JOHN HOPPER IS REPORTED TO HAVE COMMITTED SUICIDE

Becomes Despondent Over Failure to Secure Employment. Leaves Note Bidding Farewell.

John Hopper, 65 years of age, committed suicide at Superior, Nebraska, about midnight last Wednesday. Mr. Hopper had been a resident of Wayne for the past ten years, during which time he had a room at Mrs. Guy Williams residence, 309 Logan street. Mr. Hopper worked for a number of years at the Radio Round Incubator factory and later became a regular driver for the Wright bus line, and was employed as a regular driver for them for some time, but of late had been on the extra list of drivers and as there is very little work for extra drivers at this time he had been trying to find other employment but had not been successful and it is thought perhaps he had become despondent. Mr. Hopper was last seen in Wayne last Wednesday evening. He used one of Mr. Wright's cars to make the trip to Superior. Mr. Wright found the following note on his desk the next morning. Burt, your car is not stolen, just borrowed, as I must have it to catch an early train. You will hear from it today, I think. Will give it good care. Maybe will see me no more. Good by all of you.

Mr. Wright received the following telegram Thursday morning: Superior, Nebr. 7:55 a. m. 8:29. B. W. Wright, Wayne, Nebr. Car at Ford Garage here. It is O. K. Hop 8:20.

Mr. Wright went to Superior Friday to get the car and while there he met Mr. Hopper's son Roger who happened to be visiting relatives in Superior at that time. Mr. Wright told Roger of the note his father had left and informed him that he was afraid something serious would happen to him. It is understood that Roger, and his relatives immediately started to search for his father. Friday morning Mr. Wright received the following telegram. Superior, Nebr. 8:20 a. m. 8:30. Burret Wright, Wayne, Nebr. Father's body found midnight last night, suicide. Letter in mail. R. D. Hopper. The letter that Mr. Wright was supposed to receive through the mail has not arrived and up to the present time we have not been able to obtain particulars of how Mr. Hopper took his life. Mr. Hopper is survived by two sisters, a brother, one son and four grand children. Miss Margaret Hopper of Spokane, Washington; Mrs. Agnes Perez, of Albuquerque, N. M.; George of Superior, Nebr.; a son Roger, of Sioux Falls, S. D., who has four children.

Baker Constructs Modern Garage

Joe Baker, the local agent for the Nash and Whippet cars, has just placed a contract for the construction of a new and modern garage and work shop, on west 1st street, to replace the garage now up the lot.

The front of the new building is to be constructed of brick, with plate glass front and the walls of hollow tile. The building front will be 62 feet, and 75 feet deep. There will be a 30 foot plate glass window in the display room. Construction on the building will start this week and Mr. Baker hopes to have the building completed ready to move into before cold weather sets in.

In addition to the Nash and Whippet display rooms, the new building will be equipped with a complete and modern repair shop.

Richardson Held on Serious Charge

Jack Richardson, who lives near the city dump, and F. H. Miller of Roosevelt Park, were unable to settle an argument over personal matters. They made things lively in their part of town for a time by throwing old irons and anything else they found loose, and their aim was very poor. Richardson returned to his home and secured a gun and threatened to shoot. Miller left immediately without further argument. Richardson was brought before Judge Cherry on the charge and was bound over to the district court.

Bridle Couple Return From Delightful Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gulliver returned late Sunday evening from a trip through Colorado, Wyoming, and South Dakota. They visited Denver, Boulder, Eldorado Springs, and Estes Park in Colorado, and Cheyenne in Wyoming. From Cheyenne they drove to Hot Springs, South Dakota, and on up through the Black Hills. They came home by way of Lake Andes. They enjoyed the trip very much in spite of the fact that there was such a striking difference in the temperature at the various places, the weather in South Dakota and Nebraska being very hot, while in Colorado it was cool, especially at Estes Park, where it was actually cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Gulliver will make their home for the winter with Mrs. Gulliver's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Jacques.

WAYNE SCHOOLS OPEN SEPT. NINE

Public School Will Close During Afternoon of County Fair.

The same plan will be followed out by the school as has been practiced in the past in regard to the County fair. School will open at 8 a. m. on days of the fair and will close at 12:30 p. m. By starting the morning session earlier and closing later it will be possible to complete the regular schedule each day and in this way not lose any school time. This seems advisable in view of the fact that the fair is an educational institution and the school will have a large exhibit on the grounds.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Education it was decided to open high school at a quarter to nine and the grades at ten minutes to nine. This will enable school of dismissal earlier at noon with a longer lunch period. Parents should keep in mind this slight change in the schedule.

A number of parents and pupils have spoken to the Superintendent of the Wayne school relative to finding places where the children may work for their board. Superintendent Best would appreciate very much getting in touch with any homes where a child could be placed in this capacity. There has been a slight misunderstanding concerning the mid-year promotion situation in the Wayne schools. The situation has not been changed relative to this matter. The mid-year groups will be handled where they now exist with the exception of the 8th grade where a different plan is being tried out. In any case where a mid-year group is eliminated it will be the policy of the school not to demote a child but rather to advance the pupil.

The tuition for non-resident grade pupils this year has been fixed by the Board of Education at $27 per year. This is considerably less than in the past but will continue at this rate only in case it does not lead to an overcrowded condition in the grades. This tuition is furthermore payable a semester in advance. In case a child does not remain in school the full semester the balance will be rebated to the parents.

Present indications point toward a large non-resident high school enrollment. The Wayne school welcomes these pupils and is making every effort to conform the schedule and course of study to meet their needs the same as the city pupils. Parents having problems to discuss are invited to visit the Superintendent. A complete cooperation of school and home can usually work out a plan of action.

All high school students will be required to register Friday, September 6th and Saturday, September 7th preceding. The hours of registration will be from 8 o'clock in the morning until 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Registration will be in charge of Miss Glennie Bacon, principal and will be held in her office.

Thieves Rob Home of Dead

While the bodies of Mrs. W. C. Davis and her daughter, Byra, who committed suicide by gas in their home at Norfolk, last Thursday, were being taken to Perry, Okla. for burial, vandals entered the Davis home and carried away a large amount of the household goods—a radio set, two blankets, a hundred pound sack of sugar, a basket and suitcase full of clothes and several other things.

Wayne County's Greatest Fair Starts Next Wednesday, September 11, 1929

Four Days of Instruction and Entertainment. Children Admitted Free Opening Day.

BIG FREE ATTRACTIONS DAILY

Wayne County fair will open next Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock, with the greatest program they have ever offered. There will be big free attractions each day. Fallenberg's bears; Gertrude Ave. and Boys, Arab Tumblers; Campers; Colored Jubilee Singers. Concerts by Wayne's Municipal Legion Band, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, and Monahan Post Band of Sioux City, Saturday.

There will be a baseball game on Friday afternoon between the Northwestern R. B. team and Oakland. The Northwesterns have only lost one game this season and that was with Oakland and the Northwestern boys are anxious to get their revenge. This game alone should be worth more than the price of admittance to the fair. The Horseshoe tournament Wednesday and Thursday and Friday, is sure to be interesting.

The livestock exhibit will be the largest of any county fair in the state.

The Boy's and Girl's club work will be a very interesting feature of the fair. There will be 100 baby beeves exhibited, and Dr. Hawkins says there will also be a very interesting exhibit of Pigs; by the Boy's and Girls' club.

The daily race program will be another interesting feature. The first day children's day. All children under 15 years of age will be admitted free on Wednesday, the first day of the fair.

The race program follows:

First Day September 11th. Shetland Pony race, Bicycle race, slow mule race, potato race, three legged race, foot race (girls under 12), turn stake race (saddle horses).

Second Day September 12th. Half-mile dash (free for all), one and one-half mile relay (3 horses and change saddles), turn stake race (saddle horses), saddle horse race, half mile, (stock saddle). Free for all harness race, three heats.

Third Day September 13th. One and one-half mile relay (three horses and change saddles), half-mile dash (county horses), half-mile dash (free for all). Free for all harness race, 3 heats.

Fourth Day, September 14th. Shetland pony race, fast mule race, saddle horse race (professional race horses barred), half-mile (free for all). There will be a wonderful display of fireworks.

Wednesday night, September 11th, there will be a wonderful display of bombs, rockets, set pieces, etc., and the spectacular numbers entitled "The Spirit of St. Louis" or Lindy's Flight, and the rainbow. Saturday night, September 14th, featuring "The Indian Pow-Wow." The Indians attacking the immigrants, concluding with "The Massacre."

An important act to be seen at the fair will be Pallember's Bears. There will also be a free motion picture show on the grounds, September 12th and 13th. There will be something doing every minute of the time, from the opening of the gates Wednesday morning until the closing of the last night. Four days chuck full of fun and instruction.

Start planning now to come. Attend every day and be sure every member of the family comes. Remember your county fair comes only once a year, it is your fair and you should be there every day.

There will be a large and interesting display of agricultural implements on the fair grounds. Local dealers have arranged to show their full lines here and will have them on display each day of the fair.

Real Estate Transfers

Martin Ringer, real estate firm sold last Monday, the Clara K. Wolf, quarter section of land, to Peter C. Anderson, for a consideration of $125.00 per acre. Mr. Anderson owns and lives on a farm adjoining the Wolf land.

Burr Davis returned from the Citizens Military Training Camp at Omaha last Sunday evening, after spending a few days on his way home with one of his fraternity brothers, Carl Kell, at Plattsmouth.

WAYNE-WAKEFIELD ROAD CONTRACT IN SEPT. LETTING

According to a Lincoln dispatch in The Omaha Bee-News of September 4th, the re-advertised Wayne-Wakefield stretch of graveling will be included in September lettings. It has been rumored that the above contract had only been advertised in Dixon county, and as it would be necessary to advertise it in both Wayne and Dixon counties before the contract could be let, therefore the contract for the job would be delayed for another year at least.

AN OLD WAYNE RESIDENT PASSES

A well Known and Highly Respected Citizen Dies After Short Illness Wednesday Morning.

Mrs. Mary Surber passed away at her home in Wayne, Wednesday morning, September 4, after an illness of seven weeks. At the time of her death she was 68 years, 4 months, and 5 days old.

She was born April 29, 1861, at St. Mary's Iowa, where she grew to womanhood. In 1881, she was united in marriage to David H. Surber, who preceded her in death ten years. In 1889, they moved to Wayne county, where she has since resided.

She leaves to mourn her loss, six grandchildren, two sisters, two brothers, and her seven children, who are: Guy Surber, and Mrs. H. H. Nolan of Torrington, Wyoming, Bert Surber of Winslow, and Mrs. Mabel Simons, and Ed. John, and Frances Surber of Wayne.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Montana Forest Fire Not Yet Under Control

Mrs. C. O. Mitchell received word Monday that her brother-in-law, Henry C. Gadow, was badly injured while working with fire fighters near Columbia Falls, Montana. The message conveyed the news that while a burning pine tree fell on Mr. Gadow he fell into a depression in the ground in such a manner as to save his life. Fellow workers took him immediately to the hospital at Kalispell where he is now suffering from burns and is badly bruised. The hospital is crowded to capacity with burned and otherwise injured fire fighters.

This forest fire has been burning since the second week in August and is not yet under control. Thousands of acres of timber have fallen before the flames. It is now in the beautiful timber of the Glacier National park and has burned a large area of the stately pines of that scenic and picturesque spot.

The State mill near the Gadow ranch lost a big block of timber, including 2,000,000 feet of logs-decked near the burned area.

The Gadows live near Columbia Falls within ten miles of the burning forest where Mr. Gadow owns 160 acres of pines. It was at their home the Mitchells visited for a week the latter part of July.

In speaking of the fire, Howard Flint fire chief of District No. 1, who flew over the area, said it was the worst fire he ever saw. On account of the large amount of slashings and refuse from tie and pole camps along the North Fork road above Columbia Falls it was impossible to check the fire. He expressed it by saying, "One man would have done as much good as a thousand."

Wayne Man Falls Off Wagon, Breaks Bones

Mr. Charlie Martin, while assisting unloading watermelons at the corner of main street near the First National Bank, Saturday evening, fell from the wagon. He was taken to the hospital for an X-Ray examination which revealed that he had broken a small bone in one of his wrists, and two ribs. He is still confined to the hospital, but is getting along nicely. The Nebraska Democrat joins with his friends in wishing him a speedy recovery.

Rendering Plant Being Built Here

A rendering plant is being constructed one mile east of Wayne for the purpose of rendering the lard and tallow from dead animals. The owner and promoter, Milton Griffith, estimates the value of the plant at $4,000, and states that he will be ready to operate it within three or four weeks. He will be glad to remove all dead animals in the vicinity, such as horses, cattle, and hogs, at any time free of charge.

The plant will be equipped that the grease and lard rendered from these animals will be absolutely freed from all germs and impurities of any kind. The rendered materials will be sold to various soap factories.

Mr. Griffith plans not only to operate the plant, but also to construct a feed yard and hog pasture where he can raise hogs to be used in connection with the operation of the plant.

FIREMEN HOLD ANNUAL CONVENTION

Removal of Fire Hazards by Cleaning up and Keeping the Premises Clean Urged.

The Firemen's convention held at Bloomfield last Monday proved to be a busy day from start to finish. There were one hundred delegates present.

The forenoon was devoted to a business session. President Ray Larson of Wayne presided. J. J. Allison of Laurel was elected president, for the coming year. Frank Korff of Wayne was elected Vice President, and a Mr. Howard of Wakefield was elected Sec. Treas. One of the chief topics discussed at the business session was, putting out fire before it starts, or fire prevention, by cleaning up the premises, and removing known fire hazards.

The standardization of threads on fire hose came up for discussion, and as this is a very important matter, it is hoped that Bloomfield and a few other towns of this section of the state that do not have standardized hose threads will get them. Wayne's Fire department have standardized fire hose threads.

The afternoon and evening were devoted to entertainment and from the reports coming to us from the local boys that attended it must have been, "some entertainment." They say the entertainment was good but that 5:30 banquet was great, especially the chicken. In fact most of the local fellows, while admitting that they were told there would be a dance in the evening, the chief topic they discussed was that wonderful 5:30 banquet.

The earlier part of the afternoon was given over to the baseball game, between Creston and Bloomfield, Bloomfield winning, the score being 12 to 3 in favor of Bloomfield.

The ball game was followed by the water fight between Bloomfield and Osborn, Osborn won.

The convention as a whole was a great success, and those attending are very grateful to the city of Bloomfield for the royal time they were shown.

Six Injured in Automobile Accident

Six persons were injured, one knocked unconscious, when two cars crash, two and a half miles south of Wayne, about 10 o'clock last Sunday morning.

Mr. B. Grane, a farmer living south of Wayne was the most severely injured. He was knocked unconscious, and remained unconscious until about 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

His daughter Mary, 10 years of age was badly bruised on one arm and shoulder his son Edward, 8 years of age, received a very painful though not serious cut on one ear. Mrs. Grane, and daughter Lidia, only received slight bruises from being thrown against the side of the car.

Due to the fact that Mr. Fred Urwiler, of Laurel, driver of the car that struck Mr. Granes' car, left with his wife immediately after the accident for the state fair at Lincoln, we are not able to verify the rumor that Mrs. Urwiler was painfully injured.

The top and fenders of both cars were badly damaged.

Ted and Albert Foots were Sunday afternoon callers at the home of their brother, Curtis Foots.

WAYNE STATE NORMAL STARTS SEPTEMBER 16TH

Registration Day For Training School is Saturday Afternoon September Seventh.

Registration for the first semester of year 1929-30 is scheduled for Monday afternoon, September 16th, and Tuesday, September 17. Classes will start the following Wednesday.

Most of the rooms in the dormitories are already engaged and that fact, together with correspondence with prospective students, would indicate that the attendance will be heavy the fall term.

Several new courses are scheduled for this semester: History of Civilization by Dr. Lewis; History of Mathematics, by Miss Boyce; Unified Mathematics by Miss Boyce; History and Functions of Political parties by Dr. Lewis; Chemistry V or VI by Miss Wendt; Economic Geography by Mr. Dale; Romantic Poets by Mr. Owen.

A course of study for the Wayne college high school has been planned and the complete four-year schedule, listing required and elective subjects for each year, has been printed and mailed all prospective high school students.

The college high school students will have opportunity to earn credit in extra-curricular activities such as orchestra, band and glee club. Athletics for the boys will be in charge of Coach Fred B. Schneider, a member of the junior class in the college; Miss Dewitz, instructor of the college classes in physical education, will have charge of the physical education work in the training school.

Dean Hahn is superintendent of the college training school; A. F. Gulliver, principal of the college high school; instructors in the college high school are: Miss Lettie Scott, English; Miss Edith Conklyn, mathematics and Latin; Miss Pearl Rutherford, history; and civics; Mr. Gulliver instructs in science and sociology.

On account of the Wayne county fair next week registration day for the training school is set a week early. Pupils will meet at one o'clock Saturday afternoon, September 7, for registration.

Three Children Injured In Local Accident

Three children were injured when two cars crashed at seventh and Logan street last Sunday noon.

Mr. Richard Pinkham, manager of the local branch of the Omaha Cold Storage, was driving a Ford Coupe east on seventh street when he bumped a Ford Coach at Logan street driven by Mrs. Bryan Kloppling. Phyllis Pinkham 8 years of age, was the most seriously injured. She was thrown against the side of their car by the impact of the bump. She was considerably bruised on the right side of her head, right arm and limb. She was examined by Dr. Siman, who stated she was not injured internally. Francis and Linn, the two Kloppling children received a few minor scratches.

Mrs. Kloppling, lives north of town and was returning from Omaha at the time of the accident. The left front fender of her car was so tightly pressed upon the wheel by the impact of the collision that it had to be taken to a garage for straightening.

Mr. Pinkham's coupe received a badly battered left front fender; tires of the front wheels were torn from the rims, and steering apparatus badly damaged.

At the Wayne Hospital

Mrs. George Johnson left the hospital September 2, following a major operation.

Miss Leatrice Christian left the hospital August 31. She was a medical patient.

Charles Martin entered the hospital August 31. He had a fractured wrist and several broken ribs.

Sam Simons of Wakefield entered the hospital September 3. He is a medical patient.

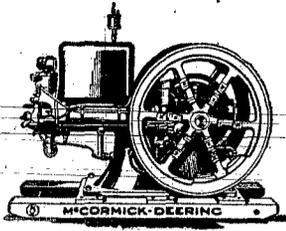

Miss Marie Sund had her tonsils removed September 4th.

Miss Helen Nuss had a minor operation September 4th.

Mrs. W. D. Hall spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Stricklet, at Blair.

The Greatest Farm Implement Display Ever Shown!

in northeast Nebraska will be on display at Wayne County Fair Sept. 11-12-13-14, by northeast Nebraska's largest implement dealers. It will be worth your time to see this grand assemblage of farm tools in operation.

McCormick-Deering Engines

meet all farm purposes. They represent many features.

- A size for every purpose.
- Removable cylinder head.
- Replaceable cylinder.
- Long connecting rod.
- Enclosed crank case.
- Wico ignition—makes starting easy.
- Fly-ball governor—maintains uniform speed.
- Unusually large, drop-forged steel, crank shaft.
- Extra large main bearings.

Galvanized Copper Alloy Steele Portable Elevator

Ordinary black sheet steel is unsatisfactory for elevators. In the SANDWICH elevator the best open hearth steel, to which copper is added, is used. Copper-alloy steel fights rust and corrosion.

Tilting or swinging hoppers, swivel telescoping discharge spouts and many other features.

Shellers and Grinders

Gets more money out of your crops. Add to the value of your feed. A size and type for every purpose. They are backed by 94 years experience.

The McCormick-Deering Spreader

is a genuine manure spreader, not merely a mechanical unloader. It is full of features from end to end, several of which are protected by patents.

- Roller Bearing equipped.
- Two Steel Beaters with wide spread spiral.
- Six conveyor speeds, controlled by lever.
- Correct Beater arrangement.
- Auto drive steering front trucks.

Cream Separators

The McCormick-Deering Ball Bearing cream separator makes child's play out of a man's job, with its exclusive ball bearing features.

- 12 distinctive features.
- Ball bearings.
- Easy turning.
- Slow crank speed.
- Greater capacity.
- Long life.
- Steady running.
- Visible oiling system.
- Improved oiling.
- Easy bowl adjustment.
- Improved tinware.

Corn Pickers

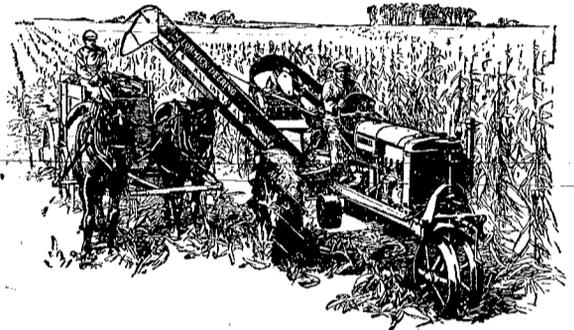

The McCormick-Deering Corn Picker will increase the husking capacity six to ten times.

Generous use of roller bearings makes it pull easy. All shelled corn is delivered into the wagon box. Retarders insure clean husking. A fan blows away all small pieces of husk and silk. It is controlled by one lever. All down or leaning corn can be picked up.

The Farmall Does It All

Power on the draw-bar, belt and power take-off.

Plows 8 acres a day. Lists 20 acres a day with a 2-row lister. Cultivates 25 acres a day with a 2-row cultivator. Mows 25 acres a day with 7-ft. mower attachment. It pulls the binder or picker, and in fact does everything.

They Had Their Liquor Troubles 46 Years Ago

According to Ponca Paper Charges Were Made in 1886 That Prohibition Does Not Prohibit.
The following is taken from the Nebraska Journal-Leader, of Ponca, and was published October 23, 1886. It tells its own story:
It is a fact that this town was never so orderly, so well behaved, and so free from drunkenness, rowdyism, fighting and profanity, as it is now. A year ago scarcely a night passed without a boisterous and drunken outbreak, and every day a dozen or more were seen mauling half drunk around the streets, or quarreling or fighting in the saloons. Pistol shots and profanity, black eyes and bloody noses were common, and brutality ran riot and often culminated in terrible affrays from which in several instances came murder, criminal trials, the wrecking of hopes and the destruction of homes. Hence it was a years ago this town had the hardest name of any town in northeastern Nebraska. But it is no longer. It is now one of the best places in the state. Why is it? What has made this great change for the better? Why is it that we have no rows nor murders and that rowdyism and drunkenness are no longer heard of? It is said that prohibition does not prohibit. Then what is it that has brought about such wonderful improvements in Ponca? It was said, too, that if the saloons were closed, the grass would grow in the streets? How are you, "Grass." Welcome that kind of grass for this town.

This year, has had as everyone knows, double the prosperity, improvement and business it ever had before.

JACQUESOL—the Champion Cleaning Fluid

Expert cleaners tell us that this solvent is the best ever discovered for cleaning furs, silks and woollens. It does not leave the garments hard or dry as when cleaned in gasoline, but rather leaves them with a beautiful gloss, a soft feeling and a finish like new.
JACQUESOL puts life into garments and that is what clothes must have to give good wear. They all say: "My, how do you put such a nice gloss and soft feel on your cleaned garments?" The secret lies in the fact that we use this new solvent, JACQUESOL.

AS WAYNE GROWS WE ALL PROSPER

In accepting the responsibility of directing the editorial policies of the Nebraska Democrat, I shall endeavor to give you a paper free from slander, fair at all times, giving you the news without taint of any form, a paper that will be welcomed in the most refined homes of our city and trade territory.

If we are able to exert any influence through our editorial columns, we shall endeavor at all times to use it to inspire our readers to strive for higher ideals.

As a resident of Wayne I become very much interested in the development of our city, "which every citizen of our city should be," and you will find me one of the strongest boosters for Wayne that walks the streets of our city. My slogan shall be as Wayne grows we all prosper. I shall labor unselfishly for the development of our city, and invite the cooperation of the business men of Wayne and community, for singly we will make no headway, but co-operate and see what happens. We often see one town or city making great progress while another with even greater natural resources retrogrades, the secret is set your ideal then co-operate to achieve it. Remember that what is good for Wayne is good for us all. Forget selfish interest and lets go!

Nick, W. Cowherd.

HITCHING POST, GOOD-BYE!

Fred Stalhut, pioneer and owner of a large farm near Nebraska City, and lover of horses, has just one fault to find with this industrial age that has whisked away the old slow and open days while he has been aging. The age has taken down his hitching driving horses and horses only, has trouble in finding places to tie them when he goes to town. "They might at when he goes to town. They might at least leave a few posts," he complains. When asked why he does not drive an automobile, he retorts, "Why should I? I'm not in a hurry to get anywhere." He thumbs his nose at modern psychology and the vaunted efficiency of all of us. Why should he be in a hurry, even if the rest of us think it necessary whether we are going any place or not?

Stalhut holds a certain amount of common sense in his attitude—most people do manage to keep a flavor of common sense even when they are at variance with the rest of us, so while we are conforming with and boosting lustily for the age in which we live—one must do that if one is to live and be happy—we shed a tear or two with Mr. Stalhut over the picturesque days that are passing.

When Jules Verne told how Pineson Fogg circled the earth in 80 days, it was considered a wide stretch of imagination. That time has been shortened by the speedier train and steamship service, but the Graf Zeppelin made the circle of the earth in about ten days actual sailing time. For long distance and continued travel the dirigible holds the record over heavier than air planes. It looks clumsy but it gets there. No plane made today can carry enough motor fuel to duplicate the trip of the Zeppelin. The achievement of this German Graf is a challenge to the plane manufacturers. No one can predict the result. So many unbelievable things have been done in the past few years, that nothing seems impossible.

And now Miss Georgia O. George, Los Angeles scalp authority, tells us that nine out of ten persons become intoxicated thru their hair. This will give the dyes something new to worry about.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Welble and children were Saturday evening callers at the Chris Welble home near Winside.

COURAGEOUS SPENDERS

"Save, youth, save, and prepare for the morrow." These words except in their excellent general drift, are not quoted. But the essence of them comes to our ears often enough.

Good advice, too. It would be bad if man, wise as he is, or thinks he is, should not do so well as the squirrel, who providentially lay aside a supply of nuts for the winter.

But there is one bit of advice we consider better: "spend youth, spend, and be greater than a squirrel." It is not those who are merely good savers, but those who are also good spenders who get to the top of the heap and stay there. In fact they often keep themselves financially embarrassed for long years in the process of getting to the top.

We doubt if Henry Ford started out with the idea that he would save and save all his life and that some day he would have thru that process a billion dollars. Rather—tho we admit that we are not accurately informed on his early history—it is likely that he often spent his last five-cent piece on apparatus he wanted for his experiments, or borrowed every dollar his credit would stand to launch a new business venture.

Even after he was in business on a large scale it was not Henry's chief idea to save. He paid his employees unheard of wages. He repeatedly cut the sales prices of his cars, which was another way of spending. He shortened the hours of his employees, which was still another method of spending. He spent in divers ways that frightened his competitors out of their wits until they, too, learned to be courageous spenders. But the faster Ford spent his money the faster it came back to him, and today, in spite of, or rather because of his spending he is the richest man in the world.

We do not mean by that that he spent his money haphazardly. One must use even keener judgement in his spending than he does in his saving, and Henry did that.

Balzac was another courageous spender. He decided to be a great writer and spent terrifically both his energy and his money in order to attain that end. He threw himself into great indebtedness in order to write, and wrote furiously in order to pay off his indebtedness. It was a never ending circle—spending his money writing and expending his energy that he might spend his money to expend his energy. It was broken only when he was old and had the gout, and married, a few weeks before his death, a rich widow who saved him from further financial worry.

But thru this frenzy of spending he left behind one of the richest contributions to literature.

We know of another courageous spender. She lives just beyond the suburbs of New York in a ramshackle farm house that she has made one of the cozy spots of the country. Her husband is an author or musician—it matters not just what—who makes almost no money. This woman, our courageous spender, as a result can not have everything she wants. She must choose carefully what she will have, and she has chosen the best of company that New York City provides, the best of entertainments for herself and family, and the best education for her children. She spends without stint what she has for those things. That family often have very little else beside those things they want, their meals at times may be skimmed, but they have in glorious plenty the things this woman considers essential.

It is all right to save, but only the things you spend can come back to you.

HOW GOOD ROADS PAY.

Good highway construction has reduced the average automobile operation cost from 10 cents a mile in 1924 to 6.43 cents in 1929. This is neither guessing nor gossip. Thomas P. Henry says so and Mr. Henry ought to know, for he is the president of the American Automobile association.

In this information there is proof of the assertion which has been made repeatedly by the newspaper that it is cheaper for the motorists to pay for good roads than it is to try to skimp along without them.

One gallon of gasoline will produce power sufficient to drive the average automobile 15 miles. Using Mr. Henry's figures as a basis for the calculation, it costs about 54 cents less to drive over 15 miles of good roads than an equal distance on poor roads. Fuel and time saving and the less wear and tear on tires and car are all taken into the accounting.

Paste this on your windshield for reference when you drive to the filling station.—Toledo Blade

Nebraska's 61st State Fair the Best Yet

The Four-High Club Has Busy Week.

Preceded by weeks of work in preparing for the opening day, our 61st Nebraska State Fair opened last Friday, and is characterized by George Jackson, secretary, as best by far that Nebraska has ever held.

The fair last year attracted 427,034. The attendance this year will exceed 500,000. From reports we are receiving from those who attended it is all that was promised (eight days of entertainment and education). There are bigger and better displays of livestock, grain, vegetables and fruits; the boys' and girls' 4-H club work is larger than last year.

The 4-H club members will know what a full week is when they finish fair week tomorrow.

The health contest started Monday at 8 a. m., as did the judging of dairy exhibits. The pig showing contest begins at 10 a. m., beef showing at 1 p. m. and dairy showing at 4 o'clock.

Tuesday at 8 a. m., the demonstration teams in home economics and farm products got into competition. The headliner of that day however was the baby beef auction sale at 1 p. m.

Wednesday was ushered in with the judging contest at 7:30 a. m. The singers among the 4-H competed in the county song contest at 1 p. m. The weed identification contest was at 3 p. m. The girls style show was held in the club tent south of the club building at 4 p. m. Wednesday.

Wednesday evening the club members were the guests of the fair board at performance in the grand stand. They paraded across in front of the stand to their reserved section. The style show girls were again before the audience and the health champions were presented.

Demonstrations in all phases of the work continued thru Thursday. The club kids dolled up in their white suits and went in the fair on wheels before the grandstand Thursday afternoon. To round out that day the winners in demonstration and judging contests were announced in the club tents at 5 p. m.

The champions of farm demonstrations, live-stock judges, poultry judges and judges in the home economics section gave a final performance in demonstrations and oral reasons.

The larger number of entries made the judging of 4-H club work a big task. Blue, red and white stickers indicating first, second and third places were put on the clothing exhibits in the 4-H club division on Saturday afternoon. It was no small task to judge the many entries but the work was completed by 4 p. m. when the judges signed the placing sheets. The state was divided into two sections for exhibits of clothing clubs.

The boys and girls showed a record number of birds, they exhibited 500 birds in the 4-H club poultry show at the fair Saturday.

James Harrington of Lushton showed the grand champion barrow Saturday afternoon in the boys and girls 4-H club swine show. Francis Rehmer, of Weeping Water exhibited the reserve champion. Breed champions from Hampshire, Poland, China, Chester White and Spotted Poles were in this part of the hog show.

Nebraska Methodist Conference At Lincoln

MISSIONARY VISITS WAYNE

Miss Martha Jorgensen, native of Norway and missionary to the Tanganyika Territory, East Africa, came to Wayne Saturday evening, August 24, to visit friends. Those who are acquainted with Miss Laura Thompson of this vicinity will be interested in knowing that Miss Jorgensen is from the same mission station as is Miss Thompson and lived with her the three years previous to this.

Speaking to the prayer circle at the J. W. Ziegler home the evening of her arrival here and at the Mission church at Concord the next morning, she reported that the African Mission field is an open door to the gospel. Civilization is working toward the interior with steady movement. However, the native who gets in touch with modern civilization and gets a little of it without the gospel is far worse off than he was before. The great need of Africa is Christ.

While Miss Thompson has charge of the kindergarden work in the school in the forenoon and works among the people in the various villages in the afternoons, Miss Jorgensen, being a nurse, has charge of the medical work at the station hospital, known as Jewel Hospital because it was built with money received for the jewels given for the work by wealthy women in America. Here many natives receive not only physical aid but also the best food for the soul, the light of the gospel.

As the Old Testament has not yet been translated into the language of the natives, they have only the New Testament. Many of them are very much interested and receive the Word with gladness, being wonderfully transformed as the Christ whom they have received manifests himself to them. One man in particular, who became a very forceful evangelist, even went to the trouble of learning another language that he might also read and study the Old Testament.

Travel in Africa is as yet very slow. One must either walk, use the sedan chair, or ride a bicycle if he happens to own one. Miss Thompson finds it convenient to use a bicycle on which to travel among the villages, sometimes riding as far as twenty miles to visit an out station.

Miss Jorgensen left Monday morning, August 26, for Omaha. She sails for Africa September 21.

Suit Brought Against Treasurers' Tax Rakeoff

Peter Mehrens and W. F. Poff brought suit last week in the district court at Omaha to deprive County Treasurer Bauman, of Douglas county, of the personal fee of 25 cents per application allowed him under the new auto drivers' license law. The suit was taken under advisement by District Judge Dineen.

G. E. LaViolette, attorney, who brought the suit, said that he had no desire to attack the law as a whole, and that the test was brought in a friendly manner. Bauman, LaViolette said, had requested his attorneys to co-operate in finding whether or not the laws provisions were valid.

Cites Three Points
LaViolette centered his attack on three main points. They were:

That the title of the law does not intimate that there would be a provision for special fees included.

That in effect it ignores or attempts to amend the section of the statutes which provides that the county officers shall get no remuneration except their fixed salaries.

That it attempts to raise the salary of the county treasurer during his term of office, contrary to law.

Dorsey For Treasurer

W. C. Dorsey, who represents the County Treasurers' association of Nebraska in the case, and who is carrying the brunt of the defense pointed out that someone must do the work of taking license applications, and that such person or persons must be paid. He argued that it was only fair that the county treasurer should "get a break" for performing this extra service.

At present, applications for drivers' licenses are not being taken, although Bauman started taking them some weeks ago. He shut down after the suit was filed, and has placed all fees collected in a special fund, he says. Under the law he must issue licenses on and after September 3.

Bryce Crawford, jr., deputy county attorney, argued in Bauman's favor during the afternoon.

Too Many Cooks

Judge E. B. Perry, who has been mentioned as a probable republican candidate for the United States senator, to succeed Senator Norris, thinks that too many cooks will spoil the pie. He is sure that Norris will run again, but that he will wait until he has four or five opponents before he commits himself. Then Norris will be able to beat any one of them. Judge Perry believes that one strong candidate could beat Norris.

The Best This Season Says Albion Fair Troupe

The Theatrical Troupe, known as the Strollers Review, playing the past week at the Albion Fair, were very enthusiastic in praise of our local band, which furnished music for them each afternoon and evening of their four day engagement at the Albion fair. They say the Wayne Legion Municipal band is the best that has played for them in the past ten years.

The wonderful harmony that existed between Director Reed and every member of the band was noticeable not only to the theatrical troupe for which they played at the fair, but the management of the fair as well, and as they departed Mr. Reed received an invitation from the fair board of directors for a return engagement next season, which would be their third year to play for the Albion fair.

The Albion fair is considered the best in the state outside of the state fair.

Mrs. A. R. Davis, chaperoned the young folks on the trip and reports that each of the forty members of the band seemed to enjoy every moment of the trip, every one of them had good health and a good time, and only sorry that they could not stay longer.

Next Wednesday the Wayne Legion Municipal band will fill a one day engagement at the Big-Four fair in Sioux City, after which they will return to play afternoon and evening at the Wayne County fair September 11-12-13. The Nebraska Democrat wishes to compliment the Wayne Legion Municipal band management and every member thereof upon their achievements, and to thank you for the wonderful publicity you are giving Wayne. You deserve the undivided support of every citizen of our fair city.

Hartington Will Have Airport Soon

A representative of Kari-Keen flying school of South Sioux City visited Hartington last week and Mr. J. M. Lammers, has given the organization permission to use his land southeast of town as long as needed for an airport. He would not sell the land but offered the use of the ground free of charge for the present, in order to encourage development of aviation in that territory.

Representatives of the Kari-Keen flying school expect to start work at once to put the field in condition.

Waldemere Neilsen Body Not Found

The body of Waldemere Neilsen that was drowned about a week ago at Victory, Wisconsin at the latest reports had not been found. Little hopes are held that it will be recovered.

Waldemere Neilsen was born near Kennard, Nebraska on October 4, 1908. His early years were spent in Washington county. When about 24 he came with his parents to Wayne county and has lived here on a farm until about two years ago when he went away to work. About the first of last month he began work for the government on the steamer Le Clair and was drowned on August 26th. His father died about three years ago. He is survived by his mother, and two brothers, Leo, and Nels of Winside.

Driver's License Law Is Now Effective

You Only Have Until October 1st to Secure Drivers License.

The motor vehicle operator's license law went into effect last Sunday September 1st, with one month allowed for drivers to secure licenses. If you have not already placed your order for a license you better get busy, for it will be illegal for residents of the state of Nebraska to drive automobiles within the state without licenses, after October 1st, 1929.

J. J. Steele, county treasurer, states that over 2000 have applied for licenses. The 2000 number was applied for by A. E. McCrary, of color, the only colored man to apply for a drivers license up to this time.

Water Softener Salts

We Are Now Stocking Them

We have just received a shipment of R. & R. water softener salts, a Michigan brand, the best on the market, and we will henceforth carry them regularly in stock, and will be prepared to serve those who have water softening outfits in their homes.

Remember that we have paid for years the highest market prices for produce—eggs, cream and poultry—and that we are still in the market for them. We are also Wayne's headquarters for feeds of all kinds.

COMMON SENSE AND CRIME
The American people as a whole may be negligent about our crime record, but there is no dearth of suggestions on the part of optimistic reformers.

Possible cures include harsher and more stringent punishments for offenders, more laws to make more acts illegal, prohibitive revolver and pistol legislation and restrictive legislation of 57 varieties, all injuring the law-abiding in the "hope" of curbing the criminal.

It is all very fine, but somehow it does not ring true. Laws which will principally affect the good citizen rather than the real criminal, are hardly a crime cure. We have had considerable of such legislation in the past quarter-century and all it has done is to make more criminals.

It might be a good idea to let up legislating against law-abiding citizens and direct our energy to subduing the murderer, thug, and thief.

The United States has the most laws of any nation in the world and likewise the most crime. Our judicial procedure is the most technical and long drawn-out. We have an army of peace officers but the majority of criminals are never punished.

We need fewer laws but more effective ones. Our legal system requires a release from red tape caused by the delays and evasions made possible by countless laws. The application of little common sense might do more to subdue crime than additional and dubious panaceas offered by enthusiastic, but misled, reformers.

Two Iowa Banks Held Up in Hour

The Poweshiek County Savings bank at Brooklyn and the Emmet County State Bank at Estherville, two hundred miles apart, were robbed last Friday of a total of slightly more than three thousand dollars.

Three masked men escaped from the Brooklyn institution at 12:15 p. M. with two thousand dollars. An hour earlier four men took one thousand dollars from the Estherville bank while a fifth held persons on the street at bay with a machine gun.

Mother Saves Son Thrown Through Glass

When Mrs. Carl W. Wetinger's car collided at Heigler, Nebraska last Thursday with a roadster driven by Leonard P. Davis, of Pittsburg, Penn., her 2-year-old son was hurled through the windshield. She held the child by its ankles, however, and it suffered only a deep flesh wound on the cheek. Mrs. Davis who lives at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, was cut on one leg.

Unable to furnish $5,000 bond, William Morton was held in the county jail at Scottsbluff, last Thursday awaiting trial on a charge of having embezzled $2,000 from the defunct Mitchell State bank. Morton waived preliminary hearing. Bond money secured by Morton after he was charged, previously, with embezzling money from the state guaranty fund commission, has been withdrawn by J. Alexandra, of Mitchell, the bondsman. Morton is waiting trial in district court on the first charge.

A one-month-old baby is dead and his father, Louis Montanez, 32, is reported in a serious condition in a hospital at Scottsbluff from injuries suffered late last Sunday when the automobile in which they were riding was demolished by a freight train backing over a crossing on the main street of the city. Rosa Montanez, wife of Louis received severe bruises and lacerations, while a 4-year old son escaped unscratched when he was snatched from almost certain death by train conductor J. H. Williamson as the automobile was struck.

One killed and seven injured as cars crash at highway intersection near Plainview last Sunday afternoon. Ted Kuhlman, young man of Bloomfield, was fatally injured, and died later in the afternoon in a Plainview hospital. Miss Ruth Scott, living at Foster, was pinned beneath Kuhlman's car as it overturned, and is not expected to live. Kuhlman's car collided with one driven by Mr. Dekay of Plainview, traveling salesman for the McDonald company of Sioux City. Mrs. Dekay was badly injured, but will recover. The Dekay children were hurt, but not seriously.

Banks Combine

Formation of a new 250 million

34 banks in the northwest, with resources in excess of 341 million dollars, was announced at Minneapolis late last week. The new company, known as the First Bank Stock corporation, will be the largest banking organization in the northwest and will combine the First National banks of Minneapolis and St. Paul, four Montana banks, and one in Bismarck, North Dakota.

Barbaric Dress

Henry Standing Bear, Sioux warrior of the Pine Ridge reservation, when his ire was aroused last week by newspaper stories which termed the full-robed dress of the Indian women barbaric, countered with the declaration that the abbreviated dress of white women was barbaric. The lengthy and complete dresses of the Indian women worn at the Indian celebration at Rapid City, he said, preserved the inherited modesty of the Indian race.

Republicans Counter

The party machines will operate the year around, from now on at Washington. The new democratic organization is in full operation and the republicans are countering with a reorganization of their own camp, with Claudius Huston slated to be the new chairman of the republican national committee. The republicans will offset the summer publicity which the democrats have given the tariff bill by some publicity of their own.

Congratulate Pope

The Knights of Columbus sent a message during their convention at Milwaukee last week to Pope Pius XI congratulating him on his part in the Italo Vatican agreement, which restored to the church its ancient sovereignty over the papal lands. The message bore the signature of Supreme Knight Martin H. Carmoly, of Grand Rapids, Michigan.

G. A. R. Resigns Post

September 1, J. G. Moore, a member of the G. A. R. and 85 year old commandant of the state soldiers' home at Milford, will resign and return to his home at Palmyra. Mr. Moore has held the post for the past nine years, but with illness is forcing him to resign. Ivan S. Gallant, 54 year old merchant of York, a Spanish-American war veteran, will take his place.

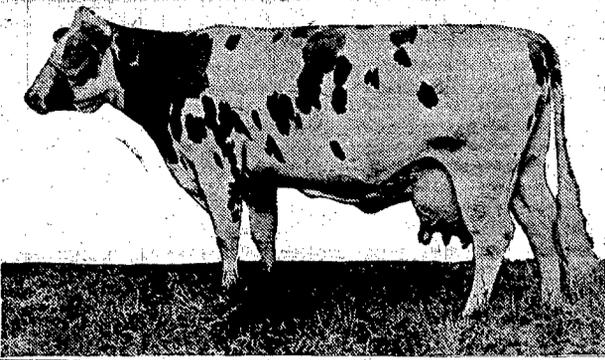

Embargo on Grains

Northwestern railroads placed an embargo last Thursday on all oats, rye and barley billed for the Twin Cities, Superior, Duluth and Itasca. The governor of Minnesota and of North Dakota made an appeal to the farmers to hold back these grains and prevent a glut of the markets.

Seek Removal of Mayor

Petition for removal from office of Mayor Bart Lawler, of Arnold's Park, was filed in equity court at Spirit Lake, Iowa, last Thursday, by five residents of the park. Lawler was arrested shortly before midnight on Saturday preceding, on a charge of drunkenness, and it is charged struck $25 by Justice of Peace Fisher.

HOLSTEIN IS STEADY PRODUCER

Mt. Vernon Beauty Mead Lady, High-Producing Holstein.

By producing 10 gallons of milk containing 2.6 to 2.9 pounds of butterfat daily for 365 days, Mt. Vernon Beauty Mead Lady, a five-year-old Holstein-Friesian cow, owned by Carnation Milk Farms of Seattle, Wash., becomes the 98th Holstein cow to produce more than 30,000 pounds of milk in a year. At the same time, she qualified as the 137th Holstein to produce more than 1,000 pounds of butterfat in a year. This is more than four times the production of the average cow.

Feeding babies their daily milk supply would be a simple matter with such a cow as this; as "Lady" could provide 80 babies daily with fresh wholesome, easily digested milk of moderate fat content. Or she could meet both the milk and butter needs of 30 growing children or adults for a year or could keep the "soda" counter supplied with 160 milk shakes daily.

Production for Year.

The production of "Lady" is 30,049.6 pounds of milk containing 1022.4 pounds of butterfat (1,278 pounds of butter) in one year. For only 63 days did her milk production drop below 80 pounds daily, the lowest mark being 79.1 pounds and the highest 91.05 pounds. Her daily production of butterfat varied between 2.9 and 2.6 (3.6 and 3.3 pounds butter).

Marketed as whole milk at 14 cents a quart, nearly 14,000 quarts would bring $1,956 in one year. Sold as 30 per cent cream at 25 cents a half pint, this milk would bring $1,704 and in addition would provide 26,641 pounds of skim milk that, fed to 223 chickens producing eggs that sold at 80 cents a dozen, would be worth $127 a hundred pounds for feeding purposes and would bring the gross return to more than $2,000 for the one cow.

How steady was the production of "Lady" is indicated by the fact that as the year closed she was producing 82.6 pounds of milk containing 2.80 pounds of butterfat (3.6 pounds butter) which was her best average production during the last 10 months.

"Lady" is a good sized cow as she weighs 1,750 pounds, according to A. M. Ghorntley, manager of the farms. In order to make this record, she ate 89 pounds of feed daily consisting of 3 pounds of beet pulp, 1 pound of molasses, 40 pounds of beets and mangels, and 25 pounds of alfalfa with green feed substituted for part of the alfalfa when available. This amounted to nearly 13 tons of feed in a year. In order to produce the total of more than 15 tons of milk, it was also necessary to provide more than 60 tons of water which, if carried in 12 quart milk pails, would require 6,000 containers or 16 a day.

On the national list for butterfat, Lady ranks 89th and is one of five Holsteins that have equaled this production in 1929. For milk production, she ranks 93rd on the national list of 98 Holsteins, no other cows of any dairy breed having produced more than 30,000 pounds of milk in a year.

Sketch of the Lady.
Lady was bred by R. E. Waugh of Burlington, Wash., and is now owned by Carnation Milk Farms. At the age of 4 years, 5 months, 21 days, she was credited with 500.2 pounds of milk on strictly official test containing 16,659 pounds of butterfat (20.8 butter) in 7 days. During the early part of the lactation just completed, she is credited on strictly official test with 903.7 pounds of milk containing 19,643 pounds of butterfat (24.5 butter) in 7 days. Her sire is Segis Pontiac Kordyke Mead and her dam is Lady Bettina Rag Apple. A sister, Mt. Vernon Segis Walker Mead, is credited with a senior-three yearly record of 27,435.5 pounds of milk containing 823.13 pounds of butterfat (1,028.9 butter).

Fundamental Problem in Farm Electrification

The one fundamental problem in the spread of farm electrification is to get the farmer now without electricity to have it installed on his place either through the individual electric plant or the power line. The use of electricity by the greatest number of farm people in the lightening of their daily tasks and improvement of their home life is of greater importance, it must be agreed, than getting a comparatively few farmers to use an excessive amount of current and neglecting the great bulk of farms now without electricity of any kind.

Use for Combine

In harvesting small grain with a combined harvester-thresher it is necessary to wait from seven to ten days longer than when cutting with a binder in order to reduce the moisture content of the harvested grain. As the grain gets dead ripe, it dries out very rapidly, and letting it stand even a day or so longer will frequently make a big difference, resulting in a higher grade of grain produced.

Report Shows Business in Nebraska at New Peak

Tenth Federal Reserve District Report Shows High Level

Volume of general business in the tenth federal reserve district, which includes all of Nebraska, rose during July to the highest level on record, statistics in the monthly review of the federal reserve bank of Kansas City reveal.

Distribution of commodities established a new high peak, it is stated. Wholesale and retail trade were heavy, with sales in dollars slightly above a year ago. Manufacturing output continued at the record rate of the previous months of 1929 with a few lines showing seasonal decreases. Loans and discounts of member banks were reported at the close of July to be the highest ever recorded. Deposits demand, time and savings—increased, and were larger than a year ago. Bank debits reflected the largest aggregate of payments by check for a like period in the history of bank statistics, indicating gains of 23 per cent over the preceding five weeks or 17.6 per cent over the same period in 1928, the report states.

Agriculture Improves

"The outstanding development in this regional district during July," the review continues, "was a general betterment of conditions for agriculture. While official reports August indicated smaller crops of winter wheat and some other harvest grains, and that the corn crop would fall considerably below that of 1928, there was promise of good yields of cotton, hay and other important crops.

The material advance in prices of farm products during July was an incentive to heavier marketing than ever before for a month. Receipts at five primary wheat markets in the district mounted to 84,500,000 bushels for the month, or 11,500,000 bushels more than receipts for July, 1928, the previous high wheat milling month.

Receipts of cattle at six markets were the heaviest for July in three years. Receipts of hogs, although seasonally light, were the heaviest for July in five years.

Substituted For Father Was Finally Pensioned

An income that will provide him with comforts in the declining years of an embittered life that for many years has meant a difficult struggle against poverty, has been assured to James Perry Whitlow, eighty-four year old Auburn resident, through efforts in his behalf by Congressman Morehead.

The congressman this week passed along to his aged constituent the news from Washington that a Civil War pension of $65 a month finally had been granted in the "Whitlow case," a proceeding which involved such unusual circumstances that it was accorded much newspaper attention in the more than twenty years it has been before congress. In the last six years activities in support of the claim had been directed by Congressman Morehead.

The grant, Mr. Morehead has announced, will date back to August 3, 1926, the pensioner will receive a lump sum of $2,300 in addition to the monthly payment of $65. Mr. Whitlow is making plans for improving his mode of living in his small home in the outskirts of Auburn.

Substituted as Soldier

Whitlow's is a strange story of how a son substituted for his father in serving a Civil War enlistment under the father's name, and after the close of the war permitted the father to draw a pension for war service that the son had performed.

It was in 1863, says James Perry Whitlow, that his father, Peter Whitlow, went to Nemaha City and under the influence of patriotic enthusiasts and sundry drinks of intoxicants signed enlistment papers for service in the Union army. Returning homeward, the patriotic enthusiasm and effects of the liquor waned and the father realized that he, as chief provider for a family of nine children, had made a mistake. But he could not afford to desert and there seemed no way out of the predicament until the son, James Perry, then seventeen, volunteered to serve the enlistment as a substitute, using his father's name.

He became a member of the Second Nebraska cavalry and he served two years, he asserts, without his identity as "Peter Whitlow" being questioned. Then he returned to Auburn. Later the father made application for a pension and received it. The son protested and was ordered to leave home, he relates.

An Uphill Fight

For twenty-one years Peter Whitlow cashed the pension check. When his will was probated in 1905, there was no legacy to the son who had rescued him from the enlistment predicament. It was then James Perry Whitlow revealed his story for the first time and took steps to gain a pension for himself.

The matter was revived from time to time, but complete authentication of the story presented obstacles it was impossible to overcome after the lapse of years. Congressman Morehead finally was able to convince his colleagues in the lower house of congress that the claim was legitimate. Now he has been informed that approval has been given by the senate and that the financial adjustment will be made immediately thru the pension bureau.

A Lightning Change Artist

ONE of the most versatile and appetizing of all the foods that come in cans is apple butter. You can spread it over bread pudding after baking, cover with meringue and return to the oven to brown. You can fold it into tapioca cream pudding, chill the pudding and serve it in sherbet glasses, topped with whipped cream. You can split spoons cakes, put in a generous layer of apple butter between and on top, and serve with whipped cream. You can make individual sandwiches of hot baking powder biscuits, apple butter and whipped cream. Or you can fill baked pastry shells with apple butter, cover with meringue and brown in a hot oven. Served with waffles, apple butter is a welcome novelty. French toast and apple butter is another tasty combination. Fried mush, served with apple butter, has a fresh appeal.

Many Other Ways

For parties make it pretty. Spread it on thin slices of fresh bread from which the crusts have been removed. Roll carefully so that the bread will not break, and tie each roll with a narrow ribbon or fasten it together with a toothpick. Or cut thin slices of bread in fancy shapes, put a border of cream cheese around the edge with a pastry tube and a spoonful of canned apple butter in the center. Mixed with chopped nuts and used between thin slices of graham bread, apple butter makes a delicious sandwich.

Apple butter is a lightning change artist. It can adapt itself to so many dishes that a can of it should always be kept on hand.

Liberal Silage Ration Stimulates Production

In times of drought during the dog days when the grass turns white and vegetation is hard and woody, a liberal ration of silage will stimulate large production and will keep the cows in a good condition for fall and winter production. Those who have had the most experience will tell you that the silo should be used for summer as well as winter, especially by the dairy farmer. A crop safely stored in a silo is a sure and dependable asset to the stock keeper. As for the dairyman, every test has proved that silage is a most important item in economic milk production.

Agricultural Hints

Too many chicks under one hover causes stunted chicks. Give them room.

The greater part of crown and injury of apple trees is started by low temperatures.

Tuberculosis in live stock costs American farmers between fifty and sixty million dollars annually.

With all things considered, the cheapest source of digestible carbohydrates is found in corn or cane silage.

Next winter's fuel supply should come from dead and down trees and from crooked and weed trees. Thus will the woodlot be improved.

The farmer who needs money from hogs most this fall is the one who can least afford such a loss as cholera may inflict. Vaccination is good insurance.

For Athletes and Invalids

AT Northwestern University, whose football team made such an excellent record last year, Coach Dick Hanley made his players drink malted milk after football practice. This was doubtless for its energy giving qualities, but it imparts this energy impartially to both invalids and athletes.

Hot or Cold
Malted milk is milk combined with the extract of malted grain—generally of malted barley or wheat—reduced to a powder by the vacuum process. It is used chiefly to make beverages, but also gives a novel and delicious flavor to desserts of various kinds. Here are some recipes for its use which may not make you a football star, but which will undoubtedly taste good and do you good.

Plain Malted Milk—Hot: Stir

two heaping teaspoons of malted milk to a paste with a little hot milk. Fill the cup with hot milk and beat until frothy.

Milk Malted Milk—Cold: Mix two heaping teaspoons of malted milk to a smooth paste with a little cold milk. Add cold milk to fill glass. Mix well in a shaker or with an egg beater.

Malted Egg Nog—Hot: Mix two heaping teaspoons of malted milk to a smooth paste with a little hot water. Stir in a beaten egg and add hot water or milk. Add one-half teaspoon vanilla and shake or beat until frothy.

Malted Egg Nog—Cold: Mix to a smooth paste two heaping teaspoons of malted milk with a little cold milk. Add milk to fill glass, an egg, and cracked ice. Mix in shaker or with an egg beater.

German American Societies Convene

Convention Will Include German Food German Music.

German-American singers and turners will give the program for the third annual convention of the Conference of German-American Societies of Nebraska, which will convene in Omaha, September 15. Several hundred delegates from local Musik-Vereins and Turn-Vereins of the state will have part in the program and several hundred other visitors, members of the German-American Societies will be entertained in Omaha that day.

The first event on the program will be a grand reception at the Omaha Musik-Verein, Saturday evening, September 14. The first business session of the Federation will be held Sunday morning at the German Home. During this business session, which will engage the 400 delegates, other visitors attending the convention will be taken on a sightseeing tour of the city from the registration headquarters, the Hotel Rome.

A real German dinner will be served at noon at the German Home. In the evening an open air program will be given on the grounds of the German Home.

The delegates and visitors will be welcomed by Mayor James Dahlman, Omaha, Kansas City and St. Louis Turners will give an exhibition. A mixed chorus of 120 voices, members of the Musik-Verein and the Concordia Society, will give an hour's program of German and American songs. They will be accompanied by a thirty piece band, under leadership of Professor Rudolph Theodore Reese of Omaha.

Following the musical program Governor A. J. Weaver of Nebraska will give an address, followed by an address in German by Professor A. A. Klammer of Creighton University.

In the evening the delegates and visitors will be entertained by singing Germania Singing Society, Kansas City; Manning (Iowa) Singing Society, and the Leidenkranz of Grand Island.

The convention will close with a showing of a historical motion picture, a Ufa film direct from Germany, and the last event the grand ball.

CHINESE STUDIES METHODS OF TELEPHONING IN AMERICA

After being in this country for two years studying telephone methods, Zai-Hsiang Hu is now returning to China where he is to improve and develop the system of communication in that country.

Since May, 1927, Mr. Hu has been in the employ of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company where he has acquired as much experience in every phase of telephone work at this time would permit. During this period he has been assigned to main frame and inside work in the telephone exchanges, repair force work, central office work, the Maintenance Engineers force, cable testing, the Outside Plant Engineers and Traffic Engineers force.

TRANSPORTATION

A Nebraska motorist eastbound a few days ago met, in Iowa a few miles west of the Mississippi river, a truck bearing the name of a central Nebraska delivery company. The truck was loaded and presumably was making its way home from Chicago, more Nebraska delivery company. The truck

On a Saturday evening less than a month ago a giant ten wheel truck backed up to a Chicago furniture factory. It was loaded with something like fifty davenport and started west Monday morning at 8 a. m. these pieces of furniture were on sale in a Kansas City furniture store. The furniture had not been crated nor packed. It was handled once in loading and once in unloading and went thru unmarred. A south central Nebraska minister changed pulpits with a minister at Superior, Wis. A truck left the Nebraska town with the minister's household goods. They were not crated. Six days later the truck arrived at its home base with the household goods of the Minnesota minister and unloaded its burden into the minister's new home. It had transferred home effects of two families.

A single driver was making the Chicago-Nebraska run. Three drivers took the heavy freight carrier from Chicago to Kansas City, working in shifts. Two drivers working in shifts made the Nebraska-Wisconsin run.

We have accepted as certain the statement that less than carload, short distance hauls would hereafter be done by trucks. The internal combustion engine may do more than that. It may force a large amount of long distance hauling from the rails to the highways.

The saving in drayage at each end of the haul and the cost of crating and packing make it possible for the truck to charge more for hauling and yet beat the cost of transportation by rail when these items are added. A truck load goes to one destination. A train goes to many. The truck offers individual service while of necessity the freight train gives mass service. From origin to final destination the truck so often gives faster service that it is preferred.

The railroads are facing a development, an evolutionary change, before which the prophets hesitate.—Nebraska State Journal.

GAME TO THE LAST.

I heard it first at a dinner party in New York, then I read it in the newspapers. This year's national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic would be the last.

After all, it is 64 years since the civil war ended. But when I read that rumor it brought before my eyes the stories of the "thinings blue ranks," that always filled a column after Decoration day. Had the old men changed so since I knew them? Had their old stubborn spirit yielded at the last ditch?

I called up the office of the G. A. R. "Who says so?" demanded an indignant old voice. "There's a few of us young fellows left yet."

With positive relief I demanded: "So long as there are any of you left, are you going to keep on having encampments?"

"I understand," said the Spirit of '65, "when there's only one of us left he'll be the procession. He'll march up Riverside drive all by himself."

I wouldn't put it past him to do exactly that. The last survivor, if he can stand at all, will probably start as scheduled. It wouldn't surprise me a bit if he got to the end of the drive.

An old soldier's bragging is his shelter from disillusion and decay; yet it is, too, a promise to himself.

Our generation went through another great war, and asks only to be allowed to forget it. We may see something slightly ridiculous in the civil war soldier's stubborn stand against extinction. But it, has in it more than a hint of the tears of things; that they should make such a point of persisting even now, when persistence is so useless and so pitiful.

And through the mixed fabric of that stubborn final stand runs the scarlet thread of fine dauntlessness. When he leaves us, the last survivor will take with him the memory of a generation cruder than ours, and stancher. I for one am sorry to see it go.

WE PRINT THE NEWS

We are advised that the publication of happenings in Police and County court is distinctly offensive. This is not the first time we have had this information conveyed to us. In fact at times we have been advised that if we published the matter we should lay ourselves liable to corporal punishment, yet no one has convinced us that we are released of our obligation as a NEWS-SPAPER simply because they have fallen afoul of John Law, so we continue to tell what is doing in our courts.—Clay County Sun.

WHERE PROPER DIET IS SUPERLATIVE

THE new fifteen story addition to the Sanitarium at Battle Creek, Mich., is a superlatively modern hotel which is really not a hotel at all, but a sanitarium, a place to rest. The impressive colonnade which extends the full length of the front is of the architecture of the Italian Renaissance, the gold studded ceiling within Florentine.

But undoubtedly the superlative thing about the Battle Creek Sanitarium is its food service. Not only is its spaciousness and physical beauty superlative, but the food which is served is unique. Diet is to the Battle Creek Sanitarium what eyes are to a man who wants to see. It helps in a cure, it MAKES a cure when the patient is suffering from some sort of gastric disturbance.

Delicious Canned or Fresh Foods

No meats are served on the Sanitarium tables. No coffee, tea, condiments, are ever served. The Sanitarium has its own truck farm, dairy farm, and chicken farm. Canned and fresh vegetables are served in most appetizing fashion; canned and fresh fruits are presented in all sorts of salads. There is a delicious combination of lettuce, cottage cheese and canned pears, which because of the cottage cheese offers a large percentage of protein. There is also a canned pineapple salad served with lettuce and a special creamy type of mayonnaise which makes a guest want to come back for more. And these salads are properly served. The pear and pineapple are ice cold, and the lettuce is crisp.

On the menu are always tender, delicious stringless beans, an excellent grade of canned, yellow bantam corn, and the very best pack of canned tomatoes, which by their beautiful red color show that they were the very ripest of fruit when they were picked for canning. There is also in season every fresh vegetable. High protein foods are represented by delicious nut and cereal foods, which according to the dietary system of Battle Creek are much better for human consumption than meats. The air in the dining room is changed every fifteen minutes during the meal by being forced through a water tank which is heated in winter and cooled in summer. The dining room seats six hundred, and though the Sanitarium carries a daily average of 750 patients, there is more than ample seating capacity, since not all of the patients are able to be in the dining room.

Going through the enormous kitchens and storage rooms for food, one is impressed by the fact that every equipment is of the most modern, the walls are tiled and the equipment is of monel metal, an alloy of nickel and copper, which is of great tensile strength, and which resists tarnishing by air. In one room there are three large tanks in which dairy products are kept ice cold. One is for sweet milk, one for acidophilus milk, and the other for cream. There are monel shelves, in which electric wires have been run, and on which eggs may be poached. There are many store-rooms in which vegetables, heads of lettuce are kept in a state of cold freshness, and there is a room in which are stored shelves and shelves of canned foods. Here one finds a store of cans of stringless beans, of peas, corn, tomatoes, and the rows and rows of canned fruits, which include peaches, pears, pineapple, berries of many different kinds. For the diabetic diets, and for other dietetic purposes, there are fruits canned without sugar and vegetables canned without salt.

Specially Canned Fruits

The fruits include apricots, figs, blackberries, cherries, grapefruit, peaches, pears, pineapple, raspberries, strawberries. The vegetables include beans, peas, tomatoes and spinach. The very finest of fresh vegetables are served from the Sanitarium's own truck gardens, and the very finest brands of canned foods are purchased in the open market.

At each place is a special menu, marked for the particular requirements of the patient, so that during his stay the patient knows that he is eating scientifically, and that he is getting the proper amount of proteins, carbohydrates, all the essentials, in fact, of a balanced diet. For the interested guest also the protein, fat and carbohydrate content of each food is designated on the menu, so that even though he orders what he likes, he may keep track of the amount of different food constituents which he consumes. It is an instructive experience to be a guest at the Sanitarium, since one learns a great deal about the mysteries of diet, and one has, in one's memory a place of superlative service and equipment worthy of remembrance if ever the time comes when such service, diet and attention seem immediately necessary.

BACK OF HOOVER

Next to the speed of automobiles personally owned and operated by the respective gentlemen speaking, the principal topic of interest which travelers on the wing discuss is the experiment of President Hoover, collaborating with congress, intended to restore an economic parity to agriculture. A Journal man who has been far afield in recent weeks, found most interesting the practical unanimity of opinion that, with the president leading the way, this question is certain to be solved in a permanent fashion. The few democrats encountered were not only sympathetic with the aims of the administration, but were emphatic in the expression of the hope that the president would be successful.

Few laymen pretend to understand or care to seek to understand the effect of the tariff schedules under consideration by congress, but they all insist that congress shall not, in enacting a new tariff, change the status of the farmer with respect to his buying power other than to increase it. If congress does otherwise there will be a political revolution in the middle-west because business interests of all kinds are intensely interested. This is not only true of the merchants, but one finds the fruit growers, the lumbermen, the manufacturers and the farmers anxious and alert.

There is no delusion held to the effect that any political magic will bring desired results. There must be co-operation among producers, and ample credit facilities at reasonable rates. If congress will keep its hands off, they believe, not only will conditions be better for next year and the year after, but Hoover will present a formula for the stretching future. The country is with Hoover. Congress should take note of this fact and act accordingly.—Lincoln State Journal.

Randolph People Are Now Growing Potatoes

The Times-Enterprise Reports an Authentic Case of the New Vegetable.

E. S. Maillard has brought to The Times office a basket of "potatoes," the latest thing in vegetables.

Sometime ago, a Mr. Dupuy in Hartington found some of these on his vines, and got a good deal of publicity. The Randolph man has the same things growing on his potato vines.

The little round, green balls grow in clusters of 8 to 12, each on a stem. They look like small green tomatoes and are filled with seeds that will no doubt grow some sort of potato. To our mind it is nature's method of self-seeding potatoes. The editor tasted one off the green things and it was sour and not very desirable as a tasty fruit. The clusters of green balls are at least a freak. Mr. Maillard, who is a good gardener, might do a little experimenting and perhaps develop a new kind of potato, one that produces its own brown gravy would be a winner.—Randolph Times-Enterprise.

IT WON'T BE LONG NOW

Vacation has gone flying. It seems but a few days ago that youngsters were pining for school to be out. Now, the same youngsters are eager for school to begin. Few are the joys that last forever, and vacations are seemingly not one of these.

School is a great opportunity. Here it is that one learns the fundamentals of business and industry, the appreciation and experience of culture, the keynote of co-operation and association together with others, the elements of sportsmanship, the knowledge of truth, the feeling of patriotism, and foundations of character. Encourage perfect attendance at school so that such opportunity may be the fullest.—Wakefield Republican.

"What did Jack mean when he told you he and I were engaged tentatively?"

"Well—he said, if he married you on his salary you'd have to live in a tent."

JEERING BISHOP CANNON.

Stanley High, editor of the Christian Herald, undertaking to defend Bishop Cannon before an audience at the University of Virginia, was interrupted by jeers and hissing. At length he abandoned the defense of the militant, stock-marketing bishop, and found his audience ready to listen. It is interesting to note what the ordinary man regards as glaring inconsistencies in a would-be moral leader, is no longer an asset to the cause of prohibition.

Even more interesting is what Mr. High was trying to say, that the wets are restoring to mud-slinging and this is a sign that "their fight must be going badly." There's truth in that. As a matter of fact, the wets are rather stupid. Assuming a high moral plane of cent persons are fired by prohibition officers, they do not discriminate between the outrageous and unwarranted shooting and times when any officer would be justified in using force. And they continually drag up all the old arguments they used to love when the saloon doors swung both ways. Those arguments long ago proved easy meat for the dries, who beat the wets on that ground and carried the Eighteenth amendment. The wets' fight has been going badly of late, and will go badly so long as they undertake to champion "temperance" with the arguments of people who don't care a hoot about temperance and never did.

But the dries have been taking some lickings, too. They pushed their cause up to a certain point, and then it halted. Mrs. Willebrandt's revelations have offered some pretty bad medicine for them. And their error has been exactly like that of the wet. They champion every dry, whatever else he may be. A legislator is "right" to their official campaigners if he votes dry, no matter how he votes and acts on other questions of public policy in which fundamental moralities are involved. That doesn't go down with common sense folk who know that being "right" on one question isn't the whole of morality in public affairs.

Of course a lot of people who are attacking Bishop Cannon don't really care a straw about his having hoarded a little flour and taken a flier on the stock market. But that their opponents attack him insincerely is no reason for the dries to defend everything he does and says. A moral issue needs to look white on all four sides to be convincing; moral leadership is not long maintained but standing for one phase of morality and letting the others go.

Alexander Legg, chairman of the farm board and one time a Nebraskan, is in no mood to start a social precedence war, emulating a noted Kansan. He says that when it comes to society he "is a dud," and that if the matter of where he is to be seated at a dinner comes up he will settle it by accepting standing room in the kitchen. "We farmers," he says, "are busy and we don't banker after any social functioning. I've read the agricultural marketing act thru twenty times or more and I don't find any requirement that we farmers have social obligations."—Lincoln State Journal.

How Much Water Should Baby Get? A Famous Authority's Rule

Baby specialists agree nowadays, that during the first six months, babies must have three ounces of fluid per pound of body weight daily. An eight pound baby, for instance, needs twenty-four ounces of fluid. Later on the rule is two ounces of fluid per pound of body weight. The amount of fluid absorbed by a breast fed baby is best determined by weighing him before and after feeding for the whole day; and it is easily calculated for the bottle fed one. Then make up any deficiency with water.

Giving baby sufficient water often relieves his feverish, crying, upset and rest less spells. If it doesn't, give him a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria. For these and other ills of babies and children such as colic, cholera, diarrhea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, sour stomach, loss of sleep, underweight, etc., leading physicians say there's nothing so effective. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper—and millions of mothers have depended on it in over thirty years of ever increasing use. It regulates baby's bowels, makes him sleep and eat right, enables him to get full nourishment from his food, so he increases in weight as he should. With each package you get a book on Motherhood worth its weight in gold.

Just a word of caution. Look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on the package so you'll be sure to get the genuine. The forty cent bottles contain thirty-five doses.

Radio Contest to be Held in Fremont Sept. 20

The contest in which a young man and a young woman will be selected to represent northeast Nebraska in the state division of the third annual radio audition being sponsored by the Atwater Kent foundation will be held at Fremont theatre in Fremont Thursday night, Sept. 12. The Fremont district is composed of 10 counties, Dodge, Dixon, Cuming, Washington, Saunders, Burt, Thurston, Dakota, Wayne and Stanton.

The singers placing first in Fremont contest will be sent to Omaha for the state audition in October with all expenses paid. Winners in the state contest will go to one of the five district contests with expenses paid, while winner in the district contests will go to Washington, D. C., for the national audition as guests of the Atwater Kent foundation.

Prizes totaling $25,000 in cash will be divided among the 10 finalists in the national audition, while each of the finalists will also be given from one to two years tuition in an American school of music.

At least 15 singers are expected to try for the honor of representing Northeast Nebraska in the state contest. Young people between the ages of 18 to 25 who desire to enter the contest are requested to write the district chairman, W. Emerson Reek, at Fremont immediately. No entries will be accepted after Sept. 7.

The value of the County Fair to this community is beyond measure. In the past three years this fair has far exceeded our expectations and we believe that this year will prove no exception.

A strong, conservative bank is, without question, a material assistance in the building of livestock and produce fairs.

We pride ourselves in the fact that we can offer the farmers of this community the efficient service of a conservative bank.

SOCIETY and Club

Family Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ireland and Mr. Ireland's niece, Miss Millie Ireland, who attended school here this summer, returned home Wednesday, August 28, from a two weeks' visit at Estes Park where a family reunion of the Ireland people was held. The reunion was held open from August 18 to 24, during which time the different members of the family from various parts of the country had an opportunity to meet. On the way home they visited Mrs. Ireland's brothers, Mr. E. M. Taylor at Sedgwick, Colorado and Mr. Bert Smith at Ovid, Colorado.

Mr. Ireland's sister Mrs. A. M. Murray of Portland, Oregon, returned with them from the reunion to enjoy an extended visit after a separation of twenty-two years. She will also visit her brothers at Tekamah.

Country Club

There were ten tables of Bridge at the weekly social Tuesday afternoon, with hostesses as announced last week, with the exception that Mrs. C. O. Mitchell acted on the committee in place of Mrs. H. W. Theobald. Fifteen children were present, and were under the care of Misses Jeanne Wright and Charline Brown.

The committee in charge of the social next week will be: Mrs. C. H. Hendrickson, chairman; and Mesdames T. T. Jones, L. W. Jamieson, Walter C. Lowrie, J. S. Horney, and Carl Nuss.

There will be no card party next Thursday evening, September 12, on account of the fair.

Birthday Party
