WAYNE RESIDENT DIES SUDDENLY SAT. MORNING

August Will, For Thirty Years a Resident of Wayne, Dies Suddenly Without Warning.

AGE 76 YEARS, 1 MONTH, 2 DAYS

Suddenly and without warning, Mr. August Will, respected citizen of Wayne for thirty years, passed to his eternal reward, Saturday October 12, 1929, while visiting at the home of his son Carl in Osmond.

August Gustavo Will was born in Strassburg, Germany, August 30th, 1853. He received his earlier education in Berlin to which place he was taken by his parents in early childhood. The deceased was baptised and confirmed in the Lutheran church of his native land.

In 1871, at the age of 18 years, he left his native land, for America, settling at Chicago, Illinois. Two years later he came west, settling at West Point, Nebraska. Afterward he moved to Beemer, Nebraska, from thence to Carroll, and about the year 1899 he came to Wayne, where he has since resided.

He was united in marriage to Miss Minnie Boldt, August 20, 1879. To this union nine children were born, all of whom are living. They are: W. F. Will of Portland, Oregon; G. J. Will of Enid, Oklahoma; Mrs. Mabel Tobias and Miss Rose Will of Sioux City, Iowa; Mrs. A. J. King of Lincoln; Carl of Osmond, R. L. and Miss Minnie who lived with their father in Wayne and Chris of Algona, Iowa.

Besides the sorrowing children he leaves one sister in Germany and two brothers, Carl Will of West Point, and Ernest Will of Lemón, S. D., nine grand children, and other relatives and friends.

The marriage bond was broken by the death of the wife November 15, 1922.

The departed was a loving father, interested in the welfare of his family. Quiet and unassuming he lived his life making friends wherever he went. He was a charter member of the Knights of Pythias lodge of West Point.

Mr. Will's age at death was 76 years, 1 month and 12 days. Funeral services were held last Tuesday at 1:00 p. m. at the home, Rev. W. C. Heidenreich, officiating. Interment was made at Mt. Hope Cemetery West Point.

The news was received in the form of a letter from Billy to one of his friends in Wayne.

The night before they made port in Piraeus, the port of Athens, they passed through the Strait of Gibraltar, 3,200 miles from New York. After spending two days in Athens, they proceeded on their way to Salonika, there to make their home.

Sheriff Stephens Nabs the Mysterious Lady Bootlegger Delivering Moonshine

Upon Tip, "You Should Be 4 Miles East Of Winside," Sheriff Nabs "Mysterious" Lady Bootlegger.

CAUGHT DELIVERING THE BOOZE

Last Thursday night, while Sheriff Archie Stephens was sitting quietly at his home, perhaps trying to figure out who would win the worlds series this season, he received a mysterious telephone call.

A very unusual one we would say, for our Sheriff is the last man in Wayne county to take a calling out. The mysterious caller said, "You should be four miles East of Winside now", and hung up the receiver, thereby ending all opportunity for the sheriff to tell the caller what he might have desired to say just at that moment. Sheriff Stephens being an inquisitive kind of fellow, invited his friend wife, who is also his righthand deputy, to go for a drive, and they hastened to "4 miles east of Winside" to investigate.

They found an innocent looking new Master Six Buick car sitting at the roadside near a farm house with a girl sitting at the steering wheel. They also saw a man walking toward the house. There seemed to be nothing mysterious about that, but the girl driving the car saw him at about the same time he saw her, and attempted to swing the car back into the road. This interested the sheriff considerably so he requested her to "halt". Instead of stopping she stepped on the gas just as the sheriff stepped on the running board of her car. Still she was insistant on evading his request so the sheriff stepped inside and stopped the car. Upon investigation of her desire to escape the sheriff found nine gallons of moonshine, and in the girls purse, which in the scuffle had fallen to the bottom of the car, he found a hundred dollars in cash and two checks.

The Sheriff arrested the girl who proved to be the "Mysterious Lady Bootlegger," Blanch Jorgenson, and her father, who live 4 miles east of Coleridge and was making a delivery of moonshine to a farmer at the time the sheriff appeared. They were brought back to Wayne and placed in jail.

They were brought before Judge Cherry last Monday afternoon for a hearing. The judge gave each of them a sentence of $400 fine, 60 days in jail and confiscated the Buick car in which they were transporting the moonshine.

They have appealed their case to the district court and their hearing is scheduled for November 11. They were released Monday night on bail of $600 each.

The checks found in Blanche's purse, which the sheriff found in the bottom of the car proved to be for moonshine which they had delivered. Judge Cherry issued warrants for the parties issuing the checks and sent the sheriff out to get them. When the sheriff read the warrant to a signer of one of the checks, he excitedly stated "yes I've got the moon and will give it to you but for gods sake don't tell my wife."

Sheriff Stephens obtained the moonshine that had been purchased with each of the checks and has submitted it as evidence of two separate sales.

Blanch Jorgenson, well known as the "mysterious lady bootlegger," appears to have a knack of evading arrest. Many times the sheriff has received tips that she was delivering moonshine in different parts of the county, but she evaded arrest on every occasion. She handled the money and drove the car while her father did the delivering.

Double Line Heating System at Court House

O. S. Roberts, has just completed overhauling the plumbing system at the county court house.

The original plumbing system that was installed at the court house when the building was built, was very inefficient, making it impossible to regulate the heat in the different parts of the building.

If the janitor fired up the furnace in attempt to heat parts of the building where he received complaints of offices being cold other parts of the building were overheated. With the one line pipe system which was formally in use the heat would not circulate.

With the addition of the auxiliary line the heat is circulated and equalized in every part of the building.

The children of Ritze claim their father owed them several thousand dollars for work performed. They borrowed $25,000 on the land when it was deeded to them, and gave this to their father, they claim. They say there was no fraud in the transaction.

WESTERN UNION DEFEAT WAYNE WILDCATS 13 TO 6

Both Teams Play a Tight Game; Evans and Anderson Taken Out of Game.

WAYNE MEETS KEARNEY SAT.

Coach Ray Hickman's Wayne Wildcats lost to the Western Union Telegraphers after an exciting football game as the Home camera at Western Union had ever seen. The final score was 13 to 6.

Western Union received the kickoff and after attempting the Wildcat line with no gain whatsoever punted to Anderson who made a return. Wayne, with Schwartz and Dennis doing the ball lugging started a nice march down the field but it was too soon in the game for a break to score. The Telegraphers held on their 30 yard line and Wayne lost the ball. Western Union punted to Wayne as the first quarter ended.

The second quarter was full of excitement. It was Wayne's ball on Wayne 28 yard line. Wayne attempted a lateral pass but Peterson intercepted the pass and ran 25 yards for the first touchdown. Peterson kicked the point perfectly. Wayne seemed to be nervous when they lined up to kick to Western Union. They kicked and Western Union gained about 7 yards. Evans was hurt and came out of the game. Western Union threw a lateral pass which being successful caused the Wayne defensive half to charge. This left the whole side of the field uncovered and a Western Union end ran down and caught a forward pass and then ran about 40 yards for a touchdown. Walden safety man missed him after a long run. The try for point failed.

But the excitement was not quite over. Wayne received and immediately started on a long march to the Western Union 35 yard line from where Dennis galloped over for the marker with interference that the experts like to write home about. Dennis started as if to round end but cut back thru tackle and crossed the line behind perfect interference. The try for point failed and the first was over.

The second half was a battle of giants with Wayne showing to the advantage in line play. Each team was playing cautiously waiting for the breaks that never came. West (continued on page four)

$100 Prize And Trip Awaits Champion Husker

A prize of $100 and a free trip to the national husking contest lies in store for the man who proves himself to be Nebraska's champion husker this year at the 6th annual state contest November 8th. The state competition will be held at a place to be named later, and only county champions and runners up may enter. An additional $100 will be divided among the winners of the second, third, fourth and fifth places, making the awards in the state contest the same as in the national $200 among five huskers.

Eighteen Nebraska counties have already indicated their intention of holding corn husking contests this fall.

As only county champions and state champion runner-up of last year will be permitted to enter this year's big state contest, the county meets will serve as preliminaries for the state event.

All county contests must be held before November 3, in order for champions to be eligible to enter the state contest.

FIFTY YEARS OF ELECTRICITY

On October 21 the world will observe the fiftieth anniversary of the electric light.

It was on October 21, 1879, that Thomas A. Edison first succeeded in getting a faint glow from a carbonized woolen thread, swinging into a bottle, suspended from an electric wire.

Not much of a light, to be sure, but it was a beginning. Another miracle had been wrought. Light, like the sound of a clicking telegraph could be transmitted over wires.

It was not until 1881 that the Edison invention had reached the point where electric lights were available to the public, and it was several years later that towns like Wayne were provided with generating plants, so we could enjoy the fruits of his labors.

The telephone had been invented three years before by Alexander Graham Bell, and the two conveniences came into general use about the same time.

It was many years later that the two inventions were combined to create the radio. As the fiftieth anniversary of the invention of the incandescent light approaches we should pay merited tribute to Thomas A. Edison, who still lives, and who is still actively engaged in his efforts to develop still further the marvels that have been unfolded so rapidly since that memorial day in October fifty years ago, when he first held that flickering light in a bottle.

UTILIZING FLOOD WATERS

As we read of the appeal that is going up from the farmers and business interests of southwestern Nebraska, Kansas and Colorado for dams to store up the flood waters to be used for irrigating the half-million acres of land accessible, thereby assuring ample water supply in a section of the country that needs a reliable supply of water to insure production on their fertile soil, it seems possible that this appeal may gain momentum when it is heard ringing down the Missouri and Mississippi valleys.

Along the Missouri and Mississippi valleys is some of the richest soil of any portion of the United States and in portions of the Mississippi valley in particular, the climate is mild and here it is not for the ever threatening shadow of floods, this land would become move valuable.

The residents of this valley are not altogether sold on the idea of building dikes and throwing this surplus water on their fertile lands, using certain portions of these valleys for storing these flood waters, as they have sufficient rain in the valley for crop purposes. Therefore the idea of storing the flood waters in states farther north may appeal to them so strongly that the Twin-Valley Commercial association will find unexpected friends when they take their appeal before congress.

Control of the flood waters of the Missouri and Mississippi Valleys affects directly or indirectly a large percentage of the citizens of our nation, and the three reasons for flood control, namely, protection of human life and property, supplying needed power, and irrigating arid lands are gaining momentum and will soon find a solution satisfactory to all concerned.

Pioneer Story Contest of Service Rendered Nebr.

This Must Be a True Story of Service Rendered Nebraska by a Pioneer.

One of the important events of the Diamond Jubilee Celebration is to be a contest for a true story of service rendered Nebraska by a pioneer. This contest is being conducted under a special committee of which Mrs. Bess Streeter Aldrich, Nebraska's famous authoress, is chairman.

This contest is opened to all comers, old and young, and a simple, straight forward, true story told by an uneducated person, if it possesses the real spirit of service rendered Nebraska by a pioneer will be much more likely to win a prize than a flowery article by an educated person who writes on a subject not as typical of the pioneer days.

Rules For This Contest

The subject is to be "A True Story of Service Rendered Nebraska by a Pioneer." (Note—The Story must be a true one.) It must be limited to 2,500 words. It may be shorter.

All manuscripts must be typed on one side of a page. No names shall appear on the manuscript. A sealed envelope shall accompany each manuscript in which name and address of contestant shall be contained. All manuscripts shall be sent in by Oct. 20th. Those bearing postmarks of later dates will not be read.

All manuscripts shall be sent to Diamond Jubilee Pioneer Story Committee, 201 City Hall, Omaha, Nebr. Six prizes will be awarded. The first prize to be $200, second $150, third $100, fourth $75, fifth $50, sixth $25.

No manuscripts will be returned unless accompanied by self-addressed stamped envelopes.

For Sale and Exchange
Ads Free to Farmers

Nebraska Democrat Offers Farmers Use of Its Columns to Advertise Farm Products For Sale.

In line with our policy of making the Nebraska Democrat of greatest possible service to our readers, we are inaugurating a new and very useful service for the farmer.

The one great problem of the farmer today is to find a market for what he produces. Starting with our issue of October 24, we will have a Farmer's for sale or exchange column, in which our subscribers who are farmers are offered FREE space to advertise products they have for sale, or exchange (excluding Auctions). As we inaugurate this service which is free for our subscribers who are farmers, we ask your co-operation that we may make it of the greatest possible value to you. If you offer stock for sale give sufficient description of stock offered that readers may better decide if what you have to offer is what they desire, state whether article or articles listed are for sale or for exchange.

Each ad will run three consecutive weeks, (no longer without charge). If you sell what you advertise on the first or second issue, please notify us promptly by phone or letter, that we may discontinue the ad or replace it with something different, you have for sale or exchange. By giving us proper co-operation you can make this service very profitable to you.

This Service Free To Nebraska Democrat Subscribers Who Are Farmers Only.

So tell your neighbors about this new service and if they are not now a regular subscriber for the Nebraska Democrat, you will do them a favor by informing them that this is one of the new features that is being added to the Nebraska Democrat, this feature alone is worth many times the price of a years subscription.

We are receiving many favorable comments, on the recent improvements made in our news service, from our old subscribers as they come in to renew their subscription, as well as new subscribers who come in and order our paper started, without personal solicitation.

We appreciate these compliments, and they are an incentive for us to put forth greater effort, so we thank you for telling your neighbors of the new features we are adding, especially the FREE, for sale and exchange column.

We invite you to use this service every week. Start in now, sending one or more ads to run in next week's issue, and please remember that ads must reach our office not later than 6:00 p. m. on Saturday preceding week of issue, for instance an advertisement to appear in next week's issue of Farmer's FREE For Sale or Exchange column must reach our office by next Saturday not later than 6:00 p. m.

Nebr. Diamond Jubilee
Young Citizen's Contest

Each Counties Outstanding Boy and Girl Citizen, Between Ages of 16 and 21 to Compete.

Chancellor Burnett of the University of Nebraska is chairman of a committee which is conducting a young Citizens' contest in connection with the Nebraska Diamond Jubilee celebration.

It is desired that each county select the outstanding boy and girl citizen between the ages of sixteen and twenty-one. The winners in the respective counties are to be brought to Omaha for the state wide contest. Their expenses will be paid by the Jubilee Celebration committee.

This contest is new and unique. It places a premium on intelligence and personality, rather than on beauty and physical perfection alone. This contest is not limited to young people attending school.

The contest will be based upon (1) intelligence, (2) physical well being, and (3) personality as applied to social, civic and business or professional relations. The personality examination should be based in part upon written recommendations as to civic, church, school or other similar activities.

Chancellor E. A. Burnett has announced that the contests in the counties of Nebraska will be held on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 25 and 26. Examinations will be mailed out from Lincoln on these dates to the county superintendents of schools, who are in charge of these examinations in their respective counties.

The examinations will be conducted by a sub-committee consisting of superintendents and principals of schools, county physician, physical training director and one or two others.

Names of young people of Wayne county desiring to enter this contest should be sent at once to County Superintendent Pearl E. Sewell.

WESTERN UNION DEFEATS
WAYNE WILDCATS 13 TO 6

ern Union during the second half never once threatened the Wayne goal. The ball was always in Telegrapher territory and always close to there goal. Dennis had the advantage over the Western Union kicker by 15 yards and Wayne continued to wage war close to the Telegrapher goal. Paul Anderson had a bad cut over his eye that prevented him from directing the team. It is our opinion that if he had been at the helm of the Wildcats the outcome would have been much different.

Schwartz and Dennis broke thru the Telegrapher line time after time for gains of 5 to 15 yards but the breaks failed to make their appearance after that hectic second quarter and the second half went scoreless.

It was a great game from the Wayne point of view despite the fact that the Wildcats were on the wrong side of the score. Wayne out-dugged and out yarded the Telegraphers. They proved that they had a great comeback when they held the opposition outside their own 40 yard line for an entire half. The line led by "Bad Medicine" McKinley was gaining in confidence in its own power which is something we have always believed was lying dormant. Maybe the worm is turning. We shall see.

Next Saturday Wayne meets the Kearney Normal team at Wayne and it will be a battle. This Kearney game will be the first conference game for the Wildcats.

WAYNE BULLDOGS DEFEATED BY THE PILGER HIGH

The Final Score Was 12 to 0 in Favor of Pilger High School. Could Not Break Pilger Line.

BULLDOGS PLAY WAKEFIELD SAT.

The Bulldogs of Wayne Prep suffered their first reversal at the hands of the much heavier Pilger high school team last Saturday afternoon. The final score was 12 to 0. Captain Reid of Pilger was in great form and managed to intercept two Wayne passes and then run for touchdowns. The points after touchdown failed.

It was a real game of football with the lighter but smarter Prep team holding the Pilgerites when they started to threaten the Bulldog goal. Both teams were opening lines in great shape. Schneider, Pilger fullback found a hole in the Wayne line at last and plunged clear to the Wayne two yard line before Wayne plugged the hole.

Wayne kicked off to Reid who returned 12 yds. Pilger attempted the line and gained a first down. Pilger again attempted line play but the Bulldogs were ready and there was no gain. They punted to Tyrell who returned 8 yards. Wayne tried the Pilger line for no gain. A double-pass behind the line ending with Fitch carrying the ball around right end was good for 25 yards. On the next play Mellor slipped in the mud and there was no gain. A pass was grounded. Wayne again tried the line. No gain. Wayne punted to the Pilger 12 yard line where the ball rolled out.

Schneider of Pilger got in motion and on a series of line plays Pilger marched up the field to the Wayne 2 yard line where they were stopped. Wayne punted on the first down and the ball rolled out on the Wayne 27 yard line. Reid found a hole four 8 yard line. Reid found a hole for 8 about 6 yards. Reid tore thru tackle for the first down. Stamm held Schneider for no gain. Steele threw Reid for a five yard loss. Piger pass failed. Schneider failed to gain and it was Wayne's ball on their own 16 yard line. Reid intercepted the pass and dashed over for the touchdown. It was a poor pass from the Wayne fullback. The try for point failed. Pilger 6 Wayne 0.

Pilger kicked to Wayne who returned 14 yards. The ball was on the right side of the field and evidently the Bulldogs had a trick up their sleeves because their left side was wide and free for a pass. Not a Pilger man saw him. But the Wayne fullback evidently lost his head because he threw the pass directly over the scrimmage line where Reid caught it and again galloped for a touchdown. The try for point was blocked. Pilger 12 Wayne 0.

Wayne again received and plays went on as before but this time the pass went to Fitch who carried the ball out of bounds on the Pilger 10 yard line. Ingwerson fumbled on a tackle play and Pilger recovered and punted. Wayne marched down to the Pilger 12 yard line where they were held for downs. Pilger punted out of danger.

The fourth quarter saw the footballs all over the sky line. The Wayne quarter was up and then. Every play was a pass play and the clever Bulldogs receivers couldn't miss. Wayne completed 12 out of 14 passes in the last quarter of the game. Fitch received four straight passes but was unable to break away for the goal.

Snowstorms In Land Of The Steaming Jungle

(from the Goldenrod)

The man who finds such strange truths that sound like premeditated lies is back in America. He is Carveth Wells, the explorer, who has a hobby of tracking down nature's freaks and curiosities in the most remote corners of the globe.

This time Wells is back from the very heart of Africa with a tale of snowstorms, ice skating, year-round fires, and woolen sleeping bags in the region cut in two by the equator where, according to the popular idea, only torrid heat and steaming humidity prevails. What is more, he has the facts and photographs to prove his assertion.

The object of Mr. Wells' expedition, sponsored by the Geographical Society of Chicago, was to dispel the idea that Central Equatorial Africa is a steaming jungle and to show that, on the contrary, it has a delightful climate.

Equipment for the expedition to the exact heart of Africa included heavy sweaters, woolen sleeping-bags, ice axes, and skates. The heavy clothing and heating apparatus were used in the middle of July in the high plains country of East Africa long before the party began to climb to the snow-capped mountains of Uganda, which were their goal.

Since the war, a rush of British colonists and resortseekers have been attracted to the Kenya territory which lies between the east coast and the mountains on account of the splendid temperate climate.

"It is refreshingly cool, especially at night, in Nairobi, capital of the colony," says Mr. Wells. "Many residents use fires all the year round, and it is not unusual after sunset to see ladies wearing furs, although the town is practically upon the equator."

On the Ruwenzori range, or Mountains of the Moon, a snowstorm while the sun shown vertically overhead was observed.

The explorer also told of other curiosities such as the snake that can spit poison into a man's face; the ant bear, a six-foot louslung animal with a powerful snout, that makes auto travel dangerous by rooting up the roads in search of subterranean food; the gnu, whose tall the natives value as a fly swatter; and the klipspringer, an antelope so tiny and fragil that it can balance on four feet on the space of a dollar.

Tyrell caught three, Mellor two. Theobald two, and Martischang snagged three. Fred Martischang was playing a real bang up game and nearly broke loose on the last pass but Pilger forced him out of bounds on the 7 yard line. It was Wayne's ball on the Pilger 7 yard line when the time was up.

Reid and Schneider proved to be the big show for Pilger. Both of them outweighed any man on the Wayne team by 15 pounds. Schneider proved himself a real line plunger. Reid was shooting off tackle and cutting back in great shape.

In the backfield Captain Martischang was doing his work up in great shape. His tackles were deadly and his blocking was better yet. He made one run of 20 yards around end on a fake play. He was touched-down bound but he ran out of bounds.

The line weakened by the loss of Gulliver was having a time of closing up the hole left by the big tackle. "Bulldog" Bill Mellor was driving and stopping the Pilger backs in their tracks. Steele and Stamm were throwing the opposition for losses and opening holes in great shape. This is the first year of football for these big fellows and they are sure making it a big one. Del Fitch, at left end was the big show of the Wayne offense. He seemed sure death on passes and when called upon to carry the ball responded by making from 15 to 40 yards on each run.

Wayne outdowned Pilger, completed more passes, showed better teamwork—but the failure of the Bulldog ball carriers to stay in bounds on their run for goal cost them a possible victory. Pilger plays a return game at Wayne on November 23.

The Bulldogs clash with the Wakefield Reserves this Saturday as a preliminary to the Wayne-Chadron college game.

Many Prefer Canned Foods
That is the peculiar angle of buying for the trade we serve. We buy a great deal of fresh stuff, both fruits and vegetables, simply because our patrons call for it. That doesn't mean that we are not big users of canned foods. In fact many people prefer canned to fresh stuff. That is particularly true of asparagus.
"About the system I use in buying I always buy by specification although I have complete confidence in what the canners say about their products, there is nevertheless another side of the story. It's up to me to select from a dozen or more fancy packs the one that will suit my purpose best.

"You can see from the samples I have over there that I am getting ready to contract for my year's supply of tomatoes. I open the cans and empty them into a colander and let them drain for two minutes. I then weigh what's left in order to determine the number of servings in each and I usually select the one which gives me the greatest number of servings. Of course, I take color into consideration, too."
Public Eats More Scientifically
Rawak went on to say that he had noticed a growing tendency among the people of today to select their menus with a great deal of care. He is of the opinion that they eat more scientifically in these days of enlightenment than they ever did before. In proof of this contention he pointed out that nowadays people know the science of proteins and carbohydrates.
"That is one reason why we have an all-year-round demand for canned commodities," he said. "People can now have spinach for Thanksgiving or asparagus for Christmas by a simple twist of the can opener. It is truly remarkable how the canning industry has made possible a balanced menu for all the months of the year."
He then told how many cases of tomatoes and asparagus he expects to buy this year, and stated that he sold more than three times as much of the latter canned as fresh. He told about the number of cases of peas and stringless beans he expects to purchase, and something about this patrons' preferences in canned fruits. Peeled apricots, he said, have always been favorably received by his customers, both as a breakfast fruit and in pies.

Some Unusual Recipes
But it's one thing to know that wealthy hotel patrons enjoy canned foods, and quite another to know how to use them like a highly paid chef. So here are two tested recipes, the savor of which will make you think you're dining at the swellest of hotels:
Scotch Woodcock: Make a sauce of four tablespoons butter, four tablespoons flour, two cups milk, the juice from a can of asparagus tips, one teaspoon salt and one-fourth teaspoon pepper. Add four hard-cooked eggs, chopped, and the asparagus tips cut in one-inch pieces. Add one chopped pimiento and serve on toast. This will serve eight people.
Tomato Rarebit with Eggs: Stew three cups of canned tomatoes, one-fourth teaspoon soda, one and one-half teaspoons salt, and one-fourth teaspoon pepper five minutes. Press through a sieve. Add three tablespoons flour and three tablespoons cold water smoothed together and stir until it thickens. Add one and one-half cups grated cheese and stir till melted. Slice hard-cooked eggs over buttered toast and pour over the sauce. This, too, serves eight people.

of the latter canned as fresh. He told about the number of cases of peas and stringless beans he expects to purchase, and something about this patrons' preferences in canned fruits. Peeled apricots, he said, have always been favorably received by his customers, both as a breakfast fruit and in pies.

This tends to increase students vocabularies.
Margaret Fanske, Vergin Keeney, and Evelyn Mellor ranked highest in a physics test given last week. The compressibility and expansibility of gases has been studied in class, and laboratory work consisted of experiments on density and specific gravity.
Last Thursday names for the high school magazine project in English IV were submitted and voted upon. "Seniorite" won by a majority. This project will be used to correlate grammar and composition work along with news writing.

Good Roads Unit Elects Turner For President
Commission and Bonds For Hard Surfacing Favored By The Association
The Nebraska Good Roads Association, in annual convention at Beatrice, last week, adopted the following program for the coming year. Creation of a state highway commission of 6 members appointed by the governor and legislation permitting counties to vote bonds for the hard surfacing of roads, the bonds to be retired by an appropriation of gasoline tax.
A state subsidy for county bridges to replace losses in drainage districts also was favored by the good roads boosters.
Ray Turner of Kearney, was elected president of the association, W. D. Cheek of Omaha, was chosen vice-president, A. H. Gray Beatrice, Treasurer, and Fred Putney, Lakin, secretary.
Burton A. George of Lincoln, Alex Hamerstrom, Adolph A. Held, of Holdrege, F. A. Huston of Bassett, and Harry S. Byrne and G. H. Brewer, both of Omaha, were elected members of the board of directors.
Omaha, Kearney and McCook, have asked for the 1930 convention.

The fines in most cases have been $25.00 and costs together with $10.00 liquidated damages to the state.

Lindbergh Discovers Four Buried Maya Cities
Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's success in directing the exploration tour of Central America, which resulted in discovery and detailed charting of innumerable ruins of ancient Mayan Indians, will serve as a guide to explorers for many years to come, is the view of A. V. Kiddier, director of the division of archeology of Carnegie institute and a member of the Lindbergh exploration party.
Kiddier stated that the most important discovery of the aerial tour was the finding of four new Maya cities and the discovery that certain types of forests hide Maya ruins.
Colonel Lindbergh in addition to blazing a new air mail trail from Miami to Paramaibo Dutch Guiana, discovered hitherto hidden cities established by Maya Indians in Guatemala, British Honduras, and in Mexico many centuries ago.

FOOD AS A FINE ART
THE best hotels in the world are in the United States. In no other country are there so many strictly modern hosteries offering every comfort, convenience and luxury, and so great a variety of delicious foods. One of the circumstances that makes this possible is revealed in a recent article in the Western Canner and Packer, of San Francisco, Calif., in the form of an interview with Curt C. Rawak, Purchasing Agent for two of the city's finest hotels.
"We probably have a little different problem here," he said, in part to that magazine's representative, "than you have come across before. We, as you know, are in the catering business, and we serve a high class of trade. Our problem is not so much that of buying large quantities for economy as it is to buy what we can sell. We have to give our patrons what they want, regardless of cost. If a patron wants an alligator pear in January, it's our business to get it for him, if it is to be had, and of course, we charge the customer accordingly."
Many Prefer Canned Foods
That is the peculiar angle of buying for the trade we serve. We buy a great deal of fresh stuff, both fruits and vegetables, simply because our patrons call for it. That doesn't mean that we are not big users of canned foods. In fact many people prefer canned to fresh stuff. That is particularly true of asparagus.
"About the system I use in buying I always buy by specification although I have complete confidence in what the canners say about their products, there is nevertheless another side of the story. It's up to me to select from a dozen or more fancy packs the one that will suit my purpose best.

"You can see from the samples I have over there that I am getting ready to contract for my year's supply of tomatoes. I open the cans and empty them into a colander and let them drain for two minutes. I then weigh what's left in order to determine the number of servings in each and I usually select the one which gives me the greatest number of servings. Of course, I take color into consideration, too."
Public Eats More Scientifically
Rawak went on to say that he had noticed a growing tendency among the people of today to select their menus with a great deal of care. He is of the opinion that they eat more scientifically in these days of enlightenment than they ever did before. In proof of this contention he pointed out that nowadays people know the science of proteins and carbohydrates.
"That is one reason why we have an all-year-round demand for canned commodities," he said. "People can now have spinach for Thanksgiving or asparagus for Christmas by a simple twist of the can opener. It is truly remarkable how the canning industry has made possible a balanced menu for all the months of the year."
He then told how many cases of tomatoes and asparagus he expects to buy this year, and stated that he sold more than three times as much

Yield Of Nebraska Corn Higher Per Dollar

From a recent comparison of ten-year average and land costs, Iowa is no longer the state "where the tall corn grows," her land values likewise are so "tall" that the Nebraska soil yields more to the dollar than does that of her eastern neighbor, according to State Statistician A. E. Anderson, after a comparison of 10-year averages.

While the usual yield in Iowa is 50 per cent greater than here, land prices there are 136 per cent higher. The average acre in Nebraska grows 26.9 bushels as against 40.3 bushels in Iowa.

The value of farm land with out buildings here in 1925 was $50.58, as compared with $119.28 for Iowa.

So Iowa corn to be tall in proportion to the tallness of her land prices, its yield would be 63.5 bushels, instead of 40.3 bushels.

Wild Game Infested With Tiny Worms

Sarcosporidiosis, a tiny worm, has been found to be infesting ducks shot along the Missouri. Health Commissioner Pinto issued a warning to hunters last week to be careful about cooking wild birds. If there is any doubt as to any bird, Dr. Pinto advises baking the game until well done in order to destroy the pest.

Dr. Pinto has a specimen of spoon-bill duck whose body is fairly infested with a small parasitic worm that in numbers resembles pin feathers. This parasite, called sarcosporidiosis, feeds on the muscles of the bird or animal. It is sometimes encountered in packing houses. All meat found to be so infested at the packing plant is consigned to the rendering plant at once.

The infested bird was shot on the Missouri river 35 miles below Omaha by Robert Sharpe.

America Is Developing Native Architecture

For the first time in history, America is developing a type of architecture truly her own. The Nebraska state capitol building is a thing of beauty, yet something entirely new in the fields of art and architecture. So gigantic in its proportions that its floor space reaches an equivalent of twelve acres, so rich in its historic symbols and yet with such striking simplicity, it is one of the most remarkable buildings of all time.

When Bertran Grosvenor Goodhue won the Nebraska capitol competition in a field of nationally famous architects, all of whom submitted very conservative old-school designs, America's trend toward developing a native architecture received its greatest incentive.

Nebraska's capitol building, towering 200 feet above the rolling prairie land surrounding it, is an indisputable triumph for American architecture.

"Sam, are you ever fired with enthusiasm?"

RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

H. M. SHEVYAN - F. H. SEELEY
OF'S EXPERT OF Chicago and Philadelphia will be at the Norfolk Hotel, Norfolk, Thursday only, Oct. 21th, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Mr. Seeley says:

"The Spermatic Shield will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, but contracts the opening in 10 days on the average case, being a vast advancement over all former methods—emphatically instantaneous effects immediately appreciable and withstanding any strain of position no matter the size or location. Large or difficult cases, or incisional ruptures (following operations) specially solicited. This instrument received the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, injections, medical treatments or prescriptions, with distinguished personal patrons of all nations."

University Students Experiment In Cafe.

Their Duty Is To Observe Work Of Experienced Cooks

If the present business of the cafeteria at the agricultural college of the university of Nebraska is any criterion of what is to come there will be a demand for a larger cafeteria building in the near future. Right now, in a building that was originally intended to take care of one hundred and fifty people the cafeteria is daily feeding over six hundred, assistant Miss S. Bernice Elwell, Assistant Professor in Institution Management and manager of the cafeteria.

During one month the cafeteria has prepared and sold over two tons of meat, one and one-half tons of potatoes, and fifteen hundred loaves of bread.

Dairy products are purchased entirely from the agricultural college dairy, and the amount expended for these products comes close to equaling the amount spent for meat.

All baked goods are prepared at the college. The cooking is done by hired women cooks. Contrary to the popular belief, the majority of the food preparation is not done by the students of the course. The kitchen is used for a laboratory where their prime duty is to observe.

Students are employed for counter-help, cashiering and dishwashing. They are also allowed to acquire experience in downtown restaurants.

The cafeteria is not operated for profit, said Miss Elwell. It was created to fill a demand for tastily-prepared to fill a demand for tastily-prepared Institution Management. That it has gone a long way toward succeeding in its purpose is testified to by the crowd that throngs it daily, and the fact that there were twice too many registrants for the course.

Graduates Beware Of Agents Questionnaire

Do Not Sign Questionnaire On Supposition That Its O. K. May Not Be.

There are agents calling on graduates of the various high schools in Nebraska, offering good positions to graduates of some school which they represent.

In addition they ask the prospective student to fill out a questionnaire which seems innocent, but many of these blanks have a promissory note, which is often signed and filled out by this prospective student before he or she realizes the nature of the document.

They also state the student may pay after graduation and that this notice is only a "declaration of intention." However, the schools have been collecting these notes just as any business collects overdue notes of like nature. Therefore, before a person signs such seemingly innocent manuscripts, it is well to get legal advice, or advise with some friends who have reasons to believe understands the legal technicalities of such matters, before you place your signature on the dotted line.

Many young men and women of this state have been placed in an embarrassing position by heeding the request of a silver-tongued agent to sign a promissory note to be paid when graduated from their school, on the pretense that it is only a necessary formality.

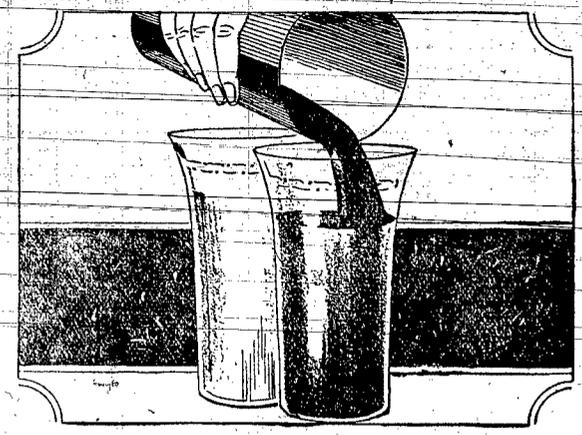

It is never advisable to sign a legal paper on the spur of the moment. Lay it aside for a few days, examine it again, perhaps seek advice, investigate the school, take all precautionary measures.

There may be other schools that are better, which do not resort to such methods to secure students.

Airplane For Speed But Autos Are Safer

Airplane travel is not so safe. Records kept this summer by the Nebraska Press Ass'n show that if there had been as many planes as cars in the state and if accidents in each class had remained the same ratio, there would of been 373 times as many killed in the air as in cars. If airplanes in the state traveled as many miles as the cars in the state there would have been 109 times as many killed. Mail planes, however, did not have a single accident in the state during the period covered by the records. During the 20 weeks covered by figures 346 people have been killed, 210 permanently disabled, 2534 injured. Automobiles are responsible for more than half the deaths and injuries.—Carroll News.

Chocolate Syrup!—Mmm!

Do you know that chocolate syrup for use in making beverages and for flavoring foods can be bought in cans? And do you know many people who don't like the taste of chocolate? Yes and no? Then I'm sure you'll be interested in the following recipe for using this syrup:

A Tested Recipe
Chocolate Waffles: Beat three egg yolks well, and add one and one-half cups milk. Mix and sift two cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, and add. Add one-half cup of chocolate syrup and one-third cup melted butter. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the three eggs and one-half teaspoon vanilla. Bake on hot waffle iron and serve immediately, a quarter to each person, topped with sweetened and flavored whipped cream.

But chocolate waffles are only one of the ways in which you can use this delicious syrup. The tall white glasses all frosted over from the chilled drink within, which are now making their annual appearance on porches and lawns, in dining rooms and pretty much everywhere else, often contain some of this succulent syrup. Try, for instance, this second tested recipe:

Chocolate Cinnamon Malted Milk: Shake together in a shaker, or in a large glass jar, six tablespoons malted milk, four tablespoons chocolate syrup, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-half cup water, two and one-half cups milk and plenty of cracked ice. This recipe will fill four tall glasses, and wherever the lucky quartet who get it are located, they'll exclaim in chorus: "Mmm!"

Bureaus Transferred To The Farm Board

Other Bureaus Will Be Transferred Later Making The Board Dominant In Agriculture

It is the intention of President Hoover to make the federal farm board supreme in the re-organization of agriculture and he will transfer as many bureaus from the department of agriculture as may be necessary to bring an orderly marketing system for the American farmer.

An executive order has just been announced whereby the division of co-operative marketing is taken from the department of agriculture and placed under the jurisdiction of the federal farm board and is significant of other changes that are expected to come when the farm board develops its full power.

Under existing law the president has most sweeping power to transfer bureaus which may be helpful to the federal farm board. He has authority to transfer, if necessary, bureaus from the federal farm loans system as well as from any of the major departments of the government.

Economical Entertaining

A LIMITED budget shouldn't kill hospitality. Many hostesses find it merely a stimulus to the imagination. For it is not the price of food which counts in entertaining, but the quality and the way in which it is prepared.

Get a can of the best quality of salmon, for instance, and have salmon soup for your guests or salmon and peas in cream sauce. The recipes are simple. For the soup, drain the oil from one-third can of salmon, and remove skin and bones. Rub fish through a sieve, and add one tablespoon butter, two tablespoons flour, three-fourths teaspoon salt, a few grains of pepper and three cups of milk. Served in bouillon cups, this is enough for four.
