A committee to plan and direct the entertainment of the 50,000 members of the American Legion when that organization meets in Omaha for its 1925 convention was chosen last week. Everett Buckingham, president of the Union Stock Yards company, is chairman.

High prices were reported last week in many Nebraska farm deals. Farms in Dakota, Knox and Colfax counties sold for $200 an acre; three farms in Platte and Pierce counties brought $175 an acre, and another farm near Schuyler sold at $190 an acre, and 200 acres in Otoe county at $160 an acre.

H. F. Barnhart of Norfolk is running for district judge this year. Mr. Barnhart has practiced law in this part of Nebraska for the past forty years, and he is recognized as one of the best criminal lawyers in the state. There is no question but what Mr. Barnhart would make a very good district judge.—Pierce County Leader.

Wm. Assenheimer tells us that the good quarter section in the southeast corner of Plum Creek precinct has just been sold by Agnes Keenan, the owner, to Fred Dinklage, at $150 per acre. That sounds good—but a few years ago her brother sold the adjoining 160, of the same kind of land and similar improvements, at $300 the acre. Who or what split the price?

Dates Griffith, wife and daughter Sylvia of Irene, South Dakota, came Friday to spend week-end with his parents, E. L. Griffith and wife. They crossed the Missouri at Yankton in the ferry, perhaps for the last time; for when they returned home Monday they were privileged to pass over on the new bridge. The opening of this crossing over the river will make traffic between the corners of the two states much easier, and more intense.

A. F. Murling of Bloomfield was at Wayne Monday morning, on his way to Colan to attend a sale of the big type Poland, which he breeds at his home farm just north of that city. He wants a herd header that is of the best type and individually. Should he not find that which he thinks good enough to keep his herd standard on the up-grade, he will go and look at the offering of a Missouri breeder. He tells us that he has stock for sale at all times, and that he has the offspring of such sires as Iowa Boy, by Iowa Timm and the Liberator by Giant Liberator. He has been taking first place with the output of his herd at Bloomfield and other places where shown.

Henry Korr is spending the first of this week at his Cedar county farm north of Wayne, overseeing the building of a new barn. He is planning after this week to visit a bit more among the people, for he believes that one nominated for office should do his part in visiting the voters and learning their wishes; especially one who is asked to go to represent them, as is Mr. Korr. He believes if elected it will be his duty to do the will of those who send him there, so far it is possible, and that he should know their wishes. His previous experience as representative proved to him the need of consulting those who sent him. The women as well as the men should have their say.

Jack Hyatt was at Onawa, Iowa, last week visiting at the home of his son for a few days. He reports that corn crop conditions there appear to be much the same as here. Now, to find out how that is, ask a half-dozen farmers, and if you find that two or more of them agree as to condition, it will be those who say that the corn crop is in such shape that fully 50 per cent of it will not be marketable corn, and some say that percentage will hardly be fit for feed. We hope that the Onawa crop is better than that so reported here.

SPECIAL GAME TO ACCOMMODATE GRADS IS SCHEDULED

(From the Goldenrod) Saturday, October 25, has been set aside for the day of the first annual Homecoming football game at Wayne.

Cotner College is a new name on our football schedule. We played them last year for the first time, winning 13 to 3. Cotner will be the second party to the featuring of the day.

The game has been scheduled for Saturday to allow all graduates who find it impossible to come Fridays because of their teaching proclivities to return to their home of knowledge and experience the thrill of seeing the Gold and Black carried into battle once more.

Other features are being worked out to add to the success of the first homecoming. We want to make this day an annual feature each year and know that there is a strong sentiment among the alumni favoring the move.

This is your chance to return for a day to your Alma Mater and renew those memories that have stood through the years. We want you to come and enjoy Wayne's Fall Homecoming Day. Plan to be here for Saturday, October 25.

CONFERENCE RACE IS ON (From the Goldenrod)

The Nebraska intercollegiate football season opened modestly last week with two games. Cotner defeated Doane in a hard battle by a 13-12 score while Midland proceeded to tame our Wildcats in a battle that ended 20-2.

Two Nebraska colleges invaded the outside world. Peru won from Tarkio in a close game. Chadron won from South Dakota Mines at Rapid City for the first time since she started calling at the station.

Midland rests this week to get in trim for her battle with the Haskell Indians at Lawrence, Kansas, on October 17.

With every team in the conference but Midland playing this week end the college race will be well under way.

A veritable chest of gold, is Nebraska's great annual crop of potatoes.

The average annual value of this crop is about $8,000,000.

Potatoes are grown on nearly every one of the 124,000 farms in the state, while approximately 100,000 acres on some 6,000 farms are devoted to raising potatoes for the market.

Potato raising, like other Nebraska industries, is increasing year by year, and as the state grows, more and more local and long distance telephone service is required. At the present rate of growth, the Bell System must spend about three-fourths of a million dollars annually to furnish new telephone equipment for Nebraskans.

In order to provide for the growing demands for telephone service, vast sums of money must be obtained constantly from investors. Nearly half a million people already own Bell System stock or bonds. We shall be pleased to have you, also, as an investor in the business. Our Manager or any telephone employee will gladly give you full information about Bell stock or bonds.

As Nebraska prospers, the telephone is successful. Therefore, we constantly strive to provide reliable telephone service at the lowest possible charges consistent with reasonable wages to employees and a fair return on the money invested in the business.

FORD CAR WRECKS 50-FOOT STEEL TOWER

One day last week a peculiar and astonishing accident occurred on the Joseph Wurdinger farm east of Randolph. A Ford car had been parked in the farm yard by one of Mr. Wurdinger's sons and the hand brake set. The brake did not hold very good and, after the occupant had left, the car moved slowly down a slight decline and struck one of the legs of a 50-foot steel windmill tower. One can imagine that the car could not move very fast, yet it hit the steel support in such a way and with enough force to bend it and the whole tower toppled over.

Edward Wurdinger saw the accident and called to the family, who were in the house, and they rushed out to see the tall tower slowly settle towards the ground. Another remarkable thing was that the only damage to the Ford was a broken windshield. The tower fell toward the car, but the tower bent in a wide bow and the car stood under it without being touched. Those who saw the wreck say it is almost unbelievable that such an accident could happen in just that way. —Randolph Times.

DOES ADVERTISING PAY?

Last week we had a little story telling that advertising pays and cited a few cases where we knew of returns direct. Next morning a small farmer came to us and said, just add that I put in a little ad a few weeks ago, an sold 450 bushels of potatoes from it, and as that was all of the potatoes could sell no more. We figure that it cost him but one-third of one cent per bushel to sell his potatoes. He could not have found patrons any other way for that little sum, we believe.

NEBRASKA'S ROAD PROGRAM

At the annual meeting of the Nebraska Good Roads association in Hastings, a 6-year development program, calling for the expenditure of $48,500,000, outlined. That is the most pretentious proposal ever made to the citizens of this state but it deserves their most careful study and consideration.

It is planned to raise the road funds in the following manner; says the Lincoln Star:

Proposed appropriation of $2,000,000 a year by the legislature for six years $12,000,000.

Federal aid of $2,000,000 a year for the same period, $12,000,000.

Two cent gasoline tax for six years, $14,000,000.

Fifty per cent of automobile fees for six years, $10,500,000.

Total for six years, $48,500,000.

Good roads need no defense. They have become necessary, owing to the widespread use of the automobile. The state association, which is seeking to arouse interest in the building of permanent highways, may take it for granted that there is a desire among all classes of citizens to improve and enlarge Nebraska's road system. This state did not inaugurate its road program as ambitiously as some of its neighbors. It did not float any $30,000,000 and $40,000,000 bond issues to build highways of permanent construction, leading to and from every town and city of any considerable size. Nebraska appropriated a sufficient amount of state funds to match like appropriations by the federal government, and with the additional funds derived from automobile licenses, completed the framework of her highway system.

Now it is freely recognized that a definite program of road development must be agreed upon. While some of the financial details may be changed, the program as outlined by the state association should provide the basic plan. What opposition has developed to the good roads movement in the past arose primarily because the work cost a great deal more than the estimates. In formulating the new road program, more careful checking of the estimates and the costs should be contemplated.

REPORT OF BAPTIST STATE CONVENTION

The Nebraska Baptist convention met October 8-12 at North Platte. This is the farthest west a Baptist convention has ever gone and as a result the meetings have drawn a large attendance from the churches in the west part of the state.

The convention revealed that Nebraska Baptists are grappling with problems in a most successful way. Between February 1st and Easter Sunday of this year more than one thousand members have united with the Baptist churches by baptism alone. Twenty-eight new pastors have come into the state while only fourteen have left, this indicating that the Baptists are solving the problem of pastoral supply.

Dr. A. M. Petty, general representative of the American Baptist Home Mission society, brought out the fact that every tenth person in the United States is a Negro and that every third Negro is a member of a Baptist church. Baptist have mission schools in every southern state and Baptists are assuming responsibility for a large part of the education and direction of the colored race. The Nebraska convention carries on work for the Negroes.

Secretary F. W. Ainslie took a poll of the ministers present to determine the type of field that sent them forth. It was discovered that three out of every four Baptists preachers had come from rural fields. It seemed to be the sentiment that Nebraska Baptists must strengthen their work with the country churches.

Rev. B. B. Braden, director of Institutional education of the convention, brought out some startling facts: "One half of the people of the world has never heard the name of Jesus Christ." This is a challenge to produce leadership. Mr. Braden declared that there was never a time in the history of the world when young people responded to the call of the human-races needs and the voice needs and the voice of God than today. Nebraska Baptists are taking more seriously the task of training leaders than ever before.

Dr. John Earl, editor of "The Baptist" led the convention in a series of masterful inspirational addresses, which directed the people into a new realization of the reality of the Christian faith.

The Nebraska Baptist convention adopted firm resolutions against militarism and the violation of the Eighteenth Amendment. The two resolutions are as follows:

WHEREAS: This nation has always been peace loving and believing that Mobilization Day and later designated as National Defense Day put the nation in a wrong light before the whole world; BE IT RESOLVED that the Nebraska Baptist convention put itself on record.

(a) We oppose any demonstration that might foster the spirit of militarism in the minds and hearts of our youth.

(b) We oppose any further demonstration which leads the nations of the world to interpret that this nation has reversed its age-long policy in settling all international controversies in the spirit of justice and brotherhood.

RESOLVED: That we stand without compromise for the Eighteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution and the Volstead Enforcement Act;

And that as citizens we demand the impeachment and removal from office, all officials, executive, legislative, judicial and administrative, who violate their oaths to support the Constitution of the U. S. and the laws enacted under it.

It was voted to send the next convention, to be held in October, 1925, to the Second Baptist church of Lincoln.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Oak Davis, Lincoln; vice president, H. D. Rhodes, Omaha; second vice president, Mrs. Jeff Yelton, Lincoln; third vice president, C. P. Frisch, Glenvil; recording secretary, Charles Birt, Grand Island; historian, R. R. Coon, Grand Island; treasurer, W. E. Rhodes, Omaha.

The convention closed on Sunday with the biggest attendance and the deepest spiritual insight. A note of earnest seriousness prevailed the whole convention. Baptists in this convention seemed to come to a new consciousness of the reality of the Divine, and to know God still rules in His world.

The general opinion expressed by all delegates is that this convention is the most spiritual that has been held for many years.

TEACHERS COLLEGE ALUMNI TO UNITE

The long projected alliance of State Teachers College alumni associations became an immediate prospect last Saturday with the meeting in Fremont of representatives of the Wayne, Kearney, Peru, and Chadron associations. The need for more active alumni associations and effective alumni support can best be met, it is believed, through co-operation of the various organizations, which can collectively muster a membership of more than eight thousand. The interests of the state colleges lie together, the initiators of the new movement agree, and these interests can best be served by intelligent co-operation. No attempt at formal organization was made but it is expected that one will be formed at the next meeting which will be held next month in Omaha.

Representatives of the various associations present were Ethel M. Craig, Kearney; Elmira Scovel, Chadron; Ruth Easley, Chadron; W. N. Delzell, Peru; Don Snygg, Wayne; and Carrie Ludden, Kearney.

NOTICE TO AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS

Your attention is called to Section 5 of Ordinance No. 315 reading as follows:

Section 5. LIGHTS—

Every motor vehicle while in use upon the public highway within said City shall be provided with good and sufficient brakes and be so constructed as to exhibit, during the period from one hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise, two or more lamps showing white lights only, visible within a reasonable distance toward which such a vehicle is proceeding, and also one or more red lights on rear of car, visible in the reverse direction. Provided, that motorcycles shall be required to display only one white light visible from in front and one red light, visible from the rear.

Beginning November 1, 1924 this ordinance will be strictly enforced. WM. ORR, Mayor.

ORGANIZATION OF JUNIOR CLASS IS COMPLETED

(From The Goldenrod)
Final ballots in all unfilled offices were cast by the Junior Class at a meeting Tuesday morning in chapel. The following are the officers for the coming year: George Macklin, president; Lyle Mabbot, vice-president; Margaret Robertson, secretary; James Spuire, treasurer; and E. J. Huntmer, sponsor. A total of 201 votes were cast.

A meeting of the officers was held Wednesday noon, a committee to investigate the matter of class dues appointed, and other business matters disposed of.

The results and decision of these matters will be placed before the class at the first opportunity. Owing to the size of the large class this must be accomplished in chapel. We ask that all be prepared for such a meeting at any time.

NOTICE! The juniors will ring up the curtain on social affairs Friday evening, October 24. The plans are not yet completed, but rest assured it will fulfill all expectations. As this is a large class and is composed, for the most part, of newcomers, this party will be a "get acquainted" affair.

The following members have been honored, or perhaps victimized, as the committee for social events by Miss MacEwing: Jeanette Fisher, Jessie McDonald, Marion McKeen, Mrs. Clarence and Fern Farron. Watch the bulletin board for further announcements.

CATHOLIC CLUB GETS INTO ACTION WITH A HIKE

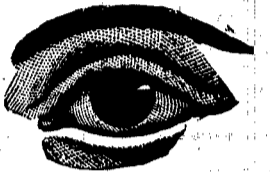

Wednesday evening thirty-five members of the Catholic Club, Professor and Mrs. Huntmer and family journeyed to the fairgrounds for an open air meeting.

As twilight approached a camp fire was kindled and wieners roasted. After all had partaken of the adequate supply of "eats" they gathered about the fire and discussed plans for organizing a choir for the church.

Everyone enjoyed the event and on the way home all joined in singing. The Catholic Club met in the music room, Wednesday evening at 6:45. The following officers were elected.

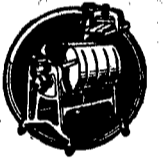

President—Wencel Jankiewicz.
Vice President—Winifred Curran.
Treasurer—Robert Monahan.
Secretary—Mrs. Julia Clarence.
Goldenrod Reporter—Mildred Patrick.

WAYNE MARKET REPORTS

Following are the market prices quoted us up to the time of going to press Thursday:

Table with market prices for Corn, Oats, Springs, Rye, Hogs, Eggs, Butter Fat, and Cattle.

Lawrence, the newspaper correspondent, who has been out counting noses, and predicting how election will go, as an "impartial" investigation makes it appear to him, in the Wednesday papers gives the lead to Coolidge by a slim margin; and La Follette has not a lookin. Other investigators do not claim to see it that way. About three weeks from now, we can make a better estimate of the strength of various candidates.

Listening in on the radio, the president was heard to say that he would keep the government out of business, that being his firm determination. Now will he turn the terms round and declare for keeping big business out of government? Our government is already too much in control of the big, monied interests and corporations for the good of the lesser concerns, down to and including the private individual. Let's out in a president who will endeavor to keep big business out of government.

Edward Kirby, years ago an employee of the local express company at Spoux Falls, South Dakota, was indicted for the theft of $34.00 and got away to California. He recently returned and went to the county court, had the forgotten indictment dug out of the old court records, plead guilty, and was sentenced to jail for 30 days by the judge; and he thanked the official for sending him to prison. One wonders whether he took that money to thus have a boarding place in time of adversity, or whether he shot a cell in a prison in this kind of a country was better than freedom in California. Might think that over before you start for the land of flowers and sunshine.

MR. FORD CALLS THE DEAL OFF

Well, Henry Ford has got tired of fiddling around with the United States government over a dinky little contract for water power. He has withdrawn his offer for Muscle Shoals. Let the government dispose of its property the best way it can. He's through. He has other fish to fry. For one thing he has to do something for the south and he hasn't forever to do it in. Therefore he has made other arrangements and the government can keep Muscle Shoals and give it to the baby to play with for all he cares.

Henry never really cared whether he had Muscle Shoals or not. It was a mere bagatelle in his dream of industrial feudalism. He was indifferently willing to take it over for the manufacture of nitrates so the farmer could have cheap fertilizer and the nation could have cheap wars. Any time the government thinks he is going to spend more than three years over a deal it had better think again.

He can settle his end of it in five minutes.

It is tough luck for the government, but it ought to have known that it was dealing with a man who isn't accustomed to haggling over terms. If it doesn't want to give him the Shoals on his own terms, let it name its conditions and he will tell it where it stands pronto. Of course with him out of it the doggone plant never will be a national asset. It isn't possible that any one else can ever make use of it as patriotically (or as profitably) as Mr. Ford. He admits that.—World-Herald.

WANTING LOOK-IN AT HIGHWAY

The opening of the bridge at Yankton is already making decided changes in road plans and highways in eastern Nebraska, and Wayne people may be grateful to those who looked ahead to this day and made early movement to have good highway from the bridge direct to and thru Wayne. Way down almost to Omaha they are awakening to the fact that it will mean a lot of traffic this way, and roads are being shaped up to induce as much as possible to come their way.

The following is from the Blair Pilot showing the trend of sentiment in bidding for the traffic coming from and heading toward this new bridge: "A meeting was held up at Oakland last evening to talk over matters in regard to the new Omaha-Yankton highway that is being promoted because of the opening of the new bridge over the Missouri river at that place. As is, the case when most highways are located there is always a scrap as to where it should go. In this case there is a choice of going through Blair, Tekamah, etc., or down through Fremont to Omaha. There is a saving of 32 miles by going this way, but there is a gravelled road from West Point to Fremont and a paved road from there to Omaha, so until we get a better improved road we haven't much to offer in the way of competition but the saving of a few miles. When the roads are bad this doesn't mean much. The road has been marked through Blair, Tekamah, Craig, Oakland, also through Fremont. The matter is yet to be fought out before the state Highway commissioner, and definitely located. There is a meeting to be held at the Rome hotel in Omaha tomorrow evening to organize for the fight to put the road through the Blair way, the shortest way. If it is impossible to get the Omaha-Yankton highway located through Blair another road will be named the Omaha-Yankton Shortcut. The amount it will be used will depend on the condition the road is put and kept. It should be at least gravelled. A bond issue could be used for this purpose and a tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline would pay off the bonds while we are using the road."

WAYNE PLAYS WEST POINT FRIDAY AT NORMAL

Wayne came out at the small end of the horn in a game played with Stanton at that place last Friday. The Wayne aggregation held the enemy to one touchdown for three quarters, until an unfortunate accident allowed the Stanton eleven the other goals which enabled them to win the game. Stanton is considered the best team in Northeast Nebraska, so with such resistance on the part of Wayne, it is apparent that the team is improving very rapidly. Wayne plays West Point on the local gridiron at the Normal this Friday and all indications are toward a victory for your home town team.

CONNECTICUT SENATOR SUICIDES

Washington, October 14.—Senator Frank Brandegee, Connecticut, republican, was found dead in the bathroom of his home here today, apparently a suicide.

Brandegee's body was found fully clothed in a sitting position on the bathroom floor, with a tube leading from a gas jet to his mouth and the gas turned on.

He apparently had been dead several hours.

Discovery of the body was made by a doctor who responded to a call from the house at 9:40 a. m. presumably made by Brandegee's secretary, who is said to have been in the house at the time.

The senator was one of the most influential members in the upper house, chairman of the judiciary committee and a member of the foreign relations, patents and library committees. He was regarded as a "regular" Republican at all times.

The senator apparently had been dead for some time when the body was found this morning. Detectives searched the house and said they found no note or message of any kind tending to throw light on the tragedy.

AUGUST WITTLER

Republican Candidate

For Representative

45th District

Forty years a resident of Wayne county.

WAYNE, NEBRASKA

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Judge Henry F. Barnhart, one of the candidates for district judge in this judicial district was a caller on Wayne friends this morning.

August Wittler, for forty years a resident of this good county, has the nomination of the republicans for the office of representative from this 45th district. It hardly seems necessary for one who has not yet been a resident of the county more than one third of that time to assume to make him acquainted. Perhaps more people know him better than we do—and knowing his record when serving as a member of the county board, will give his announcement careful consideration. We all want the man sent to represent us who will most ably and honestly and efficiently deliver the goods—that is, put over views of what should be done into law.

The announcement that Jane Adams, the noted social worker and authoress, of Hull House fame in Chicago, will campaign for La Follette is an interesting one. She is probably the ablest woman speaker and writer along social and economic lines in the world today, and her championship of the La Follette cause will have a wonderful influence on her thousands of admirers. A Nebraska woman, Mrs. Margaret B. Shotwell, widow of the late Franklin W. Shotwell, a well known republican politician of Omaha has also announced her purpose to support La Follette workers. Her husband managed the state campaigns for Roosevelt, Taft and Harding and she voted the republican ticket without thought or consideration.—Blair Pilot.

The ladies who are to serve the public with doughnuts at the Wayne cafe room Saturday have figured out just how much more cake you get if you buy one with a large hole in the middle than one with a small hole. Emil Splittgerber, who came from VanTassel, Wyoming the last of last week with a bunch of cattle for feeders from the range he has in that country, uncared the stock at Pilger and sold it there; and then visited a few days at his old home south of town and left for home Tuesday. His brother Hugo planned to go with him, and perhaps did—unless he was detained too long to appear as a witness on the Wax case, for which he had a subpoena. He tells us that he had a fairly good crop on his place, and some pretty good corn—some that came thru much difficulty, and made a pretty fair quality of corn, but not a large yield.

Grant S. Mears is home from a trip to South Dakota, and tells us that they are fortunate in some parts of the state in having better corn crops than we have in this vicinity. He was at the Geo. Miner farm near Wessington, and said that the ex-city marshall appears well. He was buying a corn picker, figuring that was the best solution for harvesting 200 acres of pretty good corn which he has. Perhaps George would rather be harvesting that corn crop these days than scouting about Wayne nights looking out for fires, thieves, boot-leggers and gambling dens. During his years as an officer here, he found them all at one time or another.

Wednesday morning members of the Graduate class at the Normal went out to breakfast, first inviting themselves to meet at 6 o'clock a. m., see the sunrise and hike to the fair grounds where they proceeded to get breakfast. Bacon and eggs and sandwiches were the main substantial, and the bit of walk in the morning air gave it a relish; and after this experience some were doubting the assertions made in song by Harry Louder that it's nice to have your breakfast in bed on Sunday mornin'. There was no other program than hike, get and eat your breakfast and get back to studies.

County Commissioner
2nd District, Wayne County

I became a resident of the county in 1884, and except three years have since resided here, and therefore am conversant with the affairs of the county and its needs. I believe in economy, and that an official should use the same care to get full value for county money as for his own in purchasing. As township commissioner for three years in Tripp county, South Dakota, I acquired real knowledge of the needs of a community and the most economical way to supply them. On a platform of economy, your support will be appreciated.

COMMISSIONERS PROCEEDINGS

Wayne, Nebraska, October 7th, 1924.

Board met in regular session. All members present. State of Nebraska Executive Office Lincoln

Charles W. Bryan Governor

September 8th, 1924.

To the County Commissioners or Supervisors, and other County Officers of Nebraska.

Gentlemen:

That the state may meet the suits brought by the various railroads over their taxes it is necessary that certain data be compiled in the various counties. Mr. Wm. H. Smith, State Tax Commissioner, is therefore meeting with the various county boards for the purpose of enlisting their co-operation, and through them the co-operation of other county officers, as well as the people of the county.

I trust we may have your help in this matter.

Very truly yours, (Signed) CHARLES W. BRYAN, Governor, and Chairman State Board of Equalization and Assessment.

State of Nebraska Department of Justice Lincoln

August 26, 1924.

To all County Supervisors, Commissioners, and other County Officers of Nebraska.

Gentlemen:

Mr. Wm. H. Smith, Tax Commissioner of Nebraska, is visiting the various counties for the purpose of getting the counties to furnish information as to property values in this state during the years 1922, 1923 and 1924 in connection with the defense of the cases instituted by the Burlington, North Western and C. St. P. M. & O. Railroads in the United States District Court for the district of Nebraska, in which they resist in part the assessment of their properties by the State Board of Equalization and Assessment, for the years 1922 and 1923. It is assumed that the same railroads will also contest the 1924 assessment. The Rock Island Railroad is resisting the 1923 and 1924 assessments in the state courts.

It is necessary to have full information as to property values in order to present intelligently the defense in these cases. All county officers are earnestly requested to furnish all the facts and information at their command that will throw light on property values. This will entail some expense but the counties are all interested—much more so than the state—and should be willing to render assistance.

Yours very truly, O. S. SPILLMAN, Attorney General. By Hugh Lamaster, Assistant Attorney General.

It is hereby resolved that in accordance with the letters of the Governor and Attorney General, it is the sense of this Board, that this Board and all county officers, co-operate with the Attorney General's Office by furnishing such data as required or requested by them, and that a copy of the letters of the Governor and Attorney General be incorporated into the minutes of this meeting and a record made thereof.

Report of J. J. Steele, County Treasurer, showing fees received by him for the quarter ending September 30th, 1924, amounting to the sum of $5.50, was examined and on motion duly approved.

Report of L. W. Ellis, Clerk of District Court, showing amount of fees earned by him for the quarter ending June 30th, 1924, amounting to the sum of $466.75, was examined and on motion duly approved.

Comes now Chas. W. Reynolds, County Clerk, showing amount of fees earned by him for the quarter ending March 31st, 1924, amounting to the sum of $686.85 and the payment of the same into the county treasury, as shown by receipt herein filed, was examined and on motion duly approved, and the board finds that he earned fees as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. AS WE WERE SAYING (From The Goldenrod) We're always interested in what is said in chapel, at least for the first fifteen minutes. And, of course, true to our custom, we were interested in the things Professor Britton said. Not that we agree with them, for we never agree with anyone, but we thought long and hard about them, and survived the shock of thinking quite well. We received with some consternation the thought that these United States are dying, unless some new motive is presented to revive our interest in life, and give us something to live for. Professor Britton said that we have so far lost an objective that we have let go unused opportunities to canal the Great Lakes, or to develop the Niobrara. But is it only in the lines of commercial or economic endeavor that we must work? America may not be cannibalizing the Great Lakes, but we are producing epoch-making music, poetry, painting, and architecture. The great roads, canals, aqueducts, etc., built by ancient nations are either useless and unknown or mere curiosities. But the influence of Homeric poetry, Greek sculpture, mediaeval painting, and German music is not lost. Indeed it is stronger than ever. We have observed that it is in what we call the dissolution of an empire that its master works of art are produced. A French poet named Baudelaire wrote a book on "The Flowers of Evil." Perhaps art is a flower of the evil days of a declining nation. We, however, should be content if we might have even the slightest part in producing a great work of art. In doing that, we should have achieved immortality, for as the results of our labor live, we live. The above has been too serious for a column like this. But this column, like a good fairy story must end happily, or perhaps, end, happily. So we shall close by telling you of a boy we knew who said that "microbes were so small that you could put a handful of 'em on a pin point." SNAPPY SENTENCES ON LIBRARY MAGAZINES Scribners: Good stories, good articles on almost anything, and good illustrations. One of the best. Literary Digest: Snatches of everything. DAIRY FACTS SOILING CROPS ARE REQUIRED FOR MILK Because of a succession of dry summers in northeastern Minnesota it has become necessary to supplement permanent pastures, if dairy cows are to be properly fed and the milk flow maintained in August just as butterfat prices start on the ascending scale, says M. J. Thompson, superintendent of the Northeast Experiment station of Minnesota University. Mr. Thompson believes this condition should be anticipated when seeds are being ordered and crops planned. Three things can be done to provide summer succulence, he says. 1. Sweet clover pasture. Not yet generally established; sow seed for 1925. 2. Summer silage. Not wholly practical since most farms with alfalfa have winter capacity only and if there is a carry-over much of it spoils. 3. Soiling crops, that is, crops cut green, hauled in and fed. "The last offers the cheapest and best solution of the problem," says Mr. Thompson. "Such crops require only a limited acreage. Fall sown rye is the first available in the summer. Oats, though somewhat later, offers the greatest range of seeding, late April to late June, and thus serves more need. Peas may be sown with it. Second crop sweet clover, and later sunflowers (chopped) and corn all make excellent feed. Our herd consumes over 90 per cent of these feeds, so that waste is small. In this manner the milk flow is sustained and prolonged into the winter high price period." Homemade Spray Mixture Helps Milk Production Files on the cows in hot weather often cut down the milk. A good fly spray, well put on, will not only quiet the cows and help the milk run freely, but will also save the temper and language of the milker. A good spray for this purpose can easily be made at home, according to the cow men of the New York State College of Agriculture at Ithaca. Use 4 1/2 quarts of coal tar dip; 1/2 quarts fish oil; 3 quarts coal oil; 8 quarts water and 1 1/2 quarts oil of tar. Dissolve 8 pounds of laundry soap in water, add the ingredients of the spray, and bring up to 30 gallons with lukewarm soft water. This spray, applied twice a day—in the morning after milking and in the afternoon while the cows are in the barn for silage or other green feed—will keep the flies away and keep the hair coats of the cow soft. Thirty gallons of this mixture will spray 40 cows twice a day for ten days, at a cost of one cent a cow a day. Two men with a portable half-barrel cart carrying a spray pump and nozzle can spray 40 cows in five minutes, and save a lot of time, milk, and general unpleasantness. Average Profitable Age for Cows Kept for Milk Ten years is the average age at which cows kept for milk are slaughtered for beef, according to investigations made by the United States Department of Agriculture. Thus one can expect a cow to produce for about eight years before becoming too old for profitable production. In Wisconsin and other dairy states the average age is eleven years; in others, nine years is the average. But the general level for the whole country is ten years. Cows, when sold for beef slaughter, brought an average price of $31.69 a head. When sold for milk they brought about $62.00. These two prices indicate that the average beef-slaughter price of cows that had been kept for milk eight years is about one-half the average price of cows having a milking future. Right Time to Cut Rye for Feeding Dairy Cow Rye should always be cut for hay before the awns harden, and inasmuch as the cows like the hay better when rye is cut about the blooming time, we consider that about the best time to cut rye intended for dairy cow feeding. In fact, rye hay cut from the time of heading out to bloom is reasonably good feed. With all this hay the cows will readily clean up, plus 10 pounds of good legume hay daily for the roughage, a good ration may be had with one pound of the following for each three pounds of milk produced: Ground corn or barley, four parts; ground oats, four parts; wheat bran, two parts; oilmeal one part, gluten meal one part. Feed Grain to Calves Calves will begin to eat grain at three weeks of age, and at the end of six weeks will consume about one-half pound per day. At the end of eight weeks they will eat one pound per day. At three months they should be getting two pounds of grain per day, which is enough until six months of age, unless it is desired to push them very rapidly. After six months a little more should be given, or whenever they are weaned from the skimmed milk.
