GREAT STORM VISITS NORTHEAST NEBRASKA

Not in recent years has so much rain fallen in this part of Nebraska as came Monday night. According to the best information obtainable from different sources, from Bloomfield on the north to our county line south, and from Norfolk to Sioux City, a great rain storm swept the country. Some small areas have frequently reported greater precipitation in shorter time, but from all reports we can get, over this great territory the rainfall was two or more inches, within an hour. Not the same hour at all points, for it was early in the evening at Bloomfield, later here, and east of here still later.

Railroads Suffer.

Much railroad track was put out of business. Several miles of track was under water between here and Winfield, and much had to be dragged back to place and filled under and put in running shape. This was the last piece of the Sioux City-Norfolk line to be in shape for trains to pass, and it was not until this morning that the first train could get over.

Between here and Wakefield much damage was done, and it was late Wednesday before the first work train and crew got into Wayne. The Bloomfield branch suffered, and a crew from Bloomfield reached Wayne Wednesday afternoon and later returned to Bloomfield when it was learned that no train other than a work train would reach here Wednesday evening with mail, express or passengers. The evening train would have come this far but for the fact that track at the Y was so demoralized that the train could not be turned round for return trip. So Postmaster Berry sent a truck to Wakefield for mail, and brought quite an accumulation of dailies and letters. The daily looked good, even if some of them were a day old.

Between Emerson and Sioux City not much damage was reported—except that the approach to the Missouri river bridge was impassable for a time. South from Emerson but little damage or train delay has been reported.

The branch from Crofton to Wakefield was not rendered impassable, but the first trains over had their difficulties.

County Loses Bridges.

Reports from over the county, the commissioners tell us, indicate that from 14 to 16 bridges are out of commission. Some are entirely out, others undermined at one end, or piling taken. Some are old, others better. But one of the many concrete bridges is yet reported out, and that is in the Splitgerber neighborhood. Highway Commissioner Corbit tells us that he fears all bridge losses are not yet reported. The commissioners were in session Tuesday and Wednesday, and in addition to the regular routine business were ready to direct work on the bridges.

Greatest Downpour Visits Wayne

What old-timers say was the heaviest rainfall in their experience in this vicinity came Monday evening when two storm clouds, one from the southeast and the other from the northwest appeared to meet above Wayne and crowd each other up into the cooler air above until it simply ran the water out in streams. Stories of how much rain fell do not agree—it may have been much heavier in some places than others. But all agree that it was plenty, and that it came too fast. The rain gauge at the State Bank said the fall there was 2.66 inches, and the chief of police who was in and out of the bank during the downpour, and most in, said that two inches of the precipitation came in an hour and five minutes, beginning at 10 o'clock.

Rain continued at intervals during the night, but the great bulk came during that hour, causing much damage to corn, pastures and hay land. Some people tell us that at their place the fall was no less than four or five inches, measured in some dish outside. One woman had a small jar with no flare to its build, and it was full, and as deep as four inches. She had no means of knowing how much it had overflowed. In some parts of the downtown district the water was over the sidewalks, but at no place did it come high enough to get into the building, except a little at the Fred Blair store. The basement of the Gem cafe shipped about twelve inches of water more than escaped through their storm drain before they succeeded in checking the intake. Most of the goods were up in the dry, however; but it made a nasty mess to clean out, and the proprietor said he would rather have $500 than have it happen again—and that while that sum would cover their loss and then some he would rather give that sum than have the experience repeated.

A number of cellars in the east part of the city were flooded more or less, for our new storm sewers are not yet in running order, but they were needed as never before.

Fences Washed Away

One of the common complaints when we ask farmers about their losses is that it carried away fences. Another is that it washed corn out, and some fields are washed clean as deep as they were plowed, and corn in low places is hopelessly buried. Low pasture land as well as meadow land is covered with a deposit which will spoil the pasture for a time, and perhaps ruin the hay crop. It is yet too soon to say what the permanent damage will be to these crops. Small grain was not large enough yet to be seriously damaged where not washed or flooded.

Just west of Wayne the water took fences and some railroad track. It ran a river through the Gus Zleman tract, and took his fence down to the Gossard tract, and the Gossard fence went to the man below. The Gossard cows had no pasture—Tuesday, it being under water, and was left with a coat of mud.

What Some Say

Ike Richardson, long a resident here, says it was the worst he ever saw, that he never but once saw the Logan higher.

J. M. Roberts, for about ten years a resident north of Wayne, says he never before saw Dog creek as high nor as much rain in so short a time.

Wayne people are not fully agreed who live in the southwest part of town whether the Monday night downpour or the rain and hail storm of ten years ago this June made more water run down the draw which meanders down west of the school building and crosses 1st street about three blocks west of Main street. The old high water mark is gone, was tipped over and washed away.

Lightning Kills Cattle

Ed Hagemann lost eight head of cattle, six yearlings, a cow and a bull, who are told. All were evidently killed by a single bolt of lightning.

Stock Shipments Delayed

Wm. Blecke had a car each of cattle and hogs loaded for the early morning train to take to market, but that train has not gone yet, and the stock is being boarded in the stock yards here. Wm. Harder also has a load of hogs waiting for a train.

ROOT—GENTLEMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Root announce the marriage of their daughter, Alice Mae to Edward Wm. Gentleman, Tuesday June 1, 1920, at St. Michaels church, Central City, Nebraska. At home after June 15, Glenrock, Wyoming.

Thus reads an announcement card telling of the marriage of Miss Alice Root of Sholes to Edward Wm. Gentleman of Glenrock. Miss Root has spent her life in this county, is a graduate from the Wayne Normal, and a successful teacher, who has just closed her school work at Albion, where she taught for the past two years. Mrs. Root was at Wayne Friday going to Albion to visit the daughter and attend the wedding. The bride and groom will go to their homestead home in Wyoming at the close of a short wedding trip. The many friends of Miss Root will wish her a life of happiness.

AIR MEN BRING PAPERS

Wednesday morning about 11 o'clock an airship from Sioux City dropped a bundle of the morning edition of the Tribune down for Wayne, and an article in the paper stated that they were supplying a number of the towns in this corner of Nebraska that are cut off for a short time from train service. The paper was welcome to many—but they learned that the world is moving along much the same as in normal times, and this little spot being shut out for the time does not seem to upset the world affairs much.

We notice that the question of who is to be the republican presidential nominee is still an open question in the minds of many. It is asserted the Boss Penrose of Pennsylvania, a very ill man, will not admit that he is not able to attend to that little matter and let the delegates now gathering know who to name when the time comes. Others claim that he will not be able to boss the show.

A FAIR AT WAYNE SEPTEMBER 15, 16, 17

Last season Wayne got into the fair game in a hurry and put up a fine exhibit of stock, grain, fruit, machinery and other things in two weeks. That was not fair to many interests. It takes time to fit stock to show at its best in the ring. It is too late after the crop is harvested to secure the best of grain or fruit for a show. Now is the time to begin, and a committee of the officers of the fair organization have made the start. At a meeting Monday evening the above dates were selected, and superintendents named for the following departments:

Cattle, Wm. Lessman.
Horses, D. D. Tobias, assisted by Dave Jenkins and Wm. Harrison.
Swine, Wm. E. VonSeggern.
Sheep, Cradoc Morris.
Agriculture, H. B. Craven.
Implements and Automobiles, Ernest Bichel, C. W. Hiscox, E. W. Wright.

Domestic Science, Mrs. E. W. Huse.
Schools, Miss Pearl Sewell.

It will now be in order for every farmer, every dealer, every man woman and children of the community—by community we mean all tributary to Wayne—to get very busy and make the fair a success.

Advertising is the life of trade—advertising is publicity—and a real fair give the greatest possible publicity for a community. The better the fair the better the advertising and the better for the community. We are pleased to give this announcement, because this early action means a better fair.

HOMER FLOODED BADLY

From all accounts, the town of Homer was worst hit of any town in the flooded territory. Omaha creek seemed to have been loaded with more than its share of the surplus water, and for the second time this spring that place was flooded. The flood of Monday night or Tuesday morning was the worst ever known in this part of the state. A dispatch to the daily papers states that every building in the town was flooded and that one-third of them were washed away, and the flood reached a mark more than three feet above the deluge of three weeks before.

The loss is estimated from a half million to a million dollars. The railroad track was washed out both above and below the town. Telephone and telegraph wires and poles were down. No word came from the stricken town until a lineman had waded to a point from where he could get a wire to Sioux City. He said he was standing in water waist deep while telling his story.

Food shortage exists there, and plans are being made to send in supplies.

THE SHIFTING FAMILIES

A little moving was going on this week in the way of relocating families. J. S. Horney has purchased the Porrest L. Hughes house and taken possession. This vacated the Chet Witter property which Ralph Rundell recently purchased, and to which he now moves. We do not know who is to follow Mr. Rundell, nor who will edge in where they move from. But the Hughes family have moved away, and that makes an opening for a lot of people to slide up a notch.

O. R. Bowen, it was reported, was to move to the Hughes house—but did not, and so many people were trying to rent the Moses house in which they have lived so long that he decided to purchase the same and thus avoid immediate danger of having to move into the street to vacate for a new owner. To purchase is the only safe proposition.

FARMER UNION MEETING ADJOURNED TO SATURDAY

On account of weather and road conditions the required number of stock holders failed to get in for the called meeting of the members of the Farmer Co-Operation Association here last Tuesday, and the meeting adjourned to meet at the called place Saturday afternoon of this week. They are considering business of importance.

BARBER SHOP RE-OPENED

Having purchased the Homer Wheaton shop under the First National Bank, and taken possession today, I invite the patrons of the shop and my friends and strangers to drop in, assuring them the best of service, and careful attention to their needs. In my line, I will be pleased to serve you. Eric Thielman, Barber.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING

The Wayne Woman's Club will hold its regular meeting at the Opera House, Saturday, June 5th at 3 p. m. Every member is urged to be present and on time, as there are several important matters of business to be discussed. The matter of securing rooms for the summer school students at the State Normal will be taken up. Surely each member of the Woman's Club should be interested in seeing that students and teachers have comfortable living quarters at a reasonable price.

Then we are to have a treat in having on the program the Rev. Howard B. Dinwiddie, Secretary of the Victorious Life Conference Board, and one of the group of able ministers who will be in the Conference at Wayne, June 11th to 14th. Rev. Dinwiddie has had a broad business experience and extensive responsibility as General Inspector of the Department of Public Charities for twelve years in Greater New York. Being head of the great supervising bureau with over three hundred institutions under his oversight was an overwhelming task. Close contact with the various educational, charitable and religious agencies and long familiarity with them, deepened the conviction that in no vital way could the personal, public, and economic problem be solved except as men came into contact with the Lord Jesus Christ. This conviction led him to resign his important position to enter the ministry, and later to take up his present work.

Come to the Woman's Club meeting Saturday and hear Rev. Dinwiddie and his pleasing singer and co-worker, Dr. Duncan Thomas, at present, pastor of the Dunsmore Presbyterian church of Scranton, Pennsylvania.

WEBER—VOGEL

At the St. Mary's Catholic church in this city, Wednesday morning, June 2, 1920, at 9 o'clock occurred the marriage of Mr. Albert W. Vogel of Sioux City and Miss Agnes H. Weber of this city. Rev. Father Kearns officiating. Relatives, and friends of the family were present to witness this solemn ceremony, at the close which a number of invited guests went to the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weber where an elegant wedding breakfast was served.

The groom is a resident of Sioux City, where his home is to be, and where he conducts a prosperous business. The bride is too well known in this her native home to really need to have her many good traits mentioned but a graduate from the Wayne high school, a student at the Normal, with a business experience in millinery and dressmaking and an expert house and home keeper, she is indeed well fitted to be a helper in the new life partnership formed at this time. All wish them a happy, prosperous life.

They left this morning for their Sioux City home.

It was disappointing that the storm of Monday night prevented many out of town relatives and friends from being present at the wedding, but when the hour arrived, the groom having taken no chances and arrived ahead of the storm, the pledges were given.

HOSPITAL NOTES

We have our comparatively quiet weeks. This week tonsils and adenoids were removed from Miss Helen Hertz of Fairfax, South Dakota, Robert Gulliver of this place and James Smith from Hartington.

Mrs. S. E. Porter of Wayne and Andrew Johnson from Randolph submitted to x-ray examinations this week.

TRAIN SERVICE NOW

This morning the branch train went on to Emerson with mail and thru business; the train from Norfolk being scheduled four hours late. Trains from the east running close to schedule time now, and the gap between here and Norfolk is due to be passable by noon today. Sioux City evening papers for Wednesday evening were sent over the Burlington to Randolph and brought to Wayne this morning on the branch train.

A NEW TAILOR SHOP

I have opened a shop in the basement under the F. S. Berry office and will do all kinds of tailoring repair work, for men, women or children garments, cleaning and pressing. Bring your work, F. J. Schmalstieg, Tailor.

AMERICAN LEGION BALL TEAM

A strong home base ball team has been organized at this place among the ex-soldier boys, and they are going out occasionally and winning some games, and meeting defeat at others. Thus far their record is 50-50. Below is the record of the game Sunday last.

Wayne Loses to Concord 8 to 6. The Concord team, though outlived by Wayne, defeated the latter in a slow game on Concord's field Sunday afternoon by the score of 8 to 6.

The game was characterized by heavy hitting of both teams, Concord getting ten hits off of Worley and Sund, while Wayne landed on Smith for fourteen safeties, three of which were three-baggers.

Wayne took the lead in the first, Johnson took first, being hit by a pitched ball, and went to third on Strahan's infield out. Peck singled past third scoring the Wayne lead-off man. Wayne then scored two more in the second and third inning and one more in the sixth. Concord scored their first in the second, when with the bases full Worley walked Hancock, forcing in the run. The Concord batters drove in five runs in the seventh on five hits and two errors and in their half of the eighth scored two more.

MAXWELL—SWANSON

Wednesday, June 2, 1920, at county court room by Judge J. M. Cherry, Mr. George B. Swanson of Wausa and Miss Alta J. Maxwell of Bloomfield were united in marriage.

The bride has been for several years a teacher near Bloomfield, and the groom conducts a meat market at Wausa, where their home will be. They drove to Wayne by auto from Bloomfield Wednesday, accompanied by the bride's sister Miss Bernice Maxwell and the groom's brother Carl Swanson accompanied the bride and groom. Following the ceremony, which was about four o'clock, the party started out on their home trip—but as they were late here because of bad roads, they may have been late home, if they completed the journey that day.

GIRLS AND BOYS AT LINCOLN

About 150 boys and girls, members of standard clubs over the state, were expected at Lincoln the first of the week to attend the boys' and girls' club week at the college of agriculture. The majority of them came with all expenses paid as a result of their excellence as a member of some pig, corn, poultry, potato, calf, cooking, baking or sewing club. Funds for financing their trips were given by the stockyards companies of Omaha, Sioux City and St. Joseph, the Gooch Milling company and the Hazel Atlas Glass company.

John Fleer from Winside and John Johnson of Wakefield are from this vicinity.

Life Conference Meeting

Friday afternoon of this week a reception will be tendered the Victorious Life Conference speakers Rev. Howard B. Dinwiddie of Philadelphia and Dr. Duncan Thomas, of Scranton Pennsylvania, at the home of C. L. Wright in the former Menard residence.

The Victorious Life Conference will be held at the auditorium of the State Normal the evenings of June 11th and 12th, and Sunday afternoon, the 13th.

Let Wayne attend and prove the middle west not so far behind their native southland in gentle hospitality.

These workers are not coming with some new "ism" to present but preach Christ only as a sufficient Savior in all their conference messages. No organizations are made and little mention of offering.

Dr. Thomas is spending a months vacation in Conference work and will then return to his large church in Scranton, Pennsylvania.

FEDERAL PHONOGRAPHER

Wednesday it was the writer's pleasure to listen to the music produced on that newest phonograph, the Cathedral, in which a number of our citizens are interested to at least the extent of owning a bit of stock in the company, and one Wayne man has a place on the board of directors, and has been one of the active members in arranging for the building and distribution of this new instrument. A salesman sample machine came here the first of the week, and may be seen or heard at the Frank Gaertner store while here.

Mr. Ernest Boder of Omaha, advertising manager, is here and he tells us that the first 1,000 machines from the factory are now on their way to dealers in all parts of the country, and that Wayne is to have an allotment as soon as the railroads can get them here.

As a piece of furniture this phonograph is all that could be wished. All of the various models being finely finished as to cabinet, engraving and artistic designs. As a music producer their adjustable reproducer is so arranged that it will produce music from the Edison, Victor or Pathe record fully as good as the reproducer made expressly for those machines. In fact, some think they have a better tone than the other machines. The reproducer is simply adjusted to fit any of the above named records, by one turn of the wrist. Mr. Gaertner tells us that he thinks they have the best device yet invented for throwing out the notes, being made much the same as the sounding board of piano. It is not possible here, with our little knowledge of the mechanism of this machine to give an idea of its many superior qualities, but it will interest any lover of music to listen to its clear tones.

In view of the large summer enrollment expected at the State Normal School, many of our citizens will open their homes to students roomers who have not done so heretofore. Anticipating this condition we have investigated the prevailing charges for rooms at other institutions similar to the State Normal and find the charges for a room for two students having everything furnished range from $8.00 to $18.00 a month. The lower priced rooms are usually small and in homes which are not modern. The higher priced rooms are large airy rooms in the best modern homes. A fair average seems to be from twelve to fourteen dollars for good rooms.

The above is merely offered as a suggestion and in no sense is intended to dictate a price. No one is expected to donate accommodation to the student neither can we afford to be accused of profiteering at the student's expense; to do so would react seriously upon the institution. All any student expects is just fair treatment and he is willing to pay a reasonable price for reasonable accommodations. We are sure that our citizens will arise to the emergency as they have always done and that no student will have an occasion to report that he has not received a square deal.

GRADING AND PAVING

Work and weather this spring have not seemed to be in harmony. The grading of the second paying district is nearly finished, but there is some friction as to grades, and as the council has not taken any definite action no one knows just what the outcome will be—but we hope nothing serious. The laying of curb, gutter and base is completed nearly to 10th street. Brick for the top are not yet here.

The storm sewer work is moving slowly, with some work both on intakes and outlet to be finished.

IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMERTIME

The Commencement exercises are all over and the boys and girls are home for the summer. Now is the time to be sure that when the next school year commences, they will be healthy and in a position to take up their work with renewed vigor. In this vacation have their spines analyzed, and if there is any defect have it rectified. CHIROPRACTIC VERTEBRAL ADJUSTMENTS will do this. A SPINAL ANALYSIS now will probably be the means of preventing much sickness in the future. Consultation and Spinal Analysis free Drs. Lewis & Lewis, Wayne Neb.—adv.

Chas. Bright from Chadron spent Saturday with Wayne friends, coming over from Winside where he had business matters to look after.

Miss Betcher of the Normal faculty left the last of the week to visit a short time at McCook, after which she will go to Chicago and take some special work at the University.

Henry Schroen came from Norfolk Sunday for the day, and to accompany his wife home at the end of a week visit here. Miss Fay Beckenhauer went with them for a visit at their home.

Aug. Wittler was at Norfolk Saturday, going over in the morning, and returning Sunday morning, accompanied by Mrs. Wittler, who has been at a hospital in that city for treatment several weeks.

Miss Florence Hoy of West Point, who is one of the regular teachers at Bloomfield, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. White Saturday, while on her way to her home, her school work for the season having ended last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Benstead from Allen drove over Decoration day to visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. DeLaney. Her great-grandfather, R. P. Williams accompanied them when they returned home Sunday evening for a short stay.

Miss Margurite Forbes came out from Sioux City for a Sunday with home folks.

Miss Louise Wendt went to Randolph Saturday for a week-end visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Fahn.

Mrs. L. V. Gregire from Craig returned home Saturday after spending a week here at the home of Rev. and Mrs. S. X. Cross, her daughter.

Mrs. V. L. Dayton from Carrol was here Friday morning on her way to Lincoln where she will visit her old home and also celebrate the 20th anniversary of her graduation from the University at the alumni banquet to be given this week.

Miss Martha Pierce, accompanied by her niece, Miss Dorothy Pierce, who has been attending the Normal went to Lincoln the last of the week, where Miss Pierce will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Pierce, and the young lady will spend the summer vacation.

Joseph Darwisch, who has been selling goods through this part of Nebraska for a dozen or more years, and is supplied with goods by Allaway & Hassan of Sioux City, was a caller Saturday, it being his first visit to his regular customers in this county this spring. He left his car here over Sunday and went to Sioux City Saturday to Sunday with home folks. He reports that he finds business good.

Chas. Rubeck and family leave this week for an extended automobile trip which they expect will not terminate until they have reached the west coast country in northern Washington. Mr. R. tells us that when they live in the open they all appear to keep well, but when they house up in their home here sickness makes a world of trouble. Last season they went by car to New Mexico and back. His son is running the home farm.

Ralph Ingham, who is attending the University of Chicago, was home for a Sunday visit with his parents and numerous Wayne friends. Ralph, his father tells us, is taking a course to fit him to do great things in the commercial world. Adv writing is one of the branches he is laboring on, and that is a great thing in any successful business. Ralph and other students are sent out to secure positions where they can have practice as well as theory, and thus learn their fallings, if any in time to apply a remedy. A commercial education is a great advantage, and something almost necessary in order to succeed these days. We are told that hundreds of Chicago and nearby business men are taking this and other commercial courses to aid them in properly conducting their business—and doing it while carrying on a good business.

Mrs. Thos. Fox came from Gregory, South Dakota, Monday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Scott and other friends.

Omaha seems to like it dry pretty well, for they are going to build four miles of levy to protect the city from the wet of the river.

Miss Pearl LeCroix from Sioux City returned home Monday morning, after spending Decoration day here, a guest of Miss Pearl Riese.

James Rennick returned to his home at Pilger Saturday, after spending some time here getting his new Wayne home ready for occupancy this fall.

Miss Grace Nettleton was here from Sioux City for Decoration day, to place flowers on the grave of her father, and visit relatives and friends.

Homor Seace and Leroy Ley went to Sioux City the last of the week, and came home in a new truck for use in the business of the Paramount Ice concern.

Miss Winifred Fleetwood came out from Sioux City Sunday morning to visit Wayne friends, a guest at the home of her brother, E. E. Fleetwood and family.

C. M. Ammidown, who has been spending several weeks at Wayne for his health, returned to Norfolk the first of the week, feeling much better than when he came for a rest.

Masters Charles and Braden Carhart were passengers to Wakefield Monday morning, going to visit a few vacation days at the home of Braden's grandparents in that city.

Miss Lillian Clevier from Sioux City, who has been at the James Pile home caring for their little one during a siege of measles and pneumonia, returned home Monday morning.

Elmer Richardson was down from Bloomfield for Decoration day, returning Monday morning. He reports that his father is in poor health, and that he is just able to be about in good weather.

Mrs. E. E. Lackey and daughter Neva and Mrs. Gertrude Sonner and daughter Donna left Monday to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Farrier, at Chambers. Mrs. F. and Mrs. Lackey are sisters.

Mrs. Lydia Hartshorn, and her mother, Mrs. Geo. Buskirk were here Saturday from their home in Leslie precinct. Mrs. Hartshorn has but recently returned from a visit in the Winnipeg, Canada, country.

Krug Park at Omaha may not be what it once was as a pleasure resort, but it is said that 20,000 people attended an opening there, and it does not say or intimate that they did more than open the park.

Miss Caroline Stringer from Omaha came last week to spend Decoration Sunday here with her brother Otis, and greet a few friends in her old home town. She has been one of the Omaha teaching force for a number of years.

Monday morning Miss Mildred Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Wright, left for Keldron, South Dakota, to spend the summer vacation at the home of her aunt, Mrs. C. E. Sheldon, who has been visiting here and at Fullerton.

M. Hale from Marshal, Minnesota, was here Friday on his way to visit near Sholes. He reports that farm conditions are good in Minnesota, tho they have had some delay in getting crops in on account of the weather, but no worse, he thinks, than at Wayne.

Miss Fern Griggs came from Norfolk to spend Decoration Sunday here with home folks.

Miss Bessie Lauman came from Omaha Monday to visit Wayne relatives and friends.

Mrs. Milo Kremky and daughters Minnie and Clara were passengers to Sioux City for the day Friday.

F. L. Hughes made a day visit at Tekamah Friday—that is as much of one as he could make between trains.

Mrs. J. E. Hufford was a visitor at the Charles Kate home at Sioux City last week, going down Friday morning.

Miss Elta Munsinger, having finished the school year at the Normal, left Friday morning to join her parents in their home at North Platte, where they moved last spring.

Randolph has been looking for a week past for the grading outfit from Wayne to come up and rip up their streets from end to end. It makes a bad mess—but it is endured in hope of ultimate improvement in conditions. The Times says, "weather permitting," but the weather man is not permitting.

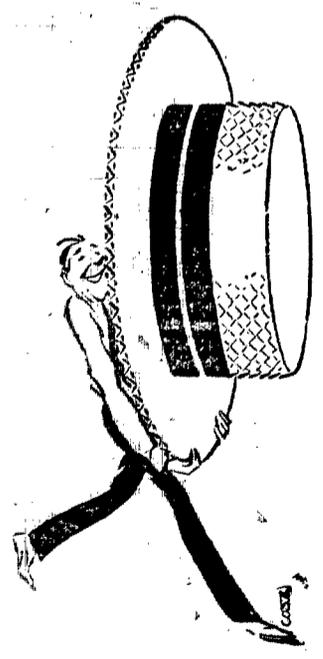

Eric Thielman has purchased from Homer Wheaton his barber shop and business in basement of First National Bank building, and takes possession as soon as a successor can be secured for him at the Mabbot shop. Eric started the trade under instruction of Mr. Wheaton, and when it became necessary for Homer to quit on account of failing health he gave the former apprentice first chance to purchase. In retiring from the shop he has presided over so long, Mr. Wheaton asks that we tell the patrons of the shop that appreciates the liberal patronage they gave him, and all their considerations in continuing patronage as long as he was able to work, even a part of the time.

Foolish fellows, those convicts who tried to get away from road camp They would surely be followed and captured. They should have applied to McKelvie for a pardon, then they might have been as free as any one to come and go as they pleased. But then, it is possible that they had no money or friends in court to start the pardon ball rolling. Perhaps their crime was too common place an offense to expect a pardon. Perhaps they never killed, or near killed any one. Possibly they never attempted to murder wife and family, if so, perhaps they could have no hope of pardon, and must take desperate chances in flight or remain prisoners.

H. E. Simon was over from Winside Monday.

Rev. Beard went to Crofton Monday, where he was to deliver a Decoration day address, Monday being observed at that place instead of Sunday, as in many places. He did not take a boat, and the waters came high, and so he did not return as expected.

WAYNE CHAUTAUQUA JULY 30 TO AUGUST 5

The above dates are named as the very probable days for holding the annual chautauqua assembly at Wayne. The management has entered into contract with the same company that served so well last season, and Secretary J. G. Mines has received an advance copy of the program, which is full of good and varied talent. The season and admission tickets are not to be expensive when one considers that amusement and educational entertainments are among the few things which are clinging close to the prices of other days, and will be for the season for adults $2.50, including war tax. For children 7 to 12, $1.10. Children under seven years of age admitted free when accompanied by parents.

The program will be rich in music every day, and the attractions given below are promised each day and evening, in the order named, beginning with the Philippine String Band, followed the second day by Lyceum Arts Trio with a special program of vocal, spoken and instrumental entertainment. The third day the Milano Sextette of New York will make the musical program one long to be pleasantly remembered by all who hear it. They will be the only entertainment for the evening when they will give a grand concert. The ever popular Wales Players are to appear the fourth day of the program while on the fifth day and evening Bland's Orchestra will fill the air with melody. Prof. Bland will be here in charge of the orchestra. The sixth day and evening the music will be by the Edward Clarke Concert company of Chicago, and will give the entire afternoon entertainment and the evening prelude. The closing day will be the greatest of all in music, with the Temple Choir for the afternoon prelude and the grand closing concert at night, a fitting finish to a week rich in musical entertainment.

The lecture part of the week will class well with any preceding chautauqua of recent years, and includes men and women of note and ability. Not all of them are yet known as famous—but we once heard W. J. Bryan before he became famous, and while we were not expecting as much as people learned to expect in other years, we were so well pleased with his eloquence and logic that we have never since missed an opportunity to hear this noted speaker—and yet he was almost unknown at that time.

The speaker for the first evening will be Bob Seeds, a famous farm philosopher. His talk promises to be of much interest in an agricultural country. His will be an evening talk for the farmers to attend. The afternoon of the second day Hazel Dopheide, a famous reader will appear, and in the evening Congressman Royal C. Johnson from South Dakota will talk, probably on economic topics.

The afternoon of the third day will give opportunity to hear Madam N. N. Selivanova, a Russian woman, who will tell of that land and the rulers who have hampered its people, both despotism, whether Czarism or Bolshevism. The speaker for the afternoon of the fourth day is not yet definitely known, but some good speaker will be announced a little later.

The audience of the afternoon of the fifth day will have the pleasure of hearing Doctor Sudhindra Bose tells of India and her awakening. He is an able speaker, and knows his subject well. Ex-Governor M. G. Brumbaugh, of Pennsylvania, a famous story-teller and lecturer from the Keystone state will give a timely address in the evening.

Beyond a doubt the 1920 chautauqua will be the equal of many previous gatherings—and Wayne has had some excellent talent. This being a presidential year, it will be hard to secure the noted politicians, but it may be that we will need a change, and opportunity to learn from others some economic truths. Later there will be more detailed information of the coming week of instruction and entertainment.

WILL BRYAN DECIDE FOR BOTH CONVENTIONS?

An exchange has the following: Bryan has figured out that none of the leading candidates for the republican nomination will be nominated for reasons given in his copyrighted article in the Omaha News. Were the progressive to be in control of the convention he thinks Senator Kenyon, of Iowa, would be a very suitable compromise candidate. Since the "old guard" will be in control, by seating enough contested delegations from the southern states, he thinks Gov. Sprovel, of Pennsylvania, the most available man. He is sound on prohibition and right on woman's suffrage. Was independent enough to run against Sen. Penrose's candidate for governor and popular enough to defeat him. He is a successful business man and a strong character.

BETTER TEACHERS; BETTER PAY

(From The Pathfinder)
In every part of the country there is an acute shortage of teachers. According to the latest figures of the bureau of education over 18,000 schools have had to be closed this year for lack of teachers, and over 40,000 more are being taught by teachers who are below the accepted standards. Dean Russell of the Teachers' College of New York says there are "no less than 130,000 vacancies in the schoolrooms of the country," many teachers doing double duty and taking charge of classes that are far too big.

Dr. Russell cited that 300,000 of our teachers are paid less than $450 a year—or only as much as a good man can earn in a month at some kinds of manual labor. "Such a condition furnishes a fertile field for radical agitators, who are already at work," he gave warning.

Ex-Secretary of Commerce Redfield, discussing this subject from a business point of view, declared that "the schools of the country are rapidly disintegrating" and that the situation is perilous.

Superintendent of Education Thurston of Washington, D. C., in a recent public address said that the low scale of wages paid teachers is undermining our whole educational system. And he added, significantly: "No civilization can rise higher than its schools." We might go on and say that the schools can't rise higher than the teachers, and that while we are raising the pay of teachers we must see that the standard of the teachers is also raised as rapidly as possible. The schools must be good the teachers must be good; the pay must be good; here are the three basic points on which our education must firmly rest.

Therefore let the teachers live up to their great mission. If they are teaching merely to make money let them resign and go into something else.

Rev. N. Sereses from Carroll was at Wayne Monday forenoon waiting for a train west that he might go to West Point where he attended the state meeting of the Nebraska-Wyoming conference of the Lutheran church, under jurisdiction of the Missouri synod. He tells us that these district meetings have grown in importance and numbers in attendance until several hundred pastors and lay delegates frequently assemble for a meeting.

Shall Nebraska Keep Her Promise?

Nebraska Has Never Erected a Memorial to Her Sons Who Fought in All the Wars

The time has come for the Patriotic People of the state to pay this lasting tribute to our fallen heroes.

Big Drive June 6-30

The Nebraska War Memorial association has planned a magnificent memorial building to be erected on the university campus at Lincoln. It will cost $1,000,000. It will be paid for by the contributions of the patriotic men and women of Nebraska. Each county will pay its due portion.

The Memorial Hall will be the big feature of the great edifice. Upon its marble walls will be engraved the names of all Nebraska soldiers and sailors.

The Museum will afford a safe place for all war trophies, relics, battle-flags, insignia, etc. The Assembly Hall will afford a meeting place for all patriotic societies, composed of men and women who wore the uniform or who did war work.

The Stadium will appeal to the young men and women who delight in athletics—out-of-door sports.

The Gymnasium will be fully equipped for every facility for conserving the physical wellbeing of the veterans.

The Memorial building will provide headquarters for all associations of veterans of all the wars.

It will be a splendid tribute to the valor and heroism of Nebraska Soldiers and Sailors.

Every man and woman in Nebraska wants to have part in this tribute.

DECORATION DAY SERVICES

Sunday seems a most appropriate day for Decoration Day services, and with perfect weather the day was observed at Wayne in a true spirit of the times. All day long people visited the "City of the Dead" bearing floral tributes to the memory of loved ones who had gone before. Not only were the graves of the soldier dead strewn with flowers, but the graves of many from all walks of life were covered with tokens of love and esteem. Not only at Wayne, but in practically every village and hamlet in this great land and beyond the sea, where sleep thousands of American dead—men who sacrificed all for a principle—Decoration day was observed and grateful people paid a tribute to the memory of the American soldier who came to their aid in a time of stress. Let us hope that from this observance of a day, so distinctly American in its origin, in other lands may come a more universal custom of giving thought to the dead and for what they stood when living, and for what they died. Such services should tend to make of all people better citizens.

The passing years thins the ranks of veterans of the great Civil War, but in their place comes another great army of young men who as freely offered their all as did the boys of '61 to '65, and while they do not represent so great a percentage of the population—and while their life losses were far less and their hardships to most of them were less, they should and will as the years pass share with the soldiers of other days the honor bestowed upon the living when we honor the dead. They are now practically four million strong, while the older army now numbers but a small part of the great army of more than half a century ago.

The Wayne veterans who appeared in a body at the service were few, but not one of them would have missed the opportunity to pay tribute to their dead comrades, and we give the short list:

Robert Skiles, R. P. Williams, Peter Coyle, S. Taylor, Chas. Baggart, John Barrett, Jack Hyatt, S. Fox, John Stallsmith, Dan McManigal and A. T. Chapin of the Civil war, and Wm. Assenheimer of the Spanish-American war. A guard of members of the American Legion escorted these older veterans, and acted as firing squad in the service at the cemetery, where so many went at the close of the service at the opera house.

The audience at the opera house was limited by the seating capacity of the room, and the veterans marched in between two lines of flower girls to the seats reserved for them.

The stage, appropriately decorated with flags, seats were reserved for the choir and the speakers. John T. Bressler, Jr., presided, and M. S. Davies was in charge of the singing. The choir acceptably sang several numbers, Rev. Robert Pratt offered prayer, after which Rev. Wm. Kilburn gave a most excellent address, no review of which we could give that would do it justice. It appealed to that which is best in man and urged the use of our talents for the betterment of our fellow men. The benediction was by Rev. Fetterolf.

Mrs. John W. Evans, early in the program recited the following lines of her own composing which were indeed most appropriate and touching.

Judge Dean from Lincoln was the Decoration day speaker at Wausau Sunday, and in passing this way while heading for home Monday he told us that they had a great day there with magnificent audience. It seems that this year's Decoration day means more than in some other years—the returned soldiers from the war front in Europe seems to bring fresh to the minds of the old people something of other days, that while not forgotten, was slumbering. Now we are more awake.

SOCIAL NOTES

The Harriett Stroh Westminster guild circle met at the home of Ruth Jones Tuesday evening. Miss Ella Morrison was hostess. The lesson was about Mexicans in the United States. Devotionals were by Mrs. C. W. Hecox. Members responded to roll call by Spanish names in the United States. Miss Elizabeth Gildersleeve gave a short talk, "Historical Facts about Mexicans in the United States." Miss Bonnie Hess had a paper, "Conditions Among the Spanish Americans in the Southwest." Margurite Kenney spoke of the religion of Mexico. Philleo Lewis gave a talk on conditions among Mexicans in Los Angeles. The main talk was by Ruth Ringland telling of the "Wonders of New Mexico" in word pictures, illustrating her talk with kodak pictures which her uncle had taken while in New Mexico. Her talk was interesting and instructive. Miss Helen Reynolds recited a poem entitled the "Old Santa Fe Trail," which completed the program. Their lessons on "American Christianization" will end the second week in July, at which time the girls plan to have a mother and daughter social at which the circle will give a little play called "Two Masters," for which the parts are now assigned. The girls plan to have a popcorn sale Saturday at the Central market at 3 o'clock.

The Wayne W. C. T. U. entertained the Carroll union at the home of Mrs. George Fortner last Friday afternoon. Plans were discussed as to what were the best means to organize other unions in the county. Mrs. Mary Britton and representative of the Carroll union were appointed to act in that capacity. The following program was enjoyed by the ladies: Solo, "The Swallows," by Mrs. Feterolf; paper, "Why I am proud to be a White Ribboner," Mrs. C. Jones, of Carroll; solo, "In the Garden," by Mrs. Beard; a paper, "Preparation for Citizenship" by Mrs. Sala of Carroll; solo, "Go to Sleep My Dusky Baby," by Mrs. F. W. Elder, of Carroll; Reading by Mrs. Mines. Several vocal selections were given by Mr. Thomas of Scranton, Pennsylvania; an address "The Home," by Rev. Dinwiddle of New York City. After the program a two course luncheon was served. There were fifteen present from Carroll and thirty-five members present from Wayne. Next meeting will be during the last week in August.

There was quite a family reunion last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Boyce when three of her sisters came from different places to visit here, a part of them bringing husbands or other members of their family. Mrs. D. S. Swan, a sister, from Cheyenne, and her husband and their daughter and husband from Gurney, Wyoming; Mrs. W. B. Donaldson, another sister, from Norfolk; Mrs. D. A. Hartley, another sister, from Selma, Iowa, and E. J. Crew from Interior, South Dakota. One of the sisters and Mrs. Boyce had not before met for more than a third of a century. They all departed the last of the week after a happy reunion visit.

The Queen Esther society met at the Gardner home Tuesday evening with Lila Gardener and Alice Fisher hostesses. The following officers were elected for the coming term: Mrs. Marian Benson president, Mable Britell vice president, Martha Crockett secretary and treasurer, Lila Gardner corresponding secretary. Money was collected from the mite boxes, reports were filled in for the district meeting, to be held at Norfolk June 4th, 5th, and 6th. Misses Alice Fisher, Martha Crockett and Mable Britell were named to go to the meeting at Norfolk. Refreshments were served.

The Sorosis Club met at the home of Mrs. Willis Noakes Monday afternoon, Five Hundred and Kensington were the afternoon's diversion. Guests were Misses Bessie and Betty Lauman of Omaha, Miss Wilma Gildersleeve and Mrs. Brock. Dainty refreshments were served. This is the last regular meeting for the year. The members will enjoy a picnic later.

Mrs. Walter Phipps entertained the ladies union Bible Study Circle Tuesday afternoon and Mrs. E. B. Young led the lesson study. Requests for prayer were definitely remembered and all adjourned to meet next Tuesday and go by auto train to Wakefield to attend the Victorious Life Conference to be held at that time under the auspices of the Wakefield churches.

The Ann of Ava Westminster guild circle met Saturday with Marian Miner. Members all present. Dorothy Bressler lead devotionals, Marian Miner sang, Mrs. Miner lead study the on Mexicans in United States. A number of scrap books were finished for the Christmas Barrel. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Lloyd Bolton June 15.

WHAT CHIROPRACTIC REALLY DOES

You often make the remark, "If I could only get into my head what the Chiropractor really does, I might be inclined to try Chiropractic." Read carefully the following:— Chiropractors state that mental impulses are manifestations of life of the body, that it is controlled in every act and thought by innate and educated minds, that the body is heated by calorific mental impulses, whether the heat is furnished in normal quantity as in Health, or abnormal amounts, as in so-called fevers, which is but excessive heat in those parts of the whole body. A Chiropractor is a hand practitioner; he adjusts displaced parts; he repairs a disordered human machine; he puts in order and sets to rights the displaced bones of skeletal frame which are not in their proper position. He does this by hand, and that is exactly what Chiropractic means—Hand Fixing. A Chiropractor does not operate upon, manipulate or treat a watch, sewing machine or the human machines for any wrong doing. He adjusts, repairs, fixes with his hands the displaced parts of the machine, whether human or inanimate. The jeweler would think you crazy if you asked him to treat your watch. He would ask you if you did not want it adjusted, repaired, fixed. Machinists do not operate, manipulate or treat when they adjust a pinion wheel, axle or other part of a machine; neither does a Chiropractor treat, manipulate or operate when he replaces a subluxate joint or vertebra. Chiropractors find that all illness, sickness, affections, indispositions, complaints, maladies or lack of innervation, the results or consequences of disorder, derangement of some part of the human frame. INVESTIGATE THIS GREAT HEALTH SCIENCE OF CHIROPRACTIC. Consultation and Spinal Analysis Free.—Drs. Lewis & Lewis, Wayne, Neb.—adv.

Mrs. R. H. Hanson and son Harry returned Saturday from Holstein Iowa. Her daughter Mrs. Glen Wallace and little son Richard accompanied her. She will visit with her mother and other relatives.

Mrs. Emma Liveringhouse, who spent the winter in California, and has been visiting among home folks here for a few weeks since returning, is this week moving to her own house on Main near 7th street.

Mr. and Mrs. William Libengood and children drove to Creighton last Saturday to visit in the home of their aunt, Mrs. Phoebe Butler, returning Wednesday. They reported the roads in a terrible condition for the home trip.

Judge and Mrs. A. A. Welch and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Chace drove to Stanton Sunday to visit relatives and friends, and where the Judge gave the Decoration day address. They were guests at the Nathan Chace home.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klopping drove in from Omaha the last of the week, to attend Decoration day services here, visit the farm, their sons and many friends. Then the rain came, and they are extending their visit indefinitely.

The Supreme Court has just said that a state may not legally have a referendum vote on the question of approving or revoking the action of their legislature as to amendments to the United States constitution. This was said to Ohio people.

G. Lewis from Winner, South Dakota, came the last of the week to join Mrs. Lewis here in a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan McManigal, her grandparents. Mr. Lewis has been in the newspaper business at Winner, and for the past year or more conducted an exclusive job shop, which he has recently sold, and return as soon as train service is again normal and close up his business there.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Guffey from Concord were stranded at Wayne Monday night by the storm. They had been to Abilon to take his mother to her home at that place and were this far toward home. Mrs. Guffey, who known as Miss Elizabeth Jones when attending the Normal, called on a few friends while waiting for waters to subside a trifle that they might venture out on the home stretch.

Dr. John G. Neihardt of Bancroft stopped here the first of the week to visit his friend, J. T. House of the Normal. Mr. Neihardt was on his way home from Wyoming, where he had been in search of historical information first-hand from citizens who knew of events in that state in its pioneer days, and also to deliver a lecture before the faculty and students of the state university. He met numerous of friends other than Dr. House while in this vicinity where spent much of his boyhood and began his education.

A. P. Gossard, who stepped in to supply a community need last winter, helping to relieve the milk shortage, has sold three of his cows, and discontinuing the delivery of milk. Frank Weber was the purchaser, and he will supply the Gossard routes patrons with milk as well as a string of customers he had of his own; and we are told plans to work in conjunction with the Paramount people on the dairy route. Mr. Gossard kept two of his cows, and will continue to supply the neighbors who do their own delivery. For the other work, he is now too busy on the farm.

For Sale—Sanitary couch and mattress and large dresser. Good glass. call 77. Mrs. E. O. Gardner.

Miss Margaret Coleman has rented her house for a time, and is advertising a sale of furniture this week.

O. A. King from Denver spent Saturday and Sunday with Wayne friends. He is in the land game now.

The storm changed many plans as to going and coming—and shows us how much we depend upon the railroad connection with the outside world. It was a more effective tieup than an ordinary strike could make.

Henry Preston and family drove to Belden Wednesday to be present at the marriage of son and brother, Russell Preston, who was wed Wednesday, June 2, 1920, to Miss Angie Fish of that place. Miss Fish was formerly a Normal student, and a host of friends here wish her well.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Jacobs returned Monday from southern California, where they spent the winter. Mr. Jacobs tells that on Wednesday next they will leave for the eastern coast, going to Maine, in the vicinity of Augusta. Maine is his native state, and he frequently has spent a summer there where it is cool and damp. Their winter was enjoyed very much, and they expect the summer to be equally enjoyable.

Jack Bly writes that he has secured a place where it is "high and dry," having gone to Breckenridge, Colorado to work. This is a county-seat mining town, and is near the crest of the Rocky mountains, the elevation being 9,500 feet above sea level. The change, he says, seems beneficial to Mrs. Bly's health. He adds at the close of the letter that they now feel that they are somewhat above Wayne people—about 8,000 feet.

Mr. Chessie Harrington, who for the past two months has been at the Orr & Orr Co. store, was called to Elgin last week to remain there with her mother, who is in failing health, and needs her care. She regretted to leave Wayne, where she was fast making friends—and where she fully enjoyed her work as saleswoman. She hopes to be able to return to this place at some future time, and her friends hope that she may do so.

Mrs. Dan Radcliff from Stuart came last week to visit a short time at the W. A. Hiscox home.

Reverend William Kearns and J. C. Nuss drove to Bloomfield Sunday to attend a banquet given by K. C. council.

Are you going to Hartington to the big Race Meet June 10-11 and 12th? So am I! Gosh! I wouldn't miss it for a farm!—adv.

Mrs. G. R. Hoch and children from Butte have been visiting at the home of her brother, Chas. Heikes and family, returning home today.

Misses Martha Crockett and Alice Fisher went to Norfolk today to be present at the missionary meeting of the district there Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. A. Biegler came from Sioux City this morning to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Piepenstock, her sister, and greet some of her many Wayne friends.

Mrs. Henry Rethwisch from Carroll is visiting in Winner, South Dakota, or else on her way home, for Mr. R. has been expecting her as soon as there is a train through.

J. C. Forbes returned this morning from a visit with his son at St. Paul. He says it has been dry there, a condition he did not think existed here, for he had to wait two days at Sioux City for the washouts to be filled.

W. E. Beaman, who went to visit his father in Iowa, came home following the rain. After considerable delay he managed to reach Wakefield Wednesday and started home from there on the Foot & Walker line, but met up with a car that took him in a bit faster than walking.

Henry C. Peterson and family from Oakdale arrived at Wayne today, and are occupying the Wm. Luc house on West 1st street. Mr. Peterson is traveling agent for the "Omaha" and naturally wants make his home at the best town on the system. Wayne schools and college were the drawing cards.

Two Wayne traveling men met the storm just as they were driving into Bloomfield Monday evening and when the water came too deep for their car to travel in they anchored the boat, took off their trousers (yes, it was dark) and waded with grip in one hand and clothes in the other to the depot, where they were permitted to get into the baggage car and cloth themselves before going to the hotel. They tell us that the record there was two inches of water in 15 minutes.

Mrs. Sala was a visitor from Carroll this morning.

Any time that Hartington bunch puts on anything they put it across Big. And now they're going to stage a big Race Meet there June 10-11-12th. I bet it will be a Lulu! Lets go!—adv.

Lighten the LOAD

Farm tractors work under heavy loads—loads that place a strain upon the cooling and oiling system. The choice of a correct lubricant is essential in keeping your tractor on the job the year around—full-powered—equal to the tasks you demand of it.

Your Tractor Oils are manufactured for this specific service. Excessive engine heat does not affect their body—exactly the right body to seal in every ounce of power and to reduce friction and wear. They cut overhauling and repair expense.

Our experts have made a study of the tractor lubricating problem. They have found STANOLIND TRACTOR OIL best suited to a majority of tractors. Polarine Extra Heavy, Polarine Heavy and Polarine being recommended for quite a number. For the proper oil to use in your tractor—consult your Stanolind dealer or write us.

COMING TO WAYNE United Doctors' Specialists Will be at the BOYD HOTEL Thursday June 10 ONE DAY ONLY

HOURS 9 A. M. TO 6 P. M.

Remarkable Success of these Talented Physicians in the Treatment of Chronic Diseases

Examination and Consultation Free

The diagnosis of the United Doctors, licensed by the state of Nebraska, for the treatment of chronic diseases of men, women and children, offer to all who call on this visit, consultation, examination and advice free. They have a system and method of treatments that are sure and certain in their results.

These doctors are experts in the treatment of chronic diseases of the blood, liver, stomach, intestines, heart, kidneys or bladder, rheumatism, sciatica, dropsy, leg ulcers, weak lungs, and those afflicted with long standing, deep seated, chronic diseases, that have baffled the skill of other physicians, should not fail to call.

According to their system no more operation for appendicitis, gall stones, goiter, piles, etc., as all cases accepted will be treated without operation or hypodermic injection. If you have kidney or bladder troubles bring a 4-ounce bottle of your urine for chemical analysis and microscopic examination.

Worn-out and run-down men and women, no matter what your ailment may be, no matter what you have been told, or the experience you have had with other physicians, settle it forever in your mind. If your case is incurable they will tell you so. Consult them upon this visit. It costs you nothing for examination.

Remember, this free offer is for this visit only.

Married ladies must come with their husbands and minors with their parents.

GRAIN GRADING ENJOINED

The following from the Sioux City Tribune editorial page last Friday would indicate that the grain corporations are using the Federal courts to aid in their fight to hold their place between the producer and consumer to their unlimited profit and to the detriment of both of the other classes:

The 1919 session of the North Dakota legislature enacted a law creating a system of grades weights and measures. A United States court has enjoined the state inspector from enforcing this law. It is to be hoped that the cause will be heard on its merits soon, for the law benefited the North Dakota farmers. All farmers should be treated alike. They should all have the North Dakota system or none should have it. This is more important than that the law should be equitable as between sellers and buyers. The latter can adjust their differences quickly because they only relate to value. Either grain is worth what is asked for it or it is not. If it is not worth the price asked the buyers will not buy and that's the end of it.

But if Dakota farmers have gained something which other farmers are entitled to, but do not enjoy, these other farmers in other states want to know it. They will all watch this suit. If the North Dakotans win then other grain growing states are going to establish like grading laws and gain whatever North Dakotans have gained.

"Remorselessly he spread out the whole ugly story of her past!"
From THE MASTER OF MAN, the new novel by HALL CAINE

THE two great novels of 1920—by Hall Caine and Blasco Ibanez—seven brilliant stories by Donn Byrne, Robert W. Chambers, Bruno Lessing, Dana Gatlin, Maurice Level and other great writers—interesting articles by Bernard Shaw, Conan Doyle, Edgar Mott Woolley, Senator Hiram Johnson and others—these are just a few of the good things in Hearst's for June.

IN this issue also are two remarkable anonymous contributions, "My Career of Crime," the life-story of an outlaw, and "Down the Dark Lane" the confessions of a drug addict; humorous features by Walt Mason, K. C. B. and B. L. T. and Hearst's five regular monthly departments—the Book, Poem, Play, Art and Science of the Month.

IF you are easily satisfied—if you aren't always on the lookout for a better magazine—you won't want Hearst's this month or any other. But if you really want the works of the world's great writers, the words of the world's great thinkers—don't fail to make sure each month—starting today with the June number—of your copy of

A LIFE'S ROMANCE

By - WALTER J. DELANEY

(Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union)

It was no joyous elopement or ardent love adventure. Very rationally Arnold Brant and Eugenie Valle had met fifty miles from her home, had gone to an obscure clergyman, and been united in marriage. The new husband had just time to catch a train across the continent within the hour, and those two, so hurriedly bound in wedlock, as hurriedly parted.

"In two years, dear," he said, as he kissed her good-by.

"You wouldn't wait. You would have it so," she sighed. "I hope it is for the best."

"The knowledge that you are mine, all mine," returned Arnold Brant, "will inspire me to make a business success."

The train flashed away, the bride waved an adieu through a mist of tears. Before noon she was back at home, passing into the house of her brother Hartley, with whom she lived and no one was the wiser.

Hers had been a strange experience. Almost from her baby days she had been dominated by her brother's will. He had one thought in life—to make money. A cold, unsympathetic being, he chilled all the sweetness out of the life of Eugenie, and when she was seventeen forced her into marrying Peter Wynne.

The latter was a man with prospects, which Hartley magnified. The cheerless honeymoon lasted less than a month and then Wynne went to the far North to develop some mining property. It turned out a complete fiasco, and a year later word was received that Wynne was dead. Before that event Eugenie pined in solitude until, at a neighbor's home, she met Arnold Brant. There was no impulse of disloyalty to Wynne, but a deep, unspoken love existed between those two.

When the news came of the death of Wynne, both Brant and herself knew that the self-seeking Hartley Valle would never sanction their union. Brant had the offer of a position in Australia. He induced Eugenie to consent to the secret marriage. And when they parted at the steps of the altar and possible years of parting faced them, Eugenie was supremely happy, for she had found love at last.

Only one letter Eugenie received from Brant, telling that he was about to start into the most remote part of the country and that, if his purpose succeeded, he would return with sufficient means to win him the approbation and recognition of her mercenary brother.

Then to Eugenie came an appalling discovery. The full details of the illness and death of Wynne arrived. The first news had been premature. He was mortally ill, but survived for several months. Acting upon the initial intelligence, Eugenie had wedded Brant fifteen days before the demise of her first husband.

The later ceremony was illegal, and she was simply a widow and the man she cherished as her life's mate was no more than an utter stranger. She at once wrote to Brant, trusting to the letter finally reaching him however remote he might be from civilization.

A year went by and there was no indication that Brant had received the letter.

There was an old man named Mark Denvir who had been a power in the business world, but now a helpless invalid. Hartley had cultivated him in the hopes of utilizing his past prestige for his own benefit. One day he came to Eugenie astounding her with an offer of marriage from Denvir.

"It means independence for you," represented the subtle schemer, "for he will not live long."

Eugenie shrank from the proposal, but the artful and persistent Hartley finally overcame her opposition. A seeming plaything of destiny, forgotten, at least neglected by the only man she had ever loved, Eugenie consented to the sacrifice for her brother's sake.

Denvir died within a month. Hartley made a fortune, died before a year was over, and Eugenie was at last truly independent, but she considered her wealth as mere dress, for it failed to bring her happiness.

Another year passed by. Amid her self-enforced solitude Eugenie found no surcease to the vague longing for the peace of mind and contentment fate had so cruelly denied her. A stray item in a newspaper, citing the discovery of a man named Arnold Brant in another city, detailed his being removed to a hospital from a wretched tenement room where he had lain down to die amid poverty, illness, and despair.

It was Eugenie who had hastened to the side of the fever-stricken man, who, after days of weary watching, met the first intelligent words of the convalescent. She was the confidante of his terrible struggles in an unfriendly wilderness, culminating in the utter failure of all his plans. It was Eugenie who joined in his tears, whilst sobbing out the pathetic story of her own unhappy life. And then—

Not at the altar this time, but beside that humble cot, those two were reunited in a new simple second ceremony that promised to result in the happiness and peace both had so longed for, and so truly deserved.

ADDED TO ROLL OF HONOR

Soldiers Reported "Missing in Action" Have Been Classified as "Presumed Dead."

According to The Home Sector there are still between 250 and 300 members of the American front-line army still unaccounted for.

In speaking of this war mystery of missing men the ex-soldier's magazine says: "Soldiers who go into battle are like men who go down to the sea in ships. There are those who return and those who do not, those who live and those who die. And then there are those who dwell for years in a twilight zone of uncertainty, neither life nor death, from which no word ever comes back to the shores called home."

"A few weeks ago the newspapers of the country announced that there were no more members of the A. E. F. 'missing in action.' The only reason they are not missing in action is that they have been 'presumed dead.'"

"There are still between 250 and 300 members of the American front line army unaccounted for, who, carried on the rolls for months and months as missing in action, seem to have disappeared from the battle field as if by the wave of a magician's wand, leaving neither the ripple of a rumor behind them, the testimony of an eye, nor a footprint in all the paths of the world."

"They are the irreducible minimum of the 50,000 lost, strayed or stolen men that the A. E. F. carried on the morning of Nov. 12, 1918, as missing in action. To guard against injustice to their relatives or friends, the war department has ordered that from henceforth they be carried as 'presumed dead' instead of 'missing in action,' in order that their war risk insurance benefits may be paid. That in brief explains why the American army as it stands demobilized today technically has no 'missing in action.'"

SLEPT AMONG THE DEPARTED

Travelers in Auto Unknowingly Selected Peculiar Place in Which to Pass the Night.

They lived in Milwaukee and "lived" through to Indianapolis with their two children. They left home early in the morning, arriving at Gary just before dark. Anxious to reach their destination as soon as possible, they left Gary after getting a supply of gasoline.

A few miles out of Gary a heavy rainstorm checked their progress and shrouded the countryside in pitch darkness. Losing their way they decided to turn in at the first gate and spend the rest of the night in the automobile, rather than take chances of traveling by night in the darkness on unknown roads.

A few miles further on the outline of a tree just beyond an open gate was seen, and the auto was guided beneath. The couple and children slept in cramped quarters in the auto and awakened at daybreak next morning. Imagine their horror when they discovered they had slept all night in their auto in a cemetery.—Indianapolis News.

Too Beautiful.

A man and his wife went to one of the most beautiful islands in the Caribbean sea seven years ago to spend the twilight of their lives in the serene beauty of the tropics. It was a place which the husband, a seafaring man, had chosen as the nearest approach to terrestrial paradise for those who have enough money to live without working hard.

The couple landed in New York the other day with their lures and penates and a parrot. The ideal season is just about to begin in the Caribbean, but it will start and continue without this particular pair of humans. "We want an old-fashioned New England winter," said the wife. The husband was more specific. "It was great for a while, but finally it got too doddered beautiful. We are going back to Connecticut to see some rocks and barren fields."—New York Sun.

Siberian Y. W. C. A.

Over in Siberia a staff of Y. W. C. A. workers are slowly but surely making headway in organizing an association and in interesting girls in the various activities planned for their benefit. Overcoming the mountains of difficulties which arise from the abnormal educational and social situation in Vladivostok has been a problem to be approached slowly and with eyes open.

Prize-Fighter Congressman.

The report that Carpenter, the prize fighter, is ambitious to become a member of the French parliament, recalls the election of John Morrissey to congress on November 5, 1867, from the "Bloody Sixth" ward of New York city, says the Springfield Republican. Morrissey's famous fight, in which he defeated Heenan, took place October 29, 1858, in the no-man's land adjoining Boston Corners in Berkshire county, afterward conceded to New York by Massachusetts. The pugilist had a long record of indictments for assault and burglary and had served nine months in the penitentiary for nine breaches of the peace. He served his district in congress satisfactorily enough to be re-elected.

I Put Soles and Heels Under You While You Wait

Why waste unnecessary time waiting for needed shoe repair? With my new machine for sewing on soles, and a still newer one for nailing on soles, I claim to be the best equipped repair shop in this corner of the state for quick work.

With the prices of new footwear going still higher, it will pay you well to hunt out shoes that may have been discarded several years ago, perhaps and have them softened with oil and put in perfect repair. It costs comparatively little and give much service as a new pair.

Our new nailing machine is a wonder—it drives as many as 450 nails a minute, so you can count the nails in a half sole and estimate how long it took to nail it on after it was in the machine. If we don't watch out and turn the shoe at the right time, it will run off the edge or the end of the shoe and drive the air full of nails.

Let us help you with your shoe troubles.

TO OUR FALLEN HEROES

Recited by Mrs. John W. Evans at Decoration Day Services.
Some poet has said—
"Our heroes sleep where poppies blow,
Between the crosses, row on row,"
They do not sleep where poppies grow,
They are just behind life's curtain.

Those who have gone on before—
And seemly have shut the door—
Those whom we see here no more,
Are all just behind life's curtain.

They're round us day and night,
They're very near us left and right,
To us they're simply out of sight
They are just behind life's curtain.

They're always with us here and there,
They're always with us everywhere,
There is no place called "over there"
It is just behind life's curtain.

You'd surely meet with a surprise,
Aye, one you could not surmise
Could you but see with angle eyes
Behind life's gigantic curtain.

They are all more alive than you
You'll find out, when you pass through
Life's great door, then you'll be too
Behind life's mysterious curtain.

Between the known and the unknown
Somewhat, sometime, somewhere,
Life's curtain will be rent in twain
And life's mysteries laid bare.

All those whom we see here no more
Dear ones whom we count as dead
Have simply found the hidden path
And just journeyed on ahead.

NELSON'S
Perpetual Loose-Leaf
ENCYCLOPAEDIA
& Research Bureau for Special Information

Down to Date

In these unusual times, teeming with stirring events, an Extraordinary Encyclopaedia is an absolute necessity.

American enterprise has solved the problem by making a loose-leaf Encyclopaedia that is perpetually new, containing material that is found in no other Reference Work, as, for example, the splendid new article on Aeronautics prepared under the direction of the Aero Club of America and including details of the record-making feats of the NC-4, Vickers-Vimy and R-34.

Down to Date

The war is now history. Nations are being remade. You must keep in step with the world today. All old fashioned reference works have been simply marking time during the greatest years in history. Nelson's changes with the changing world.

ALWAYS NEW—Every six months all subscribers to NELSON'S receive their renewal pages—250 or more—between 500 and 700 pages each year. These include over 2,000 changes and keep NELSON'S perpetually accurate and up-to-date.

Nelson's Loose-Leaf—the One Encyclopaedia of Today

Nelson's Reading and Study Courses in United States History, The World War, Business Economics, Nature Study, Agriculture, and Home Economics are declared by educational authorities to be equal to a college course and training in each of these departments. By their use a boy can remain on the farm and yet receive all the advantages of a college course in Scientific Farming; a girl may have the services of the leading authorities on household economics without leaving her home; while the professional and business man may receive a business training superior to that which can be obtained from any of the widely advertised business institutes.

Nelson's Research Service Bureau for scientific reports and special information and correspondence. Every purchaser of Nelson's is entitled to free membership in this Bureau. If at any time you are in doubt on any subject, old or new, write to this Bureau with the positive assurance that you will promptly receive the latest obtainable and most dependable information.

draw a nice salary, but to PREPARE TO TEACH by going and getting the necessary training for the work of teaching in the ranks now. There are about 65,000 unprepared teachers. We want no more. They do not help the situation.

PALMER PENMANSHIP
Mr. J. M. Martin of the Wayne State Normal has organized a Palmer Method Penmanship class for some of the teachers, to be held on Saturdays from 10 to 12 a. m. He would be glad to hear any rural or teachers outside of Wayne enter who would care to take up the work. Many schools are offering $50 extra to teachers who have Palmer Method Certificate.

WAYNE COUNTY INSTITUTE
The Wayne County teachers' institute will be held in Wayne during the week beginning August 30. All teachers who teach in Wayne County will attend the institute.

We will have a program particularly adopted to the requirements in Wayne County and therefore attendance at any other institute will not serve the main purpose of a county institute.

Please do not apply for any school in the county if you do not expect to attend here.

LAST YEAR'S EIGHTH GRADERS

Out of 51 pupils from the rural schools who passed the eighth grade examinations last year we know of 31 who have attended some high school or the Wayne Normal all or a part of this year. What about the other 20? We wish all might have been in school somewhere. Some may have been attending that we do not know of. Ada Erxleben, Esther Erxleben and Bertha Berres attended the Normal, Adeline Miller, Minnie Bruse Pearl Anderson, Mayme Lundquist have attended at Hoskins. James Haines, Minnie Frink, Harry Mitchell, Millie Ernest, Gurney Wilcox, John Ernest, Elma Carter, Alice Garwood, LaVerne Thomas, Dorothy Paulsen, Allan Ritchard, Paul Pethwish, and Adolph Otto have attended at Carroll.

Maude Pierson, Gertrude Lutt, Ronald Reed, Vernon Keeney, Wilma Gamble have attended at Wayne. Philip Ring and Meta Longe attended at Wakefield. Nellie Wingett attended at Winside, Velma and Elizabeth Moore at Sholes.

WHY NOT TEACH CAMPAIGN

Something should be done to try to lessen the shortage of teachers. Teachers can help if they will. Will YOU? How? By encouraging your eighth grade who pass and other young people in your communities to teach. Not to take advantage of the scarcity of teachers to get into a school and PRETEND to teach and
