WOMANS' HOME MISSIONARY MEETING AT RANDOLPH

Last week the women of this corner of Nebraska held their annual district meeting at Randolph, and a good meeting it was, according to report. Among those from Wayne were Mrs. Geo. Crossland, Mrs. Eli Laughlin, Mrs. E. S. Blair, Mrs. M. Goodyear, Mabel Britell, Mrs. Wm. Beckenhauer, and Miss Frances, and Miss Martha Crockett. The young ladies last named were on the program for a duet.

Mrs. Eli Laughlin acted as recording secretary, Mrs. Overrocker of Norfolk being ill and not able to attend. Miss Bentley from St. Louis was present and made a splendid address. A deaconess from this state was present and took a part in the sessions. The reports read showed the society in a flourishing condition. Seven new local societies were organized, nine auxiliaries were visited by district officers and eleven children are being cared for by the different local organizations in the home at York.

At the election the following were named for the different offices: Mrs. George Crossland, Wayne, president; Mrs. W. T. Fisher, Randolph, vice president; Mrs. E. S. Blair, Wayne, treasurer; Mrs. W. S. Mosher, Plainview, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. H. Overrocker, Norfolk, recording secretary.

Banners for first place in different departments of work were won by the local organizations at Wayne, Carroll and Plainview.

"NOT GUILTY" WAS THE VERDICT

Wednesday E. Winslow and C. Bryce, two young men of this community were before Judge Cherry on charge of assault, the alleged victims being two college students. But guilty or not, their acts were the cause of a serious injury to Dr. G. J. Hess. It was in the street at his home that the scene was enacted, and the doctor believing that the young men were trying to take the young ladies into their car by station if possible and by force if necessary, ran to the rescue, fell over wires put out to protect his lawn until the new grass started, and had his shoulder blade fractured. The testimony of the girls was to the effect that they were talking with the boys regarding flowers which they had, and the boys claimed to want to purchase with cash or a ride. At any rate, no assault was proven, says the Judge who heard all of the evidence.

SAM AND THE BEE CONTEST

This subscription contest is to close June 25th, and our good citizen Sam Davies is in for a winning from this district, if we can judge from the work he is doing and the manner in which loyal friends are coming to his aid. Many have volunteered to come in under the wire before the finals are done, and in order to not miss if you should make a move now, and avoid the rush. Of course we are not going to tell how many million votes Sam already has and we do not know. Besides, if we knew today, the next day would add many to the showing. You would feel sorry if Sam should miss the big prize by just the few votes you had promised him; and you had to say, "I meant to, but forgot until too late." Better do it now.

TWO VIEWS OF GREAT QUESTION

At Denver Monday organized labor—the American Federation of Labor, said thru their leaders and delegates that the past year had been one of trials to them, but that there had also been victories for union labor, and a greeting was sent out to that effect to their 4,000,000 members.

In the same paper we read report of a speech made before the graduating class of the university at Syracuse, New York, by perhaps the greatest leader of those who oppose unionism, Elbert H. Gary, of the great steel corporation, and he said that the open shop was that which offered the only opportunities for individuals to attain their greatest opportunities and advantages. Thus two views of the labor question appeared side by side as expressed by leading men of the two opposite views. All this goes to show that the battle is not over. In fact, few now living will see the end of the battle we fear. Selfishness on the part of most of us may be given credit for being responsible for our differences to a great degree.

ADVERTISED LETTERS

Wayne, Nebraska, June 15, 1921.—Letters: Gus Anderson, Mr. R. E. Drummond, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Gartner, Mr. Fred Hendrickson, Andy Rickman and Mrs. C. D. Swanson.

WAYNE NEIHARDT CLUB IN ANNUAL SESSION TONIGHT

This evening at the Boyd hotel members of the Neihardt club of this city will hold their annual meeting, and Mr. Neihardt, now poet laureate of the state is to be present and participate in the event. He will favor the members of the club with one of his unprinted poems "Indian Wars". Quite an elaborate program will be presented under direction of Mrs. Melburn from Oakland, who is to preside as toastmaster, and President Conn of the Normal, Judge James Brittain, Superintendent Blievoricht and others will respond to her call. After the banquet and after dinner speeches are finished, a business session will follow.

The next evening and Saturday Mr. Neihardt will be entertained at Lincoln by many noted people, and while there will be officially notified of the action of the late legislature in crowning him the poet of Nebraska. Wayne and Wayne people feel a deep interest in the honors that have been earned and have come to the poet who made his start toward fame in the schools of our city.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

At the regular session of the council Tuesday evening, the usual monthly bills were allowed and ordered paid.

James Steele was named as a special police at the expense of the college, where he is to be on duty when needed. James is duly vested with authority to preserve order, and enforce the rules of the institution relating to conduct of pupils and visitors on the grounds.

An estimate was made by Engineer Rourhaugh on the cost of extending the water main in 7th street so as to permit of a fire plug at Pearl and Lincoln and 7th streets, and bids are to be asked for the work.

On motion $500 was transferred from the road fund to the light fund, and $900 was transferred from the sewer maintenance fund to the light fund. The sum of $187.01 was transferred from the sidewalk fund to the general fund.

The sum of $4,000 was allowed on the bill of McGerr for grading, and a warrant ordered drawn.

It was also voted to purchase from the Normal a quantity of segment blocks suitable for sewer building and have them installed.

Council adjourned to meet June 23.

MRS. IRA LYMAN DIES AT WAKEFIELD

Last Friday at their home in the suburbs of Wakefield, Mrs. Ira Lyman gave birth to triplets, a boy and two girls and died the evening following, at the age of 44 years.

The Lymans have lived at Wakefield for a number of years, and carried on a successful truck farm, he supplying many Wayne as well as Wakefield patrons. Mrs. Lyman was the mother of fifteen children, there being one pair of twins besides the triplets. One son served in the war, and was gassed, but is now apparently well, a daughter who has been a successful teacher was married this spring, and another daughter is a nurse, and is now home in care of her little brother and sisters.

The funeral was held Monday at Wakefield.

FORGED CHECKS IN EVIDENCE IN SEVERAL TOWNS

A young man giving his name as Albert Anderson has been doing a thriving stealing business the past few days. He comes to the stores with cream or egg checks of the Hartford Produce Company, and seems to have made good time over territory between Omaha and Sioux City and Norfolk. At this place it is said that he picked up more than $100 and left the worthless checks Friday. At Norfolk, the News says that the checks were mostly $12.36 for cream or $5.64 for eggs. Stanton, West Point, Boomer and possibly other towns are said to have been victimized. One of the Norfolk men who cashed a check said that he knew the young fellow to be or at least had been a resident of the farming community north of that city.

THE ALUMNI ENTERTAINMENT

One of the enjoyable features of the Normal annual Homecoming Day, which is tomorrow, is promised in the presentation of the "Triumph of Pauline", by the alumni under direction of Virginia Bowen at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon. The classes of 1915, '16, '20 and '21 will be represented.

WAYNE WOMAN'S CLUB ANNUAL CHRISTMAS BAZAAR

The Wayne Woman's club will hold its Annual Christmas Bazaar the first Saturday in December.

Mrs. Fred Blair is general chairman and announces the following committees:

FORTUNE TELLING—Mrs. J. H. Foster, Mrs. W. O. Crabtree.

Each chairman is asked to call her committee together frequently during the intervening months to plan and work for her department. She will have charge of her booth on the day of the Bazaar and may invite anyone, whether members of the club or not, to assist. Each committee will solicit articles for its own department and all friends of the club are invited to contribute to the Bazaar. Let us begin now, to make this a success.

SHOWER MISS VIRGINIA CHAPIN

A miscellaneous shower was held in the Dr. and Mrs. B. M. McIntyre home Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Virginia Chapin whose wedding to Mr. Arthur McCain, of Springfield, Missouri, on June 11 was announced some time ago. Miss Chapin was presented with three sets of silverware, a cut glass water set, a fruit basket center piece, hand painted china and a huge bouquet of beautiful flowers. Following a very pleasant social evening, the hostess, Mrs. B. M. McIntyre served refreshments.

A second shower in honor of Miss Chapin was held in the Alex Gabler home Wednesday afternoon. The occasion was a kitchen shower and the prospective bride was the recipient of many useful kitchen utensils. The afternoon proved to be a pleasant one for everyone present and was appropriately concluded with the serving of dainty refreshments.

The above is from the Winslow Tribune, and the many Wayne friends of the bride will join in wishing her a happy wedded life, for she is an estimable young lady.

PICNIC AT WAYNE JULY 4TH

Plans for the Community House picnic at the Wayne city park July 4th are going forward, and there is promise of a fine entertainment for the people of Wayne and vicinity and the Normal students many of whom will not be able to go to their homes. There will be free attractions, music and the like, a picnic dinner for all who care to join for the picnic; a cafeteria lunch for others. There will also be chance to spend some money for amusements, and the profits from the concessions, are to go into the community house funds, so one may feel that a liberal patronage of the booths means a generous aid toward securing a needed improvement for this community.

WARNING NOTICE

To all automobile owners and drivers:—The new Headlight Lens law will become effective July 25, 1921, and the order is out to make it my duty to see that it is strictly enforced, and to comply with my oath of office, it will be my duty to arrest all found disregarding the provisions of this law; therefore lose no time in equipping your car with a lens which has the approval of the Department of Public Works. Yours for "Safety First", O. C. Lewis, Sheriff of Wayne County.

THE RAILWAY AND TELEGRAPH EMPLOYEES SEEK SOLUTION

Dick Coyle is at Minneapolis this week as a representative of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, in a meeting to pass upon a number of proposals made by the company a few weeks ago, and consider other proposals. The company submitted twenty-four change propositions recently all of which have been rejected. Perhaps the most important one, showing what the company desires in the way of reducing expenses and force was that relating to hours of work. Their proposal would make a 10 hour day in a spread of 12 hours, and thus enable many stations to have but two operators where they now have three. Another would do away with the present seniority rule, and thus leave entirely to the company who should be sent to the good places. Now, when a vacancy occurs in good places, the oldest man in point of service may accept the place if he desires.

A number of proposals are to be presented for consideration of not only the operators but bridge section, station and train men. A wage reduction is coming, and how it will be met is the question under discussion.

THE FARMER AND GRAIN LEGISLATION

When a pessimistic member of the recent state senate deplored and bemoaned dearth of legislation for the farmer Senator H. C. Beebe, of Osceola promptly and scornfully reproached the pessimist by asserting that he had forgotten the legislature had passed an act to permit the farmer to go upon his own land and build his own warehouse and store and insure his own grain and by paying a fee of $5.25 obtain a warehouse receipt from the county clerk and borrow all the money he could induce any one to loan him. Members of the legislature voted for this bill at the request of the national grain growers' association that backed it, but many expressed the belief that it would do the farmer no good.

Now comes news from Washington that representatives of grain interests and liability companies, after a conference with Secretaries Hoover and Wallace, have commenced work on a form of storage certificate, which safeguarded by insurance, it is believed will enable farmers to obtain adequate credit and that Secretary Hoover is one who believes such a certificate would pass as an order for the delivery of grain, greatly increasing the farmers' borrowing power and relieving him of the pressure of selling his grain except at his own option.—The Nebraska State Journal.

GEORGE BOX IN A BAD BOY

Last Thursday Geo. Box drove to Pender with Geo. Reif, of Omaha, who had been looking after bridge work in this county, that he might catch the train to Omaha. Returning the car got to skidding on a grade in Cumming county, not far south of the line and skidded until it went bottom up at the foot of a seven-foot grade, with George under the car. A friend returning with him, jumped as the car went, and got in the clear. He aided Mr. Box out, and found him worse for the experience by a few bruises and a bit of shock to his nervous system. He is up and about the home now, but is not yet taking any joy rides.

OIL AT GREGORY?

Perhaps—at any rate the newspapers are carrying off stories about the place. Wm. Luben, who is said to be a successful locator of oil fields is prospecting and leasing lands there now, and promises to begin drilling as soon as he has leased sufficient land to warrant the expense of putting that territory to the test. Mr. Lubin is pushing the well at Bassett, where they have gone to a depth of 1600 feet, and are again at work after a delay caused by shortage of casing to follow down after the drill.

A FREE ENTERTAINMENT FRIDAY EVENING

Cards are out announcing an entertainment at the opera house Friday evening by "Father Flanagan's Boys". This is a Nebraska enterprise at Omaha, and the mission is to maintain a home for homeless and abandoned boys, clothing, keeping and educating them, regardless of their creed or color. Some of the boys will put on an entertainment here which is said to be good and really entertaining.

CHIROPRACTORS SPLIT—AND FORM TWO ASSOCIATIONS

Dr. A. D. Lewis came home from Omaha Wednesday morning, where he had been to attend the meeting of the Nebraska Chiropractors in their annual convention. According to the Bee version of the meeting, the organization split and Nebraska now has two associations of this kind of healers. Dr. H. C. Crabtree is head of a school at Lincoln, and also heads one branch of the organization. It is charged that the organization discriminated against the graduates of the Palmer school, the oldest school of Chiropractors. The new organization elected Dr. Lea W. Edwards as its president, and they took for their name the Nebraska branch of the Universal Chiropractors' association. Dr. S. L. Ainsworth is secretary. It is a fight between two schools. The Nebraska school has been instrumental in securing the passage of a law which bars the Palmer school graduate from admission to this state for practice, and at the same time excuses the graduates of the Crabtree school from examination before the state board. Their differences are being fought out in the courts, and is pending in the supreme court.

WAYNE'S COMMUNITY SALE DAYS

Next week Tuesday and Wednesday, June 21 and 22 Wayne merchants are again asking bargain seekers to come to Wayne and purchase to supply their needs at special prices. The enthusiasm may not be quite as marked this time in efforts to bring the people in, but nevertheless the fact remains, that these two days will be real buying opportunities for those who visit the best town in this corner of Nebraska.

You should not pass the opportunity.

CHAPIN-MCCAIN

At Winslow, Wednesday, June 16, 1921, Miss Virginia Chapin and Mr. Arthur S. McCain, from Springfield, Missouri, were united in marriage, Rev. J. Bruce Wylie officiating.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Chapin, a young lady of many accomplishments—almost a life resident of this county, and many are the friends who join in extending congratulations and well-wishes.

MRS. LUTGEN UNDERGOES OPERATION

Last week Mrs. S. A. Lutgen underwent a serious major operation at the Wayne hospital, and was in critical condition for a time. The latest reports are that she is now rallying nicely from the ordeal, and may soon be expected out and about.

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

WHERE HAS MONEY GONE? WE ALL WANT TO KNOW

Some banker has asked the above question in the State Journal, giving a number of citations to show that it has gone from the business man, the farmer and the banker, and asks some one to say where it is. To this the Journal gives the following reply: The conditions described result from the fall of prices which has taken place in the past year, and from the fact that the prices of all commodities have not fallen in like degree, and that bank deposits have not been replenished to make good the drafts on them to pay outstanding obligations. During the period of inflation that is, during the period when the banks were keeping down the rate of interest, artificially, to help float government loans, and making loans freely, regardless of the restrictions which govern in ordinary times—bank deposits rose steadily with the loans. When a bank customer borrowed money, taking credit for it in his account, the bank's deposits were increased in that amount. And when the customer checked out the amount to pay for a Liberty Bond, or any other purpose, the check went into some other bank as a deposit, and thus it became purchasing power permanently in circulation until that borrower—or some borrower—checked against a deposit that had been actually earned and saved and thereby extinguished a corresponding amount of credit. We followed this process of inflating our bank deposits up to about November 1, 1920. Some of our bankers were very proud over the "growth" of their deposits during that time, altho they signified very little except that a carload of hogs, or wheat, or other products was creating twice as big a credit entry as before the war.

Over against the bank deposits and other current assets of every community there are always certain debts and liabilities, home and outside. Deposits are being drawn upon constantly for the payment of these, but replenished by the sale of local products. Our correspondents locally probably have heavy fixed charges to pay every year on account of borrowed money, fire and life insurance, and other like regular items, besides making payment for the goods of every kind purchased outside.

Money is only the medium of payments. The real source of the ability of that community, to create bank deposits, make purchases, and pay debts is in its farm products, and as the prices of these have fallen that ability has been diminished. The bank patrons went on drawing upon their deposit accounts to pay their obligations, but their deposits were not replenished as before. The rate of outgo from the banks of that locality has continued on a higher level than the rate of inflow, and deposits have been steadily depleted. There may be as much money in the state as before, but money is only small change, used over and over; the original source of debt-paying power has dried up, and the common form of expression is that "money is tight."

Carl Henkel and wife were here Wednesday evening, going to Magnet from Omaha, where they had been called to attend the funeral of his grandfather. Mr. Henkel is now living at Crofton, and running on that branch of the "Omaha". He was for a number of years a daily visitor at Wayne, having a run on the Bloomfield branch until he was transferred a year ago.

It is now said that Omaha has a new educational establishment—a school of robbery. Evidently they have had some very apt pupils. In this land we have some who study legal robbery— and others who make laws to legalize acts that are really robbery, no matter by what name you call it. What's in a name? A paste pot would smell as sweet by any other.

Mrs. F. C. Whitney and daughter, Maryetta, went to Omaha Friday afternoon to spend a short time visiting with relatives.

A class of forty-one was received into the Lutheran church at Wausa last week Sunday, seventeen girls and twenty-four boys.

J. T. Knopp went to Sac City, Iowa, last week, and is planning soon to make a trip to Colorado, where he has some farm interests.

Miss Stella Skiles, of this city, has been elected to teach domestic science in the Coleridge schools for the coming year.

Miss Geneva Rankin, of Lincoln, Kansas, has been engaged as home demonstration agent for Dakota county, and has commenced her duties.

Mrs. W. A. Wallick and son, Gerald, who has been visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Laase, returned to her home at Minneapolis, Saturday.

Mrs. J. M. Barrett and daughter, Edith, left Monday morning for Plainview, where they will spend a week visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Hatfield.

South Sioux City is asking for a graveled highway for a mile and a half between Dakota City and South Sioux City, where traffic is very heavy.

Mrs. Laub, who has been visiting relatives and friends in town, for several weeks, came Sunday morning to the home of her daughter in this city, Mrs. E. E. Fleetwood.

We notice in our exchanges that Tax Commissioner Osborn is quoted as being rather persistent in his request that county boards have the tax list of each county published. Where it has been done the result has been good—that is, it has brought out some hitherto hidden wealth for assessment and taxation.

CUTTING SHOE PRICES IN THE MIDDLE

STRONG, STYLISH, EASY SHOES for EVERYBODY

Do not think that just because a store carries shoes they have the KIND of shoes you want.

We do not need to ask those who have once bought shoes from us to come again; they do so—our SHOES bring them back.

We ask you to buy your shoes from us just ONCE.

Our GOODS are GOOD; our PRICES LOW

One of our staple lines is shoes, has been for years, and we hope will continue to be for years to come. That is WHY we are making this extra drive in shoes at this time. The present system has been outgrown, and the addition will give a better supply and better protection from fire.

Knox county is out of funds for bridges, and is also out of bridges in several places where the fording is not good. So they are thinking of declaring an emergency and making the bridges any how. But the Bloomfield Monitor says that they must retrench, and that now and the bridge fund is a good place to begin.

A lot of people claim that they do not need to advertise when business is so good—and when it is not good that they cannot afford to advertise. At least that is what "Mickey" discovered.

Mrs. Jas. F. Jeffries is taking a fortnight vacation, leaving Sunday to travel with Mr. Jeffries over his territory in northern Nebraska and South Dakota. Mr. Jeffries sells shoes to the trade.

E. E. Fleetwood drove to Sioux City Saturday evening to visit his parents and sister at that place and accompany Mrs. Fleetwood home. She had been visiting in Iowa for the past three weeks.

Will Morgan, from California and Colorado, and Iowa, was here last week. Mr. Morgan had been spending several weeks with relatives and friends at Red Oak, Iowa, just before coming here. He tells us that in all of the years he has spent in southwestern Iowa, he fails to remember seeing corn at this time of the year so far advanced as it is this season.

It has been a dry spring there—one of the kind which causes the farmer a lot of worry for fear of a poor crop—yet it always happens that it is the dry springs there which brings bumper crops of all farm products. We have seen the farmers there worry over a bit of dust and a cloudless sky—and view with apparent indifference ten thousand acres of bottom land and crops overflowed, and hill farms washed as deep as plowed. It seemed strange that they so badly feared a drought—something which never has happened to hurt more than twice in the history of that land since the white people took it from the Indians and began to farm it.

James Finn and daughter returned Saturday morning from a visit at Sioux City.

At Pilger they are planning for a three day baseball tournament July 2, 3 and 4. Looks like busy times for people about the 4th.

Mrs. Earl Perkins and children left Monday morning for her new home at Des Moines, Iowa. Mr. Perkins left two weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kingston, from near Carroll, were here Saturday morning. Mrs. K. was on her way for a visit at Spokane, Washington, and Mr. K. accompanied her as far as Sioux City.

Mrs. Carter Flesher, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wright, left Friday morning for Huron, South Dakota, and will visit there for a short time before returning to her home at Sacramento, California.

The telephone people at Arnold have asked the railway commission for permission to lower their rates July 1st, and we suppose a lot of the patrons fainted. Over at Bloomfield when their company received permission to raise rates, the patrons raised a heck of a kick, and some 600 of them just quit using the hullo machine, and they are not using it yet, and as a result the management has asked permission to discontinue that exchange.

Mrs. H. B. Mark and children, from Grand Island, returned home Monday morning, following a visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. H. Neely, northeast of Wayne. The little folks came before their mother and had a great time on the farm. During her stay here her mother, Mrs. Eva Orr, from Dakota City, and an uncle, G. B. Harden, from Fort Worth, Texas, were also at the Neely home, making quite a family reunion. Mr. Harden used to railroad over this line in an early day, and so most of the scenery was familiar to him. He is now calling his home in the "Lone Star" state, but comes to these parts during the summer months to keep cool.

Rev. Father Kearns left Monday morning for Omaha to attend the Priest's retreat.

Mrs. Tim Collins and daughters, Irene and Winnie, and Miss Marie Stanton, from Carroll, were here Saturday on their way to spend Sunday at New Castle, after spending the day at Sioux City. Rev. Thos. Haley, a relative of their, and a young man known to many here is just entering the priesthood and was to administer his first mass at New Castle Sunday morning.

Miss Anna-McCreary visited at Oakland the first of the week, going down Sunday afternoon.

The Burlington road—not the part that traverses this part of this state—but the main line between Chicago and Denver, has again been making a record for time. Out of 186 trains over that run of more than a thousand miles 176 made the run on time. The other 10 were late, but in most instances due to washouts or like hindrances which could not be foreseen or avoided.

Mrs. George Nuss went to Pender Tuesday to spend a couple of days there.

Mrs. Kallstrom and daughter, Viola, of Winside, were Wayne visitors Tuesday.

Mrs. J. W. Gildersleeve went to a hospital at Sioux City last week for treatment and an operation.

Mrs. George Peters and little daughter, Fae, and Miss Pauline Roggenback spent Tuesday visiting at Sioux City.

C. O. Mitchell and family drove to Emerson Sunday, taking the two Miss Zastrow's home. Miss Leila Mitchell is planning to spend a few weeks of her summer vacation at the home of her aunt in that city.

The Nebraska State Golf tournament will be held in Omaha June 27 to July 2, inclusive. Play will be on the Happy Hollow links. All clubs in the state are expected to be represented.

The reports from Mrs. Henry Cozad in a Sioux City hospital where she went last week for an operation for gall stones indicate that she is doing nicely. Henry drove over Tuesday to visit her.

Dr. Harold Gifford has been honored by the University of Nebraska by having the degree of doctor of law conferred upon him. This is the first time in the history of the university that this degree has been conferred upon a doctor.

W. B. Hughes and daughter, Emma, left Friday morning for Fremont, they will spend a few days visiting there, then will go to Los Angeles, California, where they expect to spend the summer.

Mrs. Chas. Hoferer, from Creighton, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rehder, and returned home Saturday. Her little daughter remained to spend a part of the summer vacation here with her grandparents.

Uncle Sam's motor fleet used in Omaha for the collection of mail and the delivery of packages consists of 50 units' including trucks, automobiles and side cars. The city is zoned and in the delivery of packages of merchandise... two trips are made daily.

Realtors enroute to their annual convention in the east will travel by special trains and will pass through Omaha July 10. They will remain in the city several hours and while here will be entertained by the Omaha Real Estate board.

Announcement is made by Rock Island railroad officials that a freight depot will soon be erected on property acquired in Omaha some years ago. It is asserted that the building and terminal improvements will cost something like $1,000,000.

Miss Stella Crosser, who was a Normal student here a number of years ago, and who has just finished the school year at Crofton, where she taught second and third grades, was going to Omaha to visit for a time. She still lives at Bloomfield.

Mrs. Sandy Scott and grandson, Donald Scott, left Monday for Gregory, South Dakota, where she will spend some time visiting her granddaughter, Mrs. Tom Fox. She was accompanied as far as Plainview by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Alex Scott and son, Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. James Finn and Mrs. M. A. Pryor went to New Castle Saturday afternoon to visit the John Finn home and to attend the first High Mass read by Father Healy, a nephew of Mr. Finn, who was ordained recently at Baltimore, Maryland.

There is a move under way in Canada to effect an organic union of the Presbyterian, Congregationalist and Methodist churches of that domain. It is stated that the two organizations first named have made it a matter of record that they favor the union. It should be a good thing, as we see it, but then our vision may not be good.

Joseph Pfanz, of Belden, was at Wayne Saturday visiting friends of other days. Not that he has been so far away, but that he must be quite a stay at home person, he met some who are now almost his neighbors whom he had not before met for more than a quarter of a century. The editor discovered him and Wm. Lessman talking over the times when they were both new in this part of Nebraska, and how they husked corn together, each trying to see who could get the most corn out in a day, admitting that it had been a pretty even race. August Loberg was taking a hand in the talk, and Mr. Pfanz seemed not to have quite forgiven August for not giving him a chance to husk corn for him at 3 cents a bushel. But August said that in those times he needed the exercise and the three cents, and he would shuck it out himself. As we understood the talk, Mr. Pfanz is thinking of retiring from the farm and perhaps moving to Wayne. We will be glad to see him locate here, but Mr. Loberg seems to think he should not come—afraid he will lose his job perhaps, for August says that the benches for retired farmers are already crowded enough in this pretty city of Wayne.

Your guarantee of engine power and engine protection

Lubricating oil has a double duty. It must maintain a fuel-tight and gas-tight seal between the piston rings and the cylinder walls—otherwise fuel and the explosive gases are not completely converted into useful power. Fuel is wasted and you get less power.

It must maintain a smooth, cushioning film in all bearings and between all engaging parts—otherwise bearings burn out, parts wear loose, vibration becomes excessive, breakage and expensive repairs and replacements become necessary.

Polarine is the perfected lubricating oil of the world's largest and most experienced manufacturer of oils for all purposes. It maintains its body and lubricating qualities under extremes of temperature and operating conditions. It is your best and safest guarantee of both engine power and engine protection.

Polarine is made in four grades—light, medium heavy, heavy and extra heavy—but only one quality. Get the proper grade for your car next time you buy clean-burning Red Crown Gasoline—and you will start cutting down motoring costs.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Wm. Morgan spent Monday night visiting relatives at Randolph.

Mrs. Woodward Jones spent Tuesday visiting at Sioux City.

Mrs. Martin Fybo, who has been visiting at the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Baker, returned to her home at Onawa, Iowa, Tuesday morning.

The recent sale of peonies in Omaha for the purpose of creating a fund to aid disabled soldiers and sailors of the recent war, netted more than $1,000.

The school board at Coleridge estimate that it will cost $17,000 to finance the school of that place next year. That is about $2,000 per month for each school month. The pupils should see that they get value in full for this money—and they can do so if they will.

The semi-annual meeting of the Missouri Valley Eye and Ear academy will be held in Omaha July 12.

Miss Sibyl Dixon went to Sioux City Tuesday to spend a couple of days there.

Miss Agnes Nuss and little brother, George, Jr., left for Pender, where they will make their future home.

John Heeren and daughter were here from Carroll Tuesday shopping and calling on his sister, Mrs. J. W. Ziegler.

Miss Gertrude Lash, who has been visiting at the H. A. Preston home, returned to her home at Des Moines, Iowa, Friday morning.

Misses Katherine and Marshalline Lewis, who have been visiting with home folks, left Friday morning for Ames, Iowa, where they attend school.

The Nebraska Open State Champion Tennis tournament will be held in Omaha July 25-30. Play will be held on the Field club tennis courts and tennis sharks from all over the state are expected to attend.

Paul Meyer has sold his residence in the northwest part of town to Mrs. Ada Rennie, who is to take possession soon. Mr. Meyer will go to the west part of the state, where he has land interests and a wheat harvest to look after.

Miss Henrietta Moler came out from Sioux City Friday evening to spend a week with relatives and friends at and near Wayne, after which she goes to Minneapolis, where she intimated that she was sentenced for an indefinite time.

C. D. Martin came last Thursday from Scott Bluffs to visit relatives and many friends at Wayne and in this vicinity. He says that beets make the big crop there so far as acreage is concerned, and that while there was talk of a strike before planting time against growing beets at the proposed lower prices; but in his opinion there is about as many beets coming on as ever before. A few cut down their acreage, but others came in with a little increase or new men began the beet growing.

Mrs. Carl Christensen, who recently moved to Norfolk, left that place this week for an extended visit with home folks in the state of Washington. It is her plan to thus skip the heat of our summer. Mrs. C. was a guest at the Claude Mitchell home Monday, and Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell drove to Norfolk with her Monday evening.

Bert Hyatt and Fred Benshoof and wives drove to Sioux City one day last week, and Jack Hyatt sort of edged into the back seat and went as far as Sioux City with them on his way to visit his son at Onawa, Iowa. He came home Monday morning, and tells us that while they would not object to a bit of rain in the vicinity of Onawa, things in the crop line look good there.

Mrs. Addie Cooper, from Crawford, who has been visiting in Iowa and this part of Nebraska, left Monday evening after a visit at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Dan McManigal, for Winner, South Dakota, to visit brothers and sisters living there. Mrs. Cooper tells us that she was a resident of this county from 1882 to 1885, and is thus remembered by a few of the pioneers.

A. M. Jacobs and wife leave this week to spend the summer months at their old home on the east coast of Maine, where it is seldom hot, and where the abundance of fish helps to keep the cost of living down—because good, fresh fish suit a lot of people better than meat for summer food. Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs call this home, and spend their winters in California and their summers in Maine; but this is home.

COUNTY GOOD ROAD MEETING

William Kay, of Wakefield, president of the County Good Roads Organization, called a public meeting of the organization to be held at Ponca, today. The purpose of the meeting is to promote the interest of good road building in Dixon and adjoining counties and to obtain statistics and the best information possible; for this purpose two speakers have been engaged to be present. At the afternoon meeting Mr. Kay has charge and as president of the organization will talk upon "Good Roads Organization." W. H. Blake of Norfolk, a member of the State Good Roads organization, will deliver the principal address at the afternoon meeting.

There will be an evening program at which time O. G. Smith of Kearney, President of State Good Roads association, will deliver the address. The Wakefield band will be present, which, together with the Ponca band, will furnish music for both the afternoon and evening meetings. Ponca is expected and will entertain the Good Roads Organization in an appropriate manner.

The state organization of the American Legion has formed a "Producing Company" with Mr. Hughes of David City as the head, and their object is to furnish plays for the local legions to put before the people of their communities for both amusement and profit. They advise against permitting some outside concern use the name and prestige of the local post to gather in a paying house, and the promoting concern carry off the cash.

Back in Ohio is a hard-hearted man who works his hens overtime, using electric light for the purpose. In reporting results of three months trial, turning the light on at three o'clock in the morning he said that the hens kept their weight, were healthy and produced 30 per cent more eggs than the birds that were allowed to sleep until natural daylight.

A lot of people of this land were really sore at the Wilson administration that it was nearly three years getting into the war. What have they now to say about a republican congress getting out of war. It has been nearly three years since hostilities ceased except among our politicians, and yet we are at war with Germany.

We notice that "Watchful Waiting" is again appearing in the headlines of our republican dailies with reference to the administration Mexican policy. It looks natural, and it looks

DO THESE THREE LAWS SUIT YOU?

By A. G. Kittell

The general demand for petition blanks to recall the three laws referred to in the last Nebraska Farm Journal shows the strong sentiment against this legislation. Scarcely had the first copies of the Nebraska Farm Journal reached the mail boxes of our nearest readers when the request for blanks began pouring in to this office. And they have been coming in on every mail since that time. Many requests are coming for several blanks of each kind, and some writers are suggesting the names of public spirited neighbors who would be willing to pass the petition blanks if supplied with instructions. All this shows a fine spirit of co-operation in a common cause, and we are glad to provide both the blanks and the instructions in any quantity desired. As described in the last issue of the Nebraska Farm Journal, the three laws under fire are:

1. Rural registration of all voters.
2. Clause of co-operative banking law giving the state banking department discretionary powers in granting right to establish co-operative banks.
3. Amendment to primary law restoring old caucus system in state party conventions in electing delegates to national conventions, and repealing the provision which forbade the approval of candidates by state conventions.

The following information will cover all points brought up by those who have asked for blanks:

Any legal voter may sign the petition. This includes women, of course. They also may act as circulators. Here is a fine opportunity for the women to make good use of their new citizenship privileges.

A circulator must be no less than 18 years old; a resident of the state and county, and may obtain only signatures of bona fide residents of his or her county, who are entitled to vote. In cities of 7,000 or more population, only registered voters may sign.

Keep the three petitions together, pinned or in a clip. When you find a person willing to sign one of them, he will sign all three, in nearly every instance. Circulars are required to explain the nature of the petitions, and their effect, which is to submit the laws in question to a vote of the people, and to prevent their going into effect until such election.

The blanks provide space for 20 names. Do not put on more, but fewer will be accepted. Before turning in the petition sign at bottom in the presence of a notary. Or the county officers, especially county clerks, who are equipped to affix a seal, will witness your signature. Or take the blanks to your local bank where in most cases you will find a notary. The charge should be no more than 25 cents an affidavit, in any case, and your banker or county clerk in most instances will do it free of charge.

All these petitions will be filed with the secretary of state, as provided by law, the same as those being circulated by other individuals or organizations such as farm bureaus, Farmers' Union, Nonpartisan League and independent progressive committee. There is no "scattering of fire." All will be filed together from whatever source they may come.

Petitions should be returned to the office of the Nebraska Farm Journal by July 15, or within a day or two thereafter. Meanwhile there is time to send for more blanks and get more signers. This is work in a good cause. It is one way the farm folks of Nebraska have of showing they can do more than talk and complain when their rights are violated. Write to Editor A. G. Kittell, Nebraska Farm Journal at Omaha, or to Associate Editor J. H. Frandsen, 1401 North 33rd Street, Lincoln, for blanks and instructions.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mrs. A. T. Cavanaugh, Mrs. Paul Mines, Miss Goldie Chace, Mrs. R. W. Hahn, of Randolph, and Mrs. LeRoy Ley, were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower for Miss Virginia Chapin, of Winslow, at the C. A. Chace home Monday evening. The evening was spent playing 500. The guests were seated at eight tables. Those who won prizes were Mrs. Rollie Ley, Mrs. Jim Miller, Mrs. Charley Craven, and Mrs. Will Morris. Color scheme was carried out in white and yellow. A delicious two course luncheon was served by the hostesses.

The Woman's club will meet Saturday at the Opera House at three o'clock. After the business meeting a program of current events and music will be given with Mrs. E. E. Lackey as leader. Miss Katherine Strickland will give a piano selection and Miss Madeline Bohmert will sing. The leader requests each lady to report a current event. The program will close with a "penny drill".

LAND PRICES DROP

Half Fare Excursion to View Land

$26.00 For Round Trip From Sioux City to New Rockford, North Dakota, or to Minnesota Points

Excursions 1st and 3rd Tuesday Each Month

From a list of more than 100 farms in the good country around New Rockford and Cando, North Dakota, we quote a few, and will send complete list upon application. These lands are priced from $10 to $25 per acre less than adjoining lands are held or being sold at, because they are cases where a necessity to sell exists. If you are looking for a farm, investigate this offering:

No. M. 1. 160 acres adjoining the corporate limits of New Rockford. A fine smooth quarter of land on the State Road. No buildings but about 130 acres under cultivation. Farm on east sold for $100 per acre, land on west with no buildings is held at $100 per acre and no better than our land. Price for quick sale $75 per acre as follows: Cash now $1000. Cash March 1st, 1922, $2500. Mortgage on land due five years $3500. Balance $500 a year for 10 years, $5000. Total 12000. If farm is sold before July 1st and $3500 cash is paid purchaser may have one-half crop py paying for seed.

No. M. 2. 320 acres 2 1/2 miles from New Rockford on State Road. No buildings. This half-section is nearly all under cultivation and was sold last year for $75 per acre but for financial reasons owner must cash it at once and is offering it at only $65 per acre. $6000 cash, balance to suit. One-half crop goes to purchaser if sold before July 1st, 1921.

No. M. 3. 470 acres 6 miles from New Rockford. 1 mile from railway station. About 350 acres in crop this year. 60 acres fine natural meadow. About 100 acres fenced for pasture. This farm should sell for $75 per acre but if sold quick can be purchased if bought soon at $60 per acre, one-fourth cash. Small buildings.

No. M. 7. 160 acres 4 miles from New Rockford. About 130 acres under cultivation, small new buildings. Worth $85 per acre. Price for quick sale $65 per acre including half of crop. $4000 cash.

WINTER & HUFF

Sharwood Wheaton came last Thursday from San Diego, California, to spend some time visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Chace.

Miss Dorothy Brainard, who attends the Northwestern University at Evanston, Illinois, came home Monday morning.

Miss Martha Crockett went to Tilden Tuesday, a delegate to the district convention of the Epworth League of this city.

Tuesday was Flag Day, and quite a goodly number of Wayne business houses observed the day by displaying the national emblem from their place of business.

A few Wayne people are indulging themselves this week in the excitement incident to "Hoss" racing, driving to Hartington for their inspiration.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jans went to Pierce Tuesday morning to visit at the home of a son. From there they expect to visit other relatives at Osmond.

Mrs. George Smith, after spending a short time visiting with her sister, Mrs. Woodward Jones, returned to her home at Lincoln Wednesday morning.

R. H. Skiles and daughter, Mrs. S. C. Fox, went to Chadron this morning to see his son, B. F. Skiles, who was seriously injured in a railroad accident Wednesday night.

John Warner was drowned Monday in the Northfork river about two miles above Pierce, and his companion nearly lost his life at the same time. The body was not recovered until three hours later.

Misses Elizabeth and Wilma Gilder-sleeve, who have been attending Grinnell college at that little Iowa city, came home Sunday morning. Miss Winifred Main, who has also been attending there, is to come this week.

Miss Della Glavey, from Chicago, visited at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Finn the first of the week. Tuesday she went to Atkinson to visit other relatives a short time, after which she will again be a guest at the Finn home.

The opera house is being painted, U. H. Boyce and son doing the work. Some things are coming down in price. According to a recent quotation, some kinds of metal, composed largely of lead is now but little more than half of the "peak" price.

Wayne Superlative Flour, single sack, $2.40; in Five sack lots, $2.20. Bran $20.00 per ton. Wayne Roller Mills, W. R. Weber, Prop. Phone 131

Rev. Father Thos. Healey, who has just finished his schooling for priesthood at Baltimore, was a guest at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Finn, Monday night, while on his way to Lead, South Dakota, as he is to have a parish and begin his life work. He conducted a service at New Castle Sunday.

Miss Iris Griggs left Wednesday for Devil Lake, North Dakota, where she will spend the summer visiting with Miss Ida Kingsbury. Miss Lyda Griggs went to Auburn, Iowa, to spend the summer visiting with friends. They were accompanied to Sioux City by Misses Ethel Bonawitz and Meta Kay.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Oman and daughter Fern, drove to Lincoln the last of the week to attend their University commencement exercises, their daughter, Frances being one of the graduates. From Lincoln it is their plan to go to the western part of the state to look after land interests there, and Miss Fern will then begin her season work on the chautauqua platform.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. John Winkler drove to Wymore the last of the week to spend a couple of days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Jones, of that place. Mrs. Jones being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fisher. Mrs. Winkler is a sister to Mrs. Fisher and J. W. Souders. She stopped here to visit them while returning to her home at Bluffton, Ohio, after spending the winter in California. Mrs. W. formerly lived here, but Nebraska is new to her husband, and he admits that it is some country to drive thru. Mr. Fisher tells that crop prospects appear good all the way.

Joe Ringland, who is taking a four-year course in Animal Husbandry at Iowa's great agricultural school at Ames, came home the first of the week for the summer vacation. With him came A. W. Murphy, a New Jersey lad who came on out to see "where the west begins", perhaps. He will visit at the Ringland home, with the McChesney folks and with Dr. W. M. Hawkins at the Blair home, he having been fellow students with them at this school. Beyond question Iowa has the leading agricultural school of the world, and in engineering they stand well toward the head; while in all departments including home economics and domestic science the school at Ames has the name of doing most (hard) work. This we do know, those who have gone from here to that school have come home and made good in practically every instance.

We invite all people to Wayne Community Sales Days

Even with a republican senate and a republican president there is trouble the appointments of the President, made without asking the senators seem not to please. No wonder Wilson could not please those fellows.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Mines and daughter, Margaret, left by automobile the first of the week for Grinnell, Iowa, where they go to attend the graduating exercises at the college there, their daughter, Elizabeth, being a member of the graduating class.

COME "HOME" JUNE 17!

(From The Goldenrod)

If we are to take the word of those having the matter in charge, and we have every reason for doing so, the Home Coming this year promises to be a drive for attendance,—a drive for a good time.

Each class is striving to do its utmost to influence a large percentage of its members to return for this gala day of the year, June 17.

The officers who have directed the function and to whom much of the success of the occasion will be justly attributed are:

Margaret Schemel, president. Elizabeth Mines, vice president. Miss Marquardt, secretary. Hollie W. Ley, treasurer. Following are the events in the order that they will take place:

1. Chapel entertainment Friday morning (each class will be represented).
2. Alumni luncheon Friday noon at the U. S. Conn home.
3. Alumni play Friday at three p.

m., "The Triumph of Pauline". Musical orchestra, directed by Prof. W. C. Hunter.

4. Alumni banquet Friday evening at eight p. m. Miss Edith Beechel will preside as toastmistress. Meet in the gymnasium.

Efforts are being made to reserve rooms for all "homecomers". A business session will conclude the day's festivities.

If you are an alumnus or an alumna,—if you are loyal to your class,—if you wish to "reminisce" and thereby forget your worries in the joy of greeting old friends and meeting new ones,—you will be present at all of these events. If you are unmindful and impassive, you will not. All W. S. N. alumni are loyal. Fine!

Will see you June 17. Remember the date!

THE CHRISTIAN DUTY IN THIS CRISIS

Last week the editor tried to call attention to the need of united church or christian action, and prompt action in relation to immediate disarmament and a demand for cessation of the navy building program and great army appropriations. We believe that the church organizations are better prepared than any other to lead a move. We believe that if they are to be entitled to claim the name of Christian it is a duty they dare not neglect or ignore. Having expressed the views we did, the following from General Bliss giving voice to the same thought shows that the sentiment may have attained greater headway than we knew of. Here is the statement of General Bliss and the comment from a great newspaper which came with it:

Where Responsibility Rests

"It is a strange commentary on religious organizations when General Bliss directs an appeal to the churches to assist a movement which rightfully should have originated with them. He is reported in the press as having directed a letter to representatives of the churches asking for their support as follows:

"If the clergymen of the United States want to secure a limitation of armaments they can do it now without any further waste of time. If, on an agreed-upon date, they simultaneously preach one sermon on this subject in every church of every creed throughout the United States, and conclude their services by having their congregations adopt a resolution addressed to their particular congressmen, urging upon them the necessity of having a business conference of five nations upon this subject, the thing will be done. If the churches cannot agree upon that it will not be done until the good God puts into them the proper spirit of their religions. The responsibility is entirely upon the professing Christians of the United States. If another war like the last one should come they will be responsible for every drop of blood that will be shed and for every dollar wastefully expended."

"As the New York World points out, by all the logic of religious teaching they (the churches) should have initiated the movement they are now asked to join. They should have led the way, and their voice should have been the first to be raised and the loudest to declaim against the fallacy of great naval and military establishments as a safeguard against war."

"If the church is ever to exert the influence it once had when it was able to climb on the throne of Caesars it must lead in arousing the hearts and minds of men to relieve the oppressed. Else, like moss-grown castles of middle ages, it will stand as a relic of other days. There never has been a time when spiritual forces of truth and justice were more needed than today. The church might well lift up its eyes and rejoice in the service it is called upon to render."

DEFLATING THE TAX GATHERER

How long can the politician hold out against the will of the common people? That is a question that seems to be sinking deeper and deeper into the minds of all who stop to wonder at their audacity. Our attention has been called to the following editorial from the Saturday Evening Post, which means that it has already been placed before the eyes of more than a million people. Not all have read it—but we are glad to ask our comparatively few readers to study it and think about what is the best method to call a halt, for a halt must come. It is the duty of all citizens to go intelligently about calling a halt while it may be done in a legal orderly manner. Otherwise, when conditions become unbearable to many, some other means may be employed, and that should not be necessary. The Post editorial says:

"Sugar, steel, wheat, commodities of all sorts, are coming down. Everything is being deflated except taxes. Everybody is economizing except the taxgatherer. There has been much conversation about governmental economy, but as yet there is little fire. Heretofore all the talk has been simply a smoke screen behind which the political transport has held on her old course, zigzagging from time to time to avoid a bill that would put a dent in her barnacled hull."

"The present Congress was elected, among other reasons, to revise our revenue laws and to cut down the expenses of government. It has been called in special session for that, among other purposes. During the year preceding this special session there was much talk of changing the method of raising taxes but very little of reducing them. That seems to be the height of political bad form. It simply isn't done. Nor is it likely that it will be done until there is an ill-bred, nation-wide howl of such proportions that our national, state and city legislators cannot disregard it. The most agreeable of all light occupations and the hardest to give up is the spending of other people's money, with the knowledge that when one wants more one has only to make a hasty touch through the taxgatherer."

"The most urgent problem before the country today, excepting only immigration, is the deflation of the taxgatherer—Congress, State Legislature and City Council. There can be no final deflation of anything, no settled prosperity, no return to the 'normalcy' of which we have been hearing so much in political speeches, until this is accomplished. But at present the thought of our legislators largely runs to changing methods of taxation and to tapping new resources of revenue instead of cutting down expenditures."

"The billion-dollar Congress is still fresh in the memory of the present generation. In our innocence we were rather proud of our government for costing so much. This Congress, too, can immortalize itself as a billion-dollar Congress—by saving a billion. This can be done, and it should be done preliminary to consideration of the new revenue bill. The National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, in an instructive little circular on taxation that it has put out, is even more optimistic than a billion. But a billion would be a good start."

"Any sincere attempt to get together with the other powers on the question of world peace would result in much larger savings. We are told every day by American leaders and financiers, by European statesmen and international bankers, that Europe is looking to America for leadership; that we can be a dominant influence in world affairs and policies if we will; that the other powers, in return for our help in their present dilemma, are prepared to join us, as the richest and in some ways the most powerful nation in the world, in any constructive world program that we may formulate. If that is true, why do we not use our influence to bring about peace and so to curtail the military expenditures that are ruining the world? We can do more for Europe, more for ourselves, more to rehabilitate the world morally and financially by initiating a peace program than in any other way. Either we have none of the influence, the standing, the power with which we are credited, or we are deliberately squandering billions and betraying humanity in not taking the initiative in an effort to minimize the possibility of war."

"Since the beginning of the World War legislators in almost every branch of government have been running hog-wild, taxing and spending, spending and taxing; and all of it except the small change—more than ninety per cent of it, to be exact—is going for old wars, the World War and future wars. Farm taxes, city taxes, income taxes, inheritance taxes, taxes on living and on dying, taxes on pleasure and on pain, taxes on eating and on drinking, old taxes boosted while men sit up nights to invent new forms of taxation—that is what we have taken lying down, with half the world bankrupt and the other half skimping and economizing to make ends meet."

"Taxation was once a fighting matter in America; there is even more reason for fighting today. The taxgatherer must be deflated, kindly if possible, with an ax if necessary; for no question is more intimately bound up with the liberty of a people than taxation. High taxes means loose methods and extravagant management, incompetent planning and wasteful execution. The penalty for this sort of thing in private business is swift bankruptcy; in the public business of a rich country like America, slow bankruptcy."

"Last November the nation voted overwhelmingly for a new deal on the promise of revised taxes and a business administration with lowered expenditures. But having growled fiercely at the party in power and having inflicted a deep and painful bite on the tenderest or officeholding part of his person, the watchdog retired to his kennel for another long political nap."

"Now a new Congress is at the door and the watchdog should be on the job. It looks like a friendly Congress, it starts like a well-intentioned Congress, but let's sniff around and get better acquainted. There is a strong sentiment and many able men in this Congress who are for the things that the people want—scientific taxation and a blamed sight less of it; careful spending and a blamed sight less of that."

"With the watchdog at their heels to back them up these men will be in an overwhelming majority."

"No contract has yet been made for the Nebraska wool crop, or such part of it as will be sold in a lump in the pool of wool producers."

A Cause and a Remedy for High Battery Costs

How gasoline quality affects the battery

Spinning a motor repeatedly to get it started puts a big strain on the battery. It is due largely to the gasoline—to gasoline that does not vaporize properly. It is not a matter of high or low specific gravity, but of chemical composition.

Straight distilled gasoline has a natural chain of boiling point (vaporizing) fractions which insures quick ignition and complete combustion of every particle of the gasoline—puts a minimum strain on the battery.

Why you should use Red Crown Gasoline

Red Crown Gasoline is straight distilled. It meets every requirement of the United States Navy specifications for motor gasoline. It not only ignites instantly and develops maximum power, but it also leaves a minimum of carbon. It is as UNIFORM as the most modern refining methods can make it.

Importance of uniformity
Economical operation depends largely on the accurate adjustment of the motor to the fuel. If your fuel varies, your engine efficiency varies with it. If, on the other hand, you adopt Red Crown Gasoline as your standard—and stick to it—you can regulate and adjust your motor so that you never have difficulty in starting. You will also get maximum mileage per gallon.

Authorized Red Crown Dealers Everywhere

Wherever you go you can always get Red Crown Gasoline from reliable, competent and obliging dealers. The gasoline and motor oils they sell make motor operation more economical and more dependable. They are glad to render the little courtesies which make motoring pleasanter. Drive in where you see the Red Crown Sign.

NATIONAL COMMANDER GALBRAITH IS KILLED

Colonel Foreman And Henry Ryon Are Seriously Injured—Successor To Be Elected Early This Week

Frederich W. Galbraith, Jr., fighting colonel of Ohio's fighting First and national commander of the American Legion, is dead. He met death when an automobile in which he was riding went over a sixteen foot embankment in Indianapolis on June 9. His two companions, Colonel Milton J. Foreman, prominent Illinois Legionaire, and Henry Ryon, head of the Americanism commission, were badly, though not fatally, injured. The death of Colonel Galbraith of Cincinnati threw into mourning the American Legion posts throughout the world.

GRAN'POP PROBABLY is THE NATIONAL champion. AT SWAPPING things. TWO YEARS ago he swapped. THE OLD blind mare. FOR A cider mill. AND THEN of course. WHEN WE went dry. CIDER MILLS got valuable. AND GRAN'POP swapped again. AND GOT a fiver. SO I said, "Gran'pop. SUPPOSE I start you. WITH THAT old busted. BABY CARRIAGE back home. COULDN'T YOU swap it. AND GET me. A LIMOUSINE." A CRAFTY gleam. CAME INTO Gran'pop's eye.

AS HE said, "No. BUT I'LL tell ye. I'LL SWAP a match. FOR ONE of them. CIGARETTES of yours. THAT SATISFY." SO WE swapped. ONE BROKEN paper match. FOR ONE perfect cigarette. AND YOU ought to see. HOW PLEASED he was. IT DID me good. TO BE "done" by Gran'pop.

THE RED WIND COMES!

(By John G. Neihardt)

Too long mere words have thrall'd us. Let us think!
Oh ponder, are we "free and equal" yet?
That July bombast, writ with blood for ink,
Is blurred with floods of unavailing sweat!

An empty sound we won from Royal George!
Yea, till a greater fight be fought and won,
A sentimental show, was Valley Forge,
A mawkish, tawdry farce was Lexington!

No longer blindfold Justice reigns; but leers
A barefaced, venal stumpt in her stead!
The stolen harvests of a hundred years
Are lighter than a stolen loaf of bread!

O pious Nation, holding God in awe,
Where sacred human rights are duly priced!
Where men are beggared in the name of Law,
Where alms are given in the name of Christ!

The Country of the Free?—O wretched lie!
The Country of the Brave?—Yea, let it be!
One more good fight, O Brothers, are we die,
And this shall be the Country of the Free!

What! Are we cowards? Are we doting fools?
Who built the cities, fructified the lands?
We make aid use, but do we own the tools?
Who robbed us of the product of our hands?

A tiger-hearted Tyrant, crowned with Law,
Whose flesh is custom and whose soul is greed!
Ubiquitous, a nothing clawed in awe,
We sweat for him and bleed!

Daft Freedom sings the glory of his reign;
Religion is a pander of his lust:
Surviving tyrants, he eludes the vain,
Tyrannical thrust.

Yea, and we serve this. Insult to our God!
Gnawing our crusts, we render Caesar toll!
We labor with the back beneath his rod,
His shackles on the soul!

He is a System—wrought for human hogs!
So long as we shall hug a hoary Lie,
And gulp the vocal swill of demagogues,
The Fat shall rule the str!

Behold potential plenty for us all!
Behold the pauper and the plutocrat!
Behold the signs prophetic of the fall,
O Dynast of thy Fat!

Lo, even now the haunting, spectral scrawl!
Lo, even now the beat of hidden wings!
The ghosts of millions throng thy banquet-hall,

O guiltiest and last of all the kings!
Beware, the Furies stirring in the gloom!
They mutter from the mines, the mills, the slums!
No lie shall stay or mitigate thy doom—
The Red Wind comes!

COMING!

In presenting this excellent company consisting of a carefully selected cast of Ladies and Gentlemen of ability, permit the Manager to say to his patrons and the amusement loving public that his aim is to offer alone pure, healthy, and refined amusement that the Mother and her Daughter and the Father and his Son, the Brother and his Sister may enjoy and appreciate the same. We are sure that many a heart may be lightened and many a face wreathed in smiles by visiting this beautiful play, written by Harriet Beecher Stowe. Courty, refined and elegant in its presentation; we feel sure to meet the popular appreciation at the generous hands of the amusement loving people and that the (applause) of smiling thousands will assuredly greet our greatest efforts. Believing that Shakespeare has truly said: "The noblest art in man's life—the art of making others happy." This great moral amusement enterprise that has become famous from ocean to ocean during the past years of its existence, will positively exhibit at Wayne, Saturday night, June 18.

FACULTY RECEPTION
(From The Goldenrod)

The faculty reception to the students of the Wayne State Normal Friday night was a success in every way. It is estimated that about seven hundred students passed down a long receiving line composed of members of the faculty and their wives and headed by Miss Mary Hoise.

A program in the Normal auditorium, in which Prof. G. R. Bowen acted as chairman, proved both unique and entertaining.

Pres. U. S. Conn. in a speech of welcome, recalled the time when, at the building of the State Normal auditorium, the time was eagerly anticipated when the seating capacity should be taxed. The president remarked that that ideal had been attained, and that, both numerically and otherwise, this summer's session of school should prove successful in many ways.

Miss Elsie Ford Piper, dean of women, in apologizing for her inability as a speaker, was reproved by Dr. J. T. House, who, in turn, was called to order by Chairman Bowen. Miss Piper uniquely enumerated the "ways" of normal school life and concluded her talk with an expression of the good will extended by the faculty to all students.

Prof. Lucas favored the audience with two vocal selections.

Prof. I. H. Britell rose to the occasion in a talk on "Wayne State Normal and Northeastern Nebraska" in which he endeavored to show by what large strides the school had sprung from an attendance of 80 to one of over 800. He closed with the statement that the ideal of the school would be partially carried out in the attempt to build an auditorium large enough to contain the upcoming generations, remarking that each and every student was an influence in bringing others to come here to school.

Prof. W. C. Hunter held the gathering enthralled with a well-rendered violin solo. He graciously responded to an encore.

Wafers and punch, served in the gymnasium, served as a fitting climax to a most enjoyable evening.

FIGURES THAT WILL INTEREST

It has been reported that more than 300 students have enrolled for summer work at the Wayne State Normal during the past week.

During the last few days the Normal Dining hall has been taxed to its capacity and the patience and consideration of those at the helm has been marveled at. Opening day found 350 hungry applicants clamoring at the door for dinner. This number, however, had increased to 465 by the end of the second day, and Wednesday saw another gradual increase.

It is hoped that after classes are running smoothly and regularity in the matter of eating, as well as of study, becomes more clearly defined, much confusion will be avoided and shorter hours for those behind the counter will become a reality. At this writing, it has been found feasible to make two shifts in the dining hall force of workers and new help has decided to be employed.

A number of one of the observation classes reported 110 in her division Tuesday.

"Eighty-four in Psychology class today," was the report on Tuesday of one of the members of that class.

It was found necessary to install a new section of shelves in the text book section of the library last week, a very welcome improvement.

Different Colors of Paper

Many business men have a system of using different colors of paper for different printed forms, thus distinguishing each form by its color.

"We can work this system out for you, using HAMMERMILL BOND" the Utility Business Paper, and you will find that it saves you time and money. Let us show you the advantage of standardizing your paper and your printing.

LAND VALUES AND LAND ASSESSMENTS

T. A. Polley of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway, who serves as their tax commissioner seems to live largely on values and assessments and comparisons; and his diet must be mostly figures. He goes into details with great care and accuracy. He sends us a table of 29 counties in eastern part of the state, and among them we find Wayne county and the following figures relative to the county. The figures are from the records, and the ratio comparisons are by the process used by tax commissioners of Wisconsin and Minnesota. In Wayne county from the period of 1907 to 1921 there were 1379 transfers reported representing 209,232 acres of land and the estimated true value of this land April, 1921, was $231 per acre. The average assessed value was $132.80 per acre, which is 57.17 per cent of the estimated true value; and is a decrease of $3.00 per acre since April 1920. The actual assessed value of rural general personal property per acre at this time was $24.64.

But three of the 29 counties are given a higher average selling value per acre than Wayne county. They are Douglas, Dodge and Cuming. Seven of the counties have a higher assessed value per acre than that of Wayne, they are the above and Washington, Thurston, Colfax and Burt. The total transfers were 36,700, the number of acres 5,440,681. The average price was $152.92 per acre, and the average assessed value was $81.35. The average ratio of the assessed value to the selling average was 55.16 per cent.

LETTERS AWARDED
(From The Goldenrod)
Ten girls who were students during the regular year were awarded "W's" the past week for gym floor work and other athletic activities which were indulged in during the school year. The girls were members of the organization called "Mecca for Pep", which was originated in this school last fall by Miss Lulu Potts, of Malvern, Iowa. Points were given for various activities, 350 points having been attained by those receiving letters. Those who were successful in winning the first letters which have been granted girls at this school were Helen Reynolds, Helen Mendenhall, Edith Huse, Faith Phileo, Bonnie Hess, Lucile McCannell, Mabel Britell, Emma Nelson, Esther Winne and Susie Souders.

THE CHICAGO LIGHT OPERA COMPANY IN "THE PIRATES OF PENZANCE"

A Great Production Planned for Our Chautauqua.

The Chicago Light Opera Company, under the personal direction of Kennard Barradell, will present in full costume at the evening session Gilbert and Sullivan's famous comic opera, "The Pirates of Penzance." This company of nine picked musicians and actors will give a performance of this most popular classic that has not been equalled on the Chautauqua platform. Mr. Barradell has made a life profession of teaching and staging light opera, and has made a special study of this work to adapt it to Chautauqua demands. The company will also give a full concert in the afternoon. The amount of preparation which has been made and the ability of the artists which have been selected warrant us in saying that this will be a most superb entertainment entirely worthy of the prominent place we give it on the program. This one number is worth the price of the whole Chautauqua.

Get your Season Ticket early, and don't miss this popular performance.

RICHARD D. HUGHES

The Celebrated Welsh Orator One of the Leading Speakers at Our Chautauqua.

Hughes is a native of Iowa, a son of the soil, born of Welsh ancestry, and practically reared in the pulpit. He traveled extensively abroad and lectured there both before and since the war. Now at the very prime of his life he brings to the Chautauqua and Lyceum platform a rich experience accumulated from travel, pastoral work in a large city, and the training of our best institutions of learning. Through his years of experience on the rostrum he has cultivated a style which is eloquent, and his voice possesses a resonant quality that carries his message to the hearts of his hearers with the cadence of music. If you hear Hughes once you will want to hear him again, for he has a soul-stirring message, and possesses a personality that radiates sunshine.

CHARLES L. FICKLIN

The Noted Editor-Lecturer to Speak Both Afternoon and Evening at Our Chautauqua.

In Chas. L. Ficklin is given to the Chautauqua a man who keeps abreast of the times, constantly presenting the vital problems of the day with new ideas. He gets away from the beaten paths of thought and discovers to his audiences thought realms heretofore unexplored by them. Mr. Ficklin is a newspaper man who speaks with confidence, with authority and directness on the subjects in hand. He is in dead earnest. He writes as he thinks, clearly; and who gives life to his thoughts because of his intense, vigorous personality. The people of any community will be benefited and uplifted by Mr. Ficklin's lectures. The lawyer, the editor and other professional men can drink deep of his philosophy; everyone can laugh, think and resolve to go to the tasks of the next day with firmer walk and determination after hearing him. He lives in his daily life the ideals he talks from the platform. His life measures true to the highest of standards.

SIGNOR LIBERATI—SCOTT AND POWELL

World's Renowned Cornetist and Band Master a Star Attraction at Our Chautauqua—Two Southern Belles Sing and Entertain.

Signor Alessandro Liberati, the world's most famous cornetist and bandmaster, is one of the greatest attractions ever presented to a Chautauqua audience. He is known in every part of the United States and Canada where he has appeared on the most notable occasions. Volumes of most appreciative press notices could be printed would space permit. He is often spoken of as "the Wizard of the Cornet" and has stood for years as the ace of players of this instrument. It is only once in a long time that rural communities are privileged to hear and see so famous and gifted an artist. Associated with him as entertainers are two talented young women—Misses Scott and Powell. They are from the Sunny South and have all the culture and training which we have come to expect from those who hail from Dixie land. Their program will consist of costume sketches, solos, reading, etc. Experience and practice will combine to make their program both highly entertaining and artistic. You will need a Season Ticket. This day alone is worth the price. Get it now!

GIRVIN'S ORCHESTRAL QUINTET

A Company of Musicians That Ranks With the Best and is Exceedingly Popular.

After several years of uninterrupted success on the Mutual Chautauqua, in which their popularity and quality were demonstrated daily, it was decided to re-engage them for a tour of our western circuits as a special offering to its music-loving people. The personnel for this engagement was hand picked from the Symphony Club Orchestra of Chicago by Ramon B. Girvin, whose personal achievements and prominence in the American Conservatory of Music make it necessary for him to select artists of peculiar merit. Besides the distinguished leader in a liberal number of solos, a trio from within this company will execute exquisitely some specially chosen numbers in which their striking ability will be evidenced. Each member of this orchestra has won individual distinction.

WAYNE CHAUTAUQUA JULY 12TH TO 17TH

CHICKEN NEWS.

"Well," said Miss White Chicken, "what is the news?"
"News," said Mrs. White Hen, "is always interesting. Who knows any news?"

There were a number of white chickens and white hens sitting one afternoon on a hot summer day under a big shady tree. They were trying to get cool, for they felt quite warm, though they looked nice and cool and summery in their pretty white feathers.

"I know some news," said Mrs. Snow Hen.

"Tell it to us," said the other hens and chickens.

"There are some relations of ours who are being brought up in great luxury," said Mrs. Snow Hen.

She had been so named because her feathers looked even whiter than the feathers of the others.

"What does luxury mean?" asked Miss White Chicken.

"Yes, cackle, cackle, what does it mean?" asked Mrs. White Hen.

"Luxury," said Mrs. Snow Hen, "means riches and such things. When a creature is living in luxury it means that creature is living among rich people and things and having everything about that costs lots of money."

"Is it pleasant to live that way?" asked Miss White Chicken.

"Many think so," said Mrs. Snow Hen, "but I've never noticed that it made much difference. Sometimes it seems to make them sad, for they find they've lost a lot of other things by the roadside as they've been looking for riches and luxury."

"Can one pick up riches and luxury as one can seeds?" asked Mrs. White Hen.

"No, not exactly," said Mrs. Snow Hen.

"And what do they lose by the way?" asked Miss White Chicken.

"Oh, they lose all sorts of things, like knowing how to have a good time, and they forget all the pleasures they used to have in a simple way until they've found that the pleasures which cost a great deal don't always mean so much at all."

"But, pray do not ask me to tell you too much about luxury and riches, for I don't know much about them. I'm glad I am a regular chicken, though."

"I Know Some News"

and not too superior, for I'd hate to live in just such a way and eat just such food all the time.

"These relations of ours belong to some very, very, very wealthy people."

"The hens and chickens themselves didn't make the money, you see."

"There are three hundred of our relations, though, who live in this fine way."

"In the winter time they live in a chicken house which has steam heat and electric lights and running water. They eat just such seed and they aren't allowed to go wandering off anywhere for food."

"Of course some things about such a life may be very pleasant, but it is too lacking in adventure to suit me."

"I've heard Dash, the dog, telling some of his dog friends that he wouldn't be a little petted dog on a silken cushion, who was fed cream whenever he wanted it, for anything."

"Dash says he likes to be a regular dog and have people love him and care for him, but he doesn't want to be treated like a little lap dog, who yelps for everything he wants, and often for what he doesn't want."

"I don't envy our fine relations in the least, but one thing I must say for them."

"What is that?" asked Mrs. White Hen.

"Do tell us," said Miss White Chicken.

"Yes, pray tell us," said the other white chickens and white hens.

"Our relations are just the same, even though they live in such luxury and amidst such riches," said Mrs. Snow Hen. "They cackle and cluck and talk in just the same style; they're not affected and they're not in the least stuckup. That is one thing very much in their favor, and it also shows their good sense. That is the news I have for you."

No Two Alike.

No two roses in the garden are just alike, and that is one of the secrets of their charm. The little irregularities of handwork are always preferable to the precision of a machine. The girl who tries to be like some one else, instead of being just herself, is sacrificing her greatest charm.
