

WAYNE FALL FESTIVAL AND STOCK SHOW SURE

At the meeting of the live stock men called last Saturday at the city hall the work of preparing for a live stock show here this fall met with hearty response from all sources. The ladies of the Woman's club had a committee there entering into the enterprise, the business men and commercial club of the city were all represented, and though the time is short it was voted to add to the stock show a fall festival which would bring the enterprise almost to the proportions of a fair right out of the box. It was decided to hold their first meeting October 15, 16, and 17, and that the opening show should be free to all. By opening show, we mean the show of this season, all three days. Not that the exhibit does not promise to be worth more—in fact it now seems as though the exhibit would be very complete.

Election of officers resulted in the following: Geo. McEachen, president; D. H. Cunningham, secretary; Rollie Ley, treasurer. Executive committee, J. J. Ahern, J. H. Miner, Geo. McEachen, Mrs. E. W. Huse and D. H. Cunningham.

The work of naming superintendents and assistants was then taken up, and as the time is short, plenty of boosters were put on to work for the success of the enterprise, and the following were named:

- Horses—Wm. Harrison.
- Cattle—H. J. Miner, Wm. Lessman and Henry Cozad.
- Hogs—S. Reed, Fred Sundahl and Vern Richardson.
- Sheep—C. Morris, of Carroll.
- Poultry—J. E. Hufford, V. L. Dayton.

Domestic Science and Art—Mrs. Huse.

Farm Products—Roy Jeffrey, Wm. A. Meyer and Harry Craven.

Farm Implements—C. W. Hiscox and E. Bichel.

It was then decided to raise the expense money by issuing shares at $10 each, with 100 shares the minimum amount to be pledged, and more if could be—and the surplus, if any to be prorated to the subscribers or used as a fund for future fairs, as might be determined. This work is in charge of J. J. Ahern, who informs us that it is progressing well. Those present at the meeting set a good example, each subscribing for a share of the stock or to the fund as the case may be.

The meeting then adjourned to meet again Tuesday evening.

It is the hope of those interested in this meeting that the temporary organization will develop into a permanent fair organization which will embrace several nearby counties—or at least be open to exhibits from them on terms equally favorable to Wayne county exhibitors. Much depends upon the successful conduct of the coming exhibit. The time is short, and that requires a hurried action. Superintendents and committees named are already busy with a premium list, which it is said will be ready for publication in the newspaper next week, as the quickest and best way of getting it into the hands of the people of this and nearby counties. If everyone will do what they can this first meeting will be a success, and prove the cornerstone to a permanent organization.

A BUSINESS HOUSE CHANGES

A deal was concluded last week by which N. B. Meuting of Stanton succeeded P. McGuckin as proprietor of the Wayne Guarantee Tire Repair Co.'s shop on Second street just west of the State bank. Mr. McGuckin came here last spring from Omaha, and has established a splendid business in his line. His primary reason for leaving Wayne lies in the fact that they were not able to secure a house in which to live that was very desirable. They made friends here who wish that they might remain residents here.

His successor, Mr. Meuting, who has but recently sold a garage at Stanton, was previously at Omaha, and comes with fine credentials as a workman and a citizen. But one need not look at his report as to his work, for to simply see him tackle a blowout or job of retreading and they will know that he is master of his trade. He has an announcement elsewhere inviting your patronage.

A GREAT CHICKEN PIE SUPPER (Contributed)

The chicken pie supper at the opera house Saturday evening was a great success, the ladies taking in $275.55 for the supper. Each club was given credit for all of the money taken in at their table, and the following were represented by tables:

Mrs. Will Back, president of the Social Central Circle, 18 members, $41.50; Mrs. J. C. Forbes, president of the Rural Home society, 15 members, $38.50; Mrs. Ed Grier, president of Helping Hand, 18 members, $42.50; Mrs. Vern Fisher, president St. Mary's Guild, assisted by Miss Margaret Pryor and Mrs. F. S. Berry, as chairman, had two tables, took in $92; Mrs. Erick Thompson, president of Pleasant Valley club, with 11 members, joined with the commercial table with Mrs. Myers and Mrs. Ralph Rundell, chairmen, took in $61.50, making a total of $275.55, with expenses $15.50, leaves a balance of $260 to turn over to the Woman's club.—Mrs. Henry Ley, Manager, Mrs. Geo. Fortner, Cashier.

The ladies belonging to the other clubs or societies can add their amounts at any time, having it placed to their credit, thus showing their interest in our community house, after learning of this opportunity to make a credit for themselves.

The ladies of the local W. C. T. U. are planning to aid in the food sale, and money they take in will be put to their credit and used to swell the community house fund, making another body of interested workers who are with us.

The opera house and tables were beautifully decorated with flowers. The guests, while eating a delicious supper listened to sweet strains of music by the House-Coleman orchestra, filling the room with happiness and good cheer, making all feel their most hearty welcome, and many ladies deserve a great deal of credit for their part in the evening's entertainment. The solos rendered were real treats, and were given by Mrs. Reba Jones, Mrs. Kate Baskerville, Mrs. Leslie Ellis and Misses Frances and Fern Oman.

The five-minute talks by Mayor Kemp, Mr. Cress, A. R. Davis and Fred Berry were short, but full of wit, and right to the point, showing that they are with us in this enterprise of having a community house in the near future. Mrs. Lewis, president of the Woman's club gave a good night address in her sweet manner, telling the people present at this supper of its object and assure them of the benefit a community house would be to Wayne and the surrounding country—a place where all can get together, in the one interest of the people. Many happy hours may be spent here, mothers with their children, a place for boys and girls to come to for entertainment, and feel at home. In order to do this they must work together in perfect harmony, with the one aim to raise the money for our community house as soon as possible.

We wish to thank all for their kind and generous donations, the ladies of the Catholic parish and country, and Mr. Gailly of the Crystal for his kindness in furnishing slides for us. And we want to say right here, that there is nothing like advertising if you want to be sure and make a great success of any enterprise.—Mrs. Henry Ley.

CRUSHED A THUMB

Herman Sund is carrying his left hand in a sling. Monday while with the men under his foremanship they were unloading steel rails near Carroll, when a rail seemed to bind, and being so near the edge of the car that a pick or shovel point could not be gotten in to pry it out, Mr. Sund took hold of it to loosen it. Just as he did so, men working at the other end pried it loose, causing it to spring out of the clutch that was holding it, and it came down, as steel rails are apt to do if not held, and caught the left hand thumb at the middle joint, almost severing it. Mr. Sund was taken on the engine and at once taken to Carroll where the local physicians stitched the end back in place, but it was so nearly severed that it is a question whether or not it will grow on. It makes a painful wound, and one that will keep its owner from heavy work for some time.

WRIGHT AND NUGENT CAUGHT WITH BOOZE CAR

Last Friday there was an exciting man hunt at Wayne and in the vicinity. City Marshal Chance received a message from Walthill telling him to look out for three men in a car, who had evaded search and arrest there by shooting at the marshal and then skipping the town at a rate of speed which would land them at some port as far away as Wayne in short time if they kept going without accident. Sure enough, they appeared to have headed for Wayne, and about 1:30 arrived. Mr. Chance saw them as they came in, and followed them as they went to get air on Second street, but as he approached they started, not heading his call for a halt, and made a quick trip to the Wayne Motor Co. Mean time the marshal went to that point in a car by another street, and again told them they were under arrest, and again they failed to heed, and started out. The marshal had some reinforcements by this time, and himself with a shot gun and Henry Kay with a revolver opened fire, puncturing the rear tires on their car. Others joined in the chase, and fast cars could hardly keep up with the reckless speed of the fleeing men, even though they had no cushion behind, and their car waved about like a drunken sailor. At the end of a five-mile chase, two east and three south, the fellows abandoned their car and took to the field, where there was a grove, stacks and a corn field to shelter them.

The first following car soon arrived, dismounted and deployed to locate their men, which they finally did, one of them showing an arm out from behind a stack. One shot was fired in that direction from a shot gun and the order to surrender given. Just at this time another armed man appeared on the other side of the fugitives, and they obeyed the command to keep hands up. Francis Jones and James Pile were the two who caused them to put up their hands and while one held the gun the other searched for arms and found a couple of guns and a roll of money on one prisoner. The roll was returned. Constable Soules who was one of the pursuing party properly placed them under arrest and slipped a bracelet over their wrists.

The prisoners captured were John Wright and John Nugent, two men who were out on bail bond to appear at the coming term of court on a charge of bootlegging and gambling. The other occupant of the car was Guy Miller of this place who had managed to get out as they fled and took to a corn field—perhaps with a view of dividing the followers. But he was not then given any attention, and later reported at his father's home and was taken from there the next day into custody of the officers. Marshal Chance had stopped at a farm house to give the location of the fleeing men and those following, and order more ammunition and guns as the armament appeared to be inadequate, and so was not in at the capture.

Wednesday morning Wright appeared for a hearing and waived examination and went back to jail in default of $2,000 bonds fixed by the court. The Nugent case was continued and his bond fixed at $2,000, and he too is boarding with Sheriff Lewis.

In the car was found a quantity of whisky, and on the charge of bootlegging the car was condemned and ordered sold. The report that the car was one stolen from Sioux City the night before appears to have been without foundation, for it is said to be the car which Wright has had for some time.

Officers from Pender and Walthill came the first of the week and took Guy Miller to Pender, on a charge of shooting at an officer, and he is now there in jail.

REV. D. W. MacGREGOR GOES TO LINCOLN

From the report of the annual conference of the Methodists we learn that Rev. D. W. MacGregor, for two years pastor of the Methodist church at this place, has been named for a special work in connection with the centenary work, with headquarters at Lincoln or University Place. His official title will be Conference Evangelist, and his field will be in any part of Nebraska or Iowa to which he may be sent. Beyond a doubt Rev. MacGregor will be an admirable hand for this work, for as we understand it is in part at least a work of raising money for the great work the church is undertaking as well as inspiring the membership to enthusiastic work for the cause they are striving to advance. During his work here the finances of the church have not lagged, and it has been over the top in all benevolences and special calls for financial aid.

THE SALVATION ARMY DRIVE

From every report that comes comes from the returned soldier boys, and from every report which came back from the scene of strife before the boys came home no organization did better service for the boys at the front, spiritually or physically than did the volunteers of the Salvation Army, and now when a budget fund is asked for their use during the coming year in time of peace, for this army works on in war or peace, we predict that it will be oversubscribed in this and practically every other county of the state.

Elsewhere there is a statement of their case for your consideration, and we ask that you read it that you may know fully the committee in charge in the different precincts and the plan for raising the county apportionment in a single evening. The apportionment individually is so small that many people will give many times the sum asked.

Club Activities

At the meeting of the board of directors of the Woman's club Tuesday evening, it was decided that the club would give a reception for the teachers of the high school and the Normal.

Plans were formed whereby the W. C. T. U. will cooperate with the Woman's club in its salvage department and in conducting the food sales. In this way the W. C. T. U. can get credit in its own county and state organization and at the same time aid the Woman's club in raising funds for the Memorial Community house.

A report was given by Mrs. E. W. Huse and Mrs. L. C. Gildersleeve who were appointed to meet with the men who have the matter of the proposed stock exhibit and county fair in hand. It was voted that the Woman's club would cooperate in whatever way they could to make the project a success.

FARMS AT AUCTION

The farm sale at auction Tuesday, we are told did not quite measure up to some anticipations—but they sold well, we would say, considering the fact that it just happened that the price on farm products were sagging a little. The old W. S. Brown 320 went to Mr. Cross from north of Wayne at $308 per acre. This was not a big sum over the $300 at which it had been purchased at private sale, but it was a margin which showed that land values here are still tending up.

The 80-acre tract four miles beyond, put on the market by C. A. Berry went to Otto Greenwald, a neighbor who wanted it, at $330 per acre, after the farmer had stayed in the ring until a speculator bidding for it had reached his limit. Others who might have wanted this eighty to form a part of their own farm, did not appear.

FINED FOR DRIVING AUTO WHILE DRUNK

Eric Anderson and E. M. Stamm, both of Hoskins who pleaded guilty to a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated were fined $16.25 each by Judge Novell in police court Monday. Anderson and Stamm smashed into Edward Hulac's automobile which was standing in front of the Hulac home, doing damage estimated at $75. They paid for repairs to Mr. Hulac's car. Their own car was a complete wreck.

THE METHODIST CONFERENCE

Last week the annual conference of the Nebraska Methodists was held at Lincoln, and like all of their annual meetings was a great gathering. The State Journal gives the following summary of the year's work:

A decrease in the membership of the Nebraska Methodist church was reported at the annual conference Monday morning. Statistician A. V. Wilson reported that there are now 69,921 Methodists in the church on the membership rolls of the churches. This is a decrease of 1,982 members during the past year.

The number of deaths among members during the past year is 832. The non-resident members increased by 931. This accounts in a large measure for the membership decrease. The influenza epidemic closed the churches for several months and shut off means of recruiting.

The number of schools decreased by seventeen and the Sunday school membership close to five thousand. There are now eight thousand officers and teachers and eighty thousand members in the Sunday school. The Epworth League reports a loss of two thousand members in the adult division and close to one thousand in the junior section.

The value of churches is nearly four million dollars an increase of two hundred thousand dollars during the past year.

The following apportionment per member was agreed upon in the finance commission report Monday, Nebraska Wesleyan university fifty cents per member in charge where the centenary did not carry that amount; Methodist hospital twenty cents, university pastor, four cents; Crowell Home, fifteen cents; conference claimants ten per cent pastor's salary.

Below we give the appointments for the different charges in this district:

WAYNE GOLF PLAYERS AT SIOUX CITY

Last week we mentioned that Frank Morgan and C. M. Craven had gone to Sioux City to try a hand at golf with some of the Iowa city's players. We learn that they acquitted themselves with credit. Mr. Craven made a qualifying score of 90, which was not bad, but it happened to be his fortune to draw the next match against H. H. Cinnaman, one of their crack players, which left him in the consolation class; and here he was finally defeated by a Mr. Lynch.

JOHN SHANNON UNDERGOES SERIOUS OPERATION

Monday evening Dan Shannon of Randolph was here on his way home from Omaha where he had been with his brother, John Shannon, of this place, who has been at the St. Katherine hospital in that city for two weeks for treatment. It was found necessary that an operation be had for ulcerous condition of the stomach. Mr. Shannon had rallied nicely from the ordeal, and the attending physician gave much encouragement that he would be restored to health, though it was thought that his return to health would be slow, and that he might have to remain for treatment several weeks yet.

LOUIS MORAN SHOT BY NEGRO WOMAN

Louis Moran, 23, 1102 Pacific street, is in Lord Lester hospital, with a bullet wound in his abdomen, as the result of a mysterious early morning shooting at Ninth and Marcy streets today.

Police early today arrested Eirena Cornell, negress, 713 Leavenworth. Arresting officers claim she admitted the shooting, but she declared she shot in self-defense.

The negress, police say, claimed she shot after hearing somebody at the door of her home.

Moran, switchman for the Union Stock Yards company, said he was en route to the Union depot in company with Tony Dustafno, a fellow worker, when shot by the woman. After being shot Moran was able to walk to the Union depot and notify police.

The above is from an Omaha paper, and tells of the shooting of Louis, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Moran of this place. Mr. Moran was called to Omaha Monday morning by report of the shooting, and upon arrival there found the son resting quite comfortably at the hospital after his wounds had been dressed. Mr. Moran tells that Louis was hardly free from the influence of the anesthetic when he left the hospital at a late hour Monday evening, and when he could talk told of the shooting substantially as given above. Mr. Moran also interviewed the man who was with him, and his story was the same in substance. Detectives who visited the scene of the shooting a photograph of the door adding to the evidence of the case another link, while the woman held for the shooting is said to tell practically the same story.

Mr. Moran said that the physician attending was very hopeful that the patient would recover. The bullet had penetrated the liver and one kidney, and is supposed to be in the fleshy part of the back, but was not located or removed.

HOME FROM PENNSYLVANIA

Robert Stambaugh and his sister, Miss Addie Stambaugh, returned home Saturday from a visit of several weeks at the home of their childhood, near Blaine, Pennsylvania. Mr. Stambaugh said that it had been thirty-five years since they left their Pennsylvania home, and that he had not before found time to visit the scenes of his childhood. He found many changes, and also many old and familiar landmarks. Among a host of relatives and acquaintances he found his chum of boyhood days, but did not say whether it was a boy chum or one of the fair sex. Mr. Stambaugh is already thinking of going again to the old keystone state, for they had such a splendid time. Speaking of the crops, he said they are grown in much smaller fields than here, but that corn to him appeared a good crop, some of which would go at the rate of sixty bushels per acre, in his opinion.

Some of the neighbors have insisted that we question Mr. Stambaugh closely as to whether or not he came home single—and feel after a careful cross-questioning that he did not bring any of the fair ones from his native state to Nebraska, but from what he said of the pretty women there and of his intention of going again, it might be well for some of our young ladies to not let leap year get to old before telling Robert what they have to say.

Complete arrangements have now been formulated for the home-coming day during the Stanton county fair, Wednesday, September 24. The committee is sparing no money to make this home-coming a great success. Judge Allen of Madison, will be the speaker of the day.

John Laurie, who has served in the navy for the past two years, returned home Thursday evening. This time to stay. He was accompanied home by his sister, Mrs. Charley Bailey, of Albert Lea, Minnesota, where he had visited for a week.—Carroll Index.

Mrs. Geo. Wadsworth, who came from Page to visit her sister, Mrs. A. L. Dragon, for a short time returned home Saturday. Mr. Dragon accompanying her for a stay at their farm home, for Mr. and Mrs. Wadsworth and the boys are farming a half section this year. Mrs. Wadsworth says that they all like farm life better than living in a town.

Rev. Dan Burress and wife, who have been visiting with his folks at and near Carroll, left Monday morning for Kansas City where he will enter a theological school as a student. Mrs. Burress will also be a student at the school. Mr. and Mrs. Burress were but recently wed at Inman, and are now finishing their wedding trip and settling down to work.

Link Welbaum of Wakefield, was visiting his brother here Friday. Link had but recently returned from a visit with a brother in Wyoming, and reports that he had a fine time, hunting, fishing, eating and drinking—water, of course—and Link says that Wyoming has fine water, and good water is a great asset these days when there is nothing much else to drink. But the water is not near bad here.

Miss Pearl Sewell was at Norfolk Monday, going over to consult with the Pierce county school redistricting committee in regard to the formation of districts, which might lap over across county line boundaries. The redistricting is a mighty big question, for a small one, and there is quite apt to be some hard feelings as a result of the best possible efforts to put the law into operation. Madison and Stanton counties were also represented at the meeting.

The output of quicksilver in the United States from April 1 to June 30 1919, according to figures compiled by F. L. Ransome, of the United States Geological Survey, department of the Interior, was 3,940 flasks of 75 pounds net, a decrease of 2,020 flasks, or of nearly 34 per cent, as compared with the output in the first quarter. Only 16 mines were producing in the second quarter of the year as against 23 in the first quarter. Of the 3,940 flasks produced, 2,632 flasks is credited to California, 1,244 to Texas, 34 to Nevada, and 30 to Oregon. The price in June was $94.40.

Last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Fischers living on the old Brune farm between Winside and Wayne, was held a family reunion in honor of Sergt. Fred Brune. The following sisters and brothers of the Brune family were present to enjoy the occasion: Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dammie and daughters of Lorton, Nebraska; Mr. and Mrs. Theo Harms and daughter of Manley, Nebraska; Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bredemeyer and sons of Carroll; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wacker and children, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brune and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brune and daughter, all of Winside. A splendid dinner was prepared and enjoyed by all.—Carroll Index.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Scace were at Sioux City Saturday, Homer going to consult his physician.

Will some one tell why the high price of leather should excuse one for doubling the price of canvass shoes?

Vic MacRill, who has been clerk at the Hotel Boyd for the past two or three months, has gone to Sioux City to take a position there.

The Walter Savidge Amusement Company are playing at Wakefield this week, and from there go to Oakland, then, come to Wayne for a week, if the dates have been handed to us right.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Shiltz, who have been for nearly three months at Wessington, South Dakota, visiting his mother and brother came home Saturday evening, driving across by automobile.

Mrs. J. Ziegler and daughter, Miss Charlotte, who have been visiting for a month past with relatives and friends at and near Port Byron, Illinois. Mrs. Ziegler tells us that crop conditions there appear to be fully up to their average.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Plahn and their son, Rudolph and wife, and two sons came by car last week from Avoca, Iowa, to visit a few days at the John Lage home near Wayne. Mrs. Lage is a daughter to the elder couple.

Wm. Benson, who went to the Wayne hospital three weeks ago with ruptured appendix which was removed, is again out and about, and eligible to join the growing circle of those who have preserved their vermiform appendix in a little bottle where they can look at it when it becomes bad.

From Maine to California the food profiteers are stealing from the people, and all seem to have taken a lesson from old father Adam—are evidently direct descendants of that old fellow, for even as he laid his sin to Eve when it was discovered, so these profiteers try to pass the blame on to the next fellow. Better hang them all.

After being rejuvenated with good old Scotch for forty years it is a certainty that 275 beer isn't going to worry us any, whether it is sold or sewered. It may be 275, but it has less than 30 action, and to work at it all day to be "kicked" by a mouse, well hardly suffice for the wagon load of dirty water, foam, brick dust and disappointment, one must carry as impure ballast.—Wilmington Journal.

We are promised a return of influenza within a month by some of the people who can and frequently do scare themselves and others into a spell of ill health. Keep your head cool, your body warm, your feet dry, except when bathing them, and the bowels performing their functions regularly, and cease to worry. The undertaker will get you soon enough then—but why worry and invite an early visit. Wait till the prices of burial come down.

Five boys at Coleridge were arrested last week Monday on a charge of using profane and obscene language, and fined $10 each. Out of consideration for the feelings of the parents, the Blade editor refrained from giving the names to the public. It often happens that an editor is touched with compassion to do these things, and then comes another plea and then another until finally the very fellow who first made the plea will feel sore because the paper does not tell about these violations and who makes them. The crime and disgrace is in the doing of these things and not in being caught and punished.

Miss Ada Cash of Omaha, who has been at Niobrara for several weeks visiting her mother, stopped here Monday to visit her sister, Mrs. C. O. Mitchell, a few days, while returning to Omaha.

Wayne Superlative flour $3.20 per sack in 5 or 10 sack lots, at Wayne Roller Mill, or from your grocer.

V. Truman and family, who have been here visiting at the homes of J. R. Armstrong and J. T. House, relatives, left the last of the week to continue their journey to a new home in southern California.

M. S. Jordan from Glenwood, Iowa, was here last week, looking at this part of Nebraska and thinking of leaving near Wayne. He was a guest of his former neighbor, Jesse Boyce, who farms the Perdue farm.

Miss Margaret Coleman, who has been spending the summer at Denver on account of asthma, came home Tuesday morning, looking and feeling fine. She tells that she enjoyed the summer as never before, because of being entirely free from the annoyance of other seasons in this climate.

Mr. Hassan was at Sioux City Sunday going over to say goodbye to Side M. Allaway and Sam M. Allaway, two of the men who were interested with him in the dry goods business here and at Sioux City on the eve of their departure to visit their home land, Syria. The two men had passports and plans all made to leave Monday, and are to sail from New York on the 20th, going first to Paris, from where they take a fresh start across France and the Mediterranean sea to their native land. The trip will consume the greater part of a month. We are predicting that they will be glad to return to America, after they have had their visit and looked after the business matters which called them across. At any rate, the greater part of those who come from the other side of the pond and stay a few years are not contented to remain in their old home land after a time there. Perhaps Syria is a better land, and they will not want more of America.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Fleetwood went to visit at Sioux City this week and attend the fair. Mr. Fleetwood's parents and sisters live there, and his brother Willis, who has just received his discharge from service in the navy, came last week, and thus there will be a family reunion at the

Wm. Fleetwood, home. With Mr. and Mrs. Fleetwood went Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bressler, who will take in the fair there and visit friends.

Chas. Martin went to Sioux City Tuesday to take in the fair or those who go to take in the big show. We heard Charlie saying something about getting into a professional game there, and it might be well for Wayne people to keep an eye on the sporting columns for a few days and see what sort of a record our townsman makes against other professionals. Our judgment tells us to back Charlie with our money.

NEBRASKA HOME SERVICE FUND

SALVATION ARMY

Wayne, Nebr., Sept. 15, 1919.

To the Citizens of Wayne County:

The Salvation Army, by its tireless, unselfish work, rendered a great service to Humanity and to the Boys "Over There" during the war. We will now have an opportunity to show our appreciation for this service.

The Salvation Army has been compelled to spend almost half of its energy to raise money to carry on its work of mercy. With thousands of needy families in our great cities, with vast numbers of homeless men, drifting from place to place, with social unrest confronting us on every hand, the Home Service Work of the Salvation Army will be needed as never before. We believe that the time of the Salvation Army can be used, to a much better advantage, in serving men than in collecting funds to carry on their work.

The National Home Service Campaign is to be held September 21 to 27. Nebraska's share of the National budget is $512,000, Wayne County's share is $3,317.00. This is the minimum amount needed to place the Salvation Army on its feet in Nebraska and carry on the work for the coming year. This amount figured on the property valuation of the county would amount to about ten cents per $1,000 valuation. Wayne County has not failed on any patriotic or charitable drive during the war or since it closed, and the Executive Committee believes that this first appeal of the Salvation Army, in a general campaign, will meet the approval of the citizens of this county.

Thursday, September 25 has been set aside in this county as the day of the main drive. On the above date the Chairman of your voting precinct will be at the regular place of voting between the hours of 7:00 and 10:00 p. m. to receive your contributions or if it would be unhandy for you to call at the place of voting, on the above date, you may leave your contribution with your banker or hand it to your precinct chairman during the early part of the week.

If you feel that the Salvation Army should be given more than just the minimum amount needed to carry on its work, in this state, you are at liberty to give more than ten cents per $1,000 valuation. The Executive Committee would like to see Wayne County go "over the top" in this drive as it has in all other drives, but they are only asking for the minimum amount, trusting that the big hearted men and women of this county will place our total contributions considerable above this amount.

Sincerely yours,
Executive Committee for Wayne County.

Not high leather, but skin—the skin game of the big corporations that control things are in a great measure responsible for the high cost of shoes; $13,000,000 in a $29.73 dividend on the shares of preferred stock of the American Hide and Leather Co. for the year just ended June 30, will account for some of the money we have been spending on shoes. Then they are but one of the concerns plucking the consumer—concerns that stand between the men who produce the hides and those who wear the shoes.

The non-partisan league has been denounced by the bar association of this country as socialism, anarchism, bolshevism, and little short of a soviet government, and compares Townley to Lennie. Well, Lennie established his reign by force of arms. Townley in an orderly election, winning five elections in which a large percentage of the voters took an active part. And more than that, the people approved the acts of their representatives by a referendum vote. So be it what it may, it has the o. k. of the people who live under it.

Townley, the leader of the non-partisan league has been sentenced to three months in the county jail of a Minnesota county for conspiracy against the government or sedition or something of the kind. Now we call that pretty small potatoes. If Townley is guilty as charged a penitentiary sentence is little enough for him—if not guilty a three months in a county jail is too much, and an outrage. Perhaps the Minnesota law is lame on treason. Perhaps they cannot hang or shoot a man in that state for conspiring against the government in time of war.

The American (?) Bar association at its recent meeting declared in favor of the "divine right" of judges. They would permit the recall of any except one holding the office of judge. Well, we would believe in right of the people to recall a judge for just cause as quickly as we would favor the recall of the town constable or the road supervisor of the road district. When we permit an office or an officer to get beyond obeying the properly expressed will of the people we might as well quit self-government. There is nothing American about it, hence the question mark above.

Lodge wanted Italy to have Flume, which never belonged to Italy or Germany, and did not want Japan to have Shantung, which had been lost by China to Germany for more than twenty years, and Lodge had approved of the stealing at the time it was stolen. In fact Lodge and his followers are not necessarily opposed to the peace treaty, if one may judge by their professions, but they are against the president and what he does. Now suppose they reject this treaty, will the president make one that will please them any better—for it is a snitch that neither Wilson or the people would stand by a treaty that they would make. That is our trouble, in all of their fault-finding they have not suggested any substitute which promises as well as the treaty which has been accepted by Germany. Lodge and our misrepresentative Norris claim that it is too hard on Germany.

SOCIAL NOTES

It was a very pleasant reception which the young people of the Baptist gave to the college students in the church parlors last Friday evening. The attendance was encouraging and inspiring, fully ninety being present for the event. Games were played for a time while the young folks were getting acquainted with each other and their entertainers. Then a short program was given consisting of a duet by Mr. A. Norton and Mrs. Nelson; a reading by Miss Louie Sprague; a solo by the pastor's wife, Mrs. Pratt and a reading by Mr. Pratt. Before the close of the evening entertainment refreshments were served. The students voted a splendid evening, and such entertainments do much to make the students coming to our school feel that they are really welcome to the city, and that there are those who want them to carry home with them pleasant memories of Wayne and Wayne people.

The Ladies' Bible Study Circle was entertained at the home of Mrs. C. E. McClellan Tuesday afternoon. After the study of the enlightening Sunday school lesson, a welcome home was extended to Miss Charlotte White, who has had quite a hospital experience since her absence from Wayne, also to Miss Charlotte Ziegler and mother who have been on a long visit to friends in the east. Mrs. A. P. Gossard reminded the ladies that it was Mrs. Edwin B. Young's birthday and many expressions of good will were exchanged. Prayer was continued for a great spiritual awakening for Wayne and vicinity. Adjourned to meet with Mrs. Kortright one-half block south of J. H. Wright's residence next Tuesday afternoon.

The Wayne Woman's club will meet in regular session at the opera house, Saturday, September 20, at 3 p. m. Following the very important business meeting, Professor Lackey will tell of his experiences in educational work in France. Every woman of Wayne and vicinity, whether a member of the club or not is invited to attend the meetings of the club. Members who have not yet paid their dues are requested to do so Saturday, as we need all funds available to meet our obligation on the opera house, October 1. Also bring your donations for the salvage department.

The birthday anniversary of I. C. Trumbauer was made a pleasant occasion when a couple dozen of his friends surprised him Tuesday evening at the invitation of Mrs. Trumbauer. The surprise was complete but "Trum" soon rallied to the occasion and joined in the fun. At 7 o'clock a delicious two-course supper was served. Those present presented Mr. Trumbauer with a smoking jacket. The evening was spent in dancing. The guests departed wishing him many more happy birthdays.

Mrs. Beckenhauer Hostess
The Alpha Woman's club responded to invitations issued in honor of Mrs. Wm. Rebnick, who is soon to leave Wayne for a new home in California. The ladies spent the evening in social conversation and games. Mrs. Rebnick won high hand in the Rummagers. The hostess served dainty refreshments after which the guests departed wishing Mrs. Rebnick health and happiness in her new home.

The Coterie was entertained at the home of Mrs. Don Cunningham with the program committee Mrs. Fleetwood, Mrs. Frank Morgan and Mrs. Cunningham as hostesses. Following a social afternoon, the year's programs were distributed, containing several novel ideas of entertainment. A delicious two-course luncheon was served. Club guests were Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Ringland and Mrs. Baskerville.

The Young Ladies' Bible Circle enjoyed their opening meeting with Miss Martha Crockett Friday evening and arranged to have their meeting this week on Thursday evening. A number of out-of-town guests being invited. Dr. Harry Strachan of Scotland, will address the young ladies.

Mrs. C. A. Chace entertained Monday afternoon complimentary to Mrs. Peters of Los Angeles, California. The afternoon was spent in playing Royalty. A delicious two-course luncheon was served at 5:30.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Welch entertained at 12 o'clock dinner Wednesday. Having as their guests Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Davies, Robert Gantt and Sam Davies.

The Helping Hand society will meet with Mrs. Alex. Jeffrey on Thursday, September 25. Special business.

We specialize in Ladies, Ready-To-Wear. Our stock is by far the largest in northeast Nebraska.

THAT 6 TO 1 VOTE

Lets get things right in our mind about this treaty business, for that is an issue before the people, and the people should let their senators know for what they stand. There is that six to one vote in the assembly, in the first place that cuts no ice in the court-of-final resort, the council. The members of the house, in which some states have forty votes and others-but two or three might approve a measure six to one or ten to one, and still the senate, in which every state has an equal representation must approve before it would become a law—and then the president must give his approval. So Great Britain may be said to have six votes in the assembly—but has but one in the council—and in place of the presidential veto, the council has the rule that a vote must be unanimous to carry. So one vote in the council has as much power as the president over legislation. Is that plain?

Now lets see where England is to get her six votes. There is Canada, as much with us as with England, if not more, so far as interests are concerned, Australia is another land that is a part of the British Empire. New Zealand, India and South Africa are the others. Now on our side, we have practically the same pull on a number of votes that England has, for there is Panama, Cuba, Haiti, San Domingo and Nicaragua, each in a measure looking to Uncle Sam for aid and protection, and each would have a vote in the assembly. In fact, it was not long ago that these same discordant elements of the U. S. senate were making a roar about this very fact, setting up the claim that the league might be under control of the inferior and colored people. But again the plan of the organization saves the world from such a fate. In fact, as organized, the plan is to place the world under the control of the most enlightened and civilized nations of the earth.

Another republican paper, the Philadelphia Public Ledger, clarified the situation in these words:

"President Wilson took occasion, in a chat with the reporters on his train, to say that he did not think that the United States or the world at large had anything to fear from the fact that the various members of the British Empire had votes in the assembly of the league. They do not have votes in the council of the league, except as they share in the single vote of the British Empire. But they do have votes in the assembly, which might be termed the legislature or debating body of the league.

"It seems to have missed the minds of some critics of this provision that this is not a measure of centralization or solidification of the British Empire. These votes conferred upon the overseas sections of that empire were notoriously demanded and obtained by these sections themselves and were not originally promoted—and, it is shrewdly suspected, not particularly desired—by the imperial government. The London government would be quite willing to speak at all times for the whole empire; but Canada, Australia, New Zealand, India and South Africa all feel that there are occasions when they would prefer to speak for themselves. And this is not at all because they always want to lisp 'Yes' to London, but because they know by experience they must sometimes thunder 'No.'"

"It is easy to think of cases where, in times of profound peace when the battleflags were furled and national cries hushed, these overseas British votes would be cast quite frankly with the United States and possibly against the United Kingdom—and this would not for a moment imply any political drift toward us or away from the empire they all love so passionately. Such a case might arise, for instance, over Asiatic immigration. Australia and Canada have a policy on this matter practically identical with ours and not at all like that of the British isles. They will not permit even British subjects from India to enter their countries except under almost prohibitive conditions. Great Britain, on the other hand, is wide open to East Indians and is frequently in a good deal of hot water over this attitude of its overseas dominions. Again Australia and Canada are practically certain to have the same Pacific ocean policy as we have, and we may be very glad of their votes at some critical meeting of the assembly.

"It is a ridiculous misapprehension of the situation to imagine that these 'six British votes' are the result of a sinister British plot against America. They are the result of five new and limited declarations of independence."

Let our disturbed reader keep these facts clearly before him:

1. The British "six votes" are only in the assembly, or debating society of the league, and not in the council, and in the one body as in the other a unanimous vote is required, even for a recommendation, on all important matters.
2. That these "six votes" of Great Britain in the assembly could be counted unit much less surely than could the votes of the United States, Cuba, Panama, Haiti, San Domingo and Nicaragua.
3. That Canada, Australia, New Zealand, India and South Africa were admitted to the assembly at their own demand, not to represent Great Britain but to represent themselves, because they feared Great Britain might not truly represent them.

We Told You We Could Save You Money on Clothes MAKE US PROVE IT

This is the season of the year when all are beginning to think about their new fall and winter suits. They begin to ask themselves the question as to whether or not I can afford a new suit and if so what kind of a suit do I want and how much will I have to pay for it? We have been making a study of the clothes question and have added a line of the best samples that it is possible to secure from one of the best Tailoring houses in the east and now have over a thousand samples ready for your inspection and know that we can fit you out with any kind of suit you may wish, and are in shape to get it for you as cheap if not cheaper than any other dealer in town.

We have a tailor in our employ who is an expert in taking your measure, which is the most important thing when it comes to measuring a perfect fit.

We now have many customers who are wearing our clothes and are well satisfied and we would be pleased if you would drop in and look over the samples and give us a trial and we know that you will also be pleased, not only with the fabric and fit, but also with the price.

Cleaning and Pressing

Fabrics and good tailoring are always important, but in order to keep them looking nice and make them wear well you must keep them clean and well pressed. We have the only plant in the county which is equipped to do a good job of dry cleaning, which is the best method of cleaning.

We do all kinds of cleaning and pressing, also make alterations. Let us serve you.

BUCK'S Hot Blast Heaters

- They will produce hard coal results with soft coal.
- They are decided specialties because they contain "Buck's" Patented Hot Blast Ring, which supplies more heated air to the fuel surface than any other.
- Combustion takes place in a circle, burning from the outer edge to the center, causing the stove to radiate heat as soon as the fire is started.
- Contain "Buck's" original cone-shaped, easy-cleaning grate.
- Among the many other features in this line are—
- Can never puff; has safety draft in base of feed door which also ventilates mica.
- Contain the best features of a base burner, having highly heated base and mica illumination.
- Contain all the good features of the oak stove, being air-tight and having large radiating surface.
- Require attention only three times in twenty-four hours.
- A steady, even heat day and night.
- Will keep fire forty-eight hours.
- No chinkers formed with 95 per cent of coal mined.
- A large air duct completely encircles inside top of fire pot.
- The grate is self-cleaning, grinds up and drops into pan all foreign matter in soft coal.
- You can shake down ashes by simply opening small draft door.
- Bottom of ash pit lower than door prevents ashes drawing out under pan.
- Large bailed pan, will hold all ashes stove can make in twenty-four hours.
- Fire pot in two pieces, upper and lower sections, allows for expansion and contraction.
- Fire pot never cracks or burns out; it is everlasting.
- Body fastened to outside top of pot, prevents body buckling.
- Every joint in stove perfectly air-tight.
- Heavy cast braces inside of door frame prevents steel buckling between bolts and leaking air.
- Hot Blast draft drives heat into base, which becomes so highly heated that biscuit can be baked in ash pan.
- "Buck's" Hot Blast burns all the combustible matter in any kind of fuel.

Fairly sparkling with "Buck's" silver nickel trimmings.

Wayne Guarantee Tire Repair Co.

Under New Management

Having purchased from F. McGuckin the stock, equipment and business of the Wayne Guarantee Tire Company, I wish to ask the people with tire trouble to continue to give their patronage to the little shop just west of the State bank, assuring them a continuation of the careful and expert work for which this shop has been noted. Within a short time, I will have as an assistant another expert direct from the Sprague tire factory, who also knows how to build tires as they should be for real service.

From time to time, I expect to add other special lines of car repair work, as the needs of the business seem to demand—not in competition with a class of work now done here, but for special jobs which now have to be sent away for satisfactory work.

I will continue to sell the two popular tires handled at this shop, the Savage and the Kokomo Tires—which I consider among the very best makes.

Assuring old or new patrons prompt, expert service in handling all classes of tire trouble, I hope to meet you and your troubles here.

Now is the best time to select from your spring pigs such sows as you wish to keep for brood sows, and they will be better fitted for mothers if put on a different diet than that given to shoats that are to be fattened. Here are some of the points to be considered: Careful attention should be given to the selection of sows for breeding purposes. First, they should be selected from a good sized litter and from a litter whose dam has good suckling qualities. The brood sow should be of a good rangy type, with a good, strong arched back, deep sides, rather thin neck, and not too broad in the face. By all means she should be a "good-footed" animal with good, strong legs and pasterns and rather upstanding from the ground; Good forage crops are practically a necessity. A self-feeder containing a good quality of threshed oats makes good feed for these sows. In addition, according to specialists of the United States department of agriculture, they may be fed a small amount of corn and some shorts or middlings and fish meal or tankage.

Notice of Settlement of Account

In the county court of Wayne county, Nebraska.

The State of Nebraska, Wayne county, ss.

To all persons interested in the estate of Thomas Busby, deceased.

On reading the petition of Thomas Busby, Jr. praying a final settlement and allowance of his account filed in this court on the 4th day of September, 1919, and for distribution. It is hereby ordered that you and all persons interested in said matter may, and do, appear at the county court to be held in and for said county, on the 27th day of September, A. D. 1919, at 10 o'clock a. m., to show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted, and that notice of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereof be given to all persons interested in said matter by publishing a copy of this order in the Nebraska Democrat, a weekly newspaper printed in said county, three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing.

ARMY RECRUITING

That the recruiting service of the army has been able to obtain more than 100,000 men, which mark was reported passed on August 16, during what practically amounts to a period immediately after the close of a war, speaks very highly for the initiative, versatility of ideas as to approach and sheer hard work of its officers and men. The only feature of the recruiting campaign for the army during the present year that differed from previous campaigns of this character was the appropriation by the war department of money for newspaper advertising of what is called a national character. But even this aid does not mitigate from the admirable work of the recruiting service, which has had to contend against economic conditions such as this country has never known for prosperity among the working population brought about by high wages. An even greater obstacle to enlistments is the inevitable reaction against military service that follows the end of all wars. Yet the recruiting service has worked cheerfully, and more picturesquely and successfully than ever before, toward the rebuilding of the regular army against the day when all the emergency forces will have been demobilized and it will stand alone as the tried and true basis of our military establishment.—The Northwestern Appeal.

THE TEMPER OF THE PEOPLE EXPRESSED

Frank D. Jackson, former governor of Iowa, having received a letter appealing for support of the National Republican Weekly and the republican national organization, returned this reply:

"Carl W. Riddick, Washington, D. C.—Dear Sir: Your letter asking my subscription for the National Republican Weekly and a donation to the republican organization has been received.

"I am what is known as a 'stand-pat' republican and always have been, but I want to say to you in all frankness that if the republican party is going to stand for the 'branding iron' of opposition to the immediate approval of the peace treaty as submitted to the senate without amendment then I want to whisper in your ear that all the subscriptions to the National Republican Weekly and all the contributions to the republican cause will not save the party from final and overwhelming defeat.

"The people of this country are getting very tired of hearing about republican efforts of organization against socialism and the increasing drift toward lawlessness when the failure of the republican senators to approve the peace treaty and the league of nations is stimulating, more than anything else, the increasing drift toward lawlessness and anarchy.

"The people of this country know what they want, and if I am any judge of the temper of the people they intend to have this treaty approved now and without any more delay. I am disgusted with so-called republican leaders and I am not a Wilson man, either personally or politically. On the other hand I am not in favor of letting the country drift to the devil while republican leaders play horse."

TWENTY-FIFTH YEAR OF AK-SAR-BEN

The two big features of this Fall's Ak-Sar-Ben Carnival will be the two magnificent parades. One the night of October 1, the grand Electric Pageant will be seen on the streets and, this being the 25th Anniversary of Ak-Sar-Ben, the parades this year will surpass any of previous years. On the afternoon of October 2, the Automobile Floral Parade will take place, when 125 beautifully decorated automobiles will be seen. This year's parades will excel all previous efforts in this line. On the Carnival Grounds, 15th and Capitol Ave., Con. T. Kennedy's greatest of American Tented attractions will give afternoon and evening performances, September 24 to October 4.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Jessie Watson left Tuesday morning to attend the university at Lincoln this year.

John Kay was a passenger to Omaha Monday afternoon, going down on a business mission.

Mrs. Stanley Fields from Ponca came Monday to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Teed.

Mrs. Young and her sister, Wilma Gildersleeve, were visitors at Emerson and Lyons last week.

Mrs. N. P. Hansen from Blair came Monday to visit at the home of her nephew, Axel Johnson and wife.

L. C. Gildersleeve and wife, and their son, Harry who has been visiting at home, went to visit the Chas. Beebe family at Wakefield Sunday afternoon.

It is my constant endeavor to supply my patrons with the very latest in millinery, and this fall's stock is fully up to standard, says Mrs. Jeffries.—adv

Mrs. Mary Jones left Monday afternoon for her California home at Pasadena, where she spends her winters. She has been here since some time in May or June.

Mrs. John S. Lewis, Sr., from Burk, South Dakota, was here last week visiting at the home of John S. Lewis, Jr., and family for a few days, and left for home Saturday.

Miss Dorothea Ellis, accompanied by her mother, left Monday afternoon to attend school at Lincoln, the mother going to help her get settled in her fall and winter quarters.

Glenn and Helen Gildersleeve, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Gildersleeve, left Monday afternoon for college. Miss Helen will attend Oberlin college at Oberlin, Ohio, and Glenn will go to Columbia, New York to finish work he had under way at Lincoln when he quit to help quell the foe across the pond.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis and sons from Carroll and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sewell, of this city, went to Huron, South Dakota, last week for a visit. They went by automobile, and found plenty of mud, going and returning. On the return trip they had car trouble, and all except Mr. Davis left the automobile up in South Dakota and came by train to Sioux City and then home, reaching Wayne Sunday.

L. M. Owen sent a car load of fat porkers to the Sioux City market from his place the first of the week, and while, as he says, they brought in considerable change, their gain in the past three weeks was not nearly so much as the drop in price. Of course he did not know when he went for a trip that hogs were going to get down from their high price pedestal as they did, else he might have sold them first.

Coffee, 25-pound lots, price and quality guaranteed. Basket Store.—adv

Miss Elsie Marquardt from Norfolk was here Tuesday, a guest of Mrs. W. E. Beaman.

The Baptist ladies will hold a food sale Saturday afternoon at the Central Meat Market.—adv

Nels Nelson is visiting the interstate at Sioux City this week, going down Wednesday morning.

Miss Katherine Foley from Spencer is here visiting at the Patrick Dixon home, for a few days.

For information regards car load shipments—cabbage, potatoes, onions and apples, phone No. 2, Basket Store.—adv

Mrs. Mary Sullivan of Bloomfield, was a Wayne visitor last week, and this week she passed through, on her way to visit at Omaha.

Mrs. E. T. Slaughter, who has been here from Burke, South Dakota, a guest at the Pat Dixon home, returned home Wednesday.

Ernest Rippen started to Slayton, Minnesota, Sunday morning to visit his old home, stopping a day to attend the Sioux City fair.

Read the call of the army—the Salvation Army and volunteer your bit toward their mess fund. The fighters must be fed—and they fight a good fight.

Misses Frances and Fern Oman left Wednesday morning for Lincoln to resume their school studies there. Mr. and Mrs. Oman drove across the country with them.

Frank Sederstrom reports that he has made the sale of what was known as the Sederstrom house, from Mr. Richardson to Ray Norton, who is to have possession not later than November 1.

You will not perhaps be satisfied with the purchase of your winter wrap unless you see before you buy the splendid line which Mrs. Jeffries is selling this season, and get her prices.—adv

H. A. Mason and family from Meadow Grove and L. A. Mason and wife from Wakefield met at the J. W. Mason home Sunday, making a reunion of the family except one in Ohio, for the day.

Those who are fighting the high cost of living will not neglect to read the story of the 25 cent sale which will be raging Friday and Saturday at the Hurstad & Son store. If more people would read the advertisements the living cost might be lowered.—1t

Floyd Conger is married, we are told—married about two weeks ago, and is now at Milwaukee. He left Wayne to escape hay fever, and his folks are looking for him home as soon as it frosts, which should be soon. The name of the bride, before marriage is not given to folks here.

Rev. Fischer from southwest of Wayne was a passenger to Falls City Tuesday morning, going down to attend the conference of ministers of the Evangelical Lutheran synod, at that place. He says that from twenty-five to thirty ministers of that faith usually attend their annual meetings.

Elmer Noskes is wrestling with the problem incident to building a double corn crib these times. He finds that material is out of sight. That is, in addition to being priced high some of it is not to be had without much delay. However, he hopes to have it ready for the coming corn harvest.

Miss Charlotte White, who has been at an Omaha hospital for an appendix operation, and since been convalescing with friends at Rosalie, came back to Wayne the last of the week apparently little if any worse for the ordeal. Miss White tells us that she is feeling quite well again, but tires a bit more easily than before.

Mrs. Joe Baker, who with the children has been visiting at the home of his parents at Dupon, Illinois, several weeks, returned the first of the week. She was accompanied by her father-in-law, W. P. Baker, who will visit here for a time. This is his first visit to Nebraska, and when our bracing air puts him in a bit better health we know he will like it.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Weaver of St. Louis, Missouri, who have been visiting their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Davies, departed Wednesday afternoon for Chicago and other points in the east enroute for their new home at Chapel Hill, North Carolina, where Prof. Weaver will teach music in a university there. These young people have been but recently married and are having a wedding trip. Robert Gantt of Sioux City, a brother of Mrs. Weaver, visited in the Davies home at the same time. He lately returned from overseas. Mrs. Weaver will be remembered here as Miss Gantt, who won many friends while a student at the Normal, all of whom will wish her a life of happiness.

"W. H. Needham, editor of the Monitor, is laid up this week with a severe attack of ulcerated tonsils. Physicians in charge of the case lanced the tonsils last night and removed about a pint of pus. He is somewhat better, according to reports, but was in quite a serious and critical condition for a time. The Journal joins with his many friends in wishing him a speedy return to health and the entire elimination of the trouble." The above is taken from the Bloomfield Journal, and the Democrat joins in hoping that the worst of the struggle is over, for Brother Needham is one of those aggressive, hard-headed newspaper men who has made an impression for good upon his community, and who is now in position to continue the good work with more force than ever, if spared his health. It was a real pleasure to read his paper during the war-time days for its pure, unadulterated Americanism.

NASH Passenger Cars Win Three Prizes in Automobile Fashion Show

Further honors came to Nash passenger cars when they were awarded three prizes at the automobile fashion show held in connection with the Sedalia, Mo. State Fair. The awards were based upon appearance.

After a review before 10,000 spectators who crowded the grand stand at the state fair grounds and in competition with numerous cars of other makes the Nash entries, all driven by owners, got first and third places in the sport and roadster class respectively and third place in the touring car class.

No Nash closed cars were entered in the fashion review, thus with this elimination, three prizes out of a possible six, is regarded as an excellent showing.

The Nash sport model which won first and third prizes in the sport and roadster class is of a design that is exceedingly attractive. The body with its long, gracefully sweeping lines is hung low upon a wheelbase of 121 inches. It is Palmette green while the fenders and running gear are glossy black and the trimmings, including four outside door-handles, are of nickel. Two windows in the rear are fitted with beveled glass.

The equipment of this model includes legal head-light lens and five white wire wheels. Other equipment is a tonneau light, foot rest and robe rail. The car has an air of refinement calculated to please the most discriminating.

SOME NEWS FEATURES

A tidal wave of great height visited the gulf coast country, the result of a hurricane has left many dead in its path. At Corpus Christi the wave did much damage, wounding many and killing a large number, the extent of the deaths is not yet known. Some reports are that more than 120 bodies have been found, and that 2,000 are homeless. Other coast towns were demolished completely, and at Galveston their great wall alone saved them from serious loss of life and property. Many places are yet to be heard from, and the loss will likely prove appalling.

Lloyd George is insisting that the kaiser be tried, and we think he is right as far as he goes. Some would hang him first and try him afterward.

At Chicago thirty-seven cases of Spanish influenza have been reported to the health department in three days. It was during the corresponding week of last year that the epidemic first crept into Chicago.

An exclusive job-printing plant has just been installed at Winner, South Dakota.

Formation of a state league for "the preservation of American independence" took place at Lincoln Tuesday if plans of prominent residents of Lincoln, Omaha, Fremont and other Nebraska cities are carried out. Call for a convention here today of Nebraska citizens to form the league was issued a short time ago by a committee of citizens of Fremont, Omaha, Lincoln and other Nebraska cities. The convention is scheduled to begin at 2 p. m. The call for the meeting said in part: "If our America is to be rescued from impending embroilments with the governments of foreign lands, and if the very spirit of our declaration of independence is to be preserved for the guidance and the good of humanity, in general, and the American people, in particular, not a day must be lost in the work of organizing the people to this righteous end. Our brothers in all the states are organizing. Nebraska must not lag in a cause so holy." We thought this was Edgar Howard's pet scheme to save America for the people who took it from the real Americans—and here this news report and no mention of the late lieutenant governor or his town.

The police of Boston, who struck at the command of one who was not in authority over them are now said to be trying to get their star back again. But the state and city officials are not yet putting them back on the pay roll, and they should not be in a hurry to do that thing. When men take an oath to perform a public duty they have no right to obligate themselves to obey any other authority that may conflict with their duty.

Twenty-four legislative districts held a primary Tuesday to determine who of more than two candidates are to serve as candidates for the state constitutional convention, which is to be held in November. In this part of the state there is Madison and Cuming counties, and the Cedar-Knox district where the primary is held.

The peace treaty has been given to the senate for debate. There was a majority report urging amendments and reservations, a minority report urging immediate adoption and ratification, and then came a second minority report by Senator McCumber of North Dakota which would unite, both sides for a few useless and barren reservations tell the fellers just how we propose to interpret the League—David Horner, Pender, document.

The potato crop is short in this state and prices are high, which means some of us will have to eat more corn bread and less spuds. Well, we cannot exactly make the crop, but it should be seen to that the profiteers do not make the price unreasonable. They should not be allowed to corner the output. If we must pay a stiff price, let it be to the producer without the intervention of the profiteer. Any regular dealer should have a fair margin—but to grab and hold for rotting to keep prices up should be stopped.

Recourse to cooperative agencies as a means of lowering the high cost of living offers another proof of the wisdom of the old saying that what one would have done well one must do himself. Democracy was originally conceived by some as a self-sustaining agency to conduct public affairs. But it has been found that after representatives had been elected it was necessary to form innumerable committees to see that the men elected discharged their duty. It now appears that the commercial distributing agencies have not wholly met post-war requirements, and consumers are getting up voluntary societies for the exchange of goods on a more equitable basis. It will be noted that cooperative societies thrive best where commercial agencies are worst. In mining regions where the people are dependent upon "pluck-me" stores—cooperative stores have been found a most efficient means of relief. The same is true of frontier regions and farming communities, such as western Canada. They have not heretofore made appreciable headway in cities where merchandising rests upon a keener competitive basis. The war, however, has so upset normal conditions that there appears to be at least a temporary field for cooperative trading. What the cooperative societies are doing in Paris to reduce living costs will be attempted in American cities. But it must be recognized that merchandising is labor, and it requires skill and attention. People must not expect cooperation to be self-sustaining; if they would derive from it any benefit they must be willing to contribute freely of their time and talents.—The Public.

FORMER ALLEN CITIZEN HERE FIRST TIME IN 29 YEARS

Orrie Newton and family of Corona, California, visited a few days last week in Allen at the home of the former's cousin, Len Jeffrey. They left on Monday for Carroll, Nebraska, for a short visit before returning home, after having been gone for two months, in Montana, Oregon, Washington, Missouri and Nebraska.

Mr. Newton's father, L. Newton, homesteaded and erected the buildings on the farm now known as the Wm. Rakow place near here, in 1872, and lived in Nebraska during the early hard times. In those days Sioux City was the only trading center for this territory and they had to haul all farm produce, grain and hogs there to be sold.

Later the family moved to Wayne, Nebraska, and twenty-nine years ago left Wayne for California, where they have resided.

Mr. Newton is in the wholesale feed and grain business and he says that last year his firm cleaned and shipped over 90,000 tons of beans for the government.

In passing through Montana a few weeks ago he saw two carloads of fine, well built horses sold for a total sum of $100. The people of that state are having to ship out all live stock on account of the past dry summer ruining the ranges.—Allen News.

WITH THE WAYNE CHURCHES

English Lutheran Church (Rev. J. H. Fetterolf, Pastor)

ENGLISH LUTH. 10 a. m. We are anxious to have all the scholars in their places next Sunday. A little effort to this end will help to realize our expectations. The school needs you, but you need the school more.

The holy communion announced for last Sunday had to be postponed until next Sunday. Please do not forget to bring your offering for the benevolent operations of the church. This will be your last opportunity to contribute to this worthy cause in this synodical year.

Luther-League meeting at 7:15 p. m. In connection with the regular meeting plans for the winter campaign will be discussed. All the young people should be present.

Evening preaching at 8 o'clock. Mrs. John Götman will entertain the Aid. at her home three miles east of Carroll.

A box of clothing will be shipped to Tabitha Orphans' Home at Lincoln the first week in October. All who desire to contribute to this needy cause are requested to leave garments at the parsonage. Clothing that children have outgrown, but in good condition, can be used. Minor repairs that garments may need should be made by the donors to save time and expense at the home.

First Baptist Church (Robert H. Pratt, S. T. M. Minister)

At the morning service of worship and preaching at 10:30, the pastor will speak on the theme, "Jesus the Christ." In the evening at 8 the subject will be "Modern Repentance."

The Sunday school meets at 11:30 and welcomes all to its sessions. To be a good Christian one must know the life of Jesus and His teachings. The Sunday school helps you in this study.

The young people have a live meeting at 7 p. m. Come and enjoy the meeting with us.

On Wednesday the midweek service is held at 8 p. m. This is the people's service. If you have any perplexing questions or problems in your religious life, tell us of them and let us help you solve them.

The First Presbyterian Church (Rev. J. W. Beard, Minister)

Morning worship at 10:30. This Sabbath morning we will observe the quarterly communion service. Children will be presented for baptism.

Sunday school at 11:30. Classes for all. We especially desire your attendance at the Young Men's Bible class.

Senior Endeavor at 7 o'clock. Subject of the Endeavor study "Truthfulness." Miss Edith Huse, leader.

Evening preaching service at 8 o'clock. Theme of the evening sermon, "The Mastery of the Game."

If you come you will enjoy these services!

A hearty welcome awaits you!

Lutheran Church (Rev. H. A. Teckhaus, Pastor)

Sunday school 10 a. m. Regular morning worship 11 a. m. (American) 11 a. m.

Next Sunday morning we intend to organize a Young People's Bible class in Sunday school. All those being confirmed are kindly invited to enroll and take an active part. Leader, Mrs. Teckhaus.

Wednesday the 24th, 8:30 p. m. choir practice.

Friday the 26th, 7 p. m. Sunday school teachers' meeting at the home of Mr. Will Kugler.

Saturday the 20th, 3 p. m. catechumenical instruction.

THE EVIDENCE

When Marie Walcamp, the Universal star, was a very little girl she accompanied her uncle to court where he was a witness in a civil suit. The lawyer for the plaintiff asked him:

"Are you married?"

The future star's uncle replied that he was indeed married.

"We have no proof of that, sir," said the examiner.

Little Marie stood on a bench and piped up:

"Show him the bump on your head uncle."

And that was little Marie's farewell appearance in court for some time.

High Costs Have Increased Telephone Expenses

The telephone industry has been affected by the same conditions which produced higher prices for all of the necessities of life.

The cost of telephone operation has steadily advanced because of the increased cost of material to the telephone company and the increased living expenses of employees.

For several years there has been a steady increase in the price of nearly everything used in the telephone business.

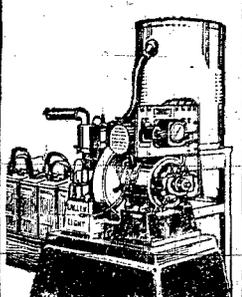

To meet increased expenses there has been a general increase in telephone rates throughout the country.

Mr. Senter has had his trouble diagnosed, and will submit to an operation as soon as is assured that his wife is well on the way to recovery from her ordeal.

IN DISTRICT COURT

Court convenes today for the September term, and the docket has forty cases listed, as reported two weeks ago, but the assignment had not been made at this hour. This morning and afternoon naturalization cases are to be heard, and there are perhaps twenty in waiting for a hearing for final papers.

Last week four of the pending cases were heard before Judge Welch and disposed of, each of the following pleading guilty to a charge of gambling and paying a fine of $100 and costs. Loren Wright, Thos. Moran, Jr., and John Nugent. Wm. Moran plead guilty to a charge of intoxication and was fined $20 and costs. Some other cases in the same class may have a hearing this afternoon.

BREAKING THE RULE

Sunday evening the writer and several others suspended the rule and attended the Methodist church to listen to Captain George E. Francis speak on the "Philosophy of Democracy," and were well repaid in real pleasure for the effort. Captain Francis was serving as chaplain during the late round with Germany, and he brought to the people a broad view of democracy. He defined the Golden Rule as the very foundation of democracy. He spoke of the inequalities of what has been permitted—the wrongs to the laboring classes in lack of opportunity and other hardships—and that the time had come for more justice. He said too, that the laboring classes should consider the rights of others—and should not strive to take without giving value in return. They must be conservative and not abuse a power they might exert simply because they have not had their full rights in other days. His talk was well balanced and a convincing plea for a more just distribution of opportunity—equitable plan of giving and taking the bounties of nature. Some might call it socialism—but it was not what is commonly termed socialism—it was a true democracy that he preached—equal opportunity to all, special privilege to none. That is the essence of justice, and justice should be all that any honest people could ask.

STATE NORMAL NOTES

Last Monday evening the opening reception of the faculty to the students was held in the administration building. The young people were received by the faculty in the lower hall, after which a brief program was had in the auditorium. It was a special pleasure to all to hear for the first time Professor Hunter play on the violin. Accompanied by Mrs. Serfling, he rendered two selections in brilliant style and was uproariously encored. Those who were able to judge say that the musical life of Wayne is greatly enriched by the coming of Professor Hunter. The Normal school people always feel a special pride in the musical achievement of the Oman sisters. Miss Fern Oman, accompanied by her sister, Miss Frances, generously consented to sing on the program and was the great favorite that she always is. President Conn spoke in his serious and cordial manner and the students responded to the welcome with approval. After refreshments the rest of the evening was spent in games conducted in the gymnasium by Professor Serfling, and in dancing.

Miss Martha E. Dewey of Mendota, Illinois, arrived Wednesday to take her place in the department of expression and physical training. Miss Dewey holds the degree of A. B. from Aurora college and has studied oratory and physical education at Northwestern University and at the Harvard School of Physical Education. She has taught at Monmouth college, Aurora college and at the state normal at Valley City, North Dakota. She also taught in the summer school at Chadron state normal school last year. President Elliott of the last named institution and others speak in highest terms of her teaching and personality.

At the suggestion of the extension department of the University of Nebraska, Miss Helen Burton, head of the department of domestic science, last week acted as judge at the Pierce county fair in the competitions in the exhibits of household arts.

Professor A. V. Teed, head of department of rural education, left yesterday to address the county institute at Fairbury. Professor Teed is receiving many invitations of late to deliver his message of expert knowledge concerning consolidation of schools and related subjects to communities at considerable distance from Wayne.

Herman Siems, who graduated from the Normal in 1917, is visiting on the hill this week. Since his graduation Mr. Siems has won his bachelor of science degree in the University of Chicago, specializing in the department of chemistry. He has now received the unusual honor of a fellowship in the same department and is about to return to the University for graduate study. It is a source of pride and pleasure to the Normal and to this community that Mr. Siems has so early won his mark in the realm of scholarship, a fellowship in University of Chicago being no mean testimonial of merit.

The second week of school sees additions to the enrollment for the term to the number of twenty or more. We may expect a further increase about the first of December when the young people from the farms will arrive in large number.

The Y. W. C. A. arranged a hike for the girls of the Normal last evening which included a walk to Bressler's grove, a jolly campfire, refreshments and games. A large crowd were present and the aim of the committee planning the affair, to get acquainted, was fully realized.

SCHOOL NOTES

Thursday afternoon at the convocation period the high school students listened to the following program: Biography of John McCormack, Marion Surber; The Songs I Find People Like Best, by John McCormack, Madeline Bohnert; the victrola records, I Hear You Calling Me and Star Spangled Banner, both by John McCormack, closed the fifteen-minute program which was in charge of Miss Helen Sweeney of the English department.

Rev. Beard of the Presbyterian church addressed the high school students at convocation on Friday. Taking for his subject, "A Great Ideal," he forcefully portrayed the owner of a great cause, a great trust, and prepared life.

Edna Hanssen and Vera Betteroff members of the class of 1919, were visitors at the high school Tuesday.

ALVIN VS. WENDLING DAMAGES

County Judge Cherry Wednesday heard the case of Enfield Alvin against C. F. Wendling of Kansas City for damages to his car in a collision near the cemetery a few weeks ago. When the evidence was all in his honor gave Alvin a judgment for $75 against the defendant. Plaintiff lives northwest of Wayne in the Carroll neighborhood.

We ask you to investigate our offerings of North Dakota lands in one of the very best fertile sections of that great state.

A farm scene, showing improvements common in that part of the state. Farms in this class are selling daily, and the prices range from $55 to $75, per acre. Seeing is believing.

We claim for the lands we are offering better values for the price in quality of soil, improvements paid for from the land, a better crop average over a series of years, nearer to markets as good as are to be found, ample railroad facilities, good water and ample rainfall, as shown by government records.

We want to Show You These Lands

One seeking a home should use caution and consider advantages and disadvantages of offerings. We can show you high quality and moderate price. It is the verdict of all who visit this section that they have seen no better offerings, and four-fifths of the visitors back this opinion by a purchase. Do not neglect an opportunity which will soon pass of securing a home at a real bargain price.

Mrs. G. Dahlquist received word that her mother was sailing from New York to her old home in Sweden.

AUCTION SALE SEASON

The sale season is opening, and farm sales and pure bred stock sales are beginning to be dated. Advertising good stuff is what makes a successful sale. The Democrat is equipped and ready to cooperate with all who are planning a sale, to see that the news of the sale and what is offered is told to its many readers in this the richest farm district in Nebraska. We will appreciate a chance to help you assemble those who want to buy your offering, whether it be a farm or a farm sale, a pure stock sale or simply a small offering of odds and ends of furniture, machinery and stock. NEBRASKA ELECTRIC CO. DISPOSES OF ITS PLANTS

The Tri-State Utilities Co. is now in charge of the electric light plants at Bloomfield, Wausa, Hartington and Creighton, having taken over control of these plants with the first of this month. The Nebraska Electric Co. is therefore a thing of the past. The new company also owns a string of electric light plants in southwestern Iowa and the headquarters of the concern is located in Omaha.

The plants at Emerson and Wakefield which were owned and operated by the Nebraska Electric Co., were sold to those municipalities—the Emerson plant just prior to the closing of the deal noted above and the Wakefield plant some time previously.

Newt Jackson, who was district superintendent for the old company with headquarters at Wausa, has resigned his position and gone to Clarinda, Iowa, where he will go into business in partnership with S. F. Aikman, former manager of the light plant at Hartington. Mr. Campbell, who will be the district superintendent for the new management, will visit Bloomfield this week to look over the local situation. E. A. Hills, who has been the local manager, will continue in that capacity, at least for the present.

The above is taken from the Bloomfield Journal, and all such items go to show that unless the people move to take over and conduct these great light and power enterprises, they will eventually have to pay too much tribute to the great corporations that are gathering them in as fast as it is possible for them to do so. They have been reaching out into Iowa, and the people where they get control are not getting light and power as low as it seems that they should do.

DEATH OF SOPHIA MOORE

Word comes to the editor of the death of a cousin, Mrs. Sophia Moore, who passed away from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hazel Case, at Omaha, Tuesday, September 16, and the body is to be brought to Coleridge for burial Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Moore were residents of Coleridge for many years, leaving there about ten years ago to go to Lincoln. They had a wide circle of friends and acquaintances in Cedar county who will learn with sorrow of her death. Mr. Moore was buried there about sixteen months ago.

Mrs. Moore was one of the pioneer women of this west. Born in western New York, she came with her parents to Illinois and then to Iowa when the states were but a wilderness. In 1860, soon after her marriage, she went with her husband and parents across the plains in an ox freight train to the mountains, and lived with the pioneers of that rough and rugged land for a number of years, experienced all of the hardships incident to camp life and pioneer surroundings where everything except the natural products of the country had to be hauled by wagon across 600 miles of what was then called the great American desert—but now known as Nebraska.

In the closing days of the great Civil war Mr. Moore was freighting for Uncle Sam, hauling timber and supplies to the forts of the west, when the Indians were constantly on the warpath, and one of her duties in time of attack upon their train was to load the old muzzle loading rifles of those days and pass them on to the men who were defending their lives and their all.

After the close of the war they returned to Iowa, and purchased and settled on a farm in Delaware county, and later came to a farm near Coleridge, and were residents of Cedar county almost continuously until they went to Lincoln as stated above.

Two sons and three daughters survive her, Check C. Moore, who travels in this part of Nebraska, and Guy Moore of Coleridge. The oldest daughter lives at Des Moines, the other two in Nebraska.

Senator Knox is showing his real color now. At first he wanted to separate the league of nations from the treaty and now he would repose the entire treaty. It is too hard on Germany, she couldn't pay the price asked. He would make a new treaty with Germany, one that would suit Germany better, no doubt. Next thing we know he'll be saying we ought never to have fought so hard against Germany, she couldn't stand it and surrendered. The next step would be to offer to compensate Germany for her losses in the cruel War Wilson—and the democratic party waged against her. Of course, he isn't pro-German, just anti-Wilson. Well, he's gone so far now even the densest among men can see through his game. He can do no more damage to the treaty. He's through but doesn't know it. If the people could get a chance at a recall vote on him he'd soon find it out.—Blair. Pilot (Republican).
