Wildcats Get N. I. A. A. Grid Championship

Wayne Is Only Conference Team Without a Defeat.

Wayne State Teachers' college winning Wildcats clinched their right to undisputed Nebraska Intercollegiate Athletic association football honors when they played Omaha Municipal university to a scoreless tie last Friday night at Omaha.

Wayne is the only team in the five-school conference that has not lost a game to a conference opponent this season, and the record is made all the more impressive by the fact that no conference rival has crossed the Wildcats' goal line.

Although complete records are not available, those in touch with local football believe that the 1931 Wildcat team is the first in the history of the school to go through a complete season without a defeat.

The season just ended was Coach Ray Hickman's fourth at the local institution. His prospects for next year are bright, with only five men from the first string lost by graduation. The five who played their last game for the Wildcats Friday night are Captain Albert Hansen, Loren Andrews, Loren Lindamood, Faye Evans and Raymond Beck.

Coach Hickman has received recognition in grid circles throughout the state this year for having a capable, speedy, deceptive, well-coached football team. Officials who have seen the local team play under all conditions this season say that the Wildcats have conducted themselves in a sportsmanlike manner at all times and have shown the results of brainy coaching.

GAS FIRM HOLDS FORMAL OPENING

Approximately 1,000 See Company's New Salesroom.

Approximately 1,000 people visited the Wayne home of the People's Natural Gas company on Friday, Nov. 20, the date of the organization's formal opening of offices and salesrooms here. The estimate of 1,000 guests is based upon the fact that 370 people registered, with only one person from each family permitted to sign a registration blank. Five hundred roses were given out to women visitors.

Frank Brooks of Omaha, general manager of the natural gas firm, was unable to attend the Wayne opening, but Frank Budd, assistant to the general manager, Frank Martin, general purchasing agent, Clark Read, general auditor, Jack Bullock, assistant general manager, R. L. Harrison, superintendent of distribution, W. L. Peterson, assistant superintendent of distribution, and Buehler Metcalfe, advertising representative, were all here to welcome Wayne people to the company's local salesroom.

Representatives of various gas appliance firms were present to answer questions relative to their products. Factory representatives present were Tom Rook of the Roper Range company, E. C. Goodman of the Sonner Burner company, H. O. Schmol of the Mueller Furnace company, N. C. Doan of the Columbus Furnace company, and D. G. Misner of the American Stove company.

Benefit Movies Add $85 to Relief Fund

Coffers of the Wayne charity welfare fund are $86.40 richer as a result of the benefit matinee presented Friday, Nov. 20, at the Gay theatre.

Tickets were sold by local committees, and all funds derived from the ticket sale were turned over by E. E. Gailey, manager of the theatre, to be used for 72 Wayne county children who must depend on charity aid.

The benefit show was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Gailey, Mrs. Will Fox, Mrs. E. W. Huse and H. R. Best.

Wayne Gets First Breath of Winter

Wayne found itself in the grip of winter's icy claws this week, with pavements and sidewalks covered with a coating of glassy ice. Over an inch of rainfall Friday was followed by snow and freezing weather Saturday, with the fine flakes falling until late Saturday afternoon. There was a let-up in the evening when heavy sleet-covered streets and automobiles.

Some rain and sleet fell Sunday, and Monday the sleet came with real fury, to put local streets in the most dangerous condition in recent years. O. L. Randall, manager of the local telephone offices, reported lines down Monday on both the Omaha and Sioux City toll lines, with continued trouble Tuesday. County roads were in icy condition that made passage difficult.

A fine, flaky snowfall began Tuesday morning but stopped about noon.

Christ Sydow Passes Away

Last Rites for Nebraska Pioneer Are Held Wednesday.

Winside (Special)—Christ Sydow, 87, pioneer Nebraska resident for 58 years, died Sunday, Nov. 22, at 5:00 p. m., following a month's illness. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock from St. Paul's Lutheran church at Winside, with Rev. H. M. Hilpert in charge. Interment will be in the cemetery at Wayne.

Mr. Sydow was born in Grafenhausen, Germany, on Feb. 21, 1844. He came to Watertown, Wis., in June of 1869, and was united in marriage there to Miss Louise Hauer-dovekeske on Oct. 10, 1871. Seven children were born to this union.

Mr. and Mrs. Sydow decided to move to northeast Nebraska in 1874, and with their oldest child emigrated overland in ox-drawn covered wagon to a farm seven miles north of Oakland. Mr. Sydow bought a 160-acre farm and the family settled in a sod house. They lived there until 1884, when they moved to Wayne county and bought a 320 acre farm seven and a half miles south of Wayne.

They moved to Winside in 1918 and have lived there ever since. They celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary on Oct. 10 of this year, with 37 children and grandchildren present.

Mr. Sydow is survived by his widow, Mrs. Louisa Sydow; three sons, Alfred and William of Wayne and Otto of Colome, S. D.; four daughters, Mrs. Nora Bose of Concord, Mrs. Lena Erleben of Wayne, and Mrs. C. J. Wolf and Mrs. Louis Thies of Winside, as well as many more distant relatives and a host of friends.

The Midland chorus has gained an enviable reputation in musical circles of the state for its brilliant presentation of sacred music. An annual tour is taken by the singers, and enthusiastic press comment follows each appearance.

Miss Gretchen Teckhaus of Wayne, daughter of Rev. H. A. Teckhaus, and former winner of the Atwater-Kent vocal audition for this district, is a member of the chorus and will appear here with it.

Junior Class Presents Play Tuesday Night

Members of the junior class of Wayne high school presented an hilarious comedy, "Dangerous Men," by Robert St. Clair, at the Gay theatre Tuesday evening to a good-sized audience that hesitated not at all in expressing the highest appreciation of the amateur Thespians' efforts.

The story dealt with two wealthy spinster ladies who hated men but were tricked into harboring two, one an adventurous youth and the other a desperate criminal, in their apartment. Many comedy complications made the play a decided success with the audience.

Misses Verna Mae and Helen O'Neill were the directors.

DANCE PAVILION IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Kays Face $6,000 Loss As Result of Saturday Morning Blaze.

Damage estimated at $9,000 was caused by a fire that completely destroyed the Colonial dance pavilion Saturday morning at 3:30 a. m. Origin of the blaze is unknown. A dance had been held in the place Friday evening.

The building, owned by Mrs. Henry Kay, was insured for only $3,000. Benny Kay, who has acted as manager of the pavilion for his mother, said Saturday that plans for rebuilding the place had not been completed. He said that if the pavilion were rebuilt, it would be constructed along entirely different lines, with a mammoth ballroom and separate dining room and lounges.

It was at first thought that there would be no insurance coverage on the destroyed building, but Mrs. Kay discovered Saturday morning that her insurance agent had renewed her policy when it expired in October.

When the local fire department was called to the pavilion, the flames had gained such headway that the firemen found it impossible to extinguish the blaze. Besides the building, an electric refrigerator, a piano and other valuable pieces of equipment were a total loss.

sters who have the written permission of their parents.

He will have an Eskimo clothing exhibit, an Alaskan archeological exhibit and a Santa Claus float, and promises that he is doing his utmost to make his appearance here this year more impressive than ever before.

Wayne business men are doing their part to make Santa's 1931 debut in Wayne a success. At a meeting of the Christmas promotion committee at the city hall Monday night, E. W. Huse was appointed general chairman and L. A. Famske secretary and treasurer.

J. J. Ahern and Carroll Orr were appointed to buy Christmas trees for business house fronts and the center of the street. Martin L. Ringer was appointed chairman of the Decoration committee, and is to be assisted by Walter Savidge, Ernest Bichel, P. A. Theobald and Ben Carhart.

Russel Larson was appointed chairman of the finance committee, and is to be assisted by Wm. Beckenhauer, Ben Carhart, T. S. Hook and L. W. McNatt.

Band music will be arranged for by the regular band committee. Advertising is being taken care of by E. W. Huse and George B. Anderson. Radio advertising is being arranged for by J. J. Ahern.

Fred L. Blair heads the gasoline committee, and is to be assisted by Ed Ellis, Chas. Brown and George B. Anderson.

Ray Larson and A. F. Gulliver compose a committee which is to arrange for Boy Scout police work during Santa's appearance here.

PENDER WOMAN WINS $4,404.65 VERDICT

Jury Decides for Widow of Truck Crash Victim.

Mrs. Recca Evans of Pender, administratrix of the Elmer Evans estate, was awarded a verdict of $4,404.65 against Edward Kai, Wayne county farmer, by a jury in district court here Saturday, Nov. 21. H. D. Addison and H. E. Siman, attorneys for the defendant, said Saturday that they planned to appeal.

The case started on Wednesday, Nov. 18, and attorneys for both sides presented their final arguments on the afternoon of Friday, Nov. 20. The jury was out for seven hours and 35 minutes.

James Hanley of Omaha and Fred S. Berry were attorneys for the plaintiff.

The court room was crowded throughout the trial.

The case was an outgrowth of an accident on highway No. 9, eight miles east and six miles south of Wayne, on Tuesday afternoon, July 21. Elmer Evans of Pender, proprietor of a W. N. A. X. gas station, and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mabel Evans, were killed when a gasoline truck which Mr. Evans was driving and a light truck driven by Mr. Kai collided. Mrs. Recca Evans and Eunice Evans, 4, daughter of Mrs. Mabel Evans, were riding in the gasoline truck when the accident occurred.

City Clerk Submits Semi-Annual Report

W. S. Bressler, city clerk, submitted his semi-annual statement of collections and disbursements of city funds from May 13 to Nov. 12, 1931, at a meeting of the city council Tuesday night at the city hall. His report showed an income for the city of $39,092 for the period.

The city council has designated Pearl and Logan streets as the proper places for children to use their sleds. The streets have been marked with red lights and warning signs, and children may coast there in comparative safety.

The highway between Maywood and Curtis has been traveled.

Churches Unite for Thanksgiving

That Thanksgiving will be observed lavishly in Wayne is testified to by Wayne butchers, who say that if there is any depression it is not apparent in Turkey Day meat orders. Grocers, too, say that Wayne must be preparing to celebrate on a large scale.

Many Wayne families are having out-of-town guests, and a large number of family dinners are being held. That there will be many dinner guests is affirmed by local hardware dealers, who say that their sale on large-size roasters is heavier than usual.

Union Thanksgiving services are to be held at the Baptist church Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, with Rev. P. A. Davies of the First Presbyterian church delivering the sermon. A special offering will be taken for the Nebraska Children's Home society.

Aged Wayne County Hermit Found Dead

Senility Declared Cause of August Moeller's Death.

August Moeller, Wayne county's hermit, was found dead in his farm home seven miles southeast of Wayne Sunday afternoon by Henry Lay, the aged recluse's guardian, County Attorney H. D. Addison and Dr. L. W. Jamieson. The three men had been called to the farm by a neighbor who had not seen Mr. Moeller around the farm for a week and had become alarmed.

Dr. Jamieson gave senility as the cause of death and said that the hermit had not been alive for several days. Wm. Beckenhauer, mortician, said that examination of the body showed no reason to believe that Mr. Moeller had met with death from other than natural causes. He owned a 200-acre farm. ## WILDCATS PLAY TIE WITH OMAHA MUNY U

Wet Field Spoils Scoring—Chances of Wayne's Light Backs.

Wayne's winning Wildcat football team was unable to get a light backfield to functioning on a sloppy field last Friday night, and the locals played to a scoreless tie with the Omaha Municipal university. The game was played at Omaha before a crowd of 2,500.

Wayne's first and only serious threat came in the first three minutes of play, with the ball on Omaha's 12-yard marker. Grubb passed to Evans, who caught the ball but dropped it. Wayne played a conservative game after that. The game was characterized by a great deal of punting, with Wayne booting the ball 11 times for 425 yards and Omaha punting 9 times for 282 yards.

Omaha's heavier line and backfield were able to plow and push through the mud to much better advantage than Wayne's lighter team, Omaha was in a position to score on four different occasions, but lacked the necessary punch. The Muni U. players made 15 first downs to Wayne's three. Starting lineups were as follows:

Wayne	Omaha U.
F. Evans	LE Hartman
Paul	LT Hanks
Dodge	LG Hummel
Ambrose	C. Fouts
Hunt	RG Johnson
Hanson	RT Thomas
Lindamood	RE James
Andrews	QB Huff
D. Evans	LH Hall
Copeland	RH Fischer
Grubb	FB Egbert
Referee—Black, Kansas.	Umpire
Schulte, Michigan.	Head Lines-
Maat—Knappe, Coast.

He has been a member of the Wayne State Teachers' college faculty for 21 years and has shown especial interest in the architectural improvement of the city.

T. S. Hook, secretary of the club in 1930 and an active worker in the organization's various projects, was elected vice-president.

Miss Margaret Schemel of the Wayne State Teachers' college faculty gave a talk on Mexico, drawing upon her observations and experiences there this summer. She described the ancient and modern civilizations of the country and touched upon the various beauty spots, giving a detailed description of the presidential palace. From her vivid description of a bull-fight, her listeners gathered that there was more artistry and skill connected with the sport than is commonly imagined by Americans.

Peter Bickhoff concluded the program with a baritone solo. He was accompanied by Miss Blackmire.

clear, and had some money, most of which was in bonds. Several months ago he received a dividend check for $1,560 from the state banking department on an account which he had carried in a failed Wakefield bank, but refused to accept it, saying that this was not his money inasmuch as his funds had been lost.

Mr. Addison, Mr. Ley and Dr. Jamieson searched the Moeller home and found $4,621.11, of which $650 was in currency and the balance in bonds and a certificate of deposit on a Wisner bank.

He refused to accept mail, and since money due him was going to revert to other sources if action were not taken, County Judge J. M. Cherry several months ago appointed Henry Ley, assistant cashier of the State National Bank, to safeguard the hermit's interests.

Mr. Moeller was an industrious farmer for many years, but quit farming shortly after the World war. Since that time, the land has been idle year after year, and the once splendid farm has grown to weeds. He refused to rent the place to anyone.

Numerous legends grew up about the man. He paid no attention to them. He made regular trips to Wayne to get water from a fountain at the Wayne county court house, bringing a supply of water jugs with him. He purchased great quantities of provisions, paying for them with money from an old tobacco pouch.

He was honest almost to perfection. The late Chas. W. Reynolds, county clerk of Wayne county for many years, said that Mr. Moeller always listed everything he owned on his tax list and insisted on putting his belongings in at the price he had paid for them. Days after he had filed his tax sheets he would think of something he had neglected to enter and would come to the clerk's office, insisting that such entry be made.

Mr. Moeller was born in Germany in 1864. He came to America as a youth and obtained his final American citizenship papers in 1890. He came to Wayne about 40 years ago. A brother, who died about 30 years ago, is buried here. He has distant relatives in Iowa and may have a sister in Germany. One sister, whom he corresponded with, is known to have died some time ago.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock in the Beckenhauer chapel with Rev. H. A. Teckhaus in charge, and interment was in the Wayne cemetery.

THANKSGIVING

Many Americans believe that on this Thanksgiving day they have little to be thankful for, which shows that while we are far advanced in education over the Pilgrim Fathers, we have probably declined in appreciation.

Here in Wayne county we have much more to be thankful for than do certain citizens in other parts of our country and even our state. We did not have a complete crop failure—which is more than residents of some nearby territories are able to say.

Practically everyone in the county is employed, which is a great deal more than most communities can say. Business is good—and big business all over the world is complaining of a depression.

We got so that we didn't appreciate prosperity. We took an abundance of the world's goods as a matter of course. We have not yet entirely changed our attitude.

Could it be that a Wise God is trying to impress our good fortune upon us?

TO THE WILDCATS

Wayne's Wildcat football team has, for the first time in the history of the school, won a conference championship, and Wayne sports enthusiasts are justly jubilant about it.

The team has had a wonderful record. Every game on the schedule has been a Wayne victory. The season was not started with a "set-up" game, but with Morningstar, rated as one of the strongest football teams in this territory.

Wayne's tie game with Omaha Muni U. is no indication of the comparative merits of the two grid organizations. Wayne beat Kearney by two touchdowns and was obviously two touchdowns better than the Kearney team.

Coach Hickman can be proud of his team. It is just as certain that the Wildcats can be proud of their coach. In four years he has brought football at the local college from a rather mediocre state to a very healthy one.

ing. Subsidization of athletes has had no place in his scheme of things. If a boy wanted to come to Wayne State Teachers' college and wanted to play football, Ray was glad to have him come out for the squad—but he offered no monetary inducements.

He has taught his teams clean sportsmanship and smart football. He is that kind of a fellow. A Wayne business man said the other day, "I have seen Ray Hickman under every condition. I have been hunting with him and have gone on trips with him. I have been in his home and I have been with him when he was talking to his boys. I have seen him when he was mad and I have seen him when he was in a good-natured mood, but I have never seen him when he was not an all-round good fellow. He's a fine example to his team."

THE FESTIVE BOARD OF COLONIAL DAYS

When the table groaned with good things on Thanksgiving Day, in the time of George Washington, it meant something besides a quick trip to the grocery store, or a hurried dash to the corner delicatessen. It meant that from one end of the colonies to the other households had been preparing for the events for days and weeks.

The products of the farm were somewhat limited in variety. Most luxuries were imported from foreign shores; sugar, molasses, tea, coffee, and spices. Natural ingenuity had plenty of exercise in concocting palatable dishes, and in devising ways and means of preserving perishable foods.

One Thanksgiving table in Philadelphia, according to a writer of the times, had at one sitting, "Turkeys, duck, ham, chicken, beef, pig, tarts, creams, custards, jellies, trifles, floating islands, sweetmeats of twenty sorts, whipped sillibubs, fruits, raisens, almonds, pears and peaches, with the usual accompaniment of beer, porter, punch, and rum."

Since the earliest days in America, it had been necessary for housewives to experiment with new and strange foods, originating recipes, partly borrowed from the Indians, resulting in some of the dishes we have today. Pumpkins and squashes were native vegetables and grew wild.

Pumpkins, or pompons as they were named, became a staple article of diet, and were dried for winter use. Bread, pancakes, pies and puddings were made from pumpkins until the early colonists felt they never wanted to see another. They liked, however, "Injun bread" baked from yellow Indian corn meal, and they liked the succotash, a mixture made by the Indians from beans, peas, corn and pumpkins boiled together.

Potatoes, although native to America, had been rare to New Englanders, and were probably the sweet variety, as they were in the south. As late as 1763, a farmer in New England boasted that he had raised eight bushels of potatoes in one crop, an enormous amount.

Huckleberries or blueberries, blackberries, strawberries and grapes grow wild, but improved under cultivation. Orchards generously flowered and bore fruit. Pears and quince were plentiful. Apples, especially in New England, were a part of every meal. One encountered apple stump, apple mors, apple crowdy, apple tarts, mess apple pies and puff apple pies, so it is easy to see that the New Englanders' reputation for having apple pie in every menu was earned at an early date.

As there were no hermetically sealed jars, preserves, pickles, marmalades, candied fruits and flowers, were made so rich, that they could not spoil, and were kept in a stone crock, its top tied down with cloth or paper.

of spices were used, even perfumes, perhaps with good reason; as there was no such things as ice for preservation, the coolest places being the cellar, the spring house or the bottom of the well.

The colonists potted fish and game, and salted fish and meat in strong brine. November was the busiest month of the year, as it was "killing time." Oxen, cows and swine, which had been fattened for slaughter, met their fate in the dawn of early morning, so that the meat would be hardened ready for the pickle. Sausages were made, some slight variation in the recipes in the different localities being in evidence as were rolliches, head cheese and pickled pigs' feet. They tried-out lard and made tallow.

Many families secured sweetening from maple sugar and honey, although housewives of elegance always had some loaf sugar on hand for company. This was purchased in a large cone, covered with blue paper, which incidentally was carefully kept, and soaked for the day, a ceremony involving in some homes a parade of silver salvers and specially made scissors, all laid out on the polished surface of the dining room table with much fluttering about of busy femininity over this important and delicate task.

While the people of Washington's time did not have the fancy food which is used today, they always had more than enough to take care of their appetite.

Pointers for Work Around Farm Homes

Dairy cows should get plenty of lime while they are dry. Good pasture in summer and well-cured legume hay in winter supply lime.

Crude petroleum will destroy mites and lice on hogs. You can apply it with a swab, by sprinkling it on their backs or by use of hog oilers. Include in the dairy cow's grain ration some bulky feed which will prevent the ration from becoming pasty. The inclusion of one-third wheat bran or ground oats, or both, prevents the ration from becoming pasty and hard to digest. Dried beet pulp or ground roughage also serves the purpose.

Work shoes for wear in winter or in wet weather last longer and protect the feet better if they are waterproof. A mixture of eight ounces of neutral wool grease, four ounces of petrolatum and four ounces of paraffin wax, or made of 16 ounces of petrolatum and two ounces of beeswax is good for waterproofing shoes.

SCOTT SHOTS by "SCOTTY"

Thanksgiving is here, and I AM THANKFUL— That Herbert Hoover is president of the United States.—Al Smith. That we didn't play Wayne on a dry field.—Omaha Muni U Gridsters. That we got a tie with Omaha Muni U.—Wayne Wildcats. That 1932 is going to be a democratic year.—Herbert Hoover. That everybody eats.—Carl Nielsen. That automobiles require gasoline.—Bey Strahan. That Wayne is not Chicago.—May or Wm. Orr. That Wayne State Teachers' college is to have a new dorm.—Dr. U. S. Conn. That Martin Ringer renews lapsed fire insurance policies.—Benny Kay. That this is an age of sanitation education.—O. S. Roberts. That winter is here. — Any coal dealer. That Christmas comes but once a year.—Santa Claus. Ditto.—Grant Mears. That you read this column.—Scotty.

Seriously, Wayne has a tremendous lot to be thankful for. In a year of almost universal financial depression, Wayne knows practically nothing of adverse conditions. Business, somehow, seems to be going along at its usual clip, with people buying perhaps fewer of the luxuries but keeping their money pretty steadily in circulation. Building activities have helped a lot, but it seems probable that the local attitude has been the most important part of Wayne's prosperity. Our citizens have faith in the future of the town, and they are building for that future at a time when it is possible to get more for less. Be oh so thankful that we have people in Wayne with that much vision.

This week we present for your disapproval a spicier than usual group of

GOSSIP NOTES
Undaunted by criticism, with head bloody but unbowed, the old Scott Shoter marches forward with banners flying after having had the reliability of this here colyum questioned in District Court. The head is bloody—from the criticism—but held high because of the almost unbelievable honor of having had Scott Shots spoken of (even slightly) in the sanctity of the court room.

Anyhow, the attorney who referred to these efforts in alighting terms can't fool the old Scott Shoter. He reads the colyum, so it must not be too awfully bad. And it's quite an honor to have a REPUBLICAN leader read a colyum in The DEMOCRAT, isn't it?

But to have the reliability of these here now efforts questioned! Tsk! Tsk! After I thought our Reliability Education Campaign had done its work so well.

Officials are looking with suspicion upon a young bucko who got booted out of the Colonial dance pavillon last Friday night.

Ernst tips me off that a fellow who is strongly in favor of the "Trade in Wayne" movement bought a planny out of town.

The fellow who was standing in the lobby of the postoffice last Thursday afternoon at about 3:30 should get a smaller flask. The one he had at that time in his right hip pocket protruded slightly.

A Wayne man who started for Omaha last Saturday afternoon got as far as his home, when the trip was called off.

The Scott Shoter can tell you how many birthdays every business man in Wayne has had. The answer is easy—every person has only one birthday. The rest are birthday anniversaries.

Correction: My informant who told me of a crap game being operated in Wayne was in error. He happened in upon a game—that much was true—but the game is not run regularly. It was "just a few of the boys getting together."

A fellow who found himself temporarily out of cash because of m's fortune in a poker game two weeks ago told me how he managed to secure a dollar a day to live on: On Monday he wrote a check for one dollar. Tuesday he wrote a check for two dollars and put one dollar in the bank. Wednesday he wrote a check for three dollars and put two dollars of it in the bank upon which the check was written. Thursday he wrote a check for four dollars and deposited three. Friday he wrote a check for five dollars and deposited four. Saturday, when he came into possession of funds again, he deposited five dollars. He termed the deal "a temporary loan from the bank" but the bank didn't know about it. Each of his checks was covered when the bank was called upon to pay out money on them.

Operative 216 has been laying down on the job for some time, but now comes in with a bona fide report that two prominent Wayne business men who have been enemies for years have buried the hatchet. You're re-instated, 216.

While we're on the subject, YOU should become a Scott Shot operative. All you have to do is to tip the Scott Shoter off to something for this colyum. You'll be given a card and an official number will be assigned to you. Your membership will be strictly confidential.

No newspaper reporter ever places blame on an accident until that blame has legally been fixed upon one of the parties. For a reporter to violate this rule would prejudice public opinion, in some cases unjustly. When a reporter is called upon the witness stand in an accident case, attorneys sometimes insinuate that there is something funny about the situation which exists solely as a result of the reporter's desire to be fair to the insinuating attorney's client.

And now comes the time for our weekly session with the old maestro of the colyum-writing profess, Fred Howard, of the Clay County Standard. The trouble with a lot of stand folks is that they have stayed too long.

"One cannot give too much attention to their finger nails," observes Miss Lobella, cultural stylist of the southside. "For many a run in silk hosiery is caused by some bird's carelessly manicured fingers."

The "Destitute" racket is in danger of suffering from the "sympathy" of birds who see a chance for self-exploitation in their giving. Remember what Matthew said? "But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth." The most charitable thing in connection with our local charities possible is that we so conduct them as to humiliate no unfortunate one.

To a bird who knows little or nothing of law it seems that whether Nebraska can or cannot prove gangster Winkler guilty of actual complicity in the Lincoln bank robbery, the state could, on his own evidence, convict him of being an accessory after the fact and, we understand, that makes him equally guilty with the principals in the commission of the crime. Guess Nebraska's most famous George knew what he was talking about when he said that "You can't convict a million dollars."

It is claimed for the "Knighthood of Youth" movement being introduced into the schools of the state that "it will develop group consciousness and break down individualism." I can think of nothing more deplorable than that a child's individualism should be destroyed. Individuals, not groups, have been responsible for every gain that civilization has made on primitive conditions.

Many undesirable things have invaded our educational programs in recent years for no other reason than that splendid men and women have been so buried under an avalanche of fascinating theories that they are unable to face with courage and understanding some of the practical, ugly, discouraging details of life.

Adroit navigators are in control of the national educational craft and their ports of call are only such as will yield them selfish cargo. Those who ship before the mast or those who are shandled are tossed overboard upon their first indication of mutiny.

The fight for the preservation of the individualism of our children must originate and be carried on outside of the influence of professional well-farers. The Omaha Bee-News suggests a long moratorium on this type of parasites and it is a pleasure to second the motion.

Character Building Is Object of School Club

A "Knighthood of Youth" club is being organized in the 6th and 7th grades of the Wayne public schools by Miss Maude Curley. Several such clubs have already been organized in the state.

The idea of the organization is to build character. Each club has a class castle, and each group must break a bad habit or build a good one in order to secure a stone for the castle.

Each individual also has a personal castle, and when a club member has put 32 stones into his castle he starts receiving promotions which lead through eight rankings to the title of Knight Crusader.

Gas was turned on in Pender recently.

DEPRESSION HITS LITTLE CHILDREN
The long-continued depression has brought want and suffering to many thousands, the most pitiful side of which is the want and suffering that has come to homeless, helpless little children, and the institutions that are struggling to provide for them. The great Christian Home Orphanage at Council Bluffs, Iowa, founded in 1882, supported entirely by the voluntary contributions of good people which cares for more than 500 children annually, is desperately in need of immediate help if it is to be able to continue its work for homeless children. Appeals are being sent out for funds to enable this national child-saving work to receive all worthy cases that need its help. Winter is close at hand, when applications for assistance will rapidly increase. The Home earnestly appeals to all good people to speedily respond to the end that no needy little child may be denied food and shelter. Please do at Thanksgiving all you can to help this worthy work. Address the Christian Home Orphanage, Council Bluffs, Iowa.
