Wayne Boys Play Part in Scout Week

To Observe Twenty-First Birthday of National Organization.

Wayne's two Boy Scout troops will play their part in observance of Boy Scout Week, which starts Sunday, Feb. 8, and ends Saturday, Feb. 14. This year, Scout troops throughout the United States are celebrating the twenty-first anniversary of the foundation of the Boy Scouts of America.

Since 1910, 4,491,982 boys have belonged to the Scout movement, and national plans call for the wearing of Scout insignia by all past and present members during the anniversary week.

On Sunday, Feb. 8, local Boy Scouts will give a radio broadcast program from station WJAG at Norfolk from 3:00 to 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Wayne troop 174 will be represented in a dramatization of a scouting story by Robert Theobald, Miles Tyrrell, and Robert Gulliver.

At 7:30 Sunday evening, all Boy Scouts of Wayne will attend church services at the Presbyterian church. Rev. P. A. Davies will give a sermon keeping with the idea of Scout week.

Members of the scout troops will give a program before students of the college high school on Wednesday morning, Feb. 11, at nine o'clock.

At 7:30 Wednesday evening, there will be a meeting at the training school for all scouts of both troops, parents, scout officials and friends. Scouts will give a program and the Court of Honor will present merit badges, medals, palms and other awards.

Scouts of Troop 174 will raise the American flag with proper ceremony at 9:00 o'clock in the morning each school day during the week.

The Inquiring Reporter

(Every week a Democrat reporter will ask a question of five people, picked at random. If there's any question you would like to have asked, let us know about it.)

What do you think of the campaign to send a car-load of poultry from Wayne county to the Texas-Arkansas drought area?

J. M. Cherry, county judge—"It is a splendid cause. I don't think there will be any difficulty at all in filling the car. Wayne county folks will put the drive across in their customary fine style."

L. W. McNatt—"It is a worthwhile project that deserves the support of everyone in the community. We must not rely on the farmers to fill the car, without our help. Every resident of Wayne county towns must contribute."

Fred L. Blair—"This campaign is one of the finest things Wayne county has ever done. It is a worthy cause that deserves very-one's support."

J. J. Ahern—"The drive to send a car-load of poultry to needy folks in Arkansas and Texas deserves the aid of every individual in Wayne county. The rate at which contributions from towns-people are coming in indicates that town folks will buy enough chickens to fill more than half a car. With what the farmers contribute, we should have more than a car-load of poultry."

Walter Savidge—"It is a splendid campaign. It merits the support of everyone in the county. Wayne county folks have always responded well to charitable causes in the past, and there is no reason to believe that they will fail on this one."

Have Assurance Cause is Worthy

Nobody can offer the argument on Wayne county's poultry day, Saturday, Feb. 14, that we should not give because we do not know whether deserving parties will get the donations or not.

Wayne county citizens are going to be SURE that their poultry gifts go to a worthy cause. E. E. "Bunt" Fleetwood is going to go along with the poultry car and see that the chickens are well taken care of during the trip. He has secured reliable information on how to feed the poultry and what to feed them.

"Bunt" is taking the car-load to the scene of the suffering and starvation. He will see to it that the poultry is used, and used by people deserving of relief.

Not one cent of the money in this campaign is going for organization expenses. No person is getting a nickel for work in promoting the proposition. The railroad company has donated the car.

EVERY CENT taken in and EVERY CHICKEN given to the cause will go to feed starving thousands in the Arkansas and Texas drought area.

EASTBURN TALKS TO LOCAL KIWANIS CLUB

Says Modern Community Needs Commercial Organization.

Glen E. Eastburn, commissioner of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce, told Wayne Kiwanians at their regular meeting Monday, Feb. 2, that a town like Wayne needs a commercial club.

Mr. Eastburn's talk was devoted largely to a discussion of retailing. As an example of the change in business methods during the last few years, he cited his own experience. Mr. Eastburn said that he was raised in an Iowa town and that town's trade territory was six miles when he was a boy. The trade territory of that same town, he said, is now approximately 30 miles. He attributed the change to better highways.

In days gone by, he said, the corner store got all the business there was to get, but times have changed. People don't have to buy from any one particular individual, he explained, and buyers are going further, in order to get better values.

The merchant who gives the most value for the money will get the business, he contended.

Any town needs some form of commercial club, he contended, because cooperation is necessary. The spirit of working together is more essential now than ever before, he said, and added that present economic conditions mean that the live towns will survive and the sleepy towns will fall by the wayside.

Merchants must unite in making their town attractive to the trade territory, he explained, and told of work that has been done with that thought in mind by other communities.

Will Take Movies of County Poultry Day

Folks who want to see what they look like on the moving picture screen will have an opportunity to find out on Saturday, Feb. 14, the day that Wayne county sends a car-load of poultry to Arkansas.

A moving picture camera-man will be in Wayne on that day to take pictures of the crowd, the loading of the poultry car, the prize winners, and the various street attractions.

The picture will later be shown in this territory in a news reel. Efforts are being made to get the camera-man to take a considerable amount of footage. Much of the film would not be of news value in any other community, but would prove intensely interesting to people in Wayne county who had contributed chickens to the cause.

June Conger Dies Here Wednesday

Hold Services for Pioneer Resident of County Tomorrow.

Funeral services will be held from the home tomorrow, Feb. 6, for June Conger, 72, who passed away at 1:45 o'clock Wednesday morning, Feb. 4, from cerebral hemorrhage. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery in Wayne.

Mr. Conger had been a resident of Wayne county for 41 years, and was considered one of the real pioneers of the territory.

Julian Conger was born on Nov. 8, 1858, at Decorah, Iowa. On Sept. 1, 1881, he was married to Miss Luella Strahan, and in 1889 the Congers moved to Wayne from Malvern, Iowa. They resided on a Wayne county farm for many years.

Mr. Conger leaves to mourn his passing his widow and five children: Clarence, Floyd and O. T. Conger of Wayne; Mrs. Fred Ellis of Wayne, and Mrs. J. W. Davis of Gurley, Nebr. A brother, Jud Conger, and a sister, Mrs. Ida Pease, both of Indianapolis, Ind., and 16 grandchildren, as well as a host of friends, will lament his passing.

Mr. Conger was a highly respected citizen of the community, and had always been admired for his progressive attitude and his willingness to help in any cause he thought worthy.

ORGANIZATIONS GIVE AID TO CAMPAIGN

Clubs and Lodges Offer Support to Drought Relief Project.

Wayne organizations are doing their share in putting the campaign to send a car-load of live poultry to the Texas-Arkansas drought area "over the top". Donations from lodges and clubs are already pouring in to the committee in charge of money donations. C. M. Craven is in charge of organization donations. All money contributed will be used in the purchase of poultry.

The Walther League of the Grace Lutheran church (Missouri Synod) was one of the first groups to bring in a money donation to the cause, and their donation was followed closely by one from the U. D. club.

The Masonic lodge and the Odd Fellows lodge each voted to donate a crate of chickens to be sent to the drought territory. Wayne's fire department showed their loyalty to the community by coming in with a donation of a crate of chickens.

Mr. Craven says that various civic organizations in the community have signified their intentions of contributing generously to the fund, but that he cannot give the Democrat any official information on their action until the clubs have held meetings and decided on the amount of their donations.

One organization head who asked that his name be withheld said, "We must not expect the farmers to do more than their share. If we are to fill the poultry car on Saturday, Feb. 14, every person in the county must contribute. Our organization is buying a crate of chickens as evidence to poultry raisers that we are willing to do our share. Individuals in our organization also pledged the purchase of chickens."

Hold Service Monday for Carroll Woman

Funeral services were held Monday, Feb. 2, at the Carroll Methodist church for Mrs. Howard Porter, at two o'clock in the afternoon. Rev. S. P. Simpson had charge of services. Burial was in Greenwood cemetery at Wayne.

Mrs. Orle B. Porter died on Friday, Jan. 30, at her home at Carroll. She was 38 years old at the time of her death. She is survived by her husband, Howard Porter, and two children; a married daughter, Opal, and Loren D. Porter of Carroll.

Entertainment Adds to Relief Day Interest

Wayne Band to Play and Free Attractions to Be Presented.

Wayne will take on a holiday appearance on Saturday, Feb. 14, the day designated for loading of Wayne county's poultry donations to starving thousands in the Arkansas and Texas drought territory.

The Wayne band will play a concert and special free street attractions have been arranged for. G. A. Wade, publisher of The Democrat, asks that it be understood that absolutely none of the money donated to the poultry campaign is being used in paying for free attractions.

The Wayne band is donating its services, and free attractions are being paid by The Democrat.

Walter Savidge heads the free attraction committee, and promises that there will be plenty of entertainment. Arrangements will be made, if possible, for the entertainment features to be presented in Winside, Carroll, Hoskins and Sholes, as well as in Wayne.

Attractions have been arranged as an inducement to Wayne county people to bring live poultry donations, to be sent to the Arkansas-Texas drought area.

Wayne High Loses Game to West Point

Wayne high school's basketball team took its first loss of the season last night, when West Point won from the local aggregation by a score of 17 to 15. The game was played at West Point and about 150 Wayne enthusiasts witnessed it.

The Wayne team played "too cautiously in the first half, and the score at the end of the first period was 13 to 3 in favor of the West Pointers. While Wayne scored only three points in the first half, West Point made only four markers in the second period, and Wayne opened up on offensive play and garnered 12 tallies.

The Pointers met Wayne with one defeat already marked up against them by School for Deaf of Omaha. Wayne had a clean slate until last night's engagement.

Followers of Wayne basketball had regarded the West Point game as the toughest one on the local schedule.

A County Drive

Sending a car-load of poultry to the southern drought area is not solely a Wayne proposition. It is, and must be, a Wayne county drive, embracing Wayne, Carroll, Winside, Hoskins and Sholes.

Other towns of the county are doing their part, sponsoring their own campaigns. The various campaigns are not connected together in any way other than in singleness of purpose—to furnish relief to starving thousands.

Credit for each campaign will go to each town. The car-load of poultry will be a gift, not from Wayne, but from Wayne county.

It makes no difference to the committee in any Wayne county town where you bring our chicken donations. There is no rivalry. The idea is to send relief to the needy, and inter-city rivalry has taken a back-seat.

If each town could get enough poultry to send a car-load, there would be a car on the tracks in each community. Since it would be almost impossible to send five car-loads of poultry, one car has been ordered and that car will be on the tracks at Wayne. Donations may be brought to any one of the towns and at the close of the campaign, Saturday evening, Feb. 14, the donations will be loaded into the car.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gildersleeve and baby of Hartington were visitors at the Gene Gildersleeve home Sunday.

Democrat Offers to Add to Relief Fund

The Nebraska Democrat is offering to give one-half of all money paid in on past-due or new subscriptions to the fund being used to buy poultry for Wayne county's gift to the starvation areas of Arkansas and Texas.

Every person who subscribes to The Democrat between now and Sunday, Feb. 15, will pay the regular price of $1.50 per year. Seventy-five cents of the $1.50, however, will go into the poultry fund.

Anyone who has a past-due bill for a subscription to The Democrat can pay the bill and know that one-half of the money paid is going to buy chickens for starving Arkansians.

The offer is open to everyone, whether a new or old subscriber to The Democrat. There are no strings attached to it. One-half of all subscription money taken in by this newspaper between now and the time the poultry car leaves for Texarkana will be used in buying poultry to help fill the car.

Here's a chance for you to get a regular, recognized value at its usual price and still feel that you are helping in the worthy Drought Area Relief campaign.

Entertainer Scores at Kiwanis Banquet

Jules Brazile Has Crowd in Uproar; 150 Guests Attend Party.

Wayne's Kiwanis club presented the outstanding-social event of the season in a Founders' Day banquet at the Hotel Stratton last Friday evening, Jan. 30. About 150 guests attended the affair.

Jules Brazile, professional entertainer and NBC radio network performer, wise-cracked his way into the hearts of the guests and made the evening one of hilarity. For two hours he sang, played the piano, imitated celebrities, gave impromptu monologues, and razzed the guests.

Brazile showed a remarkable memory for names and faces and demonstrated his ability to retain facts by calling nearly every one in the banquet room by name during the course of the evening.

His barbed shafts of wit were thrust indiscriminately through the crowd, and kept the guests in gales of merriment. Brazile makes a specialty of entertaining at club banquets, and was engaged at considerable expense.

Ben Carhart introduced Brazile to the audience, and Fred L. Blair led the group in community singing.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Carwell, former residents of Wayne, celebrated their sixty-second wedding anniversary on Jan. -1, at their home in Oakdale, Neb. Mr. Cadwell is 86, and Mrs. Cadwell is 82 years old.

County Drive Seems Sure of Great Success

People of Wayne County to Send Poultry Car to Drought Area.

"SEND A CHICKEN"

Cash contributions to be used in the campaign to send a car-load of live poultry from Wayne county to the drought area in Texas and Arkansas have been flooding the committee in charge this past week, and indications are that enough money will be raised among towns-people of Wayne, Winside, Carroll, Hoskins and Sholes to fill over half of the poultry car.

Martin L. Ringer, member of the committee in charge, says that if every quarter-section of land in the county would send two chickens the drive would be an overwhelming success. While residents of Wayne county towns can be of material aid in the furtherance of the project, the success of the campaign depends largely upon the generosity of Wayne county farmers.

Here's the Dope

The idea is to send a car-load of live poultry to the drought area of Texas and Arkansas—a territory where thousands of men, women and children are starving. Reports of conditions in the stricken territory are published every day in city newspapers and are common knowledge.

Anyone with power to help should be willing to assist our less fortunate brothers. It is in Wayne county's power to be of assistance.

We live in the heart of the world's richest agricultural district. We have been fortunate, where the citizens of the drought area have been woefully unfortunate.

Too Much Poultry

There is an over-supply of poultry. Residents of our county have complained about the prices offered for chickens and eggs. Here, then, is a chance to get rid of the over-supply, thus raising the prices, and still be of inestimable service to deserving people.

The plan is simple. Every town in the county is organized for furtherance of the drive. Those wishing to donate money to the cause can see any member of any town's committee and make a donation. The money, every cent of it, will be used to buy chickens. No money is being spent on promotion of the campaign. There are no paid organizers. The Democrat feels that when money is given for charity, it should go for charity and not as profit to some individual.

Bring 'Em In

If you are going to give chickens, all you will have to do is bring your chickens in to any town in the county on Saturday, Feb. 14. You do not have to have the chickens in a crate, and if you do have them in a crate, the crate will be returned to you immediately. All we want is CHICKENS!

No one can have any of the customary excuses for not contributing to (continued on page five)

Send This Coupon--Now!

Every family planning on donating chickens, either at Wayne, Winside, Hoskins, Carroll, or Sholes, should fill out the coupon below and mail it to Martin L. Ringer as soon as possible. The committee wants to have an idea of how many chickens to prepare to take care of. If enough chickens are going to be donated, another poultry car will be secured from the railroad company. Send the coupon as soon as possible, so that arrangements can be made.

Thousands Pay Visit to Nebraska Museums

In Nebraska there are a number of museums devoted to the exhibition of Nebraska historical material. Morrill Hall at the University of Nebraska and the rooms of the Nebraska State Historical society draw thousands of visitors. The museums at Hastings is coming into prominence. Last year 38,112 persons put their names on the museum register. That was about 4,000 more than the number who registered in 1929.

In the neighborhood of 6,000 gifts, loans and additions were received at the museum during the year. The Hill collection of Indian relics was augmented by many valuable acquisitions. It is considered one of the best of its kind in the west. A collection of Pawnee Indian material is exceptionally complete.

Additions to the museum displays during 1930 include: A large fish collection; many birds, animals and reptiles from South America; almost a hundred rare guns and pistols; a pair of millstones that came over in the Mayflower; the John Williamson Indian relics, given by his Indian friends; a large collection of old Sioux utensils from the Pine Ridge reservation; the mummy of High-backed Wolf, a Cheyenne chief, with his entire outfit; and an unusually large mammoth tusk which measures over 14 feet in length.

The museum is housed in an abandoned brick school building on the south edge of Hastings. A large amount of material is stored away awaiting a time when there will be a large enough space in which to display it. Its curator, A. M. Brookings, is much in demand to identify historical finds, especially those of Indian origin. His collection of Nebraska birds and animals is quite complete.

START CHAPTER OF YELLOW DOGS HERE

Membership Fees to Go into Fire Department General Fund.

Wayne has a chapter of the Ancient and International Order of Yellow Dogs, organized Tuesday evening, Feb. 3, at a meeting of the Wayne fire department.

Membership in the order of good-fellowship is open to any "regular guy" and the cost of initiation is fifty cents. There are no other costs and no dues. "Once a Yellow Dog, always a member," is a rule of the society.

Proceeds of the initiation will go into the fire department fund.

Sol Hemple has been elected to the office of Kennel Keeper, and Frank Korff is Registrar.

Those who became brothers of "Runt," the original little yellow dog, at the first meeting of the society are John Bingold, Carl Bernston, H. W. Barnett, Joe Baker, W. S. Bressler, R. H. Carpenter, E. E. Fleetwood, Robert Henkel, Frank Korff, Henry Ley, Roy Larson, L. B. McClure, P. A. Mildner, Martin L. Ringer, L. W. Vath, A. E. Davidson, and J. G. Mimes.

The organization is for amusement purposes only, and is strictly masculine.

Boys Do Their Part in Drought Relief Aid

Spirit that will some day make them community leaders was shown by four Wayne boys, Jack Morgan, Wayne Bornhoff, Douglas Canning and Waldo McIntyre, Saturday, Jan. 31.

Jack, Wayne, Douglas and Waldo are good five-wire boys. They had read about Wayne county's campaign to send a car-load of poultry to Arkansas, and when apprised of a plan to distribute handbills in furtherance of the cause, they volunteered to put the bills out without pay.

Their attitude is typical of the willingness to help expressed by everyone called upon. Nobody has received one cent of pay for any work done in connection with the campaign to send a car-load of poultry to the thousands of starving people in the Arkansas-Texas drought area. It is this spirit of eagerness to aid suffering humanity which will, in the opinion of the relief committee, make the drive a success.

COUNTY POULTRY DRIVE TO BE GREAT SUCCESS (continued from first page)

charity. The cause is worthy. Nobody even questions that fact. Diverse dime spent goes to feed hungry people. We know where our donations are going. A Wayne county man, "Bunt" Fleetwood, is going to travel right with the poultry car. He will go to Texarkana, the destination of the car, and will stay in Texarkana until he sees that the chickens are being disposed of as Wayne county wants them to be.

All Get Credit.

Nobody can claim that the committee wants "too much." We are not asking for any set amount. Everyone can give what they feel like giving. We do not want anyone to feel that he is being forced into anything. If you don't feel that you want to help this cause, we don't want your money.

Each town in the county is handling its drive separately. The chickens will be shipped in a poultry car, and the gift will be from "Wayne County, Nebraska." Every town will get credit for its share.

Chickens should be brought in on Saturday, Feb. 14, only. If they are brought in earlier, money would have to be taken out of the fund to buy feed with, and we are determined that every cent of the money contributed shall go for buying chickens.

Bring your chickens in to any town in the county at any time on Saturday, Feb. 14. The car will not be completely loaded until late Saturday night. The Winside donation will be loaded early Sunday morning.

Food to be used by the chickens on the trip is being donated.

Here's The Committee

The committee in charge of the campaign for Wayne consists of J. J. Ahern, Chas. Craven, Rollie W. Ley, Fred Blair, L. W. McNatt, W. A. Hiseox, Dr. Wm. Hawkins, Perry Theobald, Dr. J. C. Johnson, Carl Wright, Homer Seace, Pearl E. Sewell, W. M. Orr, Walter Savidge, B. F. Strahan, Martin L. Ringer, G. A. Wade, and George P. Anderson.

Burr Davis and F. C. Reed are the committee in charge of music. E. E. Fleetwood and Ray Larson compose the transportation committee.

Earlier advice to the effect that the car would be sent to Little Rock, Ark., was corrected by Carl Gray, Jr., vice president of the railroad. Mr. Gray finds that the immediate need is greater in the vicinity of Texarkana, and the Wayne county committee has assured Mr. Gray that we want to send the poultry where it will do the most good. The railroad's sincerity is evident, when it is considered that Texarkana is a much longer haul, and the railroad company is not getting a penny for transportation of the car.

WILDCATS START ON LONGEST ROAD TRIP

Will Play Basketball at Chadron, Spearfish and Rapid City.

Wayne State Teachers' college basketball team leaves town tonight on the longest road trip ever taken by a Wayne-athletic team. The Wildcat hoopers play at Chadron Friday and Saturday, then go to Spearfish Monday to play Spearfish Normal, and end the tour with a game with the School of Mines at Rapid City on Tuesday.

The long road trip was necessitated according to Coach Ray Hickman, by the expense connected with the Chadron engagement. It would be impossible to take care of the finances on a Chadron game, he explained, without additional revenue.

The Wildcat basketball team will start back to Wayne after the Rapid City game Tuesday.

Professor Discusses Wickersham Report

By Charles F. Bongardt, Professor of Law, Creighton University.

Numerous efforts have been made since the adoption of the Eighteenth amendment to lay the axe to national prohibition at its root. First, the legality of the amendment was unavailingly tested in the courts on a dozen different grounds. These hearings were followed by unsuccessful attempts to repeal the amendment. To repeal or to modify the enforcing legislation laws on the theory, that they involve a repudiation of the "unalienable rights" proclaimed by the Declaration of Independence, exceed the inherent powers of government, and hence are null and void.

And still the Eighteenth amendment stands, in fact as well as in law, root, trunk and branches. It can't be cut down and it can't be circumvented.

And now appears the latest phenomenon, the Wickersham report, with its 12 separate variations, the result of months of study. Some say there is nothing new in it, and some say there is nothing in it at all. But there is something in it, and that something is distinctly new. The report recommends to Congress—and its recommendation is no less obvious because for political reasons, it is carefully veiled—that the Eighteenth amendment itself be revised. This is the first time that idea has been formally presented.

But this attempt, like those at repeal, at avoidance, at nullification, will surely fail, if history is as prophetic as we know it to be. It is just another woodman swinging on the same old tree. And, confusion worse confounded, there are 12 big nicks in his blade.

National prohibition is still here because Congress does not know, if such be the fact, that the country no longer wants it.

Seven-eighths of the states of the union have local prohibition laws of their own. Congress as far as it can, will keep this country nationally dry until it is convinced, by repeal of local prohibition amendments and laws, that the country is wet and not dry.

Texas Farmers Try Egg Storage Plants

Texas, home of many modern farming ideas, is fostering a new thought—a co-operative egg storage plant which a group of farmers there believe will enable egg producers to obtain a greater portion of the profits from this farm product.

A 2400 case, electrically refrigerated storage plant is being constructed in the farm community at Bowie, Texas, and will be ready by early spring. Summer eggs ordinarily thrown on an unprofitable market, will be held for the more favorable fall and winter prices.

Community egg storage followed an investigation of the success of small egg refrigeration plants, a number of which have been operated in the Lone Star state during the past two years by individual farmers and merchants.

One of the first of such plants was built by Lee Faulkner, Bellevue, Texas, merchant, who reported that during the first year he bought summer eggs for $7.50 a case and sold them in November for $12.50 a case.

"From the above figures," Mr. Faulkner stated, "it is evident that my plant, which cost $3,000, not only paid for itself during the first year, but that such a plant is a valuable asset to a farm community."

Advise Poultrymen to Start Early in Season

The early bird catches the worm, runs a well known axiom. Similarly, the experience of successful poultry raisers has shown, the early chick catches the high egg prices in the fall, when the supply is small and the demand is heavy.

Farmers and other flock-owners are being advised by poultry authorities to get ready for chicks now. To delay until late in the hatching season means that the pullets will be slow in starting to lay. The bulk of their egg production will occur when the period of peak prices is past.

Early-hatched chicks are candidates for the laying house when fresh eggs are scarce and bring the highest prices, it is pointed out. Therefore, the poultry raiser who starts early is laying a sound foundation for a profitable year.

The high quality of the stock is another factor upon which poultry profits depend to a great extent, authorities are agreed. That birds must be bred to lay is a fundamental of successful poultry raising. The increased production which farmers have been realizing from their poultry during the last few years, is due, almost directly, to efforts to build up good laying strains.

Cooking Kraut

A GREAT many people like sauerkraut, not only cold sauerkraut juice as a healthful drink, but the hot kraut itself as a tasty food. If you want to cook it in a casserole, which is a mighty good way, put some bacon fat in the bottom of the dish, then a layer of kraut, and continue to alternate the layers. Cook for several hours, and the result will have a rich meaty flavor which will make you ask for more. If there's any left, which isn't likely, put it in the refrigerator and use it as the basis for a salad the next day.

Simple Recipes

Here are a couple of simple recipes for both hot and cold sauerkraut.

Sauerkraut Shepherd Pie: Turn the sauerkraut from a No. 3 can into a buttered baking dish. Boil eight frankfurters twenty minutes. Arrange them on top of the sauerkraut, pile four cups of seasoned mashed potatoes lightly on top, dot with butter and brown in a hot oven. This recipe will serve eight persons.

Sauerkraut and Tomato Cocktail: Mix together one part juice from canned sauerkraut and one part juice from canned tomatoes with cracked ice in a cocktail shaker. Season with salt and paprika and shake until very cold and foamy. Serve at once in tiny glasses.

Sauerkraut juice is also packed by itself, in large containers for railroads and restaurants, and in No. 3 cans for family use.

RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

Wayne, Thursday, Febr. 19 at the STRATTON Hotel from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Mr. C. F. Redlich says: The "Perfect Retention Shields" hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief and contract the opening in a remarkable short time.

The secret of their success is in their simplicity. An expertly adjusted device seals the opening without discomfort or detention from work. It is practically everlasting, sanitary, comfortable and actually holds ruptures which heretofore were considered uncontrollable.

Stomach troubles, backache and constipation, nearly always a consequence of rupture, promptly disappear.

Bring your children. According to statistics 95% recover by our method.

NOTICE: All whom we have treated during the past ten years are invited to come in for a free inspection.

HOME OFFICE: 535 Boston Block, Minneapolis, Minn.

They were, Mary Jane Morgan, Max Hendrickson, and Frank Claycomb. The judges also discussed the two sides of the question for benefit of the debaters. Visitors that day were Mrs. D. J. Cavanaugh, Mrs. A. P. Cavanaugh, Mrs. Pile, Mrs. Randall, Mrs. Jones, and Mrs. Mae Young.

FORD SMOOTHNESS

The new Ford has more than twenty ball and roller bearings

EVIDENCE of the high quality built into the new Ford is the extensive use of ball and roller bearings. There are more than twenty in all — an unusually large number. Each bearing is adequate in size and carefully selected for the work it has to do.

At some points in the Ford chassis you will find ball bearings. At others, roller bearings are used regardless of their higher cost. The deciding factor is the performance of the car.

The extensive use of ball and roller bearings in the new Ford insures smoother operation, saves gasoline, increases speed and power, gives quicker pick-up, decreases noise, and gives greater reliability and longer life to vital moving parts.

Other outstanding features that make the new Ford a value far above the price are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, silent, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, three-quarter floating rear axle, Rustless Steel, the extensive use of fine steel forgings, and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.

LOW PRICES OF FORD CARS $430 to $630

F. O. B. Detroit, plus freight and delivery. Dumpers and spare tires extra at small cost. You can buy a Ford for a small down payment on a convenient financing plan. See your Ford dealer for details.

LIVE STOCK

PURE-BRED SIRE
CAMPAIGN HELPS

Increased Interest Is Shown in Improved Stock.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Increased interest in improved live stock is shown by the records of the pure-bred-sire campaign, conducted by the states in co-operation with the United States Department of Agriculture. Listings of breeding stock submitted in recent months by those enrolling in the campaign show a total absence of scrub animals in herds headed by pure-bred sires, and the proportion of scrubs to all females listed before July 1, 1930, was only one in seventy. Although every male animal used must be pure bred in order that the owner may enroll in the campaign, the females kept on the farm may be crossed, grade, or scrub animals as well as pure bred. Most owners reported a considerable number of pure-bred females among their breeding stock.

Enrollment in the campaign entitles the farm owner to a barn sign resembling a bronze tablet, which bears the inscription, "Pure bred sires exclusively used on this farm." In addition, the owner is furnished a certificate, suitable for framing, signifying interest in better live stock. Enrollment blanks may be obtained on application to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Three Important Things in Care of Young Pigs

There are three things that are very important in the care of fall pigs, according to C. C. Culbertson of Iowa State college. These things are keeping them warm and dry, feeding them a good ration and keeping them in sanitary quarters.

The housing quarters must have plenty of room and be sanitary, well ventilated and bedded with clean straw. A hog oller in the quarters is valuable in the winter to keep down lice. Automatic feeders in the house will be the means of keeping the pigs from eating in the cold winds which are hard on them. If feeders are not located in the house there should be a windbreak to protect the pigs while eating. Water tanks with heaters in the houses will insure the pigs getting plenty of water. Warm water is not essential, but plenty of water is always necessary, Mr. Culbertson states.

A good balanced ration of corn and protein supplements is essential to rapid growth and a homemade or commercial mineral is also essential, according to Mr. Culbertson.

Basis of McLean System of Sanitation for Hogs

The McLean system of swine sanitation is based on the proposition that if animals are kept away from parasites there will be no trouble from that source. It can be successfully carried out by doing four things thoroughly and accurately, as follows:

1. Wash with soapy water and a brush all sows before they are put in farrowing houses, which have been scrubbed with boiling lye water.
2. Confine sows and pigs to the clean house until they are ready to move away from the old lots.
3. Haul, do not drive, the sows and pigs from the farrowing house to the clover field or pasture, which has had no hogs for at least a year, as driving would enable them to pick up worm eggs and thus infect the pigs at an early age.
4. Confine the pigs to the clean pasture, clover preferred, until they are four months old. Make sure there are no holes in the fence through which the pigs can go to the old lots.

Revive Chilled Lamb by Immersing in Hot Water

If, perchance, a new-born lamb becomes thoroughly chilled and even may appear to be almost lifeless, such a lamb may be placed in a tub of water, as warm as the shepherd can stand to keep his elbow in. This method is called the shepherd's "magic cure," and at times it really is amazing how an apparently lifeless lamb will, within 15 or 20 minutes, be decidedly alive and bleating for its mother.

Not only keep the lamb's nose out of the water, but its entire head as well, for the lamb's mother will recognize it not by sight or by sound, but by smell, and if the lamb's natural scent is entirely removed by being in the water, the ewe will likely disown the lamb when it is returned to her.

Use for Artichokes

The greatest usefulness of Jerusalem artichokes in the past has been as a stock feed. At present in France they are mostly used for sheep and cattle, and in this country they are most frequently grown for hogs. The crop has been highly recommended for this purpose, but has never superseded corn where that crop is raised. The leaves and branches are also good stock feed and are extensively used abroad. The stalks may be cured in the same way as corn stover.

Maronites Largest of Lebanon's Many Cults

Biblical Lebanon, Asia's only Christian state and the smallest one in the world, has seven different confessions among its 820,618 inhabitants, according to the last census. Despite mass emigration among people of their faith, Christians again maintain their majority. The largest group is the Maronites with 214,313 adherents. In addition there are 20,448 emigrants of this faith in the United States who still pay taxes to the homeland. They form one of the oldest Christian churches. Its history goes back as far as the Fourth century, retaining Aramaic as the church language. Since the Middle Ages, the Maronites have recognized the pope, although they have a patriarch of their own. There are only 5,421 Protestants in the Lebanese republic. The ancient churches such as the Syrian Jacobite and the Assyro-Chaldean claim the majority of 11,000 church-goers classed among the minorities. Next to the Maronites in strength are the Sunnite Moslems with 130,040 and the Shiites with 113,536.

Much Sunken Treasure May Soon Be Salvaged

Many of the difficulties of deep-water salvage have been successfully overcome, and the prospects are that much wealth will be recovered from the sunken hulks of the sea bed. One of the chief factors which have contributed to this success is a new diving apparatus, invented by a Kiel firm and used with great success. It looks like the conning tower of a submarine and has a trunk made of steel, the upper portion of which consists of windows of hard glass.

This trunk not only contains measuring and respiratory apparatus, but also a telephone and buoyant tanks. These tanks enable the diver to obtain complete control of his equilibrium. If he wishes to descend he lets water in through a tube. If, on the other hand, he wants to ascend, he blows it out with compressed air. With this it is possible to make descents of 500 feet, and there are many wealth-laden wrecks on the floor of the ocean within that distance of the surface.

First Colonial Surgeon

The first surgeon to come to Philadelphia is believed to have been John Godson, of London, who came over as surgeon to the Society of Free Traders before William Penn arrived. On the ship Welcome, with Penn, was Griffith Owen, the Welshman, who performed the first amputation in Philadelphia. To Dr. Thomas Bond, one of the co-founders with Franklin of the Pennsylvania hospital, when that institution was started in the middle of the Eighteenth century as the first hospital in the Colonies, belongs the credit of having performed the first lithotomy in America and also of having established the first clinic.

This was only a few years before the medical school of the College of Philadelphia, now the University of Pennsylvania, was founded in 1785.—Detroit News.

Reminders of Past Ages

Dinosaur canyon, situated in the almost inaccessible region of the Hopi Indian reservation in Arizona, was unknown to United States Indian agents or the white pioneers of the territory until Hubert Richardson, keeper of the Cameron trading post, was told of it by an Indian whose confidence he had gained. The result was that the National Geographic society sent a research party into the section which uncovered dozens of dinosaur tracks, cut deep into the rocks and said to have been imprinted there by prehistoric monsters about 30,000 years ago.—Detroit Free Press.

Swimming Power of Fishes

For the medium-sized fresh-water fishes the maximum swimming speed appears to be about seven miles an hour, with the possibility of a bound at nearly three times this rate. More detailed observations will be needed to show variations with species, sex, water temperature, physiological conditions, and so on. Among salt water fishes the sword fish is known to attain a speed of approximately 60 miles per hour. The bureau of fisheries says that the dolphin and carp are said to outswim the fastest vessels.

Interview Didn't Count

While Lynde M. Walter, first editor of the Boston Transcript, was ill, in the last two years of his life, the editorial burden fell on Joseph Palmer, B. A. Smalley writes in that paper. Palmer's one claim to fame was that he alone of newspaper men was accorded an interview by Charles Dickens on the latter's first visit to Boston. The interview lasted an hour. Palmer told all about his efforts in obtaining the interview in the paper but printed not one word of what was said.

He Was Right, But Wrong

A prominent Episcopalian tells this one: "Little James had only been coming to Sunday school a few months and heard the teacher ask many times, 'What Sunday is this?' (The first Sunday in Lent; the first Sunday after Epiphany, etc.) Finally, he was absent for a few weeks, and the teacher asked as usual, 'What Sunday is this?' He replied before anyone else, 'The first Sunday after the Fourth of July.'"

ABOUT THE TOMATO

The following extracts are quoted from an article entitled "The Tempting but Tardy Tomato" by Marguerite Gauger which appeared in a recent issue of "Hygeia," published by the American Medical Association.

"The development of the tomato in this country is due mainly to the care of the plant breeders. They have improved its form and flavor, have eliminated the wrinkles from it, and have removed most of the seeds. It now comes in many sizes.

"Fraise is also due the canners of this country who are partly responsible for the increased consumption of the tomato. With the development of the lacquered can and the perfecting of factory methods of canning, there has come a far greater use of the commercially canned tomato. It is now the most widely used canned vegetable in this country. The total pack in 1927 was 13,127,042 cases, each containing twenty-four No. 3 cans. There were also many gallons canned in the homes, no estimates of which are obtainable. The United States is now the greatest per capita consumer of tomatoes in the world.

A Good Food

"The tomato stimulates the housewife's imagination in those emergencies where her wits grow balky about planning meals and it is most acceptable to those whose happiness rarely consist in 'more of the same', since it might easily provide a new dish or a new combination for every day in the year. It is a relief in certain diseases.

It does not contribute to obesity, and for this reason is greatly prized by all those who would be thin and yet do not wish to rob the body of its vital elements. Present-day Magellans need have no fear of scurvy among the ship's crew as long as the supply of canned tomatoes holds out.

"From infancy to old age the tomato is a good food. It is rich in mineral salts and vitamins A and B. It is recognized as one of the most important sources of vitamin C and it ranks with oranges and lemons in this respect. The vitamin C in the tomato is resistant to heat, a characteristic shared by few other foods, and so the tomato is equally valuable raw or canned. It is our most versatile vegetable, both as regards flavor and contribution to health. It may be used as a cocktail, hors d'oeuvre, soup, entree, or salad, as a breakfast fruit or just alone.

Now Fed to Babies

"The tomato, canned or raw, may be eaten by any healthy adult. Babies under one year are given strained juice to supplement the milk, which has little vitamin C. Since we learned that the tomato is base-forming in the body no one fears the acid of it. It is even given to those who suffer from an acid condition. When the tomato first came to be used as a food in this country, the acid was thought bad; hence it was used with sugar. Raw and canned, it was served with liberal amounts of sugar and thus the fine flavor of it was lost.

"The present generation scorns sugar on tomatoes, and rightly so. Their flavor is excellent, in combination or alone. Many new uses have been given to it. One inn in New York State makes a specialty in August of escalloped corn and tomatoes. This is made with alternating layers of fresh corn and tomatoes, seasoning, and butter. Crumbs cover the top. This is cooked in a hot oven from 45 to 60 minutes. It is a delicious combination, and it can be made from canned products.

Color an Asset

"Aside from its flavor, its color is a decided asset. Its rich red forms a garnish on a dish of cold cuts, on toasted sandwiches, salads or appetizers. The red tomato is attractive in a drink, which can be used, unseasoned, for breakfast, or, seasoned, before dinner. The juice should include some of the pulp to give it proper color. The markets now have several good canned juices, which are inexpensive.

"In no place is the red color more effective and appetizing than in soup, either in a stock soup or in a creamed one. Tomato soup is the most popular soup in this country today. The canned product has a much wider sale than any other variety, for several reasons; among them flavor, cheapness and convenience. It takes only a moment to open a can of tomatoes, or of the soup and to heat it. The creamed soup is nearly as simple; a small amount of soda is added to the tomatoes to neutralize the acid, and milk and seasoning are added."

BOBCAT BASKETEERS DEFEAT WILDCATS

Peru Hoopsters Amass 10
Point Margin Over
Wayne Saturday.

Wayne State Teachers' college basketball team took the short end of the score in their tangle with the Peru Teachers at the college gymnasium here last Saturday night. When the smoke of battle had cleared away, the score board showed that Peru had amassed 30 points to Wayne's 20.

At the end of the first half, Wayne had managed to hold the Bobcats on even terms, and the score was 15-11. Wayne's inability to hit the basket in the second half cost the locals the game.

Chittenden, playing at guard and center, looked like the class of the Wayne aggregation. A new man on the Wayne basketball court, he looks better in his appearance, and should be a candidate for all conference honors by the end of the season.

It was a crippled Wayne team that took the floor against Peru, and sports dopsters had figured it out that the local team was beaten before it ever went onto the floor. The string of bad luck that pursued Coach Ray Hickman's men during the football season has not let up. Andrew and Sexton were both definitely out of the game with injuries, and Alexander's ankle seemed to be giving him a little trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Longnecker and family of Winside visited John Soules yesterday.

Nebraska Leads Nation in Musical Activities

Nebraska is the center of the nation's musical activities, according to Miss Lucile Robbins, president of the Nebraska Music Teachers' association. She attended a meeting of the national association of music teachers in St. Louis early this year. "You can imagine my surprise,"

Miss Robbins said to her interviewer, "when I learned that the state of Nebraska leads the nation in musical activities. Although I knew that the state had been making rapid strides in musical activity during the past seven years, I had no idea our work was being considered a criterion until I had a personal conference with the national secretary. Our state seems to have at the present time only one rival, California."

Miss Robbins explained that the judgment of the Nebraska work is based on the manner of securing members; the resident talent; the type of programs presented; and the cooperation given state officers in sponsoring musical education. "I feel sure," she declared, "that if we are successful it is due to the wonderful cooperation given by state officers, the executive board and the musicians of the state. We have no deficit in our state association, being entirely self-supporting from the collection of dues."

Plans are being made for the state convention of Nebraska music teachers to be held in Lincoln in March. Six nationally known artists will be present to participate in the program. Fresh interest in this meeting has been given by the statement President Robbins has given of Nebraska's standing in musical activities.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP

Jack Dempsey's newest declaration regarding his possible return to the prize ring is that in the event that Max Schmeling, the German, defeats Young Stribling he would like to meet the winner and bring the championship back to America. That is, of course, provided the former champion, after training for some time, found himself still capable of putting up a fight.

No doubt a good many people will think Dempsey a patriotic citizen to look upon the heavyweight championship of the world in that way, as belonging by virtue of pre-eminence in nearly all athletic contests to this country. But there are others who will insist that it doesn't make a particle of difference under what flag the heavyweight boxing title is held. They also might dare to suggest that inasmuch as loss of the championship is not damaging to the United States in any sense, neither would its possession be in the least advantageous. In other words, a sober view of the prize ring would be that it is not important whether the heavyweight champion is a citizen of the United States or a native of Zanzibar.

Too often unimportant things are taken seriously. John L. Sullivan when whipped by Jim Corbett muttered that he was glad an American won. But that did not establish any kind of precedent for the public's attitude toward the prize ring. So whether Schmeling, the German, is
