Wildcats Win

Peru Mix in Last Quarter

Wayne Gets 6-0 Victory in Season's Toughest Grid Battle.

Wayne State Teachers' college Wildcat football team went into the tradition-busting business Saturday and defeated the Peru Teachers by 6 to 0 befores a homecoming crowd of 1,000. It was the first time Peru had ever lost a Homecoming game, and it was the first time Wayne had ever defeated Peru.

A high kick in the fourth quarter by Hatcher of Peru on the Peru four-yard line gave Wayne the ball on the Peru 20-yard stripe. Andrews car ried the ball three times for 19 yards, and Beck smashed over for the tally. The kick from placement failed.

An inspired Peru team made it evi dent at the start of the same that Wayne was going to need some breaks Three times Peru theatened to win. the Wildcat goal, but were unable to cross into the end zone. Once in the third quarter after a 35-yard run by Harris they fumbled on the one-foot Again in the final period, after Wayne had scored. Peru reached the two-yard line but was driven back.

Copeland, Wayne's Flying Dutch man, electrified the crowd in the last of the second quarter when he intercepted a pass and ran 73 yards to the Peru two-yard line. The whistle blew, ending the half, before Wayne had time to score.

Peru, outweighed three pounds per man, played a hard, smashing game and registered 213 yards from scrimmage against Wayne's 81. Peru had 12 first downs against Wayne's four.

The Hickman-coached team got its victory by repulsing the Peru gridsters at the right times and by taking advantage of the only break that came their way. They were playing a team that always plays its best football in its Homeconing game.

Four Cars Are Destroyed by Fumigation Gas Conflagration.

Damage estimated at $18,000 wa caused at 1:15 a. m. Friday when fire destroyed four cars and damaged three others belonging to the Walter Savidge Amusement company train. Ten thousand dollars of the loss is covered by insurance.

Mr. Savidge believes that the fire was the result of gas combustion. He had been giving the cars their amnual fall fumigating and cleaning. Kerosene had been sprayed around woodwork to extinguish vermin fumigation candles had been and placed in the cars. Homecoming activities for Wayne State Teachers college will open tomorrow afternoon at tour o'clock when the annual Homecoming parade will wend its way down Main street. The var-lous organizations at the college have prepared floats for the proession, and a clown band will furnish comedy. The school band will lead the parade.

A homecoming dance will be given Saturday night at the college gymnasium under the direc-tion of the "W" club, with the Campus Knights furnishing the music.

Wildcat football coach Ray H. Hickman spoke at chapel Wednes-day morning on the "Homecomday morning on the "Homecom-ing Spirit" and told students that the Wildcats' prospects of winning the Wayne-Chadron football game tomorrow night are good. A pep rally was a feature of the gathering.

Jungle Guide Exhibits Films

Students of Public School System See Pictures of Jungle Life.

Robert Miller of Winchester, Engand, chief guide and cinemato grapher for the British Museum of Natural History, appeared before the students of the Wayne public schools yesterday morning at 9:45 o'clock with his motion picture travelogue of an Asiatic expedition, filmed under the auspices of the French Indo-China government.

Mr. Miller commented on the scenes unfolded in the picture, and said that he had spent five and a half years in a "pt"meval jungle it. filming the jungle life episodes which were depicted upon the screen. The Asiatic jungle, he said, is one of the six unexplored places of the earth. Some of the features of the film which appealed to the students were a death duel between a savage man and a gorilla, pictures of swarms of man-cating orang-outangs, films of white spitting cobras, pictures of the Sakais, the earth's earliest men who live like apes in giant teak forests. a rare picture of a thunder dragon, rivers choked with man-eating saurians, and pictures of saber-toothed tigers Mr. Miller carries two moving pic ture machines for presentation of his travel picture, and says that its presentation involves the use of $7,500 vorth of equipment.

DORM MONEY TO BE

Bonds to Be Issued from Time to Time During Construction.

An earlier opinion that money fo the $150,000 dormitory at Wayne State Teachers' college could not be paid until completion of the building was reversed Monday by the state board of educational lands and funds. Governor Bryan, | Attorney General Sorensen, Secretary of State Marsh, Land Commissioner Swanson and Treasurer Bass, constituting the board, modified its offer to furnish the Wayne college $150,000 for a dormitory to be built upon the amortization plan, at a meeting Monday noon, by providing that the land upon which the building stands shall be deaded to the state upon the start of the enterprise and that the money be paid on bonds to be issued from time to time as the money is needed. Dr. U. S. Conn. president of the local college, was present at the meeting, Attorney General Sorchsen mitted an opinion holding that Sorensen sub der the act of the last legislature the state board is authorized to invest funds in dormitory bonds for the state teachers' college when . bonds

Wayne college Jumni today started the trek back to Wayne to see what Coach Ray Nicknan characterizes as "the best foot ball team I have ever coached" bat tle the Chadron Eagles in Wayne's homecoming game tomorrow night at eight o'clock under the flood lights at the college field.

Sexton, tackle. who played splendid game against Peru last Sat-urday until he was injured, is definitely out of tomorrow's game with a bad ankle. Grubb, - plunging full-back, Manzer, left half, and D. Evans, fullback, bave been on the injured list this week but may be able to go into the Chadron game. Coach Hickman, with a team that has gained the applause of everyone who has seen it in action, is overly optimistic about the outcome of the homecoming game. Chadron has defeated Nebraska Wesleyan at Lincoln, 7 to 6, Spearfish Normal at Spearfish, S. D., 13 to 6, and has lost to the University of Wyoming team by a score of 25 to 0. ### Pipe Line Completion Date Still Uncertain

Wayne will have natural gas-that much seems to be a certainty. But when it comes to more specific information, gas company officials ar loathe to talk for publication. They say that one guess is just about as good as another, and that they cannot estimate with accuracy the ex act date on which gas will be available to Wayne consumers.

One gas company head informed The Democrat --- reporter yesterday that his own opinion was that gas would probably be ready for use in Wayne by the end of the first week in November

Another one said that it would be a nip and tuck job to get everything ready for gas by November 15, the date which the extended franchise specifies.

The gas company's construction READY AS NEEDED division has hired a considerable umber of Wayne men to work as unskilled laborers, and company offi cials say that they will use local help whenever possible. General opinion eems to be that the gas company is being conscientious about the local holp matter and is really trying to lavor local workers with employfavor ment.

$1.50 PER YEAR

Florence G. Putman of Mrs. Naper, mother of the late Wayne Putman, Wayne State Teachers college student who was killed in an airplane accident here Sunday, May 24, has brought sult in district court through her attorney, H. D. Addi son, for $1,000 which she alleges is due her on an insurance policy carried by the deceased Wayne Putman with the Mutual Life insurance com pany of New York. The petition was filed with Clerk of Courts Frank

F. Korff on Friday, Oct. 23. The suit arises through the fact that Wayne Putman's $1,000 insur-ance policy carried a double indemnity clause, specifying that death by accident would result in payment of double the amount of the policy to the beneficiary. The policy, however is said to have had an exception clause which stated that death resulting fromt airplane accidents would not make the company liable for double indemnity. Mrs. Putman has received $1,000 from the company on the policy but charges that another $1,000 is due her as beneficiary on the double in demnity clause. Court attaches do not believe it probable that the case will come up for hearing at the November 9 term of district court. Wayne Boy Receives

PHEASANT SEASON

Now that the open season on pheas-ants is over, it can be said that an eight-day season is too long without fear of bringing thown the wrath of enthusiastic hunters upon one's head. As a-matter of fact, many real sportsmen admit that the pheasant season just past should have been shortened.

There seems to be little question but what many birds were unneces-sarily slaughtered. Birds were killed that were never eaten, because of an over-abundance of game already stored away. Other birds were shot and never retrieved.

three year man, or Hill of Ohicago, freshman, will start at the left half Some hunters violated the code of the sportsman by shooting with rifles They were not only violating the principle of sportsmanship but were in direct violation of the game laws. The five-bird limit was not rigidly observed. It does not seem logical to believe that it ever will be. An enthusiastic hunger is apt to take all he can get. In a shorter season, he couldn't get so many. Such destruction as was common during the recent open season would soon deplete the fields of the state and make it necessary for the game commission to stock Nebraska fields with the birds all over again.

Many hunters have said that the season was too long. They are thinking of game stock for future years. They admit that they got more birds than they could use. They will urge a shorter season-for next year.

TARIFF DEBATE

Sioux City was the sceme of an interesting political controversy Saturday night when Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, democrat, debated Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa publican, on the Smoot-Hawly tariff question In fairness to the republican party it must be admitted that Dickinson was face to face with an opponent who is probably his superior in the art of argumentation. This is no re flection on Dickinson, inasmuch as Pat Harrison is recognized as one of the most able speakers in the public life of America.

It must be admitted, however, that Senator Harrison gave Dickinson a fancy lesson in debating. When he got through with the republican party and his adversary, there was not much for Dickinson to say or do Harrison brought out clearly that the Smoot-Hawley tariff, engineered by group of republicans, is responsible for much of our economic disturbance He did not forget to remind his audi once that Senator Dickinson had cash his vote in favor of the bill.

Senator Dickinson had compiled a st of tariff questions. Pat Harrison list of tariff questions. answered them all, without attempting to dodge them in any way, Comparison of the applause recei ed by the two speakers would indi-cate that 1932 is going to be a big year for the Democratic party.

Frank Griffith Paid $11 Per Acre for His Home Place

When Frank Griffith, Sr., came The Griffiths had 55 acres of small out to Wayne 49 years ago, only one house in the town was completed, although a number were in the process of being bulli. Mr. Griffith had the ploneer Idea, and he came to Wayne from Red Oak. Iowa, for the purpose of looking over the new country that was just opening up. Land was cheap, and he knew that it was a bargain at the price asked. He had gone to Red Oak from Burlington. Iowa, 15 years earlier, and had found that land in the Red Oak territory could be made to return a profit for labor expended upon it.

His vision of Wayne farm hand was incorrect, he admits. He had the idea of ranching, and thought that he would be able to ranch for 20 years. Three years after he bought the land, he says, there was no opportunity to buy up additional land for ranching purposes. The country was being rapidly settled by men who had the farming idea and who thought that the land was too valuable for ranching purposes.

For the first few years he was on his Wayne county farm, Mr. Griffith tried to ranch and feed. He had from feeding. He was ranging his cattle as far as O'Neill, but found that too many head were being stolen. He cattle on range and feeding, but found that he couldn't do so many things at once and do them well, so he abandoned his carlier idea and started devoting his time exclusively to farming and cattle feeding. Mr. Griffith bought his 240 acre farm about three miles northwest of town for $11 an acre. He says that when he bought it, 60 acres were broken, 40 acres fenced off for pasture and "there was lumber enough laying on the ground to build a house

During the war-time period, the same land that Mr. Griffith paid $11 an acre for was estimated to be worth $400 an acre. A faim near it now rents for $10 an acce. He laughs when he tells you that a number of people thought he was foolish to pay rents for $10 an acre. the $11 price. "It's too high," they said, "You'll never he able to get your money out of it."

The house that Mr. and Mrs. Griffith, Sr., built, is still on the home place. Frank Griffith, Jr., was born there, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Griffith. Jr.'s. four daughters were born

Mr. Griffith, Sr., retired from ac tive farming 12 years ago when his son came back from the army. His son and daughter-in-law have been farming the place over since. This year 130 acres of the 240 acre farm were planted to corn, which is being husked this week. It is averaging from 18 to 20 bushels an acre

上院

The Griffiths had 55 acres of since grain this year, 28 of barley and 27 of oats. The small grain yield was light. The rest of the farm is in scene of cattle feeding for 49 years, and Frank Griffith, Jr., plans to feed this year. He fed about 60 head of cattle last year. Hog raising is one of his hobbies, and he has 175 hogs, with quile a few little fall pigs which are coming along splandidly. He has good luck with hogs, and is usually able to show a nice profit on them.

In the dairy department, the Griffiths are milking seven cows at present.

Mrs. Griffith, Jr., has 150 Buff Orphington chickens, and has sold 70 hens this fall. She finds that poultry is a profitable part of the farm. Frank Griffith, Jr., has six horses on the place at present. He doesn't need any more, because much of the farm work is done by a tractor. When his father first came to the place, he had 100 horses, but soon got the number down to about 20. He bred three different strains of 700 to 800 head of cattle on range and draft horses, and had a good reputation in that line. He thinks that the horses business is a thing of the past. Monday morning, when the reporter was trying to ranch and farm, with visited the Griffith farm, Mr. Frank Griffith, Jr., was at another farm threshing alfalfa for a neighbor. Ho has equipment for threshing algalfa and sweet clover, and gets numerous calls to do the work on various farms in the community.

The junior Griffith uses a tractor nearly altogether, and thinks that it saves a lot of time and money. Right now, he is particularly enthusiastic about the tank-type corn plcker with which he is doing his corn picking. It picks the corn clean, he says, taking the nubbins and everything. With the machine one man can pick from eight to ten acres a day. He wouldn't go back to the old hand-picking me thod under any circumstances.

There are ten buildings on the place besides numerous portable hog houses The rolling land stretches away from a gentle rise upon which are located the home and buildings. The farm has a splendid water supply, with two cisterns and a well furnishing running water in the yards and the house. The home and buildings are furnished with electric lights made possible by the Griffiths' own farm light plant. The home has sever

Mr. Griffith, Jr., is assisted in his farm work by a hired man. They agree that there was no grasshopped damage on the place this year, but say that they have a short crop as a result of much dry weather. Mr. Griffith, Sr., has other farms besides the home place occupied by his son. One, a 160 acre farm near Laurel, is tenanted by Henry Pres-ton. After farming in Wayne county for 37 years, Mr. Griffith and his wife moved to town in 1919 and built 2 one of the finest homes in Wayne. They felt that they had canned a rest from their pioneering labors, and they are taking it.

Hulled Oats, Skim Milk Are Cheap Pig Ration

Just as oatmeal and cream are good for growing youngsters, so do hulled and skim milk prove an appetiz . nats ing and economic ration for young pigs at present prices. The winner of the Jowa Pork Production contest produced 12 tons of pork with 94 pigs in 180 days by feeding hulled cats and a commercial supplement feed, while the second prize winner also fed hulled oats together with ground corn and the two to one mixture of tapkage and oH meal and mineral feed.

A summary of two years' experi-ments at the Ohio station_shows that holded oats may have an average val-ue of 46 percent greater than corn when used as the only grain and, when fed at the rate of two_p for each pound of supplemental mixture, as a partial substitute for corn, bulled oats were worth 62 percent more than corn. Where skin milk-i available, it makes an ideal protein supplement for all classes of growing stock.

Taking present low feed costs into con-sideration, the returns from butterfat at 30 to 35 cents a pound are as good as 40 to 45 cents a pound two years ago when feed costs were high.

> POTATOES FOR WINTER EGGS A warm, moist feed of cooked po tatoes thoroughly mixed with laying mash will help to increase feed consumption and result in heavior egg production, finds the Ohio experiment station.
