COMPLETE PLANS FOR LEGION CELEBRATION NOW ON

Wednesday evening the members of the Irwin Sears Post, American Legion held a special meeting to work out final details as to the greatest celebration ever staged at Wayne, and it was a busy meeting, for the service men do not plan to let any detail of the campaign go uncared for. Here are some of the work, as shown from a report of the meeting:

The Legion will furnish 20 men to assist the city police force in carline comfort of the visitors.

The Wayne Fire Department challenges the department from any of the neighboring towns to a water fight for a $25.00 purse. The plans are complete that assure the presence of the DesDunes band in time for a band concert at 9 o'clock in the morning, and this will be a real musical treat.

The Legion advertising crew are busy and the country for miles round will be placarded with invitations to come to Wayne the 4th.

The fireworks have come as far as Sioux City, and are stored there in fireproof rooms until the day of the 3d.

Arrangements are complete for the boxing matches. The contracts are approved by the state boxing commission, so that this feature is sure to be here. Inquiries are coming from as far away as Sioux City relative to this event. A challenge will be offered at the ringside to the winner of the main bout to box for a decision at some city for the championship of their class. The baseball teams are ready and confident. Bloomfield and Wayne will play for a purse of $200, and a real game is in store.

Paul Mines and Dr. Johnson are head of the committee for floats and decorated cars, and they make encouraging report. The parade is to start from the courthouse square 9:15 and there are generous prizes for best and second best and also for best comic float. $15 and $10 is the division of the prize money in float and autos, and a flat $10 for the best comic.

The speaking will be at 11 o'clock at the courthouse square following the parade. You will want to be there.

In the early evening will be lot of athletic events which will give amusement for all and a chance for the boys and girls to win some money prizes.

The big pavement dance is attracting a lot of attention and those who are interested in any of the events may learn of the rules, the details in full by applying to the following, who are committees for the different activities:

Parade—Mines and Johnson.
Base Ball and Boxing—Harrington, Miestler, Bressler, Strahan.
Fireworks—Jones, Sears.
Dance, Hawkins, Sears, Brune.
Pavillion Dance—Hawkins.
Band—Orr.
Publicity—Pile.
Police—Madsen.
Concessions—Milliken.
Finance—Jones.
Adjutant—Harrington.

The Legion are trying to assure fair weather, and have taken out a policy to indemnify them from loss by rain, on the 4th.

The fireworks selected are what is known as "Sky" pieces, and that means that they will be easily seen by all, and that one does not necessarily have to be close in to get best view.

Next week, we hope to give a more detailed program of what is to be the big event of the year in this corner of Nebraska.

RANDOLPH LOSES TO WINSIDE

Randolph, Neb., June 20.—Errors on the part of the locals caused them to emerge at the small end of a 5 to 3 count in the game with Winside here Sunday. Neither side scored until the fifth, when Randolph started juggling the pill and Winside scored five runs. The locals scored two runs on an overthrow in the seventh.

Batteries: Winside, Oakes and Melroy; Randolph, Lobdell and Brown. Strike outs—Oakes 16; Lobdell 10. Hits—Randolph 8; Winside 3. The locals will return the engagement at Winside next Sunday.

The "Humoresque" has been one of the most popular plays in New York and Chicago. Esther Hildebrandt reads it in full at our CHAUTAUQUA. Begins July 8—adv.

CHEER UP TONIGHT AND FRIDAY

And keep cheerful ever after. But on these two evenings the Wayne ladies of the Womens club will present this popular play, under direction of Sterling C. Coe of the Bock Producing Co. Otherwise it is all home talent, and that is the best in the world.

It is impossible this week for us to give anything like a complete list of the home people have been practicing for nearly two weeks. It is sufficient to say that practically all of the local musical and dramatic talent is enlisted, and that the proceeds will help swell the funds for a community house at Wayne that will be a credit to the place.

From their program we learn that this musical revue is to be presented in five acts, interspersed with many specialties. The different acts appear under the heads of Daisyland. In an Old Garden, Carnival, Country Club Cabaret and the Grand Finale.

The orchestra is composed of Miss Elvira Malloy, violin; Miss Edan Hansen, piano; Miss Catherine Bohner, piano; Verl McKim, drums and taps.

Most of the noted soloists of our city will appear, and it is in fact to be one of the very great musical and social events of the season. Of course if we tell you all we can, you will want to attend, and we cannot put on the printed page words that will give more than a faint idea of what this entertainment is to be.

THE DEMOCRATIC LEGISLATIVE CANDIDATE

Many citizens of Wayne county are gratified that Henry Korff has filed as one of the candidates for the next legislature; for many had asked him to do so regardless of party affiliation. In Mr. Korff the voters will find a candidate who has won his spurs in many stubbornly fought battles in the committees and on the floor of the house of representatives where he served two terms as a representative of the people of Cedar county.

Mr. Korff is a farmer—a real dirt farmer, as they may be pleased to call him. He has a farm or two in Cedar county, of which his sons have active supervision. But Mr. Korff and his good wife frequently spend a week on one of the places, and they are not idle when there, for many improvements are desirable, and the tending up a farm is one of the important things which is too often neglected by the active farmer, who has his hands full of the really necessary work most of the time.

Mr. Korff is not a radical, nor is he a reactionary. When in the legislature he was as ready to cross swords and enter combat with our ultra conservative members, as with those he believed to be going to extremes in the other direction. He had his reasons for any position he took, and could state them in a fair and convincing manner. He became known as an intelligent, diligent worker on his committees, and as a result was placed on the more important committees during his second term, and he was a real worker in any position.

If elected, as we believe he will be when the men and women voters of Wayne county come to know him and his good record, we feel sure that the representative from this county will be among the first in the move for tax reduction that will not necessarily impair the efficiency of any needed work for the welfare of the state. Extravagance will find no favor with Mr. Korff, but he will be a booster for all good measures that will mean real service to the people.

We are asking Mr. Korff to give the readers of the Democrat an outline of the measures he would like to see enacted into law, as well as a brief story of his life. We believe the people are entitled to know the former; and know that the latter would be of interest, for Mr. Korff has been a resident of Nebraska some forty years, and fully half of that time in this part of the state. He was one of the active members of the committee in Cedar county in putting over most of their successful drives for the government and the Red Cross. They gave a son to the cause, and made other sacrifices of both time and money.

Mr. and Mrs. Korff moved across the county line into Wayne county nearly three years ago, purchased a home here that their younger children might have both school and home advantages while finishing their education.

JACOB WILLARD MASON PASSES AWAY

At the home in this city, Sunday evening, June 18, 1922, J. W. Mason, for many years a resident of this county and city, died from the infirmities of advancing years, at the age of 80 years, 3 months and 21 days.

Jacob Willard Mason was born at Ashland, Ohio, February 25, 1842, and grew to manhood in his home community. Was united in marriage April 18, 1867, to Millie Dressler, who with their four children and one grandson survive him, and mourn his departure. They are Mrs. J. S. Weaver, Ashland Ohio, H. E. Mason, Meadow Grove Nebraska, L. A. Mason, Wakefield, and Mary V. Mason of this place. The grandson is Donald Mason of Meadow Grove. All were present at his bedside when the end came.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason and family moved from their Ohio home to Wayne in April, 1886, and this county has since been his home. They settled on a tract of land about six miles northwest of Wayne, and erected a shanty in which their first summer was spent, and before winter came had a farm well along in the making, and built a house more suitable for the winters of this prairie country. They endured many of the hardships and privations incident to pioneer life, and established a home and competency for old age. They moved to Wayne about 20 years ago, and have since made their home in this city.

Mr. Mason united with the Methodist church in Ohio, and after moving to this county united with that church in this place, and continued to affiliate with it until his death.

The funeral was from the home Wednesday afternoon, by Rev. Wm. Kilburn, pastor of the Methodist church, and was attended by many of his former neighbors and friends of earlier days, attesting their respect for the departed and their love and sympathy for the family. A good citizen has been called to his reward.

TWO DROWNED WHILE BATHING

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stone, from near Belden, were here Monday to take the afternoon train to Sioux Falls, South Dakota, in response to a message which told of the drowning of his nephew, Fred Stone, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Stone, and the funeral was to be Tuesday. The information Mr. and Mrs. Stone had was meagre coming over long distance phone that did not seem to be good working order all the way. The young man, 18 years of age, was bathing.

A Sioux Falls dispatch to the Sioux City Journal gave the following account of the drowning:

Fred Stone and Miss Wilma Fritts, each aged 17, were drowned in Schotte's creek, 7 miles from Sioux Falls, this afternoon while bathing. It is believed both were seized with cramps, as they stepped into a deep hole. The boy was a son of Al Stone, superintendent of the county poor farm. The girl was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Fritts, residents of the eastern section of Sioux Falls.

SOME CATTLE SHIPMENTS

Monday Jas Grier and Ted Perry each loaded five cars of fat cattle for the Chicago market, and were due to be on the Wednesday market.

James Finn was in Sioux City the first of the week with a car of cattle from his farm near Carroll.

BASE BALL SUNDAY

Next Sunday, the Wayne team meets the Pierce team, and a good game is anticipated.

July 2d the Winside boys are scheduled to visit Wayne for the second game between the two teams. Winside won the first time.

It was a happy social event that took place at the H. J. Miner home Monday evening when Mrs. Miner and daughter Eloise entertained at a kitchen shower given in honor of Miss Grace Ash, and her approaching marriage to Mr. Phillip H. Stephens of Tekamah. Mrs. Ash was the recipient of many useful and valuable presents, and the hostess served choice refreshments.

Ralph Rundell and wife and Mrs. Wm. Wright and daughter anted to Sioux City Monday.

UNVEILING NEIHARDT BUST THE HOMECOMING FEATURE

Last Friday was the annual homecoming day for the Alumni of the Wayne State Normal School and Teacher College at this place, and it was easily the most important gathering of the graduates of this school that has taken place since the celebration of a homecoming day has been adopted.

Easily the most noted feature of the day was the unveiling of the bust of John G. Neihardt, poet laureate of the state on Nebraska, and a graduate of the school at Wayne, where he spent most of his boyhood school days. It became known in ample time for preparations for the unveiling, that the bust which had been presented to the school by the poet's mother, would reach Wayne in time to have the unveiling take place homecoming day, and plans were made accordingly.

The ceremony took place at the chapel services Friday forenoon, and the history of the making of this bust of poet by his wife, who is a sculptor of no mean ability, its presentation to the poet's mother, and her gift to the school of her former home town, where her son had first become inspired to pen his that in verse.

The various organizations of the school were represented on the committee.

Miss Edith Beechel represented the Alumni association; Mrs. Elva Brockway the representative of the Neihardt club. Dr. Julius T. House was named to make the presentation, in the absence of the donor, who could not be present, and the president of the school, Dr. U. S. Conn was designated to receive the gift. Mrs. James Miller, daughter of the late Judge James Britton, who was one of the early friends who encouraged the young poet, was asked to take charge of the music.

Letters were read from both the poet's wife and his mother; Dr. House paid a tribute to his friend the poet, and so did Dr. Conn in accepting the gift to the school. It was a very pleasant and impressive service, and the auditorium was filled to capacity with students of the school, the members of the alumni and friends of the poet. Mr. Neihardt was present, and responded to the wishes of the audience with a few words of appreciation and some appropriate verses from his pen.

Luncheon was served on the campus, many of the visitors remaining the entire afternoon to visit with their school day friends, and tell of others who were not present. At the close of the afternoon all gathered for the evening event.

The Banquet

Friday night at 6:30 about two hundred fifty alumni and friends gathered in the gymnasium to enjoy the annual alumni banquet.

The menu was as follows:

MALZACKER-POWERS

Mr. Clarence C. Powers of place and Miss Mildred Malzacker of Neligh were united in marriage, Thursday June 15, 1922, at the home of the brides parents at Neligh the Methodist pastor officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Malzacker of Neligh. She attended the Wayne State Teachers College here last year and no doubt has many friends in Wayne.

The groom is the oldest son of Mr. Frank Powers of this place and has lived here many years. He is employed with the Powers Dray Line and has numerous friends here, who wish them both much happiness. The young couple will make Wayne their home.

HELPING HAND MEETING

Helping Hand society met June 15 at the home of Mrs. Frank Griffith Jr. About 30 were present to partake of the delicious two-course dinner served by the hostess. After the regular business meeting a Flag Day program was rendered.

Song—Flag Day

Song—Our Flag followed by the Flag Salute.
Reading—Flag Day—Mrs. Albert Watson.

Guests of the day were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. White, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Griffith, Mrs. William Watson, Miss Jessie Watson and Mr. Geo. Griffith. The next meeting will be June 29 with Mrs. Arno Jones.

THE VOTERS' JOB

There isn't time yet for a complete count of candidates. The number is large, running far up into the scores. The number of places to be filled runs up, indeed, into the scores. It is a great task that awaits the would-be intelligent voter.

It is a busy time of the year. Yet it is of the utmost importance that voters take time to get their bearings in the coming primaries. Perhaps the time of the year is not as unfavorable as it looks. The weeks before the primaries will be harvest time and threshing time. There is much chance for farmers at such times to compare notes and obtain material on which to base judgments as to candidates.

Fortunately it isn't necessary for any voter to know all the candidates. It is necessary only to make sure of the one to be voted for. This knowledge can be gained, in the case of local candidates or with neighbors who know them. There will be little trouble, of course, in lining up the candidates for the chief state offices. The candidates for senator and governor and congressman will be known by their records and their speeches and programs. Few voters will go to the polls without a fair idea as to the merits of these candidates.

The baffling problem of the voter comes with the choosing for the long list of inferior state offices. The merits of this or that unknown man for secretary of state, auditor and the like is not easy to get at, and voters will always have to act very much in the dark in this field. They would more effective in their control of the state government, if the selection of a large part of these minor officials were left to a more prominent officer, such as governor, whom they can and do control. Could this change be brought about, the job of the voter at the primary would be a reasonable one, one which he could accomplish with satisfaction to himself and good results to the community.

The above is from the editorial page of the State Journal, and is well worthy of careful consideration. The Democrat today gives the names of most of the candidates that interest voters in this county. We have missed the list of senators from this district, Wayne, Pierce and Madison counties, but will supply that in a later issue. They were not given with the county list, and we missed them in the state list. So Senator Ulrich of Winside, who filed as a progressive this year, is the only one we know of for sure.

But we want the readers to study this list of county and state candidates, see their party affiliation, and try to know before going to the election booth who you favor.

We notice in a Fargo, North Dakota, paper dispatch from Bismarck, which states that Geo. B. Wallace, former tax commissioner of that state, where he served under the administration of three different governors, having been appointed by Governor Burke and renamed by his republican successor, and then retained by Governor Fraizer, and released from office by the present governor, has accepted a position in the tax department of the Western Union Telegraph company, and goes to New York city to begin his duties July 1st. His duties will take him into all parts of the United States and Canada, as well as to European countries. The dispatch adds that he had been endorsed for a place at the supreme court of North Dakota, which he declined to accept because of the offer which would enable him to continue to delve in tax figures and problems. His study of the question of taxation during the years he was in the employ of the state gave him a standing as an authority on many questions of taxation. Mr. Wallace has frequently visited relatives at Wayne, and has a number of friends here who are glad that he has been given opportunity to continue work along the line he has been following for so many years.

Well, he was here the last of last week, in the interest of those who are dry and so dry as to leave no shadow of doubt as to where they stand. Rev. Sala was working for the success of John Shroyed for the United States Senate. He is a man widely known among the farmers of the state; and it is the hope of his friends to consolidate those who oppose the idea of permitting the passage of a light wine and beer clause to the law defining intoxicating drinks that he may secure a nomination.

Now there is a Southwestern wheat Improvement Association, and beyond a doubt it is a good thing—advocates a lot of good things, of benefit to the wheat growers of Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri and Colorado; but it that really a reason why the newspapers of a community should be asked to stand the lion share of the cost of putting their propaganda to the public? We wonder how the farmer would ever know that wheat should be so shocked that it will not fall down, or be allowed to remain too long in the field, if he did see it in the Democrat? He might never know that green or wet grain should not be stacked in that condition, as it will not thresh clean and may heat in the bin. There is a lot of it, and we will be glad to let any farmer who needs it have the letter. And then we may get several other letters.

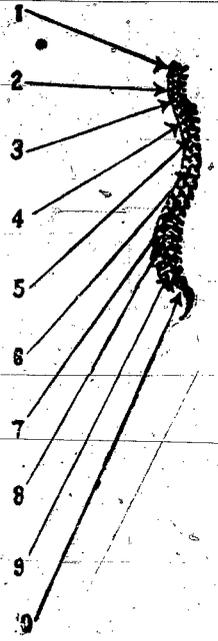

CHIROPRACTIC

Going directly to the cause of the majority of so-called diseases is the reason of Chiropractic efficiency as a drugless health agent; that is why adjustments benefit you when all "treatment methods" have failed. Disease is a medical term. It is a misnomer and all so-called "disease" is but bodily incoordination.

The "diseases" here named are called such to educate the reader by contrast to the proper terminology.

1. Slight subluxations at this point will cause so-called headaches, eye diseases, deafness, epilepsy, vertigo, insomnia, wry neck, facial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, etc.
2. A slight subluxation of a vertebra in this part of the spine is the cause of so-called throat trouble, neuralgia, pain in the shoulders and arms, goitre, nervous prostration, la grippe, dizziness, bleeding from nose, disorder of gums, catarrh, etc.
3. The arrow head marked No. 3 locates the part of the spine wherein subluxations will cause so-called bronchitis, felons, pain between the shoulder blades, rheumatism of the arms and shoulders, hay fever, writers' cramp, etc.
4. A vertebral subluxation at this point causes so-called nervousness, heart disease, asthma, pneumonia, tuberculosis, difficult breathing, other lung troubles, etc.
5. Stomach and liver troubles, enlargement of the spleen, pleurisy and a score of other troubles, so-called, are caused by subluxations in this part of the spine, sometimes so light as to remain unnoticed by others except the trained Chiropractor.
6. Here we find the cause of so-called gall stones, dyspepsia of upper bowels, fevers, shingles, hiccough, worms, etc.
7. Bright's disease, diabetes, floating kidney, skin disease, boils, eruptions and other diseases, so-called, are caused by nerves being pinched in the spinal openings at this point.
8. Regulations of such troubles as so-called appendicitis, peritonitis, lumbago, etc., follow Chiropractic adjustments at this point.
9. Why have so-called constipation, rectal troubles, sciatica, etc., when Chiropractic adjustments at this part of the spine will remove the cause?
10. A slight slippage of one or both innominate bones will likewise produce so-called sciatica, together with many "diseases" of pelvis and lower extremities.

J. FRANSEN, RANDOLPH IS BADLY HURT BY HOGS

Randolph, Neb., June 16.—Several brood sows weighing from 600 to 700 pounds each locked in a hog house, attacked J. Fransen, a farmer living north of Randolph, Thursday morning, downed the farmer, almost scalped him, tore his jaws and mangled his face. Hearing the shrieks, a collie jumping over several fences and thru a partially opened window of the hog house and saved his master's life.

Mr. Fransen had gone to the hog house to look after the animals. While he was leaning over one of the big sows, rushed him, knocking him down and then started tearing at his face. Other hogs joined in the attack and Fransen was powerless.

With the aid of the dog Fransen managed to crawl from the hog house to safety. Doctor Kerley was called and found Fransen in very bad condition. He says the farmer will recover and gives credit to the dog for saving his life.

CROP INSPECTION APPLICATIONS

The Nebraska Crop Growers' Association reports that more than 100 applications for crop inspection and seed certification are now on file. The rules for seed certification for 1922 have been made more strict in order to insure that the grain which qualifies is true to name, pure, free from disease and of good quality. Thirty-five counties are represented among the applications with Kanred wheat, Nebraska No. 6 and 60 wheat, Nebraska 21 oats and Rosen rye predominating among the grains to be certified. Field inspections in which the fields are examined for purity, mixtures, smut, noxious weeds, and other requirements start this week. All those whose fields pass will be given a handsome certificate of inspection, furnished with tags of the Association which give the information required by the state seed law and listed in the certified seed list of the Association. In the past few seasons much grain, particularly Kanred wheat, sold for seed, has not been true to name. It is to furnish good seed true to name that the seed certification work is carried on. Any one wanting pure seed of the high yielding strains and varieties should write the Nebraska Crop Growers Association, Agricultural College, Lincoln, Nebraska for the certified seed list which will be available about July 20th.

EXPOSING FARM-BLOC STUPIDITY (New York World)

The republican Senator Norris of Nebraska continues unconstructible from the old guard standpoint. His rebellious attitude is describing a complete circle roundabout the old guard camp and something seems to be doing at every step in this encircling war-dance.

Having reached that point in the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill which concerns the rates on shotguns, Mr. Norris most appropriately lets loose with a counter-discharge. It is to the effect that the idea back of these, as of many of the other high rates, is to enable the American manufacturer so to advance prices in the home market as to take prices in the losses in invading foreign markets at prices to drive out foreign producers.

The Nebraska senator has this about right. But it is not new idea except possibly to him, and it is not so much an idea as a practice under all high tariffs. It amounts to a subsidy forced upon American consumers on nine-tenths of their production sold at home, which enables them to report the remaining one-tenth at any old price and still leave them untold profits. This practice particularly applies to steel and other trust-products of which the farmers are large consumers. And the farm bloc in congress is generally giving such tariff rates its support in return for high agricultural rates which as a rule will enable the farmers to collect from the home market only prices fixed by the world markets.

Senator Norris is a member of the farm bloc. As such he must have been a party to this bargain whose stupidity he is now engaged in exposing. If his present attitude heralds a breakdown of the bargain the country will have reason to rejoice at the expense of the Fordney-McCumber tariff monstrosity.

J. D. LEE TELLS HOW

Editor Nebraska Democrat.
An inheritance Tax would break backbone of the money trust and bring gladness and joy to this country.

I noticed that commenting on articles written by myself, which article also appeared in the Nebraska Democrat, you say: "Anybody can kick kick, like Maud did" but can Mr. Lee or any body else offer a remedy."

I have just learned from reference to my predisposition to be a kicker, that I am a kinsman of "Maud" and it naturally follows that I must be related to her sire.

But I herein reply to your request, and offer remedy.

I take it for granted that you mean, for me to tell you what I think would be a remedy for the present unworkable and ugly system of finance; that is now under the control of the money trust of this country.

First I will say, that it will be impossible for me to mention in the small space allowed me, all of the changes in our present system that would be needed to insure prosperity. Let me state that first of all, we must destroy what is often called, the invisible government which has been and is now in power, to the extent that the selfish and corrupt systems, established of usurpation of power rules the lives and almost the destinies of the masses.

Second, in order that this selfish and corrupt invisible government may be dethroned and a government of the people established, it will require a combined sentiment of a sufficient number of the people to overthrow this corrupt oligarchy, and the government exercising its constitutional functions of a issuing money and regulating the value thereof; instead of allowing a small group of dominant Jewish financiers to use this constitutional power which belongs to the people; must be exercised by the people.

Third, Pass a law and see that it is enforced, that an inheritance tax graduated to make the man who has his millions, at his death; all above one million, go into the United States Treasury.

A million dollars in money or property is enough for all worthy beneficiaries, and far too much for spend-thrifts.

Andrew Carnegie in his "Gospel of Wealth" says no man has a right to handicap his son, with such a burden as great wealth. Meaning no doubt that the larger the inheritance, the greater the curse.

That, William K. Vanderbilt, once said, "Inherited wealth is a big handicap to happiness, it is as certain death to ambition as cocaine is to mortality."

Mr. H. H. Kline is his book, "Dynastic America, and those who own it," estimate and classifies the wealth of the richest families of America as follows:

- One owning, $2,000,000,000.
- Four, Owning, $500,000,000.

- One, 300,000,000.
- Six, 200,000,000.
- Eleven, 150,000,000, each.
- Fourteen, 100,000,000, each.
- Twenty-two, 75,000,000, each.
- Eighty, with 50,000,000, each.
- Two-hundred and fifty, with 20,000,000, each.

Making a grand total of $20,780,000,000, owned by only 396 men, see pages 155-157 of Dynastic America.

Pass a law and see that it is strictly enforced, that all wealth above a million, at the death of those money kings; goes into the public treasury and all money so turned in, be expended to defray the expenses of national and state government instead of taxing the poor by direct and indirect taxes.

If those individuals were compelled to turn all of their wealth above a million into public treasury; to be used as above indicated then the galling yoke of industrial bondage would be lifted from the necks of the poor and needy, and a glad day of joy and contentment would be visited on all God fearing people.

The above is only a few of the remedies that as I verily believe, would gladden the hearts and liberate the hands of thousands of dependent and helpless people.

BLOOMFIELD WINS FROM LAUREL

At the Sunday game at Laurel, Bloomfield won 9 to 3, adding another to their line of victories. Bloomfield has lost but one game this season, and they expect to win at Wayne the 4th—and naturally the Wayne boys think that if they do, it will be their hardest earned victory. Thousands will be here that day to witness the game.

FRED BROWN CAPTURED

At last, after much cost and sacrifice, and possibly the loss of life the bandit Fred Brown was captured in Wyoming. If he did not kill anyone while at large, he frightened a lot of people out of a year's growth. It would have been a lot easier and cheaper to have retained him in prison, where he was serving a just sentence for pass crimes. The power of pardon and parole carries grave responsibilities. Look at the cases where pull pulls the smooth rascals out, to resume their unlawful work. The granting of a pardon may easily prove a criminal act—if not an illegal one.

Brown will now have to face so many criminal charges, that it is hard to tell where to begin the prosecution, should he recover from the shot that entered his body near the heart, and become able to stand trial, as now appears probable.

PERHAPS THE LIARS INCREASED CORRESPONDINGLY

(State Journal)

The war did not seem to be a blessing for the people with swollen incomes. In 1916 there were 206 people with million dollar incomes in the United States, according to the tax returns. The next year the number fell to 141. Then they dropped to 67 in 1918, to 65 in 1919 and to 33 in 1920.

"My Bell Rang"

Some people call telephone numbers and then hang up before the called person has time to answer. And sometimes the called person is slow in answering and the calling party hangs up.

The result is that when the call is answered there is no one on the line, and an operator asks "Number, please?"

We instruct the operators to say "Excuse it, please" when, upon answering a call, a subscriber says that his bell rang.

Any operator can ring your telephone, but only an operator at the one position where your line comes in can answer you when you lift your receiver.

Butter Fat	29
Cattle	$5.00 to $8.00
Hogs	$8.00 to $9.75

The women are practically all favorable to maintaining the direct primary. They are right, and should stand for what they believe.

Dudley Foulke, who has been studying the character and lack of character of those entrusted to enforce prohibition, is quoted as saying that it has been kept outside the range of the merit system, and "is filled with a gang of mercenary freebooters who violate the law, cram their pockets with ill-gotten gains and demoralize the country with their corrupt rapacity."

Harding, if he is what he claimed to be, honestly in favor of the civil service policy, is between the devil and the deep sea. He has yielded to the clamor of the sportsmen and given them the engraving and the printing departments, and finds that like a pack of wolves the sports hunters are wanting everything else. It is a shame to have a really good system over turned by a weak man—one too yielding to enforce his professed belief in what is right.

Politics is warming up right off the bat. We have just received notice that candidates Randall and McMullen will be asked to meet candidate Bynum, all of the republican faith, and divide time in discussing questions about which the republicans differ. Randall and McMullen are charged with favoring the present code law and budget law as they are now administered, and the other gentleman is opposed to them. If the two men are of the opinion expressed as theirs they must need defend it vigorously and at once, or take the consequences. For as the voters now understand those measures, they are against them.

The standpat republicans of Minnesota have been congratulating themselves that their candidate Kellogg has an easy race ahead of him, winning the primary having the progressive element of the party divided between two candidates. Then after nomination, he is again feeling confident that he can win, for the democrats have or were expected to name a progressive woman, and the still more radical element of the party have a candidate of their own. It is well to feel such confidence—but they should look south and see what happened in Iowa—the stronghold of standpat republicanism. With six candidates in the field, and two of them counted progressive, the old time republicans had no doubt but that they would settle that question in the convention, and then they knew it would be a hand-picked reactor. The people are running things this year.

REFEREEING RELATIVITY,

To the Democratic Voters of Wayne County:

I have filed as democrat candidate for the office of sheriff subject to your decision at the primaries July 18th.

I am a native of Wayne county, and have never before been a candidate for office. Was born on a farm east of Wayne, and at the age of four years moved with my parents to a farm five miles northwest of Carroll, where they still reside. I have been a Wayne county farmer until last spring, when I moved to Carroll.

I ask the support of my friends, and if elected to the office, pledge myself to faithfully perform the duties as sheriff of Wayne county.

The entries are closed now, and the race is on. Some are jockeying for a good start—others are just sawing wood, and looking after their regular work with an eye out on the voter to see that he and she know who is running in this great free for all contest.

Mrs. E. J. Huntmer was called to Jackson Wednesday by a message telling of the death of Henry O'Neill of that place, a relative. She was to meet her mother, Mrs. Moran at Emerson, who was on her way to attend the service. Mr. O'Neill was known to a few here, and his daughters had attended the school here, and have numerous Wayne friends who will sympathize with them in their sad loss.

The Wayne Normal School and Teachers College was visited Wednesday by State Superintendent, John Martzen and E. H. Gearhart and wife of Newman Grove, members of the board of education, who with Miss Young of the board are out visiting the state normal schools. Miss Young was not with the party here. They were guests for dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Berry, who entertained in their honor.

Mary Cameron is going totell and show some things about music at CHAUTAUQUA that you never knew. She is an exceptional artist.

Mrs. M. Timmer and children, who came from New Rockford South Dakota, three weeks ago to visit her parents Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Williams, left for home Wednesday morning. She had planned to remain longer, but word came of the illness of her husband, who suffered an attack of pneumonia, but was well on the way to recovery, and now able to leave the hospital. Her sister Ethel Lutz, accompanied her as far as Sioux City.

John Minihan from the southeast part of the county, was a Wayne visitor Wednesday morning, looking after his political fences. He is a candidate for the democratic nomination for county commissioner from the 1st district, and has an encouraging backing. Mr. M. tells us that he was born in this county, and feels that he is familiar with the needs of the farming community, as he is a farmer. His adv. appears elsewhere.

W. H. Buetow and family visited relatives and friends at West Point and Beemer the first of this week, and Tuesday afternoon they drove to Sioux City to visit their daughter there a day or two. They return to Wayne again this week, and then leave for their farm at Cheyenne Wells, state of Colorado, where it is their plan to remain until about time for the fall schools to open. While there they will look after the harvesting and threshing of their wheat. Mr. and Mrs. Swim, a state veteran will occupy their home during their absence.

J. J. Ahern was a passenger to Chicago, going Sunday night. He is no doubt, spending his hours there in the interest of the patrons of his Wayne store. He was accompanied by Miss Esther Ingham, and Master Charles Ingham, who went to visit their brother, Ralph Ingham and his wife, and see the great city by the lake. Beyond a doubt these little folks will come home with a broader knowledge of the world ways and a better conception of what they may read from this time on of cities, of commerce and the world in general. The experiences of this trip and its sights will be remembered during their life, and when we went to Chicago will be a new starting point from which to reckon time. It is a fine thing that they could make such a visit.

Miss Lila Gardner is visitor at Randolph, a guest of Miss Eva Hughes.

Mrs. Lee Hughes came over from Norfolk last week to visit home folks, Mr. and Mrs. John Vennerberg and family.

Tuesday was Mrs. Overocker's 75th birthday, and she received a number of floral offerings from friends, who found her at the home of her daughter Mrs. W. B. Vall.

Geo. Yaryan and M. S. Linn of Carroll were Wayne visitors Tuesday.

Mrs. Jeffries quotes some enticing prices on the white shoe for this summer season.—adv.

Donald Tarbox from Strawberry Point, Iowa came to Wayne today, and will try his hand on the Linograph at this shop and also some other parts of the work.

J. O. Harmon and wife came from Burbank, Oklahoma by car this week and are visiting his sister, Mrs. L. E. Panabaker. His little granddaughter, Garnett Legg came with them.

TWO CHURCHES
The disturbance made by the "fundamentalists" in the northern Baptist convention at Indianapolis will probably result in wide recognition of the fact that there are now two great general divisions of the protestant church in America. It would facilitate religious work everywhere if this fact could be recognized and alignments made in accordance with conditions. Instead of quarreling at every convention over control of the Baptist church in the northern states, it would be better for the brethren to separate in peace. This would not necessarily mean the addition of another to the already burdensome list of denominations. Other churches are beset with the same difficulties between the progressives, who believe in salvation thru works as well as faith, and the conservatives who hold to regeneration and salvation thru the simple act of expressing belief. If these elements in all of the churches could be united America would have at least two protestant organizations of enough size and power to affect profoundly the life of the nation.

That is too much of a change to ask for, off-hand, of course. It is not unreasonable to suggest that the regrouping of churches now under way be made with these Baptist differences in view. The liberals of all denominations can untie happily with any liberal churches in their communities, while those who hold to the Bryan view of the inerrancy of the scriptures and the finality of revelations made many centuries ago will be numerous and devoted enough to make a church of wonderful power. There is now much more difference between many individual churches in the same denomination than between some of the denominations. This is emphasized by the determination of large numbers of old fashioned people to "get back to the ancient moorings" and to put a stop to the admission to church fellowship of people who wish to serve God and man without being obliged to accept doctrines that offend them intellectually. When the churches regroup themselves into two general parties both classes can be cared for and the most serious causes of church irritation will disappear. It may be fortunate in the end if the attempt of the "fundamentalists" to gain control of the Baptist convention goes so far as to make this regrouping imperative.—State Journal.

LAND OF DARK SUPERSTITION
Throughout His Life, the Moor is Guided by Strange, Sometimes Most Savage Beliefs.
One of the first things a traveler notices in a Moorish town are the "hands" painted or drawn on the walls of many houses and buildings. These are to avert the "evil spirit"; five, the number of fingers, is considered a sacred number. These hands are also worn in the form of ornaments, and serve to keep off the "evil one." As in Europe, the horseshoe is frequently seen over doorways. A Moor considers it a great sin to cut bread with a knife, declaring that our hands were given us to break it. The same idea accounts for the saying that "to tread on corn is to tread on angels." Offerings of food, hair and other small articles are often placed in the trunks of certain trees, and have a quaint significance. As the makers of these offerings are poor Moors with large families, they firmly believe that Allah will be pleased and will give them means to support their families. Some Moors declare that, after this offering, their children eat less, and, therefore, cost less to keep.

At another religious celebration spiked balls are thrown into the air and allowed to fall on the throwers' heads. The man who appears the most injured and ferocious is considered the most truly religious. Moorish marriages are performed at midnight, and the bride is confined to her room for several days after the ceremony. No Moorish woman who is truly religious is seen in the streets at any time, except in cases of absolute necessity. Life is indeed different from that in Europe.

How Uncle Sam Spends Your Money in Conducting Your Business

VIEW OF THE EMPLOYEE
The obvious solution of the government's employment problem is the standardization and readjustment of salaries. To be scientific, such readjustment must rest upon a careful reclassification of the service. Conditions are very different now, both in regard to the functions of offices and the cost of living, from what they were when positions in the government service were first classified and salaries assigned to those positions. It struck me that an interested party in this inquiry into how the government conducts its business was the employee himself. He ought to know from actual daily experience something about the mechanism of the national business and the relations between the working force and employer.

It was clearly impossible to talk to the more than 500,000 men and women who work for the government, but I learned that between 50,000 and 60,000 of them are banded together in an association called the National Federation of Federal Employees. It is a regular labor union, and is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. It includes all classes of government workers, technical and scientific men, as well as clerks and unskilled workers.

I asked the president of this employees' union, Luther C. Steward, if he and his associates were authorized to speak for all its membership. He assured me that they were. So I asked him to tell me about the conditions of government employment and how the business was carried on. I am glad I did, for what he told me discloses not only facts, but a state of mind existing among the employees which necessarily must be taken into account in any consideration of the efficiency and management of our common business. Here then is what the employees, who speak through Mr. Steward, have to say, and the constructive program they present for the improvement of the service:

The civil service on its human side consists of about 500,000 men and women engaged in the operation of an antiquated patched-up machine. Because of the durability of its vital parts and the faith and ability of the mass of the operatives the machine still functions. But the parts are ill-fitted, and many of them are defective. The managers and superintendents of the establishment, being too often chosen for political reasons, are frequently incompetent, and the operating system is clumsy and disjointed.

The employees are recruited under a law which provides a test of qualifications, and probably nine-tenths of the rank and file have satisfactorily passed the entrance test. But the better positions, say from $3,000 upward, are usually occupied by political appointees. Another considerable group of employees get their appointments by executive order, waiving civil-service tests of fitness.

The newcomer in the service, therefore, finds himself up against a minimum of opportunity for promotion, with the disheartening knowledge that the advancement which is earned by competence is all too likely to be given to the friend or political supporter of some congressman or executive who wishes to pay a political debt. And the employee is subject to dismissal at the will of the executive of his department, unless he can bring sufficient political influence to bear.

In other words, the civil-service law is not backed up by enforcing power in the Civil Service commission. It merely recruits the applicants for entrance. Thereafter the employee's fate is largely a matter of his own luck and negative passive merit. There is no system by which he may be fitted to the job, and no protection against dismissal, unless the employee himself can show that the reason is political or religious. "For the good of the service," as the law reads, covers every other charge which the executive official may bring. There is no court of appeal.

Such is the oppressive, incentiveless, vitiating atmosphere of the government service. It stifles initiative, frustrates ambitions and reduces the mass of employees to a more or less passive state, which is permeated by a sense of fear.

In such an atmosphere naturally enough, the physical conditions of employment are far from what they should be, and the government loses efficiency, as does any other employer where the wage scale is inadequate and unstandardized, where sanitary conditions are bad and hours of work too long and irregular.

Has been a resident of Wayne county for thirty-five years. His service as commissioner and road overseer will bear the closest scrutiny. He invites examination of every public act, and he has good reason to believe his official record will receive popular endorsement. He is frank and positive and what he does is prompted by highest conscience and supported by the soundest judgment. He says what he means and means what he says, and people like his frank, open-faced way of doing business.

LADD'S BONUS AMENDMENT
(Sioux City Tribune)
Senator Ladd, North Dakota, has proposed an amendment to Senator McCumber's adjected compensation bill that will meet with widespread approval among exservice men. It would give them cash, through the issue of legal tender as good as the $1 bill in your trouser's pocket; and the legal tender would be retired without placing additional taxation on the public.

Senator Ladd would raise the cash that necessarily must be forthcoming under any scheme of payment by taxing all banks, trust companies, and banking partnerships incorporated in excess of $100,000 to the extent of 50 per cent. of their profits, after permitting them to retain a generous 12 per cent. and deducting all taxes.

The senator reaches for the pocketbooks of the big banks, particularly those of the eastern financiers, who have their safes crammed with the Liberty bonds that deflation forced the little people to sacrifice at a loss. But 12 per cent. won't appeal to the big bankers. That isn't a drop in the bucket since war put banking on a higher plane.

Senator Ladd can hardly think that his amendment will get past the money bloc in congress. There is, however, a peculiar significance to his proposal. The McCumber bill, providing certificates without any certain means of raising cash, was not meant to be taken seriously. And it was not so taken by the "wise ones." When pressed as to where money was to come from, Senator McCumber replied that "we can better determine the amount of the necessary (tax) levy and the methods of distributing such burdens for the future at a later date"—say after June 28, when the North Dakota primaries will be held.

And herein lies the aforementioned significance of Senator Ladd's proposal. He has thrown a bomb into the camp of the senior senator, Mr. McCumber. Senator Ladd was sent to Washington by the nonpartisan league. Senator McCumber, counted progressive in other days, is now a member in good standing of the Old Guard. Out in North Dakota, Lynn J. Frazier, former nonpartisan league governor, is threatening to take McCumber's toga from him. The reports from his bailiwick have so frightened McCumber that he even has urged that his nonpartisan opponent should be eliminated by being appointed a member of the federal reserve board, to fill the seat created for a farm representative. The sidetracking of the tariff to take up his trick bonus bill was another move for votes. And now the junior senator from North Dakota has the senior senator's bonus bill, his eleventh hour strategy, looking like a certificate of stock in a wildcat oil well.

It would be interesting to know what the senior senator from North Dakota said to the junior senator when they met in the cloakrooms.
