time traditions.

"It can't be done" said many experienced military men when it was announced that the army was going to run a university where privates instructed majors and where company officers sat in the classroom with the men of their command. They held that no discipline could be maintained. But the officers and men of the university were complimented by General Pershing only a few weeks later when he made his first visit here.

General Pershing gave every man of the university a close inspection and went about the camp looking over the barracks and buildings. When he had finished, he made an address in which he told the students and administrative officers how well he was pleased with their soldierly appearance, military bearing, and efficiency. His statements proved that Colonel Ira L. Reeves and his large corps of military and educational assistants were making the pioneer enterprise a "go" right off the reel.

This was when the university was young and before everybody had hit his best stride. Things looked much better three weeks later when Secretary Newton D. Baker, of the War department, and General Pershing visited the university. Then everything was running at its best. The Secretary of War looked around and attended several classes. In a speech to the entire student body and administrative personnel, he expressed his gratification at the manner in which the institution was running and praised the success that the instructors were meeting in the classrooms.

Secretary Baker's speech disproved that skeptical educators said before the university was underway. They said that education could not thrive when the students were held under the strict regulations of the army. Now there is not a man who knows anything about the university but who will say that the Army Educational Commission knew exactly what it was talking about when it planned the educational system of the A. E. F. Even the early enthusiasts of the system adopted by the university say that everything is meeting with their expectations and that in many respects the whole thing is going better than they ever hoped it would.

"The system used at the university is absolutely new. No army ever tried out such a plan of education before, and when the founders of the university started to work they had to begin with ideas of their own, without the experience of others by which to profit. A tentative system was organized and applied. It started to get fine results immediately. It has continued to work as well as it did at the beginning."

THE BUSINESS END (From the School News)

The business of the school board is many times transacted in a very loose, unbusiness-like manner, often times men, who are careful in their private business matters, will be careless about the business of the school district.

The best way, and in fact the only legal way, to transact the business of the school board is in a regularly called meeting. The reason why there are usually three or more members of a board is because it is presumed that the judgment of all or of a majority of the board will likely be better than the judgment of one. This is true in most instances, provided there is opportunity for deliberation. The proper place for deliberation is in a meeting of the board.

It is often inconvenient for the board to hold a meeting just when one should be held. Many times it is a real hardship for members to leave their own work to attend to the business of the district, but when one accepts the trust he should be willing to make some sacrifice to fulfill it. It may be urged that members of the school board are not paid for their services, and hence should not be expected to make much of a sacrifice to attend meetings of the board. This is a mistake. A man who accepts such a position should either be willing to make sacrifice or resign. There is no higher trust than that reposed in a member of a school board. Upon the judgment and actions of school boards depends very largely the future of our boys and girls. Let no one presume to hold such a position and then neglect to do his whole duty.

There may be some routine matters and some matters which are largely executive, which may be entrusted to one member or to a committee, but when any contract is to be entered into or a teacher is to be elected or a janitor chosen, a meeting should be held. No contract should be entered into with any traveling agent, except at a regularly called meeting. Of course, such an agent will often urge the lack of time on his part, but the rule should be adhered to. It is a good plan, also, to consult the teacher, the supervisor or the county superintendent, when in doubt, before closing the contract. Often members of the board are not fully posted in regard to the value of certain kinds of equipment or apparatus. At any rate, if a meeting is held, the agent can not make the sale by representing to one member that the others are willing. In many states the members who sign contracts without first holding a meeting of the board are individually liable, and the law should be enforced in such cases. I do not mean that members should not investigate the merits of the wares offered by agents. Often such agents are real benefactors and perform a good service in the advancement of education. But such agents are usually willing to wait until a meeting of the board can be held to consider their propositions.

If possible, there should be meetings of the board at stated times. As a rule these meetings should be open to all people of the district. As far as possible the members of the board should try to keep abreast of educational thought. Money spent for a journal or two which will keep them informed, is money well spent. They should attend conventions of school officers, if such are held. It is a good plan for them to attend educational meetings. It would be a wise investment if the expenses of members of the boards of education were paid when they give the time to attend such meetings. Not many members feel able to take the time and also pay their own expenses, though there are some exceptions. These are to be commended. School boards are engaged in a great work, and time and thought given to it are well invested.

To sum up, I would say to members of school boards: Transact the business of the board in a business-like manner; keep in touch with educational thought and movements by reading some live educational journal and by attending educational meetings; and remember that you occupy one of the most important positions within the gift of the people, and that your actions vitally affect the future of the coming citizens of our country. You will not be paid for your work, but you will receive a reward which can not be measured in money.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mrs. Paul Mines entertained a dozen young girls Monday evening in honor of her cousin, Audrey Shipley, in the Mines home. The first thing on the evening's program was a theater party. Music and dancing interspersed with conversation completed the evening's enjoyment. Miss Alma Craven assisted Mrs. Mines throughout the evening in the entertainment of guests and serving delicious refreshments at a late hour.

Mrs. LeRoy Ley entertained last Friday evening at cards. The house was attractively decorated with garden flowers. The guests seated around ten tables enjoyed playing "500." At a late hour delicious refreshments were served.

Bowling Alley Opens

Saturday will be opening day for the bowling alley beneath the Crystal.

Frank Sederstrom has purchased the excellent equipment, and has it newly fixed—track newly polished, and seats and other things in fine shape for your comfort and pleasure. He invites one and all to drop down Saturday for his opening day treat.

He will open up a fine new line of soft drinks, cigars and tobaccos, and will provide amusement and healthful exercise for one and all.

A little later if desired, he will arrange for a ladies' day each week or oftener.

Frank invites his friends to make his place their headquarters.

BIG BOWERY DANCE

Adams Jazz Band direct from Orpheum Garden

On June 19 the Presbyterians gave their annual picnic at the church, also a welcome to their new pastor, Rev. Beard and family and to the returned soldier boys of the church. Owing to a very heavy rain that came in the afternoon the tables were set in the church. A table, having been reserved for the guests. The rooms looked very pretty having been decorated in an abundance of summer flowers. The tables were loaded with good things to eat. Mrs. C. Craven and committed having charge. After the supper A. R. Davis gave a very fine address of welcome and some excellent music was rendered by the quartet. A grand good time was had by every one present.

The Friwoho Campfire girls and their guardian, Miss Florence Gardner, entertained the Fawhlo Campfire girls and their guardian, Miss Fannie Britell, Wednesday evening at a picnic supper in the city park. In a baseball contest the Friwohe girls won. The Friwoho girls went to the home of their guardian where she entertained them at a slumber party.

The Central Social Circle met at the home of Mrs. John Getman last Thursday afternoon. After a short business meeting a social afternoon was enjoyed by those present. The circle decided to have a picnic in the near future. The next regular meeting will be with Mrs. Gus Wendt, second Thursday in July. The officers for next year will be elected.

Miss Esther Vennerberg will entertain the members of the Fawhlo Campfire girls and their guardian Saturday evening, at her home three miles northeast of town.

BIG STOCK SHIPMENT

One who stops to consider why so much wealth comes to Wayne and Wayne county has but to stand back and look at reports of such stock shipments as went from this place Sunday. Twenty-six car loads, and the chances are that the train value was more than $100,000; for while stock is high, cattle are off a little, and would have sold higher a month ago.

Sixteen cars were consigned to Chicago, all cattle, then six cars went to Omaha and four to Sioux City. Among the shippers were H. D. Schroeder, Wm. Blecke, George and Ben McEachen, George and William Harder, Carl Victor, Henry Meyer, Jr. and Henry Meyer, Jr. It made a lively time at the yards during the day.
