PROGRESSIVE CANDIDATES VISIT WAYNE WEDNESDAY

Bills announcing speaking at Wayne Wednesday by Rev. James L. Beebe, nominee for United States Senator and John Havekost, the same party nominee for congress from this 3rd district caused a few people to watch for the meeting. But it did occur. The men were here, we are told, but they did not speak. After a short stay in town they visited the VonSeggern sale of Poland Chinas a mile north of town, and spent an hour or more there giving out cards and literature.

Mr. Beebe has endorsement of a number of labor organizations; and in his personal platform calls for the repeal of the Federal Reserve Bank Act and favors direct issue of money by government. He favors a soldier bonus financed the same way. He evidently does not believe in the government being backer for currency and letting some other issue it, and then charge interest on the same. He would eliminate the electoral college and make president and vice president election by direct vote of the people. He opposes government by injunction and court-made laws.

Candidate Havekost says on his card that he is against extravagance, high tariff, Wallstreet control of money, the ship subsidy and war, except by vote of the people who are expected to do the fighting. He is for farm bloc, collective marketing, soldier bonus, equal rights, free speech, free press and free assembly. They should have exercised that right at Wayne.

SANDAHN-NELSON

Miss Mabel Nelson and Mr. Ernest Sandahn were married at the Lutheran Parsonage Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock, Rev. E. G. Knoek, officiating. Miss Edna Sandahn and Mr. Mauritz Carlson attended the bridal couple as bridesmaid and best man. They left immediately for a short honeymoon trip to Sioux City, stopping on their way at the home of the bride's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Swanson, near Allen, where dinner was served in their honor. They will be at home to their many friends at their home on the Sandahn home place southwest of town.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nelson, and is one of Wakefield's charming young women. The groom is the son of Mr. Edw. Sandahn, Sr., and is a young man of excellent character and well known in this community where he grew to manhood. He is a veteran of the late World War.—Wakefield Republican.

MRS. GEORGE F. SEBOLD

Ottile Bartig was born in Germany (probably Alsace-Lorraine) the daughter of a German physician, February 14, 1851, and spent her young days in that country. After coming to America, she came to Omaha where she was united in marriage to Geo. F. Sebold, April 1, 1881. Of three children born to this union two passed away early in life. They moved from Omaha to Hooper, and after about two years residence there, came to Wayne in 1883, and this place has since been their home. She died the morning of October 12, 1922, at the age of 71 years, 6 months and 27 days. Her husband, Geo. F. Sebold, and a son Frederick of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, survive her.

A funeral service was held Friday afternoon from the undertaking parlors, conducted by Rev. H. A. Teckhaus, and burial was in the Wayne cemetery.

KAY-POWERS

Mr. Lloyd W. Powers and Miss Mabel Kay were married at Council Bluffs, Monday, October 16, 1922. Both young people are of Wayne.

Miss Kay is the daughter of Mrs. Lena Kay, and a graduate of the high school. She also attended the Normal, and for the past two years has been employed at Granmeyer's plumbing shop, as office girl.

Mr. Powers is the son of Mr. Frank Powers and is employed on the Powers dray line. Mr. and Mrs. Powers will make their home in Wayne and have many friends here who wish them much happiness in the future.

THE EDGAR HOWARD MEETING

There was not a packed house at the city hall Tuesday evening to listen to Edgar Howard, candidate for congress from this district, for several reasons. Some were rather afraid to come out and hear the truth told as to their party leaders. Others had previous engagements—a special meeting they could not ignore. Some had to attend social functions—and a lot of people are indifferent to their opportunities. The people are the government in America, if they neglect the job the politicians are apt to take possession and run the political machine for their own profit. Of course we will be made to pay for the neglect—neglect of voting first and finding out later what we should have known before.

Mrs. Clyde Oman, secretary of the democratic county committee presided at the meeting, in the absence of the county chairman, W. Gaebler, who lives at Winside, and could not be here. After calling the meeting to order she introduced Henry Korff, the nominee for the legislature, who wanted to let the voters present know that he is standing for the repeal of the code bill and other reforms that the people are demanding, since they have learned what they should have known before, how expensive a toy a code bill is. Too near after-taxpayers time for the people to forget the cost. The men and women present may rest assured that if Henry Korff is elected to go to Lincoln this winter we will be represented there, ably, and that he will stand against Corporation rule with ability.

Edgar Howard was next introduced by his chairlady, and he first complimented his opponent—Congressman Evans on his beauty, and then we knew that Mr. Howard had not heard what we had listened to that day. One partisan lady had suggested that the barbers would not favor Judge Howard because of his unshorn locks—and the retort came quickly back that Evans would stand no better show, for he wears his mustache unduly long. But Mr. Howard did not dwell on the personal appearance of his opponent, but proceeded in a happy vein to tell the things he stood for himself and showing wherein he and the congressman differed. He advised the men and women present not to vote for him if they believed in certain measures, as he expected to govern after election by the principles of his platform which was incorporated in his 30-minute talk, and can be best given you in the platform he had printed, a part of which follows:

"I favor the repeal of all tariff taxes upon any article controlled by a trust.

"I favor enforcement of all laws, including enforcement of the spirit of the 18th amendment to the constitution of the United States.

"I favor immediate repeal of the infamous Esch-Commins railroad law, which has proved the most damaging legislation ever enacted to distress agriculture and enrich the syndicates which own the American railroads.

"I believe the power to declare war belongs to the people. No declaration of war (except in case of an invasion by a foreign foe) should ever be made by congress until after the people shall have declared in favor of war by referendum vote.

"I favor collection of debts owing by foreign governments to the United States as rapidly as such debts can be collected by any legitimate means.

"I favor government ownership and operation of all coal mines and railroads, to the end that people may be guarded against coal famines and exorbitant transportation charges.

"I favor immediate payment of the just claims of all soldiers who served under our flag during the late world war. In order to raise revenue for the payment of this just compensation without the issue of bonds, I shall advocate the re-enactment of the excess profits tax law, thereby placing the greater burden of taxes for this just purpose upon those best able to bear it.

"I favor reducing the standing army to the lowest possible number necessary for the recruiting and drilling of an army of citizens soldiers in time of need. I favor the immediate recall of all American soldiers from foreign soil in times of peace.

"I favor the immediate nationalizing of the Lincoln and Meridian highways, making paved roadways from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from Canada to the Gulf, maintained by the Federal Government, providing the

MACNIDER DECLARES THE BONUS TO BE PASSED

With representatives of the more than four million young men who entered the World War assembled at New Orleans this week, the following report of the opening address of National Commander, Hanford MacNider is of much general interest:

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 16.—The American Legion has "only just started the fight" for adjusted compensation, Hanford MacNider, national commander of the organization, declared in addressing the opening session of the legion's third annual convention here today.

The legislation will pass, MacNider said, "because it is right, and right always prevails."

"A great, well financial attack by interests which we cannot help but feel are sordid and selfish, has given us one little setback," he said. "But those who represent the people in Washington are with us by great majorities."

"No one man, untouched by the war, without kith or kin to those who served—no one group, financial or otherwise can stand between the wishes of the American people and the fulfillment of what they believe to be a just obligation.

MacNider's remarks were interpreted as a slap at President Harding altho he did not directly mention him. He termed claims that the treasury could not stand the payment "simply camouflage."

The national commander received an ovation when he appeared at the hall.

The convention formerly opened with salutes from '75s and the blare of many hands. Streets leading to the hall were jammed with khaki-clad figures swinging along in "columns of four."

TRUCK WRECKED NEAR WINSIDE

Passenger train No. 9 ran into a motor truck loaded with chickens and eggs at a crossing two miles west of Winside Tuesday, demolishing the truck and killing many chickens and making scrambled eggs all around. Henry Jensen and little son about four years of age were on the truck, and both were thrown off and injured. Mr. Jensen was unconscious, and was taken on the train with the little fellow to Norfolk and to a hospital. They are both recovering, according to latest reports. Looks like a case of forgetting that there are railroad crossings and trains to watch.

MIDLAND 34-WAYNE 0

That was the score at the football game at the Normal last Friday, between Midland and Wayne. It was really a better game than the score would indicate, for in football the team that gets the gooseeggs often puts up a game that makes the competitors step fast to keep the score down.

BRYAN IN AUTO MISHAP

The daily press carried the news that W. J. Bryan, who is this week campaigning in Minnesota with Mrs. Oleson, the nominee for United States Senator, was in an auto wreck or upset—but that he escaped with no injury sufficient to cause the work to stop.

BLANKET BARGAINS

I have just received a fine line of blankets of different sizes and weights and hope to sell you what you may need, and most of us will need blankets this month and next. See the neat assortment at Mrs. Jeffries. adv.

Ringland, chairman; Mesdames Fred Blair, Wm. Mellor, LeRoy Ley, Elmer Noakes, Pehton Jones, A. R. Davis, May Young, E. Kostomlatsky. Appeals and Household Articles—Mrs. Chas. ## DEMOCRATIC BANQUET AND GET TOGETHER DINNER

At Norfolk the evening of November 1st there is to be another great get together democratic banquet and speaking. The program will open with a banquet with seats for 1,000 at the King pavilion. The ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary will serve the feed, and both men and women are invited. There will be speaking following the banquet. These meetings in the past have been wonderful in their benefits that come from getting acquainted with each other. One dollar pays for the banquet and all of the oratory that will go with it. Beyond a doubt a big delegation from Wayne will be present. One thing is sure, we miss much if we fail to attend.

DEATH OF AN INFANT

The little child born to Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hanson of Concord, Sunday the 15th of October, 1922, lived, but a few hours, and Tuesday the little body was brought to Wayne, and interred in the Greenwood cemetery. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Hanson grieve with them in this sad loss.

CARD OF THANKS—We wish to express our appreciation to friends and neighbors for aid and sympathy given during our hours of sorrow, over the death of our little one just as it entered our home. Also for the floral tribute offered. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hanson.

MEN AND WOMEN VOTERS OF WAYNE COUNTY

Being a candidate for the office of County Commissioner for the first district and it being impossible for me to meet all of you for a hand shake I take this means of getting acquainted.

Born in Wayne County fifty years ago, when the only roads were the trails of the emigrant wagons winding across the endless prairies and taxes were almost nil.

The big word today is tax reduction on the one hand and better roads on the other.

The largest part of your county tax dollars which comes into the hands of your county commissioners for distribution is spent for roads.

I fully realize that 100 per cent efficiency will never be attained in county road work.

If elected I will use my best judgement and ability to get as near as possible a dollar's worth for every dollar expended. Your support will be appreciated.

FRANK BRUXLEBEN.

Hubert Work, postmaster general, will speak in Omaha November 13 at a state conference of postoffice employees. He will also be the guest at a luncheon to be given at the Omaha Chamber of Commerce. The Convention is to be held in the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

Mrs. Eva M. Smith from Colorado Springs, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. R. E. Kellor and her brother, H. S. Ringland for several weeks past, left Wednesday for her Colorado home. Mrs. Kellor accompanied her as far as Omaha.

Mrs. A. Nyberg and son Harold, of Yankton, South Dakota, who are here visiting at the home of her daughter Mrs. Ray Love, went to Wakefield this morning to visit relatives at that place for a couple of days, they were accompanied by Mrs. Love.

When Granddad was a young man, more than 100 years ago, he learned the trades of tanning and shoemaking. Two of his sons learned to make shoes, and used to "whip the cat" thru the country, so the writer is naturally curious to see what the movie men will have on him at their free college show Monday evening when they claim that they are going to show all about how shoes were made since before Adam's time.

In an advertisement elsewhere they are making great claims for the Mitchell car with a white streak painted round it. Friday they will make demonstration of the car at Wayne—and as we understand, it will be a free show and a free ride for those who care to make the tests. If you read the advertisements as all should do, you will know just what they claim for this car—and they claim a plenty—and then you may see if they make good. How do we know?

SOCIAL NOTES

Miss C. M. White led the excellent Sunday school lesson at the Bible Circle meeting at Mrs. J. W. Zeigler's Tuesday afternoon. The lessons in Luke are growing in interest. Word from Portugese East Africa reports the Sywiekka's ill with African fever and prayer was offered in their behalf. It is expected that Miss A. Fern Houser, of Guatemala will visit Wayne friends this autumn and her inspiring messages are looked forward to with prayerful interest. A letter from Rev. F. E. Hindgren received too late to read at circle says: We leave Chicago Wednesday for Billings, Montana, where we will hold meetings in First Methodist church. They have nearly 100 members. From there we go to Helena. In each of these places are colleges. The Methodist College in Helena is united in the campaign. The spirit moved mightily in Lewistown, Montana, last spring. The news of the work spread all over the state. We believe we will be in the state all winter. Your prayers have been helping to open the way. Next meeting with Mrs. McClennen.

EMERSON DEFEATS WAYNE IN CLOSE GAME, 12-7

A large attendance of both Wayne and Emerson fans witnessed this exciting game last Saturday at the Normal field, and although the result was not everybody's wish, Wayne must be credited with holding an undefeated team to a very slight margin of victory.

In the first quarter Emerson received the kick-off and starting off with a rush, carried the ball back for a good gain. Emerson swept down the rest of the field for the first touchdown, and also succeeded in the try-for-point. Emerson kicked to Sund, who returned the ball for a substantial gain. Wayne being unable to make their yardage, Brainard punted, and Will recovered the ball for Wayne. Again Brainard was forced to punt, the Emerson safety touching the ball before it crossed the goal line, where righthanded Peterson of Wayne fell on the ball for Wayne's only touchdown: T. Midner, who has not touched a chance at try-for-point this year, again chalked up another point by a well-placed dropkick. Emerson received the kick-off and made a good return, but were held for downs. Will made a fake run for 15 yards around right end just as the whistle blew for the quarter. Score tied, 7-7.

In the second quarter, after a pass to Will for 5 yards, Wayne was held for downs. Emerson was also unable to make the necessary yardage, and Wayne took the ball and again went on the offensive with better results. Brainard smashed through the line for 8 yards, Will reeled off 15 yards before he was stopped, and good runs by Midner and Reed made the pulse beat high in many a Wayne fan. Brainard made a plunge through the line for 5 yards, then the whistle indicating the half stopped any further gains, and the score still stood 7-7.

Peterson for Wayne received the kick-off in the second half, but Brainard was forced to punt. Miner recovered the Emerson fumble, following which a 15 yard pass to Peterson, a center smash by Will, a great line plunge by Reed, and an end run by Will brought the ball under the shadow of the Emerson goal. But Wayne, lacking the necessary punch for the touchdown with only 3 yards to go, lost the ball on downs and Emerson punted to Will as the third quarter ended.

In the fourth quarter, Brainard was forced to punt, and again Emerson swept down the field for its second touchdown, bringing their total to 12, since they missed the try-for-point. Substitutions were made for Wayne during this last onrush of Emerson: E. Smith for Hufford and Davis for Sund. Emerson kicked to Will who made a great return, and with only 1 minute and 40 seconds to play, Wayne, by means of a series of passes and end runs, were hauled from a touchdown only by the time-keeper's whistle, which ended a game that held the spectators' attentions from start to finish.

Although Wayne excelled in the art of passing, Emerson obtained 2 first downs to 7 for Wayne, and proved more consistent on line plunges and end runs.

Wakefield is Wayne's next opponent, game to be played at Wakefield, Friday, October 21. Wayne is planning on winning this game, and wants a large group of fans to be there to witness the confirmation of this wish.

It is said that beggars in New York city to the number of 5,000 take in an average of $15 per day. That means $75,000 daily to the beggars; many of whom are far richer than the people who gave to them. One millionaire has been discovered and recognized as the man who owns his magnificent home and costly automobiles, and goes out at night for a gay time. His contributions, it is said, amount to more than $100 daily. His expense is hurting the business of the profess.

Lovers of poetry are to have a treat at West Point this Friday evening, when John G. Neihardt will read some of his poems. Neihardt is not only poet laureate of Nebraska, but he is credited by critics high in wisdom with being among the greatest, if not the greatest poet America has yet produced. His poems have been officially adopted as the best for classes in English literature in America, for text books in the schools of several states, Minnesota being the most recent addition to this list.

E. S. Mallard from Randolph was here Friday evening, returning from a trip with J. C. Nuss to Omaha, Lincoln and Beatrice, where they had been on a business mission, both being engaged in mercantile business. While visiting with Mr. M. at the depot he asked of prospects of his friend, Henry Korff, whom he well knew when Mr. Korff was representative from Cedar county. He said he hoped to hear of his election, for he thought in Mr. Korff Wayne county people would find a splendid representative. He proved a champion of the cause of the people when in legislature from Cedar county, and would do the same for Wayne county people. At the time Mr. Korff was in the legislature his friend was running an elevator at Randolph, and it was the desire of the people along the Burlington to have a "Y" put in at the crossing points of the Burlington and the Omaha, and he gives Mr. Korff, and the senator from the district and the float representative much credit for having this connection made at Laurel. This enabled shippers on the Burlington to points on the Omaha in this part of the state to get to that road without paying a local freight to South Sioux City, as was necessary before the track was put in. Mr. Korff was also one of those instrumental in getting some slight regulation as to the insurance companies that was beneficial to the policy holders.

The little village of Foster, northwest of Pierce, experienced the worst fire in its history early last Friday morning, when four business buildings were completely burned to the ground. The fire was first seen in the general merchandise store of August Schademann, the hired man of Jas. McWorther, and he immediately gave the alarm. In a very short time the fire had assumed enormous proportions, and was spreading rapidly. As a result of the awful fire, four business places went up in smoke.

Mrs. J. R. Nissen came from her home at Colome, South Dakota, Saturday for a short visit here with her sister, Mrs. West, and learned after her arrival that the sister and son and daughter had left for California ten days before. She knew the sister was planning to go west about the middle of October, but did not know that they had advanced their day leaving. She has a brother, A. B. Dolph, southeast of Wayne, but did not know that she could remain long enough to get out there for a day or two.

A bunch of about four cars met up with each other Monday evening about three miles north of Wayne, and all came out of the mixup comparatively free from injury or damage to the cars. One who was in the tangle said with him it was bump another car a little or take to the ditch—and with his hair standing straight up, he took a chance on the bumping, and escaped with fenders slightly disfigured. People should drive more carefully and not bunch up a lot of cars. There is room enough if all will observe road rules.

Big crowds attended the 70th anniversary of the establishment of the Rock Island railroad held Tuesday October 10, at the Rock Island Station. A tree was planted and a bronze memorial tablet unveiled in honor of General Grenville M. Dodge, who surveyed and superintended the construction of most of the railroad.

Out at Los Angeles, California, there is headquarters of a co-operative industry. Whether it extends its activities beyond Los Angeles, we do not know. But, from letters written they have a happy, contented, and industrious lot of employees. One of the force in one of the large restaurants, where they serve as many as seven thousand people daily, who formerly was a resident of Wayne writes for the publication that the co-workers and managers always try to put themselves in the other fellow's place and treat him as they would like to be treated. He thinks they are not only making fair returns on their investment, but enabling their helpers to get a start in the world by making them interested in the success of the business. They have no employees who are not financially interested in the success of the enterprise. They may increase their holdings at any time with a part of their wage, or a part of the "dividend" the stock they are holding brings them.

TEACHERS NAME L. J. SURFACE AS NEW PRESIDENT

L. J. Surface of the Albion public schools was elected president of the Third district, Nebraska Teachers' association. This announcement was made at the closing hours of the teachers' convention here Saturday morning when the result of the canvass was announced. The board counted the ballots at the convention headquarters during the night, the ballot boxes having been closed at 8 o'clock Friday evening.

Other officers elected were: vice president, W. B. Ireland, Madison; secretary, E. C. Lackey, Wayne. Harry Reimund, this year's president was elected a member of the executive committee.

Will Select Location.

The executive committee now consists of Messrs. Surface, Reimund, Ireland, Lacey and Miss Sewell. The selecting of the next convention city is in the hands of this committee and no action will be taken for some time. It is understood, however, that the choice rests between Norfolk and Wayne, says the News.

The resolutions as adopted at the closing session called for an endorsement of the Americanization plan of the American Legion with the selection of a committeeman to help work out that program, support of federal aid and federal recognition of the public schools "without federal interference in state and local control as embodied in the Towner-Sterling bill;" recommended formation of a code of professional ethics; favored legislation looking toward creation of a state board of education elected by the people and which board would select the state superintendent; endorsement of the national association's program at Boston; recognition of the poet John G. Neihardt, recommending that his works be included in the public school English course and a general appreciation of the assistance of Norfolk organizations which helped make the convention successful.

Members of the resolutions committee were: R. E. Bailey, Newman Grove; Emma Schwerin of Hartington and T. W. Cooper of Plainview.

Prof. Charles W. Taylor, teacher's college University of Nebraska, delivered an address on the "Americanization Program for the Public Schools."

Speaks on Americanization

Prof. Taylor is a member of the state executive committee of the American Legion and he emphasized the legion's program.

He said in part:

"I am here to present the idea of the legion on Americanization with regard to Nebraska schools. At the annual convention of the American Legion we enlarged upon the work already done on Americanization. So far in Nebraska this has been the real work meant in speaking of Americanization. Now the legion proposes a second step in Americanization which has to do with the curriculum of public, church and private schools. The legion wishes to encourage a movement which will ultimately result in the incorporation of a definite, organized body of material in the curriculum of all these schools with the idea that the rising generation of American-born children as well as foreigners need a more definite training in America ideals of government. What the legion wants is to enlist the cooperative endeavor of public, private and church school officials along with the various patriotic societies in putting a definite program of Americanization in the curriculum of all school agencies."

When one looks over the republican papers he wonders what office Wm. J. Bryan is candidate for. Some of those sheets remind one of the way they lambasted Bryan in 1896. But as we understand it, he is not a candidate for office. It is all right to criticize his talks, if they need criticism, but W. J. is not a candidate this year.

Now we have such prosperity among the big financiers that a half billion of new government bonds to be issued to take up the maturing short-time securities, have been oversubscribed. Wonder how many farmers of Nebraska purchased? That is a good way to pay your debts. Make a new one for the old one. Even some newspaper men have to do that way.

Despite the efforts of attendants to prevent it, an insane man who had escaped from the Lincoln hospital, lay down on the railroad tracks in front of an approaching train and let it cut off his head. The incident created a sensation. Yet, as we recall it, not a single person seemed alarmed or terrified last July, when the Republican party of Nebraska deliberately endorsed the civil administrative code, equally as deliberate an attempt at suicide. Exchange

Deflation is the cause of much of our financial troubles. When the farmer was deflated he had to curtail purchases. This quickly deflated the local merchant. Then he had to retrench, and that deflated the wholesaler to a certain extent, and he passed it on thru the jobber to the manufacturer, and he had to shut down, run no half time or reduce his force of working men and that started another line of effect from the original cause working back thru the same channel to the original producer. Thus the farmer is still suffering from the effect, because deflated people cannot buy as they would like to of the necessities of life.

Some of our exchanges are attempting to make use of the story that taxes are not much higher—but their tax receipts, if they have any, give the lie to the statement. Then they ease off a bit by saying that the state tax is but about one-fifth of the total tax. That may be, but in Wayne county it is nearer one-fourth than a fifth, we are told. At and rate Wayne county has averaged to pay more than $1,000.00 per week increase in state taxes during the four years of republican administration than during the preceding four years of democratic administration. A wise man would not argue against such an official record.

A lot of fellows in the east who were so honest in 1896 that they could not even think of taking 60 or 70 cents worth of silver (at the price it had been pounded down to) and making it a legal tender dollar. They saw that it would be a better money making scheme to inflate oil, railroad and other stocks. The Rockefeller bunch are just now reaping their dividend on 25-cent gasoline by making white paper into oil stock—if you have one share they give you two more—and ask the public from whence comes the oil, stand for a boosted price that will pay three dividends instead of one. That is a great game for people too dishonest to permit silver to be made legal tender at the rate of 16 to one

There is reason for hope of a democratic victory in this state and this congressional district when we learn that down in Maine the republican congressional vote fell off 10,000 votes on an average in each congressional district, and that the democrats gained 22 new members in the legislature. Perhaps that saying of old, "As Main goes, so goes the nation" may mean hope for the democrats.

OBTAINING BY FALSE PRETENCE

That is the term which applies to the candidates for the republican nomination to the United States Senate by openly opposing the unpopular administration of President Harding, and now with the nomination safe are turning their backs on the voters who handed them the nomination and praising the administration. We have one in Nebraska. For obtaining goods in that manner, men may be sent to the penitentiary. Shall those who obtained their nomination thus be sent to Washington as representative?

SIMON STRATE FOR COMMISSIONER 3RD DISTRICT

Simon Strate, the progressive nominee for commissioner of the 3rd district was at Wayne Wednesday afternoon for a short time, and called at the Democrat office for cards and have us say that having been tendered the nomination by his neighbors, and accepted the same, he is going to make a little stir that people may know that he appreciates the confidence they have shown in him—and give pledge of economy and efficiency in the affairs of the office after election.

Mr. Strate was born in this county fifty years ago, and has been resident all those years, so those who asked him to accept the nomination must have known their man—and the man who is selected by his neighbors to serve them should need no other endorsement.

Be that as it may, Mr. Strate is asking your support for the office of commissioner of the 3rd district on his successful record as a farmer and business man.—It.

One of the motor magazines has been investigating certain "mystery roads" where cars have been noted to pick up speed and run more swiftly and smoothly without any measurable increase in the intake of gasoline. The most plausible explanation yet made is that in certain areas the air is richer in oxygen, due to the profusion of certain forms of vegetation. It seems inconceivable that enough difference could exist in the air along an ordinary road to effect the performance of an automobile motor. Yet no other explanation has been found for the interesting phenomenon.—State Journal.

Just so, perhaps the motor throat or lung. It is an established fact that in some parts of Wayne some people cannot secure restful sleep because of difficulty in breathing—and yet within the distance of four or five blocks, the same person may retire and "sleep like a baby" all night, and waken refreshed in the morning.

The last Legislature traded Madison county to this district and put Cumming county in another district. Mr. Ulrich expressed confidence in the result next November 10th. His record at Lincoln during his previous term is his platform. While nominated two years ago as a republican, he was really non-partisan, and held that he was free from party caucus dictation.

Fred Weber from Randolph was here this morning on his way to the western part of the state to look after property interests. Mr. Weber has been having a lot of trouble with ill health, and now appears to have made a winning fight, and is looking and feeling pretty well for a citizen who is entitled to wear that ILLU G. A. R. bronze button on the lapel of his coat. He visited Lon Hunter and wife during the forenoon.

Mrs. Dorsett and her daughter, Miss Genevieve came Wednesday afternoon from Longmont, Colorado to visit relative and many friends here. They are guests at the homes of her brother, L. M. Owen and Mrs. Anna Owen on the farm just west of town. It is two and one-half years since they went west, and Miss Dorsett has been librarian at the city library at Longmont most of the time, and this is her first visit to Wayne in that time. She has been granted a short leave of absence from her work. After a short stay here they plan to visit other relatives at Chicago, and other points in Illinois.

Mrs. Wm. Lbengood has word from her old home in Pennsylvania that a sister of hers is missing, and had been gone for a week or more when she received word. A woman of about 32 years of age, left home to go to the city of which she lives in one of the suburbs for dental work, taking with her forty to fifty dollars, and no trace of her had been found up to the time her letter was written. It makes anxious days for the sister here.

MR. HUSE'S REVIEW OF W. J. BRYAN'S SPEECH

Editor of Democrat—Mr. Huse of the Herald should not waste his talents on a small-country newspaper...

He cited the repeal of the excess profit tax that yielded $450,000,000 under a democratic revenue law...

Bryan said the record showed that but for the fierce fight by democrats, led by Senator Hitchcock...

He charged the republican legislature with appropriating $29,000,000 in 1921; $20,000,000 more than was appropriated by the democrats...

Mr. Huse was captivated by Mr. Bryan's resonant voice, winning smile and humor; but the story he related...

Now Mr. Bryan made no mention in his speech of the allied debt to the United States, but Mr. Huse charged him with favoring its cancellation...

Mr. Howell, at the close of his story of self-praise, says a democratic governor vetoed his electric light bill...

But Mr. Bryan's hardest blow on the G. O. P. was that they alone were responsible for the deflation of the currency...

There was money enough to give relief of 90 millions a year by the reduction of the rates on big incomes...

There was money enough to give the railroads over half a billion to guarantee dividends...

There was money enough to give a Republican House to pass a bill loaning another half billion to the railroads...

There seems to be money enough, according to Republican leaders, to permit the vetoing of a ship subsidy...

Why does the money suddenly fall when a bonus is asked for the boys who bore the risks while big business made enormous profits?

One Who Heard Mr. Bryan: An exchange tells us that too many people are criticizing the code bill who do not know much about it...

AND THEY PASSED US BY

The Monitor is hardly able to understand why the town of Bloomfield was passed up last week on the speaking itinerary of R. B. Howell...

Our business men and citizens in general are reputable and industrious and even Mr. Randall and his friend Bill Code would have been made welcome to our midst...

The above is from the Bloomfield Monitor, and Brother Needham, staunch republican that he has always been, has a right to feel slighted...

MONEY FOR ALL BUT SOLDIERS

If the Republicans had been economical along other lines, the ex-service men would wait patiently for their turn, but there was money enough to give the profiteers 450 millions relief a year...

SIMMONS CASE JURY RECOMMENDS DEATH

Butte Nebr., October 15.—The jury in the case of Walter Simmons returned a verdict early today of first degree murder and recommended the death penalty.

Deliberations had lasted through Saturday night. Simmons was charged with slaying Frank Pahl, a Spencer, Nebr., garageman, several months ago.

Pahl's body was found in the country near Spencer early in the morning. Simmons had gone from Spencer with him the night before in Pahl's car. Simmons was traced to Norfolk, where he changed a blood spattered suit for new clothes.

After being brought here, mob sentiment made it necessary to take him to O'Neill. The angered citizens pursued him there, too, however, and he was spirited across country to Burwell in the middle of the night...

GERMANY HAS CREDIT

The future historian will be compelled to disregard much of the wisdom exhibited in this and other countries regarding the financial record being made by Germany. Much has been made of "the falling mark," but business seems to be going on where the mark circulates...

But is Germany bankrupt? Need we shed tears for her, when her industries flourish while the factories of the world are idle? She is burdened, of course, but in production of values, of real wealth, and so far as her productive resources are concerned she is leading the world.

There is food for thought in this bit of diplomacy on the part of the English and Dutch bankers in aiding Germany, for it was good diplomacy as well as safe business.

SECRET TEAPOT DOME DEAL MAY COME UP SOON

Investigation of the secret "deal" by which a private interest has acquired leases to the Teapot Dome oil field of Wyoming—the last of the sources of oil reserved for the United States navy—is promised in the next session of the present Congress.

Senator Kendrick of Wyoming has contributed largely to the expose of Secretary of the Interior Fall's part in this transaction, which a Republican newspaper has called "a scandal of the first magnitude."

people of the grain states through which the highways run, opportunity to transport their produce to market by automobile trucks, thus lifting at least a part of the excessive burden of extortionate railroad freight charges."

A candidate for congress who is one of us—always has been one of us—and will work for the good of all of us if elected.

Harry B. Fleharty

As Mr. Howard finished his remarks he introduced the speaker of the evening in the person of Harry B. Fleharty of Omaha, who proceeded to talk, calling a spade a spade. That is he made things plain. He first told how the two theories of government had been with us since the drafting of the declaration of Independence. One the choice of Hamilton—who believed that the good, wise people should govern, and exercise such control over the great masses of the people as to them seemed best. The other, the Jefferson idea, that these placed in power were the of outside goods plus the tariff tax.

Then he told of the many needless taxes put on by the new tariff law. Some goods on which American manufacturers have for years had the exclusive trade of their home people were boosted a large percentage that these goods may be sold higher to the American purchaser.

Mr. Fleharty told of other iniquities of the new law and also of the emergency tariff law. How the Canadian wheat may come in—the miller, for instance, may import Canadian wheat and make flour of it and export the flour, and then draw 99 per cent of his duty back from Uncle Sam. This is true of practically all raw material if used to manufacture for export. Then under this law the manufacturer may have another advantage. If he export 80 per cent or more of his output, he escapes income and excess profit tax. In this hole of the law, a lot of taxes escape payment, for they by the organization of subsidiary concerns much such business is sent out to escape taxes. They have a wheel within the wheel. In fact, there are many ways in which tax is evaded ways that are legal, because the fellows who evade of the people, and that they had only such powers as the people gave them. One would have a class governing—the other a mass governing. These differences still exist, tho the democracy of Jefferson is surely gaining ascendancy over the aristocratic ideas of Hamilton.

The speaker plainly explained the tariff legislation, and made plain how the protective tariff was of no benefit to the wheat grower so long as he produced a surplus, and had to find market in the foreign countries. He could not raise the price level, because his surplus was always flowing over, like the waters of a great stream at a falls. The manufacturer, however, could raise a wall over which the foreign manufacturer would have to raise the price of his goods to get them in our markets, because the manufacturer so combine and regulate production as not to create a great surplus. Thus they did not have to meet the competition of outside manufacturers until they raised the price level sufficiently high to float their products in over the tariff wall. That makes it possible for the American manufacturer to hold up the price to the American consumer, just a trifle under the price made the law, and fixed it so that it is legal but neither just or honest.

It was a masterly review of the iniquities of the tariff law just enacted. This law, the proposed ship subsidy law, the law giving railroads a sure return on watered stock, and many other things were told in language that all could understand.

Judge Howard made a short talk next morning at the college, to the students assembled in chapel, in which he forgot that he is in politics or a candidate for office. They left for Pilger, and speak there, at Wisner and Stanton Wednesday. Today they are at Hoskins, Pierce and Plainview.

Washing Sweaters—Your sweater will not shrink if laundered this way. First take measurement of sleeve, sweater and cuff lengths and shoulder width. Then wash in lukewarm soapuds and rinse several times in water and same temperature. Add a tablespoon of glycerine to last rinse to make the yarn soft and fluffy. Squeeze out water, place sweater on surface and pull it back into original measurements as it dries.

Born in Sheboygan county, Wisconsin. Moved to Nebraska in 1886 and have resided on the same farm since that time. Served in the Senate in 1921-1922 term and at the request of friends I am seeking re-election.

The barn on the F. E. Harper farm south of Beldon burned last Thursday evening with hay, straw and grain, and other things such as harness and tools, amounting to $500 on which there was no insurance. The place is occupied by Lloyd Fish who with his hired man was in the barn, milking when the fire was first felt. It appears to have started in the haymow, but no good reason can be given for its start. Mr. Fish and his helper got the cows and horses from the burning barn, and a part of the harness, before being driven out by the fire. The building loss was partially protected by insurance.

Mrs. M. A. Pryor and daughter Margaret, who spent a few days visiting with friends at Fremont, returned home Tuesday afternoon. They went down by car Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Black, who were on their way to Omaha.

As usual, the shortage of cars is said to be the cause of much loss to the farmers, stockgrowers, fruit-growers and coal consumers. While the railroads temporarily lose a bit, due to not hauling when wanted and needed, others lose from decline in market prices, from inconvenience in not having returns from crops grown at the expected time to meet maturing obligations. It is enough of this condition that will ultimately cause the people to take the railroads over, in the name of the government.

Kenneth W. McDonald of Morrill County was a caller this morning. Mr. McDonald is from Bridgeport and won the democratic nomination for the office of attorney general, and is out giving voters a chance to meet him. His card tells of good work he has done for his home community. He has been a resident of Nebraska for forty years.

Conan Doyle's casual remark that he hoped baseball would some day take the place of cricket as the favorite sport of the British empire has not been favorably received in England. It is pointed out that cricket exactly express the British temperament, while the more active and vociferous life in America, and Canada finds its natural expression in baseball. To be sure, there is always a possibility that when they stop muddling their minds with beer and ale, the English people may brighten up enough to enjoy the snappier game. They have accepted some of the peppy features of American journalism, and baseball is not a bit livelier than that.

SEEN IN DIFFERENT LIGHTS

Beauties of Nature Made Varying Appeal to the Artist and the Two "Flappers."

The Woman and the artist were sitting on the sands at the beach. Near them were two girls murmuring to each other.

Silence fell when the artist sat up excitedly and, waving a thumb at the magnificent sunset, said: "Get that color!"

It was one of Nature's great pictures—a pile of lavender thunder clouds tipped pink by the setting sun and slashed from time to time by flame lightning. The lake gave back the glories of the sky, enhanced by its own green waves.

The bobbed-haired one of the two girls spoke first: "Say, Minnie, wouldn't that make a swell negligee?" "You said it," replied Minnie, "but how'd yer get all them colors?" "Layers and layers and layers of chiffon," was the dreamy response. The artist fairly exploded in the woman's ear: "Gosh! Is that all they can think of! Now, when I get back to the studio I'll show you—" He finished with a vague gesture.

The Woman said nothing, only sat back and pondered on the number of things that genius might create from one source of inspiration.—Chicago Journal.

NO CHANGE IN PROCEDURE

"Same Old" Objection, Same Old Ruling, and Judicial Proceedings Went on Their Way.

A reader was overhauling his old files of Life the other day when he came across a story with a distinct Cleveland flavor.

It concerns a once noted member of the local bar, and a well-known judge, who, happily, is still numbered among the living.

Here is the story just as it appeared 26 years ago:

"A most amusing reply was made by Judge Neff to an objection made by Attorney Vernon Burke. The replevin suit of Capt. Joseph Duville against Constable Hudson was on hearing. Mr. Burke had continually made objection to certain testimony, and every one of the objections was religiously overruled by Judge Neff."

"Later, Captain Duville was on the stand and the same question came up again.

"I object," cried Mr. Burke in a stentorian voice.

"What's your objection?" asked Judge Neff.

"Same old objection," replied the attorney.

"Same old ruling," answered the judge. "Proceed."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Costly Bird-Books.

A London bookseller reports that many of the standard works on birds are conspicuous for their high prices. Thus a copy of "Lillford's Birds of the British Isles" with Thorburn's plates, is listed at £75. A complete copy of the "Ibis" runs to £130, and the "Catalogue of Birds in the British Museum," to £54. Beebe's "Monograph of the Pheasants" stands at £50, and Elliot's monograph of the same order at £80. If you want Dresser's "Birds of Europe," today you must pay $95, and for Gould's "Birds of Europe," £105.

Gould's "Birds of Australia" can be obtained for £285, and his "Monograph of the Humming Bird" for £78. The climax is reached by the "Ornithological Bibliography—Relating to American Birds" that appears in the list at £875, and by Audubon's "Birds of America," which demands a shelf as large as an ordinary dining table for each of its gigantic volumes, and is priced at £600. Thus the would-be possessor of the eleven works named above must be prepared for an expenditure of £2,424.

In Search of Ambergris.

An expedition has left Seattle for Bering sea to search for ambergris, which is now more precious than gold. There is a decided shortage of this material, which is used in perfumery, and as yet no substitute has been evolved.

Ambergris is a morbid growth in the whale's intestines and when ejected into the sea floats like the chilled grease on broth, until found. It contains a property necessary to hold various chemicals in solution.

Near the mouth of the Yukon river there is said to exist a virgin field for ambergris. Actions of various currents tend to congregate all floats into one gigantic whirlpool, and in the hopes of finding ambergris there, several hardy fellows are now en route north on the steamer "Victoria."

Rug Factories in Peking.

There are sixty rug factories in Peking, China, employing over 200 workmen each and with capitals ranging about $10,000. This is a remarkable increase on the figures recorded a few years ago, and is explained by the increasing popularity of Peking rugs in the United States. Direct buying is now done by many large American firms. In addition to this number, there are numerous small establishments—estimated at over a hundred—which each employ a few score workmen and operate with a small capital.

THE FARMERS WIFE

By Mary Ann Gray

Why not use more cottage cheese? It is a nutritious food, easily prepared, besides furnishing body-building fat, yet its possibilities as a food are often overlooked by housewives. Freshly soured milk makes the best cheese, but natural souring should not be too slow. A commercial starter can be used when making large quantities of cheese, allowing a package of this starter to a pint of milk. That makes the "mother," a tablespoon of which should be put in every gallon of skimmed milk to be soured.

When the milk is firmly clabbered cook it slowly or let it stand under boiling water for several hours until the curds form. Then rinse and drain thoroughly, so the sour taste will be removed. Mix cheese with seasoning and serve with cream. Or it can be used as sandwich filling, combined with olives, pimento, jellies and nuts. Cottage cheese is also delicious in salads, used as stuffing for prunes, and peppers, or rolled in balls and served with pineapple and dressing.

A passenger ship, the City of Honolulu, is abandoned far from land in the Pacific ocean. More than two hundred people leave the doomed vessel and wait in frail life boats for the coming of help. In a few hours they are safely on board rescue ships. The City of Honolulu is destroyed but not a life is lost. Another great victory for the wireless. Without it, help might have blundered on the scene or the lifeboats might have managed to make land. But the incident would have been accompanied by much suffering at best and a storm would have taken a heavy toll of life.

Vigor, vitality, vim and punch—
That's pep!
The courage to act on a sudden hunch—
That's pep!
The nerve to tackle the hardest thing,
With feet that climb and hands that cling!
And heart that never forgets to sing
THAT'S PEP!
