

JOHN WRIGHT SENT BACK TO PRISON

Last week we told of the parole given John Wright by prison authorities, and the feeling of injustice to this community which the action caused. Since then an alleged confession of Wright's has come to a few people here, and that has not tended to make people feel any more kindly toward the power that turned him at large in the community; for it seems that they must have known of this bit of tattling before he left the pen.

A prison official came Wednesday morning and left with Wright in charge on the 11 o'clock train. If he is as ill as he made prison officials believe, it may seem cruel to him and his family to take him away, but he can certainly have better care at the hospital than in any private home—and be less an element of danger to the health of the community there than at home—and the community has a right to protection from both a moral and a sanitary viewpoint. No matter how hard seems his fate, he was free all the years of his life to have so lived as to have not merited such a hardship for himself and his parents and friends. He is learning that "the way of the transgressor is hard." Hard for him and for those who by the ties of blood must and do love him.

The last Sidney Telegraph gives an alleged confession, and the story of the search of the officers to verify that part of it relating to stolen automobiles.

The Telegraph says: Somewhat of a peculiar sensation was presented with owners of second hand Ford automobiles in the county the first of the week, when Joe Wilson state automobile agent arrived in Sidney with an affidavit made by one John Wright, now serving time in the state penitentiary from Wayne county, relative to his commission of arson and the theft and sale of several Ford cars in alleged conspiracy with Simon Goeman of Gurley.

Sheriff McDaniel acting jointly with the state agent was readily able to divine the message given out by Mr. Wright from the penitentiary and by hard driving and hard and fast work was able to locate a number of the cars cited by Wright in his sworn statement. Definite action will develop relative to these in due course of time. Mr. Goeman was found at his home but was too ill to be taken into custody.

Failure to help Wright in his present difficulties in securing his freedom from the state institution seems to have been the cause of his revelation incriminating Mr. Goeman. Wright is at present serving a term for bootlegging and gambling.

Wright's affidavit enumerates one case of arson and the theft of six cars all of which he alleges were paid for by Mr. Goeman. The line of crime starts with his alleging that Goeman hired him to burn his barn at Wayne, Nebraska, Mr. Goeman's former home on July 4, 1917. Wright alleges he was paid fifty dollars for doing this and that Goeman collected $1000.00 insurance.

Then begins the recital of the cars taken and their alleged purchase by Mr. Goeman. The first one enumerated was stolen from Wayne, Nebraska, for which he alleges Mr. Goeman paid $175; then he alleges he stole a Ford car at Wakefield, Nebraska for which Mr. Goeman paid him $225, Mr. Goeman in turn sold this car to Lawrence Brown, and it has been located by the local sheriff.

Following this Wright stole a Ford car at Pender, Nebraska. This car was stored by Mr. Goeman with his neighbor, Mr. Walker, who lives east of Gurley. Wright then alleges that he stole another car from Sioux City, Iowa, for which he received $200 from Goeman, who sold it to Sweet and Rogers at that time partners in the local Ford garage; the next one cited in the affidavit is one stolen from Mineola, Iowa. For this one Goeman he alleges paid him $200 and he in turn sold it to a farmer near Sidney. He then cites a Ford Sedan taken from Redline for which he alleges Mr. Goeman paid $300. This car is now in the possession of Nick Ladagard, he having got it in a trade.

DITCHER AGAIN AT WORK

Monday work was resumed on the storm sewer installing, which lacked about five or six blocks of completion last winter when the cold weather caused the work to cease. With proper weather and no mishaps it should be finished except the outlet within this month.

Henry Ott is at Omaha this week.

BLAZE AT BAKERY

At an early hour this morning the firemen were called to fight a fire which had started above the oven of the bakery and was fast finding its way into the building and threatening adjoining properties. The prompt discovery of the fire by the marshal enabled it to be quickly checked by the use of the city chemical equipment. The cause of the fire was doubtless due to the constant heat from the oven rendering everything like tinder in the space above the oven. The fire burned through a window above the oven into the bake shop, but did but little damage. The damage to the oven covering and roof cannot be known until examined and replaced, but it will be comparatively light, and is covered by insurance.

The work of shop and oven are going on as usual.

LITTLE ELIZABETH ZIEGLER DIES OF CROUP

Mr. and Mrs. Art Ziegler and other members of their family and friends were here Saturday on their way to their former home at Hoskins, on a sad mission. They were accompanying the body of their only daughter, Elizabeth, a little lass of but six and one-half years, who passed away Friday night after a very severe and sudden attack of croup. The little one was ill but a few hours, and no relief could be found for her. Mr. and Mrs. Ziegler lived west of Wayne for a number of years, until about six years ago, when they moved to Hoskins, and last spring to Bloomfield. Their Wayne county friends will sympathize with them in their affliction.

The funeral service was held at Hoskins Sunday, and the burial was in the cemetery at that place.

KEEP FIT PROGRAM

The week, March 22-27 will be known as "Keep Fit" week in Wayne county. On Wednesday, March 24, a meeting for mothers, high school girls, normal school girls and other women interested, will be held in the Crystal theater at 3 p. m. Picture films will be used. This meeting is free.

In the evening, at the Crystal theater, a meeting will be held for men and boys over sixteen. The regular price for admission to the picture show will be charged. This will entitle one to remain to see the regular picture show after the mens' meeting. Picture films will be used in the mens' meeting. This meeting is at 7 p. m.

AUGUST HOHNEKE FILES FOR REPRESENTATIVE

Monday August Hohneke of Hoskins came to the county seat and while an avowed non-partisan leaguer, filed for the primary race for representative on the republican ticket. It was planned at the league gathering at Norfolk the week before, of which the Democrat told.

The editor has known Mr. Hohneke most of the years since coming to Wayne nine years ago, and have considered him a good citizen, an honest industrious farmer and a dependable democrat on all occasions—until now. We cannot believe that he has greatly changed his views on many questions of political economy—but he may think he has found in the league a better vehicle for carrying his political ideas to a successful issue with the powers of corporate greed against which he has ever contended. He told the editor after filing that his platform told in the shortest way would be the greatest good to the greatest number. That, too, is democratic—and if Brother Hohneke or any other leaguer has found a better way of doing this, why should they keep it to themselves—why so much secrecy about it all?

Mr. Hohneke is a man who reads much of current economic questions—especially those of progressive to radical in their nature. We will watch with interest the attitude of the voters as between this experienced, conservative citizen and the young man who has fled as his rival in the race for the republican nomination.

LATEST FILINGS

Otto Ulrich has filed for the republican nomination as senator from this district.

Forrest L. Hughes has filed for the nomination as clerk of the district court and Henry Bethwisch has his paper in as a candidate for commissioner to succeed himself.

Phil H. Kohl was home Wednesday.

J. W. RICE FILES FOR CONGRESS IN THIRD DISTRICT

J. W. Rice, a Norfolk lawyer, has filed for the democratic nomination for congress in the Third Nebraska district. The filing was made at Lincoln on Saturday and announcement was made Sunday. After waiting to give other possible candidates an opportunity to file he decided to take the initiative and carry the standard of his party in the Third district campaign.

Mr. Rice is a life-long democrat, a staunch admirer of Woodrow Wilson and the present administration, a progressive worker for the government during the world war, and once a colonel on the governor's staff in this state.

Mr. Rice accompanied his announcement with a lengthy statement which is well calculated to show the differences between the democratic and the republican positions, actions and results so far as economic questions of national scope are concerned. He leaves no doubt as to his position on such questions as the treaty and league, and he points to the achievements of the democratic congress of the last two sessions as compared to the do-nothing policy of the present republican majority.

He shows that the old reactionary element are still in control of the republican party, and asks what more can be expected from them at this time than they were willing to concede to the progressive element of that party at the time when four million of them followed Roosevelt in a break for a progressive government?

AHERN STORE ENTERED AND ROBBED MONDAY NIGHT

There was consternation among the employees of the J. J. Ahern store Tuesday morning when they discovered that the store had been entered during the preceding night and goods of much value taken. Just how or when of course was a question, but everything tends to show that the work was done openly during the evening hours, as people passing saw a light there and persons about, but supposing that it was John or Art Ahern who are very frequently working late at the store. But Art was home and John out of town, facts which the burglars probably well knew; for they evidently did not leave things to chance.

Missing Tuesday morning, so near as we can learn was more than fifty of the best waists in the stock, the silk hose from several boxes, and about a dozen bolts of silk, quantities of georgette and crepe de chine goods, velvets at least one suit, and the cash from the till, said to be nearly a half hundred dollars. The employees have not given the public an estimate of the value of the missing goods, and guesses run from $1000 to three times that sum.

Entrance appears to have been through a front door and by means of a key, for there were no broken locks, and the night watch, who with others saw some one in the store, tried doors as usual, and reported them locked. One door was unlocked in the morning. The nightwatch says that he saw but two or three persons during the night, and those he knew, and where they belonged. The night was very windy, and it would have been possible for an automobile to have left the town without being heard, if the escape was made in that manner.

In spite of all manner of surmises and suspicions, the fact remains that there is as yet no clue to the robbers or the missing goods, though every effort is being made to locate thief and booty.

J. J. Ahern, who has been away at Chicago and other places for a number of weeks returned home last evening.

WARD RANDOL WOULD REPRESENT WAYNE

Ward Randol of the state house force at Lincoln, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Randol just northwest of this city, has filed for the republican nomination for representative from Wayne county. Ward is a graduate of the class of 1916 of the Wayne high school, and later attended the Normal. He served in the late war, but did not go across, being most of the time at Fort Meade, South Dakota, where his duties were mostly clerical. He has not been in the county much in the past three years, but calls this his home, as any single young man might.

SALE BY WAYNE COUNTY BREEDERS' ASSOCIATION

Last Friday was the first sale staged by members of the Wayne County Pure Stock Breeders' Association, and while there were no record breaking prices, and while much of the offering had not been fed and fattened for a place in a sale ring, it sold well, and was an opportunity for the small breeders who do not have enough surplus to have a sale in their own name to invite many outside breeders to see their stock and become acquainted with their offering and also come to Wayne and see our country. The offering was mostly Shorthorns, and also mostly young animals. The top price was over $250 and the average above $100 mark, if we have the figures correct. The offering was made by A. C. Sans, Geo. A. McEachen, Wm. Meyer, H. V. Cronk, C. F. Sundahl, and Roy S. Jeffrey in the Shorthorns and Wm. Lessman in the Herefords, and Wm. Von Seggern in Poland China sows. It is hoped that another offering will be made another season when road and weather conditions will permit a more general attendance, though no one could complain of lack of interest among the home buyers.

We wish, however, to tell of the regret expressed by one farmer that he had yielded to the dread of bad roads and stayed away—and has since gone elsewhere and paid more money for a bull than would have been required here unless he had been one of two men wanting the same animal. It never pays to miss a sale of this kind if you are expecting to buy in that line.

THE NOMINATIONS FOR CITY OFFICERS

At the Citizens' caucus called for last Friday evening the voters present, which included quite a number of the women placed the following ticket on the ballot:

Mayor, J. H. Kemp.
Clerk, Geo. Lamberson.
Treasurer, H. S. Ringland.
Engineer, Robert Jones.
Members Board of Education, A. R. Davis, C. T. Ingham.
Councilman, First ward, Wm. Gildersleeve.
Councilman, Second ward, C. W. Hiscow.
Councilman, Third ward, L. M. Owen.

It was the purpose of the caucus to continue as far as possible the present officials, largely because they had been in at the start of the paving, and it was not thought wise to trade in the middle of the stream. L. W. Roe for clerk said he could not and would not accept. In the Third ward, L. C. Gildersleeve stated that he had so long been a member of the council that he wished to be released. He was placed in nomination before the caucus just the same, and the vote stood 11 to 12 between him and Mr. Owen, with one vote to Wm. Beckenhauer.

Mayor Kemp asked to be released, but the voters were more insistent in asserting that he stay and finish the paving job. No other caucus was held, and the council will remain the next year as it has been the past with the one change.

T. W. Moran was chairman of the caucus, and W. O. Hanssen its secretary, and they were authorized to fill vacancies should any occur on the ballot.

AND THE WELL ALMOST WENT DRY MONDAY

There was a near water famine in some parts of Wayne Monday, caused by the blowing out of a fire hydrant in the southeast part of town. It is thought that freezing had cracked and weakened the hydrant, for it is said to have literally gone up in the air, and the outflow of water nearly inundated that part of the city. It was an hour or more before the main leading to the break could be shut off, and during that time the supply in the tank was practically exhausted, for it was not running out through a nozzle, but flowing in a stream the size of the main, practically.

SOME OMISSIONS

Because of late arrival of a lot of advertising copy this week, and also some news matter some of each has had to be omitted. Come earlier. Remember on account of Mr. Wade not being on the job we are working short handed.

Mrs. Jeffries is well stocked now for anything needed in spring suits, coats or millinery.—adv

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE

The Wayne high school debating team are preparing to meet the team from Oakland at no distant time, and the debate is to be at Wayne, perhaps the last of this month. The subject this year is: "Resolved, That the government should prohibit strikes on the railroads."

Bloomfield was listed for the first debate with Wayne, but not being prepared they forfeited to the team here. The Wayne team this season is composed of Lynette Rennick, Leslie Rundell, Bonnie Hess, Harold McEachen.

Tomorrow evening Miss Elizabeth Gildersleeve is to go to Emerson to take a place in the declamatory contest to determine who is to appear in the finals at this place the first week in April, at the time of the teachers' meeting here.

CORPORAL SOREN PETERSON AT HIS WINDSIDE HOME

Tuesday evening Soren Peterson arrived at the home of his mother, Mrs. Peterson at Windside after six years of service in the army of Uncle Sam. Mr. Peterson was just over from the other side where he spent more than two years—eight months of the time in Germany with the army of occupation. He is now held in the reserve—his discharge not being in the form of a final release from service, but he is not likely to be called for duty before his period of enlistment expires.

He came to Wayne Wednesday afternoon with his mother, and was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Riese, his sister.

SCRIVEN-ERVEN

Thursday evening, March 11, 1920, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Clasen in this city occurred the marriage of Mr. W. E. Erven of Carroll and Miss Eva L. Scriven of this place, Rev. John Beard officiating.

Following an ample wedding supper served by Mrs. Clasen, the bride and groom went to his Carroll home, returning the next morning, that Mrs. Erven might resume her school work, she being one of the city teachers. Friday they left for a little wedding trip, returning for her work before Monday morning.

Miss Scriven has made many friends here during her stay at Wayne, and they will wish her happiness. It is her plan to finish the school year here, after which it is their plan to give their time to soliciting Yeomen insurance, having a contract for good territory in this part of the state in which Mr. Erven is now working.

Miss Ida Scriven, sister of the bride, who came from Lincoln, was the only guest at the ceremony except the Clasen family.

VAN SLYKE-BROWN

Victor M. Brown and Miss Gladys Van Slyke, both of Randolph, were united in marriage by Rev. Kilburn, Monday, March 15, 1920. Miss Van Slyke is a teacher. License was issued by the county judge on the 15th.

ANNA WILHELMINA PFEL CALLED HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pfeil were called upon last week to mourn the death of their invalid daughter Anna Wilhelmina, whom the Good Shepherd called home Friday, March 12, 1920. Anna was born in this county January 25, 1902, and was baptized January 30 of the same year. She was paralyzed from birth, and during her 18 years, 1 month and 6 days of life. Her parents, one brother, Charles and three married sisters mourn her loss.

The funeral service was at the Lutheran church in this city Monday afternoon by Rev. Teckhaus, following a short service at the home near Altona, and the body was laid to rest in Greenwood cemetery. The funeral service was one of consolation to the bereaved, the pastor reading from the 23d Psalm and other comforting passages. "The Lord giveth, and the Lord taketh away; blessed be the name of the Lord." They that sow in tears shall reap in joy.

Many friends join in sympathy to the bereaved family.

Leon Hawkins from Ames, Iowa, came Wednesday for a short visit at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Blair.

NEBRASKA'S WAR HEROES WHO SUFFER NEGLECT

In the Sunday Omaha papers may have been seen a story of the wounded Nebraska soldier lads now at Fort Sheridan, Illinois, patiently undergoing the numerous operations, pain and waiting necessary if the best of medical and surgical skill can make them whole again, or at least well enough to care for themselves and perhaps make a living and help to do their bit in the busy world. Many Wayne people have been attracted by the story because of a local interest. The story of these boys is told by H. O. Parsons and H. H. Antles, the latter going at the request of the governor to learn first hand conditions there, and if the soldier boys there are having all done for them possible.

The Wayne local interest is not because of any Wayne lad there, but Miss Marguerite Chace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Chace of this city is one of those who are engaged in caring for these boys and aiding in the task of keeping them employed and teaching them some simple art which they may be able to follow when as fully recovered as they may be, and aid in their amusement. Miss Chace is much interested, and has a deep concern in the success of each one who comes under her care, her parents judge from her letter home.

Through the efforts of Miss Chace and others—a club of the Nebraska boys at this retreat has been organized, and they were given a banquet of which this story tells, though eleven, about one-half of the membership, were not able to attend the festival. No Wayne lad is there, but Albert Borg of Wakefield is known to many here. Pilger has a soldier boy there, but we did not get the name.

Mrs. Chace tells us that any little remembrance, a letter, paper or a box of candy or cake is greatly appreciated, as it breaks the monotony and lets them know that they are not forgotten. In her opinion this letter should be an appeal to every person and in as much as these lads received no Christmas offering from Wayne, it is her most excellent suggestion that they be remembered in liberal way in an Easter offering. Mrs. Chace tells us that a number to whom she has spoken have given, and also that some of the clubs where the matter has been mentioned have donated liberally. This is in line with the closing suggestion of Mr. Antles, who suggests that:

"The best thing Nebraska can do, is to back up these little get-together meetings and pay for their banquets, see the boys get daily papers from their home state, and letters. They all need good, cheery letters. The department of public welfare is going to try to keep in touch with these boys through this Nebraska organization. They need fruit and it should be fresh. The money should be there for them to spend so they can get the fruit fresh from the stands."

We feel confident that any contribution of money, books or other offering entrusted to Mrs. Chace will go direct to the boys, though we are not authorized to make such suggestion—but you try it once.

FRED GILDERSLEEVE SUDDENLY CALLED

The many relatives and friends of Fred Gildersleeve were surprised and pained to learn of his death, which occurred Tuesday, March 16, 1920, following an operation for an acute appendix attack Saturday forenoon, following a night of suffering. His heart failed because of the shock, and couldn't carry him past the crisis. The body was taken to the home of his uncle, Chas. Gildersleeve, and from there to the Methodist church where the funeral is to be held this afternoon, Rev. Wylie of Windside preaching the sermon.

Fred Gildersleeve is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gildersleeve, and he was born in this county, which had always been his home. He was 27 years and 5 months of age the day of his death. He was united in marriage to Miss Julia Granquist, December 25, 1915, who with two little daughters survive him; besides his father, mother, three brothers and five sister and many other relatives and friends. Two married sisters, Mrs. Clifford Strait of Waterloo, Iowa, and Mrs. Albert Paulsen, three are still at home and four of the brothers.

He was an earnest member of the Grace M. E. church, a splendid citizen and an excellent young man in all walks of life. All sympathize with the bereaved family in this sad hour of affliction.

Women! Get These Surprising Cooking Facts!

Here are some facts about the "Red Star" oil range, which if used, will put your cooking problems on the most efficient and economical basis possible.

RED STAR

Detroit Vapor Oil Stove

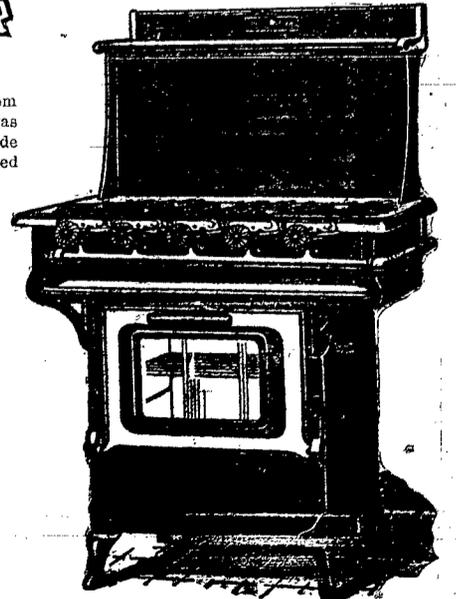

The "Red Star" is entirely different from ordinary oil burning stoves. It is really a gas range. It generates its own gas from any grade of kerosene, gasoline or distillate. The patented eight and one-half pound double ring flame burner vaporizes the heat units of the fuel and utilizes the energy that is usually wasted in odor and smoke. The heavy, iron burner becomes red hot and concentrates an intense heat directly under the utensil. It operates entirely without wicks or asbestos rings.

No Wicks! No Smoke!
No Smell! No Trouble!

Repeated official tests have proved that the "Red Star" is the quickest, most dependable and economical oil stove on the market.

It is designed and works like a city gas stove. A beautiful stove in any kitchen. Substantially built, easy to clean and to keep clean.

Illness Costs U. S. Wage Earners Billion Dollars Every 12 Months

The annual sick bill of 30,000,000 American wage earners is $1,000,000,000.

The time clock of the nation shows that each worker, through sickness, loses an average of nine days. This means that the working time of the nation is decreased by more than 850,000 years.

Half of the billion-dollar sick bill represents wages lost—subtracted from the total of earnings expected to finance the budget of millions of families. The other half represents the bill for doctors, nurses and medicines. A total of 1,000,000,000 dollars is lost annually in the United States for all philanthropic purposes, in normal times.

States for all philanthropic purposes, in normal times.

This is the problem of illness as it is presented by the survey now being made by the inter-church World Movement.

The survey has formulated a program as a proposal for the cooperative effort of the evangelical churches. An increase in the efficiency and capacity of existing denominational hospitals is the first provision of this program.

Construction of 31 new hospitals is the second. These hospitals include 12 general hospitals for white people, twelve for negroes; one tuberculosis sanitarium for Arizona; four hospitals for incurables and two children's hospitals.

If she is strict, people say she does not allow the children to exercise their individuality. If she is not strict people say she can not maintain discipline.

If she pays great attention to her appearance, she is merely looking for a husband. If she does not pay great attention to her appearance she is a bad example for the pupils.

If she enjoys theaters, cards and dances, she is a disgrace to her profession. If she refrains from such pleasures, she is a crank.

If she sticks to her subject, she is a fanatic. If she diverts from her subject, she is talkative and rambling.

If she gives up her position to marry, she is a fool and if she does not give up her position to marry, she is a fool.

ALL-OF-A-SUDDEN-PEGGY

(From the Goldenrod)

Yes, but the trouble is that although the man likes the mother of Peggy he won't make us his mind to propose to her while the girl is about and the mother (who is rather a dear) won't marry anyone herself until the girl is married. Now what could the girl do?

This is perplexing, but it is only one of the many similar situations which the little heroine overcomes in the great three-act comedy soon to be given in the Normal Auditorium by the Junior Class under the skilled instruction of Miss Dewey. It is one of the finest and most popular of the comedies of the day given on the stage and screen.

The World Is Now Being Revised

Revision, Rehabilitation and Reconstruction are going forward in every Industrial, Professional, Social and Political field—in every Art and in every Science. The World has a new vision of Democracy. Thoughts that we thought up to mid-summer of 1914 we can think no more. The very facts on which our thinking was based are altered.

Down to Date

In these unusual times, teeming with stirring events, an Extraordinary Encyclopaedia is an absolute necessity.

American enterprise has solved the problem by making a loose-leaf Encyclopaedia that is perpetually new, containing material that is found in no other Reference Work, as, for example, the splendid new article on Aeronautics prepared under the direction of the Aero Club of America and including details of the record-making feats of the NC-4, Vickers-Vimy and R-34.

Down to Date

The war is now history. Nations are being remade. You must keep in step with the world today. All old fashioned reference works have been simply marking time during the greatest years in history. Nelson's changes with the changing world.

ALWAYS NEW—Every six months all subscribers to NELSON'S receive their renewal pages—250 or more—between 500 and 700 pages each year. These include over 2,000 changes and keep NELSON'S perpetually accurate and up-to-date.

Nelson's Loose-Leaf—the One Encyclopaedia of Today

Nelson's Reading and Study Courses in United States History, The World War, Business Economics, Nature Study, Agriculture, and Home Economics are declared by educational authorities to be equal to a college course and training in each of these departments. By their use a boy can remain on the farm and yet receive all the advantages of a college course in Scientific Farming; a girl may have the services of the leading authorities on household economics without leaving her home; while the professional and business man may receive a business training superior to that which can be obtained from any of the widely advertised business institutes.

A LOVE FICTION

By OTILLIA F. PFEIFFER

(Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union)

There was always a pleasant, interested smile on the face of Drury Lawrence whenever his fellow clerks chatted about home, wives, sweethearts or love. He was a quiet, unassuming young man, and Eric Dawes, his one close friend, had often noticed the sympathetic glow in his honest, earnest eyes, and wondered why it grew so intense, on the occasions noted.

Drury was closing his desk late one afternoon and he and Eric were the only occupants of the room. A bright-hearted young fellow, a new clerk, had just left after showing an engagement ring to Drury he intended presenting to his fiancée. Drury listened to his eulogies of its intended recipient with pleased attention.

"You must be a happy man in your own love affairs to be so ready to appreciate that of others," suggested Eric.

A peculiar expression crossed the face of Drury. It was serious, yet tender and expressive. A dreamy, far-away look came into his eyes as he said:

"There has been only one so-called love affair in my life, Eric, and there will never be another. Do you know who that is?" and he produced a photograph from a drawer in the desk.

"Why, it is Miss Ina Vernon!" exclaimed Eric in unmitigated surprise. "You don't mean to say that you are interested in that direction?"

"Eminently so," replied Drury, and his tones were fairly reverential. "I have loved her devotedly for over two years. You are my only confidant, so respect my secret. See!" and he produced a packet of letters tied with a bit of ribbon. "Each month I have written to her, unfolding my heart, beginning with 'Dear Miss Vernon' and now addressing her as 'My Soul's Treasure.'"

Eric was fairly astounded. This quiet, unpretentious friend had outstripped them all! Miss Ina Vernon, the daughter of the wealthy manufacturer! In correspondence with her for two years—she, the proud beauty of a leading family! The "soul's only treasure" of a plain, humble office clerk.

"Then—then you are engaged?" inquired Eric.

"In my letters," replied Drury in puzzling accents of sadness. "In letters never sent. I have carried on a love fiction for my own hopeless consolation only. Miss Vernon unknowingly took possession of my heart. I realized my yearnings were as those of a rutilant craving for the star. I was content to love her in secret. I have never spoken to her. She has never read a line of my letters."

"And you are never going to tell her," spoke Eric, with genuine feeling; "you, a man worthy of the consideration of any woman!"

"It would be presumptuous. I have no right to aspire, to hope," replied Drury sorrowfully. "Let my dreaming suffice. She is of another world than mine."

Drury reeled—how, when Miss Vernon had lost a pet spaniel, he had restored it through the home servants, refusing to accept the reward tendered or to disclose his identity.

Again, it was he who had been near at hand when Mr. Vernon, at variance with some of his mill employees, was assailed by a mob. Drury saved the magnate from a shower of dangerous missiles and then vanished.

Then, too, in seeking an office friend who was off on a spell of dissipation, in shielding him from a group of gamblers, Drury had as well run across Manfred Vernon, the brother of Ina. His efforts and warnings had signally turned the footsteps of both the young men from the downward path.

It was about two months after the disclosure to Eric that the latter was startled by reading in the morning paper that a young man named Drury Lawrence, passing the mansion of John Vernon, had sprung upon a lurking intruder about to place a lighted bomb within the vestibule, had flung it away from the house, but its explosion had reached him, lacerating and half blinding him. He had been removed to a hospital, and the article commended his heroism and spoke of the gratitude of the Vernon family over this great act of self-sacrifice.

Eric hastened to the hospital to find Drury suffering but radiant. He had saved Ina and her family! It was enough! The surgeon said he would recover both sight and strength in time. Eric left the hospital with a firm resolution in his mind. That afternoon he called upon Miss Ina Vernon. True-souled friend that he was, he told her all and placed in her hands the beautiful love letters Drury had written. Eric, too, told her of his hidden acts of devotion in behalf of her father and brother.

He had only to watch the lovely face of Ina Vernon to know that the revelation influenced every sentiment of girlish sympathy and interest. From that time forward every day Ina visited Drury at the hospital. One afternoon she came up to Eric as she left the cot where Drury lay. She took his hand in a tremulous grasp.

"Mr. Dawes," she whispered, blushing, but earnest, "will you take a message to our brave friend for me? Tell him," and her sweet voice bore the thrill of the deepest emotion, "tell him to get well—for my sake!"

What Keeps a Battery Young

To be reliable, a storage battery must have well-made plates.

Battery solution must be proper strength and required purity.

Battery jars must be mechanically strong and must allow no leakage of current or battery solution.

But it's the insulation between the plates that keeps that battery full of life and adds months to its term of useful service.

Drop in and ask us to tell you about Threaded Rubber Insulation, and some of the records it has made in keeping batteries on the job far beyond what used to be the battery age limit.

law. The court has held in favor of the referendum asked for, and under a previous ruling of the court this leaves this code no law until the people say that it is law. Is our governor greater than the people who named him for the office? Not yet, we would say.

The late move of the constitutional convention is to repeal itself in the matter of a four year term for governor and other state officers. Perhaps, when they look at the present administration they consider that two years is plenty.

There are now six candidates to go on the primary ballot for the republican nomination for governor. Why talk about a short ballot, when there are so many patriots ready to serve?

R. A. Dunn, formerly of Montgomery county, Iowa, where he was born and raised, lived and served the people as sheriff, is trying to break into a house at Wayne. In other words, he has visited this community and likes it, wants a place for himself and wife. Bob is a fine fellow, and we hope he can "edge in" here.

C. E. Jones of Carroll was a Wayne visitor Wednesday, and not an idle one, for he closed a $2,500 deal with Wm. Dammeyer who purchased from Mr. Jones his property on Second street now occupied by the Willard people. Mr. Dammeyer recently purchased the meat market building just west of this building, thus giving him two fronts on the south side of the street and one front on the north—the building he occupies with his cigar factory.

The Fordson is an ideal tractor for your farm. It is built compactly, simply---yet with abundant power. It pulls two bottom plows and will do a proportionate amount of any other farm work. The Fordson engine is unusual. It is simple, easy cared for, and so designed that the farmer can give any attention required in service. The entire head of the cylinders are cast en bloc, and can be removed for grinding valves; the air cleaned with an improved air washer; a special carburetor allows the use of kerosene without any of the trouble that is commonly associated with this fuel.

Ask any farmer who owns a Fordson Tractor and he will tell you that it has met his fullest expectations. Come in and see the Fordson Tractor and Fordson farm tools.

Here's an all-round rubber shoe that's strong and comfortable

OUT in the rain for hours—or working in ankle-deep mud—that's when you need footwear that combines real comfort with absolute protection.

And comfort plus protection are the two big points which have made the U. S. Bootee so popular with farmers everywhere.

This water-tight, lace rubber shoe fits as smoothly over your sock as a leather shoe—you're sure of solid comfort all the time. And in the wettest weather—over the muddiest ground—U. S. Bootees keep your feet absolutely dry.

Wear them anywhere—they're specially built for the roughest, hardest jobs around a farm. At the very places where rubber footwear is usually weakest, U. S. Bootees have been made strongest. Every single point of strain is heavily reinforced.

Ask your dealer today to show you a pair of the new U. S. Bootees. Note their water-proof, smooth rubber surface—feel how pliable and comfortable they are—examine for yourself their wonderful built-to-wear construction.

THE N. E. A. AT CLEVELAND

(From the Goldenrod)
The meeting of the N. E. A. which recently convened at Cleveland was an event looked forward to by school teachers of this country with a great deal of interest. It is a meeting composed of educational leaders who view school problems in a broad way and lay down principles and mark out policies for educational progress. It is the chief factor which has a tendency to bring together and unify the forty-eight more or less independent state school systems. In a way it gives a national trend to education in America.

There were more than sixty sections of the meeting dealing with education and kindred subjects. One of the most interesting features of the whole meeting was an address by Dr. Winship, the editor of the New England Journal of Education, on the subject "Fifty years of educational progress." Dr. Winship has been identified with the school of America for fifty years. He is probably more widely known than any other school man in America. His address was very largely a summing up of things which he has observed.

The decade following 1870 marked the beginning of such things as manual training, domestic science, music and art in the school. Col. Parker of the Cook County Normal School was given the place of honor in this movement. The decade following 1880 gave a new impetus to modern psychology and G. Stanley Hall was named as the moving spirit in this decade. The decade following 1890 Dr. Winship declenated as the decade for the development of American high schools and President Eliott of Harvard was pointed out as the champion of high schools for this period. The decade following 1900 was pointed out as the one of special progress in teacher training and Dean Russell of Columbia was named as the chief promoter. The decade following 1910 was noted for the connecting up of the community idea with the school. Dr. Winship said that no man had done anything worthy of notice in the matter of community service but a number of women have distinguished themselves in this direction.

To listen to the speakers and become acquainted with leaders from other schools in other states and to know of their plans and progress is always an inspiration to anyone to return to his work with renewed enthusiasm.

ADVANTAGES OF THE COMING TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

(From the Goldenrod)

It is to our advantage to remain here during this session which will benefit all teachers or those who are intending to become teachers, by the new methods which will be presented and the topics of current interest which will be discussed. There will be experienced and successful men and women from all parts of the state who will be ready to relate their experiences and bring new ideas to us. Therefore, it would be unwise not to take advantage of this opportunity for our own good.

It is to our advantage to make others think well of the school which we attend and if we do not stay for this session the halls and dormitories will be empty and the school will not appear at its best. Teachers from all over the state will come here and when they go out again they will carry their impressions to those who have never been here and we wish to make these impressions the very best in order that our school may have a good reputation.

The work of this convention coincides with the work of the Normal School. The Normal School trains teachers that they may be better equipped to go out and teach. The convention does the same. In Normal we learn of the methods which have been tried out by expert educators, we learn to apply these methods and are more sure of success.

Matters of current interest will be discussed about which, should we not attend this convention, we would probably never know. These problems which are always coming before the teachers may come to us in our future work and if we have heard them discussed by capable, experienced men and women we will be better fitted to cope with them.

Just as doctors and other professional men have conventions in order that they may discuss the matters of current interest, so too, must the teachers have theirs.

There probably was never a time when the teaching profession was of more current interest than it is at present. There are so many teachers becoming dissatisfied with existing conditions and they are leaving the profession and going into the business world. Therefore in order that we may know all the good that we can do of continuing in the profession, the student should attend this convention.

All these things prove that it is of great importance that we remain here during this session, both for our own good and the good of our school as well as the welfare of society in general.

—M. D.

OUR WASTED TIME

(From the Goldenrod)

We are told that some of us are wasting our time at college and this statement, it seems, needs justification for there are many ways of wasting time. It is not always the best scholar who is using her moments to the highest advantage, for often it is the careful and conscientious student who loses the most time. We are all familiar with the girl who is so absorbed in school work that she leaves no opportunity for pleasure, who never joins "the bunch" for a good time, who locks herself in her room as soon as classes are over and only emerges from her mathematics and science long enough to snatch a scanty meal. She is wasting her time, her time to be young, to be happy, to make friends.

Scholarship is important but it is not the greatest thing in life. We are here, not only to get what we can from the world but to put something into it, hoping that we may leave someone a little happier, a little better because we have lived.

Most of us waste time in discontent, in worry over difficulties which may never arise. Every despondent moment is a wasted moment; every hour in which we close our hearts to the joy that is in the world is an hour thrown away; every day in which we fret over a sorrow that is

Mrs. T. W. Green from Creighton has been spending a few days here with her mother and sisters, Mrs.

Mary Gilbert and daughters, returning home Wednesday.

Elmer, Henry and Harry Jones of Mapleton, Iowa, had business at Wayne the first of this week, and naturally spent a bit of their spare time visiting with their former neighbors, the Carharts.

John James left this morning to visit home folks at Bogard, Missouri. He was accompanied by his sister, Miss Delante, who has been spending a few weeks here. They will stop in Kansas City a few days.

Aldur Johnson, whose wife died at Tracy, Minnesota, recently, with his four children has been visiting a week with his brother, Charlie, and this morning went to visit at Wakefield, near which place he will locate for the summer.

Herbert Lessman returned to Des Moines Wednesday after a short stay here. He tells us that he is very busy with the manufacture of their newly patented manure loader and spreader. They are building in two models, one for use of tractor, and the other for a team. When asked as to the progress made with some of his smaller inventions, he said that he had been too busy with the larger ones to give them attention. In his hay machinery and manure loader Mr. Lessman has worked out two inventions that are destined to take a vast amount of laborious work from the farmer in haying and distributing fertilizer.

Also Judge Essex Fineness By the Hudson Standard

The Essex is Famous for Beauty as Well as Performance

Essex performance proofs naturally over-shadow its qualities of quieter appeal.

For prior to Essex, it was held that light weight must mean some forfeit in smoothness, speed, power and endurance.

But even those whose choice was decided by its supreme performance ability are captivated by its notable beauty of design, its luxurious fittings and its quiet riding ease.

It is not merely that Essex matches large, high priced cars in comfort. It is not only its speed, its quickness at the getaway and its quiet mastery of the hills. Its charm is the combination of these qualities with a flying smoothness in action and responsiveness that heed the highest touch.

Great Surplus Power
Makes Driving a Joy

Abundant surplus power handles the Essex with ease in every situation. This surplus power and strength, beyond any need you will ever have, accounts for Essex smoothness in tasks at which many cars strain with permanent injury to their mechanism.

Hudson Design and Super-
Six Motor Still World
Supreme

Every day you see Hudson's two and three years old, which, both in style and performance, might well be judged of recent production.

Advance ideas you will always find in Hudson. That fact created its style leadership. But they must earn their right to belong. No mere straining after something new has ever won a place for a single feature in Hudson design.

On fashionable boulevards you see more Hudson chauffeur-driven cars than any other make. Yet leadership in style alone was not enough to win such recognition.

Hudson Leads All Fine Cars in Performance

Hudson's chief advantage has always been in performance. Its many official speed, power and endurance records were made four or five years ago. But they still stand. They account for Hudson becoming the world's largest selling fine car.

Those records are the reason why no change has ever been made in the principle of the Super-Six motor. It is exclusive in Hudson. You can get its advantages in no other car.

A Special for Teachers

When the teachers of northeastern Nebraska come to Wayne the first week of April there will be for their inspection at the Mrs. Jeffries' store for women such an array of wearing apparel as is seldom seen outside of the large cities. Mrs. Jeffries tells us that for the three days of the meet there is to be in addition to her already very complete line of lady apparel a large consignment direct from New York of the latest and most popular suits, coats, dresses, waists and millinery. Her line of shoes, too, is daily becoming more and more complete, and by this time the oxfords are to be here. Home folks as well as teachers should avail themselves of the offering to be made at that time.—adv

FREIGHT CAR BROKE AWAY

Peculiar Happening Hailed as Something Particularly New in History of Railroad.

The Erie railroad has demonstrated the practicability of a theory that a freight train may lose a car from its midst and keep to its schedule with its crew in ignorance of their loss, and Ed Mott, of Goshen, the local historian, is happy.

For a generation Mott has been telling folks of an Erie train that left Susquehanna in the winter of 1855 with 15 cars of cattle. At Port Jervis one car was missing. It had disappeared from the middle of the train without leaving broken couplings or other traces of the manner of its ejection. Two days later the missing car was found in a field near the track at Shohola. It was empty. The cattle it had held were recovered in Sullivan county, New York. They had freed themselves from the car and crossed the Delaware river on the ice.

Engineer Albert O. Roberts was driving a train to New York last Sunday morning. At West Tuxedo air brake trouble led to the discovery that the fourteenth car was missing. The thirteenth and fifteenth cars had recoupled themselves. Search led to the discovery of the missing car alongside the track a mile to the north.

The accident of Sunday was exactly the same as the one which Mott describes as of sixty-odd years ago, except that the modern form of brake caused the loss of a car to be discovered more quickly than was the case in the old days, when the couplings were of simple design and the brakes were operated by hand.—New Haven Union.

GOOD EXERCISE IS MOTORING

Physician Seems to Have Made Out a Good Case for His Side of Argument.

Dr. Henry Williams, in an article in Motors, combats the theory that motoring is reducing our opportunities for exercise. He says its benefits are threefold—physical, mental and volitional. The buffeting of winds and the inhalation of large quantities of oxygen stimulate digestion, assimilation and exertion. This is true of the person who merely sits, as well as of him who drives. The latter, however, benefits directly. Doctor Williams says: "When you drive a car 40 or 50 miles over average American roads, or a fraction of that distance in any city, you give your arms and torso a course of purposeful calisthenics that redounds directly to the benefit of your muscles and arteries and heart, and indirectly, but no less significantly, to the benefit of your digestive organs of elimination as well as the nervous system."

"We have no army of the unemployed," rejoined Mr. Growcher. "After watching a few of the helpers who have come along in connection with various kinds of work, I have concluded that we have a large number in a state of unemployment. The difference is that they get paid for it."

BROUGHT TO BOOK

By ALDEN CHAPMAN

(Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union)

Sidney Blair had entered the gloomy, old-fashioned city mansion bearing the name on its door plate "Alton Morse," with an ardent heart and high hopes. He sat now in its library confronted by its owner, whose grim, forbidding face chilled him, whose disclosures were disconcerting.

Two months previous while visiting his sister at a seminary, he had met Lucia Sterling. The acquaintanceship had blossomed into mutual friendly interest and, on his part at least, into genuine love. She had told him that she lived with Mr. Morse, that her parents were both dead and that the attorney, because her father had been a former client, had practically adopted her. Lucia had consented to his calling on her when she left school and she had told Mr. Morse of the expected visitor.

Blair had been ushered into the library of the house when he sent in his card, and his sister faced, its occupant had received him coldly.

"I know who you are, and of your family," said Mr. Morse. "I also fancy I know the object of your call. It is Miss Sterling."

"Yes," replied Blair. "I hope she is well."

"She is far from that," replied the lawyer gravely. "Do not be alarmed, sir, it is mental, rather than physical ailment. Miss Sterling has received some disclosures relative to her past, or rather that of her parents, that have been considerable of a shock. She knows of your intention to call and has authorized me to see you in her stead."

"I do not understand," began Blair in a perplexed way.

"I can say only that, considering your high social standing and illustrious family name, it is better that your acquaintance with Miss Sterling should terminate utterly."

"You insinuate some mystery which, no matter what it may involve, could not in any way affect the regard I feel for Miss Sterling," spoke Blair stanchly. "Mr. Morse, I must insist on having a decision from her lips alone."

Alton Morse arose with a peculiar expression on his face. "I will convey your message to my ward," he said icily, "or rather my dead friend's daughter," and left the room. He returned shortly bearing a folded scrap of paper.

"Miss Sterling declines to see you," he reported. "This is her only and final word, and Blair bowed his head in despair as he read: "Mr. Morse must speak for me. I thank you for all your courtesy and regard, but we must never meet again."

Without another word Blair left the house. Dusk had come down, but as he slowly passed the garden space he glanced back. One upper window at the side of the house showed a light.

Blair proceeded on his way, but so mystified by the strange incident that after he had turned the next corner he reversed and confronted the stranger.

He was a man over fifty, bearded and bronzed, and wore a great blazing diamond in his tie and another of unusual size on one finger. Two men crossed the street, evidently attracted by these signs of opulence. When within twenty feet of the corner they suddenly sprang upon him.

Blair hastened to the rescue. He drove one of the men prostrate with a vigorous blow. The other had a pistol aimed at the stranger. Blair struck up his hand, but himself felt a stinging contact in one arm. As the men dispersed the victim seized Blair by the hand with the words: "You have saved my life, young man. Why! what is this blood! You are wounded!"

"Only a slight scratch," declared Blair negligently, but the other halted a cab, solicitously attended his rescuer, and, arriving at his hotel at once sent for a surgeon.

The latter dressed a slight flesh wound, and the stranger secured a room for Blair connecting with his own. When Blair awoke in the morning he noticed his host with startled eyes gazing at some articles he had placed on a stand.

"What is this--where did you get it?" he inquired, holding up a photograph of Lucia Sterling.

A strange emotion was manifest in the man's face as Blair's story came out. His face hardened as he muttered the name of Alton Morse. "Come with me," he spoke, "if you feel able. There is something you have an interest in."

An hour later they faced Alton Morse, pale, cringing, in terror. Within the hour Blair knew that the stranger of the garden was Robert Sterling, the father of Lucia.

It seemed that three years before he had sent from Australia a fortune for his orphan daughter, which Morse had appropriated. He did this when he was supposed to be dying. Morse held back the fortune and prevented Lucia from encouraging Blair by making her believe that she was the daughter of a convicted assassin.

Alton Morse was forced to make restitution. It was a double blessing that Robert Sterling bestowed upon the accepted lover of Lucia, for he owed to him his life as well as the happiness of his daughter.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Alma Butterfield, who is teaching at Bloomfield, was a Saturday morning visitor at Wayne, and went to Norfolk on the morning train, accompanied by her friend, Miss Gertrude Buetow.

Mrs. I. Fry from Pierce stopped here the last of the week to visit at the home of Frank Powers and children, while returning from a month's visit at Wausa. She is mother-in-law to Mr. Powers.

Mrs. Charles Madden left Monday to visit her sister-in-law, Mrs. McCrea, at Bushnell, North Dakota. Mrs. C. E. Welch from Reader, North Dakota, is here for an extended visit, and is keeping house in her absence.

Casper Korn is going to improve the grade of his herd of cattle having last week gone to the McCarthy ranch not far from Emerson and purchased a Hereford bull of quality. It is a fine thing to do, for any farmer.

Mrs. C. L. Williamson from Carroll went to Omaha Monday to visit Mr. Williamson, who is taking treatment at a hospital at that place. She reports that he is improving, and hopes to be able to come home in a week or ten days.

Enrich Brothers store at Wakefield was robbed one night last week and the news report says that the robber was unknown, but he left the marks of an amateur. More than $33 was missing from the safe which this green burglar opened.

Mrs. John Kesterson from Charter Oak, Iowa, returned home Friday after a visit of several days with former friends in the vicinity of Carroll where she has a son and daughter. She was a guest at the James Stanton home part of the time.

Ponea creek up in the country northwest of Norfolk was on one of its spring rampages last week, and knocked bridges and piling out. The railroad bridge between Bristow and Spencer was so weakened that passenger traffic was stopped for a time.

Wm. J. Kleper was a passenger to Hartington Monday morning, going up there for a visit of a few days before the farm work opens for the spring. He says that since his trip to Germany where he spent a year or more, home looks like the best place on earth.

$1.50 saved on each 100 pounds of flour bought at The Wayne Roller Mill. Why not save it.

Mrs. J. W. Ellyson from Newcastle came Tuesday morning to visit at the home of her daughter at this place, Mrs. A. D. Lewis. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Thomas Buell, who is visiting this part of Nebraska, coming several weeks from her home in Montana.

Mrs. Wm. Lue received a number of letters from Mr. Lue, who recently went to the Old People's Home at Lincoln and he states that he likes it fine, and he has met many old acquaintances there and that at the present writing he does not expect to return here to live. He says to greet all of his old Wayne friends.

Mrs. McEachen went to Sioux City Saturday to spend the day at that place with her daughter, Miss Gertrude, who is teaching at Newcastle, and not able to get home often, as train connections are such that she would spend most of the time on the road if she tried to get home after school Fridays and back before school Monday.

NINE LOADS OF FAT CATTLE

That was the shipment from Wayne to Chicago Friday evening. Wm. Myers from south of Wayne loaded five of them, his brother Charles, three loads, and Wm. Beckenhauer, one load. Those who saw these cattle tell us they should sell at top prices for they were good.

Agent Moran tells us that more stock would have left here, but for the shortage of stock cars. This caused by the effort now being made by the different roads to get their rolling stock back on their own lines, and this particular line appears to have been sending other line cars home faster than their own were coming in, resulting a shortage of many cars during the week. It was his opinion that when the cars get home, this line will be in good shape to handle their normal business.

WAYNE PEOPLE IN CALIFORNIA

Long Beach, Calif., March 6, 1920.
Editor Nebraska Democrat.

Here's hoping you and the readers are well. It seems there has been so much sickness in the middle west. We were glad to escape it here, and the blizzards, too. We are both well, and also other Wayneites so far as we know. All had a very pleasant time at the Nebraska picnic a week ago today. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson of Wayne, Mr. Miller and his daughter in-law, formerly of Wayne, but now of Washington, six Massmans of Chadron, Mr. Coburn and Maude Fisher of Laurel, my father and I going in an auto bus.

We met Rev. and Mrs. Millard, formerly of Wayne, also Mr. and Mrs. Wright from just south of Wayne. It was estimated that there were over 5,000 in attendance, being a very good crowd, considering the Iowa picnic only a short distance away where there were said to be 40,000, both in Los Angeles and then the noted auto races of the southwest opening the same day.

There has been more rain here than last winter, and crops look excellent. I never saw so many buildings under construction in one town in my life as here in Long Beach, although in Los Angeles and San Diego one sees many being built. Will close with greetings to the Nebraska friends--Laura E. Lyons, 453 Linden Avenue.

How We Help Farmers And All Others

We believe in so buying and selling as to be of great help to our patrons while at the same time receiving a legitimate profit on what we sell to them. In this spirit we have just unloaded

Two Cars of Salt

The best obtainable for their stock. Purchased in large quantities gives car rate freight and a little extra discount in price

Condensed Buttermilk

In other years the early farrowed pigs were subject to heavy death rate for want of a proper ration—we supply the Condensed Buttermilk, than which no better or more economical food can be had at this early season of the year. The early pigs, if properly cared for, make the cheapest pork for the farmer to put on the market.

We Sell Calf Meal

In other days the calf was stunted in its early life, at a cost if time and feed in later months—and it never quite caught up before it went to the market, or became a mother if it was that kind of a calf. They used to grow "skim-milk" calves that were not larger than yearlings should be when eighteen months old. Was the cream worth the sacrifice of growth? Now we have provided a substitute for the cream in the milk at a great saving in the cost of feeding the butterfat to the calf. We sell a Calf Meal which enables the early calf to thrive and the cream to go to the market at big money.

Our Chick Feed

The early chick is the best for profit whether kept for laying hens or sold as fries. Our Chick Feed is of the kind which gives the early hatching assurance of a balanced ration, and with a bit of care and warmth on cold days, you have the chick out of the way before the hot weather comes to smite them with lice, mites, diarrhoea, disease and death.

Story of Economy

So we might name other things—but consider these advantages this time and look for another story of economy and profit another week.

SOCIAL NOTES

The Missionary society of the M. E. church will meet at the home of Mrs. Lutgen Friday evening.

The W. C. T. U. will meet Friday afternoon with Mrs. Chas. Gildersleeve as previously announced, and a welcome awaits all who come.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Fanske entertained the Kard Klub Wednesday evening, "500" was played. At the close of the evening a delicious lunch was served.

The members of the Early Hour club will enjoy a 6 o'clock dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Fanske tonight. The evening will be spent in playing cards.

The members of the U. D. club were entertained Wednesday at 1 o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. H. S. Ringland. Mrs. Damon of Council Bluffs was a guest. Mrs. James Miller will be hostess at the next meeting.

The Helping Hand met Thursday March 11 with Mrs. William Watson. Dinner was served at 2 o'clock. With the exception of a business meeting the time was spent socially. This afternoon the members of the Helping Hand will meet at the home of Mrs. Durant.

The P. E. O. sisterhood met with Mrs. Harry Fisher on Monday evening. Miss Burton gave a splendid paper on settlement work; Mrs. James Miller gave a piano solo. Miss Emma Hughes was received into the ranks of the sisterhood. Next meeting will be with Mrs. A. T. Cavanaugh.

Members of the D. A. R. society met at the home of Mrs. Carroll Orr Saturday, with Mrs. Kostomlatsky and Miss Virginia Chapin hostesses. A very instructive lesson on Italy was led by Mrs. Corbit. Refreshments were served. Miss Ella Morrison and

8 Day Sale! Now On!

1 dozen No. 2 cans $1.90, 1 can free with each dozen.

Every one knows the high quality of Monarch Baked Beans. This sale should insure a supply in every home. People are buying by the dozen, the housewife has learned to conserve her strength and at all times to be prepared for unexpected company. Use the free can you secure with the dozen and you fall to be pleased in every respect we will refund full purchase price. Monarch beans are regular 20c sellers—save the difference.

King-Nut Margarine

There is just as much difference in margarines as there are in butters. King-Nut is in a class by itself. The material from which it is manufactured are the best obtainable. Many prefer this product to butter; this fact is demonstrated every day. The demand is very active and the price one-half the price of creamery butter. Its no wonder our sales on King-Nut have reached enormous proportions.

Boiled New England Dinner

That sounds good, don't it? We have everything to complete this well known popular "dish." Cabbage, bagas, parsnips, carrots and potatoes. All these items arrive twice a week. Let everybody have a good old-fashioned boiled dinner next week. The time of year is conducive to that kind of a "feed."

You Fellows From Missouri

or in fact any one who likes the real old-fashioned Missouri Jonathan in barrels, we have them. The flavor excels the western Jonathan very much. The condition is A-1, red, mellow and a free sample—don't care how old you are—it will remind you of home. May be secured by the pound, bushel or barrel.

Basket Store

Miss Ellise Ford Piper will be hostess Saturday, April 10.

Last Friday evening the League of the M. E. church held a St. Patrick social in the church basement. The evening was spent in playing games. All who wished were permitted to kiss the Blarney Stone. An admission of 20 cents was charged which netted the members of the League about $9.00.

The Queen Esther society met Monday evening with Miss Marian Preston. The lesson was on American Christianization led by Miss Mabel Britell. Eleven were present at the business meeting. They planned a sandwich sale for next Friday morning at 8:30 in the administration building. Light refreshments were served.

Division B in Mr. Britell's Sunday school class, entertained division A at a St. Patrick's party Saturday night in the M. E. church basement. Games were played and jokes told and everyone had a good time. The class have these parties once a month. At the close of the evening an elaborate lunch was served.

The Central Social Circle met at the home of Mrs. Elder. The business meeting took up the entire afternoon and the garden program was postponed till next meeting. The following flower committee was appointed: Mrs. John Grier, Mrs. Kate Paulsen and Mrs. May Elder. The next meeting will be the second Thursday in April. The meeting place is undecided.

The Pleasant Valley club met with Mrs. Elmer Noakes this afternoon. Members responded to roll call with items about countries interested in the world war. Mrs. Eric Thompson read a paper on The Peace Movement followed by piano music by Mrs. Otto Fleer. At the close of the afternoon a delicious lunch was served. On the third Thursday in April the club will be entertained by Mrs. Mike Lower.

The Acme club met on Monday afternoon with Mrs. Walter Weber. Members responded to roll call with current events. Mrs. Bressler read several very interesting articles on woman and her works. Mrs. Weber gave state news, special news, of interest. Mrs. Britell explained the new map of Europe, Telling of Germany's losses, and what other countries had gained. Mrs. Ingham sang two solos. Next meeting will be with Mrs. E. S. Blair.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church met with Mrs. J. J. Williams Wednesday afternoon. This being the last meeting of the year reports of the secretary and treasurer were read. The following officers were elected: Mrs. J. T. Bressler, president; Mrs. J. J. Williams, vice president; Mrs. P. M. Corbit, secretary; Mrs. H. S. Ringland, treasurer. The remainder of the afternoon was spent socially. Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Corbit and Mrs. Bressler, served a delicious two-course luncheon. Mrs. Harry Fisher will be hostess April 7.

The meeting of the St. Mary's Guild last Thursday with Mrs. Dennis and Mrs. Clifford Finn was a happy gathering. In addition to the usual program, Mrs. Wm. Andressen, president of the Guild, on behalf of the society presented Mrs. Vern Fisher with a beautiful Wayne souvenir spoon as a token of the regard of the members for Mrs. Fisher, who is soon to move to Norfolk where Mr. Fisher has a home and has secured a business. Mrs. Ralph Rundell was a guest of the society for the day. The hostess served choice refreshments at the close of the meeting. Next Thursday afternoon Mrs. James Finn will be hostess.

The Woman's club will meet in the library basement Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Miss Burton of the college faculty will give an unusually interesting paper on Women in Community Work. Miss Burton has had experience in this work herself in Chicago, and is an interesting speaker. All ladies are invited. The president calls attention to the dues. March being the month to pay them. Also, those who have dishes taken from the last supper, or who left dishes at that time, please get the matter straightened up at this Saturday meeting.

Miss Charlotte Ziegler was hostess at a well attended and interesting meeting of the Girls' Bible Study Circle Friday evening. Miss Edwina Heeber led the lesson study and Miss Thompson presided. After the usual devotional meeting plans were made to celebrate the eighth anniversary of the society at Mrs. E. B. Young's March 22, from 7:30 on. Mr. Frank E. Lindgren of Chicago, who has been engaged for many years in evangelistic work, holding successful meetings in Wayne some years ago, has been invited to make the address and friends desiring to hear him again are cordially welcome.

How to Save Money On Your Long Distance Calls.

This advertisement is intended to explain the different classes of long distance telephone service and how they may be used to the best advantage.

When you make a long distance call, if you are willing to talk to anyone at the telephone called, you will be using what is known as station-to-station service. This is considerably cheaper than other classes of service. Station-to-station rates are based on a charge of about 5 cents for each six miles up to 24 miles and 5 cents for each 8 miles beyond that distance, with a minimum charge of 10 cents.

HOW TO PLACE A STATION-TO-STATION CALL

When using station-to-station service you should give the long distance operator the name and address of the business or the individual with whose telephone you desire connection. In addition you should give the telephone number if you are sure it is correct. On this class of service the charge begins when the telephone called is answered.

The charge on a station-to-station call cannot be reversed; that is, it cannot be charged to the telephone called.

This is how you would place a call with the long distance operator on a station-to-station message: After giving your own telephone number and name, say, for example, "I want to talk to John Brown's residence at Blue Springs, Nebraska," or "I want to talk to George Anderson's store at Burchard, Nebraska." Care should be taken to make it clear to the long distance operator that you do not want to talk to a particular person or persons at the telephone called as in that case it would be a person-to-person call and you would be charged a higher rate.

By the very nature of your requirements for long distance telephoning, no doubt a great many of your business and social calls permit the use of station-to-station service. And in addition you can more often use this cheaper class of service if you make special arrangements with those with whom you desire to talk, either frequently or occasionally, to be ready for your call at a given time.

HOW TO MAKE A PERSON-TO-PERSON CALL

If you ask to talk to a particular person or persons over long distance, you will be using person-to-person service. The charge for this service is about one-fourth greater than for station-to-station service because the operators may have to spend considerably more time and hold the wires ready while they make an effort to locate the particular party. This class of service is not only more expensive but naturally slower than station-to-station service.

If you desire person-to-person service at a particular hour, and wish to make an appointment to talk at a given time, the appointment rate will apply.

If you wish to talk to a person who does not have a telephone and for whom a messenger must be sent, the messenger call rate will apply.

HOW THE RATES ARE APPLIED

The following is an example showing the station-to-station and person-to-person rates for distances up to sixty-four miles:

Miles.	to-Station-Station-	Person- to-Person-to-
0-12	$0.10	$0.15
12-18	.15	.20
18-24	.20	.25
24-32	.25	.30
32-40	.30	.40
40-48	.35	.45
48-56	.40	.50

While the messenger call rate and the appointment rate are not shown in the above table they are each about 50 per cent higher than the station-to-station rate. The report charge, which also is not shown, is about one-fourth of the station-to-station rate.

THE REPORT CHARGE

When you place a call for a particular person and for any reason not within the telephone company's control the call is not completed, or if you make a call and are not ready to talk when the other person is ready within one hour, a report charge is made. This is to cover a part of the expense of the operator's time and the use of the wires while we are trying to find your party.

SPECIAL NIGHT RATES

The special evening rate between 8:30 p. m. and 12 o'clock midnight on station-to-station calls is about one-half the day rate and the night rate between midnight and 4:30 a. m. about one-fourth the day rate. The minimum evening or night charge is 25 cents, the day rate applying, where the charge is less than that amount. The evening and night rates for person-to-person calls are the same as the day rates.

The rate for any class of service may be obtained by calling "Long Distance."

Further information in connection with our long distance service will be gladly furnished on request.

NEBRASKA TELEPHONE COMPANY

The Coterie met at the home of Mrs. Warren Shulthels on Monday afternoon. Following the regular business session, the club enjoyed a unique Blarney Day program. Each member had provided herself with a Blarney Booklet in which the other members wrote a bit of "true blarney." These were then exchanged and read aloud, very naturally being much enjoyed by the entire company. Mrs. Shulthels served delicious light refreshments and the club adjourned, each member feeling quite cheered by having seen herself as others see her. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Horace Theobald, March 22.

The Minerva club met Monday, March 15, at the home of Mrs. J. R. Armstrong. The following question was debated: "Resolved that compulsory arbitration of matrimonial disputes be established by the United States government." The affirmative was upheld by Mrs. W. E. Beaman, Mrs. W. R. Ellis and Mrs. J. T. House and the negative by Mrs. E. J. Hunter. Mrs. B. L. Miner and Mrs. F. S. Berry. The judges voted that the arguments of each side were equally good, thus making the decision a tie. After the debate Marian Miner favored the club with a piano solo. The hostess, assisted by Miss Bertha Mellick, Miss Mary Goodrich and Mrs. B. Erven, served refreshments.

Mrs. Whitney was hostess at the Alpha Woman's club which met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Claude Wright. Members responded to roll call with current events. After a short business meeting, Mrs. John Beard gave an excellent paper on the Peace Question. She told about the need of league of nations that the treaty might be effective. Mrs. Bollen gave an illustrated talk on the National Parks. The parks in the Rocky mountains in particular. At a recent meeting the following officers were elected. Miss Martha Pierce, president; Mrs. F. L. Bollen, vice president; Mrs. C. L. Wright, secretary; Mrs. Frank Whitney, treasurer; Mrs. L. C. Gildersleeve, reporter. At the close of the program, Mrs. Whitney served delightful refreshments, suggestive of St. Patrick. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Beard, Tuesday evening, March 30.
