MARRIED—SURBER-HARMON

Such might have been the heading of an item in the weekly paper at Silver City, Iowa, under date of May 21, 1874, for at that time and place Mr. Eph A. Surber and Miss Melissa J. Harmon were united in marriage, and yesterday, the 50th anniversary of that date, Mr. and Mrs. Surber were home to their relatives and friends in honor of the anniversary.

It was a family gathering at their home on West 1st street opposite the German church, thirty-four being present.

Of the Surbers three brothers, Dan and wife of Belden, Harry and wife of Bloomfield, John and wife of Wayne were present, his brother E. A. and wife being detained at Omaha by sickness, could not be present; but his two sons and daughter and husband were of the party. Also Mrs. Dave Surber, widow of the older brother; Ed and two children, John, Mabel and family and Miss Francis, nephews and neices, with some old time friends made up the happy gathering.

Of the four children born to Mr. and Mrs. Surber not one could be present. They are Roy of Sioux county, in this state; Lester of Tulsa, Oklahoma; Albert, Omaha; and Mrs. Elsie Smith, Indianapolis, Indiana. In the family of four children and seven grandchildren no deaths have come in the half century.

A bounteous dinner was served by the host and hostess, and many congratulations and wishes for added happy years were expressed.

Rev. F. K. Allen of the Baptist church performed the ceremony in the presence of the guests on the front porch as the house was too small, and using the ring ceremony, retied the knot so that it will not slip for the next half century.

Mr. and Mrs. Surber are among the early settlers in this county, the not constant residents here. They lived in the western part of the state, in Oklahoma and in some state east of here; and returned and purchased a home at Wayne about two years ago. Good citizens all join in wishing them many happy returns of the day.

BABY CONFERENCE

Baby conferences will be held in each town in Wayne county during the first two weeks in June. The babies will be weighed and measured, and a record stating normal weight for height and age, will be given to each mother. Each child will be examined by a local physician who will advise the mother in the care and feeding of her child. Many children of preschool age have symptoms of malnutrition, which is a great handicap to a growing child. No medical advice will be given, but where defects are found, the mother will be advised of the defect. Children who are sick or have symptoms of an acute cold, must not be brought to the conference, as they would expose the other children to infection.

The conference is for children under seven years of age.

Laurenze Skavlan, County Nurse.

CAPT. R. G. (DICK) HUNTER HOME FROM HONOLULU

Captain Hunter, who has been stationed for the past two years in the Hawaiian Islands, serving in the 13th heavy artillery, arrived at Wayne Monday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Hunter, his brother and his sisters, Mrs. Ray Norton and Mrs. Grant Simmon. He landed in the states April 23, and went direct to Washington, where he had a business mission. He then came to Wayne, and expects to have about three weeks to tarry here before leaving for the tropical islands in the mid pacific.

NO SUNDAY BASE BALL IN DIXON COUNTY

At the meeting of the county board of supervisors last week, the question of allowing Sunday base ball in Dixon county, was voted down. This has been a bone of contention for several years and many good and sufficient arguments have been produced for either side. Hastings council also forbid Sunday ball.

FIRE ALARM SOUNDED SATURDAY EVENING

Wayne firemen were called out by a false alarm Saturday evening about eight o'clock when it was thought a fire was breaking out on the roof of the building occupied by W. A. Hiscox and the Felber drug store. It proved to be much smoke from the Hiscox furnace which had been liberally fed with crating and other packing that came about goods until those on opposite side of street said flames were showing on the roof. The firemen responded promptly but their services were not needed, as the fire was subsiding before their arrival, and it was decided that nothing more serious than the burning of the soot from the chimney had been the cause of the excitement.

But one thing was demonstrated, says one of the firemen to the Democrat, and that is that there are many auto drivers in this and other small towns who would be killed or have their cars smashed if in a city when a fire alarm came. Here they blocked the street, and almost stopped the progress of the fire trucks at times. Others backed out from the curbs into the street, apparently with little thought of their danger or the danger to others. Idle curiosity appeared to draw a lot of cars to the scene, and every one added to the congestion and the danger, as well as delay of the firemen.

The city rule is for vehicles on the streets when the firemen are called is to pull from the street center to the curb and stop until there is a quiet when the danger is passed, and the fellow who rushed his car into the danger zone would be taken care of by the police. To be sure, a lot of people do not think that they are simply retarding the fire fighters and taking needless chances on their own necks and cars.

We will be glad if the fire chief will formulate rules to govern, to print the same, that all may have a fair chance.

INTERESTING MEETINGS AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH

Last week it was announced that mission for one week would be held at the St. Mary's church in this city conducted by Rev. Peter Hoey from New York. These meetings are of more than usual interest, the speaker being a man of earnest eloquence, and each evening sees the church well filled, while people who are out as early as 6:30 of a morning see many devout people going to the service beginning at that hour. Many people from Carroll and outside of Wayne are coming each evening to enjoy the sermons.

Rev. Hoey's topics are timely and the services will continue each evening this week. A question box and the answers to questions is one of the interesting features of the service. All are welcome to the services and many are improving the opportunity to hear this gifted speaker.

W. C. T. U. HOLD INTERESTING SESSION FRIDAY

Last Friday, at the home of Mrs. C. O. Mitchell the ladies of the Wayne W. C. T. U. gathered for the last regular meeting this spring. They had a program full of interest. Mrs. W. C. Fox led the devotionals, Mrs. Mitchell led a session of community singing, and Mrs. Geo. Fortner gave a reading of much interest, and the following officers were named for the coming year: Mrs. I. E. Ellis, president; Mrs. W. C. Fox, vice president; Mrs. S. Iekler, secretary; Mrs. Wm. Beckenhauer, treasurer.

Mrs. Mitchell, the retiring president made a few fitting remarks, thanking the members for their cooperation during her term as head officer and urging the members to keep the interest of the organization alive in the move to have a headquarters at the fair next fall. A covered dish luncheon was served, after which the meeting adjourned for the summer vacation.

THE KIWANIS GOLF

Members of the Kiwanis club are having some interesting golf games this week deciding who is who in this contest. Some of the games are interesting because they are good games and others for the other reason, for not all are experts. The scores are not available this morning but there is a marked interest today, for the two leaders, L. A. Fanske and J. C. Nuss are working for place today.

Later we learn that Fanske is the winner by a small margin.

ICE PLANT HAS NEW OWNERS TRAPP & WILLIAMS PURCHASE

Messrs C. L. Trapp, a practical ice manufacturer with much experience, and Hugo W. Williams, both of Omaha have purchased from J. W. Krueger the machinery for making ice, and are fitting the same up for operation at once. Mr. Trapp, who is in charge of the plant, is busy making some adjustments which his experience tells him will be beneficial for the economical production of ice, and hopes to turn the wheels next week and then meet the warm weather with a chill producer in your refrigerator.

Mr. Trapp tells us that he plans to move to Wayne as soon as he can get things going so as to find time to pick a place to light, and he can see no reason why there should not be plenty of demand for the output of the plant as soon as the weather man turns on the heat.

It really makes people who had feared that the plant might not operate this summer feel assured that there may not be any shortage, in case the natural ice was not ample to meet the needs.

Mr. Krueger has not yet announced his plans for the future, but we hope that he finds something to keep him at Wayne, for he is the kind of citizen we need.

VERN NEWBERRY FALLS FROM TREE FRACTURING SKULL

Monday afternoon, while playing with a number of other little folks at the Mrs. Mary Gamble home on 3rd street Vern Newberry, the 8-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Newberry fell from a tree he had climbed to a height of some 15 to 18 feet, striking on the concrete walk beneath, causing a severe concussion over the right ear and fracturing the rim of the skull above the right eye, besides fracturing the collar bone and bruising the back. His playmates at once gave the alarm and neighbors carried him home. A physician was soon at hand, and it was decided to take him at once to the hospital, where an x-ray photo revealed the condition told above. The lad was given the best of care and carefully watched his condition during the hours he lay wholly unconscious. Gradually he began to come back to a realization of his surroundings, and at this writing has gained perceptibly, and it is thought that he will gradually return to normal condition without an operation to remove the slight pressure on the brain.

WAKEFIELD LADIES RETURN FROM G. A. R. CONVENTION

Mrs. Will Hugelman, Mrs. Chas. Beebe, Mrs. Ray Oliver, Mrs. Tan Hype and Mrs. Catherine Dilts returned Thursday morning from Fremont where they attended the D. of V. convention. The G. A. R., D. of G. A. R., Women's Relief Corps, Sons of Veterans and D. A. R., also had their conventions at the same time.

There were 225 old soldiers present at the convention. The D. and V. was the largest organization present.

A luncheon at the Pathfinder Hotel was given for the Daughters of Veterans. Although the convention was one of the best ever held in this part of the country. The next state convention is at Omaha in 1925. Mrs. Chas. Beebe was elected as a delegate to the National Convention to be held at Boston in June. Mrs. Tan Hype was elected state color bearer, and Mrs. Ray Oliver state council member.—Wakefield Republican.

Saturday afternoon an extra stock special came off the branch with 22 car loads, all cattle except three cars of hogs. They took 16 cars from Wausa and six from Magnet, leaving at 3:40 to deliver the load at Emerson in time to let them out of there at 6:35, and engine and crew being ready there to take them to Blair. From there they went into a through Chicago train, and expected to make the run without stopping to feed, and be in the city by the lake early Monday morning.

We will appreciate co-operation in gathering material of interest that will be of value to all when broadcasted over the entire county.

PUTNAM-LAMBERSON

Mr. Leo Clare Lamberson and Miss Abbia Dell Putnam, were married, Wednesday May 21, 1924, at Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Miss Putnam is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Putnam of Ponca. She has been a student at the State Teachers college for about three years. She also acted as supervisor at the park two years ago. Miss Putnam is well known in Wayne and has a host of friends.

Mr. Lamberson is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Lamberson of this place and has lived in Wayne since early boyhood. He has been employed at the Craven hardware store for nine years. He also served in the late war.

After a two weeks wedding trip over the state Mr. and Mrs. Lamberson will return to Wayne where they will make their home. The young couple have many friends in Wayne who wish them much happiness.

HAMILTON BAKERY ROBBED SUNDAY MORNING

Sunday morning it was discovered that burglars had entered the Hamilton bakery thru a back window, and then thru to the front—opened the safe and pried the cash drawer out and taken it and the contents, about $100 and disappeared. So far there is no trace of the thief, but is believed to have been the work of home talent or amateurs.

The loss is on Geo. Holekamp, who two weeks ago took over the front-end of the business, Mr. Hamilton retaining the bakery and conducting the same. The loss just when the new proprietor is starting in the business is not the most pleasant experience, adding as it does to the expenses that go with starting in. It is hoped that the guilty ones are caught and punished.

METHODISTS TO ALTER BAN ON AMUSEMENTS

Springfield, Massachusetts, May 20.—Modification of the ban on dancing attendance at theaters, participation in harmless games of chance, and other amusements, were expected to be ratified by the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church following a vote by the committee on state of church.

Further reduction of the number of Episcopal residences, and possible elimination of the residence in Paris, France, was anticipated as a result of the situation created by yesterday's vote on the matter of electing new bishops.

The matter of replacing bishops for those now retired is in the hands of the committee on episcopacy. They will determine the episcopal residences to be eliminated to conform with Monday's ruling cutting the number of new bishops from five to three.

The following residences were mentioned as liable to be eliminated: Philadelphia, Buffalo, New York, Helena, Montana, Indianapolis, and Paris, France.

AT HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

Last week the Wayne High school class of 1924 received their diplomas. Also heard a splendid address from Dr. A. A. Brooks of Lincoln. The announcement of the highest scholarship for the four year period was anxiously awaited by many of the class and their friends. When given, it was the name of Miss Helen Loomis that was first, and Miss Blanche Gildersleeve who had the second honors, and others were so close that it was not until the final reports were given that any were sure to whom the honor might come.

CARD OF THANKS

To the many kind friends who assisted in the sickness, death and burial of our darling babe, also for the beautiful floral offerings, we extend to you our sincere thanks.

THE LEGION DRIVE AND BANQUET MARKED SUCCESS

When members of the Legion post at Wayne decided to make a membership drive, choosing sides with a banquet the prize to strive for, they started something really helpful to the organization. Not only the more than forty new members was a result, but a renewed interest and a better knowledge among the members and the public of the real objects of the organization, and a new inspiration to do seems to have been awakened.

Seventy or more soldier men gathered for the splendid dinner served by the ladies of the Baptist church Tuesday evening. Not all were Legion boys; for a half dozen veterans of the Civil war were able to respond to the invitation extended to the members of the G. A. R., and two veterans of the Spanish-American war, Albert Mau and Wm. Assenheimer were also guests. So, too, was Capt. Dick Hunter now in service in heavy artillery in the Philippines, who is home for a short leave of absence.

Sam Reynolds was the speaker of the evening. He is ex-commander of the post at Omaha, the largest post in the organization, and an enthusiastic booster for the Legion on any and all occasions. Mr. R. made a splendid talk, giving a bit of history of the organization, but dwelling most upon its duties—its mission. He does not like the title of "ex-service" as well and would leave the last word alone for the name, for in his opinion they are and should be service men in peace as well as war. They have duties of great moment to perform in the affairs of the nation.

He referred to the passing of the bonus bill over the veto of the president, and, while perhaps not thinking that the recognition is what it should be, and that it is misnamed, he was glad that it had at last been disposed of, after five years of delay. His talk was an inspiration to those who heard it, and will make better members and better citizens of those listening.

Captain Hunter told of conditions on the islands in mid-Pacific, and the importance of these islands in case of trouble ever coming with the countries of the far east.

The members of the G. A. R. were asked to speak, and some of them made brief talks; but they all understood and appreciated the fraternal spirit of the occasion and the welcome extended them by those who did their part in the great World war.

The Post at Wayne has been strengthened in public opinion by this membership drive in more ways than just in point of new members.

The following verses were written by Mrs. Grimmsley and presented to the Legion boys on this occasion, expressing the sentiment she believes should prompt the membership.

Who now lie low
In Flanders field where Poppies blow,
And beck, and nod
To valiant souls, gone on to God,
Who seeth e'en in the Sparrow fall.

And how much more,
His loving eye will see—
The noble sacrifice
Our boys did make,
That other Nations might be free.

And Peace, the heavenly Dove
Might bring her message down,
And brothers dwell in love
Not ruled by him who wears the Crown.

Lest we forget the boys so brave
Who lie in Flanders field so low,
And gave their lives to save
The Country where the Poppies blow
The Country where the Poppies blow
Those flowers we give.

A LITTLE ONE CALLED HOME

Edward, the 11 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rennick of Pflug passed away Saturday, May 17, 1924, and the funeral service and burial was Monday the 19th at Pilger, Rev. B. E. Eberly preaching the sermon to a large audience of sympathizing relatives, friends and neighbors.

The little one was ill two weeks, his complaint baffling the skill of physicians at home, at Norfolk and Omaha, where he was taken for the best that they could find in medical knowledge.

Quite a number from Wayne attended the funeral, James Rennick the grandfather and his wife, Mrs. Ada Rennick, Carl Wright and wife, Mrs. Geo. Patterson, L. Wheeler and Grandpa Patterson, besides Robert Pierce and wife of Wakefield.

Miss Dorothy James of Pender won second place in the state declamatory contest at North Platte last week. Mildred Skinner of North Platte won the first place, she having the advantage of a year work in a school of expression, while Miss James, in common with most of the eight contestants had simply taken the contest in connection with their school studies.

Wisner is agitating the question of paving in the near future. A survey is being made of Main street and two blocks north from depot to Main is under consideration. At Pilger they are installing a truck for carrying their fire-fighting equipment, the chemical and a reel of hose. That means less fire loss, for time in starting the fight with fire means much, and the truck will speed up the time consumed in reaching a fire ready to fight it. with gasoline as with paint—
it's BALANCE
that COUNTS

HIGH quality pigments and oils don't guarantee a paint that spreads, covers and wears well. Neither do low, medium and higher boiling point fractions in gasoline assure superior motor fuel. In both cases balanced proportions determine real worth.

If altering the proportions of low and higher boiling point fractions in Red Crown would improve it, we would change it to a blended gasoline.

But Red Crown is so accurately balanced to give quick starts in any weather, burns up with such a slight residue of carbon, develops power so dependably and gives such big mileage per gallon that it would be a mistake to change it.

Innumerable experiments have proved that you can neither add nor take away any fraction of Red Crown and have as good an all-around motor fuel.

Drive in to any Red Crown Service Station and fill up with balanced gasoline. You will receive prompt attention, courteous service and full measure of gasoline that is suited to the needs of modern motors and Polarine motor oils that give protective lubrication.

BADLY INJURED IN AUTO WRECK

Winside, Nebraska, May 20.—When an automobile traveling at a high rate of speed left the road and crashed into a fence across the embankment, three miles east of Winside Sunday evening, a man giving his name as Jack Gibbons of Norfolk was seriously injured and three other members, one woman and a 7-year-old boy suffered minor injuries when they were thrown from the car.

The man who gave his name as Gibbons was seriously hurt about the head and face. They were taken to a local hospital, where it took eighteen stitches in the injured man's head, to close the cut. It is understood here that he was later taken to a Norfolk hospital.

Walter Gaebler and G. G. Haller of this place, who were driving by, assisted in getting the injured persons to a doctor.

The names of the other persons in the party could not be learned here. They were driving a new seven-passenger Studebaker car.

Where the accident occurred, there is a turn in the road, but guard rails have been placed so that the curve could be seen long before it was reached.

DON'T HURRY THE BONUS

The war department issued the following list of "don'ts" to veterans, which it says, if followed, will speed up the work:

1. Do not write for application blanks. They will be distributed as soon as prepared.
2. Read instructions carefully.
3. Do not pay fees other than notary charges required in certain cases.
4. Do not write the war department for information required on the blank. Do the best you can from memory.
5. Mail applications in the envelopes which will be distributed with the blanks.

NORFOLK HIGH WINS NORTHEAST NEBRASKA HIGH SCHOOL MEET

Madison County Athletes With Relay and Forge Ahead of Neligh; Four Records Broken

Norfolk High won the Annual Northeast Nebraska Track and Field meet held on the State Teachers college field May 16, Neligh taking second place and Tekamah third. The finish was a thrilling one as four teams were still in the running up to the last event, the half-mile relay. Neligh apparently clinched honors by taking the first section in 1:42.5 with Crofton second. The fast Norfolk four, however, more than lived up to advance notices and, closely crowded by Randolph, broke the tape in 1:41.3 for a new meet record, the relay cup, and meet honors.

A stiff wind slowed up the sprints but four meet records were broken, two of them by Tekamah. Willert of Tekamah exploded the first bomb when he made 2:14.8 in the half mile, nosing out Kuhl of Randolph and Van Auken, Bloomfield, by inches. Sackett, also of Tekamah, broke the 220 yard hurdle mark, covering the distance in 29.2. Hammerback of Crofton turned in the best performance of the day when he vaulted ten feet to set a new record. Calvert, Randolph, exceeded and Downie, Bloomfield, tied the old mark. Driver, Hartington, came within four inches of the discus mark, heaving the platter 107-feet 4-inches. Breyer of Pierce made 106-feet.

Greene, Neligh, won the gold medal by taking first in two events. Hammerback, Crofton, took one first and tied for another, winning the silver medal.

N. E. N. A. A. Records

The Goldenrod staff has encountered quite a little difficulty in collecting the Northeast Nebraska meet records for the reason that no official records are available for the years before the meet was permanently located at Wayne. Old newspaper files have been searched but it is almost certain that many inaccuracies occur in the records given below as the reports of several meets are still missing. Officials of the association would be grateful if corrections on the following tentative list be forwarded to Coach F. G. Dale.

TRYING TO BLOW IT IN THE BOTTLE

There seems to be trouble brewing in the republican camp. It begins to look like old times to us cronies who helped to pioneer reforms in Nebraska in the late 70s and throughout the 80's and the 90's. Those were the real days of political construction in Nebraska. The republican party had had its own way so long—40,000 majority had been the average for years in those days of slim population—and the Union Pacific at the north of the Platte and the Burlington at the south of the Platte, ran things pretty much to their liking until the anti-monopolists gathered strength enough to make 'em sit up and take notice. Then the Northwestern had gathered sufficient prestige in the state and all railroads pooled their issues. A new uprising in the populist party freed some republican office holders to the penitentiary and others to oblivion—and put the state into a real business corporation. History is repeating itself.

Senator Norris has thrown a bomb into the republican camp—that is to say, he refuses to obey the platform and recognize the endorsement of President Coolidge. While this is being criticized, let us remember that the vote of the people is for Norris and that for the president is accidental, because Norris had an opponent on the primary ballot and was nominated three to one over him.

"Let the people rule" never had a better opportunity of practical demonstration than now. The people are tired of the false prophets and the signs of the times indicate a return to honest government.

Senators Norris and Howell have joined issues, not in supplanting the republican party, but in an endeavor to weed out the reactionaries of good government. The scandals winked at by the reactionaries of both major parties are not to be winked at by Nebraska's two senators nor by the democratic congressmen in Nebraska. President Coolidge is meeting with defeat in all his administrative work with congress—the most humiliating of any president since Johnson.—Niobrara Tribune.

Protective Lubrication with clean oil is real economy

You are not saving money when you pour clean oil into a crank-case containing dirty oil heavily diluted with gasoline. You are hurrying your motor to the junk pile. Strong language. But consider these facts.

No matter how carefully piston rings are fitted, or how finely the carburetor is adjusted, gasoline vapors leak past the piston rings. Besides this, oil is contaminated by hard particles of road dust drawn in through the carburetor and the breather tubes. After 500 miles of operation, crank-case oil is becoming a grinding solution. With such oil rapid wear and loss of power are certain.

Polarine after every 500 miles of operation. Always use the grade of Polarine best suited to your motor.

This assures protective lubrication and operating economy. You gain many times the cost of the additional oil in greater power and bigger mileage from gasoline, and in smaller repair bills.

Look for this sign. Consult the Polarine Chart. Buy the grade recommended—a grade to suit every car—light, medium, medium heavy, special heavy and extra heavy. Give your motor protective lubrication.

DEATH OF J. C. ELLIOTT

J. C. Elliott died suddenly at his home in West Point Tuesday evening May 6th. He had been ailing in health for the past two years with diabetes and within the last six months he was frequently confined to home. He is survived by his sorrowing wife, four sons and two daughters.

Funeral services were held at the Grace Lutheran church at West Point Friday afternoon at two o'clock. The Masonic lodge had charge of the services at the grave.

Mr. Elliott is well known all over the county being for many years editor of the West Point Republican, county attorney for several years, and a prominent man in all civic and political movements. He had been a resident of West Point for thirty-five years. He was the present postmaster in that city, having been recently appointed to the office.—Wisner News.

CAR STOLEN SATURDAY EVENING

Last Saturday evening, at 10 o'clock Carl N. Kroger, discovered that his Ford touring car 1923 model was taken off of Main street at Wisner. He then notified the marshal and he got busy and sent phone calls throughout the country. Within twenty minutes after the West Point Marshal had got his call he found the car, parked on Main street and the fellow reported as Ray Goodner, in a hotel asleep.

No one knows what is going to happen (politically) between now and early November. Much depends upon the nominee and platform of the national democratic convention. The republican convention is apparently all set, and will ratify the Coolidge nomination and make a platform as near all things to all men as can be made, regardless of their standpat record. If the democrats do not name a progressive on a progressive platform a third party will organize that will be heard from in November. The great middle west cannot and will not be held in line by the conservatives of either old party.

Again the administration is defeated in its purpose as to tax reduction, by members of congress, who in their conference report on tax reduction, rejecting the Mellon plan and rate and adopting the plan giving the greater reduction to the greater number of poorer people with the less reduction to those who are so much better able to pay it and who certainly should pay for the government under which they prosper in some fair proportion to their prosperity. In the matter of making public the reports alone did the administration forces win a point. They prefer secrecy to publicity, naturally for their figures might not look well to the general public who are putting up their excess profits.

According to the reports from Washington, Congressman Howard came near having a fist encounter with a California congressman whom Howard accused of insulting him. A Minnesota member restrained our congressman from doing him bodily injury.

Edward Jackson, endorsed by the Klan, has received the republican nomination from governor of Indiana, so that question will have to be threshed out in the general election. Publicity is the greatest cure for political ills, no secret political organization has long been able to survive in the United States. Perhaps the Klan is the most formidable of any; but we do not think the citizens will stand for politics that will not work without a mask or being in the shadow of night. The American should remember that the big book tells of those who prefer darkness rather than light, and why they so prefer.

The question of whether or not income tax records should be made public, and as usual the secretary of the treasury, who thinks other than big tax payers have no right to be respected, is against the idea. It might hit him a bit—or at least let the people know why a lot of favors to the rich have been given and more asked for. That was a question sixty years ago, and then as now opposed by the rich. But Horace Greeley, at that time editor of the New York Tribune, then a leading paper and a political power in the land said they should be given to the public, and he published the returns of the New York people, and the result was that many voluntarily discovered errors they had made and overlooked in their reports, adding much to the taxes paid by those who had planned to slich that much from the government. Beyond a doubt the returns would be more honestly made if they were open for public inspection; and the publication of the Wayne contribution thru that tax would make interesting reading.

We are a peculiar people. We complain of the tax burden as much or more than we can bear, but we go right on piling the tax up higher and bigger. The figures on imports show that at Boston alone, in the one month of March, we imported at that port more than 6,000,000 pounds of wool from many parts of the world, Argentina, Australia, and New Zealand selling in most of it their total amounting to more than five million pounds. We have to pay the tariff not only on every pound of this wool, but, if there is any benefit for the wool-grower in the protective theory, we have to pay particularly the tariff on the wool produced here in a higher price. Why should a whole people put a burden on themselves to aid a few wool growers? In fact, with the tariff adjusted at it is, the average small producer of wool would be better off without the protection, we believe, for while he may get a bit of premium on the price of his wool crop, he is paying it out to some other fellow who is receiving a stimulated price on something he must buy. It may be on the clothing for himself and the family. It is also on his sugar, his steel, his cotton goods and many other things. One would think we like taxes from the way we have been voting for them.

Do the people own the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.? The Manufacturer and Industrial News Bureau a monthly publication with very conservative leanings and a believer in a protective organ claims that "the people own utilities," and cites the above company as the most illustrious example. Then they say that the company has 281,149 stockholders, and that 267,630 of these hold less than 100 shares each. About one-sixth of the employees of the Bell System hold stock, and 100,000 more of them are paying for stock on the installment plan. And they call that the people owning utilities. Yet we venture the assertion that the more than 267 thousand share holders mentioned do not hold shares enough to control the business if they could all be united and voted together at their annual meetings. They really have no more to say as to the affairs of the company that will count than has the least patron of the concern. To us there is a vast difference between a few of the people having shares in a corporation and government ownership. We are not saying that the small share holders are not making a good, safe investment; but we do say that, in our opinion, the company as a whole is profiting by having share holders as employees. Their interest is greater in the affairs of the concern if they feel that in a small measure they are working for themselves.

CONGRESSMAN HOWARD ON DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE

In reply to many questions as to his views and the views of those who are at Washington, as to who are favored for the head places in the coming battle for the presidency, Mr. Howard concedes the nomination of Coolidge for the republican leader, and is inclined to think that some middle west man who is considered fairly progressive by the standpatters will win the second place.

Of the democratic first place man he mentions McAdoo, Al. Smith and some others including Davis he adds: "If the democratic national convention shall exhibit a reasonable degree of horse sense it will nominate for president a man who can win that element of support generally spoken of as the progressive element in both parties. What do I mean by the progressive element? I mean nothing more, nothing less than that element which denies a divine or any other kind of right on part of Wall street to do the governing business in the United States. For instance, it is as clear as day that the LaFollette progressive republicans do not intend to support President Coolidge. Every day I hear the leaders among that element declare that they will support a really progressive democrat for president, but in the same breath they declare that if the republicans shall nominate Coolidge, and if the democrats shall also nominate a reactionary for president, in that event LaFollette will run as an independent candidate, not hoping to be elected at the November election, but hoping to throw the election into the House of Representatives. The general opinion among members of congress is that as an independent LaFollette could carry twelve or fourteen corn-belt and far Western states.

"But many are asking me to speak the name of some democrat who could and would receive the support of the LaFollette republicans. Either William J. or Charles W. Bryan could receive that support. Senator Walsh, of Montana, could receive it. Senator McKellar, of Tennessee, would also be favorably regarded by the LaFollette following. Congressman Ayers, of Kansas, and Senator Owen, of Oklahoma, are highly regarded by all progressives. Senator Ralston of Indiana, might possibly receive that support, but only on condition that he would make the race on a platform acceptable to LaFollette. And Senator Copeland, the brilliant junior senator from New York, might be acceptable to the progressives, if he would stand squarely upon a LaFollette platform. Of course it is well known that my own first choice among all these is William J. Bryan. The country is calling for a nominee so clean that the finger of suspicion will not point to either his private or public record.

He could win the votes of all true progressives in all political parties, and 8 out of 10 women in all the States would give him their vote, regardless of their own political affiliations. He ought to be nominated. I rather believe that the name of my second choice would be that magnificent man from Montana—Senator Walsh. He is able, eloquent, and as fearless as a bull dog, and all the gods and all white men know that the country is looking for men of courage in high places.

OVER THE VETO

That is the way the insurance bonus is coming to the soldier lads who served the country in an emergency as great as any that has overtaken this country since the days of the Civil war. A paragraph given below is said to tell the method of computing what each lad may have coming to him in twenty years or at death, and when you have read that you may learn just about the value the administration that was too much to pay for those who endured hardship and risked life for a cause we all held dear.

One who has studied the bill and its provisions and who also was in service said that it was figured at a rate which was intended to reimburse the soldier for what he was forced to pay from his wage for insurance while in service, if he provided any protection for home folks from whom he was taken. The veto shows how grateful our president feels to the soldiers.

The bill provides life insurance policies for veterans on the basis of adjusted compensation at the rate of $1 a day for home service and $1.25 a day for overseas service. Basic compensation of not to exceed $500, for home veterans and $625 for overseas men, is multiplied by an arbitrary figure to arrive at the face value of the insurance policies, roughly two and one-half times the basic compensation.

INVESTIGATE AT ONCE (New York World.)

Andrew W. Mellon the citizen cannot ignore the definite charges brought against him by Gifford Pinchot the citizen. Even less can the secretary of the treasury ignore such charges brought by the governor of Pennsylvania. Not only are the two men concerned as individuals in the grave statements imputed to Governor Pinchot speaking before the Methodist conference at Springfield, Massachusetts, but the administration and the government are affected.

In a word, Governor Pinchot is quoted as implying that Secretary Mellon winks or connives at law-breaking related to his own personal property in Overholt whiskey. He is further quoted as implying that the secretary's opposition to a congressional investigation of prohibition enforcement by the treasury department arises from a desire to conceal evidence of personal dereliction.

The public will not accept without proof such statements about Mr. Mellon. But it will feel that they cannot be idly made or ignored if any confidence in the government of the United States or its officers is to be retained.

DO SOMETHING NICE FOR MOTHER

You Dads with Daughters, do not spend so much on them that you have to neglect their mother.

Of course Mother does not demand as much money, but she needs some of the little bits of wearing apparel, fine and dainty, and certain to let articles which means so much to the majority of women.

Mother says you are not to spend more on her than is absolutely necessary, but just the same it pleases her when Dad brings her something every time he does Daughter.

It hurts to think that interest has been transferred even to Daughter.

She wants to feel that she has a warm place in Dad's heart, that his thoughts turn to her, even when he purchases knick-knacks for the youngsters.

Daughter should be taught that mothers are to be thought of first.

Real mothers have a trying time of it at best.

When there is an opportunity to add a little brightness and joy to your wife's life, even if you must do constantly for the children, do it, old man.

In fact the whole family should be anxious to do something nice for Mother.—EX.

EXECUTIONER ON WAY AS SIMMONS' DOOM APPROACHES

Lincoln, Nebraska, May 21.—A train speeding west today carried W. S. Gilbert, Trenton, N. J., on his way here to act as official executioner in the electrocution of Walter Ray Simmons on May 23.

Gilbert was ordered by Warden W. F. Fenton to start for Lincoln late yesterday after the state supreme court had refused to allow a writ of error brought up in Simmons' behalf and Governor Bryan had reasserted his position against a reprieve for Simmons.

As attorneys were making the last legal attempt to stave off the seeming inevitable, Simmons maintained his courage and held hope that through the United States supreme court he might gain a reprieve.

"It isn't myself I'm thinking of now—it's my folks," Simmons said in an exclusive interview today. "Whatever happens I'll do as I have said—finish up without losing my nerve."

Simmons showed no disappointment over the failure of the state supreme court to hear the habeas corpus proceedings in his behalf. "You can bet on one thing," said

Simmons. "We're going to take this thing to the United States supreme court before its over. That's the place I've always wanted to try.

"Things do look pretty slim now though I'll admit."

Vets Ask Commutation

Omaha, Nebraska, May 21.—Petitions asking a commutation of the death sentence of Walter Ray Simmons, convicted of the murder of ever happens I'll do as I have said—electric chair Friday, are being circulated by ex-service men and members of the American Legion in Omaha today. The signatures will go forward to Governor Bryan tonight if Simmons' attorneys are unsuccessful in obtaining a stay of execution.

The trial is called fair in the document, but it says that Simmons was convicted on circumstantial evidence. Simmons has an honorable discharge from the navy.

HOW THE LOAN WORKS (Dearborn Independent)

The significance of international banker control of the destinies of countries is illustrated in the remarkable terms of the four hundred million lire loan the Banca Commerciale Italiana has recently extended to the Polish Republic.

The loan is secured by a first lien on all the fiscal revenues arising from the Tobacco Monopoly in Poland and runs for twenty years. The price of issue to the public is eighty-seven and three-fourths of interest seven per cent, a terrific burden to the borrower. The Italian Government has given the bondholders a subsidiary guaranty to the effect that if the Polish Government by reason of armed invasion is unable to meet interest on the bonds at any time, then the Italian Government will substitute its own liability.

It is provided that in this event the Italian flag will be raised on all properties of the Polish Tobacco Monopoly in Poland which will come immediately under the protection of the Italian Government. Thus thousands of Italian conscripts may be slaughtered in Poland or other theaters of war, and the Italian taxpayer loaded with greater burdens, in order to fulfill the international bankers' contract.

However, this loan has the virtue of putting into plain words the real intent of all these international banker loans where the politicians have been brought into collusion with the money lenders.

The bulk of the people in this country do not realize the extent of the European practice of international bankers bringing the various leaders of political parties under their control for the furtherance of these unholy deals. The politicians, even the most eminent, are reached either through outright bribery or by assistance in profitable speculation.

The maneuvers to get American bankers with international alliances to place reparations bonds with the public have in mind that this will ultimately bind our government to countenance the deals which bankers of France, Germany, Holland and elsewhere are making at the expense of the working people of Europe who will sweat for generations to satisfy their new masters. What could not be accomplished politically with America may be done by the bankers.

"It's Never Too Late To Mend"

This old saying proves true in regard to much machinery, as H. H. Hachmeier can demonstrate to you just when you need some one to stop trouble with pumps, windmills, engines, mowers, reapers, hay sweeps, rakes and most any other kind of farm machinery.

His headquarters are in the Red Front with the Fairmont cream station, where he carries a line of supplies for most of these implements; and in some instances he has second hand parts which will answer every need, and has a saving over the new. He has new sickles, for the mower, teeth for the sweep, and a lot of the most needed mower repairs, which you may need before you get far with your alfalfa.

It is economy to see if he cannot save you for a few dollars the price of some new machine.

He has a stock of "Mudless" stock waterers, a fine thing for the hogs; also splendid chicken fount.

His shop phone is 62, and the home 170, and he will be glad to serve you and also save you money.

Editor Jackson of Inman, who is also postmaster of that city, had the pleasure of reading his obituary. It seems that the report of his death had gone to his former home in South Dakota, and the papers told of his life, enumerating his many virtues. The first he knew of it or his supposed death was when messages of condolence began to come to the wife. He denies the whole story, and like Mark Twain under similar provocation says that the report of his death was greatly exaggerated. The offending editor has retracted the story. It was a good story until proven untrue.

Omaha is gaining on Chicago as a live stock market. Having attained second place with much larger receipts this year than at Kansas City, Omaha stock men have set Chicago as the mark to equal, and results are already being seen. For the first quarter of 1924 Chicago's receipts were 180 per cent greater than Omaha's, but in April Chicago received but 80 per cent more cattle than were reported at the Omaha yards. Omaha during the first quarter received 46,570 carloads of stock, or a train, if these were hooked together, that would be 441 miles long.

Now the conference committee on the tax measure is getting down to brass tacks, and making the best bluffs possible to come as near getting what is wanted on each side as is possible. From what leaks out, the fellows who dread the publicity feature proposed seem to feel that it will be cheaper for them to hide their incomes from the public and pay more tax than to have public know more about what they swear to as their income and surtax. Seems as tho a prosperous, honest business man would be rather pleased to have the world know to what extent he was prospering.

The next dance at the pavilion south of Wayne is to be an Old Time dance, on Tuesday evening next, the 27th, and they do say that for the younger people one of the dances, where they dance as they did forty or more years ago, is a real circus for those who know only the hops of today.

Learn What Chiropractic Is

If any segment of the spine is in an abnormal position (subluxation) pressure is produced on the nerve trunks at that point and disease develops.

CHIROPRACTIC is a drugless health science of the cause of so-called disease and the art of adjusting the human spine when its segments are out of natural alignment, so that mental impulse can transmit naturally through the nerves to provide normal health function to every organ and part of the body.

It is a system that includes the use of nothing but the bare hands to locate a subluxated vertebra (small bones of the spine) and effects its replacement to normal position by a peculiar move, made in a particular direction, with a technical degree of speed and force.

The Brain is the power plant of the body. The nerves are the electric cable distributing the power by way of the spine to the different parts of the body to produce life. The stomach, liver, kidneys and other organs are motors which are run by power delivered through the nerves.

If the power is severed, or interfered with, the motor quits running. Connect up the power and the motor starts running. Same is the case with our bodies. We are simply a complicated piece of machinery and each part must work in harmony to make HEALTH, which is LIFE. The Chiropractor connects up the power that has been interfered with by releasing the pressure and allowing the power (Vital Force) to flow uninterruptedly to the various organs, which then function normally. If there was no good in Chiropractic it would have died of its own accord years ago; but it still lives and is progressing very rapidly.

IMMANUEL KANT, 1724-1794
(From The Goldenrod)

So far as changes of external fortune are concerned, the life of the greatest philosopher of the 18th century presents little or nothing of interest. Born in humble circumstances, he passed a quiet and almost undisturbed existence without ever having been more than 40 miles from his native place. His education was obtained at Koenigsberg which was his birthplace, and during a prolonged academic activity in that retired Prussian town he gave forth the works that have exercised such influence on European thought that, in the estimation of some judges, they may be placed on a level with the French Revolution, as the most important factors in determining the characteristic features of the 19th century culture.

The fame of this man is indeed almost uncanny. His name is a synonym for profundity among thousands who do not know in the least why he was profound.

The English Empiricists who preceded Kant were chiefly concerned with the problem of knowledge. How can we know anything or how can we know anything? David Hume had startled the world by saying in effect that we are not sure that we do know anything. His assertion that causality could not be demonstrated shook the foundations of the science of the day and made it rest upon mere belief.

It was Hume who Kant said had awakened him from his dogmatic slumbers. Kant continued the investigation. "How is experience possible? How can we know anything?" Kant asked. It is not a problem that would bother many, but upon its answer, he thought depended the basis of both science and religion. Science had been almost wrecked by the skeptical Hume and religion had almost been wrecked by science.

Kant's chief work was the "Critique of Pure Reason" published in 1781. According to his statement, it was the hurried notations of the result of his reflections covering a period of twelve years. It was written professedly for professionals and is in a peculiar style and is for these two reasons a very difficult book.

Of course it is impossible to give an epitome of Kant's ideas in a few paragraphs. His first discovery, however, was that space and time with which the exact natural science operate, are not real objects or attributes, but are a mere a priori mode of our perception. He further concluded that our seeing phenomena as cause and effect was but another attribute of our method of perception, or simply a way of looking at things. He worked out an elaborate set of "categories" twelve in number which he said were the foundation stones of the understanding.

However daring and brilliant Kant was as a scientist and metaphysician, he is probably as well or better known in the field of orthodox and simple morals. Kant declares in an interesting fragment, that Rousseau taught him reverence for mankind, to ascribe a certain dignity to all men which is not merely based on the degree of their intellectual culture. In his "Critique of Practical Reason" he formulates the moral law as follows: "Act according to the maxim that you could at the same time will that it might become universal law." That action alone is good which springs from pure regard for the moral law. Neither authority nor experience can be the source of this sense. Moral principles reveal the inmost supersensible nature of our volition, and neither psychology or theology can here furnish the basis. The moral law manifests itself in opposition to our egotistic tendencies and desire in the form of duty, an unconditional command, the "categorical imperative."

The "Critique of Practical Reason" is one of the most striking disquisitions in the whole range of German metaphysical literature. One of its paragraphs has alone sufficed to render it famous. The passage concerning the starry heavens and the moral law as the two transcendently overwhelming phenomena of the universe, is perhaps, as frequently quoted as any other written by a German author. This treatise stands midway between the "Critique of Pure Reason" and the "Critique of Judgment." In it Kant takes up the position of a vindicator of the truth of Christianity, approaching the proof of its validity by first establishing positive affirmations of the immortality of the soul and the existence of God. It also includes a theory of happiness, and an argument concerning the summum bonum of life, the special aim being to demonstrate that man should not simply seek to be happy, but should by absolute obedience to the moral law, seek to become worthy of that happiness which God can bestow.

In general it may be said that in spite of Kant's involved literary technique, his main propositions were of difficult. Although time and space and causality are but modes of our perception, nevertheless we can depend upon scientific knowledge of the world because the reality behind the appearances must conform to these a priori lenses through which we see and understand it. To him the world of experience was simply a picture and an appearance of the underlying reality which he called the "thing-in-itself." In this other world were to be found the eternal verities.

He made a clear division between the realm of science and the realm of faith. The material world, the world of phenomena was for science. But above and behind this world, in a world which could not possibly be known by science, were God and the inexorable voice of Duty, the categorical imperative.

It is not the purpose to herein estimate the validity of Kant's results or their value in the solution of the problems which he attempted to solve. That is properly left to the professional philosophers. It seems fitting, however, to pause a moment on the two-hundredth anniversary of his birth and take note of a man who during a life of solitude, in a small city, created such huge intellectual monuments as the Three Critiques.

James E. Brittain.

superintendent of the county in which the certificate is to be issued.

The hours required for the renewal of second and first grade county certificates must be earned since the issuance of the certificate to be renewed. This work may be of secondary or college rank and may be earned in residence or absentia. It is not necessary that the twelve college hours required for the re-issuance of the grade city state certificate shall be earned since the issuance of the certificate to be renewed. College hours earned prior to the issuance of the grade city state certificate to be renewed will be accepted, provided they have not been used toward the issuance of a county certificate. These twelve hours must be of college rank and may be earned in residence or absentia in an approved normal school, college or university in this or another state.

Hereafter grades will not be accepted from county certificates issued in other states. Holders of such certificates, in order to be certificated in Nebraska, will be required to earn upon state examination in this state requisite grades for the county certificates desired. Applicants must also present certified transcripts to the county superintendents where the certificates are to be issued showing the completion of the required eight or twelve weeks of normal training in approved normal schools, colleges, or universities in this or other states. Normal training work taken either before or after the elementary or second grade state certificate was issued, will be accepted.

Grades will not be accepted in the future toward county certificates from elementary and second grade state certificates issued by the various teacher-training institutions of this state. Holders of this class of certificate may have the same renewed by twenty-four weeks of additional attendance at the school where the certificate was issued, or any other school in this state approved for the issuance of this class of certificate. Should applicant desire a second or first grade county certificate. Should applicant desire a second or first grade county certificate she will be required to earn upon state examination in this state requisite grades for the grade of county certificate desired. She must also present to the county superintendent where the certificate is to be issued a certified transcript from the school attended showing the completion of the required eight or twelve weeks of normal training in an approved normal school, college or university in this or another state.

School officers and teachers should be advised that a teacher cannot enter into a legal contract with a board unless she has a valid NEBRASKA certificate of the required grade qualifying her for the kind of work she is to do. This certificate must be in force during the full period of time for which the contract is to be made.

County superintendents should see that in some way the contents of this letter are placed before each teacher in their respective counties.

Since July 19, 1910 it has been the ruling of this department that the holder of a first or second grade county certificate issued prior to July 19, 1910, who had not received a county certificate since that date, might have one renewal of such certificate without further examination or preparation, provided she had the requisite general average and minimum grade in all subjects required for the first issuance of the grade of county certificate desired. From now on, however, the holder of such certificate must meet the requirements of the present certification law for the renewal of her certificate, or for the first issuance of a higher grade of county certificate.

We have also been granting the holders of grade city state certificates issued prior to July 19, 1910, one renewal of the same without further examination or preparation. This ruling is discontinued from this date and holders of such certificates, in order to secure a renewal of the same must meet the requirements of the present certification law.

Yours very truly,
JOHN M. MATZEN,
State Superintendent.

CHOICES
(From The Country Teacher)

White lipped and with her heart beating unsteadily, Selma Rogers knocked at the door of the dean's office. She felt no nervousness; her excitement came from anger. The injustice of it all seemed to sweep over her afresh when she met the dean's clear eyes.

"I came to ask you about that Chester High School appointment, Miss Bryan," she said. "I can't understand it. I can't understand how a girl like Martha Collins should have received it over some of us who have so much higher records and—she faltered for a moment—"and more attractive personalities! You understand I do not mean to say anything against Miss Collins; she is a fine girl of course. But, well, I thought records counted, Miss Bryan."

The dean smiled. "Records do count, Miss Rogers," she replied. "The mistake that many people make, however, is in thinking that the whole measure of success or failure lies in the rating. Take your own case. You are specializing in English literature, I believe."

"Selma nodded.

"What are your minors?"

"History, French, Spanish and botany."

"You do not like mathematics." It was a statement, not a question.

"Hate it!" Selma replied brusquely.

"So does Miss Collins. But your minors are curiously different. Hers are astronomy, chemistry, German and philosophy. Last year she took mathematics and advanced physics."

Miss Bryan waited for a moment, but Selma did not understand.

"Don't you see, Miss Rogers? All through college you have chosen the things that come most easily to you, whereas Miss Collins has chosen the most difficult. I hate mathematics, but I just can't bear to be beaten by a hard thing," she said to me once. I watched her after that and discovered that that was her philosophy of life. Whenever there was a difficult or disagreeable thing in the road she attacked it and did not stop till she had mastered it. She has had no time to pay much attention to marks; she has been too busy working for realities. Now it happens that Mr. Hampton is the kind of superintendent who believes that a teacher's first duty is not to see that pupils memorize certain facts or principles but to help them to master life. He brushed aside the question of records. "Never mind those," he said. "I want some one who will make Jimmy Dolan feel that he is a poor sport if he shirks his studies, and Sadie Tucker realize that a girl has got to do good team work to succeed anywhere in life." Now do you see, Miss Rogers?"

"I see what you mean," Selma replied with difficulty, "but everyone doesn't look at things that way."

"No," the dean replied gravely, "everyone does not."

THE FAILURE
(By Vida M. Bates)
(From Normal Instructor)

It was mainly an accumulation of little things. The children began calling their teacher by her given name, then taking other liberties with her;—after a little the bolder ones tried dodging her authority with some success. She did not realize it, but gradually the reins of government were slipping through her fingers. And when she awoke to the condition she found the pupils were running the school! No wonder she was discouraged, looked forward to the end of her term, vowed she would never, never sign another contract to teach!

The humiliation might not have seemed so great if this had been her first school, but to fail on one's fourth was dreadful. The former successes might have made her a bit proud of her own ability; they certainly had blinded her to the danger lurking in the form of pupils who will take every possible advantage.

Another complication had come when Nick moved into the district. He had grown up in an atmosphere of such immorality that he was unfit to associate with other children. If his teacher had followed her impulse to send him to reformatory immediately, she might have regained control of the others in the school. But Nick claimed to be only "visiting" there, so the matter was postponed—most unwisely.

Considering all the contributing causes, it is no wonder this teacher closed her school with a sigh of relief. Still, she would not own up that she was beaten, but accepted another teaching position the following term and has since "kept" several schools successfully.

Three principles are counted among acquisitions from that black year:

- (1) Watch the morals of the pupils.
- (2) Be their friend but not their servant.
- (3) Always expect, and get, obedience.

Some say there is no hell, but Ed Denby did his best - To catch one running wild in the oil fields of the west. He made a deal with Sinclair for the oil in Teapot Dome For a fine large house on easy street, to be his future home; But Tom Walsh was listening in, a story sad to tell, He smashed Ed's hopes of easy street and sent him straight to ...

Chorus:
For the Government at Washington is sick, awful sick, Send a doctor to the White House, quick, very quick.

McLain improved his chance to be captain of the clan, To steal the naval oil reserves and rob our Uncle Sam, He wrote his checks to A. B. Fall, one hundred thousand strong, To pay the price agreed upon by the robber throng; But Fall refused the checks as they might tell a tale And said the bargain was for cash, or there would be no sale.

Chorus:
For the government at Washington is sick, awful sick, Send Doc. Copeland to the White House, quick, very quick.

Ed Sinclair to his lawyer said, "get busy in the game" And pay the price agreed upon and pay it in your name, Doheny grabbed a satchel and filled it with long green And sent it by a trusty to A. B. Fall, unseen, Tom Walsh, and Wheeler too, were watching close the game And notified the robber gang to answer to their name.

Chorus:
Doheny had a dream that he was in the pen Doing penance at hard labor for the sins of other men; He hastened to the witness chair, to tell it all and true; That what he did was ordered by the robber crew, He told Tom Walsh the truth, but he told it with a groan, And left it to Ed. Sinclair, to swear it was a loan.

Chorus:
Denby needed help to drive the squatters from the Dome Ed Sinclair sent him Roosevelt to force them to their home Roosevelt took a solemn oath to be true to Uncle Sam, But he found it promised better pay, working for the clan He loaned the U. S. Navy, to Fall with shot and shell To drive the squatters from the wells or blow them all to ...

Chorus:
Men, friendly to the clan, say the deal was on the square And to charge that Uncle Sam was bilked, was wicked and unfair, Will they have the supreme gall to say the same of Forbes? Who's clan stole many millions their pocket books to gorge They stole it from the wounded boys which left them in despair, And every guilty member should be sentenced to the chair.

Chorus:
When man or beast is sick, a doctor should be sent And men of sense, their daughters and their wives will give consent A lawyer or a banker would not know what to do, Send a doctor to the rescue to pull the patient through, Send Copeland to the White House, with no record to defend, He will gather in the crooked crooks and send them to the pen.

Chorus:
Former friends of Henry Ford, have turned his picture to the wall For the rotten deal he made with Cal worse than that of Fall's Al Fall betrayed his country for a hundred thousand wheels While Ford betrayed his many friends to get a larger steal Ford workers spent their time, their dollars and their dimes Booming Henry for the White House to give us better times.

Chorus:
Henry joined the crooked clan to get the noted dam Worth a billion to our Henry or to our Uncle Sam, The old adage has proved true that honest men are few, When Henry Ford deserts his friends and join the crooked crew, Will Henry win the dam sight, he betrayed his friends to get Not by a mighty dam sight, you can safely bet.

Chorus:

CERTIFICATES

County superintendents are requested to urge teachers whose certificates expire any time before the close of the school year 1924-25 to find out definitely from an official source the requirements they will have to meet to renew their certificates. If they are required to earn a certain number of college hours to do this they should plan now to attend summer school this summer. If they are also required to raise by state examination their minimum grade and general average, a good way for them to prepare themselves in the subjects they are required to take is by summer school attendance.

The eight and twelve weeks of normal training graduates of approved normal training high schools for the first issuance of the second and first grade county certificates respectively must be earned by residence attendance in some approved normal school, college or university in this or another state. When pursuing this course the student must devote at least two-fifths of her time to professional subjects, including subjects that deal with methods of teaching, and the remaining time to academic subjects that will be helpful to the teacher in her teaching work. This work may be of secondary or college rank. Students taking this course should secure from the school attended a certified transcript showing in detail the work taken to be presented to the county superintendent of the county in which the certificate is to be issued.

The hours required for the renewal of second and first grade county certificates must be earned since the issuance of the certificate to be renewed. This work may be of secondary or college rank and may be earned in residence or absentia. It is not necessary that the twelve college hours required for the re-issuance of the grade city state certificate shall be earned since the issuance of the certificate to be renewed. College hours earned prior to the issuance of the grade city state certificate to be renewed will be accepted, provided they have not been used toward the issuance of a county certificate. These twelve hours must be of college rank and may be earned in residence or absentia in an approved normal school, college or university in this or another state.

Hereafter grades will not be accepted from county certificates issued in other states. Holders of such certificates, in order to be certificated in Nebraska, will be required to earn upon state examination in this state requisite grades for the county certificates desired. Applicants must also present certified transcripts to the county superintendents where the certificates are to be issued showing the completion of the required eight or twelve weeks of normal training in approved normal schools, colleges, or universities in this or other states. Normal training work taken either before or after the elementary or second grade state certificate was issued, will be accepted.

Grades will not be accepted in the future toward county certificates from elementary and second grade state certificates issued by the various teacher-training institutions of this state. Holders of this class of certificate may have the same renewed by twenty-four weeks of additional attendance at the school where the certificate was issued, or any other school in this state approved for the issuance of this class of certificate. Should applicant desire a second or first grade county certificate. Should applicant desire a second or first grade county certificate she will be required to earn upon state examination in this state requisite grades for the grade of county certificate desired. She must also present to the county superintendent where the certificate is to be issued a certified transcript from the school attended showing the completion of the required eight or twelve weeks of normal training in an approved normal school, college or university in this or another state.

School officers and teachers should be advised that a teacher cannot enter into a legal contract with a board unless she has a valid NEBRASKA certificate of the required grade qualifying her for the kind of work she is to do. This certificate must be in force during the full period of time for which the contract is to be made.

County superintendents should see that in some way the contents of this letter are placed before each teacher in their respective counties.

Since July 19, 1910 it has been the ruling of this department that the holder of a first or second grade county certificate issued prior to July 19, 1910, who had not received a county certificate since that date, might have one renewal of such certificate without further examination or preparation, provided she had the requisite general average and minimum grade in all subjects required for the first issuance of the grade of county certificate desired. From now on, however, the holder of such certificate must meet the requirements of the present certification law for the renewal of her certificate, or for the first issuance of a higher grade of county certificate.

We have also been granting the holders of grade city state certificates issued prior to July 19, 1910, one renewal of the same without further examination or preparation. This ruling is discontinued from this date and holders of such certificates, in order to secure a renewal of the same must meet the requirements of the present certification law.

Yours very truly,
JOHN M. MATZEN,
State Superintendent.

We used most of our box social money to purchase a flag, eight maps in utility case, basket ball, base ball, bat, tennis ball, pictures, four lamps and many other articles.

We are planning a picnic for the last day of school. We had a box social and program at Christmas time and will therefore omit a program on the closing day and have races and such things for entertainment.

ard of living all of us try to attain and surpass. It is based on the possession of things—more things, ever more things.

And these things cost money; their upkeep costs money; their operation, replacement and "living up to them" costs still more money.

Money has been abundant during the past eight years, the opportunities to acquire it in large gobs by those who knew how have been endless.

Not much effort was involved on the part of those having the money making temperament and qualities, and the ease with which they got their friends who tried to emulate them both in the acquisition and the spending of money.

The pity of it is that the production of great wealth should bring in its train consequences that undermine the national character and increase the burden of the individual without adding to his happiness or contentment.

MIGRATION WITHOUT FRICTION
(Kansas City Star)

The department of labor gives some figures which show the extent of negro migration from the south in the year ended last September.

The figures are somewhat startling. The total migration from thirteen southern states in the period was 478,700, nearly 6 per cent of the negro population of those states and almost 5 per cent of the total negro population of the country. From Florida, more than 27 per cent of the negroes moved to states of the north and west, while Georgia and Alabama lost 10 per cent each, and other southern states smaller percentages.

The volume of the movement shows that the alarm expressed over it in some quarters had a genuine basis.

Yet it is a remarkable fact that very few of the bad results feared have materialized, either in the south or elsewhere.

Most of the negroes who moved no doubt have bettered their prospects if not actual condition, while those who remained in the south have received assurance of more consideration than formerly.

That there should be so large a shift of population in a single year with a minimum of friction and maladjustment is a reliable indication of the growth of racial harmony in the United States.

BELDON HIGH SCHOOLERS PUT ON NEW STUNT

"Beldon, Nebraska, May 19.—The seniors of the Beldon high school created a new custom when they instituted "Rag Day" here by laying aside study, discipline and dignity for a day and dressing up in the worst looking costumes they could find. They then visited the different rooms in the grade school and created some excitement when the children in the primary department became frightened, some being dressed as Charlie Chaplin and some as a tramp. After visiting the assembly room of the high school to show that they had not lost all interest in study, they went down town and visited the business places where they were treated by the business men."

From the above, which appeared in a daily city paper we plainly see the advantages of a high school education, and we wonder if other schools in this part of Nebraska have fitted the students for such brilliant stunts.

THE CHINESE
(Los Angeles Times)

A Chinese missionary, resting at Long Beach, said of the Chinese: "They are the noblest people in the world. It is a pleasure to work among them. When they are so noble as heathens, what will they be like when they become converted?"

"I'll tell you a true story that illustrates the nobility of the Chinese character.

"A drunken Cossack in Manchuria shot a Chinaman fatally. It was necessary to identify the fellow, and half a dozen Cossacks were brought to the Chinaman's deathbed for that purpose. He, however, refused to point out his murderer, saying: "But why punish him, since he is already forgiven?"

"To this they made answer that the punishment would not be a revenge, but a deterrent—it would keep the Cossack from repeating such a heinous crime.

"But the Chinaman only shook his head: "He won't repeat it anyhow," he said, "when he knows that I forgive him!"

UNLITTERED YARDS
(From The Country Teacher)

Some time since the writer was riding with a young father and his son, perhaps six years ago. The son started to throw a bit of paper onto the street but his father stopped him, stating, as he did so, that the street was not for that purpose. When the lad asked what he should do with the paper he was told to take it home and place it in the waste paper box.

This lesson should be extended throughout the country. The streets of the average town present a miserable appearance, because of carelessness and neglect, and many school yards are little better. Waste paper should be placed in the waste paper basket. It does not belong elsewhere.

EIGHTH GRADE EXAMINATIONS
(From the Wayne County Teacher)

207 eighth graders of the county took the examinations this year. 21 took them at Wakefield, 23 at Winside, 14 at Sholes, 37 at Carroll, 46 at Hoskins and 61 at Wayne.

Pupils who passed the first time all fourteen subjects were given and who had never taken them before are Ernest Strate of Hoskins, Gerald Hicks of district 84 and Catherine Granfield of district 11. Ernest Strate, Laura Fork of district 71 and Margaret Stamm of district 77 each earned 100 per cent in arithmetic.

Those who had taken the examinations last year but passed the first time all fourteen subjects were given this year are Milton Pullen of district 13, Guy Anderson of district 74, Vernon Linn of district 77, Lyle Marotz of district 60, Alta Beck of district 10 and Florence Baker of district 69. Laura Wacker of district North 28 passed in all of the subjects but did not quite make an average of 75.

Dwight Pinion of Winside passed in all of the eight subjects that were given at the second examination. He did not take them the first time when the other six subjects were given.

Pupils who passed in all but one subject, and this being the first time they had ever taken them are Mildred Felt of district 7, Hilda Bruggeman of district 54 and Frances Nurnberg of district 86.

Those who passed in all but two subjects are Gertrude Ulrich of district 58, Joy Sellers of district 7, Vivian Larsen of district 22, Alice Robins of Sholes, Martha Gnrk of Hoskins, Clarence Baker of district 33, Elmer Reeg of district 51, Laura Fork of district 71 and Rosella Kolath of the Parochial school at Hoskins.

Several pupils had earned Certificates of Achievement in some club work, so were entitled to a grade of 90 per cent in agriculture with out-taking the examination in that subject. Those earning such certificate are Ardath Roe, Hazel Durant, Viola E. Thomas in First Year Clothing work. Clara Rethwisch and Ardath Roe in First Year Poultry work; Ivor Williams and Teddy Morris in Pig club work; Flossie Pickering in Hot Lunch work. These pupils all attend schools in the vicinity of Carroll.

We were also glad to give a grade of 90 in Penmanship in lieu of an examination grade to pupils who had earned a Palmer Method Button. Rose Smith and Vivian Larsen of district 22 have earned these buttons. Lena Bauman is the teacher.

Some pupils took again subjects in which they already had a grade of 80. They should not have done this and we shall try not to use such grades earned the last time. The last of papers are not yet all graded.

I believe we will have the Promotion Exercises on Saturday afternoon, May 31 here at Wayne.

How would you like, if it should happen to be a nice day, to have a picnic dinner on that day in the city park? All eighth graders, the teachers, parents of the eighth graders and any one in the county who wished to come would be welcome. A person would not need to bring several different kinds of food to eat. They could bring one or two things, enough of each for as many of the family as came. We might plan on this if you would like to. Of course if it should rain there could be no picnic. Each person who attends should bring a plate, knife, fork, spoon and cup.

TRANSFERS
(From the Wayne County Teacher)

This is the time for making up the transfer list. If a new family has moved on to transferred land, it is necessary to make out a new transfer. Not all school boards understand that a change in tenants cancels a transfer.

The application for transfer must be made not later than the annual meeting, which is held on the second Monday of June each year.

Any one wishing to be transferred must live more than one and one-half miles from the school house in their own district, and nearer to the school house in an adjoining district, the distances to be measured by the shortest route possible upon section lines or traveled roads open to the public.

When such transfer shall have been made, the children continue to have school privileges in the adjoining district until their parents or guardians shall, in writing, notify the county superintendent of their desire to be again transferred to the district of their residence or shall remove from said real estate.

Nurse—"Why is milk good for our teeth?"
School child—"Because we don't have to chew it!"

An aged colored man, clad in two or three suits of old clothes and an overcoat of ancient lineage, was feebly breasting his way against the winter's chilling blasts. "Wind," he was heard a apostrophize to a particularly ferocious gust, "wind, whar wuz you las' August?"

FREE HIGH SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

Pupils desiring to take advantage of the free high school attendance law must file written application with the county superintendent before the second Monday in June. These applications must be received every year. All who finish the eighth grade this year will be mailed application blanks which they must have filled out and properly signed and return. All others must see to it that they secure the necessary blanks from the superintendent of the school where they are attending or from this office.

Those who attended the high school last year will not be entitled to high school privileges for the ensuing year without making new application. Applications may be made at any time now and parents should attend to this, as it will be too late after the second Monday in June. A diploma does not entitle the holder to free high school privileges, but applications must be made on blanks procurable at this office.

"I think that children are not as observing as they should be," said the inspector to the teacher.

"I hadn't noticed it," replied the teacher.

"Well, I'll prove it to you," and turning to the class the inspector said: "Someone give me a number."

"45," said a little boy eagerly.

The inspector wrote 54 on the board, and nothing was said.

"Will someone else give me a number?"

"38," said another lad.

The inspector wrote down 83 on the board and smited at the teacher. He called for another number, and young Jack called out:

"66; see if you can change that."

SAYING HIM PAIN

"Dad, can you sign your name with your eyes shut?"

"Certainly I can, my boy."

"Well then, shut them, and sign my report card!"

COUNTRY STILL FULL OF CORN, SOUTH DAKOTA CATTLE FEEDER SAYS

Omaha, May 20.—The country around Colome, S. D., is still full of corn, reports John Sandau, veteran stockman, who was on Monday's market with a load of fair quality steers that sold at $9.00.

"We had an unusually fine crop last year," Mr. Sandau explained, "and while there was a lot of feeding done, nowhere near all of it was used."

(From the Wayne County Teacher)

207 eighth graders of the county took the examinations this year. 21 took them at Wakefield, 23 at Winside, 14 at Sholes, 37 at Carroll, 46 at Hoskins and 61 at Wayne.

Pupils who passed the first time all fourteen subjects were given and who had never taken them before are Ernest Strate of Hoskins, Gerald Hicks of district 84 and Catherine Granfield of district 11. Ernest Strate, Laura Fork of district 71 and Margaret Stamm of district 77 each earned 100 per cent in arithmetic.

Those who had taken the examinations last year but passed the first time all fourteen subjects were given this year are Milton Pullen of district 13, Guy Anderson of district 74, Vernon Linn of district 77, Lyle Marotz of district 60, Alta Beck of district 10 and Florence Baker of district 69. Laura Wacker of district North 28 passed in all of the subjects but did not quite make an average of 75.

Dwight Pinion of Winside passed in all of the eight subjects that were given at the second examination. He did not take them the first time when the other six subjects were given.

Pupils who passed in all but one subject, and this being the first time they had ever taken them are Mildred Felt of district 7, Hilda Bruggeman of district 54 and Frances Nurnberg of district 86.

Those who passed in all but two subjects are Gertrude Ulrich of district 58, Joy Sellers of district 7, Vivian Larsen of district 22, Alice Robins of Sholes, Martha Gnrk of Hoskins, Clarence Baker of district 33, Elmer Reeg of district 51, Laura Fork of district 71 and Rosella Kolath of the Parochial school at Hoskins.

Several pupils had earned Certificates of Achievement in some club work, so were entitled to a grade of 90 per cent in agriculture with out-taking the examination in that subject. Those earning such certificate are Ardath Roe, Hazel Durant, Viola E. Thomas in First Year Clothing work. Clara Rethwisch and Ardath Roe in First Year Poultry work; Ivor Williams and Teddy Morris in Pig club work; Flossie Pickering in Hot Lunch work. These pupils all attend schools in the vicinity of Carroll.

We were also glad to give a grade of 90 in Penmanship in lieu of an examination grade to pupils who had earned a Palmer Method Button. Rose Smith and Vivian Larsen of district 22 have earned these buttons. Lena Bauman is the teacher.

Some pupils took again subjects in which they already had a grade of 80. They should not have done this and we shall try not to use such grades earned the last time. The last of papers are not yet all graded.

I believe we will have the Promotion Exercises on Saturday afternoon, May 31 here at Wayne.

How would you like, if it should happen to be a nice day, to have a picnic dinner on that day in the city park? All eighth graders, the teachers, parents of the eighth graders and any one in the county who wished to come would be welcome. A person would not need to bring several different kinds of food to eat. They could bring one or two things, enough of each for as many of the family as came. We might plan on this if you would like to. Of course if it should rain there could be no picnic. Each person who attends should bring a plate, knife, fork, spoon and cup.

TRANSFERS
(From the Wayne County Teacher)

This is the time for making up the transfer list. If a new family has moved on to transferred land, it is necessary to make out a new transfer. Not all school boards understand that a change in tenants cancels a transfer.

The application for transfer must be made not later than the annual meeting, which is held on the second Monday of June each year.

Any one wishing to be transferred must live more than one and one-half miles from the school house in their own district, and nearer to the school house in an adjoining district, the distances to be measured by the shortest route possible upon section lines or traveled roads open to the public.

When such transfer shall have been made, the children continue to have school privileges in the adjoining district until their parents or guardians shall, in writing, notify the county superintendent of their desire to be again transferred to the district of their residence or shall remove from said real estate.

Nurse—"Why is milk good for our teeth?"
School child—"Because we don't have to chew it!"

An aged colored man, clad in two or three suits of old clothes and an overcoat of ancient lineage, was feebly breasting his way against the winter's chilling blasts. "Wind," he was heard a apostrophize to a particularly ferocious gust, "wind, whar wuz you las' August?"

FREE HIGH SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

Pupils desiring to take advantage of the free high school attendance law must file written application with the county superintendent before the second Monday in June. These applications must be received every year. All who finish the eighth grade this year will be mailed application blanks which they must have filled out and properly signed and return. All others must see to it that they secure the necessary blanks from the superintendent of the school where they are attending or from this office.

Those who attended the high school last year will not be entitled to high school privileges for the ensuing year without making new application. Applications may be made at any time now and parents should attend to this, as it will be too late after the second Monday in June. A diploma does not entitle the holder to free high school privileges, but applications must be made on blanks procurable at this office.

"I think that children are not as observing as they should be," said the inspector to the teacher.

"I hadn't noticed it," replied the teacher.

"Well, I'll prove it to you," and turning to the class the inspector said: "Someone give me a number."

"45," said a little boy eagerly.

The inspector wrote 54 on the board, and nothing was said.

"Will someone else give me a number?"

"38," said another lad.

The inspector wrote down 83 on the board and smited at the teacher. He called for another number, and young Jack called out:

"66; see if you can change that."

SAYING HIM PAIN

"Dad, can you sign your name with your eyes shut?"

"Certainly I can, my boy."

"Well then, shut them, and sign my report card!"

COUNTRY STILL FULL OF CORN, SOUTH DAKOTA CATTLE FEEDER SAYS

Omaha, May 20.—The country around Colome, S. D., is still full of corn, reports John Sandau, veteran stockman, who was on Monday's market with a load of fair quality steers that sold at $9.00.

"We had an unusually fine crop last year," Mr. Sandau explained, "and while there was a lot of feeding done, nowhere near all of it was used."
