MRS. AWISZUS
PLEADS GUILTY
CHICKEN THEFT

Gets Sentence of 90 Days in Wayne County Jail, Sentence Suspended on Good Behavior.

Mrs. Celia Awiszus, who lives south of Winside, pleaded guilty before Judge Cherry, last Monday of stealing eleven chickens of Wm. F. Koepke, a neighbor, and was sentenced to serve 90 days in Wayne county jail and pay costs of court.

Judge Cherry, paroled her on good behavior; and payment of court costs.

Mrs. Awiszus has eight children, the oldest of which is 18 years of age, and the youngest only a few weeks or month of age. Her husband is a laborer, on a farm near Winside. While Mrs. Awiszus pleaded guilty, of stealing only eleven chickens, a number of farmers of that neighborhood have been missing chickens, and a dealer at Winside states that she had sold him 200 chickens recently.

A large delegation of farmers and their wives were present at the trial, supposedly as witnesses against Mrs. Awiszus, however when she pleaded guilty their testimony was not needed for the conviction.

Mr. Loepke, asked the court for a record of conviction that he might submit it to the Nebraska Farmer, and collect for the chickens stolen, as the Nebraska Farmer has an arrangement whereby a farmer can recover for stolen property.

Hit and Run Driver

Smashes Sioux City Car

Wm. Lindon of Sioux City, while driving north on Highway 9, about four miles south of Wakefield Tuesday afternoon was struck by a car driven by a girl 16 or 17 years of age, who says, drove onto the highway from a side road at a speed of thirty to thirty-five miles per hour, smashing one fender of his car, which was thrown into a ditch from the crash.

Mr. Lindon states that the girl continued on her way without investigating to see if he was injured, or giving her name.

WAYNE BAND TO
DIAMOND JUBILEE

Shall They Go? It's Up to the Business
Men of Wayne. Its Your Band,
What About It?

We all proudly admit that Wayne has as fine a band as any town or city in Nebraska. It is true that our band has won a wonderful reputation. It is also true that Wayne County's Municipal Legion Band is today the biggest advertisement for Wayne that we have. Under the direction of Professor Reed, they are making good progress.

If this band goes to the Diamond Jubilee, which is held at Omaha, November 5th, 6th, and 7th, they are pretty sure of living up to their past record of performance, in which case they will bring home a good bunch of prize money, more honors for Wayne.

As you know, the Wayne County Municipal Band is composed entirely of Wayne boys and girls, our boys and girls as we proudly say when they win.

The sentiment up and down the street is, "Our band should go to the Nebraska Diamond Jubilee, by all means."

If they go you must send them. If they go the business men of Wayne must supply them with the funds (which is only a small amount) for expenses of the trip. This I am sure they will gladly do. Let's not wait. This matter should be taken care of immediately and as there are several members of the band attending college, I am sure President Conn will see to their obtaining a leave of absence, that they may have a chance to bring back new honors to Wayne. This is your Band and you should back them up—hand them the change and tell them to "bring home the bacon."

Fanske's Big Jewelry
Auction Draws Crowd

L. A. Fanske's auction sale of jewelry has been the chief attraction of thrifty shoppers of Wayne and community during the past week.

Large crowds have attended each afternoon and evening. Mr. Fanske has been in the jewelry business in Wayne for the past twenty years and intends to stay in business but desires to reduce his stock, and to do so quickly he has chosen the auction plan by which you have the opportunity of buying high class jewelry, carrying his usual guarantee at your own price.

John Deere Corn
Picker Demonstration

Sorenson & Son, gave a very interesting demonstration of corn picking, yesterday afternoon at the Albert farm northeast of Wayne with the John Deere No. 10 corn picker.

Although they worked under adverse conditions due to the corn being green, the machine did good work and the hundred or more farmers present at the demonstration showed great interest in the operation of the picker which was drawn by a John Deere general purpose tractor, which operated the picker as well as a wagon which was attached.

The whole outfit is operated by one man.

Utemark-Dittman

Miss Dora Dittman of Emerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dittman, and Mr. Paul Utemark of Emerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Utemark were married in Wayne Tuesday, Sept. 24, at the office of the county judge, Judge Cherry officiating.

New Record High Price Paid For Baby

Beef at Interstate Show at Sioux City

Interstate Grand Champion Brings
83.5¢ a Pound. Wayne Co. Grand Champion Brings 20.5¢.

ALL PRIZE WINNERS SELL HIGH

All high price records were broken at the Interstate Baby Beef show held at Sioux City last week when the Interstate Grand Champion Baby Beef sold at 83.5 cents per pound, to the Northwestern Railroad company.

This is the third consecutive year that the Northwestern has bought the Grand Champion of the Interstate Baby Beef show.

Jacob Peterson, Lawton, Ia., youth, whose Aberdeen Angus entry won the grand championship, is expected to receive about $1,000 for his animal, as it is expected that the prize animal will weigh in at about 1,100 pounds.

Last year the grand champion, which also came from the Peterson farm, brought 51.5 cents a pound in the sale ring.

Frank Claycomb's, Herford Grand Champion prize winner at the Wayne county fair and winner of third prize at the Interstate show, sold for 20.5 cents per pound.

Wayne Firms Buy Animals

The following firms bought one or more calves from the Wayne county 4-H Boys and Girls: C. M. Craven, State Bank of Wayne, Miller & Strickland, Fisher & Wright, The Golden Rule Store, F. E. Gamble Store, Hrabak Store.

Wm. Hawkins, local veterinary, one of our local business men who have labored so faithfully in the interest of Wayne county's 4-H club, returned to Wayne Friday afternoon, and after checking over the sale of Wayne county Baby Beesves carefully, estimates the average price of the local 4-H clubs Baby Beesves sold at The Interstate show to be about $16 per hundred, and he considers this exceptionally good considering the trend of the market the day they were sold.

Most of the local 4-H club members attended the Interstate show one or more days, however due to the fact that schools are now in session some of the boys and girls were prevented from attending and either sent their Baby Beesves in care of their parents or some of the business men of Wayne who attended the show.

A number of business men of our city attended the Interstate Baby Beef Show and sale. There was also a good representation of Wayne county farmers attended in addition to those exhibiting Baby Beesves. The general opinion expressed among the local men attending is that it was a fine show and that the local club stock brought good prices.

All hunters ignoring this law are liable to a penalty of $25 fine and $10 damage for each bird shot.

NAVIGATION AS FARM AID STEP WEAVER'S VIEW

Missouri River Line Would Put West On Parity With East in Freight Rates Says Gov. Weaver

Governor Arthur J. Weaver, addressing members of the Sioux City traffic club last week, commended citizens of Iowa for their determined stand in behalf of inland waterways.

The governor asserted, the Missouri valley states had gained recognition for the potential possibilities of the Missouri river as a future navigation center.

"The fight has been won," he continued, "through the just demands of this great section for the equalization of transportation conditions, placing them on a par with other sections of the nation."

Development of the Missouri river, Governor Weaver declared, is not of regional interest only, but of national as well. The river project would be undertaken and completed by the present administration was the governor's prophecy. "When the sound public policy of expending $25,000,000 a year in the Mississippi valley is in force," he conjectured, "there is no reason why the Missouri river should not be completed as a navigable channel."

The governor declared that it is just as fair that this task should fall upon the government, in view of its development of every great harbor, improvement of every southern and eastern river and the contributions of its moral and financial support to the great lakes system.

"So demanded by a public opinion of the Missouri valley states, this may be a realization here of one forward step in farm relief for a section which has the longest haul and the highest freight rate of any agricultural country in the world."

Missouri river valley states, he said should be spurred on in their program for relief, knowing that 46 percent of all food and feed grains in America are raised within their boundaries.

"The people should know," the speaker added, "that the improvement of the Missouri river, long looked upon as an outlaw, is not an impossibility or a huge task. Army engineers are unanimous as to the feasibility, and congress has made the upper Missouri a project."

Three years ago, he pointed out, the government was spending but $1,000,000 yearly on this river, while today the appropriation is $9,000,000.

"It is now a major project," he asserted.

Referring to his former statement pre-diciting completion of this project during the present administration, Governor Weaver cited President Hoover's policies in this regard.

"This is hardening to the middle west," he then commented. Governor

Weaver stated the completion of the inland water system, is a gigantic task, but will be realized by a nation of initiative and courage.

Savings to the people of our country through reduced transportation charges will be one of the greatest achievements of the greatest nation of the world.

In Wonderful America: 19,000,000 homes are wired, 25,000,000 automobiles and telephones are in use, per capita income is $750, savings deposits total 30 billions, life insurance totals nearly a hundred billions.

The original problem was to "get a million dollars into jail". The problem now is to keep a hundred million dollars locked up. Those who believe that the newspaper has ceased to be a potent factor in popular government might note that it was a newspaper that exposed the Sinclair jury tempering and last week it was the newspaper that exposed the spectacle of the multi-millionaire riding around Washington in an automobile. The days after the story was printed Sinclair's special privilege ended. Newspapers have much to do with government—vastly more than the average citizen suspects.

CONGRESSMEN PLEDGE SUPPORT

An organization was formed at Lexington last week to foster in congress the idea that true flood relief for the lower Mississippi river valley can only be effected by beginning here at the source of the floods, impounding the water, and delivering its benefits in irrigation and water power to Nebraska agriculture.

There were four hundred present at the meeting, who are residents of Nebraska irrigable territory from Scottsbluff to Omaha. It is hoped soon to include every river basin and watershed territory in Nebraska and contiguous territory.

Three of Nebraska's six congressmen, Robert Simmons of Scottsbluff, W. G. Sears of Omaha and Fred Johnson of Hastings, attended the meeting.

Resolutions passed at the close of the meeting call for a permanent organization of the whole Nebraska territory and the linking of the flood control, water power, irrigation, soil conservation and river navigation movements into one cause to produce powerful "push" in the coming session of congress, which will be called upon to dispose of the flood control problem.

A resolution presented by J. N. Stark of Hastings inviting President Hoover as an engineer and as a flood control expert to spend a day in Nebraska personally viewing the territory which is already the subject of various government engineers' reports, was unanimously adopted by the meeting.

Unique Excuse For Speeding, Draws Fine

The unique excuse offered by James Hall when arraigned on a speeding charge in Police court at Omaha, failed to meet with approval of Judge Pattie. Hall said he felt a fainting spell coming on and stepped on the gas in order to get home before he became unconscious.

The policeman who caught him after a chase of ten blocks agreed "Hall was stepping on the gas" all right.

Hall said he suffered a sunstroke several years ago and is subject to fainting spells.

After assessing a fine of $10, and costs, the judge gave him a good lecture, also telling him what might have happened had he "passed out" while going at a high rate of speed.

September Mid-Month Corn & Livestock Report

Steady Increase in Dairying Soon Will Be Called "Nebraska's Hundred Million Dollar Industry."

Seventy per cent of the corn in the state is mature enough to escape injury from frost and by October 1, over 90% will be safe according to Nebraska Bankers in their Mid-Month report to the State and Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics. Most of the state is well supplied with moisture and over half of the fall plowing was completed before September 1. The extent of feeding operations is yet uncertain. The eastern Platte Valley district, again this year, is the only district which does not show an increase in number of cows milked while the remainder of the state does.

Three fourths of the state is supplied with sufficient moisture. The south central and south west districts being the only ones which are short of moisture. An unusually long cold snap was felt early in September with a slight snowfall and frost in the north and west part of the state. Slight, but no serious damage was done. Rains following it have brought the condition of the range sections up to normal for the fall period. About 54% of the fall plowing for winter wheat was done prior to September 1 and the recent supply of moisture was of great value in completing the work and sowing of winter wheat.

The danger from frost in the north and west parts of the state is very slight at the present time as a greater part of the corn is now matured and nearly all of it is expected to be matured by October 1. There was a slight injury from frost early this month. The crop in the southeast corner of the state is later in maturing and 20% of it will still be in some danger on October 1. The central district is almost completely matured due to extreme dry weather earlier in the season. The south central and south west, although not completely matured, is expected to be out of danger by October 1.

Potatoes and sugar beets were injured slightly in western Nebraska from the early September frost. Most of the injury occurred in the lowlands. Some of the late potatoes were injured quite badly. The injury to sugar beets was slight being confined largely to the tips of the leaves.

The present indications on cattle and sheep feeding are that a lesser number will be brought in and kept for feeding. However, the reports are uncertain as yet. There will not be enough of a corn supply to allow normal feeding in the North Central, Central and South East district of the state. The supply of hay is sufficient in every part of the state except the South Central and even a slight surplus is shown in some places. The South Central district is the only one showing shortage in hay and even there, the situation is not critical.

The farm price of alfalfa hay shows an increase over the price a year ago of nearly $1.50 per ton. The average price for the state is now slightly over $11.00 while some have been quoted as high as $18.00.

Only one district in the state shows a decrease in the number of cows milked, that being the East district covering the eastern Platte Valley. Here, only a slight decrease is shown and the entire state except this district is showing a steady increase in what will soon be called "Nebraska's Hundred Million Dollar Industry."

Temperance Is Of Personal Value

Temperance Has Its Strong Foundations in the Convictions of the Individual of Value.

In a letter of greeting read at the national convention of the Women's Temperance union at Indianapolis, Indiana, last week, President Hoover said "too many people have come to rely wholly on the strong arm of the law to enforce abstinence."

The president said that many people are forgetting that the cause of temperance "has its strong foundation in the conviction of the individual of personal value to himself of temperance in all things."

The text of President Hoover's letter follows: "Please present my greetings to the convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union. I am daily impressed with the need for extended work of education in the moral, physical and economic benefit of temperance."

Since the adoption of the prohibition amendment too many have come to rely wholly upon the strong arm of the law to enforce abstinence, forgetting that the cause of temperance has its strong foundation in the conviction of the individual of personal value to himself of temperance in all things."

SUPPOSING
Supposin' fish don't bite at first.
What are you goin' to do?
Throw down your pole, chuck out your bait,
And say your fishin' through?

Oh, no, you ain't; you're goin' to fish
An' fish, an' fish, an' wait,
Until you've ketched a bucketful
Or used up all your bait.

Suppose success don't come at first.
What are you goin' to do?
Throw up the sponge and kick yourself
And growl, and fret, and stew?

Oh, no, you ain't; you're goin' to fish
An' bait, an' bait ag'in,
Until success will bite your hook.
For grit is sure to win.

Farmers Keep Records On Their Poultry Flocks

The Agricultural College Extension Service Offer to Assist Farmers in Starting Records.

On New Year's Day, which is November 1 in the hen world, several hundred Nebraska poultrymen will get out their lead pencils and begin making a set of business records on their chickens. This is part of a project between the poultry raisers in this state and the agricultural college extension service.

The object of those cooperating in the record keeping is to develop more profitable poultry flocks. Farmers keeping records on their flocks hope to furnish some definite information on problems and methods common to all commercial poultry flocks.

Commercial flocks of 500 or more hens are encouraged among the poultrymen.

Since the natural calendar year of a hen's production begins November 1, this is the day to begin putting down on paper exactly what the hens are doing. It is estimated that about three hundred flock owners will begin putting down exact figures of the expenses, receipts, and production of their birds, November 1.

At the close of each year a report of the entire poultry enterprise is made out by each flock owner. This shows the total expense, receipts, labor income, cost per dozen eggs, and income per hen. Last year the average number of eggs laid per hen in farm flocks was secured for nearly all parts of the state.

The blank record sheets for use in the record keeping have just been devised and are now ready for use. County agents will soon have a supply of them for distribution. They have been simplified and made easier to keep up to date. Poultrymen expecting to enter their birds in the cost account project will cull their flocks during October. All pullets lacking in size and vigor and other unprofitable hens will be sold.

Men Teachers Advocated

Woman Educator Thinks A Place in Grades Ought to be Theirs.

New York More men teachers in primary schools, fewer subjects in the curriculum and greater thoroughness in those taught are outstanding needs of America's educational system is the opinion of Dean Virginia Gildersleeve of Barnard college.

"There should be just as many men as women teachers in primary grades, because it's bad to have all the teachers of one sex," Dean Gildersleeve said Monday. "Women have a tendency to stress conserving life principles, such as health and peace. Men emphasize combative ideas. They go in for law and commerce and so on. Young America needs both these points of view to be well balanced and well educated." —Nebraska State Journal.

Farmer Kicked by Horse In Critical Condition

John Strahan, farmer living near Mitchell, is in a critical condition at Scotts Bluff hospital from injuries received last week when he was kicked by a horse he was attempting to harness.

He was struck in the abdomen and hurled across the barn, at the feet of a team of mules.

He did not lose consciousness, but was so badly hurt that he was unable to move or cry for aid. He was found by his wife who investigated when she heard no sound from the barn. He was operated upon and there is a slight chance of his recovery.

Author is Surprised To Find Diamond Dick

Dr. Richard Tanner of Norfolk, known in the earlier days as "Diamond Dick" recently wrote Mr. Jenkins, of Owasso, N. Y. who wrote the Diamond Dick novels, inviting Mr. Jenkins to be his guest in Omaha during the diamond jubilee in November. Mr. Jenkins who died a few days ago, replied that the state of his health at that time made it impossible for him to accept the invitation. I little thought when I wrote the stories that I might have the opportunity to stand in public by the side of the hero of the stories. "As you know of course, I was not aware, when I wrote the stories, that a living embodiment of Diamond Dick actually existed."

"Eat Your Spinach, Dear"

If AVEN'T you often said that to the children, and applied the same remark to carrots, too? For children are often reluctant to eat these two vegetables so rich in vitamins and so healthful because the youngsters say that they haven't "enough taste."

One way to solve this problem is to add a dash of granulated sugar to the water in which these vegetables are cooked. It not only enhances and develops the flavors of these vegetables themselves, but it also increases their food value.

Try These

Carrot Boats with Spinach: Cook even sized carrots until tender in boiling, salted water with a dash of granulated sugar. Drain. Cut in halves lengthwise if very large. Scoop out centers of the halves and

It's Touchdowns They Want and Not Degrees

The football season is on and here is a pathetic note which has just been revealed. It's by Gil Oobie, head coach at Cornell. The future of Cornell as a class A College is entirely in the hands of the faculty. If they are going to be bullheaded and insist on the students studying and carrying on a lot of lessons and getting their minds and time off what they are here for, "why we will finish where all other narrow minded collegians finish—in the cellar."

But if they wake up like Notre Dame, California and Princeton and sprinkle the cavities with salt. Heat a can of spinach, season well with salt, pepper, butter, a little lemon juice or vinegar, and also a dash of granulated sugar. Then pile the spinach in the carrot boats. Stick a potato chip in one end to simulate a sail, or garnish with a sprig of parsley.

Spinach and Beet Mold: Cook a can of spinach with a dash of sugar. Drain, season well with butter, salt and pepper and pack while hot into a buttered ring mold. Keep hot while preparing the beets. Heat canned beets in their own liquor with a dash of sugar. Drain, chop and season well with butter, salt and pepper. Turn the spinach mold out onto a hot, round platter and fill the center with the beets. You may sprinkle chopped, hard-cooked eggs over the spinach ring.*

realize it's touchdowns we want—and not degrees and that it's future coaches we want to turn out and not college presidents, then only will Cornell return to its proud place among progressive universities. But I can do nothing—it's all in the hands of the faculty."

State Pulling Champs

Nels Sverdrup, Arlington, is the owner of the prize pulling team of Nebraska. At the recent state fair this team scored a pull of 2,975, said to be the equivalent of moving a twenty-five to thirty ton road load. Last year's state championship was taken also by this fine, big team.

Boy Is Champion Dairymen

Elmer K. Young, Havrelock Wins Statewide Honor With His Cow.

After having been declared Lancaster county's best dairymen, Elmer K. Young, 4-H club boy living near Havrelock, is now Nebraska's champion dairymen. His achievement in dairying earned for himself the honor of representing his state at the national dairy show at St. Louis, Oct. 12 to 19.

This seventeen year old lad made $160.80 profit on the purebred Guernsey cow which was his project last year. This netted him sixty-six cents per hour for all the time he spent in carrying on the project. The entire time spent would have made about thirty working days of eight hours each.

According to a report which Elmer wrote, he described his achievement as a progressive cycle. "At the age of ten years, I wished to become a big doctor, not an uncommon ambition for a boy of that age. By chance I joined a pig club, then a baby beef club and a dairy club. It was in dairy that I found myself most interested. This is the line of work I shall follow when I am thru school."

In addition to winning the highest prize awarded exhibitors of dairy cattle in the 4-H club show at the state fair this year, Elmer won first on his cow, in the Lancaster county and Nebraska state fair open classes. He took a total of $107 worth of prizes. He will enter the college of agriculture this fall.—Nebraska State Journal.

Hayden Found Guilty; To Be Sentenced Soon

McCook Court Holds He Assaulted With Intent to wound.

Howard Hayden, 25 of Omaha, was found guilty in McCook court last week of assault with intent to wound in connection with an attack on John Franenbrach and Walter Hagedorn.

Hayden was charged jointly with Bill Thayer of McCook in the crime but separate trials were held.

Thayer also was convicted and the two are awaiting sentence which is to be pronounced by District Judge Eldred. The penalty for the crime is from two to twenty years in the state penitentiary.

Hayden and Thayer were arrested after a bootleg war had resulted in a severe knifing on a road near McCook. Fahrenbuch sustained twenty deep slashes across his back and Hagedorn a deep knife thrust in the region of his heart, allegedly because of failure to pay for a gallon of whiskey.

Gold "Strike" Fatal For Sixteen Ducks

Mrs. A. R. Lewis, of Swayne Flat, Ore., found a gold nugget worth $10 in the craw of a duck she was cleaning. Sixteen other ducks waddled contentedly in the Lewis ranch yard at the time of the discovery.

A few minutes later they had passed on to another life. In quick succession duck after duck had felt the edge of the ax. When it was over Mrs. Lewis had $10 worth of gold and seventeen dead ducks.

Clarkson Man Tops Market With 24 Head

The shipment was raised by Gray Hanel of Clarkson; being fed on alfalfa, corn and molasses feed.

SEA FOOD IN SUMMER

THE hot months at the seashore and fall in the mountains. That's a glorious programme, isn't it? But how are you to get your iodine up on the hilltops far away from the sea? You can, thanks to the canners, since they are now processing more than two dozen kinds of fish which will supply you with your full quota.

Haven't you ever noticed how often sea foods appear on the menus of mountain summer resorts? And have you sometimes wondered whether this wasn't just an effort at "swank," an attempt to impress you by supplying you with something exotic to the locality? It isn't. Their frequent appearance on the menu merely proves that these resorts have wise and discriminating dietitians. Everyone needs a certain quota of iodine in the diet, and everyone gets it nowadays.

Dozens of Fish
Half the products that come to you in cans are now packed in the sanitary enamel lined containers which preserve their color and give them such a pleasing appearance. These include caviar; clams, little neck, mixed and razor; codfish balls, eels and flakes; crabs, deviled and plain; haddock—"Panah-Hadde"; lobsters; sardines in mustard; and shrimps, dry and wet.

Other sea foods that come in cans are anchovies, paste and whole; fish flakes; fish roe; herrings, fresh, pickled and in tomato sauce; mackerel; oysters; salmon; sardines in oil or tomato sauce; shad; shad roe; and tuna fish.

But, wherever you are this summer, it's much more interesting to know how to prepare some of these sea foods than what they are.

So here are some recipes which have been tested by one of those wise dietitians we were just talking about. We'll start off with salmon, which is canned in such gigantic quantities that it's inexpensive, and which nearly everybody likes.

Recipes for the Housewife

Salmon Roll: Remove skin and bones from a tall No. 1 can of salmon. Fork fine and add four tablespoons of melted butter. Beat four eggs not too well and add them to one cup of bread crumbs, one teaspoon of salt and one-fourth teaspoon of pepper. Add this to the salmon mixture and mix well but avoid making paste. Put into a greased mold and steam one hour. Serve with the following.

Sauce: Melt two tablespoons of butter to a froth, and add one and a half tablespoons of flour, one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper and a few grains of cayenne. Add one cup of milk slowly, stirring constantly until smooth and thick, and allowing the mixture to come to a boil after each addition. Add two tablespoons chili sauce, and, just before serving, add one slightly beaten egg. Keep this sauce hot in a double boiler rather than directly over the flame.
