L. P. KLOPPING TAKEN BY DEATH MONDAY MORNING

Louis Klopping, Formerly a Prominent Farmer Here, Dies At Home in Sergeant Bluffs.

DIES AT AGE OF 54 YEARS

L. P. Klopping, more familiarly known here as Louis Klopping, passed away at his home near Sergeant Bluffs, Iowa at 7:30 o'clock Monday morning, December 16, 1929, following a lingering illness with cancer. Mr. Klopping spent about ten years on a farm northwest of here about eighteen years ago, stock and grain farming on a large scale. Mr. Klopping is an uncle of Bryan Klopping of this vicinity and a brother of Henry Klopping.

Louis P. Klopping was born in Underwood, Iowa March 3, 1875. He moved to Wood Lake, Nebraska in 1901, later moving to a farm northwest of here where he resided until 1911 when he moved to Sioux City, Iowa, moving to a farm one mile east of Sergeant Bluffs, Iowa, five years later where he resided until his death.

At the time of his death he was chairman of the Woodbury county board of supervisors and was a widely known stockbuyer and landowner. He also was president of the Morningside Savings bank.

He became ill early this fall and sought medical aid at the Mayo Brothers sanitarium at Rochester, Minnesota. His ailment was pronounced incurable and he was discharged. The past four weeks he was confined to his bed, gradually becoming weaker until the end.

Funeral services were held at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday, December 18, 1929 at the Morningside Presbyterian church, the Rev. E. J. Findley officiating. Burial was made in the Grace Park cemetery.

He is survived by his widow Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Klopping, and two daughters, Ethel and Mary Ellen of Sioux City.

A. G. Sydow Wins Honors For Poultry

A. G. Sydow of this vicinity, who had a fine display of Buff Orpington chickens at the Iowa State Poultry Show which was held recently in Sioux City under the auspices of the Inter-State Poultry Assn. and was sponsored by the Sioux City Journal, pulled down several honors and put Wayne on the map as a community having a splendid grade of poultry. The following prizes were awarded Mr. Sydow: First prizes for a Buff Orpington hen, for a pen of young Orpingtons, and for a cockerel; Second prize for a pen of old Buff Orpingtons; third prize for a cock; and fourth prize for a cockerel.

He also received the Fairmont Creamery Silver cup for the best display in the Buff Orpington class, and the Sioux City Journal $4.00 cash prize for the third largest display in the show.

The Democrat congratulates Mr. Sydow on his excellent success and hopes he may continue climbing to other successes in his poultry business.

Mrs. S. A. Lutgen Is Guest At Luncheon

Mrs. S. A. Lutgen was among the guests present at the Kiwanis luncheon at Lincoln last Friday, Dec. 13. It is the custom of the Kiwanians to award a badge of honor each year to the person contributing the most outstanding literary work for Nebraska during the current year. Bess Streeter Aldrich of Elmwood was awarded the badge this year for her historical novel, "A Lantern In Her Hand," which vividly portrays the early pioneer life of Nebraska. So popular is this work that already 110,000 copies have been published and sold. The award was made at the Kiwanis meeting last Friday. There was a banquet, and a large number of guests and intimate friends of Mrs. Aldrich were invited, Mrs. Lutgen of this city being among them.

STEAM LAUNDRY STARTS MONDAY

Wayne's New Steam Laundry Will Start Operating Monday, December 23.

Wayne's new steam laundry will be open for business next Monday morning. Gilstad Brothers the owners and operators of the plant have been very busy men the past few weeks remodeling the Joe Baker building on West first street, and unloading and installing the machinery for the plant.

Mr. Gilstad informed a reporter for the Democrat today that he will complete installing machinery this week and will start operation the first of next week. Mr. Gilstad is installing all modern equipment, and is a man of long experience in the laundry business. He states if the people of Wayne and community will give him a trial he will give them just as fine work right here at Wayne as they can get elsewhere. Being a new home industry he certainly deserves a trial. It is a great convenience to have a laundry at Wayne and the only way to assure this is to be loyal to home industry and patronize him.

Pioneer Celebrates His 83rd Birthday

John Benning celebrated his eighty-third birthday last Tuesday, December 17. A quite a few of his Lutheran friends called and enjoyed a social time of general jollity and reminiscence, bringing with them many gifts in honor of Mr. Benning's birthday. Some could not come on account of the stormy weather.

Mr. Benning has resided in Wayne county since 1882, living on a farm until a few years ago when he and his wife moved to Wayne. He enjoyed the day very much and wished to thank his friends for their many presents and good cheer.

Coldest Weather Of Season Arrives

Winter has arrived. Thermometers of our city varied Wednesday morning from 10 to 18 below zero, the lowest of this season, and due to a strong northwest wind Tuesday night and Wednesday was by far the most disagreeable of this winter. After the mild weather of the few days previous the sudden drop in temperature was more noticeable and has slowed up all outside work for the present. While the sudden drop in temperature has slowed up outside work it has stimulated business for the garages and service stations.

NEW PIPE ORGAN WAS DEDICATED AT M. E. CHURCH

New Estey Organ Replacing The Old Organ Installed, In 1902, Was Dedicated Sunday.

DR. HAMILTON C. FOX SPEAKS

The new Estey Pipe organ at the M. E. church here was dedicated at the morning service last Sunday, Dec. 15, the minister and the congregation taking part. The new organ replaces the first organ which was installed in 1902, and has a soft and beautiful tone.

The morning sermon was given by Dr. Hamilton C. Fox, D. D. of Lincoln, who gave an inspiring message of the great and unchangeable fact, "God is!" He told of the philosophical, the historical, the literary, and the so-called scientific attacks on the reality of God, all of which work out only to add to the proof of His Reality. "God is! How marvelous must He be: the creative power back of this wonderful universe." We think of God as the Eternal God, the Creator, King, Judge; but greatest of all, "God is! and He is my Father."

The service was well attended, there being a large audience present. The twilight candle light service held that evening at five o'clock was also well attended. It was a beautiful service, the glow of the candles and the soft melody of the organ being most impressive. The service was aglow with spirit of the season, and those not present missed a real treat.

WAYNE FIREMEN'S NEW YEAR BALL

The Firemen's Annual New Year Masquerade Ball Dec. 31. At Colonial Pavilion.

The local Firemen's Annual New Year Masquerade ball will be one of the big social events of the season. They expect to make the affair more attractive this year than ever before.

The ball this year will be held at the Colonial Pavilion. Chief, Ringer says, "preparations are going forward satisfactorily and that they expect the biggest crowd that ever attended their annual ball, as this old New Year dance is becoming more popular each year. Those who have attended in the past know they are assured of a good time. He requests that you reserve December 31, for this big event at the Colonial Pavilion."

Local Pastor Leaves For New Pastorate

The Rev. and Mrs. Fenton C. Jones and little daughter left by car Monday, Dec. 16, for Gordon, Nebraska where they will enter upon the duties in their new charge, after eight and one-half years of faithful service at the First Presbyterian church of this city. They leave a host of friends and parishoners behind who are heartily sorry to see them go and wish for their continued success in their new field.

During Rev. Jones' pastorate here, which, by the way, was two and one-half years longer than any pastorate in the history of the local church, the church made more improvement and has given more to benevolences than ever before in its history. Rev. Jones' review of his work and policy adhered to during his pastorate here was published in last week's issue of the Democrat. Those having missed reading it will find it very interesting and worth while to read.

CATHOLICS GIVE DATA ON CENSUS

Catholic Census Of Omaha Diocese Reveals About 95,000 Members In Its 140 Parishes

Omaha, Nebr., Dec. 18.—Early returns from the census recently taken of the Catholics living in the diocese of Omaha, including 23 counties of north-eastern Nebraska, indicate that approximately 95,000 individual members of that church now reside in the diocese.

Tabulations of the exact number of adults and children has not yet been completed, according to Monsignor James W. Stenson, vicar general of diocese, who is chairman of the census.

"We will release the exact figures, as soon as they are available," said Monsignor Stenson. "On the basis of early returns approximately 19,000 Catholic families live within the boundaries of the diocese of Omaha."

Census returns were made in the 140 parishes of the diocese on Monday, December 16. They were then relayed to the chairman of the six diocesan districts, located at Omaha, Norfolk, O'Neill, Hartington, West Point and Columbus.

The complete returns will be relayed by the district clerical directors to Monsignor Stenson, who will then present them to Bishop Joseph F. Rummel, who is honorary chairman of the census.

Bishop Rummel requested the census in order to measure the numerical strength of the diocese and to determine the religious, educational and charitable diocesan requirements.

Although exact figures are not available, it is estimated that approximately 15,000 Catholics resided in the Diocese of Omaha, when it was created October 2, 1885. Bishop James O'Connor, the first bishop, then presided over the entire state of Nebraska and Wyoming. The dioceses of Lincoln, Cheyenne and Grand Island have since been established.

Five Prison Riots In Past Six Months

After hours of rioting, a besieging force of guards and police Wednesday December 11th, wrested control of Auburn, N. Y., prison from convicts, leaving a death toll unofficially estimated at twelve.

This mutiny of convicts at Auburn prison is the fifth major outbreak to occur in penitentiaries of the United States in the past six months. The outbreaks have taken the lives of many guards and prisoners and have caused property damage of more than a million dollars. Last week's disturbance was the second at Auburn within the past six months.

WAYNE WILDCATS ARE DEFEATED BY MORNINGSIDE

Wayne Wildcats Badly Handicapped Due To Removal Of Farrow, Star Guard

THE FINAL SCORE WAS 20 TO 17

The Wayne Wildcat basketball team went down in defeat, last Friday night, by the husky delegation from Morningside, to the count of 20 to 17. After 14 minutes of play Wayne was leading a score of 9 to 2, when Farrow, star guard, had to leave the game with a broken nose, and the first-half ended with the score of 11 to 10 in favor of Morningside. The second-half was no ones game up to the last few minutes; with the lead alternating between the two teams. Shortly before the final gun, the Wildcats were leading with the score of 17 to 15, but the invaders spurred behind a free throw by Crispen and a pair of field goals by Hutchins and snatched victory from the Wildcats in the last minutes of the game.

The leading features of the game were the fine offensive work of Swartz, Giant Wayne center, Kripping, Morningside veteran guard and the brilliant defensive work of both teams.

The Wayne Wildcats will clash with the Sioux Falls College basketball team (South Dakota's 1929 champions) Thursday night, 8 p. m. at the local college gym. The Wildcats are sharpening up their claws, and more than likely the Husky Sioux Falls delegation's record will take a tumble. The local team deserve your support and if you want to see a snappy game go and help the local boys win.

NEW SCHOOL IN DIST. NO. 21

The new school building in District 21 is beautifully located on the slope of a hill. It is just a bit north of where the old building stood. The porch and main entrance are on the south, there being a side door to the east.

Inside the building on the south are two cloak rooms and a bookroom. The school room occupies the north side and is the full length of the building.

On the west are six small windows admitting light from the rear for the pupils as they sit facing the east.

Light also enters the room from six large windows on the west as well as two of the same size on the east which are placed higher than the others.

Across the east end is a platform. To the right of this is a door leading to the outside and to the basement.

Along the north side of the basement are a coal room, a room for cobs and the pipeless furnace.

There is a sufficient number of single adjustable desks of an approved type.

An acre and a half of ground belong to the school. This affords an ample playground as well as adding greatly to the appearance.

This thoroughly modern building which is 30x34 feet cost $4,500.

This school called Apex is four miles west and one mile south of Winside.

Members of the school board are Fred Ulrich, director; August Meierhenry, Moderator; and Fred Schroeder, treasurer.

A dedication program was given in this school on Friday evening, October 11.

Methodist Church Notes

10:00—School begins
11:00—Morning worship
6:30—Epworth League
7:30—Evening worship

The theme of the Christmas lesson will be "Christian Obligations to Children." Every parent should be present with his children.

The theme of the morning message will be "Christmas." Shall we have a pagan feast day or a Christian Father in giving to these in need? The question of Sunday evening will be "What shall I do with Jesus?"

There will be an Epworth League social at the church parlors on Thursday evening.

The Christmas program will be given at the church on Christmas eve. The title is "Good Will Toward Men." It is one prepared to be used in all the churches of American Methodism.

The offering will support a venture in international good will, the new Oldham Hall for the Collegio Americano in Buenos Ayres, Argentina. Sunday Schools of the Methodist church throughout America are cooperating in the erection of a building which will be a tribute to Bishop William F. Oldham, retired, of Columbus Ohio, who was first a missionary bishop to Malaysia, then bishop to South America for 12 years. He was 75 years old last Sunday, Dec. 15th.

Let us show that we are Christian by being loyal to all the things that the Christ and His church stand for. Carl Critchett, Pastor.

Omaha World Herald says "Omaha needs a new jail." Perhaps they too have noticed the recent accounts of numerous prison deliveries that have occurred in the past six months.

The state of Illinois last week snuffed out the last of the criminal prosecutions that sprang from the rule of the gun and blackjack at the bloodstained primary election of April 10, 1928.

The state's attorneys cleared away the 96 indictments still lying on the court calendars by motion to nol-pros and set free the 61 defendants never brought to trial, thus ends the grand gesture of the people of Chicago, who dug into their own pockets and furnished 200 thousand dollars when the county commissioners refused to vote the necessary appropriation. Their effort has resulted in 27 convictions. Only 16 of these have ended in payment of fines for conspiracy; the rest appealed to the supreme court.

France's fear that Germany is secretly preparing for another war was revealed clearly last week in a prolonged and at times disorderly debate on the 1930 budget in the chamber of deputies.

Suspension of the chamber were necessary on several occasions when the debate led to disorderly scenes between the right and communist benches.

To the statement of Bouillon-Lefont, budget reporter, that the 1930 program represented a 10 per cent reduction and a great sacrifice to pacifism, national deputies retorted that Germany now is preparing chemicals and secret fortifications which necessitate large expenditures on the part of France.

A. W. Acheson, a 38 year old civil war veteran, from Denton, Texas, kept the rivers and harbors congress on edge for 10 minutes last Thursday by lambasting the utterances made before the senate lobby committee by Joseph R. Grundy of Pennsylvania. He was at first given five minutes, but the convention yelled for him to go on.

Acheson said he saw a map made according to the way Grundy thought the United States ought to be run, and Pennsylvania was bloated up like a horse with a hay belly. He said the Red River valley of Texas alone is worth millions of dollars more in products than the whole state of Pennsylvania. "Cottonseed alone in the Red River valley is worth 10 million dollars more than all the iron ore in the state of Pennsylvania.

We ain't playing second fiddle to anything in the United States."

Achison secured congress for low appropriations for his section. He said "all the imports from the Virgin Islands are not as rich as the jackass crop in the Red River valley," and Congress only spent $1.69 a mile for Red River in 1927.

Perhaps Grundy will become convinced that this jackass from Texas is dangerous at both ends.

THE CHRIST OF CHRISTMAS

What sweet, happy memories cluster around the day we call "Christmas". We think of our childhood when Christmas Day meant mostly giving and getting gifts; of the family gatherings with loved ones; of the Christmas trees shimmering with tinsel and bright with lights; of the music and mirth and happy children. For it was Christmas, and gloom and grief were laid aside. Somehow, it was different from any other day in the year, and there was warmth and cheer and happy thought for all.

But what of the Christ whose coming gave us Christmas Day? His baby eyes opened one night on a wonderful world which he himself fashioned. He was born in a stable and cradled in a manger. Angels proclaimed his advent. The lowly shepherds heard the message and rejoiced. The wise men heard and came to pay him their homage. He came on a mission of love to the sons of men. He lived. He toiled. He blessed. He died.

Centuries have come and gone. Christmas days have come and gone, and today, it is sad but true, the day has come to mean more to many people than the Christ whose birth it celebrates. We would not take one whit from its cheer and gladness. We would, if we could, add to its joy a thousand fold and speed its blessing to every human heart. But we would be glad, if all could know the Christ of Christmas, the Anointed Son of God, the Savior of the world. "Thou shalt call his name Jesus," said the angel to Mary, for he shall save his people from their sins.

Will there be any touch of sorrow in the loving heart of Christ this Christmas Day because though He made the Day possible, He Himself is not known, not recognized, not honored, not beloved, not served? Would it not make Him glad, if in the midst of the festivities, we would think of Him and give Him some Christmas gift? "The gift of Christ is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Savior." What are we going to give Him in return? "Give me my son (my daughter) thine heart and let thine eyes observe my ways." Here is the answer. "One soul saved is worth a world of gold." And "There is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner, that repenteth."

Come, Desire of nations come, Fix in us Thy humble home. Contributor.

Sioux City Market Report

Sioux City, Stock Yards.—No radical changes were recorded in the general trade on live stock this week. Cattle receipts fell off while hog supplies increased and sheep receipts were normal.

Thirteen leading markets of the country received 95,000 cattle on the first two days of the week. 11,300 less than the previous Monday and Tuesday.

Red yearlings were in fairly good demand on the initial session and moved rapidly on the following day at strong to a quarter higher prices. Matured heaves were slow and held about even with the close of last week, spots showing a trifle strength. Quality of the run was mostly on the plain order with very few well finished kinds on offer as most of this class have been marketed, so the market is on a short fed basis.

Most sales were made at $10.00 to $12.00 with common lots at less money. Fair to good grades brought $12.00 to $13.00 with a few at $13.00 to $14.25, the latter price being the week's crest, as no long feds were received.

Short fed yearling heifers moved at strong prices on both Monday and Tuesday. Most sales were made from $11.00 down with a few good grades above $12.00 and no choice kinds were included to bring $14.00 or better.

Cows were slow and on the weak side with spots steady and other lower. Bulk of the run sold at $5.25 to $5.00 with a few good grade feds above $9.00. Canners and cutters ranged at $5.00 to 6.00 with common shells down to 4.50.

Bulls held a firm basis with desirable medium sausage grades bringing $7.50 to $8.00, a few weighty kinds at $8.25, and catty grades down to $5.50. Heavy beef bulls made $8.75. Veals carried a weak undertone with the practical top at $12.00 although a few selected light weights brought a premium of 50c a hundred.

Starchers and feeders were received in larger numbers than the trade could handle and activity in markets was plainly causing a dull and weak to lower trade. Some of the more desirable grades were peddled at steady rates.

The bulk sold from $9.50 down to $8.00 with common lots to $7.00 and under. A few fairly good kinds sold at $9.50 to 10.50 with choice yearlings and calves above $11.00. Feeding heifers sold mostly from $8.50 down.

Hog receipts amounted to 316,800 at the 13 leading markets on the first two days of the week, 37,300 more than a week ago and 58,700 more than the corresponding period a year ago.

Prices for live pork slumped 10 to 15 cents and more on the opening session but this much and more was added on the following day. Fairly broad demands were noted from all sources on both days.

Tops reached $9.25 on Tuesday with bulk of the butchers selling within a dime of this mark. Lighter weights and unfinished kinds brought $8.75 and up with mixed butchers at 8.75 down. Bulk of the packing sows cashed at $8.10 to 8.40 with choice light weights at $8.50. Stags brought $7.50 to $8.00. Choice western pigs sold at $9.00.

Sheep receipts totaled 126,000 at the 13 main markets on Monday and Tuesday, slightly more than the same days of the previous week.

Fat lambs took a 25 cent drop with the top at $12.35 on the second session. Ewes were unchanged, quotable from $5.75 down. Yearlings topped at $9.50. Feeding lambs sold mostly from $11.50 down although choice weights were quoted higher.

Chicago Financier Voices Confidence In Nebraska

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 12.—Unbounded confidence in Nebraska, based on a thorough analysis of conditions in the state, was voiced by Walter W. Head, president of the State Bank of Chicago at a chamber of commerce dinner here Dec. 6. Head pointed out that most business indicators, including live stock receipts, crop figures, retail sales and bank deposits, place 1929 ahead of 1928.

The Chicago financier, until this year president of Omaha's largest bank, warned against bad business psychology and pessimism based on stock market reversals. A slump in the market and a recession in the automotive and construction lines were anticipated, he declared, and losses in these lines are being compensated for by increased budgets for rail equipment, public works and highways, according to Head.

"Have faith in Nebraska. Temper imagination with sound reasoning on business fundamentals. Work." This was Head's parting admonition as he boarded a limited for Chicago, where he conducts the city's third largest bank.

First Living Christmas Tree Planted In Nebr.

The first living Christmas tree, extending the spirit of peace and good will from one Yuletide to the next, was planted at Crete, Nebraska on April 23, 1923. The idea was originated by Mrs. B. G. Miller of Crete and was carried out under the auspices of the Children of the American Revolution. At the planting of the tree some 600 school children took part in the ceremony. Since the planting of the original tree, many cities throughout the United States and also in foreign countries have adopted the idea. In 1924 a living Christmas tree was planted at the White House, and in 1925 such a tree was planted near the Treasury Building at Washington D. C., at the request of President Coolidge. These living Christmas trees are meant to be peace emblems and stand as a reminder that the Christmas spirit should be a living spirit throughout the year, rather than merely one for a season. The honor of starting and spreading this world-wide idea belongs to Nebraska.

Grace M. E. Church Of Brenna Closed

Grace M. E. Church, for more than forty years the religious and social center of Brenna precinct, has been closed, the membership transferred, and the building advertised for sale. The church was built in 1889 on the building site located about seven miles southwest of Wayne on a corner of the farm owned by H. J. Hyatt who gave it for that purpose.

Before the church was built, Sunday school was held in the Moses school house. Occasionally the minister from Wayne came out to hold services. The school house was named for Judge H. H. Moses, and Brenna precinct for his only daughter, Brenna. A few years later the Grace church building was erected. The founders and first subscribers of the church were: William Benshoof, P. W. Oman, Joseph Gray, C. E. Benshoof, Perry and Fred Benshoof, Robert Perrin, Charles and William Gildersleeve, Ed. Rennie, James Baird, Hiram Oman, and Archie Lindsay. The Rev. William Grost of Wayne was the first minister. For a number of years the Grace church was affiliated with the M. E. churches of Wayne, Pilger, and latter at Winside.

Services were discontinued at the church four years ago, the membership going to the M. E. churches at Winside. A number of the members of the Grace church were received into M. E. church at Wayne Sunday, Dec. 8.

A Few Tips About That Troublesome Hog Flu

Hog flu is no more mysterious than a bad cold in a human being, although one often finds it difficult to account for "taking cold." If a person is exposed to wet, cold weather, especially when he is not quite up to normal physically, he is very apt to take cold. Sitting in a draft may, and often does, bring on a severe cold. The same thing is true of hogs.

If a bunch of hogs are allowed to sleep in a damp, drafty hog house, flu is almost certain to appear in the herd. If the hogs are left in such quarters when the flu does appear, they get worse and may develop a very severe case requiring weeks to overcome. On the other hand, if the hogs are given dry, well bedded, well ventilated sleeping quarters, and are kept housed during storms and cold rains, the disease may be overcome in a short time. If one will look upon flu in hogs in the same manner that he looks upon a cold in a human being, and will treat it with the same common sense as soon as it is detected, there will be little loss usually from this ailment. Often the feeding of a laxative ration and cutting down the amount of feed for a few days will cure a mild case of flu when it is attended to as soon as noticed. Dry, well bedded quarters should always be provided, especially when flu puts in its appearance.

Some farmers think hog flu is contagious, but no one has been able ever to give a healthy hog flu by transference from one affected with the disease. The fact that different members of the herd come down with it gradually rather than all at once is more likely due to the fact that some hogs have more natural resistance than others, or to the fact that one section of the hoghouse is wetter or more drafty than another. Something of this sort is quite sufficient to cause a gradual spread of the disease throughout the herd.

"When the fifth grade visited the Wayne Herald office last week we saw a very interesting machine, which was used to print hand bills. Two little hands did most of the work. There was a stack of papers ready to be used for bills. One of the hands would come and suck the paper. It would then take it to be printed. Another hand would come and pile it up in a neat pile. It would go until the whole stack of paper was used. Whenever the hand could not get any paper it would ring a bell. The machine seemed almost human."

Geraldine Gamble wrote the next best discussion on "The Supply of Paper." It is as follows:

"When we visited the printing office we were then taken to the basement where the paper was. There we saw many huge rolls of paper, each weighing around 1,110 pounds. We were told that one pound cost 7 cents so we figured that on roll would cost $77.00. The basement was filled with these rolls. It was said that there was about one carload there. Mr. Trumbauer, the man that showed us around, said that one carload would last about eleven months."

Fourth Grade

Pupils of the fourth grade absent last week because of small pox have all returned except one.

The entire grade is now working on Christmas decorations and gifts for the parents of the students. The reading and language classes correlating, are gathering Christmas stories to be read before the classes by different individuals.

Third Grade

Pupils of the third grade are preparing for a Christmas program. A decorated tree will be in the room for the program. The room is decorated with Santa Claus and wise men posters. The pupils drew names for presenting the gifts.

The pupils have army drills at recess. Jean Mines and Marion Vath are captains.

ORPHEUM THEATRE

The New Orpheum Theatre of Sioux City will celebrate its second birthday anniversary, starting with the week of December 21st. We have been very particular in selecting our show for this week and will offer two outstanding programs of R. K. O. vaudeville and pictures. For the first three days, beginning Saturday, December 21st, we are presenting the all dialogue comedy drama "Tanned Legs" featuring Ann Pennington, Arthur Lake, Sally Blane and in all star cast. This is one of Radio Pictures outstanding pictures of the season. In conjunction with the all talking screen attraction, we are offering five Greater acts of R. K. O. vaudeville.

"Footlights and Fools", the attraction to be shown the last four days of the week beginning Tuesday, has been halled by competent critics to be the finest picture of Colleen Moore's successful career and is expected to prove one of the most popular attractions ever to be shown on a local screen.

An imposing group of players have been selected for the cast of this sparkling comedy drama, among them being such noted stars as Frederic March who will be remembered for his excellent work in "The Dummy"; and Raymond Hackett whose recent successes have carried him to the front ranks of screen players. The story of the picture moves quickly and easily and it retains the interest of the spectator throughout.

Remember, a slice of Birthday Cake to every lady during our Anniversary Week—adv. 11.

It seems strange to talk of religion with no mention of "sin". But to ignore sin is one of the peculiarities of the day. The Rev. Dr. Shelton, head of the National Bible Institute, observes that sin is mentioned only once in forty-one New York sermons.

More than 350 thousand tons of tobacco are consumed in the United States each year. It carries a heavy tax that the government receives $1.51 to every $1 received by the farmer that raises it. Nearly 1 1/2 billion dollars a year is spent for tobacco in the United States.

IS THERE A SANTA CLAUS?

FRANCIS Pharellus Church answered the above question in a classic editorial published for the first time in The Sun in New York City on September 21, 1897, and reprinted in the Sun every Christmas season since that year. So kindly and beautiful was his answer that we are publishing it here in full:

"We take pleasure in answering at once and thus prominently the communication below, expressing at the same time our great gratification that its faithful author is numbered among the friends of The Sun:

"Dear Editor—I am 8 years old. Some of my little friends say there is no SANTA CLAUS. Papa says 'If you see it in THE SUN it's so.' Please tell me the truth, is there a SANTA CLAUS?"

"Virginia O'Hanlon, '115 West Ninety-fifth street.'

"Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they exist, and you know that they are abounding in your life itself. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

"Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

"You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the youngest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernatural beauty and glory beyond. It is all real; Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

"No Santa Claus! Thank God! he lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

Real Food, Too

A most convincing thing to the mind of childhood, in addition to the presents, is Christmas dinner. If there were no Santa Claus, would grave and serious minded grown-ups go to all the trouble of getting up and serving a meal like that in the following menu for eight?

Holly Berry Cocktail
Roast Stuffed Goose
Cider and Apple Ice
Mashed Potatoes
Onions with Beet Stuffing
Broccoli Hollandaise
Orange, Pecan and Pimiento Salad
Steamed Chocolate Pudding
Raisin and Nut Sauce
Mints Coffee Stuffed Dates

And here are the recipes for this real food:

Sauce for the Goose

Holly Berry Cocktail: Drain a can of rose or love apples, and chill throughly. Mix the contents of a 6 1/2-ounce can of crabmeat with one-half cup of thinly sliced celery, moisten with French dressing and stuff into the love apples. Arrange holly leaves in the form of a wreath on small plates, and place a stuffed apple in the center of each. Cover the tops of the apples with finely minced parsley.

Cider and Apple Ice: Mix together one 11-ounce can of apple sauce, two and one-half cups of cider, one-third cup of sugar and two tablespoons of lemon juice. Soak one teaspoon of gelatin in four tablespoons of cold water, then melt over hot water and add to the above mixture. Freeze to a mush, add one beaten egg white, and then freeze hard. Serve with the goose.

Onions with Beet Stuffing: Skin eight medium Spanish onions, boil till nearly tender, drain, cool and then remove centers, leaving a thin cup. Chop onion centers, add the contents of an 8-ounce can of diced beets, and one cup of dry crumbs browned in four tablespoons of butter. Stuff the onion cups with this mixture and cover with more buttered crumbs. Surround the onions in a baking dish with stock, or water with chicken bouillon cubes, and bake in a moderate (375°) oven for 45 minutes, or till tender. Baste occasionally.

Salad and Desserts

Orange, Pecan and Pimiento Salad: Cut the skins from California oranges, removing all trace of white fibre. Slice fairly thin, and arrange three overlapping slices in a circle in a nest of lettuce. Place several pecan meats in the center, and radiate strips of pimiento from the center out. Pour over French dressing.

Steamed Chocolate Pudding: Cream two tablespoons of butter with one-half cup of sugar, and add one well-beaten egg. Add one and a quarter squares of melted chocolate. Sift together one and one-eighth cups of flour, two teaspoons of baking powder and one-eighth teaspoon of salt, and add alternately with a combination of one-fourth cup of evaporated milk and one-fourth cup of water. Pour into a well-greased tube cake tin or a pudding mold, and cover tightly with an oiled paper or a regular cover. Steam one and a half hours. Turn out and serve with the following:

Raisin and Nut Sauce: Cook one-half cup of seedless raisins in one cup of water until they are plump and the water is entirely absorbed. Cream one-half cup butter with two cups of confectioner's sugar. Mix until smooth one tablespoon of flour and one tablespoon of water, add one cup of boiling water, and cook till thick and creamy. Then add this mixture to the creamed butter and sugar, add the raisins and one-half cup of chopped vacuum packed walnuts, and flavor as desired with brandy flavoring or vanilla.
