Wayne County Schools Receive Apportionment

Semi Annual State School Apportionment Is Announced.

Wayne Share Is $1,000.82

Wayne county's semi-annual school apportionment from the state amounts to $6,668.20, according to a report just received by County Superintendent Pearl E. Sewell. Of this amount $5,051.75 accrues directly from the state school fund and the remainder is apportioned from moneys derived from fines and licenses.

One-fourth of this fund will be divided equally between the 83 school districts of the county and the remaining three-fourths of the funds will be divided among the school districts according to the school census. The one-quarter division nets $21.55 for each school district.

There are 3194 school pupils in the county to serve as a basis for sharing the remaining three-quarters of the apportionment. Wayne schools, according to the census, amounts to 641 which entitles the district to $1,000.82 as its share of the funds available.

Local Garage Broken Into Tuesday Night

Loot Consists of Several New Tires and A Few Accessories.

Parties unknown, with a distorted sense of property rights, paid a visit to the McGarraugh-Briggs Auto Company sometime between late Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning and appropriated a number of new tires and a few accessories.

The extent of the loss has not been determined at this time, but the loss will be light, indicating that the thief made the raid to supply his own personal needs rather than to acquire goods which he could sell later.

Entrance to the building was made through a door at the side of the building facing Fourth street, effecting entrance to hind the counter. No clues have been unearthed as yet, although, should the burglary be the work of local parties, it is more than likely that they will be apprehended and brought to justice.

Serious Accident Sunday Evening

Cars Badly Wrecked But Occupants Escape Serious Injury.

An auto collision which resulted in the wrecking of two cars, but which, fortunately, was light in casualties, took place at the intersection of two country roads about three and one-half miles northeast of town last Sunday evening.

The two cars, one a Ford sedan occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Killion, and the other a Buick sedan occupied by Henry Kieper, collided just as the Kieper car passed into view directly in front of the Killion car. The Ford struck the Buick squarely in the middle of the left side of the car. Both cars were going at a fair rate of speed and the impact howled both of them over. The Buick jammed up against a concrete culvert guard post which did further damage to the car.

Kieper suffered a broken collarbone and badly wrenched back. Mrs. Killion sustained a dislocated arm and other minor bruises and Mr. Killion escaped with a few scratches and cuts.

Responsibility for the accident rests largely on the fact that the view of either road was obstructed and neither driver was aware of the danger that lay before him until it was too late.

Young Couple Wed Here Tuesday A. M.

Fred G. Denkinger of this city and Miss Lydia Rehwinkle were married at the parsonage of the Evangelical Lutheran church last Tuesday morning, July 22, at 9:00 o'clock, the Rev. H. A. Teckhaus, pastor of the church, performing the wedding ceremony. They were attended by Miss Marie Denkinger, sister of the bridegroom and by Arthur Behwinkle.

Following the ceremony, the young couple left by auto for Boone, Iowa for a short visit with relatives after which they will return to Wayne to make their home.

Mr. Denkinger is a graduate of the Wayne State Teachers' college for which he is now employed as electrician.

Second Semester At College Begins

Enrollment Is High For Average In This Semester.

The second semester of the summer term at the Wayne Teachers college began the first of the week with an enrollment of slightly in excess of 500. Of this number all but about 60 are students who have remained over from last semester to continue their work throughout the summer.

While the enrollment for this semester is less by about two hundred in comparison with the enrollment of the semester just past, it is far larger than the usual attendance for this period.

The curriculum remains practically the same as last semester, but a few of the short time subjects being dropped and others added to take its place. The faculty in charge is also practically the same as before with but one or two exceptions.

The fall semester begins September 15 with every indication of a marked increase in attendance. Neilhart hall it is reported, has had every room reserved by prospective students.

INDICATIONS ARE COMING FAIR WILL BE BEST EVER

Exhibits, Will Be Larger Especially In Livestock Department.

Fine Attractions Booked

Although September 10 is still considerably in the future, the Eighth Annual Wayne County Fair, which begins its four day exposition at that time, bids fair to exceed all past efforts.

These indications are based on the large number of exhibits, especially of livestock, already promised and the high quality of the attractions already booked.

The swine department forms a good example of the increased interest taken by exhibitors in the fair. According to William Von Seggern, secretary of the fair association, 160 pens have been reserved by exhibitors, a number in excess of the exhibits in past fairs.

The number of exhibits is augmented largely by the increased enrollment of boys and girls in pig and calf club work. Their exhibits will, as they have in the past, form among the most interesting features of the exhibition.

Prof. W. W. Derrick, professor of animal husbandry at the University of Nebraska, has been engaged to judge in the horse, cattle and baby beef departments. O. J. Lower, of Ashland, has been assigned to act as poultry judge. Other judging officials have not been announced at this time.

Last year's exhibit of one hundred baby heaves made the local fair second in importance in the state by way of number of exhibits. The boys and girls calf club increase in the past year should increase this number to a great extent.

The free attractions before the grand stand already booked indicate an unusually fine array of talent. Among them are the "Flying Thrillers," trapeze artists superb; the Francis Trio, comedy acrobats and tumblers; the Marsh Sisters in fancy diving act; and the Gypsy Strollers Review. The latter troupe will provide a completely changed act every evening of the fair. All of these attractions are among the best vaudeville attractions making the biggest circuits in the country.

Last, but far from the least are the two grand displays of fireworks to provide a grand finale for the days entertainment. This display will be provided for two nights of the fair. As yet, of course, the fair is still very much in the making, but from early indications it is going to be far the best of any yet held in Wayne.

Norfolk Bank Closes Doors Wednesday

Losses Sustained Under Former Head Given As Cause.

Expected To Re-Organize

The Nebraska State bank of Norfolk, with deposits, according to last report of over $1,800,000, closed its doors Wednesday morning, according to a report from that city Wednesday afternoon.

Losses and financial troubles, which began under the administration of J. B. Gibson as president, are given as the reason for the closing. Mr. Gibson disposed of all his stock in the concern several months ago and is now residing in California.

According to reports, no bank in this section of the state had any material balance in the closed bank, the deposits due other banks having been greatly reduced during the last few weeks.

W. D. Hartwell, special agent of the department of trade and commerce, is temporarily in charge of the bank, and G. W. Woods, state bank commissioner, was reported to be on his way to Norfolk.

J. W. Ranson was president at the time of its closing and D. P. Wetzel, its cashier. The bank is capitalized at $100,000 and its recent statement showed surplus and undivided profits of $32,930.72. Loans and discounts totaled $905,193.28.

Indications are, according to reports, that the bank will soon be re-organized and in operation again.

Mother Wayne Woman Called By Death

Mrs. John Wolcott, mother of Mrs. Jessie Reynolds of this city, passed away at the home of her daughter at Yorkville, Illinois last Saturday, July 19, having attained the age of 81 years. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Jessie Reynolds of Wayne, Mrs. W. E. Harnley of Yorkville, Illinois, and Mrs. Frank Dann of Weslaco, Texas. Funeral services were held at Yorkville Monday, July 21.

Mrs. Reynolds was called to Yorkville a week ago last Sunday and has not yet returned.

Curfew Shall Not Ring This Morning

That the recent discontinuance of the seven o'clock siren started a tempest in a teapot is evidenced by the long list of signatures recently appended to a petition drawn up protesting the recent move on the part of the council.

The protest has been augmented, too, by a lot of comment, some of it vociferous, pertaining to the matter and it is reasonably presumed that the council, with no intention on its part of being arbitrary in the matter will rescind its recent action and the seven o'clock siren will, in the near future, continue to scare the uninitiated nearby hotel guests opt of a years growth.

It made a lot of local people "kind of sore" when they learned that the council had taken action in the matter at the suggestion of a Lincoln man who holds a state job who became very much vexed when the siren disturbed his slumbers at the unearthly hour of seven o'clock. It wasn't altogether the complaint he made, but the way he made it. He referred to the siren blowing as "small town stuff."

The local citizens averred that no man who works for the state has any business to kick at being awakened at seven o'clock and seven o'clock whistles are not "small town stuff," but are far more common in large cities than in small. The round-house and factory whistles arouse the people from their slumbers in Omaha and Lincoln the same as did the siren here.

Anyway, lots of people are more or less "het up" about it and the city council, which did not know it was lifting a lid to a Pandora's Box when it took action in the matter may be depended upon to undue the trouble it started.

Hoskins Man Killed In Crash

Elmer Planner, 23 Dies In Norfolk Hospital Soon After Mishap.

Injuries sustained in an auto accident early Monday morning proved fatal to Elmer Planner, 23, of Hoskins, who died about four hours after the Pontiac coupe in which he and Jake Schwindt, also of Hoskins, were riding at the time, had crashed into a telephone pole a short way south of town.

The accident happened about 1:30 Monday morning when the pair were on their way home. There is a turn in the road at the point where the accident occurred, which Schwindt the driver of the car was unable to negotiate with the result that the car shot out over the side of the road and crashed into a telephone pole. The car was wrecked almost beyond repair and the contact coming directly in front of Planner, the force of the impact hit him harder than his companion. He was knocked unconscious and did not revive.

Schwindt, outside of a few minor bruises, was unhurt and was able to extricate himself and summon help from passing motorists. He was taken to a Hoskins physician who ordered that he be taken immediately to the Norfolk hospital. Death occurred about six o'clock the next morning.

Henry Kay Passes Away At Lincoln

End Comes Tuesday After Illness of But Short Duration

Funeral Thursday P. M.

Henry Kay, resident of Wayne county since 1885, is dead, passing away last Tuesday morning at Lincoln where he had been taken for treatment the Sunday previous.

His illness was of but a few days' standing, and while serious, was not considered grave, and his sudden passing came as a distinct shock to his family as well as to the community. The family had been notified of the serious turn for the worse a few hours earlier in the night and were making preparations to go to Lincoln when the message came bearing the sad news.

Mr. Kay came to Wayne county with his parents when he was seven years old. The family moved from Minden, Iowa, where Mr. Kay was born, and settled on a farm in La Port community. He attended the public school in this district and grew to manhood in this vicinity.

On December 22, 1904, he was married to Miss Anna Bichel and established the new home on a farm three miles south and five miles east of Wayne. Here they lived for nine years and here their four children were born.

In 1914 they moved to Wayne where Mr. Kay engaged in the implement business with his brother-in-law, Ernest Bichel. Four years later he entered the livestock business in which business he was actively occupied until about four years ago when he established the amusement park south of town.

Funeral services will be held at the home on Thursday afternoon at 2:00. Rev. H. A. Teckhaus, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran church officiating. Burial will take place at the Greenwood cemetery.

Mr. Kay is survived by his wife and three sons, Lorenz, Bernard and Vernon—another son, Theodore died a number of years ago. Three brothers, Fritz, August and John are also left to mourn his sudden passing.

Extra Inning Game Goes to Local Nine

Pitchers Battle Ends In 3 to 2 Win For Locals.

"Lou" Sund Wayne's venerable old pitcher and "Ferdie" Manzer Randolphs' pitching ace hooked-up in a sweet pitchers battle Sunday at the fair grounds ball park, and the result was an extra inning game.

Wayne made the winning marker after two were down in the 10th inning when "Chuck" Collins singled and stole second and third and scored when catcher Rogers of Randolph allowed one of Manzers' fast ones to get away from him.

Both hurlers were right, Manzer for Randolph allowed but five hits and fanned 15, while old "Lou" allowed nine hits and set 12 batters down via the strike out route. Wayne scored two runs in the fifth for the first markers of the game, and the visitors scored their first run in the sixth when W. Dryer hit long home run into left field. The Randolph club tied the score at two each in the event when Allison hit a triple and scored on Rogers' single.

Both teams threatened to break the tie score in the ninth, Wayne having bases filled with one down and failing to tally, and Randolph having two on and failing to score. Each club played air tight ball, but one error being made during the game. This win makes three straight for the local boys.

Batteries: Randolph, Manzer and Rogers. Wayne, Sund and Simpson.

Sunday, July 27, the Wayne team meets the Wisner team at the Fair ground park.

WE OWE MUCH TO MEMORY OF DR. WYLIE

In the passing of Dr. Wylie, noted pure food expert, America lost one of its most valued citizens of the generation just past.

Dr. Wylie's comprehensive knowledge of matters pertaining to diet and his firm insistence that the public be assured that the food it ate was what it was claimed to be, made the pure food and drug laws of this country, the most rigidly enforced of any in our national code.

He insisted that foodstuffs be strictly what they were labeled to be. In a speech which the writer heard the Doctor make a number of years ago, he gave an example of how the public was often served by his analysis of a concoction labeled "Strawberry Preserves." The chemical analysis showed that it was made up of glucose, citric acids, annaline dye and one or two other ingredients not at all part of the makeup of a strawberry. The presence of the seeds puzzled him, he said, until he planted them and found that they eventually developed into timothy grass.

Contrary to the impression that one would have about a "crank on food", Dr. Wylie claimed he had small patience with food faddists. The people of the world who are making progress—that go to make up the worth while nations—are the people who eat plenty of food at least three times each day. By food he meant meat, potatoes, gravy, and other articles of diet associated with that type. He had small patience with diets, and specially prepared foods. Most any plain food was good for you, he said, provided it was free from harmful ingredients masquerading as something wholesome.

LET'S ALL BE UNHAPPY TOGETHER

"Hard times" talk seems to be a favorite theme of conversation nowadays. There was a terrific slump in the price of wheat, cream, livestock, eggs, and poultry—in fact everything which the farmer produces. Corn seems to be at a critical stage of development and weather indications are not at all in its favor. Unemployment is listed as one of the big problems of the nation, in fact conditions at present are really nothing to enthuse over—But—

To anyone who may nurture the impression that this country is going to the bad place in a hand basket, another guess is forthcoming.

Anyone who takes the trouble to look into this "hard times" talk will find that practically all of it is spoken in the future tense. The farmers aren't broke—they're going to go broke. "Corn is looking fine but this dry spell will kill it." We hear lots of talk about unemployment, but always in connection with "It's sure going to be tough this winter."

As a matter of fact merchants report business as good, groceries and clothing are the lowest they have been in years, offsetting, to a large extent the low price the farmer receives for his produce. Bankruptcies and mortgage foreclosures are decidedly rare in these parts while the reports from the two local banks show the community to be sound and prosperous.

Tough times may be looming ahead, but—"It's time enough to say 'Good mornin' to the devil when you meet him."

The Americans are like big children who enjoy nothing better than beating the dry laws, says a noted German author who has just published a book treating of a recent visit to America. One can easily figure out from such a statement who the Dutchman has been chasing around with. As a matter of fact European writers find it very easy to lampoon the American people and happily, the American people in return find it very easy not to take their European critics very seriously. It takes more than a few visits to one or two New York night clubs and the perusal of a few metropolitan dailies to get a composite picture of American life.

Colonel Lindbergh, according to recent press dispatches is listed in the Social Register, the bluest of all blue books which lists America's "peerage." The colonel's elevation to this station was not because of any accomplishment on his part, but solely because he married into the Morrow family, the Morrow family being members of long standing in that circle by virtue of its association with the house of Morgan. Be that as it may, we wonder what difference it's going to make.

A Lincoln man has a sure-fire remedy for all traffic troubles. He says require everybody to drive fast enough to keep out of the way of everybody else. The "careful" driver who pokes along at a snail's pace is as much of a menace to the motorist as the reckless driver. He holds up the traffic until those behind him become impatient and, sometimes reckless. Then is when a majority of collisions occur. The motor "snail" should be meted the same treatment in court as the speeder.

The endurance test fad has even taken the fancy of the kids. A fourteen year old Omaha boy staged a tree sitting contest which lasted for more than three days. Living in a leafy tree these hot days and nights shouldn't be such an ordeal.

According to the Minneapolis Journal, resourceful farmers are using loud speakers as scarecrows. After listening to some of the crooning tenor, it is said that the more intelligent crows commit suicide.

OBITUARY

After an illness of about four weeks, Mrs. Silas Melick, esteemed pioneer resident of Wayne county, passed to her eternal reward at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Miller, early Thursday morning, July 17th, 1930. Her age at death was 83 years 11 months and 9 days. Maria Elizabeth Melick was born at Mt. Pleasant, Snyder county Pennsylvania, August 8th, 1846. Here she spent her early life in the parental home.

She was united in marriage to Silas Melick, June 1, 1871. This union was blessed with four children, of whom three are living as follows: Mrs. C. E. Miller of Wayne, Nebr., Mr. John Melick of Los Angeles Cal., and Mr. Frank Melick of Battle Creek, Nebraska. Mrs. Bertha Spahr, the other daughter died in January, 1928. Her husband predeceased her in death April 13, 1910.

About the year 1882, the family left Pennsylvania, settling for a few years in Ohio. Six years later they came to Wayne county Nebraska, moving to a farm four miles north-west of Wayne. Later they moved to the city of Wayne. Five years ago Mrs. Melick came to the home of her daughter Mrs. C. E. Miller, making this her home until the time of her death.

In early youth, the departed united with the Lutheran Church. On coming to Wayne county, she united with St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Wayne, having since been a devoted member of this church.

She was interested in her family and always sought the welfare of her children. She had many friends in the community who will remember her as a good neighbor.

Besides the children, she leaves to mourn her departure 9 grandchildren and 4 great grandchildren, and other relatives and friends.

The sympathy of the community is with the family in the time of sorrow.

Funeral services were held in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Saturday, July 19, at 2:30 p.m. Rev. W. C. Heidenreich having charge. Burial was made in Greenwood cemetery.

At the Wayne Hospital

WHAT CONSTITUTES A CHAIN STORE?

By W. M. Steuart
(Director of the Census)

Much is being heard nowadays about "chain stores." As a consequence the question—"What constitutes a chain store?"—is frequently asked, with the result that a divergence of opinion is revealed. Just how many stores must an organization operate to be classified as a chain system? The answers are numerous; but, the fact is, the question itself is all wrong. Likewise the term "chain of stores," or "chain system" per se is variable and not significant.

A group of stores owned by the same firm, does not necessarily constitute a chain, and taking cognizance of this fact, the Bureau of the Census has obviated the difficulties arising from attempts to define a chain system by the number of stores owned. The Census of Distribution questionnaires over-ride this controversial matter in two questions. One question, which is to be answered yes, or no, asks whether the organization operates other establishments in the same line of business in the same city? In the same county? In the United States? The other asks the number of stores owned by the organization. No reference is made in the questionnaire to the term "chain stores," but the census reports will make several classifications, and as a result it is confidently expected the loose use of the term "chain" will give way to more discriminating terms and will not be so all-inclusive as it is today.

The census tabulations will carry six classifications of concerns operating, or controlling stores. They are: independent stores, local branch systems, local chains, national chains, ownership groups, and co-operatives.

Much time and study has been devoted to this matter by Census Bureau officials, and they believe this classification covers the so-called chain store, and makes the proper differentiations.

Obviously, Independent stores are those owned and operated by a proprietor, partnership, local company or corporation. Local Branch system are suburban or subsidiary stores operated in the same town by a large downtown store, and drawing their merchandise largely from the downtown store's stocks. The Local Chain is a group of stores operated throughout a city or trade area by local and independent operators from a central office and warehouse, but without any main central retail store as the source of supply. Ordinarily, of course, there may be more stores in a local chain system than a local branch store system.

The National Chain system includes those large organizations which operate stores throughout the country, whose interests are not confined to any one community. The Ownership group is comprised of a group of entirely independent operated stores owned by the same persons or firm but merchandised separately, while the Cooperative classification is composed of groups of independently owned stores that cooperate in their buying, or cooperate with a wholesale company in their merchandising.

These classifications might seem to involve a hair splitting process, yet the extent and characteristics of the various kinds of merchandising enumerated are of great significance to the communities in which they are located. So far as the community is concerned, both the branch and local chain stores are independents, truly home-folk, with the advantage and disadvantage that this implies. The method of merchandising, and the place where the decisions as to buying and policies are made, constitute the significant difference between local stores and national chains.

The preliminary reports will carry tabulations based on these various types of group merchandising as well as on the size of the organizations, which will indicate the spread and relative importance of each such form of retail business. The final tabulations will carry this information in detail, geographically and by various lines, and as a consequence will be of outstanding use to the business world generally.

INJURED IN AUTO COLLISION

Laurel—One totally wrecked car, another damaged and several cuts and bruises on the occupants were the sum and total of an accident which took place two miles southeast of Laurel Monday (last week) evening when the two cars met half way down a hill.

Miss Anita Johnson, daughter of Carl Johnson who lives south of Laurel, received a gash above her eye that required several stitches, and her mother, brother and sister were bruised and shaken up. Her brother, Leland, was at the wheel of the machine and the other car was driven by Frank Servens of north of Laurel, who was the only occupant of the car. Mr. Servens received a gash over one eye and cuts on his hands and arms.

The Servens car was a total wreck as a result of the collision and the other car had the windshield and some windows broken, the fender bent and the wheel and axle broken.

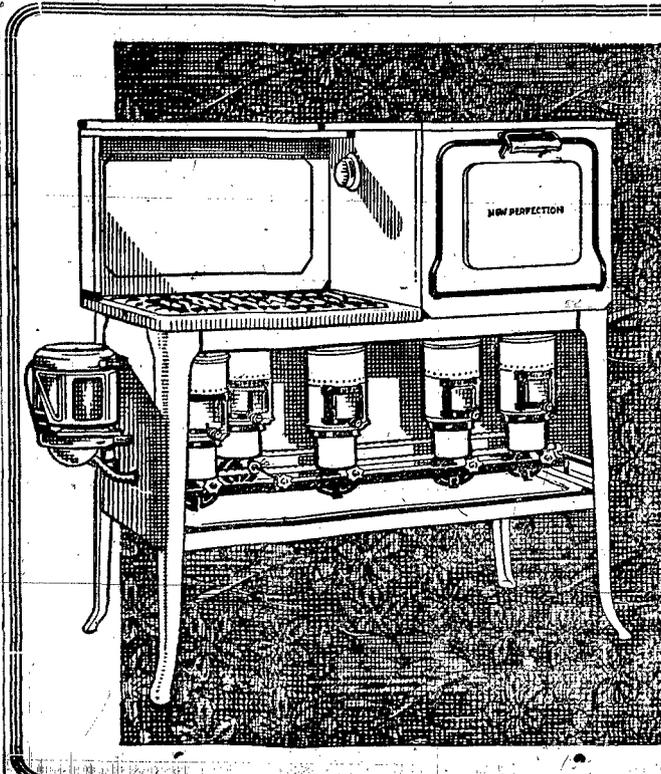

The Servens car may have been over too far on the road, and because of the dusty condition of the roads it is thought that the cars mis-hit, it judged the distance between them.—Cedar County News.

HARVEST PROVES CROPS ARE ABOVE EXPECTATIONS

The harvest is now on and the farmers in the community are busily engaged in the annual sledge of threshing. The threshing reveals that the crops, though rather light, due to the prolonged season of hot, dry weather, are not as light as was at first indicated, the oats and barley crops turning out far above the expectations of the farmers in general.

Hartington—Chicken bandits are said to have gone into automobile stealing in Cedar county on account of the larger financial gains. This is evident from the car thefts which occurred in this county from Sunday until Wednesday night last week. Sunday evening, a 1930 Chevrolet special sedan belonging to A. W. Youngberg of the Youngberg & Johnson garage at Laurel was stolen. Mr. Youngberg drove his car, which he used as a demonstrator, to his residence about 12 o'clock Sunday night and parked it in his garage. Shortly after midnight the car, valued at $1,065, was stolen. The car was equipped with radio and all extra attachments. Linked with this story and indicating some connection with the theft, Sheriff Peter Clarence found some of the equipment of the Laurel car in a Knox county Chevrolet coupe which was found Monday morning in a ditch near the correction line north of Randolph. Two men figured in this theft for the culprits escaped in a Studebaker car when the Chevrolet with the Knox county license by accident was run into the ditch while one of the culprits was being chased. That same day a salesman staying at Hotel Hartington reported his Studebaker stolen, and it is believed the two men made their get-away in his machine. A Chrysler car was stolen in Belden last week. Tuesday evening it was reported bandits broke into a filling station, the R. D. Small garage, and the Haa J. Sorenson implement shop at Coleridge. Thieves visited the Westrope and Son store and the Belden hardware store at Belden also last week.

The young couple will make their home at Merriman where Mr. McCray is manager of an oil station and also being acting post master in place of his father who passed away a few weeks ago.

PRIZE HOLLYHOCK

Wakefield—A certain exchange boasted of the wonderful products of Nebraska soil and cited a tall hollyhock grown in a nearby town, the big plant measuring 7 1/2 feet in height. It had 150 blossoms and buds. After reading the account, H. B. Ware thought that Wakefield could "tell a bigger one," so he went out into his yard and cut down a really tall hollyhock and brought it down town. It was an inch or so over nine feet tall. Counting the blossoms and buds was a real job in fact the count got tired and gave it up after enumerating 250!

The theft was discovered in the morning and search started. The car was found late that Monday afternoon near the Catholic church in Dixon. The thieves had filled the gas tank and altered the wiring so they could drive the car without a key, but when a tire had gone flat, had evidently been minus tools and equipment for repairing, and abandoned the car. The sedan seemed none the worse for the wear.

PARK LAKE CLAIMS VICTIM

West Point—William Ackerman of this city was drowned in Mud Lake in Neleigh park Tuesday evening last week. He and his wife had gone down to the lake shore that evening and Mr. Ackerman went swimming. After he entered the water, Mrs. Ackerman left him on account of it's being too hot at the shore and went to take a seat on the park bench under a tree. He was a good swimmer and she was not worried, although she was rather surprised that she did not see him anywhere when she went to look for him. Thinking him to have gone home or to see his folks left the park. Upon investigation, she found that he was not at either place and gave the alarm. The body was found in the south end of the lake near where he was last seen and where the water is about ten feet deep. Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at the Evangelical church, the Rev. A. A. Ehlers, assisted by the Rev. W. A. Klink, in charge. Mr. Ackerman's death was due to cramps brought on on account of the water of the bottom of the lake being quite old. The population of one province in China was reduced by three million deaths during the year from starvation and diseases arising largely out of insufficient food. At the same time there exists a world surplus or carry-over of over half a billion bushels of wheat. Surely the world cannot be proud of its smartness when it is possible for such conditions to exist.—Lincoln State Journal.

NATIONAL CANNING CONTEST NOW BEING HELD

Six hundred dollars for a quart jar of canned food! Can one jar be worth that much? This is the question being considered by many homemakers since word got around that six hundred dollars cash would be paid for the best jar of fruit, vegetables or meat entered in the second National Canning contest which is now being held at Shenandoah, Iowa under the auspices of the Household Science Institute. The contest is open to every woman and girl in the United States and there are no restrictions as to the nature of the food sent. Contestants may enter one, two or all three divisions—fruit, vegetables, or meat. Entries should be sent in as soon as possible after canning. These will be placed and kept on exhibition at Shenandoah until after the closing of the contest on October 1st.

Four hundred and seventy prizes, totalling $4,250 in cash, loving cups and ribbons, will be distributed to the winners in the contest. The best entry in each division will be awarded $100. One of these will also receive the $500 sweepstakes prize. Second prize in each division will be $50; third prize in each division, $25; and fourth, $10. The winners will also receive a loving cup, and ribbon. There also will be 30 prizes of $5 each; 75 prizes of $2.50 each; and 300 prizes of $1.00 each.

Fruit and vegetable entries in the contest will be judged for clearness, color, pack, neatness, flavor and texture. The meat entries will be judged on neatness, texture, and flavor. Contestants are free to use any method of canning they prefer according to Grace V. Gray, nationally known canning expert and secretary of the contest. However, the use of a steam pressure cooker is recommended by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, especially in the canning of meat, since this method not only saves time and fuel and assures absolute sterility, but also preserves the natural flavor and texture.

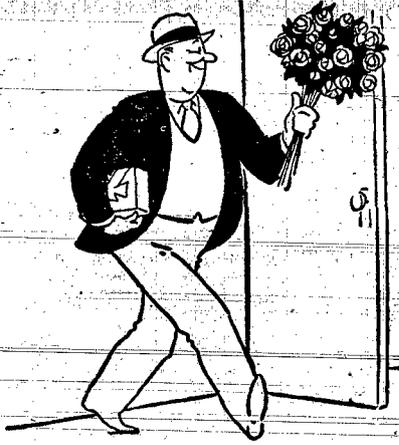

In order that the judging may be thoroughly impartial and the display of jars absolutely uniform, contestants are required to submit their entries in standard glass jars of the quart size. A sample Ball mason jar and carton together with prize entry labels for use in sending entries may be had without cost by writing the National Canning contest Shenandoah, Iowa.

STRIKE RICH WATER FLOW

In a short time the supply reservoir was filled to overflowing and Jack Rihaneck, the main "guy" on the job, shouted, "Tell the people to use all the water they need!"

Ability to Swim Decided Advantage

Majority of Bathing Fatalities Among Non-Swimmers

The ability to swim has shown itself to be a decided asset according to statistics compiled by the Nebraska Press Association and the rehabilitation division of the Department of Vocational Education, whose report of July 15, shows that out of the 108 drownings listed 42 of them were non-swimmers. This should offset the contention that it is mostly swimmers that are drowned while indulging in the sport.

On the swimmers listed in the fatalities 10 died as a result of diving, three from illness brought on by taking water into the lungs, fourteen suffered cramps and 6 were drowned while attempting to rescue non-swimmers in distress.

Of the non-swimmers 42 were drowned while bathing, 18 lost their lives from floods and accidental falls into water. Fifteen small children were drowned in tanks or wash tubs.

Accidents for a two week period ending July 15 which includes fourth of July casualties, shows that 520 persons were permanently disabled through injuries in the state. This shows a forty per cent increase over the same period last year with 28 percent less fatalities.

There were 21 injuries and 7 disabilities from firecrackers. Agriculture had three times the injuries and 10 times the fatalities that occurred in the same period in 1929.

There were 204 motor accidents resulting in 14 deaths and 290 injuries. Collisions were responsible for four of these deaths. Skids and striking pedestrians were responsible for two each and one each attributed to the following causes: blowouts, passing car struck car passed, struck obstruction, reckless driving, railroad crossing and miscellaneous. Only four accidents are attributed to intoxicated drivers resulting in but two injuries—a record far too light to be reliable.

Since January there have been 240 automobile casualties in the state of which 150 were deaths and 47 permanent disabilities.
