

SUMMARY OF WORK OF CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

Dear Editor: Perhaps you would like to have a short resume of the work of the state constitutional convention just as it was summarized by the convention itself before adjourning last Thursday, March 25. There will be about forty different propositions submitted to the people on September 21, as amendments to the old constitution rather than as a whole new constitution. Some of the more important amendments are as follows:

- No. 1.—Authorizes five-sixths jury verdict in civil case.
- No. 2.—Permits regulation by law of property rights of aliens.
- No. 3.—Declares English the official language of the state and requires common school branches taught therein.
- No. 4.—Reduces percentages in number of signatures required for initiative and referendum petitions.
- No. 5.—Requires that counties entitled to two or more representatives or senators shall be divided into districts, each district to elect its own member.
- No. 7.—Permits state senate to be increased to fifty members.
- No. 11.—Reserves mineral rights in state lands.
- No. 13.—Provides an executive budget and a board of pardons.

- No. 16.—Requires concurrence of five of the seven judges of the supreme court to declare acts of the legislature unconstitutional.
- No. 17.—Provides for the election of judges of the supreme court by districts.
- No. 18.—Provides for equal suffrage.
- No. 19.—For soldier voting.
- No. 21.—Prohibits sale of school lands except at auction.
- No. 22.—Provides for election regents of the university by districts.

- No. 37.—Permits regulations as to minimum wage and conditions of employment of women and children.
- No. 38.—Permits creation of an Industrial Commission to administer laws relative to labor disputes and profit-sharing.
- No. 39.—Amendments to state constitution submitted by the legislature to be adopted by a majority of those voting on such amendments if such a majority is equal to 35 per cent of the vote cast at the election.
- No. 40.—Fixes salaries of state officers, judges of the supreme and district courts, effective until changed by the legislature.—J. G. W. Lewis.

DEATH OF JOHN D. WRIGHT

John D. Wright was born at Oakland, Iowa, December 22, 1891, and died at Lincoln, March 27, 1920, aged 28 years, 3 months and 5 days. Wayne was his home the greater part of his life, and the body was brought here for burial Tuesday evening, and Rev. John Beard of the Presbyterian church conducted a short funeral service from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Wright, where he spoke words of consolation to the members of the family and friends who gathered there to give expression to their friendship and sympathy.

ADVERTISED LETTERS

Wayne, Nebraska, March 31.—Letters: Gus Anderson, Mr. Arthur Holt, H. J. Miller, Miss Madge Shultz, Otto Willers, Mr. Mapley Wilson, Mrs. Clyde Wright.—C. A. Berry, Postmaster.

SINGERS GO TO CARROLL

The pastor and male sextette of the Methodist choir and their organist, Miss Frances Beckenhauer started for Carroll Tuesday evening to warble a bit at some special meetings being held at the Methodist church of that city this week. They had trouble, too. The roads were bad, and some of the way they walked and pushed on the car—and finally the car could not stand the strain and quit them cold out in the country. By the use of the phone they secured the services of a Carroll truck to take them the rest of the way. They sang, remained all night and came home by train next morning. The party was composed of the following besides the two mentioned above: Wm. Beckenhauer, J. J. Coleman, Clyde Oman, Forrest L. Hughes, Fred R. Dean and E. E. Lackey.

WAYNE STATE NORMAL NOTES

It was the unanimous feeling heartily expressed by applause and delighted comment by the hearers that the Junior Class scored a hit last Tuesday evening in the play, "All-of-a-Sudden-Peggy." The production, involving the pride of a family of English nobility and the highly emotional temperament together with the keen wit of the Irish, developed many amusing incidents that occasioned much appreciative laughter. The situations increased in interest as the story proceeded, the young actors rising to their parts in gratifying manner, and at the close there was a pervading sense of satisfaction and pride in the achievement. The title role was acted by Gladys Bierman, and she certainly was a wayward, witty, stubborn, changeable, paradoxical, loving winning and "sudden" Peggy. The part of the solid, manly, generous English lover was well carried out by Frank Clark. Bernice Clayton made an excellently proud English lady of high degree, while one of the best acted parts was that of the gay and parasitic Major, brother of the high, and mighty dame, played by Lloyd Rohrke. Glenn Lawritson well represented the absorbed scholar, easily taken in by the loving wiles of Mrs. O'Mara, whose fine Irish wit and loving Celtic heart were delightfully revealed by Dottie Cain. For a few moments in the second act the hearers were convulsed with laughter by the grand manner of the majestic dame, The Hon. Mrs. Colquhoun (Mabel Brinker). The parts of Millie Keppel, sister of the hero, (Vera Fetterolf), Jack Menzies, a family friend (Merle Miller), Parker, the footman (Walter Carson), Lucas, the valet (Carl Pearson) were all creditably performed.

One special feature is worthy of note, because the opposite is not uncommon to amateur and even in professional performances—the enunciation was distinct and the voices carried well through the large auditorium. The staging and costumes were appropriate and received commendation.

This is the first play presented under the guidance of Miss Martha Dewey, the new teacher of expression, and she is receiving deserved encomiums for her thorough and successful work.

On April 7 the Girls' Quartet and Virginia Bowen, reader, will give an evening entertainment at the opera house under the auspices of the Woman's club of Wayne. Previously this combination of talent has appeared in several neighboring towns. While this musical organization does not seek opportunity to give public performances yet the recognition of the near professional quality of the work of these young people is much appreciated by the friends of the Normal.

Irvin Montgomery, superintendent of schools at Johnson, Nebraska, a graduate of the Normal in year 1914, called on friends at the school one day last week. Since leaving this institution Mr. Montgomery has graduated with honors from the University of Nebraska, did original research in the department of the navy during the late war, and has been in public school work for three years.

Earl Cady, of Jamison, who attended the Normal last year, after successfully completing a term of teaching, has joined the Junior class and will complete his work in this institution.

Mabel Marsh, class of 1917, who has been principal of the schools at Herman since her graduation, has received the honor of the of the appointment of the county superintendent of Washington county, to succeed Superintendent Lund, who resigned.

A NEW ADDITION TO WAYNE IS PROBABLE

Last week B. W. Wright turned a $12,000 real estate deal by which Chas. Bose sells a tract of nearly six acres just south of the college to three men, Messrs. Henry, Jones and Kratz from Mapleton, Iowa, at the price above named, which makes the price of dirt figure better than $2,000 per acre in the good county of Wayne. It is reported that the new owners plan to plat the tract with streets and allies and dispose of it in lots or blocks. Beyond a doubt there will be a brisk demand for lots in that part of the city.

Mr. Bose does not seem inclined to leave Wayne, for he at once purchased the Wm. Kugler property on east Seventh street, a tract similar in size, paying $14,000 for the same.

HOOVER'S ANNOUNCEMENT

The announcement of Herbert Hoover that he will accept the republican nomination for president, backed by a strong organization of honest-to-goodness volunteer workers, is not finding a warm welcome in the ranks of the organizers of either the old guard or the progressives. If the rank and file of the republican party want a real candidate not tied to special interests they should take Hoover and give him the nomination—but some say that the average republican does not have much to say as to the nominee of his party these days.

GRADER EQUIPMENT HERE

A number of cars of grader wagons plows, horses and mules arrived here this week and are being assembled to begin grading for the paving. Sand, cement and asphalt in quantity continues to arrive, and the brick are to follow by the time they are needed. All agree that the Able Construction company is able to put it over in proper shape, and that they will do so here as they have in other places.

CITY COUNCIL MEETS

At the Tuesday evening session of the city council the usual monthly bills were passed and then a lot of detail work was passed relating to grading and paving and kindred matters.

No bids came in for the new sewer, not because the estimate was too low, we are told, but because all of the sewer men tributary to this part of the state have their hands full of work previously contracted.

It was decided to put on another member of the police force.

Judges and clerks for election for the Tuesday election were appointed as follows:

First ward—Clyde Oman, Dick Carpenter and John Soules.

Second ward—Ed Owen, Jas. Finn and Chas. Sprague.

Third ward—P. L. Miller, J. W. Jones and A. E. Bressler.

MRS. J. W. WINTERSTEIN DIES

At an early hour this morning, Mrs. A. J. Winterstein passed away at their home just west of town after a year's illness due to the infirmities of age, having attained the age of 72 years. They came here from Griswold, Iowa, and the body will be taken to that place for burial. The funeral arrangements for this place are not yet arranged, and obituary will appear next week.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks for the many acts of aid, love and sympathy, and the generous offering of beautiful flowers so freely given at the time of the sickness and death of Fred W. Gildersleeve.—Mrs. Julia Gildersleeve and Children, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Gildersleeve and Family.

FACTS AND OPINION

The opinion is expressed that the peak of high prices has been reached, and that the decline is to begin—but it will be gradual.

Congress is now being urged to try to get us out of war with Germany and Austria. The senate rejected the peace treaty way—the only legal way—and now they are worrying over the probable effect upon those responsible for the move, at the coming election.

The Baptists of several mid-west and western states are meeting at Omaha today with shovels, planning to raise $100,000,000 campaign fund to advance church work. It is a big job, and the drive is to start April 25, and last eight days.

AUKER BROTHERS BUY NEEDHAM BROTHERS, WINSIDE

A deal involving the change of owners of property valued at $120,000 was concluded last week when Art and Guy Auker purchased the 240 acres of land, the elevator, grain and other stock from Needham Brothers of Winside. The transfer included the teams on the farm and everything pertaining to the farm and elevator. Possession was given Monday, and the new firm are in charge. The Auker boys are well and favorably known and beyond a doubt have the ability to successfully carry on their new enterprise, for both are practical young men and experienced farmers. Figured as a land deal it makes the farm rate at $500 per acre, and of course, the farm is really the big end of the deal, though the improvements are rather more expensive than those of the ordinary farm.

A CHURCH BUSINESS MEETING

The annual congregational meeting of the Presbyterian church will be held Monday evening, April 5th. Reports from all departments of the church will be read. There will also be a fine social time. Each Lady of the church and congregation will bring a box supper for two. The Aid society will furnish coffee. Supper will be served before the business session. Each member of the church and congregation, and friend are urged to be present. Supper at 6:30.

Mrs. W. H. Cone of Wymore, who has been spending several weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Gulliver, her daughter, left for her home Sunday.

Mrs. Robert Perrin, who has been spending three of the winter months at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Luckey, at Sioux Falls, South Dakota, arrived home Sunday, having stopped for a few days visit at the home of her son in Sioux City. Her grandson, Rex Perrin, came to Wayne with her to aid in getting the house warmed up.

ASSESSORS MET MONDAY

There was a meeting of the precinct assessors of the county Monday at the office of County Assessor Masie, and all were present except one. A uniform schedule was presented for their guidance, so that animals and other things of like value may have a comparatively uniform assessment in the various precincts. Supplies were given out so that they may begin their work today if they wish. One who was there tells us that it was a good meeting, and one that tended to help them in their work.

A BIT OF EARLY HISTORY BY MOSE WARNER

The Lyons Mirror-Sun gives his readers a little glimpse of early day history relating to what is now the village of Homer:

A. J. White was up to Homer Friday and stopped over night in that time-honored place. He probably little dreamed that he was sleeping on historic ground.

On the 17th of August 1804 some of the men of the Lewis and Clark expedition camped on this very ground, while exploring the great Indian villages there, which was one of the largest ever known in the entire west and the surrounding country.

The first settler to land in Dakota county also camped there on St. Patrick's day 1856, and many others of the pioneers spent their first night in camp on this historic spot.

The fleeting years passed on and October 1, 1871 found M. S. Mansfield building the first house in what is today Homer. And by the way the above M. S. Mansfield passed over to the townsite of Lyons in the fall of 1865, carrying the election ballots from Decatur to the home of Jas. C. Crawford, who lived near where West Point was afterwards founded.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Quite a number of the patients were sent to their homes during the week past, among them being Earl Buskirk, who had tonsils removed; Mrs. Frangman to Humphrey, Mrs. James to Thurston, Mrs. DeWitt, of this place, who underwent a serious operation, John Finn for pneumonia, Emery Olson of Concord, Mrs. Chas. Fuoss of Laurel underwent a critical operation Wednesday.

Among the X-ray patients were Mrs. E. Gerber of this place, Mrs. Majn from out of town, Mrs. West of Randolph, Mrs. Martin of Sioux City and Mr. Ulrich and Ray Ireland of Wayne.

One dollar buys the Democrat all the remainder of 1920.

THAT SUNDAY STORM

Like the thorn between two roses came the rain and snow of Sunday. Seldom has a storm of such magnitude with such disagreeable feature been sandwiched for one short day between such perfect days as Saturday and Monday. During the early hours of Sunday morning a rain began, driven by quite a wind. This continued until about 9 o'clock Sunday morning, when falling temperature turned the moisture to snow, and in the next four hours snow had reached the top of some of the tallest poles in the city, fully 20 to 25 feet deep. Then the storm ceased, and the sun coming out soon converted the greater part of the snowfall to water. The precipitation measured one and a half inches of water, and except in shaded places no trace of the snow except the mud remained, and that was pleny Monday evening.

$5,063,680.53 REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS FOR MARCH

March, 1920, will go on record as the big real estate month in the history of Wayne county so far as past years are concerned, and probably a number of years in the future.

County Clerk C. W. Reynolds and his deputies have had a busy month, and when the March transfers were totaled last evening it was learned that the sum of all recorded transfers for the month in this little county of only twelve and one-third townships was $5,063,680.53, more than twice the sum estimated at the beginning of the month. Who can beat it?

DEATH OF HENRY D. MEIER

In the death of Henry D. Meier, which occurred at his home in the south part of the city Wednesday morning, March 31, 1920, of heart trouble and pernicious anemia, this community loses a worthy citizen. An industrious and kind husband and father has been taken from the home.

Henry D. Meier was born near Verden, Germany, March 18, 1868, and was 52 year and 13 days of age when he was taken. He came to America at the age of 19 years, and to West Point the same year. Here he was united in marriage to Vera Vagelpang, April 18, 1892, who with Winnie, Roy and Annie, their children survive him.

They came to Wayne nine years ago, purchasing an 80-acre farm adjoining the city on the south.

He was a member of the Masons, the Odd Fellows and the Modern Woodmen, and the funeral will be held from the Presbyterian church at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon with Rev. Beard preaching, and his brother Masons in charge with their beautiful funeral service at the grave.

NORTH NEBRASKA TEACHERS' MEETING

(From The Goldenrod)

There is more or less curiosity exhibited lately concerning the actual proceedings of the North Nebraska Teachers' Association. The following data is submitted in the hope that the Goldenrod will satisfy the curious and encourage attendance at the Sessions of the Association.

Among all the women of Nebraska, Miss Olivia Pound stands out as a great educator. She is principal of the Lincoln Nebraska High School. Her knowledge of young people is clearly shown in a recent article in School Review. At the Third General Session, Saturday morning, Miss will discuss "Vital Social Problems in the High School."

Dr. David Snedden, New York City. Dr. David Snedden comes to the teachers of north Nebraska as a doer and not as a theorist in education. He has been a principal of schools, a professor of education in universities, commissioner of education of Massachusetts seven years, and is now Professor of Education in Columbia University. He is the author of books on juvenile delinquency, school efficiency, educational administration, vocational education, education adjustment, and secondary education. Surely no one has a better right to speak to teachers than has Dr. Snedden. No teacher in this section of the state can afford to miss his address Friday evening on the subject of Essentials.

U. S. Conn, Wayne, Neb.

After a successful experience as teacher and superintendent of schools, President U. S. Conn, some ten years ago, began the building of the Wayne State Normal. The institution, the hospitality of which the teachers of north Nebraska enjoy at this meeting, is a testimony to his far-seeing wisdom and untiring zeal. Many members of the association are already acquainted with him by reason of personal contact, to the remainder he is known by his works. Practical, sagacious, sympathetic, keen in analysis, and helpful in suggestion, he will bring an inspiring message in his address, "The School and Its Work."

J. H. Beveridge, Omaha, Neb.

The fact that J. H. Beveridge is superintendent of the Omaha schools, the largest system in Nebraska, is conclusive evidence that he is an executive of unusual ability, and an authority on school problems. His rapid rise in the profession has been due to his untiring effort and keen judgment.

His successful efforts in improving the quality of instruction and supervision through the use of standard tests and surveys have been of interest to many educators.

Mr. Beveridge is a convincing speaker and will not fail to leave a message with his hearers.

Vocational Education

Miss Alice M. Loomis, state supervisor home economics education, C. W. Watson, state supervisor agricultural education, and C. A. Fulmer, state director, will be present for the Friday meetings. The vocational guidance conference has been provided in order that problems which concern high schools organized under the Smith-Hughes Act may be discussed.

The First General Session

The first General Session will be held Friday, April 2, at 8:15 at the Normal Auditorium. The Normal Orpheus Club has prepared special music for the occasion. Mayor J. F. Kemp will give the address of welcome and President U. S. Conn will speak on "The School and Its Work."

Special Session

At 1:30 a special session is planned in the interest of Red Cross work. The speaker at this time will be C. H. Van Tuyl of Chicago. His topic is "National Junior Red Cross Program."

Second General Session

The Normal Orchestra and Mr. Quartet will appear Friday evening at 8 p. m. Dr. David Snedden's address, "The Search for Essentials" will be preceded by a four-minute special "Keep Fit" by Supt. J. R. Armstrong of Wayne.

The business meeting of the N. T. A. will be held immediately after this session.

Third General Session

April 3 at 8 a. m. the last general session will begin. After the concert by the Wayne High School Trio, Supt. J. M. Showalter of Norfolk will talk during four minutes "Salary Facts." Miss Olivia Pound will deliver her address, "Vital Social Problems in the High School" following which Supt. J. H. Beveridge (Continued on Last Page)

JOHN J. PERSHING
for PRESIDENT

A Nebraskan led us in War—

A Nebraskan can lead us in Peace—

And—

Nebraska decides!

NEBRASKANS! Show your colors!

Let the world know where you stand.

Are you going to join with California in putting that state's favorite son across?

Are you going to play "second fiddle" to New Hampshire by helping that state make a New Hampshire man President?

Or, are you going to join with other Nebraskans in giving your own Favorite Son the biggest majority a candidate ever received?

New Hampshire has Wood; California has Johnson;
NEBRASKA HAS PERSHING.

If any other state had Pershing, would you expect it to give him less than its unanimous support?

NEBRASKA MUST NOT BE FOUND WANTING.

Pershing would not accept the nomination from professional politicians. He will accept it when it comes to him from the people of Nebraska.

The nation has weighed the other candidates and it waits. Its eyes are on Nebraska. Let Nebraska nominate Pershing, and the rest of the United States will elect him by the biggest majority ever given a Presidential candidate.

Do your part as a Nebraskan and an American!
Go to the polls on April 30th and vote for—

Pershing of Nebraska for President

J. H. Miller was a passenger to Omaha this morning, going to make a bid on some grading contract, of which there are a number yet open. His work north of Wayne is practically finished, and as we understand, no more grading is to be done on the Federal-Aid road in this county this season, but that next year there will be more money available for use in Wayne county, it being the policy of the government to give appropriations to about half the counties each alternate year.

In 2000 Counties This Month

The Forces of the Church of Christ Will Gather To Face the Facts

IN 2000 counties in the United States the pastors and laymen of 30 great denominations will meet in conference this month.

It is the kind of conference that generals hold before a critical engagement; that business men hold before entering a new market. A conference of judgment, not emotion; a clear-eyed facing of the facts.

A Survey that Business Men Must Admire

For more than a year hundreds of workers have been quietly engaged in making a scientific survey of the mission fields, and of America county by county.

The facts developed are startling. No such picture of America's religious situation has ever before been drawn.

On the basis of these surveys thirty Protestant denominations are uniting in a

Nation Wide Cooperative Campaign

Each of the thirty denominations has its own "Forward Movement" organized and officered. The Interchurch World Movement is the clearing house for all of these.

It is the agency which the churches have created to avoid duplication, to foster cooperation and make sure that every man and dollar render the utmost service possible.

The month of April will be devoted to making the facts of the survey known to America; in the week of April 25th-May 2nd, will come a united simultaneous financial campaign.

Whether You Are Inside the Church or Out

To every man and every woman who loves his country, these 2000 county conferences are vitally important.

For the facts developed by this great survey show vividly what forces are at work in America—and what kind of a country this country is to be.

See that the pastor of your church appoints delegates. Any pastor can tell you the conference place and date. Or write direct to the

INTERCHURCH WORLD MOVEMENT

Mrs. Weaver came to the home they are leaving before the railroad was built through here, and when Wisner was the terminus of the line south of us, so she has seen this Logan valley country develop from unbroken prairie to a rich and prosperous farming community.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. The boys were engaged to give a series of concerts during the spring vacation week. They traveled and lived in a Pullman for the time, and visited Wichita and Kansas City, Kansas, Omaha in this state and Des Moines and Cedar Rapids, Iowa. It made a busy week, but an enjoyable one for the young men. They gave a splendid entertainment, according to the newspaper reports, and are being solicited to go out for the summer on a chautauqua circuit. Mr. and Mrs. Owen enjoyed the concert very much, they tell us.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

(From the Goldenrod)

School spirit is that feeling of the student body that identifies the interest of each individual with the entire life of the school. Some form of this spirit manifests itself in every institution, but its value to an institution depends on what kind of spirit has been developed. What is the kind of school spirit that should be developed? Every individual in the whole institution should have the welfare of the school in mind. He should suppress his own feelings and prejudices for the sake of the common good. He should cooperate with the teacher and fellow students in all his work with them, that more good will be derived. They are like the parts of a huge machine. If a few of them do not do their part it makes the school spirit weak, as a few defective parts of a machine will spoil the machine. Not alone must each individual cooperate but also the many small groups of which the school is composed. They should set aside their prejudices that they may act together with the whole mass. Each class should suppress class loyalty at times when it is best for the benefit of the whole school. All faculty members should cooperate with the mass. They should not be biased by likes or dislikes of groups or individuals. They should stand for the highest ideals in work and play. All members of basketball, football, baseball, or any other kind of team should not swagger over victory, or give an alibi because of defeat, but should always be gentlemen when visiting another school or at home.

Why is it of such great importance to have this kind of school spirit? In the first place, a school is judged by the kind of men and women who graduate from it and by the athletic teams it sends to compete with other institutions. If an individual spends his time telling of all the frivolous things he has done and the many times that he has broken rules, or how he bluffed through various subjects, these things will reflect on the school and it will be judged unjustly. On the other hand the individual who tells of the class room work, the laboratories and their equipment, the many excellent educational and religious organizations along with his good times, will make a much better name for the school. Athletic teams are considered representatives of the best in the school. If they act like men and show their school spirit the school which they represent will be considered a good school. That a school should have a good name is very valuable to it, because the school will become better known and the attendance will be larger. Positions will be waiting for graduates of a school which has such a fine spirit. In the second place, the right kind of school spirit will be of great value to the individuals. Habits of cooperation and subjecting one's feelings and prejudices will be required of good citizens. The persons who have developed these habits in school will be able to solve the national and international problems. If a school has the right kind of spirit more students will attend it and these young men and women will be better prepared to take their part in the affairs of a nation.

How can the best school spirit be developed? First, it can be developed only with the aid of the faculty. By their example they can inculcate in the minds of the students high ideals, as honesty and fairness in play. Such organizations of which they are sponsors should not be allowed to do anything that would do harm to the common good. The coaches of athletic teams should never allow an exception for punishing a player who has disobeyed any rule. A second essential in the developing of school spirit is the wise selection of leaders. The young men and women who are chosen to be at the head of various organizations in a school should be broad-minded and public-spirited, capable of leading others in the right way. The students of the school should not sanction "dirty" athletics. They can show their disapproval of such behavior by refusing to attend the games. Each student must be made conscious of the fact that he is a part of a big organization and that he must do his part that it may be better. When every individual, faculty member, group, and organization works together for the common good, then will the best school spirit be developed.

NORMAL TRAINING SCHOOL

Last Monday was an interesting day for pupils and teachers in the Training School. It was the beginning of the last quarter, which means that each teacher will have a new class and each class a new teacher.

Forty-two Seniors are teaching in the Training School, beginning with the fourth quarter. If you wish to see a busy place on the Hill, step into any department of the school between eight o'clock in the morning and six in the evening.

Roland Vinckel is elected to a position in the Lyons schools at a salary of $1600. At present he is teaching in the grammar department and is doing excellent work. Jane Randol has accepted a position in the primary grades at Wausau.

An interesting project just completed in the Junior High School was the dramatization of Merchant of Venice by pupils of the eighth grade under the direction of Russell Prescott. Special attention was given to the trial scene of the play, the entire class taking part in the dramatization of this scene and using costumes and stage properties. A number of the pupils were so earnest and enthusiastic about the matter that they memorized their lines from day to day. The final problem in the study of the play was a debate on the question, Resolved: That Bassanio is a weak character in the play.

Struck by the notice, "Iron Sinks," in a shop window, a wag went inside and said he was perfectly aware of the fact that "iron sank."

Alive to the occasion the smart shopkeeper retorted:

"Yes, and time flies, but wine vaults, sulphur springs, jam rolls, grass slopes, music stands, Niagara Falls, moonlight walks, sheep run, Kent hops and holiday trips, scandal spreads, standard weights, India rubber tires, the organ stops, the world goes round, trade returns, and—"

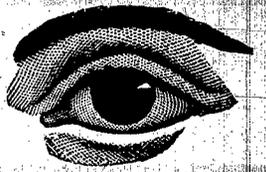

But the visitor had bolted. After collecting his thoughts he returned, and, showing his head at the doorway, shouted: "Yes, I agree with all of that perfectly—and marble busts.—London Opinion.

Unless you are living for something, and know what it is; unless you have a definite aim in view; unless you are making the most of every talent; unless you are expanding, growing, achieving better and better and greater and greater results, as the days and months go by, you are not living in the best sense of the world—only existing.—Tarbell.

MORE PEOPLE READ BOOKS

According to English Authority, This Is One of the Results of the War.

There are five times as many people in England reading books as there were before the war, according to Sir Ernest Williams, one of the foremost publishers of London. He says war has taught the people there the value of books, and shown them the joy of reading. When air raids were numerous and all social activities stopped, there still remained the inner room, the light and books. There was a quick demand developed for light reading, but it has changed and grown so that now the best books are most in demand. When air raids were ended and lights and social activities were used again, the habit of reading was continued and has grown rapidly the past year.

There is an insistent demand, this publisher says, for books that deal with real life. It is his belief that out of the experiences of war has been born a deeper appreciation of life and understanding of how tremendously worth living it is. On this new consciousness he bases the demand for books that deal sincerely with problems of life.—Ohio State Journal.

ISLAND SAVED BY WOMEN

How the Female Population of Helgoland Upset Calculations of Danish Admirals.

Helgoland, the naval wall flower during the World war, had its fate decided, upon one memorable occasion, by the women of the island, according to a bulletin of the National Geographic society. About the time William Penn was settling Pennsylvania a Danish admiral captured the island's fishermen one night while they were placing their nets. He threatened to hold them as hostages until the island surrendered to Denmark. Wives, mothers and sisters arose and forced the Danish garrison to relinquish any claim upon Helgoland.

In the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries Helgoland was a center of the North sea herring fisheries. Then herring veered back to Scotland's coast and the Islanders handed down a tale of the implety by which they forfeited the boon. Until a few years ago horses were unknown to the island. One story has it that when an old woman saw an Englishman ride up the hills she dropped dead from the shock of what she believed was a supernatural creature.

Humidity.

Humidity is the moisture or aqueous vapor in the atmosphere. The vapor is really an invisible gas. When this vapor becomes visible it is called dew, fog, mist, haze, clouds, rain, snow, hail, etc., according to the size of the drops of water or the method by which the vapor condenses. A given space at a given temperature can contain only a definite amount of moisture. When a given space contains all of the moisture it is capable of holding it is said to be saturated. The percentage of moisture in the air to what it would hold if saturated is called the relative humidity. When the air is saturated with moisture the humidity would be 100 per cent, and if half saturated 50 per cent, three-quarter saturated 75 per cent. The increased humidity has much to do with the effect of the temperature on the individual, which is the reason the subject is so commonly discussed during hot periods.

Responsibilities.

Thinking of others does not excuse folks from respecting their own responsibilities. The world wouldn't get along very fast if all our time and thoughts were given to others. To get along and have the means to be helpful to others we must do considerable for ourselves. Our job must bring enough returns to the boss to pay him for the trouble of bothering with us. Our home life touches others and we must see to it that our contact leaves them happier for the touch. Life is more than mere routine however much it may seem to be cast in a one piece mold. It's our thoughts for others that lift us out of the humdrum and make life worth living. There's no limit to the enthusiasm of life when concern for another's welfare gets hold of you.

Envied the Tailor.

When Douglas Fairbanks was a little boy, five years old, he lived in Denver, and he was always sent to bed much earlier than he wanted to go. Opposite his bedroom was a tailor shop where the lights burned brightly a long time after Douglas went to sleep. He used to lie and watch the industrious tailor, and one day he surprised his father by saying that he knew what he wanted to do when he grew up: he would be a tailor. "Why?" said his father. "Because," said Douglas, "I could sit up then as long as I wanted to—all night if I pleased."

HELD FAST TO THOSE FISH

Indianapolis Man Was Taking No Chances of Losing the Prizes He Had Secured.

Tom Genolin, of the railway mail service, tells a thrilling story of how once upon a time he was tempted and fell; how in the early hours of morning he slipped away to a "posted" stream and drew from thence five of the most beautiful bass ever seen. The climax of his story reads thus:

"The glorious day was peeping and creeping through the silent trees when I gathered up my bunch of beauties and started homeward. I had not gone far when I laid them in a clump of grass while I filled my pipe. When I started to pick them up again lo and behold they were gone. A slight stir under a nearby bush brought visions of some prowling thief and I threw myself prone upon the bush and clutched for the place where the fish might be. That is when I awoke and gathered myself up from the bedroom floor where I lay clutching a jangling alarm clock."

Mr. Genolin thus ends the story: "The tragic and unbelievable part of my story is yet to be told. The day after the incident related I went to the pool concerning which I had dreamed and there I fished precisely as I fished in my dream and I caught five beautiful bass precisely as I had caught them in my dream and, lastly, I returned home with them, but not once did I lay them down in a clump of grass."—Indianapolis News.

CALL FOR A NATIONAL CRY

Great Need in This Country, 'Tis Said, for an Explosive, Explosive Yell.

American audiences are charged with being unresponsive and apathetic, particularly in patriotic outdoor demonstrations. Americans are not incapable of making loud, loyal noises, and not averse thereto. But rarely is a parade staged in this city that does not move throughout a large part of its course between silent lines of spectators. The result is sometimes so depressing as largely to neutralize the desired effect of the parade.

The will to cheer doubtless arises all along the line, but there is no short and easily exploded yell known to us. "Hurrah," is the traditional American word for cheer, but no man will venture its use in public, unless in the wake of a cheer leader who prefaces it with a "hip, hip, hip!" Even then the usual response testifies that this method of cheering is getting rusty.

There is no lack of cheering on an American football field, nor at any kind of a demonstration on a college campus. The reason for this is that good, expressive, explosive yells have been devised for outdoor use. And because they do explode, and because they stand for something, the American public likes to use them. They also like to follow a good yell leader. America needs a national yell. The man who can coin one will do the country a great service.—Minneapolis Journal.

Improved Stereopticon.

A recent development of the stereopticon operates automatically, throwing upon a screen a certain number of lantern-slide views, usually 46, but 100 or 200 or more by special adaptation. The apparatus includes a 1,000 candle power nitrogen-tungsten lamp, condensing and objective lenses, and a small motor to be connected to a lamp socket on either a direct or alternating current circuit. The machine shifts the slides automatically, allowing each picture to remain on the screen 12 seconds before being replaced by the next. The outfit with screen, slides, etc., packs into a suitcase, and is especially fitted to enable the traveling salesman to show goods by picture, though also adapted for educational displays, home entertainment and a great variety of other purposes.

Valuable Tree.

A giant kauri tree has been logged by the Queensland forest service and the timber sold for $1,000. It was known as Bell's tree and yielded 17,000 superficial feet of timber in five huge logs, and the logging costs amounted to $500. The net stumpage came to twelve feet 8 inches per 100 super feet. Had the tree been smaller a higher price would have been realized, as few saw-millers cared to handle it. This giant of the forest was offered to a timber-getter for $30 on the stump, being at the rate of less than 20 cents per super feet, twelve years ago.

The Artistic Temperament.

The landlady announced that a well-known humorist and cartoonist was to join us at our boarding house and we all had expectations of meeting a jolly good fellow who would drive dull care away. When he arrived he insisted on having a small table by himself, and instead of drawing his chair up to the table always drew the table to him, eating facing the wall, with his back to the guests, and declined to meet anyone. All in all he was a sad character to gaze upon and a great disappointment to the guests.—Exchange.

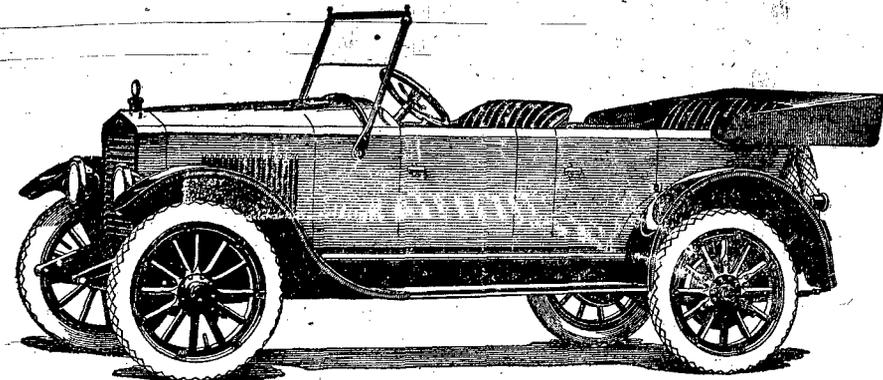

"Mark Him Duty."

Wealthy Patient—Oh, doctor, I have such a bad cold, I can't go to the office this morning. Can't you do something for it?

Also Judge Essex Fineness By the Hudson Standard

The Essex is Famous for Hudson Design and Super-Six Motor Still World Supreme

Essex performance proofs naturally over-shadow its qualities of quieter appeal.

For prior to Essex, it was held that light weight must mean some forfeit in smoothness, speed, power and endurance.

But even those whose choice was decided by its supreme performance ability are captivated by its notable beauty of design, its luxurious fittings and its quiet riding ease.

It is not merely that Essex matches large, high priced cars in comfort. It is not only its speed, its quickness at the getaway and its quiet mastery of the hills. Its charm is the combination of these qualities with a flying smoothness, in action and responsiveness that heed the highest touch.

Great Surplus Power Makes Driving a Joy

Abundant surplus power handles the Essex with ease in every situation. This surplus power and strength, beyond any need you will ever have, accounts for Essex smoothness in tasks at which many cars strain with permanent injury to their mechanism.

Every day you see Hudson's two and three years old, which, both in style and performance, might well be judged of recent production.

Advance ideas you will always find in Hudson. That fact created its style leadership. But they must earn their right to belong. No mere straining after something new has ever won a place for a single feature in Hudson design.

On fashionable boulevards you see more Hudson chauffeur-driven cars than any other make. Yet leadership in style alone was not enough to win such recognition.

Hudson Leads All Fine Cars in Performance

Hudson's chief advantage has always been in performance. Its many official speed, power and endurance records were made four or five years ago. But they still stand. They account for Hudson becoming the world's largest selling fine car.

Those records are the reason why no change has ever been made in the principle of the Super-Six motor. It is exclusive in Hudson. You can get its advantages in no other car.
