Wildcats Drop Conference Tilt to Kearney Peds

Locals Lead First Half But Fail To Stop Visitors Comeback.

Schwarz Local High Man

A herd of Agile Antelopes migrated to Wayne from the broad expanses of Western Nebraska and proved to be too rapid for an aggressive assortment of domestic Wildcats. The game opened with the Wayne Wildcats assaulting the Kearney goal and taking a lead of four points. This was soon knotted when the Kearney guard, Lovell, opened up with a barrage at the Wayne goal which did not terminate until three successive baskets had been made. The lead then passed to the Wayne organization who held it at the end of the first half.

Kearney opened up the second half with a barrage of long distance shots which did not culminate until the lead had oscillated back and forth. The last minutes of the game found the Kearney offense clinching the game with an assortment of baskets from short distances.

Schwarz and Farrow looked well for Wayne while Dusek and Blazek played well for Kearney.

American Air Cadets Hold Election of Officers

At the first regular meeting of the Air Cadets, held at the College Gymnasium last Saturday Dale Hanks (Eagle Boy Scouts) was elected President, Jack Morgan, vice president, Byerett Dennis, secretary and Robert Gulliver, treasurer. Prof. E. J. Huntman was chosen Division Commander of the Wayne Chapter.

After the meeting the Cadets entered into competition their membership platoon. Prof. Fred Dale acting as judge and Coach Ray Hickman as timer. Several of the entries were about the gymnasium from seven to twelve seconds. The entry of Junior Savidge was of the largest type and so powerful that the room was far too small for its flying range and after heading into the walls several times the judges advised waiting for the out of doors tournament. The entry of Jack Morgan circled and swung around and around till it had stayed aloft 15.3 seconds, thus entitling its owner to the first Pilot button awarded to this Chapter.

The next tournament will be held in possibly six weeks on the Athletic field of the State Teachers college. Every boy is now striving for a platin that will have the ability to stay aloft at least 15 seconds. This entitles him to the Pilot Button and is the next step to the rank of Ace which every Cadet some day hopes to attain.

Fight Against Chain Stores Nation Wide

Many people may be under the impression that the present fight against the chain store is but a sentimental flareup caused principally by the agitation of one or two broadcasting stations.

A very casual survey of the situation, however, is amply convincing that such is not the case.

The fight is not necessarily a personal one between rival mercantile establishments—it is a fight that vitally affects the economic status of the whole country.

It is the merging of financial and business institutions, which if not checked will take business out of the hands of the people in general and place it in the hands of a few, which constitutes the menace of today.

History has shown that wherever monopolies have had the upper hand, the people have fared badly. The big corporations, when they have everything their own way, never hesitate to exploit the people.

This is no radical sentiment. It is an economic truth recognized by men prominent in public life who have come out strongly against the chain system. Prominent among these men are:

- U. S. Senator Brookhart, Iowa
- U. S. Senator Copeland, New York
- U. S. Senator Wheeler, Montana
- U. S. Senator Black, Alabama
- Gov. H. P. Long, Louisiana
- Gov. F. D. Sampson, Kentucky
- Gov. Arthur Weaver, Nebraska
- Gov. Christiansen, Minnesota
- Ex-Gov. Ralph Brewster, Maine
- Ex-Gov. Jno. Parker, Louisiana
- Atty. Gen. Sorensen, Nebraska
- Atty. Gen. McCall, Alabama
- Lieut. Gov. Huber, Wisconsin
- Cong. Strong, Kansas

WEST POINT HOST TO DIST. LEGIONAIRES

Good Attendance and Fine Program Featured Tuesday Meeting.

John L. Laurie, of Carroll, was elected county commander at the district convention of the American Legion held at West Point on Tuesday afternoon and evening.

The afternoon session was taken up with matters of a strictly business nature in which talks by several men prominently identified with the organization, were given. Among the speakers were Sam Reynolds, of Omaha, national committeeman; Father John Estes, Stanton, state chaplain; a Mr. Beck, representative of the U. S. Veterans Bureau; and R. G. Douglas, representative of the Veterans State Relief Fund.

In the absence of Herb Welch, who was ill and unable to attend, A. C. Borg, of Wakefield presided over the meetings.

Relief for disabled veterans, conscription of wealth and naval disarmament were the chief themes taken up for discussion by the speakers.

At the Auxiliary meeting, which was presided over by Mrs. L. C. Clark of St. Edward, and at which meeting there was an attendance of about 250, an excellent program of talks was given. Notable among the talks was that of Mrs. Elsie Diers, who spoke of the National Defense Conference recently held at Washington, D. C. Other talks were given by Mrs. W. O. Hahn, of Creston, state president of the Auxiliary, and Mrs. Rosehcranz, of Plattsmouth, State Rehabilitation chairman.

The membership of both the Legion and Auxiliary units of Wayne were well represented at the convention.

The session was followed by an elaborate banquet and terminated by a dance in the evening.

Walshill was selected as the next convention city.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mellor and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Ellis drove to Sioux City yesterday afternoon.

LOCAL CHAIN STORE FIGHT ASSUMES DEFINITE FORM

Organization Formed With Officers and Directors Elected.

Will Press Campaign Here

With the forming of a definite organization having officers and a board of directors to guide its activities, the local chapter of Merchant Minute Men has begun to take definite steps to solve the chain store problem of the community.

The organization was perfected at a meeting of Wayne businessmen held in the council rooms of the city hall last Thursday evening. At this time officers were elected, a board of directors named and a plan of action discussed and partially acted upon.

That there is an intense feeling in Wayne concerning the chain store problem was evidenced by the large crowd present at the meeting. The room was filled to capacity with people vitally interested in the matter, and from the sentiment generally expressed, it was apparent that the feeling in regard to chain mercantile institutions was far from favorable to them.

The following official personnel was named: L. W. McNatt, president; Don Larson, vice president; H. Hrabak, secretary; Henry Ley, treasurer; Board of Directors, J. C. Nuss and J. J. Ahern, the other officers to serve in the capacity of directors with them.

Plans were drawn up to make a canvas for membership to the organization with membership fees set at $5 each. The funds thus secured will be used to promote work of the organization in Wayne. A subscription was also taken to aid KWKH, the Shreveport, La., broadcasting station in its fight against the chain stores.

Membership in the organization is not confined to merchants alone. Other lines of business, including the farming industry, are urged by the sponsors of the movement to join in the fight.

"Every citizen and farmer of the community is urged to join our local chapter and keep in this fight to save our people from the menace of big business and the chain store," one of the directors of the movement stated.

"It is time that we joined in this fight against the chains. We have not realized soon enough what a menace this fight against the chain idea is to our community. We have not understood the big idea back of the chain system—we have not, in fact, thought much about it."

"The chain idea is all wrong for 99 per cent of the people. The plan is such that a few men do the planning and gather in the profits, while the rest of us would have to do their work at almost starvation wages. That's what threatens, and that is what the whole community is organizing to fight."

Last reports are that he is getting along as well as can be expected and is doing fine.

Mr. Welch is the District Commander of the American Legion, and it is regretted that in consequence of his illness, he was unable to attend the District convention held at West Point Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Boy Scout Units Entertain And are Entertained

Scout Activities Presented In Realistic Form At Kiwanis Banquet.

Formal opening of a meeting of Boy Scouts, exemplification of usages of the organization such as signalling and first aid, and a clever one act play were among the novel and interesting features presented by the local Boy Scout units at a banquet given in their honor at the Stratton Hotel Monday evening, by the Kiwanis.

The occasion was favored with a full attendance of the membership of both Scouts and Kiwanis, the arrangement being that each Kiwanis act as host to one Boy Scout.

The exemplification of signalling and first aid work was presented by members of a scout troop under the direction of Scoutmaster Walter Albert and showed the type of work accomplished by members of the second division of scoutcraft.

The play, presented by the unit under the supervision of Scoutmaster A. F. Gulliver depicted in a clever and entertaining manner, a typical patrol leaders meeting.

Dale Hanks, the only member of the organization attaining the rank of Eagle Scout, was among those present and gave a short talk on "What Scouting Means to Me." Ray Larson, supervisor of the local area of Boy Scouts, also gave a short talk.

Toward the close of the meeting T. G. Hook as member of the court of honor, presented merit badges to a number of scouts who had made notable advancement in their work.

At the next Monday noon meeting of the Kiwanis, Rev. William E. Braisted, the new pastor of the local Baptist church, will address the gathering.

LINCOLN CAME FROM GOOD STOCK

Lincoln's Father Was Man of Consequence, Says Local Pastor.

Contrary to the common impression, Abraham Lincoln did not spring from shiftless, non-descript stock, but from the best of the Anglo Saxon types that immigrated to our shores and his parents were people who rated high in their communities.

The foregoing assertion was made by Rev. Wm. E. Braisted, the new pastor of the First Baptist church, at the Sunday evening services where Lincoln was used as a topic for his sermon.

The humble surroundings of Lincoln's early life has caused the public to take it for granted that his parents were shiftless and improvident, Rev. Braisted said, but historians of late, in searching the records concerning Lincoln and his parents have found that Thomas Lincoln and his wife were, on the contrary, highly respected in the communities in which they resided. Among other things, the records show that Thomas Lincoln was an officer in a Baptist church in the Kentucky community where Abraham Lincoln was born. Church requirements in those days were more strict than they are today so this fact is highly significant that Thomas Lincoln was a man who enjoyed a better than average esteem among his neighbors.

Rev. Braisted pictured Lincoln as a man of destiny who was called to act at one of the crucial periods of world history. The destiny of this country lay in his hands and the course he took has made him one of the world's immortals.

An interesting sidelight, revealing the veneration that the world holds for the Great Emancipator was related by Rev. Braisted in the course of his talk when he told about the schools that have sprung up in the Balkan States of Europe since the World War. A representative of some American welfare activity, he said, in making a tour of inspection

John S. Lewis Jr. Funeral Held Saturday A. M.

Masonic Honors At Grave For Pioneer Business Man of Wayne.

Came Here 45 Years Ago

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at the Beckenhauer Funeral Home for John S. Lewis, Jr., pioneer businessman of Wayne, who passed away at his home in this city Thursday morning, a victim of pneumonia. The services were conducted under the direction of the Masonic Lodge with the sermon delivered by Rev. Ernst, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Omaha.

Mr. Lewis came to Wayne from Missouri in 1884 and establishing himself in the harness business shortly after his arrival, continued in the same business up to the time of his death, thus having the record of continuing in the same line of business longer than any other business man in the city.

John Simons Lewis, Jr., was born at Marshfield, Missouri, on February 20, 1865. He lived as a boy and grew to manhood at his Missouri home. At an early age he was apprenticed to the harness making trade, virtually growing up in the business.

On the day following his twenty-first birthday, he was married to Kate Summers. To this union ten children were born, eight of whom survive him, as does also the widow. The children are: John W., Katherine, Dora M., Alfred H., Mary Marshall, Alice and Phyllis. A sister, Mrs. A. H. Grover, is also of the near kin surviving him.

Pall bearers at the funeral were: A. T. Cavanaugh, D. H. Cunningham, Paul Mines, Paul Harrington, E. E. Fleetwood and M. L. Ringer.

Local business places were closed during the funeral hour as a matter of respect to the departed. There was a large attendance at the funeral. Among the out of town relatives and close friends of the deceased who were present at the funeral were: Mrs. V. E. Hixon, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wagner and Elmer Wagner of Tilden; Grant Summers, Marc Chantry and Allan Chantry of Omaha; Geo. Stringer, Cloquet, Minn.; John Curley, Allen; J. W. Gould and E. A. Webster of Plainview.

Mr. Pratt came to this vicinity about three years ago from Denver, Colorado, where he had made his residence for a number of years, having resided at Wakefield prior to that.

He was born in Rockford, Ill., fifty-nine years ago and on December 24, 1890, was married at Wakefield to Cora Bloodhart. Two children were born to them, Mrs. Albert Jones of this city and Arthur Pratt of Sioux City.

Funeral services were held at the Beckenhauer funeral parlors Tuesday afternoon, with W. C. Heidenreich, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church officiating.

Other relatives besides the immediate family surviving him are one brother, Walter Pratt, and three sisters, Mrs. Lura Flisk, Rapid City, S. Dak.; Mrs. Lucy Mershon, Denver, Colorado; and Miss Eula Pratt, of Rapid City, S. D.

Among those from out of town attending the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Crane and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pratt of Sioux City, Iowa; and Miss Eula Pratt of Rapid City, S. D.

LINCOLN, THE GREAT AMERICAN EXAMPLE

There is a tendency on the part of writers of the present day who treat of subjects of historical nature, to humanize characters of history that have ordinarily been the subject of hero worship.
Great figures like George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson, have had their real or alleged shortcomings played up in a way that would almost tend to remove them from the list of America's great. But America, fortunately, doesn't take it iconoclastic writers seriously.
It is significant, however, to note that none of these writers have dared to be unkind to the memory of Abraham Lincoln. The Great Emancipator is too strongly entrenched in the veneration and esteem of the American people. If his name has suffered at all it has been from the over-zealousness of those who seek to do him honor.

The American public's veneration for Lincoln is little short of deification. Artists and sculptors have pictured him in attitudes of benign beatification that makes it hard to believe that such a man really lived among us. His writings have assumed a potency that many people regard with a reverential awe not unlike that accorded Holy Writ. It would be almost unthinkable to propose any great American movement that would not bear up under the acid test of what Lincoln's attitude would have been concerning it. No politician of recent years has ever aspired to greatness that has not been likened to Lincoln, (regardless of whether or not they had any traits of character in common.)

Lincoln will endure as the great American example. But the good that such a great example can do is greatly lessened by this tendency of adulation on the part of the American people.

There is much more inspiration for the American youth in the act that Lincoln was a man of the common mould, whose greatness lay not so much in unusual ability, but in his simplicity, his steadfastness for what he deemed was right and just and in his great love for his fellow men.

CHIEF JUSTICE HUGHES
The appointment by President Hoover of Charles E. Hughes as chief justice of the United States Supreme Court, apparently meets with the approval of the country at large. While Mr. Hughes has for many years been permanently identified as an active and very partisan member of the Republican party, it is very noticeable that not even President Hoover's critics would countenance the thought that he was actuated by partisan motives when he made the appointment. A very peculiar feature pertaining to the attitude of the public toward Mr. Hughes and his predecessor, Justice Taft, lies in the fact that while both have enjoyed the respect and the utmost confidence of the people of America while members of the supreme court, they fared badly at the hands of the American people when they submitted their qualifications for election to the presidency. Which goes to show that a man's greatness is not measured by his popularity.

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS

CAMPAIGN PAYS

From reports of government packing house inspectors, it would indicate that efforts to stamp out tuberculosis among cattle is a gaining ground. During 1929 there were 16,500,000 pounds of beef condemned because of tuberculosis at the packing plants whereas three years ago there was in excess of 87,000,000 pounds of beef condemned for the same reason.
The elimination of the spreaders of tuberculosis among milk cows has also put the dairy industry on a more healthful and profitable basis. There are now 1,070,000 less cows in the whole country than there were twelve years ago. Nevertheless, the dairy industry is able to produce dairy products for 18,000,000 more people than in 1917, and the consumption of milk has been increased more than 30 per cent.

America Is Proud Of Its
Boy Scouts

Out of a mass of data secured from a certain reformatory in Illinois housing thousands of youths, one fact of more than usual significance is revealed in the finding that out of all the inmates there was not a single one that had ever belonged to the Boy Scouts.

There is something more than chance in this interesting fact. The Boy Scout movement does make better boys and better men. The Boy Scout is taught the principles of good citizenship. He is taught to recognize his duty toward society and to recognize and respect the rights of others.

This week the American people honor the Boy Scout organization in America in recognition of its twentieth anniversary of its founding in this country. The recognition and honor is entirely worthy for the influence the Boy Scout Movement exerts is wholesome and cannot be underestimated.

The Boy Scout is not only learning the duties of good citizenship, but by his excellent example his elders have learned lessons in politeness, patriotism and wholesome living—arts which many of the past generation have been none too conversant with.

A Letter To The Democrat

The following letter sent us from Sioux Falls, South Dakota, shows that the action of home merchants in regard to the Chain-Store fight and the Democrat stand on same is being taken note of far beyond the confines of the community. The writer also treats of a phase of this situation which is, no doubt, very often overlooked.

February 8, 1930.

Mr. G. A. Wade,
% Nebraska Democrat,
Wayne, Nebraska.

Dear Mr. Wade:
In looking over this week's issue of your valuable paper, my attention is attracted to an article on Chain Stores. I note with considerable interest that the merchants of my old home town are now taking an active part in the campaign against Chain Stores and Mail Order Houses.

The articles purchased through this source may, or may not, be all that is claimed for them, and the prices quoted may, or may not, be right, but leaving that out of consideration, attention of the people of Wayne should be called to the fact that just as good articles invariably can be purchased at the home stores at just as reasonable prices, quality considered.

It pays in dollars and cents, more often than some folks seem to realize, to deal with reputable local merchant who sells you a reputable article at his regular price, and who has a merchandising standing to maintain in the community and who can best maintain it through satisfied customers.

These things being true, who should get the business? The local merchant of course.

Why? Because he is a fellow citizen who pays taxes which go to the support of the town, the county, the state, the schools, the churches, the parks, good roads; because he supports necessary charity and the one hundred and one other things which make the community a better place in which to live. Because the money we spend with him stays in town, and, viewing this matter from a purely selfish angle, some of it finds its way back to us.

The same logic applies to the local merchant who has been guilty of buying his fire, tornado and other lines of insurance, as well as articles he does not handle, away from his own town. Your local insurance agent also has a standard to maintain and he does maintain it; he has brought quality insurance to your town and community, and sells it there. When you have a loss, he is on the ground to advise you and see that you get prompt adjustment. He gives you insurance service after the loss as well as before.

He is a fellow citizen who pays taxes, who supports charities and other enterprises. He is entitled to your insurance business because he lives in your town, sells the best of indemnity, and because he is always there and behind the goods he sells. Do your local merchants buy your insurance at home through your local insurance agents, or do you send out of town to Mail Order Mutual?

Very truly yours,
Frederick Schold

Is Paul Revere Riding The Air?

Night after night millions hear the cry of a man who is fighting for a principle, the future of the younger generation who wish to some day go into business for themselves, be it as a farmer, merchant or any branch wherein he can prosper. He is like the famous rider in American history who issued the call to people interested in independence. Conditions were being brought about wherein taxation by England made the submission unbearable, small American manufacturers were not allowed to prosper because the industries of England were determined to coerce and wipe them out.

Is America again faced with the concentration of wealth, bent on wiping out all elements before them to the point of eventually monopolizing prices on all products produced in the soil, all branches of distribution wherein profits allow a reasonable return on the investment? What will be the outcome? Who is to decide? Not the merchants nor the professional men, the laborer nor the farmer alone. It is all that go to make up what is called The Public, everyone alive with a mind to think and breathe to keep alive.

Will this situation reach a point wherein you and your neighbor will be working for someone who has the money to control you? Will the farms reach a point where they will only be operated by renters? Will farm prices eventually be controlled more than they are today to a point where the small owner cannot make a legitimate return on his investment and be forced to quit and work for an element who forced him into submission through monopoly?

Maybe we are wrong, that is for each one to decide. Has our mad search for money made us wish to be slaves of what it will buy other than the real needs and enjoyments? Does not history prove that when the individual concentrates wealth to the point that greed enters his mind, he dictates his actions toward his friends, neighbors or employees?

Give the matter a moment of serious thought. Since the people dictate the value of money and what shall be money, a piece of paper, a piece of copper, silver or gold has only the value placed on it by the consent of the people who use it. YOU CONTROL YOUR OWN DESTINY and will not allow any problem to reach a point wherein you may be deprived of what you have or even what you need to sustain life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, the fundamental basis of our American institutions. It has been broadcast that this problem is going to be faced by the public sooner or later as the pressure is exerted on more and more classes. You may not be affected today but will you be affected tomorrow when the last element in the way of concentrated capital has been forced to become a slave to money.

Tune in on station KWIKH and listen to the talks of people exclusive of Henderson and his "Dawgone You" language. You may not agree that he is right, he may be wrong—You are the judge and the case is within your hands.

Building for the Future

If you were building a house to live in only a year or two you probably wouldn't build as good a house as if you expected to live in it 20 or 30 years. It would not be as comfortable and yet it would cost you more for the time you lived in it.

It's much the same way with a telephone company. Telephone companies build systems that will last many years and make repairs, additions and improvements which will be serviceable far in the future because only by doing this can they provide the most satisfactory and adequate service.

Alleged Drunken Orgy

Brings Big Damage Suit

Madison, Jan. 30.—Suit has been brought in district court by Carl Uecker of Hadar, for damages in the amount of $50,000 against five persons, whom the complaint alleges inflicted unspeakable bodily harm to Uecker's son Raymond, 19.

The complaint alleges that the lad was attacked by the five people named in the complaint while they were indulging in a drunken orgy at the farm home of Martin Schwichtenberg, where young Uecker had been working as a farm hand. The defendants all said to have partaken in the attack are Dolores Wilson, a Norfolk girl, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wittenberg, tenant farmers and Herman Weyrich, farmer.

Uecker charges that after he had gone to bed the five defendants invaded his room, and that while the men held him, the two women inflicted serious injuries. He says that his health has been permanently impaired.

Mr. C. F. Redlich, the successful expert says:

The "Perfect Retention Shields" hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief, contract the opening in a remarkably short time and strengthen the weak tissues (the real cause of rupture) so that they frequently recover their previous natural retaining power, needing no further outside support. Stomach trouble, backache and constipation often caused by Rupture promptly disappear.

Truly remarkable and prompt results have been obtained not only with recent and not fully developed ruptures but also with old, long neglected ones.

Ingenious, recently perfected devices are now holding ruptures firmly which heretofore never had been retained.

No elastic belts nor filthy lestrans are used.

I guarantee the durability of my absolutely sweat and moisture proof, sanitary appliances.

75% of ruptured children recover completely through expert mechanical treatment according to statistics.

Do not waste your money on widely advertised but old contraptions. You cannot fit yourself.
