FORWARD STEP IN CHURCH WORK FOR WAYNE COUNTY

One of the most significant movements for the progress of the forces of christianity in the world is the Inter Church World movement. This is a united effort on the part of all the evangelical churches of America to unite in a survey of the religious needs of the world and make a united appeal to America to help these needs. There is no intention to work for organic union of different churches or for the federation of churches in any locality. These aims are entirely outside the scope of this undertaking. It is planned, however, to make a careful survey of the entire world field, with a view to finding any territory that is not served by christian forces and meet its needs. The survey will also show some places in which the work of some denominations will not be needed. When any field is receiving adequate service and a worth while program is in progress, the other denominations uniting in the movement agree to stay out of the field. This puts an end to church competition in the bad sense of the term. At present about fifty separate bodies have formally joined the movement, and it seems sure that all the evangelical churches will shortly be identified with the plan.

The survey of the world field includes a study of every county in the United States. The surveys of the counties of Nebraska will be in progress during the month of November. It is desired that the work be completed early in December, at the latest. The Wayne county committee is not fully formed as yet. It is expected that there will be a representative from each denomination represented in the county, placed on the committee. Rev. R. H. Pratt, chairman, is not able to announce the makeup of the committee as yet. It is his request that Wayne county folk cooperate as heartily as possible in making the survey a success.

RAYMOND FOX HOME

Lieut. Raymond Fox arrived home Monday evening, after twenty-eight months in the service of Uncle Sam. He was in field artillery and after finishing his training at an officers' training camp he received a commission, and was sent to several different camps for training men—and never given orders that permitted him to see the foe on the other side. His home was Wayne, but he was teaching at Wynot, and went from Cedar county into service. He received his discharge at Camp Dodge and arrived here Monday evening. He has not yet decided just what he will do, but will doubtless find plenty of opportunity for work.

WHITE-ALDRICH

Sunday, October 26, 1919, at Rosalie, by Rev. Johnson of the Methodist church, Miss Edith L. White and Mr. Harold Aldrich of Rosalie. The happy couple took the noon train for Omaha, and after a short wedding trip will make their home at Rosalie, where the groom is employed in his father's bank.

The bride grew to womanhood at Wayne, a niece of Miss Charlotte M. White, with whom she made her home during her school days. Many Wayne friends will join the Democrat in extending congratulations.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

The Ministerial association in Wayne is very much alive. On Monday, October 6, the ministers met together in the study of Rev. Fetteroff, the English Lutheran pastor, and completed their organization.

Rev. Fetteroff was elected president and Rev. Kilburn, secretary and treasurer. A union Thanksgiving service is being arranged for in the M. E. church to commence at 10:30 a. m. Preacher, Rev. Beard, pastor of the Presbyterian church, the choirs of the various churches will combine under the directorship of Professor Coleman. We hope to make this service the most impressive ever held in Wayne.

Also an inter-denominational canvas will be made in the city, ten ladies from each of the churches will be chosen for this important work. This campaign will commence on Friday, November 7, at 1 p. m. it is expected with such a force of workers the canvas can be completed in an afternoon. After the canvas the ladies will bring their cards to one of the churches where a supper will be provided for those who have assisted in performing this necessary task.

JOHN KATE DRIVES TO TOWN

The editor was pleased to again greet John Kate of Des Moines, in our city this week. Mr. and Mrs. Kate have been visiting Charles Kate, their son, at Sioux City, and came on over Tuesday to visit at the J. E. Hufford home and greet their many Wayne friends, and tarry here a few days, and then go on to Lincoln and visit a daughter living there. The younger daughter is in school at Ames, Iowa.

Mr. Kate looked the town over a couple of times and decided that there had been some improvement since he was mayor here, and since he had last visited Wayne. The poles are out of the street along Main, and the electroliners take their place. He said he would not again visit Wayne until he had paved streets, but he wanted to see his friends here again before he went to the city whose streets are all so nicely paved, and as the war had stopped one good start and we are now making another start, he relented and met us half way—and will come again when he can drive over paved streets of the first city he was ever mayor of.

Mr. Kate still has his views of economic questions, and says that times will not be normal in America until more people get down to steady work, and stop spending all of their wages on things not necessary for their real comfort. He believes that half of the battle is in right buying what one needs and not buying that which is not needed. He said to a young man in his employ who was complaining of hard times, how much wage do you get? $6 daily was the reply. How much for that shirt? $4 came the reply. How much for your shoes? $14, said the man. Well, said John, my shirts are pretty fair—not fancy, and they cost me $1.19 on a bargain counter. My shoes are good and I got them for not more than $6. And so he said it goes with most people. They want to spend all they can earn—and if they get too much money they lay off to spend it. Seem to think it will spoil. But he said, in time things will come around right, and we will strike a balance. Discontent will pass away, and America will as ever be the best place for a home and happiness.

SCHOOL NOTES

Thursday convocation the high school enjoyed several Victor selections: "Hansel and Gretel," Sousa's band; "I Hear You Calling Me," by John McCormack; "Speech of Patrick Henry," by Harry E. Humphrey, and "Roaming in the Gloaming," by Harry Lauder.

The greater part of Monday afternoon was devoted to the following Roosevelt memorial program: "America," by the entire school; Invocation by Rev. Kilburn of the Methodist church; speech by the chairman, Leslie Rundell; essay on the "Life of Theodore Roosevelt," by Gurney Laase and Harry Hanssen; "How Firm a Foundation," Roosevelt's favorite hymn; "Life of Theodore Roosevelt," by Faneuil Senter; Flag Ceremony—Salute; speech by chairman; selection, Boys' Glee club; Essays on Life of Theodore Roosevelt, by Lowell Henney and Frances Surber; main address by Prof. Brittel of the Wayne Normal; song, "Star Spangled Banner." Donations were then received from the students for the Roosevelt Memorial Monument, the total amount being $222.42.

The spelling contest stands 18 to 20 in favor of the South side.

The second grade will celebrate Halloween by having a party Friday afternoon, October 31.

A Roosevelt program was given by the sixth grade on Monday. Recitations and short items on his life were given by a number of the pupils. The children enjoyed a talk on Roosevelt by Rev. Pratt.

Robert Spencer is a new pupil in the third grade.

The following amounts for the Roosevelt memorial fund were pledged by the grades: Kindergarten 40c; first grade, $1.32; second grade, $1.13; third grade, $1.60; fourth grade, $1.62; fifth grade, $1.75; sixth grade, $2.65; Seventh grade, $2.35.

STANTON TEACHER DIES

Miss Evelyn Hathaway of Bloomfield, who was engaged to succeed Miss Dorothy Huse in the Stanton high school, was taken ill upon her arrival there last week, and soon passed away. She had heart trouble, and asthma and flu combined made a complication from which she could not rally.

ENTERTAINING THEIR SOLDIER AND SAILOR LADS

There was a happy party of relatives assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Kroger Sunday, when two soldier and two sailor lads gathered there with their folks and spent the day telling of the days over there. In addition to the lads was Mrs. Hedge, a sister of Mrs. Kroger, from Montana. The sailor lads were Ed Johnson, a nephew and his friend, Mark Nies, who formerly lived here, but who went into service from Montana, and who is here visiting, a guest of Mrs. Emma Baker. The soldiers were Walter and Fritz Lerner, also nephews. Their parents were with them, and also the wife and child of Walter, as well as Mr. Johnson's folks, making a party of nearly two score.

At the sumptuous home dinner and following, the young men exchanged some of their experiences to the pleasure and gratification of their listeners. It seems hard for the people to get from the returning soldiers and sailors much account of what they experienced, but if one could have been in hiding he doubtless might have learned much of interest. Ed Johnson, who was in the navy made no less than fourteen trips across the pond, and much of the time when the subs were rather diligent, and he could relate some very interesting experiences.

Mark Nies also had some things to tell, and our spokesman said that to him, his account of the Leviathan (formerly the Fatherland) was most interesting. The young man was one of the 2,200 men who made up the sailing crew required to handle this gigantic ship, the size of which few have any conception. Imagine, if you can, a building in Wayne filling Main street from side to side, and a little more, and from the depot to the Baptist church, and thirteen stories high, and you can get some conception of this ship as its dimensions were told by one who had walked its polished decks. It extends from forty to forty-six feet below the water line, according to the load carried, and reaches eighty feet above the average water line. All of the people in Wayne county, if every one were full size, might ride on this ship, at one time with comparative comfort, for it has carried as many as 16,000 people across the Atlantic at a single voyage. One who thought he was riding on a large ship tells of the meeting of the Leviathan in mid ocean, and as they passed he saw that it was but a boat in which he was crossing—comparison made it seem small.

The soldier boys, too had their time at story telling, but they did not happen to come our way with the one whom we talked to about this jolly home party.

MERCHANTS CAN UNDERSELL MAIL ORDER HOUSES

Roy T. Byrne of the Byrne & Hammer Dry Goods Company of Omaha says: "Our firm has made an analysis of the prices in mail order catalogues and finds that 90 per cent of the merchants of Nebraska and surrounding states can undersell the mail order houses from 10 to 20 per cent on 400 leading items of merchandise."

Mr. Byrne predicts that all articles made of cotton, wool, silk, linen and leather will still higher in 1920 because of shortage in the world markets and because of labor trouble.

NOTICE

A few years ago a city dump was provided by an agreement between the city council and Mr. John T. Bressler. The conditions of that agreement have been grossly violated and abused by those who haul trash to the dump. The city council has therefore arranged to clean up the dump grounds, placing all the trash into the creek bed where it should have been placed in the first place. The council has contracted with Mr. W. H. Hoguewood to haul all trash from the city to the dump at a reasonable cost. All persons having trash to haul will please notify Mr. Hoguewood.—J. H. Kemp, Mayor.—adv 15

A NEW FINE MEETING TO BE HELD AT WAKEFIELD

Friday, November 7, the day will be spent at Wakefield in a New Era meeting by members of the Presbyterian churches of that and near by places. This is a great forward movement of a great christian denomination to do all that may be done to give the church forces of today a new start in the practical everyday work of improving the conditions of men and women. It is one of the new impulses which is the outgrowth of our world war.

In addition to local talent and the business sessions that are to be held during the day, Dr. McGarrath from LaGrange, Illinois, and Dr. McKee from Kansas City, are numbered among the speakers. In the absence of any available program, we cannot give the hour when these men are to speak, but any who come in the morning and remain for all sessions so as not to miss these talks will be welcome, and no doubt be highly entertained.

PRESIDENT VETOS PROHIBITION BILL

A Washington dispatch dated Monday tells the president sent a veto message to congress relating to their bill to extend the war-time ruling to meet the constitutional enactment to be in force in about eighty days. His message is as follows:

"To the house or representatives: "I am returning without my signature House Roll 6810, an act to prohibit intoxicating beverages, and to regulate the manufacture, production, use and sale of high proof spirits for other than beverage purposes and to insure ample supply of alcohol and promote its use in scientific researches and in the development of fuel, dye and other industries."

"The subject matter treated in this measure deals with two distinct phases of the prohibition legislation. One part of the act under consideration seeks to enforce wartime prohibition. The other provides for the enforcement which was made necessary by the adoption of the constitutional amendment. I object to and cannot approve that part of this legislation with reference to wartime prohibition.

"It has to do with the enforcement of an act which passed by reason of the emergencies of the war and whose repeal I have already sought at the hands of congress. Where the purposes of particular legislation arising out of war emergency have been satisfied, sound public policy makes clear the reason and necessity for repeal.

Follow Established Process

"It will not be difficult for congress in considering this important matter to separate these two questions and effectively legislate regarding them; making the proper distinction between temporary causes which arose out of wartime emergency and those like the constitutional amendment of prohibition which is now part of the fundamental law of the country.

"In all matters having to do with the personal habits and customs of large numbers of our people, we must be certain that the established processes of legal change are followed. In no other way can the salutary object sought to be accomplished by great reforms of this character be made satisfactory and permanent."

The house passed the measure over the veto, and the senate may be able to do the same.

A DOCTOR TO OLD SHOES

To reduce the high cost of walking the United States Department of Agriculture has become a doctor to old shoes—not a general practitioner, but a consulting specialist both in diagnosis and treatment. One of its most recent prescriptions, evolved by the Bureau of Chemistry, has to do with the pair of last winter's shoes that, about this time of the year, are pulled out of the closet all full of mildew and looking hopelessly done for.

The prognosis is that the disease is not fatal, but that the shoes are good for a month or two anyhow. The treatment is: Brush or rag, applied externally; castor oil, small quantity vigorously rubbed in; sunshine, one or two days.

THE COMMUNITY HOUSE FUND IS GROWING

Below we have the financial report of the chairman of the ways and means committee of the Woman's club, showing how the money has been raised thus far, and from whom it has been received. Some people wonder why the Woman's club purchased the old opera house, and the following good reasons have been given. Wayne needed a community house, and the first move was to secure a site for such a building. In the purchase of this property not only was a very central site secured, but also a building which may with proper care—and that is what it is getting now—provide a public meeting place for the various entertainments and meetings which the people of the community may wish to hold from time to time. The use of this building is convenient and necessary on many occasions—it makes the organization independent to a certain extent. When the time comes to plan a new building the disposition of the old building may materially aid in making the new. By a proper foundation and a coat of stucco it might be turned across the rear of the lot and become the gym of the new community house with the basement for that swimming pool. The finish could be made to correspond nicely with whatever finish might be desired for the new house when built, and with the stucco and proper interior changes it might be made practically fireproof. Time and wise management will demonstrate the wisdom of this purchase at the time it was made.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Warren Shulteis was a passenger to Sioux City Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beckenhauer and daughter, Faunel, were Monday visitors at Sioux City.

Last week Henry Kay was on the Omaha market with a mixed car of cattle and hogs from his farm.

Mrs. C. M. Bilger from Omaha returned home Monday morning, following a visit here with her sister, Mrs. Earl Lewis.

John Kay went to Omaha Monday morning to see how feeders were selling, and if price and quality looked right, invest in a few.

Rev. J. R. Phillips from South Sioux City is supplying the Methodist church at Sholes, coming out for the Sunday services.

Mrs. McManigal, who has been home from Omaha about three weeks returned Monday morning to continue treatment there. Her daughter, Mrs. West, accompanied her for the trip as an escort.

Mrs. L. E. Panabaker visited her daughter at Winside Sunday.

Mrs. C. M. Craven was a passenger to Sioux City, the last of the week.

Miss Minnie Marquardt of the Normal teaching force visited Norfolk friends Saturday.

L. R. Phipps was looking after business the last of the week at Sioux City, South Sioux City and nearby towns.

Mrs. B. L. Palmer from Hubbard was visiting Wayne friends the last of the week, returning home Friday afternoon.

Mrs. W. H. Copple from Bangroft, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George McEachen, her daughter, returned home Friday.

Attorney Paul of Emerson was a Wayne visitor Friday evening, coming on the passenger on a little matter of business, and riding the freight home.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Thompson from Lyons were Saturday and Sunday visitors here at the home of their son, G. H. Thompson and family. They returned home Monday morning.

Mrs. Mary Stubbs, who has been visiting relatives and friends in South Dakota, came home last week, and after a few days in her town home will go to visit at the home of children in the south part of the county.

Miss Anne Hansing, one of the Pender teachers, spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Lillie Soflemoser, one of the students at the Normal, returning in time for her school work Monday. Miss Hansing teaches the sixth grade.

Mrs. W. H. Neely went to Grand Island the last of the week to join her mother, Mrs. Orr in a visit there, and accompany her here for a visit the last of the week, after which her mother plans to return to her home at Sioux City.

Mrs. J. J. McBride from Sioux City stopped here to visit Wayne friends a day or two while returning from a visit with relatives at Niobrara and some nearby points. While at Wayne she was a guest of Mrs. Carroll and Mrs. F. S. Berry, and returned home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam E. Roth of near Pekin, Illinois, came last week to visit their cousins, Albert and Martin Bastian. They were on their wedding trip, and had been west, and returning stopped to visit here. Uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bastian, whom they had hoped to meet, are still visiting their sons at Chance, North Dakota. Expressing themselves as having greatly enjoyed their Wayne visit they left Friday afternoon for home.

O. C. Lewis made an official visit to Hoskins the last of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank James of Carroll went to Hadar the last of the week to visit their son.

Mrs. W. L. Needham and Mrs. R. A. Carter from Winside were Wayne visitors the last of last week.

Mrs. R. R. Smith has been visiting at Coleridge a part of last week, returning home the first of the week.

H. C. Lyons went to Norfolk last week to visit a few days at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Summerfield.

Miss Bessie Durie from Laurel was visiting here last week and over Sunday. Wayne looks pretty good to her, she admits.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Armstrong, returned to Sioux City Sunday after a short visit here with their parents and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Mitchell drove to Sioux City the first of the week where combined business and pleasure called them.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanson from Merville, Iowa, came last Friday night to visit at the homes of her brothers, Chas. and Fred Van Norman.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Chiochester came Monday from their Sidney home to look after things at their Wayne places and visit friends.

A. H. Carter and wife from Winside, are visiting in Wisconsin, making the trip by automobile to their old home in the Badger state.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fisher were automobileing over the country last Thursday, visiting Randolph, Laurel and Belden, and possibly some other points.

Misses Louise and Florence Carhart from Magnet were chatting with relatives here Tuesday morning while on their way to spend the winter at Long Beach, California.

Many Nebraska farmers are building machine sheds this fall. The high cost of implements makes a shed well worth while. Mention No. 1074-11 to the agricultural college at Lincoln if you want plans.

New and heavier steel rails are to be laid on the Bloomfield branch soon. The steel is being distributed along the upper end of the line, the lower end having been given the new and heavier rails some time ago.

They tell us that the cost of living is gradually falling. It seems too gradual. Some assert that in some places and on some things the fall has been as great as 25 per cent, but that has not been on the few things which come to the editor's home.

Lee Smith, who came home from the German front several months ago and soon went to the front on a farm in central part of North Dakota, where he has been building a home, house and necessary farm buildings, came the first of the week to visit his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Smith.

The state serum plant is now selling anti-hog cholera serum at 1 1/4 cents per c. c. Hog cholera virus, when accompanying serum orders, is sold at 1 1/4 cents per c. c. virus alone. It ordered the price is 2 cents per c. c. The serum is given a thorough pig test at the plant, then a more rigid pig test for potency, and animal inoculation and culture tests for purity, by the university department of animal pathology and hygiene before it is offered for sale. The virus is tested for virulency by pig inoculation.

Norfolk teachers have asked for a raise of salary of $12.50 per month, and for their pay bi-monthly. The last request has been granted. The lack of funds, provision for which usually has to be made before this season of the year, makes it a hard thing for the board to solve. The minimum wage for grade teachers is $77.50 and in the high school $90. Some fear that the teachers may strike, and that teachers have become in the habit of disregarding their contract and quitting suddenly if a better place is offered.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wright came from Wessington, South Dakota, Sunday to visit among their friends near Wayne. Thirteen years ago, he tells us, they moved from Wayne, and this is their first visit here since that time, and naturally they find many changes in both town and country. The state school has developed since then from the little start it had then made under the charge of Professor Pile. Some have moved to other parts—others have gone never to return, and yet he finds many a friend still sticking around the old haunts. While in this county for a number of years they lived in the neighborhood south of town, where they then knew all of the folks. The Democrat kept them informed as to many things, until a few years ago, when they felt that they knew too few people here to make the news as it ran from week to week of much interest. He made a friendly call, Monday, but of course failed to find Goldie, who was at the helm so many years while they were here. They are guests of Mrs. Wm. Gamble, Bert Hyatt and others in that part of the country. They plan to return after a short visit.

Otto Voget came over from Norfolk Tuesday morning.

Winter weather is coming, slowly but surely. The temperature was 14 above zero at sunrise Tuesday morning.

Miss Alta Christie, of the Ahern store force went to visit home folks at Scribner the first of the week to be absent a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Drebert, Mrs. George Drebert, Mrs. John Drebert, Ed Fanske and son, Edward, drove down from Pierce and spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Fanske.

George Roskopf left the first of the week for Omaha, and had his eyes looking west from that point, and it is possible that he will not stop until he bumps up against the foothills at Denver. We heard him murmur something about Lincoln, and his friends there, just as he was getting onto the cars.

C. A. Grothe, wife and son, Carl, who has been here from Dakota for several weeks, leave this week, weather permitting for southern California, and plan to drive through by car. This will be a fine trip at this season of the year, for a few days to the south will put them out of the zone usually seriously invaded by winter at this season of the year.

Mrs. Joe Williams and Mrs. Cleveland from Page were here the first of the week visiting at the home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Al Dragon.

Miss Mabel Middleton from Belden has been here visiting at the C. E. McClennen home for a day or two, and returned home Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. George Hoffman from Fremont, who has been here for some time at the home of her sister, Mrs. Gus Newman, left for home Tuesday morning.

Mrs. N. J. Maxwell returned the first of the week from a business trip to Cheyenne county where she had to look after the threshing and marketing of a crop, and the arranging for the 1920 crop.

Up at Bloomfield they are ditching to take the kinks out of a creek that frequently floods the town, and to make possible a better road into the town. They have a dredge going day and night making the new waterway.

For specials on smoked meats at the popular prices we have been able to supply our patrons on several occasions. We mean the bacon and small hams, which have been going at prices down to correspond with the drop of hogs on foot.

See the window again Saturday only for more real meat bargains.

We have a bet with the editor that our supply will more than meet the demand that he can create with his little spread of printer's ink. Come Saturday and see who loses. You win if you buy here—you lose if you let the opportunity pass.

WAYNE STOCK SHOW AND FALL FESTIVAL

Last week was too short for us to gather in all of the awards made at the fair and get them in type and in the paper, and this week we continue the list of premiums awarded.

The poultry showing was easily the best in this part of the state this fall, and the best represented of any department of the fair, perhaps, good as most of the departments were. To the success of the poultry department no small measure of praise is due to J. E. Hufford, who was in charge of that department. He is a thorough poultry man, and is on speaking terms, one might say with every chicken, hen, rooster, duck or goose (grower) in the vicinity of Wayne. His Logan Valley Poultry Farm experience and the acquaintances acquired came in good play at this time. Below is the awards, and the scorings of the flocks by a competent judge showed many birds with high markings. To win a poultry premium in this show meant quality:

LIVE STOCK ASSOCIATION MET LAST THURSDAY

(Bloomfield Journal)
The Knox County Better Live Stock and Fair association held an interesting meeting at the city hall in Bloomfield on Thursday evening of last week. There was a gratifying attendance and interest and enthusiasm ran high. The success of the 1919 fair was so great that even the most pessimistic doubter was forced to admit that his doubts had been woefully misplaced and as for the boosters—well, they were all there with bells on.
The evening was devoted to settling up matters in connection with this year's fair, paying bills and in lining things up for next year's fair. The matter of erecting more new buildings next year was discussed at some length and, while no definite action was taken, it is reasonably certain that several new structures will be added to the fair ground equipment. A grandstand, one more hog house, another cattle barn and other buildings are in prospect and it is safe to say that when next fair time rolls around the Knox County Fair association will have the finest most up-to-date and best set of buildings of any county fair in the state.

Knox county folks are not in the habit of doing anything by halves and they have entered into the live-stock and fair association work with an enthusiasm and ability that spells great things for the future.

The matter of selling additional stock was also taken up and discussed many of those who had taken shares expressed the desire to take more and enough of those present at the meeting took out share in sums of $1,200.

Here seems to be another successful fair and stock show and without a racing attachment, as suggested elsewhere in this paper. The Democrat wants to see a fair organized at Wayne, and hopes that one possible to be had will be inaugurated. So far as we can learn the strict enforcement of laws against gambling has had the effect of making racing less popular than in other years. In plain language, those who furnished the enthusiasm for a race with few exceptions, where those who wanted the excitement of the chance of gain or loss which used to go with the grand old game.

Wanted—A good, steady, gentlemanly salesman to handle a Ward's wagon in Wayne county. No experience needed. For full particulars write promptly to Dr. Ward's Medical Company, Winona, Minnesota. Established 1856.—$11-18.

For Rent—Sleeping room. Enquire at this office.—tf-nd.

For Delegate to the Nebraska Constitutional Convention from the 20th Representative District (Wayne County).

J. G. W. LEWIS . . .

His friends recommend him

Because his special education and present work qualify him for efficient service in the convention.

Because he will stand for a scientific revision of the constitution.

Because he has had a broad experience and is a student of everyday affairs.

Because his knowledge and independence of judgment will make him more than a mere follower of any leader or faction in the convention.

Because he believes in justice as a great preventive of disorder, and the spirit of cooperation as a general rule of action.

Because he will stand for the rights of the farmers, and the rights of men in other occupations insofar as they render service to society.

Because he will stand for government of the people, for the people, and by the people.

Our Repair Policy

Recharging, repairs, testing—these are part of our service. We have the training and equipment to do this work well, at the least price consistent with good work.

Cheap work isn't really cheap at any price, and would only lose us customers.

But we regard this service as a part of our obligation to make Willard Batteries last as long as possible at least expense.

Another of our obligations is to distribute for Willard a battery that will last longer and doesn't need so many repairs—the Willard Battery with Threaded Rubber Insulation.

It gives longer life with fewer troubles just as a cord tire does.

Drop in and let us tell you its remarkable performance record after over four years of service.

The president continues to improve slowly, and is now able to sit up for his meals.

With the threatened coal strike only forty-eight hours away, and winter coming on, it is time for some very active and decisive moves to be made to avoid a chill. We might pray for a warm wave.

Tuesday is election day, and an important question is at stake. All voters should go to the polls and express a choice—for then you will have the real right to kick if you do not get the men and the measures you want.

Farm lands continue to be offered at auction over the country, and in many instances are reported to be selling well. We believe, however, speculative feature of many land deals is disappearing, and solid values are being considered—and that is where this corner of Nebraska shines.

These are times of great unrest, and all mankind appears to be looking for some way to escape trouble—and only finding it more plentiful as they search. If the miners should strike for better pay and less work, they will force other things higher, until, in the end their increase of pay and increased time in which to spend it will leave them straddled, as they sometimes were on more work and less pay—so where do they gain much?

The Lodge amendment to equalize that which is already equalized—the vote in the council between England and the United States, met its waterloo in the senate Monday. We said that the vote is equalized. We mean it would be if the senate would ratify the treaty. As it now is, the United States has no vote in the council, and England has one—and the republicans of the United States senate are wholly responsible for the fact that this country is not yet represented in the affairs of the nations of the world. Even a great nation, and a republic has its kings—its obstructive autocrats. They are claiming the "divine right" to obstruct the will of the people. Some countries have but one king to behead—in a political way—we have about forty if the people get half of them—the others may see what to do and do it.

The time for our constitutional election is at hand. Tuesday you go and vote your sentiments, if you are a fair 100 per cent American, as we see the duties of citizenship. It is remarkably quiet on the eve of the voting, and certain corporation interests appear to be worried. They are trying to agitate the waters. They are stirring up a great noise about the non-partisan league of North Dakota. That may be a bad political organization. We do not know. But apparently it has satisfied the majority of the voters of North Dakota. Perhaps these people have been fooled. People sometimes are sadly mistaken, and it may be so in this case, but we believe that even a rule of the farmers of the state in making a constitution might be no worse than the rule of the corporations has been for years and might be for years to come, if given their opportunity. Wayne county appears to be free from the prospect of having a representative of either party in the saddle. We are informed that one of the farmer organizations do not favor, and the corporations are not enthusiastic for the other. The people stand a chance.

SOCIAL NOTES

A number of high school boys and girls met in the Gardner home Saturday evening and gave a farewell party for Miss Georgia Tuttle, who has resigned her position as history teacher in the local high school. Games and music were the order of the evening and the young folks had a genuine good time. Marshmallows and chocolate creams were served in abundance. Miss Tuttle made a short farewell talk, expressing her regret that she was unable to remain with them all the year and that Wayne had one of the finest high schools she had ever seen and hoped she could see them all again in the future. She thanked them all for their kindness to her. Her former pupils in departing gave nine "Rahs" for Miss Tuttle. She was presented with two large boxes of candy as tokens of their affection and esteem. Miss Tuttle departed Sunday afternoon for her home at Lincoln.

Monday club met October 27 with Mrs. H. H. Bahn. In response to roll call the members told of some characteristic of Roosevelt which they particularly admired. Mrs. Hess gave a very instructive report on present conditions in Mexico. Mrs. Brainard read a paper equally instructive on the cities of Mexico. The members were interested in examining some trophies from the recent battlefield, and were also entertained by several operatic selections on the Edison. Mrs. Stebbins of Des Moines, Iowa, and Miss Durrie of Laurel were guests. November 1 at 2:30 Miss Piper, Mesdames Jones, Moran and Bowen will entertain the club at a Royal party at the home of Mrs. C. A. Chace.

The Minerva club held its regular meeting Monday, October 27, at the home of Mrs. H. J. Miner. Mrs. J. G. W. Lewis was the leader of the program for the afternoon. As she was to give instruction on voting, she held a primary election in which all the members and guests took part. A number of votes were challenged and some were thrown out on legal technicalities. After the election closed Mrs. J. R. Armstrong sang a solo. Mrs. E. Erskine and Mrs. I. A. Hickman of Salem, Oregon were visitors. Delightful refreshments were served by the hostess.

Miss Mabel Britell entertained the members of the Queen Esther society Tuesday evening at a Halloween party in the basement of the home of her parents, Prof. and Mrs. Britell. Very appropriate Halloween decorations were used. Each person was asked to compose a poem, in which the first words of each line began with the letters of Halloween. Miss Martha Crockett won the prize a stick of gum. Miss Mary House dressed as a witch told fortunes. Five new members were initiated. At a late hour a two-course luncheon was served.

Mrs. A. M. Jacobs and Mrs. E. S. Blair entertained at a Kensington at the Jacobs home Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Peters of Los Angeles about thirty-five guests being present. Yellow chrysanthemums and carnations were the flowers, and Halloween decorations were used in all decorations. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Forbes of Wisconsin and Miss Bessie Durrie of Laurel. A two-course luncheon was served at the close of a very pleasant afternoon.

Mrs. J. J. Coleman entertained fourteen little folks Saturday from 4 to 6 in honor of her little son, Cyril's fourth birthday. Each little tot brought a gift which delighted the little boy very much. After all the gifts were duly admired, they played games until a bountiful birthday cake with its four lighted candles made a delightful centerpiece. The little folks departed after having spent a happy afternoon.

Tomorrow afternoon is the regular meeting of the Wayne W. C. T. U. at the Geo. Fortner home. Mrs. Wm. Beckenhauer will lead devotional exercises. Mrs. Boyce will sing or furnish some other music. Mrs. Claude Mitchell will give a report of the state convention which she attended. Mrs. Trumbauer will have a paper. All are urged to be present, and here is a program worthy of your attendance.

The U. D. club met at the home of Mrs. Felber, Mrs. Ringland gave a very interesting article on the causes underlying the social unrest. Mrs. Forbes of Wisconsin, was a guest. The members decided to give ten dollars to the community house fund. The hostess served delicious refreshments. On Thursday, November 6, the club will have a dinner party at the home of Mrs. Harry Craven.

Friday was Phil Kickbaugh's thirtieth birthday so he invited the members of his class in junior high of the normal training school to help him celebrate the event. The class have a party every two weeks in some members home. The evening was spent socially and in playing games. The young people had a splendid time. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Panabaker will entertain at a masquerade Halloween party in the basement of the court house. The decorations will all be Halloween suggestions. There will be fortune telling, music and dancing and everything that goes for a good time. Refreshments will be served.

Miss Louise Wehdt entertained six young lady friends in honor of her birthday at a house party at the country home of her sister, Mrs. Will E. Each Saturday evening and Sunday. An elaborate three-course dinner was served. The young ladies returned home after having had a delightful time.

The Woman's club will meet in the basement of the library building Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Beard will give a lecture on the "Industrial Situation in the United States at the Present Time," at 3:30. Also selected reading. Everyone cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Carrie Bruner will entertain the P. N. G. club next Tuesday afternoon at her home in honor of Mrs. Clara Gustafson, who will soon leave for Iowa to make her home. This will be the first meeting of the year and all Past Noble Grands are urged to be present.

The Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church meets this afternoon at the residence of J. S. Carhart. Piecing quilt blocks will occupy the early part of the afternoon after which a social time will be enjoyed. Refreshments will be served.

Members of the Acme club met at the home of Mrs. Crawford Monday afternoon. The reading and discussion of current events was the program for the afternoon. Mrs. Forbes will be hostess next meeting.

Mrs. Fenist, who has rooms at the Trumbauer home, entertained a few friends in honor of her birthday last Thursday evening. The time was spent in dancing. Delicious refreshments were served.

The Royal Neighbors will meet in regular session Tuesday evening, the 4th, and initiate candidates, after which refreshments will be served. All who can should attend.

The Early Hour club meets tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Chace. Supper will be served at 7 o'clock. The evening will be spent in playing "500."

The Helping Hand society will meet in an all-day session at the home of Irve Reed, northwest of Wayne, Thursday, November 6.

Senior Sophomore class of high school will have a Halloween party at the home of Mrs. Ada Rennick Friday evening.

Neva Lackey will entertain the members of her class in training school at a Halloween party Friday evening.

Ahern's

Like Good Things to Eat?

Then trade here. You'll find staple groceries of the time-tried, superb-quality kind—always in stock—mouth-watering fancy groceries just as soon as the market offers. Our aim is "Quality First." Among other first-class goods, we recommend

Pillsbury's Best Flour
It's rich in food value, and gives a large yield per sack of especially fine-flavored bread. It's good for pastry, too. No need to buy two flours—Pillsbury's Best is enough.

Chace & Sanborn's Coffees

The Best To Be Had

This coffee is so good that it is served at almost every social gathering—club party and public dinner served in Wayne. If you know and enjoy real coffee flavor and fragrance it will suit you. Moderately priced and economy to use because it goes farther than ordinary coffee.

A Car of Real Apples in Barrels

Black Twiggs and Winesaps

Every apple in the barrel sound, solid and of good size. Grown in well sprayed and cultivated orchards in northern Kansas which guarantees fruit free from worms and rot.

Three full bushels in a barrel which weighs 24 pounds more than 3 boxes.

Cheaper than box apples because the expense of wrapping and hand packing is saved.

Real winter keepers that will be at their best in December to April.

The car is now about half sold—leave your order for a barrel before they are gone.

Later on when apples have to come through storage they are going to cost a lot more. Buy now while we get them direct from the orchards and save storage expense and handling.

500 Bushels Bulk Apples

Gano, Winesap, and Rome Beauty are the varieties. They are selling fast and the price, 6 1/2c pound or one-third less than box apples. Two car loads has been unloaded this week and its a real opportunity to secure a 60 or 90 day supply at considerable saving. The Rome Beauty is a delicious for eating and the other varieties are good cookers. Special in 200 and 400 pound lots.

Car Delicious Apples Just In

No other variety equals the Delicious for eating. They are at their best and the price is less than they will be later.

Basket of Bargains

Are always on display at this store—every item marked. Just help yourself—assemble your own order and take all the time you like. Bargain displays are changed every week.

1000 lbs. Basket Store Blend Coffee

Sold during the last 12 months. Some business on one blend of coffee. This simply demonstrates what happens when a good article is right priced—not for one day or one week but all the time. Basket Store Blend is in good demand—25 pounds $11.75. Every pound guaranteed to please.

200 Lbs. Cookies Just Arrived 25c Pound

Regular 30c and 35c values are included in this. Sugar is scarce, and the little folks usually like store cookies best. Secure a supply for the school dinners. We believe this price is less than you can bake them. On sale Friday and Saturday.

My Kind Flour

The four that's made good. Special price in 10 sack lots, $3.35 per sack. New car unloaded last week. If you prefer northern wheat flour don't fail to try Lincoln brand made by the Pillsbury Milling Co.

New Arrivals

Dates, figs, sweet apple ester, mince meat, walnuts, cranberries, pure country sorghum and all kind canned goods.

Telmo Coffee

This is the coffee served by the ladies at the city hall during the fair. You remember how good this was—that was Telmo. Buy a 3-pound carton. If it fails to please return the empty carton and receive full purchase price.

Dinner Sets—100 Piece

3 Good Patterns

Can save you a 15 per cent advance. These sets are imported very scarce merchandise. Have a set set aside for your wife or daughter for Christmas.

Last chance on Cabbage and Onions

At this price, cabbage $2.50 and good keeping onions $5.50 per hundred. These items will soon double in price. The onion is due to be consumed by the "wall to do" this winter.

Full Cream Cheese

If you are particular in regard to your cheese try this store. Our cheese is mild and of good quality. Cheese contains plenty of food value and can be prepared in many ways.

Pure Fruit Jam

No apple base just pure fruit and sugar. The same as this store sold so many of last season. New goods—21 ounce jars, $6.65 dozen. All kinds of fruits—secure a case while assortment is complete.

Many western states owe their remarkable growth to oil and its allied industries and every westerner should get behind a policy which demands a square deal for the oil man so that oil development may proceed to supply a growing world demand.

Omaha to have a nineteen-mile boulevard along Missouri river and a twelve-mile industrial traffic way around entire city.

Ditches dug and pipes laid for waterworks extension at Creighton.

Sandy potato has been discovered at Dunning. Is Will Weber in on it?

There is no more right, justice or wisdom in the "closed shop" theory than there is in a state church or an official political party to which a man must belong before getting a job. The establishment of the "closed shop" in the U. S. would be a step backward to the days when a man had to conform to a state brand of religion or be driven from the country. A non-union man has just as much right to a job in this nation as a union man, says a writer. Yes and the monopolist has no more right to organize than the laboring man. Let 'em go!

Omaha is to get area station on "around the world flight."

The packers explain the declining price for cattle by stating that they are running light because of uncertainty regarding what the government intends to do. It has usually been the case ever since the government began meddling with the business of the country, that any abnormal price condition can be traced to the activities of the federal department. That is what we see written by a "news agency." But it is a long time since we saw any government meddling that "declined" the price of meat to the hungry man.

NICKELS TO FLIVVERS

Dr. Burrin Jenkins in Kansas City (Post.)

Here is a news dispatch sent to the Post by J. W. Pattee, who serves the Post as correspondent at Smith Center, Kas.—that is, Mr. Pattee sent as a news dispatch, but concealed between its lines there is such a wonderful text for a sermon on thrift that the contribution is being borrowed from the news department. But—

You're beginning to wonder what his is all about, anyway, so go ahead and read:

"Smith Center, Kas., Oct. 17.—When the government first began making nickels with buffalo heads on one side, Mrs. G. P. Ehly of Mankato, Kas., started saving every buffalo nickel that came into her possession. She made a practice of dropping such nickels into a chute that ran from her kitchen to a wooden box in the cellar. A few days ago she took an invoice and found that she had 14,000 coins, aggregating $700. Her husband had long pined for a "flivver." Now he's got the "flivver."

Isn't that an impressive demonstration of the value of saving small things?

Doesn't it prove how easy it is for us to save money if we try?

Just figure, for a minute, what the result would have been if dimes had been used instead of nickels, or quarters instead of dimes! Moreover, this we are about it, let's estimate how many, many nickels, dimes and quarters we turn loose without getting anything tangible to show where the money went.

Remember now, it hasn't been so very many years since the first buffalo nickel was coined, and furthermore, bear in mind that the Kansas woman who amassed $700 worth of nickels did not handle any large aggregate of money from which to extract her small coin savings.

It all goes to show that we fritter away more money each year than we are aware of, unless we stop and take invoice of ourselves and our resources, and it further impresses upon us the truth of the old saying that it isn't so much what we make, as what we save that counts.

We were taught thrift during the war. Now that the war is over, suppose we practice what we learned about thrift, and let's extract a lesson from the example set us by the Kansas woman.

FIGHTING THE H. C. OF E.

Economy is a Point of View Just as Extravagance is.

The national bugaboo, the "H. C. of E." has become the "H. C. or E.", the "E" representing "Everything," and numerous authorities have laid down tactics for fighting it. Among the best are those from the pen of Thomas L. Mason, appearing in the Country Gentleman, as follows:

"Economy in a household consists in minimizing the nonessentials. That is, economize in the things you don't need, and the things you do need will take care of themselves. Remember this: that if you are on the right road what you don't need today is often what you thought you must have yesterday. Economy is a point of view just as extravagance is. No matter who you are or what you do, you can get along on what you have and be happy. Those people who are always worrying about money are the ones who are always wanting things they don't need. Here are a few rules that members of every household should keep in mind:

"The more you want a particular thing the more you should wait until the day after tomorrow before getting it.

"Making an impression on others is often robbing the future; beside, in some mysterious manner everybody knows when you are doing things that you cannot afford.

"Pay the highest for the best, not the lowest for the worst.

"When you shrink from knowing where you stand you need a guardian.

"The things that money buys are incidental when you cannot afford to buy them.

"When you find it necessary to economize on having the right kind of good time, then there is something wrong with your system.

"Buy what you can't afford only when you can afford it."

Yes, Sir, the Young Fellows are Taking Right Up with this Friendly Tobacco

Of course other forms of smoking are all right in their way, but there is something intimate and friendly-like about a pipe—just the kind of a thing that forward-looking chaps take to like ducks take to water.

Most of them weren't born with a silver spoon in their mouths, and the low cost of Velvet Tobacco doesn't hurt its popularity—not so as you could notice it.

Fifteen cents!

Just a dime and a nickel—the price of a few smokes in other forms, but which put into Velvet Tobacco, give a fellow almost a week's good smoking.

Then again it is mild, well-mellowed, smooth, friendly.

It got that way by its eight long seasons of ripening in wooden hogsheads—a slow, expensive method, but the best that's been found yet.

Velvet's the kind of a companion for fellows to tie up to!

It gets 'em in the home habit.

For a pipe of good tobacco is a homey kind of thing.

Young man, meet your good chum, Velvet—in its jolly red tin!

PRACTICE ECONOMY NOW.

Attorney General Palmer Says It's Every Patriotic American's First Duty.

"It is as much the duty of the patriotic American citizens to economize as it was when our boys were over there," says A. Mitchell Palmer, Attorney General of the United States in charge of the Government's investigation of profiteering. "All public men, as well as the press and the pulpit, should preach saving. They should plead with the people to do these things—produce more, consume less, work and save."

The Savings Division of the Treasury Department, and the 600,000 War Savings Societies of the country have been co-operating with Mr. Palmer and his department in the effort to reduce the cost of living, check the profiteer, eliminate waste and reduce extravagance by means of sale and distribution of War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates.

A meeting of the Irwin B. Sears Post, No. 43, American Legion will be held Monday, November 3, 1919, at 8 p. m. in the city hall. All former soldiers, sailors and marines are requested to be present. If you are not already a member, you are asked to attend this meeting and join the local post. This will be an important meeting as officers are to be elected and plans for a smoker or some other form of entertainment will be made.

IT'S UP TO YOU

There are three things that congress can do at once to safeguard the households of America. First—The Lever food bill, with a prison penalty for food gamblers, should be extended to operate after peace is signed.

Second—The power of the sugar equalization board should be extended after January 1, 1920.

Third—The scheme to boost the price of coffee, in which the Brazilian government is the accomplice of food speculators, should be rigorously investigated.

Not one argument has been offered against any of these measures. The department of justice promises to cut prices down to normal by jailing profiteers. It pleads with congress to give it a fair opportunity.

President Wilson asked for legislation against profiteering ten weeks ago.

One reason that congress stalls and delays is that the public is doing nothing.

Of course, everyone complains and protests and wonders why. But a two-cent stamp, an envelope and a sheet of paper will carry your wishes straight to the men who have the power to help you. Food speculators, with millions at stake, will not let you off a minute. You, with your car tires and savings at stake—why don't you do something?

Just write, "Dear Senator" or "Dear Congressman" and tell us how you stand against the profiteer by pushing the measures needed to fight the high cost of living. Give us as much protection in peace time as we had in war time.

The appeals of national leaders, of the press, of economists means nothing unless you back them up!

EFFICIENCY BUYING SAVES

A housekeeper should know what she needs and how much she needs without asking the clerk or searching about it, says a few boys in a recent issue of the college of agriculture extension service. Some efficient suggestions in intelligent and economical buying are given in this circular. At a general discussion of the knowledge necessary for skillful buying it discusses factors that affect prices, installment buying, the selection of a marketing place, buying food in large or small amounts, buying in bulk or package, marketing by telephone or in person, running charge accounts or paying cash, agencies that help the housekeeper in marketing and with market conditions, and the ethics of marketing. RACE-HORSE COUNTY FAIRS DISAPPEARING

The race-horse type of county fair is rapidly being replaced by the educational county fair, according to the Nebraska College of agriculture, extension service. This was especially true for the season just closed. The college was called on to furnish educational exhibits for seven county fairs and judges for forty-two fairs. In addition, short courses in stock raising and home economics were conducted by the extension service at fairs for boys and girls. These proved a attractive and satisfactory. Judges were required to give full reasons for their placings, and their work thus accompanied by a lecture of educational value. Two exhibit cars were kept on the road by the college of agriculture extension service. Several fairs were entirely lacking in racing and some of the other old types of entertainment.

The above is timely for Wayne, just at a time when a fair program is being talked, and we hope that it will receive due consideration in the consideration of the proposed fair. We want nothing that is going into the discard because it is not good for the community nor profitable to the enterprise. The primary object of a fair is to stimulate production of the things which a community is and does and can produce. This is a farming community, and as far as we know that part of agriculture which has to do with the breeding of race horses, either trotting, pacing or running, is not followed, and if racing is no longer up to date and a drawing and paying attraction, Wayne might better not begin it.

THE FALLING LEAVES

The leaves are falling from the trees and as they eddy on the breeze and cover up the ground, it brings sad thoughts to mortal minds and forty-seven different kinds of swear words float around. The goodman now must quick repair unto the shed and from its lair yank forth the rusty rake and, spitting on each horny palm—to section men a restful balm—and one they frequent take—proceed to gather up the leaves in little piles beneath the eaves; but when he stops to rest, the wind comes zipping good and hard and o'er the whole ding-busted yard bestrews them galley-west. 'Tis thus in life. We toil and tug, eschew the bottle and the jug and nearly bust a hame to lay away a little "spec" and then misfortune busts our neck and shoves us from the game. We pinch and save to lay away some shekels for a rainy day—a little wad of dough—and then hard luck camps on our trail and flims us of the hard-earned kale—we hate to see it go. Perforce we must begin again, pursue with might the nimble yen until our legs are sore, and on our cheeks are lines of care; upon our scalps a dearth of hair—'tis gone to come no more. But as you labor day by day, a few stray coins to lay away, don't pass all pleasure by. Enjoy some of life's pleasures rare before misfortune grabs your hair and bluffs you in the eye.—Uncle Dud in Bloomfield Journal.

BOYS TO RAISE BABY-BEEF

A chance to learn how to successfully feed cattle and at the same time make money is offered boys and girls who join Baby Beef clubs formed under the direction of the college of agriculture extension service. Scores of boys and girls made big money last summer as members of pig clubs. Walter Briggs, a Seward county boy, sold his pigs for $5,000; and in addition took several hundred dollars in prize money, forty-five fair ribbons, three trophies and a silver medal. Any Nebraska boy or girl over ten and under nineteen years old January 1, 1919, is eligible to join a Baby Beef club. Write the Extension Service, College of Agriculture, Lincoln, for detailed information.

THE UNEXPECTED

Mr. Brown had just had a telephone connection between his office and home and was very much pleased with it.

"I tell you, Smith," he was saying, "this telephone business is a wonderful thing. I want you to dine with me this evening and I will notify Mrs. Brown to expect you."

Brown (speaking through the telephone): "My friend Smith will dine with us this evening."

"Now listen and hear how distinctly her reply will come back."

Mrs. Brown's reply came back with startling distinctness:

"Ask your friend if he thinks we keep a hotel!"

OLD AGE STARTS WITH YOUR KIDNEYS

Science says that old age begins with weakened kidneys and digestive organs. Being true, it is easy to believe that by keeping the kidneys and digestive organs cleansed and in proper working order old age can be deferred and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person. For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been relieving the weakness and disability due to advancing years. It is a standard old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil is enclosed in colorless, tasteless capsules containing about 5 drops each. Take them as you would a pill, with a small swallow of water. The oil stimulates the kidney action and enables the organs to throw off the poisons which cause premature old age. New life and strength increase as you continue the treatment. When completely restored continue taking a capsule or two each day. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules will keep you in health and vigor and prevent a return of the disease. Do not wait until old age or disease have settled down for good. Go to your druggist and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes. Remember to ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand them as you would a pill, with a small

Give the world the once over

LISTEN, fellows, to some straight talk. Many a man when he gets to be 40, misses something. He may have lots of money, and a fine family but— He never "got out and saw things". After he gets settled down, it's too late. Every man wants to see the world. No man likes to stand still all his life. The best time to TRAVEL is when you're young and lively—right NOW! Right NOW your Uncle Sam is calling. "Shove off!" He wants men for his Navy. He's inviting you! It's the biggest chance you'll ever get to give the world the once over!

The Navy goes all over the world—sails the Seven Seas—squints at the six continents—that's its business. You stand to see more odd sights, wonderful scenery and strange people than you ever dreamed of. You'll work hard while you work. You'll play hard while you play. You'll earn and learn. You'll get, in addition to "shore-leave", a 30-day straight vacation—which is more than the average bank president can count on. You can join for two years. When you get through you'll be physically and mentally "tuned up" for the rest of your life. You'll be ready through and through for SUCCESS. There's a Recruiting Station right near you. If you don't know where it is, your Postmaster will be glad to tell you.

Now you see it and now you don't. That is the story of the shoe. First came a report that shoes would be less costly soon than now, and the glad tidings traveled fast and far—and now the shoe combine is trying to have the bad news that this report was false overtake the good news—but they are still two laps behind. If the prices on shoes do not decline or the quality improve, there is a chance for some cold toes before spring. It was easy to believe that the price of shoes would take a tumble because it was so evident that they should do so—to the man who had to buy. The Democrat did not use the first story except in connection with a contradiction—and we hope to bring better news to the consumer some other day.

TO THE PEOPLE OF NEBRASKA

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 25.—In compliance with the duty imposed upon us by the legislature of Nebraska, we, the members of the joint committee of the state senate and the house of representatives, created to inquire into existing economic ills of the state, more commonly known as profiteering, do hereby call a public meeting to be held in the representative hall of the state capitol building at Lincoln, Nebraska, on Friday, November 7, 1919, at 1:30 o'clock p. m. This meeting will be open to the general public and the committee particularly desires the attendance of those who represent and can speak for groups of labor, consumers, producers and business, whether local or state wide.

The time of this meeting cannot be taken up with arguments to prove that profiteering exists in Nebraska. That is conceded. The meeting will be held for the purpose of considering available remedies for the same, particularly with reference to the excessive prices charged by agencies engaged in the handling of the necessities of life, to the end that these agencies shall be required by law to render service for a reasonable compensation.

Individuals and representatives of organizations, and officials of the state, who may have remedies to offer are asked to submit them in typewritten form to the chairman or secretary of the committee prior to the opening of this meeting.

This committee is empowered with legislative authority to petition the governor of Nebraska to call a special session of the legislature if, in the judgment of the committee, a legislative program can be formulated which promises any relief from these existing economic ills.

We therefore ask those who have made a study of this matter and have suggestions or actual remedies to offer to present them at this meeting.

By order of the joint committee of the Nebraska Senate and House of Representatives.

William Collins of Carroll, who has been for two years or more serving in the navy, and who early in his service after the training was thought competent to aid in the setting of mines in the North sea, all about the backdoor to and from Germany, and who since the armistice has been sweeping these same mines up, writes to Wayne relatives that they are on their way home. True it is not a direct trip across, but they have finished their mine sweeping, and are now at London, where they have a land leave for a day or two. Then they will go across to France, stopping at Brest, and on to Lisbon, and Azores and to America. He is on the ship "Blackhawk" and they first crossed in this ship, being thirteen days on the water, and without a convoy, for they had 500 men and arms to enable them to do fairly good execution if they met trouble. And in this ship they expect to again touch an American port, and from there will be hoping, the war being over, that he will be excused from more service, that he may get back on the good Wayne county land, and become a producer of all manner of farm products, as he was before he was needed by the government, and we hope that he is given release from whatever his term of enlistment may lack of being served.

A RETURNING SOLDIER

Robert G. Haldeen, who enlisted from Randolph at the beginning of the war, was here Tuesday morning on his way home to surprise the folks. Mr. Haldeen was first sent to the Philippines, and after eight months there was transferred to Siberia, and there spent most of his time with about 12,000 other American soldiers at and near Vladivostok, Russia. He tells us that the troops there saw but little actual fighting—a skirmish or two was all he got into, so he came home with but one star on his bar—and not many men there were killed in action, and the enemy lost more always than the Americans. He would not say he was wounded, though he got a little scratch.

For eight months past he was in the mail service, proving a useful man there for the reason that he could read and write several languages—our own, the Swedish, the Norwegian, and had a fair knowledge of one or two other languages. He was kept longer than he otherwise would have been because of this knowledge, and when he came to go, his work had to be divided between several men, because they failed to find the combination he carried in any other one man.

He was planning to surprise home folks, and had not told them that he was so near home. They had a vague idea that he might arrive before the first of November. Said that he did not like receptions—and that when he left he simply said good bye and departed with quite a bunch from this part of the state. When they left Omaha for Denver there were more than 800 in the bunch he was with. He expressed a sentiment common to many of the lads. His experience during the two years he would not have missed for anything, but he would not attempt to repeat it for $10,000. He said the worst of their grief over there was lonesomeness when not with a bunch of the fellows. They could not converse with the people they met, for their languages were not the same. If they attended a movie or a theater, the language was all Greek to them, whether written, printed or spoken. He praised the Red Cross, spoke well of the K. C. and was less satisfied with the Y. M. C. A. than any other organization. We last saw him impatiently waiting for the Bloomfield "limited" to gather up its load of freight and start rolling him toward home, wife and friends—and we will bet it seemed a long time getting made up for the start.

GUARDING AGAINST FIRES

These are the days when the fire hazard is considerably increased over what it was in the summer months. With the coming of cool weather, quick fires are started in the stoves or furnaces and often a flue is discovered that needs repair. Accumulations of inflammable rubbish in which a bad blaze may be started should be got rid of. Matches are used in increased numbers in winter, and that means additional chances of accidental fires. Kerosene is employed in greater quantities, being used for starting fires and for the lamps, and, therefore, this hazard is increased. An even graver menace lies in the improper handling of gasoline. It is highly important that every precaution be taken to store the gasoline supply in properly located and constructed reservoirs.

This is the season also for the farmer to look to his fire-fighting equipment. A pail of water is the oldest, simplest, and cheapest of fire extinguishers. There is no reason why pails of water to be used only in case of fire, should not be installed in every farm building. If possible they should be painted a special color, preferably red, or labeled so as to be conspicuous and less subject to Ernest Bichel left Tuesday morning to visit his sister, Mrs. Ed Larson, at their home near Chappell. At least that is their railroad town, though they live some distance away—about thirty miles. In addition to visiting his sister Ernest thinks of taking a run on to Denver to see the city sights, and if he gets there he will naturally want to go and see the mountains, and get up in the world a bit.

M. Hale from three miles east of Wayne, came home the first of the week from Rochester, where he went three weeks before. He had a little trouble on his neck, which a local physician after treating and watching for a few weeks pronounced a "skin cancer," and the next morning he was on his way to have it looked after. The diagnosis there agreed with that here, and he got his appointment on the table, and in less than ten minutes it was out. He remained nearly three weeks for a daily dressing, and feels that he will now have no other trouble from that source.

Luther J. Mason, who formerly lived at Wayne, but was called back to his old New Hampshire home about nine years ago, has been spending the summer here, visiting former friends and doing his bit as a producer, left Tuesday afternoon for his home at Tamworth, New Hampshire, where he expects to spend the winter, but hopes to return to Wayne next spring, if he can make arrangements to have his property there looked after. Mr. Mason tells us that he has enjoyed his season among Wayne friends very much. The Democrat will continue to tell him the Wayne news, as it has all of these past years.

A new butter factory is about completed and is soon to start at Bloomfield. Wonder if that will make the bread spread for any less cost up that way. We once lived in a town where they had a butter factory, and made excellent butter—so good that the people there cannot afford to eat it, and they ship it all to the nabobs in the east, who pay a premium above the market price to get this butter—and the fellows who make the butter possible by producing the right kind of cows and giving them the right kind of feed and care, all eat oleomargarine. It has been a question with the writer whether it was because they wanted the coin for all of the butter, or because they knew just how that butter was made that they preferred the substitute.

The chemical extinguisher has come into quite general use on automobiles and elsewhere about the farm, and has many advantages over the water bucket. It can be employed, for example, in subduing fires among oils, where water is of no value. In the absence of a chemical extinguisher, sand is serviceable in extinguishing burning oil in a shallow container. Sawdust is also effective in putting out oil fires, if it is scattered over the entire surface of the burning liquid so as to smother the flames. The United States Department of Agriculture has issued a Farmers' Bulletin 904, "Fire Prevention and Fire Fighting on the Farm," which discusses the various types of fire extinguishers and their merits. It may be had free by addressing the department.

A Stitch in Time.

SHARKS OUT OF WATER

Government Puts Two of Them in Penitentiary for Shady Stock Dealing.

New schemes for inducing the investing public to part with its savings, its Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps in exchange for stocks of speculative or doubtful value constantly are being developed. One of the latest of these was disclosed recently in the trial of Ellsworth J. Green and his son, E. H. Green, at Oklahoma City. This particular scheme was the means of landing the Greens in Leavenworth Prison for five-year terms, but not until many hundreds of investors lost their savings.

The Greens, through the Great Western Guarantee Investment Company of Oklahoma City, promoted five oil companies. The original sales price of the stock in these companies was $1.00 a share, but by resale agreement purchasers were guaranteed that the Great Western Company as fiscal agent would resell the stock if desired at the end of six months to net the investor $2.00 a share or a profit of 100 per cent.

As the date to fulfill this agreement drew near, stockholders were advised that the price of the stock had reached $5.00 a share. Naturally if they came to believe the stock was worth $5.00 they declined to accept the opportunity to sell for $2.00.

For a time stock salesmen reaped rich commissions, but finally rumors that the reports were misleading began to spread. At a company banquet at Oklahoma City it was charged that the Greens attempted to sell out to the salesmen. At this point the government stepped in, arrested the promoters and began to unravel evidences which finally landed the Greens in prison on the charge of using the mails to defraud. Now the stockholders are attempting to save what is left of the assets of the companies.

Promises of profits of 100 to 500 percent made by stock promoters seldom become realities. The country is being flooded with wild cat stocks by unscrupulous investors. The resale plan of the Greens is only one of the many varieties of bait used. Any of these promoters are willing and anxious to take Liberty Bonds or War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates in exchange for their bits of paper. They are perfectly willing to give promise of profits for the sure payment guaranteed by the federal government.

Investments in government saving securities and Liberty Bonds are safe, sure and profitable. The investor not only is guaranteed against loss, but he is assured that money so invested will go toward solving the economic problems with which all are faced and in making the country greater and more prosperous instead of seeing his savings go to provide luxuries and an easy living for dishonest promoters.

NO FRIEND OF PROFITEER.

Progressive Merchants Realize Danger in Excessive Prices.

Progressive retail merchants are coming to recognize that the prosperity of the merchant is thoroughly connected with the prosperity of his customers and that the success of the profiteer is no less a blow to the honest merchant than to the suffering purchaser.

In a recent letter to the public, Edward A. MacLean, secretary of the Oregon Retail Merchants Association, said:

"So long as the free buying spirit of the American public exists, mayors and governors can pass and tunc and Congress can enact what it pleases, but high prices will continue. It is my opinion that the purchase of government securities such as War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates instead of merchandise will hasten the overthrow of the high cost of living.

"Here is the point—it is high time that the American people were brought to realize that the responsibility for the high cost of living is not a responsibility of Congress or any other agency. Unless the American people, themselves, quit supporting high prices, they can right now make up their minds to pay high prices for some time to come."

This attitude is thoroughly endorsed by the Western bankers. The Wells Fargo Nevada National Bank of San Francisco in a recent communication to its clients declared people should practice thrift, shop for lower prices, and utilize Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps as investments for their savings. After outlining some of the causes for the high cost of living, and government action to offset this, the bank says:

"What we may look and hope for as the main effect of this Governmental action is an awakening of the Nation to more of a natural reaction against paying high prices.

"People should take pains to avoid paying them by shopping for lower prices, by reducing their consumption, practicing thrift, utilizing for their savings Liberty Bonds, War Savings Stamps and other opportunities for glitgedge investment now open to them.

"This attitude will constitute a strong influence in lowering prices, down to the point at least necessitated by basic conditions, and, these latter conditions being fundamental, must be left to work themselves out.

CELEBRATE ARMISTICE DAY.

Tenth District Asked to "Go Over the Top" Again for W. S. S.

"Going over the top" came to be a wartime habit in the United States just as it did with the doughboys in France. It is a hard habit to curb and in order to keep in practice the Savings Organization of the Tenth Federal Reserve District has launched a campaign which will give each community an opportunity to "go over" again on Armistice Day and thereby celebrate a year of peace.

Each community is given a very small quota through its banks, and investors are being urged to order from $100 to $1,000 in new Savings Certificates which bear the same interest and privileges as the War Savings Stamps, recognized by investors as the best security offered.

The campaign is intended, not only to raise a few millions for the government, but to give individuals an opportunity to receive a maximum return on small amounts of savings. Small investors may help subscribe the quota by purchasing War Savings Stamps at any postoffice.

HER SAVINGS DIDN'T WORK.

Missouri Woman's Hoard Might Have Earned $500 a Year.

When relatives came to straighten up the affairs of the late Mrs. A. McGuire of Kirksville, Mo., they discovered $11,000 in currency and $2,000 in gold hidden in old almanacs, books and under rugs and mattresses. The money had performed no service for Mrs. McGuire and probably had been idle for years. Invested in Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps and Savings Certificates, it would now be yielding over $500 a year to Mrs. McGuire's heirs and would aid to stimulate production, increase employment and reduce the high cost of living. Idle money is no less an economic loss to the Nation than idle workers would be.

THE SNAKE DANCE

(From The Goldenrod)
(By a Citizen of the Town.)

On Friday, the seventeenth day of October, 1919, the attention of all the people of Wayne and vicinity was directed toward animal husbandry, better babies and kindred subjects, when a distant rumble was noticed coming from the north and east. As this sound became more distinct, it was observed that it was accompanied by something less than one thousand enthusiastic, shouting, screaming persons who held hands as though they were engaged in the old game of "Ring Around Rosie" but as they were following the leadership of a bass drum, without music or rhythm, and were indulging in shouts of an unknown dialect, the citizens decided it was an Indian War Dance. Horses stamped nervously in their stalls, Shorthorn cattle lowed uneasily, while thoroughbred Plymouth Rock cockerels crowed in unison with eugenic babies, and business houses were deserted until it was learned that this veritable pandemonium was but an announcement that on the following afternoon at 3:00 o'clock eleven stalwart braves of the Wayne State Normal would meet an equal number of painted warriors from the adjacent reservation of Omaha. This announcement had the effect of causing forgiveness on the part of the citizens toward the young men taking part in the Pow Wow, and a smile of pity for the young ladies who indulged in such spectacular movements. Most of the participants and other citizens quieted down to their normal condition as evening approached, but the events of the afternoon acted like wine upon some five members of the participating squad, and so excited them that they could not discontinue their war dance, but seizing young squaws they disregarded all camp laws and regulations, and actually stayed up until ten minutes past nine by a perfectly good ingersoll wrist watch.

A SONG OF VICTORY

(From The Goldenrod)

Now it came to pass on a day that the tribe of the Wanormaltes must needs join battle with the men of Omahaha, which came up against them from the south, as thou goest unto Kaansaas. Now on the night before the battle, even in that very night, the chief said unto his men, Depart, O Wanormaltes, each one unto his dwelling place; that I may find thee under thine own vine and under thine own fig tree between the ninth and the tenth hours, that thou rest from thy labor, lest I remove thee from the battle. So he departed.

Then arose there a division among them, whether he would remove one from his place in the face of the enemy, yea, verily in the face of battle. (For the Omahahas were sore and bitter enemies of the Wanormaltes.) And some said one thing, some another. So there was a division among them. Then came the chief at an hour when they thought not and sought five men,—yea, five mighty men of valour found he not. Then said he, Yea, verily, they shall not join battle with the men of the south. And when the faithful-knew of it, they sent ambassadors to the chief, to beg of him, saying, Sir, wilt thou fling our defeat in our teeth? For, lo, we few have remained faithful. But he would not relent. And his name was called Sir-fling from that day forward. Now the names of the five were these: Joseph and David, Joerge of the house of Deek, Nocs, which was also called Joane, and Aimel.

But on the day of the battle the faithful went forth unto the field of battle. And they slew every man his man, and captured of them sixty and two scores, that the saying might be fulfilled, which was spoken of Mummy, the prophet, which he spake in the temple.

Then sang the bard a song in that day, when they triumphed over the men of the south. And they sang, every man unto his neighbor, till the noise of it was not heard in all the land before:

When thou standest upright on thy two feet, then art thou in truth upright and true!

And when thou hast fallen forward on thy hands, then in truth art thou fallen!

But when thou meetest in the way the men of the Wanormaltes, then is thy soul confused, and thy feet and thy head have exchanged places!

Hear the lion roar!

But of them which were found wanting on the eve of battle, let it be said of them that their glory is departed. Yea, it hath begun to wane. So shall the name of the city be called Weign unto this day, for a memorial unto them. Let their names be forgotten among you. There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

WOMEN'S VOTES WILL DECIDE 1920 CONTEST

At its recent meeting in Atlantic City the Executive Committee of the Democratic National Committee faced squarely the fact that in the next national election the women's vote of the country will be a deciding factor. This places a heavy responsibility on the Woman's Bureau of the Democratic National Committee, of which Mrs. George Bass is chairman.

Mrs. Bass believes that the great majority of women voters in the country will vote the Democratic ticket.

"I think that the women will follow the trend toward idealism and that they will vote together on issues that represent the highest conception of national progress," she said, when interviewed by a New York newspaper. "The women of the United States are pacifists and believe that war is a senseless and brutal way of settling disputes. The women are most interested in the peace of the world and in the guaranteeing of that peace. They followed the president into war on the theory that it was a war to end war.

"It is safe to assume that the women in twenty-five states will vote next year, whether the federal suffrage amendment is ratified or not. Providing they act in concert, they would control 260 electoral votes—more than enough to determine the result of the election. The number of women participating in the last presidential election was sufficient to account for 90 electoral votes."

How Much are you Paying for Oil?

The gallon price is the smallest item of oil cost.

Engine wear and tear, the cost of overhauling and repairs, the smaller mileage you get from each gallon of gasoline—these are the hidden costs in cheap, inferior, unsuitable oil.

Polarine Oil is made to meet every engine need and service condition. It protects bearings and engaging parts with a cushion of pure lubricant that safeguards against wear and keeps the engine running quietly, with a minimum of vibration and strain.

Polarine maintains a gas-tight seal between piston rings and cylinder walls that gets maximum mileage and power out of every drop of gasoline. It keeps fuel bills down.

Let Polarine keep your motoring costs down. Buy it where you buy clean-burning power-packed Red Crown Gasoline—where you see this sign—at first class garages and service stations everywhere.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES

The Normal school entertainment course committee scored another success in the presentation by the Harold Proctor Company last Friday evening of a program of vocal, piano and violin selections. Competent critics were enthusiastic concerning the work of all the artists. Miss Lela Cornin, pianist, showed herself mistress of that instrument. Miss May Rees, won fine strains from the violin, and Mrs. Harold Proctor delighted all with his fine tenor solos. Perhaps the most notable feature of the program, and one of the longest remembered, was the singing of the finest classical music in clear and understandable English. Whether it be the general lack of musical training of our public, or whether the explanation lies more deeply in the fundamentals of human nature, certainly the listeners responded to the clearly enunciated songs as is seldom, if ever, the case when people are called upon to listen to music in other than their own tongue. Not only were the musicians' competent artists, but were delightful people to meet. Miss Rees, the violinist, had been overseas entertaining the American soldiers for a period of over two years, and appeared on the program in her overseas uniform. In her, Miss Piper of our faculty was delighted to find a former acquaintance whom she had known in Hastings, Nebraska. The large audience were abundantly pleased with the evening's experience.

On Monday Professor Britell gave an interesting and enthusiastic address on Theodore Roosevelt, it being the natal day of this famous American. Professor Britell had been at considerable care to gather details from the career of Mr. Roosevelt, illustrating his characteristics as a brave, energetic, honest and far-seeing man and statesman. It was the sort of address that young people should hear, inculcating as it did the fundamental virtues that should characterize not only the leaders but the great masses of our people as well.

Yesterday morning President Conn put into operation a plan for enforcing attendance on chapel exercises. For nine years attendance has been voluntary, but it was found that some, and often those most needing to be present, were likely to be absent. Attendance at the general session is necessary that the school may act as a whole, that it may develop in each student a spirit of understanding and cooperation. Modern insight into the facts of human nature has revealed that there is perhaps nothing so educative as the experience of association with others in general enterprises.

Last Friday morning Miss Margaret Mason, voice pupil of Miss Ardath Conn, sang two songs with great acceptance by the hearers.

Last Friday early in the morning the football team started by automobile across country to Yankton, South Dakota, arriving there toward one o'clock. The day was cold and stormy hence the young men were in no fit condition for the football game with the fast Yankton team. However, the playing of our boys was really better than is indicated by the score of 62 to 0. Three times they threatened the Yankton goal and once were able to carry the ball over, the touchdown being disallowed by a close decision on bounds. At least the boys have the honor of having held their opponents to the lowest score that Yankton has experienced this season. It is hoped that next year these teams will meet at Wayne.

Word has been received from Miss Edith Stocking, teacher of the first intermediate grades in the training school, and Miss Edith Beechel, of the second intermediate, that they will be here at the opening of the second quarter, which begins week after next. Miss Minnie Marquardt, who has been substituting for Miss Beechel, will remain in the institution assisting with extra classes which will commence with the second quarter.

During the fine weather the John-Manville Company of Omaha is rushing the work of repacking the underground heating pipes from one building to another, whereby the efficiency of the plant will be greatly increased. Work on the excavation of the artificial lake and campus is also progressing in a satisfactory manner.

BITS OF WORLD AND NATION NEWS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—The first of the international bodies created by the treaty of Versailles to meet in America, the international labor conference, will convene at noon tomorrow in Washington. Sessions of the conference are expected to continue for practically a month and to lay the foundation of a worldwide movement for improvement and standardization of workers.

Of the sixty-six air men who entered the transcontinental air race, nine were killed in the venture. Too high a rate of mortality. We prefer to walk.

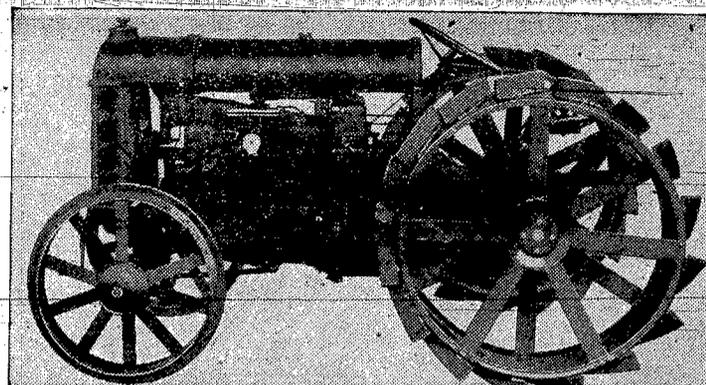

A family of six were buried in one grave at Lewis, Iowa, this week, the result of an auto accident at a grade crossing in this state.

The house and senate have each passed the dry bill over the president's veto. And yet the wet fellows are hopeful of having a chance yet to get a legal drink and make a legal sale or two before January 16, next.

Muskegon, Mich., Oct. 28.—With fourteen known dead and six or more missing, only time can bring an accurate count of the toll of the great seas which early this morning bodily lifted the Crosby passenger steamer Muskegon, formerly the City of Holland, and smashed her to pieces on the pier at the entrance to Muskegon harbor. The list of dead is being added to almost hourly. The steamer a side-wheeler, bound from Milwaukee after outriding a night of gale, made for the harbor in the early morning darkness, but is said by Captain Edwin Miller to have struck the bar at the entrance. The wheel paddles jammed in the sand, checking headway and the great combers threw the ship about and hurled her onto the pier. There she hung, momentarily, plunging into wreckage and then slipped off into the deep channel, going down in fifty feet of water. The vessel lies a storm-torn tangle of steel and splintered wood, effectually blocking the harbor entrance.

At the Farmers' National Congress at Hagerstown, Maryland in session this week, activities of political agitators and labor leaders of the "unscrupulous" sort were denounced as a menace to the political and economic security of the nation by speakers. The need of an effective assertion of "100 per cent" Americanism by the farmers of the country in combatting the attempts of radical elements to undermine the political institutions of the country was impressed upon the more than 1,500 farmer delegates representing all sections of the country, who attended the opening session of the congress. Responding to the sentiment of its speakers, the congress, by unanimous resolution pledged its "steadfast" support of the government in the strict enforcement

Fordson Tractors!

Car Load Just Arrived

The demand for Fordson Tractors is so great that it will be a long time probably before everyone will be able to get one. Therefore if you are looking for a tractor and wish a Fordson for your spring plowing you should see us at once.

The Fordson has more than fulfilled expectations with its economy—efficiency—durability—it is ideal for the average farm.

Burns Kerosene—has special Air Washer, and all moving parts are enclosed; there is practically nothing to cause trouble.

Use it With An Oliver No. 7 Plow

Here are some of the big Oliver features: Combined rolling cutter and joiner, buries all stalks, weeds and trash at the bottom of the furrow, and stop device maintains an even depth of furrow—the best plow for your Fordson—that's the Oliver.

of law and order in combatting "certain radical elements that would violate the fundamental principles of our government and tear down its institutions." To prevent the spread of anarchistic and radical theories the resolution asserted "the conservatism of the American farmer must be eternally on guard."
