THE FARMERS' MASS CONVENTION NAME CANDIDATE

At the meeting of the farmers in response to the call for a farmers' mass convention, last Saturday was not largely attended, but had more than at the first meeting. One cannot tell who of those present had their lightning rods up, but when the test came, none of those placed in nomination declined to take chances on a ballot. When the votes were counted, Frank Kloppling from near Carroll, and a son of Henry Kloppling, just west of Wayne, was found to have the most votes, and was declared the man to make the race. Mr. Ulrich from near Winside was second in the race.

It will now be necessary for petitions to be circulated to place Mr. Kloppling properly on the ballot, and a committee was named to look after this work.

The editor arrived at the meeting late, but the time was mostly taken up by short informal talks, in which the needs of the state for certain reforms was talked. Mr. Lewis, who was a spectator, was asked to talk, and he did—stating his grounds and his views, much the same as he did the week before. The convention appeared to feel that his views were fair, and were not such as could bring any injury to the farmer interests if incorporated into a constitution. Mr. Kloppling did not make known his platform, but we hope that he will outline the reforms which he thinks necessary for a new constitution and present them to the readers of the Democrat. It is time for the people to study politics a bit.

BURGLARY AT CARROLL

Burglars again made a night visit to Carroll, and escaped without detection. As on the other occasion, they visited the restaurant of Geo. Hulekamp, where they helped themselves to most of the good things in the way of eatables he had in stock, and relieved the till of seven or eight dollars.

They also visited the Lewis Torgery and secured from $100 to $150 worth of clothing, and possibly some shoes, though the proprietor was not sure whether or not his foot wear had been taken.

Sheriff Lewis was there, and bloodhounds were sent in from some near by point, but on account of the heat and drouth they failed to find any trail, and would not work.

The sheriff and Carroll people have no clue to the perpetrators of the deed, and if they have suspicion as to who is guilty they are not saying anything aloud.

CATTLE DIE LIKE FLIES FROM THE HEAT

Inman, Neb., July 22.—Crazed by lack of water during the recent hot weather, when several lakes were dried up and the wind pump refused to work, approximately 150 cattle belonging to J. A. Gifford, eight miles southwest of here, Saturday broke down fences and went in search of water. When they found it they drank so deeply that sixty died almost instantly. Many of the cattle died before reaching the water. The remainder of the livestock is in precarious condition. The loss is placed at $15,000.—Elgin Review.

MISS CHARLOTTE WHITE HAS APPENDIX OPERATION

A card to the Democrat from Omaha dated July 27, tells us that Miss Charlotte White underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Swedish Mission hospital last Monday. The card does not tell whether or not she is doing well, but the fact that she asked for copies of the Democrat leads us to believe that she is on the road to recovery, and is certainly in possession of her natural discriminating mind—and perfectly rational. Hundreds of Wayne friends will wish her a speedy and complete recovery. Beyond doubt a letter or card to her at the hospital named above would be appreciated.

RACE WAR AT CHICAGO

The race trouble seems to be spreading. Last week it was acute at Washington, and a number of both colored and white people were killed and wounded in the onslaught there. This week Chicago is the storm center, and after trying in vain to quell the rioting in parts of that city, the mayor has called on the governor to send the militia to the rescue.

DEATH OF JAMES MCCLURE

Friday evening, June 25, 1919, death came to James M. McClure of this city as the result of infirmities of old age. Mr. McClure was born in Pennsylvania, February 29, 1830, and therefore lacked but a few months of being 90 years of age. From Perry county, the place of his birth, he came to Iowa about thirty-six years ago, and after four years there, to Neligh, and to Wayne thirteen years ago.

It was in this native state that he grew to manhood, married and reared his family. He is survived by the wife he wed fifty-five years ago, and four daughters and three sons, only a part of whom are living near enough to his late home to have been able to reach here for the funeral. The children are Mrs. John Primrose of Eugene, Oregon; Mrs. Wm. Kelley of Vale, Oregon; Mrs. Wm. Faber of Payette, Idaho; and Miss Cora of this place; the sons are Robert of Sloux City, Arthur of Page and Linn of this place.

After a short service here the body was taken to Neligh and laid to rest in the family cemetery lot, where sleep some of the children who have passed on before.

During the years that the family have resided at Wayne they have won many friends, and Mr. McClure was held high in the esteem of all who knew him. A consistent member of the Presbyterian church he has come to his reward at the close of a long, well-spent life.

GYPSIES GIVE TROUBLE

Sheriff Sutton was called to Orchard Monday morning to disperse a band of gypsies that had been giving no end of trouble to the people of that city and vicinity.

It seems that the band, which was affluent enough to travel by automobile, camped near Orchard and besides petty thievery and pilfering were molesting travelers along the road as they went to and from the town. One of the favorite stunts of the dark men and women of the gang was to throw a large post across the road in front of an automobile and when the passengers got out to remove the obstruction they were solicited for fortunes and any small change they might have on their person.

The people of Orchard became tired of the actions of the party and it is reported here that several armed with subguns warned the gypsy chief that it would be best for him to keep his band in close quarters.

Monday evening they had arrived at Neligh but officer Neunenschwander showed them the road and they did not molest people or property here at all.

This is likely the same gang that gave the authorities at Valentine considerable trouble recently. They were a bad lot and did not take kindly to suggestions that other people had ways of doing things that were not in accord with gypsy lore.

The above is taken from the Neligh Register, and it is possible that these are the same band who were here not more than a week ago, when two small lads came to the door of the Democrat office and asked if those people with a number of horses and a wagon or two with a cloth cover over 'em were Gypsies. When assured that Gypsies frequently traveled in that manner with about such a lot of horses, dogs and covered wagons, the lads concluded that they were something to be feared, and that they were in danger, for one says to the other, "Them are Gypsies—come on boy, let's run," and both started at double quick pace for the home nearest the Democrat office.

HARRY SMITH LANDS AT NEW YORK

Monday morning Mrs. J. O. Smith received a telegram announcing the safe arrival of her son, Harry, from overseas. Mrs. Smith had five boys in the service and Harry is the last of the four overseas to return. He was married at Camp Cody last summer and his wife is at Wayne with her people.

Harry was with the Ambulance Company of which Will Griffin, Harry Dahm, Glenn Dennis and other Laurel boys were members.

The above is from the Laurel Advocate, and is referred to was Miss Henderson, who went to Cheyenne county with her parents last spring.

WHAT IS LAND WORTH? WAYNE COUNTY LAND HIGH

Land prices in the good county of Wayne continue to climb, $1,000 land is the latest. A tract of unimproved alfalfa land adjoining Winside, the property of Mr. Weible, sold this week at $11,000 an even thousand the acre.

James Finn of this place sold a quarter section near Sholes at $250 per acre, Dan Martin purchasing.

Rollie Ley has sold a half section west of Wayne to Gus Wessel, at $250 per acre.

The Liveringhouse quarter south of Wayne has been purchased by Messrs. Chas. Meyers and Ben Nisson at $335 the acre. These same men have bought from Ted Perry the Brown half section south of Wayne at $300 the acre.

Gus Kruse and Chas. Meyers purchased from Ted Perry his land just southeast of Wayne about 385 acres at $375 the acre.

ERNEST CHANCE OF CONCORD EXPIRES HERE

Wednesday forenoon Ernest Chance of Concord, an employee of the Gasoline Supply Co. of this place, and Sloux City, who is in charge of the station at Concord, came to Wayne for a load of gas, and while standing by his truck, talking with Manager Phipps of this station dropped dead. Mr. Chance is said to be a man about 37 years of age, and a very excellent employee. He leaves a wife and five children. A funeral service will be held here at 7 o'clock Friday morning from the Beckenhauer undertaking parlors, Rev. D. W. MacGregor preaching and the body will be taken to Gilbert, Iowa, for burial.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS, ATTENTION

Your attention is called to the action of special session of supreme camp, held in Chicago, June 2-5, in regard to changing the rates—a thing all fraternal orders have found it necessary to do.

The table of rates adopted was the lowest possible to insure a safe financial basis, and was based upon actual experience of this society, covering the deaths for twenty-four years—the full period the society has issued benefit certificates.

This question has been referred to the local camps, that every member may have an opportunity to vote for or against this measure. Therefore it is vitally important that each and every member be present at the next regular meeting of Goldenrod Camp No. 207 which occurs next Tuesday evening, August 5, at the I. O. O. F. hall, and cast your ballot for or against this action, as a referendum vote will be taken at that time. This society is deserving of your earnest and loyal support, so avail yourself of the opportunity to show your appreciation of the good that has been done in the past, for we all expect much in the future. Come, Tuesday evening, August 5.—Mrs. Barnett.

FORMERLY OF WINSIDE

Dixon Journal: The Concord correspondent received a letter from Mrs. Nina B. Ecker, former editor of the Dixon Journal and for many years a resident of that town. She is located at Estacada, Oregon, and is local editor of a paper there. Her son, Clyde, is editing a paper at Independence, Oregon. Her daughters, Mayme and Valentine, live at Young, Oregon.

For a number of years Mrs. Ecker was editing the Winside Tribune, and from there went to Oregon. She was a woman of ability, and ambitious to succeed in her work, and we would like to see a copy of her paper.

BUY FARM LAND DIRECTLY FROM OWNERS

I have many good farms for sale in Wayne, Knox, Cedar and Pierce counties, and am in position to put buyer and seller in direct communication, the safest and most satisfactory way to buy, whether for a home or investment. Write me for particulars and prices and descriptions.—J. M. McMurphy, Wayne, Nebraska. Phone Red 348.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our thanks and appreciation of the many acts of kindness, aid and sympathy extended to us during the last days of husband and father. So many little acts of sympathy and kindness that can never be repaid—we simply thank you.—Mrs. James M. McClure and Children.

PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR ON VACATION TRIP

Monday morning Rev. John Beard and family of the Presbyterian church, left Wayne on a vacation trip. Mrs. Beard and children will stop with her folks at Sloux City, and with them plans an automobile trip through South Dakota. The boys will stay with mother.

Rev. Beard will visit at Hoquiam, Grays Harbor, Washington, where he anticipates a splendid time among the people he served as pastor for a time before he entered service of Uncle Sam as a chaplain. As he intends to do a bit of fishing out in the streams he learned when living there he kindly told the Democrat man his fish story in advance. He is going to the junction of two streams, where they meet at right angles, at the foot of a ledge of rocks, creep down to the edge forty feet above the deep pool made by the eddying waters, and drop his hook over, first securely anchoring himself to keep from following the hook, and would offer to wager if it were not against his rules, that the first throw he will bring up a beautiful trout measuring at least two feet in length, and weighing from ten to twelve pounds. At any rate he said that was a very reasonable thing to expect from his previous experiences at that particular spot. He tells us that this pool is made from water almost ice cold, coming from the melting snows but a short distance above, for some parts of the section of the state are nearly on edge, and high and low altitudes are almost one just above the other. We wish him as much pleasure in fishing as he seemed to anticipate.

Baptist Give Farewell Party

Members of the Baptist church gave a very pleasant surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hughes and daughter, Miss Ina, Tuesday evening in appreciation of their loyal service to the organization, and because of the fact that they are soon to move to a new home at Seattle, Washington, where they have a daughter residing, and where Miss Ina is to attend the university. About sixty members of the church and congregation gathered at the church, and went in a body to the Hughes' home, where a social hour was spent, and where with fitting remarks, Mr. and Mrs. Hughes were presented with a set of silver knives and forks, and from the young people Miss Ina was presented with a handsome cut glass sugar bowl and creamer. Many friends will miss the Hughes family, and especially will Miss Ina be missed from the church choir, where she well filled a leading part.

The same evening these good people stopped at the parsonage long enough to present Mrs. Pratt, the pastor's wife, with a handsome health book, it is called, and it must have been, for each leaf was a dollar bill—and they make for health and happiness these times.

LOOKING NORTH FOR LAND

B. Stevenson, a general agent of the Great Northern Development association, was at Wayne Wednesday evening on his way to North Dakota, where his association is selling lots of very choice land at a money making price for those who buy now. He tells us that northern Nebraska farmers have purchased more than 6,000 acres there in the past few weeks. We have noticed by our Cedar county exchanges that many from that county have been visiting this new offering, and are buying generously of the land which looks so good to them. They are running two excursions a week from this part of the state.

NOTICE OF REMOVAL

Dr. Blair is moving his office this week to commodious and pleasant rooms above the law office of F. S. Berry. Here he will be pleased to see and serve his patrons as usual.

Fred L. Blair and family were visiting at Fremont Wednesday, returning this morning, and Fred tells us that they were fortunate enough to see Uncle Sam's big military truck train pass that way, and that it gave him increased respect for that branch of army service. In fact, it was due to such service that in a great measure the American forces put one over on the Germans.

SOCIAL NOTES

Miss Charlotte Ziegler was hostess at a most interesting meeting of the Girls' Bible Study Circle Saturday evening led by Magnus Christensen, a young man from near Allen who is going out to Africa soon under the Scandinavian Alliance board. His message, his singing, his trombone music was all appreciated greatly and was an inspiration to all. It seems that Emil Sywulka went from Wayne to Oskaloosa, Iowa, last January and dropped into the school where young Christensen was attending and gave one address telling of the thousand by thousand miles in the heart of Africa, of solid unrelieved gloom penetrated by no missionary as yet, and young Christensen's heart was touched to carry the gospel there. After the lesson and heart to heart talks it was decided to have a vacation until September when school opens.

The Country Club Picnic

Wednesday afternoon and evening the members of the Wayne Country club entertained their friends at their annual picnic, and their neatly kept grounds was the scene of many a jolly party of picnickers. Many Wayne people were there as guests, and a number of outside towns were represented. A party of nine came from Sloux City, among them were Mike Shearman and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Knaper and son and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Duggan and son.

Mr. Shearman is an expert golf player, and it was a pleasure for our players and others to watch him play. After the dinner the evening hours were spent socially and in dancing, and one and all report the picnic a success.

The Friwoho Campfire girls enjoyed a camping excursion last week.

They camped in true campers' style in the John Vennerberg grove northwest of town. Meals were cooked over an open fire and served in the open. The girls slept on the ground in the open thus proving themselves true campers. Friday night they enjoyed a fishing party at the cut-off five miles northeast of town. All returned Saturday evening tired, hot, sunburned and happy. Visitors at the camp were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Mitchell and daughter and Mr. J. B. Wallace. The next meeting will be a ceremonial meeting at the home of their guardian, Florence Gardner.

Sunday was the sixtieth birthday of Mrs. Mary E. Stubbs of this city, and the day following she was to start on a journey, so a number of friends, neighbors and relatives decided to surprise her with a birthday party. A splendid dinner was served and then ice cream and cake came later in the day. Among the guests were Joe Sheets and family of Wisner, Perry Owens, Lloyd Rubeck, and Mrs. Emma Liveringhouse and others. The afternoon was happily spent.

The Rural Home society held their July meeting at the home of Mrs. John McIntyre, and spent a very delightful afternoon in a social way. The hostess served choice refreshments to the guests, and only the usual order of business was considered. The August meeting the last Thursday of the month will be with Mrs. M. T. Munstinger.

Mrs. A. E. Laase was hostess Tuesday afternoon at a very happy meeting of the Bible Study Circle. After the beautiful lesson, plans were made to send flowers to Miss Charlotte White who is in the Swedish Mission hospital, Omaha, operated on Saturday for appendicitis.

There was a score of young folks at the W. L. Fisher home Friday evening in honor of Miss Alice's fifteenth birthday, and all enjoyed a musical program, and Miss Alice was showered with congratulations. Light refreshments were served.

Tomorrow (Friday) evening at 6:30 the O. E. S. covered dish supper is to take place at their dining hall, after which the meeting will be held, and initiation of candidates will take place. All are urged to be present.

CARROLL I. O. O. F. INSTALL

Last Thursday evening District Deputy P. C. Crockett for this district, accompanied by W. L. Fisher and H. Griggs went to Carroll and installed the new officers of the Odd fellows, and report a splendid meeting.

MASTER JOHN RANNEY ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

At Bloomfield Wednesday a fatal accident occurred, in which John the 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ranney lost his life. The work of remodeling the old Gossard garage at that place was under way, and the lad was riding past on a bicycle as a wall fell out and caught him beneath it, causing immediate death. The entire building collapsed, and one boy working there was injured, but not dangerously. The father, Conductor G. D. Ranney is one of the men who regularly visit Wayne in charge of one of the Bloomfield passenger trains, and he has many Wayne friends who will sympathize with them in their sudden bereavement.

TROUP NO. 3 IN CAMP

Early Monday morning two autos in charge of Scout Master Wm. Beckenhauer, and his assistant A. M. Hering, left Wayne for a week in camp at King lake, a body of water southwest of Pilger. They are camped at a place where the waters of the Elkhorn and those of the lake are not far apart, and are said to be having the week of their lives. Mr. Beckenhauer visited camp Wednesday, and reports that all are happy. The following lads make up the party, which is in charge of Mr. Hering:

Claude Cadwell, Melvin Eickler, Gordon Lackey, Charlie Senter, Elmer Olson, Lawrence Thompson, Elmer Owen, Don Wallert, Lyle Mabbott, Joe Nichols, Phillip Barlow, Edwin Smith and Geo. Hartstrom.

They are catching fish enough for their table.

FIVE HUNDRED DOLLAR LAND IN WAYNE COUNTY

Chas. Rubeck and family, who went by automobile to New Mexico for the health of Mrs. Rubeck, returned the first of the week, the altitude there being too high for the lady. Charlie tells us that he listed his farm before leaving at $50 per acre, and that the first thing he did upon returning was to raise the price to $500 per acre. He says that after looking over the country between here and New Mexico and remembering what he knows of lands east of here, he considers his new price very reasonable.

THE CHAUTAUQUA NEXT WEEK

Plans are moving toward a successful chautauqua meet at Wayne this year, beginning next Tuesday. Manager J. G. Mines asks that you be told that 8:30 has been fixed as the hour for the evening sessions to begin, as it is not time by the sun at 8 o'clock, and so the hour is changed from that printed in the program booklet.

The program outlined this year is quite different from that of other seasons, and promises many interesting features as well as instructive.

R. R. SMITH BUYS RENNICK RESIDENCE

Win. Rennick has sold his modern Wayne home to R. R. Smith, a farmer who has long lived six miles west of Wayne. The consideration is reported at $15,000, which is certainly a most reasonable price, and less than the place could be built for today, and it was new less than three years ago. Possession is to be given October 1st.

WEINANDT HELD UP

Last Thursday night as Alex Weinandt was going home after closing his place of business an unknown man attempted to hold him up near the Boyd restaurant on Main street. Mr. Weinandt was ordered to hold up his hands but instead of raising his hands he raised his voice making such a loud outcry that the would be thief hastily made his get away without further effort to get the money. Mr. Weinandt will not depend entirely on his vocal organs again to defend himself and his property in case of another attack.—Emerson Enterprise.

ARE WE GROWING BETTER?

County Judge Cherry tells us this morning that for the past week there has been nothing doing in police court or the county court—not even a wedding to break the monotony. The last was a little flurry from Hoskins charging assault and drunks—and that is to come for hearing at a later date. He says our lawyers are all away is the reason of the lull of business.

The fellow who said, when we were having what seemed too much rain for a time being, three weeks ago, that we did not want any more rain for a month has changed his mind. It has not been near that time since we had a nice rain, yet at this writing Saturday afternoon, farmers are wondering if the corn is to prove a failure for want of rain at the needed time.

Wm. Child and wife came from Gordon Sunday to visit at the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Bannister. They were accompanied by the lady's mother, Mrs. Kate Thompson, a sister of Mr. Bannister, who will visit him and other relatives here. Mr. Child admits that it has been pretty hot and dry at their home, and that rain is needed to make things look their best.

West Point people want a new building for their postoffice. The business of the office there amounts to nearly $11,000 annually, but it costs more than that sum to conduct the business of the office, counting the rural lines out of there. The postmaster's salary is $2,000. Postmaster W. H. Haystick has been reappointed, but the senate has not yet confirmed, but it is fair to suppose that they will do so.

A new livery barn is to be built at West Point, says the Democrat. We thought the livery barn was a thing of the past. Since the writer came to Wayne less than nine years ago two livery barns have been eliminated, and in their place are six garages. Yet people wonder that it costs more to live now than it once did. We live faster. We still have one barn where teams may be put in, but it does not seem to be crowded. In fact, the auto and the truck are putting the teams off the roads.

Chiropractic Restores to Normal Conditions

CHIROPRACTORS do not treat effects, disease, people or anything else. They fix, adjust, repair, put to right, replace to normal conditions. Effects can only be treated. CAUSES CANNOT BE TREATED. They must be made right by replacing the subluxated (displaced) bones where they belong. A person has a headache—the old way would be to treat the headache. The CHIROPRACTOR finds a subluxated cervical vertebra pressing on the nerves, causing the ache. He gives an adjustment, the pressure on the nerves is relieved and the ache ceases. Inaction of painful sensations of stomach, liver, kidneys and other organs are caused by the nerves being pinched at their exit from the spinal column. Relieving the pressure allows mental impulse to act and flow un-interrupted to the various organs. Digestion, assimilation and circulation are improved; strength, vigor and tone are given to the physical and mental thus making men and women better prepared to perform their business avocations and to enjoy life. CHIROPRACTIC is for YOU. Give it a fair trial and you will be more than satisfied. Consultation and Spinal Analysis Free.

such laws as the people of the state may want, even if these wishes may not be approved of in advance by the wise guys.—Geneva Signal.

From the reading of a story in the Randolph Times-Enterprise, it leaves the impression that some of the stock dealers at that place have been using the railway stock yards for feed yards until there was such a stench when rain and wind conditions were just so that it was near unbearable. The kick that was raised would have put any liquid refreshment in the prohibited class p. d. o. So Superintendent Blondell went up and smelled round a bit and issued an order that the yards are to be used only for assembling hogs for shipment, and not a place in which to hold and feed while waiting for a car load, or for a better market.

The members of the Randolph home guard last week received their honorable discharge from service of the state. There was a membership of 240, though but a part of them were members of the drill team. They did guard duty much the same as did the men and boys here. All are to receive an honorable discharge papers, though but a part of them attended their drills—but all responded to the call for duty as it came time to go on guard.

Some one who has been visiting at Albion points with shame at Wayne without paving, and says that Albion has as much as forty blocks paved. What did those who said that ever do to get forty blocks paved at Wayne? One must do, not stand off and make comparisons unfavorable to the home town. We are glad to hear that Albion has progressed so nicely, and wish those who know so much about it would tell us how they got their start.

According to the circular letter said to have been circulated at Norfolk, no resident of that city or within five miles of that place will find a welcome at the Country club grounds unless a member. Well, if we lived within the prescribed territory we would not want to go there. We would not want to associate with such a narrow, exclusive gang.

Edgar Howard of the Columbus Telegram has changed his plan for a big list to call a mass meeting to be held at Lincoln some day this week and now asks those who want to go on record against the peace treaty and the league of nations—or in other words all who wish to continue at war with Germany indefinitely, to call a mass meeting for their community and pass resolutions and wire them to the senators. We are not of the number who oppose the treaty or the league, but if any number of American citizens in this community wish to publish a call for such a meeting at Wayne the columns of this paper are open for the call with their signatures. In fact, we would like to know, if any there are here who oppose the league and have the courage of their convictions enough to come out and say so over their signature.—Edgar Howard appears to feel that he must be against the league and the peace if Senator Hitchcock is for it. Hitchcock might be right once, and if so, Edgar should admit the fact and, if he cannot join with him, at least not oppose him.

The socialism with which North Dakota has begun to experiment is a middle class socialism. It is an uprising against the capitalist and the banker, not by the disinherited proletariat but by a community of prosperous land owners. Between 1900 and 1910 the number of farms in the United States increased from 5,737,372 to 6,361,502 or about 11 per cent. In the same period the number of farms in North Dakota increased from 45,000 to 74,000 or about 65 per cent. In the same decade the value of farm property in the United States increased from $20,000,000,000 to $40,000,000,000, or 100 per cent and in North Dakota the increase was from $255,000,000 to $975,000,000 or 280 per cent. The growth of farm wealth in North Dakota during the decade was greater even than in golden Kansas or Nebraska. If, therefore, a social revolution is under way in North Dakota, it would be the kind of revolution which arises, not from the misery of a people, but in a community that is well off and is determined to be still better off. The North Dakota experiment is of interest as a bourgeois movement along socialistic lines; and not the least valuable lesson we may wait for is to see how North Dakota goes at the solution of its own labor problems in relation not only to the town worker but the farm laborer.—New York Post.

The fellows who do not want to endorse the league of nations idea because we did not get all we wanted—all we hoped for, perhaps—should remember that a lot of other nations did not get what they wanted. England's ruler will be deprived of most of the little power that the people of England had not taken from him. The ruler of Italy will be named by the people. The kaiser did not like all of the provisions, yet his people and the government have accepted. The German people may have thought they were swallowing a big dose—a bitter one to some—but in time we believe that to them it will be as great a blessing as was the acceptance of the principles of the Declaration of Independence to the colonists of this country. We have a league with England as to Canada and the great lakes, and it works fine. It has saved us millions of money and much worry. Why not take in the world and stop all worry as to war?

England has decided, it is said, to nationalize its coal. That is right. Why should any one be allowed to monopolize more of the natural resources of the land than he can use? Be it coal, water or land. Just as this is announced come the report of the discovery of oil on the little island. This was made by the government, and should be owned and controlled by the government, be there much or little of it. But under the laws of England the man who has title to the surface has first claim, and neither the government that bored for it, nor the geologist who pointed out where it should be found, have much show to receive the first direct benefit.

It is reported that an investigation is to be made of certain war expenses, which were high, and which some claim were needlessly high. Perhaps the committee if one shall be named, will look into the bacon deal. Uncle Sam was going in strong and preparing to fight some real scrappers when he tackled Germany, and so planned for another twelve months of trouble for the Germans and their allies, before they would holler enough. But they seemed to realize that they were up against the real thing, and laid down suddenly. After a time, when order was beginning to come out of the war contracts, Uncle Sam found that he had accumulated plenty of bacon and ham for another year of war, and so offered to receive bids on the same. The report is that sixty-eight bids were received, not one of which exceeded half the cost of the bacon to the government, and some of the bids by the very people who had been selling bacon. These bids were rejected mighty suddenly, and now the bacon is being sold to cities at the original cost, a number of municipalities buying and giving their people the benefit of a chunk of fat meat without paying tribute to the packing house trust.

HONEYBEES MAKING A RECORD

The honey crop of the United States was 92.1 per cent of normal on July 1, according to the estimates. Reports to the bureau of crop estimates warrant the estimate that the yield of surplus honey per colony was 25.3 pounds and that about one-half of the annual product per colony was realized by July 1. At the same date in 1918 the estimated surplus was 21.4 pounds per colony. At the same date in 1917 it was 13.5 pounds. The high condition of 92.1 per cent of normal on July 1 this year compares with 66.7 in 1918 and 88.3 in 1917.

THE NEW CONSTITUTION

Some people are beginning to wake up to the fact that it is time to be doing something about the new constitution, and to that end are breaking out in print advocating the points they consider important. The following letter from D. J. Wood, of Jefferson county has been given us for passing on to the Democrat readers. It appeared in the Nebraska Farmer of recent date, and perhaps has the McKelvin endorsement, though it does not say so—and may not, for he has repudiated or disclaimed responsibility for all that appears in his paper.

"Inasmuch as all the state officials' duties, save that of the governor, are secretarial, it would be economy and a wise thing to have them appointed by the governor as the president does his cabinet. The governor is held accountable for the success of his regime, and he is entitled to name his subordinates, who should be in sympathy with his ideals, men that he personally knows to be efficient, able, true men, capable of filling such offices to which he might appoint them. This is in the direction of the shorter ballot.

The idea of one house legislature is growing. It is going to win sooner or later. Too much time and money is wasted in the double house way; with the initiative and referendum law in force, one house could do the work of both. One man from each county would be a sufficiently large membership.

Our tax scheme needs revision. A man's home, residence and its contents, such as library, household goods, musical instruments, clocks and watches, paintings, sewing machines, all works of art, and the like, that go to make up an efficient, intelligent home, should be exempt, also the professional tools, as the farm implements and the tools of carpenter, dentist, doctor, blacksmith; tools that any man uses to make a livelihood should not be taxed.

The home should be encouraged to get its best in library, art and science, to help raise the youth of the state to be the best citizens in all particulars, especially in the esthetic things of life. This would encourage the parents to put all the money into the home that they could spare; now we tax beauty in architecture, art and science. The rich can stand taxation. The poor should not be kept poor by taxing the necessary things by which they earn their daily bread. The new constitution should protect our people and not oppress them. It should provide ways and means for an intelligent, cultured and refined citizenship. It should carry out the state motto 'equality before the law,' so that the burden of taxation should fall upon those able to bear it and on the luxuries, not on the necessities of life."

And when all is said, the peace settlement, as formulated, contains much more of the idea of the fourteen points than it omits. With admitted faults, it is the most democratically minded big peace ever formulated in the world. The imperialists have been forced to compromise too. No theory, however good, ever went into practice without undergoing important modifications. Where the object is really imperialistic concessions are made to the spirit of the hour by professing an ultimate democratic intention. Democracy itself is compromise. That is its spirit—a free flux of political opinions in which those that attract the majority shall be accepted by everybody. Only Czarism and Bolshevism propose to reject compromise.—Yeomen Shield.

TELLS OF TOWNLEYISM IN NORTH DAKOTA

Warns What To Expect If League Should Get Into Control In Nebraska

"Red socialists of the revolutionary type have seized control of the government in North Dakota and plan to establish there the first soviet state in America," declared Assistant Attorney General Frank E. Packard of North Dakota speaking at the noon luncheon of the commercial club Wednesday, while in the city as the guest of local members of the bar," says the Lincoln Star.

"Mr. Packard is one of the league insurgents who are fighting against Townley's dominion in his state.

"Ninety per cent of the men who compose the inner circle of the non-partisan league are red card socialists," continued Mr. Packard. "This did not happen by accident. The organization has been carefully built up on that basis—not under the name of socialism, but with its essential substance. Its program has been carefully planned, and a large part of it is now about to be put into effect."

"Mr. Townley and his associates realize that they cannot expect to maintain themselves indefinitely by relying on the support of the farmers because farmers are capitalists and do not believe in socialist theories. North Dakota farmers are beginning to desert the nonpartisan league, and to make up their defection the leaders now hope to bring in large numbers of 'wage slaves' from the outside upon whose votes they will rely to maintain themselves in power."

Mr. Packard warned his hearers that the "reds" now have their eyes on Nebraska and that this state may expect soon to be overrun with socialist agitators like Walter Thomas Mills preaching a doctrine of class hatred and attempting to stir up the farmers against their neighbors in the towns and cities.

The above is some of the matter that is being sent over Nebraska by those who apparently fear or know they have reason to fear the people of the state taking a part in the coming constitutional convention. Townley may be a bad man, and he may have had a controlling influence over the legislature of this year in our sister state. It is presumed that he did. It is admitted that North Dakota passed some drastic laws—but they were driven to it by the constant grinding of corporations who for years have robbed the citizens of that great commonwealth. Any business concern that has constantly treated the people right has nothing to fear from them. At a referendum vote the citizens of North Dakota placed the brand of their approval upon the acts of their representatives. Nebraska people have the same privilege—and will have the final say in any questions on which the proposed constitutional convention may take a stand. That fact alone will tend to keep the constitutional convention fellows in line.

If as Mr. Packard says, 90 per cent of the men who compose the inner circle of the nonpartisan league are the red card socialists it is claimed they are well venture to bet dollars to doughnuts that they will not be able to keep the people of the state in their power or rob them as completely and systematically as they have been by great corporations in other years as long as this same people have submitted to the rule of corrupt corporation bosses. Any organization that confides in the people and depends upon them to be continued in power from this time on is not going far wrong. The people are waking up.

WAIT HEAD AT SOLDIERS' HOME

Addison Wait, formerly secretary of state and until recently adjutant of the soldiers and sailors' home maintained by the state at Grand Island, has been appointed commandant of that institution.

Mr. Wait will succeed Samuel Jones who has resigned because of press of other business. Mr. Jones has been in charge but few months, having succeeded Commandant Walsh, who resigned last winter when a legislative committee camped on his trail.

The board of control has also named Rev. J. W. Waits, a minister from Valparaiso, to be adjutant of the home. Mr. Waits is a veteran of the Spanish-American war who saw service in the Philippines. Under the law a veteran of any war may be adjutant.

Up until six years ago the law limited the appointment of commandant to union veterans of the civil war. Then the legislature amended it so that the veteran of any war might be named. Two years ago the law was changed back again, so that now it is impossible for the board of control to name as commandant any one who did not serve on the union side in the war of the rebellion. This means he must be over seventy-two years of age, which limits the list of available.

ARE WE LAND CRAZY?

If so it is becoming world-wide.
But we are not wild or crazy.
People are now waking up to Land Values.

I have been making regular trips to Cheyenne county, Nebraska, and to Cheyenne county, Colorado, in vicinity of Cheyenne Wells, and I have seen their crops there—I have taken men there to see the crops—and after seeing they wanted some of the land that raised such crops—and in the past few weeks many pieces of land have been sold through my agency—a total of several sections. If you want land that will advance in price as surely as land is doing here—as it is doing in Iowa, come with me and price some of the good land I am offering in these good western localities. I can tell you truthfully that it will advance sharply in price very shortly—in fact it is already doing so. Every advance in this country—and you know they are being made daily, means an advance there. It is the only logical conclusion. In these western counties men of more moderate means can buy—men of ample means can purchase more acres.

If you want a home we can locate you where opportunity is good—if you want an investment, we feel confident that we can help you make it where it will prove valuable—especially if you decide to purchase in the very near future.

Call and let us talk it over in confidence.

THE SHEEP INDUSTRY IS BECOMING PROFITABLE

From an exchange which carries an article on the growing of sheep on good land, we find the following paragraphs which indicate that there may be some profit in the industry, if properly managed:

Mr. Moody is a believer in Western ewes. The record of one bunch is especially interesting. In July, 1916, one hundred and twenty-two yearling Montanas were bought. They were crossed with a Dorset ram, began lambing January first and raised 124 lambs—a notable record for yearling western sheep. One hundred and ten lambs were sold for $995; fourteen sold for $126. The ewes averaged seven pounds of wool that sold at 75 cents a pound or $3.85 a head, bringing a commendable grand total income for the season of $1,590.70.

The next year they began lambing in November. Seventy-one of the ewes dropped seventy-four lambs sufficiently early to be termed "hot house lambs," and the lambs were hog-dressed and shipped by express to New York, where they brought $876. The other fifty-one ewes dropped seventy-four lambs that were sold on January 11, 1919. These lambs averaged ninety-five pounds, and sold at sixteen cents a pound. Only one lamb that was born alive was lost and this was through an unavoidable accident. They sheared on an average of seven and a half pounds of wool that sold for sixty-five cents a pound. Of this year's lamb crop seventy-five lambs at this writing. None have been lost.

Mr. Moody raises barley instead of oats because the yield in bushels secured is practically the same as with oats, they weigh heavier, and he considers them just as good feed for his purpose.

NARROW ESCAPE

Harry Hoeck recently discharged from the service went over the top in a very spectacular fashion Sunday afternoon out near Theo. Peter's farm when his car run off the bridge and rolled over and over down the embankment. He was thrown out once but the car took another turn after he had gotten in again. The wonder was that he was not injured severely but a hard jolting and some bruises seem to be the extent of his hurt. The car was broken up some but not as much as was to be expected.—Emerson Enterprise.

The play, "Too Fat to Fight" pleased a lot of people at the Crystal Monday evening, and was a good one. Some think it gave too much credit to the Y. M. C. A., and we know from reports that the Y workers, or at least some of them got in bad with the individual members of the army. The charge of profiteering has been repeatedly made, and there may be truth in the charge—but in spite of all that we contend that the Y. M. C. A. in common with a lot of others helped to win the victory, keep up the morale of the army and really did a great work. It is unfortunate that they so conducted their canteen system as to permit any criticism. She will first go to Clarinda, then to what is left of the old pioneer town of Hawleyville. This was one of the first towns in that part of Iowa, and had a mill run by water power. But the railroad passed by an other way, and it continued to do a bit of mill work, a blacksmith shop and a store or two. It was also for a number of years the headquarters for the old settlers' picnic, but finally that organization accepted an invitation to meet at Villisca, and then tried Hawleyville a time or two and then moved permanently to the railroad town. Then came the rural route and took most of the business from the postoffice. A fire recently took several buildings, and they have not been rebuilt. Eventually, we think the postoffice will be discontinued, and all that will remain will be the story of Hawleyville.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Underwood from Whittier, California, came Wednesday morning to visit a day or two at the E. O. Gardner and G. A. Wade homes. Mr. and Mrs. Underwood have been living in California for the past fourteen years, and as he recently sold the business which kept him busy there, they voted to come back to Iowa and Nebraska and see the corn fields once more, for both are natives of Iowa. Mr. Underwood seems to recognize the ear marks of a good corn country, and one of his first remarks was to the effect that we had picked out a good farming country to land on when we came to Wayne. He had been at Sheldon, Iowa, before coming to Wayne, and he said that the way they are speculating in land over there makes him think that California land boomers have nothing over those of this part of the country. He said that some land about Sheldon is selling as high as $800 per acre. He said the fact that the Iowa bankers had served notice that no loans would be made on Iowa lands on a basis of more than $250 per acre did not seem to discourage in the least. He told of a deal in which a half section had contracted at $600 per acre, and the purchaser had paid but $9,000 down on the deal. In his opinion Wayne county lands are equal to those around Sheldon, though a little more rolling. They leave Friday to visit at their old home at Villisca, Iowa, and will then go home via Kansas City.

Miss Laurie Surprise from Iowa returned home the first of the week after visiting Mrs. Ivor Morris and other friends at Carroll.

Mrs. O. B. Nelson, who has been visiting here at the home of L. E. Panabaker and wife, returned to her home at Bonesteel, South Dakota, Monday.

Mrs. Ed. Owen arrived home from Rochester this morning, where she has been staying for the past five or six weeks taking treatment and where she underwent an operation.

Miss Alma Butterfield of Verdigre terminated a ten-day visit at the Wm. Buetow home where she was the guest of Miss Gertrude, Monday and left for her home. She reports a splendid time.

Miss Lulu Ross has gone to Lathrop, Missouri, where she was for a year or more taking treatment from a specialist. She will take charge of the book work at this place for the care and treatment of the sick.

A number of parties from this vicinity were out for a day the first of the week where there was chance to swim, and you can tell some of the lads from the way they ask each other how their back feels. The Sunday sun was pretty hot.

Mrs. Willard Auker, now living at Sioux City, was taken to a hospital there the first of the week to submit to an operation for some stomach trouble. She is said to be doing well. The children were brought to the home of his brother here. S. E. Auker went to the city this morning to visit his son and the afflicted wife.

N. J. Juhlin returned this morning from Long Pine, and reports that a splendid rain was falling there when he left. The rain extended far this way, and Bloomfield and Crofton are said to have had generous rains last night. It is cooler here this morning, and a very little rain falls at times.

Chas. McMakin, who is starring this summer with the Walter Savidge Amusement Company, was over from Wisner Wednesday, greeting Wayne friends. He says that business is good—but for some reason he had failed to receive the Democrat with which we tried to follow him. They will be through here Sunday, moving up one of the branch lines.

Adolph Dorman, northwest of Wayne is now having a tract of wet land tiled out, which will make it some of the best land on his farm. J. W. Ten Brink of Fremont is here with a force of other experienced men to put the job through. Land in this part of Nebraska is too valuable to permit it to remain idle, or be of but half value, when tiling will make it the most productive part of the farm. On that theory, which is coming more and more to be accepted as sound Mr. Ten Brink tells us that he has a growing business, and one that is more profitable to the man who engages him to tile the land than to himself. We have heard it said that he who causes two blades of grass to grow where but one grew before, is a benefactor. That is what the man with the tiling spade does.

Burret W. Wright has just purchased an 80-acre farm eight miles from Wayne, and not quite as far from Concord for the modest sum of $400 per acre. The place is said to be well improved.

Mrs. Edna Clark and children came the first of the week from Craig to visit at the home of Rev. and Mrs. S. X. Cross, her sister. A part of her mission is to find a suitable residence that is for sale that she may make Wayne her home while her sons get the benefit of our schools and college.

Miss Mary Mason, who went with her brother and family from Meadow Grove to Colorado, sends word back from Estes Park that the weather is fine there, and the nights are cool and delightful.

Addison Henry, who has been visiting at the Carter home at Winside and with H. A. His home is in western New York state. He praised the normal school buildings and grounds.

DR. JAMES T. NICHOLS

World Traveler at Peace Conference Will Give His Impressions About a "Warless World."

Dr. James T. Nichols, editor, writer and lecturer, has been to Europe three times since the war began and has had some very unusual experiences. Previous to the world war he had traveled around the world and back and forth to Europe a good many times. On his last visit he not only succeeded in getting into the peace conference but was within ten feet of President Wilson when he proposed the league of nations. There were hundreds of newspaper men outside who would have given thousands of dollars to have had his place. We simply mention this fact to indicate that Doctor Nichols knows how to get what he goes after. The facts he has collected and his interesting way of telling them will make his lectures here at the Chautauqua one of the most eagerly-looked-forward-to event of the season.

One 4th of July accident at Wausau can hardly be called a celebration accident. R. B. Beckner scratched his foot with the tine of a pitchfork and blood poisoning developed and he was laid up for three weeks. It is wise to care for the little scratches, and do it when they happen.

Martin Johnson of Wausau vicinity fell from a horse Saturday evening, and was found unconscious, and remained in that condition until Thursday at least, and perhaps longer, for that was the last report available to us. His pulse, temperature and ability to move about in bed seemed normal, but the think tank does not appear to be working. His seems to be a natural sleep, but they cannot wake him.

Mrs. Bridgett of Sioux City was here Tuesday on her way to her home after a visit at Bloomfield. It was she who lost a son a few months ago in the yards at a station between here and Sioux City.
John Lutt was at Omaha the first of the week with a car of hogs, and it so happened that he met his son, Herman, there, who was on his way home from service, with his discharge in his pocket.
J. W. Ten Brink of Fremont, who has a contract for tiling northwest of Wayne, came Monday to begin the work. He was here once earlier in the season, but the tile was not on hand and could not be obtained.
Mrs. L. A. Fenske and children, Dickey and Margaret, returned home Monday evening from a two weeks' visit in Iowa. Stopping at Sioux City both coming and going, she visited at Tama, Clinton and other eastern Iowa towns and reports a splendid time.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Schoulan from Houston, Minnesota, came last week to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Crossland, a sister to Mr. Schoulan. Mr. Schoulan and his son are in the newspaper game and also do the movie stunt in their home town, and seem to be prospering nicely. We acknowledge a pleasant fraternal call, and talked shop for a time, naturally finding much in common to exchange ideas about. They have previously visited at Wayne, and always express admiration for this country.
Roy Beckes, who served eighteen months on the other side in the medical corps with the "Fighting" 5th, landed on American soil a short time ago, and has been going through the process of getting out of the army since, is due here this week to visit his sister, Mrs. J. Barnes, and his brother-in-law, Claude Mitchell. Miss Pearl Beckes, we are told, is planning to meet and visit with him here. We have no authority to say so, but it is whispered about that the lad won some medals for real service over there, but that like most of the boys who deserved such tokens of recognition, they do not care to discuss the question and almost prohibit any mention of the same—and perhaps we are going too far in intimating what we hear on the side.

$225 Cut in Price of Titan 10-20

Beginning July 1st, 1919, the 1920 price of the Titan 10-20 kerosene tractor is $1,000 cash f. o. b. factory; $1050 when time is given. Reasonable terms will be given to any man who needs the Titan now and cannot pay cash in full. These terms are new.

We have reduced the price of the Titan 10-20 from $1,225 to $1,000. This big cut is not justified by present prices of materials and labor, but is made in anticipation that the largely increased volume of business developed will offset the reduction. The Titan now becomes the world's most popular priced 3-plow tractor.

If you have been holding off buying a tractor because $1,000 was your limit for a good 3-plow machine, your price will now buy the best one. To sell the Titan 10-20 at this low price, not a single necessary feature has been taken off to be bought at extra cost. The Titan comes to you complete. The Harvester Company is too old at the business to offer you a tractor which is not 100% efficient at the drawbar and 100% efficient on the belt. Remember, the Titan is a 3-plow tractor. Don't confuse it with low-powered 2-plow machines. For a fair comparison as to price, add one-half the cost of any 2-plow tractor to its advertised price, then add the cost of all the extras you must buy, and that will put it on a par with the Titan 3-plow tractor. Then compare values. In addition, remember the Titan is a genuine kerosene tractor. Gasoline as tractor fuel is unwarranted extravagance. Don't forget that We give you a written guarantee that the Titan operates efficiently on kerosene. You can't make a mistake if you select a Titan 10-20 at its present low price. It will give you power satisfaction that will stand by you steadily season after season at drawbar and belt. You may rely on Harvester reputation for good service and fair dealing. Go to your dealer. Arrange for immediate shipment. This price reduction may make delivery difficult later. Place your order now.

These Features, Regular with Titan, are Charged for Extra by Some Tractor Makers:

- Friction Clutch Pulley—No extra charge.
- Throttle Governor—No extra charge
- Starting and Service—No extra charge.
- Drawbar—No extra charge.
- Fenders—No extra charge.
- Platform—No extra charge.

Kay & Bichel Implements and Tractors

Chas. Nairn and son from Carroll were here Tuesday, and the young man was looking for Harold Boyce to visit with him a bit about the days they spent together in France.
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Nairn from Carroll leave today to spend a few days at the home of their son in Pittsburg. The lad has been from home some time, and not so long ago married at Boston, and the father and mother wish to pay their respects to the new member of the family.
Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Mears left Sunday by automobile for Lincoln to attend the special session of the Nebraska legislature called for Tuesday of this week. They planned to stop at Schuyler Sunday night and visit their son who is employed in the big mills there, and drive on to Lincoln Monday. Beyond a doubt Mr. Mears will vote for the ratification of the suffrage amendment.
Several weeks ago Geo. Roskopf traded his Calumet Cafe to a Farm and Land Company of Omaha for some western land, and waited several weeks for them to sell the place or send a manager to take charge of it, and last week they engaged F. J. Hummel to accept the management of the place for a time, and he is now in charge. Mr. Roskopf made good money there, and a successful business every way, but the help proposition during the war times was such that both himself and wife were compelled to do more work than they could well continue to do, otherwise the place would not have been on the market.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thompson went to Omaha Tuesday to consult their physician as to her health, and expect that after a few days there, they will go to Excelsior Springs, Missouri, where Mrs. Thompson will remain for a time to partake of their waters and baths.

Herman Lutt, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lutt from southeast of Wayne, arrived home Monday evening. He was one of the Wayne county lads who went across to pay his respects to the kaiser, and like thousands of other lads was glad to be again on American soil.

Delicate Mechanism

Despite its scope Swift & Company is a business of infinite details, requiring infinite attention.

Experienced men must know livestock buying with a knowledge of weight, price, the amount and quality of meat the live animals will yield.

Each manufacturing operation must be done with expert skill and scientific precision. A highly perishable product must be handled with speed and care to avoid loss.

Chemists, engineers, accountants, and other specialists are required to take care of our intricate problems.

Alert wisdom and judgment must be used in getting stocks of goods into the open channels of demand through our four hundred branch houses. Branch house organizations must show activity and energy to sell at the market in the face of acute competition from other large packers, and hundreds of small ones.

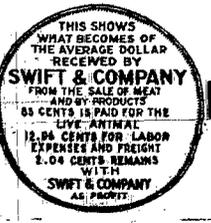

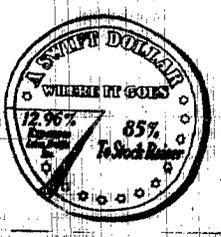

All these requirements of intelligence, loyalty, devotion to the task, are met in the personnel of Swift & Company. Yet the profit is only a fraction of a cent per pound with costs at minimum.

How can the workings of this delicate human mechanism be improved upon?

Do you believe that Government direction would add to our efficiency or improve the service rendered the producer and consumer?

Let us send you a Swift "Dollar". It will interest you. Address Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Ill.

WITH THE WAYNE CHURCHES

Methodist Episcopal Church

(Rev. D. W. MacGregor, Pastor)

Services next Sunday will be held as follows: Sunday school 10 a. m., preaching 11 a. m. and 8 p. m., the Epworth League will meet at 7 p. m.

Hot weather and religion, like politics and religion, don't mix very well. But hot weather and pleasure mix all right.

Christian people should be as loyal to God and their religious interests during hot summer seasons as well as when the conditions are more favorable.

The old poet sang, "I love thy kingdom Lord." "Love stops at nothing but possession." Love to God should flow from our hearts daily, and heat or cold, rain or shine should not be the governor of our acts of worship.

Come let us worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness. Come to church next Sunday.

We are coming to the close of the conference year, let every member and friend of this church look over your account with the church, and if you find you are not paid up in full, please help the stewards get their accounts in shape for conference, that they may report every member paid up for the year in full.

The fourth quarterly conference which meets in a few days closes up the business for the year. Every member and friend of the church help the officials get their reports ready for the annual conference which meets September 4. Bishop Stuntz presiding.

First Baptist Church

(Robert H. Pratt, S. T. M. Minister)

The communion service will follow the morning worship. The topic of the morning sermon will be the "Essence of Conversion." In the evening the pastor speaks on the subject, "Religious Narcotics."

The Sunday school meets at 11:30. Come to Sunday school even if it is a hot day. You will find it cool in the church.

There will be no meetings of the Junior until September.

The Senior B. Y. P. U. will discuss ways of living a Christian in the Home. Every member should have some idea as to how this can be done. Come and tell us what you think about it.

The midweek service is held on Wednesday at 8 p. m. This is a meeting that belongs to the family. Every church member should make it a rule to attend if possible.

English Lutheran Church

(Rev. J. H. Pettehoff, Pastor)

Sunday school convenes next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

There will be no preaching service next Sunday, and probably not during the entire month of August. The pastor expects to leave some time this week for a vacation. It is hoped that there will be no decline in interest in the Sunday school during the pastor's absence.

At the last meeting of the Aid, it was decided not to have any meetings during the month of August. The next meeting will be held the first Thursday in September.

HEMP WORK AT STAND- STILL DURING HARVEST

Oscar Teegerstrom was called to Cherokee, Iowa, yesterday. Mr. Teegerstrom is the man sent out by the International Harvester Company to look after the hemp grown in this locality. He has been here since the second week in May superintending the breaking and cleaning of the crop grown by J. J. Champin, and which still belongs to him. Two car loads have already been sent to the Deering Twine Works and there will be many more. Hemp was also grown on the McCormick farm occupied by J. E. Knapp and also by Roy Ross. These two crops were purchased by the company after they were cut. This crop does not spoil and can be worked up several years after it is grown. The hemp machinery is constantly being improved; that which Mr. Teegerstrom is using here being much different from that which he has used in previous years. Ten men are furnished by Mr. Champin for the work and just now these are busy harvesting other crops so there is nothing doing at the hemp. There is a hemp mill at Cherokee and Mr. Teegerstrom said that he presumed he was called there on some business in connection with that. He will return in a few days to continue the work here. This is the only place in Nebraska where hemp is being grown, he thinks, though the experiment is being made in many states.—Laurel Advocate.

LIVE STOCK AND FAIR INTERESTS AT BLOOMFIELD

The Bloomfield Monitor gives an account of the recent meeting at that place of the Better Live Stock and Fair association. There they have a joint organization working. Wayne county stockmen have an organization, and if they might add to it the fair association it might become a great help to all interests here. Of the meeting the following is told:

A rousing meeting of the Better Live Stock and Fair association was held at the city hall, in this city, last Monday evening. There was a large attendance and the interest in the proceedings was full of vim and enthusiasm. Creighton and the western part of the county was well represented.

A movement was on foot to separate the Fair association from the Better Live Stock association and maintain two distinct organizations but the big majority present were disposed to look upon the scheme with disfavor and it was consequently voted down. The organization will therefore be continued as a whole and two secretaries were elected, Messrs. H. C. Dierks and E. H. Mason being chosen in that capacity.

The association was incorporated for $15,000.

T. G. Reetz, the chairman of the building committee reports to the Monitor that active building will soon commence down on the Fair grounds and that the buildings will consist of a big sale pavilion with an addition 32x40 feet which later will be used temporarily for exhibits.

Among the other projected buildings will be a large hovey under roof, a large horse barn, a large cattle barn, two large hog sheds and an up-to-date building for the housing of poultry. A big well will also, in all probabilities be sunk and supplied with large elevated tank and wind-mill.

In fact, things will be kept humming from now on until the opening of the fair the latter part of September.

Randolph and the railroad are threatening a rupture about the removal of the stock yards to a more distant place. The company says they will not permit the yards to be used as a feed lot, and the Randolph people have long been in the habit of using them for feed lots. If we are any judge of how things should be at such a town, a good yard should be maintained in proper shape, and it should be used by shipper on either road. Of course, that may be the situation now, but we doubt it.

Now the attorney general has another task—he must enforce the new cigarette law, which is now effective. According to this law no minor is permitted to purchase the cigarettes or the "makin'."

John Black (north) last week bought the E. W. Closson stock of goods at Sholes and is now in possession. A land trade figured in the deal we understand. If John can sell goods as well as he can raise corn and hogs and good horses he will make a big success. Mr. Closson will seek a new location we understand. He has been at Sholes for many years and has been a hustler, taking the bumps and the boosts, and playing the game with a smile.—Randolph Times.

GREAT WELSH LADIES' CHOIR
ONE OF STAR ATTRACTIONS

At Chautauqua.
One of the star attractions at the Chautauqua this summer will be the Welsh Ladies' Choir, under the direction of Madame Hughes-Thomas. This is one of the most noted choirs of Wales, the land of song. They have taken many prizes in the great singing competitions, not only in Wales, but in England, where they sang at the Crystal Palace and gave a special concert for King George. They have also toured in South America, Canada and the United States, meeting an enthusiastic reception everywhere. Madame Hughes-Thomas, the director, one of the best-known musicians of Wales, a teacher of extensive reputation, and a vocalist of note, is the wife of the Mayor of Cardiff. The ensemble singing of the chorus is said to be about as nearly perfect as that of any organization known at the present time. It is reported here that one or two of their Welsh numbers will be rendered in the original tongue, which should be quite a treat.

OBSERVATIONS

Is this a nation of dollar chasers? That is the reputation we had before we entered the world war and it took a monstrous effort of soldiers and wealth to convince Europe that this was not true. But, while we have other and better ideals, it will take quite a bit of effort to convince all of us here at home that a large element of our citizenry does not think more of amassing wealth than of conserving the moral and civic welfare of our people. Even while we were busy mobilizing five million soldiers to fight for the ideal of world democracy there was another army of schemers and profiteers working greedily night and day to gather dollars by shady methods, under a condition produced by the war. And since the war is over the army of profiteers has not decreased, but is apparently growing under the favorable conditions existing. Although the country is stocked to the top floor with a vast amount of foods, clothing, and materials of all kinds, supply and demand have ceased to affect the market and general greed in the person of the big packers, the coal, lumber and material barons, the oil magnates and the profiteers of high and low degree, are in the saddle exacting the last dollar that the limit of their greedy ambitions dictate. And on the other hand strikes and labor troubles are on the increase. Between these two menacing forces the common people with moderate incomes and the persons and firms conducting legitimate enterprises, are struggling for existence. Moral warfare and good government and the general good of the nation must needs take a vacation while the two pernicious forces scramble for ill-gotten wealth. What will the harvest be—revolution and I. W. W.ism, or recovery of the people's rule and just retribution for the profiteers? Let us hope it will be the latter.—Wynot Tribune.

THE AMERICAN LEGION

Up to the middle of July more than 1,400 local post of this organization of the soldiers of the late war had been organized, and Wayne has one of the number, and of the great move and its object and the benefits which may come to this country from it, the Brooklyn Eagle of New York has the following:

Something like three million young Americans, all voters, will be eligible to membership in the American Legion, and if one may figure anything from the development of the G. A. R. after the Civil war, nearly all will join. The great caucus at St. Louis is over. The desirability of keeping the movement out of politics was apparent there to most of the active organizers, to Colonel Roosevelt, republican, who refused to stand for president for that reason, to Colonel Bennett Clark, son of the democratic speaker of the last house of representatives.

Now Colonel Roosevelt says: "A certain gentleman had violated the ethics of the Legion in falsifying the actual facts. There was no poll taken though a St. Louis newspaper sent the blanks to us for this purpose. A motion stopped this intended action, and not a blank was filled out."

There were two big things that stood out in the caucus. These were the unanimous rejection of Chicago as a convention city, because of its mayor; and the unanimous rejection of any proposals that would give soldiers increased pay. So, you see, the American Legion is not for the soldier, but for the benefit of the country.

Distinctly this is the right spirit. A great organization of veterans was inevitable. If it can be formed at a convention in Minneapolis, November 10, 11 and 12, and held to the lines laid down by Colonel Roosevelt, it may become one of the most useful forces in the American civilization that is to come.

THE MATHEMATICS OF IT

LABOR

The total membership of British trade unions is now about 5,500,000, of whom approximately 800,000 are women.

The clause of the Alien Bill restricting the amount of alien labor to be employed by any person, company, or firm in the country to ten per cent of the working staff was rejected by the committee of the whole in the house of Commons.

A survey made by the New York World through its correspondents in all sections of the country indicates that, in spite of the number of industrial conflicts which are taking place in the United States, there is no indication that at the present time industrial unrest is any more acute than it has been since 1914.

An attempt is being made to organize architects and civil, mechanical, and electrical engineers. The Union of Technical Men in New York (with headquarters in the World Building) has over 800 members and there are organizations in Washington, D. C., Philadelphia, Chicago, Baltimore and Bridgeport.

The novel spectacle of union leaders directing the breaking of a walk-out by non-union strikers was presented to New York recently when 150 stokers, officers, and water tenders of municipal ferry boats temporarily called off a strike that for three hours had caused 5,000 home-going Staten Islanders to stand in the rain awaiting transportation.

I AM THE ENEMY OF MANKIND

I have destroyed more lives than all the wars of the world.

I destroy more than 600,000 lives in the United States each year.

I steal in the United State alone more than a billion dollars each year.

I tear homes asunder; I snatch the babies from mother's breast.

I am more powerful than the combined armies and navies of the world.

I have burdened mankind since the dawn of history.

I spread misery and desolation. Innocent children are my special prey.

I bring pain, sickness, death, yet few seek to escape me.

I destroy and maim: I give nothing, but take all.

I destroy health and wreck homes. I am relentless, the rich and poor alike I seek. Both weak and strong, old and young are my victims.

I cause commerce to stand still; I depopulate cities and destroy nations.

I am preventable disease.

LEGISLATURE TO ACT ON SUFFRAGE

Lincoln, Neb., July 29.—The Nebraska legislature met in special session at noon today, its activities being limited entirely to the ratification of the national suffrage amendment and the passage, if it so chooses, of a bill paying the expenses of the session. Governor McKelvie sent in a brief message in which he recommended favorable action upon the suffrage amendment.

The house met in its accustomed beam strewn quarters, but the senate, because of the occupancy of the state engineers' forces of the senate chamber was compelled to meet in the supreme court room, which no more than seats 50 persons.

Question of Procedure

The principal topic for discussion is whether to do the whole job in one day or take five days. The suffragists of the state, who are holding a jubilee celebration, are urging that the legislators take no chance on its action being made worthless by adopting the plan used in Kansas and Missouri of having each house ratify by simple resolution, which some are urging.

ECONOMY THAT COUNTS

Up to the last of June, the War department had liquidated war contracts amounting to approximately a billion and a quarter dollars. By this process, $1,179,158,000, or 86.2 per cent of the amount of the contracts, was saved. There remained more than two billion dollars of unfulfilled contracts to be cancelled or liquidated. On these, it was estimated, approximately two billions of dollars would be saved. A total saving of more than three billions of dollars will accordingly have been effected.

Republicans in congress are attempting to take the credit for these savings. New appropriations are much smaller, and the departments of the government are sending to congress estimates greatly below what would have been necessary and what were requested before the armistice was signed. In their claims of "economy" and their boasts about "retrenchment," republicans in congress are attempting to deceive the public into believing that if it had not been for their precautions, the appropriations would have been vastly larger. As a matter of fact, it is the departments, and particularly the War and Navy departments, that are showing the way to lesson appropriations.
