DISTRICT COURT SESSION DELAYED BY ACCIDENT

Defendant in Lawsuit Injured and Unable to Appear When Case is Called

TWO OTHER CASES ARE SETTLED

There has been a temporary halt in the proceedings of the present session of district court due to the inability of the defendant in an action called for trial Monday morning. Carl H. Leonard, defendant in an suit brought against him for payment of a note, was injured last Saturday when he fell from a load of hay, striking his head. He was unable to appear in court when the case was called for trial last Monday and the session has been held up pending his appearance.

Two other cases took up the major portion of last week's session: Weber vs. Transcontinental Oil Co., was a counter claim brought against the oil company for a claim rendered by them. He claimed a shortage in the amount of oil sold him and asked to have the claim against him modified accordingly. Weber was allowed a claim for shortages in the amount of $250 and required to pay a balance to the oil company of $55.

Fisher vs. Savidge involving suit for payment of repairs in a building owned by Walter Savidge has been taken under advisement by the court. C. A. Schultz, who occupied the building in question it was alleged, had ordered a minor improvement in the building. Savidge, the owner, who was billed for the expense involved, claiming that he had not ordered the work refused to pay and the case was brought in court to determine whether or not he should be required to pay.

Setting Good Example Stressed By Kiwanis Gov.

The importance of setting a good example was stressed by the District Governor of Kiwanis clubs Herman M. Knudson of Mason City, Iowa at a divisional conference of Kiwanis officials held at Norfolk last Monday. It is natural for the youth of today to govern their standards of thought and action by their elders and those whom they have been taught to look up to. In a like manner it was equally important that Kiwanians, who through their club activities in behalf of their communities, are looked up to as men of consequence, that they set a good example to the rising generation, for the good or bad example they set is reflected in the youth.

At the same session, held at the luncheon hour of the meeting, J. H. Kemp, as chairman of the District Committee on Kiwanis education, gave a brief talk relative to the work his committee is looking after.

At the afternoon session, led by Lieutenant Governor J. A. Brown of Norfolk, Governor Knudson spoke on the subject of "Kiwanis Program for 1930" and J. H. Kemp on "Kiwanis Objectives for 1930."

The conference was attended by First Division club presidents, club secretaries, district trustees serving on committees of agriculture membership and education.

Representatives from the local club in attendance were J. C. Nuss, district trustee, T. S. Hook, secretary of the local club and Fred Blair.

The district represented at the conference is made up of the North Platte territory extending from Omaha to Chadron.

Former Court Reporter Passes Away At Neligh

Many local residents of this vicinity will have with regret the passing of O. A. Williams, who for a number of years served as court reporter in this district. Mr. Williams passed away at his home at Neligh last Monday evening following a stroke.

Mr. Williams served as court reporter under Judges Robinson, Cones and Boyd and spent most of his time while serving in that capacity at Wayne. For the past twenty years he has been practicing law at Neligh. He enjoyed a wide practice and was considered among the most prominent attorneys of the northeastern part of this state.

He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Rae Belden. The date of the funeral has not been set at this writing as arrangements are being postponed pending word from Mrs. Belden who is visiting at present in the Pacific Coast states.

PIONEER WAYNE COUNTY PASSES

Edward Miller, Pioneer of Early Days in Nebraska, Dies at His Home in Winside Wednesday.

Edward B. Miller passed away at his home in Winside Wednesday morning, January 15, at 8:00 a. m., following an illness of three weeks.

Edward Benjamin Miller was born in Schurwing, West Prussia, Germany, Sept. 17, 1851, and died at his home in Winside January 15, 1930, having attained the age of 78 years, 3 months, and 28 days. In 1881 he came to the United States and lived for a time with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Paul at Hadar. He was married in July 1881 to Miss Bertha Brenstrauch of La Porte. To this union eight children were born, four sons and four daughters. In 1883, Mr. and Mrs. Miller moved to a homestead four miles east of Hoskins, (known as the Otto place) where they lived five years and moved again in 1888 to their farm six miles south of Winside. Here they resided 35 years and moved to their home at Winside in February 1923.

Mr. Miller came to Nebraska in the early days when the country was new, proving up on his homestead and enduring the many privations of early pioneer life. By hard work and earnest toil he made a comfortable living and did his part in building up this part of the country.

He leaves to mourn his departure, his wife, Mrs. Bertha Miller; four sons, Hugo, Arthur, Max, and Adolph Miller of Winside; and four daughters Mrs. Emma Harms, Miss Margaret Miller, and Mrs. Minnie Miller of Winside and Mrs. Schutt of Tilden. One sister, Mrs. Peter Withwer of Clearwater and eighteen grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at the home at 1:00 o'clock and at the St. Paul's Lutheran church, of which he was an active member, at 1:30 o'clock, the Rev. H. A. Hilpert, in charge. Interment was made in the Pleasant View cemetery.

He is in the sixth grade this year and his playmates and fellow pupils miss him.

Lou. M. Owen Passes Away at Home Monday Following a Short Illness

Attack of Pneumonia and Puerisly Fatal to Prominent Wayne Resident—He But a Week.

FUNERAL SERVICES THURSDAY

L. M. Owen, resident of the Wayne vicinity for the past thirty years, passed away at his home in this city last Monday afternoon. Death was due to a complication of pneumonia and puerisly with which he had been afflicted but a few days, being taken ill the Tuesday previous.

His condition was not considered grave until a couple of days before his death. His son Le Roy, residing at Los Angeles, Calif., was notified as soon as the seriousness of Mr. Owen's illness became apparent, and left immediately for Wayne, hoping to see his father before he had passed on, but this wish was denied him as his father passed away the day before his arrival here.

While the community in general was aware of the fact that Mr. Owen was seriously ill, his sudden passing comes as a surprise and shock to his friends. They find it hard to realize that he, who but a few days ago was active in his business affairs and in the best of health, had been stricken.

Mr. Owen was born at Kaneville, April 19, 1864. His parents, J. E. and Katherine Owen, were Welsh people who had emigrated from their native country a few years prior to his birth.

He grew to manhood in his home town and in March, 1890, was married to Amanda Rose Miner, who with their one son, LeRoy, survives him.

In 1900 the family came to Nebraska to the Wayne vicinity, where they have resided since. Mr. Owen engaged in farming, specializing in livestock, in which activity he has been unusually successful. Although actively engaged in business affairs and deeply attached to his home life, he was never too deeply engaged to take an active interest in the affairs of his community and to do his full share and more in the promotion of its welfare. Included in his services to the community were three terms, from 1920 to 1924, as a member of the city council.

Surviving him, besides Mrs. Owen and their son, are brothers John of Omaha, Henry of Denver, Will, of Long Beach, Calif., and Frank, of Ashton, Idaho; and one sister, Nellie Dorsett Hull of Ovid, Colorado. Mr. John Owen and Mrs. Hull are here to attend the funeral. Dr. Elmer A. Miner, a brother of Mrs. Owen, also arrived to be in attendance.

He was a man of social inclinations whose friendly relations were not confined to any set or organization. He was a member of the Eiks and Modern Woodman lodges.

Funeral services will be held at the M. E. church this afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, Rev. W. W. Whitman officiating, and the following will serve as pall bearers: Lambert Roe, Harry Jones, Roy Jeffries, Fred Berry, John Hufford, J. S. Ringland, Warren Shulthies and L. W. McNatt. The burial will take place at the Greenwood cemetery.

Prof. S. X. Cross Now Home and Improving

Mr. Cross is getting along splendidly. He and his family have resided in Wayne several years, during which time they have won many friends in the community and college student body who are joyful over the news that he is getting along so well, and earnestly hope for his speedy recovery and return to health. Until he was taken ill, Mr. Cross taught in the English department at the college here.

AIR CADET ORGANIZATION TO BE FORMED

"Young Lindys" of Wayne Will Have Opportunity to Learn How Flying is Done.

ORDER IS OF NATIONAL SCOPE

A meeting for the purpose of organizing an air cadet chapter in the Wayne vicinity has been set for Friday evening with J. E. Huntmer presiding.

The meeting, Mr. Huntmer announced, is open to all boys of the community interested in aviation and judging by the universal interest that is manifest in that subject, there should be a 100 per cent attendance.

Chapters of the same nature as the one being sponsored in Wayne, are being organized all over the country. The movement has the advancement of aviation as its primary object with the view of acquainting the youth of the nation with principles involved in this great subject.

Membership in this organization will be open to all boys under 21 years of age. A nominal membership fee will be charged and the newly enrolled cadet will be assigned the initial classification known as the "greased monkey rank."

Like the Boy Scout organization the Air Cadets will offer opportunities for advancement into the ranks of the organization with the rank of "Ace" as the ultimate objective to be sought. Construction and competition of small flying models will take up the attention of the cadets, in the beginning, but as the cadets develop in their knowledge of the subject, other interesting phases will be studied and developed.

But the Wayne Chapter will not confine its activities to the building of miniature airplanes. If sufficient interest is displayed by the boys, the officials announced, junior "Wayne fliers" will graduate from models to the building of full-sized gliders.

Through gliders, designed and constructed on the same principles as airplane but lacking power plants, the boys will be able to fly themselves and get the sort of training which will fit them to become future aviators.

Colson Hatchery Has A New Illuminated Sign

The Colson Hatchery here put up a fine new illuminated sign this week. It is another one of the brilliant, red Neon signs, and shows the word, HATCHERY, in large illuminated red letters placed vertically on the order of the new Chevrolet sign put up a few weeks ago. Horizontally across the top of the sign is the name, COLSON, in illuminated letters that are a sort of a midnight blue in color, making the letters appear as if they were transparent and one were looking through them into a beautiful night sky. It is a beautiful sign and another great improvement on Main street. A few more of these signs will make Wayne resemble a city of much larger population.

The Hatchery started its first setting this week Tuesday, setting 4,200 eggs.

Kiwanis Will Have Ladies Night Jan. 31

The local team starts the season with bright prospects for a successful season. In their practice games they have shown speed and ability believed by many to be superior to that of any team that has represented the school in years.

MERCURY DROP CAUSES WORRY

Low Water Pressure in North Part of Town Cause of Concern to City Water Department.

Brrrr, it's cold! The Wayne vicinity, in common with the northwest in general has been in the grip of a cold spell of more than usual severity the past four or five days.

Plumbers have come to their own as the most important persons in the community by reason of the facts that burst water pipes and plumbing and their offices have been beset with calls for help that have come in numbers faster than they could handle them.

The city light and water department have also had more than their share of problems as some leak in the mains, not as yet located has caused a loss of water pressure that was keenly felt in the northern part of town.

The cold wave followed in the wake of snowy weather that has persisted for the past ten days. The heavy fall of snow has blocked the traffic along the lesser traveled roads and numerous calls to garages to bring in stalled cars have kept auto servicemen busy. Little difficulty has been encountered along the main highways where the highways have been cleared after each snow fall.

WAYNE DEFEATS NORFOLK IN VERY FAST GAME

Norfolk's Panthers Rally And Erase a 7 Point Wayne Lead; Then Bow to a 22 to 21 Defeat.

WAYNE RESERVES VICTORIOUS

After a brilliant start in which they wiped out a 7 point lead of the Wayne delegation the Norfolk basketball team went down in defeat at the hands of the local team at Norfolk last Friday night, to the score of 22 to 21.

As a result of this defeat and the 13-9 victory which Wayne reserves took from Norfolk's second team Norfolk realizes that Wayne basketballers are not to be trifled with.

The regulars' scrap was a thrilling battle from the very beginning. There was very little scoring in the first half, at the end of which Wayne held the lead of a 7-6 count. Wayne broke through Norfolk's weak defense, sweeping to the front in the third quarter, holding a 4-point lead at the start of the curtain period.

After Wayne had gained a lead of 7 points, Norfolk's marksmen found the target and blotted out Wayne's lead, but with only about five minutes to go it was anybody's game, and just as the Panthers thought they had a victory tucked away the last ball rang only to announce another victory for the invincible Wayne basketball producers.

The third quarter ended with the score of 14 to 10 in favor of Wayne. With the beginning of the sensational fourth quarter, F. Dowling registered a point, and Perry countered a couple of points giving Wayne a margin of 7 points.

Norfolk, with Kuhn and Ellis doing the scoring, made a brave effort to rally, Kuhn finally tying Wayne's score, scoring three field goals in succession. Ennis put up a game battle with the Wayne guards and finally gained possession of the ball and shot the hoop, giving Norfolk the lead in a 18-18 score. The lead was for an instant only, Perry covering it with a two-pointer. F. Dowling again caught the Panther's defense napping and scored on a set up.

At this point Ennis found the basket, bringing forth a cheer from the crowd, but his effort to repeat, Perry's effort to locate the basket failed thereby passing up the Panthers last chance to win.

Norfolk's star plays were made by Ennis and Kuhn, while F. Dowling lead Wayne's offensive, and Sand and Bressler brought home the bacon. Kuhn scored 12 of Norfolk's points, Ennis accounted for the other 9 for Norfolk.

F. Dowling gathered in 8 points for the local team while Perry accounted for 5.

Norfolk was charged with seven miscues, while only one foul was called on Wayne. Norfolk's reserves had no better luck in their efforts to overcome an early lead which Wayne's second quintet had tucked away before the Norfolkans knew what it was all about, and lost another interesting game, which was the curtain raiser of the evening frolic. Lee Reynolds led Norfolk scoring, while Hicks with 8 points to his credit led the local team. Dennis' work for Wayne also deserves special credit while Abood and Schertreger played good games for the losers.

State Road Program Exceeds Previous Years

Engineer Cochran told The Nebraska chapter, Associated General Contractors of America at its third annual convention, Thursday of last week, at the Paxton hotel that the total revenue expected by the state for road purposes this year is $7,250,000 of this amount $3,250,000 will be required for maintenance, leaving about $4,000,000 of state fund for construction. In addition, Nebraska expects to meet during the year about $2,250,000 for federal aid, bringing the total for construction up to the six and a quarter million mark, more than in any other previous year. We will be able to pave a little more than one hundred miles this year in Nebraska by increasing the amount available for paving, from other funds.

Eighty-nine miles of paving were contracted for in 1929, and we expect to have paved at least two hundred miles during 1929 and 1930, in addition, Nebraska will gravel about six hundred miles of roads this year, and will construct many bridges and culverts, besides grading many other roads, Cochran stated.

Arrangements for the meeting were made by Emil Von Seggern of West Point, president of the association, and by J. P. O'Furey of Hartington, secretary. The vice president of the organization is D. C. Free Tuition For Boys In Agricultural College

Boys under twenty-one years of age living in rural school districts and who have not graduated from high school are entitled to free high school tuition, books, etc. in short courses at the agricultural college in Lincoln. State superintendent of public schools Chas. W. Taylor recently sent that ruling to the agricultural college officials.

This announcement from Mr. Taylor will undoubtedly affect the enrollment in the second half of the 1929-30 farm operators' course which starts January 27. H. K. Douthit, supervisor, says.

Courses are so planned that a boy may enter either term or both in the farm operators course the same year. Practically all the young men now enrolled in the first term will continue in the second term, they say, and Mr. Douthit has heard from a number who say they will come in if their tuition, books and other incidental expenses are paid.

The second term of the auto-tractor course starts the same Monday, January 27. It will last only four weeks, third term will start at that time and last four weeks more. Twenty-five boys will be enrolled in each course, according to Mr. Douthit. Neither term is filled yet.

In the farm operators course the boys are going to study the second term such subjects as breeding and feeding livestock, butchering, crops, animal diseases, farm management, farm accounts, poultry management, farm motors, and cooperative marketing, orchards and gardens.

In the auto-tractor course they actually work with gas engines, autos, and tractors about nine hours a day. A little of the time may be spent in study of books, but most of it is actual practice. Many boys who have completed past short courses of this kind now operate their farm engines, tractors, and autos and do their own repair work. Seventy-five boys have had the course each winter now for several years and practically all of them have gone back to the farm.

Anniversary Of Boy Scouts Of America

The Boy Scouts of America will celebrate its twentieth anniversary February 7th to 13th, with emphasis upon its actual birthday date, February 8th.

The organization of Boy Scouts was started in England in 1908 by General Lord Robert Baden-Powell of Gilwell.

The purpose of the movement has been character building and citizenship training for boys through activities based upon the legends of knight-hood, chivalry and the lore of the plainsman and of the Indian.

The imagination of boys was fired by the Baden-Powell program and three years after the movement got under way in England, the message of scouting had spread to America. Here it has grown with great rapidity and today there are nearly 825,000 boys and leaders in the United States, who have as their principal aim better American citizenship.

The Norfolk firemen made the trip to Battle Creek with the big fire truck Tuesday afternoon last week in fourteen minutes, in spite of stormy weather and none-to-good roads, and fought valiantly, though covered with ice, to prevent the spread of the disastrous flames which destroyed several Battle Creek business houses. Any one will agree that making the twelve-mile drive to Battle Creek in fourteen minutes in stormy weather is excellent time. Fire loss no doubt would have been greater had it not been for the co-operation of the Norfolk, Meadow Grove, and Tilden fire departments with the Battle Creek firemen.

MOTORING HAZARDS

WILL BE REMOVED

V. W. Marquis, district engineer, for the Norfolk district, in speaking of some road improvements that are slated for that vicinity during the coming season stated, that two narrow bridges about two and a half miles west of Stanton on the main highway, which have been the scenes of several bad accidents, would be removed during the early summer months. These bridges will be replaced with concrete box culverts which will stretch the full width of the highway, thus eliminating the hazard provided by the present structures.

Further effort to reduce the hazards of narrow bridges will be made as soon as the first break in the present cold weather comes. Red reflectors are to be placed on the banisters of such bridges as a warning to motorists.

Narrow bridges in Eastern Nebraska have become a hazard that has taken a heavy toll of fatal accidents from motorists in the past few years and any news of improving the present condition is received with great rejoicing by the motoring public.

BLAMED FOR DELINQUENCY

M. M. Jollars, Secretary of the state welfare department who addressed the Lincoln social service club last Thursday placed the responsibility for Nebraska's delinquency squarely upon the indifference of the adult population of our state.

He said, "Nebraska is loafing upon the job of keeping children from crime, while other states try to put a stop to childhood pranks before they reach a more serious stage. Nebraska lets matters run along until the boy or girl is a fit reform school project. As a result, Nebraska is third in its juvenile institution population."

About 75 cars of corn were shipped out of Stanton in December. Up to January 15, nearly 30 cars have been shipped this year. The Stanton county corn crop was exceptionally good.

CATTLE TUBERCULOSIS SHOW A GENERAL DECLINE

The following extracts from Harry Boyts, live stock commissioner of Sioux City annual report shows great progress in live stock tuberculosis eradication in the past few years. Almost five times as many cattle were retained for tuberculosis at the Sioux City market fourteen years ago as were found to be tuberculous in the fall of 1929. There has been a gradual decline in the amount of tuberculosis in cattle, as TB testing in this area has progressed. In 1929 only 1.0% of all cattle slaughtered at Sioux City was retained for tuberculosis.

The percentage of tuberculous hogs has also decreased with the removal of diseased cattle in the territory. In the fiscal year 1922 over 19% of Sioux City hogs were retained for tuberculosis while the past fiscal year the percentage dropped to 12. Over 50,000 tattooed hogs from accredited counties showed less than six per cent tuberculosis in 1929. At Sioux City and South Dakota markets, the premium on accredited county hogs has now amounted to $192,324.60.

That testing of cattle and removal of reactors is greatly reducing tuberculosis is also shown by the percentage of reactors. Cattle tested in Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota during the fiscal years 1917 to 1924 revealed 3.7% as reactors, while only 1.2% of all cattle tested during the last fiscal year reacted.

During the fiscal year 1929, owners of reactors in Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota received an average of $88.45 for them. This includes market salvage and state and federal indemnities.

The most important development in the Sioux City area during 1929 for tuberculosis eradication, was the passage of Iowa's state-wide testing law by a large majority of both the Senate and House. As a result of this the eight remaining untested counties of Northwestern Iowa have all made levies for testing. Part of those counties will be tested the first part of 1930.

There have been 250,960 tattooed hogs marketed by farmers having 3316 registered brands; in every case where hogs were retained for tuberculosis, farmers were notified by letter.

The number of premium hogs from Miner County has increased each year. During 1929, four times as many tattooed hogs were marketed as were sold as premium hogs in 1924.

A Poultry Improvement Committee representing farmers, County agents, poultry packers, hatchery men and the Live Stock Sanitary Board was formed. Encouragements will be given to furthering poultry sanitation and the marketing of old birds.

Meetings, personal calls on farmers, business men, and health officers, news articles, and special pamphlets have been the means of calling attention to the program of tuberculosis eradication.

During 1930, the county area method of testing cattle should be more generally extended in South Dakota. The thorough plan of tuberculin testing will be a direct benefit to the live stock industry of the state and it is necessary for public health.

"I could never express the loveliness of the Washington estate as it is kept up by the D. A. R.—A shrine to the first president. No one can imagine it until he sees it for himself." So are the impressions of Mrs. Maun in regard to her delightful trip.

4-H CLUB DEVELOPE

FUTURE FARMERS

The 4-H Club is Doing a Great Work in Training Nebraska's Future Farmers and Farmerettes.

There were enrolled in the 4-H clubs of Nebraska in 1929 12,500 boys and girls. These are the farmers and farmerettes of the next generation to whom, because of their training and early experience, the people of this state look with confidence to solve some of the problems of the farm that have baffled their parents and grandparents.

Nebraska now proudly boasts that the enrollment of boys and girls in 4-H club work is greater than in any state in the corn belt. The increase of 1929 over 1928 in enrollment is 47 per cent, which rate of gain shows the rapidly increasing interest in club work.

Wayne county has an enrollment of 145 in the three clubs of the county, Wayne, Winside, and Hoskins. The calf club has a membership of 71. LeRoy Stamm is president, Donald Carlsson, vice president and Earnest Splittgerber is Sec. Treas. The sow and litter club is now being organized and will start to function about March 1. John Claycomb is president, Ralph Austin is vice president and Oliver Shields is Secretary-treasurer.

It is frequently remarked that the trained boys and girls of the farms, who will in a few years hence be the active farm managers, are the best assurance of "farm relief." Trained to select seed, to prepare good seed beds, to intelligently cultivate and harvest grain crops, to choose good farm animals, to feed them properly and to give farming that diversity it now demands to make it profitable, the young people of the 4-H clubs are the high lights in the picture of future agriculture.

These eager young people are also imparting new zest and interest to farm life. They are making the farm a proving ground for profitable experiments. They are solving for themselves the ancient problem of how to content the young people on the farms.

The work of the 4-H clubs is actively supported by the state university, the Nebraska board of agriculture, community clubs, school men and women and all persons who have come in contact with its ambitious program.

WANT YOUR LAST YEAR'S LICENSE NO?

Its Yours For the Asking if You Secure Your License Before February 1. Do you wish to have the same license number for your car that you had last year? It's yours for the asking, says Treasurer J. J. Steele, provided you apply for your license before February 1st. It takes most people the best part of a year to memorize their auto license numbers, Mr. Steele stated and for that reason many people are reluctant to change, and the treasurer's office is glad to accommodate any one in this respect, who make their desires known. Thus far 1950 licenses have been issued from the local treasurer's office and in the few days intervening between now and the first of next month the force is expecting to accommodate more than double this number of applicants. "Yes, you can have the same license number that you had last year if you make your application before Saturday of next week," said Mr. Steele. "And if you don't apply. Well, that's just too bad—for you."

"And another thing" said the treasurer while discussing matter bordering on the dark side of life, "this office sent out 1000 notices of delinquent personal tax notices. If those taxes are not paid by February 1, they will be subject to distress warrants issued from the Sheriff's office."

She visited here last year also and friends in the community were happy to have her with them again.

Norfolk and Wayne May Get Catholic Hospitals

Catholic hospitals at Norfolk and Wayne are included in the three year program announced by Bishop Joseph F. Rummel of the Omaha diocese. Improvements to the hospital at Columbus are also planned. Bishop Rummel expects soon to start a campaign for funds which, he estimates, will net from $500,000 to $1,000,000 in three years. The plan is to ask 10,000 wage earners to contribute 25c a week over that period. However, the whole proposition is as yet somewhat indefinite as all the six districts in the diocese must vote approval of the entire program before it can be undertaken. BANK GUARANTEE FUND

Since the meeting of the state bankers in Lincoln a short time ago Governor Weaver has been urged by a number of legislators to call a special session to pass legislation to take care of the bank guarantee fund situation. The supreme court decision upholding the validity of the guarantee fund has caused considerable apprehension among the state banks as to the ability of the state banks to meet the regular assessments and the special assessments made by the banking commission. The amount now needed to meet the demands of the banking commission to reimburse depositors in the scores of failed banks will reach over $20,000,000. It is thought impossible for the state banks to raise this amount. Governor Weaver is quoted as contending that the raising of this money is a moral obligation of the state as people deposited their money in state bank with the understanding that the state guaranteed the safety of these banks. This is, of course, not literally true for the guarantee fund is simply a plan whereby the state supervised the assessment of money from state banks to take care of the deposits of the people in banks that might fail. The banks provided the guarantee fund for the assistance of each other somewhat the same as a mutual insurance organization acts. The state never made any appropriation for this purpose.

CATTLE ABORTION CANNOT BE CURED

Through Good Sanitation Eradication Is Possible.

Cattle abortion cannot be cured, but it may be eradicated, according to Dr. H. J. Metzger of the New York state college of agriculture. Doctor Metzger recommends as a means of stamping out the disease the blood test and the isolation of infected animals. "The complete eradication of abortion disease from the cattle herds is possible, and it would mean stopping a serious source of loss to the dairy men of the state," he says.

No cure for abortion is known, according to Doctor Metzger, and the purchase of any drug or stock tonic as a cure is a waste of money. The blood test will detect the presence of the Bang abortion disease, and then the owner can take the measures which, through sanitation and prevention, will clear his herd of the disease.

Doctor Metzger recommends complete isolation of the diseased animal, complete cleanliness, and the rearing of all animals on the farm to keep from re-infecting a clean herd. A more complete discussion is given in a new bulletin, just written by Doctor Metzger and published by the college, which will be sent free of charge to anyone who will write to the college of agriculture at Ithaca and ask for bulletin E 182.

Control Hog Cholera by Preventive Means

Hog cholera has no cure and must be controlled by prevention. The disease is caused by an organism which can live a year or two outside of the animal's body. These organisms are found in almost all tissues of, and in all discharges from, the body of the diseased hog. Cholera may be spread in many ways. The germ may be carried on one's shoes or by animals, in infected straw or litter, or streams of water. All dead hogs should be burned or buried deeply. Do not go near a neighbor's sick hogs; they may have cholera.

Vaccination prevents the disease. When vaccination is properly performed the animal passes through a mild attack or form of cholera which immunizes it against the disease for life. A small amount of virus, injected into the pig, causes the disease. At the same time, enough hog cholera serum is injected to protect the animal against the disease.

Hundred-Pound Shote Needs Plenty of Feed

A few years ago the Kansas station started some weanling pigs on alfalfa pasture with a view to determining the amount of corn and tankage required to bring them up to 100 pounds weight.

The heavier pigs, weighing about 52 pounds at the beginning, required 90 days to reach 105 pounds weight; the lighter pigs weighing 43 pounds required 120 days to reach 102 pounds. Averaging all the groups it required 153 pounds corn and 14.4 pounds tankage per pig to reach the weights stated. The average daily gain was 0.54 pound per pig.

Buying Ewes Requires Practical Knowledge

Buying ewes requires an understanding of the factors which make a ewe profitable. In general, the best ewes from the practical standpoint are the ones that will produce a good percentage of lambs, nurse them well and shear good fleeces. Constitution and health therefore are first essentials in the ewe. Very good mutton form is much less important in the ewe than in the she. While the form of the ewe is important, it is of less significance as a rule than constitution and thrift, and milking and shearing qualities.

Provide Exercise to Keep Boar in Shape

You cannot raise a strong active boar without exercise. Neither can you keep him in shape for service without exercise. As a rule, if on pasture, a boar will take plenty of exercise; but, if he does not, make him. Drive him around the pasture several times a day, if necessary. A good plan is to have the shelter at one end and the feed troughs at the other end of the pasture. Exercise tends to prevent the laying on of excessive fat and assists in developing stamina and vigor which are necessary, if your boar is to sire large litters of strong, vigorous pigs.

Mineral Is Needed

A ration is no better than the weakest element in it. Fortunately, most of our common combinations of feeds have sufficient mineral to supply the animal's need. As a rule, feeds rich in proteins are high in phosphorus, and when the feeding standards are complied with there is little need of supplementing minerals. However, when the ration is composed wholly of corn, as is usually the case in fattening hogs, a good mineral should be supplied to the animals.

Game of Polo Brought Eastward From Persia

Polo, the oldest of games played with stick and ball, was known to the ancient Persians 2,400 years ago. From the dusty plains of Persia the game spread eastward through the Vale of Cashmere on to the tableland of Tibet, where it was christened polo from the Tibetan word, ball. Southeastward through Afghanistan, across the high passes of the Himalayas down to the sunny plains of India, it journeyed, where, throughout the sixteenth century it was the favorite sport of the people.

For 200 years after this, its records in India cease, but it again became popular there about the middle of the Nineteenth century. Polo was first played in England in 1869 and a few years later it was adopted by other European countries, when many of its ancient rules were altered and improved. Thus established in an English-speaking country, the game quickly crossed the Atlantic, where under clearer skies it swiftly traversed the American continent in a westward chase that did not end with the shores of the land of the sunset, but, skipping the Pacific, established itself in Samoa and other far off western islands.

Poisoned Food Vainly Set Out to Kill Rats

Recently a well-known school teacher in a Lewis (Haber) public school told the following rat story: "Last spring a family of rats invaded his barn. To get rid of the undesirable visitors, he got a supply of a rat poison and spread it one night on the floor of the outhouse, thereafter locking the door to prevent any of his domestic animals entering and eating the food. Next morning, he found, to his amazement, the untouched food, covered over with a layer of chaff which was lying in a heap near at hand. He asked his wife if she had been to the barn, but was answered in the negative. However, on the following night he first removed the heap of chaff and put down the poisoned food as before. On the following morning he was further mystified to find the food still untouched, but on this occasion it was covered with a piece of old sacking which was lying in a corner of the premises. Next night the rats took their departure.

Grows Leaves at Will

After "sleep" of from 15 to 20 minutes a plant recently developed in Germany produces new leaves. So sensitive is it that if the leaves are touched, or a match burned near them, they immediately wither and fall off. In about a quarter of an hour after the withered leaves have dropped off new ones grow out. The plant is a member of the mimosa family. It grows in great quantities in India, where it is gathered and sold for commercial purposes. The bruised leaves are said to have a high medicinal value in healing burns. The roots of the plant are charred for gunpowder charcoal.

Tracing Words' Origin

The words check, checkmate, chess, cheque and chequer come to us through the Arabian from the Persian. The words avast, bow, boom, erulse, cruiser, gybe and keelhaul are reminders of England's maritime relations with the Dutch. The word finance goes right back to the Latin "finis" (end). When it first appeared in English it had the sense of a "fine" or forfeit, but its modern significance was developed in Eighteenth-century France among the taxfarmers or "financiers," as they were called, to whom the king delegated the duty of collecting his taxes.—Exchange.

Back to Remote Times

Some of our older and most English words contain buried vestiges of the lives once lived in the forests; as weary, which is traced back to an old verb meaning "to tramp over wet ground," and learn, which goes back to a root which meant "to follow a track." The words cotton, gazelle, graffe, masquerade, strap and taurine come from the Arabic via Spanish and French, while the names of settlements in eastern Europe. Test is an alchemist's word coming from the Latin "testa," an earthen pot in which the alchemist made his alloys.—Kansas City Times.

Pretty Lame Excuse

It looked as though the game warden had caught a hunter red-handed who produced his last year's license and admitted he had not obtained a new one. "But what's the idea of hunting with last year's license?" asked the warden. "Well, you see," stammered the hunter, thinking fast, "I was—er—I was just shooting at the birds I missed last year, you know."—Cupper's Weekly.

Sheriff Gets Orders

Some strange communications come daily to the desk of a sheriff. The following one arrived recently from a woman in a small Washington city: "Will you please go out and see how everything is in the house and how is the yard and fruit trees? Tell all windows in basement, also, and let me hear about the place. I left a box in the pantry with dishes in and furniture in other rooms and left a list of all."—Portland Oregonian.

Historic Records Show Jews as Fighting Race

It's a singular thing that people in general should hold so strongly to the idea that the Jew is one who practices the virtue, if it is a virtue, of non-resistance.

There is nothing in history to justify such a view and, indeed, everything to prove that he was no more meek than that turbulent, rebellious figure, Moses. That in the Middle Ages and, later, in Russia, he was massacred cruelly and completely and did not hit back was due to the fact that, having no weapons, he could be crushed by armed mobs and licensed soldiery.

Long before Napoleon placed Jews among his marshals the fighting quality of the race was known and praised. From the days of the Maccabees on there was no insurgent so much dreaded by the Roman as the people of that narrow littoral that lies between Syria and the Egyptian outposts. The story of the World war is full of the names of Jews in all the armies, and very certainly the British are not soon going to forget the gallant soldier from the Aztec forces who repeatedly swam ashore at Gallipoli and lighted flares on the beach to guide the incoming boat.—Louisville Herald Post.

Crows Appear Unable to Count Above Three

One writer says crows cannot count in Kent and another says they can in Staffordshire. Many years ago an old farmer in Queensland told me that they could count up to three. The crows ate his maize but kept away if he hid among it, so he tried going with a friend, who presently went back. The result was that the crows kept away. He tried going with two friends, who both went back. Result the same. But when he himself went back the crows at once returned to the maize. After many trials he concluded that they could only count up to three. If four or more men went into the maize and three came out again the crows went to the maize, and though many were shot the others never learned to count beyond three. I suppose crows are like men, some of whom never seem to learn how many beans make five.—London Times.

Three Forms of Honey

Honey may be had in three forms—In the comb, extracted and granulated, but only occasionally in the latter form. Before the passage of the pure food and drugs act much adulterated honey was offered for sale. When uninforming persons saw crystallized honey they often jumped to the conclusion that the presence of cane sugar was the cause of the granulation. To allay that suspicion the bottlers of honey heat it to about 145 degrees Fahrenheit and seal it in jars while heated, which greatly retards and in many cases prevents granulation. If it is desired to bring crystallized honey again to the liquid form, gentle heating in a water bath will give that result without in any way changing the character of the honey.

Furs Long Prized

Fur history carries the reader back 10,000 years, further indeed than there are records of its use. The Bible refers to Adam's and Eve's use of furs, and later to otter and badger skins used in the tabernacle. Queen Semiramis, 2,182 years before Christ, brought 8,000 tiger skins back to Babylon after an Indian campaign. The story of Jason and his quest for the Golden Fleece is nothing if not a chronicle of the furrier's trade. During the first 1,500 years of our era, Byzantium, or Constantinople as we call it now, was a fur center comparable to Leipzig, Germany, at present.

Don't Make a Toy Out of Baby Babies Have Nerves

Much of the nervousness in older children can be traced to the overstimulation during infancy, caused by regarding baby as a sort of animated toy for the amusement of parents, relatives and friends. Baby may be played with, but not for more than a quarter of an hour to an hour daily. Beyond that, being undressed, tickled, caused to laugh or even scream, will sometimes result in vomiting and invariably causes irritability, crying or sleeplessness. Restlessness, crying and sleeplessness from this cause can easily be avoided by treating baby with more consideration, but when you just can't see what is making baby restless or upset, better give him a few drops of pure, harmless Castoria. It's amazing to see how quickly it calms baby's nerves and soothes him to sleep; yet it contains no drugs or opiates. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper. Leading physicians prescribe it for colic, cholera, diarrhea, constipation, gas on stomach and bowels, feverishness, loss of sleep and all other "upsets" of babyhood. Over 25 million bottles used a year shows its overwhelming popularity. With each bottle of Castoria, you get a book on Motherhood, worth its weight in gold. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the package so you'll get genuine Castoria. There are many imitations.

Now the Flying Grocery

ALMOST everything has taken to flying, but it comes as a surprise to hear that even a grocery can now be found zooming around in the empyrean. Yet this modern version of the distribution of at least showing it not showering of manna has recently become an accomplished fact.

Manna from the Sky
One of the large manufacturers and distributors of canned foods has fitted out a tri-motored plane with a complete line of his products and is sending this flying grocery to every air port in the country. Salesmen accompany the ship to describe the contents to retailers at the various towns. Nothing is sold from this grocery, but the permanent shelving in the cabin holds a display of pickles, preserves, tea and coffee and full line of canned vegetables and fruits. Comfortable seats are arranged in the plane for passengers and large windows allow a view of the country over which the airplane passes.

The airplane is the latest model, Ford all-metal monoplane. According to "Canning Age," it is "a duplicate in design of the airplane used by the Transcontinental Air Transport as a 'flying office' for Colonel Lindbergh and Colonel Lamphier that used by Mrs. Lindbergh in her trip to Mexico in 1927, and of the plane now in use with Byrd's Antarctic Expedition."

While this flying grocery is not designed for selling, but rather for the display of foods, who knows how long it will be before airplanes will be bringing groceries to out-of-the-way communities at regular intervals? The rapid advances in aviation bring this well within the realm of possibility.*

Study Of Conditions Help Radio Reception

A recent study of radio conditions by the noted Dr. D. L. Hazard, reveals that static the bane of dial twisters the world over, may be forecast.

Predictions just like those for the weather, which would tell the radio listener what kind of reception to expect within a certain period, are now planned.

The prevalence of magnetic storms, which produce more or less static conditions, would be the basis for the forecasts.

A proposal that reports of daily magnetic disturbances be transmitted on short waves along with the weather forecast and seismic activities is to be made next August at the Stockholm meeting of the section on terrestrial magnetism and electricity of the International Geodetic and Geophysical society, according to an announcement of Dr. Hazard, assistant chief of the division of terrestrial magnetism and seismology of the United States coast and geodetic survey.

Dr. Hazard stated further that comparison of radio reception generally in the light of the magnetic storms would give science a guide for case of the disease likely to occur therein has completely recovered and is ready for disinfection, provided, however, that in case of extreme necessity one free from disease may be released earlier after thorough disinfection of person and clothing and with a certificate from the above medical advisor.

4. The necessities of life, as often as occasion demands may be carried within (30) feet of the quarantined house by a neighbor or other duly appointed messenger, but no nearer, nor shall any effects whatever be brought away from the household until thoroughly disinfected by the officer in charge.

5. In case of death from contagious disease there shall be no public funeral and the body of the diseased shall be closely wrapped in sheets well saturated with disinfectants and closed in a tight casket, (this to be again wrapped in a disinfected cloth, and in such cases the corpse shall not be carried to or near any body of people while on its way to the cemetery.

6. When in any school district or community several families, say five to eight are infected with contagious disease or very many exposures have occurred, the board of health may prohibit all gatherings of people in that community, including sessions of school until in their opinion the emergency is past.

7. All physicians should use due precaution in their visits to quarantined households to avoid the danger of contagion to the well.

8. When in the opinion of the medical advisor of the board of health, quarantine can be safely raised, it shall be done with fumigation with a 40% solution of formaldehyde, using at least five (5) ounces to each 1000 cubic feet of air space, solution to be applied by an approved evapor-radio receiver improvements to bring about better reception under all conditions.
