

OUR FAIR A SUCCESS IN SPITE OF WEATHER

It is always darkest before dawn, is the old saying, and so it appeared to Wayne people as they plodded and toiled through the mud and rain Tuesday and Wednesday to make all things ready for the stock fair and fall festival. And still it rained. But the only difference that it made was the determination to hold the fair a day longer, and not close until Saturday, thus giving the public a chance to become acquainted with the possibilities of this county and what it is producing, and see also what it can produce all over as well as in the spots where these best products have been grown. No one should fail to visit Wayne Friday and Saturday, see the great show, listen to the band, see the free street attractions, get acquainted with your neighbors and be alive. The program on another page will tell about it. The following story was written Wednesday, and does not near tell all that could be truthfully told now.

The Free Attractions

Much care was taken to secure some extra good free street attractions, and it is thought they secured them—in fact part of the show has been seen upon the street and is proving an attraction. But then we won't tell about that for you will want to come and see. Being a slack season and bad weather, the attractions arrived a day a head of time, and were here resting all day yesterday waiting for the show to begin. Our reporter found a bunch of the "Original Shipman Rabbits," an attraction which has proved so popular that they have imitators—and are having trouble because others have been using their name because it was worth something to them. They have a real goose circus—and other trained animals. Wayne people have never before seen a goose circus. We suppose that the geese being water as well as land birds, this wet weather will in no manner discourage them. Then there will be novelty acts and novelty acts, the man with the iron jaw; the sword spinning, acrobatic acts, arlet acts by men from foreign lands, and other stunts to please and they cost you nothing but the trip to Wayne.

The Baby Show a Success

Nothing less than the above heading would truthfully tell of this important part of the fair and stock show. Of course, to some of the little ones in the race for honors, it was no joke, if one may judge by the "kick" they made against having a stranger carefully study their build. But they had to submit.

Weather conditions made the entries only thirty-nine out of a pledge of sixty-five, and some of those in charge of the work thought that a plenty, while it lasted, but all wished that the other twenty-six could have come. This test showed first that Wayne and vicinity has a pretty good bunch of babies, as a whole. Of course, only the brightest and best were brought to the show—but as every mother and father too thinks their little ones are that, it is fair to say the exhibit was but normal for this community.

The opera house is showing marked improvement under the care of the new owners, the Woman's club, for it was both warm and clean, a combination we have not known to happen before in the past years. So we know that the room can be made comfortable, and are glad of it. The stage was very prettily decorated in autumn leaves, with baby beds, kiddy cars, chairs, chair and table combination, etc., resembling a nursery, and on the floor below were two tables showing the baby clothes us older ones used to have to wear and the proper wearing apparel for the baby of today. There was a marked difference—and we will say improvement. Some mother of earlier days had evidently provided the older fashioned garments, and some of the local merchants provided the modern equipment as well as the stage settings and decorations. The booths in which the little ones were examined were also appropriately decorated, and the old opera house appeared at its best.

The score cards will not be finished before this evening or tomorrow, when the ribbons are to be awarded. Too much praise cannot be given to the doctors and dentists for their kindly part in this work, nor to the members of that committee in charge, for it may mean so much to the future of these little ones to have a thorough examination, physically and mentally, for if defects are found they may in most cases be easily remedied—and yet few people so long as the baby is in apparent good health take thought of the possibility of a trouble starting which may be remedied if known in time. We know that slight defects were discovered by yesterday's examinations which will no doubt be remedied in time to prevent serious results that would otherwise follow. Wayne should have a fair each year, if for no other reason than to give the babies the benefit of a careful examination.

Many Cattle Coming In

When we visited the pavilion Wednesday afternoon, we found the stalls rapidly filling with some good cattle, though more will come in today, as weather conditions were such as to make it almost impossible for breeders to come from far with cattle. The Herefords and Shorthorns were most in evidence, and some of them were beauties—in fact, all of them from the little calves to the big papa cows.

Many Hog Pens

But not so many hogs at the time of our visit, because the people who owned hogs did not like to get out in the wet and mud themselves and did not want the hogs to be inconvenienced. But several pens were filled, and more are sure to come as soon as the weather permits their being moved. Of course, the writer is not much of a judge of hogs, but he saw some animals there that he would easily award a first prize; if nothing better came—and that something better will have to be good.

Poultry Show

No department of the stock show promises better than the poultry exhibit. This under the supervision of Superintendent Hufford is already well filled in spite of bad weather. The birds fill a tent near the pavilion. It will be worth your while to see this show.

In quality the poultry show is said to be better than at the interstate fair, and also in varieties shown it is not to be beaten anywhere. The fact is apparent, that in spite of the handicap of bad weather we have an exhibit here in most departments second to none.

At the City Hall

This morning with fair weather promised, and in fact here, the exhibits in art, fancy work, canned goods and farm products are coming in at a rapid rate, and will tax the capacity of the room to its extent. The grain exhibit of the Roggenbach brothers, who have been giving careful attention to farming is equal to any in any of the state fairs—in fact, it is the winning exhibit in many places as tested by the ribbons and championship cups. They are showing the champion ear of corn of all Nebraska, and it grew in our county. This exhibit is not in competition, but it shows what may be done in this part of the state.

The Horse Stalls

A number of the entries arrived Wednesday afternoon, and were given stalls, and this morning others already entered will be brought in and placed in competition.

Farm, Art and Domestic Exhibits at City Hall

Wednesday noon it was decided that the city hall should be used for the exhibits in the above classes, as well as the fine arts and school exhibits, and it is being filled with a splendid lot of the products of the farm, the garden, the kitchen, the schools and the works of art.

The school exhibits are well calculated to make us all proud of the schools of our county, pupils, teachers and the superintendent.

LITTLE GIRL KILLED BY KICK OF HORSE

Wednesday the body of Yellda, the 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wright of Maskell, was brought here for burial. She was kicked by a horse Sunday and fatally injured. The body was accompanied by the parents and three brothers and three sisters and other relatives, and buried here following a short service at the grave.

THE WINNERS AT BABY SHOW

The judges announced the following:

First in under 6 months, and also grand champions, with score of 100 each, Paul Herman Mildner, boy and Josephine Virginia Ley.

One year, Mary Ella Pile, score 99.

Two year, Evelyn Martha Wendt, score 97.4.

Three years, Harry Edward Kemp, score 98.

Four years, John Kenyon Lewis, score 96.

Five years, Katherine Barnes, score 97.5.

NEW ICE PLANT FOR WAYNE PEOPLE

A contract was let Wednesday for a new artificial ice plant of eleven ton daily capacity for Wayne, Messrs. Homer Scace and LeRoy Ley are the proprietors, and have purchased the lot just east of the Chase Number yard on East Second street, where the old feed mill once was and are to begin construction work at once. The contract has been awarded to the Speed, the Vilder concern of Milwaukee. Two type Y oil engines will provide the 50-horse power necessary to keep us cool.

The building is to be 40x90 feet, and the engine room 20x25. The plant for freezing will consist of an eight-ton compressor and a three-ton refrigerating plant. There will be nearly 100 molds, each for a cake of 300 pound size, and a storage room for 450 tons of ice, kept properly cooled by the plant.

The proprietors tell us that they will be able to provide an ice of high quality and known purity at a price which will easily compete with ice made in winter and stored for summer use. We may in time become independent of the weather man—if we can get some way to keep warm in winter, for we may now keep cool in summer, whether the winter is cold enough to make ice or not. If we could harness the water power of the Nebraska streams the heat and power problem could be solved. Some day it will be done.

THE PRESIDENT BETTER

A Washington dispatch gives the following encouraging report of the condition of President Wilson:

President Wilson continued to hold his own today and entered the third week of the rest cure prescribed by Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, his personal physician, with his temperature, pulse, respiration, heart action and blood pressure at a normal stage.

Moreover, in making this announcement through the daily 10 o'clock bulletin Dr. Grayson added informally that the president's condition was such that should an emergency arise requiring immediate attention by the executive Mr. Wilson would be altogether capable of forming instant judgment and taking decisive action.

Dr. Grayson also said that if some such eventuality arose, he would give a "reluctant consent" for the president to take the needed action. As far as possible, however, the physicians attending Mr. Wilson will continue to insist that he remain quiet and not give his attention to governmental matters.

"THE EYES OF THE WORLD" TO BE SHOWN AT CRYSTAL

It is believed by many people that the great future usefulness of the motion picture will be in the reproduction of established works of literature. The double pleasure given to a reader, after perusing a book and forming a mental picture of its characters, of seeing them metamorphosed into moving figures, must always be greater than looking upon the ordinary film offering.

Harold Bell Wright, whose novel, "The Winning of Barbara Worth," made internationally famous the wonders of the Imperial Valley in California, and whose "The Shepherd of the Hills" celebrated the charms of the Ozark Valley in Missouri, promises to become supreme among authors in this new influence.

His first book to be pictured is "The Eyes of the World," which will be shown here for the first time at the Crystal theater on Monday, October 27.

FOOT BALL SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The first real football game of the season at Wayne is promised at the Normal grounds beginning at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when a University team from Omaha, will play the Normal eleven. There have been several practice games with high school teams, sort of preparatory skirmishes to the coming contest. We are informed that this is the first time that a University team has played the Wayne Normalites. Those who know the prowess of the home team this season predict a splendid game.

Be a sport, and root for your home team at the football game at old fair grounds at 3:45 Friday afternoon. The first home game for the boys—ad

WAKEFIELD GIRL MARRIED IN OMAHA

Miss Agnes Mathiesen and Clark Hallam, of Omaha, were united in marriage at that place last Saturday. The ceremony was performed at the First Methodist church by Titus Lowe, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Mathiesen of Wakefield. She was born and raised here, and is widely and favorably known in Wakefield and vicinity. She returned last August from overseas service with the Red Cross Canteen work, having been across nearly one year. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hallam, of Chicago, former old residents of Sioux City, and previous to that owned considerable land near Ponca. The groom also saw service with Uncle Sam.

The wedding ceremony was performed in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Mathiesen, parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hallam, parents of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ruck. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served for the young folks at the Loyal hotel at Omaha.

They will be at home to their many friends at 611 South 19th street, Omaha, Nebraska, immediately. The groom has a position as superintendent with the Swift Packing Company.—Wakefield Republican.

GEO. McEACHEN POLAND SALE

The sale at Wayne Saturday when Geo. McEachen sold sixty head of his good polands was the best sale he has yet had. George has been building up a herd for a number of years, and has been sparing no expense to build a herd of good ones. His sale average Saturday, mostly of gilts and young boars made a showing of $126, with a top of $400, which means that it was a good bunch in the opinion of those who came to buy, and the fact that a number of breeders from away bought liberally among the top ones, is another proof that his stock passes well. His two sales at Randolph and Pender Thursday and Friday, where the offering was wholly of late pigs—that will develop into good individuals as they grow up, because they have the breeding, the average was around $50 the head, which was very satisfactory, for as these young animals develop, George is confident that they will so grow as to give animals from his herd a good standing with their owners, and thus lead to a good business in the future.

STATE NORMAL NOTES

Prof. A. V. Teed left Wednesday to assist in the county institute at Lexington, Nebraska.

A progressive party was given Monday evening to Miss Belva Nickel at the homes of Mrs. Homer Scace, Mrs. U. S. Conn, Mrs. J. J. Coleman and Mrs. Huntmer. Music and games at each place until the group reached the home of Mrs. Huntmer, where the program was varied by gifts in anticipation of the wedding of Miss Nickel, by a mock wedding ceremony and refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake, chocolate and wafers, and mints. The color scheme was pink and white.

Tuesday Miss Ardath Conn entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner. Mr. Elmer Farrier and Miss Belva Nickel and a group of former classmates in the Normal of the guests of honor.

Prof. and Mrs. E. E. Lackey left Wednesday morning to attend the wedding of Mr. Farrier and Miss Nickel at the home of the bride at Western, Nebraska, today. Mrs. Lackey is a sister of the bride-to-be.

Mrs. Elva Brockway and son, Myron, and Miss Clara Smothers autoed to Laurel last Saturday afternoon and spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bessire, where Miss Edith Beechel, a sister of Mrs. Bessire, is recuperating from the effects of a severe operation which she underwent last summer. Miss Beechel is recovering nicely and hopes to be back in her place in the training school of the Normal within a few weeks.

Monday morning at the chapel hour Professor Britell spoke very interestingly of new American discoveries in the realm of chemistry and their probable application to production. He introduced his discussion with the statement that it seemed to him that this country is not passing so much through a period of reconstruction as one of evolution. The war, he said, had greatly stimulated the inventive genius of the country and the results were certain to be seen in greatly increased production, which would bring with it new problems of distribution. The students and faculty were much delighted with the address.

Tuesday evening the Orpheus club had a picnic in the callisthenics room of the industrial building, the weather rendering it impossible to go to the grove as planned. The games and lunch were much enjoyed by all present. This organization is federated with the music clubs of the state. An operetta, The Family Doctor, is in preparation for presentation to the public and much interest in the project has been aroused.

Miss Helen Burton, head of the department of domestic science, will act as a judge of the domestic products at the Wayne Live Stock Show and Fall Festival. Miss Martha Pierce, of the art department, is on a committee of management of the art display.

Quite a number of the teachers at the Normal were in attendance at the educational meeting at Emerson last Saturday. The chief event was a very able and practical address by Principal Joseph G. Masters of the Central high school of Omaha. Professor Teed was the successful presiding officer of the occasion.

FASHIONABLE FURS

This is the time of the year when the ladies, young and older, begin to think of furs for winter, and I like to have a line of them in sight when that feeling comes to the ladies, and so this week I am unpacking a very nice line, consisting of some of the very latest fads and serviceable offerings in red and black fox, coney, wolf, squirrel, muskrat, marten and other furs in muffs, capes, throws and choakers. I am hoping that the ladies will call early and see the beauties, says Mrs. Jeffries, of the store for ladies good exclusively.—ad

WOMEN NOT TO VOTE AT CONSTITUTIONAL ELECTION

The following letter explains the situation as the proper state authority sees it, and this rule will stand.

Wayne, Nebraska, Oct. 8, 1919.
Chas. W. Reynolds, county clerk.
Wayne, Nebraska.

Dear Sir:—

Replying to yours of recent date requesting information as whether or not women will be allowed to vote at the election next month for the selection of delegates to the constitutional convention, beg to advise that I submitted this matter to the Attorney General's office at Lincoln and have received a written opinion from the Attorney General's office stating that women can not vote for delegates to such constitutional convention.

Very truly yours,
Fred S. Berry,
County Attorney.

KELLER-BUTLER

Mrs. W. L. Hurlbert on her way home from Cherokee, Iowa, where she had been to attend the wedding of Miss Louise Keller of that place to Mr. Orvil Butler from Blue Earth, Minnesota, Friday, October 10, 1919, gave the Democrat the following:

The bride is the youngest daughter of Rev. O. M. Keller, formerly of Carroll. She was an active member of the church wherever she chanced to be, and was loved by everyone. The wedding took place at the Keller home, her father, assisted by a former pastor of the Cherokee Baptist church, performing the ceremony in the presence of more than fifty relatives and friends, among them Mr. and Mrs. Butler, parents of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Butler, a brother, from Blue Earth.

The bride was beautifully dressed in a gown of white georgette, nicely beaded, and carried a bouquet of pink roses; the groom was dressed in a suit of plain blue black. The color scheme throughout the house decorations was pink and white; a lovely bower and wedding bell of pink and white ribbons formed a part of the handsome decorations.

Friends of the bride furnished entertainment in the form of piano music and violin accompaniment. Four other young lady friends served a splendid two-course dinner, the ice cream and cake being pink and white to correspond with the color scheme. Serving the bride's cake by the bride and groom was one of the interesting features of the evening.

The love and esteem of their friends was shown by the many useful and beautiful presents in silver, china, and fancy work, too numerous to mention. At a late hour the guests departed wishing the bride and groom many prosperous years of life.

The bridal couple left Saturday morning for Minneapolis and St. Paul and they will soon be at their home on a farm near Blue Earth. Minnesota. Carroll friends extend their very best wishes.

ACCIDENT PREVENTION ARE NOW ON TRIAL

Under the "Safety-First" inspiration in accidents has been recorded, and last spring a week was given to special care along that line with wonderful results. Beginning Saturday, the railroads of all the country are going to conduct an Accident Prevention Campaign, to be known as the National Railroad Accident Prevention Drive, for the period from October 18 to October 31, 1919, the object of which is to go through this entire period without an accident.

While this will apply principally to employees, it is the endeavor to interest the public as much as possible with a view of eliminating accidents to drivers of automobiles, school children and others.

TAKE IN YOUR WASH

Some one is laying in a supply of wearing apparel. The wash was taken from the line of Mrs. Wieland Monday or Tuesday night, and a splendid blanket taken from the line at the Penhollow home. Art Norton also reports that fruit was taken from their cellar. It is time for a vigilance committee.

The fair is to be continued until Saturday afternoon. Come and see. Come to the free fair—for one seldom gets a free show these days. It will not close until Saturday.

Fair weather again—come.

Mites and lice frequently sap the vitality of the fowl and prevent growth or lessen the egg production. A thorough cleaning of the house, regular applications of disinfectants to the roosts and nests, and a frequent dusting of the fowls will control these pests.

Mrs. Earl Beck, who has been staying here for a time at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bush, is this week moving to Sholes, Mr. Beck having taken charge of the elevator at that place some time ago, and just secured a place in which they may again be at home.

Lloyd Martin is wearing his shoulder in a bandage as the result of a fall from a pony he was riding when the animal fell while leaping a ditch throwing the lad onto his shoulder and breaking the collar bone. The caving of the ditch bank caused the fall. The young man is getting along very nicely and will soon be about at work again.

Mrs. Ned Lloyd from Vayland, South Dakota, left for home Friday after a visit here with relatives and friends. She was a guest of John Surber and wife. She formerly lived here, but now likes her Dakota home well enough that she has no desire to live in this country. They have good crops there this year, and have had but one failure in the several years they have lived there.

Corn husking has commenced in a small way, but it is not considered safe to crib any great quantity of corn for a week or two yet, the late frost leaving much corn still growing rather than curing. Farmers who have husked a little of their corn are not advocating the idea of piling it very much yet; for it costs too much to produce to permit it to be damaged as a feed by not waiting a week for the moisture to be taken out by sun and wind.

Economy in Footwear

In these days of high leather, and higher shoes, true economy is in getting the last bit of service from your shoes. You may find a pair of shoes cast off when shoes and leather cost less, that are well worth fixing in these times. I came to Wayne to save you money in that way, if possible. May I have opportunity to serve you?

Miss Dorothy Chapman of Winside was a Wayne visitor Monday, a guest of the Misses Thielman.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Lowry from Bloomfield, formerly of this place were passengers to Omaha Tuesday.

Things are slowly moving in the right way, in spite of the U. S. senate. Italy has agreed to permit Flume to become a free state, and it to be under control of the league of nations.

F. C. Holbert of Plainview, a banker, has been visiting his old New York home, and while there purchased the old family home farm of 111 acres near slate hill, in the town of Wawayanda.

Food is rotting in New York City and people are famishing there for food, and striking laborers stand between the two getting together. That is criminal, and the question arises as to who is the criminal?

Thieves in the vicinity of Plainview stripped a broken Ford of $125 worth of tires, cushions, coil, spark plugs and the like. It was left for the night only because of a broken wheel. One wonders that a broken Ford could afford so much plunder.

Wayne girls should be awake to their opportunities. Fifty of the merry maids from England are now on their way to this country to discover husbands. They should cross the continent and search as they come east, and we venture the assertion that if they are handsome and not too particular not one of them will reach Wayne single.

A bit of feed now and then is worth more ground—and Fortner grinds it.—adv

Mrs. E. B. Erskine went to Waltham Tuesday morning to visit her mother, while the doctor is investigating locations.

Col. E. M. House, on many occasions, confidential adviser to the president has been ill in New York, but is reported improving.

Miss Kate Creitz from Wilton, Iowa, left for home Tuesday morning following a visit here with her friend, of school days, Mrs. Clyde Oman.

Andy Chance and N. J. Juhlin went to York Tuesday morning to represent the Wayne lodge I. O. O. F. at the grand lodge meeting at that place.

Mrs. Clyde Devine and children of Mason, Wisconsin, came Tuesday to visit here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Gurnon, the ladies being sisters.

Mrs. Herman Meier of Bloomfield, was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dowling Monday, and Tuesday morning continued her journey east.

A more detailed report of the accident at Wausa last week reveals that the mechanic who met his death was John Wamberg, not Warnberg as it came to us, and he was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wamberg, and evidently a brother of Oscar Wamberg, formerly of this place, who met his death in an automobile accident a few years ago while driving not far from Hoskins.

Mrs. L. C. Gildersleeve, accompanied her mother, Mrs. Mary Reynolds, to visit their old home near Elkader, Clayton county, Iowa, for a short time, leaving here Friday. Mrs. Gildersleeve left that country when a young miss, and tells us that she enjoys a visit there occasionally to greet friends and view the beautiful scenery—the great bluffs along the Turkey river, the handsome stream clear water flowing over a gravelly bed. The Turkey river is a handsome stream, and swift and clear, with a volume of water which used to float small steam boats.

Mrs. I. M. Dotson from Pierre, South Dakota, came last Thursday to visit a few days here with her son, E. H. Dotson. Mrs. Dotson had been in Ohio attending a family reunion, and while there attended the National Encampment, G. A. R., and reports it one of the largest gatherings of members of that order in recent years. The parade required several hours to pass the reviewing stand. The large attendance was rather unexpected, more than half a century after the close of the war, but it seems that the recent war with Germany has stimulated a new interest among the old soldiers in their organization, and from reports they must have responded almost to a man if living near the place of meeting. Mrs. Dotson left for home Tuesday morning.

Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Erskine came from Fremont last week Wednesday evening and spent a few days here with Wayne friends, guests at the Forrest Hughes home. They left Monday to visit his home folks at Tilden for a time. Dr. Erskine left his practice here two years ago to enter service, and after a season of training was given a commission and sent across, and served in various capacities on the other side until the end came. He came back to America during the summer, and received his discharge in August, and is now considering a location, having several places in view; but not yet decided as to which one will suit best. Dr. Erskine enjoyed a good practice, built up in the two years he was at Wayne after finishing his medical school work. If he is not to return to Wayne we wish him well in the field of his choice.

John Morgan came home from his visit with his son near Pipestone, Minnesota, carrying with him the most highly prized specimen of his success with rod and line, while there, an 8-pound Muskellunge. It is of the pike family, and a very game fish. Mr. Morgan tells us that he had quite a time to land this specimen, as his hook was only through the edge of the lip, and when he had led him up into shallow water near the shore the fish broke away, and he wrestled him with his hands, and finally landed him, but not until the fish had left a mark on his hand. The mouth is well armed with teeth, the roof of the mouth being covered with short, sharp teeth sloping back, while the tongue is strong and almost banded like the roof of the mouth. It is evident that once a fish wanted for his dinner was in his mouth, it would have small chance to escape. Unless the line above the hook is of wire, they frequently cut a line with their teeth and escape, once on a hook. The Muskellunge is a rare fish in the streams of Minnesota, but more common in the lakes of that state, and is one of the most gamey of the finny tribe, and Mr. Morgan may well be proud of his catch.

The Velvet tin is twice as big as shown here

"No Rheumatics" is a Mighty Poor Reason for Wearing a Wooden Leg

NO sting or hot burnin' is a mighty weak-kneed recommendation for tobacco. But when tobacco is mild and cool, and yet as full of "fun" as a barrel of monkeys—well, that's another story—that's Velvet.

And 'cause why?

'Cause Velvet is brought up—not jerked up by the hair. It's raised as carefully as a favorite child. It's cured in the big fresh air. And it mellows away for two years in wooden hogsheads 'til it's smooth and rich as cream. The wonder would be if Velvet wasn't a whacking good pipe smoke.

"Let Nature mellow yo' tobacco an' that tobacco will shore mellow yo' nature," says Velvet Joe. And he's pretty nearly right.

NATURE-AGEING in the wood does more to make tobacco friendly than any camouflage you can cover it with—and don't you forget it. See, taste, smell, feel the "real tobacconess" in Velvet. Why, you can almost hear it. Velvet's the tobacco you can judge with your eyes wide open and specs on.

There's a whole lot in Nature's way of making good tobacco better. And it's all in Velvet.

Here's to a full pipe and a friendly one.

Governor McKeever is going to turn the powers of the state loose to find out who is responsible for the Omaha disorder. Good. We hope he locates the rotten spot and cleanses it.

We had failed to notice that Senator Johnson was still on his speaking tour against the league until we chanced to turn to the next to the last page of a republican daily, and there we noticed that he was just quitting out at a Utah town. Well, the daily press knows about how to classify an attraction, and when it gets over in the last half of the paper it is a dead duck that they are telling about.

The village of Wausa has passed a resolution exempting the soldier lads who reside there from poll tax. Who says that we do not appreciate the fact that the lads went to do and die if need be for their land? Now let's tax the wealth of the country to pay the war debt, and not put it onto the consumption of the poor, and thus make a lot of these soldier lads pay an indirect tax to pay themselves for their years in service.

Now comes the people of Omaha and some other parts of the state, and even the Omaha preachers, some of them, and assert that the wicked newspapers of that wicked city are responsible for the recent outbreak of the mob. If the papers had kept still, the people would not have known how bad the condition, and therefore simply endured it. "Where ignorance is bliss, it is folly to be wise." Perhaps the papers were not wise in their criticism, possibly they were not just—but we have people in business all parts of the state who will not believe the newspapers responsible—that they have an influence—otherwise they would use them more to carry messages to their prospective customers.

It is well for us to now be looking well to the future of this state. A convention has been called to make for us a new constitution—one that will be modern—and we hope one that will be easily amended as the development of the state and changing conditions make it necessary. Though the writer is considered something of a radical by some he would not favor what some others who are radical would want, but he does want a progressive program to prevail in the convention—intelligently progressive.

But three weeks now, until election, and we are wondering how many of the citizens have given much thought to the question—much study and attention to the position of the candidates and their ability to present in a body of a 100 men more or less schooled in the art of log rolling and policy making, their ideas and impress them upon others, and do constructive work. It is a great piece of work, and it is then to come back to the people for approval or rejection. No more important election has been held in Nebraska in our time, and every voter should do his duty as he sees it.

No subject is any more interesting than religion and no subject is generally more sadly neglected. This course of lectures is intended to prepare those who desire to unite with the church. To become intelligent members of a church instruction in the fundamental teachings of the Bible is necessary. This course aims to teach the truths necessary to become loyal and intelligent disciples of Christ. Parents should see to it that their children receive this instruction.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Exhibition of Live Stock at Pavilion show grounds. Every afternoon and evening. The show will go right on in spite of the awful weather. The live stock exhibits have been cut down some because the roads prevented the bringing of as much stock as some exhibitors had planned. But there is a fine display anyway—exhibitors have forced their trucks through the mud hauling the thoroughbred cattle, hogs and horses from all over the county and every man, woman and child in our community should see their exhibits.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Thursday convocation the students enjoyed a "Harry Lauder Program." Miss Sweeney opened the program with a short sketch of his life and his position today as an American singer and entertainer. Four Victor records, sung by Harry Lauder were then played: "Roaming in the Gloaming," "The Wee Hoose in the Heather," "The Bounding Ocean," "The North, East, South and West." Elizabeth Gildersleeve recited the poem "Harry Lauder" composed by Burr.

Margaret Milliken visited the high school Thursday.

Friday the high school were addressed by Reverend Pratt. He spoke on the conditions of the working man and the relation of employer and employee. The conditions of the labor unions and their relation to the movement of socialism. He brought out the condition in Russia and in concluding showed the one standard of right and wrong.

The Wayne high school eleven drove to Coleridge Friday the 10th to play its second game of football. The boys put up an excellent brand of football for a new team but the weight and experience of the Coleridge warriors gave them a final score of 6-0.

Wayne's next game is scheduled with Emerson at Wayne October 17. Tuesday, the banner of the north-east debating district was presented to the high school by Bonnie Hess and Leslie Rundell of the debating team of 1919. Wayne-high will hold this banner for one year and if fortunate enough to win it for three successive years, it will be held permanently.

How mightily did the Fall amendments to the peace treaty fall. After all this bellowing noise and tralling the president over the country by a few senators the largest number secured for any amendment was 31, 29 republicans and 2 lone democrats. The first vote on eliminating American representatives in the Belgian boundary commission was 3 for and 58 against. After taking four votes with similar results 26 other amendments of like nature were bunched and voted down without a roll call even. There are left only the Shantung amendments, equalizing the American and English voting power in the assembly and one to limit American representation on the reparations commission. Those who think these are important amendments claim a larger vote will be secured for them, but no one thinks for a minute that a majority can be secured for them. It requires but a majority vote to fix up the treaty but a two-thirds vote to adopt it finally. There's where the majority have the advantage, but they want it fixed up so a two-thirds vote can be secured. —Blair Pilot.

Well Matured Potatoes on Track

Our third car potatoes is nearly sold and another car on track. potato sales are very active at prices from $2.00 to $2.15 per bushel. Our shippers understands none but good quality and mature stock will be accepted which insures good keepers, good table stock and suitable for spring planting. We are handling none but Minnesota grown stock and find it is meeting with unusual public favor. The time is limited for securing car-lot service on this item. We hope to have all potatoes shipped and unloaded before nippy, frosty weather. The cost of handling will add to the cost, so your prompt cooperation as cars arrive is a mutual advantage. Parties who have orders on file may secure their potatoes from this car.

Cabbage $3.50 per Cwt.

This is genuine Holland seed stock. Shippers think it not advisable to place another car load on this market so we are resorting to local shipments which accounts for slight advance. Don't delay in placing your orders start your kraut before cold weather. Nothing cheaper than cabbage at $3.50 per hundred.

W. A. HISCÖX

W. S. GOLDIE TELL OF PRESIDENT'S VISIT

The following from the Wilmington (Cal.) Journal gives the account of the president's visit to Los Angeles as it appeared to "By-Dad."

Los Angeles gave President Wilson and the First Lady of the Land the reception of their lives. The Journal man has seen some big crowds in Los Angeles during the past eight years, but nothing that ever compared with the horde-jammed streets of last Saturday. Standing room anywhere on Broadway and Spring streets during the period of the parade was at a premium.

Mayor Snyder and his corps of reception committees had every feature of the affair down to perfection. The only local people to shake hands with the president were Mrs. E. O. Smith and Mrs. J. H. Perkins, postmistress and postoffice applicant. Jas. Cook, another Wilmingtonite, heard the president's speech—by jamming in with the thousands that crowded around Shrine auditorium from 2 p. m. until 6:30, and then a second waiting 'til 8:30 when the president appeared.

President Wilson is a much better-looking man than his newspaper pictures portray him; full of face, healthy and happy looking, he would not be judged over fifty by any. Mrs. Wilson is just as handsome as her photos would indicate and has all the womanly graciousness of a queen.

The effect of the president's visit in behalf of the covenant of nations, is not merely problematical. There seems no improbability but that he has scored a great success and that it would be worse than folly for Senator Johnson to dog the executive's steps in this part of the state.

SIMAN-BETTINGER

Four weeks ago today, September 11, Dr. V. L. Siman and Miss Josephine Bettinger parted over to Pierre and while there decided to enter into the ties of matrimony.

It was mutually agreed that they should say nothing to relatives or friends regarding the affair, and it was not until the middle of last week that it became known for a fact. The young people turned out in a large volume on last Thursday evening to give them the usual welcome with tin cans, bells, etc.

The bride is a trained nurse, who has made her home in Sioux City for the past number of years. She will have charge of Dr. Siman's hospital, which is expected to be ready to receive patients about the first of November.

The groom is a promising young physician and surgeon who is already on the road to success in his profession.

Although it be late, the Tribune joins with the couple's host of friends in extending congratulations for a happy and prosperous wedded life.—Winside Tribune.

SELLE-HOHNEKE

Theodor Hohneke son of Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Hohneke was united in marriage to Miss Henrietta Selle on Wednesday, Oct. 8, at the home of the bride's parents in Clayton, Wis. The bridal couple returned here Friday and will take up house keeping on the farm of the groom's father, Aug. Hohneke.

The bride is a stranger to us but no doubt will prove to be a true helpmate to the hand she has chosen through life's journey.

The groom is from one of our best families, and by those who know him in this city, he is considered one of the substantial and coming young men of the county, who will make his mark as a worthy son of honorable parents. The congratulations of the happy event are numerous and this paper is greatly pleased on this occasion to add its hearty good wishes to those being so freely extended.—Hoskins Headlight.

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. A majority of the ill-afflicted are men, but it is traced back to kidney trouble.

The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filters, the purifiers, of your blood. Kidney disease is usually indicated by weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, pain in loins and lower abdomen, gall stones, gravel, rheumatism, sciatitis and lumbago.

All these derangements are nature's signals to warn you that the kidneys are not doing their duty. Buy GOLD MEDAL Earle's Oil Capsules immediately.

diately. The soothing, healing oil stimulates the kidneys, relieves inflammation and restores the normal action. It has caused it. Do not wait until tomorrow. Go to your druggist today and insist on GOLD MEDAL Earle's Oil Capsules. In twenty-four hours you should feel health and vigor returning and will bless the day you first heard of GOLD MEDAL Earle's Oil.

After you feel that you have cured yourself, continue to take one or two capsules each day, so as to keep in first-class condition and ward off the danger of other attacks.

DAYLIGHT ROBBERY
 Last Friday forenoon about 10 o'clock a man entered the hardware store of W. B. Frymire while the proprietor was in the rear of the main store attending to other matters. When Mr. Frymire came into the front part to see if any one was in he discovered the thief crouching behind the counter and says to him, "What the h— do you want in here?" Thereupon the intruder drew two guns on the proprietor and ordered him to "throw up his hands." Instead of obeying the command he would be robber found that Mr. Frymire was not made of the regular movie picture stuff, when the latter immediately made a spring and closed with him and in the scuffle got out into the middle of the store floor, where the robber slipped out of his cap and coat and made a bolt for the front door, and took a lively sprint around the opera house corner. The coat he left with Frymire had been previously stolen from a pool hall. From the rear of the opera house the thief worked around to the rear of the livery barn where he got other clothes and then hit for the tall timber. He was later overtaken in a corn field west of Bloomfield by a posse and returned to town. Attorney Peterson was sent for and later the would be hold up made a written confession of his intention to rob the cash register. It was later found that the two guns he used on Mr. Frymire were two empty ones he had just taken from the show case and which he left in his coat pockets when he slipped away from Mr. Frymire. In the skirmish Mr. Frymire received a bad jolt on the left side of his face where the man struck him. Otherwise no particular damage was done.—Bloomfield Monitor.

Frymire formerly lived at Wayne.

NORTH DAKOTA LANDS
 We just received a list of the forty-eight states in order as to crop production per capita of the seven year period from 1912 to 1918 inclusive, compiled by the Board of Publicity, Chamber of Commerce, Omaha.

North Dakota ranks second, Nebraska third, Iowa fourth and Colorado twentieth.

Land in Nebraska is selling from $73 to $450 per acre; in Iowa up to $500 per acre and in North Dakota from $10 to $150; yet North Dakota ranks ahead in crop production.

In just a few short years North Dakota land in the same longitude as this territory will be selling as high as this does now.

The advance in value per acre for the next ten years will make you independent if you buy now.

CEMENT MATERIAL AT ST. HELENA
 The statement made at Hartington by one of the Yankton bridge boosters that cement material of high quality is to be found near St. Helena, is no news to the older settlers of this vicinity. This matter has been thoroughly investigated by the state geological department and the records there show fully the facts just where the shale or cement making material is located. It is true, that the Portland Cement Company at one time bought up some lands at St. Helena but their holdings have long since been sold for taxes and they have apparently no intention of using any lands there. However, some time in the future this material will be utilized at St. Helena, when railroad facilities have been provided to get the product to market.—Wynot Tribune.

There is any amount of good cement material in many parts of the state and all over the country, in fact. But the trouble with Nebraska as a cement producing state is the fuel. If they could strike oil or gas at St. Helena, or even coal, they might make plenty of cement. It takes a lot of heat to convert the shale into cement. Enough so that the coal combine, the transportation charges and the profiteers make that product cost twice what it should, and it is largely the coal and coal land monopoly which tends to make high prices on the products that enter into the making of cement.

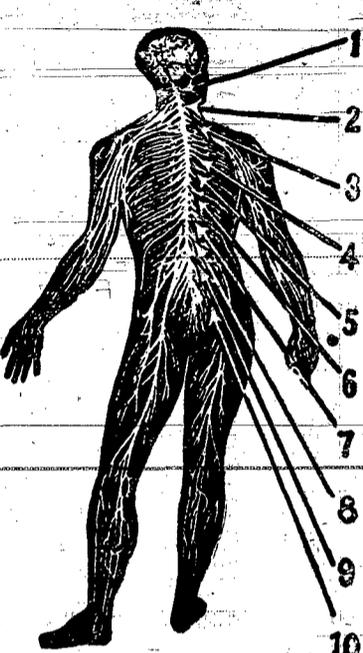

CULLING AND FEEDING MEANS MORE EGGS

Scores of Nebraska poultry raisers have materially increased their egg production by culling and proper feeding. In one instance a flock was culled to half and improved methods of feeding adopted. In thirty days this flock was producing 100 per cent more eggs than it did before it was culled. Extension workers often find a flock of 100 or more hens producing less than a dozen eggs daily. It takes little more to feed and care for a laying hen than it does for one that does not lay. In this day of high feed and high labor it is good business to cull out the non-layers and give the layers the proper raw material for egg manufacture.

2. A slight subluxation of a vertebra in this part of the spine is the cause of so-called throat trouble, neuralgia, pain in the shoulders and arms, goitre, nervous prostration, la grippe, dizziness, bleeding from nose, disorder of gums, catarrh, etc.

3. The arrow head marked No. 3 locates the part of the spine wherein subluxations will cause so-called bronchitis, felons, pain between the shoulder blades, rheumatism of the arms and shoulders, hay fever, writers' cramp, etc.

4. A vertebral subluxation at this point causes so-called nervousness, heart disease, asthma, pneumonia, tuberculosis, difficult breathing, other lung troubles, etc.

5. Stomach and liver troubles, enlargement of the spleen, pleurisy and a score of other troubles, so-called, are caused by subluxations in this part of the spine, sometimes so slight as to remain unnoticed by others except the trained Chiropractor.

6. Here we find the cause of so-called gall stones, dyspepsia of upper bowels, fevers, shingles, hicough, worms, etc.

7. Bright's disease, diabetes, floating kidney, skin diseases, boils, eruptions and other diseases, so-called, are caused by nerves being pinched in the spinal openings at this point.

8. Regulations of such troubles as so-called appendicitis, peritonitis, lumbago, etc., follow Chiropractic adjustments at this point.

9. Why have so-called constipation, rectal troubles, sciatica, etc., when Chiropractic adjustments at this part of the spine will remove the cause?

BULLETIN TELLS HOW TO HANDLE HIDES

Country hides and skins make up more than one-third of all the hides and skins produced in this country, says "Country Hides and Skins—Skinning, Curing and Marketing," a new bulletin by the United States department of agriculture. Too often the value of country hides for leather making is less than that of the packer hides, because of less care and skill in the "take-off" and in curing and handling. In consequence the hide trade discriminates between country and packer hides and skins and pays less for the former. This bulletin shows how farmers, ranchmen and country and town butchers may produce hides and skins of better quality. It gives detailed directions for skinning the animals and for salting, curing and handling the hides and skins, with suggestions for more advantageous marketing, to the end that both the producer of hides and the user of leather may be benefited. Farmers' bulletin No. 1055 may be obtained of the Extension Service, College of Agriculture, Lincoln.

TIME FOR ACTION!

League to enforce peace—an organization of which former President William Howard Taft, is president, has just sent out an appeal for everybody to get busy and demand that the league of nations be adopted.

"In the past the nations of the world have organized for war; the league of nations proposes to organize them for peace. It proposes to substitute the rule of international jusdice for the rule of force. Without the league of nations, the world faces a crushing race of armaments, another war more destructive than all former wars and the suicide of civilization.

And yet, in the face of these alternatives, the league is now being bitterly attacked in the United States senate. The next few weeks must decide whether or not the United States shall enter the league of nations, whether or not indeed there shall be a league of nations; for as the opposing senators themselves have said, "Without us, the league is a wreck, and all the gains from a victorious peace are imperilled."

"There must be courageous action. Public opinion in every state must be organized and trained on Washington. The campaign must go on until the senate vote or ratification is taken."

beef on your shoulders and hair on your chest.

You will get 30 care-free vacation days a year, not counting shore leave in home or foreign ports.

You will have the kind of comradeship in travel that sailors know.

You will have regular pay, over and above your meals, lodging and your first uniform outfit—good stuff all of it.

You can join for two years. When you get through you'll be physically and mentally "tuned up" for the rest of your life. You'll be ready through and through for SUCCESS.

There's a Recruiting Station right near you. If you don't know where it is; your Postmaster will be glad to tell you.

Work is well under way for the new filling station which Merchant and Strahan are erecting on First street. The building seems to be smaller than we had pictured in our mind—and the tanks larger—and we suppose the tank is what counts in such a case.

Luther Mason, who is spending the summer here, coming last spring from one of the New England states, has been visiting at Tilden, Clearwater and other places. He tells us that they have some of this kind of weather back east, but not this kind of mud where he was—they don't have this kind of soil to make it of—sand, stone and clay don't make our good kind of mud.

George Thomas of Huron, South Dakota, was here Tuesday on his way to Rushville, where he was called to attend the funeral of his brother, William, who passed away at his home near Rushville Saturday or Sunday. The Thomases were among the early settlers of this county, living about sixteen miles west of Wayne, where the father died eight or ten years ago. Since that time other members of the family have moved from the county. One who knew them paid this tribute to William: "We were neighbors for a number of years and I never knew a better neighbor." That tells the story of a good man. A true neighbor is indeed a "good Samaritan."

We are reminded of the old Mother Hubbard story, when we consider how Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Roskopf peeped out of the window the morning after wash day, and found that the line was bare—bare of the sheets, pillow slips, underwear—yes, George's best, and in fact the whole family wash except the colored clothes. Some one took them. Nor is this the first family wash that has been disturbed in this town. Not many moons ago sheets were missing one morning, and no one knew where to look—but soon a workman reported that they were found in one of the new buildings under construction in that part of the town, and it might be well for George to look about a bit.

The Democrat is in receipt of the September and October numbers of the Nebraska Workman, the official organ of that insurance fraternity in Nebraska, and from it we learn that the organization has hope of taking on a new lease of life by admitting women on equal terms with the men. At least they are admitting them, and we suppose on equal terms in these days of equality of men and women. It was the Brotherhood of American Yeomen who first admitted the men and women to the same lodge as equal members, we believe, and it has proven one of the strong features of that organization during these past twenty-five years, during which time that order has grown to more than a quarter of a million members, and is today having the greatest gains in its history. Fraternal insurance is getting onto a more substantial basis, and is thriving accordingly.

If ever we had goods come just when needed, it was this week, when a large shipment of rubbers for men, women and children were delivered to us, says Hurst & Son to the news snop this week. We bought them to pass on to the public, and hope that each one gets a share. Shoes are high, and to a certain extent the rubber costs you nothing, for it saves the shoe just that much wear—and then it may keep the doctor away.—Remember that Hurst & Son has 'em.—adv

DISTRIBUTING GOOD SIRES

A system of county farmers' exchanges in live stock, feed, and seed has been developed in Iowa during the past year, forces of the state agricultural college and of the United States department of agriculture working in cooperation. One of the principal activities of the exchange is in the distribution of pure bred live stock. The breeders send a list of the animals they have for sale to the office of the county agricultural agent. He makes up lists of these animals and distributes them throughout the county. If any animals are not disposed of in the county, a list of them is sent to the extension department of the state agricultural college, where lists are made up for the entire state and sent to every county and to adjoining states. In this way many farmers who otherwise would not have the opportunity of locating pure bred sires are able to get exactly what they want. Through the exchanges many carloads of pure bred stock have been sold to buyers from other states.

WOOD FOR WINTER FUEL

Many farms have available large quantities of timber, fallen and otherwise, which the farmer can profitably convert into fuel for the coming winter if he will provide himself with the necessary power operated equipment. A large amount of labor required in preparing firewood has kept many farmers from using wood for fuel, but with the high prices for coal it behooves the thrifty farmer to consider the advantage of investing in a wood-sawing machine which will make it possible to utilize much timber on his land at a relatively small expenditure of labor. A great many farmers already have gasoline engines suitable for driving such a machine. The latter is comparatively inexpensive. One outfit can do the work for several farmers each year and the purchase of a complete outfit, including an engine, to furnish power may be profitable for a group of farmers or for one who is in a position to do a certain amount of work for his neighbors. The United States department of agriculture offers free detailed information on this subject.

THE ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL

The week of October 20-27 is to be for the Roosevelt Memorial drive in this county, and the sum asked of the state is $75,000, so the quota of this county should be easily reached. Many people feel a deep interest in this man, and feel that the nation owes him a debt it can never repay, and therefore it is fitting that some memorial should be erected in his memory at the national capitol, and that is the purpose of the universal drive, that every county may be represented in this memorial, whatever form it may take.

Rev. Beard of the Presbyterian church, announces in another place that he will speak of the life of this great American at the Sunday morning service, and extends a special invitation for those who admire him in life and honor him in death be present, for we predict that it will be an address well worthy your attendance and attention.

WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD

The writer was in Sioux City on Monday afternoon of this week, buying the usual fall and winter supply of print paper, sale bill material and the other staple lines of paper. But he got the surprise of his life for he found that the supply of print paper is now so low in the United States that it is being rationed out to printers just like sugar is now being sold at the stores—only a limited amount to a customer, and the price has gone up in proportion to the scarcity. The supply houses extend no hopes of the condition becoming better during the winter, but on the contrary, they predict that before long it will be almost impossible to obtain certain grades of paper. A Sioux City house was compelled to refuse orders for over three carloads of print paper alone during the past six days.—Allen News.

LAND AT AUCTION

One can scarcely pick up an exchange these days that is not carrying advertising matter of farm lands at auction. As yet we have seen but few reports of the prices paid at these sales away from here. The few sales of the kind in this county have not tended to lower the average land sale price—and so far as we know the auction sales have come up to the reasonable expectations of the seller and the people who have watched as interested spectators.

INFLUENZA—WILL

IT COME AGAIN?

Recalling the disastrous epidemic of a year ago many people are asking this question.

A few words of encouragement, of reassurance and advice may be of benefit to many who are unduly alarmed and over-anxious. According to reliable medical authority, influenza will undoubtedly appear again during this fall and winter. According to the same authorities, the disease will be neither so universal nor so severe as it was a year ago.

Fear and worry have a depressing influence on the body the same as does fatigue and loss of sleep. It diminishes greatly the body's power of resistance to disease. One of our most effectual weapons of defense against this or any disease, is to maintain a hopeful and fearless attitude of mind. If we are constantly fearing and expecting and thinking sickness we are inviting its approach.

Prophylaxis or prevention is the slogan of the medical profession of today. Then the logical thing to do is to use every possible means to prevent this disease, knowing of the liability of its coming.

Like the ordinary colds of winter, influenza is contracted and spread by the indoor life, by gathering in crowds, by breathing impure, germ-laden air. Therefore look well to proper ventilation. Raise the windows of the sleeping room even in severe weather. Be out of doors at least a part of each day—always with proper protection to the body, especially in cold, damp weather, avoid as much as possible, during the prevalence of this or any epidemic, large gatherings and is there is the best of ventilation. One of the surest ways of catching cold or inviting sickness is under exposure to the influence of combined coldness and moisture. Either of these conditions taken alone is not dangerous to health. A low temperature with dryness does not chill and depress as does the weather on a cold, wet day and yet how common it is to observe our girls and young women, and even the older ones, who should know better, walking through mud and slush on a winter day with thin-soled shoes, sans rubbers, sans overshoes, sans common sense. Such people are giving a most cordial invitation to an attack of sickness.

Having in mind this particular disease—influenza keep the nasal passages clean and sterile by daily use of a mild antiseptic solution. Use the same precaution as to mouth and tonsils. There are antiseptics that accomplish this effectively. Raise the vitality of the body and its power of resistance to disease by a proper amount of sleep, nourishing food, protection of the body by suitable clothing, avoidance of worry and a conscience.

Many are asking about immunization from the use of vaccines. The experience of a year ago has definitely proven that among thousands who received the vaccine treatment, good results were obtained. The disease was prevented or rendered light and almost invariably pneumonia was

SUES FOR RETURN OF BOOZE CAR

How would you like to have to go into court and defend yourself in an act for $1400 damages for doing what the law commanded?

That is the situation in which Sheriff McFadden and State Agents Fulton and Hedglin find themselves in after selling the automobile confiscated from Paul Averman, of Laurel, when he was arrested on a charge of illegally transporting booze. The car was sold as provided by law and the amount paid for it was turned into the county school fund.

Now comes Averman into the district court, alleging that the car was illegally confiscated and demands the payment of $1400 as damages.

In test cases in other counties the law has been upheld, so the defendants are not worrying about the result, although they will be put to considerable bother in the matter. Similar cases were started in other counties but were dropped before trial, the costs falling on the plaintiff.

But it is another incident showing the joys of holding public office. A man has to give bond to faithfully perform his duty and then has to defend law suits for doing it.—Cedar County News.

BE REASONABLE

Mike and Jerry, happening to arrive at a river, noticed a signboard. It announced that a reward of five pounds would be given to any one, rescuing another person from drowning.

They immediately devised the plan, whereby one should fall into the river and be rescued by the other. Jerry floundered into the water and then called for help. Instead of helping Jerry, Mike called to Jerry and said, "Say I found another sign, and it says that ten pounds would be given for the recovery of a dead body. Now Jerry, do be reasonable.—Ex.

THE LAW AGAINST RAPE

Governor McKelvie has called a special session of the legislature to consider two matters, both of them important. One is to authorize Douglas county to vote bonds for the repair of the court house damaged by the mob of two weeks ago; the other is to grant Omaha the right to select as chief of police a non-resident of Omaha and to increase the appropriation for the police department.

All very good so far as it goes. But the governor has evidently overlooked another even more vital matter which had a good deal to do with the riotous occurrence.

That is the need of strengthening drastically the law dealing with the crime of assault upon a woman.

This hideous offense ought to be put on a parity with murder.

Imprisonment from two to twenty years is at present the penalty for rape.

In other words we set so small a value upon the women of this state that the destruction of a possession which they hold most precious, and the one which society considers most valuable to them, merits about the same punishment as the theft of something worth a few dollars.

The governor should most certainly instruct the legislature to eliminate the present incentive to lynching contained in our statutes.—Omaha News.

SENATE SABOTAGE

Sabotage isn't in Webster. It is too recent an immigrant for that. It means striking on the job, and is a staple syndicalist or I. W. W. practice. Instead of quitting work and losing pay, you study to block production while you work. Iron filings in machine bearings, a spike in a log to be sawed and deliberate "soldering" are specimen means to that end.

As the word spreads, its scope logically expands. Obstruction of production for private ends is not limited to industrial revolutions. Trade unions verge upon sabotage when they attempt to make jobs by reducing hours and output. Among the most persistent and successful practitioners of sabotage in America have been some of our great capitalistic organizations. Limitations of output to keep up prices has been rather common in centralized American industry. There have been instances of actual destruction of goods, especially food, where a large supply threatened to break established prices. Southern cotton growers campaign as a means of increasing cotton prices. Kentucky night riders used to destroy tobacco beds in order to prevent a full production of tobacco.

We are now witnessing an extension of sabotage practice to the field of politics. America has a senate hired to turn out public work. Production is the present critical need of the country in its political mills as well as in its factories. What would we think of a sugar factory now which, with raw material at hand and plenty of labor, would fail to operate a double shift in order to relieve the sugar shortage?

The senate has a supremely important treaty before it. The treaty ought to be acted upon quickly. World order awaits that action. Other heavy legislative labors lie ahead. The nation's transportation system disintegrates for want of congressional action. Yet when the senate wheels start grinding on the treaty some senator hurls a three, four or five hour speech into the machinery and work is wrecked. Meanwhile the senate continues on a single shift, four or five hour day.

It is sabotage, pure and simple. The senate has some reason not to prohibit the casting of these vocal crowbars into the wheels. It has no excuse, however, for not lengthening its work day, or rather its talk day, and putting on double, treble or quadruple shifts. So far as any practical result goes, these speeches could as well go on throughout a twenty-four hour day. Nobody listens to them in senate or out. They are irrepressible outbreaks, like the eruptions of Vesuvius or of measles, and must be taken for granted. But why string them out as the miners propose to string out coal production by means of short days and single shifts. Production, production, and then again more production. That is the world's cry. Can't the senate hear it?—State Journal.

How Much Oil—Not What Price

The wearing quality, not the price—the protection it gives your engine and the power efficiency it maintains—these considerations should govern motor oil selection. They measure the true economy of high grade Polarine Oil over cheaper, less efficient lubricants.

Polarine not only lasts longer—gives more miles of operation per gallon—but it gives an engine better protection. It retains its body and lubricity practically unchanged at all engine heats. It provides an oil film that keeps compression tight and gets every possible ounce of power from the explosive force of the gases. It is the year round lubricant for motoring satisfaction, economy and efficiency.

Buy Polarine where you buy Red Crown Gasoline, the economical, clean-burning motor fuel—at first class garages and service stations where you see this sign.

RED CROWN GASOLINE

Explosive Power

The real test of gasoline goodness is explosive power.

And explosive power depends on quick, complete combustion.

Quick, complete, clean combustion, in turn, depends on the even vaporizing and carbureting qualities of your gasoline.

Uniform carburetion and uniform explosive power go far towards explaining the superior qualities of Red Crown Gasoline as an engine fuel.

They account for the prompt starting, smooth, strong acceleration and distance-devouring capacity your car shows with Red Crown Gasoline.

For smooth, quiet, frictionless engine operation nothing excels Polarine—the standard oil for motors.

GET IN DEBT TO YOURSELF
(From Thrift Magazine)
Get in debt to yourself and then imagine you are the other fellow. Decide, for example, that you owe yourself $100.
Then get after that hundred as though you were trying to beat yourself out of it. Give yourself no rest till you clean-up your debt.
When you have paid yourself the $100 and have it safely deposited in the savings bank where it is earning interest for you, go in debt to yourself again. Try to make it $125, $150 or $200 this time.
Keep up the process.
Get so you follow yourself around from place to place demanding payment on your debt.
Stick to this plan for a few years and you'll have a snug little sum back of you for the days of old age or enforced idleness.

Importance of Selecting a Farm Home

A harvest field near Cando, North Dakota, where land which produce crops like this improved or partially developed, are being sold at from $50 to $75 per acre.

Read what your neighbors who have investigated have to say. See how they have backed their judgment in cool cash, and plan to go at once and see this land, if you think of investigating in land for a home or for investment, for the tenant returns good money to the land owner.

To The Great Northern Investment Co.
Omaha and St. Paul.

Dear Sirs:
You have asked us to write you what we think about the opportunities offered for farmers in North Dakota. The fact that each of us have purchased the amount shown opposite our names at the bottom of this letter should be ample evidence that we have faith in the future of eastern North Dakota.

A number of us have been in South Dakota on a recent trip. In South Dakota west of Missouri river we were shown land at from $60 to $100 per acre with very little improvements, but judging from the improvements we saw in North Dakota we would rather live there than in South Dakota. In North Dakota it shows what the farmers have done, and it appears that they are much more certain of crops than west of the Missouri river in South Dakota. Some of us have been in Colorado on a trip of inspection, but we would not consider that country and certainly not as compared to North Dakota.

It is hard for our Nebraska people to understand what North Dakota has to offer. It was difficult for us to understand until we made a trip with you. We would not have believed that alfalfa, clover and corn could be raised, but we have changed our minds since we saw the beautiful fields on this trip. We saw considerable corn but, of course, not as good as our corn in Nebraska, but eventually they will have their own seed which will mature and make good corn. There are many of our friends who are interested in that country now and we trust that you will help them to locate to the extent you have helped us, as we believe North Dakota offers splendid opportunities for industrious farmers.

- Thanking you for all you have done for us, we are Yours very truly,
Acres

HERE IS ANOTHER LETTER
Great Northern Development Association.
Dear Sirs.—I am pleased to write you how I enjoyed the trip with you to eastern North Dakota. I have made many trips to the west, also in June to Burlington and Stratton, Colorado. While the land in Colorado lays very nice, I failed to find any improvements to show what the farmers have done in the past ten years. Most of the improvements consist of shacks, and every farmer who owns land there wants to sell. It is for that reason that I did not buy land in Colorado. I like the eastern North Dakota soil and the improvements on these farms are bound to convince the most skeptical farmer that these lands must produce crops. I have selected a farm through your association.

NEBRASKA WEEKLY INDUSTRIAL REVIEW

New roller mills to cost $80,000 under construction at Gibbon with a capacity of 40,000 bushels. Nebraska is to be further tested for oil and gas.

A producer has entered an agreement whereby he gets a drilling rig and field equipment. It is stated he has employed geologists, and is convinced that he had a chance to really open a new oil field.

Apples selling at $6 to $8 per barrel. Highest price known. Contracts let to build three concrete bridges across Platte river opposite towns of Morrill, Henry and Scottsbluff to cost $300,000.

As the smoke of the food price investigation clears away we find many conservative men advocating less, rather than more regulation of basic industries such as the packers, as the surest way to increase production and decrease living costs. The packers are conservatives.

Cedar Rapids is taking steps to build a sewer system. Sudan grass is helping relieve the hay shortage in several counties. Funds being raised to erect a $40,000 hotel at Ewing. Ten car loads potash shipped from Antioch this week.
