THE PAVING? WHAT SHALL WE DO?

Tuesday evening there was a meeting of citizens called by the mayor to try to get an expression from the people as to whether or not property owners in certain districts wished for additional paving. The case was presented by Mayor Kemp, and a statement of the probable annual cost to a lot front, and the time that it might run for payment, and the meeting was then thrown open for volunteer speakers. At first all seemed afraid to break the ice and so in—after one plunge some of the fellows liked it so well that they came back several times.

No vote was taken to get the opinion of those present, and those who favor additional paving—the coming season seemed to be the best talkers. Some who opposed paving until prices were lower plead poverty, because their farms were not paying them returns as they had the years before—some on whom it might work a hardship also plead poverty. Others cheerfully faced the possible cost, looking over that feature to the convenience and benefit to themselves and the community. Others told of the mistakes in putting in the present paving. One or more were sorry that the paved streets had not been made wider—and a few that they were too wide opposite their places for their purse.

Two petitions or remonstrances were presented, and after some delay and doubt as to the propriety of doing so they were read to the satisfaction of most of those present. They showed that quite a percentage of property owners in the proposed paving district at least that they did not want to pave just now—wait for a more opportune time. The reading of the names cleared the air a bit of doubt, and told who were not in favor of additional paving.

Some were dissatisfied with the action of those who favored paving, and seem to feel that the opposition did not have a fair opportunity to get their protest a hearing—but that seems to have been a matter of opinion, for opportunity was freely offered, but they were like the young lady who said she knew what she wanted to say, but could not command the language to make others understand.

As one result of the meeting a special meeting was called for last evening, a report of which is given.

THE DISTRICT DECLAMATORY CONTEST

Friday evening at Emerson the Northeast Nebraska high school declamatory contest was held, and Walthill, Tekamah, Carroll, Wausa, Emerson, Wakefield, Winnebago, Pender, Hartington, Ponca, Craig, Coleridge, South Sioux City, Lyons, Ober and Wayne high schools were represented. The evening program was interspersed with musical selections. A large audience greeted the contestants.

The first place was won by Blanche Mowhig, of South Sioux City, who will represent this district in the larger district which is to meet at Wayne the last day of this month to compete for a place in the state meet. The second place was won by Scott Millard, the only one in the oratorical class. The winner of first place was in the humorous class with six others, and the second place in this class was won by Neva Riggs, of Lyons. In the dramatic class were eight entries and Dorothy Hansen, of Emerson, won first and Elma Carter, of Carroll, the second place. Adina Surber represented the Wayne school, and in the opinion of a number of disinterested people in the audience should have been awarded first place.

The judges were: Miss Mabel E. Brown, Morning Side College, Sioux City, Iowa; Prof. Herbert Yenne, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Nebraska; Miss Mary Bost, Lincoln, Nebraska; C. V. Dunn, Alternate and time-keeper, Emerson, Nebraska.

THE MUNICIPAL IMPROVEMENT CAUCUS

Friday evening the members of the Municipal Improvement party met in caucus at the city hall and placed the following ticket in the field for the coming city election:

Mayor, Wm. Orr
Treasurer, Wm. Jenkins
Clerk, J. S. Horney
Members of Board of Education, Mrs. Wm. Morris, Mrs. O. R. Bowen, City Engineer, Robert H. Jones, Councilman 1st ward, Ernest Bichel, Councilman 2nd ward, A. M. Helt, Councilman 3rd ward, C. E. Miller, April 5th the election is to be held.

SCHOOL NEWS—SUPT. ARMSTRONG RESIGNS

At a recent meeting of the board of education Superintendent Armstrong was elected for another year of school work at Wayne without opposition, but at the last meeting of the board, this week, he tendered his resignation, which was accepted after due deliberation. Superintendent Armstrong has been at the head of the Wayne schools since the resignation of O. R. Bowen four years ago, and has proven competent and efficient on all occasions, and the members of the board and patrons of the school regret that he had decided to take this step.

Mr. Armstrong has not made known his future plans, if they are yet determined, but he told the writer that they would include a complete change from school work, or else fitting himself for a more advanced place in the work. He feels that he has come to the time to decide whether to change work or fit for better and higher school work.

The board has elected the following teachers, who have signed contracts for next school year. It is the policy of the board to not consider an election complete until the teacher has accepted and signed a contract, and no others of the teachers have yet accepted, the invited to do so.

Allis N. Pollard, Principal,
Mary I. Goodrich, History,
Elizabeth Kallemeyn, Domestic Science,
Emma Hughes, Junior High School,
Ruth Ingham, Third Grade,
Colla A. Patras, First Grade,
Isabel Derby, Kindergarten.

COMING ENTERTAINMENT

The people of Wayne are to have a real musical treat in the Yankton College Girls' Glee club which comes here April 4th under the auspices of the Woman's club. The members of the club have all had experience and all have trained voices. Following is the personnel of the organization:

First Soprano: Alice Barr, of Elk Point, president; Blanche McCormack, of White Lake; Muriel Garber, of Yankton; Elda Hurst, of Wells, Minnesota.

Second Soprano: Mabel de la Porte, of Gregory, South Dakota; Florence Babcock, of Neligh; Agnes Nordness, of Pierpont, South Dakota; Marian Claffand, of Portland, Michigan.

First Altos: Louise Serr, of Tyndall; Alma Lewis of Lake Preston; Dora Nisson, of Beresford.

Second Altos: Thelma Chapin, of Winfred, South Dakota; Nina Bosland, of Waubay, manager; Hattie Engel, of Lake Andes; Martha Nievech, of Corsica.

The club will have an accompanist, Miss Carolyn Burgess, of Yankton. Their director, Miss Gladys Koch, of the faculty of the conservatory of music will travel with them. As special attractions they have a soprano soloist, a quartet, and a reader. They will give a program of both classical and popular music and college songs.

One of the good works the home club has done was to provide a number of good entertainments, nearly all of which have added a little to the cash in the treasury. Then there is a feeling of confidence in the entertainers that are vouchered for by the members of the club.

EX-SERVICE MEN

Our great State of Nebraska, has to get a roster of all men who have served in the wars of our country, and I would like a complete list for Wayne county; so on and after April 1st of this year, see the Assessor for your precinct, and have your name listed. It is important that the State have the name and address of each and every man who has been in the service of our country during the Civil, Mexican, Spanish-American and World War.

Dated at Wayne, Nebraska, this 22nd day of March, A. D., 1921,
Chas. W. Reynolds, County Clerk.

A FREIGHT WRECK

Tuesday afternoon as the freight in charge of Conductor Owen was swinging along the track three miles west of Wayne, a car of oil, it is thought, got to swinging too much, and pitched over, and four cars and the caboose behind the oil car followed. A car of hay, a car of canned corn and empties left the rails. Traffic was delayed until the next morning, and now the wreckage is mostly cleared up, the steam derrick having been on the job. No one was hurt more than slight bruises, and so far as we know, no one is known to be responsible for the bump.

MRS. SARAH A. MICK PIONEER PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Sarah A. Mick was born in Mansfield, West Virginia, July 4, 1837 and died at her home in South Sioux City on March 21st, 1921 at the age of 83 years, 8 months and 17 days. Mrs. Mick was the daughter of Johnathan and Mary Mick, of Virginia, and in her early girlhood moved with her parents to Illinois. In 1857 at Vermont, Illinois, she married Robert R. Mick and moved with him to Jasper county, Iowa. It was shortly after moving to Iowa that Mrs. Mick was converted to the saving faith of Jesus Christ and joined the Christian church. A few years later the little family moved to Cass county, Iowa, and there joined the Methodist Episcopal church, Marine. From Cass county the next move was to Wayne county in 1891, when both the husband and wife joined the Wayne Methodist church. Here for many years the happy family lived under the beautiful blessings of God until in 1906 the family circle was broken by the death of Mr. Mick the beloved husband and father was laid to rest at Wayne and then Mrs. Mick and her two children went to live in South Sioux City.

Mrs. Mick was always a great worker in the Ladies Aid society, a faithful attendant at both church services and prayer meetings in spite of her advanced years.

During her last few weeks of earthly life, Mrs. Mick was a great sufferer with malignant tumor, but her end was peaceful.

She leaves to mourn her going two children, W. R. Mick, of Neosho, Missouri, and Mrs. Mary E. Anderson, of South Sioux City. During their married life Mr. and Mrs. Mick lost four children in infancy so she will not be a stranger in heaven and the meeting will be one of great joy to her.

She will be greatly missed by the town and community, but who can tell how great the loss will be to her family? At home the void will be very great. Oh! the sadness of the hearts as the vacant chair is seen!

Ten grandchildren, Mrs. Edw. Honey, Mrs. Donald Porter, and Mr. Otto Mick, of Neosho, Missouri; Mrs. Pearl E. Seamans, of Springfield, Missouri; Mrs. Ralph Carter, Mrs. Jennie Fish, and Mr. John Andrews, of South Sioux City; Mrs. Ethel Morsman, of Leith, North Dakota; Mrs. Louis Surber, of Wayne; and Mrs. Ottilie Garwood, of Ladysmith, Wisconsin; mourn her going, together with 14 great-grandchildren and a host of nieces, nephews and friends.

May all our sorrow be transformed into joy in the knowledge that saintly Grandma Mick is happy now in the home of her Father, her Savior, and is occupying a mansion with her beloved husband and children.

Servant of God, well done!
Thy glorious warfare's past,
The battle's fought, the race is won,
And thou art crowned at last.

The funeral from the Methodist church Tuesday afternoon was attended by many relatives and friends from Carroll and Wayne. Rev. Kilburn preached the sermon.

HEADQUARTERS AT WAYNE FOR MILLINERY, SUITS, DRESSES AND WAISTS

Here come the women who give thoughtful consideration to the correct ensemble of the wardrobe, desiring refinement and exclusiveness in their wearing apparel without exorbitant prices. They find our stock very complete from hat to shoes, of latest and best to be found. Nearly every garment is purchased by our New York buyer, and comes on approval—and each week we receive new goods of latest patterns. In all these lines. This week is the last opportunity to outfit before Easter, and we know how many of you want to make your needed spring purchases for that great event; and have therefore spared no detail in making ready to serve you well right now. Believing that I can please you, and make it to your advantage in every way, I invite you, Mrs. Jas. Jeffries, at the store exclusively for ladies and children.—adv.

HELEN L. SENTER WEDS

V. A. Senter has just received word of the marriage of his sister, Miss Helen, which occurred at Everett, Washington, March 9th, to Mr. James D. Scott, auditor of an intrurban railway of that land. They will be at home at Seattle. Miss Senter has a host of friends here, she having attended the college here, and being a graduate of the Wayne Normal.

DEATH COMES TO MRS. CARRIE BRUNER

After many weeks of suffering death came to the relief of Mrs. Carrie Bruner, for many years a resident of this place, in spite of all that could be done to prolong life, Friday, March 18, 1921, at the age of 65 years, 6 months and 24 days.

Carrie G. Charles was born in Cambridge, England, August 24, 1855, and came to America when about the age of 16 years, living first a few years in Wisconsin, and then coming to Iowa. In this state she was united in marriage to S. R. Bruner, who passed away in June 1900, at their Wayne home. They came to Wayne in 1892, and settled on the farm she owned until death, three miles north and two west of Wayne. Three children survive her, W. A. Bruner, Merced, California, who came here some weeks ago to be with his mother, Mrs. J. H. Spahr and Mrs. E. C. Perkins, of this place.

She was for many years a member of the Methodist church, and her funeral was from that place Sunday afternoon, her pastor, Rev. Wm. Kilburn preaching the sermon, while many friends gathered to pay their last tribute to a gentle neighbor, and a worthy woman with many splendid traits of character; and give sympathy to the relatives in their hour of sorrow.

She was also for many years an active member of the Rebekah lodge of this place; and members of that order paid their last tribute at the grave where the body was laid to rest with the burial ceremony of that order of women with such splendid purpose. She also held a membership in the American Insurance Union at this place, and members of that order passed fitting resolutions of sorrow and sympathy at her departure from their midst.

NATIONAL REPRESENTATIVE TO SPEAK IN BAPTIST CHURCH

Dr. E. W. Bowler, one of the representatives of the National Board of Propagation of the Northern Baptist Convention is to speak in the Baptist church next Sunday morning at 10:30. Dr. Bowler is an exceptionally able speaker and will present an Easter Message of vital worth. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock a conference will be held under the direction of Dr. Bowler to which the Baptists of Carroll have been invited. In the evening at 7:30 the new State Secretary, Dr. Walter I. Fowle, will speak. A cordial invitation is extended to the citizens in Wayne to hear these men.

JEROME R. FORBES WEDS

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Forbes received word this week of the marriage of their son, Jerome R. Forbes, of Minneapolis, to Miss Blanche Marshall, at Alhambria, California, Monday, March 14th, 1921. The bride is a Nebraska lady, and was a student from Arlington at the university at the time Mr. Forbes was in school there. The groom has for more than a year been one of the publishers and editors and owners of the Northwestern Appeal, a weekly publication, the official organ of the American Legion for Minnesota, with a circulation covering many other nearby states. They are expected at Wayne shortly on their way to their Minnesota home.

SURSTENAN-CLOCKER

Wednesday, March 23, 1921, by Judge J. M. Cherry, Mr. Paul L. Sursteman, of Neligh, and Miss Sallie L. Clocker, of Stanton, were united in marriage. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Clocker, of Stanton. She attended the State Normal part of 1919 and 1920, and taught school. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Sursteman, of Neligh. They will go to housekeeping immediately on one of the farms of the grooms father at Neligh.

NOTICE TO CHILDREN

If the children of Wayne, regardless of age will appear at the residence of J. Woodward Jones, Saturday, March 26th, at 1:30 p. m., I will give a prize to each and every child. No children allowed on the grounds prior to 4:30 p. m. Paul L. Harrington.—adv.

COUNCIL TO ASK PAVING BIDS FOR THREE DISTRICTS

At a special meeting last evening the city council passed ordinances creating three new paving districts and also establishing curb lines in the districts. Petitions were filed as well as protests. In districts No. 3 and No. 4, which are in the west part of the city 57 owners of property asked for paving and 36 objected. In district No. 5 as created there was quite a unanimous request for paving—but in a part of that district, as first suggested, many objected, so the part south of 7th street was not included in the call for paving, this district being in the northeast part of the town. Specifications are being prepared. The districts outlined are as follows:

District No. 3
Lincoln and Douglas streets from 1st to 5th streets; First street from Pearl to Blaine streets; Second and Third streets from Pearl to Douglas streets; Fourth street from Pearl to Sherman street, making 19 blocks, one of them being a double block on 1st street.

District No. 4
Douglas and Lincoln streets from Fifth to Tenth streets; Fifth, Sixth and Tenth streets from Pearl to Douglas; Seventh street from Pearl street to cemetery gate; Eighth street from Pearl to alley west of Douglas street; Ninth street from Pearl to Lincoln street, 24½ blocks.

District No. 5
Nebraska street Seventh to Tenth streets; Seventh street from Logan street to Dearborn; Eighth and Ninth streets Logan to Nebraska streets; Tenth street Logan to Windom street, making 11 blocks. This will make a total of more than 54 blocks, nearly as much as the people have put in during the past year, which is now approaching completion.

DEATH OF HENRY WERT

Friday, March 18, 1921, death came to relieve Henry Wert, of this city, who has been ill for several months at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ada Rennieck, from a stroke of paralysis, which came as the result of a number of months of gradual failing health, previous to that time. Henry Wert was born near Warren, Ohio, April 28, 1842, where he spent his boyhood and early manhood years. Here he was united in marriage, November 29, 1871, to Susan Park, who passed away twenty years later. Three children were born to this union, Aivin G., who lives near Wayne, Clara L., who passed away in early womanhood and Mrs. Ada Rennieck, of this place. After a few years at the home of his boyhood they moved to Ashland county, Ohio, where they resided until after the mother passed away. He was youngest of a family of nine, all of whom have passed on except one brother. Himself and daughter, Ada, came to Wayne county in 1899 to make their home; the son and brother having come a few years before that date. For the past few years he had divided time between the homes of son and daughter, but since his serious illness has remained with the daughter in town.

The funeral service Sunday afternoon was largely attended by his many friends from both town and country. Rev. Weyle, from Winside, a former pastor of Grace church, where he attended many years preached the sermon, and the present pastor of that church, Rev. G. Carter and Rev. Wm. Kilburn, of the Wayne Methodist church also took a part in the service, while a quartet from the choir of the Methodist church sang several hymns. Rev. Weyle paid a glowing tribute to his many sterling traits of character—giving the impressions he had formed of his man during several years of very near personal friendship. In his youth he became a member of the Christian church, and always adhered sacredly to their beliefs, never taking membership in other churches when he came from where he could attend to the church of his choice; but he was a regular attendant at some church. The burial was in the Wayne cemetery.

INCIDENTS LEADING TO

A little auto collision Sunday, no one injured no one especially to blame except lack of observance of traffic rules. A little car racing on our paved streets Sunday and some evenings, and no one injured, tho we should not cut across. An unwholesome disregard for traffic rules as to turning mid block and keeping where you should on the corners. Might think of this once.

WAYNE WOMAN'S CLUB NAMES NEW OFFICERS

Last Saturday afternoon the members of the Wayne Woman's club held their second annual election, having organized nearly two years ago. During that time they have made much progress in many ways and aided in much good community work. They have not had the financial support for some of their good movements that it appears they have deserved—but we have not heard them complain—it's the editor who is saying that, so if it makes you mad because you feel guilty, don't put the blame on the ladies. Below we give the treasurer's statement of the past year record and also a note from the president in which the total cash since organization is given.

At the meeting of the Woman's club Saturday, Mrs. M. S. Davies, treasurer, presented a financial report of the club from March 4, 1920 to March 4, 1921, as follows:

Receipts
March 4, 1920.....
Balance on hand.....$ 921.65
Received during the year..... 1,728.19
Total.....$ 2,649.84
Disbursements.....$ 2,592.41

Balance on hand, March 4, 1921.....$ 57.43

During the nearly two years the total receipts have been about $5,200. They have paid on the opera house property $3,700, besides interest, taxes, insurance and repairs leaving a balance of only $800 still due on the original purchase price of the property.

DEATH OF A LITTLE CHILD

Early Sunday morning Kenneth Darwin, the 6-weeks old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hervey Brooks died at the home of its grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Chapman, after an illness of about two weeks. No physician seemed to be able to relieve the suffering of the little one.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Pratt, of the Baptist church, and the little body was laid to rest in a cemetery at Wakefield Monday afternoon.

Columbia Grafonolas

at Pre War Prices
at Bohnerts

The prices of the beautiful Grafonolas have reduced in prices from $5 to $100 according to the size.

This is the most radical readjustment ever made in the Phonograph industry and these new prices are on pre war level. The new models are much improved over the pre war models as they now have the exclusive non set automatic stop and the other exclusive Columbia advantages which make the Columbia Grafonola the only modern Phonograph.

Come in today and see for yourself what big values these new prices give. Also special low prices on Columbia Records—59c

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

For a market for poultry, eggs and cream, remember Fortner's—adv.

The weather man changed his mind somewhat from Saturday to Monday. We had all kinds of summer heat Saturday, and the mercury indicated around the 80 mark, in the shade, and Monday morning the mercury had crawled down to within about 15 degrees of the zero mark. But no precipitation of snow or rain accompanied the falling temperature; nor have we heard of any severe storms attending the change of 65 degrees in thirty-six hours.

The State Journal quotes E. Barelman, of Wisner as saying that the cattle feeders of that vicinity are going after the cattle feeding harder than ever. There are but few small bunches of cattle left in that part of the state, the big feeders having sent their cattle to market—and are now buying feeders. In their opinion their corn will bring them more in that way than at the elevators—and no doubt that is a true way to market at best advantage this season.

Cream wanted at Fortner's—adv. Mrs. E. Benthall and daughter, Manalchus, and Mrs. Geo. Weatherholt and son, Master Gerald, from Hoskins, were Wayne visitors Friday.

I am qualified to nurse, room and board parties in my own home, which is located on North Main street. A pleasant environment for maternity cases or convalescents, before entering or after leaving the hospital. I can also accommodate relatives or friends of hospital patients, while they are in Wayne. Write or telephone Red 197. Mrs. G. P. Hitchcock.—adv. 3-17-41.

H. E. Simon, of Winside, was looking after business here Saturday morning. In a little conversation with the writer, referring to the language bill of which he was the author, and which was the cause of his defeat for the nomination, no doubt. In the face of the proposed legislation it is noticed that not a few of those who opposed the bill are now reconciled to accept it as a fair measure—and they will be very willing to let it remain the law of the state. In other words, it might have been and might be worse for them.

Some Iowa renters are moving to this part of Nebraska to get away from high land rents over the other side of the Missouri. In time they may also learn that they are coming to a better farming country than many parts of Iowa. When it may be noted that people are also leaving this part of Nebraska in search of lands that rent for less than here. Thus it ever is. "It is away out in the west," is the place some people seek but never find the land where all dreams come true.

Mrs. W. T. Evans, from Carroll, was a passenger to Montgomery county, Iowa, where she went to attend the golden wedding anniversary of her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jones, of Elliott, Iowa, who were to celebrate the event Monday. It was expected that it would be quite a family reunion, and that Mr. and Mrs. Wat Williams, so well known here, would be among the guests. Mr. Jones is a veteran of the Civil War, and they were united in marriage in Illinois, but have long been residents of their Iowa home. They have visited at times at the Evans home at Carroll and also at the Wat Williams home when they were residents of Wayne.

Conrad Jacobson, now superintendent of schools at Ponca, has been elected to a similar position at Pender for the coming school year. Mr. Jacobson is a graduate of the State Normal school at this place, and also taught in the city schools a few years ago. He is making good in school work. Superintendent VanMeter, who is now superintendent at Pender, has been assured of an appointment from Washington as one of the inspectors of schools for Uncle Sam, and to be stationed where needed. As we understand he will be assigned to territory where the federal government has to do with the schools. Perhaps in the Philippines or some other place under the direction of the United States.

In order to encourage poultry raising and the marketing of a better quality of products, several of the large produce companies of the state have agreed to pay a premium for high grade eggs. Eggs that measure up to the quality outlined by the State College of Agriculture as Nebraska Extra Firsts will command a price within 5 cents of the New York price for Fresh Gathered Extra Firsts, on the day of delivery at Grand Island, Crete, Omaha, Lincoln and other central points. The College is preparing to send out shipping cards containing a statement of the grade requirements, which can be nailed to the cases. Those who desire to take advantage of this opportunity to obtain extra money for their graded eggs should write the College for further details. Grading is a comparatively simple matter and well worth while.

WHAT THE SLUMP COST NEBRASKA FARMERS

When prices were mounting and farm products were daily advancing a lot of prosperity came to the farmers of this state and other states in great mobs—and some of them looked ahead and tried to be ready for the decline which was bound to come. But the slump came with such a slam and so hard and so sudden that it has been severely felt. The Agricultural and Live Stock page of the State Journal tells in the following paragraph what it is estimated the difference in prices on crops this year as compared to last year means to the producers. Of course the producer has an offset in a way in the less cost of some commodities he must purchase, tho the 1920 crop was produced when practically all prices entering into the cost was at the peak. Here are the figures:

"The great slump in the value of farm products in Nebraska is revealed in a bulletin of agricultural statistics recently published by the state department of agriculture. The 1920 crop—crop, tho much larger, is valued at 100 million dollars less than the 1919 crop. Cattle on farms in 1920 are valued at 100 million dollars less than in 1918. The hogs in the state in 1918 were worth 61 million dollars, 42 millions in 1919, and 23 millions in 1920. The 1920 alfalfa crop dropped to a value of 35 millions, compared to 64 millions the previous year, while last year's wild hay crop was worth but little more than a third of the 1919 crop. Horses show a drop of 25 millions since 1918 and 37 millions since 1914. The 1920 wheat crop is valued at 25 million dollars less than the 1919 crop. Even the oats crop of last year was worth 11 million dollars less than in 1919."

WHY THEY FAILED

Business men should be interested in a report put out by the government showing the percentage of failure and their causes during 1920. Of course it forms rather disheartening reading this story of the other fellow's misfortune, but it carries a reason of value and one that deserves

"The Fordson at Work"

A mighty valuable booklet just issued by the Ford Motor Company. It is yours for the asking. Drop in and get one or drop a card or letter and we will mail you a copy free.

This book is not what the Ford Motor Company has to say about the Fordson Tractor, but what the tens of thousands of users have to say. Get the book! It is yours for the asking. Keep in mind the fact that behind every Fordson Tractor are all the resources of the great Ford Motor Company, likewise that reliable "Ford After-Service" which assures the keeping of the Tractor in working order every day in the year. Remember also that the Fordson Tractor, like the Ford car, is simplicity itself in design and construction; easy to understand and easy to operate. Come in and let us tell you more about it. It is more important to the farmer today than anything else.

The Age of Machine Power on the Farm is no longer a matter of speculation; it is here—an established fact. It is the latest advanced step civilization has taken. It comes to the farmer with the full promise to lift the great burden of drudgery and wearisome, wearing-out toil from the muscles of man and carrying them with much more profit by power of machinery, with the result that larger production, more comfort and greater wealth will come to the farm homes wherever the Fordson is employed. ELECTRIC OR POWER

SAVES

Backache Health Temper
Worry Delay Clothing

It is extravagant to try to wash without this great labor-saving washer. The saving derived in a year will actually pay the price of the machine, and it is constructed to last a lifetime.

The WILSON is made in single and double tub washing machines—but is so built that the single-tub machine is very little inferior to its double, for the reason that it is so constructed that the lid of the machine may be transferred to an ordinary wash tub, and all of the mechanism, including wringer be available for rinsing or washing.

The wringer is so constructed that it may be run either way, forward or back, and is constantly connected with the power at any point of a complete circle from the shaft supporting it. It has an instant stop device—also a means of instant release of the rolls, a really safety appliance. The drainboard is adjustable to either side, and is much larger than the ordinary drain board, carrying the water back without slopping over the floor.

Equipped for more actual laundry service than any other machine regardless of price.

careful study. The high spot in the report is that of the entire number of concerns which failed in the United States in a single year, more than 90 per cent of them—think of that—more than 90 per cent were establishments that did not advertise. If there was ever an argument in favor of using printer's ink in a judicious way, your Uncle Sam has presented it through this report.

We presume that in most instances these unsuccessful concerns did not advertise because they were satisfied to drag along. Then came the readjustment period and they found that the very thing that was putting their competitors over the humps—advertising—had been the one thing they had ignored. The merchants who used printer's ink got rid of war-priced stocks at even money or better, and were able to stay on their feet. The fellow who had goods that were declining in value daily and didn't have brains enough to use the papers to tell the people that he wanted to get under took his place with the 90 per cent who are now sadder but wiser in the ways of the business world. If you want the best reason in the world why you should advertise judiciously and sensibly, Mr. Home Merchant, just sit down and think over Uncle Sam's own figures—that 90 per cent of all business failures of 1920 were of concerns that did not advertise.

GOD GIVE US MEN

God give us men. A time like this demands STRONG minds, GREAT hearts, TRUE faith and ready hands. God give us men. MEN whom the lust of office does not all! MEN whom the spoils of office CAN NOT buy! MEN who possess opinions and a will! MEN who have honor! Men who will not lie! MEN who can stand before a demagogue And damn his treacherous flatteries without winking.

Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog, In public duty and in private thinking.

For while the rabble, with their thumb-worn creeds, Their large professions and their little deeds, Mingle in selfish strife—lo! Freedom weeps, Wrong rules the land and waiting Justice weeps.

After we have decided upon disarmament, and a peace program with other nations of the world, it is possible that we may decide to do something for the innocent people of America who have to pay the penalty of the perpetual quarrel between labor and capital. But for the great mass of people who are but spectators in such a time, as a rule, neither labor or capital would have much need to quarrel. The people should have their rights not only considered, but protected.

Senators and representatives are beginning to pass on to the fellow in the other branch of congress blame for some appropriation bills to which people object. Just now Senator Norris when called for his attitude in the matter of the annual grant for free seeds, writes a letter to G. A. Lewis of Winside, in which he says that members of the house of representatives forced that part of the bill upon the senate. In other words, we would say, a trade was made taking into the bill some other objectionable feature which the senate desired should draw public money. Why not be independent?

W. J. Bryan says that President Wilson "will have a place in history" but that it is yet too early to say how exalted that place is to be. He was president in a time of more than ordinary stress. Elected to make needed economic reforms which were well under way when the world war made necessary the abandonment for the time of many of these needed changes, he turned to the task of building an army and equipping it and putting it in a battle front across 3,000 miles of water, and while mistakes were made, the record of the ends accomplished will set a new mark in the world history of such endeavor, and a mark which may never be passed, we hope. Had all, or even half of this energy been expended for economic reforms the hold of plutocracy and aristocracy, corporation corrupt control of government and its attendant wrongs to the masses, would have received their death blow, and we might have been well on the way to a control of the affairs of the nation by the people rather than by the railroads, the packing concerns, the coal barons, the insurance combines, the grain gamblers, the telephone and telegraph monopolies, and the "kept" press, all might have gotten a jolt. For a lot of these concerns the war was a stay to legitimate proceedings against them. And unless they can stop peace agreements and disarmament and civilized methods of correcting world wrongs their day of doom is not far distant. A peaceful revolution will take their power from them—unless they persist in refusing to submit to peaceful revolution. That is the way the signs of the times look to a great many people.

OUR LEGISLATURE

The house passed a bill authorizing cities and towns to make a special tax levy for advertising purposes.

The increase in the appropriations for state aid bridges means the construction of 23 additional state aid bridges, it is said.

The senate passed the bill providing for a two year term of office in cities of the second class but changed it so it will not go into effect until next year.

When the new blue sky bill becomes a law stock salesmen cannot draw more than 10 per cent commission for their labors. An allowance of 2 1/2 per cent is made for other expenses.

Opponents of the language law are still busy interviewing members of the house. It is possible that something of a fight may occur when this bill comes up. It has the backing of strong interests.

The senate approved the house bill fixing salaries of deputy state officers and others. The best any of them can do is $2,500 a year. This is an increase from $1,800 a year. The original bill called for larger salaries.

The Douglass bill making changes in the primary bill passed the house. This is the bill that provides for the selection of primary candidates by a convention. The senate has a similar bill. The Douglass bill is likely to pass but it is predicted that the senate bill will fail.

Warden Fenton expresses himself as strongly opposed to the plan to operate the new state reformatory in connection with the penitentiary. He says there will be no economy in doing so and that results will not be as satisfactory. He says the state might as well build an addition to the penitentiary and be done with it.

Only three votes were cast against the big appropriation bill in the house. About seven millions of the appropriation is for educational purposes, four and a half millions for state institutions, five millions for roads, three and a half millions for general state expenses and the balance for miscellaneous purposes.

The hail insurance bill passed the house with the $100,000 revolving fund clause stricken out. This was the main bone of contention. Other wise there was little objection to the bill and it is said to be better than the present law. One advantage is that it will require advance payment of premiums. The bill carries the emergency clause and will become effective this year.

The biggest fight of the session was waged over the advancement of the movie censorship bill. A part of two days was required before the members got all the oratory out of their systems. When the vote was finally taken the vote for the censorship bill was 53 for to 38 against. This automatically killed the Gifford-Byrum bill which was considered at the same time.

Secretary Hart of the banking department was appointed receiver of the failed Blair bank. He gets no additional compensation for this work. It is said that a bill will be introduced by the governor providing that the secretary shall act as receiver for all defunct banks. The object is to keep such banks under the supervision of the department. When a bank goes into the hands of a receiver now the department has nothing further to say about it.

In support of his bill providing that the state shall go into the bonding business for the purpose of providing official bonds for state and county officers, Senator Cronin, points out that the state has spent two million dollars for fees on bonds during the last twenty years. He contends that the state can carry this risk at a lower price than the bonding companies can. In other words, it can supply protection at the regular rates and make a handsome profit.

American legion representatives in the house are opposed to the proposed bonus bill. One of their reasons is that they got their boxing bill and relief bill for disabled soldiers passed without difficulty. Another reason is that the proposed bonus bill would not afford enough relief in any one year to amount to anything. They figure that it would only produce about $20 a year for each man and that some who served the longest would not get all that is coming to them for eleven years.

The total appropriations of this session will run close to thirty million dollars. A part of this amount is due to the fact that the state's fiscal year now ends June 30th. The budget for the coming two years is above 21 million dollars but this is not available until July 1st. This made a sizable appropriation necessary to take care of the deficiency from January 1st to July 1st. That part of the appropriation that is for the new capitol will remain in the treasury until it is called for in the construction of the new building.

The bill for remaking the legislative and senatorial districts of the state had a narrow chance for its life. The house had just killed the judicial and congressional redistricting bills and was in a mood to make a clean sweep but wise council proved to the members that the constitution requires them to redistrict the state for legislative purposes. Under the new plan there will be no float districts and this is a feature of the bill to which some object. Omaha is also opposed to the new plan. The house finally agreed upon districts for its own members and left the senatorial districts for the senate to scrap over.

House roll 598, which provides for examination of milk cows, was advanced by the house. This bill might more probably be called a bill in the interests of the veterinarians and the canned milk manufacturers. If it becomes a law, and the chances are favorable, no milk may be sold except from cows that have been properly examined.

For so many acts of kind aid and sympathy so freely given during the long illness of our father, and in the last hours of his life, during funeral and burial, as well as for the generous floral offering, we wish to express our appreciation and sincere thanks.

HENRY DENGER RETURNS FROM THREE MONTHS TRIP ABROAD

Henry Denger returned home Monday afternoon from a three month's trip through Denmark, Norway, Germany and Switzerland, the greater part of which was spent visiting with his mother and other relatives in Germany. He talks very interestingly of present conditions in Germany. Cards for food rations are issued there, each person being allowed two pounds of bread and five pounds of potatoes per week. Two pounds of sugar are allowed per month, while meat and lard are plentiful for those who are able to pay the extremely high prices. The entire supply of milk is restricted for the use of children under six years of age. Condensed milk from America can be had, but the price is prohibitive to the poorer classes. Henry says that the high officials of the pre-war days are now paupers, having lost everything they possessed. Everything made in Germany can be purchased with United States money at very reasonable prices. He says our money will buy a good cigar for a cent and a half. Railroad fares are also very reasonable there. Fourth class fare for a distance from Plainview to Norfolk amounts to about five cents. Admission to theatres and other amusements are also very reasonable. He brought back a number of presents for his wife and children, such as dolls, necklaces, etc. He reports a very enjoyable trip and visit, but expressed his extreme pleasure upon his arrival back to this country.—Plainview News.

When passing look in at the north window of the A. G. Grunemeyer plumbing shop and note the difference in the appearance of the contents of two bottles of city water. One appears clear, pure and to have all solids and mineral matter taken out—a splendid water for healthful drink. The other is just a sample of its twin bottle, except that it has NOT been filtered thru this

Borromite
Water
Softener

When one sees the solids deposited from a single gallon of hard water and thinks how many gallons one will drink in a month, he ceases to wonder that some people do not have healthy stomachs. Look at the inside of your family teakettle, if you use hard water unfiltered, and you get another shock. Great, hard scales of lime and other solids—enough to line your stomach and intestines from top to bottom.

If you would make life a pleasure, if you would have the best and purest of water for all household purposes—so that the family health is clean and the family wash is clean and soft and clothing not injured by the foreign ingredients in your water—see all about one of these filters, which absolutely removes all harmful foreign substances.

THE NATIONAL EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION

(By Ellen M. Brown, County Supt. Ia Pender Republic.)

The superintendents' section of the National Teachers' association met at Atlantic City, New Jersey, known as the world's famous playground, February 24 to March 3, 1921. This is a city consisting of excellent hotels and apartment houses and noted for its board walk, extending nine miles along the seashore. On one side of this walk are found the souvenir shops and the best hotels of the city, while along the other side are the piers and the seashore playground.

All the general meetings of the association were held in the most noted pier, namely, the Million Dollar Pier. The auditorium of this pier was decorated with many flags and blue and white bunting to match the blue ceiling, studded with blue and white electric lights, which brilliantly illumined ated the room. Added to this were the many mirrors found on the walls contributing to its attractiveness. The music of the waves of the Atlantic ocean beneath us also lent enchantment to the occasion.

The meeting was very instructive, helpful and inspirational, as the leaders of all educational lines of our nation appeared on the program. Every speaker realizing the trend of the times felt the need of bringing his message home. Special emphasis was placed upon the following: Health Problems or Teaching Boys and Girls How to Keep Well, Better Attendance, Better Trained Teachers and Training for Higher Citizenship with Christian Ideals, upon which our nation was founded by our Pilgrim forefathers.

Dr. Henry Van Dyke, of Princeton college, in his address on "Arts and Morals," brought out the effect of the various lines of art upon the morals. He lamented the fact that with all the beautiful and soul-inspiring music, that jazz or rag-time music should appeal to anyone. He stated that "children brought up on jazz music would have low ideals, as this music was invented by demons for the torture of the innocent." Similarly he mentioned that the trend of the times along the various lines of art is retrograding, but the schools are not wholly to blame; it is the spirit of the age. Law will not make people virtuous; it requires the spirit of holiness.

W. L. Hardus, ex-governor of Iowa, although not directly connected with educational work, gave us a wonderful address. He said: "A citizen is not doing his full duty unless he is interested and aiding in the advancement of education." He describes an optimist as a person who sees a light where there is no light; and a pessimist as one who comes along and blows out that light. Our country can no longer boast that education is free; but that it is compulsory and necessary. The problem as to what our country is to do within the next ten years is our interest as it lies in the hands of the public schools. It is the duty of the public to furnish the best for the boys and girls in our nation. When the spirit of the American school and the American church leave the community it is no longer an American community. "The Savior's life work was to teach; the American school is the pulsation of His life."

Mrs. Corinne Roosevelt Robinson, sister of Theodore Roosevelt, received the heartiest greeting of any speaker appearing on the program. The audience cheered, arose, and applauded again. She, like her brother Teddy, carried her audience with her. In her address, "Theodore Roosevelt, Lover of Books," she clearly revealed the influence of the study of heroes and heroines upon the lives of boys and girls. She illustrated it with Hawthorne's story of the "Great Stone Face." How Ernest worshipped and adored the Great Stone Face, until he acquired the characteristics of the Great Stone Face. In like manner, Theodore Roosevelt studied the life of Abraham Lincoln, until he became a second Lincoln.

That the health education is one of the important problems in our reconstruction was thoroughly demonstrated by time being devoted to this subject in various sectional meetings. Nutrition, physical training and establishing health habits should be a part of the curriculum of each school. Boys and girls should be taught how to keep well. Make health fashionable. A beautiful health crusade pageant, "King Good Health Wins," illustrating how children are removing the dreadful dragon disease by their daily health habits was rendered by two hundred children of the Atlantic City schools.

H. R. Bonner, specialist in educational statistics, said "The American people are practical and efficient, but they waste annually millions of dollars in education because of their failure to enforce compulsory education laws." He called the attention to the weakness in the compulsory law in many states, including Nebraska, permitting children to enter school at the age of five years, but not compelling them to attend regularly until seven, thus forming bad habits. Too, it causes a large per cent of repeaters in the lower grades as they have not attended long enough to complete the grade. In addition it causes a great waste of the school taxes as shown by the statistics for the year 1918, being $175,000,000 an amount equal to 23 cents lost out of every dollar.

The closing exercises of the association will long be remembered by all in attendance. The climax was reached when the lights were extinguished, except those in the two eagles and the flag on the ceiling which flashed constantly, giving the appearance of eagles in flight and Old Glory waving through the night, while the audience sang the Star Spangled Banner.

CHIROPRACTORS AT OMAHA

Saturday afternoon Drs. Lewis and Lewis, of this city, went to Omaha for Sunday, at the invitation of the Iowa Chiropractors of Western Iowa, who met at that city then to celebrate the acts of the Iowa legislature in recognizing them officially as legitimate physicians. The term physician is used in its broad sense of healers. Four or five other states during the present season gave recognition to the chiropractors, and as this action came in every instance after a careful investigation of their methods, it is safe to say that this manner of treatment is finding a growing recognition. The Nebraska legislature did not make any changes in the law, which practically excludes most of those who graduate from the leading schools where the science is taught.

From the report in the daily press of Omaha we glean that their meeting was a success. Representatives from this state, South Dakota and Missouri being present to meet the Iowa delegation. After a business meeting in which many questions of interest were discussed a banquet was served at a leading hotel, when a feast of toasts was enjoyed. Besides chiropractors well up in the profession a number of others spoke, among them being representative E. Anderson, from Knox county, whose home is at Wausa, and who is a patron of this method of healing, and representative Mosely, from Lincoln. Dr. Lyons, from Glenwood, Iowa, was also a speaker. It was all in all a very pleasant meeting socially and professionally.

NEBRASKA FARMERS ELECT DELEGATES

More than eight hundred members of various farmers' co-operative associations met at the Lincoln hotel Monday afternoon to elect delegates to attend a farmers' co-operative conference to be held in Chicago April 6 for the purpose of accepting or rejecting the plan made out by the committee of seventeen for a farmers' national marketing system. The names of the delegates are:

Farm bureau delegate, J. M. Morton, of Polk, Nebraska.
Farmers' union delegate, H. G. Keeney, of Cowles, Nebraska.

National co-operative elevators association delegate, W. F. Dale, Lincoln.
Nebraska grain and livestock co-operative association delegate, J. W. Shorthill, Omaha.

National wheat growers' association delegate, J. L. Hill, of Holstein, Nebraska.

Delegates at large, H. C. Filley, of the rural economics department of the University of Nebraska; H. L. Keefe, of Walthill, Nebraska.
According to F. M. Russell, publicity director of the farm bureau federation, it is likely that the delegation of seven from Nebraska will accept the marketing plan offered by the committee of seventeen. Five of the seven men are believed to be in

No wonder the fat man chuckled

I SWELLED with pride.

THE FAT man next to me,

WAS READING one,

OF MY cigarette ads.

AND I felt him chuckle,

NOW NO one had ever,

PRAISED THAT ad.

SO I had to ask,

IF HE liked it.

AND HE said, "Sure."

AND LAUGHED some more.

THEN HE said,

"LOOK HERE" and pointed,

AND WHERE I'd written,

"PURE TOBACCO."

THE PRINTER had set,

"PURE TABASCO."

AND THAT'S why the man,

THOUGHT MY ad.

WAS HOT stuff.

BUT THEN he said,

"FORGET THE ads.

I NEVER read 'em.

BUT LEMME tell you,

SOMETHING DIFFERENT.

THEY OUGHT to say,

ABOUT THAT cigarette,

AND THAT is this.

THEY SATISFY."

AND DARNED IF I don't think,

HE REALLY believed,

HE WAS giving me,

SOMETHING NEW!

YOU can blame it on the printer if you don't see "They Satisfy" in a Chesterfield advertisement. But be sure of this—you'll find it in the cigarette every time. Wonderful Turkish and Domestic tobaccos, wonderfully blended—it sounds easy. But you'll find nothing else like Chesterfields. That blend can't be copied.

Farmer Union Meetings For Wayne County

Plans are made for a series of Farmer Union meetings in this county, beginning with one at

Wayne City Hall

Monday Evening, March 28th

and continuing each evening as follows:

Tuesday Evening at Winside

Wednesday Evening at Hoskins

Thursday Evening at Carroll

Friday Evening at Altona

H. C. Elwood, of Creighton, is to be the chief speaker. He is a man of more than statewide reputation, and all classes of men and women are welcome to attend these gatherings and learn first hand just what the organized farmers desire to do for the betterment of all rural communities. It will be an opportune time for all citizens to learn the Union view on public questions. Come out and get acquainted—we may like each other better—and understand each other better.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mrs. Wm. Libengood was hostess at the Bible Study circle Tuesday afternoon. A goodly number of auto loads of interested Sunday school teachers and others were present to discuss the climax lesson in the Matthew series. The topic of the resurrection of the dead was dealt with and carefully considered from many scriptural passages. Prayer was especially requested for Mr. E. Seywika and family, who are leaving in April for Portuguese, East Africa, where are millions of raw heathens entirely untouched by the Gospel. Prayer was also made for Mr. Jeffers, who has made several trips into Mexico in mission plans. Many sick and in sorrow were tenderly remembered and committed to Him who careth. Mrs. McClellan will be hostess next Tuesday afternoon, when will begin the new quarters lesson. All are cordially invited.

Thursday the 17th was the birthday of Mrs. Richard Hansen, and in honor of the event she kept open house during the afternoon and evening when the relatives and neighbors called and congratulated her, partook of some of the choice refreshments provided and left their best wishes. But as the evening shades were falling the unexpected arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wallace, her daughter, from Holstein, Iowa, was indeed a source of much pleasure. They drove over from their Iowa home, spent the night, and left for home the middle of the next forenoon, coming near a hundred miles to the celebration and returning without missing more than one day from home. That Mrs. Hansen may enjoy many other birthdays was the wish of her many friends.

A Surprise Party
Members of Mrs. Beard's Sunday school class gave her a happy surprise Saturday at 6:30 o'clock. The members, with baskets filled with good eats gathered at the church parlor and when Mrs. Beard was called to the church she found the table loaded with delicious food. During their supper the Harriett Stroh girls presented her with a beautiful serving tray for helping the girls so faithfully in their work. After supper the Sunday school class presented her with a gold wrist watch in remembrance of them. Mrs. Beard will be greatly missed both in the guild and the Sunday school work.

Friday evening Master Everett H. B...

... celebrated his 9th birthday with a gathering of two dozen of his young school friends and neighbor boys and girls. An automobile gathered the little folks from town and sped to the pleasant country home three miles east of town, where a splendid supper was served with a large cake filled with candles for the center of attraction. Many games were played before and after the supper, and then as the shades of night were gathering the little ones had a happy ride home again. The young host received numerous presents and lots of good wishes, had years of his age and "one to grow on" numbered several times on his back.

The Central Social Circle met with Mrs. Fred Wendt last week Thursday for its regular meeting. In response to roll call the members gave current events. Most of these regarded the new president, W. G. Harding, and his inauguration. An Easter program was carried out under the leadership of Mrs. Joe Haines. A number of games and contests followed. The room was decorated with shamrocks, suggestive to St. Patrick. The hostess served a delicious luncheon. Mesdames B. F. Fleming, Adm Austin and Miss Neva Fleming became members. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Haines with Mrs. Carl Surber as social leader.—Carroll Index.

W. C. T. U. Meetings
The W. C. T. U. met March 18th at the home of Mrs. Geo. Crossland with an interesting program of music by Mrs. Crossland, and paper by Mrs. Lutgen and discussion of subjects of "Our Best Opportunities." Mrs. Crossland served refreshments.

A social session of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. J. G. Mines Saturday, March 26 from three till five o'clock in the afternoon, to which all the lady teachers of the high school and Normal are invited. Each member is requested to bring a friend with her. By Order of Committee.

Mrs. A. A. Welch, Mrs. F. G. Philico and Mrs. Williams entertained a few friends Wednesday afternoon in honor of Miss Ella Morrison. Each one making a holder and the one who made the most beautiful holder won a prize. Miss Morrison won the prize, which was a bouquet of yellow carnations, the holders were all fastened to the bouquet, making it a shower bouquet. A delightful two course luncheon was served by the hostesses. Miss Morrison and Mr. Paul Harring.

... are to be married Saturday the 26th, at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. W. Jones.

Sunday afternoon a party of young folks from Pender drove to Wayne and were guests for a 6:30 dinner at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. T. House. Later in the evening they came to the E. O. Gardner home and spent a social two or three hours, where homemade candies were served. The Pender people were, Messrs. Mark James, Will Carlton, Henshall Essex and Miss Gertrude Essex. They were joined at the House home by Owen Brainard and Misses Florence and Lila Gardner. Miss Florence returned to Pender with them.

The annual congregational banquet was held in the Presbyterian church Friday evening. Two long tables were set in the Sunday school room and were loaded with good things to eat. The decorations were fine. Mrs. A. D. Cavanaugh was chairman of a committee of ladies who waited on the guests. A very large crowd were present. After the supper a short musical program was given and other business followed.

The Monday club held their regular meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. R. Bowen. Mrs. A. A. Welch gave an interesting paper on immigration. Mrs. W. H. Morris was a guest. Light refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be next Monday at the home of Mrs. D. E. Brainard, when she will entertain the ladies and their husbands at a 6:30 o'clock dinner.

Mrs. C. A. Chace entertained at her home Saturday afternoon in honor of Virginia Chapin, who is here from Denver, Colorado. The afternoon was spent with Kensington. The guests were Mrs. Le Roy Ley, Mrs. A. T. Cavanaugh, Mrs. Paul Mines, Mrs. Lester Vath, Miss Roda Chace, Virginia Chapin and four children. A delicious two course luncheon was served by the hostess.

Mrs. C. E. McLennan entertained the Alpha Woman's club at a St. Patrick party, Thursday evening. The time was spent playing games. St. Patrick decorations were used. A seven o'clock luncheon was served by the hostess.

Mrs. C. E. Sprague entertained about twenty ladies at a St. Patrick party Thursday afternoon at her home. The time was spent with Irish games, after which refreshments were served.

The Early Hour club will meet this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fisher. The usual 6:30 o'clock dinner will be served and the evening will be spent playing 500.

Miss Ella Morrison was at home to a number of her friends Tuesday afternoon and evening.

The U. D. club will meet Monday, March 28th, at the home of Mrs. Jas. Miller.

The Sorosis club will meet Monday, March 28th, at the home of Mrs. Fred Blair.

WITH THE WAYNE CHURCHES

First Baptist Church
(Robert H. Pratt, S. T. M. Minister)
The Annual Fellowship Supper and business meeting of this church will be held on Wednesday evening. Officers will be elected and important business meeting of the church will be held and congregation are earnestly requested to be present.

The Ladies Mission circle will meet on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ross. The election of officers will be held and a short program has been prepared. A good attendance is desired.

On Sunday March 27, we are to have with us Dr. Fowle, our state secretary and Dr. Bowler, who represents the National Board of Promotion. These men are fine speakers and you will miss much if you do not hear them. Look in the locals for an announcement as to the time at which they will speak.

The choir will furnish special Easter music next Sunday, and the pastor will present an Easter message, unless Dr. Fowle speaks in the morning. There will be an Easter Baptism service following the morning worship.

All the regular services will be held at the usual hours. Why not celebrate Easter by attending church at every service? Try it!

The Presbyterian Church

Why We Can Guarantee Satisfaction

It is logical, and our experience of years in the business has proven to us that to assure satisfaction there must be no misunderstanding. A satisfied customer is the only kind we bid for—we try to create no knockers. We find that the customer who comes to our places of business and sees every design of monument and all grades and shades of granite is the one who is best pleased when his work is completed and set up.

For that reason we have prepared a large show room—ample for all manner of late designs in monuments, in the different good grades of stone. Then we invite the people to come and see just what pleases them.

Economy Is Another Thing We Consider

—an economy that means a saving to the purchaser By enlarging our facilities to receive the stone in rough block, just as it comes from the quarries, we save you much in freight classification. We get car lot rates, and that car classed at one of the lowest freight rates, while the finished product must frequently come as local freight and in a much higher classification.

No place in Nebraska now has a larger or better equipped work shop and show room than we have at Wayne—nor do they carry a larger or greater variety of good stock for all classes of monuments.

We can come to you with photographic reproduction of all designs we handle—we can bring you samples of the different shades and grades of stone; but we feel that you will be so much better satisfied if you come in person to our Wayne factory and make a selection after seeing the work just as it is, and you can come to us as cheap as we can go to you.

We have the Barre Products, considered by many as so beautiful and so enduring. We have the best grades of Wisconsin and Minnesota granites—and they come in pink, red and gray.

But you can see more in an hour than we can write to you in a page.

Yours for Quality Material, Artistic Work, Economical Production.
