

DISASTEROUS STORM SWEEPS COUNTRY

Fortunately the Sunday storm of rain with some wind only gave Wayne vicinity a little brush and an inch of rainwater. Here is a report of the storm and how it left things in its wake from Wood Lake on the west to Battle Creek and beyond: west one of the most disastrous in many years. Live stock and poultry were killed, corn stripped of its leaves and ears, and in at least five instances persons were injured by the huge stones, which were declared to be as large as baseballs.

Otto Burkhardt of Norfolk, who was rising in a coupe with his wife, was rendered unconscious when a huge stone crashed through the roof of his car.

Wrecked Auto Top

The entire top of the coupe was ripped to shreds by the stones which Burkhardt described as being "big as baseballs." The stones also made dents in the hood and fenders. He and his companion protected themselves ruring the storm by holding the seat cushion above their heads.

A child near Madison required medical attention after being struck. Henry Massman of Battle Creek suffered a fracture of the arm when he was struck by an icy bullet.

An 80-year-old man, near Meadow Grove, reaching from his doorway to pick up a stone, was struck by another and his wrist broken. A Battle Creek woman was struck on the head and six stitches were required to close the wound.

At Battle Creek practically every window on the north side of Main street was broken and church and school windows were riddled. Stanton also suffered severe damage.

The hail at Long Pine was declared to be the worst in twenty years.

Broke Train Windows

All the windows in a Northwestern passenger coach on a train between Pilger and Stanton were broken. No one in the car was hurt.

Telephone and telegraph lines in the worst affected area were torn down and the electric light plant in Battle Creek was put out of commission.

Damage to crops is estimated at thousands of dollars. Corn was hammered into the ground and on many farms is reported to be a total loss. Some are covered by insurance.

The storm had its severity ten miles south of Norfolk, sweeping down from the north, veering to the side of this city. It covered a path said to be fifty miles in length and three or four miles wide.

WAYNE BOYS PIG CLUB SHOWING AT CONCORD

There is interest in the showing of pigs being made this week at the Dixon County Fair, at Concord. Wallace and Kenneth Johnson and Wilbur Lessman have a showing of Spotted Polands in the fair pens and Oliver Shields and Edward Taylor are there with Hampshire pigs, striving for a prize. We hope that the lads have the little porkers that will bring home the bacon.

THE BRESSLER PICNIC

For several years the Bresslers have been meeting in a reunion picnic at the Robert Sheath home south of Wakefield, where often as many as an hundred members of the family gathered. This year they are asked to come to Wayne and observe the day at the city park. At this writing no one seemed to know or have much idea of how many could attend. So far as known, none of the family from and distant states are expected. Next week we hope to toll that they had a rousing attendance and a good time.

AT THE FAIR GROUNDS

Every preparation for the coming fair is going forward rapidly. The new buildings approaching completion. A number of citizens have been busy the first days of the week cleaning up the grounds which are said to be in good shape. Prospects for many entries are promising. The dates are September 11 to 14th inclusive.

HOPE TO AVERT COAL STRIKE

The morning papers tell the proposal of Governor Pinchot for the hard coal workers and operators, briefly it is as follows:

Wage increase 10 per cent—but no increase in price of coal.

Recognize the eight-hour day.

Full recognition of union by operators, but no check-off.

SCHOOL NEWS

BARKER AND RICHARDSON IN OVERTURNED CAR

Last Friday W. E. Barker and John Richardson, out in Mr. Barker's car struck bad roads about four miles east of Allen, and in trying to make a turn at the foot of a steep hill where the ruts were deep and bad upset. Mr. Barker thinks the steering gear broke, at any rate he lost control of the car, and it wobbled about until it was on top.

Help from the nearby farm house soon had them out, and a physician was called from one of the nearby towns, who gave first aid, making the two men as comfortable as possible. Wayne hospital was called and immediately sent a car to the rescue, and got the men on their way to that retreat for the afflicted. Here their wounds were again dressed, and it was found that Richardson's worst injury was a severe cut and bruise on one leg.

Mr. Barker suffered some severe bruises, and an x-ray showed that several ribs had been fractured. He is still at the hospital, and feels sore and bruised all over; but the daily reports on his condition show that he is gaining day by day. It is rather hard luck to be spilled out with a car on top of one, but he managed to beat the burglars out a few weeks ago, so he thinks he will live this little mishap down.

C. E. DEWITT OF STANTON SUBMITS TO AMPUTATION

Wednesday, C. E. DeWitt, a druggist of Stanton, underwent an amputation of a leg above the knee. He became afflicted with gangrene in the foot, and leg below the knee, which had reached a stage where the only hope was in amputation. He is about 55 years of age, and underwent the ordeal in fine shape, using only a local anesthetic. The report this morning is that he is bright and cheerful, and not suffering, and the chances for recovery will increase as the hour pass without development of bad symptoms.

It might also be added that five cases for removal of tonsils were successfully treated this week.

SOME EARLY HISTORY OF WAYNE COUNTY, NEBRASKA

Below we give a partial report of the excellent address by Judge A. Welch given at Winside last Thursday at the annual meeting of the pioneers and old settlers of the county. The first part of the article is confined quite closely to the record given by the judge, and it was necessary to abbreviate the latter part of the talk, tho it would have been interesting to have followed more closely the excellent talk.

The First White Settler

The first white settler in Wayne county was B. F. Whitten, in April, 1869, on the southeast quarter of township 26, range 5, on the Logan. He did not homestead this land, but purchased it from the government at $1.25 per acre. U. S. patent was issued to him for it November 15, 1873.

In April 1869, a colony come from Lee county, Illinois, and settled along Coon creek and near in township 26—5 and 26—4, now Logan and Hunter precincts. These people took government homesteads and lived in dugouts, sod houses and board shacks.

In 1869, among others J. R. Russell, a few years ago county commissioner living in Wayne, now deceased, and John McGuire, now living in Wakefield, took homesteads in township 25, range 5, now Leslie precinct.

In 1870, I. O. Richardson and his father settled on their homesteads on Plum creek, two and one-half miles south of the present site of what is now the city of Wayne. I. O. Richardson still lives on the old homesteads.

In 1870, John T. Bressler took a homestead in township 25, range 5, Leslie precinct. He has ever since lived in Wayne county and has taken a very active part in the building up of the county. He was one of the owners of the first bank in the county at LaPorte, the old county seat. This bank he moved to Wayne when it became the county seat, and was later organized as a national bank, the present First National Bank of Wayne.

In 1870, some homesteads were also taken in township 25, range 4, among them Chas. Exleben, father of one of our present county commissioners, Frank Exleben.

In 1870 a colony of Germans took homesteads along Spring Branch in what is now the southeast township of the county, Hoskins, among them Jackson Bernhardt, Theodore Bernhardt and Michael Branch.

Organize the County

In 1870 Gosmer Brittain on petition of residents of the territory now consisting of the county of Wayne, called an election to be held on September 5th, at the home of George Scott on Plum creek for the purpose of electing county officers and organizing the county. At that election W. T. Sperry, W. E. Durin and Isaac Mifner were elected county commissioners. Cyrus E. Hunter, county clerk.

B. F. Whitten, county treasurer.

Alonzo D. Allen, sheriff.

A. A. Fletcher, probate judge.

Dr. A. B. Crawford, county superintendent of schools.

W. G. Vernon, county surveyor.

B. F. Whitten declined to serve and Geo. Scott was appointed county treasurer.

All of these officers were residents of townships 26—5 and 26—4, and a majority, if not all, were those who came from Illinois the year previous.

By act of the legislature, approve March 4, 1871, the boundaries of the county were designated and the organization of the county legalized and acts of its officers declared valid.

The boundaries were the Omaha and Winnebago Indian reservations and Dixon county on the east, Dixon and Cedar counties on the north, Pierce county on the west and Stanton and Cumming counties on the south.

It is strange that the territory comprising Wayne county instead of being made a part of one or more of the counties bordering it became a new county.

Cuming county was established by the territorial legislature in 1855; Dixon county in 1858, Cedar and Pierce counties in 1859 and Stanton county in 1861.

For eight years after the establishment of the last of the above counties, the territory which they surrounded and which was afterwards organized as Wayne county remained without a white man living in it. The population of the county in 1870

PICNIC A SUCCESS

The Old Settlers Picnic held here Thursday was a successful event. Although the crowds were not as large as on previous occasions everything went off in tip top shape and in an satisfactory way. The day was an ideal one and that more than anything else was responsible for the cut in attendance. Many farmers continued threshing all day long coming in after supper to attend the festivities.

The Welsh Band started the days program with a concert in the morning. Following this the "Outlaws" and North Valley from near Hoskins struggled for baseball supremacy.

The North Valley team finally won out by a score of 16 to 12. After dinner Judge Welch of Wayne held the speaker's platform and addressed a large gathering in the park. The baseball game between Winside and Stanton was next on the program and was won by Winside, the score being 9 to 7. The game was one sided in the early innings but Stanton fought a great up-hill battle and gave the locals quite a game before the final innings. The next event was a wrestling match between Glenn Wade of Winside and Roy Gillis of Sioux City, Wade triumphing over the Sloux City policeman after 24 minutes of wrestling. He won the second fall in 11 minutes. The Sloux City man seemed no match at all for Wade. The Justus Romain show put on two entertainments during the day and although the afternoon crowd was only an average one, the evening show drew an enormous attendance.

The usual minor sports took place after the wrestling match and then last but not least by any means the free dance which seemed to be quite a treat for the young people. The free lemonade and watermelon made a big hit with the crowds judging from the number that were served throughout the day. The badge committee, consisting of Mrs. Auker and Mrs. Clayton "sold out" selling a total of about 120 ribbons. All in all the picnic was a marked success and very satisfactory to the officers and committees in charge.—Winside Tribune.

RURAL TEACHERS MEET SUPERINTENDENT FRIDAY

Miss Sewell has issued a call for all rural teachers to meet at the court house, Friday, the 31st for supplies, which she is prepared to furnish to all, and for a bit of general instruction pertaining to work the coming school year. The meeting is to begin at 10 o'clock.

One feature of the meeting none will care to miss will be instruction for teaching reading, Miss Cadwell from Logan, Iowa, having been engaged to speak before the teachers on that important subject. Others than the rural teachers will be welcome if they care to attend.

still own and operate the road, and it might be added that it is one of the richest pieces of railroad in the west, as a business getter.

County Booms

With the assurance of a railroad, the county took on new life, and the pioneer days might be said to have ended, and a way and means were present for rapid settlement of the county, and it did grow, the census of 1813-19, 1880 became 6,169 in the census of 1890. The towns of Wayne, Hoskins and Northside were platted, the last two named being quite near together. The company preferred a station at Winside, and abandoned the Northside station, but first having to have their right so-to-do confirmed by the courts.

In 1889 the company built their branch line extending from Wayne to Randolph making a station at Carroll, and in 1902 a second station in the county naming it Sholes. Soon after the line was extended on to Bloomfield.

Move County Seat to Wayne

In 1881 there was an exodus from LaPorte to Wayne, and the county seat was moved, practically everything except the courthouse, being moved. This remained as the county poor house, and is still standing as a farm home. There are few if any of the old frame buildings now standing in Wayne that were moved here from the old county seat site.

GOLF TOURNAMENT TO START MONDAY

Is a certain raiser to the Third Invitation Golf Tournament that will be played on the grounds of the Wayne Country club next week, there will be an opportunity to see some of the best Golfers in Nebraska play next Sunday at the Wayne Country club.

The chairman of the tournament committee has made arrangements to have Par Sam Reynolds, state champion of Nebraska and Blaine Young former state champion play against Stanley Davies, golf instructor at the Omaha Field club and B. M. Beeler, the present N. E. Nebraska champion. The match will be a best ball match.

The public at large and all golfers are urged to come out and see the best there is in Nebraska golf. There will be no charge for this exhibition, so lets have a good gallery to show our appreciation of their coming. They are not charging a penny for their services, but are here purely to boost the game of golf. Even if you have never seen a game of golf, come out anyway for a champion in any sport is generally worth watching. They will play 36 holes, 18 holes in the morning and 18 in the afternoon. The morning round will start at about 9:30 and the afternoon at 2:30.

On Monday morning the big invitation tournament will start and from the entries and advance information it would not be surprising if there would be 100 entries. Wayne will have about 50 entries who will do their best to keep the prizes at home. Norfolk will come with a big delegation headed by "Dynamite" McKlaron, B. M. Beeler, Dr. Nelson, Wm. Reckert and Geo. Christoph. Sloux City will send Cornish Beck, Craig Van Dyke, and Thos. Deatry. Omaha Happy Hollow club will send a delegation headed by the Russells father and son. The Omaha Field club will send a delegation headed by Roy Hart and Mr. Napier. Fremont will be here with two car loads of golfers. O'Neill will send a delegation headed by Jas O'Donnell and Jas Donahue. Hartington will send a good delegation as usual. Laurel, Stanton, David City, and other towns have promised some representative from their club.

Extra help is being used this week to put the local golf course in fine shape for the tournament. Local golfers are most anxious to see that the visitors are treated as well or better than the Wayne representatives have been this year when they were away from home, so lets all do what we can to make the visitors as they leave for home feel that Wayne has done all possible for them during their stay.

Come out and see these games, and especially the final matches which will be held on Wednesday. From all indications this tournament will be the fastest one held anywhere in Northeast Nebraska this year. All of the champions of N. E. Nebraska past and present will be here plus a lot of fine golfers from Sloux City and Omaha.

Don't forget the exhibition match Sunday.

AUGUST RAINFALL 8.39 INCHES

The August now coming to a close has had an unusual amount of rain the following being the precipitation as recorded at the State Bank:

On the 1st, 28; 3d, .50; 4th, 2.20; 7th, 2.20; 10th, 1.15; 12th, .10; 15th, .65; 25th, .32; 27th, .89; 30th, .10.

Then there is still a half of the 30th and all of the 31st, which may add to the above total.

Five thousand veterans of the World War are expected to be in Omaha to attend the convention of the Eighty-eighth division which is to be held September 28-30. Parades, outfit reunions. Major General William Weigel, former commander of the division, will be in attendance.

W. C. Davenport and family of Sioux City, who had been visiting at Norfolk Sunday, were stranded here by rain Sunday evening, and spent the night here, resuming their home trip by train Monday morning. Mr. Davenport was acquainted quite well at Wayne, twelve or fifteen years ago, when he was interested as a detective in the Flegge trial.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lindberg from Winside spent Saturday afternoon here while on their way to visit at home of her parents at Randolph. Mr. and A. H. Backer of that place. Mr. Lindberg is foreman on the section west from Winside, taking that section when transferred from Laurel where he was in railroad employ, as was his father before him.

Sunday was a big day at Homewood park, according to reports. Bloomfield and Randolph tried out in a baseball game, and Randolph had the long end of a 3-4 score. Many were present from the two towns, and those who did not hurry home when the warning clouds appeared, and that as did some in Noah's time, that is was not going to be much of a shower, had plenty of rain to travel in and mud to tug thru. One man said it took him two hours of real driving to make 18 miles.

The state tennis meet at Randolph last week was well attended and interesting and spirited contests were maintained all thru the meet. Wayne did not appear to have been re-preparing taken to golf for exercise and amusement. Mathewson of Walthill won the championship, and he and Lappenburg, also of Walthill, won the double championship. F. B. Liddell of Bloomfield won the tri-county championship, which was finished at this meet, the time at the Bloomfield meet not permitting the finish of the game.

Mrs. John Larson and son Erwin came last week by car from Long Beach, and have been visiting here with relatives and friends, including Mr. L. who has been here for the past two or three weeks. Miss Virginia Melton from Long Beach came with Mrs. Larson, and will return with them. They left this week for a day at Malvern, Iowa, after which they planned to start back to California, to be there for the opening of school, as Erwin is a senior this year, and after he has finished the high school they will be free to move back to Nebraska, if they so elect it.

Howard James went to Wyoming, Iowa, last week to visit a few days with relatives. He returned Saturday, and told of attending the Jones county fair at Monticello. Said his uncle pointed out to him as they passed what is said to be the richest bank in the point of deposits of any bank in the world in a city no larger than Monticello, which is not larger than Wayne, we think. The cow turned the trick—for they have been dairying in that part of Iowa for more than fifty years past, and growing richer and richer in every way. The cow brings in the money every month for the butter fat, and a calf each year, always paying for herself at least annually, and they still have the cow left for eight or ten years. But that is not all—she has made the farm land fertile, and what was not a fertile land forty years ago is now producing wonderful crops. Mr. James said that the corn crop is wonderful this year—and that on every farm almost there is a silo or two or three. He attended the fair at Monticello, the county seat, and said that the showing of dairy cows—Guernseys and Holsteins, mostly—was remarkable. And so was the fair all thru, including the dairy products. They do not know hard times, as do people who do not depend upon the dairy cow. The writer can remember when a lot of that part of Iowa was not considered a very rich farming soil.

Mr. and Mrs. Cal Rockwell and son and B. C. Winslow and wife left by automobile the first of the week to visit Yelolwstone park, and visit and see the sights along the way.

We had another of those million dollar rains Sunday night, and some profess to believe that we might have been a million dollars better off without it. The fall was about .30 of an inch. It stopped threshing several days, and broke the ambition of several people who were ready for an early start by car Monday morning. Did not think it necessary to get out of bed earlier than usual.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Ferrel and their son Harry Ferrel and wife drove out from Sioux City Saturday afternoon to visit Wayne friends and look after business here. Harry and wife visited John Payne and wife, her brother. They returned afternoon. Mr. E. Ferrel, who went there last spring to take a place in the planing mill and sash and door factory, says that he likes it and the work very well—and he thinks his work is satisfactory, as they increased his pay check not long ago, without even giving notice that he was worth more to them.

Mrs. Henry Schultz of Wisner was seriously and perhaps fatally injured on the road west of Wymore the last of last week, a racing car forcing the car in which the Schultz family were riding into the ditch and upsetting the same. Mr. S. was also quite seriously injured, but not so seriously as the wife, who had an arm nearly severed. The identity of the racer was not established, but he belongs in the penitentiary for about three months, and then be taken out and electrocuted—just like the darkey, who was sentenced to prison for three months for killing his wife—and then came the fire works.

Mrs. D. O. Humphry from Omaha has been visiting relatives and friends at Carroll and Wayne. Here she was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Hummphy. She returned home the first of the week.

Omaha grocers are buying and storing flour to help the "Buy More Wheat and Flour" campaign which is being conducted by a special committee of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce. The campaign is being waged throughout the nation to stimulate a buying demand for wheat and to stabilize wheat prices. Tangible results of the campaign are evident. When these birds get through buying flour and wheat prices will advance to their profit.

FACTS AND FANCIES

At Omaha last week is was a question whether to eat or drink their water. They mostly shunned the cup as neither food or drink.

It is strange how many people who want the editor to print some thing they think should be well known, an unpleasant truth perhaps, or perhaps mere gossip, wilt and fade away when the newspaper man says: "You seem to know a lot about the case—suppose you write it up and sign the story, and we will print it. We hate to print some alleged facts and then have to fall back on the lame excuse that you told me."

Bixby is quoted as not wanting to purchase his winter coal now, because he may not need it—if he should pass on before cold weather came! We have some subscribers who plainly say that they do not want to pay their subscription in advance for fear we cannot send the Democrat to them where they might go—in case of accident.

If "prohibition is a failure" why do the fellows who want opportunity to get booze say in the same sentence as the above quotation, that intoxicating liquors are more plentiful and more sold than ever before? Is that not what they want?

It takes all kinds of people to make the earth. Some think the public is the winner by the loss of President Harding, because Coolidge is regarded by them as a better man. Another says that to see Coolidge in the White House is like taking a dose of castor oil.

A number of writers are trying to console the farmer from figures showing that the farmer is prospering—that it is not an absolutely sure thing that more than eight out of one hundred farm owners will lose their farm. Double that number will have a hard struggle to keep from losing their all. That is not at all bad. But suppose that you are one of the 16. Then suppose you are not a farm owner, but a renter—does it make you feel good to slave early and late, and go in the hole even if you do not go clear out of sight?

Mexico is getting some new population, among them Jews. Some people who cannot be admitted to the United States because the quota from their country has been filled, sail to Mexico, try to sneak in over the border. Those who do not thus succeed frequently remain in Mexico.

Not all is mutton offered in the city markets by that name, for more than 140,000 goats are annually slaughtered in this country, and in many places called mutton. The meat is said to be a trifle sweeter than mutton. One would hardly think so, tho.

SEEK TO HOLD BANK LIABLE

A voluminous brief filed in supreme court Saturday seeks to convince that tribunal that the court below erred when he denied to E. J. Lydick, G. J. Koehler and W. P. Mansfield, farmers of Burt county, judgements against the Farmers State bank of Craig for the money they lost, a total of $35,000, by buying stock in the Missouri Valley Cattle Loan company.

Their story is that the stock salesman who solicited them told them that E. J. Martin, managing officer of the bank, was a stockholder, that he had a report from the First National bank of Omaha saying the company was a prosperous concern, and that the bank would loan them half the purchase price of whatever they bought. The salesman also told them that J. C. McNish, one of the Mousels and Former Governor Shallenberger were heavy stockholders, and related a story of big and certain profits. They also claim that afterwards Martin confirmed the statements. He was sued along with the bank. The bank was relieved by the lower court of all liability, and Martin won all but the Mansfield suit, which was for $5,000. He has also appealed.

The attorneys argue that the bank was a party to the fraud perpetrated on them, the stock proving to be worthless, and insist that as it allowed the salesman to carry with him the bank note forms of the purchasers of the notes they hold against the appellants. The latter claim that Martin never was a stockholder, and that the bank was not a fiscal agent of the company.

WHAT DOING FOR FARMING?

In a quite an extended article in the state Journal of Sunday, on the eve of the fair about to take place Secretary Danielson of that place tells or tries to tell of what the organization of which he is secretary is doing, trying to do and has done for the farmer, and while they are making a very successful fair one year with another, and thus encouraging better agricultural methods, when his letter comes to the final analysis of what they have done, it is that they have expended approximately $425,000 in improving the grounds and buildings, of which the legislature appropriated $351,000 as the remainder was earned by the association. That is not all, they plan to spend some more and make other improvements, which is well and good. But does it help to any great extent to pull the agriculturist out of the hole into which radical deflation has placed him, aided and abetted by a tariff which permissibly practically every other industry to combine for price raising and production control? The farmer must work and work hard and intelligently for success, for the has been and still is unjustly discriminated against. Meantime, we urge our farmer friends who can do so to attend the fair next week, and enjoy it as well as profit from what you may here there. It is educational to a high degree, and should well be worth the cost of the trip.

One thing that should be done, is to admit every farmer free of admission cost, and then see that they get the worth of their money in real farm show.

A man giving his name as Paul Anderson was arrested at Aberdeen, South Dakota, as the slayer of Ver-gil Jestes of Coleridge. The shooting took place at Turton, in South Dakota, last week Sunday night, and was where some had gathered to participate in a game of dice. Anderson was trying to shoot some other man, but was a poor gunman. Jestes was a spectator, only. Old Dog Tray was in bad company once and paid in loss of reputation for it.

Wynot met Tuesday evening with representatives of a high line electricity concern of Minnesota to consider a proposition for light and power. Their plans are to build to connect a number of the towns in this part of the state, such as Hartington, Coleridge and Belden and perhaps Allen.

First Anniversary Expansion

A year ago at this time I started my exclusive shoe store in Wayne, Nebraska.

First thing I wish to thank all of my friends and customers for all the favors which they have shown me in my first year with them.

I have made many regular and satisfied customers by giving them the best values for their money.

Second thing I want to assure you that every pair of shoes which you purchase from us will be absolutely number one A quality, workmanship, and style—every pair built for service and real foot comfort.

You may be sure that every purchase you make from us you are getting the best for the price, no matter what the price may be.

My prices have proven to be the lowest for the quality I sell. The more business I do the smaller margin I figure and that means better and cheaper shoes for you.

would indeed be fine if deposits could have been that sum for each man woman and child in the city. But the average as given above does not spell anything for the average citizen. It means that some big concerns were heavy depositors—perhaps only for a day. If the citizens of Omaha could each and every one deposit even $2.35 per week it would mean better times.

Another noted newspaper correspondent has admitted that perhaps Henry Ford could command more votes in either republican or democratic national conventions than any other man—that he has a greater following among the masses than any one else at this time. Yet, he says that Henry could not receive either of the party nominations, nor could he be elected if nominated as a third party nominee. Well, we suppose that is final—the people have nothing to say, no matter what they think.

The Omaha lunch who formed an organization to place Governor Chas. Bryan in the senatorial race, if not in the senate, are more enthusiastic about the matter than Mr. Bryan appears to be. He can perhaps wait until people in general ask him to step in. No doubt there are some Omaha interests and politicians who would rather see him in the senate than where he now is—for he is a sort of a thorn in the side of some interests of Douglas county who have long had their own way in many matters not for the good of all the people.

The new store rooms up Main street are beginning to look more like a finished lot of buildings. The fronts, the doors and the windows are being put in, and the floors laid. They were plastered some weeks ago. The ceiling are yet to be put in and the fixtures and furnishings must still be put in.

James Mulvey from Winner, South Dakota, came Wednesday evening to visit a few days with his little daughter at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Emma Baker. Mr. Mulvey had been in Illinois visiting his mother and his little daughter there. Good crops about his home county is his report.

J. H. Britell and family are home from a camping trip in northern Minnesota. They were in camp for some time at Lake Itaska, the head waters of the Mississippi, and saw the little stream which feeds the lake and which is really the head of the "Father of Waters". Mr. Britell tells that the state of Minnesota has created a park of about 20,000 acres, including the lake, for the public. Here one sees the original pine forest, many of the trees being approximately 200 years old, as determined by counting the rings showing the annual growth of trees of about equal size, according to stumps they have left. These pine are of slow growth. They found it almost uncomfortably cool and saw a bit of ice some mornings. A fire in their cabin was comfortable nearly every evening. It is planned that they will start today with Miss Fannie, who teaches at Barton, Wisconsin, and if they find good roads cross northern Iowa will go on and find her at the home for the school year.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mildner autoed to Randolph this morning to visit with their daughter Mrs. Dawson.

Stanley Huffman and family from Elgin are visiting here, with her mother, Mrs. Mellor, and with other relatives.

Henry Korff has been at the farm picking apples, and reports that they have a very promising crop. He harvested about 200 bushels of Wealthy, and later varieties will come along this fall.

M. Lower, who has been visiting his farms near Huron, South Dakota, tells us that John Lyngrin, who is farming one place threshed more than 60 bushels of wheat per acre from a 50-acre field.

Mrs. J. T. House returned last evening from a visit of several weeks in the east, where she visited relatives near Washington and also near Pittsburgh. Miss Mary, who accompanied her, stopped at Branson, Missouri, where she is teaching the coming year.

Meyer & Bichel have been running a little adv in the Democrat for a week or two, and our snoop, nosing round noticed how busy Ernest was, and asked him if he was not doing quite a business in "republican platforms?" He admitted that he was rushed.

Ralph Bohnert, who was visiting with his parents Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bohnert departed Wednesday morning for Los Angeles, California, where he makes his headquarters, he was accompanied as far as Omaha by his mother Mrs. Bohnert, who expect to spend a week with her daughter Mrs. C. B. Dickenson.

O. A. Bowen and family from Sioux City passed thru Wayne Tuesday evening on their way to Laman, where they were called by the death of Mrs. Bowen's father, J. M. Hancock. Mr. and Mrs. Bowen were residents of Wayne about seven or eight years ago for some months, he being employed as a jeweler here.

WHERE THEY SPENT LIFE'S GOLDEN HOURS

(By Katherine Mitchell)

District number seventeen of Dixon county was the scene of a gala gathering Thursday last when the school children of a half a century again went to the little school house for a reunion and picnic. It was the first time in all those years such a meeting has been attempted and it proved such a happy affair that it was voted to make it an annual event. Sixteen of the old schoolmates, with their families, attended. A long table was placed beneath the great trees on the hillside and it was loaded with everything loving hearts and good cooks could supply for the satisfaction of the inner man. A hush fell on the assemblage as Robert Kauk of Allen, spoke a word of thankfulness for this unusual privilege of meeting old friends. Reminiscences of the old days were the whole conversation and "don't you remember" brought happiness to many eyes grown weary with household cares and the trials of modern business. Age fell away like a mantle and the boys and girls of yesteryear came back and laughed and sparkled and forgot the intervening years. They ate with the appetite and zest of childhood, diets were laid aside, and "fat and forty" held no terrors for those kids.

After dinner the children of the yesteryears hiked to the old location of the schoolhouse and back again to the building and held an hour of school. The men and women took their places with here and there a tight squeeze. "Teacher" had a hard time to get order out of chaos. Finally the boys responded to the sweet smiles and recited with old time vigor. It was amusing, hilariously amusing, to hear Claude Mitchell recite "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star" and "Johnny Merdith Martin Teapot Monkey Bill" otherwise known as Guy Williams, gave "Mary Had A Little Lamb" was a scream. Then again the girls sang the old songs and, from the mists of the past, came the memory of their pig-tails and preaty pink cheeks, their gingham pinafores, and the grip they had on the hearts of the sturdy lads who fought for the privilege of carrying the dinner pail or walking to the farm gate with them. Someone suggested recess and on the playground they romped, they played pump-pump-pull-away, teter teter, etc. Torii frocks, coats and trousers testified of the merry time.

Again joining their wives and husbands, who had spent the time, as befits age, visiting and resting, all

A new gold field has been discovered in Alaska, a placer proposition at or near Anchorage, on the Toklat river, some sixty miles from the railroad. them on labor day, and it seems impossible for him to be at both places at once. He should have his speech or speeches broadcasted. Why not? Must a man in these days face an audience or two in order to in order to speak to them? We say not. If it was a prize fight, the knocks would be listened to by radio, no matter how fast and furious they came, you could hear them the same as tho in the next room with a thin partition.

We have heard of a lot of strange things happening to dairy cows pastured near a stream, such as finding fish in the milk, but a South Dakota man claims that his cows go into the lake to keep the flies from their legs and udders, and that they come home milked, the bullheads that abound in the lake, doing the stunt. To thwart the fish he attached burlap to the cows, enclosing the teats and udder in a sack shaped piece. But still the fish continued milking, but when bossie waded out of the formed a circle and asked for stories. Robert Kauk, of Allen, who seemed to be the spokesman for the group, gave a very interesting bit of history of the schoolhouse and the part it played in the lives of the pioneers of that part of the country. Mirth and tears mingled as the old days were brought so vividly before his hearers. "Men are only boys grown tall" seemed especially true of the speaker, and the writer could see beyond the middle aged man standing there, to the little barefoot boy, full of life and happiness, and had a desire to reach out a hand and compel the boy to stay. In fact, it seemed, as the others told their part in the drama back there, that as time spreads the lines on the fair face and puts the silver in the hairs, and as responsibility lends the air of age, it seems

I repeat, a tragedy, that we cannot, all of us, hold a firmer grip on those beautiful yesterdays and let them shed a softening influence into our lives and keep us forever young.

The pupils who attended were: John Roberts, Ida Roberts Truby, Lydia Chase Emery, Elsie Roberts Puckett, Robert Kauk, Ira Puckett, William Chase, George Chase, Anna Benton Tuttle, Lou Williams Delaney, Alma Noc, Ernest Trigg, all of Allen; Julia Williams Timmer, of North Dakota; Ethyl Williams, Guy Williams and Arran Roberts of Wayne. Among the guest were two of the parents of the pupils, R. P. Williams of Wayne and Arran Roberts of Allen. Wives, husbands, children and friends of the pupils brought the attendance to one hundred and ten.

Reports are that both the Stanton and Dixon county fairs this week are having good exhibits and much interest shown. There are some Wayne and Wayne county exhibits at both of these fairs, that will be exhibited at the Wayne county fair the 11th to 14th.

L. J. Hughes and family, formerly of Carroll, but more recently near Colebridge left the first of the week for a new home in the western part of the state, at Huntsman, where he will be in charge of the elevator. This is not far from Sidney, where he has son living.

Mrs. Wm. Geer from Stewartville, Minnesota, who came here two weeks ago with her father, J. J. Gildersleeve, with her daughter Ruth have been visiting at Hay Springs for a few days. Upon their return this week they all plan to motor back to their Minnesota home.

Guy Francis, who is employed at Harlan, Iowa, drove out the last of the week to visit home folks at Carroll. Returning Tuesday, he was accompanied as far as Sioux City by his sister Miss Wilma and his cousin, Miss Eva Hughes, who returned by train that evening.

Down in Omaha a bread war is pending. The city is talking of making bread, and the dealers are intimating that they will not sell city bread, and the city comes back with threat of making every fire station a bread salesroom, and selling bread for about half the prices now charged. Perhaps it is all talk.

The American Legion Auxiliary will hold their meeting at the Legion room Tuesday afternoon, September 4 at 2:00 o'clock, when the business will be the election of delegates to the state convention, which is to meet at Lincoln September 17, 18 and 19th. Plans for a food sale are also to be taken under consideration.

Ted Perry left Tuesday evening for the western part of the state where he is and has been buying cattle for feeders to be shipped to Wayne this fall. A few carloads have been received, but most of them are to come later to all orders he has for same. He bought about 1200 dead and has orders for two-thirds of them now placed. One family, father, son and a son-in-law are to have ten car load of big feeders. Time of shipment will depend in a measure upon weather and feed conditions on the range, but they are all supposed to be here before the 10th of October, and not before the 10th of September.

Miss Florence Gardner, who spent a month visiting and sight-seeing in Colorado, arrived home Wednesday morning, and today left for her school work at Butte, where she is to teach again the coming year. She reports a very pleasant time. Besides visiting at Denver, she was a guest at the home of Mrs. Dorsett at Longmont, and with Miss Genevieve Dorsett visited Colorado Springs, the Garden of the Gods and made an auto trip to Cripple Creek over a scenic route, and looked at the interior of the earth in a mile deep mine. Mrs. Gardner stopped at Omaha and went to Nebraska City for a few days, and plans to be home the first of next week.

W. E. Beaman and Ernest Rippon left the first of the week for a fishing trip, and beyond the fact that they headed north, we cannot say where they might be found. But it is a safe bet that they are enjoying good fishing at some lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Merchant and two sons are home from a visit with his father at or near Davenport, Iowa. Mr. Merchant says that it has been quite dry there—but in spite of that fact the onion crop, for which Scott county is so well known, seems to be full size.

A. M. Heit and family left Tuesday morning for Ong, where Mr. and Mrs. Heit and Raymond plan to spend the winter. Miss Margaret will return in time to begin her school work at Beemer. Olive and Clara will return a week later, Olive to teach at Pierce and Clara to attend the Normal. They have rented their home, except a room or two for storage and for the girls to occupy when attending school or visiting Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Madsen returned last week from a month spent at Sturges, South Dakota, with their daughter, Mrs. Thompson. Mr. Madsen tells us that he considers it a great country, with fine climate, in spite of the fact that it hailed quite hard while he was there. The stock industry he considered a great thing; home folks figure land in this county is worth. There probably was no hypnotism used on either side. It really sounds good to know that transfers are coming back. There was a time when prices were hopping up that it hurried the recording angel to note all the transfers, and a weekly newspaper had to give up publishing them—no room for war news. Then they stopped—deflated.

DISCHARGES ALL LAWYERS

GUARANTY BOARD TO EMPLOY ONE FOR RECEIVERS.

New Commissioners to Act as Receivers for Fifty-four Banks With $7,000,000 Assets.

Last week we made mention of Rolf W. Ley going to Lincoln to take a part as a member of the new commission to have quite general supervision of the state bank failures in an effort to safe-guard the state bank guarantee fund. Below we give the State Journal report of their work.

The guaranty fund commission which is soon to receive $7,000,000 of assets of failed state banks has agreed upon the manner in which it shall handle the business. These assets were recently turned over by about fifty receivers who had charge of the affairs of fifty-four failed state banks. The assets were taken over by the department of trade and commerce of which K. C. Knudson is chief, Governor Bryan being the head of the department. The department, said Governor Bryan, is now ready to transfer the assets to the guaranty fund commission of which Mr. Knudson is chairman.

The commission has decided by resolution to appoint one or more receivers as provided for in the new law. It is the intention to have a member of the commission be receiver for all failed banks in his district. He is to be the legal agent who shall be authorized to transfer property or do other acts required of a receiver. There are seven members of the commission, not including the chairman.

Instead of having an attorney for each receiver or bank in the hands of a receiver the commission has decided to employ an attorney, and to employ the necessary help in liquidat-

Age of Breeding Heifer Is Problem for Farmer

It is said that if you leave a heifer too long before breeding, that she will never be as good a producer of milk as she would have been. She will have formed the habit, it is claimed, of using her surplus feed and energy towards the production of body fat. It will take several years to overcome the habit and the necessary loss is considerable.

On the other hand if the heifer, or any other animal, is bred too young trouble of various sorts is liable to follow. The growth of the animal may be stopped, prematurely, leaving an undersized individual, or the actual breeding capacity or fecundity may be affected.

If, however, breeding is not commenced so early as to be unsafe, it is the more profitable method. It will reduce the cost of maintenance, owing to the shorter length of time the animal need be kept non-productively. In all classes of stock the same problem exists.

There is a real question in the minds of breeders as to whether it is ever profitable to breed sows to farrow before they are twelve months old, to breed mares to foal at three years of age, to breed ewes to lamb at so young an age as thirteen to fourteen months of age. The breeder has observed that sometimes animals bred at ages so young as those named will suffer in their development or the offspring may not be normal. On the other hand, if breeding operations can be begun at these ages the breeding life of the animals will be prolonged, the number of offspring from each female will be increased, and other things being equal, the profitability of breeding operations will be greater.

What evils are likely to follow such early breeding practice? It is apparent that if evils do follow they are to be observed chiefly in one of the following: 1. The growth of the young dam may be retarded and her ultimate size diminished. 2. The vigor and thrift of the offspring may be below that of the offspring of more mature animals. 3. A possible decrease in the size of the race or breed. 4. Loss of fecundity and danger to the dam at time of giving birth.

All domestic animals are, of course, bred before they have attained full maturity. They are still growing. They are rarely bred at the beginning of puberty since under average farm conditions the breeder has discovered that such early matings are neither safe nor profitable. There is reason to believe that there is a right and wrong age at which to first breed, but no definite rules seem to be available.

Selecting Herd Bull to Improve Weakest Points

In the selection of a herd bull, the chief factors to be considered are the kinds of families in the herd, and the size, character, natural fleshing, quality, and evenness of conformation of the bull, according to Dr. C. W. McCampbell, head of the animal husbandry department, Kansas State Agricultural college.

"The study of the females of the herd should receive the most careful consideration," Doctor McCampbell added. "By a careful study of the females in the herd, a bull can be selected that will improve the weakest points in the herd, as well as add to its general improvement."

"Since there is a constant tendency for animals to revert to their smaller ancestry, one of the most economical means of maintaining a profitable size in our market cattle is by the use of big, rugged bulls."

"One of the most important considerations is character, as it is an evidence of an ability to reproduce the good qualities which the bull himself possesses. It is indicated by evidence of masculinity especially in the head and neck of a bull and by the vigor and style which he manifests."

"As meat is the ultimate purpose of cattle production, the amount of meat an animal carries, or the natural fleshing of the bull, should receive very close consideration."

"Quality is of value because of the fact that animals possessing it will require less feed to produce a given amount of gain and sell for higher prices when marketed than animals that do not possess quality. It is indicated by a soft coat of hair, a soft pliable hide, and general smoothness of conformation."

"The most profitable type of animal for the feed lot is one with an evenness of conformation, straight lines, broad back, deep middle, square ends, and closeness to the ground, and to produce this profitable kind of cattle it is quite essential that a bull of similar type be selected."

Profitable Producers

Come From Good Bulls

Good cows do not often just happen. They are the product of mating good sires and good dams. "Like begets like, or the likeness thereof." Scrubs bred to scrubs can produce only scrubs. But a good pure bred bull when bred to ordinary cows or even to scrubs will produce animals that are profitable producers. If you already have good cows, you will be going backward if you do not also have a very good bull.

MAY MAKE USE OF AIRPLANE

Test to Be Made to Determine its Value in Campaign to Control Insect Pests.

As a result of experiments carried on during the past two years in spraying trees with poison distributed by an airplane, in the campaign to control insect pests, it has been considered advisable by the United States Department of Agriculture to make a number of tests this summer to determine whether the lighter-than-air machine can be used satisfactorily. Arrangements have been made between the Department of Agriculture and the air service of the War department to use a motorized balloon for this purpose.

The work will be conducted in the gipsy-moth infested area in New England, where an attempt will be made to devise equipment that can be attached to the balloon so that a poison spray can be applied in forest areas. Numerous tests have been planned to determine whether this method of spraying is effective and economical. Department officials hope that the results may be of practical importance in the treatment of forest areas infested with leaf-eating insects.

This method of spraying is relatively new, and as a poisonous dust can be applied more rapidly from the air than a liquid spray from the ground, it is necessary to determine the effectiveness of the former method and whether or not the application can be made at an expense that will warrant its use on a large scale.

TWO WATCHES SOLVE MUDDLE

Sniffens Has No More Trouble Keeping Track of Daylight Saving and Standard Time.

Sniffens is a traveling salesman who is on the road most of the time and whose wanderings take him across the continent a couple of times a year. It will be a week or so before he makes his next trip, but already he has begun to make preparations, and one of the first things he did was to get out what he calls his "second" watch. For with the advent of daylight saving each year Sniffens, who travels to suburban points just to keep his hand in between times, has great difficulty in keeping track of the schedules, due to the difference between railroad timetables and daylight time.

Sniffens has found that his "second" watch, which is of silver, while his regular timepiece is of gold, has solved the problem. He simply sets the silver watch to correspond to daylight saving time while his regular watch is kept at the standard time of the particular section of the country he happens to be in.

The silver watch is used to keep city appointments and to keep tabs on suburban trains, while the gold watch serves the purpose of being always right for trains which run on standard time.—New York Sun.

Giant of the Deep.

The American Museum of Natural History some time ago came into possession of what is believed to be the largest whale ever exhibited on land. It is a female finback, 68½ feet in length. Its body, in life, was 30 feet in circumference. It is estimated that at least 50 men could be enclosed within the interior of this gigantic animal. The full-grown right whale, which is the species usually hunted for its blubber and whalebone, averages from 45 to 50 feet in length. The whale whose skeleton adorns the museum was washed ashore dead near Forked river, N. J. Scientific theory avers that the ancestors of the whales were terrestrial or land mammals, which gradually became aquatic in their way of living.—Washington Star.

Acetylene Gas.

Acetylene gas, which was discovered in 1836, is obtained from a substance named calcium carbide. Formerly this substance could be produced only in small quantities, but about thirty years ago a method of manufacturing it on a comparatively large scale was discovered in England. In consequence of this discovery use has ever since been made of acetylene for illuminating purposes.

When acetylene is mixed with air it is dangerously explosive, but it is asserted that it can be burned without danger whatever when produced in the pure state. It is asserted that, burned at the rate of five cubic feet per hour, an acetylene gas flame can be made to produce a light of 240 candle power.—New York Herald.

Needed Space.

At a certain county court the applicant for a marriage license is handed a blank to fill out. This blank requires the applicant to state name, age and number of previous marriages, with the name of the former husband or wife, as the case may be.

A movie actress came in and procured a blank, which she proceeded to study carefully. The last item caused her to register perplexity. "Then she went up to the clerk and asked prettily: 'Have you a longer blank, or shall I paste three of these together?'"

Whaling Business Falls Off.

Whaling was conducted on a very small scale during the last year, the whaling fleet only operating for a period of three months, during which 187 great mammals were captured. This is far below the catch during the years when whale oil was fetching a reasonable price, the maximum reached in the best season being 900.

TURN ME OVER

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH FARMING

Nothing at all is the matter with farming! Nothing the matter with the farmer as a farmer. The farmer produces abundantly. Not the slightest lack of ability to produce through farming.

The farmer raises plenty of corn and wheat and beef and pork and as a side line he raises a big crop of millionaires. The service of these millionaires is to raise the devil with the farmers' market and by raising the devil with the farmers' market he raises about seventeen different kinds of trouble with the farmers' ability to get ahead and to keep ahead of the mortgage, the grocer, and the tax collector.

But maybe the farmer isn't working 'to get ahead. Maybe he is working just for exercises, and for the pleasure of turning over his surplus to the portly gentleman from Wall Street. This should be a pleasure, because, as you know, "It is more blessed to give than to receive." The millionaire will agree heartily with this as long as he is at the receiving end of the deal. But put him at the giving end and see how quickly he squeals. How he squealed about the excess profits tax and how soon he joined with his fellows in having a part of the tax removed.

But why does the farmer raise this crop of millionaires? Well so far, that is one of the unsolved mysteries.—Ex.

RECALL EVENTS OF HISTORY

Documents Presented to Massachusetts Historical Society Are of the Highest Interest.

One of the important gifts to the Massachusetts Historical society with associations of the anti-slavery period of the last century is from Dr. Vincent Y. Bowditch, says the Boston Transcript. It is a large volume containing letters, posters, clippings and other pieces relating to the famous case of George Latimer, the first fugitive slave seized in Boston, October 21, 1842. With these is a complete file of the Latimer Journal and North Star, in seven numbers, published between November 11, 1842, and May 16, 1843, and edited by Bowditch's father, Dr. Henry Ingersoll Bowditch, and William Francis Channing and Frederick S. Cabot.

The seizure caused great excitement in Boston, and steps were immediately taken to defend Latimer. The editors say at the outset that its great object will be "to give utterance to the alarm and indignation of Massachusetts at the encroachment of slavery on her soil."

The letter which Latimer, on October 22, 1842, sent to the Boston ministers asking that prayers for his release might be offered on the following Sunday, was recently given to the society by Grenville H. Norcross, and is now with this collection. It is in the handwriting of Samuel E. Sewall, and the signature of Latimer (by his mark) is witnessed by him.

THE HEART OF THE PRINTER

Geo. W. Woodward of the Neligh Register had the following on his editorial page last week, and it tells well the story of what sometimes happens in a print shop.

Too Much Pie

No matter what sort of a life he has led, or what preparations he has made for the hereafter, we hope that no hidden terror awaits any printer more horrible than that which was revealed to the force in this office last Thursday when two of the in-secured forms were dashed from the press to the floor as the press was put in motion. Of the front page no two lines were left together. The editorial page fell bottom side up and was not so badly pried as it looked. We were able to pick this page up and reassemble it in the chase as it appeared before the wreck.

The first thing we did when we recovered from the shock was to send over to the Leader office to see if we could borrow ads to replace some of those that were pried. Charley Best came right straight across the street, and after viewing the ruins together in silence for a moment he gave us a flashing glance and in that glance he seemed to have settled in his mind that whatever explosion followed this catastrophe had already occurred and he deemed it safe to strike a match and relight his cigar, which he did, and as he flicked the match to the floor his eyes fell upon us in a steady gaze—a faint smile appeared, then broadened until it covered his face as he asked: "What'dye say?"

"Nothin'," said I. "Couldn't think of anything to fill the bill, eh?", said Charley. "Nope," said I.

Now, you know, every well regulated print shop has a devil. It's got to have a devil, and if it hasn't got a devil the boss has got to be the devil's devil. No matter how poorly equipped, every printing office has a hell box, and the hell box, for its purpose, is one of the best things that was ever inaugurated in a printing office, but all the vile names adopted and in constant use by all printing offices, giving the printer a constitutional right to swear, were inapplicable, and Charley Best, a good Methodist, just coming out of his republican office and one of the best posted men in the state, did not attempt to supply words from his resourceful vocabulary befitting the occasion over the "decomposed" forms at our feet. So we began to exchange old time printer's jokes.

Charley had his coat off and his sleeves rolled up. We went across the street and he helped us borrow the front page of the Leader which we substituted for our front page. He continued on the job and we worked and joked together, and with all due respect to our deceased president and honor due to his performance in making up the editorial page of the New York Tribune, the performance of Charley Best in reassembling and making up our pried editorial page, in "our" opinion, was a service in the cause of real democratic democracy that makes the performance of President Harding of the New York Tribune pale into insignificance.

The work of cleaning up the wreck passed quickly in the pleasant run of conversation and we were soon on the press. Mr. Best was tired. Every printer is weary at the close of press day, and though it reveals a selfish disposition on our part, we must acknowledge that we could not help feeling glad, that the careless accident occurred, because of the congenial society it brought into our narrow social intercourse in Neligh, occasioned by a strenuous effort to do things physically impossible for one man to accomplish, even in a semi-satisfactory manner.

We thank the Leader office, and we especially thank you Charley, in a way that we cannot find words here to express.

For a market for poultry, eggs and cream, remember Fortner.—adv.

JUDGE A. M. POST DIES AT COLUMBUS HOME

In the death of Judge A. M. Post of Columbus, which occurred Sunday, August 26, 1923, Nebraska loses a worthy citizen and faithful official servant.

The following from the Columbus Telegram tells a little of his life history:

Born in Pennsylvania

Alfred M. Post was born in Greenfield, Washington county, Pennsylvania, August 10, 1847, a member of an old colonial family. His father, Rev. William Elliott Post, was a Presbyterian minister, and Judge Post was a life-long member of that church. At a very early age, he moved with his parents to Cumberland, Ohio, later receiving his common school education in the schools of Hillsdale and Athens, Ohio. In 1868 he was graduated from the law college of the University of Ohio, and was admitted to the bar at Bloomfield, Iowa, in 1869. He taught school in Iowa awhile and then entered upon the practice of law at Leon, Iowa, in 1870.

In 1874 he was appointed to the United States consular service at Santiago, Cape Verde Islands, where he spent the ensuing two years. Upon his return to America, he located at Columbus, arriving here on Christmas eve in 1876, and taking up the practice of law immediately thereafter as junior member of the pioneer law firm of Whitmoyer, Gerrard & Post. No man in Columbus had a longer or more honorable record of public service than did Judge Post. He had served his government in the important commissions of consul at Santiago and U. S. district attorney in Alaska, had served his state six years as supreme judge and two years as chairman of the commission to codify its statutes, and had served his home district at two different periods as district judge for a total of nearly 12 years.

LIVE STOCK PRICES AT SOUTH OMAHA

Corn Fed Cattle Strong, Top $12.50—Grassers Slow

HOGS STRONG TO 10c UP

Moderate Supply of Sheep and Lambs Moves Readily at Strong to High Figures—Fat Lambs $15.10; Feeder Lambs $13.50.

Union Stock Yards, South Omaha, August 29, 1923.—Some 7,000 cattle, arrived Tuesday, the bulk of them western rangers. Corn feders ruled strong making a new top of $12.50 while western rangers were generally steady to easier. Cow stuff showed little change as compared with Monday but stockers and feeders moved active and firmer.

Quotation on cattle.—Choice to prime beefs, $11.00@12.50; good to choice beefs, $11.25@11.85; fair to good beefs, $10.25@11.00; common to fair beefs, $9.25@10.25; plain warmed up beefs, $8.00@9.00; choice to prime yearlings, $11.25@12.25; good to choice yearlings, $10.25@11.15; fair to good yearlings, $9.25@10.00; common to fair yearlings, $8.00@9.00; fair to prime fed cows, $8.50@9.75; fair to prime fed heifers, $8.00@11.00; good to choice grass beefs, $7.25@8.50; fair to good grass beefs, $6.00@7.25; common to fair grass beefs, $5.00@6.00; Mexican, $4.00@5.25; good to choice grass heifers, $5.75@6.75; fair to good grass heifers, $4.50@5.75; choice to prime grass cows $8.00@8.75; good to choice grass cows $4.00@5.75; fair to good grass cows $3.50@4.50; cutters, $2.75@3.25; canners, $2.25@2.40; calves, $4.00@5.50; Bologna bulls, $3.25@4.00; choice to prime fleshy heavy feeders, $8.00@10.00; good to choice feeders, $7.00@8.50; fair to good heifers, $7.00@7.00; common to fair feeders, $6.00@6.00; good to choice stockers, $7.25@8.00; fair to good stockers, $6.25@7.25; common to fair stockers, $5.00@6.25; trashy stockers, $3.00@5.00; stock heifers, $3.75@5.50; stock cows, $3.25@4.00; stock calves, $4.50@8.00.

SEPTEMBER RECORDS AT BOHNERTS

Among the new and popular ones are: "Cut Your Self a Piece of Cake", by Ted Lewis. "Yes, we have no Bananas today", very popular. "That Red-Headed Girl", by Louisville Lou and Hundreds of others now good.—On Main street in Voget building.—adv.

BREAKING THINGS ALL UP

This air mail stunt is smashing a lot of records in speed and regular continuous flight. It seems about time for a bit of speed in our railway mail service. A letter mailed at Denver Monday shortly afternoon to Wayne people had not arrived yet Wednesday noon, when the writer, who left Denver some time after mailing, spent 24 hours at Omaha came and asked for the letter at Wayne. Some such records should be broken.

WISNER TO HAVE PARK

At Wisner they last week voted bonds in the sum of $25,000 for park purposes, planning an 80-acre park along the Elkhorn near the town, with plenty of natural timber for shade and a fine lake front and a blue-grass carpeted camping ground. When it is combed out and fixed up, there will be very few nicer or better parks in the state. The vote was 399 total, of which 156 were against the bonds and 263 for them, a very safe majority.

HOGS AT $9.00 TUESDAY FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE LAST OCTOBER

Several bets were settled on the South Omaha market Tuesday when the top for the day was reported at $9.00.

AUDITING COUNTY BOOKS

Up in Cedar county they have had a firm of accountants from Lincoln audit the county officers books, and according to the News, up to date the only return the county has had is the bills, more than $2,000 of which have been allowed by the board, and it is supposed that there is a similar or greater bill still to come. What the News seems to want is the report of the auditors. Of course that will contain the meat of the nut they are supposed to have been cracking. Was it wormy or not?

Over in Pierce county, the Leader asserts they have spent $2,340.05 for an audit of the books of their officials, and the Leader's report to date is failing to tell the readers much, except that they may find the interesting things contained in the report on certain pages. In the report of the sheriff accounts they show irregularities and slack methods of keeping the records, but the sheriff admits that he owes all they claim to have found, but had not reported or paid because some of the other officials had not made it necessary. We hope the report promised in the next Leader will be more than an index of the report, for that does not tell anything to those not in position to examine the books. It would seem that the county commissioners should order the report published as a part record of their proceedings.

MATT MILLER, OF DAVID CITY DEAD

Matt Miller, 73, attorney former district judge of David City, and democratic member of the state legislature for two terms thirty-five years ago, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Crane, in Los Angeles, California, yesterday, a dispatch to the World-Herald last night stated. Mr. and Mrs. Miller had gone to the home of his daughter two months ago. For the past four years, his health had been failing and he had spent much time traveling in search of climate that might benefit him.

Mr. Miller was born in Glasgow, Scotland, February 9, 1850, and came to America with his parents when he was a small boy. The family settled at Portage, Wisconsin, and there he grew to manhood. In 1870 he went to Schuyler, and settled on a homestead. He also taught school in that community. In 1875 he moved to David City. He studied law in an office there and was admitted to the bar in 1881.

THE STOCK SHIPMENT

Among those who shipped stock this week are: Henry Frevert, one care of cattle, Omaha. Harry Robinson, one car of cattle, Omaha. John Lutt, one car of hogs, South Omaha. Ed Gageman, four cars of cattle South Omaha. J. W. Gildersleve, two cars cattle, Omaha.

Sloux City Market

Fred Martin, one car hogs. Chris Jensen, one car hogs. L. M. Owen, one car hogs. Chas Pheff, one car hogs. Oscar Jonson, two cars cattle. J. M. Ellenberg, two cars cattle. Ed Damme, one car hogs. Adam Reeg, one car hogs. Ed. Grier, one car hogs.

MEREDITH TO HURRY BROOKHART'S CASE

Minneapolis, August 25.—E. T. Meredith, former secretary of agriculture who has been convalescing here at the Radison hotel, following an operation for the removal of his tonsils, will leave tomorrow for Des Moines and direct his attorneys to file suit against Senator Smith W. Brookhart, for 30 cents damages.

Shown a clipping of a newspaper quoting Senator Brookhart as welcoming the promised suit by Meredith, the former secretary smiled faintly. "He will not be so keen about it, when the time comes", he said. "When we get him under oath, it will be different. I shall instruct my attorneys to proceed as soon as we get to Des Moines".

Commenting on his 30 cent damage suit against Senator Brookhart, Meredith said: "This action was not taken from motives of revenge, but to make an example by showing up men who raise false issues. In discussing the farmer's problem and who attempt to pull the wool over the farmer's eyes by placing blame for his financial plight on agencies which had nothing to do with it.

"Senator Brookhart has accused me of sitting in on the Wall street game and taking part in the recent deflation of agricultural finances. The senator will be compelled to go on the stand and not only prove every word of these charges, but tell all he knows about Wall street and its game".

Also declaring he is opposed to price fixing of farm products as the term is generally understood, Meredith made a guarded admission that eventually price fixing in some form or other will be necessary.

"Please do not put me down as one who is advocating price fixing of farm products, because then my statement will not be correctly understood," he said.

"It will be price fixing, but not as those who advocate price fixing want it," Meredith continued.

"There will have to be price fixing of five or six of the staple farm products, such as wheat, corn, cotton and wool, the price to be fixed year by year in accordance with the supply and demand. In other words, the price of these products will have to be fixed in advance at a figure not only that will guarantee a large and profitable return to the farmer, but still which will encourage him to raise the necessary amount of wheat and other products. If a surplus is produced one year, then the price will have to be lower the next year, so that a lesser amount will be produced."

A CHANCE TO LEARN

Could you save a man from drowning or bring him back to consciousness afterwards? Do you know how to bathe the baby? Can you make a bed with a patient in it? Do you know how to bandage a broken limb or stop a hemorrhage? If you want to know how to do all these things and many other approved methods of Home Nursing, Life Saving and First Aid, stop for a few minutes at the Red Cross exhibit in the Mercantile Building at the Nebraska State Fair and see what the "Greatest Mother" is doing in practically every county in Nebraska.

Red Cross chapters from various parts of the state are cooperating to make these exhibits and demonstrations the finest ever displayed in the state.

Captain Felix M. Janovsky, an expert life saver of the Central Division, American Red Cross, Chicago, who is well known to people of Nebraska, will demonstrate First Aid and Life Saving on the grounds and at the exhibit room. Public health nurses from several counties will show what they are doing in health work every day in the year. Other State Red Cross activities, including Junior service, nutrition and disaster relief, will be part of the exhibit. Volunteer workers from many parts of the state will be in charge of the display. Field Representatives Mae Baxter and Ray Alston will also be present during the entire period of the fair.

SEPTEMBER ENLISTMENTS

During the coming month the United States will mobilize an army of more than 20,000,000 under command of about 750,000 officers and assistants. It is easily the biggest army we can mobilize and with the least fuss considering its size. In every hamlet and city and in the great expanses of open country between towns and cities, you will find them in groups of ten, twenties, forties and fifties. Our public school system is easily the greatest institution in all America.

HOGS GO UP

That is it is said that about 900 pounds—six 150 pounds hogs went up from Hooper last week, being taken to the Omaha market in a air plane. The swine did not seem to appreciate the ride, according to report, for they had a bit of squealing.

SOCIAL NOTES

The country club social held their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at the country club. The committee of ladies were: Mrs. L. A. Fanske, Mrs. H. B. Craven, Mrs. Conrad Jacobson, Mrs. C. E. Carhart, Mrs. R. W. Ley, and Mrs. J. H. Kemp. The afternoon was spent playing 500. After which the ladies served refreshments. The club will not meet next Tuesday afternoon, because of the golf tournament, and the ladies are to serve a banquet to the home players and visitors one evening. The next meeting of the club will be afternoon of September 11. The committee is Mesdames H. B. Miner, H. B. Jones, O. R. Bowen, D. E. Brainard, J. C. Forbes and J. H. Felber.

There was a very pleasant lawn social last Thursday evening, at the Russell Preston home about twelve miles north of Wayne when Misses Marion Prescott, Mabel Gossard and Angle Hall were hostesses to about fifty young people on the spacious lawn. The decorations were Japanese, and the refreshments ice cream, cake and punch. The time was spent playing outdoor games.

Miss Margaret Mines is "at home" this afternoon to a party of her young lady friends.

PINCHOT'S POSSIBILITIES

Governor Pinchot is now engaged in trying to settle what has come to be an annual controversy between the anthracite mine owners and their employees. Unless he can bring the two sides together the hard coal mines of Pennsylvania will close September 1 with resulting great inconvenience and perhaps even suffering to those sections which depend chiefly upon the output of the anthracite mines for their fuel. If Mr. Pinchot succeeds in averting the calamity it will give him great prestige with the American public. Some of his friends believe it will make him the logical candidate for vice president, or even president.

But when it comes to that there are several arguments to be offered against the logic of Mr. Pinchot's candidacy. It is pretty well conceded that the west will be the chief battle ground—the insurgent west looking chiefly to a settlement of agricultural problems. The west has a deep admiration for Mr. Pinchot acquired during his conflict with certain important interests over the conservation of our natural resources. It is pleased with his progressivism, it likes him as a man; but will it consent to lay aside its main issue?

The problem of the farmer furnishes the main issue out here this year and probably will in 1924. Naturally the west will look for a candidate who represents its point of view on this question. Settling of the anthracite strike would add glory to Pinchot's name, but the west is only secondarily interested in anthracite. There are men nearer home who are to the western outlook and it is to these men that the westerner will look next year.

If President Coolidge is nominated for president as seems likely the logic of the situation would require a running mate from some state a little further removed from Coolidge's home than is Pennsylvania. Partisan politicians will probably see that the middle agricultural section is given representation on the ticket. Thus the logic of the situation will present many obstacles for the Pennsylvania executive's friends to overcome if he is to get the nomination.—Norfolk News.

CARRY YOUR JUG TO OMAHA

People visiting Omaha are carrying their own jugs, and no one has yet been arrested on suspicion. While the city water is so bad, it is the only safe thing to do. Wonder how the editors managed about their water for drinking and bathing when there last week? Some of them never used to drink water anyhow—but now the old time drink is hardly safer than the water might be.

RESUME THRESHING

Threshing operations that were in full blast last week were checked several days by the heavy rain Sunday night. They are again under way in this part of Nebraska. There are reports of very good oat yields in some parts. A field near Pierce is reported to have returned more than 60 bushels per acre. Near Bloomfield 40 bushels, machine measure, and weighing out much more are reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Leader of Omaha celebrated their 64th wedding anniversary at that city Sunday. That's a long time for two people to live together as husband and wife. Wayne has one couple who passed their 61st wedding anniversary three weeks ago today. A year ago they celebrated the 60th anniversary in fitting manner. Mr. and Mrs. S. Fox, veteran of the Civil war.

WITH THE WAYNE CHURCHES

Methodist Episcopal Church
Rev. John Grant Shick, pastor
Sunday school at 10:00 a. m., Conrad Jacobson, Superintendent.
Epworth League at 7:00 p. m., Miss Celia Rennick, leader.
Preaching Services at 11:00 a. m. and 8:00 p. m.

We resume all of our Sunday services the coming Lord's Day. Vacation period is over and it is hoped that every one will be on hand for the different services of the day; beginning with the Sunday school at ten o'clock.

At the morning hour the pastor will offer baptism to infants, small children and adults who may be presented by their parents, or present themselves. Also opportunity will be given for persons to unite with the church; and the Lord's Supper will be celebrated.

Dr. E. D. Hull, district superintendent, will be with us at night to preach and to conduct the Quarterly Conference at the close of the service. All members of the conference are urged to be present as this is the closing session for the present Conference year.

Our Annual Conference will convene in Grace Church, Lincoln, on Wednesday, September 19th. We must close up all of our finances for the year, both local and benevolent before that date. All persons having subscriptions unpaid to the Centenary or any other of our Benevolent Institutions should see the treasurer or the pastor right away and make payment on same. Subscriptions to be paid before Conference are also solicited from those who have made none. We will not resume prayer meetings till later on. Announcement concerning same will be made in due time.

Baptist Church

Francis K. Allen, Minister
All services of the church will be resumed next Sunday, September 2. Bible school at 10 a. m. J. K. Johnson, Superintendent. Young People's meeting at 7 p. m. A consecration and "singing" meeting. "God sent his singers upon earth with songs of sadness and of mirth. That they might touch the hearts of men
And bring them back to heaven again."

Evening service at 8 o'clock. Preceding the sermon the pastor will give views and echoes of the North-Eastern Baptist Association held at Tilden last week.

The women's missionary circle gave a luncheon at the City Park on Friday afternoon. About forty members and their friends were present. The event marked the successful termination of the contest which began in May. Mrs. E. M. Owings of Grand Island was the guest of honor. Mrs. Owings gave an interesting talk on the work of the West Central District and of the Convention reports at Atlantic City. The local society has attained the standard of efficiency and the honor roll, having thirteen points—the highest of any society in the Association. They will send, in the near future, a missionary box to one of the Baptist schools in the Philippines.

DAIRY FACTS

New World's Record for Butterfat Production

A new world's record for production of butterfat in one year over all breeds has been established by a Holstein cow owned by Raymondale farm at Vaudroull, Quebec. DeKoi Plus Segls Dixie freshening at the age of nine years and three months, and weighing 1,650 pounds, produced 33,464.7 pounds of milk containing 1,349.35 pounds of butterfat in 365 consecutive days. This amount of butterfat is equal to 1,686.69 pounds of butter. This production surpasses the former world record held by another Canadian Holstein cow by 5 pounds of butter.

Because of her previous high records of production, "Dixie" was placed on strictly official test, supervised by both the Holstein-Friesian Association of America and the Dominion department of agriculture of Canada, which supervises record of performance tests for all breeds of dairy cattle in Canada.

The new champion was fed a grain ration consisting of equal parts of bran, hominy, dried distillers' grains, gluten meal, oil cake and cracked oats. To 100 pounds of this mixture was added one pound of salt, one pound of charcoal and one-fourth-pound of bone-meal. She was fed at the rate of one pound of grain mixture to each four pounds of milk produced. Her roughage consisted mainly of mixed hay and some corn silage and beets. All of last summer she was let out to pasture two hours a day.

A four-year-old son of the new champion recently sold at public auction for $4,100 at the National Holstein sale.

Production of Fat Is Affected by Age of Cow

Fat production by the average dairy cow increases till she has passed her seventh year, reaches its peak before the end of her eighth year and then gradually declines. This fundamental truth in farming science was discovered recently by C. W. Turner, a teacher in the dairy department of the Missouri College of Agriculture.

This conclusion was reached only after Turner had worked out the relation between the age and the yearly fat production of more than 48,000 dairy cows. The data included all the yearly fat records available of pure bred dairy cows in the United States. This is the first time an intensive compilation of this sort has been carried out.

The value of this information lies in knowing what production may be expected of a cow at a certain age. For example, if a farmer knows the present production of a two-year-old cow and wishes to estimate what she will have an authoritative table which he may consult.

A yearling produces 64.6 per cent compared to a cow at maturity; a two-year-old, 73.6 per cent; a three-year-old, 84 per cent; a four-year-old, 90 per cent; a five-year-old, 95 per cent, and a six-year-old, 99 per cent. After seven years the decline in production is gradual.

Of the total number of records examined, 13,728 were Jersey cows; 13,599 Guernseys; 12,504 Holsteins; 6,162 Ayrshires, and 1,014 Milking Shorthorns.

Increase of Butterfat Is Not Made by Feeding

According to experimental work that has been done, the percentage of fat in milk cannot be increased by feeding. The milk of each individual cow seems to have a fixed composition that is natural to her. True, the richness of the milk may be increased or decreased for a short time if the cow's digestive system is disturbed by sickness or improper feeding, but will return to the normal test in a short time. The quantity of milk may easily vary with feeding, consequently the total pounds of butterfat would be increased without a variation in the test. By having a cow in high flesh at the time of freshening, the test may be raised for a time, the supposition being that the body fat is drawn upon, but it only lasts for a short time, when the test returns to the point peculiar to the individual.

Pointers for Selection of Improved Dairy Cow

One or two signs tell a good cow. In a poor cow the thigh runs down straight, so there is no place between the thigh and the udder on one side and the tail on the other. There should be plenty of daylight between the udder and the tail. One of the best ways to tell what kind of a cow you have is by her temperament. A good dairy type has a sharp spine, and sharp hip-bones. A good cow has a large wedge-shaped stomach.
