ESTABLISHED 1884

WAYNE, WAYNE COUNTY, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1922

$1.50 PER YEAR

WAYNE GOLF TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK

Next Monday morning the second annual invitation Golf Tournament of the Wayne Country Club will get under way. From all indications at this time most of the neighboring golf clubs will send good delegations. Norfolk, Hartington, Stanton, O'Neil, Crofton and probably some of the larger clubs in Sioux City and Omaha will be represented. D. T. McKinnon, the northeast Nebraska champion and Dr. L. L. Nelson last years northeast Nebraska champion, will probably head quite a delegation from Norfolk. A special invitation has been extended to Sam Reynolds the present state champion to be here but it is doubtful if he will be here.

Mondays play will consist of an 18 hole qualifying round in the forenoon followed by a round of match play in the afternoon. Wayne will probably be represented in the entry list by about forty players who will have to play well to keep many of the prizes in town.

On Monday evening the club will give a banquet to all of the Golfers. It is our understanding that the ladies of the Country Club will furnish this banquet. A list of the prizes follow:

Prizes for the Invitation Tournament

Medalist—Split Bamboo Shafted Driver donated by the C. S. Butchart Co.

Runner-up Medalist—1 dozen Blue Colonel Golf balls donated by the St. Mungo Mfg. Co.

Championship—$25.00 tailored-to-order Knickerbockers—donated by Morgan's Toggery—Ed. V. Price & Co.

Runner-up Championship—Par-XL Driver donated by the Hillerich & Bradsby Co.

Championship—Consolations—Special Driver donated by the Bruce Co.

Runner-up Championship Consolations—Golf coat donated by the Walter G. Clark Co.

Winner Presidents Flight—Carafe, donated by the Olson Sporting Goods Co.

Runner-up Presidents Flight—Dozen Wilson Success Zalls donated by Thos. E. Wilson & Co.

Presidents Consolation—1 dozen Jayhawk golf balls donated by the Jones Book Store.

Runner-up President Consolations—Tyler Putter donated by the R. G. Tyler Co.

Secretaries Flight—Driver donated by the A. J. Reach Co.

Runner-up Secretary Flight—Chick Evans record donated by the Brunswick Co.

Secretary Consolations—Klin Spade Mashie donated by the Klin Bros. Co.

Runner-up Secretary Consolation—Years subscription to Golfers Magazine donated by the publishers.

On Monday a golf ball will be given to everyone making two holes in two strokes.

1 dozen golf balls will be given for two-man team having the lowest combined qualifying score. Special entry fee $2.00 per team.

A fourth flight will be put on if necessary entries are forthcoming.

The Home Players

Paul Mines won the "Kickers" handicap the last week-end, 73 being the lucky number. Knox Jones and Frank Morgan tied for second and third with 79 and Ralph Carhart, Clarence Hansen and Paul Bowen tied for the fourth prize. The first three prizes were 1-2 dozen Golf balls divided 3, 2 and 1. Vicor 75s donated by the Wright & Ditson Co. The fourth prize was a golf pencil donated by the Wahl Co.

Next Sunday's event will be a blind bogey contest of the same nature as the one last week and all the visiting golfers will have a chance to compete in it too. So sharpen up your mashie.

All the people of Wayne are invited to come out and see the match next week. There is no charge for admission. The finals will be held Wednesday.

OFF FOR WASHINGTON

Sunday morning three cars left Wayne for Washington, carrying J. H. Smith and family, consisting of ten people, which included his son Carl and wife. The boys had spent a winter in that part of Washington, and like there, so the entire family set out Sunday expecting to make their home there if pleased with the outlook. They have long been residents of this county, and have many friends to wish them well in their new home.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our heart felt thanks to our neighbors and friends for the help and kindness during the illness and death of our beloved mother and for the floral offerings.

Nels and Ellen Dullerud.

Mrs. Chas. Reaso went to Winside this morning to visit with her mother.

KLOPPING—Monday, September 4, 1922, to Frank Klopping and wife, a daughter.

SONS OF HERMAN PICNIC

Sunday the members of the Sons of Herman held their annual picnic at Randolph, and a very interesting time is told of J. C. Nuss of this city, and one of the state officers of the order, was on the program for a short talk.

Henry Korff from this place, but formerly from Cedar county was called on to speak, and was warmly greeted by his former neighbors and friends. He made some good points in his talk, one of which was to urge the voters to make better use of each opportunity to study economic or political questions. He said that with citizenship such as ours comes a responsibility. The people are the government, and government will be as good as we make it, and we will make it the best we know how, and to know what is right is the problem to study. He especially urged the women to interest themselves in the issues and the candidates, and above all things, not to neglect to vote when election times comes. It is a duty, he said.

Chas. Randall, this being his home town and he having been named as a candidate for governor, was asked to be present and speak; but not being able to attend he sent his campaign manager to represent him, and that gentleman gave a few reasons why they should support their citizen—1 because he is a home man at Randolph—2 because he is the first nominee of the republican party north of the Platte river in a decade, if not in the history of the state—two excellent reasons to use at home—but what if the democrats use that argument and get by with it in the more populous part of the state. Later in the program, Edgar Howard was called upon for a talk, and he gave a few more reasons why the people of Randolph and vicinity should support Mr. Randall. Mr. Howard gave legitimate reasons—such as that Randall helped give us the code bill with all of its expensive frills—and if you like that vote to endorse Mr. Randall. Of course if you do not like it, it is the logical thing to support his opponent. Mr. Howard mentioned a number of other equally good reasons why those present should vote for Mr. Randall—if they endorse such measures as he sponsored for increasing taxes on the masses and permitting the national banks to escape taxation entirely. Mr. Howard asked the hearty support of all for Mr. Randall, their home man, if they could endorse what he stands for.

OBSERVED 86TH BIRTHDAY

Sunday was the 86th birthday of Mrs. Bianka (Grandma) Buetow and some of her relatives and friends gathered at her home in the north part of the city in honor of the event. The guests brought well-filled baskets for a picnic dinner. Among the guests out of town were Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Stefken of Wisner, Mrs. Helen Pritten from Norfolk and Mr. and Mrs. George Rispen and daughter Blanche from Winside, besides a number of Wayne friends from the old home neighborhood north of town.

Mrs. Buetow was one of the pioneer women of this vicinity, and with her son Charles, moved to Wayne about two years ago, occupying a comfortable home here. The day was happily spent visiting of other days, and partaking of the bounteous repast. The guests all wished the hostess many happy returns of the day, as they departed for their homes.

W. M. PHILBY SENTENCED FOR FORGERY AND FALSE ENTRIES

When W. E. Philby, for the past five years cashier of the Wayne County State Bank at Sholes, was taken before Judge A. A. Welch for a hearing, he entered a plea of "guilty" to the charges of forgery and false entries in the bank books, three counts in all. Judge Welch when he was brought in for his sentences decreed that the penalty should be imprisonment from six to ten years on each of the three counts.

Mr. Philby is still in the local jail, but is soon to be taken to Lincoln.

THE MADDEN SALE

Last week the Chas. Madden home sold at auction, in this city, and S. E. Auker purchased it at the fairly modest price of $2350, and thinks he secured a bargain. Of course, Mr. Auker bought to sell again, but he will first probably make it a bit more modern. Then it will be worth more, and bring more. The people seem to like that method of buying and selling. W. H. Neely, who cried that sale, tells us that there seems to be a growing sentiment in favor of this manner of selling.

CADDIES WANTED

For the Golf Tournament—Sept. 11-13. Boys should not neglect their school duties in order to be on hand to caddy; but any who can spare the time please be on hand at the country club on Monday morning at 8 o'clock. 25 cents for nine holes is the price fixed by the committee. No boy should charge more and no players should pay more. See the committee.

IS A BOOM COMING TO WAYNE THIS SEASON?

Probably not, but we do believe that our city is going to continue its steady growth, as it has in the past ten years. Just now there is opportunity for purchase of realty in many parts of the city. But that simply means that we may have more home owners and less renters—and with all respects for the renter, the home owner is the more staple citizen. This week two great auction sales are announced in this paper. One is of 160 acres, just north of the college. This is what is known as the Munsinger farm, and it is all of the best of land, in high state of cultivation, and just the place needed for the expansion of the home district adjoining the college. This sale will fill a want that has been felt here very much of late—giving opportunity for people seeking location at Wayne to have acreage practically in the city, and near the college.

A few years ago quite a tract of land was divided into lots and sold at auction. It looked like gutting the market at that time to see that cornfield cut into city lots. Look at it today. Nearly a half hundred homes have been built there.

So, we predict, this sale of lots and small tracts will bring more homes. September 20th is the date set for this sale, and the advertising will tell you of it.

A Sale of Homes

The other sale is one of a half dozen homes. These homes are to be sold on Saturday, September 16th, and you should arrange at that time to stop paying rent, and invest. People from other towns who are looking to Wayne for homes should not miss this offering. They are not all in one class—not all one price. From this variety, one may well select one that will meet their needs. Go see these places, and do it early, make your plans to attend the sale, and if any on the list is to be stolen—almost be there to get it.

A FAMILY GATHERING AT CRAIG

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Gossard of this place joined with Mr. and Mrs. McConaha of Hartington in a trip to Craig to attend a family picnic. Mrs. Gossard and Mrs. McConaha being sisters of the Bovee family who were the instigators of the gathering. They found that when traced out to the limit, the Bovee family and its relatives and offspring, and "in-laws" numbered near 200 who were assembled for their dinner that Sunday.

It was a happy gathering, with talent enough home grown to provide ample entertainment for all—and the well filled baskets brought furnished ample provision for all and many more. Mrs. Gossard said she could never remember seeing so much fried chicken or so many pies of so many different kinds of fruit.

One feature of the gathering was the meeting of a number of old people among them Mrs. Gossard's mother, 82, and others as old or nearly as old. Some of these elderly people had not before met for twenty years, and it was a real treat for them. Mr. and Mrs. Gossard returned Monday evening, and agree that it was one of the events of a life time.

WAYNE DEFEATS WIN-SIDE AS USUAL, 9-0

It certainly was a shame that Judge Landis, was not with us last Sunday at the Wayne ball park, or I fear he would have added to that already famous list of "Black Sox", whom he publicly denounced the names of a few, but not all of the Winside ball team, like the well known Chicago White Sox, Winside had a few men who were conscientious and gentlemanly enough, not to join in on the worst frame up that has ever been seen on any ball-park in these parts. The exact idea of this frame-up is still a question, that is, whether they spoke the game, so that Wayne would lose the large crowd that was gathered or whether they lacked the sportsmanship to face another disastrous defeat, as it was certain they were going to receive such, it doesn't seem feasible that the latter could be true, for they are certainly well used to defeat. However, they refused to play after a very close decision at home plate in the last half of the first inning, which of course you can judge from the above went against them. The peculiar part of it was that they didn't say that the decision was rotten or that any before in the game had been rotten, but merely removed their shoes and quit. Then the Wayne management, rather than disappoint the large crowd that had gathered, offered to the lowly players, to start the game over, or remove the last score, and declare the Wayne side retired, but to no avail, they wouldn't listen, and wanted to do nothing but go home. Usually a bunch of cowards never stroll that far from home or shelter in daylight, and possibly they saw their mistake and wanted to right themselves again.

We are satisfied that the fair minded Winside people who were at the game, were as disgusted as the Wayne fans for we know the people as a whole in Winside would not believe in that kind of baseball so next year place your team under different management, and rid of a few of the "Black Sox" and you will prove a more successful season.

WINSIDE TEACHERS

The corps of teachers is as follows: G. S. Hansen, Supt., Physical Science, and Advanced Mathematics.

Cecile Chambers, Principal, Mathematics, History, Biology.

John Agee, Assistant, Latin and English.

Gladys Mettlen, Seventh and Eighth grades.

Bessie Leary, fifth and sixth grades.

Myrtle Leary, third and fourth grades.

Josephine Carter, first and second grades.

There will be some changes in the general organization of the school for the coming year. The time schedule for the grades has been quite markedly altered in order to give a more balanced program giving the proper proportion of time to the various subjects.

In the high school there will be some change in the general courses of study. Especially in the courses in Citizenship and Biology will there be some change. The work in Citizenship will in addition to the regular History courses, include a course for the higher classes to cover considerable field in Social Science. The Biology, which will be one year's work will take the place of the traditional course in Botany and Physiology.—Tribune.

WAYNE DEFEATS WAUSA

At the game of ball that Wausa played against Wayne at the Laurel tournament on Wednesday of last week our boys never got a look in. The score at the close of the game stood 9 to 0 in favor of Wayne. Our boys feel, had they another chance at the Wayne bunch things might look different.—Wausa Gazette.

Sorry brother Anderson, but Wausa had another chance to get even until they called up the manager of the Wayne ball club and cancel the game by saying that the Wausa ball club had disbanded, but we have found out that there is nothing to that old stall, as Wausa played a game at home last Sunday (the day they were scheduled to play Wayne at Wayne) and also plays at Hartington and Bloomfield during the fair. Come out with the truth boys and say that you were afraid of another defeat.

THAT MASONIC PICNIC

One of the best of the annual picnics held at Wayne was that of last Friday evening when the Masons had a fine gathering of members and friends. To J. G. Mines is due much credit for the attendance of many citizens not of the order for the excellent address given by Rev. L. N. Doreen of Sioux City. Having heard this eloquent and outspoken divine, Mr. Mines urged the business houses to close their doors at 4:30 that all might hear this talk, and many took advantage of the opportunity.

We are sorry that we cannot review his excellent address—so full of good thought and sentiment, but no review we could give from the brief notes we made would do it justice and to those present is not needed. We can say with those who heard Rev. Doreen that we would not want to miss opportunity to again hear him lecture.

Following the speaking came supper and a jolly social hour with few sports and games.

MARRIAGES

Miller—Fitch

Mr. Lloyd Fitch and Miss Ethel Miller surprised their many friends at Wayne Tuesday, when they telephoned to her parents from West Point saying that they were married at that place at 10 o'clock.

Miss Miller is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Miller and has been employed in the Ahern store as clerk for nearly two years. Mr. Fitch is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fitch, and is a prominent business man, having charge of the Fairmont creamery. Both young people are well known in Wayne having lived here many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fitch will be at home to their many friends at Wayne after a short wedding trip.

Kennedy—Smith

Wednesday, September 6, 1922, at the county court house by Judge J. M. Cherry, Mr. Robert A. Smith of Laurel and Miss Ellen Kennedy of Stanton, were united in marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kennedy, a brother of the bride, accompanied them. As this is the third member of the Kennedy family Judge Cherry has officiated at the marriage of, he is of the opinion that it is a fine family, and they are. The bride and groom will live happily ever after, starting now at Laurel.

Clabaugh—Edwards

Thursday, August 31st, 1922, at the court house, County Judge J. M. Cherry united Alvin M. Edwards and Miss Helen K. Clabaugh, both of Hartington. The groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Edwards, while the bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Clabaugh, Iva Edwards and Harry Clabaugh came down with them. They will be at home on a farm west of Hartington.

Prince—Carlson

Saturday, September 2, 1922, at Winside, by Rev. E. T. Littrell of the Methodist church, Carl Edward Carlson of Sholes and Miss Emma Jane Prince of Winside. The bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Prince. The groom is rural mail carrier, and son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Carlson.

Saturday afternoon Miss Helen Fisher was at home to sixteen young ladies. The time was enjoyably spent in playing Five Hundred. The prize a beautiful box of stationery was awarded to Miss Elizabeth Gildersleeve. At 5:30, dainty refreshments were served. Those present were Misses Elizabeth Gildersleeve, Fanelle Senter, Katharine Strickland, Lella Mitchell, Edith Huse, Ruth Jones, Mary House, Lila Gardner, Maybel Britell, Grace Johnson, Peggie Melford, Margaret Mines, Alice Lewis, Helen Reynolds and Miss Alice Rightlot of Denver, in whose honor the party was given.

A RECITAL

Mrs. Grace D. Keysar presented the following pupils in a piano recital, Friday, September 1.

Beulah Johnson, Eletha Johnson, Kenneth Johnson, Wallace Johnson, Katharine Strickland, Kathryn Kemp, Bernice McMurphy, Ruby Hale, Mabel Hurst, Juna Schrumps, Mrs. Anna Gamble Johnson sang accompanied on the piano by her daughter Natalie.

They came, Margaret Fenske, Meriam Johnson, Margaret McMurphy, Mary Jane Johnson, and Esther Mayingham.

MRS. OLIVE DULLERUD, PIONEER WOMAN DIES

Thursday, August 31, 1922, death came to the home of Mrs. Olive Dullerud and claimed it aged occupant. She was born in Vardel, Norway, November 13, 1826, and passed away as noted above on the farm home nine miles southeast of Wayne, at the age of 95 years, 9 months and 18 days.

Came to America in 1852, and in an early day settled at Sloan, Iowa, where until 1889, when with a son and daughter she moved to their farm in this county, which was her home until time of her death; the husband and father, Ole Dullerud, having died at their Sloan home in 1868.

Four children are living, Nels and Etlan of Wayne, Mrs. Henry Russ of Chambers, Nebraska, and Mrs. Hansen of Hettinger, South Dakota.

Mrs. D. spent the last ten years of her life in darkness, her sight having failed then, and she bore her affliction with fortitude. The funeral service at the Evangelical Lutheran church in this city Monday, conducted by Rev. Fetterolf, her pastor, was largely attended, practically the entire home community coming to pay their tribute to the deceased and their sympathy to the living.

A NEAR BLAZE

Tuesday afternoon the fire alarm brought the fire trucks, chemical and hose to the front in quick time. Fire was discovered at the Johnson & Hawkins office, trying to break in—for it was at a side door, and outside. It burned the paper from the door, which had been placed there last winter, and was commencing on the building. The early discovery and prompt work made it of small matter. But the call, coming in a busy time of the day again demonstrated that a lot of auto drivers don't know what to do in case of a fire alarm. They are supposed to seek a place out of the way of the trucks and stop. Not get out and try to beat the firemen to the fire, and if they happen to do so stop their car where it will be in the way. Some time such curiosity will cost a smashup, and perhaps a life. Get in the clear when a fire alarm is sounded.

LESSMAN—ROGGENBACK

There was a pretty church wedding Wednesday afternoon, September 6, 1922, at the Lutheran church northeast of Wayne, when the pastor, Rev. Gherke united the lives of Carl Roggenback and Miss Edna Lessman in marriage. Many guests were present to witness the ceremony, and a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lessman at their country home northeast of Wayne. The groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Roggenback, and a prosperous young farmer. The young folks will be at home on a farm near Altona.

ANOTHER ACCREDITED HERD

Frank Chichester wants the people to know that while we said last week that H. J. Miner had the first accredited herd in Wayne county, he is not far behind him, for both last year and this year his herd, which consists of 35 Holsteins, was tested, and in both instances passed without a reactor. So Mr. Chichester has an accredited herd, and we are glad to report that to the people.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Wm. Baumgardner, who underwent a serious operation last week, is doing as well as could be expected, the nurse tells us. His was a serious operation, and conditions were far from favorable, but the fact that no other complications have developed give hope of recovery.

Mrs. Carl Baker underwent a major operation this week, and her symptoms point to recovery in due time.

Mrs. L. C. Gildersleeve, who is there for treatment, is said to be slowly improving in health.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks to Wayne friends for the floral offering and the aid and sympathy given us at the time we came bringing the body of husband and father.

Albert Victor left Monday afternoon for Concordia, Missouri, where he will attend school. Miss Beatrice Motson of Winside was a passenger to Randolph, Friday. She will teach at that place. Prof. and Mrs. Cooper who spent their summer vacation at Wayne have gone to Plainview, where he serves as superintendent of schools. Miss Nellie Strickland, left Friday morning for Livingston, Montana, she will teach school at that place. Miss Mary Hartswell, one of the Bloomfield teachers, visited Wayne friends Friday, while on her way from her home in the south part of the state to Bloomfield. Mrs. Raduechel and Mrs. Binger, who have been here taking Chiropractic adjustments, returned to their home at Wausa Monday morning. Miss Leona DeKay, who has been visiting here, at the Ben Ahlvers home, returned to her home at Randolph Saturday evening or Sunday. Miss Albia Putman, who was play supervisor at the park, left Saturday for her home at Ponca. Will return in a week and will attend the Normal. The 89th division of the army raised during the late war with Germany, holds a reunion in Omaha Sept. 20-22. Burton A. Smead, Denver is secretary. Miss Fannie Britell, who has taught several years at West Bend, Wisconsin, left last Thursday afternoon to be there to commence her school work. Miss Jessie Watson who is one of the staff of the Lincoln Star, was spending a few days at home last week, and Sunday afternoon left to join her parents in a visit at Warren, Illinois, and to visit other points in that state. Miss Mary Butcher who was visiting at the Jasper Ellerts, home at Coleridge, passed through Wayne Monday morning on her way home to West Point. She was accompanied to Wayne by Mr. and Mrs. Ellerts, who autoed over. Miss Lila Gardner went to Norfolk last evening to attend the meetings of the teachers of that city, to be held prior to assigning them places for their work the coming year. She was elected for a place in the grades of one of the schools. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gerlemann, who have been here visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Gerlemann, is brother, left Monday morning for Southerland, Iowa, where they will spend a short time. Mr. and Mrs. Gerlemann, are from Missouri. C. E. Nevin was here Sunday, driving over from Laurel with his sisters, Mrs. North and Mrs. Shepard, who left by train for Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where the former will consult her old family physician with a view of learning the cause of her gradually failing health. Mrs. G. W. Albert, who went to Omaha a week or more ago, visited their old family physician, Dr. A. P. Condon, and as a result underwent an operation at his hospital for appendicitis and other complications last week Tuesday. She is reported to be recovering nicely from the shock, and is expecting to be home before long now, in condition to again have normal health. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Oman drove in from Dalton Sunday morning, having been out there looking after their land and the grain harvesting. Mr. Oman says that they had a pretty good crop of wheat, running from 16 to 20 or more bushels per acre. Of course they are not now getting democratic prices for the crop, so that they are not feeling so terribly rich. They found the house open when they arrived, the daughters, Misses Fern and Francis, who have been on the chautauqua platform during the entire season having arrived the evening before. The young ladies had some varied experiences during the season. They traveled more than 6,500 miles in one of Henry's cars, and said that it was more sure this season than the railroads. Of course, it seemed to them at times as tho if dates were transposed it might save some travel; as for instance, driving 200 or more miles to fill an engagement, and next morning retrace nearly half of the distance to some town they had passed thru on their trip the day before. The constant question with them was the same as that of the marine who met the captain of the ship after it had been torpedoed—and both floating on a bit of wreckage. Saluting, he said, "Captain, where do we go from here?"

New Wayne Home For Quick Sale Because of the death of wife, I will offer for sale for the next thirty days, my beautiful, modern home in north part of Wayne, known to many as the William Rennick home, as he built it a few years ago. This house of some 10 or 12 rooms is one of the most thoroly modernized homes in Wayne, with every convenience for comfort provided. It is new, is located in one of the most favored portions of our city, and because I cannot longer use it, the opportunity comes to you to purchase if you want such a home for less than original cost. I invite careful inspection of the place, and will quote price and terms to those interested. R. R. SMITH, Owner Phone 318 WAYNE, NEBRASKA

ANY SIZE YOU WISH

These well-located and desirable home sites are located just north of, and adjoining the beautiful acreage of the Wayne State Teachers College. New streets have been opened and graded through this sub-division and same has been otherwise beautified so as to make it one of the show places of Wayne. The commanding view and desirable locality of this addition will assure the prospective investor of ever-increasing values, and now is the time to take advantage of this opportunity. Our survey has made it possible for you to obtain as much frontage for your home site as you wish, as experience has taught us that regular size lots will not please everyone. Therefore, if you so desire you can get a fifty, seventy-five, one hundred foot frontage, or in fact, any multiple of twenty-five. Remember the date—

LEGION MEN ASKING WHO GOT THE GOLD

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Under the caption, "Who got the money?" the American legion magazine has begun publication of a series of articles based on alleged war profiteering, beginning today. Exclusive of loans to the allies, the war cost the United States government something like $19,000,000,000, of which about $15,000,000,000 was expended in purchases of materials, the first article asserts. Life and property, men and munitions won the war, the article says. It then tells of a lieutenant, worn out with fighting, who during his rest period back of the lines continued to make out reports, one of which failed to report loss of two rifles. The price of these rifles was deducted from his pay. The article declares that officers at the front sometimes were tempted to believe that the government regarded property as more valuable than lives. Treatment accorded fighting men is compared with that given to rich and powerful companies at home which furnished food. An instance is cited in which it is charged that several million cans of rotten food were sold to the government for $8,600,000. The charges say further that despite a congressional report that this food was packed knowingly for sale to the army, the courts have thus far been denied the opportunity of deciding the case. The article asks whether equal justice was meted out to the soldiers and to the food sellers. The above, from a Chicago dispatch, has the approval of every honest citizen, and all such are hoping that the Legion investigation unearth the thieves, and arouses a public sentiment which will not be quieted until the guilty ones have not only been compelled to make restitution, but have paid a prison penalty—even if it is necessary to use their ill-gotten gains to build prisons to hold them while they meditate upon the enormity of the crime of sending patriotic young men to be slaughtered at the front while they remained in safety and comfort at home, and robbed them and their friends. We care not who are the guilty, turn on the light.

STANTON FAIR BOOSTERS VISITED WAYNE FRIDAY

Friday afternoon the Stanton county fair boosters were at Wayne with about thirty cars and a band of forty pieces—a juvenile band—and told of their coming fair, which is billed for September 19 to 22. They were a trifle weary, being near the end of a strenuous day—and a mighty hot day. They had been swinging around a circle taking in a lot of territory to the west and north of Stanton. The little folks made good music, and lots of it. The city was well covered with their advertising matter before they left.

Stanton county has been having some splendid fairs, and their program this year is for another one.

HOME OWNING

The census bureau reports that the total number of homes not on farms in the United States in 1920 was 17,600,000, of which 7,195,000 or 40.9 per cent. were owned by the occupants. Of these owned homes, 2,855,000, 39.7 per cent. were mortgaged. Information regarding the value of the homes and the amount of mortgage debt was obtained from 7,893,000, or 66.2 per cent. of the mortgaged homes. The total mortgage debt on the mortgaged homes not on farms in 1920 was estimated at 6,000,000,000 and their total value at $14,099,000,000, the ratio of debt to value being 42.6 per cent. This was an increase in the ratio of debt to value from 39.8 per cent in 1890.

WHERE SOME OF YOUR TAX MONEY GOES

If you want to get a more clearly defined idea why your taxes are so high, just take a drive down to Sixth and South street, south of the Gooch mills and cast your optics on to acres of roads making machinery there belonging to the state. There are scores of tractors of various kinds, half a dozen big power shovels, scores of dump wagons, trucks and implements of various kinds, most of it standing out in the weather, and has been for months. They are all labeled highway department, state of Nebraska, so you can not mistake to ownership of them.

In one of the sheds there is stacked up perhaps two car loads of tires for trucks and autos and the whole equipment very likely represents an investment of $500,000 or more of the tax payers' money, all mute evidence of the "beauties" of the coedode system and the reckless extravagance of the McKelvie administration.

City people make great fuss about farmers leaving their farm machinery out in the weather to go to wreck, but our state road department has the most careless farmer backed off the map in this respect. We would advise our farmer friends when they come to the big state fair to drive down to the storage ground and view the wreckage. It will give you food for thought and cause for righteous and unstinted cursing.

PEACHES GROWN ON TREES

STARTED BY FRED J. BUCK
Some twenty-five years ago when Fred J. Buck was enjoying one of his numerous outings on an island in the Platte river about west of Kearney he ate some peaches and planned the seeds in the island soil. Last week he received a box of peaches of an excellent quality from some young woman unknown to him but who had learned who deserved credit for these peaches' existence. She stated that the trees on which these peaches grew came from the seeds planted years before by Mr. Buck and that the trees had been bearing for years and in fact, were now beginning to die. Just how many people have relished the peaches in the past decade grown from the little thoughtful experiment of Mr. Buck perhaps no one knows, and it is equally doubtful if many of them who did enjoy this pleasure have any idea who was the sponsor.—Wisner Chronicle

Practically half of the idle ship tonnage of the world is American. We wonder why? Perhaps, if our tariff wall were not so high, we would be trading with other nations and hauling a part of the freight ourselves.

One-sixth of the tonnage of the world shipping is idle, says an exchange. It may that is true—but is that any reason why the government at Washington should tax the people of the United States to pay these idle American ships a subsidy—a bonus? If there are any bonuses paid, let's pay them to the soldier lads who earned them.

The governors of no less than five the only democrat in that great state who could be elected to office. And he was no democrat at all on the tariff question, and that has always been a paramount issue in Pennsylvania.

Is the cause of the government and the railroads in the recent strike trouble so weak, so wanting in a sustaining argument that the only thing they could do to defend their case before the public was to use the power of the courts to arbitrarily prohibit the right of free speech guaranteed by the constitution? Whether one has sympathies with the strikers or not—there are few indeed who would refuse them the right to talk.

The coal strike is settled, says the daily press in black headlines. That is wrong. The coal strike was a crime against the people, and the agreement between the miners and the operators cannot settle it. The best that can now be done, perhaps, is for the government to step in, as it should have done six months ago, and see that the distribution is properly made, and the public not wronged more, or robbed by extortionate prices.

"In the heart of the Black Forest," says a correspondent writing from Trillberg, Baden, Yankee whisky is on tap at 3 cents a drink. It is reported to be the real Kentucky brand, made in pre-prohibition days, and perhaps smuggled out of America to save it. If it can be established that this story is really true, a lot of fellows should hike that way, for the difference in price between this so-called good stuff and the Moonshine, of this land would make a saving that would soon pay their passage.

Time was when a 2:40 trot made people open their eyes and think the limit of race track speed had been great mass of common people? No, not so very strange, when one considers how frequently the special interests have their men selected and slated long before the voters realize why, and own them before and after election. This is a part of the "invisible government." When it becomes visible to the naked eye of the average voter it is too late to remedy except by impeachment—and the gang are so entrenched in congress as to make that almost impossible.

The Sunday morning papers announce the settlement of the hard coal strike. The miners return to work on the same scale that prevailed when they quit six months ago—the wage scale being agreed to for one year. Will we then have this all to do over again? Meantime the miners and the public have had the brunt of the discomfort to bear. If we have a government worthy of the name, it will now step in and see that coal prices are fixed at not more than the 1917 prices. That the operators should profit at the expense of the public for their refusal to operate during the past six months, would be rubbing salt into the wound.

Henry Ford keeps the writers on his paper the Dearborn Independent, busy with different reforms he believes are needed. The last number contained a page of matter directed against the evil of the concealed weapon. Beyond a doubt the indiscriminate carrying of revolvers is the cause of many murders where a few flat-cuffs would be as satisfying to the person who felt that he had occasion to fight, and not leave the life-long regret that must come to one who has the strain of murder branded on his brow. Much litigation would also be averted. The Democrat is willing to join with Henry in a war against the manufacture and sale of firearms that may be concealed about one's clothing or person.

A corporation may spread itself over the whole world, and it may employ a hundred thousand men, but the average person will usually form his judgment of it through his contact with one individual. This individual may be the information clerk in a branch office. If this person is rude or inefficient, it will take a lot of kindness and efficiency to overcome the bad impression.

As the writer has often said, every member of an organization, who, in any capacity, comes in contact with the public is a salesman, and the impression he makes is an advertisement, good or bad.

It takes a genius to make salesmen out of 100,000 men and women, but those of us who have smaller organization should be able to accomplish this without "genius."—Imperial Type Metal Magazine.

The house of representatives takes a very gingerly grip of the coal problem. With an election pending the house leaders fear to give the president the power to act vigorously in case the coal shortage becomes acute. Congressmen elected two years ago on promises to stop government interference with business are naturally reluctant to appeal for reelection on a record of government intervention in business such as has not hitherto been attempted save in time of war. The next few weeks will determine which is or would have been the politically wise course to take. If we muddle thru the coal and railway strikes without drastic measures or serious suffering, the conservative policy will appear to have been vindicated. Should October be filled with suffering and loss because of unsettled strikes, then a congress which goes before the country with a record of nothing done to prevent the catastrophe will have uphill explaining to do.—State Journal.

states have urged the president to seize the railroads—but there is nothing doing, and probably will not be until the people make their demand heard above the roar of the Wall street gang, who put the president in his little chair at Washington and are telling him what to do, and how and when to do that thing they say.

Senator Kendrick of Wyoming, who wears the label of the democrats in the senate, is voting with the republicans on the tariff question. He must be of some political relation to the late Representative Randall from Pennsylvania, who was spoken of as reached. Of course that was horses that made that record—and that is now slow for a horse—and not in it with the automobile; for we read of a car making a mile on a dirt track in 58 seconds flat the other day. Next we may expect to hear of them shoveling the dirt over all that could be found of some fast driver. He will wink out in a blaze of glory, but will be out, just the same.

Strange, it seems that there is always some fool fellow in house and senate at Washington ready to interpose objection to any measure introduced for the real benefit of the

WAYNE DEFEATS WAKEFIELD FIRST GAME OF SERIES 6 to 5

The three day ball tournament between Wayne and Wakefield is on. The game is at Wakefield today, and the game tomorrow will be held where the greater crowd of the two preceding games is found.

Wednesday the first game, at this place, was won by Wayne, 6 to 5. Wakefield led until the last part of the game, when Wayne found the ball and ran in six scores, almost in a bunch.

"Red" Donovan, the pitcher that Wayne released last week was on the mound for Wakefield but was forced to quit in the eighth inning on account of the Wayne players forcing him to use all that he had to hold them down in the first seven innings, when he left the box there was a man on first and no outs. Schultz going in the box gave our boys new life and they hit hard and with the few errors they were able to run in five more scores putting them in the lead the last half of the eighth. "Speck" Burke held Wakefield down to no scores in the first of the ninth making the score at the end of the game 6 to 5.

Those that did not see the game yesterday sure miss out on something and should see one of these games as it is a battle from start to finish. Wakefield is bound to beat Wayne, but at that they will have to go some as Wayne has one of the best, if not the best ball club in this part of the state.

Score by innings:
Wakefield 0 0 0 0 104 0 0 5
Wayne 0 0 0 0 0 1 8 6
Batteries: Wakefield, Donovan, Schults and Tribby. Wayne, Burke and Clark.

Sunday the home team will play against Pilger. Our team has twice won from Pilger, but the visitors are not yet satisfied that Wayne has the better team—so they try again. This may be the last game at Wayne—better go.

STUDENT LUNCHEONS

Normal students who return to the Normal this year, and the new ones as well, will find a new offering in lunches of all kinds, at the Hamilton Bakery green grill room. W. C. T. U. ladies are to open their season after the summer vacation with a meeting at the home of Mrs. Claude Mitchell Friday afternoon, and each member is urged to be present and help start the year work with vim. Roll call will be answered with plans for the year work, and each member may make a question that will be considered. Mrs. Mary Brittain is to lead the devotionals. Miss Francis Beckenhauer will sing a solo; Mrs. Geo. Fortner will read a selection from the Union Signal. Miss Leila Mitchell will give a piano solo, and Mrs. Kueger and Mrs. Beckenhauer have a place on the program for some part we could not quite understand over the telephone, but those who attend will be informed as to its nature. Refreshments will be served

The Wayne Womens Bible Study Circle began the years work at the home of Mrs. J. W. Zeigler and daughter on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Mrs. Pearl Beeks, the new president opened the session and Mrs. Edwin B. Young led the study in the book of Nehemiah the eighth chapter. All seemed hopeful of a blessed year's fellowship and the prayer season was much uplifting and encouraging. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Dora Benschopf on Tuesday afternoon of next week.

What's New Today?

Fortner wants your poultry. adv.

Mrs. Brunde of Bloomfield* was a passenger to Norfolk Wednesday where she will visit with relatives.

Pet Barnes and Fred Korff left Wednesday morning for Wray, Colorado, going there on a business and vacation trip.

Wm. Reinhart of Pilger died suddenly one day last week while he was watching with great interest a baseball game.

L. M. Owen says he received a cablegram from Leroy Owen that he had arrived safely in London and had a fine journey.

Miss Bessie Hiseox, who underwent an operation for appendicitis nearly two weeks ago at the Wayne Hospital, was able to return home Sunday.

Mrs. Clements who has been visiting at the home of her cousin Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Neely, returned to her home at South Sioux City Wednesday afternoon.

F. H. Jones, who has been at a sanatorium in Chicago for some weeks taking treatment and dieting, is home and apparently much better for his rest and treatment.

S. R. Theobald is home from a visit of three or four weeks in the east, in Illinois and Michigan. He did not miss the wholesale houses all of the time he was away.

We have just received a table showing the state taxes in 1915-1918 and in 1919-1922 for this county. Then we paid to the state $176,286; now we pay $421,633. Comment is not necessary.

Mrs. E. Wilander from Sacramento, California, who had been visiting her parents at Wausa, stopped here Monday on her way home to visit her sister-in-law, Mrs. Oscar Womberg.

Glenn Gildersleeves left the first of the week for Rochester, New York, where he is one of the instructors in music in the city schools. This is his second year at that place.

Mrs. A. Erickson from Wausa came to Wayne Tuesday morning to bid her sister goodbye, as she left for her home in California on the morning train. She spent the forenoon with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Oscar Womberg.

Take your cream, eggs and poultry to Kearns. adv.

Elmer Clasen and his brother Lawrence of Norfolk were passengers thru here Saturday for Chicago, where they will join their father who has been there for the past six or eight weeks. Elmer has work awaiting him there.

Mrs. Fred Winther from San Pedro, California, who has been visiting here since come to attend the 60th wedding anniversary of S. Fox and wife, left Tuesday for Sidney, where she will visit relatives for a few days, and then resume her home journey.

Miss Chyrl Iude of Pierson, Iowa, who was one of the graduates from the Normal, and is now teaching at Casper, Wyoming, where she has been several years, greeted a few friends at the station here Friday evening, while on her way to begin another school year.

Mrs. Henry Irsken, of Wall Lake, Iowa, who has been visiting with her sister Mrs. John Lueders, at Norfolk, and at the home of her nephew, Jack Denbeck, at Wayne left Wednesday morning for her home. Mrs. Lueders, will spend the rest of the week visiting at the Denbeck home.

Rev. Durliner of Carroll, and wife were passengers to Omaha Monday morning, going to attend the annual gathering of the Methodist ministers; and learn where will be their home for the next year. They hope and believe that they will be returned to Carroll.

Mrs. McVicker came over from Wakefield the first of the week, where she has been spending part of the summer. After a visit here and at Carroll it is her plan to return to Alliances to spend part of the winter at least at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Roe, her daughter.

While in Colorado L. M. Owen purchased two car loads of cattle, from one of the park ranges while in that state. Those who have brought cattle down from a mile or more high to this altitude, as Mr. Owen has, know that they respond wonderfully fast to the feed—that a bushel of corn fed to them makes more beef.

Mrs. Lusy Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wallace from Modale, Iowa, and Miss Ethel Smith from Missouri, Valley, Iowa, autoed to Wayne Saturday, expecting to be present at the sale of the Madden residence, but were too late. They also planned to visit at the home of Harry Stallsmith and wife, Mrs. Brown being like a mother to Mrs. Stallsmith—in fact was her foster mother, caring for her in her girlhood days. They returned Monday, but before going, expressed their admiration of the city of Wayne and the beautiful, fertile country surrounding. Their home is in the level stretches of the Missouri bottom lands, and our gently rolling lands looked good to them.

Wayne Home at Auction

Saturday, September 16

It is my intention to sell my modern 8-room house at auction Saturday, September 16, in conjunction with the B. W. Wright sale of property.

This home is modern in every respect, and is located on a lot 50x150, three blocks west of the State Bank, and one and one-half blocks south of the High School.

To any one wanting a home, I can say to you in all sincerity that this house will fill the bill.

Remember I Am Going to Sell

Mrs. W. H. Gildersleeve and daughter Elizabeth, went to Sioux City Wednesday morning and spent the day there.

Miss Katherine Cavanaugh, of Neola, Iowa, who has been visiting at the home of her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cavanaugh, left Wednesday for Norfolk, to visit other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Armstrong, who spent Sunday visiting with her parents Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Welsh, and with his mother Mrs. Ellen Armstrong return to their home at Sioux City Monday.

Mrs. Jake Welbaum, who received a message Wednesday morning, telling of the serious illness of her mother Mrs. J. W. Ott, left for Grand Island. Her mother is in the St. Vincent's hospital.

Leonard Jones of Carroll passed through Wayne Wednesday morning, on his way to Winside where he will spend some time visiting with friends, he was accompanied by his mother Mrs. Grace Jones.

Mrs. Lillian Brown, Miss Lyle Clayton and Miss Cocker left Wednesday afternoon for Chicago where they will take a year course in a hospital. The three ladies have been nurses at the hospital some time.

Miss Bessie Carhart from Los Angeles, who has been visiting a sister at Magnet, left Tuesday for her home. Her uncle, T. S. Carhart and wife, were visiting her during her short stay at the station that morning.

C. W. Demel, who with his wife was here last summer visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Griffith, told us at that time that he had filed for the democratic nomination for the state senate. Mr. Griffith has just received word to the effect that he had won the first heat, and is nominee of the democrats for the seat.

L. M. Owen returned Tuesday evening from a visit at Denver and at Longmont, Colorado, where his sister, Mrs. Dorsett lives. He reports that he found Mrs. Dorsett and daughter well, and comfortably situated. Of the country out that way, he remarked that he had never seen it look better—especially where they have irrigation farming.

Among those from a distance who attended the funeral of Mrs. O. Dulerud here last Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Molstad from Sioux City, Mrs. Julia Molstad, Gus and Miss Amelia Hurstad from Sloan, Iowa, and the daughter, Mrs. Hansen and Mrs. McFarland from Hettinger, South Dakota, and Mrs. Henry Russ from Chambers in this state.

Carl C. Thompson, who moved to Lancaster, California a couple of years ago, came last week to look after his farm land here and visit friends. He likes his new home very well, and says that he must hurry thru here and get back to put up hay for they grow that crop where he is for the dairy farms nearer Los Angeles. Tho they live in the same county, they are fully 70 miles from the city. Before returning he will visit South Dakota, where he has land interests to look after. Mr. Thompson says that they feed their dairy stock all summer; but that it some places they have a winter pasture for them. Speaking of the range grazing, back in the hills, he says that is different from here, for here an acre will pasture more than two head, and there it takes from ten to sixteen acres for each animal.

John Vennerberg, wife and daughter Esther drove to Norfolk Sunday and spent the day there at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, their daughter.

There should be a crowd of home seekers at Wayne the 16th and also the 20th to pick their place out. Every day and every day do we see people hunting a place in which to live in this good town, and every day do we see them fail to find what they want.

R. W. Senter of Omaha paid a visit to his cousin V. A. Senter of this place, the first of the week, and renewed acquaintance with old friends and familiar scenes, tho the friends found were few, and the scenes changed. Mr. Senter was a student at the Normal here 27 years ago, when it was a new institution of learning, and as he had not visited Wayne since that time the change on the hill was quite marked. In fact, it was little of the old school days that remained. Such visits tend to convince a man that old age is creeping on, whether he feels it or not.

The Event Extraordinary

Stupendous Sacrifice Sale of Wayne Residences and Building Lots to be Sold at

AUCTION

Saturday, Sept. 16

In Wayne, Nebraska

I want to be frank with you and tell you candidly that the only reason in the world that I have for selling these properties at this time is because I must raise money and that money means more to me just now than does the ownership of these properties. It is not my purpose to leave Wayne, but rather I want to continue in business here as I have many varied interests and in order to do this I must have the money from these properties to carry on successfully. Wayne is recognized as a town possessing advantages that are not equalled in any town of like size in the State of Nebraska. The State Teachers' College and high school and the many miles of brick paving coupled with the fact that Wayne is one of the best business towns in the state, are excellent reasons why the ownership of a home in this town is a distinct asset.

Remember This is a Bonafide Sale

There will be no reservations or by bids. It is my purpose at this time to sell these properties to the highest bidder.

MR. RENTER—You can't afford to pass up this opportunity. Buy a home with the rent you are now paying and do away with that ever present bugbear, the fear of moving.

THE SALE WILL START PROMPTLY AT 2 P. M.

Below is a description of the Properties to be sold

NO. 1—Lot 1, block 2, Britton and Bressler's addition to Wayne, consisting of choice residence lot 150x150 on corner directly north of R. R. Smith property. Easy distance from Normal School.

NO. 2—South 50 feet, lot 1, block 1, Spahr's addition to Wayne. This is a six-room house, modern, lying directly across street east of the hospital, close to Normal School, and desirable.

NO. 3—Lot 7 and south 1-2 of lot 8, block 5, Lake's addition to Wayne. This is known as the Spear's property on Seventh street, one block east of Main street. This is one of the best building sites available in Wayne.

NO. 4—Lot 7 and south 1-2 of lot 8, block 2, Lake's addition just east of A. M. Helt property. An eight room house, desirable in every way. Close to Normal School. Both No. 3 and 4 have east fronts, in fact, are in southeast corner of this respective blocks.

NO. 5—Lots 4 and 5, block 27, original Wayne; good five-room house two blocks west of depot and known as the Max Moeller property.

NO. 6—Lot 29, Taylor & Wachob's addition. This property is an eight-room house, modern in every way and located three blocks west of depot on First street on a full half block of ground.

On the same day I. C. Trumbauer will sell his strictly modern 8-room house, located 3 blocks west of the State Bank of Wayne. This will be a REAL buy in a home for someone.

TERMS OF SALE:

These properties will be sold on terms that will be extremely easy, in fact, so easy that almost anyone can handle any of these propositions. A full explanation as to encumbrances, etc., on properties will be made sale day.

Anyone wishing to inspect any of these properties prior to sale day may call me and I will be glad to show same to them.

HARD ON THE POETS

"I'M SCHEDULED to recite 'Annabel Lee' at an entertainment tonight," confessed the retired merchant. "I've been repeating the poem to myself almost constantly for several days, and know every comma in it, but I'm afraid that when I stand up to recite, I'll have forgotten every word of it."

"I hope so," said the hotelkeeper. "Such a poem as 'Annabel Lee' deserves better treatment than you are qualified to give it. You have a voice like a guinea hen, and you telescope your words, and you don't know any more about poetry than a porcupine knows about Paradise. If you'd stand up and recite a few pages from a mail-order catalogue I have no doubt you'd put the proper feeling into it, and move your audience to tears, but it's a crime for a man like you to mangle a beautiful poem, full of sentiment and melody."

"There ought to be a law against that sort of thing. Some of the best poems in the country have been ruined by common or garden elocutionists. Nowadays people smile when you mention 'Curfew Must Not Ring Tonight.' It has been recited so much by people with cracked voices that it has become a joke. Yet if you examine the poem calmly and impartially you will find that it has a great deal of merit."

"In the schools the pupils are permitted to recite some of our best poems, and the poems aren't fit for anything after it. The school authorities should prohibit this sort of thing, and prepare a volume of cheap asbestos poetry that is fool proof, that can't be injured, no matter what you do to it. There is plenty of punk poetry in the world, and a collection of this stuff would serve the schoolboy elocutionists just as well as the high class poetry that is so easily spoiled."

"When I went to school, about a hundred years ago, there was a tall, freckled, gangling boy, who talked through his nose, with a sort of whine that sounded like filing a saw. There was to be a school entertainment, and this boy was down for a recitation. The teacher never asked him what he was going to recite, but gave him the right of way. Teachers continue to make the same mistake, even as we go to press. They should choose the poems which are to be butchered to make a Roman holiday and select something that won't rip, ravel or run down at the heel."

"This boy stood up before the school and droned through Gray's 'Elegy.' Now, that's one of the best rhymes ever composed. It was written by a journeyman poet who put in seven years at it, in the time when they had ten-hour days. He wanted to leave behind him a poem that would stand the severest tests of the government inspectors, and he did. In my opinion there is nothing better in any language. It is rather melancholy, but it has a sort of doggone soothing quality that is a balm to the bruised spirit of a landlord when he finds that the receipts of his hotel don't equal the expenses."

"Time and again, when discouraged and played out, I have started to read that poem, and as soon as I get fairly into it, I seem to see that blamed gangling schoolboy, in his high-water garments, and hear him droning through those verses, making a noise like a sawmill on a wet day. It's more than forty years since he made a violent assault upon the Elegy, but it seems like yesterday. It's the same way with Hamlet's 'Soliloquy.' Every time I hear or see that gem I think of a fat youth who recited it in our school, and then I burst into tears. "There's no sense in such a business, and congress ought to do something, doggone it."

BEST VARIETIES OF BROOM CORN

Success With Crop Depends Largely on Proper Care During Harvesting Period.

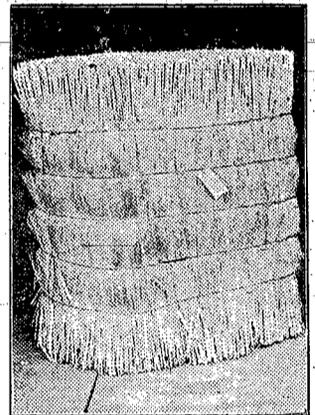

FIRST PICK MATURED HEADS

Proper Time for Harvesting Is When Fiber Is Deep Green From Tip to Knuckle—Avoid Immature and Overripe Brush.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Success in handling either of the two varieties of broom corn produced in the United States—Standard and Dwarf—depends to a large extent on proper care during the harvesting period. Even with the most efficient systems of distribution it is impossible to overcome the handicap of an inferior product, says the United States Department of Agriculture in a new publication, Department Bulletin 1019, Marketing Broom Corn, prepared by G. B. Algulre, assistant in marketing hay and broom corn.

Selection of Heads.
The selection of properly matured heads is a matter for first attention. Broom corn is in the proper stage for harvest when the fiber is deep green from tip to knuckle, a stage that may be reached when the head is in bloom or not until the seed is in the dough stage. Immature fiber lacks elasticity, shrivels perceptibly on curing, and presents an uninviting appearance when baled. Overripe brush is equally undesirable.

Preventable waste among manufacturers can be traced in many instances to the first steps in harvesting. In general, anything unfit for use in the manufacture of brooms should, so far as practicable, be left in the fields. To command the best price, broom corn must be free from seed and well baled.

Methods of Handling.
The bulletin discusses the various methods of handling broom corn on the farm and in the process of distribution, including marketing, practices employed by various classes of dealers, methods of sampling, storage facilities, and co-operative marketing. Copies of it may be had free upon application to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

GRASS GROWN WITHOUT SEED

Best Strains Have Been Developed by Cutting Up Runners From Thrifty-Looking Spots.

Many good turf grasses that reproduce by runners have lost the habit of producing seed, and for this reason the United States Department of Agriculture has been experimenting with the vegetative propagation of some of the most satisfactory strains of bent grasses. Better strains have been developed by finding spots in lawns and on golf courses where the turf was particularly good, cutting up the runners and planting these cuttings in increase plots. Most of this work has been done in northern states, although some good strains of Bermuda grass have been selected which give promise of value in the South.

A number of commercial growers have been working on these improved grasses and now have cuttings for sale. However, it is possible for a person to improve his own lawn or for a golf club to improve the turf on the course by selecting spots where the grass is particularly good and growing the cut runners in rows in a garden or field. When the good strain has been increased sufficiently in this way the old lawn or turf may be plowed up and the new strain established.

POULTRY LITTER HELPS SOIL

Straw Filled With Droppings Is One of Most Valuable Fertilizers for Gardens.

Poultry litter, particularly straw filled with droppings, is one of the most valuable fertilizers for gardens and small fruits. It is particularly worth while where clay soils are to be worked, because in a few seasons the addition of this litter will completely change the character of the soil and give one a rich, friable and easily worked soil capable of producing almost any garden crop, whether vegetables or flowers.

CREIGHTON UNIVERSITY

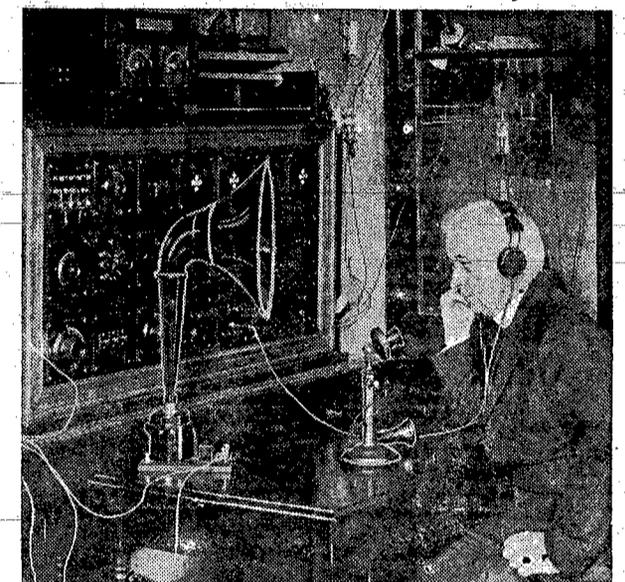

Asks Two Million Dollars for Building Expansion and Endowment.

President McCormick Broadcasts Expansion Plans From Omaha Grain Exchange Radio Station.

The first public announcement of Creighton University's $2,000,000 Building and Endowment Campaign was flashed to the press by Reverend John F. McCormick, President of the University, from the Radio station in the Omaha Grain Exchange at 8:30 last night.

President McCormick started his message at 8:30 P. M. and finished at 8:40. The message was picked up by all the principal receiving stations throughout the state as well as by the receiving station at the University.

President McCormick Tells of Needs.
President McCormick in his message said: "The time has come when Creighton University must either forge ahead or stand still. We have grown so rapidly in the past few years that we are obliged to turn away hundreds of students who knock at our doors for an education.

"We cannot stand still; to do so would mean the loss of all of the prestige that it has taken nearly half a century to build up. We must be continually forging ahead.

"In planning to increase the facilities and improve the educational advantages of Creighton, we feel certain that this appeal for funds will not be in vain. Remember, Creighton is not asking for money in order to increase salaries or reduce indebtedness.

"Creighton is asking for financial aid in order to take care of the increased demands that each succeeding year brings forth. Our expansion program must be carried forward with all possible speed if we hope to keep pace with the times and meet these demands as they present themselves. "Some of our friends may think that Creighton University has ample endowment.

"In the year 1916 there were 984 students. Last year's enrollment totaled 1988—an increase of more than 100% in five years.

Creighton Endowment Fund No Longer Adequate.
"The endowment fund established by the Creighton family was more than adequate in 1916 to care for all of the needs of the University. Our student-body however has more than doubled within the past five years and the demands made upon our income have increased accordingly. Our endowment funds have not been increased by any new bequests during this period.

"At present our endowment is only $3,885,000 and a comparison with the endowment of other Universities shows how modest it really is. Harvard has an endowment of $45,000,000, Chicago $30,000,000 and Washington

RED CLOVER MILDEW SERIOUS THIS YEAR

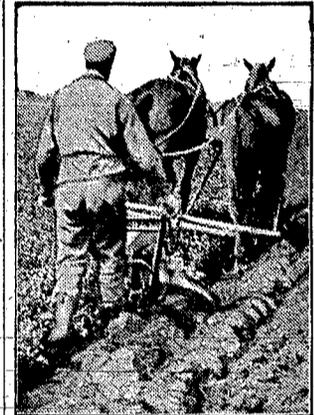

Severe Infestation Has Appeared in Several States.

Department of Agriculture Anxious to Secure Reports From Various Sections, Particularly as Affecting Horses.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The first severe infestation of mildew on red clover in this country has appeared east of the Mississippi from Wisconsin to Georgia this year. This mildew makes the plants look white. Last fall it was quite prevalent in the South and is worse there this summer.

The amount of harm it does is a question yet unanswered. Some reduction in the yield of hay is due to it, but this is not great. There are rumors, however, that the eating of mildewed hay causes inflammation in horses' mouths. The Ohio experiment station reports a quotation from a German writer stating that mildewed clover hay causes stomatitis in horses.

Turning Under Red Clover to Improve the Soil.

Unfortunately the exact identity of the mildew on American red clover has not yet been determined. When American seed is planted side by side with European seed, the mildew appears on the plants from American seed while only a trace of mildew appears on those from European seed.

The United States Department of Agriculture would be glad to get reports regarding the mildew in different parts of the country. It is particularly interested in learning if horses eating the mildewed red clover hay are affected.

EFFICIENT THRESHING HINTS

Uniform, but Not Too Rapid Feeding. Constant Speed of Machine and Adjustment.

A few points to keep in mind for efficient threshing are: uniform feeding, not too rapid feeding, constant speed of the machine, and proper adjustment. Many times when a thresher is anxious to complete his job, the work is rushed through at considerable loss to the owner of the grain. Greater personal interest in each job usually makes the small threshing outfit more desirable than the large one. With the large outfit a part of the crew is usually a long distance from home and they do not have the same interest in the work as when the entire crew is made up of men on adjacent farms.

CONTROL OF TUBERCULOSIS

Whole Areas Should Be Cleaned Up Rather Than Scattered Herds to Be of Permanence.

Tuberculosis in cattle cannot be kept under control, much less eradicated, if grade animals and single cows owned by families are omitted in the clean-up of any territory. Whole areas, therefore, like townships and counties, should be cleaned up rather than scattered herds, if the work is to be of permanent value and handled in the most economical way, says the United States Department of Agriculture.

DAIRY COWS ARE IMPROVING

In 45 Cow-Testing Associations in Nine Western States, 9,484 Make More Than 40 Pounds.

Dairymen in the 45 cow-testing associations in the nine western states now own 9,484 cows that have made more than forty pounds of butterfat in a month. Not many years ago a 40-pound cow was a rarity. There is much room for improvement, however, in the general run of herds in all parts of the country, says the United States Department of Agriculture.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT YOUNG

Eighty-Five Per Cent of American Highways Are Yet to Be Improved in Some Way.

While highway improvement has made tremendous strides in the United States in recent years it is still in its infancy. Eighty-five per cent of American roads are yet to be improved. It is not now so much a question of raising the money required to build good roads as it is the problem of spending wisely the large sums available in every state for this purpose.

THE ENVELOPE'S NEWS

"I have some news for you," said the envelope to the stamp.

"One Was So Dull."

to make us read them all the time that it was difficult for me to say anything to you."

"Ah, yes," said the stamp; "how those post cards did behave. One was so dull and kept insisting that we should listen to it as it told us that a person named Molly wrote to a person named Maggie, and said:

"Dear Maggie: I'm too busy to write a letter. I am working very hard. I would write you now only I must go out. E. is well and so am I. I hope you are too. Have you darned the stockings yet? Af, Molly."

"The 'Af' meant affectionately, the post card told us. It also added that people almost always wrote 'Af' instead of 'Affectionately' on post cards, because they always cut everything short on post cards, their affection, too!

"And then, of course, another reason was that people didn't want to say anything they knew or thought on a post card, which could be read by any one.

"Well, post cards are pretty dull. Especially those kinds that have no pictures and are full of things such as we heard.

"If they only wrote something exciting or interesting I would not mind. But they seldom do.

"I know of one that did. I heard of this one through a stamp friend.

"The person wrote on a post card: "I am in Florida and it is December, and yet there are roses and violets and jonquils in the garden. There are big spiders, and little red ants, too."

"Now that was an interesting post card. So many people who write post cards from beautiful places will simply write: "Here is where we are. Wish you could be with us."

"Now the person to whom they are writing cannot be with them and it would be far better if they gave just a little nice description of the place.

"There seems to be something dull about the family of postcards.

"But here I am talking on about these old postcards and I'm just as dull and yet I have been taking up all the time in talking just as they did.

"Do tell me your piece of news, envelope."

Now the stamp was on the envelope and the envelope was lying on a table in a little apartment in a city home.

The envelope had been opened. "Well," the envelope began, "I will tell you at once. A lady from the country sent a little pressed hepatica and a pink trailing arbutus in me. And I carried these two little flowers in a letter and you did the rest of the work, stamp!

"But when the flowers were taken out do you know that they had not lost one bit of their fragrance? They were just as sweet as sweet could be. The hepatica simply had a little woodland smell but the trailing arbutus was just so sweet.

"And oh, it made the people all so happy. It was like a lovely spring whiff of the woods.

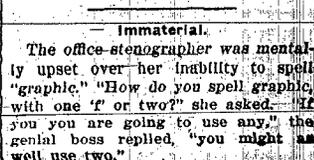

"And I was so glad that I had been able to protect the flowers on their journey." "Just as Sweet."

"Well," said the stamp, "and to think that all the time the old postcards were talking I was carrying the freshness and loveliness of the woods.

"We do have adventurous, interesting lives, we stamps. And you, envelopes, and your family are our faithful, dear friends. We would never have half the adventures and half the excitement if it weren't for you."

"Your news is fine springtime news, too!"

"Immaterial. The office stenographer was mentally upset over her inability to spell 'graphic.' "How do you spell graphic, with one 'f' or two?" she asked. "If you are going to use any," the general boss replied, "you might as well use two."

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Mabel Hanson left this morning for Norfolk where she will teach school.

Wm. Buetow and family drove to Sioux City this week to visit their daughter.

Mrs. Luth of Butte, who was here for the funeral of her grandmother Mrs. Dullerud, returned home today.

Chas. Buetow was at Wisner and Beemer Wednesday, going to visit a sick uncle in the vicinity of the latter place.

A nice little rain Wednesday night helped a little to make cooler weather and settle dust—but we can stand more.

Mrs. J. S. Gamble left this morning for Thurston, where she will spend a week visiting with her son Arthur Norman.

The Queen Esthers of the Methodist church had a business meeting at the home of Miss Elsie Lerner Wednesday evening.

Miss Bayble Britell was hostess at supper Wednesday evening to a number of her friends. An enjoyable evening was spent.

The Womans club will meet Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Community house for a business session, followed by a kennington.

Miss Verna Bevins, a teacher at the high school, who is ill, returned to her home at Fremont this morning, she will return as soon as she recovers.

Miss Lila Gardner went to Norfolk Wednesday evening to attend the meeting of teachers there, being held today and tomorrow, before making final assignment of places. She has been hired for grade work in the schools there.

Harry Shantz of the class of '21 at the Normal arrived at Wayne last evening to resume study at the Normal for a degree. He spent a year in Alberta, Canada and taught in a rural school. He spent the summer vacation in Ontario and in Michigan, sight seeing and visiting.

Mrs. Wm. Hawkins gave a miscellaneous shower Thursday afternoon in honor of Miss Helen Main. The afternoon was spent in playing bridge. At the close of the afternoon's enjoyment refreshments were served. Miss Main was presented with a basket full of packages and requested to open them, and were found to contain beautiful and useful presents.

Mrs. Henry Brune, Mrs. Bill Beune, Mrs. Oscar Hoeman and three children and Miss Kurlmeyer, left this morning for St. Louis, Missouri, where they will spend a short time visiting with relatives. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gerleman, of Geard, Missouri, who have been here visiting at the home of his brother Otto Gerleman from St. Louis they will return to their home.

John Larson from southern California arrived Tuesday evening to look after his land and home interests here, and visit relatives and friends. He remarked that it had been hot at his California home as well as in Nebraska. He had left his folks well—but left them in California this time. He said that southern California was feeling the general depression in money matters and that as one of the results building was slowing up very materially.

Mr. and Mrs. John Grimsley, who recently purchased the A. R. Davis residence, arrived last week from Springfield, Illinois, where they have been living for several years. This makes the third or fourth time that Mr. and Mrs. Grimsley have moved to Wayne. They come, purchase property, occupy it, identify themselves with community interests for a time, sell and move away, remain a time, and then sell at some other place and gravitate back to Wayne, where they are always welcome. Of late, when they moved away, it has been rather taken for granted that they are simply away from Wayne for an extended visit.

Will Morgan and family from Southern California were here last week for a short visit with old neighbors. Mr. Morgan said that he had not been in California for a number of months—not since early spring; but had been looking after his land and crops in the western part of Nebraska, and after the school closed the wife and family had joined him in the western part of the state and remained until after harvest. They have been visiting at Red Oak, Iowa, for a time, and are now on their way back to their California home before school opens for the coming year. Mr. Morgan said that his wheat in this state had been returning from 18 to 30 bushels, and that he has about 11,000 bushels from this harvest.

WHAT TOWNLEY SAID AT GRAND ISLAND MEETINGS

"When we quit getting offices for ourselves we disarm the opposition. We prove that we desire nothing but the good of the state. We ask nothing for ourselves but that which we ask for all."

In this manner did A. C. Townley, organization manager of the National Nonpartisan League summarize the results of the "balance of power" idea to two meetings in Grand Island last week. Mr. Townley, former president of the League, addressed a meeting of union men at the Labor Temple Friday night and a crowd which packed the hall at Lion Grove Saturday afternoon at the farmer barbecue. He said, in part:

The active forces against the League have been the hundreds and thousands of various kinds of politicians, men who would do anything to get and keep office. These politicians fought the farmer organization because it was out to get their jobs. Big business backed them. All the world accepted the League on its merits—that is, its political and economic program—except big business, which had the support of the politicians. This alliance beclouded the vital issues by calling up personalities and extraneous matters. Therefore, if we get the politicians to leave us alone while we talk to the farmers, it will not be long before we shall convince the whole state of the value of our program.

If politicians would do anything to get in office—and they will—they will do as much to stay in. We have the price to pay them for their allegiance to our cause—the office. Our concerted power at the polls can swing elections either way. It is within our means to take office away from these men. Reactionaries will have to treat us fair—else they will stay at home. Progressives will support our program, for they will not be dependent upon vested interests for their office. We will support candidates who, insofar as possible, will support what we want. We desire only our economic program. We are willing to let the rest of the people get what they want. I am not interested in a third party. I am not against it on theoretical grounds, except that this country appears to be a two-party country. But I am not willing to waste any more energy on it. Let the extremists do that.

The important thing to bear in mind is that we are only going to make a little step. All of the time we shall do the best we can. The people have discovered that they can not go as fast as they were made to believe.

This principle can win the next election in this state. Our support of candidates of progressive tendencies in all parties should insure their election. The Nonpartisan League, then, can go before the people of this state on clean, straight grounds—our economic program. When we do away with hampering politicians, we start on the road to success. When we decide an election taxes will be reduced, and there will be commenced an effort to lessen the spread between the producer and the consumer—or else—out go all the politicians.—New State.

WAYNE SCHOOL OPENS

The enrollment of the city school started in well. The enrollment the first day was 450, and 190 of them are in the high school. There is a marked increase in the attendance of non-resident pupils in the high school. Wayne public school records do not give proper estimate of the school attendance here, unless taken in connection with the attendance at the Normal training school. There they carry the full course of study from kindergarten to 12th grade, and the greater part of their enrollment in the lower grades are Wayne pupils.

MAKES MONEY ON BABY BEEF

Wm. Cammenzind used good judgment last summer when he invested in 123 head of calves which weighed about 400 pounds each at that time. Last week he shipped them out at Omaha, going from Pender, and got a top price of $10.30 and $10.35, says the Wisner Chronicle.

He made a gain on them of 500 pounds each and a good gain per hundred on the original cost of their weight of four hundred pounds each and we are informed cleaned up between $7,000 and $8,000 although we did not get this information direct from Mr. Cammenzind, but trust that it is accurate, or if wrong that the print named is too low.

WEEKLY MARKET NEWS LETTER

CATTLE—Trade on all classes has shown a healthy tone this week, plain and short-fed steers recovering 25 and 40 cents from last week's decline, and best grades corn-fed to 25 cents higher. Stockers and feeders strong to 25 cents higher. She-stock 25 and 50 cents higher. Veals 25 and 50 cents higher. Other classes steady.

HOGS—The hog market has been uneven this week. Butchers are mostly 5 and 10 cents higher than week ago. Shipper demand fairly active. Packing sows 35 and 45 cents lower. Stock pigs 50 cents lower.

GRAIN—The wheat market continues uncertain. Cash wheat advanced 1 and 2 cents, and Chicago cash No. 2 hard closed Friday at $1.03 1-8.

CORN—Corn worked toward lower levels early this week in sympathy with wheat and in spite of unfavorable weather conditions in the corn belt, but later advanced on account of low private crop estimates.

POTATOES—Potatoes carlot movement was about 1,800 cars heavier than last week. Supplies heavy, demand moderate, market dull. Nebraska early Ohio, U. S. grade No. 2, brought mostly 70 and 75 cents f. o. b.

DAIRY—Receipts of butter at the four principal markets were somewhat heavier than last week due to delayed shipments. Production is beginning to show a decrease, due in part to unfavorable weather in producing sections. Extras sold Saturday in Chicago at 36 1-2 cents.

POULTRY—Receipts of eggs at the four principle markets continue to decrease. Stocks in storage 1,293,000 cases in excess of year ago, a decrease in the surplus of 50,000 cases for the week. Local price, 21 cents.

POULTRY—Receipts of dressed poultry at the four principal markets show a heavy decrease from week ago. Local prices, live poultry, Hens (light) 15 cents, (heavy) 17 cents Springs, 19 cents; roosters, 10 cents.

INDIAN WINS ROUND IN LONG FIGHT FOR CLAIM

Hiram Chase, full blooded Omaha Indian attorney, yesterday won another round in his long legal battle for possession of forty acres of land on the reservation in Northern Nebraska, when Judge Woodrough informed the district attorney that the writ of forcible entry against Chase is invalid, since such action can be brought only a less than one year from the time of the possession.

The 40-acre argument has been going on since 1870. Chase has fought for the land in every court in America.

The heirs of Rose Wolf Setter, Indian, are claiming the 40-acre tract. Chase was recently cited for contempt of refusing to obey a supreme court mandate ordering him to leave. The forcible entry and detainer writ followed this, and Chase came out victorious.

There is $9,000 tied up in the estate and Judge Woodrough held that the heirs are entitled to it, but Chase was given three days in which to furnish a $10,000 supersedeas bond.

"I don't seem to have any show at all in this court," complained Chase. "I'm sorry to have you say that," responded Judge Woodrough. "I am always glad to hear you."

Thomas L. Sloan, another Indian, but not full blooded, was attorney for the heirs fighting for the forty acres.—World Herald.

A REMEDY FOR CLOVER BLOAT

Perhaps it is more of a preventative than a remedy, that Mike Lower, one of the prosperous farmers of Wayne county, told us of. Perhaps it is not new to many farmers, but if this telling saves some farmer an animal, he can well feel that his Democrat has paid its way for several years, if he gets nothing else of value from it. Mr. Lower always has a stack of straw in a field he is planning to pasture clover or alfalfa from and he says that he never loses an animal thus protected. He notices that when the pasture is wet and in condition to cause bloat the animals will go to the straw pile and eat of it, after feeding a short time on the green feed. Thus it seems that the animals know the remedy and will use it, if it is provided where they may have access to it. Mr. Lower tells us that he learned this from a neighbor about twenty years ago.

CAN MONEY SAVE THEM?

The "Boys-Get-The-Money-Brigade" of the G. O. P. is once more going up and down Broadway, Wall street, Liberty, New and Pine in New York, State street in Boston and other thoroughfares where men suspected of having money may be domiciled, humming the same old words sung to the same old tune: "Help me, Croesus, or I sink," that have resounded every two years now for a half century. "Since 1872, this gang of political blackmailers—half mendicant and half bandit—have been industriously plying their trade—a trade that should long ago have been outlawed by the American conscience.

Now the gang is led by one Alles whose patronymic, if nothing else, seems to qualify him for the job. Once the marauding outfit was liced into shame by Dudley of Indiana whose "Work the floaters in blocks of five!" has not yet ceased to be a stench in the nostrils of descent men.

Then Matty Quay successfully tried his hand at the job.

Then Hanna ably succeeded Quay. Wilcox, who managed the Hughes campaign in 1916, began to "touch" in June and kept on "touching" till Saturday before the first Tuesday in November.

In 1918, Will Hays made his "drive" on every one that either enjoyed, or expected to enjoy privilege at the hands of the G. O. P. In 1920, Hays perfected his system of extortion, wringing from republicans a larger campaign fund by half than had theretofore been raised.

After eighteen months of republican misrule the gang that digs up the money to put G. O. P. candidates over once more take the field, knocks at the doors of every privilege beneficiary and practically says: "If you wish to keep on robbing the public, you've got to let us keep on robbing you."

All checks should be made payable to Alles.—Louisville Courier Journal.

LEGAL NOTICE

In the District Court of Wayne County, Nebraska.

In the matter of the application of Fred Volpp guardian of the estate of Magdalena Danielson, insane, for leave to sell real estate.

To Magdalena Danielson, her next of kin, and all persons interested in the above estate:

On the 22 day of July, 1922, Fred Volpp, guardian of the estate of Magdalena Danielson, insane, filed a petition in the district Court of Wayne county, Nebraska, praying that he may obtain a license to sell a life estate in lot eight (8), Block six (6), North Addition to Wayne, Nebraska, and also a third interest of the fee title of lot eight (8), Block six (6), North Addition to Wayne, Nebraska and also a third interest of the fee title of lots thirty-eight (38), thirty-nine (39), and forty (40) of block twenty-three College Hill Addition, Wayne, Nebraska, to pay debts and as being beneficial to the estate.

Now therefore, it is ordered that the said Magdalena Danielson, her next of kin, and all persons interested in said estate, appear before me in open court in Wayne, Nebraska, at the Court House on the 9th day of September, 1922, at the hour of 3 o'clock p. m., to show cause, if any why a license should not be granted to the said Fred Volpp, guardian of the estate of Magdalena Danielson, insane, to sell the above described real estate of the said Magdalena Danielson, insane, for such purpose, and place the balance, if any, out at interest.

It is further ordered that a copy of this order be served upon the said Magdalena Danielson insane, her next of kin, and upon all persons interested in said estate, by causing the same to be published once each week for four consecutive weeks prior to the hearing thereof, in the Nebraska Democrat, a newspaper printed and published in said county.

Dated this 22nd day of July, 1922.
ANSON A. WELCH,
Judge of the District Court.

RECEIPTS

Date and Nut Sauce
4 tablespoons chopped dates, 4 tablespoons chopped nuts, 1 cup water 1-4 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1-4 teaspoon salt.
Boil dates, sugar and water until the liquid makes a sirup. Remove from fire, cool, add nuts, salt and vanilla and serve on ice cream.

Brittle Nut
1 cup sugar, 1 cup nut meats.
Caramelize the sugar. To do this place it in a pan and heat on the stove, stirring constantly. Do not add any water. When the mass becomes light brown in color, add the nuts and pour into a greased pan. When cold, roll until very fine and sprinkle on top of ice cream.

Chocolate Sauce
1 square chocolate, 1 cup sugar, 1-3 cup boiling water, 1 tablespoon butter, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla.
Melt the chocolate over hot water, add butter and pour the water on gradually. Boil 15 minutes, add the vanilla and serve while warm or when cold on ice cream.

Marshmallow Souce
