The Gas Company Says "Thank You"

Citizens of Wayne have again shown their good judgment and have exercised a high order of intelligence.

A heavy majority of Wayne citizens showed by voting in favor of the gas franchise last week that they are capable of discriminating between constructive and progressive policy and one of reaction and staleness. A city cannot stand still. It must go forward or backward, and Wayne will go forward with other northeast Nebraska towns, while without natural gas it would certainly go back.

The advent of natural gas promises Nebraska the greatest and most constructive step forward in its history. The Studebaker interests, controlling the gas, pipe line, and distribution within the cities is definitely and permanently committed to industrial expansion for Nebraska. The interests of the company and the state are entirely mutual. The Gas Company pledges itself and its investment to a fair and honorable association and business relation with Wayne and asks for the same consideration from it. The nice majority given the franchise indicates that we will get it, but aside from that, we believe in the fairness and intelligence of Wayne citizenry.

There were some who opposed the franchise from honest convictions, based on rumors that you will eventually find to be absurd, but let's forget all about that now and work together for the common good. We seek pleasant public relations, and will do our best to merit them.

The franchise must yet be passed by the council, but with such a demand on the part of the public, it should be complete and operative without material loss of time. We will send our engineers to map the city, obtain right of way across the county, and do the preliminary work so that pipe may be laid as soon as warm weather comes. It will take approximately 3 months to build the system in Wayne and will give employment to about 150 men, all of whom will be local if they are available. It will turn a nice pay roll into the city each week, will bring new men to town who will represent different manufacturers of gas appliances and those who will have business with the gas company. 1931 will be a boom year for Wayne, and all Northeast Nebraska. It will mean a considerable amount of money paid to land owners for right of way, yet after the gas line is under a farm it will not be damaged in the least.

We will have to have an office and store building. It will be one that Wayne may be proud of. We may have to build one.

As a representative of the gas company and on behalf of the company, I want to thank certain citizens of Wayne who gave a great deal of time and thought to the campaign to carry the election to grant the franchise.

Wayne owes them much of an unselfish and vigorous fight for what they believed to be the best interests of the city as a whole. They had no more to gain than any other taxpayer and citizen and representatives of the gas company who handled the matter for the gas company have not been approached by a single, improper proposal.

The gas company appreciates the hard, unpleasant and sometimes thankless work of these public spirited men and women. The splendid majority given the franchise indicates that citizens of Wayne also appreciate their work.

Respectfully Submitted

WITH THE WAYNE CHURCHES

First Presbyterian Church
P. A. Davies, Pastor

It certainly was a privilege to hear Dr. Morrill last Tuesday afternoon and evening. And what a crowd there were about the tables in the evening! One hundred and eighty were present. Our beautiful dining hall well filled to overflowing, a wonderful supper prepared by our ladies, and best of all, a masterly address by one of the great leaders of the church, gave our people an evening that will be long remembered. We hope that it will be our privilege to hear Dr. Morrill again in Wayne. We wish to thank the ladies for the supper and the crowd. For in great part the people were present because they had been called by the members of the committee. It is hard work but who can estimate the value of the larger fellowship of such times. Again, the pastor wishes to say thank you. There were about forty out of town guests. Dr. Morrill informs us that our group of churches was better represented than any group meeting that he has held in the state. Wakefield, Carroll, Randolph, and Osmond were represented.

The Ladies Aid were entertained in the church parlors Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. R. A. McEachen, Mrs. W. C. Coryell, Mrs. R. L. Larson, and Mrs. C. H. Fisher.

The committee who have in charge the obtaining of new song books for our Sunday school and the evening hour are asking people to be as generous as possible. We will need at least 150 books and orchestrations. Books will cost about $140.

Services were well attended last Sunday. We are asking for two large congregations next Sunday. Our young peoples work is growing. Are you interested in the young people of Wayne? If you are, will you not be present next Sunday evening. The evening services as you know are in great part the work of the young people.

Our services for next Sunday are as follows: Sunday school, 10:00. Morning worship, 11:00. Evening choir, 6:00. C. E. services, 6:30. Evening service, 7:30. At the evening hour we will continue our discussion of foundation reliefs of the church. A cordial invitation is extended to attend one and all of our services.

First Baptist Church
W. E. Braisted, Pastor

10:00—Church Sunday school Bible study. Interesting, worthwhile. Classes for all. The pastor has the Young People's class.

11:00—The morning worship; inspiring music, preaching. Subject of the message: "Sower, Seed, Soil, Success."

6:30—The Young People's Fellowship and Discussion Group. Topic: "My Idea of What a Young Man Ought to Be." And, get this, a young woman is to lead that discussion. Better come, young men, and "get the idea." Ought to be interesting.

7:00—The evening good-fellowship hour. Good-chor, bright inspiring singing, practical, vital message by the pastor. The subject will be: "Life and Life."

Wednesday evenings, at 7:30 the Life Enrichment Group meets for Bible study, discussion of important questions, and for prayer. Any one is welcomed.

Thursday 3:00 the Woman's Missionary society meets with Mrs. Rennie, Mrs. A. D. Lewis assisting as hostess with Mrs. Rennie. Topic: "America", Leader, Mr. Braisted.

Friday 6:30—Fellowship supper (no charge) followed by a social evening, program, play. This ought to be a great evening. The men are putting on this supper. That ought to interest all.

First Methodist Episcopal Church
W. W. Whitman, Pastor.

The response to our "Church Workers Inventory" last Sunday was very encouraging. We expect to classify and organize the results as soon as possible so that every member will have their definite work. If you were not present last Sunday or have not filled in your report, please do so at once. Come next Sunday for your blanks or ask the pastor for same. No unemployment problem in our church; there is work for everyone. Thanks for your fine response last Sunday.

Services next Sunday as follows:
10:00—Sunday school session.
11:00—Morning worship. Sermon by the pastor, special organ music by Mrs. J. T. Bressler, Jr. organist, and by choir.

4:30—Vespers, this quiet hour of christian fellowship at this closing hour of the Sabbath Day will help you throughout the week.

5:30—Young Peoples meeting, in charge of Mrs. Whitman.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church
W. C. Heidenreich, Pastor

10:00—Sunday school.
11:00—Divine worship.
7:00—Luther League.

Merit Merchants Merit Your Patronage

Whether Merit Merchants are putting on special sales or not has nothing to do with the contention that Merit Merchants are worthy of your patronage.

You may be confident that the Merit Merchant is giving you the best possible buy for the money, regardless of what your purchase happens to be. He knows that he is going to depend on you for his future livelihood, and he would not dare to give you an inferior value, even if he wanted to.

Merit Merchants earnestly try to give low prices, but price is always secondary to value. Quality merchandise is the only kind of goods you can buy from one of the firms listed on this page. They realize that "quality is remembered long after price is forgotten."

Merit Merchants are dependable and responsible. If any merchandise purchased from one of these firms is unsatisfactory in any way, you'll find them eager to make good.

Buy from firms who merit your patronage.

Nebraska Leads in Quantity Hog Raising
It would be a ticklish matter to try to pick Nebraska's best hog raiser; it is not so difficult a feat to pick the one who engages in the business on the largest scale, for George W. Pringle of Parks seems to qualify easily for that distinction. If the tourist journeys west on the main line of the Burlington or travels in the same direction on highway No. 3, he will begin to observe a few miles west of Benkleman and running al-

'Long Distance' started with a two mile talk...

Now it crosses continents and oceans

ON the night of October 9, 1876, two excited young men talked to each other over a distance of two miles. One was Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone; the other was Thomas A. Watson, his co-worker. Their conversation over a telegraph wire between Cambridgeport and Boston was the beginning of long distance telephoning.

Four years later Boston talked with Providence 45 miles away and in 1884 with New York over wires 235 miles long. Gradually as telephone instruments were improved, better lines built and new inventions applied to telephoning, "Long Distance" extended its reach . . . westward to Chicago . . . to Omaha . . . to Denver . . . on to San Francisco in 1915. Now it spans oceans to Europe and South America.

When telephone service first was introduced in the states where this Company* operates, a telephone user could talk to a few score or few hundred persons in the same community. Now every town and city can be joined with the nation-wide network of long distance lines.

Extension of telephone service—constantly increasing the number of telephones you can reach—is one way in which this Company is able to make your service more valuable.

NORTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

*The Northwestern Bell Telephone Company, which operates in the states of Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, is an Associated Company of the Bell System. It owns and operates more than 650,000 telephones. Its lines connect with more than 900,000 telephones of other companies in these five states and with nearly 30,000,000 others throughout the United States and in foreign countries. It employs more than 12,000 men and women.

Our Policy: The most telephone service, and the best at the least cost to the public.

most to the town of Parks, an almost continuous chain of hog yards and pastures. Overlooking the far-reaching farm is the home of George Pringle, the owner. Houses for his employes are situated on the tract, all resembling a small village sitting on a hill, overlooking the valley of the Republican river.

The number of hogs on the Pringle ranch varies with seasons and conditions, but will average about 5,000 head.
