Bus Driver is Seriously Hurt In Collision

Car Crashes Into Bus At Road Intersection South Of Town.

Injured Boy Recovering

Milford Wright, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wright, is in the local hospital receiving treatment for injuries sustained in an auto wreck last Sunday afternoon, when the bus he was driving was run into by a car driven by Charles Carlson of Carroll.

The young man was injured when he tried to jump out of the door of the car after the cars had crashed. The car was upsetting at the time and he was pinned between the door and the upper frame of the car, which clamped his body just above the pit of the stomach and the base of the shoulder blades.

At first it was thought that the injuries would prove fatal as he was suffering somewhat from a hemorrhage of the lungs and his heart action was retarded, but he is getting on nicely at this writing and an x-ray revealed that no bones were broken.

The accident occurred about three o'clock in the afternoon at an intersection of the Sunshine Highway about four miles south of town. Wright was making the regular bus run to Wisner and Carlson was driving to Wayne. The Carlson car, a Ford Tudor sedan struck the bus, a seven passenger Hudson, along the left side just ahead of the front door. The impact evidently was of great force for three of the bus wheels were demolished and the bus was pushed up against a cement culvert guard so that the right rear of the vehicle was badly caved in.

The Ford car was also badly wrecked, the left side bearing the brunt of the impact. The front wheels were wrecked, the radiator caved in and the windshield smashed. The steering wheel was knocked clear out of position and it is considered remarkable that Carlson went through the mishap with no injuries save a few minor bruises and a couple of glass cuts. It is also fortunate that both of the drivers were alone in their cars.

PRESBYTERIAN MEN ARE ENTERTAINED

Fine Program Of Music And Talks Much Enjoyed.

Good fellowship, in the finest sense of the word, was exemplified at the annual men's meeting of the Presbyterian church last Tuesday evening, where the men folks of the congregation and invited guests enjoyed a banquet, followed by a program of music and talks.

The meeting partook of the nature of a father and son banquet as "boys" on both sides of 21 were present and fraternized on a common level.

A splendid dinner, served by the ladies of the congregation, was followed by community singing led by Frank Gamble, a couple of numbers by the college quartette and an address by A. A. Richardson, president of the Sioux City branch of the Simmons Hardware Company.

Mr. Richardson used the word "Service" as the topic for his discussion. Practically every group of men, he said, is made up of three different kinds of individuals: The "I" man, who is so self centered and selfish that he will have nothing to do with anything that does not work distinctly toward his benefit; the "they" man, who leaves everything to the other fellow, who assumes no responsibility but is always ready to criticize. The third class he designated as the "We" man who never stints in working for the common good. Mr. Richardson's talk, while primarily intended for the promotion of interest among men in church work, was a wholesome treatise on community service given in a straightforward "man to man" style that made it unusually impressive.

A short talk by the pastor, Rev. P. A. Davies, concluded the meeting.

WHY FORGET THE CHAINS?

During the past few weeks the Democrat has received its full share of criticism as well as commendation for its stand on the chain store question.

One merchant has suggested to us that we "forget the chains"—made the suggestion in spite of the fact that he belongs to an organization supposed to be militant against the chain stores and in spite of the fact that in front of his store window he has on display a very ornate sign bearing the legend "M. M. M."

Why forget the chains? Why even try?

Nothing could be sweeter for the merchants today than that the community forces would be so apparently forgetful that they raise no voice of protest against the entire program of chain store conduct and development.

Let's not be silly nor soft spoken, but recognize the facts and deal with them.

There are no ethical reasons for forgetting. The chain stores have long since surrendered all rights to ethical consideration by reason of the practices employed by them—practices which are crowding out the home owned stores.

Why try and forget when the whole nation is aroused to the realization of a long proclaimed truth that chain store patronage by the buying public, if carried on to its desired conclusion, means nothing less than waste, destruction and monopoly?

He who would or can forget is in the minority today. From all sides and over the air hundreds of thousands of people are voicing their protest against this encroaching menace. These people are not begging, not whining—but they are not forgetting and they are demanding that the public does not forget.

The home town merchant who subscribes to the sentiment "forget about the chains" cannot with good grace display a sign to the effect that he is a member in good standing in the "M. M. M." organization and he cannot with good grace ask us, in some future date to "give them fits" when a chain store affecting his particular line of business comes to town and he begins to feel the pinch.

WINSIDE WOMAN ANSWERS SUMMONS

Mrs. P. C. Anderson Dies Following Serious Operation.

Mrs. P. C. Anderson passed away Monday morning, March 24th at Rochester, Minnesota, following a second major operation Friday.

Marie Nielson was born December 7, 1873 at Svejstrup, Denmark. She came to the United States in May 1902 and to Washington county, Nebraska, where she lived with her brother Jorgen Nielson on a farm two years. On April 12, 1904 she was married to P. C. Anderson and they came to Wayne county, and lived on a farm 4 miles east and 5 miles south of Winside, for four years, then moving in 1908 to their present home one half mile west of Winside where they have resided for 22 years.

Mrs. Andersen was confirmed and baptized in the Lutheran church in Denmark.

She is survived by her husband P. C. Anderson; three brothers, Jorgen Nielsen of Winside, Chris Nielsen of Pilger, John Nielson of Powell, Wyoming; two sisters, Mrs. H. C. Hansen of Brunswick, Nebraska and Mrs. Anna Sorensen of Denmark.

Funeral services were held from the home at 2:00 p. m., and from the M. E. church at 2:30, the Rev. Carl Critchett, pastor of the church, in charge. Interment was made in the Pleasant View cemetery at Winside.

DISABLED VETS' PROBLEMS LEGIONAIRE'S GREAT TASK

Prominent Legionaires Of Organization Discuss Work.

Banquet Is Well Attended

"We've paid our debt to LaFayette. Now who the H— do we owe?" Such was the sentiment of the American doughboy on Armistice Day 1918, according to John Curtis, member of the State Railway Commission and nationally known Legionaire, who was one of the speakers at the annual banquet of Wayne county Legion posts held at Hotel Stratton last Friday evening.

"The war was over, as far as hostilities were concerned," Mr. Curtis said, "America had paid its debt to LaFayette and to France, and the American soldier felt that he had through the privations, hardships and sacrifices, fulfilled his obligations. But it did not take him long to find out that he was sadly mistaken."

"While this country had fulfilled its obligations to the cause for which it entered the war, it found that the biggest problem of the war lay before it after the armistice was signed—the obligation of properly caring for the thousands of disabled veterans whose bodies, and minds had been maimed and wrecked by the war."

The American Legion, he said, found very shortly after its organization, that the greatest work which lay before it was in behalf of their disabled comrades and it was through the efforts of that organization, alone, that the bulk of the legislation for the benefit of disabled veterans has been passed.

"This fact alone, he brought out, was sufficient answer to the query "What good do I get out of the Legion."

Mr. Curtis' address was one of several talks made that evening by men prominent in American Legion activities. Others addressing the meeting were Dwight Griswold, State Commander; Hank Dudley, state adjutant; Gordon Beck, of the U. S. Veterans Bureau; and Colonel R. G. Douglass, of the State Fund Relief Committee. One hundred and twenty ex-service men and invited guests were present to partake of the seven o'clock dinner and to enjoy the (continued on page seven)

ENUMERATORS FOR COUNTY ANNOUNCED

Two Weeks Time Allotted Enumerators To Complete Task.

Appointment of enumerators in Wayne county for the coming census is about completed and Mrs. Marie Weekes, supervisor of the census in this district announces the following appointees:

Nels J. Johnson, Winside; Albert Borg, Wakefield; Emma Richardson, Wayne; Mrs. Katherine Mitchell, Wayne; Henry Burnham, Sholes; William Kay, Wakefield; John A. Weible, Winside; Charles A. Deneola, Carroll; Jack Hofferber, Hoskins; Gertrude A. Bayes, Winside; Marjorie V. Linn, Carroll; George K. Moore, Winside; William A. Rees, Carroll; Mrs. Sylvia Lapham, Wayne; French Penn, Wayne.

Schools of instruction for all enumerators will be held this week over the district and one will be held in Wayne Friday morning at 9 o'clock in the court house. All enumerators in the county will be required to attend this school. Problems of the enumerators will be taken up and instruction given on enumerating.

Cooperation of everyone is urged in order that this census will be complete and accurate in every way. If every person will admit the enumerator when he or she calls and give the information promptly and accurately, there will be no trouble in getting through on time. Only two weeks are allowed to count the towns and a month to enumerate the rural districts. Everyone must have his work done in that time even though it takes long hours to do it. Enumerators are paid per person and per town.

High School Students Of Region to Compete In Ann. Music Contest

Schools From All Over The District Expected To Participate.

To Be Staged At College

Musical talent of high school students of Northeast Nebraska, expressed in bands, glee clubs, choruses, orchestras, solos, both vocal and instrumental, will come to the forefront among school activities April 11 and 12, when schools from all over this part of the state will vie for honors at the second annual district high school music contest held at the State Teachers College at Wayne at that time.

The afternoon and evening of Friday, April 11, will be devoted entirely to solos and small group events, while those events requiring a large number of contestants will be held on the Saturday following.

Last year, twenty-four schools, with an aggregate of about five hundred contestants, participated in the contest. With good weather and good roads prevailing, it is expected that this number will be exceeded in the coming contest.

Entry blanks have already been sent out to the schools, which must be returned to the secretary of these activities, Maurice K. Peterson, Hartington, by April 1. The public is invited and urged to attend the programs.

City Election Will Be Quiet Affair

Caucus Ticket Evidently Only One To Be Voted On.

With city election but a few days away, and no opposition having appeared to contest honors with the candidates named in the caucus held several weeks ago, it begins to appear as though the coming election will cause but a slight ruffle in the every day affairs of the city.

Tuesday, April first, has been designated as election day in the city at which time the city will vote to fill the places of mayor, city treasurer, clerk, three councilmen and two members of the school board.

The following candidates will appear on the city ballot:

- For Mayor, W. M. Orr.
- For Treasurer, O. L. Randall.
- For Clerk, Walter S. Bressler.
- For Councilman First Ward, Ed Ellis.
- For Councilman Second Ward, J. G. W. Lewis.
- For Councilman Third Ward, Carl Wright.

School Election

For Members of the Board of Education (two), B. W. Wright and L. W. Vath.

Election of the foregoing candidates will effect little change in the city personnel, there being but two changes, one in the first ward where Ed Ellis supplants the name of L. B. McClure; and in the school board where L. W. Vath succeeds Mrs. E. W. Huse.

The voting polls will be in the usual places in the first and third wards, namely the city hall and the court house; but the voters of the second ward will vote at Beckenhauer's garage at the rear of the undertaking establishment.

Anderson-Jeffrey

Albert Anderson of north of Wayne and Miss Edna Mae Jeffrey of near Wayne were married this week at Sioux City, Iowa. Mr. Anderson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Anderson of north of Wayne and his bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Jeffrey of near Wayne. Both are well known in their respective communities, and have a host of friends who wish them every success and much happiness. They will make their home on the farm formerly occupied by the Ernest Carlson family who moved to a farm near Laurel this spring.

Wayne Girl Becomes Bride Thursday P. M.

Miss Alma Claussen and Conrad Weiershauser Were Wed Last Thursday

A pretty wedding took place at the J. H. Claussen home here last Thursday afternoon when Miss Alma C. Claussen became the bride of Conrad H. Weiershauser of Wakefield, the Rev. A. Janke, pastor of the Theophilus Evangelical church southwest of Wayne, performing the ceremony in the presence of about 20 guests, most of whom were relatives. Miss Clara Hulsebusch and August Dranselka were attendants.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at 5:30 o'clock. A pleasant social evening followed, and a midnight reception was held at 12 o'clock that night.

The home was beautified for the occasion in the bride's chosen colors of lavender and white.

The bride was charming in a gown of white georgette with veil which hung gracefully from a dainty wreath. Her bouquet was of white roses and Easter lilies, and was enhanced by green ferns and streamers of tulle. The bridesmaid wore lavender georgette and carried a bouquet of lavender sweet pears and green ferns. The men wore the conventional dark suits.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Claussen of this city and has a host of friends in the vicinity. The bridegroom is an industrious farmer living northeast of Wayne.

Members of College Basket Ball Team Elect 1931 Captains

Twelve members of the Wayne Teachers College basketball team are to be rewarded for their participation in the basketball games that won for their school the conference championship title.

Nine members of the squad are to receive the miniature golden basketball trophies awarded members of the squad for active participation throughout the season in the games played and three other players will receive their letters for the part they played.

Those receiving basketballs are: Langfeldt (capt.), Farrow, Schwarz, Felix, Pieper, Alexander, Andrews, Eike and Lindemood. Letters will be given Jensen, Harper and Stedry.

Captains Elected

Floyd Alexander and Loren Andrews, who starred conspicuously in practically all of last season's games, were named captains for the 1930-31 season. Both of these young men are sophomores and are among the most promising basketball material the school has had in years. Their election took place at a meeting of the basketball team last Monday evening.

Dinner in Team's Honor

This coming Thursday evening the team will be guests of Carl Nicholson, proprietor of the Palace Cafe, who is serving a steak dinner in appreciation of the honors they have won for their school and for the city of Wayne. They were accorded a steak dinner by Bob Stevens of the Dew Drop Inn Cafe earlier in the season when they made it three straight victories on their first itinerary, winning then from Midland, Omaha and Peru. These courtesies by local business men have been much appreciated by the boys and, naturally, should spur them on to still greater efforts in their future activities.

Passes 75th Birthday Saturday, March 22

Mrs. C. C. Bastian passed her 75th birthday last Saturday, and in honor of the event a group of her children and grandchildren came to her home Sunday and took dinner together with her and her husband. Her granddaughter, Miss Cereta Gildersleeve, brot roast goose, saved especially for the occasion, and the cake, and Mrs. Bastian prepared the other articles of the birthday dinner. Those present were Abram Gildersleeve and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gildersleeve and baby, and Albert, Clarence, and Viola Bastian. A happy social afternoon ensued.

Final Tribute Given Former Wayne Woman

Gold Star Mother Taken By Death At Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Passed Away Friday A. M.

Mrs. Nettie Sears, former resident of this city, and well known here, passed away at a hospital in Council Bluffs, Iowa early last Friday morning, having attained the age of 67 years. Mrs. Sears had been in poor health a little over a year.

Nettie Lewis Martin was born at Baraboo, Wisconsin, October 22, 1862. At an early age she moved with her parents to Council Bluffs, Iowa, where she attended school at the brick school house in "Dutch Hollow," which was near her home. In 1880 she was married to William F. Sears, and came with her husband to a farm east of Wayne where they made their home until the death of her husband January 25, 1907. Mrs. Sears then moved into Wayne. In 1922, she went to Council Bluffs, Iowa, where she has since made her home. During the past year she had been in poor health, and the final summons came March 21, 1930, death being due to cerebral stoppage.

Mrs. Sears was the mother of eleven children, seven of whom remain to mourn her departure. They are Clarence, Sears of Oswaloosa, Iowa; Fern Wood of Council Bluffs, Iowa; Sarah Dempsay, South Sioux City, Nebraska; Harold Sears, Brownville, Nebraska; Hazel Bressler, Wayne, Nebraska; William Sears, Cody, Wyoming; and Ethel Miller, Council Bluffs. She is also survived by one brother, Charles A. Martin of Wayne, and by twenty grandchildren.

Mrs. Sears was an active member of the First Baptist church of Wayne for many years, later transferring her membership to the First Baptist church of Council Bluffs, Iowa. She was a member of the American Legion Auxiliary and Gold Star Mothers of Wayne, Nebraska, one son having made the great sacrifice—that of giving his life for his country, in France July 27, 1918.

The Rev. Francis E. Cooper, pastor of the First Baptist church at Council Bluffs, of which Mrs. Sears was a member, writes the following tribute to the departed: "Mrs. Sears possessed a radiant personality. It was a real spiritual uplift and pleasure to me on every (continued on page seven)

WEATHER NOT SO GOOD

As if regretting the balmy weather of the recent past, the weatherman has doled out a batch of weather which can easily come under the designation—"Not So Good". While the temperatures have not been necessarily low, the winds have been raw and decidedly unpleasant. Monday morning brought a light fall of snow which has since disappeared. Tuesday morning was the coldest during the period, the thermometer at the city power plant recording 20 degrees above zero at seven o'clock. At that this region has fared remarkably well in comparison with the country to the east of us, especially Chicago, which suffered the most severe storm ever recorded in that city during the month of March.

AN APOLOGY

The Democrat owes an apology to its readers for coming late to their homes this week. A heavy run of job work made it necessary that a portion of our reading matter be set in an out of town shop. The package containing the copy to be set was carried by and did not reach the printers in time for them to get the type to us via bus or train. We had to drive to Norfolk to get the type and our paper was delayed several hours on that account. This vexatious delay has put a severe strain upon our Christian training and we assure you that it will be an unusual circumstance that will permit anything like that to happen again.

Pilger Young Man And Carroll Girl Are Wed

Miss Tillie Carlson of Carroll and Edward Coney of Pilger were married at the St. Paul Lutheran church of Carroll last Thursday morning, March 20, the Rev. Krohn performing the ceremony in the presence of a group of relatives and friends. They were attended by Miss Esther Taylor of Wayne and Arland Wells of Pilger.

The bride was charming in a gown hyocinda flat crepe, fashioned in stylish mode. She wore a hat of tan, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and calla lilies. The bride-aid wore a frock of tan with hat to match and carried a bouquet of ophelia roses.

After the wedding ceremony breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents to about 25 relatives and friends. The dining room was beautified for the occasion with decorations of pink and white and the table was centered with a large wedding cake and with Ophelia roses and lilies. A reception was held during the day.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carlson of Carroll, and has spent most of her life in that community where she is respected for her pleasant disposition and winning ways. She is a graduate of Carroll high and attended the Wayne State Teachers' college one year. The past year she has been a successful teacher in Dist. 34, south of Wayne. Miss Kenny of Winside will finish teaching her school term. The bridegroom though not widely known in the Carroll vicinity, is to be congratulated on his choice of a wife. He is a graduate of the Pilger high, and has been playing ball in the Nebraska State League, which he plans to continue. He is a son of Mrs. Caroline Coney of Pilger.
Mr. and Mrs. Coney are taking a short wedding trip before returning to Pilger.

George W. Kingston Carroll, Is Called

The Carroll community was shocked Friday morning, March 14, when it became known that George Kingston, resident of Carroll since 1918, had passed away that morning at 9:30 o'clock. He was 68 years of age and had been in fairly good health up until about a week previous to his death when he contracted a cold which later developed into pneumonia. Complications setting in, he was unable to rally.

George W. Kingston was born in Lawrence county, Pa. April 24, 1861. In 1887 he was married to Miss Abbie Beck, and came to Nebraska in 1890, settling on a farm northwest of Carroll. He retired in 1918 and moved to Carroll. The union was blessed with three children, Henry Claire, Mary Ellen, and Myrtle Belle, all of whom preceded their father in death. Myrtle, who was married to Dave Theophilus of Randolph, passed away Feb. 7, 1919.

The departed is survived by his wife and two sisters, Lizzie Kingston and Ella Kingston, and by one brother, Edward Kingston. Two grandsons, Donald and Claire Theophilus of Randolph, also survive.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the Methodist church at Carroll, the Rev. W. A. Rominger in charge. Interment was made in the Carroll cemetery. The many friends of the bereaved extend sincere sympathy to them in this time of sorrow.

Supreme Court Affirms District Court Decision

The supreme court Tuesday affirmed the $500 judgment secured in Wayne County by W. H. Eastburn against W. E. Kendrick, the judgment involved being for an alleged commission promised Kendrick, to Eastburn, which Kendrick refused to pay.

The litigation arose out of foreclosure sale of property belonging to Kendrick, the sale brought $15,000. Kendrick it is alleged, offered Eastburn $500 if he would let the judge know that if the property were put up for sale again the bid would be $16,000. The judge agreed and the resale of the property brought $17,000, but went to bidders whom Kendrick had not figured on.

Kendrick refused to meet the obligation to Eastburn, claiming that the contract was against public policy. Eastburn brought suit in district court and was awarded judgment.

The case was carried to the supreme court confirming the ruling of the district court. The decision states that the claim was just and in no way based on fraud as the defendant alleged. The court states that inasmuch as Kendrick made $2,000 out of the deal, he should be willing to pay $500 to the man who made it possible.

MINERAL MIXTURE NEEDED BY SWINE

Grain and Forage Rations Must Be Supplemented.

That the ordinary grain and forage rations used for feeding our hogs must be supplemented with a mineral mixture is a fact upon which all investigators agree. A typical statement relating to this subject was recently made by A. Severson of the North Dakota experiment station, as follows: "The ordinary grain ration does not contain the variety nor a proper amount of mineral matter required to rapidly develop a large frame for early maturing hogs. One can expect a considerable percentage of weak, undersized or unthrifty pigs when no mineral mixture is used. Without mineral matter sows are apt to go down in the back, become weak in their pasterns and many times become so weak they cannot get up when nursing a large litter of pigs. The milk drains heavily on the skeleton of the sow to supply the proper amount of mineral to the milk. The constant addition of mineral matter to the sow's ration will avoid this ailment. Hogs are more apt to suffer from mineral deficiency than other classes of live stock."

Such products as tankage and skim milk are rich in mineral matter, but under average farm conditions they are seldom, if ever, fed in large enough quantities to supply the amount needed. Those who have been carrying their pigs on a light grain ration with perhaps a rather skimpy pasture should not overlook the feeding of a liberal supply of minerals.

Swine Grading Proves Valuable in Marketing

Hog grading data is a reliable agency for showing up many of the leaks which are prone to creep into the marketing end of our swine industry. For example, it has been pointed out that the percentage of heavy hogs has decreased since the inception of hog grading. The percentage of select bacon hogs, which was below 12 per cent for the whole of Canada at the commencement of hog grading, has risen gradually to 17 per cent. This improvement has been accomplished through closer attention to breeding and feeding; because of the data revealed to farmers through this policy, and also because the policy provided for payment on a quality basis.

Beef Herds Maintained During Severe Weather

Beef herds may be best maintained during the winter with a legume hay in the ration. Liberal use of alfalfa hay, according to practical feeders, helps insure a healthy calf crop. Experimentally the fact has been proven that steers carried through the winter on alfalfa hay make faster gains than non-alfalfa fed steers the following year on pasture. An experimental trial comparing prairie hay with alfalfa showed that the prairie hay gains were but one-half as large as the alfalfa gains.

March Farrowed Pigs Marketed in Winter

January, February, and early March farrowed pigs are probably 50 per cent marketed, but due to corn being high in price there are many pigs lacking the finishing touches. Corn and tankage are rather high prices, but the redeeming feature of the situation is that hogs are also fair priced. If the pigs are thrifty, free from worms, lice, and mange, and are fed a well balanced ration there is no doubt but that they will make a good return on the feed consumed.

Live Stock Notes

Good breeding and good feeding go hand-in-hand. Success depends upon combination of the two.

Intelligent treatment of animals requires just as much, if not more study, than does the intelligent treatment of people.

Pigs do much better when on pasture than in the dry lot. Hog raisers should plan to provide pasture for hogs during the late fall and early spring months as well as during the spring and summer.

A good draft horse is a ready and willing worker and is neither irritable nor nervous.

A self feeder is an economical method of finishing the spring pig. Place shelled corn in one compartment and tankage in the other.

Pigs cannot be farrowed to good advantage every month in the year, but they can be farrowed in more months than they usually are and we can market them advantageously in every month of the year.

BREAKS JAW

Pender—While returning from Wisner on Friday night of last week Louie Albertson and Hershel Essex met with an auto accident at the jog in the road at the county line west of town between Thurston and Wayne counties when falling to notice the turn their car crashed into the bank and the impact pitched Hershel forward against the top of the car with such force as to break his jaw bone and nose and knocked out several teeth. The car was only slightly damaged. Owing to the swollen condition of Hershel's face the bones could not be set immediately and he suffered great pain. The broken bones were set later and he is recovering and resting as easily as could be expected, under the circumstances. Republican.

WAYNE MARKET REPORTS

Following are the market prices quoted us up to the time of going to press Thursday:

Table with market prices for Corn, Oats, Butter Fat, Eggs, Hens, Roosters, and Hogs.

American diplomats at the London disarmament parley at London seem to have struck a snag. Old world diplomacy, as usual, has been too much for them.

There must be a lot of hypocrites in the United States if the recent wet and dry poll of the Literary Digest may be taken as criterion.

DOHENY "NOT GUILTY"

The courts found Edward L. Doheny not guilty of giving a bribe to Albert B. Fall when he secured the Teapot Dome lease for a song.

Public sentiment is blamed for this brazen display of "lopsided justice." Public sentiment would tolerate nothing but a verdict of guilty for Fall.

Such a state of affairs does not afford a very optimistic outlook for the rights of the average citizen in this country.

If justice can only be secured through over-wrought public sentiment—then America has only two alternatives—Anarchy or Mob Rule.

TOO MANY AUTO ACCIDENTS

There have been five serious automobile accidents in the vicinity of Wayne within the past two weeks. Every one of these accidents could have been avoided had the drivers of one of the cars involved heeded some very simple and entirely reasonable traffic regulation.

These accidents have been expensive ones. A young life is hanging in the balance between life and death. Several high priced cars have been utterly ruined. Expensive litigation is very apt to happen in the courts.

Before we criticize, however, let us be fair and ask ourselves if we have ever violated any of these rules that have been so expensive to some people less fortunate than we have been.

Did you ever drive past a "STOP" signal? If you have, do not criticize the driver who caused last Sunday's accident. You were only more fortunate. Don't do it again.

Absolute Fairness
Assessors Objective

"Fairness to all and special privileges to none, with every effort to put our taxation on an absolutely honest basis" will be the fundamental feature stressed to the assessors of the county next Saturday when they meet with County Assessor Wm. Assenheimer for final instructions before starting on their annual task on April first.

The above quoted lines are a part of the assessors' creed expressed by Harry W. Scott, state tax commissioner. While there have been no appreciable changes in the procedure followed by the assessor, from what it was the year previous, the principle of absolute fairness will be stressed more than ever before.

"The assessor's job," Mr. Assenheimer says, "is not always the most pleasant one. He is much misunderstood and misrepresented. He is often blamed for high taxes, when as a matter of fact he has nothing to do with the levying of taxes."

It is his duty to survey, record and appraise. He is required to take an oath that he will assess and value all property at what he believes is the true value. He does not decide how much the taxes will be, he merely records the basis for dividing and distributing the government expense.

For that reason it is nothing more than the duties of good citizenship to cooperate with the assessor in bringing about a just and equitable basis for determining the taxes every citizen should pay.

The law requires that all property be assessed at its actual value as defined to be the market value in ordinary course of trade.

American Athletics
Discussed By Kiwanis

American College athletics, which have been the subject of much discussion of late throughout the nation, was brought before last Monday's meeting of the local Kiwanis by Coach W. R. Hickman of the Wayne Teachers College.

Coach Hickman reviewed the findings of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, which, at the instigation of the American Association of Colleges and the National Collegiate Athletic Association, had four men prepare a bulletin on college athletics. The bulletin which was published last October, created quite a sensation as it hit in no uncertain terms many practices that have become common among colleges and universities that are foremost in athletics in the country.

The most prevalent abuse, the bulletin showed, concerned the subsidizing of athletes particularly through athletic scholarships.

Mr. Hickman's discussion of the subject created so much interest among those present that it will be made the topic for a general discussion among the members at a meeting of the Kiwanis of the near future.

The next meeting of the Kiwanis, to be held Monday evening of the coming week, will be devoted chiefly to honoring the local chapter of the Girl Scouts. The girls of this organization will be honored guests at the meeting.

Mrs. Lyle Gamble Is Surprised On Birthday

A group of relatives came in a body unawares to the Lyle Gamble home near here last Sunday morning and surprised Mrs. Gamble, reminding her of her birthday, which was Saturday and bringing well filled baskets of food with them, that they might all enjoy a birthday dinner together in her honor. After the "surprise dinner" there was a social time, and Mrs. Gamble received many gifts from the guests. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Granquist, Mrs. E. Grandquist, Miss Edith Granquist, Mrs. Julia Galdersleeve and children, Mr. and Mrs. Nels Granquist and children and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Paulsen and family.

- 11:00—Morning service.
- 6:00—Evening choir.
- 7:00—Christian Endeavor.
- 7:30—Union service at the M. E. church.

The Ministerial association have asked Mr. H. V. Johnson of Norfolk to deliver his series of "Eye-O-Graphic" Bible lectures in Wayne. The first will be delivered at the M. E. church Sunday night and they will continue from night to night closing Friday night. Plan to be at each and all of these special services.

The Ladies of the church are to be congratulated upon the success of the Style Review presented Friday night. It was instructive and interesting.

The large crowd present enjoyed it from the beginning to the end. And last of all it was profitable to the Treasurer of the Ladies Aid.

By the time this is read, another important event in the church year will have taken place. The Annual Banquet of the men of the church. Such times of Fellowship are very helpful.

We are happy to have our Sunday school orchestra on the job once more. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend our services.

First Baptist Church
W. E. Braisted, Pastor

- 10:00—Sunday school. Topic for study: "King Serving."
- 11:00—The morning worship with message by the pastor. Subject: "Do all to the Glory of God: What How?"

There will be no evening worship in this church as we join in the union meeting at the First M. E. church for the series of Illustrated Bible lectures by Mr. Johnson. It is hoped the members of this church and congregation will attend these special lectures, beginning Sunday night, and each night through Thursday, at the same place and hour.

Remember, please that our next Communion service will be April 6; plan to be present. The Every Member Canvass, as voted by the church, will be held April 13th. Special Easter services the 20th. Let us pray and plan for all this.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church
W. C. Heidenreich, Pastor

- 10:00—Sunday school.
- 11:00—Morning worship.

There will be no Luther League Sunday night but the congregation is urged to attend the special bible lecture to be given in the Methodist church. The services on Sunday will begin at 7:30. On the following week night the lectures will begin at 8:00 o'clock.

Mission Study Circle at the home of Mrs. Dave Bohde, Friday afternoon.

A well filled church again last Sunday. Come again and bring your friends.

No Lenten services next week because of the Bible lecture course.

TO THE PUBLIC

In view of the fact that physicians are not always called in case of contagious and communicable diseases, your attention is invited to that part of the rules and regulations of the State Board of Health, which requires the one having the disease, the head of the house or guardian to report to the Secretary of the local Board of Health, existence of same. If communicable disease is found that has not been reported, charges must be preferred against the head of the house or guardian of the patient. If a physician was in attendance and did not report the disease, charges are to be preferred against the physician.

"WHY SHOULD I GO?"

Hartington, Neb., March 21—Mrs. Frank Keiter of Hartington is another Gold Star mother who doesn't want to see her son's grave in France, as provided by the government's pilgrimage overseas. It took five years, she says, to recover from the sorrow brought by the single line, "Missing in action", which came to her September 28, 1918. Well she remembers that day and is trying to forget.

"Better to stay with the living children than go in search of the dead", says Mrs. Keiter.

She looked up at the khaki-clad figure, standing at "order arms" in the oval gilt frame over the piano.

"He was my youngest son", she said, "and it was hard to see him go, and oh, so hard to know that he would never come back. Why should I go when we do not even know if there is a grave to kneel at? The government has not told us anything but that he was missed. We have received nothing—no identification tag or any of his belongings. They must not have found him else he would have had something. And even if there were a grave it would only remind me of the loss—four sons, and he was the youngest." Her eyes found the picture again of the khaki-clad figure standing at "order arms".

It took five years for this Gold Star mother to forget that short message, so short and yet so meaningful. Each year on Memorial day when the guns boom in the cemetery near the home and the ranks of the guards go marching down the road, she feels her loss more bitterly. The booming guns remind her, the marching soldiers remind her of him—when she wants to forget.

Her mind is made up. She does not want to go. She has his picture and her memories of him—her youngest son. She wants to think of him as alive, alert—not as a cross over a lonesome grave in a faraway land. She wants to remember him as living, like in the picture in the gilt oval frame over the piano, not as dead beneath the ground.—World-Herald.

THE WAY OF LIFE

This is one of the greatest tragedies of modern life. Men are forgetting how to walk.

They travel by taxicabs and street cars; they travel by automobile; they project their personalities over a telephone wire.

But they do not walk.

There is a double loss in this. A loss in health, first. Most of the diseases of modern men originate in the intestines. Formerly men and women walked enough to keep the stomach muscles firm, the intestines healthfully agitated.

Now men and women even more so—sit all day slumped in.

Germs settle down inside them gladly; and Death, his work made easy for him, laughs.

There is another loss, equally great: A loss in mental keenness and mental wealth.

Did you ever take a walk in the country with someone who knows really how to walk?

Someone of the type of the naturalist Linnaeus, for instance? Linnaeus walked into Oland, and found the lands of the farmers ruined by sand blown from the beaches.

He discovered that the roots of a certain grass were long and firm; he taught the farmers to sow the grass along the beach: so preserved their lands from ruin.

He walked into Thorne, and found that at a certain period in every year the cattle fell sick and died.

It was a curse, the people said—the act of angry spirits.

But Linnaeus, examining the pastures, uncovered a noxious weed, and showed the farmers how the work of one laborer for a few days every season would root it out.

In his walks he examined and catalogued 8,000 plants, vegetables, and flowers.

How many plants, vegetables, and flowers do you think you could identify if you were to see them in their native state?

"Few men," said Dr. Johnson, "know how to take a walk."

But those favored few enjoy a glorious and mysterious privilege.

To discover where the violets first bloom in the spring—

To be able to tell directions in the woods, by knowing that large pine trees bear more numerous branches on their southern side—

Or that grass grows on the south side of ant-hills and whortleberries on the north.

There are few pleasures more richly satisfying; none that pay larger dividends in health.

The man who goes into the country once a week is a better citizen than the man who never goes, even though his eyes see nothing more inspiring on his walk than a golf ball.

Flabby legs usually mean flabby brains.

If you would think clearly, speak forcefully, work effectively, get out into the country when you can—and walk.—By Bruce Barton in the Cedar County News.

LEGGE "SHAKES A LEG"

That man Alex Legge is a quicker worker than most officials. A few days ago I submitted to him the complaint of many small millers in Nebraska, complaining that certain practices of the Federal Farm Board were "choaking the little mills" which were not located close to the big terminal markets. Legge studied the problem for half an hour. He became satisfied that the complaints which I carried to him from the Howells Milling company, speaking for many small interior mills, was well-founded complaint. In the very next hour Legge authorized me to say to the complaining small millers in the interior of Nebraska that the policy of the Farm Board would be changed IMMEDIATELY, and he then there issued an order to the effect: I wish Alex Legge might be pleased to loan to the heads of many other government departments down here that meat axe with which he so quickly and splendidly cuts governmental red tape. I particularly wish he might loan that axe to the heads of departments in the United States Veterans Bureau, so that I might more readily procure justice in behalf of the disabled boys of the World war, and particularly in behalf of those veterans afflicted with tuberculosis. Several of my own fine soldier boys who were in the clutches of tuberculosis have died while I was trying to push their claims through the barriers of bureaucratic red tape. Daily I shall point the bureaucrats to the splendid example of Alex Legge and his splendid meat axe, which can carve its way through a red tape entanglement like a Cornhusker football plunger through a Kansas or Missouri line.—Edgar Howard in a recent Washington News letter.

Announce Secret Wedding

Wisner—The announcement of the marriage of Miss Vera Worrell, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Worrell of Beemer, formerly of Wisner, and Arthur Tiedtke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Tiedtke of Pilger, who were married at Tyndal, S. D. on December 29, 1929, by the Methodist Minister, Rev. Scherer, at the M. E. parsonage of that place, came as a surprise to their many friends. They succeeded in keeping their marriage a complete secret until recently when the bride told a few of her friends, and asked to be released from her work as teacher in District 5 in Wayne county. They are now making their home at Pilger where the bridegroom is working in the Farmers' Union store where he has been employed the past five years. The bride is a graduate of the Wisner high, and taught school last year in Western Nebraska. This year she taught about eight miles north of Wisner. The bridegroom has always lived in Pilger.

DO YOU LIKE DETECTIVE STORIES?

Do you harbor a secret fondness for detective stories? Those who do are, for some unexplainable reason, inclined to be shame faced while admitting it. If you are one of those who make excuses when you purchase a detective magazine or call for a detective novel at the library, take heart for your taste for this type of reading, should it be deemed a weakness, is the weakness of some of our greatest men.

The late ex-President Taft took especial delight in this type of reading and at the outset of his last illness Mrs. Taft whiled many of his tedious hours away reading the thrilling products of the pens of Edgar Wallace, Sax Romer and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

King George of England is also reported to be a detective story enthusiast. London was quizzical at one time during the King's illness when Queen Mary while out on visit of London's shopping district, purchased a number of books which bordered very nearly on that type commonly known as "trashy reading." It was later explained that the king desired reading of an entertaining nature that could be perused without causing fatigue. He evidently hesitated about confessing his weakness to the palace librarian but made his wants known to the good wife how knew and understood him.

It is reported that Theodore Roosevelt, while making a strenuous campaign tour a number of years ago sent his secretary out to some town en route with the instruction that he secure a couple of detective novels for him to read. He also apologized for his weakness, stating that nothing relaxed an overworked brain better than a good detective story.

PRODUCTION TAX IN MEXICO.

The Mexican government seems to have an effective means of limiting the production of certain farm crops. If a certain crop is being produced and marketed too extensively, a production tax is imposed by the government. A recent report from Mexico tells of an increase in the production tax on green peas in the state of Sonora from 5c cents a crate to $2.50 per crate. This increase is said to be the result of a recent abnormally heavy movement of Mexican peas at sharply reduced prices and the refusal of smaller growers and shippers to adhere to any movement looking toward better regulation of shipments. The tax will remain in force until the market recovers.—The Nebraska Farmer.

GRADE GUERNSEY COW HIGH PRODUCER

Wisner Cow Has Produced
1,621 Pounds of Milk
During Test

The Cuming, Wayne and Dixon Counties Cow Testing association has completed three months testing work the work being carried on with Arthur E. Anderson in charge.

At the present there are 237 cows on test. During the month of February, seventeen of these cows produced between forty and fifty pounds of butter fat each; four produced over fifty pounds and two over sixty pounds.

The high cow for the association for this month is owned by McGuire and Reese of Wisner. The animal is a grade Guernsey being milked twice daily and produced 1,621 pounds of milk which contained 68.1 percent butterfat.

Nine cows in the association tests were found unprofitable and did not produce enough butterfat to pay for the feed consumed. They were sold on the market.

Mr. Anderson spends one day of every month with each of his association members and he makes a complete test of each cow milked. A record is left with each owner which enables him to tell which cows are making or losing money for him.

To date there are twenty-three herds in the association.

The high herd in the 5 to 15 group for the month of February is owned by Lyle Gamble of near Wayne, who is milking 10 cows which produced an average of 660 pounds of milk with 29.6 pounds of butterfat. The high herd in the 16 or above group is owned by Wm. Von Seggorn, Wayne, who is milking 18 cows, which average 1015 pounds of milk, containing 38.2 pounds of fat. Nine cows in the association were found to be unprofitable and did not produce enough butterfat to pay for the feed consumed. These cows were sold on the market.

Two new members, Gail Sheldon, Laurel; and Ed Rennick, Pilger; were added to the association during the month. To date there are 23 herds in the association. Three more herds could be added and no doubt will be added in the next few months. Mr. Anderson spends one day of each month with each member of the association and makes a complete test of all cows being milked. He also leaves a record with each herd owner which enables the owner to tell which of his cows are profitable and which are not.

Pineapple plantation owners in the Hawaiian Islands are making good use of old wrecked and junked automobiles, at least so says Harry Bailey, furniture manufacturer in Honolulu. Pineapples must have their iron every day as a stimulant, so to make a solution of iron oxide, parts of old automobiles are melted in a bath of acid, and the oxide thus obtained used as a spray for the fruit.

They Will Be Kept Within Due Bounds

A few weeks ago several youths in the vicinity of Madison were caught red handed with a sack full of stolen chickens in their possession. They were placed under arrest and summoned before the juvenile division of the district court of Madison county where they pleaded to a theft charge.

Judge Ernest L. Reeker who presided over the court placed the boys under probation specifying certain rules which should keep them along the straight and narrow path if anything should happen. Each offender was given a written copy of the probation conditions under which they were to live for a period of two and one-half years.

Among the rules are these:
"You shall refrain from attending any public dance for a period of one year.

"You shall refrain from going into pool halls for a period of one year.

"You shall refrain from using intoxicating liquors for at all times.

"You shall not be away from your home or place of business after ten o'clock in the evening, and during the night time, except when in the course of your regular duties it becomes necessary, or in case of illness of yourself or your immediate family.

"You shall attend the church of your choice not less than two Sundays each month during the entire period of probation."

Teachers. Notice Law
In Regard To Agents

Please advise me on the law as to the rights of salesman and peddlers to solicit the teacher while school is in session.—M. R.

The 1929 State Legislature of this state passed a law known as House Roll 392, which we will quote:

"It shall be unlawful for any peddler, agent, salesman, or representative of any commercial enterprise, theatrical production, or play, to call upon, secure contracts, or solicit orders and business from any classroom teacher while said classroom teacher is actively engaged in the pursuit of his or her work as such. For the purpose of this act, a teacher is actively engaged in the pursuit of his or her work between the hours of 8:30 A. M. and 5 P. M. on all days the school in which he or she is teaching is in session. Provided, that the Board of Education of the school district may designate such other hours as in their judgment seem best during which the classroom teacher, or teachers of said district may be interviewed or solicited by all such persons as designated in this act.

"Section 2. Any person, or persons, who shall violate the purpose and intent of the provisions of Section 1 of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction be fined not to exceed $100.00, or be imprisoned 90 days, or both.—Nebraska Farmer.

Carroll Man Crosses Ocean Five Times

John R. Morris, of Carroll, has crossed the Atlantic ocean five times, making 2 trips back to his homeland, Wales, accompanied by his wife. On their first trip together they went on board the Carphitta, the ship that picked up many survivors of the Titanic. On the return trip of their second visit to Wales, they took the route past the north side of Newfoundland and saw large icebergs in August. Upon nearing one of these icebergs, it was noticed that the temperature quickly dropped to freezing.

In Mr. Morris's five trips across the ocean he has never been seasick or missed a meal while on the water. On one of the voyages such severe storms were encountered that even many of the sailors were on the sick list, and upon going to the dining room one morning, Mr. Morris found only one other man who was able to eat. His first trip across required 11 days; the last trip only 5.

We Warn You

Reports now coming to us would indicate that agents, who say they are representing a Kansas City grocery house, are again in the field. Now folks, if you like wormy peaches, nitty prunes and stale canned goods, these are the boys you want to patronize, but we warn you to not pay them a cent in advance if you ever expect to get anything for your money.—Nebraska Farmer.

British Air Force Now
Flies At 180 Miles

An improvement in the equipment of England's royal air force is providing her with a fighting air army 30 miles per hour faster than that which she has previously possessed. In round figures, the speed of the British air force is passing from 150 miles per hour to 180 miles per hour.

In the four classes—single seated fighters, interception fighters, fleet fighters, and day bombers—the old type of aircraft is being replaced by more modern planes.

Four squadrons of the royal air force are being equipped with the new Bulldog fighter, which, with a speed of 174 miles an hour at 10,000 feet altitude, replaces a type plane which made 158 miles an hour. At 20,000 feet ceiling the new plane makes 167 miles an hour against its predecessor's 154. It climbs to 20,000 ft in 14 1/2 minutes, 3 1/2 minutes faster than the old plane, and has a service ceiling of 27,000 feet, 4,000 feet higher than the present fighter.

Research work is also under way to perfect new interception planes. This improvement was necessitated by the production of faster day bombers, which the last air maneuver break through and theoretically destroy the city.

England's fastest fast bomber will make 177 1/2 miles an hour at 5,000 feet, 172 miles on hour at 10,000 feet, 163 miles an hour at 15,000 feet, and 129 miles an hour at 20,000 feet. In every case with a full load. It climbs 15,000 in 16 minutes.

The increased speed of the British fighting machine is due to the machine which won the Schneider trophy. The important factors are improved engine design, giving greater power for the same weight; improved supercharges; and aerodynamic improvements cutting down air resistance. It is reported that the British are developing some also.—Ex.

Price Of Diamonds Kept Up By Limiting Supply

Chicago—Keeping up with the Joneses in all that is keeping the price of diamonds up. Otherwise, they'd be about as cheap as cracked ice.

The diamond, most coveted of gems, is not valuable. It is merely expensive.

"Many a woman has rather enjoyed believing the solitaire twinkling on her finger was a rare stone, wrested from the dark earth by great endurance and privation, would be taken back to learn it is actually worth just $12 per carat, f. o. b. at the mine," said Dr. Treat B. Johnson, professor of organic chemistry at Yale.

"Unlike pearls, diamonds are plentiful and obtained without hardship by labor of natives who become voluntary prisoners in the compounds while sorting river gravel and earth for the sparkling lumps of carbon.

"There is no reason why diamonds should be scarce, except that those who own the fabulously rich mines purposely limit the output. The syndicate controlling the supply restricts it each year to meet only the demand that continues at the high prices maintained."—Exchange.

U. S. Air Expenditures
$508,063,439 Since '24

Funds appropriated by the United States government for the support of aviation activities of the army, navy, coast guard, Post Office department, Department of Commerce, Department of Agriculture and the national advisory committee for aeronautics have reached a total of $508,063,439 in the last five years, according to a statement of the War department made public by the house committee on appropriations.

The amount spent in 1925 was $85,325,867. Last year the figure had mounted to $125,319,510.

He uses 500 pictures for the series of five lectures. The public is cordially invited. The lectures will begin at 8:00 o'clock each evening except Sunday when the meeting starts at 7:30. There will be no admission, but offerings will be received to defray expenses.

Local Man Serves As Government Witness

Attorney James Brittain and W. J. Patterson left last Saturday morning for Wichita Falls, Texas, where Mr. Patterson appeared this week as Government witness in the case against Ban Tackit who is being prosecuted by the Government on charges of using the mails to defraud in connection with the Buffalo Oil company of Texas.

Mr. Patterson is well known here, being commonly known to his many friends as "Bully" Patterson, and although he passed his 81st birthday last October, one would scarcely take him to be over 65. He is much interested in horse racing and is a game of horseshoe, and can make the best of them study they move in checker game.

Mr. Brittain and Mr. Patterson expect to be back the latter part of the week.

BUS DRIVER SERIOUSLY HURT IN COLLISION

farm about half a mile away and two boys who were at home at the time were soon at the scene to render assistance. A passing car arrived, a couple of minutes later, and the five men present set the overturned bus to rights and extricated Wright from his perilous position.

The Wert boys took the injured lad to town immediately. They feared he might die before they could get him to the hospital, for he was unconscious and his pulse beat very faintly. But he regained consciousness after the car had been driven a couple of miles. He lapsed into unconsciousness again before reaching the hospital and for a time his life was despaired of, it being thought that one or two of his ribs had been broken and were puncturing his lungs.

Milford has so far been unable to give an clear account of the accident as the shock and his injuries have made it inadvisable to question him to any extent at this time. He explained however, that he saw the Ford coming toward him, making a wide turn and he tried to avoid the impending collision by driving as close as possible to the side of the road, which, no doubt, accounts for the force with which the rear of bus hit the culvert guard.

Carlson is a prominent resident of the Carroll vicinity and is a man past 70 years of age.

Much credit is due the Wert boys for getting the injured boy to medical assistance as speedily as they did for life hung on by a narrow thread and but a few minutes delay would have ended tragically.

FINAL SUMMONS COMES TO MRS. NETTIE SEARS

occasion of my visits with her in the hospital a little less than a year ago.

She was intensely interested in her church, and very loyal to her pastor. She was very unselfish, and her daily walk was a living testimony to the manifold grace of God. She being dead, yet speaketh, and will for many years to come. Her children rise up and call her blessed.

"The members of the First Baptist church will very greatly miss the faithfulness and loyalty of Mrs. Sears. We mourn her loss but we rejoice with her in her new life, and we anticipate a glorious reunion."

Funeral services were held from the First Baptist church of Wayne Sunday afternoon, March 23, at 2:30 o'clock, the Rev. Wm. E. Braisted, pastor of the church in charge. Interment was made at the Greenwood cemetery at Wayne. Among others, the following out-of-town folk were present at the service: Clarence Sears and son, of Oskaloosa, Iowa; C. A. Wood and family, of Council Bluffs, Iowa; Alex Dempsey and family, of South Sioux City; Wm. Sears of Cody, Wyoming; and R. E. Miller and family of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

SPECIAL PROGRAM FEATURED LEGION COUNTY BANQUET

Local post commander, Prof. C. E. Willson, at the outset of the speaking program introduced the honored guests present and then turned over the meeting to county commander John Laurie of Carroll, who in turn delegated the conduct of the meeting to district commander Albert A. Borg of Wakefield, who acted in the capacity of toastmaster for the rest of the evening.

State commander Dwight Griswold, the first speaker called upon, touched on the activities of the American Legion within the state. Community service, Commander Griswold stated, has placed the American Legion in the forefront as the most progressive organization operating in the state. These activities have enabled American Legion workers to develop into the active organization that it is today.

The fraternal element, he stated, was also more pronounced in Legion circles than in any of the present day fraternal orders. The comradeship born of the great experiences of the World War has created a tie of comradeship far more potent than the most profound teaching of a fraternal order can instill.

State Adjutant Hank Dudley, in a brief talk, stressed the matter of posts coming up to the membership quotas set for them. He stated that while memberships in local organizations were up to a very satisfactory standard, there was still a great deal of room for improvement.

Gordon Beck, representative of the U. S. Veterans Bureau, spoke on matters pertaining to the department he represented. In the period immediately following the World War, he stated, this department was in a chaotic state. The disabled veteran in order to obtain desired relief had to bring pressure to bear to get a hearing. The situation is now reversed. The bureau tries as much as possible to aid the veteran in claims adjusted and seeks to accord the veteran every facility for securing compensation and hospitalization wherever it is due.

Included in the address of John Curtis was an unusually impressive visualization of the patriotic ideals which motivates the American Legion. There is a tendency on the part of many well meaning organizations, Mr. Curtis said, to try and eliminate everything that partakes of a martial nature. Certain organizations have a move on foot to strike out from all school text books any reference to war and the incidental deeds of valor. They hope thereby to rid the world of all incentive for combat. This attitude the speaker deplored. There was nothing finer in the history of our country he stated than the sacrifices, the valor and the love for others shown by those who served this country during its wars.

Colonel Douglas, the last speaker of the evening explained the workings of the State Fund Relief. This fund, Colonel Douglas showed, was doing a splendid work in furnishing relief in emergency cases that saved many a veteran or his family from becoming an object of charity. The amount of money for carrying on this great work is comparatively small, but judicious expenditures of the funds has enabled the committee to cover a wide range of very needy cases.

Among the guests present were two Civil War veterans, A. J. Hart and R. P. Williams; a Spanish-American War veteran, William Assenheimer; President Conn of the Wayne Normal; Mayor W. M. Orr; H. Kemp, J. C. Nuss and D. B. Cunningham.

The program was enlivened by several pleasing numbers by the Carroll Male Quartette and by the Wayne Legion Municipal Band under the direction of P. C. Reed. The band elicited glowing praise from all of the speakers of the evening, especially by John Curtis who in the course of his talk stated that the local post might well feel proud of being sponsor to such a splendid organization. The band could easily be called among the outstanding Legion post achievements of the state.

In spite of every evidence of good cheer that the meeting afforded there was a touch of sadness pervading. The absence of Herb Welch, the moving spirit of so many Legion activities of the past, was generally noted. Each speaker took occasion in the course of his talk, to pay tribute to the life of great promise that had recently come to an untimely end; and during the meeting those assembled rose and stood with bowed heads for the space of half a minute in respect for their departed comrade.

The meeting was, in every respect, one of the most pleasing American Legion functions ever held in this city.

Music Pupils to Give Recitals March 28-29

The music pupils of Mrs. Grace Dickson Keyser will appear in recital at the residence studio at 713 Pearl street Friday and Saturday evening this week, the younger pupils playing Friday evening and the more advanced pupils playing Saturday evening. Both programs are to begin at 7:30 o'clock, and each pupil who plays may bring three guests. The selections to be played will include both single and duo-piano numbers.

The following pupils will play Friday evening: Pattie Bressler, Phyllis Kilborn, Catherine Young, Homer Scace Jr., Jean Mines, Marjory Hook, Imogene Kilborn, Jean Hunter, Mattie Scace, Russell Fox, Betty Blair, Verba Berry, Paul Young, Geraldine Gamble, Dorothy Hook, and Bob Cunningham.

The following advanced students will play Saturday evening: Elmer Kilborn, Ina Ruth Johnson, Ruby Dunkelau, Marcella Hunter, Fannie Old Beckenhauer, Genevieve Craig, Ruby Long, Letha Porterfield, Margaret Fanske and Mildred Clark.

Officers of Wayne Music Assn. Chosen

The following officers were elected at the meeting of the Wayne Music association held at the James Miller home last Tuesday evening: Prof. W. C. Hunter, president; Mrs. W. H. Phillips, vice president; and Miss Florence Phillips, secretary-treasurer. Plans for the observance of music week were also discussed. The week of May 5th has been set aside as national music week.

Happy Chick News

As usual we had another snow this week. Maybe it will clear up after a while and give us a bunch of good weather.

We secured a new order book and right on the first page I see Rinal Fuoss of north of Concord bought one of those 12x16 Happy Chick Brooder Houses. You know, Herman Fuoss took out one of our 16x16 hog houses in February, now both of the boys are fixed out.

These larger houses are doing good. It is just as easy to raise a large batch of chicks as it is a small one.

This week we are making a bunch of those two pen farrowing houses. This house is a real bargain and they are selling.

Mrs. Chan Norton is the proud possessor of one of those Simplex stoves. Chan woke the Mrs. up about two o'clock the other night and asked her if she was going to go out and see if her stove was running alright. "No I am not" she replied, "they told me it would run without watching." Next morning they found the stove running just exactly the same as it was the night before and if you don't think these stoves will heat just ask Mrs. Norton.

Eric Thompson has quite a bunch of sows this year and they are doing fine. Eric made two trips to town last week to buy farrowing houses and took home one of our houses on each trip.

Claude Helkes of Dakota City has his order in for another of those six pen farrowing houses for this week.

You know red is a warm color and I believe the redder it is the warmer it is, so I painted my old Ford with a coat of our Brooder House Red. I did not know but maybe it would warm her up so that I could get her started. I will let you know how it worked when I try the old bus.

George Post had a 6x16 Happy Chick Brooder House and Simplex stove taken out to his place Tuesday.

We have several right good second hand coal brooder stoves on hand. Anyone needing a cheap stove it would pay them to investigate these. We have the coal for them too.

John Hessman of Southwest of Winside bought a 6x16 Happy Chick Brooder House last Monday.

Just a few words in closing about the Simplex Stove. It is constructed with a heavy cast iron base and burner, with cast iron legs and is built to give many years of continuous service. There is practically nothing to wear out. The Simplex Burner is the result of much experimenting and testing of every known burner made. It is especially designed to make "going out" impossible.

The ordinary brooder stove of this type has only one thickness of sheet metal over the stove as a deflector or hover while the Simplex deflector is constructed with a sheet metal and asbestos lining with a dead air space between metal parts. This holds the units of heat down on the floor.

The oil regulator is automatic thermostat control giving the right flow of oil according to the temperature.

This is the Happy Chick Brooder Factory, Wayne, Nebraska Station P-E-T-B signing off until next week.

25th Wedding Anniversary.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carlson celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary sary, which was Saturday, by entertaining between 80 and 100 relatives and friends at their home, Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Carlson received many nice gifts and also several flowers.

"What's become of 'Scarface' Al Capone" has been the burden of more daily press sentiment than any other piece of news during the past week. Why all this fuss about this irresponsible wop, anyway? If he never shows up, it will be weeks and weeks too soon.

X-Ray in Criminology

That a man is a carpenter may be revealed under the X-ray by the shape of the bones in his fingers. This is one of the novel conclusions of a recent investigation that recalls the fictional detective feats of Sherlock Holmes.

Experts found that peculiarities in the shape of a workman's fingers revealed that they had long used a plane or similar wood-working tools. It is hoped eventually to gather sufficient data to detect any man's occupation by his physical characteristics.

Island Status Unsettled

Wrangell Island is in the Arctic ocean, about 100 miles from the Siberian coast. A harbor in the southeastern part is in latitude 70 degrees 57 minutes north and longitude 178 degrees 10 minutes west. The island is about 70 miles long and 25 miles wide. It was sighted in 1807 by the captain of a United States sailing vessel. In 1881 officers from the United States naval vessels landed on the island and claimed it for this country. The question of ownership is unsettled.

Jewel-Encrusted Bible

The world's costliest Bible is that taken with other treasures, from the palace of the czars at Tsarskoye Selo. One of its covers, which measures only five and a half inches by seven and a half, is encrusted with diamonds and emeralds in the form of a floral spray, with an intertwining monogram "A" of rubies, and on the other is a cross of fine diamonds. The clasp is of sapphires, and the text in tiny gold leaf print.

Diet of Lions

Lions in their native habits prey largely upon young antelopes, zebras, buffaloes, giraffes and other vegetation-eating animals. For this reason it is often stated that the lion will not eat the flesh of carnivorous or flesh-eating creatures. The fact seems to be that lions will eat the flesh of any animal recently killed, such as animals left by hunters. Certainly lions in captivity are not particular about the kind of flesh they eat. There is also abundant proof that the king of beasts will occasionally attack and eat human beings. Dr. W. Reid Blair, in his book "In the Zoo," tells of two man-eating lions in Africa which carried off 18 men employed in building the Uganda railway.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Small Potatoes

The late Haley Fiske of insurance fame said one evening in a Y. M. C. A. address in Brooklyn:

"It pays big business to be liberal. To save a dollar in a mean small way signifies the loss of hundreds of dollars in good will.

"Whenever a mean, small economy is proposed to me I tell the anecdote about the Scotchman who went into a barber shop and said:

"'Hoo much for a haircut?'
"Forty cents, sir," said the barber.
"Hoo much for a shave?"
"Twenty cents."
"Shave mah head."

Purifying Public Water

The first noteworthy movement in this country for the purification of a public water supply was made in 1886, according to the New York Health department, when St. Louis sent James P. Kirkwood to Europe to investigate the methods practiced there. On his return Kirkwood made an elaborate report that water engineers still regard as a classic. In 1872, about five years after Kirkwood's death, a plant was built at Poughkeepsie in accordance with his plans. This was the first practical attempt at purification of a municipal water supply in America.

Unrepose Prose

If a cat doth meet a cat upon a garden wall, and if a cat doth greet a cat, O need they both to squall? Every Tommy has his Tabby waiting on the wall, and yet he welcomes her approach by an unearthly yawl. And if a kitten wish to court upon the garden wall, why don't he sit and sweetly smile, and not stand up and bawl, and lift his precious back up high and show his teeth and moan, as if 'twere colic more than love that made that fellow groan!—Pathfinder Magazine.

Simple

The other day a man, hitherto without a spot on his character, inquired, with well-feigned innocence:
"How can five persons divide five eggs so that each man will receive one and still one remain in the dish?"
After the company went all but distracted in the mazes of this proposition, the retort weekly said:
"One takes the dish with the egg."

the NEW Polarine

THE MODERN MOTOR OIL

"outclasses any oil I ever used"

High praise from one of Nebraska's veteran motorists! But not surprising!

The new process used in refining the new Polarine removes all the wax and tar. It cuts the carbon residue in half. It vastly increases lubricating efficiency. It gives an oil that lasts longer in good condition than any old process oil. Neither heat nor cold can prevent the new Polarine from giving safe and satisfactory lubrication.

Here is a true premium quality oil by every test and standard—"The Modern Oil."

Washington Stirred Up Over Van Buren's Coach
Van Buren arrived in Washington toward the end of the second week of the session, it being traditional for the Vice President to absent himself until the senate committees had been appointed. On taking the chair on Monday, December 16, he made his first public utterance as the second officer of the land. It was short and one such as others before and after him have made; totally devoid of significance. It provoked no comment; but the coach he had brought over from England did. The adverse journals described it as an English coach of state—"a very splendid carriage, drawn by two beautiful blooded horses, their heads and tails full of a great deal more of intellect, passion, feeling and sublimity than their owner. . . . It is of a dark-olive hue, with ornaments elegantly disposed, shining as bright as burnished gold" and "far more superb than the equipages of royalty."—From "An Epoch and a Man" by Dennis Tilden Lynch.

Wide Use of Amulets
Amulets, writes Frank H. Vizetelly, editor of the New Standard dictionary, were used once not only for the protection of men and women, but also of cattle. The so-called Antonius medallions were very much in demand for this purpose, and were hung upon horses, asses, and oxen, for Antony of Padua had been the patron of the horse and the ass in his day. Cowbells, like bells hung upon infants, were intended originally to frighten away evil spirits, and their use in later times to help the herdsmen to trace the cattle or identify their beasts is a much later idea. Charms against charms also were worn.

Nothing New
The young son of an Indianapolis physician is intensely interested in moths. He reads everything that comes to hand concerning them. One day when his father saw him poring over a big volume in the library, he said:
"What are you reading, son?"
The son replied: "Oh, about moths, but they don't tell me anything—I don't already know about them."
The interested parent asked: "Well, what is the name of your book," when son answered:
"What All Mothers Should Know."

Apparently a Highway Victim
Bobbie, aged four, had accompanied his mother on a visit to the home of an over-nice maiden great-aunt. Cautious for days and days beforehand, he was careful about everything he said and did—until dinner time came. Then he became eager, for he was told that chicken was on the menu.
When this delectable fowl was served, and Bobbie observed that there were no "drum-sticks," but instead were shredded patties, he exclaimed:
"This chicken must have been run over!"

Growth of Sand Dunes
The sand-dunes along the shores of lakes are formed by the wind. A stiff breeze blowing along the beach carries some sand with it—it meets some obstacle, a piece of driftwood or perhaps merely a tuft of grass. Some of the sand is deposited and a tiny dune is formed. More and more sand is added until a large mound is formed, sometimes rising to a height of 800 feet. The wind not only builds up dunes but tears them down, so that the sand dunes are constantly changing in form and position.

Not Through
Billy, age five, was invited as a guest with his mother and father to take dinner at a hotel. He was greatly impressed with the service and was especially appreciative of the finger bowl. He had paused in the process of washing his fingers, and the alert waitress started to remove the bowl. This time, however, her attempt was halted, for Billy remonstrated in an unmistakable tone of command: "Don't take the washpan! I want to wash some more dirt off of my hands."

A right way and a wrong way to do Everything

The right way to wash clothes is the "two successive suds" method advocated by Good Housekeeping Institute and other authorities. But this method is thoroughly convenient with only one washer in the world, the sensational new

DEXTER
Fastwin

- 1 Even for a small washing the Dexter "Fastwin" saves handling at least one tub of water, and saves time and effort, as compared with any single-tub washer properly used.
- 2 The Dexter "Fastwin" can wash properly at least twice as much clothing per hour (including all operations from hamper to line) as any single-tub washer made.
- 3 Only by the "two suds" washing method (which is thoroughly convenient only with the Dexter "Fastwin"), can that "grayish tinge" and that "harsh feel" be kept out of clothes month after month, without soaking or boiling.
- 4 The Dexter "Fastwin" thus offers a very substantial and easily demonstrated advantage over any single-tub washer that is, or ever can be built—even though The Dexter Company builds the finest of single-tub washers, also.
- 5 Millions of the washers that were made in a quarter century. The Dexter Company originated the double-tub type of washer 14 years ago, and the first one ever made is still in the world.
- 6 More than 200,000 double-tub washers have been made since they were first marketed with any other single-tub washers.

Dexter Fastwin is not only the most convenient washer in the world for thorough washing, but it is also much the fastest. It will wash twice as many pounds of clothes per hour (including all operations from hamper to line) as any single-tub washer made. It is, however, very compact and offers the most convenient thorough system available for even very small families.
