ATTENDANCE OVER 7,000 OPENING DAY OF FAIR

Ideal Weather Prevails--Fair Is Much Better Every Way

Exhibits Greatly Increased In Number and Impressiveness.

Free Attractions Before Grand Stand of Very High Order.

The fair is on. Ideal fair weather prevails, its the best show the fair association ever staged and seventy-five hundred people are enjoying it all.

The fair grounds is the scene of never ceasing activity and a bedlam of noises, discordant as far as musical standards are concerned, but providing a symphony few can resist.

Large Attendance
With good weather, good roads and the day specially designated to school children the attendance was far greater than is usually accorded the first day. While the attendance figures have not been officially given out at this time, the estimate is made by those in charge of the entrances as being about 7,500. They state that this figure is a conservative one and an official checkup will reveal many more. Indications point to a generally increased attendance at this years fair by reason of the fact that the sale of season tickets has far exceeded any past year's sale.

Children Have Big Place
Children are an important factor in this year's fair. Their attendance is by no means the most important function they serve. The best and most interesting exhibits at the fair are those entered by boys and girls in the county. Especially is this true in the pig club and baby beef club exhibits. The exhibits provided by the baby beef clubs are especially impressive. Eighty head of roly-poly yearling heaves, pets raised by boys and girls of the county made up this exhibit--there is no exhibit at the fair that comes anywhere near up to it, nor any exhibit that shows more forcefully the progress that farming is making in the region.

Another feature in which the children have exclusive rights for attention is the exhibit in the educational department building. Here the handiwork of children of both city and rural schools are shown. One could with profit spend hours in this building taking note of the work done. Some of the work reveals cleverness and talent, some resourcefulness and others painstaking effort. Miss Sewell who has charge of this department may well take pride in the excellent showing made by her youthful charges.

Monster Swine Exhibit
In the matter of number of entries the swine exhibit leads by a large margin. The regular pen facilities were found to be far inadequate to take care of the number of entries and again as many pens were provided. Practically all of the extra space was taken up before the entry period closed. There are about seven hundred hogs on the lot. Practically all of the popular breeds are represented, the Hampshire hogs predominating with Chester Whites and Duroc Jerseys following in close order.

Poultry Still Popular
Interest in poultry is also increasing and the poultry building is crowded with an unusual array of the lusty denizens of the barnyard. As usual, the number of white leghorns outnumber any other single type on exhibition.

Womens Work On Display
The administration building is by far the most attractive building at the fair. Hundreds of flags and red, white and blue streamers provide a setting for the colorful displays the building contains. Here the handiwork of the home is displayed. One section of the building is given over to flowers, another to fancy work and sewing, another to baked goods and canned goods, another to art work.

Fine Corn Exhibit
A portion of this building is given over to the corn exhibit. There are more than one hundred entries of this

College Fall Term Opens September 17

Registration Begins On Monday Afternoon. Class Wednesday.

Registration of the students at the Wayne State Teachers' college will begin at 1:00 o'clock next Monday afternoon, September 15, and continue throughout that afternoon and Tuesday until 5:00 o'clock p. m. Regular class work will begin on Wednesday morning, September 17th.

Practically all the rooms in the dormitories have been reserved by incoming students and indications are that there will be an exceptionally large enrollment. Arrangement of the class schedule has been carefully completed. It is believed few if any changes in the time and schedule set for the several classes will need to be made. A fine lecture course has also been planned for the entertainment of the students, high class lecture course numbers of various types being assured.

In addition to the regular academic work and the lecture course entertainments, the prospects are exceptionally bright for a football season of unusual interest and success. Coach Hickman reports that there is an abundance of line material that will make an experienced forward wall that will average 190 pounds. Captain Dennis, one of the best punters in the conference, will play in the back field. Fifteen first string letter men are expected to answer the first call.

FIRE CALL THURSDAY

The fire department was summoned to answer a call to the Wayne Laundry last Thursday morning. The fire, however, on investigation proved to be nothing serious. A belt had broken and got tangled up in the pulley while the pulley was in motion and the friction caused such heat that the belt started to smoke. The smoke frightened one of the employees who turned in the alarm. Use of water or chemicals was found unnecessary.

years corn, much of which is fully matured, which demonstrates unmistakably that there is lots of good corn in the county this year.

Industrial Displays Interesting
The industrial exhibits are far from the least important and among the wonderful things which may be seen at the fair. Practically every new device designed to lighten the burden of the farmer and to provide a better way to accomplish things may be seen on the grounds. The number new ways to utilize the motive power of the tractor is one of the outstanding features of the farm machinery exhibits, although there are many other innovations equally important and interesting put on by the dealers.

Then there are the auto exhibits, the radio exhibits, home heating devices, plumbing and hundreds of other new and interesting features displayed solely for the purpose of interesting the people in the art of better living.

Feeding Crowds Big Task
These are happy, carefree days for the fair visitors, but they are also extremely busy days for hundreds of other people, especially the members of the ladies aids of the various church denominations and the multitude of concession owners who have taken upon themselves the task of feeding the hungry multitudes. It means lots of hard work on their part but thanks to them, the cuisine and service is fine.

Free Attractions Splendid
The free attractions before the grand stand are unusually fine. There is a very thrilling trapeze act, a fancy diving act which includes both fancy and high diving, captioned by a thrilling dive in which one of the performer sets his clothes afire and dives into a tank ablaze with gasoline. A clever burlesque show, featuring two very clever comedians and a very pretty chorus, winds up the performance. (continued on page four)

Wayne High Football Prospects Are Bright

Barring the unforeseen Wayne High school football prospects should be the brightest that that institution has entertained for many years. Nine veterans are back in the line-up--not only that, they have all been engaged in health and muscle building activities and are tanned and conditioned as only plenty of exercise out in the open could make them.

Each one of the nine has spent the summer in some useful activity. Captain "Fatty" Sund has been working on the railroad. "Red" Berry has been farming it. Max Hendrickson soldiered with the C. M. T. C. at Fort Crook. "Choppy" Rhodes did his bit with a bridge gang, as did also Dean Hughes. "Bob" Porterfield did service as life guard at the Kay swimming pool. "Fat" Whitman mowed lawns. Walt Bressler acted as local ice man and Evan Dennis as a carpenter.

A fair sized squad has already donned the moleskin with practice each afternoon. Although it is much too early to make any predictions, the prospects for the season are unusually bright.

Manhunt Staged At Emerson Friday

Men Wanted For Assault On Norfolk Officer Arrested.

A man hunt, staged by authorities from three counties, Wayne, Madison and Dixon, resulted in the arrest Friday afternoon of two men wanted for participation in an assault on Tom on Tom O'Grady, Norfolk police.

The arrest followed a raid on a shack located on the edge of the town of Emerson and was made under rather spectacular circumstances, for the building was supposed to house several men at the time who were known to be "tough customers" who more than likely, if given the advantage, would shoot it out with the authorities.

The rading party closed in on the shack and took the six men who occupied it by surprise. They were ordered outside, searched and then Hadley Kelsey, Madison county attorney, dramatically pointed out two men saying "I want this one and this one." "Pat Flarity, wanted as chief offender, was not in the party.

The assault for which these men were wanted took place at Norfolk the Tuesday previous. The men and two women the complaint alleged, were making a nuisance of themselves drawing wildly about the Norfolk streets, and onto the sidewalks occasionally and carousing in general. Officer O'Grady when endeavoring to arrest them jumped on the running board of the car but was pushed off by one of the occupants and was so injured that fears for his recovery have been entertained. The rowdies made their getaway, leaving the injured officer lying on the street.

Sheriff Archie Stephens was among the raiding party who took one suspect in tow last Friday.

Logan Valley Dairy Installs Pasteurizer

Among the notable improvements in local business affairs is the recent installation of a pasteurizer at the Logan Valley Dairy. With this improvement milk from this dairy will be sold with the guarantee that it is pure and wholesome and will keep fresher for a much longer period than milk not so treated. Milk treated under this process loses none of its freshness or flavor. By the system installed the milk can be brought in fresh from the dairy, pasteurized, cooled and bottled in a few minutes time. In the course of a few weeks, Lou Winegar, the proprietor, expects to be able to furnish his patrons who are served with evening deliveries, to have the milk brought to them so that they may have it for their evening meal.

F. S. Berry Honored By the U. S. Bar

Was Elected A Vice President of National Association.

Honor Is Impressive One

Wayne has been signally honored in the recent recognition accorded one of its citizens--Fred S. Berry, who, at the recent national convention of the American Bar Association, held at Chicago, was elected one of the vice presidents of that organization.

This honor is all the more impressive by reason of the fact that the American Bar Association is an organization that includes in its membership some of the most prominent and influential men in the United States--men such as Charles Evans Hughes, George Wickersham and Elihu Root--and is representative of the best in the legal profession of the country.

There are about 30,000 attorneys of the country enrolled in this organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Berry were both in Chicago while the convention was in session. The deliberations lasted about a week. Of chief interest, according to Mr. Berry was the address by visiting baristers from England and other European countries. Their talks, he said, reflected serious industrial and financial depression in those countries, especially in England.

Mr. Berry will deliver an address over radio station KFAB, Lincoln next Wednesday evening, Sept. 17, on the subject "The Judicial System Under the Constitution of the United States." This talk is being sponsored by the National Bar Association. It will be given at 9:00.

WAYNE GIRL IS BRIDE TUESDAY

Miss Jennie Norman and Walter Paulson Wed At Albion.

Miss Jennie Norman, daughter of Mrs. Carrie Norman of this city, and Walter N. Paulson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Paulson of Albion, were married at the Shellcreek Lutheran church at Albion last Tuesday morning, Sept. 9, at 3:30 o'clock, the Rev. Olaf Turmo performing the double ring marriage ceremony at which the young couple exchanged vows. They were attended by Miss Lottie Bush and Sever Paulson.

Dahlia and white, the bride's chosen colors, were used in the decorations and cut flowers for the occasion. The bride wore a gown of dahlia crepe with accessories to match and the bridesmaid wore a gown of wine crepe with accessories to match.

After the wedding there was a wedding breakfast served at the home of the wedding luncheon was served at noon at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. S. T. Rockwell, Mrs. Rockwell, Mrs. Carrie Norman, and Mrs. Forrest E. McNutt entertaining for the bridal party and a few guests. A color scheme of dahlia and white was used throughout the home, cut flowers making up a large portion of the decorations.

After a brief wedding trip, the young couple will make their home on the farm of the bridegroom's father seven miles north of Albion.

Mrs. Paulson has spent nearly all her life in Wayne where she attended the local high school and was for three years one of the local telephone operators. Since last October she has been employed as telephone operator in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Mr. Paulson attended the Wayne State Teachers' college about five years ago and is a young man of promise, well and favorably known in his home community. Both Mr. and Mrs. Paulson are the youngest members of their respective families.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness and sympathy, also for the floral offering, during the recent sickness and death of wife and mother. G. W. Fortner and children.

Leadership Wanted Says Legion Head

Sioux City--Nebraska Legionnaires Tuesday invaded Iowa for a message of greeting and a plea for co-operation before the Iowa department in convention in this city. Marcus L. Poteet, commander of the Cornhusker district, a member of the war time division that brought fame to the Hawkeye state--the Rainbow, told the Iowans that the American Legion Tuesday could furnish the leadership the nation most vitally needed.

"America is undergoing a period of transition, a definite shifting from rural to urban life. National and state institutions must be changed to fit new conditions and the situation demands responsible leadership," Poteet declared. "The American Legion, unhampered by partisanship and clothed with a spirit of unselfish service can furnish that leadership"

Many Wayne County People At State Fair

Fair As Replete As Ever Of Things To See and Marvel At.

Wayne and vicinity was well represented in the attendance at the state fair held at Lincoln last week. Good roads and ideal weather conditions, were largely responsible for this, enabling Wayne county to assist in establishing the record attendance which the fair enjoyed this year.

According to those who attended, the fair was up to its usual good standard although eastern Nebraska did not figure as extensively in the exhibits as it has done in past exhibitions. The corn exhibit was not nearly what it has been in other years much of the displays being corn grown last year.

Western Nebraska, on the other hand outdid itself. Especially was this true in the exhibits of grains and grasses. Most every western county was represented by an attractive exhibit, while many eastern counties were among the missing, Wayne county included.

Among the novel features exhibited was a monster relief map of Nebraska, visualizing very strikingly the products and points of interest the state contains.

The University of Nebraska featured prominently among the interesting features at the fair. A first aid demonstration was especially interesting and enlightening. Care and feeding of livestock were also demonstrated in an interesting display staged by the extension division of the University.

The new state capital at Lincoln vied in popular interest with the exposition. It seemed as though most of the visitors rated a trip to Lincoln and the fair incomplete without a pilgrimage to this wonderful building. According to a Democrat correspondent: "After looking over the building one can only feel proud of it and feel happy that we are leaving such a building to our posterity."

Wakefield Man State Vice Commander

Albert Borg, prominent Wakefield Legionnaire, was elected state vice commander at the recent convention at North Platte. He is widely known in Dixon county for his work among ex-service men. He has been actively engaged in soldiers relief work and has served on local and county committees for some years.

EMERSON PAPER SOLD

The Emerson Tri-County Press was recently sold by Stanley Pickett to Maurice Blaker, Wakefield, and A. C. Lamp, Sioux City. Mr. Blaker has been connected with the Wakefield Republican for eight years. The new owners took possession September 1st.

Bush Whacking Gave Searching Party Big Thrill

Young Men Wanted For Forgery Elude Sheriff.

Captured Is Effected Later

A posse of men bushwhacking through a cornfield, and an airplane zooming overhead gave a thrilling touch to the otherwise rather uneventful routine affairs of the local authorities last Tuesday afternoon.

The men were in search of Lois Mitchell, a seventeen year old lad, who with a companion of about his own age had passed a fraudulent cream check at Randolph that morning. Word had been sent to Sheriff Stephens to be on the lookout for the young men as the car in which they drove bore a Wayne County license. The car was spotted as it drove through Wayne and Sheriff Stephens and Officer George Patterson gave chase. The car sped on until it reached the Minor farm south of town where the pursued men abandoned the car and ran into a corn field.

The pursuers, assisted by others drawn to the scene, started a hunt in the forty acre patch of corn and even pressed the Miller & Strickland airplane into service, but the search was abandoned after a couple of hours of fruitless search.

Later in the evening Officer Bill Stewart, after checking a freight train about to pull out of the local station, found the pair. They were shortly after identified and lodged in the city lockup. Later they were transferred to Randolph to face charges preferred against them by Cedar County authorities.

Young Mitchell, despite his youth, is wanted on forgery charges from a number of counties in the neighborhood. He is also wanted by the Madison county authorities for a spectacular jail break a number of weeks ago.

Mitchell when he made the jail-break was being held on charges growing out of the alleged fraudulent purchase of an automobile.

The forged checks passed in Randolph are for $10.41 and $12.50.

Wheaton College Singers Present Fine Program

Brought New Meaning to Old and Familiar Hymns.

Sacred music, presented through the medium of four beautifully blended voices, provided a very delightful evening's entertainment for music lovers of the community, at a concert given by the Wheaton College Quartette at the Presbyterian church last Friday evening.

The concert consisted of quartette numbers and vocal solos by members of the party and instrumental selections in duets and solos by two of them. In addition, Kenneth Ainslee, as fifth member of the party presided and gave a short Gospel message.

Practically all of the music consisted of old and familiar gospel hymns to which they were able to impart a reverent effectiveness that was unusually impressive. They also included a number of negro spirituals in their repertoire that won enthusiastic applause. The trumpet playing by M. Ferris and the saxophone numbers by Wilton Nelson were also among the most highly appreciated numbers.

The five young men have been making a tour of the northwest giving their concerts daily while enroute. The purpose of the tour is, primarily, to introduce the college they are attending. Wheaton College is a denominationally sponsored institution, located at Wheaton, Illinois. That the religious tone of the college is strongly reflected in its student body was markedly evidenced by these young men.

The party consisted of James W. Price, Canby, Minn.; Wilton Nelson, Oakland, Neb.; M. Ferris, New Jersey; Clarence Weingarten, Chicago; and Kenneth Ainslee, Polk, Pa. Mr. Price is a nephew of Rev. P. A. Davies, Presbyterian pastor of this city.

A WISE BUYER...

Buying, as well as selling, is a science.

A wise buyer is not deceived about value. He demands it and he expects to receive it.

He is not greatly influenced by appeals of a purely sentimental nature. He believes in "keeping his money at home" - "patronizing the home merchant" - "loyalty to the town" - but he believes also in getting what he wants when he wants it, and at the right price.

Such a buyer thinks of "keeping money at home" in terms of what he can save on each purchase. "Home" in this case represents his own pocketbook and not the merchant's cash drawer.

Likewise, he reasons, loyalty is a beautiful sentiment; but he believes his first loyalty should be to his family and himself.

And he is right too!

A wise buyer bases every purchase upon four vital principles, giving each due thought, according to the nature of the purchase.

These principals are:

- 1 - Dependable quality
- 2 - Integrity of the seller
- 3 - Full dollar for dollar value.
- 4 - Ultimate Satisfaction

Merit Merchants are Willing to Stand or Fall by These Principles. They ask neither odds nor favors, only a fair chance to demonstrate.

WE ARE SLAVES TO POLITICAL BUNKUM

We recently chanced to run across an article written by the late Albert J. Beveridge in which he treats of campaign issues in a way that cannot help but be appreciated by the average persons who have expressed an ordinary interest in politics.

As a small boy he attended a Republican political rally in which the speaker of the day referred to the democrats as traitors, terrorists and grafters. He viewed with alarm the possibility of their coming into power. The farmer would suffer, the workman would suffer and the country would go to the dogs in general. A peroration alluding to the "stainless flag" brought the republican audience to its feet to register thunderous applause.

A few nights later Albert sneaked into a democratic rally, urged on by the curiosity to note if democrats really were hiding horns under their hats. He found to his disappointment that the speaker of the day had no marked characteristic different from the republicans with whom he was acquainted. He waited for the speaker to open up and to his surprise heard him refer to the republicans as traitors, terrorists and grafters. The speaker viewed with alarm the situation in which the country was finding itself. Agriculture was in the depths of despair, the workman was becoming enslaved and the country was going to the dogs in general. A peroration to the "stainless flag" brought the democratic audience to its feet to register tremendous applause.

Albert Beveridge never forgot these two first impressions, and in later years, as he came to diagnose the situation, he found that there was little in a political campaign to enlighten the voter or inspire him. The republican speaker evoked enthusiasm from the republicans in his audience—the democrats walked out before he got fairly well started, and vice versa with the democratic speaker.

There has been no appreciable change in this situation in the past fifty years. Political partisanship is as biased and unreasonable as ever. It is only after the election is over that we find that we have become unduly excited and have made narrow minded fools of ourselves.

THE POT AND THE KETTLE

Ruth Hanna McCormick does seem to get more publicity relative to her candidacy for the United States senate than is accorded the average politician.

The recent revelation of the fact that she employed a detective agency to shadow the probing activities of Senator Gerald P. Nye has caused another sensation of considerable magnitude especially so since this action on the part of Mrs. McCormick has been termed "shoddy, scabby, unprincipled and contemptible," by Senator Nye.

The methods employed by the detectives hired by Mrs. McCormick, may have been reprehensible, if so the matter has not been brought to light, but we cannot see how Gerald Nye can with very good grace serve as spokesman in the matter.

Just why every candidate for the United States senate whose political theories do not co-incide with those of the hair-brained radical from North Dakota should be subjected to the snooping activities of agencies under his command, is one of the queer quibbles in the governmental makeup of this country which we cannot understand.

Government spies should have no place in this country.

CORN GAMES—POKER

In Spain the government budget has been found inadequate to fulfill the required appropriations for the university at Madrid, so a monster lottery has been launched to take care of the emergency.

With an air of smug superiority most of us would say such things are not countenanced in this country. Yet we will venture to say that there is more money spent in this country on "corn games" at county fairs and street carnivals than will be spent in Spain to endow the university.

We don't wish to pose as a crape hanger—we've played the corn games with the rest of them—but what we cannot understand is why a man should be considered a "timhorn" if he bets five or six dollars on a horse race and stands a fair chance to win, while it is considered "innocent amusement" on the part of his wife and children to spend five or six dollars trying to win a 98 cent blanket.

Where is that line of demarcation that divides gambling from innocent amusement?

"The mere fact that Senator Nye is a member of the republican insurgent bloc is no guarantee that his every action is above reproach," suggests the Omaha World-Herald. In the vernacular of today that's saying a mouthful.

Reports from Peru, where a revolution deposed President Leguia, states that the moving spirits of the uprising were university students, a fact which reiterates the truth of the statement attributed to Pope: "A little learning is a dangerous thing."

TO CONSERVE WATER

Of all the streams in Nebraska, the Platte is known to be the greatest spendthrift. In the spring it goes on extended sprees, spilling precious water over the country side. When it fails to pour onto the lands thru which it flows, it empties into the Missouri river with such abandon that the stream becomes swollen also, eating valuable land along the banks and when pouring surging flood waters into the Mississippi river to do damage to the country thru which the Father of Waters flows.

Then in the summer months the Platte "sobers up" to such an extent that it can hardly be considered a river, its flow being checked so that it is little more than a creek in many places.

All this wastefulness on the part of the Platte must stop, say the engineers. The waters which cause the river to flood in the spring are too valuable to Nebraska to be wasted. To conserve them, a plan is to be presented to the next legislature, which provides for great storage basins near Gothenburg, Cozad, Lexington, and on Birdwood, Plum, and Buffalo Creeks. Floods water of the Platte will be diverted to these storage basins in the spring, to be used later in the season for irrigation purposes at a time when the Platte is in a state of slump after its spring spree.

GOOD LIFE RULES

The best thing to give to your enemy is forgiveness; to an opponent, tolerance; to a friend, your heart; to your child, a good example; to a father, deference; to your mother, conduct that will make her proud of you; to yourself, respect; to all men, charity.—Ex.

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS ATTEND FUNERAL

Mrs. M. L. Mellick, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Mellick and son, and Mrs. Harry Miller, all of Omaha; and Mr. and Mrs. Rabdo, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Most, and Mrs. Paulson all of Belden were guests from out-of-town who came to attend the funeral of Mrs. George Forner held last Friday afternoon.

It is of interest also to note here that the members of the Minerva club and of the W. C. T. U. appeared, each in a body for the last rites of this, a beloved member of each of these organizations. The ladies of the W. C. T. U. each put her white ribbon bow on the casket as she passed by. Two of Mrs. Fortner's favorite songs were sung by Miss Arelina Urban, music instructor at the high school. They were "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Lead Kindly Light."

Mrs. Fortner was a resident of this city for more than forty years and was the president of the Methodist Ladies' aid when the church was built.

CHURCH BEING COMPLETED

Laurel—With a Gothic tower rising 40 feet against the sky and the sides of the brick structure almost complete, the new Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran church of this city is already affording a glimpse of the beauty that is going to be. The work is progressing with astonishing rapidity. The exterior of the church is of light red brick with contrasting white keystone on the exterior, producing a striking effect in contrast. The basement will be nine feet deep, excluding joints, and all steel beam construction will be used instead of posts. All woodwork throughout the church including floors and stairway, will be of oak with the exception of the ceiling construction which will be of special construction to care for acoustic properties by lessening the period of reverberation, thereby improving the hearing qualities. The front of the church measures 40 feet and the building will extend back 70 feet, excluding the coat room which extends outside of the main structure.

CONCORD COUPLE WED

Concord—Miss Vernice Erwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Erwin of near here, and Erick Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Olof Nelson, also of near Concord, were married at the Presbyterian church in Ponca, at 11 o'clock Monday morning, August 25th. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lindvall. The bride and bridegroom were schoolmates and were confirmed in the Lutheran church in Concord in the same class. The bride was dressed in a gown of sea green flat crepe and the bridegroom was attired in the conventional blue. A wedding dinner was given in the John Wilbur home after which the young couple left for a few days' trip to Omaha and Lincoln. They are making their home on a farm near Concord.

AUGUST GAS TAX LARGEST ON RECORD

Wayne county's apportionment of state funds accruing from the state gas tax amounts to $2,256.27 according to figures announced this week by State Treasurer Stebbins.

This amount is apportioned to the ninety-three counties of the state. The funds represent one-fourth of the four cent tax for the month of August less $12,122.24 deductions allowed by law for shrinkage and $25 deducted for cost of administration.

The collections for the month totaled $961,178.26, the largest amount since the state gasoline tax was adopted.

SEPTEMBER

"Thirty days has September, April, June and November. All the rest have 31 except February; it has 28, and leap year makes it 29" as the old school rhyme goes about the number of days in the various months of the year.

September, the ninth month, is the eventide of summer. Autumn arrives on the twenty-third. September is at the turning point of the year. The night air at this time of year induces good sleep.

The morning glory is the flower for this month, and the birthstone is the sapphire.

September 1st, Labor Day, is the laborer's holiday.

The late ex-President Taft was born on September 15, 1857. President McKinley was assassinated on September 6, 1901. Zachary Taylor, twelfth president, was also born in this month.

September 13th, is General Pershing's birthday, and Henry George, John G. Whittier and James Adams were also born in September.

Hastings Tribune: "Refueling, a necessary evil in aviation, would be a blessing if required by those gas engines in public life."

SHERRY RETIRES FROM U. S. INDIAN SERVICE

As a result of the coming into effect of the new government retirement act, S. Toledo Sherry, who for 30 years has been the employee of the U. S. Indian service, has been retired on a pension. For the past 15 years Mr. Sherry has made his home in South Sioux City with his family while he has been day school representative in the Indian service. He is well known on the Omaha, Ponca, Santee, Winnebago, and Yankton reservations. During his 30 years in the Indian service, Mr. Sherry has evolved the "Model Farm Plan of Education" to which he plans to devote the remainder of his life.

A HOT WEATHER WARNING

Ice-Cold water is a tempting drink in hot weather and ice cream and other tasty iced dishes are much in demand. They keep many youngsters busy buying all they can pay for and are too often swallowed as fast as the husky master or maid can get it down. This would be all very well if something serious didn't result—not always, but once in a while—and it's tough for the victim when it does happen.

A New York surgeon some time ago said that cases of appendicitis were five times as frequent in August as in December, and laid the blame for all this trouble on the wholesale eating and drinking of iced foods and beverages during the hot months. He was operating on a fifteen-year-old girl and spoke to a post-graduate class of students. "This little lady," he said "doubtless frequents cold-drink stands and drug-store fountains Sunday afternoons and every evening in the week; she has probably averaged five to fifteen ice-cold dishes or drinks at each visit to the resorts." It's not that the beverages are impure, one could not find a germ in the stuff; it's the COLD that does the mischief. All intestinal contain germs—and these do not attack a normal healthy canal. But chill the delicate lining of the stomach and bowel, and the natural juices that are protective are stopped in their natural functioning; the germs then attack the weakened mucous surface in greatly increased millions and appendicitis results. Iced drinks and foods should not be taken, at least not in excess. If taken at all, they should be warmed in the mouth before being swallowed—eaten slowly. Never swallow an ice cold spoonful.

LAUREL GIRL HAS TRAINED PETS

Laurel—Miss Gladys Nunemaker of this city has perfected a trained animal act of a pony and two dogs and has a busy season ahead of her. On Saturday, August 30, her act was a hit at the big Creamery Picnic at Creighton. Last week she and her pets were at the Cedar County fair and this week they are showing at the Knox County fair at Bloomfield. Miss Gladys and her pets are favorites wherever shown. She has spent a great deal of time in the perfection of this act and no matter where it is shown it gets the approval of the crowds.

WEDDING KEPT SECRET

Belden—Glenn McManus of Laurel and Miss Ada Jones of this city put one over on their friends when they slipped away and got married and kept their wedding a secret. Accompanied by the bride's mother, they were married on April 1st, at Pierce. Only recently did they let their friends in on the secret.

mances each afternoon and evening. Wednesday evening an impromptu feature was a circus in which members of the 4-H club were the performers. As usual each afternoon features a ball game and a number of horse races. Wednesday nights evening performance wound up with a very fine array of fireworks. This feature will also be given Saturday, the last night of the fair.

Sequestered off from the noise and excitement of the fair is a shaded plot of ground where devotees whit-tlin' and eatin' tobacco have found an ideal place to "set awhile and rest a spell." It's the horseshoe courts where some very interesting pitching contests are scheduled to take place. Some fine prizes are offered and some mighty interesting set tos are looked forward to before the fair is over.

Bigger and Better

Taking the fair in its entirety and without needing to stretch a point one may paraphrase Couee and say of the fair "Year by year, it doth appear. It's getting better and better."

LIGHTNING FIRES BARN

Concord—The large barn on the Burton place 2½ miles southwest of Dixon was burned to the ground during the severe electric storm Saturday night, August 30. The barn was full of straw. Some grain, one horse and a number of sets of harness were lost in the fire. The place is known as the old Sparks farm and belongs to Will Burton, Laurel. It is being farmed by Carl Childs.

NEW SCHOOL BUILDING USED

Concord—The Concord school opened Monday, September 8th, in the new building with an enrollment of about 125. The following teachers are in charge: Prof. Rufus Caauwe, Miss Virginia M. Sabs and Miss Theodora Carlson, High school; Miss Mildred Church, 7th and 8th grades; Miss Anna Vollers, 4th and 5th and 6th grades; and Miss Mary Merchen, 1st, 2nd, and 3rd grades.

Mrs. Sniff—It is being whispered around that you and your husband are not getting on well together.

Mrs. BJones—Nonsense. We did have some words and I shot him, but that's as far as it ever went.

Little Edith—May I sit on your lap, Daddy?

Sarcastic Mamma—No, darling. Papa's tired; he's had a hard day at the office.—Pathfinder.

The Mellon-Colic Days Are Come

Texas may lay claim to the honor of producing the earliest watermelons of the season, but for melons with that luscious pass-me-some-moreness, the lone star state may well be relegated to the background, for Nebraska has them all backed off the boards.

Down in Madison county fully a thousand acres are devoted entirely to the cultivation of this delicacy and as a result of this fortunate circumstance, practically every town within a radius of one hundred miles from Norfolk has at least one or two truck-loads of melons at the disposal of the people at prices ridiculously low.

Wayne has been visited by many of these melon raisers, some of whom have made annual visitations to this city for a number of years. The best known among these is Will Purdy who resides south of Norfolk. The season, Mr. Purdy says, has not quite been up to the standard, due to weather conditions, but one would hardly suspect that from the size and quantity of melons he has been bringing into town. He has for years specialized in Tom Watson melons which on account of their size and uniform dependability have been much in demand by restaurant people. These melons attain a size of about fifty pounds each.

Since the season began Mr. Purdy has gathered about five two-ton trucks full of melons every day from his 50 acre patch.

An American has flown nineteen days over Chicago without coming down. Who shall blame him?—London Punch.

UNCLE JOSH BECKLEY DIES.
Laurel—Uncle Josh Beckley, 85, passed away at the home of his nephew, Cliff Beckley, here early Saturday morning, August 30, having lived in Laurel since 1895. He had been bothered with both heart trouble and other complications for several months and his friends who visited him in his home knew that the end was near. He also recognized the fact and had his house in order when the summons came.
He was one of the pioneers of the community and had a host of friends who sincerely mourn his passing, and who made him as comfortable as they could during his last days. Funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church here Sunday afternoon, August 31st, the Rev. King in charge.

Joshua Henry Beckley was born at Briarley Hill, England on January 14, 1845 and came to the United States with his brother, Eli, when he was 16 years old, settling at Coulterville, Illinois where he wooed and married Miss Marie Press. To this union six children were born, two of whom died in infancy. One other Mrs. Alice Lonsdorf, also preceded him in death. Surviving are three children, Eva Madison, Seattle, Washington; Lewis Beckley, Thermopila, Wyoming; and Grover C. Beckley, Butte, Nebraska, resides a number of grandchildren and other relatives.

NEW TYPE OF PAVING.
Hartington—Hartington's paving, just completed two weeks ago, is already beginning to attract attention from other towns, a delegation from Blair coming Tuesday last week to inspect the paving with the idea of having a similar job done in the residential district of that city. The paving used is a sort of asphalt-gravel combination, very satisfactory for residential districts and economical. Hartington's small boys find that the new pavement makes grand riding for coaster wagons before the streets are opened for cars. As one little boy said, he "wished they'd keep the paved streets harnessed up for a long time" so he could go coasting every night before school starts.
