the TOUGH OIL FILM of the NEW Polarine THE MODERN MOTOR OIL

The new process of refining—developed to produce the new Polarine—provides an oil remarkable for its resistance to heat, cold, pressure and friction.

Its "tough" oil film is due to the removal of every element of an unstable chemical nature. It is the answer of science to the demand for an oil that is all lubricant.

The new Polarine clings to surfaces, maintains its body under all operating conditions, prevents wear, holds all the power behind the pistons. It also stays cleaner because the new Polarine deposits less than half as much carbon as any old process oil.

Unsurpassed by any motor oil, at any price—the modern motor oil—at no advance in price—the new Polarine.

ALL SEEK THE COMMON GOOD

It may seem paradoxical, but it is true nevertheless, that great men and great forces are at work to day whose purposes are the antithesis of each other, and yet whose objectives are ultimately the same.

Rev. Braisted, in the course of his Memorial Day address, brought this truth out in a way that could not help but appeal to all tolerant and fair minded men and women.

He cited the two extremes existing in Europe today—Soviet Russia is representative of the despotic rule of Communism while Fascism in Italy under the rule of a dictator is representative of the rule of the other extreme. Yet the sponsors of both of these movements are sincere in their conviction that their cause is for the best interest of the most people.

If we stopped to consider this truth we would probably be more fair and less hostile in our opinions of those whose honest convictions differ from ours. We would appreciate our great public figures while we had them with us instead of a couple of decades after they are gone. We would be more neighborly when we came to understand that our acquaintances, while they may have had a different way of looking at things, guided their convictions by what they thought was honest and just.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox summed it up in this trite verse:

"So many men—so many minds—so many paths that wind and wind; While just the art of being kind—Is all this sad world needs."

Mrs. Lily Kenney and daughter, Ruth, and Mrs. Bentz, all of Stanton, came Sunday to spend the day with Mrs. Kenney's sister, Mrs. James Rennick, and family of this city.

CRADLE

Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hall

Monday morning, June 2, a ten-pound baby boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Brandts and family left yesterday for Sioux City to make their home. They have lived in this city nearly three years and have won a host of friends by whom they will be greatly missed. Mr. Brandts, Blockman for the International Harvester company, has been transferred to a larger territory and will make his headquarters at Sioux City.

told that they were inefficient, that they kept "frowsy" looking stores, that they charged outrageous prices, that they had no business to ask for patronage—if they followed the "chain store way of doing business" they had nothing to worry about. They were told the "chain store agitation" would split the town wide open, etc. etc.

It took backbone to face this avalanche of reaction and many an independent merchant has "closed his eyes to a painful truth" with the result that the fight against the encroaching monopoly, in many communities, is sadly lacking in efficiency.

But there are exceptions innumerable that point to the fact that independent stores and the communities which support them, have just begun to fight.

A notable present day example comes from Cody, Wyoming, where an agent for the J. C. Penny Company recently visited that town looking for a suitable store location. The people of Cody went after the situation in true western style when they learned about it.

In plain and very understandable English the J. C. Penny Company was told that one of its stores would not be welcome in that city. Communications and telegrams to that effect were sent by The Cody Club (the city's commercial club), the Business Women's Club, the Lions Club, the local of the Carpenters Union, and the local post of the American Legion.

To any people who may harbor the impression that the "chain store fight" is dying out, the suggestion is made that they listen in on Station KFAB Lincoln at nine o'clock each Thursday night. The addresses given at that time are presented by men of consequence in our state and nation.

Last week's message was presented by Attorney General Sorenson, who gave a splendid talk on Nebraska, its resources, attractions, progress and chances for future development.

He stressed the point that this development and prosperity of our state was seriously threatened by the siphoning away to Eastern capitalists of the net profits of business through chain-store organizations.

"Of course, no one can prevent you establishing a store here, but it is our sincere hope and request that you make a thorough investigation which, we feel, will disclose to you the impracticability of placing a store in Cody. I am frank to say that I have not heard a single individual express any desire to see one of your stores in Cody. We express the sentiment of these people as well as the entire Legion membership of 180 comrades, in writing you as we have."

To any people who may harbor the impression that the "chain store fight" is dying out, the suggestion is made that they listen in on Station KFAB Lincoln at nine o'clock each Thursday night. The addresses given at that time are presented by men of consequence in our state and nation.

These words were spoken by a great teacher 2,000 years ago and are as true today as they were then.

We whose social and financial interests are centered in this community cannot have our hearts elsewhere.

At heart, every dweller in the vicinity of Wayne wants to see this town grow and prosper. It is amazing what each man, woman and child can accomplish by doing a full share in the splendid business of BOOSTING.

Most people are thoughtless. We often do things on the moment's impulse with never a thought of effect. It is reasonable to believe that no one living here would do anything knowingly or purposely to retard the welfare of Wayne. Yet such things are done, unthinkingly.

Throughout the next eight months a series of messages will be published in the Democrat dealing in a straightforward logical manner with some of the factors vital to our community progress. These will be of real interest and worthy of careful reading.

Watch for them in this space every two weeks.

PERTAINING TO RURAL SCHOOLS

lected for the use of the district the sum of five dollars per teacher employed within the school district, and that the amount so set aside shall be by the school board annually invested in books other than the regular text books, which books shall be suitable for the district school library. All except five of the rural districts of the county purchased their five dollars worth of library books during the past year.

A new law also was passed in 1920 which makes it unlawful for any peddler, agent or salesman to call upon or solicit orders and business from any classroom teacher while said classroom teacher is actively engaged in the pursuit of his or her work as such. For the purpose of this act, a teacher is actively engaged in the pursuit of his or her work between the hours of 8:30 a. m. and 5:00 p. m. on all days the school in which he or she is teaching is in session.

The penalty for the violation of this law is a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars or imprisonment not to exceed ninety days in the county jail.

In spite of this law and of warning notices to agents posted on the doors of the schoolhouses, some of these nervy specimens still pester the teachers. Some of them during the past year tried to make the directors believe that the purchase of their set of reference books would answer for the library law for several years.

Reference books are text books, not library books.

The Compulsory Attendance Law was changed last year so as to require 160 days of attendance during the year instead of 120 days as before.
