Forger Gives Three Bogus Checks Here

Victimizes Oil Stations for $24.00; Sheriff Has No Clues.

No clues have been uncovered as to the identity of the forger going under the name of "Clyde Francis" who last week cashed three bogus checks in Wayne.

Each of the three checks was made payable to "Clyde Francis" and was for the amount of eight dollars. They were signed with a forged signature of L. W. Powers. Telephone wires leading to Mr. Powers' house had been cut in an effort to keep anyone from verifying the authenticity of the checks.

The forger cashed all of the false instruments at local oil stations. In each instance he parked his car some distance from the station, walked up the driveway, and bought a gallon of oil. He paid for the oil with the bogus check and received $7.00 change from each station manager.

The three oil stations victimized were the Standard Oil station, the Sinclair station, and Merchant and Strahan's.

The activities of the forger were reported to Sheriff A. W. Stephens last Friday, Nov. 9. None of the oil station attendants were able to furnish a description of the man's car and the sheriff is of the opinion that the forger is an itinerant corn picker.

CROWD SEES TWO PLAYS AT COLLEGE

Modernistic Settings Prove Effective for Synge, O'Neill One-Acts.

About 700 people witnessed a performance of two one-act plays in the college auditorium on Tuesday evening, Nov. 11. The plays were given by members of the dramatics classes of the school, with modernistic simplification of settings adding to the experimental interest.

The drab gray curtains formed an effective background for both Synge's "Riders to the Sea" and Eugene O'Neill's "He." The latter play, the story of a disastrous whaling vessel trip, was liked most by the audience. "Riders to the Sea", an Irish folk play, depicts the tragedy of the mariner with brilliant accuracy.

Hickman Calls First Practice for Basketball

Three letter men will form the nucleus of the Wayne Normal basketball team, according to Coach Hickman, who inaugurated basketball practice Tuesday of this week. Alexander was the only letter man of the three who reported for practice. Andrews and Lindamood are still taking part in football.

Alexander and Andrews are joint captains of this year's hoopsters.

Baker, D. Anderson, Dennis, Sexton and Craft will make their try for varsity honors, all of them having participated in basket tossing on the B squad last year. Frank Chandler of Battle Creek and Clyde Fullerton of Atkinson are expected back at the opening of the quarter.

Among the new men Arbutnot, former O'Neill star, Paul, West Point guard, Grubb, Tilden hoopster, Brazda of West Point, and Wright, Council Bluffs veteran, look good.

Wayne High Team to Play at Wisner Field Tomorrow

The Wayne high school football team will turn little of their power loose on Wisner, when they journey to that city to meet the Wisner football team tomorrow. Coach Ray K. Holder plans on using mostly second string men, since the Wisner team is clearly not of the same calibre as the Wayne aggregation.

Wayne plays Wakefield there Friday, Nov. 21, in what should be a more closely contested game.

The really good Wayne high school's football team has only one loss for the season, and that came on a questionable penalty.

Wayne Forgets to Observe Armistice

Tuesday was Armistice Day. Wayne's only recognition of the occasion was the rows of American flags in front of buildings in the business district.

Two minutes before 11 o'clock, the time set aside for silent observance in honor of the memorable day, found people walking complacently up and down the streets, going about their work with no thought in any way connected with President Hoover's proclamation.

Wayne did not even spare two minutes to honor the memory of that memorable day back in 1918. It has been convenient to forget the solemn promises made to America's young men when they gambled with the Great Adventure.

We forget too easily.

Wildcat Team Beats Western Union 19 to 6

Andrews Makes All Three Touchdowns for Local Football Team.

The Wayne Wildcats defeated Western Union College of Le Mars, Iowa, here last Friday night by a 19 to 6 score in a somewhat lethargic football game. The Wildcats never got under way with their full offensive power, or the score would have been decidedly higher in favor of the locals.

Western Union's record was not hurt any, since that school has not won anything worth mentioning all season. The Le Mars team played better football than any exhibited by them so far this year, but it remained not so good.

Andrews Stars

Andrews was the scoring ace for the Wildcats. Aided by the recently de-tonitized Copeland's long runs, he made all three touchdowns for the Wayne team.

Wayne's first touchdown came in the second quarter when Wayne advanced deep into Western Union territory. Copeland took the ball on a wide run around left end and was forced back, but cut in skillfully and finally stopped on the one yard line, making it first and one to go. Andrews took the ball across on the next play. The kick for point after touchdown was good.

Makes Long Run

Wayne's second touchdown came in the third quarter when Andrews intercepted a Western Union forward pass on Wayne's 35 yard line and ran 65 yards for a touchdown. The score stood 13 to 0 with the ball in Western Union's possession when the fourth quarter started.

The LeMars gridsters got the ball down to the 7 yard line early in the fourth quarter, and Koch, halfback went over the goal line on a spigner play wide off tackle. Try for point failed.

Western Union Fumbles

Wayne scored a few minutes later when Western Union fumbled deep in their own territory and the locals recovered. Andrews took the ball across after a couple of good yardage gains by Copeland.

That completed the scoring for both teams. Koch, halfback, and Miller, tackle, were the outstanding players on the Western Union team.

Wayne made 10 first downs to Western Union's six. Score by quarters: Wayne ----- 0 7 6 6
Western Union ----- 0 0 0 6

Mitchell Takes Trip to Colorado Quarries

C. O. Mitchell returned Sunday afternoon, Nov. 9, from a seven day trip to Salida, Colo., which he had taken in company with Ira Payne of Grand Island and V. G. Gildea of Omaha.

The men were entertained at the Denver club in Denver, and stopped for a short time at Colorado Springs. They took the skyline drive from Canon City, and Mr. Mitchell says of it, "The skyline drive offers a breath taking trip of five miles. It is a road built along a ledge about 1500 feet high with no protection on either side."

The party visited the Royal gorge and took a trip over the world's highest bridge, which is a span of 800 feet and is 1053 feet above the Arkansas river. The bridge is held by cables anchored to the mountains, and Mr. Mitchell says that it sways from the weight of cars. He says, "The railroad running along the bottom of the canon looks like a toy track. The scenery from the bridge is beautiful with various shades of autumn and snow capped mountains in the distance."

The men arrived Thursday noon in Salida and inspected the granite quarries there. Mr. Mitchell says, "Electric machinery takes the granite in the rough from the quarry and after it travels the length of the building it comes out ready to ship."

"The quarry is located 12 miles from the plant. The granite is hauled in 15 ton trucks over a dangerous road with turns so short that the trucks cannot make some of them without backing up a short distance."

Mr. Mitchell says the trip was altogether a wonderful one.

G. A. R. VETERAN INTERRED SUNDAY

Services for Sommers Fox Held at Cemetery By Legion.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at three o'clock in the Beckenhauer chapel for Sommers Fox, retired farmer, who passed away Friday night, Nov. 7. The services were conducted by Rev. Whitman, and interment was made at the Wayne cemetery, where services were held by the American Legion.

Sommers Fox was 89 years old at the time of his death. He was born in Jersey City, N. J., January 28, 1841, and was the son of Arron and Pheby Fox. He was united in marriage to Caroline G. Michelson at Springfield, Ill., in 1862.

Mr. Fox served in the 114th Illinois infantry, Co. G, for three years and 16 days. After receiving his discharge from service, Mr. Fox and his wife became members of a party of 43 people who migrated to southeastern Kansas and located at Lone Elm, where they lived for 40 years.

He came with his wife and family to Wayne in 1906. He was a loyal member of the G. A. R., and remembered Abraham Lincoln from his residence in Springfield, Ill. He had heard the famous Lincoln-Douglas debate and was present at the reception given Lincoln when he left Springfield to be inaugurated.

Mr. Fox is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Emma E. Gamble, Mrs. Oliver Gamble of San Pedro, Calif., Mrs. W. H. Smith of Yakoma, Wash., and one son J. W. Fox of Lone Elm, Kas.

He was preceded in death by one son Aaron, who passed away three years ago, and his wife, who died two years ago.

Who Says Corn Crop is Failure?

Robert Ripley, creator of the "Believe It or Not" cartoon, should make a visit to Wayne.

In the face of numerous complaints that the corn crop in this territory was a failure this year, Wm. Von Seggern says that he has a field of corn in the bottoms land west of town that is yielding about 106 bushels to the acre. James Porter, his hired man, vouches for the veracity of the statement.

Ted Perry though his 60 bushels to the acre was unusually good until he heard about Von Seggern's corn.

People who have not seen the fields refuse to believe the "corn stories," but both men insist on the truth of their remarks.

Legion Men Attend Observance in Body

Braisted Gives Armistice Message in Special Church Service

Members of the Erwin Sears Post of the American Legion attended special Armistice observance services last Sunday night, Nov. 9, at the first Baptist church.

Rev. William E. Braisted used the subject, "Let Us Reason Together," for his Armistice message, from the text, Isa., 1:16.

"All worthy men and women must have, in times like these, some concern for their national as well as individual lives and for those we love better than life," he said. "Aroused passions seldom get us safely through hazzards. We need to reason together.

"Attention, care, and reason are necessary to the safety and common good of people, in all human living. They are necessary with cars, in business, in social and domestic relations—in everything.

Says Life Complex

"All life has hazzards. The issue depends on how we meet them and what we are prepared to do beforehand in crises. If we reason together, we must consider that all life is increasingly complex or involved.

"A pistol shot in Sarajevo in 1914, and two-thirds of the world gets involved in the most desolating war of all human history, at the very time superficial men were talking of Brotherhood,—and at the same time preparing self defenses against any possible aggressor. Did that defense save even those best prepared? No.

"The human race is a solidarity in its personal, social, economic life. The strength of the wolf is in the pack and the strength of the pack is in the wolf. In 1914 in Europe and in 1917-18 here, was not that law of life enforced? And we thought it for the common good.

War Was Futile

"Perhaps the time will come when, in the interests of peace, we shall have to yield—submit to prison and even death for the common welfare. We will refuse to kill, as we united to kill in 1917, and who can say that it was not pretty futile, at best, judged.

Rising Membership to Necessitate New Scout Troop Here

The candidates for Tenderfoot badges in Troop 175 of the Boy Scouts of America will make a full troop as soon as they have passed all of their tests successfully. This will necessitate the formation of another troop, according to Scoutmaster R. R. Larson.

The boys worked on their tenderfoot tests at the regular weekly meeting, Tuesday evening, Nov. 11. Members of the troop are constructing what will be the largest "knot board" in northeast Nebraska, with examples of over 160 knots and splices.

PLACES SIXTH IN CONTEST
Cretchen Teckhaus, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Teckhaus of this city, placed sixth in the radio audition contest held recently in Omaha. There were 22 competitors.

Pick Winners of Contest for "Old Timers"

Five Pioneer Residents to Receive Subscriptions to Democrat Free.

Five "old timers" have been selected from among the many names submitted in The Nebraska Democrat's old settler contest.

Each of these five people will receive a year's subscription to The Democrat without charge as a result of their entrance into the competition.

The winners are:
Charles Matwos, who has lived in the county "over since before the town of Wayne started."

Loni Hunter, who came to the county on May 2, 1870.

Alex Scott, who preceded Mr. Hunter by four days, having come here on April 28, 1870.

Frank Brxleben, who was born here on Dec. 31, 1871.

Mrs. Emma Agler, known to her friends as "Grandma" Agler. Mrs. Agler lives in Winslow and came to the county in February of 1874.

The editor of The Democrat says, in regard to the winners, "We do not say that these people have lived in Wayne county longer than any other living persons. However, if there are any older residents, they failed to enter the competition. The Democrat takes delight in congratulating the winners on their long periods of serving to the community. While they live, the pioneer spirit remains alive in Wayne county."

The Inquiring Reporter

(Every week a Democrat reporter will ask a question of five people, picked at random. If there's any question you would like to have asked, let us know about it.)

This Week's Question

Do you think Wayne county should have a county farm agent? Chris Jensen, farmer, Route 1—"Yes, if he is a good man. Lots of times a farm agent could be a great deal of help. The danger is in getting a poor man who just tries to hold down his job. If they get a good man, a farm agent is all right."

H. W. Barnett, Wayne, drayman—"No. If the farmers don't know enough about farming to get along without a county agent, they better quit farming."

J. W. Bannister, east of Wayne, retired farmer—"No. A farm agent is an extra expense that does no good. 'Book farmers' don't know the practical side of things."

Paul Baier, Route 2, farmer—"No. It would be too expensive and we can get along very well without a farm agent."

Clem Johnson, Wayne—"Yes. A farm agent could help farmers rotate their crops and could be of great help with sickness among cattle and hogs. He could be of assistance in countless ways, and it has been proven in other counties that he can save money for the farmers."

FORMER STUDENT IS STUDYING ABROAD

(From The Goldenrod)
From Marburg, Germany, William Weirsheuser, A. B. '30, writes to friends at Wayne. Since Mr. Weirsheuser was so recently on the campus his student friends may be interested in reading a part of his letter, dated October 30.

"I arrived in Marburg Saturday, October 11. I am making my home with L. Gatzert and family. Mr. Gatzert is the secretary and over-inspector of the university. He is the second in rank, the rector, curator or president being the head man. I am treated as a member of the family, so will enjoy my new home very much.

Marburg is an old, historic town. It has a church about 700 years old, St. Elizabeth's church, a castle where German royalty formerly lived. The castle contains the second largest collection of governmental books in Germany, besides many other interesting relics. Marburg is a very famous medical center. About twenty clinics and hospitals are located here and here the discoverer of diphtheria serum once lived. Mr. Von Bering, the man, is buried near Marburg. He died a few years ago.

Martin Luther also studied in Marburg and he was also a prisoner in the castle. Here he succeeded in converting Philip of Hesse and through Luther the first Protestant university was founded in 1527. In 1927 the 400th anniversary was celebrated. Today this university is known as Philip's University. It is one of the largest schools in Germany. Berlin, Bonn, Leipzig and Munich being the largest. It is the seventh in age. As a rule Marburg has the second largest number of foreign students, always being outranked by Berlin. Its faculty is considered as strong as any other in Germany and its medical faculty is unsurpassed. There is the main building with a church attached and an addition used for lecture rooms. Besides this and the many clinics and hospitals there are five or ten other buildings, each devoted to a special faculty. There is a home for students and forty fraternity houses. Fraternity homes here are only a social unit and are not used for living quarters. Mr. and Mrs. Gatzert do not want me to join a fraternity as students engage in dueling with long swords. The duel ends when the loser is severely cut up.

I enrolled at the university Saturday. My program has, at present, not been completed. I will take courses concerning the World War and the German language this semester. The winter semester opens November 1 and closes February 28, 1931. The summer semester opens May 1 and closes July 31. Advanced students must stay the year round and do seminar work. The school has a library of around 500,000 volumes. Only advanced students are allowed free access to the stacks. Many rare books are located in this library.

Marburg is as typical an educational center as Wayne is, as it has no industries. It has numerous private schools for children and girls besides the regular public schools.

GRAVE DIGGERS

Every town in the United States has some members of the community who consider themselves leading citizens, but are in reality home town grave diggers. Wayne is no exception.

The home town grave diggers do their insidious work by failing to support home institutions. They do it, sometimes thoughtlessly, by sending away or going out of town for merchandise that is sold in Wayne.

No town can hope to prosper when the life blood of the community—the dollars that are spent at home—is cut off. If Mr. A sends away for the goods that Mr. B sells and vice versa, nobody is going to make any money. And a community, to be worth living in, must be prosperous.

Wayne is a good town to trade in, and a good town to live in. The person who does not trade here has no right to live here. Only by helping your neighbor is it possible to help yourself in any material degree.

The doctrine of buying at home is not advanced solely for the good of the merchants. Every person in Wayne is responsible to some extent, large or small, for every other person's prosperity.

You can make patriotic speeches until you are black in the face; you can shout praises of the town to high heaven; you can be a genial, popular hand-shaker; but unless you contribute in hard, cold dollars to the advancement of the community, you are a grave digger for Wayne.

COUNTY FARM AGENTS?

"The Inquiring Reporter" this week asks the question, "Do you think a county farm agent would be a good thing for Wayne county?"

The first reaction many people have to that question is to answer "No," but if they ponder a little longer they are apt to say "Yes" or at least, "I don't know."

County farm agents have been called "book farmers" by those who know little about their work. Some of them deserve that title, because they can be of no practical value, but others have had practical experience and can be of real service to the farming community. The value of the job depends largely upon the worth of the man filling it.

The cost of a county farm agent is comparatively small. The experiment of having one should be worth the price, if only in order to find out whether an agent is desirable or not.

Nebraska farmers are progressive, and if anything is of benefit to them they are quick to adopt it. If farmers of Wayne county can be shown that having a county farm agent here would save them money, it is certain that they would be interested.

When a person buys a cheap article he feels good when he pays for it and disgusted every time he uses it. When he buys a good article, he feels better every time he uses it, for the recollection of quality remains long after the price is forgotten.—E. C. Simmons.

CIVIC PRIDE

A committee is going about the business of raising funds to insure the success of the Wayne band this next year. It is gratifying to note that their solicitations are meeting with splendid results.

The band is a worthy project and does much to add to the popularity of this community. It is a civic enterprise which not only brings joy to residents and visitors but brings financial returns from the crowds who come to Wayne to hear concerts.

While Wayne citizens support municipal projects in such a hearty manner, we have little need for worry as to the welfare of our community. The town that sponsors worthwhile things inevitably reaps a harvest of prosperity, while the town that shows no interest in advancement just as surely lags behind.

A LETTER TO UNCLE SAM

Dear Uncle Sam—

We are writing this letter to let you know that we received your 279 page report of the Assistant Attorney General in charge of examination into the charges of Ralph S. Kelly respecting the administration of oil shale lands.

It is a beautifying prepared, mimeographed book. It was thoughtful of you to send it to us, but we can't figure out how in the world you knew that we were vitally interested in that report.

For months now we've been tossing around in bed at night wondering what the assistant attorney general was doing relative to the charges of Ralph S. Kelley. And now we get a 279 page report.

It probably cost you an enormous amount of money to get that report mailed out to newspapers all over the country. Your expenditure (or, after all, its OUR expenditure, isn't it?) was not in vain, however, for we know that OTHER newspaper editors were awaiting that report just as anxiously as we were.

We will read it from cover to cover if we ever happen to get a month's vacation. Seriously, we feel it our duty to read it, because we know that it cost the tax-payers a great deal and we don't want to appear ungrateful.

SOME of the reports you've sent haven't interested us at all. A lot of your literature goes straight from the post office to the old paper baling machine. (Don't say we're not practicing Hoover economy.)

Please don't be offended about that, though, because once in a while you come out with some red hot, important piece of literature like the current one that makes up for the millions of dollars that have been absolutely thrown away on less interesting editions.

By the way, do you suppose tax payers would object if you'd just send us white print paper without anything written on it? We could use that in our business.

Yours for spicy literature,
THE NEBRASKA DEMOCRAT.

PITIFUL PUBLICITY

(Reprinted from York Republican) We feel sorry for some Nebraska weekly newspapers that recently ran a picture bearing the title, "Tornado Drill at a school in Nebraska." It showed a group of school children marching into a cyclone cellar under the direction of their teacher.

Once in a decade a Nebraska wind strikes a schoolhouse, just as in California a quake occasionally shakes in the roof of a school building. But you do not see California newspapers showing pictures of children in earthquake drills. Not a bit of it! It is all right for Nebraska school children to have fire drills and tornado drills, if the school authorities think it is necessary or desirable. But there is no earthly sense in newspapers running pictures of them.

A picture like that can do more to create the impression that Nebraska is commonly infested with tornados than columns of reading matter. Pages of constructive reading material can never counterbalance the harm.

Nebraska publishers did not run the picture deliberately but their carelessness in editing the plate and picture material did an injustice to the state which this year above all years should have a hundred percent of the newspapers chanting the hallelujah chorus.

THE SUNNY SIDE

(Reprinted from Cedar County News) Few people could find much cause for optimism in the present slump, but that it really has its bright side was brought out in a speech at a meeting of real estate men in Wisconsin last week. The speaker contrasted the lot of the farmer with that of the wage earner in the city, stating that the farmers do not realize how well off they really are. He went on to say that if the farmers really knew conditions in the cities as they exist under the surface, they would sit back in their easy chairs and thank the Lord that they were on farms.

In analyzing his statement that the business depression was really a good tonic for the country, the speaker said: "It's a good thing for all of us. It is sending a lot of incompetent laborers back home to the farm; it is showing the farmers that the other fellow's pasture isn't so green after all; it is teaching both the farmer and the city worker to economize; it is teaching us all the foolishness of the extravagance just preceding 1930. We are all trimming our personal budgets.

"The favorable feature of this budget trimming is that we first cut out the luxuries and that the last of our purchases to be reduced are items of food and clothing—items which the farmer produces. The unemployment in the city has started a movement that I shall call a 'back to Dad' movement, in the hungry son and his family who raft off to town to work at a fling station is going back home to spend the winter boarding on his father."

Another bright ray of hope that is generally overlooked in all the pessimistic discussion at present is that the cost of living is now six percent lower than it was last year at this time and is at the lowest point since 1918. In other words, general wages could have dropped more than five percent without affecting the buying power of the worker.

Also, it has been brought out by a number of experts that the unemployment trend, which was downward for nearly a year, has taken an upward trend. The coming winter will probably see industrial activity improving materially.

Christmas shopping time is not far away, doggonit. And if you can tell us why anybody should put it off until two or three days before the 25th of December, we'll give you a copy of last week's Democrat for a prize. Merchants here in Wayne have lined up an attractive program of Christmas season events. Their assortments of gift suggestions are splendid. And their prices are lower than they have been in years. No one should have any excuse for going out of town to do their buying.

Post mortems! You still hear 'em regarding the now ancient Nov. 4 election. That little word that has built so many castles,—we refer to the word "if"—has been badly abused. But the world, ho hum, goes on just the same.

Don't talk about your own weak spots, even to your friends. Some day those friends may become enemies and then they will know how to attack you in your most vulnerable spot.

The life of a man is made up of action and endurance; and life is fruitful to the ratio in which it is laid out in noble action or in patient perseverance.

Human nature is strange. A man has to work himself up by his own efforts, but when he starts back, everybody seems willing to give him a shove.

An important citizen is one who can't see you when he's busy and gets mad if you can't see him when you're busy.

There would be little knocking if we had no backs and people had to say things to our faces or not at all.

Once in a while—not often—a man is born who isn't afraid. Then things begin to move.

Samson gave a performance that brought down the house, but he never bragged about it afterwards.

Just when we begin to think we can make both ends meet, somebody comes along and moves the ends.

Truth is stranger than fiction. Probably because it is not heard so often.

SCOTT SHOTS

by

"SCOTTY"

C. E. Nicolaisen, of the Palace Cafe, deserves credit for the way in which he cooperated with the American Legion last week. The boys wanted a pheasant feed, and he had it in his restaurant, furnished all the other food, and had everything prepared. He didn't charge the Legionaires anything for it, either. That's what we call being a good member of the community.

Don't talk to us about the inefficiency of women! Because we won't believe you. Miss Bertha Berres is county clerk in Wayne county, and she was mentioned in newspapers all over the state last week because of the splendid system of getting election returns that she has built up. Wayne county got the complete returns into headquarters long before any other county around here.

If we ever run for any office and want a campaign manager, we're going to try to get Walter Savidge, because he certainly can pick the winners. Information: A coquette is not a small Coco Cola.

Did Armistice Day bring back any memories to you? It should have, but it's amazing how quickly the world forgets. It will take a long, long time for the boys who engaged in the war to forget that memorable day.

An Iowa editor printed the following item: "The fellow who is courting a certain married woman had better leave town, as the husband is onto him."

Two hours after the paper was out, the only men left in town were three old cripples and a man who did not take the paper.

A Wayne Legionnaire's little son said, on Armistice Day, "And what did you do during the war when you were over in France, Daddy?"

The man replied, "Shh, not so loud, son, your mother's in the next room."

Wayne Normal College Dictionary Gold digger—a girl who can make you think she is taking dinner with you and not from you.

If society editors spoke the truth, the society columns of American newspapers might (mind you, we say MIGHT) look like this:

Mrs. W. Halsted Rathbone-Richards will arrive at Newport Wednesday with nine shoe trunks, three double chairs and a pomeranian.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Birch have returned from the Continent, where Mrs. Birch spent the greater part of the winter—profits.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Chance of Sioux City had dinner guests last night because last week dinner guests had Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Chance of Sioux City.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Jones are sailing on the Boomdam tomorrow for Monte Carlo, where they will remain until the latter part of $75,000.

Autumn passes. We leave it with regret, for to us it is the most glorious time of the whole year. But even the passing of autumn has its compensations, for winter follows, and winter brings snappy, crisp weather that makes a fellow want to hustle. It brings a season of sports that are different from those of any other time of the year. It's mighty fine in winter to be able to sit in front of a warm fire and read a book or visit with friends—with the wind howling and the snow flying outside.

Winter brings appreciation of security, and it brings contentment. It is not such a restless time of the year as other seasons. Like the bear that hibernates for the winter, human beings are pretty generally able to stay put in one place until the snow thaws.

Pumpkin Pie

When melancholy days come 'round
And leaves get brown and red,
When corn is shocked and when
You add a blanket to your bed,
When apples, pared and quartered,
Are set in the sun to dry,
This is the time you smack your lips
And think of—pumpkin pie.This pumpkin pie's a tempting dish
To almost any fellow,
So sweet and tender, luscious, (Yum!)
And then, withal, so yellow.
You stir up eggs and milk and spice
And sugar, O, my eye!
And then you add the pumpkin,
And that makes the pumpkin pie.

And despite efforts of countless persons to make us pronounce the word pump-kin, we shall continue to say 'punkin'. It isn't pump-kin pie we're after, but punkin pie. We'd choke on pump-kin pie. But punkin pie—well, just try us!

Little Moments with Big Men

"All right, Miss Zilch, take a letter. Yours of the 15th received, comma—no, omit the comma. This has to go air mail."

Free advertisement—it seems to us that the people of Wayne are extremely fortunate in the calibre of moving picture entertainment they get at the local theatre. Late release pictures, the best ones, are shown every week at prices lower than those charged in Sioux City.

Amos 'n' Andy, in "Check and Double Check," is the box office attraction of the year, and it starts tonight at The Gay.

The flapper is a girl who tries to shock others—but generally succeeds only in shocking herself.

The Book Box

"The Lives of a Bengal Lancer," by Major Francis Yeats-Brown, is published by the Viking Press and sells for $2.75.

It is one of the best books ever written about the east, and should be put on the shelf of honor with "Arabia Deserta" and "Revolt in the Desert." It achieves more than either of these in that it goes into the soul and spirit of the mystery of the East.

Major Yeats brings Hinduism at its best for us to examine. It is a Hinduism with no trace of the fake mysticism, without the conjuring of inferior eastern Houdinis who endeavor to produce mystical signs for a credulous but wealthy public.

The book is splendidly written, with the most vivid pictures of the East that have ever been made. The discerning reader will realize that India stands for something greater than all we apprehend, for the author has mirrored innumerable aspects of both worlds within and without.

The new telephone directory, suggests Al Emerick of the Stratton Hotel and Wayne Normal, is a fine book. He says its terseness is one of its outstanding characteristics, and that it has more characters than most books now on the market. He finds it weak in plot, but says this is made up for by an almost miraculous continuity.

Local note—Glenn Bunnell of the Democrat staff is the proud possessor of a two volume edition of The Decameron of Boccaccio. Admirers of Literature Erotica are advised that Mr. Bunnell has not yet completed reading the volumes himself, and the edition will not be available to the borrowing public for some time.

Mr. Bunnell and the author of these feeble notes have engaged in some interesting if not enlightening conversations concerning the merits of certain pornographic works. We seem to agree that the ancient vulgarian, Rabelais, was one of the most delightful humorists of all time.

The writer, while feeling that psychological studies should be allowed considerable leeway, has little tolerance for the erotic literature that has come on the market in recent years with absolutely no excuse for its existence.

Much of it is obviously written with both eyes on the sales counter. Perusal of the contents of such books can be of no benefit, artistically, mentally or morally.

The most disgraceful blot on the American public taste for books in years is, in our estimation, the avidity with which "The President's Daughter" has been read. There is a book, if it is deserving of the appellation, which has not a solitary thing to recommend it. It is not well written. It is not interesting. It is trashy in every sordid detail and has no right whatsoever to the profits it has made. The person to whom the book appealed may be assured that he possesses the mind of a third-rate moron.

Enough of that. "American," the life story of a great Indian, by Frank B. Linderman, is creating a furor. We have not read it, but The New York Evening Post's book review says of it, "The fact that we can't praise American as brilliantly as it deserves isn't going to affect its destiny. It's a whale of a yarn . . . our nomination for the Book of the Year."

And critic Gilbert W. Mead says, "For a long time we've been holding back a glorious string of superlative adjectives, waiting for the proper book to come along. The book has arrived. It is American! . . . An overpoweringly, enthralling work. I have read many Indian books. There is nothing like this one."

It must be a dandy book. We'll read it as soon as we have a chance.

The VECTO may be likened to an air pump. The air is drawn in through the openings at the base and is heated by an extensive scientifically designed heating surface. There has been a great change in appearances of these VECTO heaters and we invite the public to come in and see them.

ed twelve years afterward?

"Personal liberty, when it involves the life and liberty and happiness of others, has no valid claims in law, ethics, or religion. The writer of Proverbs (14:34) said, 'Righteousness exalteth a nation but sin is a reproach to any people.' All human history confirm that sage comment. History is a record, always more or less biased, of human achievement, but not less of human stupidity, folly, and waste.

Two Alternatives

"There are only two alternatives! We can have fear, suspicion, rivalries, and competition for 'the biggest navy or army,' with one sure, inevitable issue, if history teaches anything, and that issue is WAR.

"Or we can reason together, internationally, in mutual trust and good will. There is no third alternative.

"After every war men have to reason together, when the war itself has made all issues infinitely harder to adjust. Does anyone doubt that if one half the time and effort and costs and compromise that we have been putting forth these last twelve years to find some possible way to go on living together—if that reasoning together had been done in 1910-1914—that any world war would have been necessary? Assuredly not.

"In our own nation, in the national relationship, there is no other way. No way but God's Challenge to Israel by Isaiah, the Prophet. And that, 'Though your sins be as scarlet they shall be white as snow, and though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.' Jesus is the sole hope for individual and social salvation."

"Hot" Car Gets Hot; Bursts into Flames

William Vogt, a young man who lives northeast of Pender, had what colleagues would call a "hot" car. "Had" is the correct term, because William doesn't have it any more.

It got so hot a few miles out of Wayne last Saturday night, Nov. 8, that it burst into flames. When the fire had subsided, all that was left of the 1926 coach was, as one local observer expressed it, "not enough to bother with."

William and his friends, looking it over, decided it would be "not so hot" as a means of getting back to Pender, so they chartered a local taxi cab, after consigning the ashes to the hot place.

Prof. and Mrs. H. H. Hahn and Mrs. C. E. Carhart drove to Sioux City yesterday. Mr. Hahn addressed the Sioux City P. T. A. there last evening.

BEN GREET PLAYERS TO PERFORM HERE

Shakesperian Repertoire Company to Appear at College.

The famous Ben Greet, with his company of Shakesperian repertoire players, will make an appearance in the Wayne Normal auditorium on Monday evening, Dec. 8. Mr. Greet's present tour marks the golden anniversary of his first public appearance as an actor.

Residents of Wayne will recall that the company played a three night start in Sioux City, Iowa, last season. Their appearance was hailed by press and educators as an intellectual entertainment treat, and many drama lovers from this territory went to Sioux City to see and hear the company.

King George conferred the title of Sir Phillip Ben Greet on the actor last June, "in recognition of a life devoted to the cause of drama in education." Greet is considered one of the greatest living authorities on the English drama, and is world famous for his remarkable productions of old English comedies and Shakesperian plays.

The Ben Greet players gave a season at the Garden theatre, New York, covering nearly 200 performances. They have played at Columbia university, Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Chicago U, Penn, Michigan, Southern California, Virginia and West Virginia universities on their various tours.

Poultry Man Predicts Heavy Demand in 1931

The year 1931 will see a heavy demand for boilers on the part of packers and consumers and also a high level of egg prices, according to L. J. Haughey, poultry expert.

"Leaders of the poultry industry during the last few months have made a careful study of the industry in regard to what business will be in 1931," Mr. Haughey says. "While storage egg prices are low today, fresh egg prices are reasonably high. There are practically no broilers in storage and cold storage poultry meat of all kinds is at a low ebb.

"This condition means that early broilers will be profitable to farmers. Packer demand and consumption demand in general will offer a good price. "If farmers have a reasonable number of pullets for next winter's laying, they will surely profit from their poultry in 1931," he says.

Urge Poultry Men to Cull Non-Productors

The raising of poultry has brought more profit this year proportionately than most other farm operations—and this in spite of the low prices generally prevailing, according to reports emanating from the middle western states. As a consequence, Nebraska farmers are planning to pay more attention to their flocks than ever before.

Flock owners are being informed that the best way to cut down flocks for the fall and winter months is to cull out rigidly all "boarders" or non-producers. It is pointed out that there is no such thing as a poor poultry season when birds of real laying ability are retained and fed, housed and cared for in the proper manner.

Authorities declare that one sure way of realizing a profit from farm poultry is to increase the egg production of the entire flock. By obtaining good stock in the spring to replace the old hens, the productivity of the entire flock can be raised.

Higher egg production per hen, and, at the proper time, increased size of flocks offer solution of the poultry problem, regardless of prices.

Motor Injuries Treated By Red Cross First Aid

In line with its work for the preservation of life and prevention of accidental death, the American Red Cross has adopted a new program of emergency first aid stations on the highways of the nation, where victims of automobile injuries will be helped.

In the last year 31,000 persons were killed as the result of automobile accidents and more than 1,000,000 were injured. As its contribution to the nation wide safety campaigns of other organizations, the Red Cross will aid through the emergency stations. A number already are in operation by Chapters on such important traffic arteries as the Westchester County, N. Y., park system, the Valley Forge and Gettysburg highways in Pennsylvania and the White Horse Pike in New Jersey, connecting with Atlantic City.

Saving Mothers and Babies Is Important Red Cross Task

Saving mothers' lives and better babies were important features during the past year of the Public Health Nursing Service of the American Red Cross. About four-fifths of the 794 nurses in the Red Cross work made more than 100,000 prenatal and maternal visits, in addition to assisting doctors in the examination of 1,309,409 school children.

Statistics reveal that the lives of two out of three American women who die in maternity cases could be saved if they received proper medical and nursing care. As more than 15,000 women die in the United States each year from various diseases of the maternal state, this means that more than 10,000 of these deaths are preventable.

Comfort Kits Sent 40,000 Service Men by Red Cross

Gay patterned cretonne bags, or comfort kits, containing articles useful and amusing, are sent by the Red Cross to 40,000 soldiers, sailors and Marines, on foreign service, as Christmas remembrances.

The little gift bags are donated and packed by women in Red Cross Chapters all over the country. They are dispatched by Army transport in the early autumn in order to reach the foreign ports and posts of the U. S. services in time to be hung on the Christmas trees. Giving the remembrances from home is the outgrowth of a plan adopted by the Red Cross prior to the World War when 30 many National Guard regiments were on the Mexican border.

NINETY DISASTERS CALL FOR RED CROSS RELIEF, AT COST OF $1,200,000

Vice Chairman Fieser Cites Readiness to Act of National Society, Which Lessens Loss of Life—3,500 Chapters Aid in Work.

Readiness to act in an emergency, should a disaster strike, has become part of the Red Cross Chapter program in thousands of communities. The need for this training of local committees was revealed last year, when more than ninety communities required disaster relief work by the Red Cross.

As in former years, tornadoes brought the greatest damage. Twenty-four serious tornadoes occurred. Fire also took toll of life and property in twenty-four communities. Seven forest fires did great damage; eighteen areas were affected by floods, and nine storms caused heavy losses. Other disasters were cloudbursts, cyclones, epidemics, mine explosions and shipwrecks. In the insular possessions of the United States the Red Cross gave relief in twelve disasters, chiefly from hurricanes. In foreign countries relief was given by the American Red Cross in six instances of earthquakes, floods and to refugees.

The disaster relief work of the Red Cross cost $1,208,151 last year. Statistics showed an approximate death rate of 790 persons in these disasters; buildings destroyed or damaged, 19,578; persons injured, 1,487, and persons assisted by the Red Cross, 96,872.

Through disaster preparedness of Red Cross Chapters, undoubtedly great numbers of lives were saved, and much distress and grief following the calamities was prevented, according to James L. Fieser, vice chairman in charge of domestic operations of the Red Cross.

"This type of work is supported by the memberships of citizens of the United States, their volunteer contributions, and their devoted work," Mr. Fieser said.

"Every man and woman is urged to join as a member of the local Red Cross Chapter, not only to be a partner in supporting the work through his membership, but also to serve should an emergency occur."

WAYNE HIGH TAKES LAUREL TEAM. 25-0

Locals Substitute Freely; Have No Trouble Winning.

The Wayne high school football team encountered no trouble at all in walking away from the Laurel grid aggregation here last Friday afternoon by a 25 to 0 score.

Coach Holder substituted freely in an effort to give his more inexperienced men a taste of competition, so the score, one-sided as it was, was really no indication of the comparative strength of the two teams. Wayne was, with full power, 50 points better than Laurel.

The locals started with full speed and put over two touchdowns in the first quarter. Holder started sending in the shock troops, and while they failed to score again in the first half, they kept Laurel from scoring against Wayne.

In the third quarter Wayne made another touchdown. In the fourth quarter the local boys put the ball across again, and Johnny Kemp made a successful attempt on the try for point after touchdown. It was his first experience in competition. Considerable forward passing was done by both teams during the game, and both aggregations made a number of first downs, with Wayne having the edge.

Sund made two of Wayne's touchdowns, Hendrickson made one, and Hughes made the other one.

Score by quarters:
Wayne 12 0 6 7

NEEDS FOR RED CROSS SERVICE ON INCREASE, SAYS CHAIRMAN PAYNE

Disaster Relief and Service to War Veterans Make Heavy Demands—First Aid on Highways New Plan.

Demands upon the public services that the American Red Cross is organized to give are increasingly heavy, and will continue to be so in the future, John Barton Payne, chairman, has announced.

The two major services of the society—service to war veterans and their dependents, and relief in disasters—show each year a greater number of persons helped by the Red Cross.

Pension legislation passed recently for World War Veterans, and increased allotments to all Spanish-American War Veterans, have given to Chapters and the national society many thousands of additional cases to handle, Judge Payne said.

In the past year help was given in 108 disasters. Ninety of these were in the United States, twelve in foreign possessions and six were in foreign countries.

Health activities of the Red Cross also are being extended, especially in the rural communities where all health authorities agree the greatest need exists. Red Cross, with 794 nurses in its employ, is the greatest employer of public health nurses in rural areas in the United States.

In its campaign against accidental deaths, begun twenty years ago with its life saving and first aid programs, the Red Cross now has adopted an additional program—that of combating the huge toll of life from automobile accidents on the highways.

Expenditures of the Red Cross in the past year were $4,254,796.34, of which $1,208,151.09 was spent in disaster relief, the chairman pointed out.

"The Red Cross depends upon the public for its support, through their memberships enrolled once each year in the period from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day," Judge Payne said.

"We do not receive any support from the Government, or through other taxation, although as the President of the United States is president of the society, and one-third of its governing members are representatives of U. S. Departments, it ranks as a semi-governmental agency.

"By joining as a member, in the local Red Cross Chapter, once each year, during the annual Roll Call, every citizen will have a part in carrying on this great humanitarian task."

The College high school football team has concluded its football practice under Coach Fred Dale.

A foundation for a new power unit has been built at West Point, Nebr.

PLAN MOTOR STADIUM

Alliance, Neb., will be the first city in the world to have a motor stadium, if the plan suggested by a citizen of that community and eagerly received by others goes through to completion.

Alliance, like other cities where football is a far-calling autumn sport, has experienced the nuisance of a few automobiles lining their noses along the field lines and hogging all the seeing space. Later comers in automobiles have had to park in the second row and either dismount from their seats to see the game or incur the danger of dislocating neck-vertebrae.

An Alliance sportsman has proposed a motor stadium with several floors facing one side of the football field.

It will have no roof. Inclined runways will enable cars to reach any level with ease and, once in place, the occupants of the car from any point can see the game with an unobstructed view. The structure would not be expensive. A series of concrete walls, a little earthwork with a grader and a roller, some gravel surfacing so the ramps would drain properly—and there you are.

The cars would enter at a series of gates and leave the same way, avoiding confusion and danger. Along the sidelines space would be left for plenty of bleacher seats where pedestrians could cool their skins if desired.

A high school annex has been completed at Neligh, Nebr.

"Join Red Cross," Urges Vice President Curtis

America's prominent citizens join in urging all men and women to become members of the Red Cross during the period of the annual roll call from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day.

The Honorable Charles Curtis, Vice President of the United States, says: "The American Red Cross is in a position to and does more to relieve those stricken by misfortune than any other organization in the world. Its splendid work has done much to bring a friendly feeling in all parts of the world for the people of our country because they sustain the American Red Cross. This wonderful organization is entitled to the liberal support of our people."

The Honorable Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, says: "No one can predict when or where disaster may occur or acute emergency arise. The American Red Cross represents our community insurance against such misfortunes. The organization stands ready at all times to render speedy relief to any stricken area in our own country or to assist in the relief of disaster in foreign countries. The Red Cross is the agency which carries on when emergency has disrupted customary modes and means of life in a community."

Six Foreign Countries Receive Red Cross Aid

Relief was given by the American Red Cross during the year in six foreign nations in disasters ranging from a tidal wave in Newfoundland, an earthquake in Persia, floods in France to help for refugees from Russia and prevention of a smallpox epidemic in Costa Rica.

The $5,000 Red Cross contribution to Newfoundland, following the tidal wave, which took twenty-six lives and destroyed many homes and fishing boats, was the first from an outside country to reach the distressed people.

The sum of $5,000 was given to the fund for the relief of the Mennonite refugees of German descent, who had determined to leave Russia for new lands. About 13,000 passed through Germany, where the German Red Cross, aided by Red Cross societies of other nations, helped them. The majority are being transported to new countries in the western world and the American Red Cross has transmitted contributions from individuals in this country.

When Costa Rica was menaced by a smallpox epidemic, the American Red Cross sent fifty thousand tubes of vaccine, in two airplane loads, undoubtedly saving the country from a serious outbreak of the dread disease.
