

Pioneer Wayne Man's Funeral Held Saturday

Rites for S. R. Theobald, One of Wayne Normal School Organizers.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Nov. 1, at 10 a. m. in the Beckenhauer funeral chapel for S. R. Theobald.

Samuel R. Theobald was born in Toronto, Canada, on February 3, 1858. His parents took him to England while he was still an infant, and he lived in that country until he was 17 years old. He then came with his parents to America and located in Illinois, where he lived until he was about 20.

From Illinois, he moved to Palmyra, Nebr., where he was married to Josephine Gooding on April 26, 1883. He lived at Palmyra for two years and then moved to Valley county, where he homesteaded for five years.

Mr. Theobald came to Wayne in 1889 and was a merchant here until 1925.

He cooperated in the organization of the Wayne Normal school and served as a director of that institution for a number of years. He also served on the city school board and the library board.

He was a member of the Woodman lodge.

Mr. Theobald became a member of the First Baptist church in 1896 and was an active, faithful member.

Two children were born to the family, a daughter, Monte, and a son, Perry. He had three grandchildren, Robert Hallam, and Marion J. and Robert Theobald. He was the oldest of a family of five boys and survived by three, C. F. and H. J. of Lincoln, and W. H. of Wayne. He was preceded in death by the brother Walter.

Mr. Theobald had many loyal friends who loved and respected him, and his passing will be regretted by the community.

WAYNE HIGH TAKES PIERCE TEAM, 18-0

Locals Easy Win Is First Defeat of Season for Rivals

Wayne high school's football team journeyed to Pierce Monday afternoon of this week and came back home with an 18 to 0 victory tucked away under their belts. Their win was noteworthy in that it was Pierce's first defeat of the year.

Wayne's supremacy over the Pierce grid-ers was unquestionable, as shown by statistics of the game.

Wayne made 75 yards from scrimmage and Pierce made 63 yards. Pierce made 15 yards from two completed forward passes out of six attempts. Wayne made 80 yards from two completed forward passes out of three attempts.

Wayne made 24 first downs and Pierce made six.

The only penalties were two taxed against Wayne for offside.

A 35 yard end run by Hughes in the first quarter was responsible for Wayne's first marker. In the second quarter Hughes intercepted a Pierce pass and went 60 yards for another touchdown. In the third quarter a forward pass, Sund to Simmerman, was good for 60 yards and Hendrickson took the ball across on the next play with a five yard center smash.

No scores were made in the final quarter.

King of Norfolk was referee and Strahan of Wayne was umpire.

Wayne People Attend Nebraska Grid Game

A number of Wayne citizens attended the Nebraska-Pittsburgh football game at Lincoln last Saturday and reported that the game was an unusually exciting one. The crowd of about 80,000 according to those who attended, was nearly as interesting as the game.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Craven, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mines, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Cavanaugh, all of Wayne, and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hahn of Randolph were among those present at the major sports event.

Yultide Shoppers Start Pondering

The "Do your Christmas shopping early" campaign is already under way! Mother has already started wondering about what to give Dad and Dad has not the faintest idea of what he's going to give the family for Christmas. Brother Bill is in a quandary over what to give the best girl, and sister Sue just can't decide what the best boy friend should have. The whole family have their eyes on the lookout for suitable suggestions.

Christmas is coming!

Here in Wayne several enterprising business men already have window displays suggestive of the holiday season. Every Wayne merchant is expecting his Christmas stock in before long.

Wayne merchants say that those who buy early will get the best values and the most desirable purchases, since later on in the season the stocks will have been picked over.

"With prices lower than ever before and a wide range of gifts to select from, there is no reason in the world why anyone should go out of town to do his trading," said one business man.

SPEAKER TALKS ON BUSINESS IN PARIS

Says Industry in French Metropolis Highly Specialized.

Margaret Schemel spoke to the Wayne Kiwanis club at their regular meeting Monday noon, using her recent European trip for the subject matter of her talk.

Miss Schemel dwelt for the greater part of her time on the city of Paris, and particularly on business methods of the French metropolis.

She said that the buildings in the business district of Paris are not of the skyscraper type common to America, and that none of the buildings were over nine stories tall.

Paris is a city of business specialization, according to Miss Schemel, and patrons buy their shoes in one store, hats in another, and gloves in still another place of business. The highly specialized method of doing business seems to be successful, according to the speaker.

There are only five department stores in the entire city, she said.

The business district of Paris is a living district, also, she informed her audience. Stores are located on the ground floors of the buildings and the family of the proprietor lives in the back end of the building. The upper stores are devoted to apartments.

Miss Schemel's information on American business in Paris proved of interest to her listeners.

The program was arranged by Dr. R. W. Casper.

Wildcats Play Western Union Here Tomorrow

The Wayne Wildcats should have little difficulty in subduing an inferior Western Union college football team at the college field tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

The game should be somewhat of a "breather" for the Wildcat aggregation, since Western Union is not conceded much of a team this year. The Wayne team, after playing a tie game with Peru last week, should be in a fighting mood.

Larson and Ahern to Attend Scout Meeting

In the race for county offices the ballots varied, with democratic candidates getting a slight majority of the positions.

Legion Has Pheasant Feed; Installs Officers

Erwin Sears post of the American Legion held a pheasant dinner after the installation of officers Wednesday evening, Nov. 5. The meal was served at about 9:30 p. m. at the Palace Cafe.

C. E. Nicholaisen, proprietor of the restaurant, furnished all of the food with the exception of the pheasant, and Legion members were loud in their praise of their host.

Past commander Brisbane had charge of installation of officers. Past Commander C. E. Wilson gave a talk, in which he traced the past year's history of the local post. He presented the badge of office to the incoming commander, Harvey Hostetter, who then gave him the past commander's badge.

Members of the post will have a short meeting in the basement of the Baptist church Sunday night, Nov. 9, and will attend the evening church services in a body. A special Armistice program has been arranged for them.

Did You Know---

That Weaver got 2177 votes for governor in Wayne county and Bryan got 1341?

That Edgar Howard, running for congressman from this district, amassed 2047 votes in Wayne county while Halderson got 1147?

That Wayne county voters gave Matzen 1730 votes for state superintendent of public instruction and gave Taylor 1313?

Nation to Observe Armistice Tuesday

Tuesday, Nov. 11, will be observed throughout the United States as Armistice Day. American Legion posts in America will have charge of the greater part of the services in observance of the holiday.

The classic war poem which starts:

"In Flanders fields the poppies blow

Between the crosses, row on row,

That mark our place. And in the sky

The larks, still bravely singing,

Fly,

Scarce heard amid the guns below."

and ends:

"To you with falling hands we throw the torch.

Be yours to hold it high.

If you lose faith with us who die

We shall not sleep, though poppies blow

is understood by peace-time America on Armistice Day. The joy of receiving word that the international strife was over comes back to the mind's eye.

Knowledge that loved ones would return . . . a feeling of security . . . hope for the future.

It was—and is—a great day!

BAND COMMITTEE TO RAISE MONEY

Must Have $600 to Insure Success of Musical Organization.

The Wayne city band committee met Monday evening of this week with the American Legion committee which has handled affairs of the band in the past and was given authority by the Legion group to have full charge of band activities in the future.

The new committee consists of Burr Davis, temporary chairman, E. W. Huse, T. S. Hook, Howard Hrabak, Don Larson, and Chas. Brown.

This committee has agreed to handle the affairs of the band from now on and is making efforts to raise $600 for the use of the organization during the coming year.

The campaign for funds has already started and Mr. Davis reports that donations are being given in a surprising and gratifying manner. The $600 fund is imperative, he says, to the success of the musical group this next year.

"The American Legion has handled the band for five years," Mr. Davis states, "and a great deal of appreciation is due the organization for their work. The Legion organized, sponsored and financed the band. They met with little encouragement at first but overcame seemingly impossible obstacles. Wayne citizens should be grateful to them for their fine work."

FORMER WAYNE BOY IS LAID TO REST

Body of Man Killed When Auto Crashes Brought Here for Burial.

Mr. King left Wayne in the spring of 1921 and has lived at Tilden since that time. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. King, and two brothers.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church at Tilden yesterday at 12:30 noon, with Rev. Willey in charge. The body was then sent to Wayne.

Wildcat Team Matches Peru in Fast Game

2500 People See Wayne Battle Opponents to 7-7 Tie.

A crowd of about 2500 people saw the Wayne Wildcats play a 7 to 7 tie football game with Peru Normal at the college field last Friday night. It was Wayne's Homecoming game. With Copeland, Wayne's scoring hope out of the lineup through sickness, Peru had been given the edge.

In the first quarter Peru kicked off, and Wayne gave up the ball on downs after failing to gain. Peru started a march down the field that ended at the 7 yard line. Again later in the quarter the Peru men took the ball down to the 10 yard line and again were held for downs.

Hatcher, 150 pound Peru, quarterback, was the main cog in Peru's scoring attack. He shoved out 35 and 40 yard passes to every part of the field. The passes were not so accurate, but one of them completed meant a touchdown.

It was one of his passes in the second quarter that gave Wayne their touchdown. He heaved a pass from his own 25 yard line. Captain Dennis of the Wildcats intercepted it on the 45 yard line and celed his way down the field to the 1 yard line.

Andrews took the ball across on the next play and Evans' kick for point after touchdown was good.

In the third quarter it looked like Wayne had won the game by a 7 point margin, as neither team could get any place. In the fourth quarter the teams saw-sawed up and down the field until the last minute of play when Hatcher heaved a pass from the 40 yard line to Sauters, who was waiting for it on the 2 yard line. He trotted across for a touchdown. Sauters' kick for point after touchdown was good.

F. Evans, end, and Capt. Dennis, half, starred for the Wayne team. It was Dennis who made most of Wayne's first downs.

Sauters, half, and Hatcher, full back, were outstanding for Peru all through the game.

The teams were evenly matched in weight, both averaging 171 pounds.

Score by quarters:

Peru	0	0	0	7

Attempted passes: Wayne 6, Peru 16. Passes completed: Wayne, 2. Pgrs. 4. Intercepted: Wayne, 1. Peru, 1. First downs: Wayne, 9. Peru, 8. Penalties: Wayne, 35 yards. Peru, 30 yards. Punts, Wayne, 9. Peru, 11. Average yardage on punts: Wayne, 42; Peru, 41. Officials: Referee, King (Norfolk); umpire, Slaty (Midland) and head linesman, Wenke (Nebraska).

Chicago Stock Show Stresses Farm Youth

Boys and girls of rural America will next month share the limelight of the agricultural world that will be directed upon Chicago on the occasion of the nation's premier livestock show, the International live stock exposition, which will be held at the Chicago stock yards, Nov. 29 to Dec. 6.

It is estimated that the number of young people taking part in the gathering will be about 1400. They will come from 43 states as well as the province of Ontario to participate in the contests, demonstrations, meetings, and banquets that are a part of the National 4-H club congress held within the gates of the International.

Most of the boys and girls will receive free trips to this event as rewards for outstanding accomplishments in 4-H club work in their home states and counties. These trips are given by organizations and individuals who are interested in the worthy accomplishments of these farm youths and girls, who are not only educating themselves to better methods of farming and house-keeping, but whose word reacts to the benefit of the communities from which they come.

The international live stock exposition, with its junior live stock feeding contests, its junior live stock judging contests, its junior corn show, and the 4-H club congress within its gates; has, of recent years, become the nation's leading conclave of youthful activity.

FOLLOW YOUR DOLLAR

Before spending a dollar stop a moment to consider just what that dollar is going to purchase for you.

A so-called bargain may offer a reduced price which indicates a saving, but a cut price is only one factor of a true bargain.

A wise buyer buys more than goods with his dollar.

In addition to good merchandise he makes it purchase better schools, better churches, better market facilities, better living conditions and more prosperity.

No MERIT MERCHANT asks anyone to accept inferior goods nor pay excessive prices just for the sake of trading at home. That would be unreasonable.

He knows that it is GOOD BUSINESS for him to provide the sort of values and services that MERIT acceptance--just as it is GOOD BUSINESS for every resident of Wayne to make his dollars buy the EXTRA values.

Dollars spent with MERIT MERCHANTS do double duty

CONGRATULATIONS

The Democrat offers its congratulations to the newly elected public servants. There is a task the size of which few of them at present can realize. For the next two years they must try to satisfy the electorate—not just part of it but all people.

And that is no small job. It is easy enough to sit on the sidelines and criticize the conduct of our public officials. What the critics would do if put into office is another story.

Our sincere belief is that every candidate elected will try to the utmost of his or her ability to conduct public affairs as they should be conducted. We believe that the successful candidates realize the seriousness of their trust and will try to show that confidence has not been misplaced.

Now is no time to say "I wish Soandso had been elected." The thing to do is get behind the newly elected officers with the same support you would have given to your favorite. After all, the public officials are working for you, and your cooperation can do a lot to make their regime an efficient one.

"PLEASE DON'T PRINT IT"

Last week we received an unsigned letter. It read "I am asking a favor of you folks which will mean very much to me. My husband was fined for shooting a pheasant in Wayne county, Monday. My worry about having his name put in the paper on this account has nearly driven me to distraction. Please do not put it in the paper. Thanking you many times."

Bless your soul, Mrs. "??". You do not need to worry about The Democrat's printing anything of such a petty nature that would cause discomfort to respectable citizens.

We got the story, and found that the men arrested were good, upright members of the community. We feel that our readers are entitled to news, so we printed a story saying "Two men were fined $10 each for shooting pheasants from the highway."

After all, shooting pheasants from the highway ranks pretty far down the list of crimes. It is not the aim of The Democrat to deliberately attempt to annoy people with recollections of petty mistakes. Your husband, Mrs. "??", has learned his lesson. Others will be warned just as much by reading that two men were fined as they would be if the names of the men were given.

We think it is mighty fine that Wayne county citizens regard offenses against the law so seriously. It shows deep respect for the government, and so long as that attitude holds, Wayne will be a fine town to live in. While that respect exists, The Democrat will treat minor offenders kindly.

When publication of news will serve the public good, however, The Democrat will print that news, regardless of who it hits.

"BIG BUSINESS", FOOTBALL

Calamity howling and prophecies of dire events impending the great American game of football seem to us to be without foundation. Charges and counter-charges have been hurled back and forth between schools. Sport writers from metropolitan newspapers have delegated themselves as saviours of the situation.

The change of football from a minor game to "big business" is responsible for all the flurry. The change, it seems to us, has been brought about because football is a brilliant enough game to warrant the payment of hundreds of thousands of dollars from sport fans.

Grant that the charge of "big business" hurled at football is true. Well, what of it? Call it anything you want to; let it make or lose any amount of money; let the teams be good, bad or indifferent; let schools pay their players or allow only millionaires' sons to participate in the game.

Handle the situation in any way you see fit, and football remains a great game, capable of drawing enormous gate receipts and capable of giving the crowds value received.

The not-so-pure amateur who receives free tuition and a job has been the goal for a good deal of condemnation. His side of the case has its merits, too. If he is responsible for a part of the $100,000 taken in at a football game and if he is financially unable to stay in school, why should he be ashamed to take enough money to live?

ON VIVISECTION

A long publicity story from the Nebraska Anti-Vivisection society just arrived in The Democrat office. Publication of the story would use about five dollars worth of newspaper space.

Whether the charges made in the publicity are true or not we cannot say. No actual proof is given by the society. They would expect us to print the story, anyway.

Is vivisection necessary for the furtherance of science? We do not know. The Nebraska Anti-Vivisection society says it is not. Laboratory experimenters, men of high scientific knowledge, have informed us that it is.

The Anti-Vivisection society's story says cruel methods of handling the animals are used. Research workers say that animals operated on are treated just as humanely as human beings would be.

The publicity story takes a few healthy slams at the school of medicine at the University of Nebraska. Justification of the attacks is not vouchered for.

Organizations desiring publication of publicity should furnish newspapers with proof of the reliability of their statements. The Democrat will not knowingly print propaganda.

BACK TO WORK

Elections are over. Things that last week seemed of vital importance are this week not even issues. Officials whose election last week seemed imperative have been elected or defeated, and it doesn't seem to make a great deal of difference.

One of the greatest things about the citizens of the United States is their inherent and unquestionable good sportsmanship. The will of the winner is abided by the letter.

Bitterness after political campaigns is rare. Americans will fight and fight hard and viciously before the decision in battle, but they regularly abide by the judgment of the majority.

Defeated candidates have accepted their losses philosophically, and that is as it should be. It would be folly, indeed, to bear malice in one's heart over the loss of a legitimate fight.

Things have been said that would have gone better unsaid. Charges have been made that will cause the challengers regret.

But the fight is over and the thing now is to go to work and forget about it.

The Book Box

"Down in Flames," by Pen Ray Redman, is published by Brewer and Warren and sells for $2. It is a book of short stories, consisting of ten episodes; all of them having to do with flying. Every story has a curious twist to it that makes each narrative interesting. The O. Henry quirk heightens the ultimate effect, as when we are told of the ridiculous thoughts of the aviator, who, though he never dreams it, is making his last flight.

We recognize good writing when we read of the rage of the man who on the evening before going on leave, loses twenty pounds at poker, only to have the friend who won it crash to his death in the morning and see the twenty pounds, unspent, sent to the friend's wealthy father.

Mr. Redman writes with a feeling and a fine sense of the dramatic. He has an unquestionably good knowledge of aeronautics.

"The Selbys," by Anne Green, an E. O. Dutton book, sells for $2.50. It will not solve any one of your more intimate domestic problems or Bring You to the Light, Boston, will never suppress it, and Hollywood will never buy it. Its characters are not put under a microscope for minute examination, but are appealing, gorgeous creatures.

They like good meals, masquerade parties, good manners, tart speech, and gaiety. They practically never worry about their digestions.

Mrs. Selby "hated the American colony in Paris to a man or rather to an old lady." You're bound to like Mr. and Mrs. Selby.

The plot is perfectly adequate, but doesn't matter. It's the people in this book you're going to be crazy about.

It is not another book about Americans in Paris. Anne Green has created her own world. Her world isn't like any other one in contemporary fiction.

Don't get the idea that "The Selbys" is a masterpiece. But get the idea very thoroughly implanted in your mind that 1930 is not apt to bring another such thoroughly delightful and unusual a comedy.

Danny Ahearn's "How to Commit a Murder," published by Ives Washburn, is a true human document. While the book was undoubtedly set down on paper by a "ghost" writer, Ahearn's actual speech and slang have been kept intact. Critics have acclaimed it the frankest account of modern gunplay in a great city ever written.

There are now 24 different and separate editions of "All Quiet on the Western Front," which must be a world record for popularity. The grand total of sales in Germany, France, England, Spain, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Holland, Russia, Japan, Hungary, Finland and the United States is over two and a half million copies. The motion picture of the novel, made by Universal, has been enjoying great success.

What price fame? Thornton Wilder is the author of the prize novel,

"The Bridge of San Luis Rey." A Chicago matron said to Wilder at dinner, "You're an engineer, aren't you, Mr. Wilder? I've heard something about you building bridges in South America."

Longmans, Green and company have some interesting statistics on their recent prize novel contest, won by Irving Fineman's "This Pure Young Man."

They say that if laid end to end the 81,250,000 words written by hopeful authors for their contest would reach from New York City to Cincinnati, a distance of 757 miles. The total weight of the manuscripts submitted amounts to 3,500 pounds, equivalent to the tonnage of two of Mr. Ringling's more youthful elephants. Manuscripts were received from every state in the union, with New York leading in the number of literary optimists.

SCOTT SHOTS

by "SCOTTY"

Those who attended the Wildcats Homecoming football engagement last Friday night, and there were 2500 folks who did, got plenty of thrills for their money. Long, dangerous forward passes, open field running, line smashing, plenty of threats to score, and then a thrilling last minute attempt that resulted in a tie game.

Any football fan who would kick on that kind of a game just absolutely cannot be suited.

Overheard on the street: "He told me a very subtle joke last night. It was an hour before I slapped his face."

Today's Motto: He wins who sees each moment's needs, And meets them—fair and true.

Aye, now's the time for telling deeds! Today's the day to do!

Understand there was a knock-down and drag-out ruckus out on the edge of town last Friday noon. When two female combatants began throwing pieces of wood through the window panes, somebody called the sheriff.

"Will there be any court action?" we asked Judge Cherry.

"Not if we can get away from it," he replied. "Which was highly commendable and very sensible."

Tsk, tsk! Such a business! The news we can't print is the news that would sell papers. If we printed a verbatim account of the above mentioned combat, it would be so colorful that the post office would feel unable to handle it, if neighbors of the warriors have given us authentic information.

Heat expands things and cold contracts them. That's why the days are longer in summer.

After the Wildcat-Peru football game we went out riding in the country. A few miles out, a fellow came running toward the car, waving his arms violently. He didn't look like a holdup man, so we stopped. "Can yuh give me a lift to the Pavilion?" he asked breathlessly. "Somethings gone wrong with my car an' I can't get it started. My girl was supposed to be in up at Neihardt hall at 10:15. She's 20 minutes late now. I've gotta borrow a car and get her back pronto."

"Surest thing. Hop in," we replied. When we got to the pavilion he jumped out and yelled back, "Thanks. I suppose I'll catch the devil for this. Gotta hurry."

Overheard at the game: "I used to go for him in a grant fashion, but actually, I can't even see him any more. He was gonna get $200 from his mother so we could get married. Can you IMAGINE? He treated me just swell, but I actually just lost all interest in him if you know what I mean."

"Yeah. He quit asking me for dates, too."

To the pompous individual who said crisply and importantly, at the game last Friday night, "Let me by here," without so much as a "Thank you" or a "Please": I hope you broke your leg before you got to your seat.

The most enthusiastic Wayne rooter we saw at the game was a dame. Little seven or eight year old lassie with blond curly hair. She joined in all the college yells.

"I could enjoy the game more if I had a program," she said gravely, so we gave her an extra one we happened to have along.

She was all alone. "My brothers ran away and left me," she explained. "They think I'm a nuisance."

Earn while you yearn.

A salesman over at the Stratton was telling us about a wise-cracker he ran into in a certain store here in town. The salesman walked into the store and said, "I want to speak to the proprietor. Is the gentleman in?"

The clerk replied, "Yes, I'm in." The salesman asked, "Are you the proprietor?"

And the clerk replied, "No, I'm the gentleman. The proprietor is in the back room."

The Council Bluffs prize fighter who died of injuries received in the ring is just one more reason why professional boxing should not be permitted. It is the second case of licensed murder in this locality in recent weeks.

Dollars and sense are nicer to have than dollars and cents.

A farmer wrote to the navy department at Washington as follows: "My youngest son has gone away and enlisted in the navy. I can't get him out. Won't you help me? He was a good boy and I was raising him for my own use."

There was the fellow who was such a good salesman he sold himself a batch of worthless bonds while talking in his sleep, according to the Columbus Telegram.

J. R. Bogue of The Sioux City Tribune force has one that beats the Columbus salesmanship story a mile, though. He says, "Salesmanship? I never heard of but one real case of it. A fellow, Bert Zilch, was about to commit suicide by jumping off the Missouri river bridge. A policeman spied him, and started arguing with him. Zilch was determined to kill himself, and the policeman said, 'Let's talk this thing over a little. You're not in any hurry to kill yourself.' They talked it over for thirty minutes, and then both Zilch and the policeman jumped off the bridge."

Signing off!

Men who try to do something and fail are infinitely better than those who try to do nothing and succeed.

Advice to Parents: Never let your little boy speak disrespectfully of the United States senate. If he does, he won't stand a chance of getting on the supreme court bench.

Some of these days somebody is going to invent a rural phone without any party lines and drive everybody off of the farms.

Even for a Small Washing

DEXTER

is more CONVENIENT

Not only the large, but also the medium size or small family which has only a small washing, is also much better off with the surprisingly compact Dexter Fastwin than with any single-tub washer—because with no single-tub washer is it really convenient to use the "two successive suds" needed to keep clothes permanently free from that all-over grayish tinge.

Even for the smallest washing the Dexter Fastwin makes thorough washing far more convenient than with any single tub washer.

- 1 Even for a small washing the Dexter "Fastwin" saves handling at least one tub of water, and saves time and effort as compared with any single-tub washer properly used.
- 2 The Dexter "Fastwin" can wash properly at least twice as much clothing per hour (including all operations from hamper to line) as any single-tub washer needs.
- 3 Only by the "2 suds" washing method (which is thoroughly convenient only with the Dexter "Fastwin") can that "grayish tinge" and that "harsh feel" be kept out of clothes month after month, without soaking or boiling.

- 4 The Dexter "Fastwin" also offers a very substantial and easily demonstrated advantage over any single-tub washer that is, or ever can be built—even though the Dexter Company holds the finest of single-tub washers, also.
- 5 Builders of fine washers for more than a quarter century, the Dexter Company originated the double-tub type of washer 16 years ago, and the first one ever made is still in weekly use.
- 6 More than 100,000 delighted users say they could never again be satisfied with any more single-tub washer.

LISTING AGENCIES

We advise against doing business with concerns offering to list your property of sale, requiring you to pay a retainer's fee in lieu of which they are supposed to advertise your property in various and numerous publications. What they actually do is to pocket your advance fee, do not advertise and if perchance they should accidentally run across a buyer for your property, or, in the event you, yourself, should find a buyer, you are bound by contract with them and are liable for the payment of a full commission. Like the "Nigger's con trap" it gets you comin' or goin'. The worst offender complained against is operating out of Minneapolis.—The Nebraska Farmer.

Man Discovers Corn That Defeats Drought

W. R. Watt, a farmer near Hastings, has discovered a new type of corn that is not affected by drought. The corn, a rich mahogany, is a cross between Country Gentleman sweet corn and blue squaw corn. He has been raising it with marked success through dry weather for six years, with an average yield of 80 bushels per acre.

Mr. Watt says that the corn will mature in 100 days and that its stalks are so sweet that livestock prefer them to alfalfa. Even the stubble left after the fodder is taken off is sought by hogs. When the corn is in the milk stage it has no color and will make good roasting ears.

He uses a method of cultivation which he believes will insure a good crop of corn despite dry weather. In the fall he opens up the corn field furrows about eight inches down with a lister. These furrows catch the snow and as it melts it soaks into the subsoil to the depth of two feet. Then in spring the furrows are opened up in the same place. Mr. Watt says the moisture is all held and that when hot weather comes the corn has a sufficient supply of moisture to resist the worst drought.

THREE MUSKETEERS

Laurel—Laurel has three men who should be called the Three Musketeers for they have the record of having met together to celebrate their birthday each year for the past sixteen years, meeting in one of the homes and spending the day and enjoying a fine dinner. The men are W. C. Sablin, Phil Most, and W. A. Wichett, all of them the same age and all of them born in October. This year, in honor of their 69th birthdays, the celebration took place at the country home of Mr. Most. Mrs. Most was hostess to these three boys and Mrs. Sablin and Mrs. Wicket. It was a regular feast she set before them when she called them to dinner and naturally they ate too much. It was a most enjoyable time for them and Mrs. Most says she received more enjoyment out of it than anyone else.

SOME LIKE 'EM RED

Some may long for the soothing touch Of Lavender, cream and mawve, But the ties I wear must possess the glare Of a red hot kitchen stove. The books I read, and the life I lead Are sensible, sane and mild. I like calm hats, and don't wear spats. But I want my neckties wild.

O, some will say that a gent's cravat Should only be seen, not heard; But I want a tie that will make men cry, And render their vision blurred. I yearn, I long, for a tie so strong It will take two men to tie it, If such there be, just show it to me— Whatever the price, I'll buy it. —Anon.
