Wayne Normal Loses Game to Kearney 14-7

Both Teams Make Only Markers in First Quarter.

The Wayne Wildcats, in their first conference game of the season, bucked up against the toughest competition they have met so far, and were bested by a 14 to 7 count by Kearney. The game was played on Kearney's home field last Friday night.

All the fireworks took place in the first quarter, with Kearney going across for two touchdowns and Wayne for one. Captain Dennis made the most sensational play of the evening when he got away for a beautiful 82 yard run that accounted for Wayne's only marker.

Dennis almost wrecked Kearney's hopes for a win when he broke away late in the second quarter for another spectacular dash. It looked like a touchdown and a chance for Wayne to tie the score, but the Wayne captain, his hands numbed with cold, fumbled the ball before he got across into the end zone.

Wayne proved a constant threat during the second half, but never got into a position where they could put the ball across. The Kearney line, seldom lax, tightened into an almost impenetrable wall when the Wildcats got into scoring territory.

Kearney, with a weight advantage of almost 10 pounds to a man, found Wayne's line tough to buck after the first quarter. Wayne, however, could not go through the heavier forward wall consistently enough to threaten seriously. Wayne's showing was regarded as highly satisfactory by those who saw the game. Sports critics attributed the difference in score largely to the weight difference.

SPORTS HEAD LAUDS HICKMAN'S COACHING

Says Wildcat Mentor Has Made Fine Squad of Material.

Lloyd S. "Buck" Hagan, sports editor of The Sioux City Tribune, was in Wayne Monday afternoon to inspect the Wayne Wildcat football team. He is making a tour of inspection which takes in schools all the way from Sioux City to Rapid City, S. D., and Helena, Mont.

Mr. Hagan was favorably impressed with the Wayne Normal squad of gridsters. He said, "For the size of the school and the amount of material Wayne has to draw from, that team is a crackerjack."

"Coach Hickman," said Mr. Hagan, "is doing remarkable work at your local college. Most people fail to realize that he does not have any large schools to draw his football players from. A great many college football coaches would refuse to work with the green material that Hickman is supposed to build into winning teams."

"It takes time," Mr. Hagan added, "to make a boy into a star football player. He must become so used to handling a football hat it is second nature to him. Coach Hickman doesn't get many boys that have had the finished high school coaching which gives poise on the gridiron." "He's a fine coach and a dandy fellow," Mr. Hagan concluded.

Local Fire Fighters Attending Convention

Harry Barnett and John Bingold are the only members of the Wayne fire fighting force attending the State Firemen's convention at Scottsbluff, Neb., this week. The convention started Monday and will last all this week.

Other members of the fire force who had planned to attend were detained by local duties.

The convention offers a school of instruction, demonstration of fire fighting methods, display of the newest equipment, and lectures by fire prevention authorities.

Mr. Barnett and Mr. Bingold are enrolled for the three day short course in fire prevention offered by the faculty of the University of Nebraska.

Howard Pays Visit to Democrat Office

Congressman Edgar Howard, candidate for re-election from this district and publisher of the Columbus Daily Telegram, was in Wayne Saturday morning visiting his numerous friends. He paid a visit to The Democrat office, but could not be induced to talk politics. "I get enough of that," he said, "giving four and five speeches a day."

He reached into his pocket and pulled out a handbill, giving his schedule. "See what a schedule they've mapped out for an old man," he said. "Yesterday I spoke to audiences for more than four hours. In between times I traveled a good many miles. But I'm healthy and I can stand it."

He showed an eager interest to talk of the newspaper business, and spoke fondly of his own newspaper.

When he left, one member of The Democrat force said, "I know now why he's a popular politician."

McGrath Speaks On Problems of Russia

Dr. L. P. McGrath, head of the commercial department of Wayne State Normal, spoke to the Kiwanis club at their regular weekly meeting Monday noon, Oct. 20.

Dr. McGrath devoted his talk to a discussion of the current economic situation in Russia. He had written his doctor's thesis on the subject, and consequently had a large store of information to draw from.

Arvid and Stanley Davis entertained with instrumental music, and were loudly applauded for their selections.

Pender Farmer Buys Quarter Section Farm

Otto Hellhold of Pender purchased the 160 acre farm of Mrs. A. A. Welch this last week. The sale is reported to have involved a sale price of $23,000.

Max Ash, the present tenant of the farm, has made arrangements to continue operation of the place for another year.

The sale was made by Martin L. Ringer.

Opera Group Pleases Crowd

New York Company Has Varied Repertoire of Selections.

"An Evening of Opera" was presented in the Wayne Normal auditorium Tuesday evening, Oct. 21, to an appreciative audience that seemed to be music hungry. The general consensus of opinion after the concert was that the desire to hear fine music had been well satisfied.

The company of five singers originated in New York and is making its present tour under the auspices of the National Music League. Members of the company are Sanford Schlusse, director and accompanist; Enzo Aita, tenor; Martino-Rossi, baritone; Louise Bernhardt, contralto; and Marie Tiffany, soprano.

The first half of the program was presented in concert form, with the artists in evening dress. The second half of the program brought the colorful costumes of the opera.

The program consisted entirely of grand opera selections, sung in the languages in which the various operas had been written. Selections were sung from Martha, Madam Butterfly, Elxir of Love, Andrea Chenier, Don Gioranni, Lucia di Lamermoor, I Pagliaci, Carmen, Force of Destiny, and Rigoletto.

The singers were greeted by the largest crowd of the current season, and took curtain call after curtain call from their enthralled listeners. It was necessary for the company to sing a number of encores.

Norfolk Automobile Hits Sheriff's Car

Sheriff A. W. Stephens' car, which was parked near the local passenger depot Monday night, got the worst of a one-sided combat with an automobile from Norfolk, Nebr.

The Norfolk car went to turn the corner and the driver saw that he was going to hit an automobile coming from the other direction. Mrs. Mata Soofeld, owner of the automobile, grabbed the steering wheel and turned the car into Sheriff Stephen's parked car.

The collision took a running board off the Sheriff's car and damaged the fenders. Mrs. Soofeld readily admitted that the accident was her fault and agreed to pay the damage.

WHAT HAPPENED TO MR. STEARNS? NOBODY KNOWS

Mr. Stearns, traveling representative of an Omaha newspaper, is very secretive about his accidents. He does not like to talk to newspaper reporters.

A report that a light colored car had been in an accident of some kind led the Democrat reporter to a local garage to investigate. Garage attendants pointed out the owner of the wrecked car.

"How do you do," the reporter said. "How do you do," the mysterious circulation man answered agreeably. "Stearns is my name."

"I'm from The Democrat office," the reporter said. "I understand you had a wreck Monday night and we'd like to carry a story on it."

At mention of newspaper stories, Mr. Stearns' attitude changed. "No, no," he said, "I don't want any stories in any newspapers about this. If it had been good luck, you could run it, but bad luck—no. This was bad luck."

After looking at the car, which had

Senator Norris to Speak Here

Will Be Accompanied By Attorney-General Sorenson

Senator Norris and Attorney-General Sorenson, republican candidates for re-election to their respective offices, will speak on the current political campaign in Wayne, next Tuesday evening, Oct. 23. The meeting will be held at the Crystal theatre, and will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

J. G. W. Lewis, chairman of the Wayne county republican central committee, says that the public is cordially invited to hear the speakers, and that there will be no admission charge.

The itinerary for Norris and Sorenson was arranged by the state republican central committee, and local arrangements were made by the county organization, of which Mr. Lewis is chairman and W. R. Ellis is secretary.

Since the speech comes only a week before election, local politicians are expecting considerable verbal fireworks.

Wayne High Meets South Sioux Friday

The Wayne high school football team will meet the fast South Sioux City grid warriors in a night battle tomorrow night, Oct. 24. The game will be played under the giant floodlights, and will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

Coach Holder has been getting his team back into shape after their unsuccessful invasion of Stanton last week, and hopes to put a rejuvenated lineup on the field for tomorrow night's fray.

South Sioux City, according to the local coach, always has a good football team, and he says that this year's squad is no exception. The South Sioux aggregation is reported to have been "pointing" for the Wayne game, so a hard tussle should result.

Baptist Minister Talks to High School Pupils

Rev. Wm. E. Braisted of the Baptist church spoke to an assembly at the college high school Wednesday morning, Oct. 22, on "Habits."

He told the students that we do not have habits. "Quite to the contrary," he said, "habits have us. They hold us in their grip when we think we are holding them."

He explained the derivation of the word, "habit," to the students, showing them that it came from the Latin, "it holds."

Rev. Braisted dwelt on the difference between good habits and bad ones, and spoke of the ease with which bad habits could be acquired and the difficulty in getting rid of them.

He illustrated his talk with humorous anecdotes and was enthusiastically received by his audience.

Local Dead-Eyes Out for Pheasants

Johnny, get your gun! No, it's not another war, but the pheasant-hunting season has opened in Wayne county. From today until the end of the month, the would-be crack-shots of the county can blaze away at the pheasants to their hearts' content.

Wayne is undoubtedly in for a week of allis and pheasant meat. Ross F. Jacobs, the genial printer at The Democrat office, has already amended his somewhat optimistic statement as to the number of birds he is going to bag with "If I get close enough to them to get a shot at them."

Local sharpshooters are apt to find hunting grounds somewhat scarce, since The Democrat has printed 4,000 "No Hunting" signs. The signs were distributed to farmers free of charge, through the courtesy of The Democrat and Wayne sportsmen.

Farmers from Madison and Cedar counties have come to Wayne to take advantage of the free sign offer, and all have expressed their appreciation of the service. Local business men say that the distribution of the signs was a splendid business builder, bringing new customers into their stores.

WILDCATS MEET CHADRON GRIDMEN

Locals to Do Battle With Western Nebraskans Tomorrow.

The Wayne Wildcats will tangle with Chadron Friday night, Oct. 24, in a football game that should bring out the fastest fireworks both teams have to offer. The game will be played at Chadron, and will start at 8:00 o'clock.

Coach Hickman is far from satisfied with the performance of his team this week, and is working his squad hard in an attempt to administer a beating to the Chadron aggregation.

Dennis and Copeland have showed up consistently well in practice all week, and the brunt of the ball toting for the Wayne men is expected to fall on these two.

Radio Contest Results to Be Issued Sunday

Results of the Atwater-Kent state radio audition contest in which Gretchen Teckhaus and Frederick Berry, local young people and students at Wayne State Normal, took part, will not be made public until Sunday, Oct. 26.

Many Wayne people listened in to Station WOW Saturday and Sunday afternoons, to hear the Wayne entries. Although the names of the singers were not announced, local folks are sure that they identified Miss Teckhaus' and Mr. Berry's selections.

40 singers, between the ages of 18 and 25, representing every part of the state, participated in the contest to see who would represent Nebraska in the district championship to be held in Chicago over radio station WGN, Nov. 16.

Winners of first place in the national contest will receive $5,000 and two years tuition in an American conservatory.

Votes of radio listeners count 40 per cent and the judges' ballots count 60 per cent in determining the Omaha winners.

A theater party was held Saturday night for all contestants.

Couple Wed 43 Years Honored at Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Orr entertained at a family dinner Sunday in honor of Mrs. Orr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Kostomlatsky of Omaha, the occasion being their 43rd wedding anniversary, and in honor of Mr. Orr's father, Wm. Orr, the occasion being his birthday. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Kostomlatsky of Sioux City.

Thieves Enter Winside Garage Saturday Night

Take Garage Man's License Plates, $35 00, and Revolvers.

Thieves late Saturday night broke into the garage building of the Gordon Motor company at Winside, Nebr.

They took $35 in change that had been left in the building at the close of Saturday's business. In addition to the money they appropriated the dealers' number license plates off of the cars in the garage and stole two revolvers.

Papers and books belonging to the firm were strewn over the floor.

The robbery was reported to Sheriff A. W. Stephens, who went to Winside Sunday to investigate the theft. Furniture in the building was being left untouched until a fingerprint expert could examine it for possible clues.

Wayne Barbers Hold Banquet at Hartington

Members of the Wayne chapter of Associated Master Barbers of America, barbers of northeast Nebraska, and their wives, numbering about 40, attended the annual banquet of the Wayne chapter Tuesday night, Oct. 21, at Hartington. The meeting was held at the Hartington hotel.

Henry Meadows of Fremont, president of the Nebraska master barber group, spoke on "Legislation and Organization." He stressed the fact that the tonsorial artists should be organized thoroughly in order to accomplish anything.

Will O'Gara of Laurel, Cedar county state representative, spoke on "Legislation—How to get it and how to keep it."

Henry J. Walker of Lincoln, examiner of the Nebraska state barber board, spoke on "Cooperation through the state barber board."

Gus Peterson of Fremont, secretary and treasurer of the Nebraska association, spoke on the ethics of the barber shop. Another talk was given by Miss Baker, state cosmetologist inspector.

C. S. Melvin of Coleridge acted as toastmaster.

W. A. Kuhlman of Belden, president of the Wayne group, had appointed a committee consisting of Otto Christiansen, E. T. Stonebaugh and H. A. Bachus, all of Hartington, to have charge of the meeting.

Dancing occupied the hours after the banquet.

This was the second annual affair staged by the Wayne group.

The Inquiring Reporter

(Every week a Democrat reporter will ask a question of five people, picked at random. If there's any question you would like to have asked, let us know about it.)

This Week's Question
Do you approve of the open season on pheasants?

1. D. H. Lueker, farmer, Winside: "No. They aren't plentiful enough yet. The farmers raised them and should have some say-so about shooting them. Hunters not only kill the cock pheasants, but they cripple a lot of the hens."
2. Burl Craig, farmer, 5 miles northwest of Wayne: "Yes. They are getting too numerous and destroy too much corn, especially the young corn."

3. W. M. Nichols, farmer, six miles north and four miles west of Wayne: "No. The season is too long, and hunter's will kill all the pheasants off."

4. George Huffman, farmer, six miles northwest of Wayne: "It doesn't make any difference whether I approve or not. We're going to have an open season. There seem to be plenty of pheasants though, so I guess it's all right."

5. J. L. Kelley, farmer, two and a half miles northwest of Wayne: "Yes. The open season is all right for a while. Pheasants are getting to be kind of a nuisance."

STANTON WINS FROM WAYNE HIGH, 7 to 0
Penalty in Third Quarter Loses Game for Local Football Team.

A fighting Stanton high school football team took a 7 to 0 victory from a fighting Wayne high school team last Friday, but only as a result of a 15 yard penalty at an inopportune time for the Wayne gridsters.

Both teams played on even terms in the first half, with neither team threatening seriously to score.

PENALTY FOR TALKING
In the third quarter Stanton had worked down the field to the 14 yard line when Coach Ray Holder sent in a substitute to bolster up the line. On the next play Wayne was penalized 15 yards under the ruling that says a substitute may not talk to his teammates until after he has been in the game for one play.

Since the ball cannot be put across the goal line on a penalty, it was put on the one yard line, giving Stanton first down and a yard to go.

They put the ball across, made a successful kick for point after touch-down, and that tells the story of the difference in score in an otherwise close and hard-fought battle.

LOCALS OUT WEIGHED
The Stanton lineup outweighed the locals about five pounds to the man, but the Wayne aggregation experienced little difficulty in holding them back at the crucial moments. Without the one break in Stanton's favor, the game should have been a scoreless tie.

A terrific wind kept both teams from resorting to an aerial attack, although in the fourth quarter, with the gale to their advantage, Wayne did try a few forward passes in a desperate attempt to even the score.

Both teams resorted largely to straight football for making their longest gains.

LIVE STOCK NEWS

VACCINATION OF PIGS PAYS WELL

North Dakota Expert Says It Is Good Business.

Many farmers are wondering whether hog vaccination is necessary or worth the expense.

Dr. G. S. Weaver, extension specialist in animal disease at South Dakota state college, believes that it is good business management to vaccinate the pigs.

Considering the number of outbreaks of cholera at the present time, there seems to be plenty of chance for exposure, he says. Probably fewer older hogs are now immune than for several years, which would mean a more serious outbreak if the disease gets a real start.

The best time to vaccinate is when the pigs average about 40 pounds in weight, or when they are about eight weeks old. It costs less to vaccinate pigs of this size than it does older hogs, and the pigs are easier handled. They are just about the right age to insure a permanent immunity. In case a pig dies after treatment the loss is not great at this age.

Successful vaccination depends on the thriftiness of the pigs, the efficiency of the operator and the sanitary conditions. Pigs that are affected with "necro" or infested with worms will not get along as well after vaccination as thrifty pigs. The man who puts in the serum should know his business and as a general rule the veterinarian is best qualified. Pigs that are kept in dirty pens and lots cannot be expected to do as well after vaccination, since unsanitary conditions help them lose their resistance. A thrifty pig properly vaccinated will do well after vaccination if kept in a clean pen and fed on a light diet.

Use Creosoted Planks for Hog House Floor

If at all possible, either pressure or tank creosoted lumber should be used for the sills and floor of a hog house, because it will last several times as long in contact with the ground, is immune against damage from termites or white ants, and the creosote discourages the harboring of lice and mites. Individual and colony hog houses made entirely of creosoted lumber are now on the market at prices probably below what the farmer can buy lumber for and build them himself, while in other cases the sills and floor boards are creosoted and the rest heavily painted.

In some localities pressure creosoted lumber is available, or the farmer can cut his lumber ready to put together and then creosote by the tank method, using a long galvanized tank. If neither of these seem practicable, several heavy brush coats of creosote just before the parts are put together will help a great deal to prolong the service obtained.

SENTIMENT or SENSE

The appeal to trade with a certain individual because "he's a good fellow" or because he has a big store" is based more upon sentiment than logic.

Although fairminded people are not greatly concerned with the many and sundry woes of merchants, everyone is interested and entitled to know how any merchant stands with regard to matters which affect the customers' welfare.

The question of "how big is a store" or "how much does it charge?" can hardly determine whether it is a MERIT store. That is determined, regardless of other conditions, solely by the manner in which it serves its customer and its community.

Merchants who are devoted to the cause of better community service have no time to quarrel with competition. In fact, they welcome it, recognizing in fair and upright competition a spur and incentive to more efficiency, better methods and greater alertness to the interest of customers.

Such men are MERIT Merchants.

The merchant who falls short when measured with the yardstick of public service will gradually but surely fade from the picture.

The great buying public will be jury and judge of "Who are MERIT Merchants?" Their decision will stand.

EXPECTANCY

The citizen who fails to support home industry has no right whatsoever to expect anything back from his community.

The man who lives out of a mail order catalogue or commutes between Wayne and nearby cities can lay no claim on the loyalty of his neighbors. He is not furthering the progress of his home town in any way.

The funny part of it is that the person who does the least usually expects the most. The sideline hawker, the blue-nosed pessimist who stands on the outskirts of activity and yowls about general conditions, the drone bee who would drive 50 miles to save two cents on a can of corn, the kibitzer who can tell everyone else how to run their business, the fellow whose bill-fold has moths in it, the man who wouldn't contribute a dime to local organizations if he could get by with spending a nickel, —he's the bird who sets up the loudest yell about not getting the support he deserves from the community.

He is getting what he deserves. Perhaps a little more.

The sooner he learns that it is the home town folks on whom he must rely for his bread and butter and his security and happiness, the better off he's going to be.

ANENT ELECTIONS

Who will be elected to the county offices in Wayne county? Frankly, we don't know, but we have confidence in the voting public of this community to elect the best material available.

Of course, in many cases, it's going to be a hard job to select between two sterling candidates. That will be a "You pays your money and you takes your choice" proposition. In other cases, unfortunately, the difference is more obvious.

At any rate, all of the candidates have been residents of Wayne county long enough to know what Wayne county wants in the way of administration. We believe that they will try to give it to you.

In our estimation, the man who lets party affiliation have anything to do with the county elections is using pretty bad judgement. Bear in mind that you are electing office-holders, and office-holders whose conduct is mighty important to you. Once a man or woman has been put into office, the fact that he or she is a democrat or a republican is not going to make one iota of difference.

And of course, no matter how you vote, be sure to vote. That is the discharge of a moral duty.

A BRIGHT SPOT

As election time nears, the avalance of Hitchcock sentiment grows. It is our prediction that it will go on and on until in a gigantic rush it will sweep him into office.

Time was, not so many years ago, when Mr. Hitchcock would have been severely handicapped by the fact that he was a democrat. But party lines, happily, seem to be getting dimmer and dimmer as each year rolls by.

The Nebraska public, strange and unbelievable as it may seem, has evidently decided to elect a man on merit and not on his party affiliation.

Thoughtful republicans throughout the state have analyzed the candidates for office and have decided to cast their votes for Hitchcock. We believe that if Mr. Hitchcock happened to be a republican, just as many democrats would vote for him. Of course, there are a few hide-bound members of both parties that would vote for a mechanical doll if it happened to be on their ticket.

But the fact that Hitchcock is receiving such splendid support augures well for the future of the state, just the same.

"NEGRO LYNCHED BY MOB"

"Atlanta, Ga. Oct. 8 (AP)—A negro, held in the city jail on a robbery charge, was lynched by a mob of 500 masked citizens last night."

The age of civilization is here. "Kill the nigger. String him up. He oughta be hung."

"In the United States," said Chief Justice Taft, "more than any place in the world, may the lower classes secure justice."

Justice? Bah! Justice with ignorant mobs of hoodlums driven by moron leaders. Blind justice.

"All right, nigger. We've come for yuh. Gonna take you for a nice long ride, and you ain't comin' back. We'll teach you a lesson."

"But I tell you, boss, I ain't done nothin'. Ah didn't steal nothin'. De lawyer man says he get me out of jail in no time."

"No lawyer gonna get you out of jail, nigger. Come along."

A clear, moonlight night. A circle of trees, from one of which a rope is hung.

"Lohd, Lohd, have mercy on this poh, old niggah's soul."

Eli Eli, why hast thou forsaken me?

He swings . . . and a quite voice come out of Galilee, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

THE DEFENDER OF JUSTICE

And now Clarence Darrow has come to the aid of the organized crime racketeers in Chicago.

What a fine record of public service the eminent barrister has. It will be remembered that Darrow, more than any other one person, was instrumental in keeping Leopold and Loeb from going to the electric chair.

Last week Clarence Darrow appeared as counsel for Red Barker and Three-fingered Jack White, both listed on the Secret Six roll of Chicago's public enemies.

Darrow told horrified judge Lyle, "If the authorities wish to harrass the lawless they should do it legally. There is no such charge in law as a 'Public Enemy.' The vagrancy law provides for a release under $100 bond, yet men are being made to furnish $10,000 bonds."

So Clarence Darrow, who must in his mind feel a deep contempt for those who let him get away with such rot, is causing considerable unrest in the courts of Chicago.

How does he put it over? Isn't it about time for somebody to explode the Darrow myth and show him up as the mercenary, criminal-minded, anti-social menace to America that he is?

"WHAT CAUSES THAT?"

During the month of September the price of wheat for near delivery in Chicago declined about five cents a bushel. In the last year the decline has amounted to about 50 cents a bushel.

If we assume, for the sake of argument, that the decline for September was due entirely to Russian short selling in Chicago and Russian dumping of wheat in Western Europe, we still have a drop of 45 cents in the past year to account for.

In the words of Moran and Mack, the "two black crows," we might ask, "what causes that?" No answer seems to be forthcoming.

THE VANISHING AMERICAN

The Indian goes. According to the annual report of the United States commissioner of Indian affairs there were only 4,337 Indians in Nebraska in 1929. All numbered in the count were wards of the government, maintained at the Winnebago agency and the subagencies at Ponca and Santee.

Of the motley population that once hunted the plains of Nebraska, most of the tribes have vanished. The Omahas, Winnebagos and Sioux are about all that remain.

The advance of civilization has almost wiped out the last remains of an earlier, more picturesque day.

SCOTT SHOTS

by

"SCOTTY"

Howdy, folks!

It's a tough life. In San Francisco, Robert Ralls wanted a job, so he ran an ad in a newspaper offering to do "anything within the law, regardless of risk". The ad was answered by:

- (1) A husband who wanted Ralls to woo his wife so he could divorce her.
- (2) A bootlegger who wanted a gunman bodyguard.
- (3) A husband who offered $5,000 to have his wife killed.

Electioneering is a tough racket. At Franklin, N. C., Bert Slagle and Sam Franks were democratic and republican candidates for sheriff. Slagle chopped wood an hour for a woman constituent and sat down to rest. The woman said, "I hardly know you to vote for. Both you and Mr. Franks have been so nice. Why, right now Mr. Franks is out on the back porch churning."

These are the days of flag-pole sitting contests, marathon dances, pee-wee golf courses, midget automobiles, gum chewing contests, true confession magazines, tabloid newspapers, yo-yo tops, pogo sticks, and airplane refueling events.

Let's have a race pushing peanuts down the sidewalk with our noses.

Some political speeches recall to mind the colored porter who said, "I dunno who dat fellow is, but de gemain sho'ly do recommend hisself ve'y highly."

Mrs. Emma Huff, 57, was granted a divorce from Andrew S. Huff, 84, at Kansas City, Mo., because he would not dance or play bridge.

With the pheasant hunting season opening up today, it looks as if every farmer in the county had posted "No Hunting" signs. That's what we get for giving the signs out free. Maybe if they'd had to pay for the signs, some of the boys wouldn't have put 'em up. With all those signs out, the fellow who can't read is going to get the breaks.

The pheasants, according to an official game report, eat about 100 different kinds of worms. Of course, they eat seed, too, but they aren't as much of a pest as some folks think.

For no reason at all, that reminds me of the school teacher who was telling the children about robins.

"Of course," she said, "the robins do eat a few cherries and other fruit, but they also eat the bad, destructive worms. Now, Johnnie, which would you rather have, the robins or worms?"

Johnnie replied, "I dunno, teacher. I never had robins."

None of which is educational or instructive.

However, if you think it's easy to write a column of anything, good or bad, just sit down to a typewriter and try it once. You'll probably do a better job than this, at that.

For today's "what of it" prize, we nominate the prize fight industry. Whatever patronage it ever merited, if any, is no longer justified, in view of all the recent ring fiascos. The public seems to be waking up to the fact that all the promoters are interested in is getting their money. The fighter's interest never has extended much beyond the signing of the contracts.

The University of Nebraska is having considerable discussion as to whether or not girls' smoking rooms should be furnished in sorority houses. That is a serious problem, and just naturally puts November 4th politics, the Smoot-Hawley tariff, Bellonte and Coste's trans-Atlantic fight, and the Russian situation clear into the background.

Personally, we think if they'd make every co-ed smoke one good strong five-cent cigar, the whole problem would be done away with.

Back in the halcyon days of our youth, the university of Iowa—a-hem—did have a girl's smoking room in the journalism building. It was never patronized much, though, once the novelty wore off, because men weren't permitted to enter the room. About all most of the girls smoked for was to attract attention.

What the University of Nebraska needs most isn't women's smoking rooms, but a football team that can beat Oklahoma.

Speaking of football teams, it's our opinion that the Wayne Wildcats are one. They're a good, rugged, tricky bunch of quick-witted fighters, and that's about the best thing you can say about any football team.

We wonder if football, with its monster crowds, its big business management, and its play-to-win attitude is as great a game as it used to be. Somehow, it looks of late as if the interest is more in the gate receipts than in the game itself.

We know for a fact that players in large universities undergo mental and physical tortures that they will never be able to overcome. Although it was never made public, a friend of the writer's played his last year of collegiate football in such a physical condition that he will never be the same again.

The medical supervisor of athletics knew of his condition and not only permitted but encouraged him to go on. He was doctored up for each game. You see, he was the big box-office attraction of that particular team and he meant money in the cash register.

That particular football player was no different from numerous others. The fellow I happen to have reference to was Nicholas "Cowboy" Kutsch.

People of Wayne can be thankful that football has not reached the "big business" stage at the college. Up there, the game's the thing, and opponents are scheduled for the kind of a fight they can give the Wildcats, not the amount of money they will bring in at the box-office.

And the Wildcats, incidentally, are not afraid to lose a game. When they do lose, they do it with heads up, "bloody, but unbowed." And that's the way they should lose, because they have nothing to be ashamed of.

Any team that does its best is worthy of praise, and we thoroughly believe that the Wildcat team is trying all the time.

That Morningside defeat, early in the season, would have knocked a lot of teams out, right at the start. What did it do to the Wildcats? They came back the next week and beat Midland 32 to 0. Give the boys a hand.

The Book Box

By far the finest book in the box this week is "King Mob," by "Frank K. Notch," (a pseudonym). The book is published by Harcourt, Brace, and sells for $2.

The publishers say that the author is "an experienced writer." The reader needs no assurance of this other than the author's own work. From start to finish, "King Mob" reveals the skilled hand of a literary craftsman.

He has, has Frank K. Notch, the style of a scholar who is also a man of the world.

The modern mob, according to the writer, includes about nine-tenths of society. He says modern civilization is controlled by the spirit of the mob, which is defined as a "group of persons unable to think straight because they are affected by the consciousness of their own numbers."

Catering to the mob tendency, according to Mr. Notch, are the book clubs, such publishers as Simon and Schuster, such popularizers as Durant and Van Loon. The public is constantly being panicked by the number of sales into an acceptance of mediocre work. Here is a book that will make you think.

"This Pure Young Man", a novel by Irving Fineman, won the Longmans, Green competition and $7,500. It sells for $2.

Don't expect the title to be an ironic one, because it isn't. Roger, the drab hero of the story, is a pure young man. He's an invert or a prig, to boot. He's afraid of women. He's never quite successful.

Harry is a go-getter. And Harry finally gets everything that Roger had always wanted. The author evidently expects us to feel sorry about it, but here's one reader that clapped his hands at the finish. We confess a failure to see what all the shouting was about.

Grock, the famous clown, has written his autobiography. It is to be published in Germany and an English translation will follow. The story will be one of the circus lot.

We'll bet that Wayne's own Walter Savidge could write a terrifically interesting book of memories on twenty-five years in the show business. His knowledge of mid-western, and especially Nebraskan, show folks should be second to no one's.

Why don't some of you readers send in a book review once in a while? Do you want us to do ALL the work?

Couple Wed 25 Years Are Given A Surprise

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Harder were right heartily surprised at about midnight Saturday night when about 50 of their neighbors and relatives came to their farm home north of Wayne unawares and reminded them of the near approaching 25th wedding anniversary which was on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Harder had just arrived home from town a little while before the merry-makers put in their appearance.

The guests brought a well filled basket of food and served a luncheon. A social time was enjoyed, there being a mock wedding, games, cards, and a general good time. Many beautiful gifts were left as remembrances.

Realizing that the honored guests were suspicious of an impending surprise sometime Sunday or Sunday evening, the self invited guests put the surprise at the forgoing untimely hour which proved to be the really psychological moment for such a prank.

Wise Farmers-Raising

Colts Well for Future

Since farmers are not raising half enough colts to take care of their future needs, it is wise to grow what are raised, well. The colts should be fed in addition to the mother's milk. When three or four weeks old, the youngster will start nibbling grain from the mother's feed box. In a little while it will take grain from its own box. Increase the allowance to take care of what the colt eats.

Then exercise the youngster. Let him run with the mare at night in the pasture or with other colts during the day when the mothers are at work. Do not allow it to follow the mare through the day when she is at work as the colt then gets more exercise than it should have.

Live Stock Facts

Before winter sets on in earnest disinfect the quarters for swine.

The farmer with live stock is a manufacturer as well as a producer of raw materials.

A cheap bull is about the most expensive investment a live stock man can make.

The thrifty animals of whatever kind appeal to buyers and always at a better price.

Smaller amounts of feed are required for a pound of gain when pigs grow rapidly than when development is slower. Putting pigs on full feed early is a profitable practice.

Rape, because of its high protein content, is a desirable crop to be sown with corn that is to be used for hogging-off or sheeping-down.

Alfalfa pasture and shelled corn proved a better fattening ration for helters in Nebraska tests last year than did alfalfa hay and corn.

Lime-sulphur dip is effective against hog mange. It is more effective when warm. It can be bought already mixed and it is only necessary to follow directions on the container.

Farm Report Shows

More Hog Cholera

Hog cholera was more prevalent in Nebraska Sept. 1 of this year than a year ago, according to the United States department of agriculture. The disease is appearing in a more virulent form, the department reports.

Hog owners are urged to watch their herds carefully, and to remember that immunization is the only means of preventing the disease. The treatment will prevent the cholera, but will not cure it.

ONE THING LEADS TO ANOTHER

Laurel—Girl ran to catch companions—fell and broke arm—sister fainted and ten sheep killed—and so goes the story of a series of incidents that followed each other in quick succession Tuesday last week.

Miss Frances Updoyke, student in the schools here, started running to catch two companions to attend the football game. In so doing she stumbled and fell breaking both bones of one of her arms just above the wrist. Her companions, Mildred Bessire and Genevieve Alderman got her to a doctor and her sister, Iris, who was already at the game, was called to assist in taking care of her while her arm was being set. But Iris fainted at sight of the injury so another sister, Mrs. Kenneth Most, was called. Mrs. Most started for town post haste. Enroute she met a bunch of sheep and killed ten of them and crippled some others before she could stop. However, she arrived in time to assist in caring for the injury and the wrist was mended.

Mildred lost her wrist watch in the mixup. However the fracture was reduced and Frances is getting along nicely.

Bulletin Gives Law on Pheasant Hunting

The Democrat is in receipt of five copies of the 1930-31 Game Laws bulletin, sent by this office for the use of hunters by Congressman Edgar Howard. Anyone may have a copy for the asking.

Says Fall Plowing Makes Better Land

T. G. Stewart, extension agronomist of Colorado Agricultural college says that land plowed in the fall is more productive than land plowed in the spring because there is more plant food made available for plant growth. Plant food, he says, is due to changes, decay and disintegration which goes on in the soil. Soil activity which releases plant food is hastened by freezing and thawing and introducing air into the soil by plowing.

If these forces have six months in which to work, more plant food material will be made available than in two months time, according to Mr. Stewart.

Regarding pheasant hunting, the bulletin says: "Upon written request from any county the commission may declare an open season on pheasants in such county for 15 days or less between Sept. 16 and Dec. 31."

The bag limit on pheasants is five a day, of which only one may be a hen.

When a fellow needs his friends

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Chace left Tuesday morning for San Diego, California, to spend the winter. The weather jinx seems to be after Mr. and Mrs. Chace as they have been caught in a Nebraska storm or cold snap every time they have left for California to spend the winter.

F. E. Gamble's sister, Mrs. A. F. Ernst, of Omaha who has been ill for some time and who underwent a serious operation at the M. E. hospital at Omaha about ten days ago is improving. ## Untainted Milk Gives Finer Dairy Products

Dairy products of high quality are in demand more and more every year. The public has come to recognize that there is a vast difference in milk and cream products. Food with a tainted taste or a bad smell is pushed aside by the consumer in favor of pleasing, palatable viands.

Dairy products are sometimes spoiled by dirt and filth that falls off the sow into the milk pail while the milking is being done. The dirt can be strained out, but the bad taste is apt to remain.

Dairymen who get the highest prices for their milk are solving this problem by clipping the long hair on the right hind leg, flank and udder of the cow, where the dirt usually sticks. Any dirt that does fall is caught on a hood which is kept over the top of the milk pail.

Some feeds, such as turnips, onions and weeds give undesirable flavors to milk. Obviously, the way to get away from that problem is to keep such feeds away from the cows.

Milk which has been kept covered as much as possible and kept in a temperature below 55 degrees is apt to be better milk. High quality dairy products increase the demand, raise the price, and add to the profits.

COLLEGE HIGH WINS FROM WISNER, 46-0

Locals Have No Difficulty in Defeating Heavier Aggregation

The Wayne college high school football team rode roughshod over the Wisner aggregation last Friday night, smothering them under a 46 to 0 score. The game was a one sided affair from start to finish, with the Wisner team never coming close to a threat.

The outstanding feature of the game was the interference of the Wayne team. The line functioned beautifully, and every man seemed to be taking out his opponent on every play. The backs stayed behind their interference and made the team work like a fine machine.

Wisner experienced considerable difficulty in stopping the reverse plays of the Wayne gridsters. In fact, they never did solve the mystery.

The Wisner team outweighed the locals considerably, but weight was of little use. Most of the men on their squad were beginners and lacked the experience to cope with fast play.

The outstanding performances of the Wayne squad were given by Bobbie Theobald, Delmar Fitch, Kenneth Johnson and Forrest Ingwerson. Wisner's captain stellar football for that team.

Mr. C. F. Redlich says: The "Perfect Retention Shields" hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief and contract the opening in a remarkably short time.

The secret of their success is in their simplicity. An expertly adjusted device seals the opening without discomfort or detention from work. It is practically everlasting, sanitary, comfortable and actually holds ruptures which heretofore were considered uncontrollable.

Stomach troubles, backache and constipation, nearly always a consequence of rupture, promptly disappear.

Corn Picking Time Brings Job Hunters

Corn husking time is here. Although some of the early birds have as high as 1500 bushels already taken care of, the real husking activity got under way Monday morning of this week.

Itinerant laborers, here in the hope of getting work during the husking season, have found jobs scarcer than in past years, due to the fact that the husking-picking machines are more popular this year than ever before.

The two row machine, many farmers say, has proven entirely practical, and does the job cheaply and efficiently. The price for machine husking seems to be at about a low of five cents per bushel. Laborers are getting all the way from that price to eight cents per bushel, plus board and lodging.

Some farmers contend that not all of the corn is ready to be picked. One local farmer reported that there were a number of green ears in his field.

TO GET RID OF RATS

Wh. H. Sharer, well known popcorn dealer here, suggests the following recipe for the eradication of rats:

Crush a quantity of glass and sift over a screen or fine sieve of some kind so as to get only the fine glass (powdered). Then either bake into biscuit or moisten about four to six quarts of popped popcorn and mix in about a tea cup full of the powdered glass. Put in some place where nothing but the rats will get it and it will not be long before the rats will be gotten rid of.

Live Stock Facts

The only sure way to kill lice and ticks on sheep is to dip each animal in one of the standard dip solutions.

Cattle for experimental feeding at the Iowa State college are generally purchased in the fall or early winter months. They are usually fed about 180 days.

It is estimated that hog cholera is responsible for the death of about 8,000,000 hogs a year. This year the situation is particularly acute on account of the smaller number of hogs which have been vaccinated.

Mange usually starts around the head or nose but soon spreads over the sides and finally over the entire hog.

Farm management records show that the amount of live stock per farm is one of the important factors in determining farm profits.

Pigs make the most economical gains while they are growing rapidly, and consequently require more feed to produce 100 pounds gain as they become more mature.

FARM STOCK

FARMERS SAVE BY BUTCHERING HOGS

Every Step Explained in Detail by an Expert.

Every step in butchering hogs on the farm is explained in detail and illustrated in pictures in a recently issued bulletin by Fred H. Leinbach, assistant professor of animal husbandry at the Colorado Agricultural college. Farmers can save the butcher's profit and the cost of butchering, cutting and curing by doing the work themselves, it is pointed out. Two men can easily kill and dress six medium-sized hogs in a half day, it is stated.

Among the various topics discussed in the bulletin, are: Necessary tools and equipment, which need not be expensive or elaborate; methods of killing, sticking, scalding, hanging the carcass, opening the carcass, splitting, chilling, cutting, rendering lard, curing, sweet pickle or brine-cured pork, smoking and storing.

Pictures in the bulletin illustrate clearly the method of sticking, the cooled carcass ready to be trimmed, separating the head at the atlas joint, separating the ham from the carcass, removing the shoulder, separating the loin and side meat, the five main cuts from each half of the carcass, removing the neck bone from the shoulder, separating the Boston butt from the shoulder proper, trimming the shoulder, trimming the ham and the ham trimmed and ready for curing.

Copies of the bulletin will be sent to anyone interested. Requests should be made for Bulletin 283-A, "Farm Butchering of Hogs," and should be sent to the college extension service.

When to Feed Wheat to Various Farm Animals

Stock farmers who grow wheat are often tempted to feed at least a part of the crop, especially in years when the price of wheat is low. This brings up the question of just how low the price of wheat must go to make it advisable to feed the crop rather than to sell it upon the world market. Ordinarily, the practice is to sell wheat and, if necessary, especially in the feeding of hogs, to purchase corn with a part of the money. This is due to the fact that the price of corn per bushel is usually not over two-thirds of the price of wheat per bushel. But some years large crops of wheat, or less than average crops of corn, bring about a situation in which the price of wheat and the price of corn are quite close together. It is impossible to avoid such situations occasionally; the reasons are entirely outside the control of the individual farmer. In 1919 there were about 75 million acres of land in the United States growing wheat. By the year 1924 but 50 million acres were seeded to wheat. On top of this fluctuation in acreage for the United States we have a fluctuation in average yields of about 25 per cent.

Mange Cutting Profits From Pork Producers

South Dakota authorities estimate that one-fifth of all the hogs put on the market are infested with mange. This materially reduces prices because first-class hams cannot be cut from mangy hogs. Mange is caused by a mite which bores holes in the skin. A new generation appears about every 12 to 14 days and each female lays from 10 to 25 eggs. The best treatment is to dip with a thick oil that will not run off quickly. This will kill all the live mites. Treatment should be repeated in about 12 to 14 days in order to kill all of the mites that have hatched in the meantime. A warm lime sulphur dip is also effective.

"Ball and Powder" Revolver On Display

A rusty old revolver of the "ball and powder" type is on display at the Hiscox Hardware store this week. People who have seen the ancient weapon estimate that it is from 75, to 85 years old.

The gun was picked up by Clyde Oman on the Oregon Trail in Cheyenne county last summer. People in that section of the state urged him to send the gun to the state museum at Lincoln. Mr. Oman, however, has not decided yet what he will do with the gun. The numbers have been sent in to the factory, and efforts are being made to find out exactly how old the weapon really is. Ads are news. Read The Democrat ads thoroughly.
