Former Wayne Resident Dies In California

Death Comes To W. L. Fisher Following Prolonged Illness.

Funeral Held Wednesday

W. L. Fisher, for many years a prominent resident of this vicinity, is dead, passing away at his home in Los Angeles, Thursday evening, April 24th.

Mr. Fisher had been in poor health for many months, suffering from heart trouble aggravated by an attack of the flu last fall, which left him in a weakened condition and hastened the end. He was taken to a hospital at Los Angeles last October, in the hope that he might be restored to health and his health was somewhat improved up to last January which permitted his being brought back to his home. Shortly afterward he had a relapse and his condition gradually grew worse until the end came.

The body was brought to Wayne and funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at the Methodist church with Rev. W. W. Whitman officiating and the Masonic Lodge in charge of rites at the grave.

William Leckey Fisher was born in Huntingdon, Pennsylvania, October 4, 1869. The family moved to Decatur county, Iowa, when he was about two years old. He grew to manhood in Iowa and then came to Nebraska where he worked on a farm six miles west of Wayne.

He was married to Celista Alice Souders of St. Charles, Iowa, December 25, 1890, to whom four children were born, two sons and two daughters, who with the widow survive him. The children are Vern of Norfolk, and Alfred of Wayne. Mrs. John D. Jones of Wymore, and Mrs. Ben F. Alvers of this city. He is also survived by one sister, Mrs. J. W. Souders of Wayne; and one brother, Er. I. K. Fisher, of Decatur, Iowa. There are also eight grand children.

In 1916 Mr. Fisher with his family moved to Wayne from their farm two miles south of town engaging in the bakery business, which he conducted for three years. Shortly after that he was associated with Ed. A. Johnson and Grant Mears in the real estate business. Later he became a partner in real estate and insurance business with F. G. Philleo. Since 1923 he retired from active business affairs and moved to Los Angeles, California, where he and Mrs. Fisher have resided since.

The deceased was a faithful and active member of the local Methodist church and was also prominently identified with activities of Wayne Masonic and Odd Fellow lodges. Both of the two organizations attended the funeral in a body.

Pall bearers were L. W. Roe, F. G. Philleo, L. C. Gildersleeve, L. B. McClure, Grant Mears and Clyde Oman. Relatives from a distance present at the funeral were: Mrs. Ellen Fisher, Red Oak, Iowa; Charles Fisher, and Mrs. E. E. Blades of Indianola, Iowa; and Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Fisher of Sioux City, Iowa.

Wayne Girl Among The Three State Winners

Miss Jeanette Lewis, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. G. W. Lewis of this city, was one of the three winners of the $5.00 prize awarded to each of the three Nebraska students sending in the best reports of the Anti Saloon League convention held at Detroit, Michigan last January. The other winners were Miss Jeanette Winters of the University of Omaha, and Miss Thelma Arnold of Hastings college.

Miss Lewis was awarded the trip to the Detroit convention as winner in the essay contest sponsored last winter by the Anti Saloon League. Her report of the convention is printed in the April number of the American Issue, Nebraska Edition.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Larson and family spent Thursday in Sioux City with relatives. That evening, Mr. Larson, who is the local depot agent, attended the Traffic Banquet given at Hotel Martin.

News of His Death Much Exaggerated

People seem to have an aversion for having their death notices prematurely announced. At least such is the case with Robert Fenske, of Hoskins, who, upon learning that the body of a man found in the millrace of the Norfolk Cereal and Flour Mills had been identified as him, ventured to remark that there must be some mistake.

While the announcer of station WJAG at Norfolk was announcing a resume of news events and incidentally made mention of the purported identification of Fenske's body, he was interrupted by word from Hartington that Mr. Fenske was very much alive and harboring no wish to commit hari-kari.

The body found was that of a bearded man of about the same age as Fenske's and the Norfolk chief of police, knowing Mr. Fenske personally, made the identification which proved to be erroneous. The body is thought to be that of a man from Pierce.

Prof. Lowrie Soon To Leave Wayne For Eastern Job

Will Be Instructor In Accounting At Commercial College.

Prof. Walter C. Lowrie, head of the Commercial Department of the State Teacher's college, will leave as soon as the present term at the college is over, for Wilmington, Delaware, where he will serve as instructor in accounting and field representative of Beacom college, a commercial college located at that place.

Beacom college is one of the leading commercial colleges of the east. It has an enrollment of about a thousand students during the year and under authority of the state of Delaware it offers the Bachelor of Accounts, and Bachelor of Commercial Science degrees. The institution owes its own building which is considered one of the finest structures in America devoted to business education.

Wilmington is a city of 126,000 and is one of the most important manufacturing centers in the country.

Prof. Lowrie begins his new duties June 2 leaving here immediately at the end of school. The family will remain in Wayne until next fall when they will go to Wilmington when the children, John and Miss Minnie, will enter the college.

GAS FRANCHISE IS BEING SOUGHT BY CORPORATION

Plan To Extend Operations From S. W. To N. E. Nebr.

Confer With City Dads

Natural gas may be a convenience at the disposal of the people of Wayne in the not too distant future if the present plans of the Midwest Natural Gas Company materialize and the city council grants them the franchise they request that will permit them to extend their mains into this city and supply local custom.

The proposition was discussed at a meeting of the city council held recently where the body conferred with A. P. Sprague and a Mr. Scout, representatives of the gas company, who announced that Wayne was included in their extension program which is to be put into effect as soon as a sufficient number of franchises are granted by towns and cities in Northeast Nebraska to warrant such a move.

The gas comes originally from wells in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas and is piped direct to the "Booster Stations" which redistribute the gas and regulate the pressure. The nearest station of this sort at present is located at Clifton, Kansas.

At present the gas company has extended its piping as far north as Grand Island and Hastings and are supplying numerous towns in that vicinity, according to the representatives. According to Scout, the coming of the project would require very little time after the company started extension operations. With the aid of trench digging machinery it is now possible to lay from three to five miles of 22 inch gas mains per day.

The assurance was given the council that in event the extension is made into Wayne, it will not be necessary to tear up any street paving, but it may be necessary to do so in some of the local paved alleys as the mains will be laid along alleyways. The mains, it is said will be laid to a depth of 52 inches.

The Midwest Natural Gas Company is a subsidiary of the North American Light and Power Company, a New York corporation. According to the statement of their representative, they furnish the gas for every town in the state where natural gas is used, with but one exception.

Their preliminary statement contains among other things, a schedule of rates to be charged. The rates are figured on a graduated scale based upon the amount of gas consumed. For the first 500 cubic feet of gas consumed a charge of $2 per thousand cubic feet will be charged. In excess of that up to 1500 cubic feet, $1.50 per thousand cubic feet and so on down to 35 cents per thousand cubic feet. A minimum rate of $1 is to be charged.

The adaptability of this gas for heating purposes will be especially emphasized by the company.

Chain Farming vs. Independent Farming

The following comparison, contained in an editorial in the Omaha World-Herald, between independent farming and chain farming is submitted as of special and timely interest. The two pictures are worthy of serious study:

Two Pictures

Look on this picture:

Thomas D. Campbell of Hardin, Mont., is the world's largest farmer. He is president and chief engineer of the Campbell Farming corporation operating 95,000 acres of Montana land, devoted to the growing wheat and flax. The corporation's operations under Mr. Campbell's skillful management are carried on at a good profit. This enterprise is frequently referred to as the ultimate solution of the farm problem. Mr. Campbell thinks so too. "Industrialized agriculture," he says in an interview in Collier's, "offering a greater opportunity than any business I know of, is just around the corner."

Here are some of the details as he sketches them in:

Death Angel Takes Wm. Damme Tuesday Evening

William Damme, 74, passed away at this home near Wayne last Tuesday evening, April 29th, at 8:45 o'clock, death coming as a result of a complicated illness of about two months duration. Mr. Damme has lived in this vicinity many years and is quite well known here. His wife preceded him in death last June. Three daughters and six sons survive.

Funeral services will be held next Saturday afternoon, May 3rd, from the home at 1:00 o'clock and at 2:00 o'clock from the Evangelical Lutheran church, the Rev. H. A. Teckhaus officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Nelson and baby of near Winside were visitors in the home of Mrs. Nelson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Liveringhouse, Sunday afternoon.

Much Rain During Past Three Weeks

Jupiter Pluvius has had much to say about the weather in this vicinity during the past three weeks for super-saturated weather has been the order practically every day and night during that period. The precipitation for the past three weeks, according to local recordings has been 2.45 inches, .70 of which has fallen since Sunday. Ungravelled roads are practically inaccessible and work in the fields has been at a standstill and to all appearance will be for several days to come. Pasture and small grain are in wonderful shape. This moist condition is general throughout Nebraska and western Iowa, but to the north, in Minnesota and the Dakotas, the drought that was experienced here before the rains came, remains unbroken and is a matter of serious concern in those sections.

Local Boy Scout Units Will Camp At Crystal Lake

Outing Part Of Organized Plan Of Executives Of Area.

Beautiful Crystal Lake, situated near South Sioux City has been designated as the place where the local Boy Scout units and troops from other towns in this district will spend from July 10 to July 19, "camping out."

This is a part of an annual outing program planned for the Covered Wagon area of Boy Scouts. A camping place has been selected for each district of the area at which time special directors of Boy Scout outing activities will be in charge and help the scouts to get the most out of the adventure.

The camping equipment will be transported to the district camp site in a huge covered wagon, (4-ton trailer truck.) The camp equipment will consist of army squad tents, cots, complete mess and cooking equipment, hospital, headquarters and officers tents.

The camp will be directed by Field Executive Harry C. Heald, assisted by Deputy Commissioner McGrev Harris, a Red Cross Life Saving Examiner and an expert swimming instructor. The camp will also carry a permanent chef. Other instructors will be added in the various districts of the area.

Through backing by local business firms and from receipts of a moving picture show donated to raise funds for that purpose, it will be possible for the local units to have a full representation at the outing. It is expected that scout units from other towns in the district will also be well represented. The other town units will come from: Coleridge, Emerson, Laurel, Ponca, Randolph, Wakefield, Wynot and Maskell.

Upon being questioned regarding the benefits to be derived from camps of this character, John O. Wright, scout executive for this area, replied: "This Roving camp will be equipped as nearly as possible with every necessary comfort and safety factor to insure real recreation to the boys and the locations are such that camping should be available to every Boy Scout in the Covered Wagon area at some time during the summer months. As to the benefits to be derived, there are many. These camps build character, develop other fine qualities, give the boy health and a sturdy body, teaches him the wisdom of the woods, streams, birds and flowers; and last, but not least, the boy is taught leadership and self-reliance, essential qualities of good citizenship."

Wayne High Debaters Make Good Showing

Wayne High school debating team hopes of state championship honors failed to materialize as the local team lost the opening match, being pitted against Jefferson High school debating team of Lincoln, the team which won the state title. Although their relative standing was not definitely established, reports from Lincoln are decidedly favorable to the local debaters. Their showing, it is reported was on a par with any of those listed against the Lincoln team.

Court Session Creates Much Interest Here

Wakefield Bank Case Hard Fought—Last Two Days

Jury Cases About Ended

Testimony of a handwriting expert played a prominent part in the consideration of State Bank of Wakefield vs Carl H. Leonard which occupied the first two days of the week at the Spring Term of District court now in session.

The case involved suit to recover twelve notes amounting an aggregate amount of about $38,000, which the bank, a defunct institution was said to have held against Leonard. It was implied during the case that one of the notes was a forgery and the services of the expert was brought up to testify in the matter. What bearing the alleged forgery had in the matter was not brought out in the case nor in the finding of the jury which decided that Leonard should pay an admitted liability of $14,000.

The case was strenuously fought and created a great deal of interest. The court room was filled to capacity on both days.

Albert Killian vs Herman Dinklage a damage suit arising out of an automobile accident near Pender last fall, is now occupying the consideration of the jury. Two persons were killed in this accident and relatives of one of the victims are bringing suit.

Wayne county vs. J. J. Steele, was argued before Judge Chase Tuesday evening. The case involved interpretation of points of law affecting wages paid Steele as county treasurer to Miss Grace Steele, as one of the assistants in the office. The court ruled that amounts paid by the county toward Miss Steele's salary in excess of $800 per year should be refunded back to the county. Another point up for interpretation was a decision of whether or not the county treasurer was entitled to a five cent commission on each of the driver's licenses purchased at the court house. Two conflicting statutes made the point in question confused, the court ruling that the treasurer was not entitled to such a commission. In as much as the ruling affects adversely a practice generally accepted by the commissioners, it is very likely that the cases will be brought before the supreme court for final interpretation.

State vs Virgil Holmes is the only other jury case of consequence scheduled on the present docket. Holmes is to be tried on a statutory charge.

MISSING VIOLIN UNDER BRIDGE

A Rare Old Stradavarius, Taken During Music Contest Found.

There is joy in the J. W. Richards home at Wisner over the recovery of a very valuable violin which disappeared several weeks ago from the Wayne Normal auditorium, where Miss Alice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richards had taken it to use while taking part in the regional music contest being held there at that time.

The violin was found under a bridge two miles north of Wayne by Donald and Kenneth Becklund, sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Becklund, who happened to pass under the bridge while wandering along the creek last Sunday afternoon, discovered the violin case and its contents. Having learned of the loss of the Richards violin they immediately made known their find and after its identification it was returned to the owner.

The violin, a Stradavarius, more than two centuries old, was found to be little the worse for its exposure to the late rainy spell. The strings were ruined as well as the bridge, but otherwise, showed little or no damage from being engaged in a water-soaked case that fell apart when it was picked up. It was indeed fortunate that the violin was found at that time for a few days more exposure would have meant the utter ruin of this priceless product of a master craftsman.

Cocktail Days

THE typesetter wanted to spell it "daze," but we couldn't let him on account of the Volstead Law. There are lots of cocktails, however, which do not superinduce any daze, and these hot summer days are the days of all others to consume them. The chief ingredients of these innocuous but delicious summer cocktails are fruits. Try some of the following:

Berries, Bananas and Kumquats.

Raspberry and Banana Cup: Slice or cube two bananas into eight cocktail glasses. Squeeze eight teaspoons of lemon juice over them at once to prevent discoloring. Then fill the glasses with the contents of a No. 2 can of red raspberries. Serve very cold.

Kumquat Cocktail: Drain well one cup of sliced preserved kumquats

(about 12) and two cups of sliced pineapple (5 or 6 slices) and cut in thin slices, first removing seeds from the kumquats. Arrange in eight glasses. Garnish tops with sliced mint cherries and a sprig of fresh mint. Pour one-fourth cup of mint cherry juice and one-half cup of grapefruit juice (canned or fresh) over this combination and chill in the ice box for an hour.

Pear, Grape and Plum Cocktail: Drain a No. 1 can of pears and dice. Halve and seed one cup of malaga grapes. Peel four blue plums and stone them, dicing the pulp. Mix lightly together and dispose in eight tall cocktail glasses. Pour over two tablespoons lemon juice, one-half cup orange juice and the juice from the can of pears, mixed with two tablespoons confectioner's sugar.*

In 1885 she moved to Wakefield where, a year later, she was married to Oscar W. Milliken. The young couple settled on a farm two and one-half miles west of Wayne and a year later purchased a farm six miles southwest of Wayne which was destined to be their home for forty years. It was here that their eight children were born, all of whom with the husband survive her. The children are: Mrs. Sarah Jane Elvers, Berkeley, Calif.; William L., of Wakefield; Mrs. Agnes Blanche Erickson, Winside; Mrs. Etta Florence Blodgett, Humphrey; Mrs. Margaret Belle Sundell, Wakefield; James Jacob and Donald, all of Wayne vicinity. All of the children, with the exception of Mrs. Elvers, were at her bedside when the end came. Ten grand children and four sisters and three brothers also survive her.

All of the children were present at the funeral, including Mrs. Elvers who with her husband were on their way to Wayne driving by car when the message of Mrs. Milliken's death came. Mrs. Elvers finished the remainder of the journey on the train. Other surviving relatives present were: Wm. A. Heikes, L. L. Heikes and S. A. Heikes, all of Dakota City; Mrs. C. W. Long, Mrs. W. O. Harmon and Mrs. Geo. B. Aistrop, all of Wakefield; these being brothers and sisters of the deceased. One sister, Mrs. Chester Slaughter of Electra, Texas, was unable to be present.

The deceased was an unassuming, home loving woman, whose whole life was wrapped up in her home and her children, a virtue to which Rev. P. A. Davies, the officiating pastor paid fitting tribute at the services. Burial took place in Greenwood Cemetery.

Funeral Services At First Presbyterian Church Tuesday.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Oscar W. Milliken, pioneer resident of Wayne county. Mrs. Milliken passed away last Thursday evening at St. Josephs Hospital, where she had gone for treatment a few days previous.

In the passing of Mrs. Milliken, northeast Nebraska loses one of its earliest settlers, for she came to this part of the state with her parents in 1870 and has resided here since, forty-three of those years being in Wayne county.

Mrs. Milliken was born near Millin, Pennsylvania, Oct. 13, 1866 and when but four years of age moved with her parents to Dakota county, Nebraska, where she grew to woman-

The NEUROCALOMETER Leads the Way to Health

FOR more than thirty-four years, Chiropractic has been getting people well. From a rudimentary beginning, it has grown and developed into the leading drugless health science, and, at the present time, the percentage of results secured by the competent application of Chiropractic principles, in restoring the sick to health, exceeds that of any other health method.

The New Model Neurocalometer A more compact instrument, designed for greater adaptability, although its mechanical construction embraces the same principles of the earlier model.

The Chiropractic premise is that vertebral subluxations create pressure upon nerves as they emit thru the vertebral foramina, and thus interference occurs to the transmission of vital nerve force flowing from the brain to various organs and tissues of the body. Heat is manifested at such points of interference, and the Neurocalometer is a scientific instrument designed to register very minute temperature differences along the spine. It locates accurately the points of spinal nerve interference. The detector used is a very delicate thermopile which makes a comparative heat reading that is registered thru the medium of a galvanometer.

upon nerves. The accurate use of the Neurocalometer enables the Chiropractor to determine the points of nerve pressure in your spine, and, after Chiropractic adjustments have been given for the purpose of releasing such pressure, further use of the instrument provides accurate knowledge as to whether the nerve pressure has been released, and in what degree.

The competent and scientific application of Chiropractic principles has restored health to thousands of sick and suffering individuals—in many instances, after all other methods had failed.

Correct use of the Neurocalometer assures a better health service.

Falls City people are very much wrought up over the report that their foremost citizen, Governor Weaver, has been listed as a resident of Lincoln instead of his home town. That may be a matter of moment in Falls City, but the rest of the world is apt to harbor sentiments in the matter similar to the favorite expression of the lazy one of the two black crows: "Who cares?"

A man over in Kansas City objected to answering several questions asked him by the census enumerator. His objection, he states was not based on any desire to hide facts from the government, but he couldn't see why the question of whether or not he possessed a radio had anything to do with "county noses." He answered the question, however, after being fined in court for refusing to do so.

Irony of fate hits hard some times. Up in Minnesota a group of Civil War veterans had formed a club known as the "Last Man's Club", the most outstanding feature of the organization being that the final survivor of the group drink a toast to his departed comrades with wine from a bottle that the club has been saving for that purpose for many years. According to reports the sole survivor is a total abstainer.

Extremes in Russia

Russia affords a spectacle that may well show the folly of state domination of church affairs. During the Tsarist regime the Greek Orthodox church represented the state religion to the detriment of all other forms of sectarian beliefs. Fabulously rich church property was maintained through direct taxation of the public. An intolerant attitude was maintained by the government against other beliefs—especially the Jewish, and much was countenanced in the name of religion that would not be tolerated under any other system.

The pendulum has swung to the other extreme. The Tsarist regime has been overthrown and radical forces who have for years been chafing under the domination of intolerance and misrule, are in control. Their experience with religion has taught them to regard it as one of the chief agencies of oppression that held the common people in ignorance and poverty. Being fanatics, they could take no other stand than that of extreme intolerance of religion and as a result we see the campaign of blasphemy and atheism that is grieving the Christian people of the entire world.

DON'T GO TO CITIES FOR WORK

A warning to boys and girls to stay on the farm is timely and we hope there are no boys and girls in homes of Nebraska Farmer readers whose faces are turned cityward. Governor Roosevelt of New York says that there are more people walking the streets looking for jobs than there has been in many years and that there will be less opportunity for young people to go from the farm to the city in the next few years and find work awaiting them.

"By the same token," he says, "many people from the cities will give more serious attention than in the past to the possibility of moving to the country." He concludes by saying, "How happy is the family today located on a farm and able to say every day as they get up in the morning and as they go to bed at night: 'We at least have no fear of starvation; we at least have no fear of losing our jobs. We may not be getting very rich, but at least we are able to go on with our lives without suffering or drastic change.'"

It is a good time for farm parents and their boys and girls to talk this situation over and take renewed hope in the thought that more contentment can be had on the farm than elsewhere.—The Nebraska Farmer.

WAYNE HAS GROWN

"Why, is that all?" Such is the almost universal expression that greeted the announcement of the census enumerator's report from the city of Wayne.

There has been no criticism of the enumerator's work. It is generally agreed that she has been unusually painstaking and thorough in her work. We simply took it for granted that Wayne had a larger population, and because the report fell short of our expectations, we felt disappointed.

But is such disappointment justified?

Indeed not. Wayne has made a splendid gain in the last ten years. In fact, its gain was one of the outstanding features of the returns from this district. It has added 245 people to its population. A small town in itself. And this gain is all the more impressive from the fact that at no time during the past ten years has the town experienced any period of growth that can in any sense of the word be termed a boom. Its growth has been steady and healthy.

The reason for our disappointment lay in the common practice of all of us to deal in round numbers. We knew that Wayne had a population in excess of 2,000, so when anyone chanced to ask us the population of the town, we invariably said, "Oh, about twenty-five hundred."

We finally came to take it for granted that Wayne's population really amounted to that figure and when the report showed that it was less, we almost felt that the town had gone backward when in reality it had made a gain of almost ten per cent.

Gulleen of Fremont is president of the Nebraska Conference of the Lutheran Augustana conference which is in session now at the Lutheran church in Swedeburg, the dates of the meeting being April 30—May 4th. Rev. Gulleen is a former resident of this vicinity and has many friends and acquaintances in this and neighboring communities. In conjunction with the convention, the Swedeburg church is celebrating its sixtieth anniversary.

The organized districts including territory in this state, South Dakota and Wyoming are in the Nebraska conference.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Nebraska conference of the Lutheran church is holding its annual meeting at Ceresco beginning today May 1st.

CHANGE PLANNED IN LIGHT AND POWER RATES

Winside Action is being considered by the local city council to change the local light and power rates so that users of large amounts of current will be favored with rates that will be a saving to them. The local light plant has fared so well that the rates scheduled to pay off the indebtedness for the plant in six years, are expected to accomplish that purpose in three and with this satisfactory situation in mind the council deems it justifiable to grant a few concessions to the patrons.

MAY 12 OPENING NIGHT FOR SAVIDGE SHOWS

Quality Entertainment Assured Local Show Going Public.

Wayne is again honored by being the town in which The Walter Savidge Amusement Company opens its twenty-fourth season. The opening date has been set for Monday, May 12 and will continue through the entire week.

As usual, the mighty plays given under the big top will be the big feature of the company's big array of entertainment. Mr. Savidge announces a repertoire of plays that should meet with the instant appeal of the show going public. They are all plays that have stood the test of Broadway and scored hits. Among those listed are "Abbie's Irish Rose," "If I Was Rich" and "In Self Defense" all plays too well known to need further comment.

Although there has been several notable changes in the cast, most of last year's lineup will be intact. Tex Chapman who carries the lead, is a new man as are also Jack Kroll and J. Broughton, juveniles. The director, Czemy Jones of Omaha, is also a new acquisition of the company.

Among the familiar faces to return again this year are: Ruth Friend, leading lady; L. Unruh and Harry Cansdale, comedians; and the Misses Bonnie Mae, Victon McNeely and Floss Sutton. The orchestra will be under the direction of Tommy Clark, of Omaha.

Rehearsals began the first of the week and will continue until the opening of the season.

The carnival features are also new and varied and willy, as usual, play an important part in contributing to the success and maintaining the reputation of the show, which is one of the best known amusement concerns making this region.

Entertain in Honor of Twentieth Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frahm entertained at Sunday dinner Mr. and Mrs. D. Bahde and daughters, Lily and Leona, of this city; Miss Fielda Frahm of Mitchell, South Dakota; Mr. and Mrs. Burnie Klug of Snyder; J. J. Steele of this city; and Miss Lenora Ramsey of the local teachers college, the occasion being their twentieth wedding anniversary. Following the dinner a social afternoon ensued. Many gifts were left by the guests as remembrances of the day. The Democrat joins the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frahm in congratulating them and wishing them many more happy anniversaries.

Attend Elk Stag Party

Sam Davies was one of a party of four local members of the Elks lodge who attended the Annual Stag dinner of the B. P. O. E. Lodge at Norfolk last Thursday evening. He was the object of felicitations on the part of many of his brother Elks by reason of the fact that the date also marked his 76th birthday. Sam has been an Elk for more than twenty years and is a charter member of Norfolk Lodge No. 630 B. P. O. E. A large class of candidates were initiated at the meeting. Other members from Wayne who attended the gathering were Walter S. Savidge, J. Grier and John Bingold.

Greeley Girl Won State Spelling Contest

"Archipelago, Medallion and Gneiss" (the writer looked up their spelling in the dictionary) were the stumbling blocks of the state's best grade school spellers. Kathern Stinebaugh, the Wayne county speller, fell down on the word "achipelago", being the ninth speller to miss. The honors went to Agnes Bowers of the Sacred Heart parochial school of Greeley, who was runner up in the state contest last year. Florence Stuteville of South Sioux City was a close second. Miss Pearl E. Sewell, county superintendent of Wayne county schools, attended the contest which took place at Omaha last Saturday morning.

Delco-Light and Frigidaire

Are two of six out of the many General Motors productions that exceeded 1928 in 1929 in sales. Production records in the factories for the first quarter were broken this year. Despite the installation of a large amount of labor saving machinery, more men are employed today than ever before at this time of year.

Delco-Light and Frigidaire are sold with a definite guarantee, backed by General Motors and still more important to you as a purchase is the fact that year after year these products will continue to give satisfaction long after the guarantee has expired.

If service should be required, it is rendered instantly and without removing the machinery from the premises.

There are more Delco-Light plants and Frigidaires in daily use than all other makes combined. They are the choice of the majority.

MABBOTT INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Injuries, consisting of a couple of broken ribs, a broken shoulder blade and numerous bruises about the head and shoulder were sustained by P. L. Mabbott, when he was run over by a Ford car driven by a local woman.

The driver, in her excitement after driving over him, it is reported, shifted the car wrong and backed it over the prostrate man a second time.

The accident occurred near Mabbott's home last Thursday evening while Mabbott was on his way home. His attention being attracted to some object in the opposite direction, he did not take notice of the approaching car as it was driving into an alleyway and was not aware of his danger until it was too late.

He was taken to his home a short distance from the scene and the doctor was hastily summoned. Although his injuries has been extremely painful, little fear is entertained of any serious complications and he is expected to be up and about again.

WITH THE WAYNE CHURCHES

First Baptist Church
W. E. Braisted, Pastor

10:00—Church Sunday school. Lesson "Christ's Standard of Greatness." Classes for all. Welcome to all.

11:00—Morning worship, with Communion service, and brief message. Subject: "Facing the Future in Remembrance of Christ."

8:00—Evening meeting. Please note the change of hour as of May 1.

This will be a musical service, in keeping with the announced "Music Week" and an interesting, usual service. Topic: "The Greatest Love Songs of the Ages, with a Striking Story from the Pastor's Experience at a High Society Wedding."

Special Word—This church and pastor, by all means, wishes in all courtesy to cooperate in things worthwhile in community welfare.

But programs and plans of any up-to-date church and pastor have to be set-up in advance, often weeks ahead. Our members and the public expect regular services unless due notice appears long enough before hand for all to know. Recently some of our people drove in seven miles only to find the church closed and dark.

That is not playing fair with the public and our constituency. With proper regret therefore, but in simple justice we feel it wiser, to hold the usual evening meeting, with the urgent request that at any time public interest justifies a joint effort, hereafter, all pastors be consulted before arrangements are made, and pastors will show very reasonable courtesy to all combined. And it will let us play fair with the public, and our own people.

Thursday May 8th, the Annual Business meeting of the church. Supper at 6:30 and business session at 8:00 o'clock. It is important that members and all interested be present.

May 11th, is National Mothers Day. There will be special music and messages in keeping with the day.

Subject in the morning: "A Mother's Day."

Both talks were instructive and very interesting.

We had made plans for the install-

CHAIN FARMING VS.

INDIVIDUAL FARMING

laborers, as high wages as they could earn in any mechanical trades.

"We are farming our land and harvesting our crop at a cost, including upkeep of machinery, depreciation and replacement of eight dollars per acre. This is only about one-half of what it costs the average farmer to produce his crop, and the figure is low enough to make it almost impossible to sustain a loss over a period of ten years, no matter what the weather conditions or the price may be.

"Now anybody, any group of business men, or any corporation if you prefer, with sufficient capital can go into the farming business on a large scale and do exactly the same thing."

And now look on this: Clayton county, Iowa, in the heart of the corn belt, is truly rural. It has numerous small villages but no very large towns. It has 3,063 farms assessed at more than $28,000 and a population of 22,000. Nobody is very rich and no body very poor. There are more automobiles in the county than there are families, some farmers owning two or three and a truck besides. On a per capita basis it is said to be the wealthiest county in America.

The basis of this article in The Word-Herald explains, is an exceptionally rich soil, well watered and well drained. To these natural advantages the farmers apply a system of diversification and crop rotation that maintains soil fertility. They raise swine, beef, dairy cattle, sheep and poultry and the crops are fed on the farm. A large share of the marketing is done co-operatively. The county has 15 co-operative creameries, 19 co-operative live stock shipping associations and a co-operative feed grinding mill in every town.

The average farm is 160 acres and most of them are owned by their occupants. The average estate left when a farmer dies, is $30,000. Seventy-five per cent of the farm mortgages are held in the county. There are 26 banks with $14,000,000 in deposits. There never has been a bank failure and but few commercial failures.

Taking one year with another the farmers of Clayton county are represented as being well satisfied that the farming tub can stand on its own bottom, and they would a little rather the government wouldn't try to run their business for them.

Which is the more attractive picture, Mr. Campbell's 95,000 acres with their one big boss directing the work of a fleet of tractors and mechanics, or Clayton county's 3,063 small farms, each with its individual farmer usually as owners? Mr. Campbell intimates that the phrase about farming being "a way of life" is mostly bunk, that farmers would rather be well paid hired men than worried operators. And yet there's Clayton county.

Pioneer Passes Away

Laurel—Mrs. S. C. Jensen passed away Wednesday, April 18, at the age of 81 years, lacking just three days of reaching her 82nd year. She was born in Denmark, April 19th, 1848 and came to this country in 1870, her future husband having come earlier in the year and having earned enough by working here to pay her passage over from the Old Country. They were married at Rayport, New Jersey, and both went to work for a Captain Taylor, continuing in his employ for six years. In 1876 they moved to a farm near Blair and in 1885 came to the then wild Cedar county. Laurel had not yet been thought of at that date and the settlements were few and far between. Their life was typical of the old pioneer of the day. They moved to Laurel in 1901, the year when their son, Jens, and daughter Anna were married at a double wedding and the parents gave up the farm to the children. Mrs. Jensen is survived by her aged husband and by three children, Jens, Soren Jr., of Holyoke, Colo., and Mrs. Warren Anderson of Sioux City, Iowa, two children having preceded her in death. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon, April 19th, at the Danish Lutheran church, Rev. Skanderup officiating. Interment was made in the Laurel cemetery. Mr. Jensen has gone to Sioux City to make his home with his daughter for a time, but will remain a resident of Laurel, having a room of his own at the home of his niece, Mrs. Chris Jensen.

A $50 reward is offered and the local officials are doing all that is possible to recover the stolen car.

Randolph—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyer of this city celebrated their golden wedding in a quiet way recently. They were married 50 years ago on April 14th 1880 at Uift, Holland and came to America in 1886, settling on a farm near Carroll, Ia. They moved to Randolph in 1891 and purchased the home place two miles north of this city. They retired from active farm work and moved into Randolph 15 years ago. They now enjoy their garden and chickens and are both quite active for their age. Mr. Meyer is 79 and Mrs. Meyer is 72. They are the parents of ten children, seven of who are living. Several of the members of the family being indisposed at present, the family gathering has been postponed until a later date.

Chain Letter Nuisance

The mails have recently been flooded with a deluge of chain letters which assert that good luck will descend upon you if you copy the epistle and send without delay to five or sometimes to as many as nine friends. But if by chance, you break the chain, dire calamities are decreed, according to these chain letters.

Human nature is naturally superstitious, hence the recipients of these letters, although they resent the letter, copy and send it on, causing annoyance to friends and acquaintances. So the chain goes on and we can not help but wonder if any good is derived from it. Perhaps if you happen to have a stroke of good luck it is attributed to your response to the chain letter, while if by chance, lady luck deserts you when you have failed to waste an hour or two on these letters, you blame yourself for inviting the jinx to call upon you.

We are supposed to be an intelligent people and we should know that into each life there must come some weal and some woe. But to attribute that weal or woe to carrying on or breaking a chain letter does not do justice to our supposed intelligence. Why not be brave enough to help put an end to what has become an annoying situation of receiving countless chain letters?—Exchange.

PROF. NELSON WRITES (from the Goldenrod)

Professor R. D. Nelson, former head of the English department writes an interesting letter to Professor Lewis.

The letter is dated March 30, 1930 from Salonica, Greece where Mr. Nelson is head of the academic department of the American Farm school.

He writes that the family are well and each busy with his work. They hope to return to the States soon.

Of his travels Mr. Nelson writes as follows.

Our city of Salonica you probably know is the New Testament Thessalonica. Varria, a town within a day's travel of us—there and back—is the New Testament Berea. Philippi is within two day's travel of our return trip. Paul, as you well remember, worked in all three. He wrote his "Philippians" to the church which he established in Philippi, and his "Thessalonians" to his church here in Thessalonica. Pella, ancient seat of Philip and Alexander, is as near us as Varria Berea. Little archaeological work has been done as yet in Macedonia, our part of Greece, which was until recently part of Turkey. So about all that one can see in these places is the ancient site with modern village, town, or city upon it. I hope yet to get hasty glimpses of Varria, Philippi, and Pella.

In Thessalonica we have the "White Tower" dating from early Turkish times, the city walls (enclosing the older part of the city, only a tiny part of the present city) and a few churches, dating from the Byzantine period, (these churches were first churches, then mosques, and now again churches or ruins), and an arch dating from the early Roman Empire. In one or two places an older pavement twenty-feet or more below the present city level has been uncovered and some bases of columns discovered. But I think nothing is yet known about them. There are some interesting crypts under some of the old churches.

So far as present interest is concerned, Salonica is the second city in Greece. It has a population of 320,000. (Athens has 600,000, not counting Piraeus, Phaleron, and the others suburbs, which are not a part of the city corporation, but between which and Athens there are no boundaries, that a person can observe at all.) Salonica is far more modern than Athens; a wide sweeping fire a few years ago gave an opportunity for rebuilding the city on a newer and better plan. Athens and Salonica are the only two cities the country has. The next nearest places, if I remember correctly, have only a few tens of thousands of inhabitants; and there are very few of those places.

I recently had a three-day trip with other American men of Salonica, I went by train to Larissa. This is an ancient place, the legendary home of Achilles. The express which took us there from here tore along at the rate of 15 to 20 miles an hour. We passed through the Vale of Tempel, famed for its beauty. But I think this beauty is only comparative with the usual scenery in Greece, — barren, sunburned (rather than sunny), Greece. From Larissa, we went by automobile over bumpy roads, through the plains of Thessaly, to Trippala. Called the granary of Greece, but it is a very poor granary if my eyes didn't deceive me. Still, it is far greener than our desolate country and than that up here around Athens. Trippala is another ancient place and claims to be the home of the legendary Aesculapius, the physician. From there we took a narrow gauge railroad up to Kalambaka, at the foot of the gigantic old rocks on which are situated the famous hanging monasteries, dating from pre-Turkish times. In these we were most cordially entertained. Monasticism is on the decline, however, in the Orthodox church, at least, in Greece.

I hope to get a few days at Mount Athos, largest and most famous of all monastic centers in the Levant. You remember it is a practically independent government (politically), through the Middle Ages, even in Turkish times, and until recently, was so. I am told there are wonderful relics to be seen there, hundreds of acres of them, and interesting museums.

On our trip out from New York, we had 2½ days in Athens. I tramped and studied so hard while there that I have a good general idea of the ancient glories of that city. I could say nothing adequate of it in a letter. In Central and Southern Greece archaeology has uncovered things and given the historically or artistically interested tourist a wealth of things

I hope to get at least a few days yet at Delphi, Thebes, Plataea, Chaeronea, Thermopylae, Sparta, Corinth, Olympia, and the prehistoric centers around Nyceneae, Tyrins, and Nauplia. In Athens I saw Dr. Schleichmann's great collection in the National Museum. The first things that met my eyes in that collection were the two golden Vapphis cups on a pedestal in the center of the first room. You remember their picture in history texts. But I cannot try to write of the exhibit or of any thing else in Athens.

Easter I am to spend in Jerusalem. Our school has almost three week's vacation at that time (the Orthodox church makes much of the season) and I am going to trade work and classes with others of our staff so as to lengthen my vacation beyond that. We are only three days by boat from Joffa, and Joffa is only two hours by rail from Jerusalem. I shall have a few days in Jerusalem and its environs, Bethlehem, Bethany, the Mount of Olivers, Gethsemane, Jericho, the Jordan, and the Dead Sea region, and I shall get a short automobile trip up through Shechem and Samarita to Nazareth and the region of the Sea of Galilee. This will be a great privilege of which I have dreamed since I was a boy.

If I could stay out in this section another year or two I might see something of different parts of Asia Minor, etc. On my trip to Jerusalem I shall have an afternoon in Cyprus.

With warmest personal regards, I remain,

Most sincerely yours,
R. D. NELSON.

From the results of a national survey made by the National Conference Board it is estimated that the per capita wealth of the 120 million inhabitants of the nation is $3,000. The tangible assets of all the people is estimated at $60 billion dollars.

Nebraska stands well in the list. People of Nevada rank highest with an average of $7388. Alabama is lowest with $1284. Nebraska has $4,119 and compares well with her near neighbors: Colorado, $3,216; Iowa, $4,675; Kansas, $3,690; and Missouri, $3,199. — Ex.

Spuds Need Air in Storage Bins

Ventilation Is Necessary to Keep Potatoes in Good Condition.

Freezing has always been feared most by potato growers when considering storages. As a result more losses probably come from high temperatures than low, according to A. L. Wilson of the New York State College of Agriculture.

The difference between good and bad storage is only a few degrees above 40 degrees Fahrenheit; 34 to 40 degrees would be ideal, below 34 means freezing, and above 40 degrees conditions are favorable for sprouting. Shrinkage increases rapidly as sprouts appear.

Moisture Harmful.
If the air is too dry, water losses from potatoes will cause shrinkage, and if it is too moist, moisture will collect on the walls and ceilings and on the tubers. The presence of drops of moisture on the ceiling or on the pile is a danger signal, for rot will begin unless ventilators are provided that may be opened on a relatively cold day.

As potatoes are alive there is need of oxygen, and it must be obtained from fresh air. It is essential to feed that it be well stored so that its vitality can be retained. Firm, bright tubers in spring are better to sell than the shriveled dull-looking ones. Darkened areas on the tubers and a low vitality can be charged to lack of oxygen in the storage.

Ventilation Plan.
Home-made devices will serve to remove stale and moist air. False floors and walls allow air to circulate around the pile, or empty crates turned upside down can be put on the floor and the potatoes piled over them. Empty barrels can also be used either on the floor or up through the pile.

Variation Seen in Cost of Farm Live Stock

The very wide variation in results secured by different live stock men is shown by cow test associations, production contests, ton litter work, etc. A recent compilation shows:

In a Minnesota sow test association the cost of producing butterfat varied from 23 to 71 cents a pound, and the income per cow varied from a loss of $38 to a gain of $97.

In a ton litter contest the number of pigs raised ranged from 8 to 12. The number of pounds of pork gained per bushel of corn fed ranged from 7 to 12. The cost of gain varied from 5 1/2 to 14 cents a pound.

During a three-year period the amount of corn fed in an Iowa county for each 100 pounds of pork produced varied from less than five to more than 13 bushels.

In a Minnesota survey the cost of feeding hens varied from $1 to $2.55 a hen per year. The returns from hens varied from a loss of 30 cents to a profit of $1.50.

Electric Pump Valuable Device for Water Supply

An electrically operated pump is very handy on the farm during the winter when the pump handle is ice cold, according to E. W. Lehmann of the University of Illinois. A storage tank is an advantage where the water supply is limited and the flow is slow.

A tank for use in case of fire is not possible on every farm but where electricity is available a motor large enough to raise water in a garden hose is valuable and may save the loss of some of the farm buildings if fire is seen in time.

The cost of operating the pumps on the farm is dependent on the rate charged. At six cents per kilowatt hour the cost of operating a deep well pump for the entire farm water supply should not exceed $2 a month.

Prevent Diseases by Destroying All Rubbish

All dying trees, branches, and dead wood, as well as trash and litter should be removed from the orchard, made into fire wood or carefully burned. Bilster canker, black rot canker, as well as other diseases are destroyed by such measures. Apple tree borers may also be combated effectively by such clean-up practices. Over-wintering codling moth larvae, which are tucked away in suken cocoons in cracks and crevices of the bark and in the crotches of branches and under branches, trash, and litter on the ground, are destroyed. Such material affords over-wintering quarters for some of our most dangerous insect pests and diseases. The fight is thus made easier for the grower the following spring and summer when he relies chiefly upon spraying practices.

Rust Infested Oats

Fields of oats which have become rust infested with rust will generally give a better crop of hay than they will of grain. Rust first appears in the summer as dark reddish-brown or rust-colored spots, chiefly on the stems and leaf sheaths, sometimes also on the leaves and chaff. These spots will be found to contain a fine, dust powder. Later in the season the plants become covered with black lines where the infection is severe. On oats the crop may be made into hay by cutting when the kernels are in the milk stage.

GAS EXPLOSION IN BROODER HOUSE FATAL TO YOUNG WOMAN

West Point—Explosion of a gas that formed from a liquid with which she was spraying a brooder house, caused the death of Mrs. Frank Lemm who died from the effect of burns when her clothing caught fire. The tragedy took place at the Frank Lemm farm, seven miles west of this city, Tuesday afternoon a week ago. Mr. Lemm was using a dip for spray and the gas that formed was ignited by the fire in the brooder stove. The building was completely wrecked and her clothes, catching fire, were burned completely from her body.

She was able to get to the house and phone for help. Mrs. Herman Mahnke, a neighbor, was the first to come to her assistance and a doctor was summoned and arrived soon after. Her suffering was intense and the burns of such a severe nature that she died about seven hours after.

She was thirty-eight years of age, a mother of four children of whom the oldest is fourteen, who with the husband survive her.

Funeral services were held at the Immanuel Lutheran church near Beemer.

HOLDUP AND BURGLARY AT STANTON LAST WEEK

Stanton—Holdup artists paid a visit at the local Standard Oil station Wednesday evening, April 23, helping themselves to the contents of the till, and of the contents of the pockets of Leigh Butterfield, the attendant and Walter Happel, who was in the station at the time the holdup occurred.

The strangers drove up to the station in a new Peerless sedan and ordered gas and a change of oil. After they had been accommodated they forced Butterfield to open the cash register, searched the two victims, jerked the telephone wire from the wall and drove away. It is reported that they secured little money for their efforts. Very little has been secured by the way of clues as the bandits managed to keep their faces shaded. The car bore an Iowa license.

The evening previous the Albert Pilger store was broken into and robbed. The prowlers obtained about $25 in cash, several pairs of shoes and a large quantity of cigars and cigarettes. It is believed that this was an amateur job.

Father—So you know as much as the teacher, do you? Where did you get that idea?
Son—She told me herself. She said she couldn't teach me anything.

1931 LICENSE PLATES TO BE RED AND GRAY

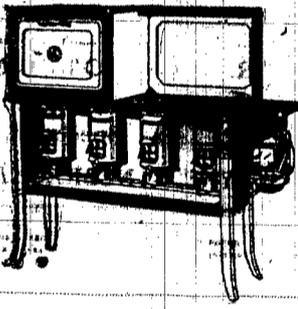

The color scheme of the auto license plates in Nebraska next year has dark red figures on a grey background. If dark red and grey doesn't suit the family and does not look well on the family fiver it will do no good to fret, for that is the color scheme chosen for the Nebraska 1931 license plates. However, this scheme is quite attractive.

OLDEST GRANDPARENTS

Crofton was not content with claiming the record of having the youngest grandmother in the person of Mrs. John Rosendal, who became a grandmother at the age of 34, but now also claims the record of having the oldest couple to become grandparents for the first time. They are Mr. and Mrs. John Carr, past 72 and 61 respectively, who welcomed their first grandchild April 19, a baby daughter born Mr. and Mrs. Sibma D. Gowman.

"Vagabond King"
—A Splendid Production

"The Vagabond King" featured at the Gay Theatre the first of the week was without question, the most artistic production ever shown at that place. The settings and costuming, enhanced by technicolor gave the picture an especial appeal. The singing of the two leading artists, was also far above the average in quality. Manager E. E. Galley should be commended for providing a quality production of this sort for which but a nominal advance in prices was charged.

Freshie (while studying English Literature)—"Say I can't find any biographical information concerning this author Anonymous?"

Moline Variable Drop Planter

The main thing the farmer is interested in when purchasing a corn planter is the accuracy with which it plants the seed, its durability, in order that it may work efficiently from year to year and its adaptability so that it may give uniform satisfaction under different conditions.

All of these good points are combined to a greater degree with the Moline-Drop Planter than with any other planter on the market today.

The mechanism of the machine is designed for maximum accuracy and its construction for durability. That is why the Moline Variable Drop-Planter is given preference by such farmers as Ira C. Marshall, the World's Champion Corn grower, whose success depends absolutely upon the accuracy of his planter. Mr. Marshall uses the Moline exclusively.

Cute in a Baby Awful at Three —and it's Dangerous—
by Ruth Brittain

Thumb sucking does look sweet in a baby, but it is disgusting in the three-year-old and sometimes it hangs on until fifteen or sixteen! The habit may cause an ill-formed mouth or induce adenoids; and it always interferes with digestion. Pinning the sleeve over the hand; attaching mittens, or putting on cardboard cuffs, which prevent bending the arms at the elbows, are some of the ways to stop the habit.

Another bad habit—irregularity in bowel action—is responsible for weak bowels and constipation in babies. Give the tiny bowels an opportunity to act at regular periods each day. If they don't act at first, a little Fletcher's Castoria will soon regulate them. Every mother should keep a bottle of it handy to use in case of colic, cholera, diarrhoea, gas on stomach and bowels, constipation, loss of sleep, or when baby is cross and feverish. Its gentle influence over baby's system enables him to get full nourishment from his food, helps him gain, strengthens his bowels.

Castoria is purely vegetable and harmless—the recipe is on the wrapper. Physicians have prescribed it for over 30 years. With each package, you get a valuable book on Motherhood. Look for U.S.A. I. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper so you'll get the genuine.
