Wildcats Hope of Conf. Title Best in Years

Three Brilliant Victories Past Week Place Team in First Rank of State College Teams.

WIN OVER PERU IMPRESSIVE

Three splendid victories the past week have placed the Wayne Wildcats basketball team in the forefront among the fast collegiate basketball teams of this region and prospects of winning the state conference title are the brightest in the history of the Wayne Teachers college.

The victory over Peru on the Peru floor is especially significant, for it was the first time in the many years when these two colleges have met in basketball that Wayne came off the victor. Wayne won by a score of 34 to 28. As the score would indicate, the game was hotly contested, but from the very start it was clearly apparent that Wayne had Peru out-classed.

The first set of last week's tour was played at Omaha with the Omaha U. It became apparent after the first few minutes of play that the University team was no match for the Wildcats and Coach Hickman played his substitutes after the first quarter. The game ended by a score of 21 to 12.

Midland Game Fast

A barrage of distance shots in the last eight minutes of play gave Wayne's Wildcats 16 points and a 40-to-28 victory over Midland Thursday night. The victory was the first for a Wayne five in seven starts against a Midland quintet.

Week days: 8:00 to 12:00, 1:00 to 6:00.
Sundays: 9:00 to 10:00, 5:00 to 6:00.
During the time that the office is closed telegraph service will be available at the local depot the same as heretofore.

The uptown office will also provide other features such as an hourly clock service and telegraph gift service, features which could not be handled when the service was a part of the depot routine.

Firemen's Meet Was Like School

Interesting and Instructive Session Reported by Local Firemen Who Went as Delegates.

"It seemed more like a school session than a firemen's convention," said Chief Martin L. Ringer in commenting on the annual firemen's convention at Kearney last week which he and four other members of the local fire department attended.

It was strictly a business session, he said, in which practical instruction in meeting the emergencies that confront every department at some time or other, was given by men who have given years of thought and study to these problems.

Dr. George E. Condra of the University of Nebraska, had charge of the first short course scheduled, another short course was conducted by E. J. Stewart, chief engineer of the Kansas Inspection Bureau. Other speakers and lecturers at the convention were H. T. Callahan, chief of the Fort Dodge, Iowa, fire department; Harry K. Rogers, fire clown and engineer of the western actuarial bureau and Clarence Goldsmith, representing the engineering department of the national board of underwriters, Chicago.

The convention, however, was not devoted entirely to the business at hand. There were also several sessions of the meeting devoted solely to entertainment some furnished by the people of Kearney and some by the firemen themselves.

Arthur Johnson of Gothenburg, first vice president of the state organization, was elevated to the position of president. Scottsbluff was selected as the convention city for the next annual meeting. One important change in the matter of holding the convention was made in the selection of the time when the meeting will be held hereafter. The next convention will be held in October instead of January thus giving those attending the convention a better opportunity to make the trip by car.

Those from the local department to attend the convention were: Chief Martin L. Ringer, L. W. Vath, John Bingold, Harry Barnett, and B. F. Strahan.

Convention Visitors Address Kiwanians

Talks by Miss Jeanette Lewis and Merle Whitman concerning their recent trip to Detroit, Mich., where they attended as delegates a convention of the Anti-Saloon League, provided an interesting feature of last Monday's meeting of the Kiwanis club of Wayne.

These two young people, the former a local high school student and the other a student at the college, won their right to attend the convention through a local essay contest.

The young folks recounted the numerous interesting highlights of their trip and the sentiment predominating at the convention.

Two important matters taken up by the club at the meeting were the making of arrangements for the observance of Ladies Night by the club next Friday evening and the appointment of committees to take care of their meeting February 10 when they will be hosts to the local Boy Scout troops. Arrangements are practically completed, it was announced by General Chairman Committee McMaster, for the Ladies Night party. Special entertainment features are being provided, which includes a talk by C. E. Snyder, a prominent Kiwanian from Sioux City, Iowa.

Local Man Arrested On Statutory Charges

Virgil Holmes of this city was brought before Judge J. M. Cherry last Friday afternoon, to answer the serious charge of taking undue liberties with a sixteen year old girl.

The complaint, which is brought by the girl's father, is alleged to have happened at Lyons some time last August and the specific charge brought against Holmes is rape.

The accused waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the coming term of District Court. His bonds were set at $5000 and being unable to raise this amount he was committed to the county jail to await trial.

Children Must Attend School Regularly

Parents of Children Inexcusably Absent From School Required to Appear in Court and Answer.

20 CASES CONSIDERED IN JAN.

"Keep the children in school" is no mere catchy slogan in Wayne county. It is a stern injunction prescribed by the state of Nebraska in order to give every child a fair chance to get an education. County Superintendent Pearl E. Sewell and Judge J. M. Cherry are championing that sentiment in a way that is not to be misunderstood.

About a score of parents of Wayne county children have been summoned to appear before Judge Cherry since the first of the year and explain why their children have been absent from school for a period in excess of the 20 days permitted by law.

The school record of each child in the county under sixteen years of age is checked over at the county superintendent's office. Cases where a child has been absent for a period longer than the law allows are made special note of and an order to the parents to appear before the county judge and explain why the child has been allowed to remain out of school.

There are, of course, extenuating circumstances in most cases, for most parents realize the importance of an education for their children. But occasionally the excuses offered are considered insufficient to warrant the child's absence, and the parents are brought face to face with the serious realization that they have placed themselves liable to a fine of from $10 (continued on page five)

Kiwanis Will Be Host To Boy Scouts

Boy Scout Week, Jan. 10 to 17 will be observed by the local scout units with the opening feature a Boy Scout banquet sponsored by the Wayne Kiwanis on the evening of Monday, the 10. The program of this meeting, which will be announced at a later date will be presented by the Boy Scout members and their leaders.

Of special interest in connection with Boy Scout activities is the course in scouting given at the Wayne Teachers college. The course is open to students at the college and any Boy Scout leader who may wish to take advantage of the course.

Students taking the course are allowed a regular college credit and scout leaders are allowed credit with the National Boy Scout Headquarters.

Harry Heald, of the school faculty, is instructor in this course. The course will last through the college semester.

Prize Winning Corn On Exhibition Here

Evidence of Wayne County's ability to produce corn of a quality that can compete successfully with the best the country produces, is shown in a corn display in the window of the W. A. Hiscox Hardware store.

The display shows ten ears of corn raised by A. E. Bierman of Wisner, taken from the same patch as the ten ears which made him a conspicuous winner at the Golden Jubilee at Omaha and the International Livestock Show at Chicago last fall. The corn exhibit is made impressive by the display, along side of it, of three blue ribbons, one denoting first prize, yellow dent variety at International Livestock Exhibition; and the other two prizes at Omaha, one a Grand Championship prize for best ten ears Yellow Dent exhibited, the other Sweepstakes prize of corn exhibit. The variety exhibited is Reeds Yellow Dent.

Although winter weather is still holding sway, the weather man has rendered to a great extent from the severe batch of weather he doled out to this region a week previous. Twenty-six above was the most moderate temperature recorded in the past seven days, this being Friday afternoon. The morning previous was the coldest during that period—two degrees below.

Two Wayne Co. Cases Up Before Supreme Court

State vs. Splittgerber Bros., Involving T. E. Teesting of Cattle, to be Heard Next Week.

CONSTITUTIONALITY QUESTIONED

Appeals from district court, of two cases arising in Wayne county, will be up for a hearing before the state supreme court this coming week. They are the State vs. Splittgerber Brothers, involving an action regarding the testing of cattle for tuberculosis, and Eastburn vs. Kendrick, involving litigation affecting the sale of mortgaged property.

The case of State vs. Splittgerber Bros., is of especial interest and importance in that it effects the work of testing cattle for tuberculosis which is being carried on by the state. The incident which brought the case into court occurred about two years ago when an injunction was issued against the Splittgerber Brothers restraining them from interfering with the men who were making the test.

When members of the livestock board made a visit to the Splittgerber farm, southwest of Wayne, for the purpose of making the first inoculation test, one of the herd of cattle became frantic and in some way injured itself so badly that it had to be killed.

When the testers returned to the farm later to subject the cattle to a reaction test, the brothers refused to allow them to touch the cattle until they were given the assurance that the men making the test, or the state, would be liable for any damage which might occur. The state representatives, not being in a position to make such a guarantee had an injunction order issued against the Splittgerber forbidding them from interfering with them in their work. The brothers brought suit in district court to have the injunction set aside but lost.

They have carried the case to the state supreme court contending that the law governing the testing of cat (continued on page five)

COLERIDGE COUPLE CELEBRATE 55TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Jame J. Cave of Coleridge observed their 55th wedding anniversary at their home last Tuesday, January 23rd. Mr. and Mrs. Cave are both active in spite of their age, and take a wide-awake interest in all local affairs. Mrs. Cave does her own laundry and house work, keeping her home neat and clean.

Mr. Cave was born in North Hampshire, England, June 24th, 1846. At the age of 13, he sailed with his parents and brothers and sisters from Liverpool, to New York, the journey over the water taking seven weeks. In the fall of 1860, he moved with his parents to a farm in Jackson county, Iowa. When 18, he enlisted in Co. Extra Profits From OK Equipment!

In keeping with modern efficiency, the up-to-date producer of farm, livestock and poultry products has put into use time and labor saving equipment. The extra profits from more scientific appliances has increased profits millions of dollars.

Regardless of how good the feed or other conditions, if the water supply is inadequate or unsanitary, loss is sure to follow. Inestimable amounts have been unrealized in outright loss of stock or poultry, from unsanitary or inadequate water supply. Other vast amounts have been lost through smaller gains or less egg or milk production.

Actual records by experiment stations have shown that the use of OK automatic watering equipment makes $1.00 to $3.00 extra profit on each animal over hand watering. And poultry raisers everywhere know the loss in egg production that is sure to follow a poor water supply. The fact that government and state experimental stations use OK equipment in large quantities is conclusive evidence of its desirability.

On our own experiment farms we have time and again seen the extra profits produced through OK watering equipment.

On our poultry experimental farm near Jefferson, S. D., we replaced ordinary troughs or buckets commonly used for watering poultry with the modern OK poultry waterers and saw egg production promptly increased.

Livestock or poultry simply cannot produce the maximum from feed they are getting, regardless of how good the remainder of their care if they are not supplied with clean, sanitary water at a desirable temperature.

Large cattle feeders have many times told us that an automatic waterer is often paid for with the extra profits on one load of steers.

And the time and labor saved is also of great importance.

THE OK GUARANTEE
OK equipment is manufactured from material of high standard only, and we believe it will give to all that use it Absolute Satisfaction. You are backed by the guarantee of a reputable company, that our goods are as represented and further, by our determination to provide only the most satisfactory service when you use OK equipment.

D 153rd Illinois infantry in the Civil War, but did not get the opportunity to do much fighting on account of his youth. However, he was stationed in Tennessee where he took part

In many scrimmages with bush whackers who infested the southern territory, preying upon both the blue and the grey soldiers and plundering where they could. In one case, Mr. Cave recalls, they entered a small village and robbed a widow of all her valuables, and upon leaving, forced her young son to go with them, heedless of her tears and prayers. Within a few miles of the village, the lad attempted to escape and was unmercifully shot down and the corpse brot back to the mother. After the close of the war Mr. Cave returned to Sabula, Iowa, where he met and married Miss Mary Sewell, the wedding taking place at the home of the bride at Bryant, Iowa, on June 28, 1875. The young couple made their home in Jackson county three years and moved to Shelby county, Iowa, where they lived 12 years, coming in 1892 to Cedar county, Nebraska, and settling on a farm seven miles north-east of Coleridge where they lived 36 years. Four years ago they sold their farm and came to Coleridge. Mr. and Mrs. Cave, have three children, Mrs. May Boucher of Winnetoon, S. D., Frank of Omaha, and Walter at St. Paul. Both sons are successful salesmen for wholesale houses. There are 11 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Among the treasures Mr. Cave has carefully preserved from the Civil war is a confederate newspaper, "The Daily Citizen," which was printed in Vicksburg, Miss., July 2, 1863, on the back of a sheet of wallpaper, this showing the economies of the Civil war, and how every article in that beleaguered city was utilized. The newspaper is over 67 years old and is yellowed and worn at the creases. The news items are all concerning the different battles and casualties.

There's some mighty sharp teeth in the driver's license law. Yes sir. A lad down near Neligh while driving at a more than moderate rate of speed along a highway, failed to observe a stop sign. When hailed before the judge he was fined on two counts and had his driver's license suspended for six months. Not so good.

A Superior Methodist pastor has invented a mousetrap which is said to be far superior to the one commonly in use in that it spares the trap-setters fingers, but not the mouse. This invention will be a source of satisfaction to many—not so much on account of the good the trap will do, but because it will settle the question as to whether or not the late Elbert Hubbard was talking through his hat when he said: "If you make a better mousetrap than anyone else, the world will make a beaten path to your door."

DAIRY FARMERS AND OLD

At Hutchinson, a Minnesota town in the heart of the dairy region of that state, a canvas was made of the grocery stores to ascertain to what extent the people were using Oleo and other butter substitutes. The records showed that there was practically as much of the oleomargarine sold as there was of the butter and it was further shown that ninety per cent of the substitute butter was sold to the dairy farmers whose livelihood largely derived through the sale of butter fat. A newspaper in that town in commenting on that situation stated that if the dairy farmers of this country bought butter instead of the substitute there would never have been the butter surplus that is raising such havoc with butterfat prices at the present time.

THE JAZZ MONOPOLY

"Why should the air be used to sing 'Old Pal' all the time?" is a question put by Hope Thompson, a Chicago attorney, before the interstate commerce committee, speaking on behalf of station WCFL, Chicago.

The commission had ruled that this station should cease broadcasting at a certain time early in the evening. As this station is conducted by the Chicago Federation of Labor and much of their broadcasting was in the interest of their organization and labor in general, the station contended that it was restrained from sending its messages at a time when they would do the most good.

Mr. Thompson contended that it was unfair that his client's station should be restrained in presenting programs of talks and information while more than 600 stations gave programs of nothing but squaky jazz music of a monotonous sameness that differed little one night from the other.

It would seem that the attorney's contention should be well taken. Broadcasting stations featuring jazz orchestras may strike the popular chord with a great portion of radio listeners, but half of them would never be missed and crowding out stations broadcasting programs of an educational nature is a perversion of the uses that this great invention should be rightfully put to.

Auction Sale at Owen Farm Feb. 20

To anyone interested in securing livestock or farm machinery, the public auction sale of personal property belonging to the estate of the late L. M. Owen, should be of special interest. At the sale, which will be held at the Owen farm one mile west and one-half mile south of Wayne on Thursday, February 20, all of the livestock and farm machinery on this splendidly equipped farm will be sold to the highest bidder. Among that which will be sold are some very fine horses, milch cows and brood sows. The machinery, also, is especially desirable, for most of it is new.

Readers of the Democrat are advised to watch for a complete bill of the property to be sold, which will be published in the issue of February 13th.

LeRoy Owen, who was called home from California by the sudden passing of his father last week, will remain in Wayne for a few weeks to close up the estate and see to the renting of the farm.

tie for tuberculosis is unconstitutional.

The appellants' attorneys are asking for a full bench to hear the case. The time for hearing has been set for February 4.

Eastburn vs. Kenrick

Eastburn vs. Kenrick involves a claim of $500 which Eastburn charged was due him as remuneration from Kenrick for services rendered in helping to secure a higher price for a parcel of land that was being sold at mortgage foreclosure sale.

The land in question was being foreclosed upon and Kenrick, owner of the mortgage, being desirous of securing the best sum possible for it when the sale took place, sought to have the date of sale delayed to a time when there would be a better chance of securing a better price than at the time the sale was advertised. With this end in view, he hired Eastburn to aid him in securing a delay in the date of sale and to bid in the property at a certain price, agreeing, it is alleged, to pay Eastburn $500 for his services.

When the property was sold, Eastburn presented his bid, according to the alleged bargain, but another party bid higher than he did and the property went into other hands. Kenrick refused to pay the $500 and Eastburn brought suit in court, securing a judgment in the amount asked. Kenrick has brought the matter before the supreme court, contending that the way the sale went absolves him of any liability to Eastburn for services rendered.

The case is set for February 3rd.

WILDCATS HOPE OF CONF. TITLE BEST IN YEARS

out, the score at the half being 14 to 12 in Midland's favor. Later the score was tied at 18-all. 22-all and 24-all before Wayne began the sizzling attack that swept the Warriors into defeat.

Schwarz scored 16 of Wayne's points. Krebs made 12 for Midland. The defensive work of Schnabel of Midland and Farrow of Wayne was outstanding.

Peru Goes Down to Defeat

Wayne upset the jinx that for seventeen years has kept the Wildcat basketball team from beating the Bobcats.

Saturday night the Wayne cagers in a fast and hotly contested game came forth with a victory by a score of 34-28. Peru started the game with a bang when they scored almost immediately after the opening tip off play. Wayne came back with a beautiful field goal by Alexander. With Schwarz and Andrews hitting the hoop from all sides, Wayne soon ran the count to an eight point advantage. Brokman caged several long shots along with his team mates.

The half ended with Wayne leading 19 to 16. The Bobcats came back strong in the second half and caged three field goals while the Wildcats managed to tie the score at 22 all. Two baskets by Langfeldt put the fighting Wayne aggregation in the lead, that the Peruvians were never able to overcome.

The entire team played fine ball. Schwarz lead the Wayne cagers with thirteen points while Brokman made twelve for Peru.

Coach Hickman for the first time in his two years of coaching at Wayne didn't make a substitution during the game.

Tougher Games to Come

The Wildcats are not out of the woods yet as far as the conference title is concerned. Feb. 7 will provide the crucial test when Wayne meets Kearney on the local floor. Kearney's showing thus far this season is as impressive as the showing of the local team and the most hotly contested game of the season is anticipated when these two quintets clash.

to $50 or a term of up to ninety days in jail.

"It's one of my duties that I consider most disagreeable" said Judge Cherry in commenting on this task of meeting the parents of the children in cases such as this.

The Judge is not "hard boiled" in his treatment of these cases, but seeks rather to have the parents or the children make amends for what the children lost by their absence. One case, especially is illustrative of his methods:

A boy, unusually large for his age, but several months under sixteen was the cause of the summons of his father in court a few days ago. The explanation was made by the father that the boy had not made his grades in school and having to be segregated with the smaller children of the school was humiliation to him in the extreme, and he prevailed on his parents to let him remain out of school.

Such an excuse, while readily understood and appreciated, was insufficient and the Judge gave the parents to understand that if the boy does not make his grades, by the end of the school year, they will be held responsible.

Thus far this year, there have been no cases brought up for consideration that have called for drastic action. There have been one or two chronic cases of "hooky" reported, but the stern visage of the truant officer and the fatherly counsel of the judge has made but one summons necessary.

"A big, handsome and intelligent fellow appeared in my office the other day on business" said the Judge, "and I figured that he was a man of some consequence, for he certainly looked the part. Imagine my disappointment when I learned that he was illiterate. Think of it! And the shame of it all was that he was born and raised in Nebraska. Nothing like that is going to happen in Wayne county if I can help it."

New Storage Room At Wayne Creamery

Enlargement of the storage facilities of the Wayne Creamery has been perfected the past week by the construction of an ice cream storage room within the building. The walls of the room are built of special insulation material made of cork which makes control of the temperature within the room a comparatively easy matter. The creamery is under the management of Edw. Seymour, who acquired the property recently, coming here from Appleton, Minn., where he has extensively engaged in the same line of business in the east. The creamery will engage principally in the manufacture of butter and ice, though a general produce business will be conducted.

Forty Boys Enrolled In Air Cadet Chapter

Wayne and vicinity may be relied on to furnish its full quota of flying aces when the rising generation in this community chooses its life work. So avers Fred Blair, custodian of the model airplane building equipment furnished each member of the local chapter of the American Air Cadets, an organization brought into being Friday afternoon of last week.

About forty boys of school age were enrolled as members at that time. Each were provided with a kit of material to be used in making model airplane, the work to be under the supervision of E. J. Huntemer, who will have charge of the local organization.

Model meets will be held some time in the future in which the youthful plane builders will enter their crafts into flying competitions. As the club members advance in their understanding of the mechanics and principles involved in flying they will be taught other matters in connection with this interesting subject that will eventually lead to the construction of gliders, thus bringing them in closer touch with aviation, should they care to take it up as a vocation or pastime.

Aviation being a subject foremost in the minds of the average boy of today, the local cadets have entered into this new activity with a great deal of enthusiasm.

$200.00 Paid For One Copper Cent

J. D. Martin of Richmond, Va., is the proud possessor of a check for $200.00 paid him for an old copper cent. The Numismatic Company, Dept. 663, Fort Worth, Texas, who purchased this penny from Mr. Martin, says there are numerous old coins, bills and stamps in circulation for which they will gladly pay big cash premiums. So that you will know the value of old coins and stamps and what to watch for in your change, the Numismatic Company will send for only 4c to any reader of this paper who writes them, a large illustrated coin folder describing some of these wanted articles and the big profits to be made. Better write them today for this large folder so you can post yourself and know just what to look for. Remember that Mr. Martin's knowing the value of this penny meant a difference of $199.99 to him. Without knowing its value that penny might still be in circulation, passing through the hands of thousands until someone like Mr. Martin, who knows old coins, recognized its value. It pays to be posted. Send 4c now for the illustrated coin folder. You have nothing to lose, everything to gain.—adv.

WAYNE COLLEGE

AMONG STATES BEST

Such Is Finding of Visitor Who Thoroughly Investigates Advantages Offered.

The educational advantages of Wayne State Teachers college and its relative importance among the educational institutions of the state is interestingly told in the following article written by J. A. Lister, who wrote it following a visit to the college for the purpose of inspecting the school as a place of education for his daughter. The article, which appeared recently in the Albion News, follows: Million Dollar Educational Plant What do you know about the North-east Nebraska million dollar educational plant? You know much about our state university at Lincoln and have a right to feel proud of it. It is doing a grand work. But do you point with pride to one of the most modern and well equipped educational institutions in the state or in the central west as is the state college at Wayne? You would if you knew more about it. The writer went over to Wayne and spent a few hours on the college grounds recently and we are frank to say we were amazed at the magnitude of it and rather ashamed of ourself for not having comprehended it sooner. We are not going to quote the News readers a mass of statistics about this splendid state institution that has been set right up here in the best corner of Nebraska. It was through the courtesy of Mr. Teed that we were enabled in a short time to obtain a most comprehensive knowledge of the wonderful progress that is being made at this seat of learning. Mr. Teed was formerly county Superintendent of Dixon county and for several years has been on the faculty of the college at Wayne.

Carroll Pioneer Resident

Victim Of Apoplexy

Frank Noelle, for many years a resident of the Carroll vicinity, died at his home Sunday, a week ago, following an attack of apoplexy. Funeral services were conducted for the deceased at the Randolph Catholic church, Rev. Fr. Karnes, of Wayne parish officiating.

Mr. Noelle was the unpleasant victim of circumstance during the late World War that placed him in an unpleasant situation through no fault of his own. He had gone to Germany to be married just before the World War began. Conditions made it impossible for him to return to this country until after the great unpleasantness had ceased. In the meantime, his farm here in Nebraska was confiscated by the government on the ground that he was an alien enemy. He returned to America with his wife as soon as permitted to do so and eventually secured title to his property again, though not without a great deal of annoying delay and government red tape.

Old Soldier Boy Active

At Age Of Eighty-Two

Edward M. Locke, who resides on a beautiful farm home west of Stanton with his wife and son Tom, just recently passed his 82nd birthday. He is the youngest of the four remaining Civil war veterans in Stanton, and is still active and reads without glasses.

He was born in Virginia on December 20, 1847. There being no public schools near his home, his mother who was a wealthy woman, hired a governess from Boston, Mass. as tutor. Latin, Cicero, and Virgil were included in his regular course of study and he received an excellent education for a boy of that day. Later he attended the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington.

In Dec. 1863, at the age of sixteen, he enlisted in the Eighth Illinois Cavalry, Washington. His application at first refused on account of his extreme youth, but was accepted later because of his military training and size. His division was under the leadership of General Phil Sheridan, and was always on duty scouting about if not engaged in battle.

Many times during battles the men were forced to dismount and fight with the infantry. Numbering among the more important battles in which Mr. Locke participated were Chancellorsville, Winchester, and the battle of the Wilderness. He remained in the Eighth division until Lee surrendered.

After being discharged, Mr. Locke served twenty years, spending the first five years of his enlistment as a marine. During that time he visited many foreign lands. His second enlistment was at Ft. Caver D'Laine, Idaho. He was discharged in Ft. Omaha five years later.

At the time Garfield was assassinated, he was stationed in Washington, and was one of the post guarding the assassin, Guitesau. As orders had been given that no one be allowed to see the prisoner, the curious mob caught glimpses of the assassin as he paced back and forth in front of a small window in his cell.

Mr. Locke's third post was as drill master at Davis Island, N. Y. His last engagement was at Pine Ridge, S. D. at the time of the second Sioux outbreak.

He came to Stanton in 1891, and was employed on the Marshall Field ranch, where he was married in 1895. He later lived in Wayne four years and has lived in Stanton county the past thirty years.

At eighty-two, he is one of the four remaining Civil war veterans in Stanton, enjoys his beautiful farm home, is still active, and as was stated before, can read without glasses. Time has been kind to him.

NEBRASKA SPENDS TOO MUCH FOR EDUCATION. IS IT TRUE?

Often times it is said that the people of Nebraska spend too much for their schools. But is that true? A certain man, the head of a family, took account of his annual bills and found among them one for the family car, depreciation, operation, and repairs, included, amounting to $1660 for the year. Then there was the luxury bill, mostly for candy, ice cream, tobacco, and theatres. This amounted to $720. Of course this man was pretty well off, being able to purchase $1660 worth of automobile transportation and to enjoy with his family $720 worth of luxuries. How much then ought he pay for the schooling of his children? He expended $40 for this purpose. Considering his other expenses, was this too much?

Answer this question as you will, the man described is really the state of Nebraska. Add five zeros to each of the figures given and you have what Nebraska pays for the three purposes named.

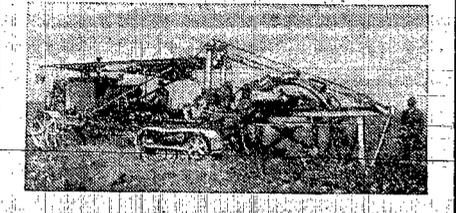

It is true that many families are not as well off as the one in the example, but assume any kind of family you wish and you will find that the figures, though not a large, will be proportionately the same.

HOW JOHN BUNYAN FOOLED HIS JAILOR IN PRISON CELL

While John Bunyan, author of the Pilgrim's Progress, was in prison in his prison cell, his jailor heard music coming from his cell. As it was decided to take Bunyan's instrument away from him, the jailor proceeded to his cell to get it, but the music ceased as soon as he drew near the cell. Nevertheless he was determined to have the instrument, which judging by the music, must have been a fute, but always when he entered the cell he could find nothing that would account for the music. From time to time the music sounded, from time to time the jailor found only Bunyan and his book. What had happened was that Bunyan had made a fute from a loose rail of his stool, and on hearing the goaler's step, had slipped it back into its place and assumed his much attitude of poring over his book.

She: You look like a waiter with that dress suit.

He: Yes and I feel like one too, after waiting around for you for two hours.

A Trencher in Action

DIGGING TRENCHES FOR CABLES
In order to carry out the work of laying telephone cable expeditiously and economically much labor saving machinery has been developed. Among these developments is the trenching machine. The trenching machine can be operated satisfactorily in ordinary soil and will dig a trench 15 inches wide and 30 inches deep at the rate of from one-half to one mile a day, depending upon the conditions encountered. Trench diggers have been used successfully in laying long toll cables in the territory of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

NEBRASKA GENEROUS WITH VETERAN RELIEF

During December, 1929, the families of 230 World War veterans received $9,730.40 from funds provided by the state and disbursed by the finance department of the American Legion. This money was used for the purchase of food, fuel, clothing, shelter, medicines, etc. Every dollar, according to the disbursing officer, went to the relief of a need that actually existed.

The fund from which these payments are made is derived from the investment of two million dollars which the legislature voted for veterans' relief. This sum was invested by the Board of Educational Lands and Funds and the income amounts to about $85,000.00 a year. The appropriation was voted nine years ago. It was proposed at that time to vote a bonus to soldiers of the World War who enlisted from Nebraska. This fund would have been about twenty million dollars. The Legion came forward with an emergency relief plan which provided that needs of ex-service men who were out of employment or who were sick or disabled alone should be met. The Legionnaires asked no bonus for their able members.

The legislature then voted a sum of two million, the interest from which investment provided a sufficient fund at this time for soldier aid. Any World War soldier in need of aid can appeal to the Legion post in the town where he lives. If the post approves his application, it is forwarded to the state fund relief committee and if the application is there approved a draft is drawn on the finance office for the sum allowed. No claim is allowed for a longer period than three months.

After nine years of the operation of this plan the American Legion men feel that the operation of the plan has well demonstrated its vision and that it has the endorsement of every person in the state who is familiar with the benefits it gives and the effective way in which it is administered.

NEBRASKA FIFTH IN VALUE OF FARM CROPS

Field records on file in the state and federal division of statistics at Lincoln reveal a most interesting condition regarding agriculture.

Nebraska has moved up from sixth to fifth place in the value of its farm crops, being exceeded only by the states of Texas, California, Iowa and Illinois.

The value of all Nebraska crops in 1929 is estimated as $343,707,000.00. In the past fifteen years Nebraska has been as low as eighteenth and as high as fourth, with an average standing of ninth place during that period.

The adoption of better farm methods has enabled Nebraska's rich soil and favorable climate to bring the state to a new record in agricultural achievement.

The men of the Brotherhood of the Lutheran church at Allen raised about $650 for their church in a rather unique manner. The farmer members gave each a hog, and those who did not have hogs to give, gave their cash equivalent. The hogs were gathered and taken to the Sioux City market where the salesmen succeeded in getting $9.25 for the lot in spite of the varying sizes.

Preservers That Defy

the Corruption of Death
A man's body was found standing upright in a block of ice and was chopped out of a crevasse in a glacier of Mount Rainier. Thus there is a reminder of the pathetic story told many years ago when Mr. Frederick Stimson was writing as "J. S. of Dale": "The story of the body preserved in an Alpine glacier, slowly moving, but finally restoring the loved one to the patient waiter. Of there is the frozen pirate, the hero of a novel by Clark Russell, though this pirate was not saved from immediate death by a glacier."

Ashes and lava are also indifferent unconscious preservers. Witness Pompeii and Herculaneum. There are natural earths that have been said to retain bodies as they were above the ground. Was the coffin that held the marquis of Dorset of a special wood or metal that after seventy-eight years his body was found undecayed. "In color, proportion, and softness like an ordinary corpse newly to be interred"? Or was this due to the properties of the cerecloth?

Is there any index of stories in which the strangely preserved mummies included, have come to life, and welcomed the amazingly changed world; moved as strangers in a strange land; worked evil on descendants who had mistakenly revered their memory and boasted of lineage? It is no doubt better, as Bert Williams used to say, that "death is so permanent."

"Fistic Art" Had Origin in Days of Barbarism

Although boxing as a science is relatively modern, it was in the blazing sun of Italy and Greece, in the great amphitheatres of long ago, where barbarian captives fought and died to tickle the fancy of the populace, that boxing as a sport was born. These people must have developed a skillful school of boxing during the period in which the cestus was used. It is certain, but unfortunately little is known either of the style of fighting or of the personal attributes of the boxer by which a comparison can be made between those long-dead champions and the modern wielder of the padded glove. The nearest connecting link is the famous Greek statue, chiseled in time-defying marble known as "The Boxer." This, at least, affords a study in character.

During the early part of the Eighteenth century in England boxing was about as inhuman a sport as one can imagine. The middle of the century, fortunately, saw the dawn of a new day for the boxer, for at this time Jack Broughton, a young English champion, invented boxing gloves and originated a code of rules prohibiting much of the former savagery of the sport, on which many of the future rules, have been based.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Beetle Has Some Value

Devil's horse or devil's coach horse is the name given to certain large rove beetles. About 2,000 different species of rove beetles have been described. Says an eminent entomologist: "They live on decaying animal or vegetable matter, in excrement, fungi, or fermenting sap, and are among the most universally distributed of all beetles. Many of them are predatory, and some have been accused of feeding on living plants; but on the whole they are of importance to the agriculturist only as scavengers, and as they aid in reducing the dead animal and vegetable matter into shape for assimilation by plants."—Pathfinder Magazine.

Old American College

In 1636 the General court of the Massachusetts Bay colony voted £400 for establishing an institution of learning. The first building was erected in 1637. This became Harvard university. The College of William and Mary and its antecedents reach back to the effort begun in 1617 to establish in Virginia the University of Henricopolis. The Indian massacre of 1622 brought this effort to naught. The charter for the College of William and Mary was issued in 1673 by the English king and queen for whom it was named.

Path of Sugar

In 1842 sugar sold in the London market at $2.75 per pound. At the close of the Fifteenth century the price had fallen to 53 cents per pound. Sugar did not become a regular feature in the diet until it was introduced by Queen Elizabeth of England. The first reference to sugar obtained from cane was made by Theophrastus in the Third century, B. C. He mentioned it as "honey which comes from bamboo." Sugar cane was first introduced in America in 1502 to the island of San Domingo. The Jesuits brought it to Louisiana in 1751.

Silver Hoard Put Away

by Romans Unearthed
At Caerleon in Monmouthshire, where a Roman legionary fortress stood to keep the Welsh marches for the Caesars in the Third century, excavators digging there unearthed some interesting secrets.

The one that is the oddest is that of the three centuries of the Second Augustan legion whose names, Quintinus Aquila, Vibius Proculus, and Vibius Severus, have been newly found. One of them must have been a hard-faced man who had done very well out of the war (like some men of a later day).

Whether it was hidden by Quintinus Aquila or by one of the two named Vibius we may never know; but beneath the floor of the quarters of one of these three centuries was a hoard of 280 silver coins. They may have been wrung from the neighboring Britons. Perhaps they were part of the military chest of the soldiers.

Some of the companies of the legion about that time appear to have been given marching orders for the north, where they were to take part in the work on Hadrian's wall.

Untimely End to Lives of Brave Adventurers

It is remarkable how few of the eminent men of the discoverers and conquerors of America died in peace. Columbus died broken-hearted, Rodrigo and Bobadilla were drowned, Ovarado was harshly superseded, Les Casas sought refuge in a cow, Ojeda died in extreme poverty, Encisco was deposed by his own men, Nicuesa perished miserably by the cruelty of his party, Vasco-Nunez-de Balboa was disgracefully beheaded, Narvaez was imprisoned in a tropical dungeon, and afterward died of hardship, Cortes was dishonored, Alvarado was destroyed in ambush, Almagro was garroted, Pizarro was murdered, and his four brothers cut off, and there was no end to the assassinations and executions of the secondary chiefs among the energetic and daring adventurers.

Floral Barometers

The sturdy marigolds which enliven our gardens are splendid weather prophets. If the flower is tightly closed in the morning, you may rest assured that there is rain to come, but with true intuition they seem overbold just now in spreading their petals. The scarlet pimpernel is also sensitive to rain, and even an approaching shower will send its petals curling in. From this peculiarity the pimpernel takes its name of the "poor man's barometer." Contrary to these flowers, when the dandelion closes up its petals in the morning, a fine day lies ahead, because it does not like too much sun.

Cause of Hailstorms

The stones which fall during ordinary hailstorms measure from one-eighth to one-half inch in diameter, their size depending upon the violence of the upward columns of air that produce them. Hail, like rain, is caused by the vertical circulation of the air. Rain is formed by the condensation of drops of moisture in cooling air which grow larger as the air rises until they are heavy enough to fall. Each of the drops rises and falls at least once. Hail, which is frozen rain, is caused by the drops being tossed higher.

Electrons in Atom

Physicists of today state that there is evidence that all atoms known have in them a certain definite number of negative electrons and exactly the same number of positive electrons. For instance, the lead atom consists of a positive nucleus charge of 82 units about which 82 electrons revolve; zinc, a nucleus charge of 30 units with 30 revolving electrons; helium, a nucleus charge of 2 units with 2 revolving electrons; sulphur, a nucleus charge of 16 units with 16 revolving electrons; platinum, 78; gold, 79; radium, 88, etc.

Magnetic Poles

The geographical poles are the points at the imaginary ends of the earth's axis of rotation, lying 90 degrees north and south latitude. The magnetic poles are the points on the earth's surface where the lines of magnetic forces are vertical. They are the ends of the axis of the earth's magnetic polarity. The north magnetic pole is located in latitude 70 degrees north, longitude 97 degrees west, and the south magnetic pole in latitude 72 degrees south, longitude 153 degrees east.

First Milk Bottle

The earliest milk bottle known was the hide of a goat, with the openings tied up to prevent the escape of the fluid. It is said that butter was first made accidentally when milk in a goatskin bottle slung across a camel's back was bumped and sloshed during the weary miles across the desert wastes. It is a long process of evolution from this crude churn to the modern motor-driven churns in our up-to-date creameries.—Burdette Service.

Room for Improvement

Education has not yet made us an intelligent people. Witness the tabloid newspapers, the low standards of the talkies, the banality of radio programs, the small sales of good books.—Woman's Home Companion.

FARM STOCK

EARLY DETECTION OF TB BIG HELP

Tuberculin Test When Properly Made Not Injurious.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Post-mortem examinations are often regarded as the final word in determining the presence of diseases in animals, although such examinations are valuable, the tuberculin test used in the eradication of bovine tuberculosis, is actually more reliable than the customary post-mortem for determining the presence of tuberculosis, according to Dr. John R. Mohler, chief of the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture.

"The tuberculin test indicates the presence of the disease but does not show the progress which the infection has made within the body," Doctor Mohler states. "Hence in the early stages of the disease it is entirely possible for an animal which is actually infected with tuberculosis to show no visible signs on either ante-mortem or post-mortem examination."

Tuberculin is a product prepared by sterilizing, filtering, and concentrating the liquid upon which the tubercle bacilli have been allowed to grow. It contains the sterile product of the growth of the germs, but not the germs themselves. When properly used it can have no possible injurious effect on healthy cattle. Tuberculin commonly used in testing live stock in the United States is made under government supervision, which assures its purity and potency.

"The results obtained thus far in systematic tuberculin testing show the effectiveness of this means for eliminating infected animals. During the last 12 years, more than 1,500,000 tuberculous cattle have been removed from herds in the United States and more than 2,000,000 herds have been freed of the disease."

Adapted Feed for Pigs

Just at Weaning Time

Corn, shorts, and skim milk plus bright, leafy fourth cutting alfalfa hay make a very satisfactory ration to feed pigs at weaning time. Sweet milk is to be preferred to sour milk. However, if the milk is allowed to sour in clean containers it should prove satisfactory. It is not advisable to change from sweet milk to sour milk or vice versa.

Brood sows should be fed all the alfalfa hay they will eat, together with just enough corn to keep them in thrifty breeding condition. Oats may be used to good advantage in the brood sow ration. Too much corn will cause the sows to become fat, lazy and unprofitable producers.—A. D. Weber, University of Nebraska.

Breeding Ewes Require Little Grain and Hay

When on alfalfa hay alone, a group of breeding ewes will require in the neighborhood of 3 1/2 pounds of prairie hay per day per head. Usually one needs to figure about a 200-day winter feeding period. This would require a supply of 12 to 15 tons of hay.

It probably would pay you to feed a little grain to these ewes beginning around the first of February and continuing until they go on grass. About three-fourths of a pound of grain per head per day would be sufficient and most any type of grain that you can secure easily will be satisfactory. Oats fed alone or a mixture of one-half oats and one-half barley or one-half oats and one-half corn would do very well.

Live Stock Hints

The silage fed steers have invariably been found to be more uniformly finished than steers fed straw and grain only.

Registered cattle with long time records in their pedigrees are bringing the most money.

If one-half gallon of skim milk is fed per pig per day the amount of fatness may be reduced one-half.

If ewes are to have good lambs next spring, they must have proper feed and plenty of exercise this winter.

Horse specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture forecast an increased demand for well bred horses during the next few years.

Some alfalfa or clover hay should be included in the ration for calves or yearlings being fattened for market.

Damp floors in hog houses need attention. Often a line of drain tile around the foundation will eliminate dampness.

In the western cattle raising country the tendency is toward smaller farms and ranches, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. Ranching now calls for more turning and hay making than ever before.

SOCIETY and Club

Minerva Club.

The members of the Minerva and Fortnightly clubs met in joint session last Monday afternoon at the E. W. Huse home with Mrs. Huse as hostess to the Minerva club and Mrs. D. S. Wightman as hostess to the Fortnightly club. The program was given by the Minerva club, each member who appeared on the program giving something original.

The first number was given by Mrs. Albert G. Carlson who played a Sonata of Three Movements, Ellegro, Andante, and Allegretto, which she wrote to receive her bachelor's degree of music at the American Conservatory of Music at Chicago. The second number consisted of a poem written about the year's work. It was sent by Mrs. L. M. Owen and read by Mrs. Lambert Roe. As a third number, Mrs. W. R. Ellis gave an original cartoon, the subject of which was the Minerva ladies appearing on the program.

The fourth number was an original garment pattern given by Mrs. J. S. Horney. She brought a silk patchwork robe, rose in color and lined in pale green, for which she furnished the pattern, told the approximate cost, and explained how to make it. Miss Martha Pierce was to have presented an original piece of art, and Mrs. M. J. Miner was to have given an original recipe. They, however, were unable to be present. Mrs. S. A. Lutgen closed the program with an original one act play entitled, "Tom Redfern's Best Help."

Following the program, which was intensely interesting, delightful refreshments were served on the small tables. Four guests were present. They were Mrs. H. R. Best, Mrs. L. B. McClure, Mrs. E. A. McGarragh, and Mrs. E. E. Galley.

The Valentine party having been postponed, the Minerva club will meet in regular session in two weeks, the place to be announced later. The Fortnightly club will hold a Valentine party Monday evening, Feb. 10, at the E. R. Love home.

Word also was received from Miss Belle Severson of Boone, Ia., the latter stating that she was in Brooklyn, N. Y. enroute to Africa where she plans to start a girls' school in the Tanganyika territory, money for the work having already been received.

30 to 40 Acres Per Day—That's the Average Day's Work with This Three-Row Planting Outfit

John Deere General Purpose

—The Two-Plow Tractor That Plants and Cultivates Three Rows at a Time

When you look at the John Deere General Purpose Tractor, equipped with its planting attachment, you are immediately impressed with its remarkable simplicity and compactness. The planter attaches right to the tractor to form a single unit. This saves time at the end of the row and makes possible closer planting to the fence or end of field than if planter is attached behind the tractor.

But it is not until you get out into the field with this planting outfit that its real efficiency and speed are demonstrated.

Just picture yourself planting your own field with this outfit.

There you are—seated well up above your work, with a clear view ahead. Up and down the field you go—planting at the rate of 30 to 40 acres a day.

There are no levers to operate—power lift raises and lowers planter by a mere touch of the foot.

Each runner is independent, insuring even planting depth on uneven fields. Covering wheels regulate your depth of planting.

Another feature you'll like is the special anchor stake with tension meter which insures correct wire tension and results in a good check.

As you work steadily along, hour after hour, you experience the feeling of satisfaction that comes with doing an accurate job of planting.

And don't forget, with the three-row cultivating attachment that we furnish, you can cultivate as speedily as you plant.

Come in and get all the facts about this new general purpose outfit. It will solve many of your farming problems.
