Corn Is Well Past Danger Of Frost

Crop Sufficiently Matured To Be Safe From Killing Frost.

Harvest To Be Very Late

With ideal weather conditions favoring full maturity of the corn, this region is getting in readiness to harvest another splendid crop.

To date no frost has come to check the crop in its final development and, although the corn had a much later than usual start this year, and was handicapped by unfavorable weather conditions at the outset, the danger point is considered well passed and the coming of a killing frost holds no terrors for the farmer.

Herbert and Ernest Frevort, who reside about seven miles south of town began husking corn by machinery the first of the week. They are not, however, harvesting on a large scale as yet, but merely to gather in sufficient corn for their immediate needs. It is not expected that the harvest will begin in earnest for at least a couple of weeks.

C. M. Kopp Injured When Ladder Slips

C. M. Kopp, who is in the employ of C. Clasen, contractor, suffered a quite badly bruised right side yesterday morning when the ladder on which he was standing about 18 feet above the ground while repairing the chimney at the back of Hrabak's Grocery store slipped at the bottom and he fell to the ground, landing in such a way as to badly bruise his whole right side, especially his right arm which was severely sprained and several ligaments torn loose. He also sustained a bruised shoulder and neck.

However, Mr. Kopp is able to be up and around and considers himself very fortunate to have escaped more serious injury. It seems almost a miracle that he came out of his mishap as well as he did.

STATE TAXES LOWER THAN OUR NEIGHBORS

Per Capita Tax For All Purposes Also Lowest.

The people of Nebraska are shown to be very much favored in the matter of taxation when a comparison of the taxes paid here are compared with those paid by people of all the adjoining states. According to Tax Commissioner Harry W. Scott, the state levy and the per capita tax paid in Nebraska is lower than in South Dakota, Iowa, Colorado, Kansas, or Wyoming. An exception to this fact may be taken from the state levy in Kansas, which derives a large amount of its state revenue from royalties on oil and gas and receives about two million dollars annually from inheritance and cigarette taxes.

The state levy for this year amounts to 2.34 mills and the amount for all purposes for this year in the state is $7,225,596.19. The other state levies are South Dakota, 3.12 mills; Iowa, 2.56; Colorado, 3.56; Kansas, 1.45; Wyoming 3.91.

In the Nebraska state levy are the capital investments amounting to $3,746,989.00 for 1929-1931, including $1,381,013.00 for the state capitol building and $1,990,999.00 for new buildings, lands and improvements at the seventeen penal and charitable institutions and educational institutions, the management of which are under a bi-partisan Board of Control, a non-political Board of Regents and a non-political State Normal Board. One-half of this total charged to each year of the two-year period would amount to .59 mills per year, leaving the cost of state government for administration and maintenance 1.81 mills for 1929; 1.75 mills for 1930. The seventeen penal and charitable institutions with 7025 inmates an increase of 15 percent since 1925, requires an annual expenditure for maintenance of $1,874,104.00 or .59 of a mill; the University of Nebraska (continued on page four)

916 Students Enrolled At Local College

Normal Board Approved Number of Additions on Local Faculty.

Nine hundred sixteen students are now enrolled at the Wayne State Teachers' college and Training school according to the report given by President U. S. Conn at the meeting of the State Normal board held Monday at Peru. Chadron has an enrollment of 734, Peru and enrollment of 678, and Kearney an enrollment of 1,234. These figures are not exactly comparable however, for some of the schools figured classes of students not counted by the others.

Only two of the schools named have installed football field floodlights. These schools are Kearney and Wayne.

A number of changes in the teaching staffs of the schools were approved. Additions recommended for the Wayne State Teachers' college were: Miss Isobel Rust at $240; Miss Florence Teager at $200; Miss Mabel Britnell at $185; Miss Marie A. Smith at $210; Miss Stella Traser at $200; Miss Olive Brown at $200; L. P. McGrath at $240; Miss Jessie Woodworth at $200.

The purchase of eleven and a half acres of land adjoining the Wayne college campus for a consideration of $4,025 was also approved. The land will be used as an athletic field.

At the board meeting the members listened only to reports by the four normal college presidents; acted upon the recommendations, and adjourned until October 27th, when, at a meeting in Lincoln, the budget matter will be settled.

Postmaster G. S. Mears and Wife Are Home From Extended Auto Trip

The Niagara Falls, bridal paths many miles long where one can take a horseback ride in the heart of Chicago, a fire boat, and meeting old friends in unexpected places are only a few of the very interesting things seen and enjoyed by Postmaster and Mrs. Grant S. Mears who arrived home from a motor trip to the North-east and Canada last Friday afternoon Oct. 3rd. They attended the National Postmaster's convention at Detroit, Michigan while away and in all spent about a month on the trip.

Mr. Mears has kindly contributed the following brief account of the trip which is sure to be of interest to all travel lovers and the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Mears.

"In starting, we visited over night at the home of our son, A. E. Mears, in Sioux City, and left the next day, driving across Iowa to Dubuque where we visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy Foley and other relatives of the late Herman Henry, most of whom have visited in Wayne. We then went to Chicago where we spent three days with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Marotz and other friends formerly of Wayne county.

"Three days in Chicago is just enough to make one want to stay longer. It seems one could spend several weeks in that great city, it is so very large and full of interesting things and places. The parks in the city are large and beautiful, containing a number and variety of animals, birds, fish, and fowls from all parts of the world. There are also the bridal paths here many miles long so that those that care to can still take a horseback ride in the heart of the city.

"From Chicago we drove to Gary, Indiana and then on to Benton Harbor, Michigan where we visited the two House of David Colonies. We then went on to Detroit, Michigan where we spent three days attending the National Postmaster's convention.

The City of Detroit entertained the delegates royally. One afternoon we were taken in 16 40-passenger busses, with a police patrol that kept traffic out of our way, on a sight seeing trip to their beautiful parks and many other places of interest, including several automobile factories, Ford's air field and airplane factory, and Ford's Old Time Village which is very interesting. The next day we were given a five-hour boat ride on the Detroit river in a passenger boat of 3000 capacity which took us up the river under the Ambassador bridge, past all that part of the city, and down the river 30 miles and on into Lake Erie. The Detroit fire boat put on a water display for our benefit. This was something different and unusually interesting. While traveling down the river, a United States mail tug pulled along side our ship and delivered mail to the passengers and took any mail they wished to send out. This was done without any change in the speed of the passenger boat. This mail tug is said to be the only one of its kind in the world.

"While we were on the boat we were very much surprised to see Mrs. Charles Reynolds and her brother, Dr. Linsen, who were invited guests on the boat ride. They had seen by the paper that we would be there and were looking for us. When we left the boat Dr. Linsen and Mrs. Reynolds took us for an auto ride to the millionaire section after which they entertained us at dinner.

"Dr. Linsen has charge of the large new Veterans Hospital at Detroit located on the lake front. They have a fine new home on the lake front near the hospital. This is also furnished by the Government.

"From Detroit we drove across the Ambassador bridge into Windsor, Canada and from there drove three hundred miles over nice smooth pavement, passing through the cities of London and Paris, and then on to Hamilton on the shore of Lake Ontario. From there we went on to St. Catherine's which is near the mouth of the Welland Canal and the lower locks of this canal connects Lake Erie and Lake Ontario and was built to allow boats to pass from one lake to the other, they not being able to pass through the Niagara river.

"After viewing the Falls from both sides of the river, we drove on down (continued on page five)

OPEN PHEASANT SEASON MAYBE

It's a safe guess that there will be an open season for pheasants. The county commissioners have petitioned the state game commission, which constitutes the necessary procedure to effect favorable action on the part of the game commission, and it is practically certain that the game commission will grant the request, but to date no proclamation has been made.

The open season, if granted, will commence Oct. 23 and continue on to the first of the month. The bag limit is five to a hunter, one of which may be a hen pheasant.

Holdings Of Late A. B. Clark In Litigation

Daughter Contends Property Was Never Rightfully His.

Title to a half section of land in this vicinity deeded last March by the late A. B. Clark to his wife, will be subject to controversy in the coming term of district court.

Mabel Clark Wilhelm, a daughter of Mr. Clark by a former marriage, through her attorneys, has filed action seeking cancellation of the deed, contending that title to the land never was lawfully in Mr. Clark's name. The complaint states that Clark, in behalf of Mrs. Wilhelm's mother traded some Sioux City hotel property held in her mother's name, for the farm land in question. In the process of transfer, the complaint alleges, the property was deeded in Mr. Clark's name instead of the name of the Plaintiff's mother.

The implied contention is that the property should rightfully belong to the heirs of Mrs. Wilhelm's mother, Mrs. Wilhelm and a half sister residing in Omaha. The land involved is the south half of section 36, township 27, range 3 in Wayne county.

TIETSORT-ELSBERRY

Floyd Tietzort, farmer in the Laurel vicinity, and Miss Lovetta Elsberry of Hartington, were married Monday afternoon, Oct. 6, at the Wayne county courthouse, Judge J. M. Cherry officiating. They were attended by Glenn Beman and Mrs. S. J. Wall as witnesses.

Pheasant Season Wayne County Opens Oct. 23

Twenty-three Nebraska counties were officially named by the Nebraska state game and forestation commission Saturday as open for pheasant shooting, admitting seven more counties after sanctioning open warfare in 16 counties early in September.

Of most importance to local hunters is the opening of Wayne county. The official list, according to an article in the Omaha World Herald, now includes Antelope, Boone, Burt, Cheyenne, Colfax, Cuming, Deuel, Dixon, Garden, Greeley, Holt, Howard, Keith, Knox, Madison, Merrick, Morrill, Pierce, Scotts Bluff, Sherman, Stanton, Valley and Wayne.

Shooting will be permitted from October 23 to November 1, inclusive. The daily bag limit will be five male birds or four male birds and one hen and possession of the same.

Boyd Hotel Is Being Redecorated

A extensive redecoration program is on at the Boyd Hotel. The exterior is being entirely repainted and much papering and painting is taking place throughout the building. The entrance on Main street will be changed making a more convenient entry into the place as well as improving the appearance of the building in general. The room next door to the Crystal Theatre is being thoroughly remodeled and will be used as a barber shop, a purpose it served a number of years ago.

R. R. Smith left yesterday afternoon for Yankton, South Dakota to visit his sons, Jim and Ren, who live north of that city.

Wildcats Lose Night Game to Morningside

Make Valiant Fight But Lose In Night Game At Sioux City.

Play At Kearney Friday

Fluke plays proved the undoing of the Wildcats in their second game of the season, which was played at the Stockyards park last Saturday night. Wayne lost to the shifty Morningside, eleven by a score of 18 to 6.

Morningside, with the strongest lineup in its history, was generally predicted to outclass the local eleven, but the dope was emphatically upset and the Iowa team found itself straining its utmost to gain an advantage. Wayne was leading at the end of the first half by a score of 6 to 3, and throughout the game proved a constant threat.

The Sioux City gained the ascendance shortly after the opening of the second half when they made good for a touchdown on a surprise attack. Hutchinson of Morningside punted the ball over the Wayne goal line while a member of his eleven downed the ball scoring the touchdown.

The touchdown was followed shortly after by a safety which brought the Morningside score to 10. The previous safety was scored during the first quarter. Their final touchdown, resulting from a 25 yard run was scored the last few minutes of play.

Morningside had based its chief reliance on an aerial attack but soon found that the Wildcats were especially adept at blocking this type of football and the game resolved itself into a scrimmage featuring straight football. A drizzling rain made the going hard and uncertain and made it impossible for a spectacular brand of playing. The locals had the short end of it in the matter of gaining downs, but were successful in confining this advantage to regions where the opposing team found it hard to come within scoring distance of the goal.

Captain Andrews of the Wildcat starred most conspicuously in the game for the local with honors also being accorded Andrews who made a constant aid for him in his attacks. Smith and Kettle played prominent roles in the victory for their team.

Wayne has been given credit for being a heavy and powerful team and has been given much praise for its splendid showing last Saturday night.

TRUCK UPSETS THIS MORNING

Mr. McLaughlin, Pender Man, Reaches Corner Too Soon.

Misfortune was on the trail of Mr. McLaughlin of Pender, operator of the Pender Transfer company, this morning when his Chevrolet truck, loaded with empty cream cans turned turtle at the corner one half mile south of town and caught afire at about 6:30 o'clock. The Wayne Fire department made a hasty trip to the scene of the accident and extinguished the fire, but the extent of the damage done to the truck is not, at this writing, definitely determined. Good fortune, however, did not entirely desert Mr. McLaughlin, for he himself came out of the predicament uninjured.

Mr. McLaughlin was driving west on his way to Wayne from Pender when the accident occurred. He was coming at a fair rate of speed, and it being quite foggy, he came to the corner at the highway sooner than he expected to and was unable to stop or make the turn successfully.

Laughlin drove to Yankton Sunday, had a picnic lunch in the park, then visited the Mennonite colony located 27 miles from Yankton. They returned to Wayne at 7.30 and enjoyed supper together at the Mrs. C. Shulteis home. The colony is composed of about 110 persons of various ages who live in a common house which is about 20 feet wide and about 300 feet in length. It forms three sides of a square in shape. Each family has two rooms, and as the families are large some 14 people live there. They eat in common dining rooms. One for children up to 15 years, one for children from 5 to 15 and a large one for adults. The cooking, milking, spinning and sewing is done by the women. The farming of their 7000 acre tract, flour making, live stock growing and shoe making is done by the men. A series of artesian wells furnishing the evil-smelling water. There is no play apparatus for children, dogs, cats or dolls in evidence and the dulllest of ill-fitting clothing is worn.

The colony was established 55 years ago. They do not desire to mingle with the outside world, nor have their young people inter-marry with those of other faiths.

All buildings are dirty and unkept. The lack of pride of ownership is noticeable everywhere. No grass or flowers are cultivated and the colony has a general delapidated appearance.

The plan of living is copied after the folks of Germany and it is well worth while to visit the colony for what one can learn of old world customs.

WEST POINT COUNCIL SUSTAINED BY COURT

West Point—A ruling handed down in district court Friday of last week sustains the city council in their recent move to purchase another engine for the local municipal light plant.

Suit had been filed against Mayor Fred Meeske to enjoin him as mayor from making the purchase on the ground that the purchase was not justified at this time, the intimation being made also that the city officials were actuated by fraud and undue influences outside of the city in making the purchase.

A large number of witnesses were called, but the court ruled that none of the contentions of the plaintiff had been substantiated and ruled that the action of the council was sustained.

The light plant affair has been the subject of much controversy in the recent past and had been the cause of much petty factionalism and ill will.

JACOB EBY DIES

Hartington—J. H. Eby, pioneer of Cedar county and for over 40 years the janitor of the Hartington city schools, passed away Monday evening, Sept. 29, death being due to complications caused by a blood clot on the artery in one of his legs. Mr. Eby was nearly 82 years of age. He and his wife celebrated their 55 wedding anniversary last June 21th. He had been in good health until he resigned his position about two years ago. His health then began to fail rapidly and he suffered a severe attack of flu last February. He completely recovered from this however and was in perfect health for a man of his years. He was down town Saturday that night the clot formed and Sunday morning early he lapsed into unconsciousness, never regaining it. He is survived by his wife and three children.

Doctor: "Well my dear, you certainly have acute appendicitis."

When is the Sale Completed

A lady went to a store in Wayne and paid the nationally advertised price of $8.00 for a certain electric waffle iron.

When trouble developed and she returned it for repairs, no time was lost. The dealer replaced the defective element with one which he borrowed from a similar iron in his stock.

Next morning the lady had waffles for breakfast as usual.

Another lady also bought a waffle iron. She paid $6.98 for it at a bargain store in the city where "A Sale is Made When the Money is Paid."

She had trouble too---Not wishing the bother of writing a letter, boxing and shipping, she laid it aside to await her next trip to the city.

After forgetting it once or twice it was finally carried back. To this lady's dismay the old clerks had departed and there was a new manager. Worst of all, she had forgotten to save the purchase ticket, and without that nothing could be done.

Attempts at repairing were unsuccessful. The good waffle breakfasts were no more.

WE ARE LIVING BETTER

In looking over our exchanges from week to week, we cannot help but marvel at the large number of golden weddings that are being recorded. The large number of long time marriages is not confined to fifty year anniversaries, but 60 and 65 year observances as well.

And the remarkable phase of this situation is not confined to the mere fact that these observances occur, but the honored couples would consider it a heartless affront if you referred to them as "old people."

About a generation ago a golden wedding was something most unusual. The honored couples accepted the formal congratulations of those who sought to honor them and resigned themselves to that day when "their time would come." They accepted the occasion as a sign that they had arrived at old age. They felt the part and they certainly looked it.

Yet, in spite of the undisputable evidence that we are living on a better plane, we hear it commonly deplored that we are setting too fast a pace in this age in which we are living. We are told that in the "good old days" people lived simply. They ate plain and coarse food. They dressed simply and modestly. Their wants were fewer. They went to bed at nine o'clock and "got up in the morning." All of which implies that the method of living in past generations was more conducive to health than at present.

But checking up on the situation one cannot help but come to the conclusion that those "good old days" were not all that they were cracked up to be.

Just because domestic science has increased the number of ways in which food might be prepared is no sign that the nutritive value of the food we eat has been lowered. As a matter of fact (thanks to the pure food laws) the food eaten today is more nutritious and wholesome than it was in those "good old days."

People may have dressed more modestly and plainly in those bygone days, but by no stretch of imagination could it be said that they dressed healthfully or sensibly. At least such is the case as far as women's attire is concerned.

It is true that the generations past were more "temperate" in dividing their time, but in those days, after supper dishes had been washed and the evening paper perused, there was nothing else to provide diversion or entertainment and nothing else to do but go to bed. Now a days the evening is just begun at eight o'clock and in spite of Ben Franklin and his truisms about going to bed early, the people of this nation persist in sitting up late and in growing leaner, wealthier and wiser.

One sees fewer old people in this generation, but there are a whole lot more people spry and active at eighty than there ever was before.

Grandfather didn't get a gold-headed walking cane on his seventieth birthday this year. He got a new set of golf clubs and sporty golf stockings.

DARROW AND THE CHICAGO CRIME WAR

The Chicago underworld has at last found a champion who has come out in the open to its defense. Clarence Darrow, noted criminal lawyer, last week came to the defense of two Chicago gangsters who had been picked up recently in Chicago's war on the underworld.

Mr. Darrow seems to take particular delight in making horseplay out of the courts of our country. His recent appearance on behalf of these gangsters is typical of the class of legal warfare he likes to participate in. The case has sufficient notorious aspects to give it conspicuous and persistent front page mention and Chicago courts, if we may judge from cases of note in the past—the Loeb-Leopold case—for instance—are sufficiently pliable to make the doughty lawyer sure of gaining his objective. All of which is highly pleasing to Mr. Darrow.

There is however, an encouraging sign in the retention by the underworld of this great criminal lawyer. It may mean that Chicago's war on crime has gone beyond the stage where the ordinary criminal lawyer and fixer can handle it. It may mean that Chicago has really gained some ground in solving the problem and some of the arrogant gangsters are finding themselves in a fix. When the underworld is really scared, its a reasonably sure sign that the criminal is not having everything his own way.

It may seem unfortunate that the public is not represented with as gifted legal talent as the defense in this case. But it is easy enough to see that the public would not countenance the employment of methods to win convictions that Darrow does to thwart them. The only difference between Darrow and the common shyster lawyer is that he is a bit more crafty and adept at finding loopholes in the law than the lesser lights of his type of the profession and that he is able to work the sympathy racket under the most adverse conditions. He is usually able to create a philosophy picturing his clients as unfortunate victims of circumstance over which they had no control. The resentment of the people is softened by this sob stuff and he is thus able to slip his client through on points of law in a way that would not be tolerated under ordinary circumstances.

There is often sound philosophy in Darrow's reasoning, but unfortunately it is almost always used as a means to that dispicable end—the cheating of justice.

INTOLERANCE MAY HAVE ITS USE

Facism, that strange political movement that is spreading over various parts of Europe, has been likened to the Ku Klux Klan of late memory in this country. Just why it should be so designated is not clear unless it be because of the intolerance it manifests for those not in sympathy with its thought and program.

It would seem that Facism fits well in the general scheme of things in Italy. It is still in the experimental stage there and Mussolini is an unusual man. Whether or not it will stand the test of time remains to be seen. But it is hard to accord it any hope of success in Germany where the lines of political and religious cleavage is more sharply drawn than in the Latin countries. It is hardly likely that those not in accord with Facism in Germany would give up their political ideals without a struggle.

Some interesting times, however, are in the offing in the Fatherland as the result of the ascendance of the movement in that country as a result of the recent election there.

WHO CARES

We have gone through a number of political campaigns in our day. We have been moved by the train of events, and the stirring maneuvers that have shaped the destinies of the parties and politicians involved, but we have never seen as listless a political campaign as that one looming up at present.

It seems that the public is fed up on political propaganda. Like rich food, a bit of it adds to the health and enjoyment of life, but when one gets it as a steady diet it doesn't take long to weary of it.

The public seems to be aware of the fact that there is going to be an election some time in November but their interest is much akin to the lazy one of the "Two Black Crows" who waves aside the subject with "Who cares."

NATURE SMILES ON NEBRASKA

Mother Nature in her mannerly, mysterious, has again smiled upon Nebraska. The approach of autumn finds the Cornhusker state blessed with an abundance from the fields and feed lots. In her same inexplainable way, the old dame has, through drouth, brought destruction to crops in other sections, with the result that what seemed a disastrous surplus of wheat and other crops early in the summer will now all be needed to replace the shortage of corn and feed crops. Nebraska, with near-normal yields of all major crops and the usual number of livestock, is in a position to reap the benefit of this unusual situation because of the probable advancing prices for these products in the near future.—The Nebraska Farmer.

braska with twenty-five percent increase in students and an increase of only three percent in maintenance requires an annual expenditure of $2,137,500.00 or 67 of a mill; the Normal schools with a growing student population require an annual expenditure of $784,900.00 for maintenance or .25 of a mill; the Nebraska State Fair is a growing institution and the requirements for maintenance are $61,150.00 annually or .02 of a mill. These levies together with the .59 of a mill for capital investments leave the cost of administration .23 of a mill for 1929 and .22 of a mill for 1930.

The annual expenditures from the general fund for the payment of salaries, wages and maintenance of the judicial, executive and administrative departments were $1,314,043.49. The unappropriated receipts collected by the various state departments together with the state's share of intangible taxes amounted to $1,363,339.08. Thus it can be seen that outside of the necessary capital investments and maintenance enjoined by the state constitution on the state for state educational, charitable and penal institutions and other special activities such as eradication of bovine tuberculosis, state aid bridges, etc., no part of the cost of the State government is borne by a tax on property. In fact the amount received from receipts collected by the various departments and the state's share of intangible taxes amounts to $49,795.59 more than the actual cost of state government outside of the items heretofore mentioned. Many states issue bonds for capital investments such as new educational buildings, hospitals, State Capitol buildings, etc., while Nebraska builds out of the current levy.

Boy Scouts Hold Dist. Meeting Thursday Eve

Boy Scouts from the towns of Emerson, Wynot, and Sholes came to Wayne Thursday for the district meeting of the Covered Wagon Area council held at the College high school here last Thursday evening. The meeting was called by District Chairman, Ray R. Larson of this city.

Scout Executive, J. D. Wright, of Omaha, was the main speaker of the evening. Field Executive, Harry C. Heald, of Norfolk, was also present and took part in the meeting. This was a regular business meeting, called to take care of business matters including future plans for the annual meeting to be held in December and for the increased attendance at next summer's camp. As a part of the evening's activities, Wayne's four Eagle scouts, Dale Hanks, Robert Gulliver, Myles Tyrrell, and Alfonso Martischang, put on a brief program for the group.

Scout officials of the Covered Wagon Area Council report a tremendous growth and increase in Scouting in the Area since the organization of the districts. According to Field Scout Executive, Harry C. Heald, there were only 12 active troops with an enrollment of 288 boys in the entire area prior to district organization, whereas, to date, there are in the Area, 92 active Scout troops with an enrollment of 1635 scouts.

Gilbert M. Hitchcock

for SENATOR

During the time that Mr. Hitchcock represented Nebraska constituents in Washington he made a positive rather than a negative record. He counseled and cooperated with others, both republicans and democrats, and secured definite results.

He helped establish the graduated income tax.

He helped establish the postal savings banks.

He helped frame and pass the Federal Farm Loan Bank bill, and secured the location of one of the banks in Nebraska.

He was the author of the provisions in the Federal Reserve act, making the agricultural paper of farmers and stock raisers running four, five and six months, acceptable for discount at the Federal Reserve banks.

His record was one of achievement.

If Mr. Hitchcock is sent back to the senate, he will go there to fight, AND FIGHT EFFECTIVELY, for Nebraska's rights and interests.

A Vote for Hitchcock Will Be a Vote for Nebraska

Senator Hitchcock will speak over the radio:

High Speed Husking

with the

McCormick-Deering Two Row Farmall Corn Picker

Two Men Can Pick 16 to 18 Acres a Day

The McCormick-Deering FARMALL Two Row corn picker enables two men to pick and husk as much corn as 16 average huskers. Another advantage besides the saving of time and labor lies in the fact that it will enter a field on any two rows without knocking down or wasting any corn. It takes any two rows in the field and picks them clean without touching adjacent rows. It gets the corn the average corn husker would miss. The FARMALL CORN PICKER is easy of control, does not get out of adjustment and may be depended on under any conditions.

The McCormick-Deering One Row Farmall Corn Picker

may be depended to give the same quality service on a correspondingly smaller scale. Both are especially built for the Farmall Tractor and one man easily operates tractor and picker.

Keystone and Monarch Farm Trucks

Fill the bill for service and dependability. There is a difference in these McCormick-Deering products which those who have tried them and other makes are quick to note.

past the huge steel mills at the Buffalo, New York, and on through Erie, Pennsylvania and down to the Eddy Fruit farm near Cleveland, Ohio where spent three days. The Eddys were neighbors of our in Florida. They showed place of interest in and around Cleveland, and one evening they gave a nice little party for us by inviting 15 of their neighbors whom we had also met in Florida.

"From here we passed down through Akron, Ohio where some of the largest tire factories are located. We then went on down to Alexandria, Ohio where we visited C. G. Mears who was in Wayne this summer, and with whom we visited quite a number of cousins whom we had never seen before. We also visited the old log church where my Grandfather preached over one hundred years ago and saw his old home which was erected at about that time. My father was reared here.

"We then visited several miles of mounds near Newark, Ohio which are supposed to have been built by the Mound builders several centuries ago. Going on to Columbus, we visited more cousins we had never before seen.

"At Charlottesville, Indiana we called on Prof. Walter T. Orr, formerly of the Wayne State Teachers college, who is now teaching mathematics in the Jackson County Consolidated school.

"From here we went to Indianapolis Indiana and on to Aledo, Illinois where we visited more cousins and went on to Peoria, Illinois where we visited the Peoria State hospital to inquire after the health of my ward, Mrs. Lillian Powell who has been confined in that institution for several years. She will be remembered by some as the Mrs. Powell who about twenty-five years ago shot and wounded her husband and was confined for five months in the Wayne county jail.

"Leaving Peoria, we came through Davenport, Iowa to Malco, Iowa where we visited Mr. and Mrs. Amos Falkinsburg. Mr. Falkinsburg and I were born on adjoining farms. While we were there, they took us out to the old farms where we were born and to the old school house where we went to school over fifty years ago.

"We then went to Grinnell where we called on Gus Lewis who was my boyhood chum while in school at Grinnell.

"We returned from Iowa via Omaha.

"The above is but a very brief outline of the many places and things of interest that we saw, but time and space does not permit of a more detailed account.

"No—Not New—Just" CLEANED BY JACQUES

What Jacquesol can do to a worn suit is every man's business—if it isn't it should be. Why say—after a few trips to Jacques' Dry Cleaning Establishment those soiled, wrinkled and baggy duds that look as though you'd slept in them for a month will look every inch as neat and trim as the day you bought them.

And those little details of mending which the clothes receive are a service which you cannot help but appreciate.

IN MEMORIAM
The following is contributed in memory of the late Henry Westerhaus who passed away October 5, 1929: We never will his own forget. He gives me robes without regret. My God for Jesus sake I pray, For peace may bless my dying day.

And thus I live in God at peace, And die without a thought of fear, Content to take what God decrees, For through His Son my faith is clear; His grace shall be in death my stay, And peace shall bless my dying day.

To what despair men often sink Nor any light of hope they keep, Fearing to snatch from sorrow's brink The strength of those who weep.

Tomatoes Plentiful

Of course you like tomatoes. Then you will be glad to hear that an increase of more than five thousand more cases of canned tomatoes were packed for you in 1929 than in 1928. The Census Bureau of the Department of Commerce announces that the total pack of tomatoes in the United States in 1929 was 14,145,301 standard cases of No. 3 cans, an increase of 65.7 per cent as compared with 8,538,582 standard cases packed in 1928.

New Tomato Dishes
When tomatoes are thus plentiful good health should be plentiful, since tomatoes are not only one of our most delicious, but one of our most healthful foods. And because they are so well-liked, new recipes are always being created.

Here are two new ways with tomatoes. Each serves six persons.

Frappé Tomatoes: Remove the label from an eight-ounce can of tomato sauce and immerse it in a mixture of ice and salt for four hours. Remove the top from the can and slide out the frozen mold. Slice thin and lay in beds of shredded lettuce. Serve with the meat course.

Scalloped Tomatoes Scotch Style: Bring to boiling the contents of a No. 2 can of tomatoes mixed with three-fourths teaspoon salt, one tablespoon sugar and a few grains of pepper. Add one-half cup of quick-cooking rolled oats and pour into a buttered baking dish. Cover the top with crumbs and bake in a hot oven—375 degrees—for thirty to forty minutes.

Perennial Peas

PEAS are a most attractive food at any season of the year, but when they don their summer dresses they are irresistible. Do you know some of the new ways to dress up peas so that they will be flavorful as well as fashionable? In salads or meatless roasts they are an excellent combination and very much in vogue. Here are some summer style suggestions:

You'll Like These
Pea, Cheese and Nut Salad: Drain two cups of peas and marinate in one-fourth cup of French dressing for at least one hour. Drain. Add one-half cup of diced American cheese and one-half cup of chopped nuts; mix with the mayonnaise and serve on lettuce.
Pea and Walnut Roast: Mix lightly together one and one-half cups of pea pulp, one cup of soft bread crumbs, one-half cup of chopped walnuts, one-fourth cup of butter, two-thirds cup of canned tomato soup, one beaten egg, and season with salt, pepper and onion juice. Place in a buttered baking dish, or loaf pan, and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 30 to 45 minutes, or until set and brown. Serve with hot canned tomato soup, undiluted.

Cauliflower and Pea Salad: Boil two cups of cooked cauliflower until tender but not mushy. Keep the cauliflower whole and distinct. Marinate separately the cauliflowerlets, one cup of canned peas and one can of asparagus tips. Do this thoroughly. Then toss lightly together the peas and cauliflower, and pile on lettuce. Arrange the asparagus tips around the edge and garnish with mayonnaise.

A new deal for today's dollar!

NASH

Announces

3 new EIGHTS and a new SIX

NEVER was such motor car quality offered at prices so sensationally low. The literally startling difference becomes at once apparent when you contrast the prices of the new and finer Nash series, with prices of corresponding models a year ago.

Its low non-productive overhead, its elimination of borrowed capital, and remarkably foresighted manufacturing alone enable Nash to offer so much for so little. The unique example in value-giving thus provided the industry was planned last November. At that time, C. W. Nash and the strong group of executives surrounding him, clearly foresaw present conditions. They at once began to design cars affording value so great, so unmistakable, as to overcome all buying reluctance.

The result is instantly apparent. Even casual inspection of the four new Nash cars establishes the fact that nothing even remotely approaching them in downright dollar value has ever been available in their respective price fields.

SENSATIONALLY PRICED!

STUDY THESE SENSATIONAL PRICES!
Compare what is probably the most remarkable achievement of Nash in greater value-giving—the New Six—with the Single Six it succeeds. The new Six offers a multitude of superiorities—at prices which range from $160 to $140 below the prices of the Single Six.
Body Style	The New Six W. B. 1140*	Last Year's Six W. B. 1140*	Price Difference
Sedan (4-door)	$845	$1005	—$160

Sedan (2-door)	$795	$935	—$140
Compare the New Twin-Ignition Eight-80 Series with the 6-cylinder car it replaces. The Eight-80 is larger, longer. Design, appointments, upholstery are finer—prices are radically lower.
