

Pointers Win in Class "A" Cage Tourney

Craig Defeats Waterbury, 27-26, in Basketball Classic.

Wayne high school's basketball team lost to West Point in the Class "A" district tournament finals at the college gymnasium Saturday night, with close guarding by both teams featuring the play. The final score was 14 to 9 in favor of the Pointers.

Coch Ray Holder's basketekers were held to the center of the floor throughout the entire game by an almost impregnable five-man defense. The local team found it impossible to break through for any close-in shots at the hoop, and finally resorted to a long shot game.

Both teams played excellent defensive basketball, and both seemed weak on scoring power.

While the Wayne-West Point game was slated as the headliner, the Waterbury-Craig Class "B" game completely stole the show. A capacity crowd went completely wild at an exhibition of basketball which possessed everything it takes to make a satisfactory game.

When the timekeeper's gun sounded for the end of the game, the scoreboard read 21 to 20 in favor of Craig and the two teams went to the showers. A check-up of the score-book showed that the real score was 20 to 20, and the teams were brought back on the floor for an over-time period.

Three minutes of play brought the score to 22-all. A second over-time period left the score the same, with neither team hitting the basket. A third over-time period resulted in a score of 24-all. All members of both quintets were then instructed to take a free-throw.

Here was real drama. The score stood 26 to 27 in favor of Craig, with Waterbury's lanky center, easily the outstanding star of both the 'A' and 'B' tournaments, yet to take his shot. This amazing basketball player advanced nonchalantly to the foul line. The nervous attitude which characterized all the other free-throw attempts was missing. He slipped the ball toward the basket. It hit the back inside rim squarely at the center and bounced out. A great game had ended.

The Pilger team, coached by Fred Schneider, former student at Wayne State Teachers' college, defeated South Sioux City for third place by a 23-19 count.

SERVICES FOR MRS. LUCY WEST TODAY

Funeral to Be Held from Methodist Church at Two O'Clock.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lucy West, who passed away Monday, March 7, 1932, will be held this afternoon at two o'clock from the First Methodist church, with Rev. H. C. Caspey in charge. Interment will be in the Wayne cemetery.

Lucy B. McManigal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan McManigal, was born on Feb. 28, 1866, in Franklin county, Iowa. In 1873, she moved with her parents to Washington county, Nebraska.

She was united in marriage to Starr K. West at Blair on Feb. 18, 1885. To this union were born five children, two of whom have preceded her in death. Mr. West passed away on March 30, 1917.

Mrs. West is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Fred Huth of Hamill, S. D., and Mrs. Lowell Nichols of Wayne; a son, Starr K. West of Omaha; two brothers, Moreland B. McManigal of Happy, Texas, and Ed McManigal of St. Charles, S. D., and eight grandchildren.

High School Debaters Meet Sioux City Squad

James Davies, Jeanne Wright, Lucille Wright and Wm. Studley, members of the Wayne high school debate team, went with Debate Coach W. A. Behl to Sioux City, Iowa, Monday. They participated in two no-decision debates with the Sioux City Central high school squad.

Wayne County to Get Seed Loans

Washington, D. C.,
March 7, 1932.
"Hon. F. J. Kloppling,
Wayne, Neb.

Wayne county granted seed loan privileges accorded other Nebraska counties.

Edgar Howard Mc' Edgar Howard MC'

The above telegram, received by State Representative Frank J. Kloppling Monday, means that farmers in Wayne county who qualify can get loans for seeds. The loan money may also be used for the purchase of gas and oil for tractors, and horse feed, to be used in raising 1932 crops.

Some sort of county agency will have to be set up for determination of qualifications of farmers in this territory for loans, and it is understood that the government will have a mortgage on the 1932 crop for the amount loaned.

Mr. Kloppling says that a number of farmers in the northwest part of the county are in dire need of such aid, and that the legislation was made to include Wayne county as a result of his efforts.

Scout Leader Depicts Work of His Group

Area Executive Talks at Meeting of Wayne Kiwanis Club.

John B. Wright, Omaha Boy Scout executive, addressed Wayne Kiwanians at that organization's regular meeting Monday noon.

Mr. Wright explained to his listeners that scouting takes care of that time in a boy's life which is not supervised or directed by some other source. Few boys, he said, get into trouble while they are at home, at school, or in church. It is the time, approximately four hours a day, during which the boy is "on his own," he explained, that the scout movement is interested in.

Boys from 12 to 16 years of age, Mr. Wright informed the Kiwanis group, run in gangs during the four hours of the day they are free. It is these four free hours, he said, that cause practically all of the so-called boy problem. Scout leaders, he explained, feel that this period should have direction, not supervision. In the past 25 years, he said, several programs to direct boys' leisure time have been formulated, and scouting is one of these.

"An interesting experiment," Mr. Wright said, "is to take 15 of the highest type boys you can find, boys from good families and good environment. Put them alone in a room for two hours, and it is an absolute (Continued on Page Four)

Wayne Man Cuts His Wrist in Buzz Saw

Joe Pinkleman received a severely cut right wrist when his arm slipped against a whirling buzz saw as he was sawing wood on the Warren Schulthesis farm Sunday. The hand was nearly severed.

He was rushed to the Bentback hospital, where his condition is said to be critical from loss of blood. He became unconscious shortly after the accident and remained in that state until Tuesday morning.

Meyer Buys Interest in Implement Firm

Announcement is made this week that Bernard A. Meyer succeeds the late A. C. Thompson in the firm of Thompson & Bichel, implement dealers. The firm will be known in the future as Meyer & Bichel, with Mr. Meyer and Ernest D. Bichel each holding a half interest.

Mr. Meyer had an interest in the firm a number of years ago, but sold to A. C. Thompson. Mr. Bichel has been a member of the firm for 16 years.

High School Students to Give Vocal Concert

Music students of the Wayne high school will present a program, under the direction of Miss Arline Urban, school music supervisor, at the Gay theatre next Tuesday evening, March 15 at eight o'clock.

The boys' glee club, the girls' glee club and the mixed chorus will present a number of selections, and students who will participate in the state music contest in the spring will give the solo numbers which they plan to use in the contest.

Dale Picks All-Tourney Cage Team

West Point, Wayne, Pilger and South Sioux Are Represented.

At the request of The Nebraska Democrat, Fred G. Dale, popular basketball and football official, has picked an all-tournament cage team from the 15 basketball squads which participated in the Class "A" hoop tourney at Wayne last Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Mr. Dale refereed a number of the tournament games, and saw every contest in the tournament, so his selections are based upon the actual play of each basketballer.

Rites for Mrs. C. A. Chace to Be Held Today

Funeral services for Mrs. C. A. Chace, who passed away at a local hospital Tuesday afternoon, March 8, 1932, at three o'clock, will be held at the First Presbyterian church this afternoon at four o'clock, with Rev. P. A. Davies in charge. Interment will be in the Wayne cemetery.

Katherine Ann Goldie, daughter of Richard and Katharine Mitchell Pierle Goldie, was born in Bradford, Ontario, Canada, on April 6, 1862.

In 1870, her family moved from their home at Paisley, Canada, to the United States and settled on a farm near LeMars, Iowa. Here she grew to young womanhood. Her education was received in the public schools of Paisley, Canada, Sioux City and LeMars. Being a great reader, her education had gone on through the years. This not only equipped her for the profession of teaching, but fitted her for leadership in life.

She began her teaching in Plymouth county, near LeMars, Iowa, where she taught for several years. She came to Wayne in 1886, and for several years taught in the public schools.

On August 2, 1889, she was married to Mr. C. A. Chace at LeMars. Wayne had been their home for 46 years. Mrs. Chace often said: "I am not a pioneer but an old settler." During her many years residence (Continued on Page Four)

COUNCIL SELECTS ELECTION JUDGES

No Action Taken on Two Band Tax Levy Petitions.

Wayne's city council, in regular session Tuesday evening at the city hall, named clerks and judges for the city election, to be held Tuesday, April 5.

Judges for the first ward will be Henry Rehder, Chas. Riese and Herman Mildner. Clerks will be R. T. Carpenter and Darrell Trumbauer. Second ward judges will be V. A. Senter, Otto Strom and George Lamberson. Clerks will be A. E. Davison and William McEachen. Judges named for the third ward are W. H. Buetow, John Dennis and J. W. Jones. Clerks are W. K. Smith and George Sherbahn.

A petition nominating George P. Berres as a candidate for councilman from the second ward was accepted. A petition asking for a referendum on the band tax levy was not acted upon, due to the filing of another petition asking the withdrawal of a number of names from the band petition.

Legion Asks Aid For Jobless Men

Striking success is meeting the American Legion's national campaign to relieve unemployment. In the larger cities, large numbers of idle men have been provided with work and many families have been saved from suffering and starvation. Splendid results have also been achieved in smaller communities.

Wayne has no factories or large employers who might be able to help any great number with more or less permanent jobs. Anything Wayne people do must, of necessity, be temporary until regular spring work opens up.

The local Legion post is appealing to any one who employ labor to have possible work done now, while the distress is great. The post is also asking householders and business men who may have odd jobs that could give even an hour or two of work, to call on some unemployed man.

A list of jobless men is in the hands of the Legion and is kept at the Mines Jewelry store. A telephone call to that store will send a man at and time desired. Legion members say that they will appreciate the co-operation of all classes in this necessary campaign.

Local School Board Elects 1932-33 Staff

Salary Adjustments Will Save Taxpayers About $1,500

Members of the board of education for the Wayne school district, at their regular meeting on Monday evening, March 7, re-elected all teachers who desired to be considered as instructors for the coming year.

The list included Miss Loula Avery, Mr. A. W. Behl, Mr. Gayle Childs, Miss Mildred Clark, Miss Maude Curley, Miss Louise Eggert, Miss Anna Geisler, Miss Eva Glimsdal, Mr. L. Good, Mr. R. K. Holder, Miss Florence Peterson, Miss Coila Potras, Miss Ruth Ross and Miss Minnie Wilks. Supt. H. R. Best was retained with a three-year contract.

Salary adjustments were developed at the same time which will insure a saving of approximately $1,500 on the salary budget for the 1932-33 school year.

This amount, in conjunction with the $4,000 which the budget committee is planning to save at the present time, will work out a saving of about $5,500 for the school system and the taxpayers in general.

The Wayne school district has been on a close economy program for several years and school board members say that further saving necessitates close planning.

The board of education hopes to neither cripple nor detract from the efficiency of the public school system, and board members believe that the educational interests of Wayne school children should be safeguarded at all times.

McClure Withdraws from Primary Race

Withdrawal of H. W. McClure as a candidate for the republican nomination for state representative leaves Attorney Donald P. Miller of Wayne as the only republican candidate. Frank J. Kloppling of Wayne is the only candidate for the democratic nomination.

JOE NUSS BETTER

J. C. Nuss is almost entirely recovered from his stroke of paralysis. He is able to walk about with the aid of a cane and his power of speech has almost entirely returned.

Ballot Battle Is Waged On Large Scale

Winner to Receive Choice of Three All-Expense Vacation Trips.

Past the 100,000 mark went five girls in The Nebraska Democrat's Popularity Contest, when the votes were counted late last night. The leaders registered the highest totals they have yet gained in any week of the "battle for ballots."

Some girl, the one who amasses the greatest number of votes by the end of the contest, is going to receive her pick of three glorious free vacation trips — a trip from Wayne to Bermuda, via New York; from Wayne to Alaska, via Seattle; or from Wayne to Cuba, via New Orleans. If she happens to be thrifty she may take the Bock tour of Yellowstone Park and take the difference in cash.

With the field narrowing down to less than 20 contestants, more intense competition was noticeable this week than at any previous period in the vote battle. Enormous totals credited to leaders in the contest indicate that some of the contestants further down the line may be holding back substantial numbers of votes for the final drive.

The first or "warm-up" period of the contest is over. From now until the final ballots are counted, every entrant will be working with might and main to annex the coveted summer tour.

Twenty-five Wayne firms are giving ballots with cash purchases or payment of accounts. The Democrat is giving 1,000 votes on every new subscription and 500 votes on every renewal. Contestants are authorized to take your subscription.

With about 14,000 vote tickets already cast, it is evident that both contestants and public are taking an intense interest in the outcome of the contest.

Contestants have asked that the announcement be repeated in regard to distribution of votes. YOU MUST ASK FOR YOUR VOTES at the time of making your purchases. Firms participating in the contest have been instructed to give out ballots only when they are requested.

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED OUT

Escaping oil in a burner at the D. Hall green house caught fire Monday evening, but was extinguished by Mr. Hall before the fire department arrived.

The Inquiring Reporter

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION

Do you think gangsters should have been permitted to work on the Lindbergh baby kidnaping case?

Harry P. Simon: "I think the contingencies confronting that situation justify any action the Lindberghs and the authorities may care to take. I don't think Al Capone should be released, because that would be too much fun for him."

A. W. Stephens: "No, I don't. Regardless of the circumstances, it is bad precedent."

Rev. W. C. Holdenreich: "I think such action is justifiable under the circumstances if it brings results."

F. S. Berry: "From the standpoint of the parents, most anything is justifiable in trying to save the baby. From the standpoint of justice, I think such action is dead wrong."

Rev. H. A. Teckhaus: "By no means."

Presbyterian Church Notes

P. A. Davies, Pastor

"The chief curse of the present day is that so few people see any wrong in anything wrong that they wish to do or say." "A man's character is formed by the things he positively refuses to enjoy." Let us keep the Lord's Day for the things of the Soul.

Our services for next Sunday are at the following hours: Sunday school 10 a. m. Morning worship 11 a. m. C. E. services 5:30 p. m. Closing session of our school of missions, supper 6:15 and classes at 7 p. m.

We have had two very interesting sessions of study in our school of missions as Dr. J. G. W. Lewis has led us in the discussion of the book, "Turning Towards Peace." If you have not been in the class will you not make an effort to be with us next Sunday evening which will be the closing session. Come in time for supper at 6:15. Come prepared to drink gobs of coffee. For four of our best cooks and coffee makers, Frank Gamble, Fred Blair, Baxter Boe and Ed Seymour, are to prepare and serve it. Mrs. Hunter is making plans for special music during the supper hour.

On account of the death of Mrs. Chace, the missionary society have postponed their services to next week. Hour and place of meeting will be announced from the pulpit Sunday.

We greatly enjoyed the special number by the choir Sunday morning.

Hold Over Grades

The general average in the fourteen required subjects must be at least 75% with no grade below 60%. Only grades of 75 or above earned in a previous examination will hold good for either seventh or eighth grades. A grade of 60 earned last year will not hold good, but a 60 earned this year will hold good for eighth graders. Pupils may retake all subjects in which they do not have a grade of 80 or above earned in a previous examination. They should NOT retake any in which they have a grade of 85 or above.

Seventh Grade Subjects

Seventh graders may take examination in April in Book-Keeping, General Geography and Physiology.

And if they pass in these three with an average of 75%, they can probably take the examinations in Drawing, Spelling, Writing and Mental Arithmetic in the May examination.

THE KNOT-HOLE

No. 42 Wayne, Nebraska, Thursday, March 10, 1932 Vol. 6

"Have you anything to say before the trap is sprung?"

"No, suh, boss, only jest this. This sho' is goin' to be a lesson to me!"

When the cold wave struck us the fore part of the week, a lot of people learned that it takes more than a couple o' robins to make spring and that it pays to have coal on hand this time o' year.

They say next week is Farm Machinery Repair Week. That means you will call on us for a few pieces of oak or clear fir lumber to fix up with. We have it.

A farmer from the north was driving thru the hills of Missouri when suddenly there rose before him a cloud of dust. He stopped and out of the dust emerged a farmer saying "Doesn't that beat the dickens? That's the third time I've fallen out of my potato patch this morning!"

You'll fall for our new low roofing prices. $1.00 buys a square of good roofing including the cement and nails.

We read that a convict sawed his way out of jail with a safety razor blade. He used the same kind we do.

Your saw must be sharp to do a good job of cutting lumber. Leave it to us. We'll file it for you.

You won't need your saw very much if you buy 4-SQUARE lumber. It's ready cut, you know.

"Rastus, is mah bath warm?"

"Yas, suh, Colonel; the warmest Ah was evah in!"

Certified Sahara coal will make your home hot, too, if you give it a little draft.

We noticed a couple of kites in the air the other day.

Bring in your little odd jobs. We're all set to give you prompt and careful service.

Nebraska has more automobiles per capita than any state in the union, which has prompted someone to say, "If the Nebraska people are going to the poor house, they are going there in their automobiles."

NOTICE OF HEARING

In the County Court of Wayne County, Nebraska.

In the Matter of the Estate of John R. Van Fleet, deceased.

To Ellen Van Fleet, Ella V. Henley, H. M. Henley, first and given name unknown, husband of Ella V. Henley, M. M. Van Fleet, first and given name unknown, Clara Van Fleet, wife of said M. M. Van Fleet, Hattie V. Crum, William E. Crum, husband of Hattie V. Crum, and Maude Van Fleet, and to all persons interested in said estate, both creditors and heirs:

You are hereby notified that on the 29th day of February, 1932, Robert B. Leonard filed his petition in the County Court of Wayne County, Nebraska, alleging that said John R. Van Fleet died intestate, a resident of Taylor County, Iowa, on the 6th day of October, 1881; that at the time of his death he was seized of an estate of inheritance in the following described real estate, to-wit: Northwest Quarter (NW<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub>) of Section Thirty-four (34), in Township Twenty-six (26) North, Range Five (5), East of the 6th P. M. in Wayne County, Nebraska, and that he left surviving him as his sole and only heirs at law his widow, Ellen Van Fleet, and the following children, to-wit: Ella V. Henley, a daughter, intermarried with H. M. Henley; M. M. Van Fleet, a son, whose first and given name is unknown to petitioner, intermarried with Clara Van Fleet; Hattie V. Crum, a daughter, intermarried with William E. Crum, and Maude Van Fleet, a daughter. That all claims, debts, and demands against said real estate and estate have been paid in full. That no application has been made in the State of Nebraska for the appointment of an administrator either by his heirs or by persons claiming to be creditors of said deceased. That said Robert B. Leonard is the owner in fee simple of the above described real estate by reason of mesne conveyances from said heirs.

Petitioner prays for a finding and decree determining the date of death of said John R. Van Fleet, deceased, for the determination of the heirs, the degree of kinship, and the right of descent of said real estate, and for an order barring claims of creditors and prays for such other relief as may be proper.

Said petition will be heard in the County Court Room in the court house in Wayne, Wayne County, Nebraska, on the 19th day of March, 1932, at 1 o'clock P. M., at which time and place all persons interested in said estate, both creditors and heirs, may appear and show cause why a decree should not be made and entered as prayed in said petition.

Dated this 29th day of February, 1932.

(Seal) J. M. CHERRY, County Judge.

WAYNE MARKET REPORTS

Following are the market prices quoted us up to the time of going to press Thursday:

Table with market prices for various goods: Corn, Oats, Cream, Eggs, Hens, Leghorn Hens, Old Roosters, Springs, Hogs.

CONGRATULATIONS

Assurance of the Wayne board of education that economy moves will not be permitted to impair the efficiency of the public school system is highly gratifying.

At a time when taxpayers are pleading for lower expenditures, it is wise to conduct public affairs with all possible economy, but economy is sometimes confused with something akin to insanity.

We may be thankful that the Wayne school board is working along sane lines. It is commendable that they should try to save money, and it is fortunate that they are not going to foolish extremes which would, in the end, cost taxpayers more money than the sum called for by the original budget.

We want low taxes, but more than low taxes we want an educational system which will give our children every possible advantage.

ANENT THE BAND

The Democrat is not going to tell you how to vote on the Wayne municipal band proposition if that question comes up at the polls. It is up to each and every voter to make his own decision as to whether the band is worth its cost.

We believe it only fair, however, to publish the facts as to the cost of our musical organization to taxpayers.

County Treasurer J. J. Steele, in answer to a question put by a Democrat representative, said that the local band costs two-thirds of Wayne's taxpayers not more than one dollar a year. A few large taxpayers pay from $10 to $15 a year, and a very few pay as high as $30.

Taxpayers pay ten cents toward the support of the band on every $100 assessed valuation. If you pay taxes on $10,000 assessed valuation city property, you are paying $10 a year for the band.

Figure it out yourself. If you think the band is not worth what it costs you, vote against it. If you think it serves its purpose well, furnishes entertainment, gives the town beneficial advertising, and trains local young people along musical lines, you will undoubtedly vote in favor of its retention.

Political Whisper

Grant Mears, T. S. Hook and Dr. J. G. W. Lewis have filed for Wayne delegates to the county republican convention.

There'll be a hot time in the second commissioner district, it is predicted, with four men running for commissioner. In the April 12 primaries, voters of that vicinity will be given an opportunity to make an X in front of these names: Henry Retkewich, republican (present incumbent); W. H. Rees, republican; Dr. A. Texley, democrat, and J. P. Stanton, democrat. All four men live at Carroll.

J. M. Cherry will have opposition for county judge in an office which he has held for a number of years. H. A. Luckey of Wayne has filed for this non-political office.

This is the time by the moon when newspaper editors get letters like this: "Dear Sir: Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Minnesota is one of the four or five men in the country most prominently mentioned for the Democratic nomination for President. For this reason, I believe information concerning his record and achievements, as well as news of his progress in the pre-convention campaign, would prove interesting to your readers. I will be very glad to supply this to you for publication. I will also be glad to furnish you with any additional information regarding Governor Ritchie. Sincerely yours, Norman W. Baxter, publicity director."

fact that anything which is wreckable in the room will be wrecked. The adolescent gang is as nearly primitive as any group can be. The boys want action all the time, and plenty of it."

"Scouting, to be effective in a town the size of Wayne," he declared, "should have not less than 100 men interested in it."

Mr. Wright said that the organization of the Boy Scout movement had been greatly changed from its original basis. Headquarters for the group were formerly located in New York, with the central offices directing the activities of Scout troops all over the United States.

here, she had taken an active part in the educational, social and religious life of the community."

She leaves to mourn her passing, her husband and two daughters, Miss Marguerite Chace and Mrs. Katharine Goldie Wheaton, both of San Diego, Calif.; five brothers, John and Douglas Goldie of Sioux City, Iowa, William Goldie of Cherokee, Iowa; Walter Goldie of Long Beach, Calif., and Charles Goldie of Olivet, S. D.; one sister, Mrs. Margaret Wheeler of Washington, D. C., and a host of long-time friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Johnson spent Sunday evening in the Clarence Bard home.

East of Wayne

Mrs. Olaf Nelson left last week for Denver to spend some time for her health.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Bard and sons visited in the Clarence Bard home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Larson were Monday dinner guests in the Olaf Nelson home.

Mr. and Mrs. August Long were Sunday supper guests in the Henry Nelson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ring visited in the Wallace Ring home Sunday afternoon.

Ray Roberts has rented the place where Melvin Larson lives and is moving this week.

Mrs. Art Munson and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Sandahl and Mrs. Ed Larson with some other friends spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. Frank Nelson, celebrating her birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Echtenkamp and Mrs. August Long spent Saturday with Mrs. Lizzie Long.

Sympathy is extended to the Reubeck relatives in the loss of Harvey Reubeck, who passed away Saturday morning after a long, lingering illness.

Mr. Reubeck grew to manhood in this neighborhood and will be remembered as a fine young man by all that knew him.

SCOTT SHOTS

by "SCOTTY"

Wow! The political pot is boiling, bubbling and sizzling—and it looks like the warmest city election in recent years. Glad to see it, because an interest on the part of voters in city government is usually a verreh healthy sign. A lackadaisical attitude is often dangerous to vigorous activity in civic circles.

Petitions are being circulated. One petition, calling for a referendum on the band tax levy, has been an "on ag'in, off ag'in" proposition, with many of the original signers having asked to have their names withdrawn. Moral: Before you sign anything, know what're signing. Look before you leap, and all that sort of thing. Anyhoo, petition signing is not this writer's idea of harmless recreation.

I wonder if M. S. G. is still running his column in the Waterloo (Iowa) Courier? Wonder if he is still alive?

L. N.—Sorry we couldn't publish that "hot tip" you sent in last week, but there was no way of proving the truth of it. Without proof, we might have been facing a libel suit. Then, too, your tip might be wrong. Thanks, anyway.

A Friend—Come on out in the open. Sign your name to your letters. We won't tell.

Rip the Rambler—If only your tips were authentic. . . and if only your attempts at poetry were as good as your pseudonym.

Chicago Tribune Ad Service—Thanks for them kind words.

Edgar Howard—Thanks for the Congressional Record which contains the story of the House debate on the "Lame Duck" resolution. Gosh, Edgar, do you have to sit and listen to all THAT?

No, Wilfred, do not assume that because a politician is familiar with all public questions he knows all the answers.

In answer to questions pertaining to local politics, the Scott Shetter has one stock answer: "1932 should be a great democratic year and Garner is a logical candidate for the presidency." It may not mean much, but that's the idea.

The old saying goes that "it's better to have loved and lost than never to have loved." But the politician who runs and loses is far worse off than he would have been sans the running.

Howdy James relays along this little dissertation, which has appeared recently in a number of publications. The Scott Shetter publishes it in the hope that you may get a smile out of it:

"I am enclosing $4.00 on my account that is much past due, but wish to inform you that the present shattered condition of my bank account makes it impossible for me to send you my check in full in response to your request.

"My present financial condition is due to the effect of the Federal laws, state laws, county laws, incorporation laws, by-laws, brother-in-laws, mother-in-laws and out-laws, that have been foisted upon an unsuspecting public. Through these various laws I have been held down, held up, sat on, walked on, flattened and broke until I do not know what I am, where I am, or why I am.

"These laws compel me to pay a merchant tax, capita tax, income tax, incorporation tax, real estate tax, gas tax, light tax, water tax, cigarette tax, school tax, syntax and carpet tax.

"In addition to the laws, I am requested and required to contribute to every society and organization that the inventive mind of man can invent. Give to the society of St. John the Baptist, the Women's Relief, Navy League, the Children's Home, the Freeman's Benefit, the Dorcas society, the Y. M. C. A., the Gold Diggers' Home, also to every hospital and charitable institution in town, the Red Cross, the Black Cross, the White Cross, the Purple Cross, the Flaming Cross and the Double Cross.

"The government has governed my business so that I do not know who owns it. I am suspected, inspected, disrespected, examined, examined, informed, required, commanded and compelled, also impelled, until all I know is that I am supposed to provide an inexhaustible supply of money for every known and unknown need, desire or hope of the human race, and because I refuse to donate to all and then go out and beg, borrow or steal the money to give away, I am ousted, cussed, discussed, boycotted, talked to, talked about, held up, held down and robbed until I am just about ruined. The only reason that I am clinging to life at all is to see what is coming next."

Here's some inside dope: All nominations at the city caucus were seconded. It is not necessary to second a nomination.

"Intent of the voter" may be considered, according to law, when the name of a "dark horse" candidate is written in on a ballot, even if the X is omitted.

One petition submitted here for voters to sign was addressed to the Honorable Mayor and City Council. Another was addressed to the City Clerk. Which is right? (Don't fret your brain about it.)

Norfolk Man, Known Here, Dies Saturday

Funeral services were held yesterday from the home at Norfolk for Ensign J. Rix, who died Saturday. He was 83 years old at the time of his death.

Mr. Rix came from Vermont many years ago, and had been a deputy grand custodian in the Masonic lodge. He had held a number of Masonic schools in Wayne and was well known in the community.

HIGH SCHOOL HAS DECLAM CONTEST

Charlene Brown, Everett Dennis Win First Places.

Charlene Brown was awarded first place in the dramatic division of the Wayne high school declamatory contest Monday evening. She gave the reading, "Twin Miniatures." Elizabeth Klaner was second with "Number Six" and Margaret Phipps was awarded third place for her recital of "The Lost Word." Other entrants in the dramatic division were Margaret Jones, with "The Forgotten Witness," and Mavis Baker, with "A Daughter of the South."

Everett Dennis received first place in the humorous division, with his rendition of "The Side Show Announcer." Ruth Rhoades was second, with "Jimmy Crickets" and Lucille Surber was third, with "The School Program."

Mrs. Fred S. Berry, Miss Louie Avery and Mr. Henry Ley acted as judges. Miss Verma Mae O'Neill coached all contestants.

College Thespians to Present Play, "Minick"

"Minick," a three-act play, will be presented by the dramatics class of Wayne State Teachers college, under the direction of Miss Florence Drake, on Thursday evening, March 17, at eight o'clock in the college auditorium.

The theme of the play deals with the problem facing a young husband whose father comes to live with him and whose wife's nerves are somewhat frayed. The advent of the father causes domestic, as well as social, complications.

Father Minick's old cronies, who discuss war and weather, are not at all subdued by young Mrs. Minick's club friends, who discuss the psychology of child rearing. Young Minick feels his father's presence in his own business affairs.

The playwrights are Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman, and the play is adapted from Edna Ferber's short story, "Old Man Minick."

Whats Your Number?

BY RULOW MANTON
(The Democrat takes great pleasure in presenting, for its premiere weekly newspaper presentation, "What's Your Number," a daily newspaper feature released by Psychic Features, Inc., and prepared by Rulow Manton, famed numerologist.)

Mr. Manton will analyze a number of Nebraska Democrat subscribers every week. These analyses will, necessarily be brief—but any subscriber to The Democrat may obtain a complete, full-length analysis by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Rulow Manton, Nebraska Democrat. The requests will be forwarded to Mr. Manton, and you will receive your detailed analysis. — Editor's Note.)

In this introductory article, we will enter into no discussion of numerology, the science of numbers. So complex is the subject that most of my readers would find themselves lost in a maze of formidable figures. Suffice it is to say that Critolous completed a perfect numerology, by which he was able to interpret the great principles of nature, 800 years B. C.

Science has long recognized that the principle of VIBRATION is the infinite creative urge upon which all things depend for Substance and Existence. Numerology is the key to this knowledge and supreme achievement of its use. Numerology began with time. The Principle of mathematics underlies every law of nature.

Here are a few brief analyses of people in your community. Do they convince you?

J. J. AHERN—You have a No. 1 positive temperament, and a number 2 soul number. You should seek to use your power of judgment, which is unusually developed. In a sensible, practical way. You are a producer on the physical plane. People coming under this number usually have a changeable disposition, which should be cultivated toward agreeability and kindness. Good taste is an attribute. The 1 and 2 combination has a faculty of presenting ideas cleverly and clearly with a pen, and is the mental type. Authors and judges are often found in this combination, and the successful retail merchant or department store executive often comes under this heading. You can succeed in positions where good manners and a degree of dignity are useful. Gold, Education, Respect, are vibratory words.

CHARLES ASH—You have a No. 4 positive temperament, and a number 4 soul number, something unusual, which would indicate unusually sound body and considerable strength. People with this Dual 4 temperament are slow, steady, conservative, patient and hard-working. Your soul number indicates a respect for Physical supremacy with the survival of the fittest. People under this combination work hard for their money, usually get it, and always appreciate the value of it. Number Four is usually found in Agriculture, dairy supply business, coal business, ranching, or real estate business, when they come under the dual heading.

FRED L. BLAIR—A number 5 temperament and a No. 5 soul number, which indicates a cycle of development. Five is a variable, changing number that leads into the most unexpected fields. In quest for experience, will try "anything new," are venturesome and always ready to attempt the unusual. Never cast down by failure. Always pleased with new surroundings and make themselves at home anywhere. Foreign countries have a lure. Pleasant personality and quick, ready wit are always outstanding qualities. "Do as you please" consciousness that can never be crushed. Will work if necessary, but it is seldom necessary, as necessities come to you with little effort. A five person is endowed with the quality to make his dreams come true. Probable vocations: advertising, organizer, cap maker, manager, sales management, shoe salesman, women's apparel business, furrier.

ERNEST BICHE—You have a number 3 temperament and No. 7 soul number, which is not an ordinary combination. Seven comes first in the trinity of expression. You are likely to be serious, silent and secretive—and a No. 7 is always farsighted. You think much, but seldom express your thoughts. Affairs which are plain to you will be complex to other people. You have an analytical mind, can grasp intricate problems and solve them. Vision and will power, honor and honesty may be looked for in the Positive 7. Probable vocations: Apiarist, bolt maker, coppersmith, pattern maker, steel worker, automobile mechanic, sheet metal worker, farmer.

JOHN BINGOLD—You have a number 2 temperament and a No. 8 soul number, a combination somewhat common among artisans or craftsmen. The Number Eights are the builders—builders of railroads, cities and nations. You can succeed if you will, especially in the line of physical endeavors. The eight achieves education through learning by application and action. Probable vocations: builder, linotype operator, locomotive engineer, painter, interior decorator, sail maker.

R. W. CASPER—You have an 8 temperament and a No. 9 soul number. Nine completes the trinity of Expression and is the melody of attainment. Artistic, accurate, magnetic, zealous, and with a placid disposition. The combination reveals the symbol of service and sacrifice necessary to reach great heights of expression. You should maintain a positive and definite influence in your community, and contacts with the higher things of life. Probable vocations: inventor, surgeon, pharmacist, dermatologist, dentist, pediatrician.

P. A. DAVIES—You have a No. 5 temperament and a No. 4 soul number. This combination shows a veneration for things of the mind. Efficiency, oratory, talker are harmonious words. Judgment and sagacity may be found concordant words for psychological description. Standing four-square to the world. Probable vocations: healer, organizer, writer, minister, senator, actor.

FRANK ERXLEBEN—You have a No. 9 temperament and a No. 1 soul number. You have courage and self-reliance, and should be filled with vigor and a desire for action. You should try to keep away from any speculation that you cannot give your whole time to. Number one is the trinity of acquisition. No. Ones stand alone and do their own thinking, demanding respect for their opinions. Probable vocations: farmer, purchasing agent, auditor, claim adjuster, contractor, bridge builder, state treasurer.

G. W. FORTNER—You have a number 9 temperament and a No. 6 soul number. Reserved. Dependable. You should have success in your undertakings because you conduct yourself in a reliable way that creates confidence. You can succeed without being radical in your methods. You are suited to positions that require trust, and should make a good merchant or tradesman, as you create confidence. Probable vocations: retail merchant, grocer, poultryman, banker, governor, dairy.

E. E. FLEETWOOD—You have a number 7 temperament and a number 5 soul number. You come under the same cycle, with vocational exceptions, as the Mr. Blair reviewed earlier in this feature, but have a more pronounced love of travel. You and Mr. Blair should be two of the wittiest men in your community, and two of the most cheerful. Foreign countries have a lure for you. Probable vocations: Teacher of manual training, mail order business, geology, automobile dealer, vulcanizer, surveyor.

Next week, I will present brief analyses of 10 more names submitted to me by The Nebraska Democrat.—Rulow Manton.

Laboratory Explosion Injures Boy's Eyes

John Claycomb, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Claycomb, was injured Friday morning when a potassium mixture exploded in the chemistry laboratory at Wayne State Teachers college. The mixture struck him in the right eye, temporarily blinding him. He was taken immediately to Immanuel hospital in Omaha where he is now under a doctor's care. Doctors stated Tuesday that his eyesight will probably not be damaged as the trouble seems to have cleared up considerably. He is at present suffering from a slight toxic poisoning which is not serious.

Mr. and Mrs. Claycomb went with him. Mr. Claycomb returned Saturday morning and Mrs. Claycomb, Sunday evening. Mrs. Claycomb was recalled to Omaha Tuesday when attending physicians became alarmed by the poisoning.

WAYNE WEATHER

March's leonine tendencies have been ably demonstrated this last week with temperatures on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings registering around six degrees below zero. A cold, driving wind added to the discomfort of residents of the territory. Low temperatures and the high wind Wednesday brought a yellow dust which covered the snow and penetrated every crevice.

Weather report for today indicates fair, and slightly warmer this afternoon.

Presbyterian Missions.

The meeting of the Presbyterian Missionary Society, planned for yesterday, was postponed on account of the death of Mrs. C. A. Chace. No definite plans for the next meeting have been made.

Toward Wayne's Prosperity in Fair or Foul Weather!

We're launched on a program of civic development that will make Wayne a better and bigger community. But it can't happen automatically! And it won't be smooth sailing all the way. The helm is held by capable, experienced hands. The course is clear. We've heaved anchor. We're under way.

But remember the ship can't sail itself. The town can't forge ahead without your backing. Heave hard on the ropes. Pull for Wayne wherever you go and whatever you do. Patronize the home town merchants, where you know you're sure of an honest dollar's worth 100 per cent of the time. Keep your money---and the other fellow's---at home, where it will lend its force to local improvements.

And, when squalls come to blow us off our course, just work and pull the harder. We'll all sail into port one day with the finest, most pleasant, most economical, and most livable town on earth.

New Diesel Engine Will Be Given Thirty-Day Trial Run

The recently installed 750 h. p. 4-cylinder McIntosh-Seymour oil-burning engine at the Wayne Municipal Light Plant was given a trial run on the afternoon of February 22, and has been making short trial runs since that date. Contrary to local belief, the Diesel has not yet been accepted by the city council, but will be given a continuous 30-day run to make certain that it is entirely satisfactory. Edward Bixt, erecting engineer from the Auburn, N. Y., factory, who has spent seven weeks in Wayne assisting local workmen with installation of the Diesel, left last Friday, but expects to return within the next month or two to make certain that the engine is behaving properly.

The new $40,000 Diesel is situated in the south end of the city power and light plant, directly opposite to the 600 h. p. De LaVergne, installed about three years ago and now inadequate to meet the growing demands of the city. This latest addition to the power plant effects a 25% increase in power over the old engine. Connected to a 625 K. V. A. generator, it has a maximum capacity of 500 kilowatts as compared with the De LaVergne which has a capacity of 400 kilowatts. The winter months necessitate a maximum production of about 450 kilowatts of power and the consequent running of the 630 h. p. steam engine in conjunction with the Diesel to furnish enough electricity for the city's needs. The new engine is capable of handling this load alone, and is expected to effect a considerable saving.

The new engine is said to be more economical of fuel per h. p., but until it has made a 30-day run it will be impossible to check closely. The new Diesel, which requires about 1/2 gallon more of fuel per day than did the old one, has a different fuel system which is supposed to be more economical than the one used in the De LaVergne. In the old system oil is injected by two nozzles, one at each side of the cylinder head; the new system has one nozzle in the center, injecting fuel under a pressure of 3,600 pounds. The fact that there is no overflow makes the system more economical. The engine requires approximately 430 gallons of oil every 24 hours. Figures kept by the city show that the oil burning Diesel effects a saving of $45 a day over the old steam engine.

The oil reclaiming at the plant does much to economize on lubricating oil. Old oil drained from the crank case is reconditioned and freed from carbon, so that it can be used again. Since the engines require such a large amount of lubricating oil, this saves no small amount of money.

The new engine is a foot shorter than the old one, but is a little higher, thus effecting a saving in floor space. The cylinders are each one inch larger, and it is this longer stroke that gives the increased power. There is also an increased fuel compression, the new engine having a fuel compression of 660 lb. to the square inch, as compared with 550 lb. in the older one. Both Diesels make 225 revolutions per minute and have the same firing order, 1-5-3-6-2-4.

The 630 h. p. Corliss steam engine occupies the floor space between the two oil burning engines. Infrequently used, it is still in good condition and has been employed on several occasions this winter. It is capable of furnishing necessary power in an emergency. Previous to the installation of the new Diesel, the steam engine was utilized during the period when the De LaVergne was shut down for adjustments and cleaning.

The next improvement to be made at the local plant will be the installation of a water softener. The device will be used to soften the water used for cooling the engines, and will make unnecessary the frequent cleaning out of the scale on the inside of the engines. It has been customary to shut down the Diesel every sixty days to scrape out the scale, clean out carbon and make any needed adjustments. The softener was received Friday, but work on the installation will not begin until after workmen have finished putting in the cement floor around the foundation of the new engine.

The city plans to hold open house at the plant as soon as the floor is laid and all the new improvements are installed. The plant will be open to public inspection and city employees will point out and explain the new equipment to visitors.

In explaining the need for the installation of more powerful engines, City Clerk Walter S. Eressler pointed out the increasing consumption of electricity by Wayne people. For instance: The total receipts for the month of December, 1922, were $2,800; the total receipts for November, 1931, were a little over $6,000. These figures are especially significant when we realize that present receipts are collected on the basis of a 50% lower rate.

Friday the Thirteenth Still Considered "Jinx"

With all the wealth of fact and philosophy at his command man continues to be a victim of superstition, forcing himself to accept inconveniences and endure suffering because of a fear complex. The old superstitious fear that Friday is an unlucky day, and, if Friday falls on the thirteenth day of the month, it is a jinx filled with danger and probable disaster to mankind, comes into evidence continually in the modern times.

The baseless fear of Friday probably was born of witchery and ignorance, but the fear of the thirteenth day of the month may have had its origin in more modern times. The spread of human intelligence should have eliminated both fears from the minds of man but it has not.

Recently a great ocean liner was delayed for hours in leaving New York so that the trip might be started on the fourteenth day of the month, and not on Friday, the thirteenth. Officials scoffed at the superstition, but admitted that there had been a clamor from passengers to accept the delay and escape the supposed jinx. There is room for more public education so long as people display this fear complex.—Ohio State Journal.

England's Virgin Queen as Frenchman Saw Her

In November, 1597, an ambassador extraordinary from Henry IV of France to Elizabeth of England was put ashore at Dover. Of his interviews with the queen, her appearance, her clothes, her demeanor, what she said, he gives the fullest account. This is his pen portrait:

"She was strangely attired in a dress of silver cloth, white and crimson, or silver gauze as they call it. This dress had short sleeves lined with red taffeta, and was girt about with other little sleeves that hung down to the ground, which she was forever twisting and untwisting. She kept the front of her dress open, so that one could see the whole of her bosom. . . . As for her face, it is and appears to be very aged. It is long and thin, and her teeth are very yellow and unequal, compared to what they were formerly, so they say, and on the left side less than on the right. Many of them are missing, so that one cannot understand her easily when she speaks quickly. Her figure is fair and tall and graceful in whatever she does; so far as may be she keeps her dignity, yet humbly and graciously.

Pineapple is Paramount

ONE hundred and twenty million Americans cannot be wrong. They just cannot! They eat more canned pineapple than any other canned fruit, which leaves nothing further at all to be said upon the subject.

It is only recently that we have become a nation of pineapple eaters. Oh, we always ate it in moderation, but it is only during the past ten years that canned pineapple eating has become a universal and widespread custom of the country. That's because the Hawaiian pineapple, fresh, luscious, delicately flavored, ripened to perfection before it is popped into the can is now shipped to America in prodigious quantities and sold at a price within everyone's reach. But people are eating it so fast that the price is bound to go up, so now is the time to lay in a supply.

Just Try This Recipe!

Pineapple Pork Chops: Empty one No. 2 can crushed Hawaiian pineapple into a large flat buttered casserole (or into six individual ones). Peel three large sweet potatoes and slice over the top, and sprinkle with one-half cup brown sugar. Salt six thick loin pork chops and lay on top. Cover and bake in hot, 400°, oven until tender—about one to one and one-quarter hours. Uncover for the last fifteen minutes to brown chops. Serves six.

Poetic Justice

"Arabs dearly love what we call poetic justice," said Lowell Thomas, the writer-lecturer. "They tell the story of an Arab who stole a horse and sent his son to market to sell it. On the way to market the son was himself robbed of the horse and forced to return to his father empty-handed."

"Ah!" exclaimed the old man when his son walked into camp. "I see thou hast sold the horse. How much did it bring?"

"Father," said the son disconsolately, "it brought the same price for which thou thyself didst buy it."

Big Prices for Tiny Shrines

As two small medieval shrines were taken quite casually into a London auction room recently the owner, Maj. H. Chase Meredith, thought that if they brought $5,000 each he would be fortunate. One of them, however, which had been in the old abbey of Malmesbury, drew an exciting opening bid of $5,000 and was eventually sold to a Paris buyer for $45,000. The other, associated with Croylund abbey, went to an English collector for $24,000. Each shrine measured only 12 inches long and 10 inches high.

Harmless Shark

The basking sharks sometimes attain a length of 30 feet or more, but they have very small teeth and their diet consists necessarily of small fishes that travel in shoals and other small soft sea creatures which they take into their huge mouths while lying lazily on the surface of the ocean. This species of shark is hunted for its oil, a large one yielding as much as a ton and a half.

Cross Stone of Virginia

The "fairy cross" of the Virginia Blue ridge, a reddish-brown rock formation taking the shape of a perfect cross, is said to be found only in Patrick county, Va. Travelers in the West and Southwest may recall that these curious pieces of stone are frequently offered for sale as "Mexican Holy Crosses" at shops at or near Indian reservations, sometimes for only a nickel apiece. The United States geological survey, however, confirms the claim that the "Staurolite," or "Cross Stone," an iron-aluminum silicate, is found only in Virginia.

Fiddle Once Banned

The old English word fiddle is a corruption of the French word vielle meaning hurdy-gurdy. The word has become a colloquial and rather a contemptuous substitute for violin. Time was when fiddlers or minstrels were adjudged rogues, vagabonds and beggars. The old Puritans considered fiddling a crime only a little worse than murder. There was a famous old blue law to the effect that no one should eat mince pie, dance, play cards or play on any instrument of music except the drum, trumpet or Jewsharp.

Divorce in Old Egypt

A study made by W. F. Edgerton and published by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago shows that Egyptian marriages could be dissolved at the will of either the husband or the wife. Furthermore, provision was sometimes made for "trial" marriages—that is, marriages which were in force only for a definite period, agreed upon in advance. There was no ceremony, the study says, and no license to be obtained from either church or state.

Appetizing Asparagus

MAYBE there is something in this "ancient lineage and noble stock" stuff after all. Take those two old aristocrats, pineapple among fruits and asparagus among vegetables. They are different from the rank and file of their kind. There is a certain subtlety, delicacy, refinement about them that one doesn't find in other fruits and vegetables.

Rome Liked Asparagus

Asparagus was a great favorite in ancient Rome—it still is a great favorite. Only, then, it was just for the wealthy and noble. Now anybody can have it at its delicious best at any time of year, for even that dry, unemotional authority the Encyclopaedia of "Food," says that the canned asparagus is fully as popular as the fresh vegetable.

Asparagus comes canned in a number of ways—stalks or tips, in ordinary or giant sizes. Take your choice—they are all good. And as a climax here's an extra good asparagus recipe!

Asparagus au Gratin: Heat one can asparagus tips; drain. Boil four eggs hard. Arrange in buttered casserole alternate layers of asparagus and sliced eggs. Make a cheese sauce of four tablespoons butter, four tablespoons flour, the asparagus juice, milk to make two cups, one-fourth cup grated cheese, one-half teaspoon salt and one-eighth teaspoon pepper. Pour over asparagus and cover with buttered crumbs. Brown in hot oven, 400°-450° for fifteen minutes. Serves six.

Hogs Respond to Good Treatment

Clean House and Lot a Big Help in Profitable Raising.

Hog growers who are practicing sanitation, feeding of a protein supplement and a mineral mixture, using self feeders and vaccinating their pigs, are finding that these recommended practices pay.

This is the statement of George R. Henderson, county extension agent at large for the Colorado Agricultural college, who has made a survey of hog production methods on 80 farms. Here is what he found regarding sanitation:

Farmers who change their hog lots at least every two years are saving an average of six and one-half pigs per litter, compared to four and one-fifth pigs per litter saved by those who simply clean their farrowing houses, but let the pigs run on old ground. Farmers who neither change lots nor clean the farrowing houses are saving an average of three and nine-tenths pigs per litter, which is considered too low to enable the grower to break even on the enterprise.

Pigs in the feed lot also respond to a good system of sanitation, it was found.

Where hog lots are changed and houses cleaned, farmers are marketing hogs at 210 pounds in 211 days or taking about 200 days to produce 200-pound hogs. Where houses are cleaned, but lots are not changed, hogs are marketed at 188 pounds in 225 days, or at 200 pounds in 240 days. Where no sanitation system is followed, it takes 216 days for pigs to average 176 pounds, and 245 days to produce 200-pound hogs. "In order to make money on hogs," says Henderson, "leading farmers have found that they must follow certain practices. One of these is sanitation. Sanitation means clean sows, clean houses, clean lots and clean pastures."

Handle Potatoes So as to Avoid Any Bruising

Too often men handle potatoes as if they were stones, forgetting that every injury reduces quality. Bruising potatoes is an expensive practice. It offsets the good all previous efforts have done to produce a quality crop.

The digging should be done if possible when soils are neither too wet nor too dry. Wet soils discolor tubers badly, while dry soil slips through the digger, leaving the potatoes to be bruised on the apron. By padding and substituting smooth rollers for the agitators this danger is reduced. Deep digging provides more dirt to protect the potatoes from machine damage. Deep digging gets all the crop. Then, too, sunning the potatoes toughens them. Further, quality is protected by picking in a padded half-bushel for a couple of hours after digging and hauling to the storage in crates. In addition padding the grader, especially the apron, running the grader slowly and placing something soft under the sacks being filled, are necessary in securing the type of potatoes most demanded by the trade. Such precautions, if generally practiced, would add consumer value to the crop.

Better Sires Pay Well

Good bulls—bulls of high producing strains and with great prepotency as breeders—increase the productivity and, hence, the profitability of the dairy herd.

Just suppose, for easy figuring, that a herd of 10 daughters produce 100 pounds of butter fat per year each more than did a herd consisting of their 10 dams. That is 1,000 pounds of butter fat. Suppose that it was worth 40 cents a pound, which it should be in average times. That's 40,000 cents, or $400, and it is mostly clear velvet over the profits made in the herd of dams.

Would it pay to use better sires and receive that increased income, or even higher income? Well, it has paid and is now paying a great many dairymen.—Idaho Farmer.

Insulate Poultry House

Tests at Nebraska Agricultural college indicate that at the usual prices insulation for a 20 by 20-foot poultry house will cost about $50 or about 40 cents per bird housed. If this cost is spread over the life of the house, it amounts to about two eggs per hen per winter.

We know by experience that quick changes in temperature in winter may throw a flock out of production for several days or even for the rest of the winter, just when egg prices are the highest. It seems quite reasonable that good insulation with its effective influence on slowing up temperature changes inside the house should help very materially in keeping up the winter egg production and should pay several times over the small cost.—Wisconsin Agriculturist.

Ensiling Don't Kill Weeds

Weed seed which has gone through the process of ensiling in a silo is not necessarily made harmless for growing in the fields later on, a ten-year experiment conducted in the silos of the dairy department at the Kansas Agricultural college shows. In fact, the tests indicated that some noxious weed seed seemed to be strengthened by soaking in silage for several months. In some cases, weed seed that had been in the silo three years was still viable.

Decrease in "TB" of Cattle Shown

Efforts Made to Cut Down Losses Due to Malady Effective.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.—WNU Service.)

The success of the nation-wide campaign to eradicate bovine tuberculosis has been due largely to the determination on the part of the public not to tolerate the presence of such a dangerous live stock malady. This is the opinion expressed by Dr. A. M. Wight, in charge of tuberculosis eradication for the United States Department of Agriculture, at a recent annual meeting of the United States Live Stock Sanitary association, at Chicago.

Referring to the results obtained by the campaign, Doctor Wight gave the following comparison: In the 15-year period ended in 1933, 400,000 tuberculosis tests were applied, which disclosed an infection of 10 per cent. In the year 1931 alone more than 13,000,000 tuberculosis tests showed only 1.5 per cent infection. This was at the rate of more than a million tests a month and is an indication of the vast effort being put forth to conquer tuberculosis among cattle.

"Tuberculosis eradication work under the area plan continues to be a satisfactory and practical method of exterminating the disease," Doctor Wight said. "Since the first of November, 1930, 216 counties have been added to the modified accredited area where the degree of infection has been found to exist to not more than one-half of 1 per cent. This makes a total of 1,271 counties, or nearly 42 per cent of the total number of counties in the United States, in which bovine tuberculosis has been practically eradicated."

Among other subjects discussed by Doctor Wight were tuberculosis-free stock yards and the interstate shipment of cattle. These problems, he said, will be greatly simplified when more of the cattle-producing counties can be placed in the modified accredited area.

Poultryman's Profit in Fall and Winter Eggs

Does your poultry flock return a good profit over the cost of feed during the year? It has been found that when laying hens are fed all the grain they will consume Leghorns and similar breeds eat from 70 to 80 pounds of grain a year. Breeds like the Plymouth Rock, Rhode Island Red, and Wyandotte eat from 80 to 90 pounds. All breeds eat from 2 to 3 pounds of oyster shell and about 1 pound of grit a year.

The average farm hen lays less than 60 eggs a year, principally from March to June, the season of lowest prices. Yearly profits on eggs depend largely on production in fall and winter, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. Rations for laying stock should include scratch grains, mash, meat feed, green feed, mineral feed, grit, and drink. The scratch ration should be scattered through the litter in the poultry house so that the hens get plenty of exercise.

Profit From Bulky Feed

In spite of low milk prices Jersey cows have turned home-grown bulky feed into profit and kept up the fertility of the soil for James F. Taylor, dairy herd demonstrator of East Point community, Wood county, Texas. As reported by James W. McGowan, county agent, the ration for the first three months of the year consisted of 10 pounds daily of ground bergari bundles, 6 pounds Bermuda hay, 5 pounds ground peanut vines including nuts, and 2½ pounds cottonseed meal. They produced an average of 20 pounds of milk per day and at market prices it brought $20 per ton for the ground roughages after figuring $5 per ton for the grinding, and counting the manure worth the labor of caring for the cows. Mr. Taylor states that the cows have given more milk during this period on this demonstration system than ever before at the same time of the year.

Cattle Ticks Waning

The cattle tick eradication campaign which met with so much opposition upon the part of growers in the infested area, has progressed to the point where in 85 per cent of the total the tick has been routed completely. The perverseness of the average individual which brings about opposition to every enforced step toward betterment, such as the cattle dipping, tuberculosis test for dairy cattle and various plant quarantines, has delayed the complete success of the tick eradication campaign, but so encouraging has the progress so far been that officials look forward with hope to the time in the near future when the tick will be a thing of the past.

Stretching the Fodder

Grinding corn roughages will make the supply of corn fodder last longer, according to the Iowa State college. Experiments at the Nebraska experiment station show that calves not only eat coarsely ground corn fodder with less waste, but they gain much better than they do on whole fodder. With other classes of live stock the chief advantage of grinding is in the prevention of waste and in, as will readily be seen, making the feed supply last longer.

SOCIETY and Club

March has certainly come in like a proverbial lion and about all we can do about the matter is to button our collars up a little higher and pray for the speedy arrival of more "famb-like" conditions. We are forced to take off our hats to the groundhog—he certainly knew what he was doing when he indicated that there would be six more weeks of winter weather. Six seems to be a very conservative estimate! However, whyne people are continuing their social activities, and despite the cold, windy weather and the observance of the Lenten season, the calendar is even larger than usual.
