Nearly Three Inches of Rain First of Week

Rainy Spell Covered Wide Area Did Vast Amount of Good.

Basements Flooded Here

A good soaker—almost two inches of rainfall—visited this region late Sunday afternoon, drenching the parched land and supplanting an optimistic crop outlook for the pessimistic one that has prevailed of late.

The rain covered an extensive territory, coming to regions to the north and west of here, where drouth had made unusually severe inroads. The downpour was followed by intermittent showers throughout Sunday night and Monday night, bringing a total of two and nine-tenths inches of rain.

Sunday afternoon's rain was unusually heavy. The rain came down in torrents, flooding the streets in town to such an extent that the water came over the sidewalk curbing in one or two places and flooded numerous basements.

The rain has had a very good effect upon trees, grass, and crops in general, reclaiming the corn to such an extent that several bushels more per acre is assured and also assuring another hay crop.

The rainy spell was general throughout northeastern Nebraska and extended far into South Dakota and Northwestern Iowa.

Fifth Annual N.N.C. Picnic Held Sunday

Attendance 104 at Park Here Sunday To Meet at College in 1931.

One hundred four persons were in attendance at the Fifth Annual Nebraska Normal college picnic held at Bressler park here last Sunday. Old friends and former classmates who attended the former Normal college here of which Prof. J. M. Pfele, now deceased, was at that time president, began to gather about noon for a time of visiting and fellowship and a picnic dinner was served at one o'clock. Prof. A. V. Teed, Mrs. Anna Davis, Prof. C. R. Chinn, and B. W. Wright spoke at the afternoon program. Supt. W. F. Richardson of Ponca was also to have spoken but could not attend. A business meeting was also held at which it was decided that the sixth annual picnic of the association would be held at the college here on the third Sunday in August, 1931. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Mrs. John McIntyre, president; Pearl E. Sewell, vice president; and Prof. C. R. Chinn, secretary-treasurer.

The following persons, together with the families, were present: Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Whitmore, Miss Mary Ellen Wallace and C. H. Wallace; the Misses Emma E. and Agnes Richardson; J. J. Steele; Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Wright; Prof. and Mrs. C. R. Chinn; Prof. and Mrs. A. V. Teed; all of Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson, and Gladys M. Anderson, Wakefield; Nellie Elder, Carroll; Mrs. E. Entenman and Emil Entenman (continued on page four)

Winside Boosters Pay Visit To Wayne

Wayne was one of the towns visited by the Winside band and other residents of that town who announced the Annual Old Settlers reunion at that place Thursday, Aug. 21. The caravan arrived in Wayne about seven o'clock, the band played several selections and then preceded on to Wakefield. Two tours of this kind were conducted, one Thursday evening, visiting Hoskins, Randolph and Carroll; the other Friday night visiting Wayne, Wakefield and Wisner. The tours were conducted under the direction of John Fleer and Carl Miller.

Winside is anticipating a record attendance at the reunion as their program of entertainment is more than usually elaborate and this annual event has always been a very popular one.

State Experiencing No Crop Failure

Governor Weaver has gone to Washington in response to the call of President Hoover to Governors of states aid to the farmers of the drouth stricken areas.

The governor will participate in that conference but not as a solicitor for aid in the present emergency. He is in the happy position to tell the President and the country as well that Nebraska is not in the drouth stricken area, and the state will have a surplus of feed to supply the stock raisers in regions less favored.

Wayne county in common with the rest of Northeast Nebraska, while not harboring any prospects of a bumper crop, has done well. The corn crop while retarded because of the unfavorable weather in July, will materialize into an average crop, with some sections showing to an equal advantage with the splendid crop of last year.

So, while such states as Ohio, Indiana and Illinois are making appeals for their farmers who have been severely hit by the drouth, Nebraska can assure them that they have plenty of feed for their own needs and a sufficient surplus to supply to a large extent, other regions not so favored.

Fall Is Fatal To A. Holtz

Tragic End Came Friday To Former Craftsman From Wayne.

Funeral Thursday P. M.

Death resulting from a fall from a third story window of the Beach Hotel at Sioux City, claimed Alex J. Holtz, a resident of Wakefield, but for many years a resident of this city.

Holtz's body was found by a newsboy in an alley at the rear of the hotel building a few minutes after it had fallen last Friday evening. The way the body lay made it easily apparent that he had either fallen or had been hurled to his death. The body was found in a pool of blood by the boy who ran immediately and notified a policeman.

The early theory that he had met with foul play was scouted by the authorities as his watch was found in his hotel room and his wallet containing money was found a few feet from the body. According to the clerk of the hotel Mr. Holtz complained of feeling ill when he requested the key to his room. The supposition is that feeling faint after reaching his room he walked to the window and collapsed, falling through the window to his death.

Mr. Holtz was a resident of long standing in this community where he followed his trade of brick layer and plasterer. He was considered unusually proficient in his work and his services were much in demand. The mason work of many buildings was done by him. In later years, while not retiring from his work, he gave up active participation in it and has made his home at Wakefield for the past seven years.

Mr. Holtz is survived by two children, Dr. Kenneth J. Holtz of Seattle, Washington, and Mrs. A. C. Norton of Wayne.

Funeral services are being held this Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Beckenhauer Funeral parlors, the Rev. W. E. Braisted to give the funeral message. Interment will be made in the Greenwood cemetery.

Beckenhauer Ancestral League Holds Reunion

The annual reunion of the members of the Beckenhauer Ancestral league was held at West Point Sunday with an attendance of about 125 persons. There are some 300 or more members in the league but because of distance and illness or death among the relatives, many of them were not able to attend. Those attending from Wayne were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beckenhauer and daughters, Faye and Fannell, and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wiltse. Miss Margaret Whitman went with them, her kin, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Willard of Tekamah, being members of the clan.

LOWER TAXES IN PROSPECT AS RESULT OF COUNTY LEVY

Wayne County Levy Will Be Among Lowest In State.

City Taxes Remain Same

Prospects for a reduction in taxes are practically certain as a result of the action of the Board of Equalization which met Tuesday and set the levy for county purposes.

The Board set the levy at 2.66 mills which is about .14 mills lower than last year's levy, last year's levy being 2.80. This reduction, coupled with a 4 per cent reduction in the assessed valuation and prospects of a slight reduction in state taxes gives promise of an appreciable reduction in taxes in general throughout the county.

According to Commissioner Frank Erxleben, there are very few, if any counties in the state that can show as low a levy as that set this week in Wayne county.

Residents of the city of Wayne may not realize the advantage of the low levy in quite the same measure as those of rural communities as a slight raise in the levy was made over last year's city levy by the city tax levying board. The valuation has been decreased, however, which should make the increase in city taxes a negligible matter. Local school taxes will also bring a slight increase last year's levy being .12 mills and this year's .126 mills.

Following are the levys set by the board:

|                 |            |
|-----------------|------------|
| General Fund    | .880 mills |
| Co. High School | .40 mills  |
| Bridge          | .750 mills |
| Road            | .940 mills |
| Mothers Pension | .015 mills |
| Soldier Relief  | .015 mills |
| County Fair     | .060 mills |
| Total           | 2.66 mills |
| State           | 2.34 mills |

Total State and County . . . 5.00 mills
Total valuation set at $39,279,625.

Charged With Selling Mortgaged Property

Charges of selling 32 head of mortgaged cattle were preferred at Omaha against Earl Milander, 24, up to recently employed at the Charles Myers farm south of here, which according to the charge he shipped the cattle to Omaha and disposed of them at the market.

Milander said that he was wandering about the stockyards at Sioux City, Monday a week ago, when a salesman coaxed him into buying the cattle, giving a mortgage to a Sioux City firm. Tuesday the cattle were shipped to a farm near Pender, where Milander had planned to feed them. Wednesday, it is charged, he took them to Omaha and disposed of them for $1,500. The original purchase was $1,935.

He is now bound over to district court charged with selling mortgaged property.

Wayne Schools Open Monday September 1

H. S. Students to Register Friday and Saturday Before Opening.

Study Schedule Changed

All pupils in the high school or who are planning to attend for the first time should register on August 29th and 30th. Registration will commence at 9:00 a. m. and continue until 5:00 p. m. As far as possible it is suggested that Freshmen and Sophomores register on Friday and Juniors and Seniors on Saturday. In case it is impossible to register on the day stated allowance will be made for registration on the other.

All the pupils in school last spring registered at that time, but it will be necessary to definitely register them a second time and pass out their entrance cards. Furthermore there will be some changes made on practically all cards since the schedule has been changed, and subjects have been eliminated as well as added to the curriculum in making out the schedule for the coming year.

The school would appreciate parents checking very carefully the course which their pupils are taking. In case of any question or doubt feel free to consult the Principal or Superintendent. You are urged to do this.

Teeter Totter Bread and Water

Bread and water diets seem to be the coming vogue among new registrants at Hotel De Stephens. John Evers of Winside was brought before Judge Cherry last Saturday on a charge of imbibing too freely of moonshine liquor and broadcasting the fact to the annoyance of the people of Winside and vicinity.

As he was an old offender and not easily perturbed by a mere jail sentence, justice of a sterner nature was meted out to him and during the thirty days stay in the county jail he will have but one meal a day of regular prisoner's fare. The rest, should he require further sustenance, will be bread and water. In addition to this the "No Smoking" rule in the house-gow will be strictly enforced.

Won Several Events In S. D. Air Meet

Ralph Robertson figured prominently in the airplane stunts that featured the dedication of the new airport at Winner, S. D., last Saturday. He placed first in his Curtis Robin in a bomb dropping contest, second in a 20 mile race for O. X. 5 motors; and third in a balloon bursting contest. Earl Fox accompanied him on the trip and in the flights.

Wayne Band To Be Sioux City Attraction

Wayne Municipal Legion band has again been accorded the honor of providing one of the main attractions at Riverside Park, Sioux City where Nebraska Day will be observed next Sunday. The local band will provide the afternoon band concert. The band was accorded the same honor at a similar occasion at the park last year. All cars bearing Nebraska licenses will be admitted free to the park on that day.

The local band, by the way, will dispense with its regular concert at Bressler Park this week in compliance with the Old Settlers' Reunion at Winside.

Winside Man Ends Own Life

J. M. Cassel Found Dead In Hotel Room Saturday Morning.

Note Confirms Suicide

J. M. Cassel, 65, for many years a resident of Wayne county, met death at his own hands late Friday, committing suicide in his room at the Boyd Hotel by shooting himself.

His body was found by the chambermaid at the hotel about eleven o'clock the next morning as she was completing her duties of setting the rooms in order. She knocked at the door, receiving no response, opened the door and found the man lying on the floor. Summoning Tom Colligan, proprietor of the hotel. The room was again entered and the gruesome reality was made known.

County attorney Hendrickson soon appeared on the scene and made the investigation declaring the case to be that of suicide, self destruction had been made with a small caliber revolver, the shot having entered at the base of the skull, just above the bridge of the nose. A short note written by Cassel instructing the Winside undertaker to take charge of his body, established the suicide theory.

Cassel came to the hotel late in the evening and registering, paid for one night's lodging and was shown to his room. He stated that he had traveled far that day and was extremely tired. When asked where he was headed for he said that that was as far as he was going. The next morning the next morning established the truth of his statement.

Several guests at the hotel had noted the sound of an explosion during the dead of the night, but the muffled sound was taken by them to be the backfiring of some car in the neighborhood of the hotel.

He has been a resident of the Winside vicinity for the last few years, but prior to that he farmed at Brenna precinct, southwest of here. Little is known of his whereabouts immediately prior to his coming to Wayne. He had left for Chicago several weeks ago and nothing more had been heard from him in the meantime.

It was common knowledge that he was a heavy drinker and discouragement as an aftermath of a protracted period of dissipation is believed to have been the motive which prompted the deed.

He was twice married and is survived by three children, two sons and one daughter. Funeral services were held at Winside Monday afternoon.

Eagle Badges Awarded to Three Scouts

Conferring of Honors On Scouts Is Impressive Ceremony.

Palm Awarded To Hanks

Three local mothers gave added impressiveness to the Court of Honor ceremony of a local Boy Scout unit when they presented Eagle Badges to their sons who had earned these coveted honors in their organization. The boys thus honored were Alphonse Martischang, Miles Terrell and Robert Gulliver. The ceremony took place at the college last Friday evening.

Dale Hanks, who on a former occasion was awarded an Eagle Badge, gained further honors by being awarded the coveted palm badge. The presentation of this was made by John D. Wright of Omaha, chief executive of the Covered Wagon area of Boy Scouts, of which the local units are a part.

Prof. F. G. Dale, J. G. W. Lewis and R. R. Larson presented merit badges to forty other boy scouts that evening.

Scout Master Wright following the presentation of badges gave a talk on Scouting and what it stood for and incidentally gave unstinted praise to the local organization. In his many years of experience in scout activities he said he had never before seen an occasion where in one unit there were three scouts receiving Eagle badges and another member a bronze palm.

Following the ceremony and Mr. Wright's talk, the Scouts served lunch to the 145 people present.

Gov. Weaver Sets Safety Week Dates

Weaver, who in a proclamation recently issued, asks the cooperation of the public in making special effort at that time to determine and eliminate all hazards possible that have been or might be the cause of accident, in homes, in travel and recreation and to cooperate with civil authorities and others in the promotion of public safety.

The proclamation includes the following recommendations:

That all employers in industry, commerce and agriculture and all operators of amusement parks, fairs and carnivals, during this week will make careful inspection of their physical equipment and remove existing accident hazards.

That all companies operating busses and trucks in Nebraska will carefully check their schedules to be sure that no driver is forced to exceed highway or municipal speed limits in order to make scheduled time and that all motor vehicle owners will have their vehicles inspected and put in safe running order, and will familiarize themselves with the following (continued on page four)

The public is quick to sense the advantage or disadvantage of dealing with certain merchants and act accordingly. That is why Wayne rates as a far better than average trade center.

PASSIVE RESISTANCE AGAINST BANK HOLDUP MEN

Help to stop bank holdups—The Hutchinson banks in cooperation with other banks in the state:

1—Will keep on hand only a limited amount of money, and most of this under time lock, night and day.

2—All securities have been placed with corresponding banks for safe keeping.

3—Customers should give advance notice for unusual demands for currency.

4—The doors of these banks will be kept locked, except during regular banking hours.

Public Co-operation is deemed to make bank robbing less attractive.

Order suggested by The Minnesota Bankers Association.

—Ad in a Minnesota Newspaper.

Minnesota, in common with Iowa and Nebraska is menaced by bank robbers. And from the appearance of the above advertisement the forces for law and order are at their wits end to know how to cope with the situation. That state has the reputation of treating bank robbers rough. More than a score of them have been sent to the penitentiary for life for participation of but one holdup.

Nevertheless in less than a month twelve banks in prominent cities of that state have been victimized. More than $120,000 was realized in one haul. Small wonder that the Bankers Association of that state is resorting to passive resistance in trying to minimize the evil.

The robbers have become so brazen about their work that they haven't even taken the ordinary precautions usually resorted to, by their sort in covering up their tracks. This was shown by a recent gang killing near St. Paul. Three gangsters were found murdered, their bodies being picked up near their abandoned car. The authorities had little difficulty in identifying two of them as they were characters well known to the police in several states, both being wanted for bank robberies in other states and one of them for murder. Victims of a holdup at Wilmar promptly identified them as members of a gang who made away with over $120,000 in their own, even their car was recognized as they hadn't taken the trouble to change the license plates.

So the Bankers Association is adopting precautions similar to those commonly taken against rats and flies—keeping things covered up so they can't get at them.

Nebraska is up against the same proposition—pitting a crude and antiquated police and law enforcement system against an efficiently organized crime syndicate that has grown insolent in the knowledge that it has nothing to fear. The law may catch up with the criminal some day—but its coming involves an expensive and tedious wait.

IT PAYS TO KEEP UP APPEARANCES

Whether or not the cause of science and aviation is advanced by these endurance flights is a matter for scientists and those vitally interested in aviation to determine. But Jackson and O'Brien, the latest record makers in that line of endeavor, have advanced one theory dependent upon their success which if acted upon by the public in general would be productive of an unlimited amount of good.

Their practice of keeping up appearances is a good one and no doubt an important factor in their success. They were particular about personal cleanliness, shaving regularly, bathing every day and changing linen as frequently as they would if they were on terra firma. Their rule of tidiness applied not only to their own persons but to the plane in which they were riding, as well. The plane was kept neat and spotless, receiving a thorough going over every day.

"One of the fliers stated that they could have, in all probability, established the record if they were not as particular, but nothing is as destructive to a person's morale as the tendency to let things slide and to get down at the heel.

The theory adapted by the two aviators may well be applied to business in general. It pays to look well.

Senator Norris' recent nomination by a large majority is responsible for a lot of "vindications" if we are to take seriously the editorial comment of some of the daily and weekly exchanges that come to our desk. A republican weekly says the republican party has been vindicated because of the large number of Democrats who deserted their party to vote for Senator Norris and the republican ticket in general. A Democrat publication says the Democratic party has been vindicated because the voters "approved by their vote" of senator Norris stand on Al Smith. A wet publication says the anti-Volsted cause has been "vindicated" because of Norris' stand against Hoover who termed the prohibition act a "noble experiment." A dry publication says that prohibition has been "vindicated" because Senator Norris has always been a "pronounced dry." So with Senator Norris' own statement that he has been "vindicated," his election must be a source of great satisfaction to everyone.

The point has been stressed that while we have a surplus of wheat in this country, famine stalks in China, all of which has about as much bearing on the situation as the remark of Queen Antonette. When told that the populace clamored for bread she said "If they can't have bread, why don't they eat cake." Wheat, even with the present low price prevailing is far too expensive a diet for the Chinese peasant. Contrary to the general impression, rice is a luxury denied a vast majority of the Chinese people. It's too expensive. Their staff of life consists chiefly of mush or cakes made from millet seed. Carpenter, the great traveler, in a recent book on China, states that the millions of Chinese people do not know what rice is. With such conditions prevailing, it is hardly likely that the United States can look to the Orient with any hope of finding a market for surplus wheat.

FINED FOR RECKLESS DRIVING

Wakefield—Morris Hyde was fined the sum of $10.00 and costs in the local police court on Wednesday last week on a charge of reckless driving and had his drivers' license suspended six months.

NEBRASKA HAS NEED OF MANY CONSULAR AGENTS

Approximately half of the people of Nebraska are descendants of the original settlers of the thirteen colonies. The other half are European immigrants or their descendants. From a situation connected with the latter fact arises the need for consular agents to be located in Nebraska. Naturally these agents are in the largest city of the state where there is the largest need for their services.

Sweden is the only country that has an official consul in this state. But a number of other countries are represented by Nebraskans of foreign extraction who serve as consular representatives without pay and perform service of value for the residents of foreign countries who have to deal through representatives with their Nebraska interests or relatives.

The Germans make up the largest element of Nebraskans of foreign birth. Next come the Swedes, then the Czechs. The other nationalities rank, according to the census figures of 1920, in the following order: Russians, Danes, English, Canadians, Irish, Poles, Austrians, Italians, Mexicans, Norwegians, Swiss, Scotch Greeks, French, Hungarians, Jugoslavs, Dutch, Belgians, Welch.

A visitor from a foreign country who has business to transact in Nebraska, is looking up a relative or wants to locate has need for the advice of a local representative of his own government. These officials and representatives are the contact men between the old world and the new. They are making a better state of communication and business relationship. Nebraska profits by their work.

NEBRASKA FARM HOME IS CITED AS A MODEL

To own a farm that is cited as a model must be a great satisfaction to Albert Mott of Hastings, though Mr. Mott does not belong in an exclusive company. He is merely one Nebraska farmer whose home was chosen for a write-up in a national farm magazine.

Mr. Mott's farm is blazoned to the world, not because it is the largest farm or the most productive or has the finest buildings, but because the place has every earmark of prosperity and his small but modern house is a symbol of farm comfort and content.

"Mr. Mott might have used a discarded buggy wheel for a mail box support," commented his interviewer, "but he didn't. He had found something besides old iron besteads for his vines to grow on. There wasn't a wash tub flower pot in the yard. He didn't use discarded tire casings, broken crockery, painted bricks for border edgings. Apparently he had overlooked the decorative possibilities of stumps, bean pole summer houses, discarded enamel ware, broken gear housings, bull wheel rims, old automobile seats when used on the lawn." Instead: "There were expanses of grass unbroken by beds or shrubs clumps. Perennials, but not too many, had been used to blend the house with its surroundings. It was a cottage type farm house, unpretentious and in its physical aspects similar to hundreds of others but unlike them in that it radiated hominess."

"Mr. Mott's farmstead is a type being rapidly copied throughout Nebraska. The idea grows that a farm is not just a factory where grain and meat and milk are produced. It is a home undertaking. A description of the Hastings farm is not essential to this article. The point is, it is a happy home and the owner is not a harried applicant for farm relief.

Wisner Girl Married At Wayne Wednesday

Wisner—Miss Imogene Rosebrough surprised her friends by announcing her marriage to Charles Dawson, the wedding taking place Wednesday afternoon, August 13, at the M. E. Parsonage at Wayne, the Rev. W. W. Whitman, pastor, officiating. The bride couple had made plans to be married in October, but Mr. Dawson finding it necessary to make a business trip to South Dakota, they decided to make it a honeymoon trip as well; so slipping away to Wayne unnoticed they were quietly married. Mrs. Dawson has been employed as bookkeeper in the office of the Albers Motor company during the most of the past year and will remain in the office until the first of September in order to help her successor become accustomed to the work. After the first the young couple will be at home in an apartment in Hotel Stratton at Wayne.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Rosebrough of Wisner. She is a graduate of the joint high school and junior college in Salt Lake City, Utah, and attended Westminster college in that same city. She later taught music in the Wasatch Academy, Mt. Pleasant, Utah. She is an accomplished musician and has served as pianist at the Congregational church during her residence here. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Dawson of Omaha and is the grandson of the founder of the Omaha Methodist hospital. He obtained his education in the Omaha schools. He has been in the employ of the Ford Motor company of Omaha the past five years, and is at present field representative of the company.

BRIDGE CAUSE OF TRAGEDY

A tale of heroism and immeasurable tragedy is revealed by an account of the accident of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Petterson of Shiprock, N. Mex., brother and sister-in-law of O. F. Petterson of Laurel, whose car fell through a mountain stream bridge near Durango, Colo. recently, drowning Mrs. Petterson and sweeping the whole party down stream. Mr. and Mrs. Petterson had driven across the bridge a few hours before the tragedy occurred. A sudden cloudburst in the mountains had swept a swirling stream of water down the dry creek bed with such force that one of the pillars of the bridge became loosened. The car dropped through the bridge and down 30 feet into 15 feet of rushing water. Pushing Mrs. Petterson from the car and seizing hold of her, Mr. Petterson clung desperately to her as the two were swept down the vicious current for a mile and a half until Petterson managed to catch hold of a rock that extended from a sand bar on the bank. With a nine-foot bank extending above him, he knew it was useless to try to climb so he clung to his wife with all his might and awaited help, his body tense and his muscles nearly bursting with the continued strained effort. Because she made no resistance in the water or gave any sign of life, Mr. Petterson knew that she might be dead, but continued his hold rather than give his burden to the torrent of waters. Help did not arrive until three hours later. Meanwhile the other man had been washed ashore and had run two miles for help. A searching party with lanterns were soon on the lookout for the lost couple. The other man's wife was found in a nearby field in a dazed condition. Funeral services were held for Mrs. Petterson at Humboldt, S. D., her old home. O. F. Petterson of Laurel drove to Humboldt to attend the service.

The family moved to Los Angeles in 1924. There Miss Pauline taught school until her health began to fail about two years ago. For the three months preceding her death she had been undergoing treatment in a hospital. Funeral services were held in the Angelica Lutheran church in Los Angeles, the Rev. J. Herman Olson, pastor, officiating. The Eastern Star chapter of which she was a member, conducted services at the grave.

Governor Weaver Sets Dates For Safety Week

(continued from page one) arize themselves with state and local traffic laws, and that all state, county and municipal authorities, rigidly enforce all traffic and public safety measures.

That all commercial, civic, service, religious, patriotic, fraternal, educational, labor and trades organizations, who hold a meeting during "Safety Week", will devote part of their program to the consideration of accident prevention.

That municipalities conduct mass-meetings for the discussion of accident prevention and to create local safety committees or councils, for the promotion of safety education and law observance.

The Safety Committee recently appointed by me to attend the National Street and Highway Safety Conference called by President Hoover will be available to furnish information, aid in planning safety meetings and securing speakers. This Committee will be further assisted by the Nebraska State Safety Council.

ON WAY TO RUSSIA

Ponca—Irving McKinley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McKinley, sailed on Wednesday last week for Russia where he will work for the Soviet government in their department of agriculture. He will have his headquarters at Moscow. Mr. McKinley is an expert on hogs and his work will probably include the teaching of the Russian farmer how to raise them. Thirty-five American agriculturists have been hired by the Soviet government, five of whom are Nebraskans. Two of the requirements are that each one should have been raised on a farm and have graduated from a college or university. They will be in Russia at least one year.

Even for a Small Washing DEXTER Fastwin is more CONVENIENT Not only the large, but also the medium size or small family which has only a small washing, is also much better off with the surprisingly compact Dexter Fastwin than with any single-tub washer—because with no single-tub washer is it really convenient to use the "two successive suds" needed to keep clothes permanently free from "that all-over grayish tinge."

Even for the smallest washing the Dexter Fastwin makes thorough washing far more convenient than with any single tub washer.

SECOND CROP OF MULBERRIES
Coleridge—L. H. Phillips has a mulberry tree that is bearing its second crop of berries this year. It bore one crop the latter part of June and is bearing another full crop right now. Mr. Phillips recalls once a number of years ago that his wife's folks had two crops of cherries the same year. This seems to be rather an odd season for a second crop, it being so warm and dry.

Cars Crash At Crossing Near Altona

"When ah seen the young gentleman looking into dem lovely pink eyes of dat young lady and not payin' no attention to the road, ah jes' closed mah eyes and says here goes nothin'." Such was the version of Clarence Nail (colored) who suffered a broken arm last Sunday afternoon when a truck driven by Andy Peterson of Wisner containing Nail and five other colored companions, crashed into a Ford tudor at an intersection of the road near Altona.

Both cars were badly damaged and the occupants badly shaken up. LeRoy Hoesy and George Turner, Nail's companions, were badly bruised from broken glass and Hoesy suffered a couple of fractured ribs.

The colored boys arrived at Wisner Sunday morning from Omaha and were on their way to Hartington to work on a street paving project at that place. The regular bus was overcrowded and Andy Peterson of Wisner volunteered to take them to their destination in his truck. They were taken to Wayne for first aid treatment and with the exception of Nail have since been able to continue on to Hartington and take up their duties there.

Pat Murphy Didn't Die

Although he spent a night in jail and paid $25 and costs in court Monday morning, Elmer La Croix of the Hoskins vicinity is thankful and much relieved. La Croix, according to the complaint attended a dance down in Hoskins last Saturday night, incidently became "corned up and quarrelsome." In the course of the evening an altercation is reported to have ensued in which one Pat Murphy was reported to have been carried off the scene of action his head having stopped the movement of a beer bottle wielded in the hands of La Croix. La Croix was arrested and taken to Wayne and lodged in jail. Rumors began to creep into jail to the effect that Murphy was in a very serious condition and later that Murphy was dead. Monday morning a checkup of Murphys in the vicinity revealed all present and accounted for with no undue abrasions or cracked skulls. La Croix pleaded guilty to a drunk and disorderly charge, paid his fine and left for home. He's on the water wagon now.

The electrical storm which accompanied the heavy rainfall of Sunday afternoon took its toll. Lightning struck the large barn at the Albert Utech farm seven miles southeast of here, completely destroying it and a large amount of hay and other feed stored there at that time. The Wakefield fire department responded to the call for help sent from there, but due to the slippery condition of the roads progress was slow and they arrived too late to be of effective assistance. Some good work was accomplished, however, in keeping the fire from spreading to nearby buildings. Near Wayne, lightning killed a horse belonging to Frank Webber, residing south of here.

Improved

McCormick-Deering

Manure Spreader

THE popular McCormick-Deering Spreader has been improved. It is now better than ever. It has a stronger, low-built box that a short man can load without backbreaking pitching. Steel braces all around. The new saw-tooth beaters can't warp and bind. The spike tooth spreaders do a real job of pulverizing. Manure doesn't drift because the spiral gives a steady, uniform throw.

You have to see this spreader to appreciate it fully.
