

The Nebraska Democrat

Sec. State, Historical Soc

ESTABLISHED 1884

WAYNE, WAYNE COUNTY, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, MARCH 9, 1922

$1.50 PER YEAR

A GREAT BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT—THREE DAYS SPORT

Wayne has never before entertained a more enthusiastic bunch of young men and boys than assembled here last Thursday, Friday and Saturday when nearly three hundred high school boys from the thirty different schools came here to test the ability of their basket shooters, and learn who were most proficient at this popular sport which is doing much to keep a lot of young men interested in school during a period of life when in other years many left the school before they realized the value of education and what a help it could be to one.

Basketball is fine, invigorating sport—and perhaps at times bordering on the rough—but if played according to rules it is good as a whole. Before we begin to tell of the score of the different teams, we stop to tell on behalf of the college and management their great appreciation of the hearty co-operation of Wayne citizens in making this meeting the success it was in that important matter of entertainment by so freely opening their homes to the boys for lodging. One night more than 170 lads were cared for, and nearly that many another night. The management certainly feel grateful to the citizens.

The winners in the different classes were: Class A Randolph. Class B Lyons. Class C Crofton.

The score by games follows: Teams marked by * forfeited by not appearing, and the rules fix the score in such cases at 2 to 0:

Class A Preliminaries
Wayne 2, *Neligh 0; Randolph 24, Wisner 10; Albion 42, Bloomfield 20; Pierce 23, Tilden 21.

Class A Semi-Finals
Wayne 11, Randolph 16; Albion 35, Pierce 18.

Class A Final
Randolph 16, Albion 15.

Class B Preliminaries
Carroll 2, *Hooper 0; Inman 23, Hartington 42; Creighton 11, Ponca 21; *Pilger 0, Lyons 2; Wansa 13, Allen 17; Wakefield 16, Madison 34.

Class B Trials
Carroll 15, Hartington 25; Ponca 8, Lyons 18; Allen 18, Madison 11.

Class B Semi-Finals
Hartington 24, Lyons 30.

Class B Final
Lyons 12, Allen 10.

Class C Preliminaries
Osmond 9, Winside 15; Emerson 15, Laurel 24; Waterbury 6, Belden 53; *Lynch 0, Crofton 2.

Class C Trials
Winside 12, Laurel 11; Belden 26, Crofton 28; Normal Training School 28, Battle Creek 18.

Class C Semi-Final
Crofton 26, Normal Training School 11.

Class C Final
Winside 11, Crofton 19.

The referees announced as the tournament closed the all-district teams of each class, and Owen Brainard of the Wayne high school was named as one of the men in class A. Gordon Lackey was selected from the Normal Training school as a member of the class C team.

Farrow of Randolph was given the individual honors of the tournament, and awarded the Kemp cup. The honors were shared with Armour of Hartington, and he was presented with a pair of basketball shoes from Morgan.

The tournament was a success in every way, and the management may well claim credit for doing well near perfect work from start to close.

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY
Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Larsen were very pleasantly surprised last Friday evening by about forty neighbors and friends in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Cards and music furnished the amusement for the evening. Refreshments brought by the guests were served at an appropriate hour. The following guests brought presents: Mr. and Mrs. John Grimm, gray ladle; Mr. and Mrs. John Lutt, salad fork; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Sievers, butter knife and sugar shell; Mr. and Mrs. Emil Baier, cream ladle; Mr. and Mrs. August Kay, berry spoon; Mr. and Mrs. Win. Meyer, meat fork; Mr. and Mrs. Jens Thompson, knives and forks; Mr. and Mrs. John Kay, tea spoons; Mr. and Mrs. Eric Thompson, tea spoons; Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Sundahl, knives and forks. The guests departed at a late hour with best wishes.

There is much sickness—mostly in the nature of grip, bad colds and pneumonia.

C. A. CHACE & CO. LUMBER YARD HAS NEW OWNERS

A deal has just been completed by which the Chace Lumber Yard passes to the ownership of a new firm, to be known as the Theobald-Horney Lumber Co., and the new owners are P. A. Theobald, who has been in charge of the yard nearly all of the twelve years that Mr. Chace has been the proprietor, J. S. Horney, Chas. F. Schroeder and George Berres. The invoice is to begin today, and it is estimated that the consideration will total around $50,000.

According to the plans given out, Mr. Theobald will continue to serve in his present capacity, which is that of manager—but he is to be seconded and assisted by Mr. Horney, who is an experienced business man. The two former members of the firm are not planning to take any active part in the business at present. Mr. Horney is at present city clerk, and his term of office expires in May, after which we understand he is to devote his time to his new business—the there are those who claim that he may continue to act for the city in his present capacity, if so requested at the coming election.

Mr. Chace is one of the pioneer citizens of Wayne, and purchased the lumber business about twelve years ago. He has not made future plans known, and it is hoped that he will continue to make Wayne his home. The new firm members tell us that it is their purpose to handle lumber and coal, and make it known to the world that they are serving in that capacity.

DAVID CALVIN KRUEGER

Death came to David Calvin Krueger, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Krueger of this city, Sunday, March 5th, 1922, following an operation for ruptured appendix on the 2nd of March, at the age of 18 years, 2 months and 15 days, and after but a short sickness.

He was born at Nashville, Illinois, December 20, 1903, and at the age of nine years came with his parents to Emerson in this state, and made his home there for about seven years, coming to Wayne about two years ago. He was a quiet young man of good moral character, and well liked by those who knew him. He had been in the employ of the Standard Bridge company since November last, when they had work for him, and had plans made to begin work again the Monday morning he was taken ill.

The funeral services were from the Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Fenton Jones, and attended by relatives and friends.

He is survived and mourned by his parents, a brother Ralph of this city, and a sister, Mrs. Waggoner of Emerson; also by uncle and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schmitt and Mrs. Rena Schoenfeld and a cousin, Mary Gleason of this city, and numerous young friends. His grandmother, Mrs. Mary E. Jones of St. Louis, is also one of those who mourn, with other relatives.

DEATH OF MRS. DICK SCHROEDER

Mrs. Elizabeth Margaret Schroeder died at her home in this city Sunday, March 5th, 1922, at the age of 60 years, 9 months and 4 days, after more than a quarter of a century of ill health, during a part of which time she was nearly helpless from paralysis. She was born in Oldenburg, Germany, June 6th 1861, and came to America while yet a girl. They stopped for a time in Pennsylvania, and later came to Nebraska, where she was united in marriage to Henry Detrich Schroeder, who with two grown sons and daughters survive her.

In 1910 they moved to this part of Nebraska and settled northwest of Pender, and moved to Wayne three or four years ago.

The funeral services were from the Evangelical Lutheran church, of which she was a member, Tuesday afternoon, the pastor preaching the sermon. The body was laid to rest in the Wayne cemetery.

RATHMANN—LINEMANN

Wednesday, March 8, 1922, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claus Rathmann, of this place, Miss Minnie E. Rathmann was united in marriage to Henry G. Linemann of Randolph, Rev. Franzen officiating. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Linemann of Randolph, and both of the contracting parties are well and favorably known in their home communities.

Call at Mrs. Jeffries store for the latest in suits.—adv.

WHO SHALL REPRESENT WAYNE COUNTY IN LEGISLATURE?

The time is at hand to consider that important question. The editor has frequently talked that question over with friends interested in such questions, and we find that many of the Wayne people as well as some outside of town have known of the good work and the good record made in 1913 and 1915 by the representative from Cedar county, who has since moved across the county line and now has a home at Wayne.

We refer to Henry Korff, a citizen of Nebraska for more than forty years, and half of that time or more of this part of the state. Three years ago he became a citizen of Wayne, purchasing a home here that his sons and daughters might be at home and at school at the same time.

When we found so many looking toward Mr. Korff as a logical and ideal man for representative, the editor took the responsibility of asking that gentleman if he would consider filing and making the race for representative if there appeared to be a call for him. After a little deliberation he said he would. So it may not be out of place to give a little report of the record he made during the two terms he served from this part of the state. Of course we can only outline the record in this article, but it will serve to show his standing among the fellow members and the confidence they reposed in him.

During his first term he was given a place on some of the important committees—Revenue and Taxation; Insurance; Telegraph and Telephone; and when the sifting committee was named near the close of the session he was considered so well informed as to the needs of the people and the bills pending that he was given a place on that committee.

During his second term he was put into the harness right at the opening, and was named on the Committee on Committees; so had to do with the selection of all committees appointed at the opening of that session. He was made chairman of the committee on Miscellaneous subjects, and served well there. He was also a valued member of the Finance Ways and Means committee, a committee before which every appropriation bill must come, except those for educational purposes and perhaps one or two others for which the constitution makes provision. His record, so far as we can trace it, is clean. It shows that he was a worker; a fighter for measures he believed to be beneficial—a fair opponent to that he did not believe for the best interest of those who sent him there, and a game loser when that for which he contended went to defeat.

A farmer, who moved to Wayne three years ago that the boys and girls might have the school advantages here, he is not idle, but gives much personal attention to the farms he owns that are managed by some of the older sons. He keeps fully abreast of the times—is conservative and fair in expression of his views, and concedes to others the right he asks for himself of forming his own opinions and standing by them unless shown that he is mistaken. The Democrat is glad to present this name for the consideration of its readers. If any have a better one, let us tell the readers.

VILLAGE VIEW FARM

That is the name registered by Thos. Sundahl for his farm adjoining the village of Sholes; but he has neglected to put the name of the farm and its owners on the side where it may be seen from the railroad by passengers in passing trains. That would be the cheapest advertising he could get—for the first cost would not be great, and the upkeep would be easy. But why the name where it can be read? Simply this, they have a flock of about 1200 of the best strain of White Rock hens and roosters, and it is not uncommon for the station agent at Sholes to get letters asking who owns those birds—people who want birds or eggs of both.

Mr. Sundahl tells us that he is going to get the benefit of that publicity right away. He keeps his breeding up to top notch, purchasing the best of roosters and cockerels each year. His purchase of last season contained some birds that weighed 11 pounds, and as good as they were large. The egg season is now at hand, and he has an advertisement in this issue telling of the offering.

Mrs. Jeffries will be pleased to have you call and see the new spring dresses.—adv.

WOMAN'S CLUB IN ANNUAL MEETING

The regular meeting of the Wayne Woman's club was held in the City Library Saturday afternoon. Bills amounting to $83 were allowed. $5.00 was deducted from the Hoguewood bill for drayage, as a donation to the club and the ladies wish to express their appreciation of this and also for a donation of labor by Mr. J. H. Foster. It was reported that the dance given by the Woman's club February 24th netted about $123. The club appreciates the efficient work of the committee in the management of the dance.

A letter from the state inspector who was brought here by the City Council to inspect the safety conditions of the opera house was read. The balcony was reported to be absolutely as safe as the day it was built, there being no danger whatever of a collapse of the floor. It was recommended however that there be more exit room direct from balcony to outside, in case of fire.

The following officers were elected to serve for the fourth year of the Woman's club work.

President.....Mrs. E. W. Huse
Vice President.....Mrs. A. A. Welch
Secretary.....Mrs. D. J. Cavanaugh
Treasurer.....Mrs. H. H. Hahn
Auditor.....Mrs. George Crossland
Chairmen of Standing Committees:
Civics.....Miss Margaret Pryor
Music.....Mrs. James Miller
Art.....Miss Martha Pierce
Literature.....Mrs. Fred Blair
Program.....Mrs. E. E. Lackey
Home Economics.....Mrs. Harry McMillan
Social.....Mrs. Clyde Oman
Legislation.....Mrs. C. A. Chace
Lookout.....Mrs. J. R. Randall
Membership.....Mrs. Henry Ley
Publicity.....Mrs. J. G. W. Lewis
Mrs. H. H. Hahn as treasurer gave a financial report for the year, March 1921 to March 3, 1922, showing total receipts as $2364 and total expenditures as $2126, leaving a balance of $238.

Treasurer's Report

Report of treasurer of the Wayne Woman's club for the year beginning March 18, 1921, and ending March 4, 1922.

Balance on hand, March 18, 1921 $67.47
Receipts for the year:
Rental.....$ 558.75
Food sales.....75.95
Special entertainments.....95.00
Fourth of July.....52.78
Two ball games.....139.99
Borrowed.....211.00
Bazaar.....643.25
First dance.....186.56
Second dance.....117.85
Country club banquet.....129.81
Dues, donations, sale of bazaar articles.....84.41

Total.....$2,295.36

Expenditures for the year:
Coal.....$ 125.00
Light.....143.18
Chairs.....15.00
Taxes.....119.35
Janitor service.....101.75
Insurance.....51.60
Grading.....23.80
Paving.....83.35
Principal and interest paid.....155.13
Notes and interest paid.....212.23
Federation.....18.92
Tuning and repairing piano.....11.00
Remodeling community house.....1,048.82
Entertainment expenses, printing, etc.....82.50

Total.....$2,189.63

Net balance for the year.....$105.73

Balance on hand, March 4, 1922 $163.20

(The bills allowed, March 4, 1922, are included in the above expenditures.)

The rental receipts lack over $100.00 of being sufficient to cover necessary expenses such as coal, light, janitor, taxes, insurance, paving and interest on the balance due on the property.

The matter of raising the amount charged for the use of the building was discussed at the last meeting.

Mrs. H. H. Hahn, treasurer.

GRAVES—WALKER

At Sedalia, Missouri, March 3, 1922, Dr. E. Walker of that city, and Miss Eva Graves were united in marriage. Miss Walker is a graduate from the Normal and was a teacher in the Wayne public school for four years, and a most excellent teacher and worthy lady. Her husband is physician and surgeon of high standing, and they will be "at home" at 1118 West 4th street, Sedalia, Missouri, after June 1st.

The many friends of the bride will extend well wishes.

CITY CAUCUSES COME TONIGHT AND FRIDAY

All voters, women as well as men, who can, should attend the caucuses called for this week, and see that the best qualified citizens are nominated for candidates for the various offices.

A mayor is to be nominated and elected, a city clerk and a city treasurer, a councilman in each ward, and two members of the school board, Rollie W. Ley and J. G. Mines having served the terms for which they were elected. There will doubtless soon be another vacancy on the school board, as plans are made for Wm. H. Morris and family to move to Omaha before another month passes, and Mrs. Morris was last year elected a member of the school board.

BIBLE STUDY CIRCLE MEETING

The Bible Study Circle met with Mrs. E. B. Young Tuesday afternoon to discuss the marvelous ministry and message of the prophet Amos, a cattleman whom God called to the cities to proclaim against the pleasure mad people of that day who were at "ease in Zion".

After the impressive lesson which seemed to be written in the present tense, letters were read as follows: From Mrs. F. C. H. Dreyer, of China Inland Mission, recently come to America, saying she hoped to arrive in Wayne near April 12th for a brief testimony.

Mr. Dreyer in co-laboration with other leading educators and bible teachers of China, have lately revolutionized the entire educational system of that great empire by giving to it a new system of script which takes the place of the old way of character reading. Everyone that is interested in world wide matters should hear this remarkable woman from the remotest regions of heathenism tell their thrilling experiences through the terrible Boxer troubles and famine scenes of China's dark heart.

A letter from Anna J. Gohrman puts off her visit to Wayne until late in March. She is the brilliant woman evangelist from Honduras, who rode over three hundred miles, on mule back over perilous mountains, to visit remote settlers who had never heard before of the provision God has made for them through his son Jesus Christ.

Mr. Sywulka, whose daring faith took himself and little family into the forbidden territory of Portuguese East Africa with the wonderful message of the Cross, writes of God's mighty working in that almost closed field, in many remarkable ways in answer to prayer.

Mrs. Strachan sends a stirring call for prayer for the evangelistic campaign going forward in power in Guatemala City, the crowds in attendance overflowing the great theater where meetings are held.

Mrs. Luke Rader sends word to Mrs. J. H. Wright of their movements and meetings and says Louisville, Kentucky, will be their next visit.

Glowing reports are at hand also from the Gipsy Smith revival in Nashville, Tennessee, where hundreds are waiting upon his inspiring ministry.

Syracuse, New York, will be the next campaign which ends the years work in America. Next year England will have the Gipsy services.

Mrs. A. E. Lanse will entertain the circle next Tuesday. A very pressing invitation to all to come.

The young peoples bible class meet each Friday night at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. E. B. Young and are giving fine support in study of the matchless book of John. "Everybody welcome."

SPECIAL COLUMBIA RECORDS FOR APRIL HERE

A. G. Bohnert, just south of the track, asks that lovers of the best and latest music call at his place and listen to the advance April Columbia records. Here are a few of the popular late arrivals and double 10-inch records at only 75c each:

A-3546—After the Rain. Fox-Trot. Miller and Black and White Melody Boys. A-3550—On the 'Gin. 'Gin, 'Ginny Shore. Fox-Trot. Ray Miller and His Black and White Melody Boys. A-3542—Good-Bye Shanghai. Medley Fox-Trot. The Happy Six. Saily and Irene and Boo-Hoo-Hoo, Mammy Lou, Feather-Bed Lane, and others.—adv.

BOX SOCIAL DISTRICT 26

The box social which was given by the teacher, Miss Amanda Keoner, last Tuesday, February 23, 1922, proved to be a success. A large crowd was in attendance, and the proceeds amounted to $26.30, which the teacher will use for school supplies.

W. E. WINGETT NEAR SHOLES SEVERELY BURNED

W. E. Wingett, living a half mile south of Sholes was severely burned about the head, face, neck and arm Wednesday when he attempted to thaw out a frozen tank heater with gasoline.

The pipes of the tank heater were frozen and Mr. Wingett soaked some coals with what he thought was kerosene from a can which contained gasoline, the can took fire causing the explosion, setting fire to Mr. Wingett. He jumped into a tank of water nearby but not before being severely burned. A doctor was summoned and relieved him as much as possible, but the doctor states Mr. Wingett is in a very serious condition.—Randolph Times.

NED J. LLOYD DIES AT TUSCON, ARIZONA

Word has been received by relatives and friends here of the death of Ned J. Lloyd, which occurred March 8, at Tuscon, Arizona, where he went about a year ago in hope of a cure for tuberculosis. They leave this evening with the body, and should arrive here Saturday evening, it is thought. The burial will be here, where his home was for so many years.

About twelve years ago, he moved to Vayland, South Dakota, and that was the home until perhaps a year ago, when they went in search of a different climate. No arrangements have yet been made as to the funeral.

THE YEOMEN MEETING

The Wayne Yeomen held an interesting meeting last Friday evening. Four candidates were "taken in" and after the business session a social hour was passed while partaking of refreshments. State Manager Roy Merrill and W. H. Pitkins of Sioux City, one of the supreme officers of the order were present and spoke of the order and its rapid advancement to those present. The facts they told gave one a new and better impression of the order than they had before had, for they learned more of its progressive work in insurance lines.

Mrs. Findley is soliciting for membership here, and there is to be a class adoption April 7th, with possibly 30 members, two-thirds of which are now accepted.

PETERSEN—JENSEN

Wednesday, March 8, 1922, at the county court room, by Judge J. M. Cherry, Mr. Carl H. Jensen and Miss Katherine Petersen were united in marriage. The groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Jensen and the bride daughter of Anton Petersen and wife, all of the Winside vicinity, and worthy people well known in this community where they have so long resided.

A wedding dinner was served at the Petersen home to families and immediate friends, and the bride and groom went to their farm home a mile west and a mile south of Winside, where they are going to live and farm.

LISTEN ON THE RADIO

Word just comes to us that Rev. Welden Crossland of Detroit has been asked and consented to make another talk over the wireless to his friends in this and other states. He will speak the evening of the 16th, a week from this evening at 7:15 Detroit time. His subject is announced as "Who Owns It Anyway?"

Get your instruments tuned up. A number of Wayne people heard a part of his talk about three weeks ago, and Detroit is frequently heard in this state. The instrument at Butte has frequently heard Detroit sending.

JUST ABOUT THAT VOTING

It is arranged for to give citizens an opportunity to present to the people for consideration names of any they think might be suitable to acceptably fill the offices of the city. As one of the present council said, it will not be expected to cause him to lose any sleep if another and better name is suggested in his stead.

SHOES FOR LADIES

Our new shoes are here, and may be seen in the new shapes and shades. You may find the shade that pleases, the last that fits, the heel that is right and a style that pleases; and quality in every good offering, at the Mrs. Jeffries store for women and children.—adv.

STOCK SHIPMENTS WEDNESDAY

Otto Ploor, Chas. Heikes, and Bernard Meyer were loading cattle out last evening to be on the Sioux City market this morning.

Crystal

THEATRE
E. GAILEY, Manager

Tonight—Thursday
Tomorrow—Friday

We Will Present Another
PARAMOUNT SPECIAL
With a
PARAMOUNT ALL STAR CAST
"EXPERIENCE"
Richard Barthelmess as Lead
Admission—10c and 25c

Saturday

CHARLES BUCK JONES in
"PARDON MY NERVE"
Also COMEDY
"STAGE STRUCK"
Admission—10c and 25c

Monday

WILLIAM DUNCAN in
"SPEEL HEART"
Also
"FOX NEWS"
Admission—10c and 25c

Tuesday

ALICE BRADY in
"HUSH MONEY"
Also
"FOX NEWS"
Admission—10c and 25c

Wednesday

ENID BENNETT in
"SILK HOSTERY"
Also
"SCENIC"
Admission—10c and 25c

COMING

NEXT THURSDAY AND FRIDAY
TOM MIX in
"CHASING THE MOON"

MATINEE EVERY SATURDAY
DOORS OPEN AT 2:30
SHOW STARTS AT 3:00
ONE SHOW ONLY

For a market for poultry, eggs and cream, remember Fortner.—adv

G. W. Albert was a passenger to Norfolk Tuesday morning.

I. E. Ellis went to Iowa the last of the week to look after business matters.

Mrs. J. H. Smith went to Carroll Monday to visit at the home of her son.

"Be Courteous to Strangers" is a Slogan that has been adopted by Omaha.

Dr. Young's Dental Office over the First National Bank. Phone 307.—Adv-29-tf

Mrs. Erick Johnson from north of Wayne was a visitor at Norfolk Friday, for a short time.

Prof. and Mrs. I. H. Britell were visiting at Sioux City Saturday, going over in the morning.

Mrs. C. E. McLennon was a passenger to Sioux City Saturday morning, and spent the day there.

Wm. Orr was at Omaha the first of the week, going down Tuesday morning in the interest of the Orr & Orr Co.

Miss Harriet Marquardt of Norfolk, who has been assisting at the Citizen Bank, returned home Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Wm. Stewart went to Fullerton Saturday to visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Sokol and family.

Mrs. Bridget from Sioux City was a visitor at Wayne part of Saturday, and a guest at the Claude Mitchell home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Miller from Columbus Junction, Iowa, were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey Griffith, their cousins.

Frank Weber, who passed thru a siege of pneumonia at the Wayne hospital was able to be taken home last week, and is said to be getting along well.

F. H. Vail, piano tuner, will be at Wayne again in May. If you need work, leave orders with G. A. Bohnert, or with any of the music teachers.—adv-3-9-2

Mrs. Leonard Echtenkamp and Mrs. John Echtenkamp, who have been here visiting with relatives, returned to their homes at Arlington Tuesday morning.

In Federal court, Omaha, three indictments against Thomas Matters, growing out of the Sutton, Nebraska, National bank failure in 1913 have been squashed.

The Omaha City Council has granted a permit to the street railway company, authorizing the widening of its bridge over the river. The improvement will cost $700,000 and will be made this year.

William E. McMahon, deposed head of the Omaha branch of the Disabled War Veterans' association, charged with defalcation of $1,700 of the associations funds may be brought before the Insanity Board.

Carlton Putnam of the Butte teaching force took advantage of the fact that their school was closed on account of flu to visit Wayne during the basketball tournament, and renew acquaintances on the hill.

Judge Graves is holding the March term of the district court at Hardington this week, for Cedar county litigants. But three criminal cases are on the docket for this term, and perhaps not to exceed a half dozen jury cases.

Mrs. Harris and a son, who have been visiting at Randolph for a time, were here Monday, on their way to Mitchell, where they expect to make their home. When at Randolph about three years ago, they were running the hotel there.

Fortner wants your poultry. adv

Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Neely were visitors from Winside Monday.

Wanted to Buy: Chickens. Mrs. Wollert. Phone 12-418.—adv.

C. H. Hendrickson was looking after business matters at Norfolk Tuesday.

Mrs. Lute Miller of Winside was a passenger to Carroll Tuesday morning.

Mrs. L. R. King of Carroll was a Wayne visitor between trains Tuesday.

Judge A. A. Welch went to Neligh Monday to attend court there this week.

Mrs. W. H. Morris went to Omaha Tuesday morning where she spent a few days.

FOR SALE—Two good building lots near high school. See John James, owner.—adv-3-2-tf

Mrs. L. E. Morris from Carroll was a passenger to Sioux City Tuesday, going in to spend the day there.

Hans Peterson from Norfolk was thru here Saturday on his way to Wakefield to visit relatives there.

Misses Esther Johnson and Mattie Kay went to Norfolk Saturday forenoon to visit friends over Sunday.

In the interest of economy the Omaha city council has dismissed 10 policemen and demoted 4 sergeants.

John Davis of Pilger came to Wayne Sunday to visit his friend, W. J. Patterson, who is ill of pneumonia.

Edward Meyer and wife returned home Saturday from a visit at the John Echtenkamp home at Arlington.

The Omaha Automobile Show, one of the big events of the year will be held in the Municipal Auditorium March 13-18.

Mrs. A. A. Wollert came out from Council Bluffs Thursday evening to join Mr. Wollert here at their farm home, and learned that he was ill with the flu or pneumonia, and at the hospital.

S. C. Sprague was looking after his farm interests at Tilden last week. From what he said, he discovered some political and political talk over in that part of the state, and he felt called upon to try to put the questions that are matters of history on straight.

Even the bankers get caught by fraudulent work now and then. A stranger put one over on two Beatrice banks last week, cleaning up about $200, and if he is not caught and made to work longer to square the deal it will be a pretty fair-day wage, as wages go these days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Heck from Hallam were here Sunday, on their way to Coleridge, where they were called to attend the funeral of Mrs. John Heck, a relative, and one of the pioneers of Cedar county. On account of bad roads, they waited here and visited over Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Ickler, the ladies being cousins. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Heck were among the early settlers at Coleridge, but of late have made their home in the southern part of the state.

A Sunday school class of girls or young ladies—quite young, perhaps, at the Presbyterian Sunday school has taken a new name and will be known as the G. O. T. class—but we do not know what that stands for. It might mean go out travel, or several other things—we did not ask. One of the members tells on a slip of paper that: "G. O. T. class of the Presbyterian Sunday school will hold a candy sale at the Central Meat Market, Saturday, March 11th." We agree to print this initial notice for the young ladies, and take our pay from unsold candy.—Wonder if we get any pay?

Our friend Dr. Mullen of Omaha, but until a year ago of Bloomfield, was at Wayne Sunday, and as he sometimes does, talked politics a little. He had been visiting at Norfolk, and as a guest attended the meeting of the progressives from this congressional district, which he said was not as exciting as he had expected it to be—but he learned later, that after he had supposed the business finished and the meeting about to adjourn, and he had taken his hat and gone out, the fun began, and the real tilt of the gathering had taken place. The Doctor was sorry, for being part Irish, he really enjoys seeing and hearing a fight.

Mrs. Chas. Shurtleff from Geddes, South Dakota, was here last week and stopped to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin, and greet and Mrs. Fred Martin, and greet a few former friends in this vicinity, where they lived a number of years ago. Mrs. S. was on her way to visit a daughter living at Colome, about sixty miles from home, if they might go direct, but the Missouri flows between, and that made it necessary to go round quite a block of the river, coming via Sioux City, lengthening the trip of sixty miles to nearly 500 miles. Some one should hang a tramway across the big river now and then, so that passengers might go over in a basket.

Take your poultry, cream and eggs to E. E. Kearns.—Adv.

MASTER WILLIAM SCHMITT

Chiropractic Did It!

Removed nerve pressure which had kept from this little boy the power of speech. It was no miracle—just the application of the well known Chiropractic principle that removal of pressure from a nerve permits nature to perform its natural function.

Read What Mrs. Schmitt Says:

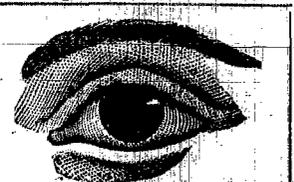

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:—
My son, William Schmitt, at four years of age could speak only two words, Mamma and Papa, very indistinctly. We took him to Rochester where he was X-Rayed and had three blood tests taken. They removed his tonsils and adenoids and said that he would talk within six months, if ever. At the end of that time he had shown no improvement. We took him to Drs. Lewis & Lewis, Chiropractors. He has now had fifty (50) spinal adjustments and now speaks anything as distinctly as the average child of his age.
Any further desired information will be cheerfully given by his mother.
Mrs. William Schmitt,
Laurel, Nebraska

April 26, 1921
The Chiropractor's work with children invariably brings the best results, and as a rule they respond quickly.

Drs. Lewis & Lewis

Chiropractors

Phone Ash 491
Wayne, Nebraska

YOU WILL BE SURPRISED
how quickly all trouble disappears with the use of proper glasses. Our equipment for a scientific examination of the eye is unsurpassed. We have all the latest instruments to verify our findings. Errors are consequently reduced to the minimum. There is no half-way work here. We have the only factory size grinding plant in this Northeast Nebraska.

W. B. Vail
Optician and Optometrist
Phone Ash 3031
Wayne, Neb.

SEE ME NOW

—at—
New Quarters
—in—
Voget Building
For Anything Needed in the Line of

PLUMBING,
HEATING,
ELECTRIC,
WIRING,

Or Electrical or Plumbing Supplies.
These are my exclusive lines, and years of experience enables me to guarantee good work in any of the above lines.

George Grunnemeyer
Phone 199 or 187
Wayne, Nebraska

Take your poultry, cream and eggs to E. E. Kearns.—adv.

Jas. Brittain was a Wayne visitor Sunday, going to Fremont Monday morning.

Henry Kellogg was at Verdel a day or two last week, going up to visit a son living there.

Save your old batteries. Watch for our opening announcement in next week's paper. The Magic Electrolyte Company.—adv.

During the coming season the Kountze Memorial Lutheran Church Omaha, will be enlarged at an expense of $150,000.

Mrs. Holmes of Norfolk was a guest here at the home of Mrs. Sonner the first of the week, returning home Monday evening.

In Omaha, during May, Election Commissioner McHugh will name 1,700 election officials. They will be both men and women.

Alex Holtz was a passenger to Sioux City Friday, and said it was possible that he would remain there for work, if he finds it opening up for brick layers.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee James of Pierce are reported quite seriously ill of flu, and her mother, Mrs. Kopp, was called over to that place Monday to aid in their care.

Mrs. Jennie Gleason, who was here to attend the funeral of her mother Mrs. Krestian Johnson, returned to her home at Tyndall, South Dakota, Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Emma Bloodhart from Bloomfield was here visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Leslie Ellis, over Sunday, and Monday went on to visit at Wakefield for the day.

Mrs. R. B. Miller and her sister, Angeline Funk of Bloomfield, were Wayne visitors Monday, coming from Sioux City, this far by car. They remained here for the evening train.

Two daughters of W. J. Patterson came Monday from Illinois; Mrs. T. S. Saddler from Bloyomington and Mrs. Jas. Guthridge from Macon, to be with their father in his serious illness. At this writing he is making a fight against an attack of double pneumonia, and at the age of 74 years it is no idle struggle if one win. A son, Wm. J. Patterson from St. Lawrence, South Dakota, came Tuesday.

Geo. Farren was a visitor from Norfolk Monday, coming over on the morning train.

Batteries charged instantly. Watch for our opening announcement. The Magic Electrolyte Company.—adv.

Take cream, eggs, poultry to E. E. Kearns at the Chas. Hiscox implement house.—adv.

R. B. Howell, Omaha, receptive republican candidate for the United States senate has announced that he is opposed to any change in the Volstead act that would weaken the law.

Henry Vahlkamp, who purchased from C. H. Hendrickson, his home in the east part of the city, is moving in this week, and Mr. and Mrs. Hendrickson are taking their household goods to the new home they purchased from D. D. Tobias; tho, owing to sickness Mrs. Tobias is not yet ready to vacate entirely.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Black, former Normal students, now teaching at Pierce were among those coming to Wayne last week. Prof. Black came with the basketball bunch from Pierce.

Better buy your supply of flour for the summer while it is cheap. At the Wayne Roller Mills, W. R. Weber, Prop.

OUR 1922 SAMPLES AND STYLES ARE HERE

For the inspection of those who want
GOOD CLOTHES

We have a new line of samples of all wool clothes, of latest patterns and weaves. We represent one of the very large manufacturers of

Made to Measure
Clothing

Our prices are all marked in plain figures, and those figures represent greater values by far than was possible a year ago. They are down to now so far as both price and style are concerned.

Let me take your measure and your order for such clothing as you need,
Suits, Pants, Overcoats

Wayne Cleaning Works
W. A. TRUMAN, Proprietor
Phone 41

EYES EXAMINED

GLASSES FITTED

SERVICE
SATISFACTION
REASONABLE PRICE
E. H. DOTSON
EYESIGHT SPECIALIST
 Wayne, Nebraska
 Only Optician in Wayne County
 Registered by Examination.

J. D. LEE GIVES HIS REASONS FOR NEW NEBRASKA PARTY
 (In Butte Gazette)
 (The following appeared in a recent issue of the Gazette at Butte, and as it is the honest conviction expressed by many who are considering the question of affiliating with the new party in this state, we give it place that the readers may consider

GET THE BIG NEWSPAPER THAT IS FIGHTING YOUR FIGHT

This year promises to be notable for big problems.
 What can be done to restore prosperity to the country?
 How can we reduce taxes?
 How can stable good prices for farm products be brought back?
 How can freight rates be reduced and railroad business restored?
 How can we pay our debts, public and private?
 How can the millions of idle men be put to work?
 How can we get back to a profitable relationship with Europe, the great customer for our surplus cotton, corn, copper, wheat, cattle and hogs?
 How can we get rid of the burdens of war and make the blessings of peace permanent?
 We have opened a new chapter in the world's history.
 To study it and to understand it all should read a daily newspaper, and Senator Hitchcock's newspaper, the Omaha World-Herald, is beyond doubt the largest and the best in Nebraska.
 Senator Hitchcock established this paper in 1885, nearly thirty-seven years ago.
 For more than a third of a century, therefore, this newspaper has been under his control and management.
 During many of these years he acted as editor. In 1894, on his invitation, Mr. William J. Bryan became editor for two years, only resigning to run for president. Mr. Bryan was succeeded as editor by Mr. R. L. Metcalf, and on the latter's resignation Mr. Hitchcock again took over the editorship. At that time he associated with himself Mr. H. E. Newbranch. About that time Mr. Hitchcock entered the lower house of congress where he served three terms. When elected to the United States senate eleven years ago he turned over full editorial responsibility to Mr. Newbranch, who has been a member of the World-Herald staff for twenty-three years.
 For thirty-seven years Senator Hitchcock has been president of the company which owns and publishes the World-Herald. With steady and unswerving purpose over that long period the newspaper has fought the battle of the people. During about half that time Mr. Hitchcock has been in public life in Washington and what he has stood for there, his newspaper has led the fight for in the west.
 The policy of the World-Herald has been permanent and it has been popular.
 Another element in the success of the World-Herald has been its independence. Behind its ownership there are no public utility securities, no railroad interests, no entangling alliances either corporate or individual. The result is a free and untrammelled newspaper which under unchanged ownership and control has stood uniformly for public interest and popular rights for all these years. Among the causes which it championed in the past are the maximum freight law, the antipass law, the two-cent fare law, and the law for taxation of railway terminals. The World-Herald is a pioneer in the fight for direct primaries, for the popular election of United States senators, for the graduated income tax, for the initiative and referendum, for the guarantee of bank deposits, for postal savings banks, for the farm loan banking system, and for the municipal ownership of water works in Omaha.

this man's view point.—Ed.)
 "Some few days ago I met a very influential old party gentleman, who seemed to be much displeased at me for being numbered among those who have lost faith in the two old parties.
 "If I were seeking an office and would make certain of getting it, then we would not abandon the old ship, but would remain with the old political machine builders; for we are forced by the facts to admit that it is much easier to drift along with the tide, than to turn and battle the forces that are calculated to sweep and lift us into power.
 "In days gone by when we had many able and influential leaders in the democrat party, who were really trying to work reform in the party; I then was known politically as a democrat. For in the state and national platforms the party wrote such planks as appeared to me as being in the interest of the poor and needy, and also for the best interest of the country at large.
 "When I served my last term in the state senate of Nebraska, I then began to realize that there was a dangerous influence likened unto the beast in the jungles, from a source that threatens the very life of our liberties.
 "To accomplish the work of passing laws that the people of the state had demanded, I learned that I often found the leaders of the democratic party, at least many of them, secretly seeking to defeat the passage of those reform laws, or trying to emasculate them so that they would be of no force or effect if passed at all. I remember that in order to succeed in passing some of the most wholesome acts of legislation, I was found voting more often with the progressive republicans than with the democrats.

 "That those democrats were against some of the most righteous laws is a fact not to be disputed. So often did I vote with the progressive republicans that the daily papers in this state, toward the end of that session, of 1912, counted me among the progressive republicans.
 "I will mention some of the good laws that were passed in that session over the opposition of the democratic majority in some future article; as I have not the space at this time to mention them specifically.
 "That is when and where I commenced to backslide; after being identified with the old democratic party all of my previous life.
 "But the progressive spirit that was so evident in that legislature, and in the days of Roosevelt as leader of the progressives, has died away and reactionaries in the republican party have swept this state into the most hopeless and deplorable condition that ever cursed a great state like ours.
 "The four vicious laws passed by the last legislature on which the referendum is evoked will bear me out in the above statement.
 "Our present governor, the once famous and promising candidate for the United States senate, Governor McKelvie, is the object of much ridicule and blistering criticism, but guilty as he may be, responsible as he is for the passage of his infamous code bill, it must be remembered that he had the backing and support of all corporation influence in this state as well as a majority of the legislature and other dangerous influences in getting by with that infamous and infernal piece of legislation that is now bearing down so hard on the backs of the taxpayers of this state.
 "The voters have been swinging back and forth for many years in Nebraska, first to one of the old parties and then the other, and finally it has culminated in bringing about the most distressing and distracting condition, socially and economically that was ever known in our past history.
 "Yet good meaning democrats and well disposed republicans are still ready to continue to support these old bankrupt parties, hoping that they may sometime reform and carry out the will of the people.
 "For me, I cannot longer follow their leadership, at least under the present lamentable fix we are in politically and economically in Nebraska.
 "All good citizens who are tired of the misrule of the old parties, and surely that will take in an overwhelming majority, should join with this new movement and make an honest and manly effort to change the complexion of our legislature and our congress, thereby placing the government back into the hands of the people and taking it away from a few dominant men who are wrecking the country."

WAR'S HORRIBLE WASTE

Mr. R. C. Leffingwell was the assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of finances during the war. While he was in the treasury he became deeply impressed with the magnitude of government expenditures and the looseness, inefficiency and waste that are a part of government method. All the secretaries of the treasury since the outbreak of the war have shared this feeling of apprehension and concern with Mr. Leffingwell. I quote here a recent utterance of his on war expenditures:
 "Of the $4,000,000,000, exclusive of interest on the public debt, spent in the fiscal year 1921, $1,101,615,013.82 was spent by the War department, $650,373,835.58 by the Navy department, $800,000,000 on the railroads, $230,000,000 by the bureau of war risk insurance, and $357,314,897.01 by the Interior department, mostly, I take it, for Civil war and Spanish war pensions—a total of $3,080,000,000 under these heads.
 "In the fiscal year 1920 the War department spent $1,610,000,000, and the Navy department $740,000,000, a total of $2,350,000,000. Secretary Mellon estimates that in the fiscal year, 1921, the War department will spend $1,025,000,000, and the Navy department $700,000,000, a total of $1,725,000,000; and that in the fiscal year, 1922, the War department will spend $570,000,000 and the Navy department $545,000,000, a total of $1,115,000,000. This makes a three-years' total of $5,190,000,000.
 "Germany went to war to realize on her investment in arms and armies. The burden of universal military service, expenditures on the army and navy, subsidies and doles, became intolerable. She thought she would repeat the exploit of 1870 and make war so profitable in territory and indemnities as to recoup herself for the outlay of 40 years' preparation. The splendid resistance of the Belgians and the French and of the little British expeditionary force made the short war a futile dream. The untrained manhood and unmortgaged resources of the Western World, of the British empire overseas, and finally of America, determined the issue. Germany suffered economic collapse, though her armies, beaten but not routed, were still on enemy soil. So Germany's military preparedness was her cause for making war and was the cause of her defeat. In the issue, it was economic preparedness that mattered most.
 "Today, men, women and little children are starving to death in Europe because of the war's horrible waste and because of the still more horrible waste of after the war. Two years and a half after armistice, nearly two years after peace was concluded between Germany and the allies, millions of men are under arms, eating and wearing the produce of the fields and of the labor of a civilian population which must bear the load of taxes and inflation necessary to maintain those armies in economic idleness. The peoples of continental Europe are staggering under the load of armaments, far too great before the war and intolerable now. Their rulers hold themselves in power by subsidies and doles, by playing, now on their fears, and again on their avarice, still again on nationalistic ambitions or ancient racial hatreds. The allies have undertaken to insure Germany's economic recovery by insisting upon her disarmament and the payment of reparations which means the development of a huge export balance; but for themselves they reserve the doubtful privilege of remaining armed to the teeth.
 "We have demonstrated our military power. We have shown what may be done in a few short months to make an army and transport it to wage a foreign war. We have no need to be aggressors abroad, we are invulnerable at home. Let us accept the responsibilities of the position of leadership which is ours, show the world how to beat swords into plowshares, relieve the peoples of the world of apprehension and lead them back into the ways of peace and plenty. If we prepare for war we shall have it. If we lead the world in preparation for peace we may have that."

NOTICE—ESTRAY PONY

Sunday, February 19, 1922, a black pony, of about 800 pounds weight came as a stray to my premises southwest of Wayne, and I have not been able to find who is the owner. This is notice for the loser to come, prove property, pay for feed and care and advertising and remove his animal from my premises, George Patterson, Wayne, Nebraska, Phone 221-423.—adv.-3-9-3t.

FILLING HIS INCUBATOR

George Patterson tells us that his new incubator, just completed, seems to be working very nicely. He expects his first chicks to begin to emerge from the shell about the 20th. A week ago he had 2,000 eggs warming, then he added another five or six hundred, and before this week is out, he hopes to have it filled to capacity, with 3,600 eggs. That is some hen, we will say.

Farm Loans

We are now in position to make farm loans at 6 per cent interest, and 1 per cent brokerage charge.
 Can loan up to $87.50 an acre on good farms.

Kohl Land & Investment Co.

Wayne

Where Your Taxes Go
How Uncle Sam Spends Your Money in Conducting Your Business
 By EDWARD G. LOWRY
 Author "Washington Close-Ups," "Banks and Financial Systems," etc. Contributor Political and Economic Articles to Leading Periodicals and a Writer of Recognized Authority on the National Government's Business Methods.
 Copyright, Western Newspaper Union

APPEALS FOR HELP FOR CHRISTIAN HOME ORPHANAGE

Readers of this paper will regret to hear that the Christian Home Orphanage at Council Bluffs, Iowa, which was founded in 1832, and which cares for about five hundred destitute children and aged, dependent women annually, is confronted with a most serious condition and that unless speedy and liberal help comes, disaster may be the result.
 The close times have affected receipts at the Orphanage to an alarming extent, and the future welfare of the work is at stake.
 The Home is appealing to the public to help it prevent this calamity, and, after nearly forty years of faithful service this paper feels that every reader should forward a contribution now to the Christian Home Orphanage, Council Bluffs, Iowa, in order that there may continue to be food and shelter for these little ones.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION FORMED

A Parent-Teacher Association was organized Thursday evening at Stanton. A large number of parents and teachers responded to the invitation to meet and consider organization. Feeling that the interests of the school children of Stanton could be advanced by such an association of the two groups most interested in their welfare, the organization was effected and the following officers elected: President, J. H. Welch, Vice President, Mrs. Theo. Namur, Secretary, Supt. W. E. Flake. The curfew ordinance was approved.

NOTICE OF CONVENTION

Notice is hereby given by W. O. Hanssen, Secretary of the Citizens Party, that a convention is hereby called and will be held by said Citizens party at the City Hall in the City of Wayne, Nebraska, on the 9th day of March, 1922, at 8 p. m. for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates of said party for the following offices of the City of Wayne, Nebraska, to-wit: Mayor, City Treasurer, City Clerk, City Engineer, and two members of the Board of Education, and for the transaction of such other business as may regularly come before said convention.
 Immediately following said convention a caucus of the electors of the First Ward of said City will be held at the City Hall for the purpose of placing in nomination a candidate for the office of Councilman from said ward, and a caucus of the electors of the Second Ward of said City will be held at Beckenhauer's Undertaking Parlors for the purpose of placing in nomination a candidate for Councilman for said Second Ward, and a caucus of the electors of the Third

NOTICE OF CONVENTION

Notice is hereby given by J. G. W. Lewis and F. B. Gamble, chairman and secretary, respectively, of the Wayne Civic Party that a convention is hereby called to meet at the City Hall in the City of Wayne, Nebraska, on the 10th day of March, 1922, at 8 p. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the following offices of the City of Wayne, Nebraska, to-wit: Mayor, City Treasurer, City Clerk, City Engineer, and two members of the Board of Education, and for the transaction of such other business as may regularly come before said convention.
 Immediately following said convention, a caucus of the First ward will be held at the City Hall, a caucus of the Second ward at Beckenhauer's undertaking parlors, and a caucus of the Third ward at Fred Blair's clothing store, for the purpose of placing in nomination one councilman from each ward.
 Dated this 6th day of March, 1922.
 Signed J. G. W. Lewis, Chairman
 Signed F. B. Gamble, Secretary.

NOTICE OF CONVENTION

Notice is hereby given by W. O. Hanssen, Secretary of the Citizens Party, that a convention is hereby called and will be held by said Citizens party at the City Hall in the City of Wayne, Nebraska, on the 9th day of March, 1922, at 8 p. m. for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates of said party for the following offices of the City of Wayne, Nebraska, to-wit: Mayor, City Treasurer, City Clerk, City Engineer, and two members of the Board of Education, and for the transaction of such other business as may regularly come before said convention.
 Immediately following said convention a caucus of the electors of the First Ward of said City will be held at the City Hall for the purpose of placing in nomination a candidate for the office of Councilman from said ward, and a caucus of the electors of the Second Ward of said City will be held at Beckenhauer's Undertaking Parlors for the purpose of placing in nomination a candidate for Councilman for said Second Ward, and a caucus of the electors of the Third or has it occurred to you—to take time to think—the value of your affiliations with a conservative, progressive bank is to your everyday life? Others have profited by our service. Why not you?

Do You Ever Think--

State Bank of Wayne

Henry Ley, Pres. Röllie W. Ley, Cashier.
 C. A. Chace, Vice Pres. H. Lundberg, Asst. Cashier.

Another Big, Jolly American Legion Dance
 Wayne Opera House
Friday, March 17
 Those who enjoy dancing may make arrangements to attend this second ball to be given by the Legion boys with the assurance that there will be the music by Slater's 6-piece orchestra, who have just closed their winter engagement at Denver, formerly of the Empress Rustic Garden of Omaha. All of the courtesies and attention from the management that do so much to make the ball a really festive occasion.
A Good Floor and Plenty of Room.
Admission $1.00, Tax Exempt.

WARD WILL BE HELD AT BLAIR'S CLOTHING STORE

For the purpose of placing in nomination a candidate for Councilman from said Third Ward.
 Dated this 6th day of March, 1922.
 Signed W. O. Hanssen, Secretary.

NOTICE OF CONVENTION

Notice is hereby given by J. G. W. Lewis and F. B. Gamble, chairman and secretary, respectively, of the Wayne Civic Party that a convention is hereby called to meet at the City Hall in the City of Wayne, Nebraska, on the 10th day of March, 1922, at 8 p. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the following offices of the City of Wayne, Nebraska, to-wit: Mayor, City Treasurer, City Clerk, City Engineer, and two members of the Board of Education, and for the transaction of such other business as may regularly come before said convention.
 Immediately following said convention, a caucus of the First ward will be held at the City Hall, a caucus of the Second ward at Beckenhauer's undertaking parlors, and a caucus of the Third ward at Fred Blair's clothing store, for the purpose of placing in nomination one councilman from each ward.
 Dated this 6th day of March, 1922.
 Signed J. G. W. Lewis, Chairman
 Signed F. B. Gamble, Secretary.

IT'S JOY

PERFECT PASTRY
 PERFECT Pastry is a joy forever. It's a meal-time confection that quite properly "tops off" your midday or evening meal. And a coffee ring or some of our choice buns and rolls might help you to appreciate your early meal.
Wayne Bakery
 E. Lingren, Prop.
 Phone 34J

STEEL BARRELS

If the statements of the makers are well founded, it is probable that steel barrels will eventually take the place of wooden ones. The steel barrel is composed of staves of that material locked together by an ingenious device; the hoops and heads are also of steel. It is claimed that the steel barrel is more durable and more compact than the wooden one. As it is said to be lighter and cheaper, it has already had favor in various quarters. About 800,000 barrels are needed annually in normal times, to supply the demand in the United States. Flour mills use about 90,000,000, the sugar industry 40,000,000, and the cement industry 75,000,000.—Christian Science Monitor.

Do You Ever Think--
 or has it occurred to you—to take time to think—the value of your affiliations with a conservative, progressive bank is to your everyday life? Others have profited by our service. Why not you?
State Bank of Wayne
 Henry Ley, Pres. Röllie W. Ley, Cashier.
 C. A. Chace, Vice Pres. H. Lundberg, Asst. Cashier.

Entered as second class matter in 1884, at the postoffice at Wayne, Nebr., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription Rates

One Year $1.50 Six Months .75

WAYNE MARKET REPORTS

Following are the market prices quoted us up to the time of going to press Thursday:

Table with market prices for Corn, Oats, Springs, Hens, Stags, Roosters, Eggs, Butter Fat, Cattle, Hogs.

The 67th congress has fooled away the first half of its life—or nearly so, and in less than a year from now it will be dead.

Just now the republicans in the senate are trying to reverse their attitude of last year toward treaties, and keep the democratic members from making such asses of themselves at this time as they did in playing politics with the Versailles treaty.

The coal strike pending for April 1 may be averted. President Harding is said to be moving toward that end. But meantime the operators and miners are not apparently coming to any near agreement.

The House, it is said is ready to pass the bonus bill. Its fate in the senate will be a problem—and then President Harding might veto it, unless it carried a provision to tax the poor people for the necessary revenue to meet the need for funds.

Many people seem to take the present congress as a joke, and joke it in public places. Abe Martin makes the variety store man say that he has sold more checkboards during the first ten months of the Harding reign than during all of the two Wilson administrations—and that is supposed to be evidence that business is picking up.

SOCIAL NOTES

Members of the Minerva club answered to roll call Monday at the home of Mrs. S. A. Lutgen with current events. A series of magazine articles were read as follows: Mrs. J. T. House, "What is Temperament," by W. J. Henderson; Mrs. J. G. W. Lewis, "The Right Kind of Public School Teachers Needed," by Charles H. Selden; Mrs. L. M. Owen, "The Male and the Female of It," from House and Garden.

The college class enjoyed a 6 o'clock dinner served cafeteria style Tuesday in Methodist church. After dinner was over several popular songs were cut in seven pieces were distributed and groups were formed by matching pieces of songs, after the pieces were put together each group sang its song.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Ferrel entertained the Lyons basketball team at dinner Sunday in honor of their victory in their class. The table and chandeliers were decorated in their colors orange and black.

The P. E. O. hold their regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. D. C. Main. A covered dish luncheon was served after which they had election of officers, which were as follows: Mrs. Marlon Theobald, President; Mrs. A. A. Welch, Vice President; Mrs. Rollie Ley, Recording Secretary; Miss Jessie Jenks, Corresponding Secretary; Miss Mary Mason, Treasurer; Mrs. Brainard Guard, Delegates for state convention were elected, Mrs. Perry Theobald and Mrs. A. A. Welch.

Mrs. Hugh Grey who has been spending the winter in California is expected here Friday. Mrs. Chace and Mrs. Welch will entertain the members of the Monday club in her honor, Friday afternoon. Mrs. Grey will be remembered as Mrs. Dan Harrington and will visit friends in Wayne. Mrs. Nathan Chace of Stanton, will be a guest and will spend the week end in the Chace home.

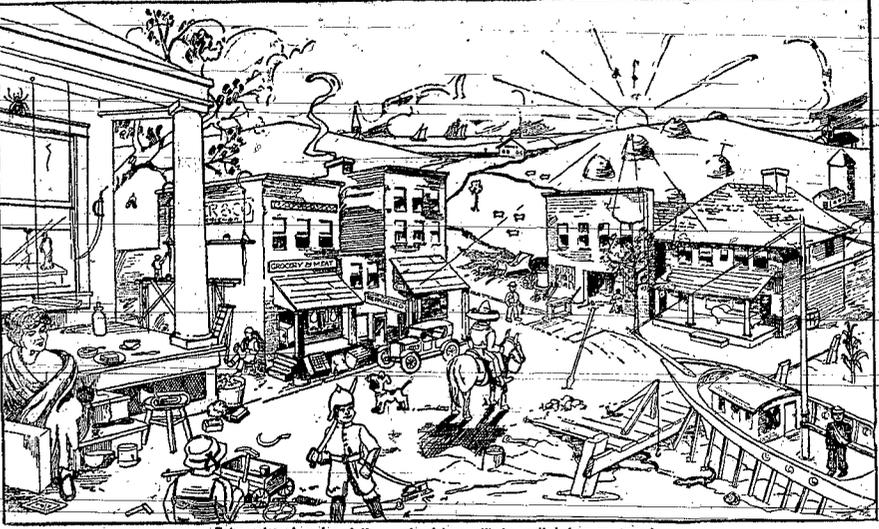

Katherine Lou Davis entertained the Happy Hour club Saturday afternoon. After the program the rest of the afternoon was spent playing games. Mrs. Davis served refreshments, and the table decoration was a gle made of tissue paper trimmed with a red rose and ribbons, and at each end of the ribbons was a gift for each child.

The U. D. club was entertained Monday at a dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Fisher. The occasion being in honor of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morris, who are moving to Omaha soon. A bounteous dinner was served at 8:00 o'clock, after which the guests spent the rest of the evening playing 500.

Miss Lilla Gardner was hostess at a 6:30 dinner Friday evening. Covers were laid for nine and the table decorations were suggestive of St. Patrick's day. A four course dinner was served by Mrs. Gardner, assisted by Miss Florence. In the evening all attended the basketball tournament.

The Acme club met Monday at the home of Mrs. W. A. Hiscow. Roll call was quotation from "Robert Service". Mrs. Senter gave a short history of his life. Mrs. Weber gave a book review, "Under the Country Skies." The hostess served delicious refreshments. Club will not meet next week.

Everybody Wins Something $2,500.00 in Cash Prizes

Extra enlarged copies of the puzzle picture will be mailed free on request.

How Many Objects In This Picture Begin With S?

In the picture above there are all kinds of objects beginning with the letter "S" without any trouble whatever you can readily see some of them, as "Sator," "Sator," "Sator," etc. Simple, isn't it? Well, the other objects are just as plain, but the names are not so easy to find. Everything in plain view—nothing hidden—no need to turn the picture upside down. Get a paper and pencil. Read your list in QUIET. Largest and nearest correct list takes 1st prize, the 2nd best, and so on.

OPEN TO ALL—GET BUSY NOW! Let the family work together, or else see if one of them can not find a longer list than another one. It is great fun, and educational besides. Everybody wins something. Each person solving in a list, regardless of whether they win or not, will be sent an assortment of 10 beautiful birthday greeting cards. It costs nothing to take part and you do not have to send in a single subscription for the Omaha Daily News to win a prize. But in looking over our prize list you see it will be well worth your while going to a little extra trouble and secure a few subscribers as that will count for one of the higher and more valuable prizes.

EASY TO WIN By sending in one or two yearly subscriptions (maximum two subscriptions—your own subscription, new or renewal, will count) to The Omaha Daily News at $4.00 a year, you can win as much as $500 or $1,000 in cash. This is a bonus reward for boosters. Here's how: If your answer to the "S-Word" Picture puzzle is awarded first prize, the Omaha Daily News at $4.00 a year, you will receive $500 instead of $20. Or, if your answer to the "S-Word" Picture puzzle is awarded first prize by the judges and you have sent in two yearly subscriptions to The Omaha Daily News, $4.00 in all you will receive $1,000 instead of $20. If your answer is qualified by a $1.00 subscription, new or renewal, and you will second prize, you will receive $250. However, if you have sent in two subscriptions for one year, and you will second prize, you will receive $500, and so on down the list of prizes.

Furthermore, two six-months subscriptions will count the same as one one-year subscription or a two-year subscription will count the same as two one-year subscriptions or four six-months subscriptions. Also, the following club offers count the same as one one-year subscription: Omaha Daily and Sunday News (1 year) People's Popular Monthly (1 year) Farm and Fireside (1 year) Farm Journal (1 year) Woman's World (1 year) Woman's Review (3 months)

ALL FOR $5.00

HERE ARE THE RULES

- 1—Anyone not a resident of Greater Omaha or Council Bluffs and who is not an employee or a relative of an employee of The Omaha Daily News may submit an answer.
2—All answers must be mailed before your postoffice closing time on March 21st. Only answers mailed between now and the above date will be considered by the judges.
3—Write on one side of the paper only, and number all words (1, 2, 3, etc.). Write your full name and address on each page.
4—Only words that appear in the English dictionary will be counted. Where the plural is used, the singular cannot be counted, and vice versa.
5—Words of the same spelling can be used only once, even though used to designate different objects or articles. An object or article can be named only once, although the object or article itself can be named and the various parts of the object or article can be named.
6—Do not use obsolete, archaic or technical words, or any compound words formed by two or more complete words, where each word in itself is an object.
7—The answer having the nearest correct list of names of visible objects or articles shown in the picture that begin with the letter "S" will be awarded first prize, etc. Neatness, style or handwriting have no bearing on the winners.
8—One or more members of a family may compete, but only one prize will be awarded to one household; nor will prizes be awarded to more than one of any group outside the family, where two or more have been working together. If more than one list is sent in by one party, or if they are sent in under different names, both lists will be barred.
9—Dr. H. A. Senter, professor, Central High School, Omaha; Father Hamill, principal, Creighton High School, Omaha; and Professor Dwight E. Porter, principal, Commercial High School, Omaha, have been appointed judges, and both The Omaha Daily News and the participants agree to abide by the decision of the judges as final and conclusive.
10—In case of a tie, prizes of equal amounts will be awarded to the tying contestants. All answers will receive the same consideration whether or not a subscription for The Omaha Daily News is sent in.
11—The announcement of the prize winners and the correct list of words will be published in The Omaha Daily News in the earliest possible edition following the decision of the judges.
12—All lists of words must be mailed before March 21st, although they can be qualified for one of the larger prizes by sending in subscriptions up to and including April 4th, but all subscriptions must be for persons not a resident of Greater Omaha or Council Bluffs.

Costs Not One Cent to Try— Lots of Fun and You May Win One of the Following Prizes:

Table showing prize amounts for different subscription levels: 1st Prize $20.00, 2nd Prize $10.00, 3rd Prize $5.00, etc.

Fairness Assured!

We have selected three well known men who will act as judges: DR. H. A. SENTER, Professor Central High School, Omaha; REVEREND I. A. HAMILL, Principal Creighton High School, Omaha; PROFESSOR DWIGHT E. PORTER, Principal Commercial High School, Omaha.

MAHA DAILY NEWS. PICTURE PUZZLE DEPARTMENT. OMAHA, NEBRASKA

Rollie Ley and Miss Mary Mason alternates. Mrs. J. C. Robertson came from New York Monday to visit during the month of March with her parents, P. H. Kohl and wife, and with her many Wayne friends.

The Coterie met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. E. Fleetwood. The afternoon was spent socially. The hostess served a two-course luncheon. Club will meet March 20, at the home of Mrs. Warren Shultzeis.

The Hotalochen Campfire Girls will meet Monday evening with Pauline Judson for a ceremonial meeting. Two new members will be taken in. Three girls will receive the firemaker's degree.

It is planned to have a joint meeting of the members of the American Legion and the Auxiliary at the Legion hall next Tuesday evening, and members of both organizations enjoy a social hour.

The Monday club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. H. Hahn. The afternoon was spent socially, and the hostess served home made candy.

There was a dancing party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Mellor last Friday evening. An orchestra furnished music. Refreshments were served.

The Sorosis club will meet Monday, March 20, at the home of Mrs. C. J. Rasdal. Did not meet this week on account of sickness.

The P. N. G. club which was to meet March 14, has been postponed on account of sickness.

The W. C. T. U. met Friday last at the home of Mrs. M. Goodyear.

WITH THE WAYNE CHURCHES

- First Presbyterian Church (Rev. Fenton C. Jones, Pastor) 10:30 morning worship. Sermon, "Forgive us our Debts." 11:30 Sunday school. 5:45 choir rehearsal. 6:30 Christian Endeavor. 7:30 evening worship. Subject, "Why is a Man Like a Dollar?" The G. O. T. class will hold a candy sale at the Central Meat Mar-

Methodist Episcopal Church (Rev. Wm. Kilburn, Pastor) Sunday school 10 a. m. President Conn will be the special speaker for the morning service. Subject "The Schools Contribution to Citizenship." Service to commence at 11 a. m. Epworth League 6:45 p. m. Preaching service 7:30 p. m.

Baptist Church Regular services next Sunday, both morning and evening. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Owings, pastor at large for the state, are now in the field and it is urged that all members be present Sunday morning to meet them and give them a royal reception.

English Lutheran Church (Rev. J. H. Fetterolf, Pastor) Sunday school 10 a. m. Public worship with sermon 11 a. m. Evening service 7:30. Mrs. Henry Korf will entertain the Ladies Aid next Thursday afternoon.

Evangelical Lutheran Church (Rev. H. A. Teckhaus, Pastor) March the 12th Sunday school 10 a. m. Preaching service 11 a. m. March the 11th Saturday school 2 p. m.

Hollness Mission (Clifford Dean, Superintendent) At City Hall Sunday school 2:54 p. m. Preaching services at 3:30 and 7:30 each Sunday. All are welcome to these services. Will you come?

Evangelical Churches (Rev. W. Fischer, Pastor) At Theophilous church, southwest of Wayne services at 10:45 each Sunday morning. At Salem church, southeast of Wayne, services at 3:00 each Sunday afternoon. Welcome to either church.

Fritz Lerner came from Sheridan, Wyoming, the last of the week for a week visit with home folks. He is baking out in that town.

Chick Food Season AND AGAIN I AM ON HAND WITH THE GOODS—THE Chick Feed that has no superior. This feed is manufactured in Wayne—made fresh each week from the best of materials, and made so that an analysis will show that it is all feed, and a balanced ration. It is backed by a positive guarantee not to contain musty or mouldy grains so fatal to the little chicks. The price is right, and no higher than other feeds that will not test as high in food value. By the 100 lbs. or more, as you want it, Freshly Mixed $2.25 cwt. Use the best and save your chicks, and make them thrive. Oyster Shell, $1.60 per cwt. Geo. Fortner Wayne Feed Mill All kinds of Ground Feed, Flour, Etc. Phone 286-W

IT'S JOY PERFECT PASTRY PERFECT Pastry is a joy forever. It's a meal-time confection that quite properly "tops off" your midday or evening meal. And a coffee ring or some of our choice buns and rolls might help you to appreciate your early meal. Wayne Bakery E. Lingren, Prop. Phone 34J

Blacksmithing Wagon Work Plow Work Disc Sharpening J. B. Myers, Altona, Nebr.

Household Furniture For Sale

One Oak Bedroom Suite; One Oak Dining Table and Buffet; One Oak Book Case; One Fumed Oak Library Table; One Perfection Oil Stove, Three Burners, Used Less Than a Year; One Copper Clad Range. Used Less Than Six Months; One Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet, Good as New; One Rocking Chair; Other Small Articles.

All at Private Sale at the home of

W. H. Morris

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Wm. Bays of Winside was a Wayne visitor Tuesday.

For a market for poultry, eggs and cream, remember Fortner.—adv

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hughes have moved to Concord, where he has employment at a garage.

Strayed from undersigned—male Duroc, 150 lb. wt. Reward for information to owner, W. H. Hoguewood, Phone 311.—adv.—pd.

Thos. Sundahl was here from Sholes Tuesday, coming down to visit his brother Hans, in the south part of the city, who is ill of flu, with pneumonia threatened.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rudybusch from Randolph were here Tuesday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Dick Schroeder. They were neighbors for many years, near Pender.

It was demonstrated that this is March this week when the weather man gave us rain, sleet, snow, sunshine, wind and both thawing and freezing weather during one short day, and then sent us to bed with a big circle round the moon—indicating a storm in the near future.

City caucuses tonight and Friday evening.

Take your poultry, cream and eggs to E. E. Kearns.—Adv.

Sheriff O. C. Lewis was a passenger to Sioux City Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Wm. Benson and daughter Wanda spent Wednesday visiting at Pender.

Oshkosh Overalls $1.95, Gamble & Senter.

Mrs. D. D. Tobias and little daughter Marjorie left Wednesday for their new home at Lincoln.

W. H. Gildersleeve and Dan Shannon were looking things over at the Sioux City yards Wednesday.

Miss Ruth Ringland, who has been three weeks at a Sioux City hospital where she underwent an operation, comes home today.

John Kay was at Omaha the first of the week with cattle, and was fortunate enough to find a fairly good market. Chas. Meyers was also on that market with a stock shipment.

Each express brings new goods to the Mrs. Jeffries store. Just now the arrivals from the factories in the east are mostly of new suits, new skirts and new coats—the 1922 patterns. You will want to see them.—adv.

Fortner wants your poultry. adv.

See Mrs. Jeffries for ladies shoes.—adv.

Four acres for rent. Mrs. F. Sebald.—adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hurstad went to Sioux City this morning for the day.

Geo. Farren was over from Norfolk Tuesday, visiting and looking after business.

H. J. Nelson went to Hubbard Wednesday morning to visit home folks a few days.

Henry Englebart from Randolph was here Tuesday to attend the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. Dick Schroeder.

Mrs. Herman Echtenkamp went to Arlington this morning to visit relatives a few days.

J. A. Frydenlund was a passenger to Omaha this morning. Mr. Knopp is in charge at his "Smoke House" until he returns.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dowling were called to Madison Tuesday evening, to attend the funeral of Mr. Dowling's aunt, Mrs. S. M. Dowling, who was among the early settlers of Madison county.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Roe went to Sioux City Sunday morning to visit at the home of their son Frank. Mr. Roe returned home Monday morning, but the wife is remaining for a long visit.

Chas. Killion from Leslie precinct was at Wayne this morning, coming from Randolph, where he had been to visit his son. He still talks like a democrat and seems hopeful of victory as soon as the voters can get to the polls again.

For Confirmation Suits call at Gamble & Senter.

The annual Interstate Spelling Contest will be held at Sioux City, Iowa, Friday, April 28. Last year the meeting was held in Wayne. South Dakota, Iowa, Minnesota and Nebraska will be represented and each county in these states is entitled to enter two contestants.

If it is for women wear, look for it at Mrs. Jeffries.—adv.

Geo. Rippen and wife, who for a time feared they would not be able to find a farm to rent near here, and were about ready to make a sale and move to their farm in the western part of the state, have rented the Mrs. Reese farm four miles east of Winside, and are to move there and farm that place the coming year.

Ralph and Madeline Bohnert left here Wednesday afternoon to visit relatives in California, and see how they like that land of flowers as a place in which to live, for a time. They are son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Bohnert, and have many friends in this place where they have lived a greater part of their lives.

Mike Coleman was up from Pender Wednesday, on a business mission. His business was to look after the transfer of the vacant lot north of their old home place on 7th street, which his sister, Miss Margaret Coleman has sold to Ted Perry. It is an ideal building site, and it is possible that Mr. Perry will put up a residence thereon.

Big line of Spring Suits now ready at Gamble & Senter.

The girls of the Frewohe campfire organized to sell sandwiches, candy and gum during the basketball tournament, and by due diligence and fair business management added about $35 to their camping fund. It has been their plan to spend a week or two at camp, according to their success in accumulating funds for the festive occasion.

An interesting demonstration of the economy and efficiency of the Fordson tractor was given here last Thursday by the Wayne Motor Co. in the form of a movie, accompanied by a lecture. The film showed how they are made and what they will do for a farmer, and the speaker explained many things as the pictures passed before the audience.

One of the new notes of spring is here in hats. Mrs. Jeffries asks the ladies to come now and see the new patterns in latest shapes and shades. Some are garlanded with bright flowers; again ribbon may furnish the trimming. The invitation is for you to see the offering now while at its best. There is a range in style and patterns and in prices. We can fit the purse and also find a becoming pattern.—adv.

The installation of the Nebraska Epsilon Chapter of the national forensic fraternity, Pi Kappa Delta, recently took place at Grand Island College. Only those who have participated in inter-collegiate contests of debate or oratory, or have been coaches of such activities are eligible for membership. It is indeed gratifying to consider that the time seems to be approaching in American colleges when the mental achievements of students will be recognized as well as their physical achievements.

See Fortner for grass seed—any kind.—adv.

See Fortner for grass seed—any kind.—adv.

Miss Harriett Fortner is visiting at Sioux City, going over this morning.

Attorney F. S. Berry went to Des Moines the first of the week to present his side of a case before the judges of the Supreme Court.

Bert Hyatt and wife have moved back to the farm—could not stand city life, and enjoy it—so back to the farm—and who will blame them?

Good flour—the best made is the kind Geo. Fortner sells, and he wants to quote you prices on quantity lots or single sacks. His number is 289-W.—adv.

Erick Anderson came out from Omaha this week, and is visiting Wayne friends. He plans to go to Herman from here, while on his way home.

Miss Hattie Morton of the Democrat force is kept at home for a few days with flu and tonsillitis and perhaps some of the other afflictions that associate with the flu.

Niobrara had a disastrous fire the first of the week. Rotten hose and frozen hydrants were to blame in a measure for the wide sweep of the fire which was one of the worst in this part of Nebraska.

WAYNE BASKETBALL TEAM AT LINCOLN

In common with several hundred other schools, the Wayne basketball team at Lincoln this week, taking a part in the state meet. They are in the D-Class, and so, too, are some of the teams they have met on their home floor. There are about 2,000 players participating in the games this week.

Just as we go to press the Wayne basketball boys go to contest with the Osceola team at the armory in Lincoln. Randolph is scheduled to meet North Bend at 8:20 this evening on the same floor. Hartington meets Litchfield this afternoon and Pierce is to battle Falls City boys.

SANDQUIST FOR SENATOR

Representative Walter Sandquist of Walthill has filed for state senator on the republican ticket from this district—Thurston, Burt, Dixon and Dakota counties. This county had the senatorship last year. The district is just reeking with g. o. p. symptoms. The chances are a man from some other county will get the plum, but up-to-date Sandquist has been extremely lucky in his political ventures.—Pender Times.

CRADLE

SEARS—Thursday, March 2, 1922, to Harold Milford Sears and wife, a son.

PEKLENK—Tuesday, March 7th, 1922, to Frank J. Peklenk and wife, a daughter.

WELCH—Saturday, March 4, 1922, at New York City, to Herbert Welch and wife a son.

DEATH OF FAYE PETERS

Faye Peters, aged about 14 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Peters in the neighborhood about six miles south of Wayne, died Saturday March 4, 1922. The funeral services were by Rev. F. Schaller, at the Altona church Monday, and burial was in that cemetery.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

P. M. Corbit of Wayne and Otto Miller of Hoskins, present commissioners for the first and second districts of this county have filed their papers for nomination to be their own successors.

AUCTION

I will sell at the next Pavilion Sale March 11th, 2 Shorthorn Heifers, 3 years old. Registered.

H. V. Cronk, Wayne.

UNITED STATES COURT FOR THE DISTRICT OF NEBRASKA

Norfolk Division

In the Matter of Thomas Renz

Bankrupt.

IN BANKRUPTCY

To the Creditors of the above named Bankrupt; of Wayne County of Wayne within said District:

Notice is hereby given that on the 8th day of March A. D. 1922, the said Thomas Renz, was duly adjudged bankrupt, and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at the office of Referee in Bankruptcy in the city of Norfolk County of Madison and State of Nebraska, on the 22nd day of March A. D. 1922, at one o'clock in the afternoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

Dated at Norfolk, Nebraska, March 8th 1922.

H. F. Barnhart, Referee in Bankruptcy.

Famous Ball Band Rubbers at Gamble & Senter.

CAR-LOAD WINESAP APPLES ON TRACK

This stock is fine and the price considerable less than recent prices. Everybody should have apples to keep themselves normal. These are trying times to keep the doctor away. Keep the children supplied with apples.

Early Seed Potatoes

$3.50 for Full Two-Bushel Bag

Wayne county produced a crop of inferior potatoes last year. Nearly every farmer will want a change of seed. We have just received a portion of a car of genuine Early Ohio Red River stock and should be seen to be appreciated. This stock is on hand and selling every day. The unusual demand for seed potatoes will probably cause prices to advance before planting time. As to that, you must use your own judgment. Our price today is $3.50 for two bushel bags. We are booking orders. How many?

Carload Chick Food

TO ARRIVE APRIL 1

Now booking orders at $2.25 per cwt.

We contracted for chick food last fall when cereals were low in price. This is the food that's all food and a perfectly balanced ration. So much depends on the first five weeks feeding to properly raise and develop a chick. Feed your chicks food made by test. The extra chicks you save by feeding properly mixed foods often pay for the food of the entire lot. You have an opportunity to buy chick food from this car at $2.25 per cwt.—that's cheap. You can't afford to raise chicks by the old method. Lets book your orders. Phone No. 2.

Gold Dust Flour

FANCY PATENT $2.00

Don't overlook the fact we are selling flour away below the market. Flour retails in Sioux City at 50 to 60 cents per sack more than our price. As to quality, every ounce is guaranteed. We have no apologies to make for Gold Dust—it's the flour that's made good.

100 Bags Genuine Oyster Shell

100 Pound Sacks $1.65

We'll secure 100 bags from a car soon to pass through Wayne. This price affords quite a saving. Leave your order. We will fill orders from this lot only at this price.

Free Delivery

9:30 a. m. and 4:30 p. m.

Kindly make your orders conform to the above time. Your cooperation will make our service an appreciative one.

Basket Store

THE NEBRASKA Y. M. C. A. START MONEY DRIVE

Beginning Sunday, the Y. M. C. A. of this state will launch a campaign for $32,118 dollars for use of that organization the coming year. Here are some of the things they for this. The state "Y" co-operates with city and railroad and school student associations. They have 150 corresponding members who work among the members. Ten thousand took part in the Father and Son meetings. That should have helped the fathers do better.

MORGAN SUIT BUILDER

have done or expect to do: They have 58 Hi-y clubs with enrollment of 2,500. Camp Sheldon their summer camp, was last year visited by 1,250 boys. Wayne had a bunch or two down there. Eight conferences of the older boys were held last year, and similar meetings are on the program

HIS HAT IN THE RING
With city clerk Horney about to retire from that office to enter business for himself, which leaves what was considered a settled question open for the people to settle. This is that R. R. Smith has his hat in the ring for the place.

Pavilion Sale at Wayne

Fifth Sale of The Season

Saturday, Mar. 11

1:00 P. M.

This sale promises to be the largest sale of the season, consequently we will start the sale at 1 o'clock.

1 Shetland Pony, 2 Pure Bred Shorthorn Heifers, 25 Brood Sows, 20 Good Draft Horses from Neligh, Nebraska; Some Good Wayne County Horses and Cattle. Expect to have two car loads good heavy feeders, one car yearlings, one car calves from Chadron, Nebraska. Machinery, Harness and Chickens.

L. C. Gildersleeve

Sales Manager

Spring Comes Apace

We are ready to serve you with the best of

Grass Seeds

Any variety any quantity. We stock the well-known WERTZ grass seeds, and they are tested as to purity, are most free from foul seed, and of known germinating strength. March is one good month in which to sow grass.

Garden Seeds

A complete assortment in package

Time To Paint

We have in stock a full assortment of paints and oils, we carry B. P. S. Paints, on which there is no question as to quality.

The Sunlight, too, is a good paint. Lumber is high, building expensive—preserve the buildings you now have with our paints. We make the price that pleases.

Greases

A line of axle and other heavy greases.

Flour

May we quote you prices on guaranteed Flour, Emblem, Bonton, or a Straight Patent.

BRAN and SHORTS in any quantity.

The Coal season is not quite closed—we sell it.

Bring us your corn and oats.

Farmers Co-Operative Association

CARL MADSEN, Manager

Phone 339—Wayne

AW, WHAT'S THE USE

By L. F. Van Zelm
© Western Newspaper Union

He Walked Right in and Turned Around and—

ALUMNI VAUDEVILLE A GREAT HIT

(From The Goldenrod)
Unquestionably one of the finest home talent entertainments ever staged in the school, was the eight-feature "Orpheum" vaudeville given by the Wayne State Normal Alumni Club before a crowded house in the college theatre Wednesday evening. The performance was presented under the management of Miss Fern Oman, '16. Every act abounded in rich humor and was well received by the audience. The entire program reproduced a real "Orpheum" in almost every way even in the programs and large letters indicating each act on the stage. Indeed, the Alumni Club deserves unlimited credit in affording to the students and citizens of Wayne such an unusual treat.

The first number on the program consisted of several splendid selections by the College Concert Orchestra under the direction of Prof. W. C. Hunter.

The second feature was the usual "topics of the day" (slides of the world's wit) including many clever jokes and "take-ups" on faculty members, departments and institutions of the school such as "West".

The Jolly Male Songsters, a company of fourteen young men delighted their listeners with several "laugh provoking songs".

The sparkling little comedy "Girls, Girls" depicting life in a girls' dormitory which was directed by Eddy the Beech, was a great hit. Elwyn Johnson, the famous female impersonator, was featured in the role of the preceptress. Those taking part in this performance were Elwyn Johnson, '20, Margaret Mines, '21, Gladys Kline, '14, Marie Hirsch, Helen Mendenhall, '21, Clara Smothers, '17, Julius Young, '19, Ruth Talbot, '18, Mlle. Phyrne O'Man "in a few minutes of popular song" was most heartily received by the audience.

Mlle. Liz Mines, the black face comedian, gave a couple of very clever "darkie" selections.

"A Corner on William" by Ruth Hamilton of Grinnell College, was a clever little skit in three scenes portraying in the unique plot a new version of the "eternal triangle". The cast of characters for this act was as follows: Gladys Kline, '14, Louise Wendt, '17, Vera Fetterolf, '21, Margaret Mines, '21, Helen Mendenhall, '21, Marie Hirsch and Luther Fetterolf, '19.

In the last feature of the program, Erle Schröber, doctor of comedy on the American stage, gave a versatile demonstration of juggling and amusing nonsense in his interesting monologue, "Speaking the Public Mind".

FROM CHANCE TO CERTAINTY
(Continued)

That decided progress has been made in school administration in passing from chance to certainty in the selection of teachers no one who is at all familiar with the movement can doubt. The school authorities who select teachers on the basis of subjective standards are rapidly decreasing in number. The "pink stationery", the misspelled word, the scrawling penmanship, the unconventional application, or the presence of any other undesirable factor, is not as fatal to the applicant as it once was. It may be said in passing that the teacher who happens to be rejected these days on the basis of a prejudice is to be congratulated; for, were she elected on the same basis, she would run the risk of being dismissed because of another prejudice. The fact that school authorities are beginning to judge teachers in terms of a comparatively large number of factors is hopeful. When superintendents select teachers on the basis of forty points instead of one, the selection begins to be objective and scientific. On a few points they might expect perfection; but surely not on forty. It becomes necessary then to allow for imperfections, score each factor, and compare totals. With such a procedure a single prejudice is not fatal, especially when it is discovered that none of the applicants are perfect.

But school administrators have taken another step toward certainty. They have not only attempted to analyze and express teaching ability in objective terms, but they realize that these objective factors must be properly weighted. To be sure, scholarship, experience, self-control, health, and the rest, all count in teaching success; but the important question is how much does each count? Toward a total score of 800 how much should each of such factors as the use of good quality of stationery, correct spelling, excellent health, self-control, voice, personal habits, sense of humor, scholarship, and the rest, count? No satisfactory weighing of factors has been worked out as yet. But a number of tentative ratings have been proposed, enough to show the untrustworthiness of subjective standards.

The following steps toward certainty in the selection of teachers are yet to be taken. (1) Teaching ability must be analyzed into essential factors that do not overlap. (2) Each of these factors must be defined so that it means the same thing to everyone. (3) The factors must be properly weighted. The work already done by such men as Elliott, Rugg, Witham, Boyce, and Landsittel promises much for the future certainty in the selection of teachers.

—H. H. Hahn.

FINE ARTS CLUB

The Fine Arts Club met in the auditorium on Monday evening. The meeting, postponed from the previous Monday, was held on the date for which it was scheduled. Owing to an error in dates, due to the fact that there were five Mondays in January, an interval of three weeks between meetings was necessary. The Club meets on the second and fourth Mondays of the month.

After a brief business meeting a musical program was given, and much enjoyed by those present. The program was as follows:
Duet—Come Where The Lilies Blow
Velma Burnham, Clara Schafersman
Violin Solo—Muzurka—Elvira Malloy
Paper—History of Music—Mary Phalin
Miss Malloy played with her usual spirit and musical feeling. The voices of Miss Burnham and Miss Schafersman blended sweetly in the song "Come Where the Lilies Blow". It is always a pleasure to listen to a paper so well prepared as was Miss Phalin's; it showed both research and careful workmanship.

For good reasons a part of the program was omitted. The Club hopes to enjoy these numbers at a later meeting. Considering the number of people who are ill, the attendance at the meeting was very good.

DRAMATIC CLUB PLAY

On Thursday evening, March 9, at 8 o'clock members of the Wayne Normal Dramatic Club will present two one-act plays before the faculty, students and all friends of the college in the auditorium. The plays are under the direction of Minnie V. Wittmeyer. "The Maker of Dreams" by Oliphant Down
Pierrot—Leslie Rundell
Pierrette—Fauncel Senter
The Manufacturer—Paul Jacobsen
"The Neighbors" by Zona Gale
Miss Diantha Able—Louise Knobell
Inez—Anna Blanche Evans
Miss Carry Ellsworth—Gertrude Kendall
Grandma—Ruby Dobbs
Miss Elminia Moran—Susie Oxley
Miss Tyot—Hazel Tharp
Mrs. Williams—Paul Peterson
Peter—Lawrence Armour

LEGAL NOTICE

The State of Nebraska,
Wayne County, ss.

At a County Court, held at the County Court Room, in and for said County of Wayne, on the 16th day of February, 1922.

Present, J. M. Cherry, County Judge.

In the matter of the estate of Thomas William Moran, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Marcella Rose Moran, praying that the instrument filed on the 13th day of February, 1922, and purporting to be the last Will and Testament of said deceased, may be proved, approved, probated, allowed and recorded as the last Will and Testament of said Thomas William Moran, deceased, and that the execution of said instrument may be committed and that the administration of said estate may be granted to Marcella Rose Moran as Executrix.

ORDERED, That March 10th, A. D. 1922, at 9 o'clock A. M., is assigned for hearing said petition, when all persons interested in said matter may appear at a County Court to be held in and for said County, and show cause why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted; and that notice of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereof, be given to all persons interested in said matter by publishing a copy of this order in the Nebraska Democrat, a weekly newspaper printed in said County, three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing.

J. M. Cherry,
County Judge.

SALARY SCHEDULE IN NORFOLK

The Norfolk Public Schools have adopted a definite salary schedule giving minimum and maximum salary for grade and high school teachers according to grade of work, preparation and experience. The requirement for summer school attendance is as follows: "One in three years counting from September first, 1919; length of summer term not less than six weeks; school and course of

NEW STATE BANK OPENS FOR BUSINESS SATURDAY

Community people were accorded a surprise Wednesday morning when it became known that a new State Bank had been granted a charter to operate here and would begin doing business Saturday. The new institution will be known as the Citizens State Bank and will do business in the former Farmers' state bank building. It will be capitalized at $30,000 and is headed by the following officers: Nathan Chace, President, G. G. Haller, Vice-President and A. Schmale Cashier. Mr. Chace resides at Stanton and was appointed receiver of the Farmers' State Bank when it failed. Mr. Haller is a prominent and wealthy farmer of this community. Mr. Schmale was temporary receiver of the Farmers State Bank here and holds from Lincoln. He is an experienced banker. The stockholders of the new bank are: Nathan Chace, G. G. Haller, Julius Schmode, Louis Schulte, and Fred Koll.—Winside Tribune.

LIGHTNING PROTECTION MEANS TO BE STANDARDIZED

There are practical methods, practices, and appliances for protecting buildings against lightning, but because of unscrupulous agents who a score or more years ago succeeded in selling equipment that did not protect, all methods and equipment came into disrepute among farmers and others. In order to put the mark of official and scientific sanction on lightning-protection methods, there was recently appointed, through the collaboration of the Bureau of Standards, the Weather Bureau, and the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, a committee to prepare a code. Progress already has been made in the solution of this problem and many well-established principles have been made known to interested scientists and workers. It is hoped that the work of this committee will result in developing practical methods, practices, and appliances and make farm buildings and other structures safer.

MAGGIE AND JIGGS AT THE GOLDEN GATE

St. Peter stood guard at the Golden Gate With a solemn mien and an air sedate, Maggie and Jiggs ascending there. Applied for admission. They came and stood, Waiting in line as good people should, In hope the City of Peace to win; And asked St. Peter to let them in. Maggie was tall and dark and thin She had an eagle eye and shook a wicked chin. Jiggs was short and thick and stout, And his stomach was built so it rounded out. His face was pleasant with a genial smile And they stopped and looked and listened a while. The choir in the distance the echoes woke And Jiggs kept still while Maggie spoke: "Oh, Thou, who guardest the Golden Gate," said she, "We two come hither beseeching thee To let us enter the heavenly land And play our harps with the angel band. Of me, St. Peter, there is no doubt, There's nothing from heaven to bar me out. I've been to meetings three times a week And almost always I'd raise and speak. I've told many sinners about the day When they'd repent of their evil way, I've told my neighbors—I've told them all About Adam and Eve and the Primal Fall. I've shown them what they'd have to do If they'd pass on in with the chosen few. I've marked their path of duty clear, Laid out the plan of their whole career. I've talked to them often and loud and long For my lungs are good and my voice is strong. So good St. Peter, you'll clearly see The gate of heaven is open to me. But this man Jiggs, I regret to say, Has often strayed from the narrow way. He smokes and swears, grave faults he's got, So I don't know whether he'll pass or not. He never would pray with an earnest vim Or go to revivals, or join in hymn. While I the sins of my neighbors bore, He gaddied about with Dinty Moore, I know him, St. Peter, know him well, To escape from me he'd go to hell. But, St. Peter, I need him here And it's my desire to keep him near. On earth I bore a heavy cross, Give me in heaven still, Jiggs to boss. I've brought my rolling pin and jars To keep him dodging among the stars. But say, St. Peter, it seems to me This gate isn't kept as it ought to be; You should always stand by the opening there And never sit down in that easy chair. I'm growing old and my sight is dimmed, But I don't like the way your whiskers are trimmed; They're cut too wide with an upward toss, When they'd look much better cut straight across." St. Peter sat quiet and stroked his staff, But in spite of his office he had to laugh. Then he said with a fery gleam in his eye: "Who's guarding this gate, Maggie, you or I?" He rose to his feet, in stature tall, And pressed the button upon the wall, And said to the imp who answered the bell: "Escort this female around to hell." Slowly Jiggs turned by habit bent, To follow wherever Maggie went. But St. Peter, standing on duty there, Saw that the top of his head was bare. He called Jiggs back to his side and said: "Jiggs, how long-hast thou been wed?" "Thirty years," he said with a sigh And then he thoughtfully added, "Why?" St. Peter was silent, with head bent down; He raised his hand and scratched his crown; Then, seeming a different thought to take, Slowly, half to himself he spoke: "Thirty years with that woman there? No wonder the man hasn't any hair. He smoked and swore—I should think he would. Thirty years with that tongue so sharp? In that case, Old Boy, I'll give you a harp. A jeweled harp with a golden string— Good sir, pass in where the angels sing." And Gabriel gave him a seat alone, One with a cushion up near the throne. "Call up some angels to sing their best. See that on the finest ambrosia he feeds, He's had about all the hell he needs. It isn't hardly the thing to do To roast him on earth and in the future too." They gave him a robe and a pair of wings, A glittering robe and a pair of wings, And Jiggs looked down from this high level, Thought of Maggie and felt sorry for the Devil.

—Selected.

study to be approved by superintendent; teachers having less than two years professional or college training shall attend two out of three summer schools counting from September, 1920; teachers will be paid the sum of $50 for summer school attendance, payment to be made on first salary payment after credentials are filed showing completion of approved work; the board retains the right to cancel contract without previous notice for any who do not meet summer school attendance requirements."

IS COLUMBUS TO HAVE A DAILY TELEGRAM?

An editorial in the Telegram last week appeared to indicate that such a venture is contemplated by Edgar Howard and his company.

Cream, eggs, poultry bought by Fortner—adv

Fred G. Philleo
Real Estate Fire Insurance
Prompt and Careful Service.
Office Over First National Bank.
Phone 7205

Dr. T. B. Heckert
Dentist
Opposite Postoffice

W. H. Phillips, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon
Wayne, Nebr.
Res. Phone 120 Office phone 70

WHITE ROCK EGGS
From the Official Strain of
White Rock Hens
Lay large eggs and lots of them. Grow big, early developing fries. Ideal table birds and prolific egg producers.
Eggs from flock, all good birds, per 100 $5.00
Write or Phone
THOS. SUNDAHL
VILLAGE VIEW FARM, SHOLES, NEBRASKA

Running the Factory
To help turn the great wheels of industry, there is perhaps no single instrument that compares with the telephone.
The telephone keeps the factory in constant touch with the jobbing house, with the homes of its employees and officials, and with distant cities, towns and villages.
Of all modern conveniences for saving time and effort, none perhaps is worth as much for the money spent as is your telephone.
NORTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

Eggs wanted at Fortner's—adv.

GROWING COWPEA IN COMBINATION

Greater Variety and Larger Yield of Feed Is Obtained and Easier to Cure.

CORN USED QUITE GENERALLY

Excellent Mixture for Silage and Is Being Extensively Used on Dairy Farms—Sorghums and Kaffirs Also Favored.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Although the cowpea can be satisfactorily grown alone, it is more advantageously grown for hay in combination with other crops. When grown in this manner, not only is a greater variety and larger yield of feed obtained, but the mixed hay is much more easily cured and handled. Corn is used quite generally with cowpeas, but only to a slight extent for hay. The crop most widely used with cowpeas for hay is sorghum, both sweet sorghums and kaffirs, although other crops, such as sudan grass, Johnson grass, soy beans and millet, are used.

Cowpeas and Corn.

The cowpea is an excellent crop to grow with corn for silage, and it is being used extensively for this purpose on many dairy farms, especially in the northern part of the cowpea area.

If grown with corn for other than silage purposes, cowpeas are allowed to ripen a fair percentage of pods, which are gathered for seed and the remainder pastured. This method not only gives a crop of corn but also sufficient cowpea seed for sowing the next season, and the residue makes either a hay crop or a fair amount of grazing for stock. In many parts of the South, especially in the sugarcane districts of Louisiana, cowpeas instead of being pastured are harvested for hay after the corn has been gathered.

Cowpeas and Sorghum.

Cowpeas grown in combination with sorghum make an excellent hay or silage crop. As a hay crop this mixture is more easily cured than cowpeas alone, constitutes a well-balanced ration, and is relished by all kinds of farm stock. Both the sweet sorghums and the kaffirs are used. The Amber sorghum is most generally favored. When grown in rows, the Sumac and orange varieties of sorghum are fully as good as the amber since they grow larger and stronger plants. The whipdoorwill, iron, unknown and clay varieties of cowpea require about the same time to mature as the sorghums and therefore should be used in place of the earlier sorts. Harvesting with a mowing machine is most satisfactory.

Cowpeas Growing With Sorghum.

When sown "broadcast" for hay, the sowing is best done with a grain drill on well-prepared land, the two kinds of seed being well mixed and sown at the same time. Usually the best rate to sow is about one bushel of cowpeas and half a bushel of sorghum seed to the acre. Where the grain drill is not available for sowing, the cowpea seed should be disked or harrowed in, and the sorghum should then be sown while the land is rough, the seed being covered with a drag harrow or weeder.

Excellent results are obtained by sowing cowpeas and sorghums together in cultivated rows 2 1/2 to 3 feet apart. This method requires about 45 pounds of cowpeas and about one-third of a bushel of sorghum seed to the acre.

MILK SAMPLES FOR TESTING

Only Fair Way Would Be to Make Average of Two to Four Milkings—Cows Will Vary.

A fair sample of milk for a test should be an average of two or four milkings. Cows do not always give milk of the same test. Lots of cows test lower in the morning milking than at night. The only fair way is to make an average of a sample of more than one milking is necessary to get this average test.

WHEN ETIQUETTE WAS RIGID

Man of Fashion, a Century or So Ago, Had Many Difficulties to Contend With.

Women considered it unladylike in grandmother's day to walk rapidly. Extremely rapid walking is not usually graceful, but so far as being a sign of bad breeding there seems to be no such idea nowadays. If a woman has to cover a certain distance on foot in a limited time nowadays she accelerates her pace accordingly. It is uncomfortable, but hardly bad manners.

The man of fashion had many more difficulties to encounter in going about in society than he has now when drawing room furniture is more substantial and when there are neither hoopskirts nor trains to become tangled in one's boots or spurs. A hundred years ago, observes a writer in the New York Sun, it was not so easy, and a book of decorum for young men, written a century ago, describes the plight of the awkward fellow who, when he first comes into a drawing room, attempts to bow, with the result that "his sword, if he wears one, goes between his legs and nearly throws him down," and proceeds from one gauche to another during his presence in a drawing room. A great deal used to be said about the manner in which a young man sat in a chair. To sit up stiffly was to indicate awkwardness and timidity. To loll back was rude and indicated vulgarity. He was, therefore, urged to "lean with elegance" against the back and arms of his chair and "by varying his attitude from time to time show he was used to good society."

EMERSON'S ONE LOVE AFFAIR

Great Preacher Won the Girl of His Heart, but Their Mutual Happiness Was Short.

Ralph Waldo Emerson, New England's famous preacher and philosopher, fell in love but once, and then for good. He was only twenty-four when he met pretty little Ellen Tucker, then sixteen, the daughter of a Boston merchant.

He did not see her for a whole year after this, but her fair face and figure remained in his memory. Then he returned to Concord, where she was living with her mother and stepfather. He became deeply infatuated with this beautiful and delicate creature, whose physical charms brought forth a response from his imagination rather than from his senses. But Ellen was not only beautiful. She wrote fairly clear-cut verse, says a commentator, at a time when it was quite unusual for women to indulge in such mental exercise.

During their courtship Ellen, or "the beautiful friend," as Emerson poetically called her, was seriously ill. But she improved rapidly and six months later they were married.

But Ellen's span of life was short, and their time together limited. A fatal lung trouble triumphed over medical attention, and when she was but twenty years old she died.

Teheran Has Twelve Gateways.

"At the distance, Teheran, built in great part of the mud on which it stands, is only distinguished from the surrounding plain by the green trees of its many gardens," writes Ella C. Sykes in "Persia and Its People," "but as the traveler gets nearer he will see the outline of the constellated city wall and the tiled domes and minarets of mosques. He will enter the town by a grandiose gateway adorned with glazed bricks in patterns, the prevailing tones being blue and yellow, relieved with black and white, the whole giving a touch of splendor to its squalid surroundings.

"These gateways are 12 in number; some are adorned with the exploits of Rustum, the Hercules and knight-errant of Persia, and others depict the Persian soldier of today—all of them, however, look best at a distance, and do not bear a close examination."

Pantomime Followed Drama.

Pantomime, one of the simplest forms of dramatic art, was not originated until the drama itself had been established for over 500 years. The latter was the invention of the Greeks, but the pantomime was a purely Roman idea.

Two aspiring actors, one of whom was afflicted with throat trouble, Pylades and Bathylus, gave the first performance of this kind in the year 22 B. C. It was only a make-shift on their part because of the illness of one of the performers, but their audience was so delighted that they continued with the production of the wordless drama.

The Egyptian Sistrum.

"A thousand years or so ago," Carl Van Vechten in "The Tiger in the House," tells us, "the Egyptians associated the cat with music, utilizing the graceful head and figure of the beloved animal in the decoration of the sistrum. The sistrum consisted of a frame of bronze or brass, into which three or four metal bars were loosely inserted, so as to produce a jingling noise when the instrument was shaken. Occasionally a few metal rings were strung on the bars to increase the sound and very often the top of the frame was ornamented with the figure of a cat."

Quite Right.

"A noted scientist says that excessive hat wearing causes baldness." "Maybe so, but have you noticed that baldness causes excessive hat wearing?"

Uncle Walt's Story

A BESETTING SIN

"I AM sure in my own mind that Mr. Griggins is drinking," remarked the landlady in the tone of one who views with alarm. "A man doesn't have such a red nose unless he is consuming intoxicating liquors."

"I have cautioned you many times, Mrs. Jiggers, against jumping to conclusions, which is your besetting sin," said the star boarder. "Many reputations have been ruined by such remarks as yours. Any physician will tell you it is possible to have a crimson beak and still be a teetotaler. I am not on intimate terms with Mr. Griggins, although I call at his store now and then to purchase some of his cigars, which are made of enslaves. He sells the worst smokes in this town, and should be rebuked for that, but I'd never suspect him of being an inebriate."

"He might become one if it happened to rain in some night, and he had a barrel under the rainpout, but so long as firewater costs money there isn't much danger of Mr. Griggins going astray. He is the most passionately economical man I ever saw. His respect for a penny is abnormal. A week or two ago I bought a cigar at his remnant counter, and was short one cent when I paid for it. I told him I'd pay the cent the next time I dropped in, and I fully intended to, but I forgot to drop in for several days. During that period, Mrs. Jiggers, I met him on the street several times, and he boned me for that cent, with tears in his eyes, at every encounter. A man of that character won't waste any money in riotous living. You may paste that in your Sunday bonnet, my dear Mrs. Jiggers, for your guidance when you are trying to size up the caliber of your friends and acquaintances."

"I met Mr. Octagon on the street today and he told me a moving tale illustrating the unwisdom of jumping to conclusions. The other evening when he stepped onto the front porch to see if the newspaper had come, he found a sample package of snuff, which had been left there by some immoral distributor. "Mr. Octagon had never taken a pinch of snuff in his life, and he was curious to know what the effects were. Curiosity, I may remark incidentally, is another weakness responsible for much trouble and suffering, and I trust you will guard against it hereafter, Mrs. Jiggers. It leads elderly landladies to ransack the trunks of their boarders and read old letters which were not meant for alien eyes. The fact that you are blushing shows that you are not entirely calloused."

"Well, Mr. Octagon put the packet of snuff in his vest pocket and sat around the fire until his wife left the room on some errand, and then he tore open the paper and inhaled a few grains of the stuff. He says he thought he would sneeze the top of his head off, and dislocate his ears. He whooped and kerchooed until you could have heard him half a mile away, and then his wife came rushing in.

"Ebenezer Octagon," said she, "you go to bed this minute or you'll be down with pneumonia tomorrow. Don't stop to argue—I won't hear a word! Off with you!"

"Octagon couldn't get in a word, and didn't want to very much, being ashamed to have his wife know he was experimenting with snuff; so he trundled off to bed at seven o'clock in the evening, and his wife rubbed goose grease all over his neck and chest and piled 500 pounds of blankets on him, and made him drink three or four gallons of yarb tea that tasted like the morning after the Fourth of July, and he lay there sweating all night, the most miserable man in town, all because his wife possessed the feminine weakness for jumping to conclusions. "So let us be on our guard against such mental infirmities, Mrs. Jiggers, and meanwhile I would suggest that you replenish the maple syrup pitcher. These pancakes are too dry and dusty to eat without a lubricant."

"Altitude of Benevolence. He—Phrenologists locate benevolence exactly at the top of the head. She—Yes; as far from the pocket-book as possible.

"Water Power in France. The utilization of water power in France has increased by more than 50 per cent since the commencement of the war, and by the end of 1921 the available water power will be double the amount installed at the outbreak of the war."

"His Job. "This new nurse wants to know what is his special job. He is an expungist."

"All right. Tell him he will come in handy to put the patients to sleep."

CORRECT NUMBER OF EGGS FOR HATCHING

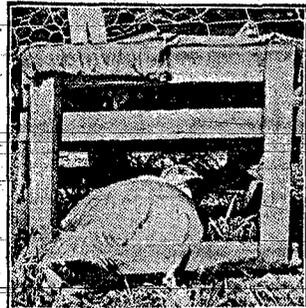

Poor Turkey Hatches Often Due to Crowded Hens.

Fowl Will Cover From 15 to 18 Eggs, and Sometimes More, Much Depending on Her Size—Incubators Are Successful.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Turkey hens and chicken hens ordinarily are used to incubate turkey eggs; although incubators are used where turkeys are raised on a large scale. During the early part of the laying season it often happens that there are on hand a number of eggs that should be set before the turkey hens are through laying their first litter, and become "broody." In such case, and also when it is desired to have the turkey hens lay a second or third litter, some of the eggs have to be incubated under chicken hens or in an incubator.

About a week before the poultry are to hatch a sufficient number of turkey hens should be allowed to sit to take all the poult's hatched. They can be given a few eggs from the incubator or from under the chicken hens, and allowed to hatch the poult's themselves, or at night a newly hatched poult can be slipped under each turkey hen that is to be given a brood of poult, and by morning they will take them, poultry specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture say.

Turkey Hens Are Close Sitters.

Turkey hens are close sitters, and if managed properly they are the surest means of hatching turkey eggs that can be used. Incubators are quite as successful with turkey eggs, however, as with chicken eggs. Poor hatches are a very frequent cause of complaint among turkey raisers, and this is quite often due to crowding more eggs under the hens than they can properly cover. One egg too many means that every egg in the nest probably will become chilled at some time during the four weeks of incubation. Turkey hens cover from 15 to 18 eggs, and in some cases more, depending on the size of the hen. Chicken hens of the general-purpose breeds cover from eight to ten turkey eggs.

The turkey-egg capacity of an incubator is approximately three-fourths of the chicken-egg capacity.

YIELD TO PROFITABLE COWS

Every Dairyman Should Weigh Each Milking and Have Sample Tested for Butterfat.

"Every owner of dairy cows should know if his cows are giving enough milk or butterfat to make a profit over the cost of feed," says A. C. Baer, professor of dairying at Oklahoma A. and M. college. "A scale to weigh the milk in the barn can be bought for $4. It takes only a few minutes a day extra time to weigh the milk from each cow and write the weight on a milk sheet tacked up in the barn. Once a month a sample of milk can be tested. Any creamery, ice cream factory, or cream station will usually be glad to do this testing. Every schoolhouse can be equipped with a tester at very little expense, and the boys at school can do the testing. "A profitable cow should produce 6,000 pounds of milk or 200 pounds of butterfat in 300 days. Are your cows all profitable? Why not find out? Is milking dairy cows a business proposition with you? If so, why not apply business methods?"

GLUTEN FEED FOR FALL PIGS

Corn Is Not as Satisfactory for Swine as It Is for Sheep and Dairy Cattle.

It has been found that corn gluten meal is not extremely satisfactory as a feed for fattening fall pigs. It is not nearly so good a feed for hogs as for cattle and sheep. It brings better results with dairy cattle than with beef steers. It seems that the most satisfactory returns are made from corn gluten feed for hogs when it is fed in a self-feeder alone with corn self-fed in another feeder and tankage in a third feeder. The results are improved if this feed is fed in connection with good pasture.

KEEP HORSES IN CONDITION

Injurious Practice to Permit Animals to Go for Weeks Without Some Attention.

Don't neglect to curry the horses these days. It is injurious to allow them to go for days and weeks without attention. A good currying once or twice a week will not only make them look better, but they will feel better and keep in better condition.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

WIND AND OCEAN

"I have come to call on you," said Mr. Wind to old Mother Ocean.

"Delighted to see you," said old Mother Ocean.

"And the Breeze Brothers have come to play with the Waves and with the Breaker Boys. They'd like to take some rides in the Boats of Foam if the Breaker Boys are willing."

"They'd be delighted," said old Mother Ocean.

"I just feel like a good old frolic today," said Mr. Wind.

"I do too," said old Mother Ocean.

"So do we," said the Breaker Boys. "So do we, too," said the Breeze Brothers.

"Then let us all have a frolic," said Mr. Wind.

"I've been having a fine old time," he continued. "How I have blown off hats. That has been my chief amusement today. I have blown off several hundred hats, at least—from off several hundred heads."

"That is quite a number, isn't it?" "A fine number," said old Mother Ocean. And then she began to sing:

"Heigh-ho, Mr. Wind doth blow; He blows without his might; He knocks the hats from off their heads, And makes them look a sight!"

And then Mr. Wind began to sing, and this was his song:

"Heigh-ho, I blew and blow, And had a high old time, And to all I'd meet I'd say, 'You, too!' And would laugh a laugh sublime."

"You may not know what that means," said Mr. Wind, "but a sublime laugh is a perfect laugh."

"And when I blew off one hat after another you can easily understand how I laughed most happily and most perfectly and most sublimely."

"I well understand," said old Mother Ocean.

"Now," said Mr. Wind, "I think it would be gorgeous if you and I gave a reception and asked many of our friends to come to it and to meet us."

"I know the Breeze Brothers and the Breaker Boys and the Waves would be glad to have a reception."

"Take Some Rides."

especially when I tell them that they can be just as wild and rough as they want to be."

"Hurrah, hurrah, hurrah," shouted the Breeze Brothers and the Waves.

"Let's ask King Storm, and everyone of the White-Capped Family," began Mr. Wind, "and let's ask everyone of your friends and my friends and the Storm King's friends to come."

"We must be sure to tell them all that they mustn't dress up, but that they must come in their old clothes for we're going to have a frolic at our reception."

There will be no stiff how-do-you-do's, and have had a lovely time about our party.

"We'll have a rough, wild, angry, glorious frolic."

"And they'll all wear their beautiful old clothes which just do for this kind of a party which we plan to have," said old Mother Ocean.

"They'll wear their wild green costumes with the white trimmings."

"Those costumes can't get hurt. They simply can't! They were made for the roughest and wildest of Ocean parties."

So Mr. Wind and old Mother Ocean called out their invitations, and as they roared and blew all the guests came from near and far, for they could bear the great sounds of the ocean and the wind for a goodly distance.

"Races, high-jumps and noise contests will be taken part in by all," said Mr. Wind as the guests arrived, "and prizes will be given."

"And the Wave that jumps higher than any of the others will get a prize, too."

"Let's all start in at once!"

—So Mr. Wind gave his party with the help of Mother Ocean and with the help, too, of all their friends. They had a glorious time, and they considered it one of the most successful parties they had ever had.

But the earth people who lived near the ocean said they didn't know when they had seen such a storm!

Meaning of Vice Versa.

"Now, children," said the teacher of the juvenile class, "can any of you tell me the meaning of 'vice versa'?"

"Yes'm, I can," replied the youngster at the foot of the class.

"Well, Billie, what is it?"

"It's when you sleep with your feet toward the head of the bed," answered Billie triumphantly.

TESTING AIR IN OLD MINE

Of All Methods, the Lowering of a Miner's Safety Lamp Is Acknowledged to Be Safest.

Raising and lowering a bucket several times, to bring into a long-disused mine fresh air from the surface, is common practice. Methane may be expected in abandoned shafts or pits driven in coal measures or carbonaceous slates, or where a heavily timbered shaft is partly filled with water. If methane is suspected, it is best to lower nothing but a miner's safety lamp. If the light is not extinguished, the descent can be considered reasonably safe. When no safety lamp is available, and it is necessary to test with an open light, care should be taken to immediately withdraw all persons in close proximity to the shaft or pit as there may be an explosion.

Generally, there is no physiological warning of oxygen deficiency in the air. The first decided feeling is one of extreme weakness accompanied by dizziness, better described as partial paralysis, and the victim collapses practically without warning. To guard against this danger, a man should not enter old workings without having a rope tied around his body and at least two men on the top. The rope should be kept taut. Then if a distress signal is given, the explorer will not only be prevented from falling, but can be quickly pulled to fresh air and his life saved.

RELICS OF AGES LONG PAST

England Has Three of the Most Remarkable That the Whole World Has to Offer.

A loaf of bread more than 600 years old, it is said, is to be found at Ambaston, in Derbyshire, England. It was included in a grant of land from the crown in the reign of King John, and has remained in the Soar family ever since.

Almost as great a curiosity as this is a house 1,100 years of age, and yet fit for habitation. This old dwelling, the oldest inhabited house in England, was built in the time of King Offa of Mercia. It is octagonal in shape, the walls of its lower story being of great thickness. The upper part is of oak. At one time the house was fortified and known by the name of St. German's Gate. It stands close to the River Ver, and only a few yards from St. Albans abbey.

A marriage proposal 3,400 years of age is in existence in the British museum. It is the oldest marriage proposal of which there is any definite record. It consists of about ninety-eight lines of very fine cuneiform writing, and is on a small clay tablet made of Nile mud. It is a marriage proposal of a Pharaoh for the hand of the daughter of the king of Babylon. It was written about the year 1630 B. C.

Making the Hammer Safer.

The hammer is a useful tool, but its use is not quite free from danger to the user or from injury to materials. The flat, highly polished surface is likely to glance off the nail unless the blow is squarely delivered; and when the nail is of cast metal, its head often flies off and inflicts quite severe injuries.

One firm had innumerable accidents from this cause, and some of the men were permanently injured. Thereupon, the managers tried hammer heads with scored faces as an experiment, and owing to the success of the experiment, the polished faced hammer has been abolished in that firm's factory, except for special classes of work.

When the hammer's face is scored or roughened it is very much less likely to glance off the nail head. The fact that this type of hammer has proved so conspicuously successful and safe, has encouraged many manufacturers to place it on the market.

The Beaver.

A family that figures prominently in the annals of New York owes the origin of its great wealth to a humble but industrious rodent, the beaver. The same rodent has conferred its name upon a downtown street in that city. There survives the tradition of a Beaver brook that once meandered its picturesque way through what is now the downtown section.

But the beaver himself is a vanished species in this country. The beavers that inhabit the little ponds in the zoological gardens are immigrants from Canada.

In these restricted areas, surrounded by high wire fences, these citizens by adoption are as busy as were their ancestors who once ranged along the streams that watered the woods. —Chicago Journal.

Could Drink a Big Fog.

It takes a big blook of fog to make one good swallow of water, says Dr. W. J. Humphreys of the United States weather bureau at Washington. The densest fog off Newfoundland banks contains some twenty thousand droplets in a cubic inch. Dr. Wells and Dr. Thurus of the bureau of standards found. To get one gulp of water, enough fog to fill a space 3 feet by 6 feet by 100 feet long would have to be condensed. In a fog of that size there are 60 trillion particles of water, or three times as many particles as the number of dollars spent by the United States during the world war. "It would take about a half hour to count an inch of fog particles," says Dr. Humphreys. "Placed side by side 2,500 to 3,000 droplets would be needed to fill that length."

LIVESTOCK PRICES AT SOUTH OMAHA

Fat Cattle Generally Steady— Best Beeves $8.75,

HOGS ADVANCE A DIME

Sheep and Lambs in Moderate Supply and Slack Demand at Prices 15¢ to 25¢ Lower than Monday.

Union Stock Yards, Omaha, March 8, 1922. Tuesday's receipts of 7,200 cattle changed hands at prices very little different from Monday. Best beeves on sale, light weights brought $8.75. Cow stuff and feeders ruled steady to easier.

Quotations on cattle:—Good to choice beeves, $7.00@8.75; fair to good beeves, $7.15@7.85; common to fair beeves, $6.50@7.10; good to choice yearlings, $8.00@9.00; fair to good yearlings, $7.25@7.85; common to fair yearlings, $6.50@7.25; good to choice heifers, $6.75@7.50; fair to good heifers, $5.50@6.75; choice to prime cows, $6.10@6.65; good to choice cows, $5.50@6.00; fair to good cows, $4.85@5.50; cutters, $3.75@4.50; canners, $3.00@3.50; beef and butcher bulls, $3.75@5.50; bologna bulls, $3.00@4.00; veal calves, $6.00@10.25; good to choice feeders, $7.10@7.75; fair to good feeders, $6.30@7.00; common to fair feeders, $5.75@6.25; good to choice stockers, $7.25@8.00; fair to good stockers, $6.65@7.00; common to fair stockers, $6.00@6.50; stock heifers, $4.50@6.25; stock cows, $4.25@5.50; stock calves, $5.50@7.75.

Hogs Generally Ten Higher. There were 11,600 hogs on sale Tuesday and both shippers and packers bought them at a 10c advance although the market closed very weak. Top brought $10.85 and bulk of the sales were at $10.65@10.80.

Lamb Prices 25c Off. The market for sheep and lambs was slow with prices mostly 25c lower than Monday. Receipts were moderate about 7,700 head but the demand was slack and eastern markets generally lower. Best fat lambs brought $15.50. Quotations on sheep and lambs:—Fat lambs, good to choice, $15.00@15.50; fat lambs, fair to good, $14.50@15.00; shearing lambs, $14.00@14.50; feeder lambs, good to choice, $13.50@14.00; cull lambs, $12.00@12.50; fat yearlings, light, $12.50@13.00; fat yearlings, heavy, $9.50@10.50; fat wethers, $7.75@9.00; fat ewes, light, $8.00@8.50; fat ewes, heavy, $9.00@9.00.

Unknown to Forefathers. Many of the fruits and vegetables now eaten were almost unknown to our forefathers. Not until Henry VIII's time were raspberries, strawberries or cherries grown in England.

Dr. Young's Dental Office over the First National Bank. Phone 307. Adv-29-tf.

BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

(From The Goldenrod) The Northeast Nebraska High School Athletic League convened in a three-day session at the College on Thursday afternoon, March 2, for the third annual basketball tournament, with about three hundred players and school coaches in attendance. The visitors are being entertained in Wayne homes. The members of the "W" Club were responsible in finding places for the teams and they are also officiating during the tournament as timers and scorers.

The executive committee of the league met in Wayne Saturday to pass upon the eligibility and rank of the thirty-one basketball teams which were to enter the contest. However, owing to epidemics of "flu" in some of the schools, a few of the teams have withdrawn from the contest.

The schools qualified for Class A are: Randolph, Wisner, Albion, Ne-High, Bloomfield, Pierce, Tilden and Wayne. Those which will play in Class B are: Carroll, Hooper, Inman, Hartington, Creighton, Ponca, Pilger, Lyons, Wausa, Allen, Wakefield and Madison. Those which will participate in Class C activities are: Osmond, Winside, Laurel, Waterbury, Belden, Lynch, Crofton, Brunswick, Emerson, Battle Creek and the Normal Training school.

John Pickett of the University of Nebraska is the official referee. He will be assisted by Coach Fred G. Dale and Jay Mullin, student in the senior class.

The winning team in each class will receive a cup donated by a Wayne business firm. Jones Book-Music Store has on display in its window the cup which will be awarded by that firm to the winner in Class A. The Class-B cup has been donated by L. W. Vath of the Wayne Drug Company. The firm of Gamble & Senter will give the award in Class C. A cup will be given by J. H. Kemp to the captain of the all Northeast Nebraska team, which will be selected. Morgan's Toggery will give a pair of basketball shoes to the man who makes the most scores for his team.

NOTICE—ESTRAY PONY

Sunday, February 19, 1922, a black pony, of about 800 pounds weight came as a stray to my premises southwest of Wayne, and I have not been able to find who is the owner. This is notice for the loser to come, prove property, pay for feed and care and advertising and remove his animal from my premises. George Patterson, Wayne, Nebraska, Phone 221-428.—adv.-3-9-3t.

FOR SALE AT MY HOME

Good range, 3-burner oil-stove, a kitchen table, 2 center tables, oak rocker, oak settee, 2 chairs to match, iron bed with springs. John James, near high school.—adv.-3-2-4t-pd.

Cream, eggs, poultry bought by Partner.—adv

THE SINGING GIRL

By MILDRED WHITE
Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union

Philip Langdon looked down the dusty road forlornly.

"And they expect me to stay in a place like this all summer," he said to his dusky helper.

"Well, I suppose its all in a lifetime but it's going to be mighty hard. Not a decent house in prospect, not a companionable soul to take to. Why, this is a wilderness," further complained Philip, "without one rose."

"Oh, I dun'no," said black Jake, "restful like, it seems to me, with the road bakin' in de heat, an' de bugs out 'a' hummin'! Sides, youse got a big work to do, mistah Langdon, a big contract to fill up, you has."

"I know," the young civil engineer answered gravely, "that's my one incentive. We have to bear all deprivation—what's that?" he stopped sharply. Down from the direction of a shabby old house on the hill, came a ripple of song, a merry, lilting happy song, that put expectation on edge, and mocked at desolation.

"Reckon," said Jake grinning, "dey's a song in de' wilderness, eben if dey ain't a rose."

The song continued. It was a charming voice.

"Find out," Phil said impulsively, "who she is."

Jake returned at evening with his information, the engineer was busy in his shack.

Jake showed his white teeth. "Dat lady singer," he announced, "she's Lem Haskin's wife."

Philip turned away in sudden, gripping disappointment. What difference did it all make to him, he wondered contemptuously. The next morning the song awakened him like a thrill of bird music. He went up deliberately to the house under a pretense of buying milk.

The woman who opened the door, had an old young face, her eyes were wistful and her dress was faded.

"I have heard you singing," Phil said as he slowly drank the milk. "Your voice is wonderfully sweet."

The woman's face flushed with pleasure.

"I used to sing in church before I was married," she told him, "now I only sing about my work."

The engineer smiled grimly as he went up and down his dusty path of labor.

"Another illusion gone," he thought disappointedly.

Through the busy days that followed, snatches of song came to him; came, and influenced him to encouragement, or to sadness. He sat up abruptly in his musings. From the bough over his head came a low melody, a love song in actual words. Philip looked upward. A nymph of a maid sat smiling down at him from among the tree branches. He stared, unbelieving, but the maid smiled on.

"Who are you?" Philip asked at length, smiling too, "a wood fairy?"

The girl shook her head.

"Far from it," she replied. "I'm a prosy school teacher, and my school being dismissed for the summer, I am playing at vacation. I sit up in this tree because it is cool, and if you will go away I'll come down. I've been waiting in the hope that you would go. Are you stationary?"

Her sauciness charmed him, her laughing eyes dared him, her curving lips were, he knew now, just made for smiling and song. "I will not go," he said decidedly, "until you sing for me."

The girl considered him sidewise, and then down to them from the hill top came a very volley of sound, a soprano hornlike note that shook and lingered.

"Do not be alarmed," said the girl in the tree; "that is merely Linda singing. She's Lem Haskin's wife."

"I," added the girl, "heard there."

Philip forgot his own surprise. "Why, that's an awful place to board," he said, "desolate, barren."

"I know it," the girl answered cheerfully, "I am not going to stay there long. I happened to come out here with my father in hope of benefiting his health. When he died, I took the school. It was the only thing to do at the time. I have rented a cottage across the brook," she went on brightly, "and one of my little school girls will live with me there. We are going to have roses over the doorway and—"

The strange girl grew silently reminiscent. Phil watched her joyously, wondering. Then he spoke: "I'd love a cottage beside a brook with roses over its doorway, and a little wife to meet me there when I come in all tired and muddy from the roads. A wife who could sing and swing on the bough of a tree and teach stupid children, and be happy in her exile as well."

The girl's eyes were round and large.

"Are you," she asked mischievously, "trying to ask me to marry you?"

"I am asking you," declared Philip. The girl laughed shakily.

NEW DANCE HAS MADE HIT

Gothamites Take to Importation From London, Though It Seems Rather a Childish Pastime.

There's a new dance stunt in town. It's the balloon dance and it's from dear old London, don't you know. It's a bit of all right, too.

A few nights ago it was introduced at the Rendezvous—one of Broadway's most exclusive supper clubs. And it made a tremendous hit, says the New York World.

A toy balloon is tied to the ankle of each dancer of the fair sex and the idea is to get through a close-fitting foxtrot or a toddle with the balloon still intact. That is the girl's idea.

The idea of the men dancers is to break as many balloons as possible without stepping out of the dance. On a crowded floor the balloons have about as much chance as a snowball in well, a warmer place than New York. However, a prize is offered to the woman who can emerge from the maze of the dance with her balloon still flying.

One young lady at the Rendezvous actually won the prize. But the popping of the colored spheres reminded one of the popping of champagne corks.

Anyway, it's a great boon for the balloon manufacturers. For the dance floors of the average toddle sanctuary are so small that the only way to keep off one's partner's balloon is to step on her feet—and that is not very popular with the fair sex.

RETURNING TO SWORD PLAY

New York Children in Their Games Seem to Have Abandoned "Modern Warfare."

Playwrights and theatrical producers predict the return of the costume play and the swashbucklin' melodrama. But the youngsters of New York seem to have realized this prophecy in their games.

Wooden swords, umbrella rib daggers, and crossbows have supplanted dummy rifles and barrel stave artillery pieces that were popularized by the World War.

Sword play, with hickory rapiers and fragile crate-cover cutlasses seem to have asserted a romantic appeal over infantry charges and vocal "bing! bangs!" The vacant lot is no longer no man's land, but a rock-strewn heath or a tin can infested moor, where Frankie and Johnny would "do each other in mortal combat as Spaniard and Dutchman in the lowlands."

There is more realism in the sword than in the pistol, with which one must say "Bang!" Bang!" Rock piles have become castles after the fashion of the Arthurian legends and lance-armed knights guard drawbridges of planks or old doors over imitation moats.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

One of Great City's Tragedies.

An old-time tragedy of the Central Markets, Paris, has been recalled by the death at an advanced age of a once rich woman, who for many years made a poor living there overturning garbage cans and selling anything of value she might be able to find therein. Her name was unknown, and for nearly half a century she was merely called "Princess." Fifty years ago it was fashionable for persons of high society in Paris to pass a riotous night in the cafes and stalls of the market. On one occasion a fashionable woman, one of a gay party, was robbed of money and jewels, presumably by her escort. Left penniless, she refused, for reasons easily surmisable, to communicate with her husband or her family in central France. Instead she sought employment and gradually fell into extreme poverty. She got her nickname owing to her invariable habit, when asked about her former life, of replying: "Ask no questions; I am a princess from a far country."

Smiling Porches.

More houses are being built with inclosed porches than ever before; you may walk down long streets of dear little homes whose porches smile at you through tiny panes of glass. You pass medium-sized places with grounds, comfortable houses set back from the road, and large mansions—in every one somewhere you catch the glimpse of an enclosed porch-room.

Old-fashioned houses follow suit, and back of the rounded Colonial pillars are fitted small-paned glass partitions that inclose the porch as efficiently as though it had been built that way in the beginning. In the summer these are lifted out, leaving the porch as before.—The Designer.

Canada Pushing Honey Industry.

It is expected that Ontario's honey crop next season will be marketed largely on the co-operative system, as a result of the activities of the committee appointed recently by the Ontario Bee Keepers' association, and with the assistance of the Ontario government. The honey will be graded and have a registered brand for the protection of consumers. Each package will have a distinguishing number by which it can be traced back to the producer.

Snails in London Restaurants.

English officers who served in France during the war acquired in many cases a taste for frogs' legs and snails, hitherto unknown to London menus. When they returned home they demanded the same tidbits in London and now both frogs' legs and snails are conveyed daily from France to London by airplane. Some of the London restaurants are doing an enormous business in serving these articles of food.

UNSELFISHNESS

By FLORENCE MELLISH
©, 1922, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

They went upstairs sleepy and happy. Elsie's sister, Ida, and George, Ida's husband, had been with them. Their classmate, Agnes, had brought her violin, and Elsie and Edna had tried some of their old piano duets.

Elsie slipped into the guest room and perched on the bed. She was as pink and plump as a child, and very sweet in her new matronly dignity.

"Oh, Edna! It's lovely to have you here."

"It's lovely to be here, Elsie. Your home is exquisite, and you and Ernest seem perfectly happy."

"We are just that."

"And with Ida settled so near you! They seem happy, too."

Elsie took off her slipper and considered a crack in the toe. "I guess they're happy, but if I were Ida, I should be perfectly miserable."

"Why, Elsie?"

"Edna, did you see George looking at Agnes when she was playing? He looked as if she was something wonderful."

"But her playing is wonderful, Elsie, and Agnes is too, rather."

"I know, she isn't exactly beautiful, but she has what people call charm. And, Edna, I think that Agnes likes being wonderful, and that she likes George to know it."

"But, Elsie, I don't think Ida is sensitive, and isn't George loyal to her?"

"Oh, yes!" Elsie returned, with an impatient upward tilt of her chin. "George is loyal; but think what a career Ida has sacrificed for him, and how she just breathes for him. And then to see him looking at Agnes with that adoring gaze, and to know it is only loyalty and duty that holds him to Ida! Edna, if I should ever see Ernest looking at anybody with such an expression as George had tonight, it would break my heart. You saw him look at her?"

"Perhaps I did once," Edna admitted.

"You went to the opera, Edna, when you were staying with the Vintons. Tell us about it."

Edna leaned back luxuriously, and talked as only Edna could talk. Edna could not see Ernest from where she sat, but raising her eyes to the mirror above the mantel, she saw his reflection.

Elsie came into Edna's room again. She was pale and a little sad, but very sweet and gentle.

"You were wonderful tonight, dear," she said, wistfully, as she kissed Edna. "You don't try to be, but you are."

For a long time Edna sat staring at a little opal brooch she had fastened from her collar.

"Ernest didn't mean anything," she turned the brooch and absently watched the play of colors in the lamp-light.

"Who would guess how lovely an opal can be when the light strikes it?" Then a new thought flashed in her eyes.

"Where is that hideous purple gown?"

She stood up before the mirror and held up the despised gown.

"It's fearfully unbecoming. I don't like to make a fright of myself, but for Elsie's sake—!"

In the morning Edna experimented with her hair.

Elsie met her in the hall. "Why, Edna! You don't look like yourself with your hair all over your ears and down to your eyes. It doesn't suit you, dear."

"But it's the latest style. The Mortimer girls have adopted it."

"Oh, those Mortimer girls!" Elsie echoed with scorn. "But what is this gown? I haven't seen it before."

"You'll see it again," laughed Edna. "I'm going to give it an airing."

At breakfast, Edna talked persistently of Mrs. Faxon, a rather overdressed member of the Amethyst club, dwelling on every detail of her costume. Ernest retired behind his newspaper.

Your friend seems shallow and commonplace on closer acquaintance," he confided to Elsie, afterward.

SHIPS THAT FATTEN SAILORS

Modern "Tankers" Are Now Blamed for Added Weight Taken On by the Seamen.

Shipping experts continue to argue regarding the advantages of oil fuel over coal. At present the question is occupying the attention of medical men.

The adverse effect of oil fuel upon such surfaces as steel, canvas, rope and other shipping accessories are widely known; ships' doctors are now divided on the question as to whether it is harmful or beneficial in its effect upon sailors, a writer in London Tit-Bits states.

Sailors on oil-fueled vessels are fatter and plumper than those who work on coal-fueled ships. Some naval surgeons declare that the fattening effect is produced by the slight fumes exuded by the dormant oil fuel; others ridicule the suggestion, and maintain that the former are fat simply because they have less work to do.

"Coasting ship" is one of the finest exercises in the world for reducing superfluous flesh. It is hard work that has to be maintained at high speed all day. Ships vie with each other in getting their coal aboard in record time, and even after the operation is finished the sailors still have a few more ounces of avoirdupois to work off in cleaning up the mess below decks.

Usually three days are occupied in cleaning a vessel after a bout of "coal ship." On the other hand, oil-fueled ships perform the task in about three hours.

Doctors are asking themselves: "Is the fat a healthy fat, or an injurious parasitic growth?" If a hammock is splashed with oil fuel, all the scrubbing and boiling in the world will not prevent a hole from appearing in it; and if it eats through double-ply canvas, what will oil fuel accomplish in the case of human beings?

"Tanker" hands are noting that after two or three voyages they begin to put on flesh.

FAMED FOR ITS MARASCHINO

Dalmatian Town of Sebenico Really Has Little Right to Other Claims to Honors.

Sebenico vainly boasts of being the Roman colony Sium, where Claudius quartered his veterans, and so styles itself in public inscriptions and Latin documents. But Sium stood farther south, near Salona, at a spot still marked by Roman remains.

It is to be feared that Sebenico had a sadly ignoble origin, says the Manchester Guardian. The name is said to be derived from a word that means the fort from whence bandits watched the sea for ships which they attacked and plundered. The little Dalmatian pirates' lair remained quite unknown until selected in the early Middle Ages by Croatian kings for their favorite residence. Apart from possession of a picturesque land-locked harbor, the only cathedral in the world built entirely of stone and metal, and the ancestral house of the Orsini, Sebenico has few claims to distinction. However, by some people—Sebenico will always be held in high honor for being the place where they make maraschino, an insidious liquor distilled from small black cherries.

The Wrong Saint.

Childhood's propensity for getting names mixed was well illustrated a Sunday morning or two ago when little Richard, on the way to Sunday school with his mother and sister, met another little boy afflicted with St. Vitus' dance.

Richard was deeply impressed by the incident and asked his mother what was the matter with the little boy.

"Poor child," the sympathetic mother replied. "He has St. Vitus's dance." Back at home, Richard rushed in to tell his father of the incidents of the morning and closed with the remark:

"And—and we saw a poor little boy who jerked all over. He had the Ritcomb Riley."

Only Fat Girls in His Office.

"I have found one employer whose 'bug' in hiring folks for his office is worse than the idea against bobbed heads and short skirts," lamented a young woman who was weary with hunting work.

"And what's that?"

"He won't hire any one—male or female—unless he has a fat, healthy, well-fed, well-cared-for look. I was talking to the girl who lets applicants in to see the boss. She was real sweet and kind and she told me I might as well not go in. I asked her why, and she confided to me that I was too pale, too delicate-looking. This girl thinks it is just because he is known as an old tightwad and is selfish, and he doesn't want it said of him that even his office people look pinched and pale and ill-treated."—New York Sun.

A Day Dream.

"That was a smooth stock salesman to here just now."

"He was, indeed," said Mr. Dubwaite. "He hadn't been talking five minutes before I saw myself stepping briskly into a bank to deposit a few hundred thousand dollars, then strolling around to my tailor to order a winter outfit of a dozen suits, and making an engagement with a friend of mine in the motor business to look at the fall styles in limousines."

"What happened next?"

"Oh, I woke up, glancing hastily about to see if I was still sitting in the little old office and wished him 'good morning.'—Birmingham Age-Herald.

YOUR EVERY NEED
In Newspapers and Periodicals can be promptly supplied by

VETERAN NEWSDEALER OF WAYNE
See his window display at the WAYNE BAKERY
If it is Printed you may get it from SAM DAVIES