

Rain Breaks Long Spell of Dry Weather

Eight Day Heat Wave Is Earliest in History of Community.

Refreshing rain yesterday morning broke an eight-day heatwave that old-time residents of Wayne characterize as one of the most terrific and the earliest in the history of the community. Yesterday's downpour amounted to 91-100th of an inch.

Residents of Wayne and the surrounding territory have sweltered in a sizzling, torrid atmosphere since Tuesday, June 23, with the mercury hitting the 100 mark every day until yesterday. The rain came as a welcome relief to "tagged out" people who had been wondering how long the intense heat could continue without a break.

The hot, dry weather is said to have done considerable damage to the small grain, but most farmers thought that the rain yesterday would save the corn crop.

Many farmers had been doing their work in the fields after sundown, in order to save their horses.

Activity in the Wayne business district slowed down considerably at about four o'clock every afternoon during the heat wave. It was at this time that the weather became the hottest.

Wayne's water supply Tuesday was said to be somewhat low, although there was no immediate danger of a shortage. Home owners were all watering their lawns and gardens in an effort to save the vegetation from the hot, dry weather.

Local grocery stores reported a heavy demand for lemons, oranges and bottled drinks.

NELSONS OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING

Friends Have Party for Couple Married Fifty Years.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Nelson of nine miles west of Wayne were surprised by their children and several friends last Sunday in commemoration of their fiftieth wedding anniversary. The group came just before noon, and brought well-filled baskets of food.

At 12:00 o'clock, the guests put on a mock wedding with Frank Nelson of Waterbury as the bridegroom and Mrs. Ray Nelson as the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nelson acted as best man and bridesmaid. Will Nelson acted as minister and Mrs. Will Roe played the wedding march. Bonadelle Roe was the ringbearer and Bernice Roe and Muriek Dixon were the flower girls. The mock bridal party were dressed in costumes in fashion 50 years ago. The whole affair was a great surprise to the honored guests. At one o'clock, a three-course dinner was service.

Relatives present for the event were Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Dixon and family, of Olivet, S. D.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nelson of Waterbury; Mr. and Mrs. Orin Nelson and family of Randolph; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nelson who are neighbors to the C. P. Nelsons and Mr. and Mrs. Will Roe and family. Besides the foregoing relatives, the following friends were also guests: Mr. and Mrs. Victor Johnson and family; Mr. and Mrs. Jens Thompson and family; LeRoy Thompson and Miss Ruby Surber; Miss Lottie Bush and her father, George Bush; Mrs. Emma Roe; and Oscar Obst. In all there were about 45 present.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson are 75 and 67 years old respectively and have resided on their farm for the past 25 years.

McPherrin Girl Dies from Heart Trouble

Blanche McPherrin, 12-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam McPherrin, passed away at a local hospital yesterday morning at four o'clock from heart lesion. She had suffered from heart trouble for several years. The funeral services will be conducted by Rev. W. C. Heidenreich.

Jubilee Demands Wayne's Support

"Men in white hats," official insignia of the Golden Jubilee backers, are asked by Martin L. Ringer, general chairman, to cooperate in making the celebration which starts today a success.

"The celebration is yours," is Mr. Ringer's message to the local businessmen. "The success or failure of the Golden Jubilee depends on you. It is up to you to establish the friendly feeling with our guests that will make them boost for Wayne."

"Take the responsibility for the success of our Fiftieth Anniversary celebration upon your own shoulders. If you see a traffic jam, get to work and straighten it out. If people want information, either give it to them or find somebody who can tell them what they want to know. Do everything within your power to make Golden Jubilee visitors feel that Wayne is trying to the utmost of her ability to make this celebration the event of a lifetime."

Harrison Gets $200 Fine in County Court

Court Orders Liquor Car Sold by Sheriff at Public Auction.

Saturday, June 27, was a tough day for Harold "Ted" Harrison in County Judge J. M. Cherry's court, with fines and costs aggregating $220.70 assessed against him on liquor charges, and his 1928 Ford Coupe declared a nuisance and ordered sold at public auction.

Harrison was discovered in a somewhat mellow state of revelry on Sunday afternoon, June 21, by Chief of Police W. A. Stewart. John N. Anderson, who was with him, was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor. At that time, Harrison posted $250 bond for appearance in county court Saturday morning, June 27.

Charges made against Harrison in County Court Saturday read like a roll call of liquor violations. He was charged with intoxication, possession of home brew and alcohol, transportation of intoxicating liquor, possession of wine, driving while intoxicated, and using a car for illegal transportation of liquor.

County Attorney H. D. Addison moved to strike the charges of intoxication, possession of wine, and driving while intoxicated.

Harrison then pleaded guilty to charges of possession of home brew and alcohol and transportation of intoxicating liquor.

The court found him guilty on those charges and assessed fines of $100 for possession, $100 for transportation, and costs of $20.70 against him. The court further ordered that his Ford coupe be sold by the county sheriff at public auction.

DANCE HALL CASE TO TRIAL JULY 7

County Seeks Permanent Injunction Against Hoskins Pavilion.

Hearing on a petition for permanent injunction against the operation of the Bruse Dance Pavilion at Hoskins has been continued to Tuesday, July 7. Petition for the injunction was made by County Sheriff A. W. Stephens, who served notice of temporary injunction on John Bruse, proprietor of the pavilion, on Monday, June 22.

Attorney Hugh Boyle of Norfolk, representing the Pavilion, was in Wayne last week conferring with county officials. He contended that the county should wait until August 15, when a new dance pavilion law goes into effect. The new law requires dance halls to secure licenses, and anyone opposing the grant of a license could appear at that time and show reason why license should not be granted.

FOUR DRAW FINES ON SPEED CHARGES

Police Chief Stewart Puts Brakes on Racing Automobiles.

With payment of fines of $3.00 and costs of $3.55 each by Kate Jones and Guy B. James on Monday, June 29, on charges of speeding, four speeders have contributed to the county coffers as a result of a speeder drive made by Chief of Police W. A. Stewart on Wednesday, June 24.

Others who succumbed to the lure of speed and fell into the cold, cruel clutches of the law are Albert Behlers, who paid his $6.55 on Wednesday, June 24, and Martin Echtenkamp, who contributed his bit to Wayne county on Thursday, June 25.

Some of the names of the arrested speeders are said to be aliases. Rumors have been to the effect that speeders were Wakefield people, returning home from a dance at Wayne, and Wakefield people are said to be highly incensed over the action of Wayne officials in arresting the out-of-town people.

"We have never picked on any particular group of people," Officer W. A. Stewart said in defense of his action, "and we have no grudge against Wakefield. Wayne's relations with our sister city have always been very friendly. However, we cannot let friendship interfere with proper observance of the law. The people arrested for speeding were violating the law and admitted it. If we are to enforce our speed laws, we must arrest everyone who violates them, regardless of where the violators hail from."

HENRY D. BARLEMAN FUNERAL SATURDAY

Local Farmer Succumbs to Heart Attack Thursday.

Funeral services for Henry D. Barleman, 72, farmer living southeast of Wayne, were held at the home at two o'clock Saturday afternoon and at the St. Paul's Lutheran church seven miles north of Wisner at 2:30 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. Carl Koenig, pastor of the church. Interment was in St. Paul's church cemetery.

Mr. Barleman passed away Thursday noon, June 25, from heart trouble. He had suffered a stroke about a week prior to his death.

Mr. Barleman was born in 1859 at Oldenberg, Germany. He came to America in 1888, settling in Dodge county. He later moved to Wayne county, and was married on Sept. 25, 1892, at Pender to Miss Augusta Thiesen.

He is survived by his loving wife and the following children: Henry C., Emil, Herbert, William, Bernard, and Erna Barleman, and Mrs. L. B. Young, as well as many more distant relatives and a host of friends.

With The Advertisers

Advertising is news, and Democrat readers are urged to make a thorough examination of the ads appearing in this week's issue of The Democrat.

In the automotive field, two interesting announcements are made this week. Baker's Garage announces the new Nash, with synchro safety shift and silent second, as well as other items of luxurious motoring, including "silence engineering." The Nash is featuring sound-proofed bodies, sound-proofed chassis bearings, powerful, quiet, new performance, twin ignition with twin carburetion and twin manifold, 9 and 7 bearing crankshafts, and new beauty of appointment.

The Ford company announces the new Ford standard sedan, with longer, wider body, and attractive, comfortable interior. The slanting windshield is made of triplex safety plate glass.

The Wayne Super Service Oil Company, owned by Miller and Stirtz, offers low prices on Priesstone tires, which are gum-dipped, have a double cord breaker and heavy non-skid tread. The ad lists prices and construction facts.

"From Then to Now" Goes on Sale Today

Business Women's Club to Sell Brittain's Story of Wayne.

Copies of Attorney James E. Brittain's book, "From Then to Now—A Story of Wayne," go on general sale today as a feature of Wayne's Golden Jubilee celebration. Sale of the books is being handled by the Wayne Business and Professional Women's club, with the organization receiving a royalty on each copy.

The supply of books available at the celebration will be limited, since the advance sale has been heavier than had been anticipated. The Business and Professional Women's club committee urges all people desirous of securing copies of the thrilling story of Wayne to buy their books as soon as possible.

The story is printed on 70-pound enamel paper, making it a durable, beautiful book. The attractive cover is printed in maroon and black on goldenrod cover stock. Those who have seen the book have been highly pleased with the quality of materials used in its composition.

Advance mail orders from "From Then to Now" were filed last night. Enough copies to take care of local advance orders are being kept at The Democrat office.

Mr. Brittain's story is being published by The Nebraska Democrat as a feature of the Golden Jubilee celebration. The Democrat management's belief that publication of a history of Wayne's progress would meet with the approval of everyone interested in the growth of Wayne county has been justified by a flood of orders for copies of the book.

Mr. Brittain's story starts out "way back then" in La Porte, and carries events up to the present day in a rapid-fire story that is as interesting as any current fiction. It is an authentic portrayal of early-day life in Wayne county.

Big Circus Elephant to Carry Passengers

Hey, kids, C'mon over! You're gonna have a chance to ride on a real, live sure-enough elephant at the Golden Jubilee celebration today, tomorrow and Saturday.

Topsy, the 7100-pound elephant appearing here with Dutton's equestrian circus, is going to carry passengers during the celebration.

Topsy is an educated pachyderm, and is said to be as gentle as any elephant in the circus business. It was Topsy that recently appeared in a national automobile advertisement atop a car.

Rides on Topsy will be sold for a dime apiece.

"Callithumpers" Parade Tomorrow

Callithumpia is coming to Wayne tomorrow and Saturday as a special, added, heretofore unheralded attraction of the Golden Jubilee.

At eleven o'clock tomorrow morning and again at the same time Saturday morning, Wayne will have a callithumpian parade, with Henry Ley as director. The parade will wend its way through the business district with a maximum amount of noise.

For the benefit of those who do not know what constitutes a callithumpian parade, Webster's New International Dictionary defines it as "a boisterous parade, with blowing of tin horns and other discordant noises; also, a burlesque serenade."

Mr. Ley has received a shipment of papier mache figures which will be used in the event. About 50 people will participate.

Unveil Monument to Pioneer Settlers

Attorney-General Sorenson Delivers Dedication Speech.

Wayne's Golden Jubilee celebration opened this morning at 10 o'clock on the courthouse lawn, with dedication of the monument in commemoration of Wayne's fiftieth anniversary.

Wayne's municipal band opened the program with a 45-minute concert featuring both secular and sacred songs of the pioneer age.

Following the band concert, Attorney General C. A. Sorenson delivered the principal address of the morning, using as his subject, "Our Debt to the Pioneers." Attorney General Sorenson stressed the heritage which our pioneer forefathers have handed down to us and the duty we owe them to carry on the ideals of good citizenship.

The dedicatory prayer was given by Rev. Wm. E. Bristed. Following the prayer, the monument was unveiled by Jane Von Seggern, granddaughter of John T. Bressler, Sr., the oldest settler in Wayne county. During the unveiling of the monument, Gretchen Teckhaus, accompanied by the band, sang "Lest We Forget."

The inscription for the monument was written by Dr. H. B. Alexander, former head of the philosophy department at the University of Nebraska and present head of that department at Scripps college, Pomona, Calif. It reads as follows:

"In the century of the great peopling of the continent of North America, in the year 1881, at this place was founded the city of Wayne—to all frontiersmen of the human spirit this monument is dedicated."

Beneath the inscription the words, "First Village Board of Trustees" appear. The names listed are:

A. B. Slater, chairman
Chas. Johnson
John T. Bressler
James Britton
R. B. Taylor

At the bottom of the monument are the words "Erected 1931." Following the dedication ceremony, the old settlers were assembled together to discuss plans for their further entertainment. Announcements of celebration features which might be of interest to the "old timers" were made, and the rest of the day was given over to reminiscences.

Celebration Will Have Two First Aid Rooms

First aid rooms, with nurses in charge, will be kept open at the fair grounds and in the downtown district by the Golden Jubilee committee. This precaution is being taken so that no serious consequences may result from any accidents that might occur during the celebration.

The first aid room at the fair grounds will be located in the Agricultural building, while the downtown station will be in the Baptist church basement.

Rest rooms will be open to the public at both the Agricultural building and the Baptist church.

City Extends Hospitality to Jubilee Guests

Everything in Readiness for Wayne's Greatest Celebration

Ready! Get set! Go! Wayne's Golden Jubilee celebration is on, with the pioneer atmosphere prevalent in the town and the streets crowded with throngs that members of the Golden Jubilee board of directors believe will grow still larger tomorrow and will beat all records on Saturday.

Everything is in readiness for the first performance at the fairgrounds this afternoon. Martin L. Ringer, chairman of the celebration, has spent a great deal of his time for the past two weeks supervising work at the fairgrounds, and reports that everything is in tip-top shape.

Dutton's Equestrian circus attractions arrived in Wayne Monday, and their equipment is all set up, ready for the first performance.

"Professor" Wm. Whittlinger arrived in town Wednesday morning, with his balloon and parachute equipment, and reported to The Democrat office that if injuries suffered by him in a recent chute jump made it impossible for him to "do his stuff," a capable assistant would thrill the crowds.

Mr. Ringer says that the baseball diamond has been dragged and is in readiness for the first game this afternoon, to be played by the Sioux City Stock Yards team and Joe Nagle's Chicagoans.

The program opens this afternoon with a band concert at one o'clock, followed by the Dutton circus attractions, consisting of 15 circus acts, at 1:30. At 3:30, the Stock Yards and Chicagoans baseball teams are slated to tangle. This evening, a band concert at seven o'clock will be followed by a balloon ascension and parachute jump. The circus, presenting its International Revue with special lighting equipment and scenery, is scheduled to start at 8:15.

Tomorrow's program is similar, with the addition of a drill by the Abu-Bekr Shrine Mounted Patrol of Sioux City. This feature attraction, presenting 32 pure white thoroughbred Arabian horses with riders in full regalia, is scheduled to start at 1:30. The circus performance tomorrow afternoon will start at 2:15, and the ball game at 3:45.

Sioux Cityans have designated tomorrow as "Sioux City Day" with the appearance of the Shrine patrol and the Sioux City Stock Yards ball team. Bob Horben, traffic manager of the Sioux City Stock Yards company, says that practically everyone connected with the Sioux City Stock Yards will be in Wayne tomorrow.

Saturday's program is similar to today and tomorrow's, except that the Northwestern train exhibit replaces the Shrine mounted patrol as the feature attraction.

The old-time wood-burning train and the Corn King Limited will be on exhibition from ten o'clock Saturday morning until three o'clock in the afternoon.

The Inquiring Reporter

This Week's Question
Who do you think will win the Schmeling-Stribling world's championship fight tomorrow night?

Sam Davies: "I think Schmeling will win."
E. E. Galley: "I don't know much about it, but I'd pick Stribling."

Henry Ley: "I'll put my money on the Dutchman."
E. O. Stratton: "I think Stribling will be the winner, because he's had more experience and is a cracker power, as well as a harder hitter."

Dr. W. A. Henry: "Schmeling should win."

Birthday Celebration.

A picnic supper was enjoyed by about thirty-six relatives last Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson. The occasion was to celebrate the birthday of Albert Anderson, which would be on the following Monday. The guests brought filled baskets for the supper and a pleasant afternoon was spent together. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Hoguewood, Everett Hoguewood, Mrs. Geo. Hoguewood and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Jeffrey, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kay and son, Mr. and Mrs. Gereon Alvin, Gust Anderson, all of Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Nels O. Anderson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Erickson and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Hanson and family of Concord, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Johnson and children of near Hoskins.

Shower for Bride-to-be.

Miss Esther Goldberg was pleasantly surprised last Friday when Mrs. Reuben Goldberg and Mrs. Wymore Wallin had planned a miscellaneous shower for the bride-to-be, at the home of Mrs. Reuben Goldberg. A mock wedding was given with Edna Swanson acting as bride, Hazel Carlson as bridegroom, and Teckla Goldberg as minister. Miss Goldberg received several useful and nice gifts.

Great Special Attraction

The First
McCormick Reaper
will be on display at Thompson & Bichel's during the three days of Wayne's Golden Jubilee
TODAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Wayne is celebrating Fifty Golden Years of Progress. During the month of July, the McCormick-Deering interests are celebrating the 100th anniversary of the invention of the McCormick Reaper.

It's a far cry from this crude, antique device to the splendid present-day tractor binder manufactured by the McCormick-Deering company. As Wayne has progressed, so have the McCormick-Deering interests advanced in the manufacture of excellent farm machinery.

See it, by all means. It will take you back a 100 years, and will make you appreciate the wonderful new McCormick-Deering tractor binder which will also be on display here.

It is a crude piece of apparatus, this 100 year old reaper which we will display today, tomorrow and Saturday--but it was the start of efficient farming. It was the invention which has done so much to revolutionize the world, we believe, as almost any other single invention in the world's history.

We feel that our firm has been extremely fortunate in securing this splendid exhibit, and we cannot urge you too strongly to come to our place of business and see it. We'll be glad to explain both the old and new machinery.

WELCOME

Howdy, neighbor! We're glad to see you in town for Wayne's Golden Jubilee celebration.

Wayne's feeling kinda proud today. This is the town's fiftieth anniversary, and 50 years is a long time in the life of a community.

The present generation isn't taking all the credit. The big purpose of this Jubilee jamboree is to do honor to those men who built the foundations of modern Wayne.

Wayne's friendly feeling for the surrounding territory has always been evident. Without that friendly attitude, the town could never have reached its present position.

A FOND FAREWELL

"The legislature took the publicity department for a ride and left its battered carcass on the bank of Salt Creek. I am now preparing the remains for interment," writes J. G. Alden, director of the state department of publicity.

The state publicity department is going out of existence, and that is too bad, for the department has done it work remarkably well, considering the limited amount of funds allowed it.

No state can advance very far unless its citizens are kept familiar with its spirit and resources. Knowledge of what the state is doing can only be impressed on the people of a state through a steady recital of the facts of progress through the newspapers.

Nebraskans are not well acquainted with the advantages their state has to offer. State pride has been advanced through the publicity department. Just when the effects of the department are becoming apparent, the legislature sees fit to withdraw its support.

Well, there's no use crying about it now. Newspapers of the state should have insisted upon an appropriation for the publicity department. They didn't—so the loss to the state is as much our fault as anybody else's.

Sometimes, maybe, the state will make an appropriation sufficient to operate a publicity department. Then watch our state pride grow!

CANCELLATION NEXT?

It is recalled that two or three weeks before President Hoover proposed a debt holiday there was considerable gossip in Washington as to the likelihood of the administration taking steps for cancellation in whole or in part of the European obligations to the United States.

crystallize public opinion in support of the increasing sentiment for cancellation, he would depend upon time for development of this attitude on the part of the people.

The Journal de Geneve predicted in Geneva, after calling Mr. Hoover's proposal a "noble gesture," that payment of the war debts once suspended probably would never be resumed. In Great Britain it is felt that revision of the debts is sure to come, particularly if the Hoover proposal for a moratorium is put through.

The Manchester Guardian said: "Suspension of payments must lead to a revision of war debts, and the logical result of Mr. Hoover's scheme is an international conference." It added that "There can be no revision without Europe settling her house in order, both politically and financially."

The United States occupies a powerful position as the creditor nation. America has the right to insist upon payment of the debts, but, if willing at any time in the future to cancel in whole or in part or to revise, has the right to demand concessions from her debtors.

If the United States is to provide relief to the old world, then the old world must show a disposition to contribute something on its own account. America desires no conquests of any kind. But America is interested in world peace as a permanent establishment, in economic reconstruction and in stronger and friendlier relationship among nations.

Through tests devised by psychologists, many interesting and useful facts have been discovered concerning the aptitude of a child for various pursuits. If the information developed by these tests be practically applied, much time otherwise devoted to training for activities for which the child is naturally unsuited may be saved.

It is now possible, according to Prof. Seashore of Iowa University, to positively determine the musical talent possessed by any child, even before he begins to study music. The sense of pitch, time, consonance, intensity and many others may each be determined with mathematical accuracy.

Practical experiments have demonstrated that a person may have a high sense of pitch, with a poor sense of time, and so on. Only when all the elements of the musical mind are acute do we find real talent. When those purely musical elements are combined with a high general intelligence the foundation for an exceptional musician is found.

Contrary to the general belief, aptitude for music cannot be developed by training. It must be inborn. A child with a poor sense of pitch at the age of eight will have a poor sense of pitch the rest of his life, no matter how much he may study and practice. The same is true of the sense of time and rest. Training only develops what is possessed at birth.

A realization of these facts would save much useless torture for music students and those who listen to them, if facilities for making the tests were available.

Professor Seashore declares that no attempt should be made to force an unmusical child to learn music, as the result must be disappointing to all concerned. He says it is a tragedy to drive an unmusical boy to practice several hours a day on a violin, "while at the same time you may be ruining a perfectly good mechanic, or architect, or second baseman."

THE FOOD INDUSTRY

The apparent prosperity and stability of the great food industries of the country is an inexplicable anomaly to farmers who find themselves on an unprofitable round in the ladder of price levels for their own products.

Industry showed severe declines in earnings.

The question in the farmers' minds is why the industries processing and distributing their products show the least loss in periods of depression, while raw farm products are unprofitable. We agree that the furnishing of food must always be a fundamental industry, and that because of this the big food processing companies have a rosy future.

WAITING TOO LONG

We know a man who fixed a goal of retirement. "When I have saved $50,000 I will retire and enjoy the fruits of my labor," he liked to say. The time came, he had $50,000 out on interest. Things were looking good for him. "Now," he said, "I will enjoy life."

He had waited too long.

There is a lesson to be learned in this. The joy of living is not postponed. It cannot be fixed by a calendar or by figures in a bankbook. It has to be taken day by day. It is compounded by little experiences encountered on the high road and by paths of life. It is made up of trifles—bird songs, rose tints, golden sunsets, measures of music, hand-claps, lovelights in the eyes of loved ones.

SCOTT SHOTS

It isn't the heat—It's the humour. Over at Norfolk they're telling a story about a man who came to the insane asylum and asked if any inmates had escaped. He explained that somebody had run away with his wife.

Overheard at Kay's swimming pool:

"Just think how much water there is for a thin little bathing cap to keep out."

With the intense heat of the past week, many of those people who take cold baths the year around have started taking them again.

"Please?"

"No."

"Oh, please do."

"Positively no."

"Please, just this time."

"I said no and I mean no."

"Aw, heck, ma, all the other boys are going barefooted, won't you let me?"

Last week Wayne had a tent rep. show. It was a good one. Those who attended the various performances of the Hazel McOwen company found it well worth their time and the small amount of money asked for tickets.

The Tent Rep. is the last stand of the road show. With theatres controlled by moving picture corporations, there is nothing for a show troupe to do but get into permanent stock or wait for summer and a chance to go out under canvas.

For the last several years hard days have been with the tent rep shows. Business has been way off, with the "red ones" few and far between. The younger generation are always the spenders in the amusement world, and the younger generation of 1931 hardly knows that there is such a thing as the spoken drama. Then, too, people haven't felt like spending money for amusements.

The rep. shows took a long time to "go modern." Some of the tent show managers don't know yet that this is 1931 and that the hinterlands want good bills—not "Toby" and hoke stuff. I saw one bill this season in another town that was an obvious steal from "The Patsy" and "The Family Upstairs." It was all "gagged up" into a terrible hoke concoction that was supposed to represent what the public wants. That company played to a full tent the first night—but business for the rest of the week was terrible, as it should have been.

The poor shows make it tough for the good ones. And it's tough enough without any added handicaps.

Don't ask for any wise cracks about hot weather. As this is being written, the thermometer shows a temperature of 102. If you know of any bird that can act smart about weather like that, lead me to him.

Feature attraction for the Golden Jubilee celebration is the Dutton Equestrian Circus. To anyone who has ever read anything about circus life, that Dutton name is a magic one. The Dutton family is one of the really famous circus families, and the Dutton skill in circus work has been handed down from generation to generation. Mrs. Nellie Dutton is carrying on the work of a long line of circus performers. That the show will be good is practically assured by the Dutton name.

Anyone who has compared the list of attractions offered by Fourth of July celebrations throughout the state with the three day program presented at the Golden Jubilee realizes that Wayne is offering something decidedly out of the ordinary.

Instead of a free act or two, the Golden Jubilee has a complete full-length circus performance, consisting of 15 acts. A trained elephant and skilled clowns will delight the kids. A beautiful pageant concludes the evening performance. Skilled acrobats and aerial artists will thrill the crowds.

The ancient wood-burning train which will be on display the Fourth of July, with ultra-modern Corn King Limited as a contrast, is an attraction worth coming miles to see. The importance of this feature is shown by the fact that a Fox News Reel cameraman will be here to take pictures of the two trains. The railroad company is furnishing this part of the celebration at a cost of about $2,000.

Sioux City Abu-Bekr Shrine's mounted patrol will probably be the outstanding attraction of the celebration. Scheduled to appear tomorrow, the Shrine Patrol will, in the opinion of many, make Friday the biggest day of the celebration. The Shriners will put on a drill lasting about an hour and a half, with 32 pure-white Arabian thoroughbred horses.

A balloon ascension will be given every day of the celebration. The revival of the parachute jump feature is something that should bring old-timers a real thrill. Time was when no holiday was really complete without a balloon ascension.

If you like ball games, you have a real treat in store for you. Members of the Sioux City Stock Yards team, injured in a bus wreck about 10 days ago, are back in shape for battle, and will do plenty of it in their engagements today and tomorrow with Joe Nagle's Chicagoans, a team composed of former big-league players. On the Fourth, Pilger and Thurston will meet in an official eastern Nebraska League game.

Wayne's municipal band will furnish music for all three days of the Jubilee.

There's part of the program—and if it isn't a humdinger you're hard to satisfy.

Attorney James E. Brittain's book, "From Then to Now—A Story of Wayne," goes on sale today. Of course, you'll want a copy of it. It's a thrilling story of pioneer life in this immediate territory. Sometimes we're so close to things that we don't realize their romance. Jim Brittain's book brings out the glamour and thrill of life in Wayne county in the early days. It starts out in La Porte and carries things right up to the present day. You'll like it.

The price of the book is only twenty-five cents per copy. The Wayne Business and Professional Women's club has charge of sales. You'll have an opportunity to spend a quarter for one of the books, and you shouldn't pass it up.

Typographical errors slip into the best regulated of newspapers, but the funniest one we've seen for a long time appeared in one of our exchange last week: It said that a certain lady had "gone to Yellowstone Park for an extended rip."

"Fifty dollars cash is the price on this radio," the salesman said.

"How much is it on time payments?" the customer asked.

"Sixty-five dollars—fifty dollars down and five dollars a month for three months," the salesman replied.

Burt Surber Honored At Birthday Party

Mrs. Bert Surber, assisted by Miss Dorothy Winterstein and Mrs. Harold Quinn, entertained a large number of guests at a birthday dinner Sunday at the Surber home in honor of Mr. Surber. About 25 guests were present. They were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Simmon and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Simmon and son, Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Quinn and two children, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Winterstein and Harold and Miss Dorothy Winterstein, Mr. and Mrs. John Surber, Mrs. Mary Philbin and son, Ray, and Miss Shirley Mae King.

At four o'clock that afternoon, the hostesses served ice cream and cake.

On Sunday evening other guests called on the Surbers. They were Mr. and Mrs. Chris Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Thorwald Jacobson, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Nelson and a friend. The latter three from Norfolk.

The time was spent socially and the group enjoyed their visit in spite of the intense hot weather.

Little Girl Suffers Infection on Face

Phyllis Pinkham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Pinkham of this city, has been having trouble the past week with what seems to be some sort of blood poisoning on her face that has necessitated the attention of a physician. It is thought the infection started from the bite of a poison spider or other poisonous insect. At this writing Miss Phyllis was doing nicely and was well on the way to recovery.

WHY GOOD TIMES ARE COMING

It takes no gift of prophecy to foresee that in the long run the economic hardships of the present year will prove to have been among the most fertile in American history. In diverse ways the country is making a fresh examination of itself, its problems and its aspirations. People are substituting work and thrift for speculation.

"We are beginning to look at common problems from the other man's point of view," says William L. Chenery, editor of Collier's Weekly. In a summary of the lessons of adversity. "Not because we are more virtuous or unselfish than before, but because we realize that in no other way can we arrive at rational solutions."

The Smoot-Hawley Act has thus compelled Americans to think about the tariff with minds less prejudiced than ever before. Because times have been hard, they have learned that foreign trade is a two-way street, and that if a nation won't buy, it can't sell.

"As a nation we have comprehended more of the essential facts of world trade in the last 12 months than in any previous decade of our national existence," declared Mr. Chenery. "We shall do well to act upon what we have learned. We have drifted long enough. Never has leadership had a better chance. As our problems are grave, so too is our opportunity great for an advance from all directions."

In many ways the necessities of the times seem to be driving Americans to confront conditions and to think about policies which they preferred to ignore or to accept without question so long as conditions were easy.

Andrew Mellon is quoted as saying: "We still have much to learn in the maintenance of production on an even keel and the achievement of a process of orderly, broad distributions of products and services."

Apparently it is just becoming evident that the United States cannot have orderly distribution and economic anarchy at the same time. People must learn to cooperate if they are to prosper.—Wright County (Minn.) Journal-Press.

Pointers for Work Around Farm Homes

In experiments at Purdue university LaFayette, Ind., lambs produced on good pasture yielded more as satisfactory in finish of carcass and a palatability as that of lambs which had received valuable grain feed.

A well-established asparagus bed will last indefinitely with good care and fertilizing. After cutting is over let the tops grow until late in the season, then remove and burn them, and cultivate the soil between the rows. Apply manure and fertilizer after the cutting and cultivate them into the soil.

To produce a smooth, non-slippery surface on a concrete walk or feeding floor, the Bureau of Public Roads suggests sprinkling a little sharp sand over the surface before the concrete hardens. The sand should be rubbed in lightly with a wooden float operated with a circular motion.

Since beginning in 1917 the campaign to eradicate tuberculosis of cattle, the U. S. Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with State agencies, has located and slaughtered more than two-thirds of all the infected cattle in the country. Today there are fewer than 1,000,000 tuberculous cattle in the United States.

Bulls intended for heavy breeding service need some extra feed for about 30 days before and during the breeding season to be in good condition. A few pounds of grain mixture, with perhaps a little protein concentrate such as linseed meal or cake, is satisfactory. The quantity of grain should not exceed 1 pound to each 100 pounds of live weight. Usually one-half or two-thirds of this quantity is enough.

Residents of the prairie provinces of Canada appreciate the value of trees for windbreaks, shade and wood. According to the Canadian Forest Service, 6,000,000 tree seedlings and cuttings were shipped to this region for planting last year. In the last 30 years more than 116,000,000 trees have been sent by the service to more than 100,000 applicants. Millions have been bought from private nurseries.

Experiments over the United States show that whether or not lettuce will respond favorably to lime depends almost wholly upon local conditions. In some cases an application of lime has increased yields—and in some others has decreased them. Lime should be applied only after careful tests. Other pointers on lettuce growing are found in a new Farmers Bulletin, 1600-F, entitled "Lettuce Growing." It can be procured from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Common warts on cattle often reduce the value of the hides as much as 25 per cent.

One tree will make a million matches, but a lighted match can destroy a million trees.

Crop Conditions Are Generally Satisfactory

Crop conditions are generally satisfactory, except in parts of North-central and Northwestern Nebraska according to Nebraska bankers' mid-month report to the state and federal division of agricultural statistics. Corn, while ahead of last year for this date, is slightly behind its usual growth. Moisture supply is sufficient in most sections.

Moisture supply is now ample in this part of the state, where it has been regarded as short for some time. Rainfall has been heavy in the Southeastern quarter of the state. Except for injury to winter wheat and alfalfa from late freezes and dry weather, other leading crops have not been injured and the present supply is better than a month ago.

Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants

"Reach for a LUCKY instead"

The great Lord Tennyson in a beautiful poem refers to a woman's Adam's Apple as "The warm white apple of her throat." Consider your Adam's Apple. Touch it—your Adam's Apple—That is your larynx—your voice box—it contains your vocal chords. When you consider your Adam's Apple you are considering your throat—your vocal chords. Protect the delicate tissues within your throat. Be careful in your choice of cigarettes. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants! Reach for a LUCKY instead. Here in America LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette which brings you the added benefit of the exclusive "TOASTING" Process, which includes the use of modern Ultra Violet Rays. It is this exclusive process that expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are sold to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple."

KEEPING FIT FOR SUCCESS

By Dr. V. E. Levine, professor of bio-chemistry and nutrition, the Creighton University School of Medicine.

THE GAME OF LIFE Physical Vigor

We have already mentioned some of the fundamentals necessary to insure emotional stability, mental poise and spiritual equilibrium. He have thus far seen ourselves from mental, emotional, social and spiritual aspects. We must not forget that we are also physical beings. We have therefore formulated rules of everyday living to insure fitness on the physical side.

Rule 18. Take a five or ten minute bath once a day or at least once every other day. The bath is not only necessary for personal cleanliness, but it is even more necessary for the hygiene of the skin and for the deeping of the circulation in tone.

Rule 19. Have your rooms comfortably warm and not too dry during the winter. At no time should the temperature of your working or living quarters rise above 68 degrees Fahrenheit.

Rule 20. Wear clothing in the winter that keeps you warm in the outdoor air, but when at work or at home remove all extra clothing.

Rule 21. Have the windows in your working room and sitting room at all times and especially in your sleeping room.

Rule 22. Be out in the fresh air at least one hour during the day. Walk if you can. Have an out-door hobby, in which you can be a personal participant—golf, tennis, horse-back riding, skating, hiking, canoeing, fishing, swimming.

Rule 23. Get as much sunshine as you can. Civilization is a great gain, but it is also the mother of prevailing ill-health. It is the house, the office, and the workshop that is doing great harm to us. We have developed a race of men who fear the skies.

We do not make sufficient contacts with Nature. We are too much cooped in by walls and ceilings. We learn our lessons, we transact our business, we write our songs and our poems and our books under ceilings. We paint our pictures, we twang our lutes, we eat our food, we get our pleasures in pent-up places. We make our loves and dreams cramped in by walls on all sides. We therefore lose the fullness of spirit that comes with perfect health, and we lose that largeness, that calm majesty, that universality with which the skies and the heavens fill our soul.

Humanity, democracy, universal brotherhood and the one God—these precious concepts have come to us down the ages through the teachings beneath the heavens. Moses gave the Ten Commandments under a flood of sunshine. Buddha preached under the open sky. Christ taught in the open, in the field, in the valley, and on the hill lighted by the sun.

WITH THE WAYNE CHURCHES

Presbyterian Church
P. A. Davies, Pastor

Hours of services for next Sunday are as follows: Sunday school, 10:00; Morning worship, 11:00; Young people and intermediate C. E. services, 6:30; Union service upon the Presbyterian church lawn, 8:00; Dr. D. A. Dickey, the new pastor of our church at Norfolk will bring us the message, at the union service. There will be special music.

Four of our young people with Mrs. Davies are at the conference for young people at Bellview. They are Mary Ellen Gulliver, Jessie Hanson, Harry Kemp, and James Davies. These summer conferences for Presbyterian Young people are growing in popularity. When the pastor left Monday, there were 130 registered and others were coming in. The young people will have a very busy week, for every minute will be given to study and fun. One of the things that will be greatly enjoyed these warm days is the large swimming pool they have there.

Mrs. Leslie-Elis favored us with a beautiful solo Sunday morning. The pastor and Jean plan to attend the Diamond Jubilee celebration of the church he attended as a boy. The celebration will be held Thursday and the church is known as Horeb Church, Cambria, Minn.

THE WHEAT GUSHER

The foreign wheat gusher continues to spout with no sign of capping.

According to the reports from the world wheat conference held in London last month, Russia and other big wheat exporting countries are determined to continue their demoralizing producing and dumping program. Russia declared her intention of fulfilling the Soviet five-year program regardless of the world wheat surplus. From her state and collective farmers the Soviet government takes a certain percent of the crops without pay and with it undersells the world. Low standards of living in other exporting countries also enable them to sell wheat at a much lower price than American farmers can subsist on.

As might be expected, there were about as many proposals presented to the world wheat conference as there countries represented. The United States representative, Mr. McKelvie proposed that growers in the several larger exporting countries voluntarily limit their wheat production rather than attempt to control the surplus by international agreement for export pools on a quota basis. The press reports from the conference indicate that Russia and the Danubian countries favored an international export pool for wheat and flour. The joker in the plan to the United States and Canada was that the quotas were to be determined on the basis of pre-war exports, when both Canada and the United States were exporting considerably more. In other words, the European countries were for a plan which would permit them to increase their world exports, and reduce ours.

The foreign countries apparently have the ace in the hole over the United States producer, because of lower costs of production and living standards. Confronted with such competition, the only way out for U. S. wheat growers is to depend upon the domestic markets as their chief outlet. That means to grow less wheat, at least in sections adapted equally well to other crops and livestock.

We hope to have for our readers a better picture of the conference discussions and the world wheat situation when Mr. McKelvie returns. Meanwhile, the United States will watch with interest the announcement by the Canadian government that it will absorb five cents a bushel of the freight charges on wheat for export from Canada.—Nebraska Farmer.

IT HAPPENS EVERY DAY

A peddler strolled into Marsh's barber shop one day the latter part of last week and sold our friend Noah a can opener for twenty-five cents. As the "two-bits" was being turned over to the vendor, Henry Valder and Clarence Snyder walked into the shop and they noticed the transaction. Mr. Valder spoke up, "Noah, you can buy that identical can opener at Hedman's for only ten cents." The Lawler broke into the conversation and said that the openers cost him fourteen cents wholesale and he knew that they could not be sold for a dime. Mr. Valder and Mr. Snyder invited Noah and the peddler to walk down the street with them and see for themselves if the articles were not the same. So the foursome started out and they asked Glen Severine, the manager, to show them the can opener that he has been regularly selling for a dime. Mr. Severine told the men that he had sold all his ten cent opens a few hours before to the fellow in the rear of the group, Noah, was convinced that he had undoubtedly paid an excessive price to the stranger but he afterwards remarked that the article was well worth twenty-five cents.—There is a moral to this story but we are not going to repeat it. But have you all noticed that a person who buys from established local firms usually gets his money's worth and also a guarantee that the local merchant is here to back up?—Burt County Herald.

GOOD AMERICANISM

Not always have I been able to applaud the policies nor the official actions of President Hoover, but right now I am vigorously applauding his announced determination to stand like a stone wall against demands of the European governments—for further cancellation of their war debts due and owing to the United States. To date the American government has granted to those nations a Christmas gift in the form of reduction of their war debts of many billion dollars. That money would come in handy right now to relieve the unemployment situation in the United States.

Our good president will have some fight to stand pat on his announced position of opposition to further reduction of the war debts due to the United States by foreign governments. He is surrounded by the keen emissaries of the international bankers who have made big profits out of our past cancellation of the foreign war debts and are hungry for more profit. The country should not only applaud President Hoover's determination to stand fast against further foreign debt reductions, but should pray earnestly that he may be brave enough to maintain his position against the advice or the arrogant demands of the international bankers.—Edgar Howard in Columbus Daily Telegram.

The subject of the lesson-sermon read at all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, June 28, was "Christian Science." The citations read intended to show that the coming of true spiritual understanding of divine law was foretold by ancient prophets, and that Christian Science shows by works that it is fully in accord with such prophecy and law. One of the citations read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 135), is as follows: "Christianity as Jesus taught it was not a creed, not a system of ceremonies, nor a special gift from a ritualistic Jehovah; but it was the demonstration of divine Love casting out error and healing the sick, not merely in the name of Christ, or Truth, but in demonstration of Truth as must be the case in the cycles of divine light." One of the Biblical selections is as follows: "The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light; they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined." (Isaiah 9:2).

DECORATIONS ADD TO HOLIDAY EFFECT

Antique Window Displays Are Golden Jubilee Attraction.

Wayne's business district has taken on a gala, holiday appearance, with bright bunting and special Golden Jubilee streamers adorning the streets. Decorating for the celebration has been handled by William Plummer, Sioux City decorator. Mr. Plummer secured special Golden Jubilee banners for the local celebration.

Wayne business firms have followed out the pioneer idea in their window displays, with relics of bygone days causing the crowds to stop and inspect every window. Comment on the "old time" windows has been to the effect that they are one of the outstanding features of the fiftieth anniversary celebration.

"While many of the amusement features of the celebration are being held at the fairgrounds, the committee cannot urge Golden Jubilee visitors too strongly to inspect the window displays in the stores," says Martin L. Ringer, general chairman of the celebration.

Frank Morgan Takes Madison Tournament

Frank Morgan won the one-day golf tournament at Madison Sunday, by defeating Willard Kremer of Stanton 1 up. His victory was particularly impressive, in view of the fact that Mr. Kremer had won the O'Neil tourney last week. More than 100 golfers competed. Mr. Morgan, usually a good tournament player, was said to have been in top form.

In the third flight, C. C. Will defeated Herman Fricke of Madison, 1 up. Fred Blair won the fifth flight, defeating C. M. Jones of Hartington 1 up.

Wayne Girls Return

From Tour in East

Miss Bertha Berres and Miss Hildgarde Berres arrived home Tuesday morning from a two-week's tour in eastern states, having left on June 17 by train on the Walther League Convention tour.

From Chicago, the girls went to Washington, D. C., where they visited the capitol, the congressional library, Mount Vernon, Washington Monument and the Lincoln Memorial. From Mount Vernon they returned to Washington by boat on the Potomac river.

They later visited Philadelphia and attended the International Walther League convention at Lutherland in Pennsylvania.

They went to New York city where they found the weather to be cool in comparison with the intense heat in the national capitol city. From New York, they went by steamer up the Hudson river as far as Albany, greatly enjoying their river trip because of its scenic beauty and historical interest.

They also visited Niagara Falls.
