ESTABLISHED 1884

WAYNE, WAYNE COUNTY, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, MARCH 17, 1921

$1.50 PER YEAR

THE CITY CAUCUS OF THE CITIZEN'S PARTY

Last Friday evening more than 100 voters assembled at the city hall to place in nomination candidates for the various city offices, and when all was done the following were declared the nominees:

For mayor, Wm. Orr.
For treasurer, H. S. Ringland.
For clerk, I. C. Trumbauer.
For city engineer, Robert H. Jones.
For members board of education, J. H. Kemp and Mrs. Wm. Morris.

For councilman, 1st ward, Ernest Bichel.
For councilman, 2nd ward, J. H. Foster.

For councilman, 3rd ward, L. C. Gildersleeve.

The meeting was well attended, and had some balloting on different candidates. Mr. Orr won easily, R. R. Smith and L. W. Roe each receiving a small vote. Treasurer Ringland had no opposition, and it might be as well to elect him for life. J. S. Horner, the present clerk gave Mr. Trumbauer a close race, the count showing both near the same until the last of the count, when Mr. Trumbauer took a lead of about ten votes on the hundred and over votes cast. Frank Gamble and W. L. Fisher were both named and voted for for places on the school board.

LADIES AUXILIARY TO AMERICAN LEGION AT WAYNE

At the meeting called for the city hall last evening twelve Wayne women signed a request for a charter for an auxiliary to the American Legion post of this place. Mrs. W. H. Phillips was asked to preside, and Miss Ethel Sears to act as secretary. The object of the meeting was told, and that mothers, wives or sisters of any member of the American Legion or of an honorable discharged soldier who served in the great war were eligible to membership. An even dozen signed as charter members, as follows:

Mrs. W. H. Phillips, Ethel Sears, Mrs. J. H. Bressler, Dorothy Bressler, Mrs. F. H. Jones, Mrs. Harry McMillan, Mrs. J. H. Boyce, Mrs. John Park-er, Mrs. Geo. A. Smith, Mrs. J. H. Rime, Mrs. Albert Jones and Mrs. Harry Seniff.

When the meeting adjourned it was to meet again when called, after report from the application for charter had been received.

Notice is hereby given by F. G. Philleo and F. E. Gamble, chairman and secretary respectively of the Municipal Improvement party that a convention is hereby called to meet at the City Hall in the City of Wayne, Nebraska on the 18th day of March 1921 at 8 p. m. for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the following officers of the City of Wayne, Nebraska, to wit: Mayor, City Treasurer, City Clerk, City Engineer, and two members of the Board of Education, and for the transaction of such other business as may regularly come before said convention.

F. G. Philleo, Chairman.

PAVING PROGRESSING NICELY

Tuesday a force began laying paving brick again, and the work will doubtless continue during all the good weather until the last brick is in place. During part of January and all of February, and thus far in March brick have been coming quite regularly, until now nearly all are here. There is not more than a half mile of the narrow paving for which the brick is not ready to be laid, so there will be no more waiting for brick.

Work began on Main street Tuesday by the city power house, and is all in now below the tracks. Three blocks north of the tracks were laid last fall. It will take about ten blocks more to finish the first district.

LIKES NEBRASKA BEST

August Hohncke, who has been traveling quite extensively, was at Wayne Tuesday, and when asked about his trip in the south, where he went last fall, said in substance that himself and wife had been to the west coast and to the south, and had taken in enough side trips to have made travel enough to go round the globe—but of course did not go round, but in all of this travel he had found no place where there appeared to be as many advantages and as few disadvantages as in this state of Nebraska. He said when he went south that he wanted to see the oil fields and the wells, and get information first hand before buying—but in the short time we saw him he did not mention oil, so we infer that he did not come back to sell blue sky stock at least.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO NAME NEW OFFICERS

The Wayne Woman's club will meet in the basement of the Library Saturday, March 19th, at 3 p. m. The annual election of officers will take place at this time and club dues for 1921-22 should be paid on that day. Mrs. A. A. Welch will discuss the subject of Emigration and Immigration and members are asked to respond to roll call with the name of some foreign born man or woman who has in some way aided in the immigration problem in our country.

POST PUBLICITY

There are almost three hundred posts of the American Legion in Nebraska. These posts are made up of the finest, most enthusiastic young men—the kind who do things. And yet only comparatively few weekly papers in the state carry a regular Legion column or much Legion news. There is something wrong somewhere.—Mid-West Veteran.

WAYNE TO HAVE ANOTHER GROCERY STORE

A new firm with Miss Ethel Huff and J. F. Winter as the members, tell us that if all plans carry, they will open the Wayne Grocery to the public April 2, 1921, in the building occupied so many years by the late Mr. Carpenter and known as the Brookings grocery. The room is just west of the Wayne State bank, just off Main street.

Miss Huff has a wide circle of acquaintances, having commenced clerking in the old German store when it was the manager, nearly nine years ago, and continued at that store constantly ever since. Proprietors and clerks came and went, but Miss Huff stayed; stayed all these years without a vacation, unless it might be called a vacation to be at home ill, or at a hospital, for she had a little vacation of that kind. Mr. Winter has been at the same store for a year past, and is a young man with ambition to do for himself, and apparent business ability. The new firm have confidence that they will fill a place in the community that will be helpful to themselves and others.

CITY POLITICS

It is only natural that there should be difference of opinion as to what is best for all and perhaps best for certain interests in the conduct of city affairs, and therefore it is but logical that at least two parties should be represented on the ballot at the city election. Last week there was a well attended caucus of the male voters, but it seems that half of the voting population failed to be represented, except by a very few, and we believe that the women are neglecting an important part of their political privilege when they fail to participate in the nominating conventions.

Tomorrow evening (Friday) another caucus is to be held, and possibly another ticket placed in the field. At any rate, there should be a good representative attendance. Several years ago a Municipal Improvement party was launched at Wayne, and one of the reasons for its existence was the fact that the law now makes it necessary to have a continuous party organization if a place may be had on the ballot, except by petition, and there have been times when a considerable number of citizens have not been satisfied with the nominees of one caucus, and they had no organization thru which they could properly get other candidates on the ballot. In common with most people, we recognize the wisdom of keeping an interest in city government, and we believe this may be best accomplished by having at least two organizations thru which to work.

Men and women are welcome at the caucus called for the evening of the 18th, at the city hall.

YOU MAY LIVE FOREVER IS THE CLAIM

Elsewhere in this paper may be found the announcement that a lecture will be given at the opera house Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at which time this idea or doctrine that the time is at hand when for the millennium—that we are now entering that happy state. F. B. Dwigans is to be the speaker, and all who have been reading of these meetings elsewhere and in the cities and of the new revelation regarding the coming event will want to learn more of the creed—if it be a new creed. It is at least a new date for the great day. There will be no admission and no collection. So why not go when you can learn something for nothing.

A WOMAN'S NAME PROPOSED

Last week we should have stated that the name of one woman had been suggested as a candidate for mayor, but it was accidentally omitted. The name of Mrs. George Crossland was presented, and as there is another caucus called for Friday evening, we can make partial amends for the omission of last week.

FARMER UNION MEETINGS NEXT WEEK

Nels Johnson, of Winside, secretary of the union in this county, and also one of the directors of the state board, was a caller last week to inform us and let us inform the readers that Wayne county is joining in the state move for more members, and that H. C. Elwood, from Creighton, is to speak at a series of evening meetings in this county, beginning at the city hall in Wayne Monday evening the 28th and following this with meetings at Winside the 29th, at Hoskins the 30th, Carroll the 31st and Alton the 1st of April, making a meeting each evening of the week except Saturday.

These meetings are all to the public and men and women, whether members or not are welcome to attend and learn what the farmers of the union are asking for in the way of legislation and in organizing for better marketing conditions—better for producer and consumer—if not for the speculating interests that have so long stood between these two and taken impartially from both. As we understand it, they want a chance for co-operative marketing of grain and other staple produce; are against board of trade dealings in futures only as they have the actual products, and can deliver the goods. It is not fair to any one to have big interests gambling in what the farmer raises and the people eat, selling and buying a thousand bushels of grain where but one bushel is produced. They toil not, neither do they spin, yet Solomon in all his glory never came so near handling money with a scoop shovel as do these gamblers. To a certain extent they live from each other, and it is dog eat dog—but that is not quite the thing to do; so they reach out and rob the foolish little fellow who thinks he can win at the other fellows' game. Of course most people have little sympathy for the man who does not know any better than to buck a game which is controlled by crooks, and where if it were square the owner of the game has a fixed percent of a chance in his favor. Go and hear the farmer talker if you can.

TRYING TO SAVE THE PIECES

T. W. Moran was at Emerson Tuesday, where he attended a meeting of railroad men called to consider conservation methods of handling freight. This move might be called a companion move to the "safety first" which has proved so beneficial to the public and the railroad men. This new move is to determine a way to save the great loss from breakage of goods in shipment. One of the moves is to adopt a plan which fixes the responsibility upon the helper or helpers responsible for the damage. For instance, a record is now kept of the men who receive and load freight into the cars—and they are supposed to so load it that it will not fall over and break or fall onto some other freight and smash it—and many other precautions. The claims for broken merchandise has been great, and much of it preventable by a little care.

A number of officials were here and at other points along the line about a month ago starting this movement, from which they hope to make such saving of expenses that freight rates may be reduced very materially.

PUBLIC MEETING TO CONSIDER ADDITIONAL PAVING

A public meeting is hereby called for Tuesday evening, March 22, at 7:30, at the city hall for the purpose of considering the advisability of undertaking additional paving this year. Everyone is welcome, but the City Council is especially desirous to meet those who own property in the proposed new paving districts. In general, the proposed new paving districts embrace the following streets:—On the East side, Nebraska and Seventh streets and the cross streets between Logan and Nebraska. On the West side, Lincoln and Douglas, First and Seventh, around the High School block, and the cross streets between Pearl and Douglas streets.
J. H. Kemp, Mayor.

LT. HOMER HODSON DIES AT ALTON ILLINOIS

Mr. and Mrs. James Pile received the sad news this week of the death of their friend, Homer Hodson, who with his wife visited at the Pile home last August. From them and the Alton paper we learn that he passed away March 6th, following an operation three days before. He was a "safety-first engineer, a prominent member of the American Legion, and a past commander of the large post at Alton." His ability as an executive raised him from a humble sergeant to the rank of lieutenant. He saw service on the border first, and later in the real war. It was on the border that he became acquainted with Lt. Pile and there their friendship was formed.

He was followed to his grave by members of the American Legion, the Lady Auxiliary, the Boy Scouts, and the funeral rites of the Legion were followed in his honor, they furnishing pall bearers, escort and firing squad. A wealth of floral offering gave testimony of his great popularity in his home city. Officers closed in several business concerns that their employees might attend the funeral, and a large delegation came from East St. Louis to pay respect to their friend and comrade.

The Alton paper has the following to say of their departed citizen:

Homer Hodson, deceased past commander of Alton post 126, Department of Illinois, American Legion, was laid to rest in Oakwood cemetery this afternoon, with full military honors, funeral services being conducted under the auspices of the Legion.

Past Commander Hodson served as post commander of the Legion during the year 1920 and was elected past commander at the annual meeting in January, hence in view of his activity in post affairs, the Legion felt it a privilege to pay tribute to their deceased comrade by having charge of the funeral services.

An escort of former service men, members of Alton post, assembled in Royal and Liberty streets at 1:30 this afternoon and proceeded to the Hodson home, 712 Royal street, from whence the funeral cortege departed at 2 o'clock for the Baptist church where services were held at 2:30. Rev. M. W. Twing officiating.

In the course of his sermon Rev. Twing eulogized Homer Hodson as a man of real character, greatly enthused over any civic work as well as affairs pertaining to the American Legion and all former service men. He paid a most fitting tribute to the deceased veteran of the World War, whose untimely death saddened the entire community.

A BARN BURNS

Just at the noon hour the fire alarm called the firemen to the north part of the city, where the barn on the old Elder place was burning. The place is owned by Dan McManigal, and was occupied by Miller and Sutherland, who have been hauling brick for paving. As they were not working today some of the horses were in the barn, but were all gotten out. The barn was a complete loss, tho the firemen made good time getting to the scene. The barn had $300 insurance. A little corn, oats and hay burned.

SIGNS OF COMING SPRING

The lawns are showing green. Farmers are busy with spring work. A number have already planted garden.

The robin's song is heard in the morning.

The dandelion is starting to grow and spread.

Young folks are parading in the cool of the evening.

Oat seeding is under way—we grow but little wheat here.

John Morgan and Joe Atkins are out with fish poles this afternoon to see if "they will bite".

Clara Paulsen, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Paulsen, who was run into by a car on Main street last Thursday afternoon and injured about the head, has recovered very nicely and returned to school Monday morning.

Leslie Rundell met with a painful accident at the college Wednesday. In the chemical class he mixed two ingredients in a bottle that were not inclined to be neighborly, and an explosion followed, and one eye was quite seriously burned. The present indications are that it will not prove a permanent injury. The mixing was not intentional, as we understand, but was the result of the bottle not having been emptied completely when used previously.

CUNNINGHAMS PROVE ROYAL ENTERTAINERS

Four years ago local democrats staged a big feed and celebration in honor of the re-election of Woodrow Wilson as president of the United States. A number of republicans were invited guests and among this number was Burlington Cunningham, who promised that four years later he would return the compliment with a celebration in honor of the inauguration of a republican president. Did he keep his word? We'll say he did. Invitations for the affair were issued, novel in design and pertinent in their application. The front page of the invitation was ornamented with a cut of "Old Glory" and a picture of Mr. Cunningham, the invitation proper reading as follows: "Stag Democrats and Buck Republicans: Dear Friends:—Burlington Cunningham extends to you a very cordial invitation to gather around his family table, and eat, drink and make merry the evening of March Fourth, Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-One, in honor of the inauguration of Warren G. Harding as President of the United States."

The tables were spread at seven o'clock and thirty-two of Mr. Cunningham's friends responded to the invitation and sat down to a banquet that would have made old Bismarck sit up and take decided notice.

A glance over the following menu will explain why a great number of the guests failed to respond to the breakfast call the following morning.

Chicken
Mashed Potatoes
Roasted Ham
Pickles
Raisin Bread
Apple Pie
Brick Ice Cream

Cigars
Candy
Those present were: Messrs. W. H. Mullen, Fred Weise, E. H. Mason, F. A. Salmon, J. B. Gossard, W. D. Funk, J. H. Mettlen, H. Needham, A. H. Christensen, R. A. Richmond, E. C. Prescott, A. R. Settell, C. T. Heckt, C. C. Dierks, W. H. Weber, Chris Schrad-er, Art Mason, H. F. Friedrichs, John Trierweiler, C. E. Beede, W. P. Heibenthal, J. C. Hansen, F. H. Crapan, F. Q. Kinney, J. J. McCourt, Rudolph Wolpert, A. A. Manke, A. E. Marshall, E. L. Caya, E. S. Bagley, B. Y. High and H. F. Cunningham.

Following the banquet came the speeches and toasts—practically every man present doing his "bit" in this respect. Some of the speeches were timely and witty and all rang with true sincerity.

At a most appropriate time Dr. W. H. Mullen arose and in a talk that was sincere and eloquent paid a flattering tribute to the host and on behalf of his Democratic friends presented him with a fine gold-headed cane.

LATE NEWS NOTES

The packing house workers are taking a vote on whether to strike or not to strike. The railroad men are in much the same position. It is whether to strike against a wage reduction or submit as gracefully as possible. Such questions should be settled without the bad effects to the public or either of the contending factions which a strike invariably brings.

More than 2,000 soft coal miners in the state of Washington have struck against a reduction of wage. We do not know that this company paid any big dividends; but one concern declared a dividend of 150-percent last year—and the dear people who burned coal paid it. About $14,000,000 was all, when ten million less would have made a big profit.

Administration officials are quoted as saying that U. S. markets shall be opened to the world. Good, and the way to successfully do that is to open the U. S. to the markets of the world.

They are still fighting in Russia. It is in places almost as much of place for revolution as ever Mexico was. Petrograd is now a seat of contest.

Kansas was the scene of disgraceful proceedings last week when a former United States Senator, and two speakers for a political organization were driven from a town and the latter tarred.

A previous petition was filed asking that the north and south road be located one mile west of this bottom line, and enter Hoskins from the west side of the village. Friday last was the 80th birthday of Jas. B. Wallace, who has been making his home at Wayne for the past two years, and some relatives suggested to a few of his many friends the idea of a postcard shower for the event. The idea seems to have been worked on a sort of letter chain idea, and the few to whom the word, and when the returns came in "Uncle Jim" was kept busy reading more than a hundred cards and letters from relatives and friends from many states; but as was natural, the bulk of the greetings came from Villisca, Iowa, where he lived for more than a half a century, and where he knew everybody, and they all knew Jim. Flowers and a birthday dinner with a four-story cake (one for each score of years) seemed to leave him supremely happy and contented. It takes but little effort, often to spread joy about this old world.

Minnesota lower house has passed a bill to prohibit trading in grain futures. This is right. No one should be permitted to deal in something he never owned or expected to own. The board of trade buys and sells a thousand bushels of imaginary grain for every bushel they actually buy and deliver—or have the grain to deliver. It is gambling as much as is the buying or selling of lottery tickets.

That Chiropractor Lie Which Was Nailed

When the news of the Rubin child's recovery was flashed abroad a storm of scientific discussion was precipitated. Anticipating criticism of scoffers, friends of Dr. Berger advised him to secure an affidavit signed by the parents. This he did, he signing it jointly with Mr. and Mrs. Rubin. It follows:

"We, the undersigned, each being duly sworn, on oath depose and say that Miriam Rubin, 8 years of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Rubin of 132 Gillette av., Waukegan, Ill., became afflicted with a malady referred to as talking sickness and from the time she became ill was talking constantly and continuously for eight days.

"That during that time Miriam Rubin did not sleep, but merely continued to talk. Dr. R. H. T. Nesbitt of Waukegan, Ill., the family physician, was called shortly after she became ill. Dr. Brown, county physician, of Waukegan, was called for consultation, and in addition there were called into the case the following physicians, specialists, from Chicago; Dr. Robert B. Preble, 30 N. Michigan av.; Dr. Alonzo C. Tenney, 25 E. Washington st., and Dr. Isaac A. Abt, 104 S. Michigan av., all of whom immediately made all necessary blood tests and examinations, and their prognosis did not disclose the nature of the malady, and they were unable from their examinations and diagnosis of the case to offer any solution or remedy for the patient, and during all of this time the patient continued to talk constantly as before without any sleep whatsoever.

"That on the ninth day of her illness Dr. Paul O. Berger, a practicing chiropractor in Waukegan, was called to treat the patient and found upon examination of the spinal column that the patient had two misplaced vertebrae in the neck, one of which pinched the nerve affecting the speech center of the brain.

"And that on the ninth day he administered two chiropractic adjustments to the said patient, and that after a lapse of about twelve hours, and during the tenth day of the illness of the patient, she showed marked and noticeable improvement and for the first time during her illness slept for brief periods, her temperature became lower than it had been at any time during the nine days of her illness; that the said Dr. Paul O. Berger continued to administer the chiropractic adjustments daily for about three days, and that at the end of three days the patient had ceased talking and the symptoms of the malady entirely disappeared, the patient was resting and sleeping soundly and that her present condition is normal.

Friday last was the 80th birthday of Jas. B. Wallace, who has been making his home at Wayne for the past two years, and some relatives suggested to a few of his many friends the idea of a postcard shower for the event. The idea seems to have been worked on a sort of letter chain idea, and the few to whom the word, and when the returns came in "Uncle Jim" was kept busy reading more than a hundred cards and letters from relatives and friends from many states; but as was natural, the bulk of the greetings came from Villisca, Iowa, where he lived for more than a half a century, and where he knew everybody, and they all knew Jim. Flowers and a birthday dinner with a four-story cake (one for each score of years) seemed to leave him supremely happy and contented. It takes but little effort, often to spread joy about this old world.

at Bohnerts

The prices of the beautiful Grafonolas have reduced in prices from $5 to $100 according to the size.

This is the most radical readjustment ever made in the Phonograph industry and these new prices are on pre war level. The new models are much improved over the pre war models as they now have the exclusive non set automatic stop and the other exclusive Columbia advantages which make the Columbia Grafonola the only modern Phonograph.

Come in today and see for yourself what big values these new prices give. Also special low prices on Columbia Records—

A WEEDLESS LAWN

Take hope, ye pickers of dandelion and plantain out of the front lawn. Look not forward to a summer of back-breaking and cuss-worthy labor keeping weeds out of the lawn. For after twenty years of experimentation something to ease that labor has been discovered. The Rhode Island State college has announced that its experiment station has discovered a fertilizer that will grow grass and destroy weeds. This dream of gardeners, a weedless lawn, is possible without trouble or expense, the announcement says. Perfectly simple: Merely use ammonium sulphate in the place of nitrate of soda in the regular application of fertilizer. The "why" of the discovery, as the discoverers explain it, is that gardeners almost universally have supplied nitrogen, the chief element in grass food, in the shape of nitrate of soda. That, in time, creates alkaline soil condition especially favorable to weed growth. Grass is crowded out. Then, by using the not more expensive ammonium sulphate in the same quantities, proper nitrogen is supplied and the soil kept in an acid condition under which grass develops best, but in which weeds are weakened. The fountain of youth and perpetual motion would be great discoveries, but the discovery of a method for growing the weedless lawn ranks with them.—
Omaha News

The above came to view just in time to save the situation, for the editor was seriously considering the idea of buying a goat of the milk producing breed and picketing it on the lawn and parking, and getting the dandelions and converting them into milk and butter.

JUST TAXES

The tax question is one we have with us always in some of its numerous forms. The following is sent from Lincoln to the Omaha Bee and was given us with a request that we publish:

Responsibility for heavy increases in taxation should be placed at the feet of the city and county governments and not on the state government, according to a message from Gov. S. R. McKelvie, read today before both branches of the legislature. "Of the total tax on farms for 1919, only 24 per cent went to the state," the message read, "while in 1920 it was reduced to 21 per cent."

"The percentage increase of state tax on farms was 28, while the percentage increase of other tax on farms was 58 per cent. Only 10 per cent of the tax on residences for 1919 went to the state, while in 1920 it was reduced to 8 per cent. The increase of state tax on residences was 5 per cent while the percentage increase of tax on residences from other sources was 39."

15 Per Cent to State.

"Of the total tax on business houses for 1919, only 15 per cent went to the state, while in 1920 it was reduced to 12 per cent. The percentage increase of state tax on business houses was one-fifth, while the percentage increase of other tax on business houses was 33."

"Briefly summarized, these figures bear out the statement that I previously made that state taxes are relatively small, as compared with taxes that are assessed for the support of other units of government."

To gather these figures the governor wrote to all the county clerks in Nebraska and asked for figures showing the amount of taxes for 1919 and 1920 on eight representative farms, three residences and three business properties in each county. Fifty-eight counties responded. Hall, paving, drainage and irrigation taxes, which are local in origin, are not used in compilation of the table.

Local Taxes Responsible

"In short," the message reads, "the increased taxes for the year 1920 are accounted for largely by the levies that have been made for local purposes. This is quite conclusively shown in that the increases of other taxes over state taxes for 1920 was more than 100 per cent."

"If the people understand the facts, it will enable them to better deal with the tax question by locating responsibility where it really belongs."

Following this was a list of about half of the counties showing the percentages of state and local taxes, and the above is the average of those reporting.

BURN CHINCH BUG NESTS NOW

Chinch bugs already have made their appearance in certain parts of the United States.

One chinch bug destroyed now may prevent the production of hundreds to infest your wheat field later.

Chinch bugs pass the winter and early spring in wild grass and leaves, especially along hedges and fences and in the edges of woodlands adjoining cultivated fields.

Burn grasses, leaves, and other trash where the bugs may have found winter refuge. The bugs not burned will be killed by exposure to the weather.

Clean up all trash and rubbish which may harbor the insects in winter.

This is St. Patrick's day. May his memory ever be kept green.

The present legislature is building no digging—a grave for their party at the next election, if they persist in putting the judges and school superintendents and the like on a party ticket.

Word comes from Lincoln—from a member of the legislature—that they cannot hope to finish their work of legislation, destructive, constructive and expensive before the middle of April. Nebraska is a rich state and may survive.

The house at Lincoln has killed the congressional re-apportionment bill, and it is said that will also mean death to the bills to provide for the election of judges and regents by districts. Perhaps, when the end comes we will find that the circle will still be on the ballot, and that there will be no provision for a non-partisan ballot for judges and school officers—but the taxes will be made necessary.

Railroad workers in the east are to resist a cut in wages. Shippers also tried to resist a raise in freights. Do the railroads own the country? Perhaps not yet, but they soon will, if given their way in all of these skin games. It is becoming evident to more and more people each day that it is a case of the railroads owning the people or government ownership of the railroads. When enough people see the question in that light the government could begin buying railroad stock on the open market, and thus secure control of the roads without taking too much water.

Iowa has passed a soldier bonus bill which it is estimated will take more than $20,000,000 of bonds to finance. Each soldier is to have 50 cents per day for time of actual service. That is none too much, but we would like to see a law go with the bonus bill to extract the cost from the war-made millionaires. To sell bonds and pay interest is to double the burden on the people, including the soldier lad who pays taxes, and the money lenders, will get more clean cash from the tax than the soldier lads who were out to do the scrapping. There should be a way devised for the people to use their collective credit without paying tribute to the fellows who are holding the medium of exchange called dollars.

SOCIAL NOTES

The Minerva club met at the home of Mrs. A. F. Gulliver, Monday afternoon, March 14. Mrs. J. R. Armstrong gave a most interesting paper on "Birds of Nebraska", using a chart to illustrate, not only the interesting varieties from water fowl to songsters, but showing their nests and eggs as well. Her paper gave even the estimated amount of food as grubs and insects consumed by our feathered friends during their growing season. Following her paper Mrs. S. A. Lutgen sang "In the Hush of the Twilight Hour", by Geibel and "Sweet, Miss Mary", by Neldinger. Mrs. L. M. Owen closed the afternoon program with a review of the "Natural Resources of the State." After hearing this talk, the ladies decided that Nebraska was entitled to higher praise than was believed possible. Mrs. E. E. Lacker was welcomed back after her five weeks sojourn in sunny California and will tell of her trip at the next club meeting. She brought greetings from other club members, Mrs. C. A. Grothe, Mrs. J. J. Coleman and Mrs. Stella Hickman. The hostess served delicious refreshments carrying out the idea of St. Patrick's day.

Shower for Miss Morrison

Mrs. Leslie Ellis sang a parody on "Wearing of the Green", which introduced a "kitchen maid" to the honored member, Miss Ella Morrison. This "maid" proved to be a broom dressed in the proper kitchen garb which concealed an array of culinary utensils and kitchen aids. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Horace Theobald, March 21, 1931.

Laase, where the Crucifixion of Christ as God's substitutionary offering for a lost world was prayerfully considered. At the close of the lesson letters were read from various fields. One from Mrs. F. C. H. Dreyer, China, depicting some of the horrors of the world's greatest famine and telling also of North China's visit of an earthquake December 18th, when 40,000 people in one place met sudden death, was most stirring and touching. Prayer was offered for many objects and the meeting closed to meet with Mrs. Wm. Libengood next, Tuesday, weather permitting.

Mrs. May Young entertained the Sorosis club Thursday evening at a theatre party in honor of Mrs. J. A. Gurnon, who will leave some time this week for her new home at Omaha. It is extravagance to try to wash without this great labor-saving washer. The saving derived in a year will actually pay the price of the machine, and it is constructed to last a lifetime.

The WILSON is made in single and double tub washing machines—but is so built that the single-tub machine is very little inferior to its double; for the reason that it is so constructed that the lid of the machine may be transferred to an ordinary wash tub, and all of the mechanism, including wringer be available for rinsing or washing.

The wringer is so constructed that it may be run either way, forward or back, and is constantly connected with the power at any point of a complete circle from the shaft supporting it. It has an instant stop device—also a means of instant release of the rolls, a really safety appliance. The drainboard is adjustable to either side, and is much larger than the ordinary drain board, carrying the water back without slopping over the floor.

Equipped for more actual laundry service than any other machine regardless of price.

Is sold at Wayne and vicinity by

and may be seen at his plumbing house on Main street.

You should not buy until you have seen this wonder.

WAR CONTRIBUTIONS

The state adjutant of the Nebraska American Legion has estimated that approximately $200,000, which was collected by voluntary subscription during the war by the various welfare organizations is still on deposit in banks throughout the state of Nebraska. This brings up the question as to what is going to be done with this money. The war is over, and it cannot be used for that emergency. Then what will become of it?

It would seem that in view of the fact that this money was given by the people of Nebraska for the service men, that it should be used for that purpose. There are many sick and disabled veterans who are badly in need of assistance. Would it not be both wise and charitable to use it in making life worth while to those lads who gave so much during the recent struggle? It now has been several years since the war ended and the interest on this money alone would amount to something like $12,000. At least the earnings of this money should go to those veterans in serious need.—Mid-West Veteran.

ENDORSE MARKETING PLAN

The executive committee of the Nebraska Farm Bureau went on record at a meeting late Friday afternoon as favoring the plan of marketing of grain from the producer to the consumer as worked out by the committee of seventeen. C. H. Gustafson, chairman of the committee, explained the plan, and then the board pledged its support and co-operation. Mr. Gustafson left shortly afterwards for Chicago, to attend a committee meeting to plan for the state meetings arranged for the ten days from March 14th to March 24th.

The board went on record also as opposed to a tariff on Canadian lumber. The feeling was that the housing shortage and the high prices of building materials in this country justified letting down the bars to northern competition.

D. E. Thompson, former Lincoln citizen, now a resident of California, wired his representative in Nebraska to present a car of corn to the federation for Near East relief. The gift was accepted, and the car will be forwarded shortly. The board is to take up with the state railway commission the question of whether a car can be moved from station to station until filled.

H. L. McKelvie of Clay county acted as spokesman for a number of representatives of organized counties and field men in the presentation of a number of suggestions for future action. Plans were made for conducting the clean-up campaign for new members. It was decided to put the solicitors on a commission or salary basis with the solicitors taken from the county unless outside help is necessary. The solicitors will continue to work under the direction of a campaign manager. Farmers in unorganized counties can become members of the farm bureau at large by paying their membership fee. A group in one of the unorganized counties will be recognized in case the members decide to join collectively. They will be given all the privileges of an organized unit.—Ex.

STATE HIGHWAY FOR WINSIDE

Winside will be assured of at least one good highway when operations commence on the new state highway known as the Grandland Highway in the coming spring. The highway will extend from Sioux City to Grand Island and will include Wayne, Winside and Hoskins on its route in this county. The general route of the new highway in this county is as follows:

Extending from Wakefield to the Dixon-Wayne county line 2 miles north of Wayne to 1 mile south and 1 mile west into Wayne. From Wayne to Winside; 1½ miles west, 1½ miles south, 1 mile west, 1 mile south, 1 mile west, 1 mile south and 4 miles west into Winside. From Winside to Hoskins; 7 miles west and 5½ miles south into Hoskins. From Hoskins to Norfolk; ¾ of a mile southwest and due west to Pierce county line following the main Hoskins-Norfolk road into Norfolk.

According to the state engineer's plans the work on the road during the present spring and summer will rather be sort of preliminary work, although the road will be graded and maintained quite in keeping with a state highway, yet the plans and specifications relative to such highways will not be followed out until next year.

The work this year will not be subject to contract according to county commissioner Otto Miller. A 120 H. P. caterpillar tractor and two large graders will be purchased by the county for use on the new highway.

The above is from the Winside Tribune, and tells of a road that has been a marked trail practically as it is to be for the past two years, and from this it seems that it is to have more attention the coming year in being put in shape for future road work of a lasting nature. We are glad to note that this road is to be given attention looking to a better road in the not-distant future.

SEED POTATO GROWERS ENCOURAGED

In spite of the generally low price of potatoes, growers of good seed in western Nebraska are making money this year. A large amount of seed potatoes have been marketed for $2 or more a hundred pounds, while eating potatoes are now bringing only 50 cents a hundred. Western Nebraska drylands sections are producing what is considered a superior grade of seed of the Triumph variety. It is practically free from a disease known as Mosaic, which is doing considerable injury in other states. Buyers from Texas and other southern states, where Triumphs are desired on account of their earliness, are bidding up for Nebraska seed. The State College of Agriculture is encouraging the growing of seed potatoes by a system of inspection and certification. Growers following certain lines of culture have their potatoes inspected in the field and bin. Then they are carefully graded and sacked and sealed with a certification tag, which insures the buyer that he is obtaining seed of good quality. Certification also usually insures the grower an extra price.

ANOTHER INFANT INDUSTRY SQUELCHED

Bayard was again visited by a state sheriff, the official dropping into the city as the shades of dusk were being drawn on Tuesday evening, and as the light streaked the eastern sky on Wednesday morning he had accomplished his mission, and five swarthy hombres from the land of "tomorrow" were reposing on the hard cots at the city bastille, being gathered into the coils of the law about the midnight hour. State Sheriff Hart and Officers Webb and Burnett accomplishing the feat. No blood was shed, but enough Mexican lingo used to fill three dictionaries, the offenders attempting by signs and phrases not plain to the officers to make clear their loyalty to the law and order of the land, but to no avail, they were carted off to the hoosegow where charges of gambling were lodged against them, preliminary to the more serious charge that may be filed in case the investigation reveals the fact that they are in any manner connected with the distillery found in a shady shack nearby. The still had been carefully concealed from prying eyes in a pit constructed near the corner of said house, the dirt pile arousing the suspicion of the eagle eyed state officer, who caused it to be unearthed. The find was declared to be a real good still and cared for in a tender manner, with unmistakable signs of recent activities in producing hooch.

You be the judge and the jury

This is our case:

We think we are standing our full share of shrinkage in values and you can find us in the front rank fighting for an equitable readjustment for all.

It is un-American to expect the food producers to suffer heavy losses and let others take gains. A dollar in the city must buy as much as a dollar in the country.

The following statement shows how far your money goes, as compared with former conditions, when you subscribe for The Sioux City Tribune:

In 1920 each full-year subscriber of The Tribune received 101 pounds of print paper. The contract price in Sioux City this year is seven cents per pound—and manufacturers are talking of raising again. Each subscriber, therefore, will get $7.07 worth of print paper for the subscription investment of $5.00.

Four years ago the same amount of print paper cost $2.20 for the year.

Have we not assumed our? full share of the shrink?

Bearing in mind that the print paper, alone, in a year's subscription now costs us $7.07 we ask you to consider other items of increased cost. Our expenses have been materially increased for Wages, Postage, Ink, Machinery, Office Supplies, Fuel, Taxes, and many other essentials.

In addition to the print-paper cost of $7.07 in each yearly subscription there should be considered the proportionate cost of:

Producing the Finished Paper
Printing the Paper
Mailing the Paper

STATE CAPITAL

The sifting committee gave out the apportionment bills first. Others will follow in the order of their supposed importance.

The senate finally passed the bill providing for a standard loaf of bread but considerable oratory was necessary in order to do it.

Among bills passed by the senate was one increasing the penalty for bank hold-ups, and one providing nine judges for the Omaha district.

R. B. Howell won a victory when the house bill requiring the municipal fee makers to buy out private competitors was indefinitely postponed.

The house added $100,000 to the appropriation for state aid bridges. The appropriation bill was approved by the house without much difficulty.

The senate approved the bill that reduces the amount of butter fat that is included in ice cream. This may have the effect of reducing the price of ice cream.

By a close margin the house decided to put judges, school superintendents and others back on the partisan ballot, thus doing away with the non-partisan ballot. Wait for next election.

The Yelzer bill making it a crime to allow food products to spoil in order to keep up prices received favorable consideration in the house and will probably pass.

Senate file 282 gives the pardon board the right to do as it pleases about hearing applications for pardons and paroles. The bill also provides rules under which the board will work.

The language bill, passed by the senate, has reached the house and it is expected to pass without serious opposition, although an active lobby is working against it. It will have to be reported out by the sifting committee.

It is said four or five potential candidates for governor are functioning in the legislature. It will be a labor of love for the newspapers to start fires under some of them when their boomlets are launched.

The American Legion soldiers' relief bill passed the house by a big majority. This bill provides an appropriation of two million dollars which is to be invested in government bonds and the interest will be used for needy former soldiers.

Representative Morrison fought to the last ditch in his effort to defeat the highway bills but he was systematically and enthusiastically defeated at every turn. He admitted that his object was to do away with federal aid in road building and put the entire jurisdiction within the counties.

The committee on education thinks it is none of the public's business what school boards do with public money so it killed the bill requiring school boards to publish their proceedings the same as city councils and county boards are required to do. Since most school boards have the same ideas the opinion is unanimous so far as they are concerned.

As predicted, the state bill insurance bill still lacks a whole lot of being out of the woods and predictions are made that it will not pass unless the $100,000 revolving fund section is taken out. Friends of the bill say it will still be better than the present law, even if this section is stricken out.

The house approved the soldier bonus bill but it cannot go into effect until voted on by the people. It provides for a tax levy of one million dollars a year for ten years. Some feeling was stirred up over the bill and the American Legion men refused to vote either way.

The senate also approved the bill requiring general registration of voters. This bill requires assessors to register all voters while making their rounds. No further registration is needed unless one removed from one precinct to another. Voters who wish to change their politics before voting in a primary must notify the county clerk thirty days in advance. The object of the bill is to keep voters from switching from one party to the other in primary elections.

The Douglas bill which provides for the selection of primary candidates by a convention is attracting considerable attention. The bill provides for the selection of three candidates by convention, thus giving a chance for different factions to be represented. These names will then be placed on the primary ballot. Opponents of the bill say a referendum will surely be invoked. On the other hand, some ardent advocates of the primary see in this bill a correction of some of the weak points in the primary law.

If this bill passes candidates must make three campaigns, one for the convention, one for the primary and one for election.

The judiciary committee reported out three newspaper bills with a recommendation that they be placed on general file and passed. Some changes were made in them by the committee but, on the whole, they are an improvement over present laws. Three press association bills were killed in committee, one was killed in committee of the whole and four have been favorably reported by committee. Two other bills favorable to newspapers are also on general file. Several bills detrimental to newspapers have been killed. Two others that are detrimental to the interests of newspapers are on general file and are receiving attention.

CAN THIS BE TRUE?

We clip the following from the editorial page of the Blair Pilot, a paper listed as republican, but pretty progressive and independent to be taken into full fellowship with the very elect papers of the party, whose editors wear the collar and jump when the boss cracks his whip. No good citizens should be afraid to read both sides of a question nor should he make up his mind finally until he feels reasonably sure that he has facts rather than fiction about economic questions. Bro. VanDeusen says: "Every once in a while some item sifts through the 'kept' press that things aren't as bad in the Nonpartisan League ruled state of North Dakota as this same press has led us to believe. It has just now come to light that in our beloved Nebraska taxes for 1920 were increased about $500,000 over 1919 and in North Dakota they were decreased about twice that amount, a difference of $1,500,000 in favor of that awful example in the sisterhood states. And again an audit by the enemies of the Nonpartisan League program shows the State Bank of North Dakota is actually sound and in a flourishing condition. This report is in the January 28th issue of Journal of Finance and Commerce, a Wall street paper that wouldn't tell the truth about this co-operative, socialistic banking institution if it didn't have to. If a few more of the awful tales of the condition of this Nonpartisan League ridden state are exploded the people are liable to get the idea there's something good going on up there that the said 'kept' press doesn't want the people of other states to 'get wise' to."

TO WILSON IN PASSING

(Sioux City Tribune) Bow low to the man who is passing With his slow and altered tread; 'Tis a martyred president gazing From those calm, unflinching eyes.

He gave of his life as freely as the lad who died in France, He gave to the war-weary nations a vision Of world peace, so far in advance That even his own failed to glimpse it.

So we bow to thee now, in thy passing, Thy name makes our immortal three, Which through the halls of fame are resounding; Washington's, Lincoln's and thine. Helen McMurphy, Wayne, Nebraska.

THIS POET DOESN'T SMOKE

I have walked in summer's meadow, When the sunbeams flashed and broke, But I never saw the cattle Or the sheep and horses smoke. I have watched the world with wonder, When the grass with dew was wet, But I never saw a robin Puffing at a cigarette. I have fished in many a river, When the sucker crop was ripe, But I never saw a catfish Puffing at a pipe.

Man's the only living creature That pines for this vale of tears, Like a snorting traction engine, Puffing smoke from nose and ears. If fame nature had intended, When she first invented man, That he'd smoke, she would have built him On a widely different plan. She'd have fixed him with a stovepipe, And a damper and a grate, And he'd have had a smoke consuming That was strictly up to date.

A letter from Robert E. The Publications division of the bureau have promised to fill all requests for this bulletin which may come to me if not more than one copy is requested. I have secured from the Geological Survey a considerable number of maps of the United States, size 18 by 28 inches, and I shall be very glad to furnish these to any school teacher in your county who will make a request. I have also a few copies of a map of the U. S. size 52 by 72 inches, for larger schools. The General Land Office has consented to furnish me with a few maps of the State of Nebraska and will send these to my office in the near future. While the allotment lasts, I shall be glad to fill all requests for these maps also. If you care for the School Lunch bulletin or any of the maps write at once to Mr. Evans at Washington, D. C.
