Legion Asks Aid for Hard Hit Territory

Officials Say Response to Relief Plea Has Been Below Par.

Wayne's American Legion is issuing a plea for merchandise to be delivered at the old Coryell garage on South Main street Saturday. Harvey Hostetter will be in charge, and requests that local people rally to the aid of the drought stricken north-Nebraska territory with contributions of clothing, foodstuffs, shoes, or money.

Local Legion officials said that the response last Saturday was far from what they had expected. Wayne people, they believe, do not realize the seriousness of the situation. "Those people in the north Nebraska drought territory need clothing and food NOW and not next summer," one Legionnaire said.

Local Legion Commander Paul Mines says that state Legion officials have made a survey of the drought territory and have estimated that $120,000 will be needed to take unfortunate families through the winter.

Winside's American Legion post has met with more success than Wayne's, with half a carload of hogs, grain, coal, clothing and foodstuffs assembled for shipment last Saturday. Relief work at Winside is under the direction of Fritz Dimmel, editor of the Winside Tribune.

ENGINE SIDE ROD STRIKES ENGINEER

Ole Neswick Is Injured in Passenger Train Accident.

Ole Neswick, engineer on passenger train No. 4 running between Norfolk and Emerson, suffered a fractured left fibula and lacerated left leg yesterday morning when the side rod on engine No. 144 broke loose and came up through the cab.

The engine was on the "Y" southwest of town when the accident occurred. Mr. Neswick was rushed to the Wayne hospital in an ambulance, and hospital attaches said yesterday afternoon that he was getting along fine.

Mr. Neswick said that he did not know how the accident happened. The right side of the cab was torn up by the flying steel shaft. The engine was towed to Sioux City on a freight train Wednesday afternoon.

There were no other injuries in the accident. Mr. Neswick's escape from more serious injury was regarded by railroad men as nothing short of miraculous.

Fight Starts in Hotel; Ends in County Court

"When you call me that, mister, you've gotta smile."—From "The Virginian," by Owen Wister.

Paul Shoemaker and Lindy Russell forgot to smile in an argument at the Boyd Hotel last Thursday, and as a result found themselves in County Judge J. M. Cherry's court Friday.

They were charged, on complaint of Tom Culligan, proprietor of the Boyd, with "provoking and attempting to provoke an assault upon each other by uttering grossly vile and insulting epithets in the Boyd hotel."

Both men pleaded guilty to the charge. Each was fined $10 and costs of $2.90.

Mrs. A. B. Clark Dies Saturday at Los Angeles

Wayne friends of Mrs. A. B. Clark were saddened to learn early this week of her death on Saturday night, Dec. 5, at Los Angeles, Calif. Cerebral hemorrhage was the cause of death.

Margaret Driscoll was born in Watertown, Wis., in 1878. She was united in marriage to A. B. Clark about 14 years ago.

Funeral services for Mrs. Clark were held Monday.

Charity Show to Aid Drought Area

Canned goods, clothing, shoes and other provisions which would be of aid to the drought territory will be the price of admission to two charity matinees to be held at the Crystal theater on Tuesday, Dec. 22, at two and four o'clock. Children are requested to come to the four o'clock show.

"Sunny Skies," a clever play with plenty of tuneful music, will be the bill for the matinees. The picture was screened by E. E. Gailey, manager of the Crystal and Gay theaters, Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Gailey said after seeing the show that he was confident local theatre-goers would find it highly entertaining.

Mr. Gailey is donating the theater, heat, lights and everything necessary for the show. The American Legion will take charge of the goods taken in as admissions and will send them as a part of the local Legion post's contribution to the Nebraska drought relief program.

Baptists Plan Observance of Fiftieth Year

Members of Local Church to Celebrate Golden Anniversary.

Observance of the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of the First Baptist church of Wayne will take place on Thursday, Dec. 17. The church was organized on Dec. 17, 1881, only a few months after the town, itself, was started.

There were only seven members in that early start of a church. Only one of those charter members, R. J. Morgan of Chandler, Okla., is living. The other members were Rev. J. F. Heilner, A. M. Heilner, Anna Morgan, W. B. Jordan, Mary R. Jordan and M. N. Conover.

The church is occupying its third building and its second location.

Members of the church will observe the anniversary in a simple but interesting service to be held on the evening of Dec. 17. There will be a fellowship supper at 6:30 o'clock in the dining room, with the past and present blending through reminiscences from the older members.

At eight o'clock there will be a public program to which all former members, as well as present members and the friends of other churches and the community, are cordially invited.

Together with special music, prayer, and scripture lesson, there will be a brief fraternal greeting by Rev. P. A. Davies of the First Presbyterian church; reading of letters from former pastors; an historical review, and an inspirational address by Rev. H. Q. Morton, D. D., secretary of the Nebraska Baptist state convention.

GAS LINE WORKERS ARE BURNED SUNDAY

Three Men to Hospital As Result of Ignition of Escaping Gas.

C. J. Forelich, Everett Day and C. B. Betzley, gas pipeline workers, were burned Sunday afternoon when gas escaping from a main ignited. The men were "ticing in" a subsidiary pipe to the main line, and the gas had been left turned on so that appliance users would not be inconvenienced.

Exact cause of the gas ignition is not known, but it is thought that a spark caused by friction of a piece of equipment against the pipe was responsible for the flame.

All three men were rushed to the Wayne hospital where they were found to be suffering from first degree burns. Keirich and Day were getting along nicely Wednesday afternoon, but Forelich's condition was said to be less favorable.

Clubs Plan Pageant for Saturday, December 19

"Christmas in Other Lands" will be the subject of a pageant parade to be presented in Wayne on the afternoon of Saturday, Dec. 19, by local clubs and organizations.

WAYNE BAND WILL BROADCAST SUNDAY

Santa Claus Makes Appearance Friday

Wayne officially opened its Christmas season Friday, when Santa Claus came to town with his two Eskimo husky dog teams, his pet reindeer, and Alaskan exhibits. He was met by a mob of delighted children who kept him busy passing out sacks of candy all afternoon.

Earl F. Hammond, Alaskan explorer, explained the various articles on the Eskimo float to interested grown-ups, and gave rides on the dog sleds to the children.

Wayne business men said that the number of people in town for the event was greater than they had expected. In view of extremely cold weather conditions.

Resident of Sholes Is Laid to Rest Saturday

Funeral services for Will Jones, who passed away Wednesday night, Dec. 2, were held Saturday, Dec. 5, from the Welch Presbyterian church. Mr. Jones had been a resident of the Sholes community for four years, and had made many friends. He is survived by his wife, three sons and one daughter.

Children Abandon Exchange of Gifts

Wayne's public school system is following a holiday season policy which eliminates all gifts between pupils and each other and pupils and teachers. The teachers were unanimous, at a meeting Monday, in supporting this policy, and Superintendent of Schools H. R. Best is asking all parents to cooperate in refusing to allow their children to bring Christmas presents to school.

Reasons given by Superintendent Best for abandonment of the gift exchange system are that it is not an educational sound procedure and that, because of lack of finances, it unnecessarily embarrasses a good many pupils.

While the individual expense is small, he says, the total expense is large and there is really no justification for its continuance. Most of the school children are said to be heartily in favor of the abolition of the holiday season gift-giving practice.

Mears Advises Early Mailing for Christmas

Urges That Gift Packages
Be Mailed as Soon as Possible.

"Shop now and mail your packages early if you want to be certain that your friends will get their gifts before Christmas" is the warning issued by Postmaster Grant Mears. He explains that the post office department's business increases about 200 percent during the Christmas season, and that it is a physical impossibility to handle the great volume of mail if all packages are mailed a few days before the holiday.

Post offices will make every effort, he says, to handle the mail without congestion and delay. "This can be done," he adds, "only with the cooperation of the public."

Suggestions which the postal department offers to the public are as follows:

All parcels must be securely wrapped or packed. Use strong paper and heavy twine. Articles easily broken or crushed must be secured (continued to page five).

Local Debate Teams to Omaha Tomorrow

Wayne high school's debate team leaves tomorrow for a quadrangular debate with Omaha Tech, Benson, North and Creighton Prep high schools at Omaha.

Members of the local affirmative and negative teams are Jeanne Wright, Lucile Wright, Robert Klingston, Richard Moses, William Studley and James Davies. W. A. Behl of the high school faculty is the debate coach.

Dormitory Foundation to Be Completed Soon

Foundation for the new J. M. Pile dormitory at Wayne State Teachers college will be completed by the end of the week if present weather conditions continue, according to Dr. U. S. Conn.

About 35 men are being employed on the project, and more will be needed when actual construction of the building is commenced.

Wayne Democrats to Confer With Candidate

Several Wayne democrats will go to Norfolk Tuesday to meet with William Ritchie, Jr., of Omaha, candidate for the democratic nomination for governor. The conference will be held at the Hotel Norfolk at two o'clock in the afternoon, and Mr. Ritchie is expected to outline his platform and campaign plans to democratic leaders of northeastern Nebraska.

Last Rites for August Hanson Held Tuesday

Early Resident of Wayne
Dies Saturday at Local Hotel.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock from the Beckenhauer chapel for August Hanson, long-time resident of Wayne, who died at a local hotel on Saturday, Dec. 5. The services were in charge of Rev. P. A. Davies.

Mr. Hanson was born on June 12, 1858, at Funconia, Sweden. When he was 24 years old, he left Sweden and came to America. He worked for about three years at Peotone, Ill., and then came to Wayne in the early part of 1885. He worked one year and then started farming for himself. He became one of Nebraska's most successful farmers, being known as a particularly good cattle feeder.

Those who knew him speak highly of his life. He was a wonderful neighbor, a kind friend and a true and honorable citizen.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian church at Will, Ill., and his letter from that church. He made a declaration of citizenship at Joliet, Ill., in 1884, and got his final citizenship papers at Wayne on Sept. 1, 1908.

Local officials have been able to find little trace of his relatives. In 1884, he sent money to Sweden to bring his sister, Jennie, to this country. It is known that she lived at Ransselaer, Ind., from 1914 to 1920 and that she had a daughter and two sons.

A brother, Henry, was located at Peotone, Ill., 47 years ago, and August and Henry are known to have worked there on the same farm. Letters indicate that another brother, John, was alive in 1905. The Swedish consul has been notified to search for relatives in Sweden.

"The Apple Cart" Gets Upset; No Performance

Somebody upset "The Apple Cart," George Bernard Shaw's satire on modern government, which was to have shown at Wayne State Teachers college auditorium last night, failed to materialize—and members of the company have information from which they could undoubtedly write a brilliant satire on Nebraska roads.

A truck carrying costumes and scenery of the troupe went into a ditch yesterday afternoon and then proceeded to equal the temperament of Bernard Shaw. Costumes and scenery arrived here shortly after eight o'clock.

Prof. A. V. Teed of the college committee is negotiating this morning with the company manager and hopes to get the show to appear here Monday night.

COMMUNITY CENTER

Fire which destroyed the Colonial pavilion has left Wayne without a recreation center. The loss of the pavilion has made the need for a community building more apparent than ever, and a few public-spirited Wayne individuals are trying to feel out the sentiment of the town in regard to the institution of a campaign for such a building.

One Wayne business man has said that he would be only too glad to buy $1,000 worth of stock in such a project. This man has a family, and he feels that his children are entitled to the advantage that such a place would offer.

He believes that a community center, constructed in such a way that it would be suitable for dances, parties, plays, public meetings and amusements of various sorts, would be a decided asset to Wayne and that everyone who bought stock in such a building would eventually be well repaid.

He says that there are at least 25 men in town who have more money than he, and that each of these 25, if properly approached, should take a thousand dollars worth of stock in a proposition that would make their community, and consequently their holdings, better.

His idea is sound and praiseworthy. This is a good time to build, when prices are low and labor is plentiful. It is doubtful if any single project as good for the community as the one suggested could be mentioned.

All that is necessary, it seems, is for someone to take charge of the proposition and sell it to enough stockholders to assure its success.

FARM BOARD AND PRICES

Chairman Stone of the Federal Farm Board says that stabilization purchases of grain by the farm board made the decline in prices slower than it otherwise would have been. That is his opinion and not a fact. There is no way of knowing whether prices would have gone down faster and sunk lower if there had been no farm board.

On the contrary there is good reason to believe that if there had been no governmental meddling prices would have been sustained better than they were. They never sunk to such low levels before. But the farm board killed speculative interest in the markets.

There is widespread criticism of the speculative market system. Many persons share President Hoover's opinion that short selling should be prohibited. Certainly the present open market system does not operate in harmony with what the farm board has tried to do.

But over and above all that is the fallacy of the farm board's attempt to regulate the world market for wheat. That was a wrong conception, as Congress was told by Senator Norbeck when the farm board bill was under debate. The farm board could not have succeeded for that reason alone if not a single state had been recorded.—The Sioux City Tribune.

"PEASANT TIME BY ALL"

The visits of Prime Minister MacDonald, Premier Laval and now Sir-nor Grand bear a close resemblance to each other, in their outward marks, at least. They present almost a ritualistic aspect. The ceremonial of their stay seems to have been codified—so established is it.

After receptions of unfeigned cordiality, both popular and official, there have ensued in each instance two or three days of interviews with the President and the secretary of state. Nothing has been told the public as to the nature of these interviews, but every sign and symbol has been pressed into use to convey the impression that they have had to do with THE MOST MOMENTOUS QUESTIONS—no specifications being given.

Then comes the official communiqué, which is about as informing as blank paper except on one point, which is that the President and his visitor are profoundly and intensely satisfied with what has been accomplished—again no specifications being given.

Signor Grandi, as did his predecessors, Messrs. Macdonald and Laval, yields himself up to rapturous exclamations in appreciation of the President—his penetrating insight into "the international situation," his leonine mastery of the "world crisis," and the tremendous gains for "world solidarity" that our visitors see in frequent and personal contacts between responsible ministers of state.

There must be some basis for all the pleasurable satisfaction which our distinguished foreign guests take home with them. It is doubtless lurking in the unfailing inclusion of "intergovernmental debts" among the topics said to have been discussed. The other subjects, such as disarmament, naval ratios and the approaching Geneva conference, are all academic. We have shown this to be the fact by our attitude toward the London naval treaty of 1930.

While rival powers eagerly carried their naval construction up to the quota fixed in the treaty, we did not, and have, in consequence, fallen hopelessly beneath the ratios of naval strength for which we contended so strongly in the London discussions.

BUT, TO A DEBTOR, THERE IS NOTHING ACADEMIC ABOUT HIS DEBT.

The gratification with which the representatives of our debtors leave our shores is doubtless due to Secretary Stimson's assurance that "The sky is the limit." So amiable a sentiment, when applied to concessions and reductions of the war debts of Europe to the United States, naturally affords great pleasure to the European statesmen who visit Washington.

They will find, however, that there is more to be said on the subject than they have heard. An American congress, not our un-American internationalists, will have the final say.—Omaha Bee-News:

WHO WILL THEY BE?

With the 1932 presidential election only 360 days away interest naturally is turning to politics and the question uppermost in the minds of a lot of people is who will be the candidates of the two parties.

According to Time, national news-magazine, Herbert Clark Hoover will almost certainly be nominated next June as the republican candidate.

His nomination is almost as good as accomplished, principally because republicans have nobody else to nominate who has even a forlorn chance of election. Further quoting Time, a vague stirring of liberals for William E. Borah is receiving no support from the Idaho senator. Dwight Whitney Morrow is dead. France of Maryland has no possible chance and "though the rank and file of the republican party may not be enthusiastic about their national leader they have little choice about putting him again at the head of their ticket."

The democratic party has a wide range of possible candidates, starting with Franklin D. Roosevelt and continuing through Al Smith, Albert R. Ritchie, Newton D. Baker, Owen D. Young, Senator Joe Robinson, J. Ham Lewis, "Alfalfa Bill" Murray and our own Governor Bryan. Many of them are no more than "favorites" at present but much may happen before the democratic national convention convenes next summer.—Ord Quiz.

WEEKLY GOSSIP

Women may have equal rights, but the Wayne woman would be perfectly willing to admit that men still merit a superior rating as furnace cleaners. This particular woman decided to save her husband some trouble. She didn't.

"This Santa Claus business is just a racket," one young Wayne hopeful was heard to remark last Friday. Overheard in front of Horace Theodore's store Friday afternoon—a farmer's wife talking to her husband: "You can just go straight to

You know very well I can't carry that kid."

'Tis whispered that a Wayne trucker was mixed up in a smashup at Sioux City 'yester night.

Almost like the comic strips is the story of the Wayne father who is trying to keep his gal's favorite boy-fren away from her.

Yes, this is 1931, and we have prohibition. But "hard liquor" is making a few temporarily-local folks write out orders on their paychecks.

To the fellah who tried to stir up so much trouble for the Scott Shouter last Friday: You made at least eight good business men that I know of laugh at you.

He knocked his wife all over the room, this Wayne transient, and she retaliated by giving him some puffy grand blows and scratches. It was a real, Dempsey-Errol style knockdown and dragout.

"How didja get that black eye?" one Wayne bold asked another day before yesterday. "From talking when I should have been listening," the second replied.

Sheriff A. W. Stephens plans to carry on raiding activities on a large scale before very long.

Bread and water as a diet is keeping the Wayne county jail comparatively free of guests this winter.

A dog was poisoned in Wayne one day last week. It is agreed among a group of Wayne dog owners that any real outburst of dog poisoning will be met by sending for a detective to run down the person responsible. A few slender clues point to a person who is being watched by dog lovers.

A woman who does most of her buying in Sioux City, but whose husband does business in Wayne, is causing her husband's trade to fall off.

To sell your own product rather than knock the other fellow's is good advice which at least one Wayne business man could follow to his advantage.

Teacher! Teacher! Is it necessary to reprimand you again for playing around with one of your students?

O-o-o-o-o! How that poor femme's ears must have burned. She couldn't attend the meeting, and her absence was made the subject of a discussion which, ladies, was not quite cricket.

The golden text is: "He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty." (Psalms 91:1.)

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which today is, and tomorrow is cast into the oven, shall He not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith?" (Matt. 6:30.)

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "In divine Science, man is sustained by God, the divine Principle of being. The earth, at God's command, brings forth food for man's use. Knowing this, Jesus once said, 'Take no thought of your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink;—presuming not on the prerogative of his creator, but recognizing God, the Father and Mother of all, as able to feed and clothe man as He does the hills.'

"As you make your bed you must lie in it"—unless you are a professional politician, in which case you make your bunk and lie out of it.

She: "You're a base deceiver! Before we were married you told me you were a Southern planter. Now I find you're an undertaker from New Orleans."

"I don't know whether I would go so far as to call Henry a liar, but when feeding time comes his pigs won't stir until he gets someone else to call them for him."

A REAL SALESMAN

One who has self-confidence—but doesn't show it.

One who can be courteous in the face of courtesy.

One who takes firm interest in his firm's interest.

One who keeps his word, his temper, and his friends.

One who wins respect by being respectable and respectful.

One who turns up with a smile and a smile if he is turned down.

One who understands people and can make himself understood by people.

One who has a steady eye, a steady nerve, a steady tongue and steady habits.

One who is silent when he has nothing to say and also when the customer has something to say.

And now, children, gather 'round Grandpa's knee while we see what Fred Howard, the genial humor-dispensing Santa Claus of the Clay County Sun, has to say to us this week:

Either the cig ads lie, our girls are non-kissers, or they have remarkable disease resistant powers.

In deploring the modern girls' lack of knowledge of things in which her mother was proficient you might also observe that few modern boys could make a boot-jack, oil a pair of boots or hold a scythe on a grindstone.

Ruth Judd admitted that she killed two of her woman friends and then enters a plea of not guilty when arraigned in court. Some day the taxpayers of this country will stage a revolution against practices which are so absurd that only shyster attorneys approve of them.

A lot of us who accepted prosperity as a just tribute to our great business ability are troubled to find a reason for a bit o' tough sledding. Real business ability should serve even better in tough times than when business is really self conducting. Frequently a little terrier licks a big mongrel. It's the fighting spirit that wins in either business or dog fights.

With the meat loaf season now upon us we suggest to the various societies of the town who favor "banquets" that they go into conference for the consideration of some of the old time tummy fillers. One popular number was the "Oyster" supper. The succulent bivalve prepared in stews, pan fried, scalloped and au-natural together with such other viands as are esteemed proper associates for the Baltimore Queen. What about a "Jiggs and Maggie" feast with the corn beef made from choice cuts and brisket strictly taboo or an old fashioned "Church Supper." That splendid institution of less prosperous days when meat, spuds, gravy, baked beans, a half dozen kinds of pie and more kinds of preserves and jellies than Heinz ever dreamed of were placed upon the table and a bunch of handsome matrons and charming juniors marched continually around the diners urging them to have another helping. The lads with long arms were soon so filled that they yielded place to those of less fat displacement and businessmen, who could not see more to the feast than the food, would deplore the judgment of those who gave a dollar's worth of eatables for a paltry 35¢.

There are other happy memories which might be coined into certain crowd drawing feeds and not a thing in the world would be gained by the addition of a salad to any of the old time menus. Speeches—not a peep. Teacher! Teacher! Is it necessary to reprimand you again for playing around with one of your students?

O-o-o-o-o! How that poor femme's ears must have burned. She couldn't attend the meeting, and her absence was made the subject of a discussion which, ladies, was not quite cricket.

JAMES BAIRD RECOVERING

James Baird, 75, who suffered a fainting spell Tuesday morning while going about his work at his home, was said yesterday afternoon to be recovering nicely. He bruised his head when he fell to the floor, and it was at first thought that he might have suffered serious head injuries, but this fear was dispelled by a medical examination.

CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL

Mrs. Grace Dickson Keiser will present her junior piano students in a recital at her studio Friday night which is especially dedicated to the fathers and mothers. The presentation will be the pupils' Christmas gift to the parents.

NEW STANDARD SCHOOL

The school in District 6, the Bell school, has become a standard school. The school house was erected at a cost of $3,000 and was dedicated on October 10, 1929.

The building is of the bungalow type, measuring 30 by 36 feet. The main room 25 by 30 feet is lighted from the north and west by six large and five small windows. In the southeast corner are built in library and book cupboards, to the north is a door leading to a small hall an from there to the basement. Next are two doors about seven feet apart which lead to the main hall, and in the northeast corner is a door leading to the teacher's room which is 5 by 10 feet and has two windows.

The hall is 10 by 18 feet and the entrance is through double doors. It is lighted by two windows. There is a built in ladder to the attic, also the rope for the bell is in the hall.

There is an outside door from the small hall which is lighted with one window, making a total of 16 windows, 4 on the east, seven on the north and 5 on the west.

The basement is full sized, and well lighted by six windows. A coal and cob bin are close to the big "torpid zone" furnace in the east part of the basement, thus leaving a large play room in the rest of the basement.

The school is equipped with a study table, a sand table, an organ, a phonograph, a teacher's desk, single seats for the pupils, two sets of encyclopedias, a globe, a clock, cream colored shades, three extra chairs, a dictionary and holder, and plenty of text books and library books.

The outside of the building is painted in two colors, the upper part being tan and the lower half a light brown.

The board members are Joseph Johnson, director; Warner Erlandson, moderator; and Jack Suderberg, a program was held in the school house on Friday evening, Dec. 4, and the Standard Plate, sent out from the State Superintendent's office was presented by County Superintendent Pearl E. Sewell.

This plate will be placed above the door of the building. This makes the eighth standard school in the county.

The program consisted of songs, dialogues and recitations by the pupils. Ruby Hinnerichs gave two accordion selections. A lunch of pie, cake, sandwiches,

Local Hoopsters Meet Morningside Saturday

Wayne's Wildcat basketball squad will try to emulate the local grid team when they go to Sioux City Saturday night to meet the fast Morningside college quintet. Ray Hickman, Wildcat mentor, is optimistic over prospects for the season, but is doubtful of the Wildcats' ability to take their first game.

Hickman has 120 aspirants to places on his hoop team, and has eight lettermen on his squad, with a number of promising new men threatening to replace some of the old-timers.

To Become Honorary Member of Fraternity

Dr. and Mrs. J. G. W. Lewis are planning to go to Lincoln Saturday at which time the former will be initiated as an honorary member into Tau Chapter of Pi Sigma Alpha, national political science fraternity. MAGAZINE IS PAL OF BOYS

Those boyhood years between the ages of ten and twenty are the impressionable years — the formative years when the fundamental character of boy is molded into the pattern it will maintain throughout the remainder of his life.

That is why so much importance is placed on the factors that govern the lives of adolescent boys — their companions, their environment, their reading, the food they eat, etc. At this age is determined whether the boy will develop into a cheerful or surly man, generous or selfish, intelligent or dull, ambitious or indolent.

School teachers, librarians, Scout leaders and others engaged in boy activities have found that THE AMERICAN BOY — YOUTH'S COMPANION magazine is one of the most favorable influences a boy between ten and twenty can have. Its stories and articles are a force for good—wholesome, alive, inspiring. The million or so boys who read this magazine every month consider it their closest friend. In it they find the keenest entertainment, adventure, mystery, athletics, aviation, humor, everything that delights a live-wire American boy. Its sports articles by famous coaches and athletes help boys win places on their school teams. Its professional articles and biographical sketches aid them in selecting their life's work. Its keenly analytical editorials guide them in their daily problems.

That boy or young man in whom you are interested would have a world of pleasure reading THE AMERICAN BOY — YOUTH'S COMPANION. Make a subscription to this magazine your gift to him. Subscription prices are only $2.00 for one year or $3.00 for three years. Mail your order direct to THE AMERICAN BOY — YOUTH'S COMPANION, 550 W. Lafayette Blvd., Detroit, Michigan.

COMMON SENSE RELIEF

Common sense is embodied in 10 suggestions titled "Sure Farm Relief," written by A. H. Tedmon, Colorado agriculture agent. The suggestions are:

1. Milk a few good cows.
2. Fatten one pig for every two members of the family.
3. Keep at least 200 good hens.
4. Raise a good garden.
5. Plant cash crops showing little or no surplus.
6. Grow all your own stock feed.
7. Butcher fat cows and steers; trade meat with your neighbor.
8. Drive a horse until you can afford gasoline.
9. Raise your own living.
10. Get down to earth and do the best you can today.

By enumerating the above, we do not infer that it comprises our view of ideal "farm relief." We do feel, however, the program contains ideas that could be used beneficially by most farmers. — Wright County (Minn.) Journal-Press.

A Savings Account

Now that serious thinking is in style--now that actual dollars and cents begin to have a new value, Santa is getting practical! He'd like to put a nice new Savings Book into the stocking of every boy and girl he visits--because, after all, Santa is no fool. Toys and gimbicks are fine, but they don't last much longer than holidays. Give your boy and girl something they can watch grow, something they'll have to help them as they get older. Start an account with as little as one dollar.

SOCIETY and Club

It seems like these last fourteen days until Christmas are going to be the longest of all. Of course, by this time most everybody has decided what the day will be to him. To some, perhaps, it will mean just another cold hungry day, and to others it will mean glad homecomings, festivities, and presents. Then there are those to whom Christmas has no other meaning than the necessity of paying out money for gifts. If only the latter of these could be made to realize that "the gift without the giver is bare!" But be that as it may, let the rest of us try to make this a powerfully merry Christmas, not only for ourselves but for those around us.
