

R. R. LARSON NAMED WAYNE DEPOT AGENT

Agent at Wakefield 25 Years Ago Comes Here From Emerson to Fill Vacancy.

IS VERY HIGHLY RECOMMENDED

Mr. R. R. Larson, agent at Emerson, who has been selected to fill the place made vacant by the death of Wm. Schrumph a few weeks ago is reported from all angles a good fellow, ably qualified for the duties, and real mixer in a community. Superintendent Blundel when passing thru Monday, checked his enthusiastic talk of the band, and the baseball and athletic activities for the railroad younger men, long enough to say that he felt sure that Wayne would like their new agent, and Emerson is sorry that he is to leave that place, and the Press of that place has the following sketch of his previous railroad connections:

"Mr. R. R. Larson, who has been local agent for the Omaha railroad for the past seven months has been promoted as agent at Wayne.

Emerson people are sorry to lose Mr. Larson on account of the interest he has taken in local affairs. He with others of the company have been great park boosters and many other things that go for the welfare of the community and he will be greatly missed.

Mr. Larson started with the railway company twenty-five years ago at Wakefield. Worked in different places, coming here from Coleridge about seven months ago. His transfer to Wayne is a promotion and we all wish him well in his new location and we can say to Wayne that our loss is their gain."

HOWARD TOWNSEND MADE JOURNAL ASSOCIATE EDITOR

According to information received here this week, Howard Townsend, who lived here for two years, has been promoted to associate editor of the State Journal of Lincoln.

Mr. Townsend is a son of Rev. Townsend who for two years was pastor of the local Methodist church. He began work as night city editor of the Journal about a year ago, and has since then been employed on that publication.

MRS. RICHARDSON PASSED MONDAY

Succumbs to Attack of Creeping Paralysis at Her Home Following Long Illness.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD WED.

For a number of months, Mrs. Eva May Richardson has been bedfast with practically no hope of ever being well, creeping paralysis said to have been gradually numbing her power to walk and otherwise remain in normal physical condition, and the end came Monday afternoon, July 30, 1928, at the farm home south of town at the age of 45 years, 9 months and 27 days.

Eva May Nolin was born at Sloan, Iowa, October 9, 1882, daughter of William W. and Alice Nolin, and came with her parents to Wayne in 1898, living on what is now known as the Simonin farm south of town. She united in marriage with H. Vernon Richardson, November 20, 1901. Four children born to this union survive her besides the husband who is at present at a Sioux City hospital for treatment, and not able to be present with the family at this sad hour. The surviving daughters and sons are Mrs. B. Clare Samsel of Windom, Minnesota, Mrs. Kenneth E. Graham and Floyd and William of Wayne, and two brothers, Lewis L. Nolin and Guy H. Nolin of San Francisco, California. One brother, a missionary teacher last heard from in Carlo, Egypt with wife and child, have not been heard from for a number of years. Her parents passed away three years ago.

Mrs. Richardson was a loyal member of the Baptist church of this city and her funeral was from that church by the pastor Wednesday afternoon, and burial in the Greenwood cemetery.

OFF FOR A VISIT HOME

Wednesday morning Joe Baker and family, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Edgar Beattie of Columbus started on an auto trip which has for its destination the old family home near Chester, Illinois, where there is to be a family reunion of the sons and daughters of P. W. Baker and wife.

Two years ago a similar reunion was planned and pulled off in good shape and as the mother is not in the best of health they all voted to repeat the family gathering—for among so many all may not be able to join some later year.

Joe plans to motor to Kansas City for the first day journey, and then the following day drive across the state of Missouri, to St. Louis, and the next noon be at the old home. It should be a fine trip, and doubtless a week spent at the old home and with parents, brothers and sisters and friends of other days will be as near heaven as one may find before he ferries across the dark river.

TO VISIT LAND OF HIS BIRTH

Kasper Korn, Who Came to America 35 Years Ago Left Sunday, Accompanied by Wife.

It is more than a third of a century since Kasper Korn came to Wayne, they have been busy years for Mr. Korn and his family, and now he is taking a rest. Himself and wife were due to sail from New York Wednesday on the ship Dresden, for Germany, where they will remain for some weeks. First, no doubt, they will visit his old home at Junkersdorf Bayern, Germany. Doubtless they will visit many other parts of Germany and some other old-world countries. Mrs. Korn is of German parentage, but born in America, so that the trip and the scenes in the old country will be new to her.

Mr. Korn is expecting to find that thirty-five years has brought many changes in the land of his birth, and also that the late world war may have left its impress upon the country and the people. The Democrat is to follow and keep them posted as to home events while they are taking in the scenes across the big pond. It will be a real vacation, we believe to this industrious couple.

ROBERT STAMBAUGH AND WIFE LEAVE FOR OUTING

Wednesday morning Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stambaugh headed south from Wayne, planning to be absent about a month. To Fremont to visit a short time comes first on the program. Then to Lincoln for a short time at the Epworth assembly, then on into Kansas, stopping at Waterville the former home of Mrs. Stambaugh, and it will be their plan to visit among relatives and friends in that vicinity, where they have many good friends.

In order not to have a thing to worry about they have engaged Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Fox to look after the cows the pigs and the chickens until their return, and it seems that Mr. Fox is going to give special attention to the chicks, for a fox is said to be fond of chicken—but while Schuyler was asking friends to come out now and then to chicken dinner, he added that the fries are not big enough, but that he noticed some old, broody hens and then the fellows ceased to smack their lips as they at first commenced to do. Here is wishing the folks a happy vacation.

THE SEARS FAMILY REUNION

A reunion of the family of Mrs. Nettie Sears occurred Monday at Council Bluffs, Iowa, where two of her daughters, Mrs. Woods and Mrs. Miller live, and where their mother makes her home much of the time. Harold Sears and family and W. S. Bressler and family from this place drove down Sunday, and formed a part of the thirty-one living members of the family who were present for the happy event, which was the first complete reunion for a number of years. This was a happy occasion to all members of the family.

Wayne County Bovine Tubercular Eradication Completed This Week

Will be Listed as an Accredited County on September 1, According to Report.

WORK STARTED OVER YEAR AGO

The third test of the five precincts requiring more than two tests, was completed Monday when the herd of F. E. Pfeil was tested, this completing the eradication work for the county.

The work of making Wayne an accredited county was begun about eighteen months ago and was completed Monday. Two tests were made of all precincts and three tests of five of the precincts, where more than one percent were found to be reactors on the second test.

The county is now declared to be almost entirely free of bovine tuberculosis, and according to Dr. Purdy who had charge of the work from the beginning, it will be declared accredited by September first.

A report of the work for the county has not been completed but will be issued in the near future.

May Quarantine

The Splittgerber herd which has only been tested once may be quarantined, it is reported. Dr. Purdy said he did not know just what action the state will take, but intimated that he was sure something would be done soon so that it would not be necessary to delay the procedure of accrediting the county.

They refused admittance to the state men for the second test, for reasons that have not been definitely determined, according to reports.

It was said that they planned to dispose of their herd before the testing was completed, but this was not done. Dr. D. M. Purdy, who had charge of the work for the county, plans to go to Minnesota for a short vacation, after which he will probably be transferred to some other county where the eradication work is being carried out.

FORMER WAYNE CITIZEN MAKES GOOD IN SCHOOL WORK

A great many of the citizens of Wayne well remember John Ludwickson, who purchased a dray line here about fifteen years ago, and followed that vocation well for perhaps a year, taking a rest and a change from school work, in which he had been engaged before coming to Wayne. Then he returned to the profession he had quit for a time, and was elected to the superintendency of the public school of Walthill, 14 years ago, and now a staff correspondent of the Journal at Sioux City has the following story of his success in his chosen profession.

"Coming to this country from Denmark when he was 14 years of age, Mr. Ludwickson decided to follow educational lines. It was not always an easy task to provide the means to reach the goal to which he aspired, but by practicing prudence and patience he finally finished college and then bent his efforts toward perfecting the intellectual training of young minds. This school under his supervision has attained a high standard of scholarship for a common high school and the addition of two years of junior college work will give those many an opportunity to take a university course at a saving.

This course will provide the first two years of a standard college training for graduates of the Walthill senior high school and other high school graduates in surrounding territory.

The freshman year will be offered for the school year of 1928 and 1929, while both freshman and sophomore will be offered beginning in September, 1930. The courses are standard in every respect and similar to those offered by the University of Nebraska."

Following his residence here, Professor Ludwickson came to the Wayne Normal several summers taking special work which he saw the need of to make his school work more efficient.

FAT CATTLE TO MARKET

Sunday John A. Lewis loaded out six cars of fat cattle, which were on the Sioux City market Monday. They were what are classed as heavy and well finished cattle, and according to market quotations brought a good price.

Today is Boy Scout day at Wayne.

BREAD AND WATER SENTENCE ISSUED

Trump Gets 30 Day Penalty When He Pleads Guilty to Charges of Being a Vagrant.

A man who claimed that his home was in Missouri, and that his name is James Wilson, plead guilty to charges of having no visible means of support and going from place to place begging, and by reason thereof is a vagrant, and was sentenced to serve thirty days in the county jail, in county court yesterday.

The court ordered that he be given only bread and water until further orders are given.

Not I. W. W., Claimed

He claimed that he is not an I. W. W., and had often been thrown out of a box car because he would not join. Hard luck, and the conditions of the times were blamed for his being without funds.

Advocating an eight hour day with $5.00 a day pay, which he claimed would eliminate the necessity of anyone being penniless, he said, that there is enough wealth so that all can have plenty if it were properly divided.

Coming here from the harvest fields of Kansas, which he left because he couldn't get ahead as it rained too much of the time, he claimed to be headed for the northern states for the balance of the summer.

His home, he claimed, is in Missouri where he has always lived. He said he had three children in the orphan home, one of whom he later admitted was married.

His wife was killed in an automobile accident six years ago, he said, and he is suffering from rheumatism, and has experienced hard luck in big doses all his life.

He used to drink "quite a bit," he said, but didn't now, so much, as it tasted too much like gasoline.

LEGION AND AUXILIARY TO HOLD JOINT PICNIC

All members of the local American Legion and the Ladies Auxiliary and their families are urged to attend the big joint picnic to be held in Wm. Kieper's grove Sunday, August 5.

They will gather at twelve or shortly after, and mess call will be about one o'clock. The ladies are furnishing the eats, but everyone is asked to bring their own mess-kits. There'll be plenty of "seconds."

Wm. Kieper and H. A. Welch, commander and adjutant respectively, have arranged an elaborate program of events that are scheduled for the afternoon. Included in the entertainment is a ball game between the Auxiliary and Legion. The adjutant will be captain of the former.

LOCAL GOLFERS HAVE WRECKED FREMONT MEETS

A number of the local golf enthusiasts plan to attend the annual meet at Fremont which will open Sunday. They enter this tournament with a great deal of vim, having captured more than a lion's share of honors in past seasons.

Morgan, perhaps is the most feared of the Wayne participants, he having, in six seasons, won two championships, medalist honors twice, runner-up once, and last year failing to qualify cleaned up in the presidents group. Last year Ahern battled his way to the finals, eliminating A. D. Lewis in the semi-finals, in a desperately fought match.

Hunter and Lewis, also, have a number of Fremont laurels to their credit, and plan to give an account of themselves again next week.

THOMPSON FAMILY MOVE TO ST. PAUL MINNESOTA

This week the Thompson family who moved to Wayne some months ago, and have been living in a property owned by Bert Wright just south of the railroad, on Main street, leave Wayne for Minneapolis, Minnesota, where some of the members of the family will attend school. Two girls, Belle and Anna, and two boys, Carl and Marvin comprise the family. The father, who moved here from near Dixon, last fall, died not long after coming to Wayne.

2,687 VISIT PARK IN JULY

J. H. Fitch, park overseer, reported that the park visitors during July numbered 2,687, kids and old-folks. Mr. Fitch tells that the month passed without any incident of importance to mar the record. The new merry-go-round recently installed is a fine new attraction for the little folks, and it is kept busy. The order has been better than the previous month, and for that he gives much credit to the matron, Miss Genevieve Wright, who is making good in every way as matron.

The band concerts, of which there is to be one this evening have been well attended, and the order both in the park and on the street has been much better than at the June concerts. The city park is now proving its worth, and that it was worth the wait of a number of years for its development to its present condition. The citizen who donated it to the city, J. T. Bressler, may well feel that he did a good deed for Wayne and the community in general.

JACQUES INCREASE CAPACITY OF PLANT

New Cleaning Room and Additional Equipment to Increase Capacity of Plant.

Work will begin this week on an additional room in the rear of the Jacques cleaning plant, which will increase the capacity of the plant as it is to be furnished with additional equipment.

Their business has made a steady increase since they opened their plant, a few years ago, said Mr. Jacques, and it has been very hard for them to always take care of it promptly during the last few months.

With the equipment installed during the past few weeks and a new steam press which will be installed when the new room is completed they will have more than doubled the capacity of the plant during this summer.

The improvements, including the equipment and the additional room, will cost several thousand dollars, but Mr. Jacques felt that they either had to expand or turn away a lot of business, and therefore are adding to the plant.

DON GILDERSLEEVE GETS PROMOTION

Don Gildersleeve had a day here with his father and friends Saturday, leaving Sunday morning for his new location in the west. For several years he has been at Buffalo, New York, as assistant branch manager of the United Motors business; and now he is transferred to Seattle for a like responsibility in the state of Washington. Thus he could have a day at Wayne, his father driving to Omaha to meet him, as the train on which he was coming from the east would not reach Omaha in time for connection with the train coming to Wayne. Don left Sunday to continue his journey to the west.

EXCURSION TO BLACK HILLS

A popular excursion at a very low round trip rate will be run to Rapid City and other Black Hills points August 7, 8, and 9 with return limit August 16th, 1928. Tickets good in coaches only. Take advantage of this bargain vacation opportunity to see the Wonderland of America. "Days of '76" pageant at Deadwood August 8, 9, and 10. Opening of Alex Johnson hotel at Rapid City August 11th. ARTHUR E. KIEHL AND MISS FREDA IDLER ARE WED HERE

Arthur E. Kiehl of Coleridge and Miss Freda G. Idler of Randolph were married here Sunday July 29, 1928, with Rev. Fenton C. Jones, pastor of the First Presbyterian church performing the rites.

Mr. Kiehl is a baker, according to reports, and will be employed at Coleridge, where they will make their home. The bride has been teaching.

AT BAPTIST ASSEMBLY

Rev. A. C. Downing and family and La Verne Stamm will leave Monday to attend the eleven day Baptist summer assembly, at Grand Island.

Rev. and Mrs. Downing are on the faculty again this year, in which capacity they have served before.

MRS. DANIEL BAIER CLAIMED BY DEATH

Resident of County for Many Years Passes at Her Home Near Wayne Tuesday.

LARGE FAMILY SURVIVE HER

Augusta Klein was born August 11, 1874, in Westphalia, Germany, and came with her parents to America in 1886 and has long been a resident of this county and held in high esteem by all who knew her. United in marriage February 27, 1892, with Daniel Baier, they lived more than 36 years together. To this union fourteen children were born, eleven of whom, with the husband today mourn her death, which occurred July 31st, 1928, at age of 53 years, 11 months and 21 days. Two of the children passed away in young life, and a third after reaching maturity. She is also survived by three sisters, Mrs. August Dangberg, Mrs. Wm. Fehrs and Mrs. Ferdinand Kay, all residents of this county. The surviving children also live in the county, and at or near the Baier home southeast of Wayne. They are Emil, Adolph, Louie, Ernest, Paul, Otto, Walter, Ida, Freida, Alfred and Erma.

The funeral service will be held at two o'clock Friday afternoon following a short service at the house at the Theopolls church southwest of Wayne, and burial had in the family lot in the cemetery at that church. Rev. Fischer, for so many years her pastor will conduct the service in German, assisted by Rev. Teckhaus of this place who will speak in English.

PICNIC OFFICERS HOLD MEETING TUESDAY

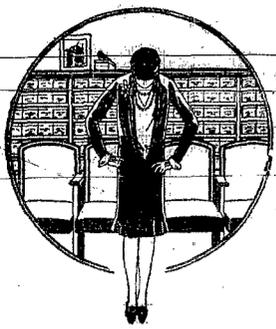

Officers of the Wayne County Old Settlers Assn. held a meeting at the light plant office Tuesday evening to make final arrangements for the reunion to be held here August 23rd, says the Tribune. The finance committee, consisting of J. S. Schmude and Wm. Brune reported that over $240 had been collected with their task yet unfinished. About $100 is in the treasury and with the money to be realized from various sources on picnic day it will be possible to look the best of attractions this year. The association this year will have charge of the dance and Jean Boyd, I. F. Gaebler and Frank Wilson have been appointed as the committee in charge. We understand that the Monahan Post orchestra of Sioux City is to furnish the music. The baseball game was turned over to the baseball team, with Louie Needham being the committeeman in charge of selecting a worthy opponent to meet the local team. The association will receive a certain percentage of the net profits of the game, however.

Music on reunion day will be furnished by The Concord Owl and The Winside Concert Bands of 50 pieces and it is certain that this part of the program will meet with the unanimous approval of all who know the merits of these two band organizations.

Progress of the committees will be reported from time to time so all may know what to expect in the way of attractions for Old Settlers Day.

E. F. Shields and daughter Alice left Wednesday afternoon for a visit at the home of a brother near Willard, Ohio, after which they will go on into Pennsylvania, and visit his aged mother, now past 80 years of age, whom he had not seen before for sixteen years. Mr. Shields said that he wanted to get back in the Blue Ridge part of the Alleghany mountains and see if some of the stones he used to stub his toe against are still there and in evidence as they once were. To the daughter, who was too young to remember much of the trip when she was there, it will be a sort of a new world. Mr. Shields thinks he may be able to tell how much of a vote Smith is liable to carry Pennsylvania by. Perhaps about as he might carry Iowa, for they are both banner republican states.

Not but a few days ago, it seems, spring was slowly coming to this country, and now some days seem like summer, very much like summer and a sort of a shock came to us when one of the millers, Mrs. Swan, said that she was leaving the first of the week for fall and winter millinery.

MATINEES SATURDAYS AND SUNDAYS AT 3:00 P. M.

Saturday morning Miss Lila Gardner, accompanied by Margaret Helt, left to visit at the homes of relatives near Nebraska City, and at Willisca, Iowa, for a few days, expecting to return the last of this week.

L. B. Lenzen drove to Bloomfield the last of the week to attend the funeral of his uncle, Andrew Snyder, who was one of the men who met death by gas in a cistern at that place last week. Thos. Dunn of this place is also a nephew.

Chas. Heckert Norris, who has been spending two or three weeks here visiting his grandfather, Dr. T. B. Heckert, returned to his home at Grand Island, Dr. Heckert driving to Norfolk with him, where a bus took him to Columbus.

Dr. Young's Dental Office over the Ahern's store. Phone 307.—adv. tf.

Jas. Mulvey from Chadron was here last week, stopping while driving with friends from his home town to Joliet, Illinois, to visit relatives to take his daughter Gwendolyn with them for the remainder of the trip. The young lady is making her home here with her grandmother, Mrs. Emma Baker.

Last Friday George Porter, who moved to Carroll two and a half years ago, was greeting Wayne friends. He said that he had stayed at his new home pretty well, and only five times, an average of once in six months, had he visited Wayne, and he almost needed letters of introduction to some of his former neighbors.

Wm. Beckenhauer and family are home from their visit to the west. They were delayed some by the rain, unusual in some of the parts they visited. At Superior in this state they lost a day, but in the west where the rain is unusual, it was wet. They were at Estes Park and other points in Colorado, and came home thru the Black Hills country.

The Sioux City attractions seemed to appeal to many Wayne people, as did the low rate on the railroad for the day. Forty-eight tickets were sold here, and perhaps more than as many more drove over, because they wanted to be free to come home earlier or later, or wanted their car to get from place to place over the city. It was a big day for Sioux City.

Dr. S. A. Lutgen, M. D. All calls promptly answered.

Attorney Arnold Steinkraus, candidate for the State Legislature from Pierce county, is not making very much noise in his race, but he is "making hay while the sun shines," nevertheless. It would be mighty nice to have this bright young man sent down to represent us. We might hear whether Pierce county is on the map or not. There is no question but what Pierce county would have an able representative, says the Leader.

The home talent chautauqua at Madison last week is reported as a drawing thing for that community. It has the merits of being more economical and arousing a deeper local interest in the questions discussed, and they should be educational, and if so, there comes to the community a double benefit—those on the program must study to prepare and the audience might take the word of home folks with greater faith than that of strangers.

Plans for a new bridge over the Elkhorn at Norfolk are awaiting government approval, which will doubtless be given, and plans ready to begin work at once on the contract. The new structure is to be 22 feet wide, and consist of three spans, each 100 feet in length. It is hoped to have it finished in November, and thus avoid the inconvenience and danger of a temporary bridge during the winter, for the public as well as the risk of having the spring slush take it away.

Kelly Gossard and family from Norfolk were here visiting at the home of his parents. A. P. Gossard and wife, and Sunday with his parents they drove to Craig where they visited at the home of Mr. Gossard's youngest sister, and had a fine time. Mr. G. says that he does not remember a time when crop prospects appeared better over that stretch of country than now. They tarried a while at the Oakland park while coming home, and says that it is a place of beauty, and should be a joy forever.

Mrs. A. M. Ricard and son G. O. Ricard from near Waterville, Kansas, came to visit a few days at the home of Robert Stambaugh and wife, to whom they are related as sister and nephew. After a short stay here, they drove on to Fairmont, Minnesota, to visit other relatives. They seemed to think this a good agricultural country. They brought a bit of Kansas agriculture, a head of cabbage weighing more than 12 pounds, which is some size for this early in the season, and it might have made a lot more kraut had they left it grow until the proper season comes for making that delicious and health-giving product of the farm or garden.

Mrs. Lottie Newberry from Bancroft was visiting here the last of the week, returning home Monday afternoon. They lived here for a number of years, running a photo gallery.

Since leaving Wayne she has been afflicted with an alleged cancerous growth on the chin, which baffled the healing power of the physicians, who claimed that the removal of a part of the chin was the only possible chance of recovery, and that was not very flattering. To this she would not consent, and tried a salve which she had compounded which healed the place and left but a slight scar, considering the way she told of the condition before applying this salve for about three weeks.

Bertha Harrison, who took nurse training at the Wayne hospital, finishing about four years ago, was here a short time between trains Friday, returning from a month vacation spent with home folks at Spencer. On her way here she stopped at Randolph and briefly visited Mrs. Dena Kalkofen, with whom she took nurse training here and at Chicago, where they finished their course, both graduated in the same class. Mrs. Harrison remained with the Mt. Sinai hospital from which they graduated, and is now, and for several years has held the important position of superintendent of the surgical department nurses. Wayne friends will be glad to know of her success in her work.

being asked to join with other employees in promoting the idea. One conductor who is interested in the proposed band tells that he has a list of more than forty of the men who will participate in that enterprise.

Superintendent Blundell, who is giving active support to the plan told the writer Monday that out of a possible 600 available young men along the line more than 400 had agreed to get into the organizations. Hoskins and Emerson each have ball teams reported, and one of the men here is busy picking the best material eligible, and will soon be ready to report. The plan is to have the different ball teams meet and play each other at the different towns and strive for top place same as do the teams in the leagues. As we understand, neat suits are furnished the members of the clubs, and complete playing equipment such as balls, bats and other necessary accessories will be provided.

will also be a regular Sunday feature. Here you will find internationally famed writers depicting the events of the times. You will read Arthur Brisbane, David Lloyd-George, George Bernard Shaw, H. G. Wells, Rupert Hughes, Kathleen Norris, Dr. Wood Hutchinson, Gen. William Mitchell and scores of other equally famous writers. March of Events is read by more millions of people than any other newspaper feature. It gives a clear vision of the big vents of the world, as seen by the worlds greatest minds.

Laugh With The World's Best Comic Artists

No other newspaper organization has such a staff of nationally famous artists. The Sunday Bee-News will publish 14 to 16 of the best colored comics. The Evening Bee-News will carry two full pages of the best comic strips and The Morning edition will feature a distinctly different group of comic strips. You mustn't miss a single issue of this great newspaper if you are to keep pace with the comics.

The World's Greatest News Organization

There are more than 98,000 men and women employed by The Hearst Newspaper organization. News gatherers of uncanny skill are everywhere sending in the news for Hearst newspapers. Every resource that money can buy is brought to play the game of "get the news and print it first."

Four to Eight Pages of Pictures in Rotogravure

The Omaha Bee-News is publishing the first and only rotogravure section in Nebraska. Every member of the family enjoys the pictures in roto. This section will now have the full resources of the great photographic organizations of The Associated Press, International News Reel, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Illustrated News and Continental News Reel. It will be full of marvelous pictures unsurpassed anywhere.

Complete Staff in All Foreign Centers

News of the world is equally important. Acts of nations frequently are the "big" smash in news. Hearst newspapers cover the world with their own writers and reporters. No expense is too great to send the news accurately to you. Hearst newspapers lead the world in printing "the news."

The World's Famous Sport Writers, Too

The lovers of sports will find the greatest array of writers reporting the sport events of the world ever gathered together. The sport pages and sport section will be an outstanding feature with The Omaha Bee-News. Hearst Newspapers report sports as the famous sportsman himself sees it.

Features for Women and Men Abound in Every Issue

Women, children and folks of all ages and classes will find The Omaha Bee-News giving them special features of every description. The young folks will find thrills; grandmother will read the fiction; City Life features will find its followers; complete market reports for the man in the city and on the farm; everyone will read The Omaha Bee-News with new and greater interest. It will be the best newspaper in the middle west. Nothing will compare with it. First in News, First in Features and First in Pictures and Comics.

And now they are going to put more tariff on corn, as a relief for the farmer, we suppose, if the newspapers carry correct news.

Ritchie and Smith discuss campaign, says a newspaper heading, and the article following says nothing was given out of their meeting. Perhaps they discussed religion—who knows?

The Nebraska Meridian road men in session at Norfolk last week, resolved in favor of a higher gasoline tax. Will the coming legislature please listen? They might also listen to some of the consumers of gasoline.

Candidate Hoover is going to talk to the farmers of Iowa on farm problems but no address is to be made—just a confidential talk, we suppose. Why not appeal to the Missouri Farmers that way they should be as easy to "soft-soap" as the Iowa farmer. This Iowa event is to be the 22nd and 23d.

White takes it back, says the news reports, referring to the charges the editor had made as to the democratic nominee for the presidency. Well, one can hardly afford to be unfair in his charges of wrong doing so long before election. They may be contradicted now. Just before the battle, mother, is the time to take a lot of sensational dope with a lot of salt.

It listened a bit better when Calles of Mexico announced that it was his intention to retire. Well, then let's get busy for another election down there. Will Uncle Sam feel that he is called upon to send the marines down to supervise the voting and counting? If so, and the soldierly appearing young fellows do a real good job, they would be sent to Philadelphia, in the province of Pennsylvania before the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November.

Senator B. K. Wheeler, democratic senator for Montana, won out for the nomination at the recent primary by a three to one victory over his opponent. That is pretty good for a candidate who was threatened with impeachment by the copper kings but a few months ago. The republicans have named a former senator and a former governor, Joseph M. Dixon, backed by the Copper Kings for the place. On the democratic primary ballot running against Wheeler was Sam V. Stewart, an attorney for the Standard Oil interests.

One sometimes thinks that the interstate commerce commission is a great institution for the railroads. Just now we note that it has said that Uncle Sam—that is you and I and all of us, shall pay the railroads $15,000,000 more annually for hauling the mail, and also that we shall pay forty-five additional millions to compensate the roads for under pay since 1925, and there you are. But that might be a good thing, for in some other times not so far back in national history it was the law, and perhaps is yet for all we know, that the order went out to weigh the mail for a 30-day period, and that to be taken for the basis of the settlement for the next year. It was during one of those weighing periods that it was discovered that tons and tons of bound Congressional Records were in the way at Washington, and should be distributed by the franking privilege to the uttermost parts of the realm. It was while living in Iowa that the express wagon that hauled the mail dumped a big lot of the records at the office door, and they were stored for a number of years and seldom if ever looked at. When the office was moved to other quarters a few years later a public library had been built in the town, and while feeling generous, one day we donated the entire bunch to the library, if they would send for them. But we will bet that Uncle Sam paid for that tonage every month for the year, or until the next weighing was ordered.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

The tall corn stories are beginning to appear in our exchanges. Stalks up to 11 feet in length were reported last week, and at the rate the corn has been stretching, they might easily be 14 feet before this item comes to the public.

Bloomfield has let a contract for graveling the streets—or at least some of them, in that city. Work was to commence August 1st.

Floyd Dopson, of Madison and commander of the Legion post of that city died last Thursday, suddenly. He was but 33 years of age, and was taken with a hemorrhage that morning which proved fatal very quickly. He was commander of the Jones-Radant post. Gas during army service was the cause of his illness.

New buildings are being erected at West Point for the fair and are being rushed for completion before the opening of the fair this fall. One of the buildings is for a rest room, and it is being made modern and sanitary. A lot of these things are coming to the public grounds in different places in Nebraska.

Over in West Point last week three men were fined and two women ordered to leave the county. The men were charged with sale of liquor, for which they were handed $100 fines each, and then part of them were invited to cough up another one hundred bucks for seining in the river. That makes fish come a trifle high, we guess.

A premium list for the Cedar county fair, to be held at Hartington September 4, 5, 6, and 7 is out. It is to be their 35th annual meet, and the book shows a fine line of premiums, and is well patronized by the business people of the county. Fairs are great educators.

They are still stealing hides at Battle Creek, according to the stories they tell about that town.

BEE-NEWS, NOW HEARST OWNED, BIGGER, BETTER

Omaha in Metropolitan Class, Sunday Paper With Big Magazine Section at 10 Cents.

The Omaha Bee-News takes its place today alongside the newspapers of the nation's great metropolitan cities. It was taken over as of August 1, by William Randolph Hearst and thus has become a Hearst newspaper with all that that means in the way of aggressive newspaper leadership. The Omaha Bee-News thus becomes a greater Omaha Bee-News. It will have available, and will give to its readers the full benefit of the world wide Hearst newspaper organization, the most comprehensive and alert.

The newspaper under its new ownership will continue to be a champion of the cause of the middle west. The Hearst newspapers in every city where they are published are fighting newspapers. Progressive in politics with a liberal outlook these newspapers have made a constructive impression upon the communities in which they are published.

This fighting spirit now becomes linked with the long history of the fighting spirit of The Omaha Bee-News with its wide knowledge of the needs of the middle west.

Omaha will particularly benefit by this broadened scope of The Bee-News and all of Nebraska will benefit likewise. With a truly metropolitan newspaper Omaha will take on more of the character of a metropolis. There will come to Omaha a wider appreciation of its opportunities and its obligations.

Bigger Things for Omaha

Omaha is entering at this time upon a new era of growth and expansion. With the experience of the Hearst newspapers in bigger and broader things, those who know the influence of a fighting, fearless newspaper look forward to an awakening of the people of Omaha, to a stirring of the best within them to the launching of programs that are essentially a part of America's great cities.

In keeping with the plans for a greater newspaper The Bee-News will take its place alongside the big dailies in New York and Chicago. The Sunday issue of the paper, for that reason, it is announced, will sell at 10 cents and the daily, either morning or evening, in conjunction with the Sunday will be delivered by carrier at 20 cents a week.

In an announcement to the people attention is called to the fact that The Bee-News "now gives its subscribers the penned thoughts and the genius of the greatest array of the world's highest paid writers. The list of names of writers who

Mrs. Marie Weekes of the Norfolk Press is entering a plea for long life when she says: "The Press editor would like to live long enough to see the people learn that they can afford to trust the people they know better than those they don't know."

How are fur farm prospering? In answer to that question, Chas. Weekes from Portland, Oregon, while visiting at Norfolk, told his hostess, Mrs. Weekes, that they have been given a complete trial out on the west coast and he doesn't know of one that has made a success. For breeding purposes they sell pretty well, but that for fur they are as much a problem for marketing experts as any other product. And he refused to believe the promoter's stories of handsome profits. We have some in this vicinity who are losing enthusiasm now after a year trial.

An exchange remarks that the only sure way to head off the great expenses of a code law is to elect a democratic legislature and a democratic governor; adding that from a watchful and waiting policy no one had found a republican candidate for the legislature who has declared in favor of the repeal of the code law.

National prohibition as enforced by the Coolidge administration is a farce. Perhaps they could not do better under the Volstead law and perhaps they don't want to enforce it. Secretary Mellon under the president is charged with enforcing prohibition and he is wringing wet. At best the Volstead law is a bootlegger's law and favored by them. It has permitted them to accumulate wealth faster than the mines of South Africa ever did their owners. There is but one thing that keeps this country wet under national prohibition and that is the money that may be made in illicit liquor traffic. Some people believe that the bootleg trade would be ruined if people were allowed the use of old time beer that contained about 3% alcohol. My own opinion is that the Volstead law should be changed and have teeth put in it and our state laws be amended re-establishing the public whipping post. An earnest application of the cat o' nine tails to the bare back of every bootlegger or maker of hooch that comes before the judge instead of a fine or jail sentence would be very discouraging to the traffic. And a double dose should be given the malefactor who drives a car on the public road while drunk. —Madison Star-Mail.

Council Bluffs Nonpareil: Bob Ingersoll said the democratic party chose the mule for its emblem because the party like the mule was without pride of ancestry or hope of posterity. Up in Woodbury county a jenny mule has recently become a mother, and it is said the democrats think it's a good omen for Al Smith.

Des Moines Register: There can be no mistaking the political shrewdness of the Smith program and we may look to the Smith campaign to be as effective as it promises. At least that is his record in New York. It plainly will not do for the Hoover men to take anything for granted or rest on their oars.

Who'll Be Jailers asks the Cedar Rapids Republican? If the tendencies of the last 13 years continue, the whole population will be in prisons. Of course that is a ridiculous supposition, but every Iowan should give serious thought to the social importance of the rapid increase of prison population.

APPRECIATION

The Wayne county Farmer's Union wish to express their appreciation to those who aided in making the annual picnic a success. They are especially grateful to the Wayne county fair board for the use of the grounds, and to Rollie Ley and Marcus Kroger for the donation to the base ball game. COUNTY OFFICERS.

will contribute to the greater Omaha Bee-News may be seen in their advertisement on last page.

The Sunday paper will bring to its readers The American Weekly magazine as a regular weekly section. This is the most popular magazine section published. The total circulation of the Sunday newspapers which print it is more than 5,500,000. All these newspapers are sold at 10 cents per copy.

There is a thrill in all of this to the people of the middle west. With a great metropolitan newspaper, a fighting newspaper, a fearless newspaper much can be accomplished for a great section of the nation whose fighting champions have been all too few.

Art Ahern and family are motoring to Chicago, and visiting there this week.

The St. Marys Guild will meet with Mrs. Ed Owen and Mrs. E. Martischang this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Owen.

Charles Foster and family and Mrs. Cyrus Lang and daughter of Gordon spent the week-end with relatives and friends here. Charles Foster is a son of J. H. Foster, and formerly was a partner in the construction work here. He is now a lumber dealer at Gordon, where he has been for some time.

R. B. Judson and Chas. Carhart and families reached home the last hour of last week from two weeks spent in the woods of Minnesota, camping on one of the beautiful lakes of which Minnesota has so many. All report a very enjoyable time, and plenty of fishing—but the limit of eight fish per day at the lake they were camped on, was rather discouraging to big fish stories, unless one hook some big fish. They would have been home earlier only for a little misunderstanding. If the cars got separated in crossing Sioux City they were to wait at the bridge until the belated car got there. One car waited an hour at one end of the bridge for the other, and when time was up, drove across the bridge only to find the other car as impatiently waiting on the Nebraska side of the stream.

Paul Benschhof of Elliot, Iowa, has been visiting his brother William the past week. They had not met for thirteen years. He is Wm. Benschhof's youngest brother and is 83 years of age.

During the absence of Rev. Keckler, Mr. Huwaldt a banker of Carroll, filled the pulpit of the M. E. church Sunday.

Mrs. B. M. McIntyre invited all the children in town that were under eight years of age to help celebrate her son John's fourth birthday. The little folks met in the park and ice cream and cake were served to over 100 guests. Needless to say a rousing, good time was enjoyed by all.

The Social Circle met last week at the home of Mrs. Irving Mosea. There was no program but a Kensington was held during the afternoon. There were 14 members present and the following visitors: Mrs. Gurney Benschhof, Mrs. Mark Benschhof, Mrs. Ed Mittlestadt, Mrs. Ed Damme of Sioux City, Miss Ruby Reed, Mrs. Thorvald Jacobson, Mrs. I. O. Brown and Mrs. Ed Weible.

Mrs. C. E. Benschhof entertained ten guests at dinner Friday evening in honor of Paul Benschhof of Elliot, Ia., his son Theodore and Perry Benschhof both of Van Tassel, Wyoming, and a nephew, Richard Craig, of Walnut, Iowa.

Mrs. A. C. Gabler and daughter Margaret, Miss Elizabeth Johnson, Will Gabler and Mrs. Pauline Rhebus were visiting at the county seat Friday afternoon.

The Winside Cornet band journeyed to Concord Wednesday evening where they assisted the Concord Owl band in giving a concert.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Pinton accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Burt Lewis and daughter Wilma drove to Sioux City Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Andersen visited friends at Pilger Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Boock and family with Roy and Vernice Witte drove to Omaha Friday and returned Sunday evening.

Miss Mabel Lewis entertained Miss Beulah McCleery of Wayne and Miss Amy Bengston of Wakefield over the week-end.

Mr. John Brugger drove to Sioux City Thursday. Dale Pryor of Emerson accompanied him home for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Gurney Benschhof were entertained at dinner Friday at the Henry Martin home at Hoskins in honor of Mr. Benschhof's birthday.

Mrs. Guy Auker was called to Hartington Sunday by the illness of her mother.

The Bridge Tea club met Friday at the Frank Wilson home when the losing side entertained the winners at a picnic.

Miss Gertrude Bayes entertained her Sunday school class at a party Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Etta Perrin. Games and races formed the entertainment and the hostess served a picnic lunch. There were 16 guests present.

Miss Mabel Lewis entertained at bridge Saturday afternoon. Miss Twila Neely won the high score and Miss Esther Mae Ingham of Wayne won the consolation prize. The favors were Japanese fans. Sweet peas and lavender tulle were used to carry out the color scheme of lavender and white. There were four tables and a two course luncheon was served by the hostess.

Mrs. Chris. Carstens entertained fifty guests Saturday evening. Carus and dancing formed the entertainment.

Mrs. Marilla Sackett, a sister of Dr. B. M. McIntyre, returned Friday from a week's outing at Yellowstone Park. Tuesday Dr. McIntyre accompanied her to Sioux City on her return trip to her home in New Haven, Connecticut.

Mrs. Harold Glass and young son, and her brother Walter Jensen visited over Sunday at the home of their brother Antone Jensen in Thurston.

Mrs. M. L. Halpin entertained at cards Monday evening in honor of Mr. Halpin's 53 birthday.

E. Chichester of Dalton, came Wednesday evening for a visit in the home of his sister, Mrs. Harry Lindsay.

Ralph and Annabel Hillier returned Thursday from Woodlake. They both have secured schools there for the coming year.

Mrs. D. J. Cavanaugh of Wayne, her granddaughter Katherine, and Mrs. May L. McMakin were visitors Monday in the home of Mrs. R. H. Morrow.

Miss Jessie Prince is having a weeks outing at Lake Okoboji.

Mrs. Harold Glass will leave Thursday morning for her home in Whittier, California, after a seven weeks visit here with relatives and friends.

INDUSTRIAL NEBRASKA

By W. J. Monaghan

Industrial development in Nebraska in any other locality for that matter is dependent upon several factors. The four major factors are, available raw materials, power, labor, and lastly but most important of all, a market for the finished product. In addition to these four principal factors there are many others which must be considered carefully before plant location is determined. For example, any industry which is dependent upon an ample supply of water will necessarily study the water supply available before definitely deciding upon plant location. The attitude of the state, county and municipal governments in their laws and ordinances affecting industry is another item to be carefully considered. A disposition to saddle unreasonable tax burdens on industry or needless regulatory laws and ordinances is a distinct handicap to industrial development. Proper regulation is, of course, desirable and industry is willing to bear its share of the cost of government.

What industrial future has Nebraska? This question may be answered by another question. What advantages have we to offer industry? Industry has always sought and always will seek advantages. Capital cannot be forced into a given locality but it can be induced. Capital can also be driven away. If we in Nebraska can point to industrial enterprises which are succeeding we have an effective argument which will induce further industrial development. The old adage that nothing succeeds like success can be applied to the industrial field as well as to any other. Our problem in Nebraska is to secure advantages for industry.

The presence of any one of the factors needed for industrial development is not sufficient, we must have them all to such a degree that with the application of business brains, industrial enterprises have as good a chance to succeed in this state as in any other.

The industrial map of America is changing. No longer is industry inclined to choose the larger centers of population as the base for their manufacturing activities. With other things equal the lesser crowded areas find favor.

The small city has much to offer industrial enterprises which cannot possibly be available in the crowded industrial centers. Chief among the advantages offered in our smaller cities are the advantages offered labor. Labor in Nebraska taken as a whole, lives on a better scale than is possible in many of the more thickly populated centers. The employer of today is more interested than ever before in the welfare of his employees and their families. Our state has much to offer workers which by force of necessity is denied them in crowded industrial centers.

As I see it the industrial future of Nebraska is bright. We can point with pride to many industries which are operating successfully. Further development is not only possible, it is essential to welfare of our entire state and is bound to come.

The study underway by the Nebraska

Manufacturers' Association in cooperation with the University of Nebraska on our industrial possibilities is in my opinion a step in the right direction. Just now we are interesting ourselves with a study of the utilization of Nebraska's raw materials. As a result of this study I believe that the further utilization of Nebraska's raw materials in industry is sure to be accelerated. The experimental work carried on by Dr. G. R. Sweeney at the Iowa State College is certainly to be commended. Dr. Sweeney's experimental work has resulted in the manufacture of a number of commodities from cornstarch. While as yet the processes used are of an experimental nature it has been clearly demonstrated that a waste material contains elements from which many valuable commodities can be manufactured.

Just a word about our market. Our market is just as broad or just as limited as it is possible to get to a given point on a competitive basis with others. Our location in this regard will be vastly improved when the Missouri river is made navigable. The prospect for this improvement seems extremely bright at this time. This outlet to sea will give Nebraska another highly desirable means of transportation which will fit in perfectly with our present well developed railway and highway system.

"Our markets are also determined by the extent of development of our transportation systems," continues Mr. Monaghan in an interview. "The railroads will continue to carry the long haul freight. The short haul will more and more be done by means of trucks running over the highways. It is important to Nebraska's industrial development that an adequate highway system be built as rapidly as possible."

OBSERVATIONS

It is surprising to what lengths intolerant and blindly partisan people will go to malign the character of a candidate for office. And this before they have taken the trouble to verify the vile whisperings and rumors they take delight in repeating. Because Gov. Al Smith is a member of Tammany hall; because he has frankly expressed his criticism of the Volstead law and prohibition enforcement that does not enforce, these bigoted critics would have you believe that Smith is immoral and dishonest. They do not take trouble to give Al Smith credit for his eight years spotless administration of the governor's office in the great state of New York and of his splendid humanitarian service to society and the common people as mayor of a great city, where he was universally loved and admired. These critics apparently have not read the high endorsement of Smith's ability and clean American citizenship given him by the eminent Justice Hughes and many other distinguished citizens of the republican faith. No, indeed, they do not choose to be guided by reason and tolerance, but prefer to deal in the dirt and rot that does not dare to come out in the open where it would be quickly annihilated by the light of the truth. Governor Smith is not an angel and does not pretend to be. Neither is Herbert Hoover. Both are clean, high minded citizens whose morality is above reproach. Then why not leave their private lives alone and let the voters decide the presidential contest on real issues?—Wynot Tribune.

WHAT HEFLIN OVERLOOKS

Alma, Nebraska, July 25.—To the Editor of The World-Herald: Just read in the papers Thomas Hefflin's speech back each where the government should restrict immigrants that were Catholics from coming in this country. If Mr. Hefflin and some of his element will go back through the history of our country they will note that if it was not for the Catholic help and money there would not be any United States of America. What institution is the greatest defender of authority and of government, which is the most vehement opponent of socialism, anarchy, etc? The Catholic church leads in that respect. Treason is usually carried on behind a patriotic cloak. We, and our forefathers since the day of the Declaration of Independence in 1776, owe the very establishment of this government of liberty and justice, primarily, to the assistance which, in time of need, the colonies received from countries which were Catholic. George Washington, in a public letter testifies to this fact. Our best historians, though holding no brief for the Catholic church, are agreed that the religious toleration which is our country's boast, was first proclaimed in the Catholic colony over which Lord Baltimore presided.

To which leaders, during the civil war, is the country indebted more for the preservation of the union than to Sheridan, Rosecrans, Buell, Shields, Mulligan, Meaghn, Kilpatrick, etc?

"America first" was the Catholic slogan when in 1893 President McKinley called upon young America to fight the ancient Catholic country, Spain. During the Mexican border trouble the Knights of Columbus had a count made of the religious complexion of our national guard and discovered that one-third of the total number was Catholic. In 1917 when President Wilson proclaimed a state of war between the United States and the central powers, the archbishops of America were the first to send a pledge of loyalty and co-operation, and Catholics have an enviable world war record. Releases of records of United States war department show that the first American private soldier killed in the world war was Thomas Enright, a Catholic; the first American officer killed was Lieutenant William T. Fitzsimmons of the medical corps, likewise a Catholic. The first American soldier wounded was Dr. L. A. Genella, a Catholic of New Orleans.

What war record has Thomas Hefflin and his associates to compare with the ones he is slandering? These so-called patriotic Americans sure can do a lot of talking but they leave a very black and foul smelling record after them.

TWO GIRLS LAND BIG FISH WITH BARE HANDS

An incident occurred at the Foner ranch six miles east of Niobrara, last Wednesday which has all other fish stories that we have heard recently backed off the map completely. Two little girls, Paula Hofacker 14 and Maria Lamprecht 12, were wading in Bazille Creek which empties into the Missouri river not far from the ranch. They discovered a large 30 pound catfish stalled in shallow water for the river has recently dropped a couple of feet and the back-water in the creek suddenly fell until there was not enough for the enormous fish to navigate in properly.

At first the girls were afraid of the large creature but they could not think of letting so fine a catch get back into deep water so they looked about for a way to capture him. They found an old pail which had washed down the creek and placed this over his head so he could not bite. Then they rolled him up onto a sandbar where Paula sat on Mr. Fish until Marie could run to the ranch for help. When Mr. Foner arrived Paula was about tired out fighting to keep their prize from getting back into deep water but she had succeeded and the little girls had won the day by using their heads and an unusual amount of courage.—Niobrara Tribune.

One of our democratic friends is wandering about feeling like a man without a country. His prejudice against the Catholic religions seems to assume the form of fear that the pope will rule this land in case of the election to the presidency of one of that religious faith—but we fail to see how the head of that church can rule the United States. He has his hands full, and then some to take care of the many duties he now has.

Acid Stomach

Excess acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which neutralizes acid. The best corrective is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention. One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. It is harmless and tasteless and its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, never continue to suffer, when you learn how quickly, how pleasantly this premier method acts. Please let it show you—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

THE VOTE AT THE PRIMARY

A copy of the official report of the state canvassing board showing the vote cast at the primary election held in Nebraska on April 10th has recently been received at this office, says Editor Smith of the Seward Independent. The report is pretty late in making its appearance, but it nevertheless contains a lot of information to those interested in the figures published therein.

The total vote polled by the republicans in the state was 155,279, while the democrats polled 87,808. The republicans are normally in the majority and quite naturally should poll the higher vote. In addition thereto they had some strenuous contests which stimulated their vote, while the contests on the democratic side were of minor importance and were not such as to attract a heavy vote. For instance, the total vote on republican candidates for United States senator was 139,330, or within 15,949 of the total vote cast, while the total vote for the democratic candidates for the same position was 67,559, or within 15,249 of the total vote cast. Thus the democrats, with a much lighter total vote, had about an equal number who failed to vote for senator as did the republicans, with their much heavier vote.

The vote on governor is even more interesting. Art Weaver received a total vote of 94,244, while 61,035 either voted against him or did not vote at all on a candidate for that position. In view of the fact that Mr. Weaver had pretty well covered the state in a speaking campaign, addressing commercial club organization and other gatherings that would bring his candidacy to the attention of the public, the vote he received must be disappointing to his friends. The freak Ross was given a total of 25,845 votes while Harrop, another erratic, polled 12,977 in the republican primary. Weaver's vote was between 59 and 60 per cent of the total vote cast by the republicans.

On the democratic side Charley Bryan received between 71 and 72 per cent of the total vote cast in the primary for governor, even though he had an opponent in the person of Charles W. Christie who made quite an active campaign for the nomination. Bryan's total vote was 59,140 while Christie polled 12,843. Bryan's candidacy with the rank and file of his party was apparently much more popular than was the candidacy of Weaver with the rank and file of the republican party.

Charley Pool, democrat, for secretary of state, as usual showed his ability as a political sprinter. Without opposition so that his nomination was assured in advance, he polled a total of 62,371 votes, or an excess of 75 per cent of the total vote cast by his party.

H. I. MILLER SUCCUMBS AFTER LONG ILLNESS
(Winside Tribune)

H. I. Miller, for years in the employ of the S. St. P. M. & O. Ry. in northeast Nebraska, died at his Wilmington, California, home July 19th, following a long illness. Mr. Miller suffered a stroke of paralysis about a year and a half ago and this left him practically helpless. Internment was made at Wilmington.

H. I. Miller was born in Henderson county, Illinois nearly sixty years ago and was a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Miller. He moved with his parents soon after his birth to Iowa and a few years later accompanied them to near Winside where they located on a farm east of town. Mr. Miller here grew to manhood and accepted as one of his first jobs, a position in the Dr. A. B. Cherry drug store. Soon after he took up rail-roading, serving as breakman and conductor on the Bloomfield branch line for many years and later being passenger conductor on the M. & O. between Norfolk and Sioux City. It was while on this run that his health began failing and he and his wife finally decided to move to California where it was hoped that his health might be benefited. They moved to California nearly seven years ago. Besides his wife deceased is survived by one son, Hal, of Long Beach, California; one brother, Chester of Malden, Washington, and two sisters, Mrs. A. B. Cherry of Pasadena, California, and Mrs. Lucian Vreeland of Kansas City, Missouri. Two nieces, Mrs. G. C. Francis and Mrs. Jesse Witte and two cousins, Mrs. A. H. Carter and Mrs. Mae Huffaker who resides at Winside.

Mr. Miller is best remembered by his Winside acquaintances for his ready humor and wit and his ever sunny disposition. As a young man he was popular in his old home town here and in railroad circles he was one of the best liked men on his division.

LOOK LIKE AN UNFAIR COURSE

The following from the Dixon County Advocate is given us as telling a story which the people should know. We pass it on to you:

"The reported failure of the Citizens State Bank at Martinsburg last week was so unbelievable that the Advocate took time to investigate. Under the capable management of Jim Patten this bank had weathered all the tribulations of the period of depression and was generally considered one of the strongest banks in Northeast Nebraska and the fact is that it was. With autocratic indifference the Banking Department arbitrarily ordered the Citizens State Bank closed due to an argument over a technical matter which Mr. Patten had with one of the business college graduates being sent out by the Department. It was charged that the Bank was making excessive loans to certain men. Knowing the circumstances of his customers thoroughly, Mr. Patten vigorously resented this accusation and the fact that several of these heaviest borrowers at once paid off their notes proves that he knew his own business best.

The bank had more than twice the cash reserve required. If given the opportunity it could pay all depositors 50 per cent within a week and 100 per cent within a few months. But under the Department with an appointee drawing a fat salary until the last note becomes due, the depositors cannot hope for a full payment. However a movement is under way to have the Court appoint a local man as receiver to close up the bank's affairs speedily.

Not only does the course taken by the State Department appear to be a rank injustice by wrecking the business of the Citizens State Bank and depriving Martinsburg of the local banking facilities, but it directly threatens the general financial welfare of this entire section of the state. What can the Department mean?

BUMPED CONCRETE BRIDGE RAIL

Last Thursday while G. D. Burnham of Sholes was coming out from Winner, South Dakota, he came to after a short period of unconsciousness on a bridge not far from the town, and saw that his car was badly wrecked as well as that he was slightly disfigured, tho still among the living. Monday he was here on his way home by train, and not by automobile.

Mr. Burnham, who is a traveling salesman, was driving alone, and as it had been oppressively hot, and he had just dined, he thinks he must have dozed just an instant. Said he remembered seeing the bridge and a clear road to and beyond it, and next he knew he was close to the bridge and the car heading for the creek which would take him over a steep bank, unless diverted from its course, and this he tried to do, but to late, and he hit the bridge rail pretty square on.

As he came to from his confusion, another car came up, and as he was going to Winner he invited himself to ride back to the town, taking his order blank equipment from the wrecked car.

When gone over by a physician he found he had a deep cut in the center of forehead, a gash in the right arm that needed several stitches to close as it extended most of the way from the wrist to the elbow, while the left arm and one leg was badly bruised and skinned up, and three or four broken ribs had to be taped up, and he was still sore all over.

Said that he had driven during the preceding year an average of 137 miles per day, for six days a week, which was often rather tiresome, and he thought perhaps, as a whole he had escaped pretty well as this was his first hard bump. Mr. Burnham, who has been living for some months at Sholes tells that the first of next month they plan to return again to an Omaha home.

WITH THE WAYNE CHURCHES

First Presbyterian Church
Fenton C. Jones, Pastor
There will be no services in this church during the month of August. Work in all departments will be resumed Sunday, September 2. Let us all take a good rest and be on hand refreshed and ready for good work in the fall.

The union services closed with a splendid attendance last Sunday night. The men of the community were out in goodly numbers. All the churches appreciate their cooperation. These have been the best attended meetings for the summer that we have had for some years.

The pastor's vacation plans are as yet unformed. He will be at home for several days yet and expects to go to Storm Lake, Iowa for a week's outing about the middle of the month.

First Baptist Church
Rev. A. C. Downing, Pastor
Sunday school at 10. Record last Sunday better than that of a year ago. Let the good work continue.

Morning worship at 11. Pastor's Second Anniversary. Sermon subject: "The Seven Judgments."

Young People's meeting at 7. Leader Miss Mildred Atwater of Albion.

Evening service at 8. Sermon by the pastor. Text: Isaiah 45:22.

A cordial invitation to attend all services is extended.

THE FARMER UNION PICNIC

Last Sunday there was a gathering of several hundred farmers, their families and their friends at the Wayne fair grounds for the Farmer Union annual picnic, the invitation having been extended to such of the Wayne people as could and cared to come to meet with their farmer friends getting acquainted and listening to some of their speakers.

Perhaps it might be well to briefly introduce the Farmer Union to our readers, as there are some who have never been properly introduced to this organization which has for its chief object co-operative selling of farm products and the purchase of some lines of staples at a saving price over what might be called for in regular buying. They have neat little pamphlet which tells more fully of their objects, but in a short form that tells it. They have national, state and county or local unions and its form of government is democratic in the extreme, as an instance of that we might relate that a part of the membership of the local union sponsoring this good meeting favored some other day than Sunday for the annual picnic—and it was put to a vote and Sunday carried, and that settled this question for this time.

The organization started in Texas in 1902, the first local union formed in September of that year. The organization did not reach Nebraska until about eight years later when Local No. 1 was organized in Antelope county, and is still going strong.

They hold their state and national conventions where they discuss questions of public interest as it appears to the great producing class.

Their object is to promote co-operation in buying and selling and so far as possible eliminate the middlemen and speculators who simply stand in line between producer and consumer to make the former take less and the latter pay more for that which labor and capital have produced to supply the needs of mankind.

A district of ten counties in this corner of the state has a membership of more than 4,000, we are told. The farmer elevator has become a real factor in this state, and has been the means of bringing the grain producer from 5 to 10 cents more per bushel on the grain produced than would naturally have come to him without organization.

In the creamery or dairying end of farming, the organization is establishing several big creameries in this state, and they differ from the big central plants in the fact that while they pay only the quoted price for their cream, their patrons and share holders draw back in proportion to what they turn in a dividend which represents their share of the profit on their product. This tends to keep the price level paid for cream higher than it might otherwise be, and gives the Union men the profit that is otherwise absorbed by the central plants which otherwise would have things all in their own hands.

They are organized also as a commission stock sales concern, and the members get returns in the same manner on their shipments to their own concern.

The Picnic

Held in the well shaded fair grounds where there are so many comforts and conveniences, a happy throng gathered and partook an ample picnic dinner, the number was not as great as would have been had it not looked so much like rain in the early morning hours. Many drove in after having their dinner at home, that they might meet with friends and neighbors and hear the talks, see the races and the ball game.

The president of the Local union, David Herner presided, and introduced Mr. Reynolds, of Nebraska, one of the field workers when needed and when he can spare time from his farm. He explained the objects of the organization to those not members, and told of its benefits as it had proven to be by figures of what had been accomplished. He said that in common with some other organizations they had made mistakes, one of which had been biting off more than they could properly masticate—but they think they have learned a lesson and while they had quite a percentage of failures of their stores, due to inexperience and incompetent managers, they were no greater than others in the same mercantile lines suffered.

They are combining their efforts more to the co-operative marketing than some of the lesser enterprises. The product of their three big creameries is all marketed as the product of one plant, and thus they are not competing with each other in selling. Their product is sold on its quality merits and is mostly purchased by concerns that spread their butter in million pound lots and spread it thick. Mr. Reynolds quoted figures to back up his statements. One of his present missions is to dispose of a little more stock in the creamery they are now building and equipping.

Following this speaker, J. H. Kemp of this city was introduced, and he gave a splendid talk on "Neighbors." It was not a political talk, but touched more or less upon economic questions that concern us all as neighbors. He might by changing a few words and adding a few, changed what was much like a good sermon into a political speech for the cause of the people, and really there should not be much difference between politics of the right kind and religion. His talk was of a nature to set people thinking, and that is what they should do. Study and do some of their own head work. Mr. Kemp's talk was well received, and if he should be called on to make some political talks during the campaign, and he should be, "Neighbors" would make a fine text from which to preach the doctrine of equal rights to all and special privilege to none.

Following the speaking were races between the boys and girls, nearly a dozen appearing of each sex. We did not get the names of the winners, but in the first race by the boys, the two leaders tied at the tape, and so ran it off.

A slipper kicking contest in which the girls competed was a novelty which caused much amusement. About ten of the girls lined up, and with their slipper so loosely fastened that they could kick it off, tried to see who could send it the greatest distance in two kicks, hopping from the line to where the slipper landed and making the second kick. The winner must have covered a distance of about 100 feet. Some of the girls would have won had they been trying to make a high flight rather than a long one, for their feet wear went up like shoe pieces did during the war times, but in this case they did not remain up indefinitely.

The Ball Game
Was between the Wakefield and the Altona teams, and while some called it a little slow, it was close enough to keep the interest of many in the grand stand, from which vantage point the game could be watched nicely, from a comfortable seat in the shade. The score was 3 to 5 in favor of Wakefield.

We wonder that more picnics and gatherings are not held at the fair grounds where there are so many conveniences in buildings, shade and seats, with a pretty good diamond for ball games, and a good track for any who might wish to motor round the half mile.

OL' BILL BUSTS A HAMSTRING

Ordinarily Ol' Bill White of Empory, Kansas, is a never ending delight and joy to the soul. When he writes of things social his words flow as smoothly as a winding creek in the lowlands, and when he writes of things economic he has such a happy faculty of drawing on his imagination for his statistics that we stand amazed at his mental fecundity. It is only when Ol' Bill tries to discuss things political that he opens his mouth only to thrust his foot therein so far the heel becomes tangled up with his epiglottis. As a constitutional lawyer Ol' Bill is a perfectly good-hoccarrier.

Right now he is scared to death lest Al Smith be elected and thereby empowered to appoint three justice of the supreme court to succeed three who are now, as Ol' Bill puts it, "looked upon wistfully by the undertakers." Ol' Bill White of Empory says these three Smith appointees "would declare the Eighteenth amendment unconstitutional before a cat, even so agile a cat as a tiger cat, could wink an eye."

Ye gods and little fishes! In what law school did Ol' Bill White of Empory study constitutional law? We inquire to know. Whatever school it was, it taught an entirely new concept of constitutional government. Never before in our short and more or less uneventful career did we hear that it is possible for the supreme court of the United States to declare the constitution of the United States unconstitutional.

Here is a new danger that confronts our grand old republic. Some of these days the supreme court will succumb to the blandishments of the unrighteous, sneak off into a corner and declare our glorious old constitution unconstitutional, and then where will we be? If it isn't the likker interests it will be the predatory interests or something or other inimical to the general welfare. Won't we be in a heluva fix if the supreme court, packed by Al Smith, or some other unregenerate son of Bellal, declares unconstitutional the scared bill of rights the 14th and 15th amendments and the one enfranchising the women. God bless 'em! Wouldn't we be up against it if that packed court—packed by anybody but a republican president—should declare all of the constitution unconstitutional except the words, "We, the people!"

Thank heavens, Ol' Bill White of Empory has warned us of the danger in time. We simply must not allow Alfred Emmanuel Smith to be elected lest he pack the supreme court and have one that will do his bidding and declare the constitution of the United States unconstitutional.—Ord Journal.

"WOMAN"

She's afraid of a roach, she'll scream at a mouse;
But she'll tackle a husband as big as a house.
She'll take him for better, she'll take him for worse.
She'll split his head open and then be his nurse;
And when he is well and can get out of bed,
She'll pick up a teapot to throw at his head.
She's faithful, keen-sighted, loving and kind,
She's crafty, she's witty, deaf, dumb and blind.
She'll lift a man up, she'll cast a man down,
She'll crown him her king, she'll make him her clown.
You fancy she's this, but find she is that,
For she'll play like a kitten, and bite like a cat.
In the morning she will, in the evening she won't,
And you're always expecting she does—but she don't.
She'll love you in truth, and ignore your worst fib—
And there you have Woman, Man's long lost rib.—Ex.

FARM POULTRY

GROWING PULLETS NEED EVERY CARE

The young growing pullets need every advantage because the profits from them this fall will depend largely on their growth and maturity.

"There are four essentials in developing young pullets," says C. F. Parrish, extension poultryman at the North Carolina State college. "First give them a good range on ground not occupied by the hens nor where mature stock has been kept, supply plenty of fresh air in the poultry house, give them sufficient growing mash and scratch feed and see that shade and green feed is available. From the green feed, the pullets get certain food elements and iron which is essential. If natural shade is not available an artificial shade may be made by driving four stakes in the ground and covering them with sacks. Sunflowers or corn may also be planted to supply this necessity."

For those young pullets still in the brooder house, the heat should be decreased as fast as possible and the house ventilated. The stove should remain in the house for at least two weeks after the fire is out to use in case of cold rains. Feed the scratch grain farther away from the house each day so the birds will go out and eat more green feed.

For roosting, Mr. Parrish advises the placing of temporary perch poles in the brooder house when the chicks are about seven to nine weeks old and do not need heat. These poles should be about fifteen inches from the floor and slanting at an angle of 45 degrees. One-inch mesh wire might be used in front of the poles to make the birds climb up.

Egg That Has Life Very Essential for Success

Whether breeding chickens, ducks, geese or turkeys, the first essential for success is to get an egg that has life. Strong, vigorous parents that are well fed and well cared for produce such eggs. The general principles of breeding apply to all poultry, says a writer in Wallace's Farmer. Well fed, but not overfat, is the ideal condition. Enough feed to keep the flock active during the day; a liberal feed at night. Green feed and animal feed, clean water, no lice or mites; fresh air without draft at night, together with plenty of room, are conditions that favor eggs with life in any locality. There are no rules for growing poultry that must be followed absolutely. There are the general principles of clean food in abundance with work on the part of the fowl to get it; clean houses, clean yards and fresh air, but success comes with about as many different systems as there are breeders. Bone meal, meat scraps and buttermilk furnish bone and muscle building material; corn, wheat and oats add the necessary fat and energy; green feeds give life and health. Upon the character of the seed depends the harvest.

Light Brahmas Good for the Small-Patch Farmer

The lower your fences are, the heavier may be your breeds of poultry. One of the best breeds for the small-patch farmer, or the business man or wage earner living in the suburbs—the man who cannot afford to put much money into expensive wire netting—is the Light Brahmas. They stand confinement in narrow quarters, and they also stand cold weather. They are less subject to disease than some of the other breeds; they make good layers, and average in weight, when fully grown, about 11 pounds; so when you market your surplus stock you have something to sell. But if you have plenty of space for your chickens the cheapest breeds are the nervous, restless ones, which means that they are good foragers for food, and will not need much feeding. The Brown or White Leghorn and the Black Spanish are among the best foragers. Other breed which do well in the small patch or acre lot are the Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes and Rhode Island Reds.

Chickens Eat Feathers

Chickens eat their own feathers because of the lack of the following feeds: 1, meat; 2, green food or bulk; 3, salt. One-half pound of fine table salt should be put in the dry mash and this should be kept before the hens at all times. They should get plenty of green food. In the winter time, cabbage, mangels and root crops answer fairly well. They should have plenty of animal food such as beef scraps, fish scraps, skim-milk or buttermilk.

Alfalfa Is Favored

If time is lacking to prepare green feed for chicks, it pays to buy high grade commercial alfalfa leaf meal. A few hundred pounds will furnish green feed for a lot of chicks. Many of the best chick starting mash contain a little alfalfa meal. These mashes should be used according to the directions of the manufacturers, but chicks on a starting mash containing alfalfa meal often seem to thrive without the other source of green feed. The cost is comparatively small.

Hard to Account for Whims of Collectors

When Whistler was hard pressed for money he took many of his etchings to the pawnbroker to obtain the wherewith to buy wine or rare Nankin china, being a connoisseur of the former and a collector of the latter, says the Market for Exchange.

Rossett devoted himself to old furniture and Japanese bric-a-brac with the passion of the true collector. Unlike Whistler, however, he knew how to hang on to money and drove a hard bargain. His house was a combined museum and menagerie where raccoons, armadillos, salamanders and chameleons rummaged among rare manuscripts, books, pictures, musical instruments and furniture. The raccoon was finally disposed of after he had nibbled up some of the poet's manuscript, and a zebra which in the end proved dangerous met the same fate. There is, however, no accounting for tastes; and the collector who specialized in nooses which had performed their duty and to which he attached the names of their tenants possessed, if not a more peculiar, certainly a more morbid taste than Rossett.

Odd Expressions That Had Humorous Origin

The tendency to run words together has given the world some queer expressions. "Mimsy" is one of these "telescope" words that formerly was ever-ready to serve anybody in telling how miserable and flimsy anything might be. Now it has dropped out of sight. "Chortle" is another started in the same way, Lewis Carroll coining it as a combination of chuckle and snort. A similar type of freak word is the "spoonerism," originating, according to Dr. Frank H. Vizetelly, with William Archibald Spooner, an English churchman and educator, who had a habit of unconsciously transposing the initial sounds or other parts of two or more words. In addressing an audience he once put the question, "How many of you have a half-warmed fish in your heart?" Of course he intended to say, "A half-formed wish." Called as witness to an assault he testified he had seen the defendant deliver "a blushing crow" upon one of the dons of his college instead of "a crushing blow."—Kansas City Times.

"Act of God" Legally

The legal meaning of act of God is any accident due to natural causes, directly and exclusively, without human intervention, such as could not have been prevented by any amount of foresight, pains and care reasonably to have been expected. Broadly, the term usually applies to natural accidents, such as those caused by lightning, floods, earthquakes and tempests. A severe snowstorm which blocked up railroads was held within this rule. Also, in a case where fruit trees were frozen in transit, it was held to be by the act of God when it was proved that there had been no improper delay on the part of the carrier.

Knightly Armor

The weight of Gothic armor of the Fifteenth century varies considerably. For example, a specimen in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, weighs 49 pounds, one in Paris weighs 53, and a third in Vienna weighs 85. A complete suit or armor which belonged to Henry VIII of England and which is now in the Tower of London, weighs 94 pounds.

There is also in the Tower of London at present a suit of armor for jousting that weighs 106 pounds. This, however, was a special defense worn for a brief period in the military sport of the time.

Pointed Question

Before the women's golf championship was played, a certain course for some days infested by practicing ladies. This gave much disgust to an old gentleman who went out daily to have his hundred up.

One morning, discovering that places were booked for two hours ahead by women players, he observed loudly and for the benefit of a crowd of the other sex, "Simply disgusting. I shall join a club for gentlemen only."

A bright young thing standing near gave him a smile and observed, "What makes you think you'd be eligible?"—London Tit-Bits.

Unreasonable

"What did you quit down at the Gold-plated Securities for? I thought you had a good time there."

"I thought so, too, till I'd been there a week. I was supposed to be secretary to the vice president, but he was no vice president at all. Why, the poor nut only took two hours and a half for lunch and sometimes he'd stick around till four in the afternoon. I couldn't work for a man like that."—Saturday Evening Post.

IRISH SETTERS

"My beautiful puppies," said Mother Irish Setter as the puppies opened their eyes.

They had lovely blue eyes and their heads were so smooth and soft. Their ears were long and their hair was of a wonderful red-brown shade, long and also very soft.

"I wish I could always keep them safe and away from the dangers of the world," she said as she looked at them.

After a time the puppies were almost grown up and in a little while after that there was great excitement. The puppies did not understand it, but the mother did. She had been to many a dog show and how many prizes she had won. Her puppies were going to the show!

The next day they went—the whole family of puppies and the mother. The judges were looking at all the dogs.

"This Irish setter family beats them all," the judges said. And the whole family won ribbons! How pleased was their mistress.

"You will not leave me now," said their mother, for you will come to other shows with me.

"I have tried to keep you beautiful and well and so has my mistress.

"Now she is so pleased that you have won ribbons that she will not think of giving you away."

And though the puppies were almost grown up now they nestled close to their mother as though they were very young and said:

"We're happy that there are dog shows, mother, if it means we will not leave you."

And they barked their joy! Crowds stopped to look at them and they copied their mother and stood and looked as she did.

When their mother heard the people say how fine she was they noticed she wagged her tail, so they did the very same thing when people admired them!

Some of the dogs at the show snarled and were cross, but the mother told the gentle Irish Setter puppies that they were not to blame.

"You can't always blame them, my dears, for every dog hasn't the kind mistress that we have!

"If a dog is cross, very often it is the fault of the master or mistress."

So the puppies who were almost grown up barked more joyously than ever when their kind mistress came back to them.

Jimmy Was Good

Jimmy, a lively four-year-old, spent the day at his aunt's not long ago. His mother gave him the usual instructions on behavior before he left home, warning him not to be noisy or troublesome.

That evening when he returned, she met him at the door and started to ask if he had been a good boy. However, Jimmy forestalled her.

"Aunty kissed me good-by an' said that how good I are!" he announced importantly.

His Mother's Baby

When Buddy, aged four, was told that there was a new baby coming, he immediately set his heart upon a small alster. The fact that the new arrival was a boy proved a bitter disappointment.

One day he was in the yard beside the newcomer's coach and a friend teasingly said: "Oh, Buddy, is that your little sister?"

"No," said Buddy, "that's just a baby of my mother's."

Big Business

First Panhandler—No, it's your turn to hit that feller for the price of a cup of coffee.

Second Panhandler—No, it's your turn.

First Panhandler—Tell you what, Bill! We'll flip this $20 gold piece to see.

Guess Who Won It

He (during their first quarrel)—I'll have you understand once and for all my word will be law in this house.

She (sweetly)—Why, certainly, dear, but I'm going to make what amendments will be necessary. That's fair, isn't it?—Capper's Weekly.

Juvenile Exegesis

Sunday School Teacher—Now who can tell me why Lot's wife was turned into a pillar of salt?

Bright Pupil—Please, sir, she wasn't satisfied with her lot.
