HARTINGTON EDITOR NOW HEADS COMMERCIAL CLUB

J. P. O'Furey of the Cedar County News has been elected president of that city's commercial club for the coming year. Mr. O'Furey has been active in public community work ever since settling in Hartington a dozen years ago and purchasing the plant of the Cedar County News, a paper that has made its impress on the entire county.

A news dispatch tells that the Hartington club is planning to start at once a resumption of activities looking to the betterment and growth of the community.

Editor O'Furey was one of the active leaders in the movement that has resulted in the establishment of a municipal light and power plant, and the consequent reduction of rates on electricity more than one-third of the sum they were being charged by the hi-line company.

BETTER HOMES

A state committee has been formed in Nebraska, headed by Miss Mary Ellen Brown, home demonstration agent, agricultural extension service, for the purpose of encouraging and stimulating a state-wide housing survey and contests for home improvement. Besides Miss Brown, who is chairman for the state, the following persons are serving as members: Miss Margaret Fedde, home economics department, University of Nebraska, secretary; Mr. W. W. Day, president Nebraska state parent-teacher association; C. A. Fulmar, state director of vocational education; T. A. Leadley, managing editor, Nebraska Farmer; Mrs. W. R. Pate, state chairman American home department, Nebraska federation of Women's clubs.

Congress still has a big issue or two to face—floor control and farm relief are two of them.

ROAD CONDITION PECULIAR

One of the bus, people tells that the roads are not all that they appear to be at all places, and that last week, while there had been no moisture for a number of days, and the surface of both the dirt and gravelled highways appeared dry there were what some term "spouty" spots developing on the roads where they are on hills. The bottom roads do not seem to be soft, but perhaps a third or half way up a hill that has been graded down are spots where the dry top seems spongy, and a heavily loaded truck frequently cuts thru to the soft soil below, and then they are "stuck" good and proper.

It is suggested that where such places develop in the spring time they should be marked and properly tiled that the surplus water that may have followed a strata of hardpan to the surface or near the surface may be run off from the pocket in which it appears to have been caught and held until the road bed is softened beneath the surface.

FATHER AND SON BURIED AT CARROLL

Bodies of William Abrams and Three Year Old Son Brought From Illinois for Burial.

The bodies of William Abrams who formerly was a resident of Wayne county and that of a three year old son both of whom died within a few hours of each other from pneumonia were brought here for burial this week. The funeral services were held at Welsh Presbyterian church west of Carroll on Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. M. G. Jones, pastor of the Congregational church was in charge of the services.

William Henry Abrams, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Abrams was born at Lynden, Kansas, June 30, 1889. He grew up to young manhood there and joined the U. S. Marines in June, 1913. Later he came to Nebraska and was married to Miss Myrtle James of Carroll, at Wayne on February 12, 1919. He lived here until about eight years ago when he moved to Hemingford, and about four years ago moved to Joliet, Illinois.

He leaves his widow, one child, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Abram of Murdo, South Dakota, four sisters, Mrs. Frank King of Lebo, Kansas; Mrs. W. L. Rockhold of Duluth, Minnesota; Mrs. Arthur Berger of Creston, South Dakota; and Mrs. Tom Fillmore of Winside and one brother, Theodore Abrams of Joliet, Illinois.

They were able to get very near to the visitor as he didn't appear to be particularly timid, and a very good view was gotten, assuring them that they were not mistaken in the identity of the cheery messenger, although considerably camouflaged.

He was almost snow-white except on the back where the feathers were tinged with a light gray. He remained in their yard for considerable time and then left hurriedly to parts unknown.

WHITE ROBIN CALLS AT XENOPHON CROSS HOME

An almost snow-white robin was an early visitor at the home of Prof. Xenophon Cross for a time this morning, and so far as they were able to detect was very similar to the ordinary robin except for the difference in color.

They were able to get very near to the visitor as he didn't appear to be particularly timid, and a very good view was gotten, assuring them that they were not mistaken in the identity of the cheery messenger, although considerably camouflaged.

STUCK WITH 5-TON

There was quite an interesting scene for a number of spectators Tuesday evening, just as the passenger train came in. The Mitchell truck with a 5-ton slab of granite coming to the house, found a soft place in the driveway, and stuck the motor power. The wheel soon dug in to the axle, and it looked like a real hang-up. One of the trucks of the graveling crew was hitched, but could not start it, with the aid of the loaded truck. Then they hooked on behind, and managed to pull it out the way it went in. Once on firm footing the load was soon where it could be lifted off and placed with others of its kind.

All Grades Below 6-A at Public Schools Have Been Dismissed Because of Sickness

BLOOMFIELD TEAM HERE FRIDAY

Because of the epidemic of measles, flu and minor afflictions all the grades below 6-A have been closed at the local public schools, but hope is held for reopening some of them Monday. Although many cases of sickness are reported, none of them are said to be serious, however so few have been able to attend classes in the lower grades that it was believed better to close them for a time.

The debating team won a two to one decision from the Meadow Grove team there last Friday night, and tomorrow night they will meet the Bloomfield team here.

In the declamatory contest held at Bolden the same night two of the local contestants won in their classes. Dick Fanske winning in the extemporaneous and Harriet Craven winning in the dramatic.

These two will therefore be entered in the sub-district contest to be held here on April 6.

The lecture which was to have been given here Monday and Tuesday nights was called off because of sickness of the lecturer, and as yet arrangements for a substitution to this have not been completed.

Because of the crowded program for the remainder of the school year it may be postponed until next year.

The seniors have ordered their caps and gowns and invitations, and are selecting a play to be given during Commencement week. A speaker for the exercises will also be selected soon.

On Saturday the commercial department will send representatives to Norfolk to compete in the commercial contest held there each spring.

A JOOLY WORLD

What a cheerful place this old world is, after all. Those of us who are fortunate enough to live out toward the edge of the city are awakened these mornings by the rooster's lusty crow. As we walk to the city, if we are fortunate enough to have to walk the robins twitter happily at us from the treetops. The neighbor's hound pup joyously upsets us as he chases our cat up a nearby tree.

Small boys on their way to school, their pockets bulging with tops and marbles, begin a clod fight as they near us, and one missile, better aimed than the rest, knocks our hat off into the mud, whereupon we join in the merry sport and chase the youngsters up an alley. As we get down town the first person we meet is the Honorable Sour W. Dough, whose face has worn the same expression of crabbled ill-will for the past fifty years, but, wonder of wonders, he hails us with a smile.

Moreover, he approaches us and extends his hand with every indication of solicitude and friendship. He asks about the Mrs. and the kiddies. We are overcome. How bright and beautiful the world really is. "Here", he remarks, fishing a card out of his pocket and handing it to us. "I'll appreciate it if you'll remember me at the primaries on April 10."

VOTERS ARE URGED TO SUPPORT BANDS

Legion Committee Appeal to Voters for Support of Petition to Assure Continuance.

CITIZENS OF WAYNE

The Legion Band Committee sincerely appeal to the Citizens of Wayne to support the one mill tax levy for the band when they cast their ballots next Tuesday at the city election. It requires approximately $2,650.00 annually to maintain the band, which includes salary, studio rent, light, heat and popular music, etc.

The property valuation for 1927 in Wayne with the present 3-5 mill levy yields about $1,400.00 and with the additional 2-5 mills it will yield approximately $2,300.00, providing there being no delinquent taxes. The additional 2-5 mill levy is only 40 cents on every thousand valuation. The Legion Band Committee believes that this proposed tax is just and equitable for the maintenance of the band and deserves the support of every citizen.

FROM AN ASSISTANT EDITOR

The following letter came in response to the call for help. There is no reason why the taxpayers and citizens in general should not give other citizens the benefit of their views on questions which concern us all, and we hope for other communications. This is a country of free speech and free press—why not take advantage of them?

Attention Tax Payers

To Democrat Readers: The time for the annual round up of the Assessor has again arrived and as it appears that some people have the impression that the Assessors delight with fiendish glee to raise everybody's taxes, I take this means to assure you that there is nothing further from the truth than that. The Assessor's duties are clearly defined by law and he merely does what every other official must do, that is carry out the law as the legislature hands it to them and as the State Tax Commissioner, who is appointed by the Governor under the Code System, instructs the Assessor to apply these laws.

Now is the time for you to take this matter up with the candidates for the Legislature if you want any changes in the statutes made at the next session of the legislature. In order to get a reduction of the levy on property I would suggest for your earnest consideration:

1st, that the inheritance tax law be changed so as to retain the bulk of it in the state instead of sending it to Washington, as the federal statute provides for credit for state tax up to 85% thereof, this is supposed to make a difference of about $400,000 annually.

2nd, that the gasoline tax be raised to 3 cents a gallon.

3rd, that the state aid bridge fund be taken care of from the gasoline fund. The last legislature slapped it on the property and Wayne county pays continually without even getting a cent.

4th, adopt an automobile registration law similar to the one in operation in Iowa that avoids over assessing and saves unnecessary duplication of lot of work and expense connected with it.

5th, The intangible tax law should also be revised in conjunction with the Code-law.

6th, Try to cooperate with the assessor so you don't take up too much time unnecessarily, as time is money for you.

It has been predicted that through these reforms about a million dollars could be saved annually for the tax payers of this state. Would that interest you? If so then take proper action at the proper time.

Very respectfully,
Wm. Assenheimer,
County Assessor.

World church re-union is being considered at a meeting now being held in Jerusalem. A big question today.

THE COMING FARMERS

If the solution of the country's agricultural problems depends on scientific financing as economists believe says James True, just wait until the farm boys and girls grow up! Since 1915, when the 4-H (Health, Head, Heart and Hands) clubs were organized by the Department of Agriculture with the state college and counties co-operating, the young members have borrowed millions of dollars for farming projects, and the great majority of them have made their investments pay.

Last year there were 411,234 organized 4-H clubs, with a total membership of approximately 600,000 farm boys and girls. The major projects undertaken were the raising of dairy and beef cattle, swine, sheep and poultry; and adequate financing was one of the most important phases of the work.

PASSES NATIONAL LIFE SAVING TEST

Miss Alice Berry, Assistant Instructor of Swimming Passes Test Held at Omaha.

From Wayne come the story below to a city paper. Miss Alice Berry, of Wayne, was awarded an examiner's license at Omaha, last week, after successfully passing the examination conducted by Commodore W. E. Longfellow, national director of life-saving. The examination was held at the Jewish Community center and was sponsored by the Red Cross.

The Wayne Chapter of the Red Cross recently employed Miss Berry to conduct a swimming school here during the coming summer.

Last year Miss Berry took instructions and passed the senior life-saving test under Mrs. Rasmussen at the Y. M. C. A. pool in Sioux City. She received her early training under the direction of Miss Esther Dewitz, of the Wayne normal.

Although Miss Berry is only 17 years old, she graduated from the Wayne high school in 1926 and will finish the two year course at the Wayne normal college this spring. She has been assistant instructor of swimming at this school for the last two years and has been elected president of the Women's Athletic association for 1928 and 1929.

TO AND FROM THE FARMS—AND WHY

Editor O'Furey of the Cedar County News speaks as follows of the movement from the farms to the cities, and from the cities to the farms.

"The United States Department of Agriculture recently made a survey, covering 2,745 persons who moved to the cities from the farms, and 1,167 persons who recently moved from cities to farms. The reasons given for moving are interesting.

"About one-third of those who left the farms did so because they couldn't make farming pay. One-fourth left the farms because they were physically disabled in some way. One farmer in every forty interviewed left the farm because he was financially able to retire.

"About two-thirds of the 1,167 who moved to the farms did so because they thought healthier conditions for both children and parents were to be found there. Some of the other reasons given were that the persons found the cost of living too high in the city; that they wanted the independent life of the farm; and that they were tired of city life.

"Another interesting thing brought out by the survey was the tendency for the younger people to move to the farm and for the older to move to cities."

HANS OTTE FUNERAL HELD HERE TUESDAY

Resident of Wayne County Over Thirty Years and Prosperous Farmer Dies.

FUNERAL LARGELY ATTENDED

Hans Otte was born in Jevensack, Holstein, Germany, December 10, 1869. Here he spent his boyhood days; was baptized and later instructed in the catechism of the church. He came to America in 1882, coming to Omaha, at and near which place he lived and worked until about 11 years later when he came to Wayne county, 1893; and settled on a farm north west of town.

He died at his home place, as told last week, Thursday morning, March 22, 1928, at the age of 57 years, 2 months and 23 days. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Margaret Possis of Los Angeles, California, who arrived here Monday to attend the funeral, three brothers, Claus and Henry of Wayne and Eggert Otte of Fremont. Nine nephews and seven nieces also survive him.

Hans Otte was an industrious and prosperous farmer, and for a quarter of a century had farmed the place on which he passed away. He was a successful breeder of Angus cattle and had a fine, well cared for herd of pure bred animals, which were his pride.

A member of the Woodmen of the World and of the Knights of Pythias, when that order had a lodge at this place, and later at Winside, Mr. Otte enjoyed the lodge work, and seldom missed a meeting, that being his one social diversion.

His funeral service Tuesday afternoon from the undertaking parlors was largely attended by the friends and neighbors. Burial was in the Greenwood cemetery.

ANOTHER CAR GRANITE FOR C. O. MITCHELL

Tuesday the force from the Monument Works were busy unloading a car of beautiful light gray granite, that had been looked for during the week. This car contained among other fine pieces, the largest piece of granite they had ever received at their shop. Its weight, computed by the measurements and the known weight of a cubic foot of granite, was approximately five ton.

The car contained a wide range of sizes from this large size to many of moderate size for which there is the greater demand in the usual run of orders. Mr. Mitchell is well pleased with this first load they have received from the quarry in the west, and he is of the opinion from the appearance of the granite and the reason of its good qualities and the way it finishes, by those who have used it, that he can make from it some of as pretty monuments as are shown by any, and thus he adds another good stone to the large list he has in his establishment from which to select that which pleases best.—It.

TELEPHONE HEROINES

It is a tradition among telephone operators to stick to their posts and give service in the face of impending dangers, such as floods, fires and storms. True to this tradition, telephone operators in the Santa Clara Valley, California, remained at their switchboards to handle emergency calls and to spread a warning throughout town and country that a flood was rushing down the valley, caused by the breaking of the Saint Francis dam.

Two telephone operators, Mrs. Carrie Johnson at Fillmore, and Miss Louise Gipe at Santa Paula, were instrumental in saving hundreds of lives by their prompt and cool sending of warnings of the approaching disaster to officials and others. Miss Lucille Zahniser, the telephone company's agent at Newhall, played an important part in spreading the alarm. Miss Agnes Armstrong, operator at Newhall, loyally assisted in the work.

A vast amount of temporary telephone wire was strung shortly after the flood to patch up damaged lines and to provide the vital telephone and telegraph communication, and very prompt service was given in all of the devastated district.

To the Voters of Wayne:

In offering the people of Wayne a vote on, "The Sunday Moving Picture" issue I do so because I have often been urged to give Sunday shows, by good citizens of Wayne, who complain about having to drive to other towns for their entertainment. I am offering the people of Wayne an opportunity to settle the question in what I believe to be the only fair way.

Thus, if the majority express their desire for a Sunday show I shall do everything I can to offer them one they will appreciate and enjoy.

Express Your Sentiments

Unless a large vote is cast, then the purpose of trying to learn the true sentiments of the public on this issue will have been lost, regardless of the apparent result. Therefore, come out and vote, and vote your true sentiments!

I want to abide by the "majority rule" and the wish of the majority cannot be learned unless they do come out and vote.

It has always been my aim to please all . . . and I hope, more than anything else, to retain the Goodwill of the public. This I believe can be done only by offering them a square deal.

A Word About My Show

I have always offered the best pictures that money could buy . . . sometimes showing them a week or more in advance of the larger cities of this territory.

I have made special effort to show only wholesome plays . . . always keeping any pictures that might not meet with public approval off my screens. This has not always been easy!

I have just had plans completed for the building of a new Theatre, which will greatly add to the comfort of patrons, and which will offer greater pleasure, to all. It is one for which I believe everyone in Wayne will hold appreciation.

I mention these facts merely to show that I have always been awake to the situation . . . that I have offered better service and better shows whenever the opportunity permitted.

No doubt Theatre patrons would benefit materially by a Sunday show, for several reasons which I haven't space to give here, that would greatly add to the best interest of all.

The World Is On Wheels

We are living in a new age. The world is on wheels. The automobile offers means of travel that permits going long distances quickly. They make it "out-of-the-question" to keep the young folks away from Sunday shows, in a community where nearly every town, and every city does have a Sunday show. Hundreds of Wayne people attend Sunday shows somewhere every week. It costs them considerable extra to drive away for their amusements.

Perhaps a well regulated show at home would be an asset morally and economically. More of the young folks could be induced to stay at home and more of the older could go to a home show and save a worth while consideration in expense.

I want to ask all to consider the question very seriously. There are many angles that should be measured before a conclusion is arrived at. But don't fail to go to the polls and vote your true sentiments on April 3, and settle the question, definitely.

...Easter...

With the coming of Easter, folks, look forward to new things--new joys. It is a time when all nature seems glad.

The liberal patronage with which we have been favored in the past adds much to our happiness. This good patronage has enabled us to add to our equipment, from time to time, making it possible for us to offer better service and quality of workmanship.

Thus as we enter the season of new hope and joyousness we are reminded of our obligation to all for their patronage. In return we hope to offer still better service and workmanship whenever the opportunity permits.

Two proposals of importance are offered the voters for their decision at the city election to be held here Tuesday and anyone who fails to offer expression on either of these, is not performing in the capacity of a 100 per cent citizen.

Everyone should decide whether or not he is in favor of an additional levy of two-fifths of a mill for the support of the Wayne band, and also whether or not he is in favor of Sunday exhibitions of moving picture shows and vote in accordance with his honest belief.

Records of towns where Sunday shows have been permitted, do not prove that they are a menace. No one can point to any of these, as an example of greater immorality, because of such freedom.

Any who are acquainted with the shows offered by Mr. Gailey, do not dispute the fact that he is conscientiously in keeping them free from immorality, and there certainly is no cause for belief that he would exercise less discretion in choosing his Sunday exhibitions.

One evidence of the growing interest in dairying in this state is found in the increasing number of dairy herds which are being carefully tended and culled; and the awards being earned by the good records made by the herds. The W. F. Riggs herd of Elgin was awarded a medal, one of ten herds in the state, last week. This herd produced more than 300 pounds of butterfat per year per cow. That is what tends to increase the profit in dairying. It is more due to cow quality than to cow quantity.

Dr. and Mrs. U. S. Conn were passengers to Sioux City this morning.

L. C. Gildersleeve and John Reynolds drove to Lincoln Sunday, and Mrs. Gildersleeve, who had been there visiting her daughter Helen, and attending a D. A. R. meeting at York, returned with them that evening.

Four fires were reported at Butte last week, a barber shop—filling tank heater with gasoline without shutting off the fire—A kitchen in which an oil stove started something and blew up the tank, a barn yard manure pile and a bunch of dry grass, which was at first thought to be a residence burning. A few years ago, the cemetery at that place burned—that is the grass that grew luxuriously there became dry in the spring and a fire swept thru their city of the dead and destroyed a number of wooden grave markers.

V. W. Gifford of Belden, part of the time, and Big Springs another part time was at Wayne Friday morning going to Randolph from the Big Spring land. He tells that they have been having some encouraging rain and snow in that western part of the state, and that the wheat prospect is correspondingly better. Mr. G. said that he went out from here about a month ago so that he could walk. At that time the mud round Belden made it near impossible for him to walk, and it takes a mile or two stroll a day he says to keep his appetite right. Born in 1851, he lived before the age of automobiles—and in a time when people walked more and were the better for that exercise.

COURT RULES INSURANCE CO. MUST PAY FACE VALUE

Fire insurance companies under Nebraska statutes are responsible for making investigations to determine the value of property insured, the United States circuit court of appeals held in affirming a $5,000 judgment obtained by Joseph B. Sullivan, of Dakota county, whose farm home was destroyed by fire March 2, 1926.

The United States Fire Insurance company of New York, which issued the policy to Sullivan, alleged he had fraudulently represented the value of his home to be $5,000, whereas the true value was not more than $2,500. The company refused payment and Sullivan brought suit in district court at Omaha.

The court in affirming the judgment cited a section of the Nebraska insurance law which provides for inspection of property and provides that "the amount written into the policy shall be taken as the true value of the property."

The above is from the Homer Star, and we hope that it is a decision that is maintained in any court that may be appealed to. The insurance company should pay the face of the policy for total loss, and not only that, they should instruct their agents not to over-insure. It is a temptation to let it burn.

Over in Iowa, the law once was that the person buying the insurance made the insurance solicitor his agent, thus defeating cases where an over insurance loss was asked for full payment of face of the policy, and the insurance company was supposed to be held for the acts of its agents. It was held that the company had no agents—but the go between was made the agent to the one for whom the policy was written.

SUGGESTIONS OF AN INVALID

When calling on an invalid, don't spend your time talking about her health or your health. Other subjects are more interesting to her than your health, and better for her than her health.

- Don't spend your time talking about the illness of friends; especially do not describe symptoms of people who are "in the way."
- When taking gifts of food to an invalid, try to learn her tastes and what foods she can have.
- When taking flowers to a patient in the hospital, take fewer, and a vase to put them in. Hospitals are not equipped with vases for all kinds. The beauty of a bouquet is often marred by its container.
- When calling on an invalid, wear your prettiest dress and your newest hat; remember, all the clothes she sees are the ones her callers wear.
- An adjustable, bedside table is the greatest comfort a bedridden invalid can have. It serves not only as a table, but also as a rack for reading.
- A box of sanitary straws provides all the conveniences, with none of the drawbacks, of a glass drinking-tube. If the liquid is allowed to cool to the right temperature for drinking, the straw will not dissolve.
- When calling on an invalid, do not take along a bucketful of sympathy, but meet her in the same friendly fashion that you would if she were well.

NOTICE OF REFUNDING BONDS

Public notice is hereby given that the Mayor and City Council of the City of Wayne in the County of Wayne, State of Nebraska, by resolution duly passed and entered in the minutes of their proceedings in accordance with Article VI, Chapter 7, of the Compiled Statutes of the State of Nebraska for 1922, directed that public notice be given stating that "District Paving Bonds" and coupons of Paving District No. 3, amounting to the principal sum of $2917.50, dated February 15, 1922, which were authorized by action of the Council on the 1st day of February, 1922 and bearing interest at the rate of Six and One half per cent (6½%) per annum, are outstanding and unpaid; that "District Paving Bonds" and coupons of Paving District No. 4, of the City of Wayne, amounting to the principal sum of $8506.65, dated February 15, 1922, which were authorized by action of the Council on the 1st day of February, 1922, and bearing interest at the rate of Six and One Half per cent (6½%) per annum, are outstanding and unpaid; that "District Paving Bonds" and coupons of Paving District No. 5, of the City of Wayne, amounting to the principal sum of $4350.85, dated February 15, 1922, which were authorized by action of the Council on the 1st day of February 1922, and bearing interest at the rate of Six and

One Half per cent (6½%) per annum, are outstanding and unpaid; that the rate of interest since the issuance of bonds and coupons has so declined in the market that by taking up and paying off such bonds and coupons by an issue of Refunding Bonds, as provided by law, a substantial saving in the amount of yearly running interest will be made to said City; that the said outstanding bonds and coupons above mentioned of said City are sought to be taken up and paid off by means of refunding bonds of said City, in the principal sum of $15,775.00.

bearing interest at the rate of Five Per Cent (5%) per annum, payable semiannually, which the Mayor and City Council of said City propose to issue.

Public notice is hereby given that any taxpayer in the City of Wayne may file objections to such proposed action with W. S. Bressler, City Clerk of said City, at the City Hall in said city on the 17th day of April, 1926, between the hours of 8 A. M. and 5 P. M.

Important Announcement to every owner of a Model T Ford

ON MAY 25, 1927, when Henry Ford first announced his plans for making a new car, he announced also that he would continue to make parts for the Model T Ford. He said:

"The Model T Ford car was a pioneer. It blazed the way for the motor industry and started the movement for good roads everywhere. It broke down the barriers of distance in rural sections, brought people in these sections closer together, and placed education within the reach of everyone. We are still proud of the Model T Ford. If we were not, we would not have continued to make it so long."

For twenty years, the Model T Ford led the automobile industry and it still serves more people than any other automobile. Over one-third of all the automobiles in use today are Model T Fords — an indication of the sturdy worth of the car and its value to people in all walks of life the world over.

The Ford Motor Company will continue to make replacement parts for these cars "until the last Model T is off the road." That is a part of Ford service. That is what Henry Ford meant when he said: "We believe that when a man buys one of our cars we should keep it running for him as long as we can and at the lowest up-keep cost."

Because of this policy a considerable part of the Ford manufacturing plants is given over to the making of parts for the Model T Ford. These replacement parts are made of the same material and in the same way as those from which your car was originally assembled.

Make it a point, therefore, to see the nearest Ford dealer and have him look over your Model T Ford. You may find that a very small expenditure will enable you to get thousands of miles of additional service, and at the same time protect the money you have invested in your car.

BANK GUARANTY PLAN SUGGESTED

Editor Edgecomb of Geneva is chairman of permanent organization to circulate petitions.

The Citizens Bank Guaranty Union, organized at the Lindell hotel Friday by twenty or more business men and bankers from out in the state, adjourned late in the afternoon after adopting a resolution offered by a committee of submission of a constitutional amendment to a vote of the people at the November election. The proposed amendment provides that the state shall lend its credit to guaranty receivers certificates in an amount probably not exceeding $12,000,000 more or less, the details to be left to the legislature to work out in the form of laws, including laws for the better supervision of state banks.

The constitutional amendment is intended to be self repealing and go out of existence January 1, 1932. The exact form of the proposition has not been agreed upon, but it will be set forth in petitions which are to be circulated in the state.

The temporary organization, with Frank O. Edgecomb, editor of the Geneva Signal as chairman, was made permanent.

At the afternoon session, J. S. Kroh, newspaperman of Ogallala, acting for a committee which included Senator W. B. Banning of Union, and Representative Troy L. Davis of Weeping Water, read the resolutions. After some informal discussion, the resolutions were adopted without a dissenting vote. Fred Anderson, merchant of Cozad, moved the adoption. The only change made in the resolutions was elimination of the statement that the repeal of the constitutional amendment will take effect January 1, 1932. This clause, however, will be incorporated in the constitutional amendment when it is submitted to a vote of the people.

The following was added to the resolutions after they came into the hands of the committee:

"A careful survey of the situation disclosed no other remedy than the one outlined herewith. The adoption of this constitutional amendment will make bank receivers' certificates immediately saleable at par. It will insure the quick payment of money to depositors; the sale of failed bank property; the elimination of ruinous expense now involved in carrying on the operation of failed banks, the preservation of public confidence in the safety of the financial system; and the relief of some 50,000 Nebraskans whose money is tied up in the broken banks.

Phil L. Hall, state banker of Greenwood, spoke before the adoption of the resolution. He suggested that it would be well to incorporate in the amendment the exact plan to be adopted instead of leaving that duty to the legislature. He mentioned four plans that had been discussed, the first being an appropriation by the legislature for the guaranty fund; second, the Cass county plan to match assessments upon banks with an appropriation by the legislature; third, the plan proposed by the committee to have the state guarantee receivers certificates of deposits; fourth, the committee plan to have the state guarantee certificates issued by receivers but to issue such certificates to depositors without interest.

National Banks Friendly

As to this latter he said it would make depositors bear some of the burden. As to supervision of banks, many take the view that it is up to depositors to choose a good banker. This may cause bankers to supervise themselves.

Mr. Hall said national bankers are friends of the guaranty fund law. They want to see it succeed. He said the guaranty fund law is not a law made by bankers. It was made by the people and the people should carry some of the burden. He said people should know what the constitutional amendment is in some detail and if it is a clear cut proposal they will vote for it. He said if certificates are not sold on the market but are given to depositors and the depositors are not paid immediately the result will be better supervision, and this is important. He said if the matter is left entirely to the legislature there is danger that all who oppose any sort of taxation to aid the guaranty fund will vote against it.

Chairman Edgecombe suggested that the constitutional amendment should not contain details.

Jesse P. Palmer, attorney for the State Bankers association who was interested in calling the meeting, suggested that the legislature could under the proposed amendment, adopt any of the four plans mentioned by Mr. Hall. He favored leaving all details to the legislature.

Pledges Business Support

Frank Anderson, speaking for the state association to which he belongs, pledged the support of business interests to the effort to aid the fund in promptly paying off depositors when their claims matured. He said that business had been greatly aided by the fact that this law had made runs on banks impossible, and that by stabilizing the banks business had been stabilized. If the fund is allowed to break, it means ruination largely because it ruins the confidence of the people in something they have come to trust.

Mr. Anderson said that those banks that had paid the millions of assessments in past years had done a wonderful thing for the state, and now that they need help, the business men of the state are ready to get behind anything necessary to preserve the fund. They are ready, he added, to help organize sentiment in the state. Business needs banks, otherwise people "keep their money in their socks." Business is business, but no business is good business where profits is destroyed, he declared.

He expressed the belief that when the people understand the situation they will help, because his experience has been that the public will do anything desired if it is right to do it. He thought the banks ought to be better organized, and criticized them for not advertising more the costs of the guaranty plan.

Dead Banks Costly

Addresses were made by Chairman Edgecomb, Ole Buck, representing the state press association, W. T. Graham of Omaha, Senator W. B. Banning of Union, banker, and C. J. Thelen, former state senator of Humphrey. Mr. Banning said the people had in the past felt that they did not want any change in the bank guaranty law and it would be necessary to educate the public in this matter. If that is done the legislature will grant any relief possible, that the legislature will act if the organization now formed gets the people back of it.

Chairman Edgecomb spoke of what he termed extravagant cost of operating dead banks. He said one operated at his home town, Geneva, is costing the guaranty fund commission $500 a month.

The matter of selecting an executive committee was left to the officers of the permanent organization just formed. Chairman Edgecomb said a campaign of publicity must be paid for the clerks must be employed to get out petitions and check them, but that no salaries would be paid, as he understood it.

At the close of the meeting a proposal to assess banks for the necessary expenses was made but it was said this plan would have to be worked out later.

Secretary Peterson's Views

Secretary Van E. Peterson of the guaranty fund commission was not informed, he said, that the meeting was to be held. He did not attend. He said he had been informed of the general nature of the proposed constitutional amendment. Deducing assets of failed banks from liabilities leaves net liabilities of $8,000,000 against the guaranty fund, he said.

"The guaranty law is an enforced plan of mutual assessment. If it is so unsound as to require the state to lend its credit," said Mr. Peterson, "there must be something radically wrong, and this plan does not solve the problem nor remove the trouble. I am in favor of the guaranty of bank deposits. To be a success the law and its administration should be placed on a business basis and removed from political control. I am not for the proposed constitutional amendment and the state bankers committee, representatives from each county, declined to approve it."

WHO OWNED THE STEER?

Over in Dixon county they had a peculiar case in court in which Geo. G. Johnson and Dave Nelson both claimed the same steer, and each proved his claim by ample evidence. The jury finally awarded the steer to Nelson, and valued it at $70, with $2.00 for its keep pending the time it was an unsettled dispute. Each feeder claimed to have received the steer with a shipment of feeders—and if the animal had a double that escaped, who was him?

Years ago, in Iowa, a stray two year old colt was taken up and advertised, and neither of two claimants were awarded the animal, and the man who was keeping the animal eventually acquired title to the animal. It was his opinion that the animal belonged to one of the two men claiming, but neither could agree as to which one should have the animal. When he grew to be a horse, and the title was vested in the one who took up the stray, the new owner put him into his wife's mouth—that is he traded him to a dentist for a set of false teeth for his wife. In those days the dentists priced an ordinary set of false teeth at $100 and that was the value placed on the colt that had then grown to be a horse.

GOING TO THE WHITE HOUSE

The farm aid bill seems to be on the way to the president, says a Washington news dispatch:

Farm relief as embodied in the McNary-Haugen bill today appeared to be embarked on another legislative voyage that promises to lead to the White House for the second consecutive year.

The measure, however, has been renovated since its last journey. After weeks of consideration, its sponsors claim to have eliminated, with the exception of the equalization fee machinery, practically all of the features that were objected to by President Coolidge in vetoing the bill's predecessor.

Assurance that such a trip would be possible came late yesterday when the measure survived the last voting skirmish in the house agriculture committee. With its committee approval by a 15 to 6 vote, it now stands in the house, as in the senate, as the farm bill endorsed by the majority of both the agriculture committees of

Claim Enough Votes

Supporters of the bill predict that they can muster the necessary votes to send the measure to the White House and so far none of its opponents have denied their claims.

Representative Purnell contends that the federal farm board, which the measure would create, is directed under the bill to endeavor to stabilize the farming industry by use of the loan-to-cooperative provisions before it can resort to the equalization fee plan.

The bill would authorize an appropriation of $400,000,000 for loans to cooperatives, while the measure as drafted by Chairman McNary of the senate committee and endorsed by the body would authorize a loan of only $250,000,000.

Haugen has announced that this difference constitutes the major difference in the two bills as the house measure was changed in several respects to conform with the senate proposal.

GIVE CEMENT MORE TARIFF, CAL

In this age of cement use in all manner of building, according to Mark W. Woods, in a speech at Seward about two weeks ago, cement made in Germany or Belgium is being shipped to this country and add the tariff and then undersell the American made cement. That is a case that seems to call for an increase of the tariff tax in the interest of those fellows in this land of ours may have the home trade free from outside competition for that is the object of a protective tariff. And of what use is a tariff if it falls to be high enough to protect the big combines against the "butt-in" fellows from across the pond? We therefore move, Mr. President, that you go the limit allowed you under the law in shutting out any competing cement, that would tend to rob the home manufacturer of a corner on the market, if necessary, put some more tariff on wheat and other farm products, of which we export millions of tons, and keep the tariff on cement up to the very top notch. Those fellows who take the natural lime stone, and burn it with natural gas must not be forced or permitted to have to compete with any cheap "foreign scab labor." They have doubtless paid a price for protection and should have it, no matter what it may cost the consumer for this necessity.

BRIEF REVISION OF EVENTS

Some of our republican candidates before the primary are proposing to go into a sort of combine, which is probably in the way of practice in hope that they may be named for congress, where they seem to favor combines. With seven candidates asking the nomination, one has written the other six, proposing that each and all pledge to support the nominee in the election campaign, no matter how bitter the pill may be. Another of the candidates wants to take the voters by storm, and urges the other members to join with him in a joint tour of the district so that the voters may see them in a bunch, and make their choice from their looks—much as they would select from a bunch of cattle, the likely looking ones of the herd. Great stuff.

Thos. W. Cunningham of Philadelphia, of which county he is sheriff is to be arrested and brought before the senate of the United States for contempt in refusing to answer the investigating committee in the Yale election fraud investigation. A criminal called in such cases should be taught to speak the truth in reply to questions asked by a proper committee. More power to the arm of the committees.

We well remember the old saying quoted as the wisdom of a dutchman who said that the longer he lived the more he found out. And so it seems in the oil investigation. Only last week the committee learned that while Will Hayes swore to the statement that no one had contributed to the fund of the campaign more than the $1,000 permitted by law, but it now develops that Albert D. Lasker of Chicago, who soon became chairman of the shipping board in 1921, gave a $1,000 back in October 1920, and later paid the treasurer of the national committee, Fred W. Upham, now dead, $25,000 in cash.

Over in Platte county there is a suspicion that all has not been on the level in the bridge building department—that there has been too little bridge for too much money, and a survey of the bridge activities for the past year is under way. Not satisfied with that, some of the citizen taxpayers are asking that the investigation be made for a longer period say, back as far as 1922. It is always well to have a few voters and taxpayers keeping tab on public expenses. It will not hurt honest ones, and may uncover real errors—and if it send a crook to the pen, he probably belongs there.

The Senate has passed the flood control measure, appropriating 325 million dollars, and taking only two minutes for the job. The house has also quickly passed the naval bill taking quite as much cash. That means three quarters of a billion spent for. They are good spenders.
