On November 15th, 1886, we are told, Nebraska was covered with a very heavy snow that stayed on practically all winter. Fine snow came down from the northeast and continued to fall all night, finally switching to the northwest and developing into a genuine, old fashioned Nebraska storm of two or three days' duration.

Mrs. Frank Hurten of Walthill spent the week end in this city visiting in the home of her brother, Don Fitch, and in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fitch. Max Schmiedskamp and Bobbie Hurten, also of Walthill, came with her to spend the week-end with Delmar and Ivan Fitch. Bobbie is Mrs. Hurten's nephew.

Walter Johnson and his sisters, Martha and Agnes, Genevieve Craig, Loren Carlson and his sister, Eunice spent Sunday in Sioux City and Morningside. While there they visited Mr. and Mrs. King and daughter, Edith, who moved from Wayne to Sioux City recently. Miss Eunice remained in Sioux City, having found employment there.

Nebraska Reducing Farm Mortgage Debt

A statement from the department of agriculture at Washington issued a few days ago, contained a piece of information that is cheering to all Nebraskans. The department made an estimate which showed that the mortgage debt on farms in the nation is increasing but at a retarded rate. But there are twelve states that have begun to reduce their farm indebtedness. They are Nebraska, Maine, New Jersey, Iowa, Missouri, South Dakota, Kansas, Wyoming, New Mexico, Utah, Nevada and Washington. Nebraska appeared first in the departments statement, indicating that it leads in reduction of its mortgage debt.

The information upon which the department based its statement was obtained from replies from 22 thousand questionnaires received from farm owners, bankers and loan officials, which showed the steady trend of farm debt reduction in twelve states.

This situation is also shown in the reports of loan companies that are being compelled to look to other states than Nebraska for increased business. The Lincoln agent of an eastern life insurance company that invests its reserve in farm loans backed by first mortgages recently stated that his company was finding difficulty in making new loans and renewing old ones in this state. "Notwithstanding our low rates and unusually good options we are getting very little new business and our maturing loans are either being repaid or reduced" the agent complained.

Crop conditions the state over this year give basis for the belief that Nebraska is justifying the officials of the department of agriculture in placing this state at the head of the debt reducing states.

According to estimates and reports, Nebraska's corn yielded 24.5 bushels, oats 33.5, barley 25, wheat 15 bushels per acre. Potatoes and sugar beets are above the five year average. The prevailing better prices of these staples join in producing the gratifying financial condition.

Nebraska Birth Rate in Past 3 Years Declines

The department of vital statistics of the department of public welfare reports that the stork is failing to do his duty in Nebraska.

The report shows that there were but 6,900 boys and 6,338 girls born in the state during the first six months of 1929, a total decrease over the same period in 1928 of 655 for both sexes. The girls' births suffered the most severe decline, their number falling 418 below the 1928 mark while that of the boys' births fell 137 below last year's mark.

All races showed a decline except the Indians who had a total of 43 births, or an increase of 16. There were 110 Negro children born during the first half of the year, or a decrease of four. Eight Chinese and Japanese births were reported, or a decrease of six from 1928, and four from 1927.

The number of illegitimate children born during the first six months of 1929 showed an increase of 42 over the corresponding period in 1928, or a total of 273 for the six months period.

Nebr. 4-H Membership Shows Largest Increase

Nebraska shows a fifty percent increase in 4-H club enrollment, which is said to be the largest increase of any state in the union.

Now that we lead in enrollment our neighbors are watching with a critical eye to see how well Nebraskans will finish what they have set out to accomplish.

Old time club members are in the habit of completing a very high percentage of their work. What will the new ones do? is the question to be answered by the end of this month, as November 1, is the close of the year.

When those who move away, have had bad luck, get sore at each other and just naturally "peter out" are all chalked off the club enrollment records, the boys and girls will do exceptionally well to finish up three out of four of those who start the year in different projects. We adults perhaps would not do half that well.

The most important requirement of completion is that the member file a final report of his or her work, regardless of how successful they were. Those who do the best work usually file the best reports, however this is not always true.

FARM WASTE PULP PLANT

Opportunity will be afforded within the next few weeks, on a day or days to be announced, for civic organizations to see the Danville, Illinois, plant of products company in operation.

This plant is utilizing part of the great agricultural wastes. Other communities throughout the Corn Belt have sought information about the plant at Danville, hoping to have one of the additional units.

Everybody uses paper and many other articles made of cellulose. Everybody interested in forest conservation and in industrial development of the agricultural regions would like to see more of this farm waste converted into cellulose and chemical products.

CHARACTER EDUCATION URGED

State Superintendent Charles W. Taylor, in appealing to delegates to Nebraska P. T. A., in convention at Hastings last week, for their moral support in the teaching of temperance and character in all schools of the state, says the "Atheist movement is an open attack upon country, home and God."

Mr. Taylor states, "Intellectual skills are being developed faster than fine moral qualities. Were criminality and law breaking confined to the ignorant and uneducated classes, that might not seem true."

"Only the home can meet this problem. The atheist movement in the United States is an open, willful and deliberate attack upon country, home and God. Atheism is seeking the ear of youth today, hoping to corrupt the manhood of tomorrow. If successful, anarchy will reign supreme and civilization will be destroyed."

"Closely allied with the character education, and a part of it, is the Nebraska movement to teach temperance in the schools. The children of yesterday had the saloon with its common product as a constant example. Today the actual physical dangers involved in drinking bootleg booze are more difficult to get over into the conclusions of the child."

This appeal of Mr. Taylor is worthy of serious consideration. We all remember how our parents in our youth warned us to keep away from the saloon, and emphasized their request by reminding us of the ignorant, uneducated, good for nothing class that loafed around the saloon of former days. Today it is hard to convince them that the same dangers lurk in the bootleg whiskey that is delivered to them by a bootlegger, who is a university graduate, and carried in their pocket flask, to be drunk at a friendly game of cards in their friends home, in which, perhaps, their girl friends participate.

We are told there is no such thing as an honest bootlegger, that when they enter the bootlegging business, they lay aside their conscience. The whiskey the young people buy contains a large percent of poison, very destructive to the tissues of the body and brain, and is responsible for the great increase of crime among young men and young women today.

HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION UNDER STATE CONTROL

A movement to take highway and road construction out of the hands of counties and place it under state control and supervision, seems to be gaining momentum on the theory that a more comprehensive and complete system of main highways and feeder or farm service roads can be obtained by this method.

This would also do away with much experimenting in methods of construction and materials used, for it would obviate numerous county boards and commissions each endeavoring to find out in its own way what materials are best.

Practical highway engineers have found that a certain coating of road oil or asphaltic mixture properly applied at a comparatively low cost, is often all that is necessary to give sparsely settled rural districts adequate weatherproof secondary roads leading to main highways, states the Pierce County Leader.

After many years of costly experimenting, and poor progress in road construction a few states have turned the problem of highways, both arterial and secondary, over to a trained highway supervisor who is held responsible for the whole state highway system. This permits him to construct the whole state system without being influenced by selfish interests of any particular community, this permits also a much more satisfactory highway patrol and maintenance system, which is no small problem with the rapid increase of traffic of the present day.

The highway problem, which is so vital to every community, will become more serious as traffic congestion increases, and soon will be placed under supervision of men especially trained for that work. This is the age of specialization; each man today is trained for his chosen line of work and thereby become more efficient. This is being proven in big industry today, where each man is assigned his one task of the big chain that produces the manufactured product more speedily and economically.

What The Indian Said About His Conscience

Many of us know that George Washington called conscience "that little spark of celestial fire," but let us hear what a certain Indian said about it when asked whether he knew what his conscience was:

"Oh, yes," said the Indian, "I know what my conscience is. It is a little three-cornered thing in here" (he laid his hand on his heart) "that stands still when I am good; but when I am bad it turns around and the corners hurt very much. But if I keep on doing wrong, by and by the corners wear off and it doesn't hurt any more."

Live Wire Dangers

A human being, dead or alive, is a conductor of electricity. If a person is in contact with an electrical circuit, those rescuing him should break his contact with the circuit with some insulated tool, such as a long, dry stick, or dry rope. Where the voltage of the wire is not greater than 6,600 volts a coat might be used for a rope by throwing it around the wire and pulling the wire with the loop thus made.

It should be recognized, however, that this will probably bring the rescuer in closer proximity to the live wire than would be considered safe if the emergency did not exist. - Norfolk News.

It is estimated that it will require 28,000 freight cars in Nebraska to remove the material necessary in the season's road construction program.

Among Our Exchanges

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary McNeal, pioneer resident of Cedar county who died at her home last week were held last Saturday from the Hartington Congregational church.

A report filed last week by J. W. Long, Iowa state auditor, shows that the Iowa state highway commission spent nearly four million dollars for primary road construction and maintenance.

The Omaha Chamber of Commerce have hopes of establishing a cornstalk pulp mill and paper plant at Omaha.

George Lucas, Jr. and Elmer Wilhelm of Palmyra, have invented a machine that clips down a line of hedge trees as easily as a mower clips blue grass.

Martin Hoelsing, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoelsing, of near Hartington, died at the Sacred Heart hospital at Yankton, Sunday October 20th.

Albert B. Fall was found guilty October 25, of accepting a $100,000 bribe from Edward L. Dohney for the lease of the Elk Hills, California Naval oil reserves.

Eight men and four women composed the jury which convicted the 68 year old man, now in broken health.

The verdict was handed down nearly eight years after Fall received the money from Dohney.

Mrs. Lemira Goodhue, mother of Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, after an illness of two years, passed away at the Northampton, Mass., hospital, Oct. 24th. She was 80 years of age.

Sale to the highest bidder, December 6, of 115 parcels of Indian lands in the Omaha and Winnebago reservations, is being advertised by C. M. Ziebach, superintendent of the two reservations.

George Breeding and sister Mrs. Wm. Bruggerman, of Randolph, received a telegram last week notifying them of the death of their father at Chateau, Montana.

"A million and a half dollars for test wells and thousands more for land rentals will pour into Nebraska within the next eighteen months from several great oil and gas companies," according to a recent statement made by Dr. George E. Condra, head of the conservation and survey division at the University of Nebraska.

Wendell P. Hill of Randolph was born in the same room of the same house as the man whom the whole world honors. In 1847, eighty-two years ago, Thomas A. Edison was born in an upstairs room of a two-story house in Milan, Ohio. Fifteen years later, in 1862, Mr. Hill was born in the same room. Mr. Hill's parents then owned the home. It has since been bought by electrical wizard, but has been generally closed to the public because the pernicious souvenir-hunters would very nearly tear it two pieces.

Mr. and Mrs. John McClain of Randolph celebrated their 61st wedding anniversary Tuesday, Oct. 22, at their home in Randolph. Mr. McClain was 83 the 21st of May, and Mrs. McClain was 83 the 16th of March. Mrs. McClain does her own housework.

Already a total of 1,316 carloads of potatoes have been shipped from Nebraska, as compared with 653 cars at this time last year. The Nebraska potato crop is normal this year, but there is a shortage in other sections of the country. Potatoes are selling for from $1.20 to $1.50 per bushel as compared with the low price on fifty cents last year. Seed stock is selling for from $3.00 to $3.50 per bushel.

We all agree that the farmer is not getting as much for what he produces as he is entitled to, but, we should find the following item taken from one of our exchanges interesting. This was an item in the "Forty Years Ago" column in a recent issue of the Aurora News: "Good corn was bringing 16 cents per bushel at the Aurora elevators and oats brought 12 cents per bushel. Beef cattle were bringing $2.00 per 100 pounds, fat chickens were $2.00 per dozen and eggs were quoted at 12 cents per dozen."

The number of Nebraska couples who had observed fifty or more years of married life by October 1 reached a total of 300, according to tabulations made by Henry A. Brainerd, historian of the Nebraska State Press association.

G. B. Salter, 90 year old, pioneer of North Nebraska, naturalist and bird lover, died at Norfolk October 19th.

Speaking of licenses, those who cut hair in beauty parlors in addition to their other duties, must be licensed as both barbers, and beauticians. The first ones to register get off with a $3 filing fees plus $3 and $2 annual renewal. Those who take their own good time to get in must pay $10 examination fee to each board.

William Alton, 72 years of age, retired roundhouse forman of the Chicago & Northwestern, died at Pine, last week.

Isn't it too bad? The county commissioners of Madison county chose four capable women for jury duty for the coming term of court, and then somebody had to split it all by reminding the gallant friends on the board that despite the equal suffrage law and amendment to the constitution, one must be "all male" to be a juror. The ladies had all the other qualifications, being electors, over the age of twenty-five admittedly, of sound mind and discretion, and being neither judges of the high or low or even the middle court, nor clerks thereof, neither sheriffs, nor jailors, etc, etc. Men and women of Madison county, who know the excellent citizenship and womanhood represented by the quartette chosen, regret that the law does not permit these women giving the service they are so capable of rendering.

Accidents Take More Lives Than Mexican War

Twenty-Four Weeks Report Shows 3110 Injured, 250 Disabled and 428 Deaths in Nebraska.

The following accident statistics for Nebraska were compiled by the Nebraska Press Association and the Rehabilitation Division of the State Department of Vocational Education. The report for two-week period ending October 22, 1929, shows that in 306 accidents, there were 41 deaths and 296 injured. Of the 296 injured 24 were permanently disabled.

School accidents resulted in seven bad fractures. Football injuries resulted in two disabilities. In addition to the 29 pedestrians struck, six others were injured by reckless drivers. Of pedestrians injured, many were school children.

The hunting season is well under way. Accidents from this source were killed 4; disabled 3 and injured 2.

Blinding lights, as the days shorten, are causing more accidents, though collisions, striking pedestrians, speed, skids in loose gravel and reckless driving continue to be the leading causes.

A general summary for twenty-four weeks gives us a total of 3788, in which 3110 were injured, 250 were disabled and 428 were killed.

On March 9, 1916, Villa raided Columbus, New Mexico killing 17 American citizens. America immediately dispatched 20 odd thousand soldiers to chase the wily bandit into the hills.

Will some of Nebraska's flaming patriots who shouted so loudly for a Mexican war to wipe out that horrible stain on our national dignity please scrutinize the summary figures closely and advance some practical ideas for stopping the accident bloodshed in Nebraska which every week for the past 24 weeks has cost the lives of more American citizens than did Villa's raid?

PERU BOBCATS DEFEATS WILDCATS

With a score of 39 to 0. The Wildcats Play Omaha University at Wayne Homecoming, Nov. 2

Wayne's Wildcats journeyed to the home of the Peru Bobcat and found the Bobcat very much up to date. He had taken up aerial work and how. It just seemed that those big Peruvians couldn't miss any kind of a pass sent their individual ways. Passes everywhere and how the score went up. When the final tip had been safely tucked away behind the goal line the score was found to be 39 to 0. Wayne had lost its first conference game and is out of the running for the championship for at least this year.

Wayne kicked off to Peru and the Bobcat man returned 12 yards. Zook circled right end for 20 yards. Zook started on another end run but stopped and passed 30 yards to the opposite end who galloped right down to the goal. The try for point was good. Peru now kicked to Wayne and Wayne made first and ten once. Then Dennis kicked and Lindamood downed Zook after a five yard gain. McKinley spilled Williams for a 4 yard loss. The line work wasn't working so well for Peru so they started passing. Zook again tossed one about 30 yards and again the Peru end gathered the ball fondly to his bosom and dashed over the final stripe. This time they missed the try for point.

Wayne received the ball again but didn't seem to know just what to do with it. So they handed it to Peru. Zook rose to the occasion and hurled another pass to Williams and it was good for a touchdown. The try for point was perfect. Score 20 to 0 at the half.

Peru kicked off to Wayne to start the second half and Wayne returned about 16 yards. It was the first time Wayne had shown signs of life. Dennis gathered 7 yards off tackle. Farrow tried the aerial game and the pass Andrews hurled to him was good for 14 yards. Farrow plunged for 8 yards. Peru was penalized for blowing off and Wayne got 15 yards. Farrow again got way up in the air and snagged another pass for about 12 yards. Pete was going fine. The combination of Andrews to Farrow was a surprise one to everybody. The ball at this moment of the game was resting fairly easily on the Peru 23 the ball behind real interference. But time was too short for a score and the end of the half found Wayne in possession of the ball on the Pender 28 yard line. Martischang completed a pass but couldn't break away for the score.

Big Bill Steele kicked off for Wayne and the ball traveled to the Pender 5 yard line. Pender returned about 13 yards. Pender attempted the Bulldog line but to no avail. There were no holes. They tried passes but they were good for 4 and 6 yards respectively or else they were knocked down. They kicked and Swanson returned 10 yards.

Now Wayne's offense got fully adjusted and set about what proved to be the winning of this ball game. Stamm circled end for 17 yards. Theobald slipped over tackle for 8 yds. Stamm went thru tackle for 12 yards more. Martischang failed to gain thru tackle. Martischang circled left end behind perfect interference for 45 yards and a touchdown. Stamm smashed over Bob Gulliver's tackle for the extra point and the game was won.

Steele again kicked off to the Pender 5 yd. line. Hanks dropped the Pender man before he got to the 15 yard line. Pender tried to break the Bulldog line but failed. They kicked and Quarterback Buss Swanson attempted to catch the ball on the run. He fumbled and the ball bounced on to the Wayne goal line. A Pender man fell on the ball on the Wayne 25 yard line. Wayne called time out and arranged their defense after finding out that there was only a minute to go. Pender attempted an end run but were stopped in their tracks with no gain. They tried the other side of the line with still no gain. They were still in the huddle when the final whistle sounded.

The Wayne College high school Bulldogs already armed with a 19 to 0 victory over the Laurel Reserves will tangle again with the Laurelites in a game preliminary to Homecoming Omaha-Wayne game this Saturday afternoon. This game will start at 1:30 p. m.

Too Good

The day at the links had distinctly not been a success. Neither the irascible Jones nor the equally so Smith had succeeded in breaking a hundred and a quarter. In the hope of averting conversation from his disastrous score, Jones asked when they reached the clubhouse:

"Is your caddy good?"

"Good?" exploded Smith. "Say, when it comes to telling me how many strokes I'm lying, that boy's a religious fanatic!"
